FIRE RAZES MID-KANSAS GARAGE AND TEXAS CO. WAREHOUSE

Damage of at Least $35,000 Sustained; Low Water Pressure and High Wire Fence Contribute to Spread of Flames, Which Start in Garage.

Fire of unknown origin early this morning swept the yards of the Mid-Kansas Oil company and the producing department of the Texas company, lying between the Melvin road and the Texas & Pacific tracks, destroying a large garage and warehouse, together with all contents and damaging other property. A conservative estimate places the combined loss of both companies at more than $35,000. The loss is supposed to have been fully covered by insurance. The Mid-Kansas company's loss on the garage building, two automobiles, a truck and a number of old tires was estimated at approximately $10,000, at the company offices this morning. Officials of the producing department of the Texas company were unable to place any estimate on their loss until an inventory had been taken, but it is expected to be more than twice that of the Mid-Kansas company.

Water Scarce.

Efforts of the fire department to confine the blaze to the garage of the Mid-Kansas company proved futile on account of the scarcity of water obtainable from the four-inch water main in that section, the pressure being so low that even with the pump going full blast the firemen and employees of the Texas company were unable to put a stream of water over the top of the one-story garage.

But for the scarcity of water the department would have been able to save the warehouse of the Texas company, Superintendent J. A. McGinnis of the producing department, stated this morning. Handicapped by the scarcity of water the firemen fought the blaze for several hours, at times being driven behind piles of derrick timbers by intense heat from the burning warehouse.

Started in Garage.

The fire was discovered shortly before 3 o'clock in the north end of the Mid-Kansas company garage by the night watchman of the Texas company, who hurriedly aroused R. L. Johns, in charge of the yard office. The two men attempted to reach the blaze with a chemical apparatus but were cut off by a high wire fence separating the property of the two companies. The fire department on responding to the alarm found only one available fire plug, which was connected at the dead end of the four-inch water main. Three lines were connected up but one was removed to increase the pressure of the other two. Even then, because of the small quantity of water obtained, the pump was unable to throw it over the garage building. The water pressure increased somewhat several hours later but not sufficiently to bring the pump to its full capacity.

Flames Leap Fifty Feet.

From the garage, the flames leaped across a distance of fifty feet to the warehouse of the Texas company and to piles of derrick timbers nearby. Two trucks of the Texas company caught fire but together with the derrick timbers were extinguished. Several gasoline drums blew up as a small storehouse caught fire and before it could be extinguished. The fire gained headway rapidly in the warehouse, and was soon beyond control.

Almost five hours was spent in actual fighting of the flames, Chief Murphy said, and several hours more in going over the property and extinguishing the last spark. The large office building of the Texas company and a smaller warehouse or shed, in the close vicinity, were not reached by the fire.

Superintendent McGinnis stated this morning that the greatest loss on the contents of the warehouse would result from the destruction of the brass parts and packing stored there. The larger portion of the contents were of steel or iron and was not particularly damaged by the heat.

LUBBOCK CHILD BURNS TO DEATH, ALONE IN HOME

LUBBOCK, Texas, Nov. 26.—Verlyn Embry, the 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Embry, living four miles from this city, was burned to death in their home Thursday morning. The little girl, with her older sister, about 6 years old, were playing with fire in the kitchen stove when the younger child's dress caught fire.

The older sister ran to a near-by cotton field to summon her parents and when they arrived the clothing was burned from the child's body. She died three hours later.

FRANCE OPENS WAY TO INVITE GERMANY

By J. W. T. MASON, United Press Staff Correspondent.

France has opened the way to inviting Germany to the Washington conference. There is no other method whereby the United States can examine into the spirit of discord that is threatening Europe with a revival of militarism. Premier Briand defends the maintenance of a huge standing army on the ground that Germany is threatening France's existence. Briand also begged for American assistance, and declares that France will reduce her military forces if assured that Germany will respect the peace.

The logical result of Briand's fears is for America to ask Germany to send a delegation to the disarmament conference. France is likely to object to this course as showing too much consideration for the Germans and an indication that Briand's word is doubted. But the invitation to the conference is in President Harding's power alone to issue. This is America's party.

It is not possible to find out the truth of the Franco-German situation except by hearing Germany's side of the case and making comparisons. No harm can come to anyone by asking the Germans in. Great Britain may accede to France. It is the general impression outside France that the French fears of Germany are not founded on reality. If the Washington conference can make that clear to France by an examination of German delegates, it may mark the turning point in the world's recovery.

