PRELIMINARY PLANS ARE LAID FOR GAS SURVEY

R. R. Commission's Engineers Will Make Report on Amount of Gas in Field.

Preliminary plans for a survey of the Ranger gas field were being made this morning by R. A. Potter, conservation engineer of the oil and gas division of the state railroad commission. The scope of the work, including the territory to be covered in the survey, has not as yet been determined, Mr. Potter stated. The engineer will be joined here shortly by W. E. Smith, district supervisor of the oil and gas division and definite plans for the work mapped out.

Mr. Potter stated that, roughly speaking, the survey would consist of field tests over the field and that the work probably be started on the Texas Pacific Coal & Oil company properties. The work, he felt, would require considerable time, as the limestone formations of the adjacent fields are regarded as particularly hard to estimate.

The survey will be conducted here on the request of the Chamber of Commerce, as a means of determining the supply of industrial fuel in the future. It is also desired to wherever possible put conservation measures into effect. At the present time over 50 per cent of the gas supply is being wasted, it is estimated.

MISS MILDRED HODGES DIES AT ABILENE

Miss Mildred Hodges, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Hodges of Abilene and formerly of Ranger, died at 8:30 last night from blood poisoning, at the home of her parents. Miss Hodges had been seriously ill since Sunday as the result of an abrasion on her lip, which became infected and later developed into blood poisoning.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 5 o'clock, at the family residence in Abilene, and will be attended by a number of relatives and friends from Ranger.

CONFERENCE SUCCESS BELIEVED ASSURED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—An official announcement that will assure marked success for the arms limitation conference is expected at any moment.

There were indications that assurances had come from Tokio accepting the "Big 3" program for the scrapping of the Anglo-Japanese alliance, the substitution of a four-power agreement for the non-fortification of Pacific Island naval bases.

An air of unusual optimism pervaded the delegates.

The only discordant note was a new demand from the French delegation to obtain for France the right to have a "theoretical navy" larger than Japan. It was admitted France cannot build such a navy, but it was said the nation's dignity demands the right.

In Chinese discussions indications were that recent friction had been eased.

TROUSERS HIS RUIN

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 8.—Because the trousers of his wedding suit were alternately too long, too short and then too long again, making his appearance ridiculous and causing the postponement of the ceremony, John Scrim has entered suit to recover $118 from his tailor. That sum, Scrim says, includes rent he paid upon a flat and a fee for his lawyer. The case is under advisement.

Scrim's wedding has not been announced.

EX-SERVICE MAN SWEARS TO ARMY EXECUTIONS

Watson Introduces Affidavit in Support of Illegal Hanging Charges.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—An affidavit charging that twelve American soldiers were hanged in one town in France was introduced by Senator Tom Watson, Georgia, Democrat, when he appeared before the special committee investigating charges of numerous hangings in France. The affidavit was made by George H. Taylor, Philadelphia. Taylor swore that while stationed at Ish-Sur-Tille France he personally saw twelve soldiers hanged and when he left that place he declared arrangements had been made for the hanging of several others.

"All the condemned men were executed in the uniform of the United States army," Taylor swore. "I do not know whether they had been condemned by court martial or not."

"On April 25, 1919, I saw two negroes and one white sergeant hung. The sergeant was tried by a French court martial on Wednesday, April 23, 1919; was found guilty and hanged the following Friday," Taylor swore.

"I attended the trial as a guard and heard all the evidence though I could not understand all of the witnesses because those of the prosecution spoke in French. I could tell from the way the accused man acted that he could not understand the witnesses against him and he afterward told me while I was guarding his cell that he did not know what the witnesses swore against him because they spoke in the French language."

Taylor said that the condemned man told him he was innocent. Watson told the committee that he wished to call some witnesses who were drawing compensation from the government for injuries received in the war who feared their compensation would be cut off as a result of their testimony.

BABY'S BODY FOUND IN CLEBURNE SEWER

CLEBURNE, Dec. 8.—Police are looking for the slayer of a white baby boy whose body was found Saturday by workmen in the sewage disposal vat south of the city. The body showed no signs of violence except a scratch on one leg. It is supposed that the infant was placed in a sewer pipe through a street manhole.

Justice B. Wright, who held the inquest, stated that the infant, which was about 6 months old, came to its death by unlawful means. The police have no clues as to the identity of the child or its slayer.