France also fears Russia. It would do no damage to ask the Moscow government likewise to send representatives to the Washington conference.

HARDING ALSO PLANS YEARLY NATIONS' MEET

If Agreed to His "Association" Would Supplant Wilson's "League."

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—The Harding association of nations today loomed up a rival of the Wilson league of nations in the efforts for world peace.

Which organization will triumph it was believed here will depend upon which one can accomplish the most definite results. If the arms conference now in session settles all the problems before it, a tremendous impetus would be given to the establishment of the Harding association, it was admitted.

The interest of the delegations to the arms conference is today centered on this possibility, made known late yesterday, that President Harding expects the present convocate to develop into an association of nations, holding annual meetings, and eventually to include all the civilized nations of the world.

Plan Generally Approved.

President Harding's plan has met with general approval from virtually all the delegations represented, although speculation is rife among the delegates as to probable conflict between the Wilson league and the Harding association.

Harding's proposal, made late yesterday, for German participation in the conference, apparently is approved by the majority of delegates, although some opposition is expected.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, urged that the government make some provision for tiding over unemployment that would result from a cessation of battleship construction. Premier Briand, many observers here believe, is going back to France in defeat, and developments that will come in his country upon his return are awaited with intense interest.

Britain Dissents.

President Harding's proposal struck its first snag today, when a British spokesman, obviously referring to America's failure to enter the Wilson league of nations, suggested that the Harding plan should be first submitted to the United States senate and the American people. He left the impression that this was the view of the British delegation. But Arthur Balfour declined to discuss the proposal.

Indications were that France might raise some objection to the association on the ground that it would give Germany a means by which she would continually seek evasion of the Versailles treaty terms. Other nations raised no objection.

In the far eastern sector, the conference today agreed in principle to the abolition of foreign postoffices in China.

NO OPEN SESSION SOON.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—There is no prospect of another open session of the arms conference within the next few days, Secretary of State Hughes said today.

"We will not call another plenary session until there is something definite to come before it," Hughes said.

XMAS CRIME WAVE BEGINS IN NEW YORK

Two Murders and Score of Robberies. Open Thugs' Annual Harvest Season.

By United Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Extra precautions to halt the crime wave which has resulted in two murders, a score of burglaries, robberies and pistol battles in the last twenty-four hours were taken by police here today.

The crime carnival began yesterday, when Samuel Katz, a furrier, was beaten to death by three masked men, who entered his place of business, and hit him on the head with a pistol when he refused to open his safe for them. One of the men was captured. He said he was a seaman, and gave the name of Otto Holtek.

A short time afterward Anthony Genna, 40, was shot dead at his home in Brooklyn. Police said he had quarreled with a neighbor shortly before.

The list of robberies included thousands of dollars worth of goods. A fur house was entered and $20,000 worth of undressed furs taken. Clothing worth $3,000 was taken from a Seventy-second street shop.

Three men fired on police who attempted to arrest them in Prospect Park, Brooklyn. Two men were arrested after a thrilling chase and fight along Riverside drive.

BULLETS TURN STAGE COMEDY INTO TRAGEDY

By United Press.

HAMILTON, Ont., Nov. 26.—As the curtain slowly descended at the end of a little sketch "Under the Apple Tree" here, a shot rang out, and Miss Cecilia Bartley, actress, dropped, probably fatally wounded. Another shot, and Jack Grubb, stage carpenter from New York, fell with a bullet in his head. Police said he shot the girl and then killed himself.

Miss Bartley "passed a comfortable night," according to city health authorities this morning. She is now expected to recover.

Jack Grubb, 42 years old, of Baltimore, Md., stage carpenter with the vaudeville troupe "Under the Apple Tree," who shot the girl and then killed himself, is said to have been forcing his attentions upon the actress for several weeks, and that she repulsed him just before the shooting.

VERSAILLES, Nov. 27.—Attorneys representing the heirs of two of the eleven alleged victims of Henri Landru, on trial here for the murder of ten women and a boy, today repeatedly demanded the "Bluebeard" conviction in summing up the case before the jury.

The epithet "Assassin" was hurled at the prisoner more often during their summing up than at any time during the trial.

"There sits the greatest criminal of all time," declared one of the attorneys. "Citizens, do your duty; send him to the guillotine!" he shouted.

FIRE DESTROYS CENTRAL PART OF AUGUSTA, GA.

Loss $2,000,000; Newspaper Files Dating Back to 1785 Are Lost.

By United Press.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Nov. 26.—Fire of unknown origin which early today threatened the entire business section here was brought under control at dawn, after a city block had been partially razed.

The blaze, discovered at 2 o'clock in the Harrison building, spread rapidly and was soon beyond the control of the local fire department. A call for outside aid was sent out.

The Harrison and Johnson buildings, both modern structures, were completely gutted, as were dozens of smaller buildings. Included among those destroyed or badly damaged were the Albion and Geneva hotels. Historical Papers Lost.

The building occupied by the Chronicle, morning newspaper, was almost completely destroyed. The plant of that paper was said to be practically a total loss. Files dating back to 1785 belonging to the Chronicle, were destroyed.

No loss of life was reported. One fireman was overcome while fighting the blaze.

A stiff wind hampered the work of the fire fighters. Reinforcements from Aiken and Columbia, South Carolina, arrived shortly after 3 o'clock, and aided the local fire department in bringing the blaze under control.

MANY LETTERS PROTEST ACCEPTING RESIGNATION

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Nov. 26.—Protests against accepting the resignation of Superintendent C. E. King of the juvenile training school at Gatesville are being received daily by the board of control. So far the protests have been letters from individuals. There has as yet been no formal petition received.

These letters will be considered when the board takes up King's resignation Monday, Chairman Colwell of the board, said today. He also said that the board had been requested to defer acceptance of the resignation until Monday so that these protests might be filed.

The petition circulated in Gatesville urging that King's resignation not be accepted has not reached the board but members express the opinion that it probably will be received by Monday.

Success in Handling Guaranty Bank Deposits Leads to State's Consent.

Permission was obtained by the Retail Merchants' association yesterday afternoon from the state banking department to issue scrip on the assignment of accounts against the Farmers & Merchants State bank, and the first scrip is expected to be issued Tuesday. Special paper has been ordered for printing and all arrangements completed, Secretary Burt of the Association stated this morning. Details for handling the accounts were worked out at a special meeting of the board of directors of the association last night, and E. M. Humes, president, was named as trustee. A special committee of three members was named to pass on the applications.

The issuance of scrip will be handled along the same lines as last summer when the association issued $22,000 in scrip in handling in the neighborhood of $45,000 in accounts of the Guaranty bank, and checked up to a penny with the state department and depositors. Not one complaint from the liquidation agent, depositor or the state department was made during the entire time, it is stated. The scrip against the Guaranty bank was issued on July 11 and all accounts paid off by Sept. 16.

How to Get Scrip.

Depositors desiring to secure scrip against their accounts in the Farmers & Merchants bank may make application at the offices of the association in the Guaranty bank building at any time after the scrip is ready for issuance. Their accounts in the bank will be checked and scrip issued to them within a few hours, if the application is approved. Applicants will only be issued a maximum of 75 per cent of their accounts in scrip. They may make application for any amount up to the maximum, and the balance of their accounts will be paid them in cash as soon as the liquidating agent of the bank turns the funds over to the trustee. It is expected that it will be about sixty days at least before cash will be forthcoming for payments.

The issuance of scrip by the association is expected to be of greater assistance to the people at this time than it was last summer. Colder weather and the approaching holidays call for additional expenditures at this time, Secretary Burt pointed out this morning.

FOOTBALL CLAIMS TEN LIVES THIS YEAR

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—Football claimed ten victims during the 1921 season which closed with the Thanksgiving day games, according to reports to the Associated Press today.

The death list is three less than in 1920 and three above the total of two years ago. As in former years, the majority of the youths were members of high school and sandlot teams, which did not have the training and physical inspections which are the rule in the colleges. Only one college player met with fatal accident, one semi-pro and one member of a navy team. With the exception, all were under 21.

A POVERTY BAROMETER.

About 600 persons, according to the retail merchants, took Thanksgiving dinner Thursday as the association's guests.

That is a number much larger than was expected. If it is taken at its face value, it shows a condition that needs relief. Even minimizing the number, it should be investigated.

Say there were 500 meals served.
It is conceivable that many of the negroes had no compunctions against accepting a free meal. Likewise with the children.

Also it is possible that many parents in straightened circumstances took the merchants' offer at its proper valuation—a free will offering to make a happy holiday—and either sent the children or brought them along. It is quite possible that a family might have food or be able to procure food, and yet not be able to afford the customary Thanksgiving meal. And they did right and as the merchants desired, in accepting the invitation to dine.