Prowler Gets A. Joseph's Diamonds; Negro Cook Is Knocked Unconscious

WOMEN IN STRIKE RIOTS THROW RED PEPPER INTO COPPERS' EYES

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—Fifteen hundred policemen were sent to the stockyards district early this morning when long before daybreak several groups of persons, including a few women, gathered about the stockyards. Only a few hours before, 200 strike sympathizers had attacked employees and finally the police. Last night's toll of casualties includes nine seriously injured and an uncounted number of hurt when the mounted police charged into the crowd with drawn clubs.

Efforts to verify rumors that a negro had been thrown into Bubbly creek and stoned into it was drowned could not be confirmed.

Saloons Closed. All saloons in the neighborhood were closed today by Chief of Police Fitzmorris.

100 SIGHTLESS RESCUED FROM BURNING HOUSE

EDISON SAYS GOLD WILL BE CHEAP AS PIG IRON

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—Thomas A. Edison says a discovery has been made within the last two months that marks a long step toward the discovery of means by which gold may be manufactured out of base metals. He made this statement just before he left Muscle Shoals, Ala.

"The chemical papers are full of it," he said. "It has been discovered that lead, instead of being a single metal, as has been supposed, contains two ingredients."

"The discovery of how to make gold artificially may be made any day. I have said this for years. This new discovery is a part of the solution of the problem."

"I have always felt that the gold clause in bonds is dangerous. This clause provides that the bonds shall be paid in gold of a certain degree of fineness."

"What would the people who own railway bonds say if they should wake up some morning and find that gold could be manufactured as cheaply as we make pig iron? Well, that is exactly what will happen some day—and it may happen any day."

THE FRACAS AT THE TIMES OFFICE

It is stated by J. B. Ames that only eleven quarts of whisky were in the car seized by Prohibition Agent Bendy, for which he and Cline Wilson are charged with transporting liquor. He denounced the Eastland report of 400 quarts as absolutely false. Mr. Bendy could not be located today.

Cline Wilson yesterday was fined in justice court for assault and a complaint charging aggravated assault has been filed against J. B. Ames, as a result of an encounter at the Times office.

Inced by an article giving an account of their arrest, Wilson and Ames came to the Times office, accompanied by Cleve Barnes and Constable Faircloth, and in an overbearing manner demanded "immediate" retraction of statements in the article.

Their attitude led to heated words with a member of the Times staff and one or two blows were exchanged before the combatants could be separated. Then the discussion calmed down but was suddenly interrupted when Wilson without warning struck a Times employee who was standing by and had taken no part in the controversy. That ended the session and led to Wilson paying a fine.

About 11:30 o'clock last night Ames returned to the Times office, accompanied by two relatives, and after loitering outside a while, entered and renewed the argument with a Times reporter. Not being certain of the neutrality of Ames' companions, because of remarks they made, the reporter declined to "go outside" and alleges that Ames struck at his head with a billiard cue, and he ward off the blow with his arm. It was for this that the aggravated assault charge was filed.

The occurrence is explained at length by the Times because of rumors that it had been "cleaned out." As a matter of fact, a few blows were struck but no one was injured. The Times put the matter in the courts because it desires to conduct any controversies that may arise in a peaceful manner. It does not intend that employees shall be held personally accountable for statements printed in the paper, and does not care to settle such issues by personal force if it can be avoided by other means. However, it stands ready to defend its position and its utterances at all times.

WHAT BURIAL'S WORTH

Gilbert, county attorney and for more than thirty years prominent in California public affairs, who died here yesterday, left a note describing present-day funerals as "barbarous" and directed that his funeral cost no more than $3. He left an estate valued at $50,000.

SUB STICKS TO BOTTOM FOR TWELVE HOURS

Crew Escapes Through Torpedo Tube After Several Are Gassed.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Dec. 8.—The Lake submarine S-48 sank off this harbor last night and was submerged for twelve hours before the crew by lightening the ballast tanks raised one end of the craft to the surface and escaped through the torpedo tubes this morning.

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—Thirty members of the crew of the submarine S-48 which sank off Bridgeport last night have been brought to the hospital at the New York navy yard for observation. Many had been overcome by chlorine gas and three, including Lieutenant Aqam Smith, were said to be in a serious condition.

The submarine was making a nose dive when the accident occurred, according to members of the crew. She was sunk in eighty feet of water and was submerged for more than twelve hours before the craft was lightened and the men made their escape through the torpedo tubes. They were picked up by a tanker.

The majority of the crew are employees of the Lake Submarine Boat company at Bridgeport. The craft is 98 per cent completed.

Sixty-one members of the crew told a remarkable story of rescue. According to a report made to the commandant at the navy yard, they lightened one end of the submarine until it appeared above the surface and then sat perched on this pinnacle for more than ten hours until darkness. They lighted mattresses and attracted the attention of a passing tanker, which brought them to New York. The submarine left Bridgeport at 10:28 a. m. yesterday on a trial trip. About one mile off the entrance to the harbor she made a nose dive and failed to come up, and the commandant's report said that one hatch cover had not been properly fastened, allowing water to seep in. Salvage has already started. It is not believed the vessel is greatly damaged.

WOMAN FOUND LYING BESIDE OPEN GAS COCK

Had Gone After Intruder With Gun but Was Overpowered, She Says.

Two diamond rings valued at approximately $1,500 were stolen late last night from the home of A. Joseph, 303 Hodges street, during his absence from home. Cora Woods, negro cook, was found lying unconscious by an unlighted gas stove on his return from the Shrine dance and on being revived, told how she had been set upon by a white man who entered the home about 10:30 o'clock and knocked her unconscious. The woman's throat was bound tightly with a handkerchief and she is said to have been saved from asphyxiation from the escaping gas by the front door of the home being left open by the thief in his hurried departure. The woman is said to have been lying unconscious for almost two hours when found. The police were notified but failed to find any trace of a man answering the description of the burglar.

The rings had been left in a business suit by Mr. Joseph in the hurry of his departure for the dance and it was his phone call on remembering his oversight that is thought to have frightened the burglar away and prevented him from his evident intention of carrying off the clothes in a handbag. The stolen jewelry included a two-carat diamond set in a white gold Tiffany setting and a Scottish Rite ring in which a one-carat diamond was set. The Masonic ring bore the name of the owner inside and the name of the India consistory.

Hung Around Garage. The man answering the description furnished by the negro cook was seen by Mr. Joseph hanging around his garage four or five days ago. Suspecting from the man's actions that he was a hijacker, the merchant drove his car to the front of his home and left it there overnight, to avoid running into what he felt was a trap set for him. As the result of the man's appearance about his home, Mr. Joseph removed his two rings the next day and deposited them in his safe at the Boston store, where they remained until last night, when he removed the Masonic emblem and the other ring to wear to the Shrine dance. He later forgot them and left them in his business suit when he dressed for the dance.

About 10:30 o'clock he remembered his oversight and attempted to call his cook over the phone, but received no answer. He left the dance and arrived home about 1 o'clock to find the cook lying beside the stove, a mark on her forehead and a handkerchief tied tightly about her neck. She was unconscious and the gas was escaping from the stove. Neighbors were called in and the woman revived.

Cook's Story. She declared that she had heard a noise shortly after 10 o'clock and that the light which had been left burning in the front of the house was suddenly turned out. Unable to get any reply to her calls, she stated that she seized a revolver that had been left for her protection and went to investigate. The burglar, she states, seized her by the hand and throat from behind some portieres at the entrance of the room. She did not remember any more.

The shooting occurred in North Sherman, after Steele and Miss Carpenter had taken her mother to Denison to catch a train.

Miss Carpenter was a telephone operator for the Texas railroad here.

ASSERTS BOYD WAS NEAR SCENE OF MAN'S DEATH

Mrs. Rosa Farrell Corroborates Winks Woman's Statements.

EASTLAND, Dec. 8.—The trial of Johnny Boyd, one of the trio charged with the murder of Joe Fiebrich, Ranger tailor, shot through the heart on the night of Nov. 11, opened in the Ninety-first district court this morning following the completion of the selection of the jury at 9:30. Events leading up to and immediately following the murder were recounted by Mrs. Rosa Farrell and Mrs. Stella Winks of Ranger as state witnesses in an attempt by the state to weave a chain of circumstantial evidence around the defendant.

The presence of Johnny Boyd and Lloyd Line at the Farrell woman's house on the outskirts of Ranger while Fiebrich and the Winks woman were visiting at the place, the hearing of two shots about 7:40 on the night of the murder and the appearance of Line and a smaller man driving rapidly toward the city some time later, were testified to in detail by the witnesses under direct and cross-examination.

Where Near Scene. Line and Boyd, Mrs. Winks stated, appeared in a Ford car at the spot where Fiebrich's Overland roadster had broken down just off the Tiffin road shortly before the murder, and had offered assistance, which was declined. Boyd, she said, had previously inquired from her how much money Fiebrich carried and accused her of taking his money.

Mrs. Winks stated that she did not see Jack Stovall, the third man indicted, at any time during the day or night of the killing.