However, it is probable that some in actual distress were among the number accepting the invitation. If 100 or fifty, or less, are not provided with food, these families should be found, they should be aided in the wisest way. For the industrious, a job should be provided. For the shiftless, if any, the law should be applied for the punishment of the head of the house and the protection of his dependents.

A thermometer is valuable only to record the temperature; a dinner to those out of luck is noteworthy as a display of community fellowship. But it also might be taken as a barometer of social conditions—provided the reading is accurate.

100 Per Cent American." Although the sermon will be especially for their husbands, brothers and sweethearts should hear. Special music will be provided.

Rev. Winsett will preach at the morning service on "An Unknown Hero."

BIG TEN COACHES MAP
NEXT YEAR'S SCHEDULES

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—Comes the business of drafting football schedules for the 1922 season.

Coaches of the Western conference will meet here a week from today to map out the gridiron programs for next year and because of the spectacular windup of the 1921 race, gridiron followers are indulging in a lot of speculation regarding the schedules of Ohio State and Iowa, who fought out this year's championship.

The Eastern invasion of Chicago, which resulted in a 9 to 0 triumph over Princeton, has started a movement for East vs. West games next season. Chicago already has arranged to play Princeton in a return game here early in October and Iowa, 1921 conference champions, according to advance indications, probably will arrange a game with Yale to be played in the East. Illinois is negotiating for a game with a representative Southern eleven to be played in Memphis, while Michigan is considering a game with Vanderbilt for the second week in October.

"Beauty Is Only

A GOLD BRICK always looks good. It has to. Its promising appearance is its sole virtue. Looks alone will not sell goods today. Merchandise with a name—the name of its maker—has the call. For only the maker of worthy goods can long afford to advertise. At the High Court of Public Opinion any other sort is soon condemned.
Wise merchants and manufacturers seek the good papers to tell the story of their wares. The publishers seek the reputable advertising for the readers' guidance. The well-informed buyer seeks news of good merchandise through the columns of the best papers.
This proves the value of advertising. Neither advertiser nor publisher can prosper without your patronage. Therefore, it is to their advantage to cater to you. They do it, too.
And it is distinctly to your advantage to be guided by the message they lay before you—the advertisements.

WOMAN AND BABY HALT WEDDING TO CLAIM GROOM

Old Time Melodrama With Unusual Ending Staged at Wedding of Yale Man.

WATERBURY, Conn., Nov. 26.—The fashionable wedding of Edward J. Farrington, Yale man and son of one of the wealthiest men in this state, and Miss Margaret Hodson, member of an equally prominent family, was interrupted in a dramatic manner in the Church of the Immaculate Conception here.

With 2,000 guests giving silent attention, the ceremony had been practically finished. The priest had started to pronounce the words which would end the rite and unite the couple in marriage when the startling break came. An elderly woman in a front pew arose and in penetrating voice shouted:

"Stop! I have something to say before the ceremony is finished. This man is the father of that child!"

Child Is Mute Accuser.

She pointed to Farrington and then to the pew beside her, where stood her daughter, holding a 2-year-old boy.

The girl with the baby was Laura Rodden of New Haven, who claimed she became Farrington's sweetheart while he was at Yale and that he was the father of her baby.

At first the priest, the bridal party and the guests were too stunned for words. Mrs. Rodden held her ground, insisting that she would have revenge against the man who had denied the parentage of the child and refused to marry the 19-year-old mother.

There were startled whispers in the assemblage and a rising buzz of conversation. Half a dozen ushers tried to induce Mrs. Rodden to leave. The young bride appeared to maintain her composure better than any one else. She took a long look at the Roddens and the baby, then turned about and requested that the ceremony go on.

The priest remonstrated with Mrs. Rodden, telling her the banns had been read for three weeks, in accordance with the church custom, and that she should have come forward with her complaint sooner. The ushers succeeded in leading the excited woman from the building. The ceremony was quickly ended.

Mr. and Mrs. Farrington were married Oct. 31. The young couple left immediately for a honeymoon in Canada.

About ten days after the wedding Mrs. Farrington contracted pneumonia. She is now at a hospital in Quebec and is said to be dangerously ill.

The Farringtons and Hodsons have refused to make any statements to newspaper men. But Mrs. Rodden has not been so reticent. She insisted that Farrington had wronged her pretty daughter and had refused to make the only amends. The girl is the youngest of nine children, six girls and three boys, and was only 15, the mother said, when she became acquainted with Farrington.