Admins Selling Liquor. Mrs. Rosa Farrell, the first witness called, testified that she had sold liquor to Line and Boyd and to others, but denied that she had been promised immunity by the state on this charge. Shortly after Fiebrich and Mrs. Winks left—about 7:10—she declared she heard two shots. On cross-examination she stated that she could not be positive that the reports heard were pistol shots but that they sounded like them. She admitted to selling whisky since her health had broken down and she had been forced to give up her employment in a laundry.

Mrs. Winks testified that she had known Fiebrich about one month at the time of his death and had accompanied him early in the afternoon of the murder to Mrs. Farrell's house to obtain drinks. They returned to town and on a second trip to the house met Line and Boyd, she stated. The witness stated that they later left the place and returned a third time between 6 and 7 o'clock. This time

Expediting business with all possible speed so as to conclude their annual meeting Thursday, Texas Masons Wednesday acted on several important questions. Two decisions were announced:
First, the Masonic temple in Waco, where meetings are held and lodge business transacted, will not be remodeled, nor will a new structure be erected, a referendum of the Texas lodges showing a favorable vote of 218 against 336 opposed.

Second, the annual communications of the lodge will be hereafter earlier in year, instead of in December, as at present, a ballot taken among the various lodges resulting in 360 for and 201 against the change in time. The month of meeting will probably be October, but final action is yet to be taken on the date.

OIL TO COST MORE, OPERATOR ASSERTS

CHICAGO, Ill., Dec. 8.—Crude oil and its by-products, including gasoline, will cost more in the future than they do at present because of the difficulty experienced in getting at the oil, Frank Haskel, president of the Tidal Oil company, told the American Petroleum Institute Wednesday.

He said that the first paying wells drilled in the Midcontinent fields were shallow, but that it is now necessary to go deeper, with proportionate rise in the cost.
"Of course, impossible to accurately estimate the cost of drilling the next 22,000 wells which will be drilled in Oklahoma," he said, "but it is not improbable if they will cost at least ten times as much as the 22,000 wells which were drilled in the old shallow districts."

He said that there are 55,000 productive oil wells in Oklahoma at the present time, besides those in other fields. Mr. Haskel stated that nearly every state in Mexico contains oil, and there is much in untouched fields in South America.

Barney's Alibi Had a Slight Flaw in It

STELLA WINKS TELLS STORY OF MURDER

The witness testified, she went in alone, leaving Fiebrich, who was somewhat intoxicated, in the car. Line and Boyd were there, she said, and that on going out to see Fiebrich, Boyd followed and demanded to know how much money Fiebrich had on him. On her reply that the tailor was carrying no money and that she was paying for the drinks, Boyd accused her of "making" Fiebrich for his money, she claimed. Fiebrich later came into the house and exhibited a watch, declared that it was not his watch and that "they" had taken his watch and fob. He promised to tell her later who "they" were. The witness was not allowed to tell the jury of Fiebrich's disclosures.

Car Broke Down. Mrs. Winks stated that she and Fiebrich drove away about 7:15 toward town and had gone about a block when the car broke down. Line and Boyd drove up and offered gasoline, she stated, but their offer was declined, likewise an offer to take her to town. Later she went to the plant of the Ranger Dry Cleaning company near by and called a service car driver. While at the plant, she claimed to have seen Line and a "small man," driving rapidly toward her in a Ford car. Later, when she returned to Fiebrich's car with one Richards, service car driver, they found the tailor leaning over the side with one hand on the wheel. Thinking that he was intoxicated, the witness stated that they lifted him into the other car and that it was not until Richards' return to Fiebrich's car to obtain the keys that the blood was seen and they discovered that the tailor had been shot. She and Richards carried him to a hospital, the witness said.

Under cross-examination, Mrs. Winks stated that she had lived in Ranger about six months; was 19 years of age and married and that her husband was serving a term in the Leavenworth penitentiary for forgery. She stated that she was or had been running a rooming house in Ranger.

The witness was still on the stand when court adjourned for the noon recess.

FIGHT ENDS ON PATERNITY OF STILLMAN BABY

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Dec. 8.—The fight over the paternity of Baby Guy Stillman has ended here, but it will be several weeks before Supreme Court Justice Morschauser decides whether the child is legitimate.

Meanwhile, the divorce issue still will be contested. Counsel for both sides have agreed to go to Montreal Jan. 11 to hear testimony of witnesses called by Mrs. Stillman to defend her against the banker's charges that she was guilty of misconduct in Canada with Fred Beauvais, Indian guide, named as co-respondent.