The three Rodden boys served in France and Mrs. Rodden said they threatened Farrington when they learned of their sister's trouble. Fearing her sons would attempt to kill Farrington, Mrs. Rodden said she urged them to let her plan her own revenge. She carried out the plan in every detail, but had not expected the wedding ceremony would be resumed.

Edward J. Farrington is 24 years old, the son of Daniel T. Farrington. He attended a school in Washington, served as a lieutenant during the war and entered Yale after his discharge. He did not remain to be graduated. His wife is the daughter of Frank J. Hodson, owner of the hotel which bears his name. She is 21, a very pretty girl and a popular member of the younger society set here.

SKELETONS OF GIANTS UNCOVERED IN ARIZONA

By Associated Press. DOUGLAS, Ariz., Nov. 25.—Recent heavy rains in the vicinity of Redington, near here, have uncovered the burial grounds of a race of giant people who are thought to have lived thousands of years ago, according to August Ealey, a miner, who has been employed in the Redington district.

Ealey described parts of skeletons recovered from the cemetery and declared that the stature of the race must have been twice that of the average man of today. One skull showed a thickness of about an inch, Ealey said, and was in a state of perfect preservation. Pieces of pottery, ear rings, remains of charcoal fires and other evidence uncovered by the rains, has led Ealey to report the discovery to the state university with the hope that a more intimate investigation would be made of the burial ground.

Picture theatres are now playing "The Devil," with George Arliss.

ILLUSTRATES SERMONS WITH HIS OWN OIL PAINTINGS

Something new in sermons from the pulpit is being introduced in the Pillar of Fire Church, Brooklyn, N. Y., by its poet-painter-praecher, the Rev. Branford Clarke. He is drawing his sermons around oil paintings, executed by himself, on religious and allegorical subjects. Dr. Clarke has won distinction in the art world. He received his early training at the Birkbeck institute in London and later was a student at the Slade Art school of London university. It was while studying there that he became so impressed with the missionaries of the Pillar of Fire church that he joined them and studied for the ministry. The photos show Dr. Clarke as he appears in his pulpit and at his easel.

FILM SMILES -and so forth By Hi Speed

VIEWPOINTS EFFECT JUDGEMENT OF FILMS. SLANG is quickly absorbed into the language of the land, and now good dancers "shake a wicked hoof" while expert golfers swing a "wicked" brassie. And when it comes to films, there are censors who insist some screen queens tote a "wicked" wardrobe.

Given the opportunity, many "Idle Husbands" would gladly go to work. Then again there are those who would vote "yes" on the question: "Should a Wife Work?"

The extreme of economy is practice when one laugh is distributed over a single film comedy.

"The Public Be Damned," as a film title, represents a poor attitude for the movies to assume.

"The Woman God Sent" has arrived via the screen, accompanied by "God's Man." Nothing daunts the film titlers.

Charley Chaplin is safely back in America, where the best custard pies in the world are available.

Did you know that blonde screen queens, like Winifred Westover, for instance, are xanthous?

"Ten Nights in a Bar Room" rises to the dignity of an historical American photodrama.

WOMAN IS BOSS IN CLEANING OF STATE CAPITOL

AUSTIN, Nov. 26.—"Official housekeeper" of the Texas state capitol is the title given Mrs. J. D. Mann, who was appointed last July by the board of control to supervise the cleaning up of the state house each day. That she has done her work well is evidenced by the remark of a legislator who returned to the capitol recently on private business after the session last summer.

"Whew," he remarked, gazing about the hall of the house of representatives. "Some woman must have gotten hold of this place."

Mrs. Mann has a crew of seven porters. Two on the first floor of the capitol, one on each of the other three, one in the dome and one for each of the legislative halls. She supervises the work daily. The porters have days to mop the floors, days to dust the woodwork and other days to scrub the wainscoting, woodwork and interior decorations.

When the day comes for rubbing off the wainscoting, the porters have to work in double-quick time, Mrs. Mann said, because if the wainscoting on the lower edges of the walls in the rotunda and corridors were strung out in one line it would reach over two miles. It has been estimated that the wainscoting in the entire building, rooms, halls and everywhere, would reach about seven miles. But Mrs. Mann has charge of only work in the rotundas and corridors. She does not enter departments, each department having its own porter.

MARINES HAVE PERMIT TO SHOOT ALL HOBOES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—There is to be no court-martial nor even a reprimand for the marine who, while guarding the mails, shoots and kills a hobo.

On the other hand, he will be backed up to the limit. This was announced today at the postoffice department.

"Every hobo is a potential mail robber," said Col. E. H. Shaughnessy, second assistant postmaster general, today. "Marines are ordered to challenge any person loitering on, in or near a mail car."

BANDITS SHOOT UP ST. LOUIS AFTER RAID ON JEWELRY STORE

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—Three bandits who attempted to hold up the cigar store of Edward Mahoney in West Madison street got the surprise of their lives.

When the bandits entered with their command to "stick 'em up," five police detectives, who had been questioning the proprietor regarding reports of gambling, burst from the back room and began shooting.

The bandits fled in an automobile and the police followed in a commandeered taxi cab. Edward Miller and Elmer Lasker, two of the bandits, were wounded by police bullets and captured. The third man escaped.

GERALDINE BEAT HIM UP LOU TELLEGEN CLAIMS

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—"Extreme cruelty by Geraldine Farrar will be charged by Lou Tellegen when the actor's separation suit against the opera star comes to trial, it was said yesterday by his attorney, Harry N. Steinfield.

Tellegen told his lawyer: "She made life unbearable for me. I shall charge extreme cruelty. I never knew when she looked at me. I was not only locked out of my home, but I was continually beaten and slapped. My life was made most uncomfortable.

May Cancel Tour. The actor is said to have cancelled his tour in "Blind Youth" for the express purpose of preparing papers substantiating these charges and of meeting the divorce counter claim put in by his singer-wife.

He will ask supreme court to dismiss her divorce suit on the ground there is absolutely no basis for her allegation that he was guilty of misconduct with a woman in this state, let alone similar misconduct "in every state" as alleged by Miss Farrar.

Samuel Untermyer, counsel for Miss Farrar, said:

"It is rubbish that we name only one woman. Counsel for Tellegen has declared that when we charged he was unfaithful to his wife in 'every state in the Union' we had in mind only one woman and that she was a member of his company on tour with him throughout the country."

Tellegen incensed. "There were a number of women, as a matter of fact."

Tellegen is reported to be deeply incensed at his wife's accusations and is said to be preparing to counter with more charges against her.

His wife said Tellegen often awoke in the night to read to him passages from a most affectionate poem.

So the five judges in New York City's baby contest have followed this wise course. MELANCHOLY AFTERNOON IS ARMY FORECAST

By United Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—With only a half chance for victory, the United States Army was up against it today, as the lines were marked on the Polo grounds for the twenty-fourth football battle with the Navy.

Bets of 2 to 1 on the Navy represented the distress of the Army, and the drawn faces of old generals and young shavetails showed it just as graphically.

Around the Astor hotel, where the general headquarters was established, the gloom was thick enough to give the appearance of a fog. Around the Commodore hotel, the stronghold of the Navy, grim visaged old admirals and young ensigns had only one fault to find with what looked to be a perfect day—they could not get their money up.

NEW FOUNTAIN OF YOUTH

The secret of human vitality apparently has been discovered. Culminating five years of study, Phillip Rathjen, M. A., Ph.D., of Pasadena, Cal., recently revealed for the first time an amazing discovery which he made. From the glands of selected bulls and cows, Dr. Rathjen has evolved a fluid which, he claims, will produce the following amazing results, when injected into the human body:

Restoration of "pep" to worn-out human bodies, giving added weight, clearer eyes, brighter minds, quicker bodies and generally increased vitality.

The new serum, which, according to all reports, has produced remarkable success in many cases, is injected by a special method prescribed by Dr. Rathjen. No longer need there be transplantation of animal glands via the surgeon's table.

ODDS AGAINST AMERICAN JAPANESE WAR, IN LONDON

LONDON, Nov. 26.—Local betting is 19 to 1 against the outbreak of a Japanese-American war and 17 to 3 against the cession of the West Indies to the United States within the next fourteen months.

Lloyd's has accepted application of two pessimists for policies to guarantee against loss in either event.

Both policies are valid until Dec. 31, 1922. A rate of 5 per cent was quoted for a policy insuring against total loss of property in the event of a war between Japan and America, and 15 per cent for a policy covering the relinquishment of the West Indies to the United States, presumably in liquidation of the British war debt.

The West Indian policy revived briefly talk of the possibility of