Their testimony, it was said, will have no bearing on the paternity of Baby Guy. After the hearing here in January the case will go to Referee Daniel J. Geagan and Justice Morschauser for decision.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 7.—A burglar who broke into the home of Mrs. Samuel Rhodes, at Glen Riddle, a suburb, played "Santa Claus" to her 3-year-old granddaughter to prevent the child spreading an alarm.

His deception fooled the child, who sat up in bed while the invader, seated beside her, patted her hand and promised to bring her all sorts of pretty toys. Then the babe went back to sleep and the burglar made away with jewelry valued at more than $1,000 and $200 in cash.

The intruder entered the house by climbing into a living room window at 3 o'clock this afternoon. PACKERY MEATS ARE EXPECTED TO ADVANCE IN RANGER MARKET

Imported meats are expected to take a decided jump in prices here, as in other cities, as the result of the packers' strike, one of the local meat markets reported this morning. The increase has already been forecast, it is explained by the shortage in the shipments received by the local dealers from Fort Worth and Oklahoma City. Other markets reported that although there has been slight fluctuations in prices in the last few days that they were so slight that it could hardly be noticed.

Domestic meats will not be affected by the strike, was the report of another market which handles only meat killed here.

WEBSTER DIDN'T LIST ENOUGH WORDS TO DESCRIBE SHRINE BALL

BY MRS. R. B. CAMPBELL.

I've been studying Webster's Unabridged all day trying to find adjectives beautiful enough to describe the Shrine club reception and dance of last night—but they are not there. The Gholsion hotel was the scene of this wonderfully elaborate affair, and it looked as though those who planned the decorations had gone into the forest and brought it in and transplanted it to the lobby of the hotel, for where once were cold marble pillars, were living trees—beautiful cedars, odorless and Christmasy. And our own Southern mistletoe was festooned all around the railing of the mezzanine floor, its beautiful berries reflecting the many-colored lights that burned and glowed everywhere.

There was a real Christmas tree, cepting the presents. It stood regally in the center of the lobby, and myriads of tiny blue and green and red electric lights glowed in its branches, which looked ample and promising for production along about the 23rd. Its stately top caught the streamers of blue, red and green that was festooned across to the mezzanine floor.

A Beauty Spot.
The fireplace at the end of the lobby was banked with greens, and glowing like a varicolored flame, above the mantle, was the Shrine emblem woven in tiny light globes, on a background of red and white. The mezzanine floor was no less lovely in its decorations than the lobby, for the same Christmas colors prevailed there, and looking down from this vantage point, one saw a white Christmas, for even the floor had been treated with a mysterious substance, that sometimes might be a breakfast food, but this time was a perfect illusion of sparkling snow—even to the footprints.

After the guests had laid aside their wraps, the fun began—of course there was dancing, and the music was just right, catching the spirit of the season. During the dance, delicious punch was served.

At 11 o'clock, Dr. and Mrs. A. N. Harkrider, responding to an invitation from Mr. A. G. Jury, led the grand march up to the green room of the mezzanine floor, where another surprise in decorations met the eye. There were three tables, one set with the salad course, another with the sweet course, and a third for the coffee. Each table was a work of art. The middle table had for its centerpiece a beautiful angel food cake. Softly shaded lights flanked this cake on four sides, while festoons of Christmas colors were artistically draped around the cloth. The other tables were quite in keeping ing with this one and not only were these tables absolutely without fault from the point of artistry, but the food they held would delight the most fastidious epicurean.

Who's Who.
A register of the guests was kept, which follows. It may be possible that there were some present who did not register and in case any names are omitted it is owing to that fact. Those registering were: Dr. and Mrs. A. N. Harkrider, Mr. and Mrs. F. Ward, Mrs. H. B. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Jury, Mrs. James Davenport, Misses Bertha and Arretta Davenport, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Rhett, Miss Marie Armer, Mrs. M. H. Hagaman, Dr. and Mrs. C. O. Terrell, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Thurman, Miss Marguerite Lowe, W. P. Lacy, Mr. and Mrs. A. VERSAILLES TREATY WILL SMASH EUROPE, SENATOR BORAH SAYS

BY LAWRENCE MARTIN. (Copyrighted by United Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Europe will go to smash, and America will see serious trouble, unless the Versailles treaty is completely overhauled and rewritten, Senator Borah of Idaho declared today in launching the campaign which he hopes will lead to revision of the pact.
Borah urged the calling of an international conference of Great Britain, France, Japan and Germany to "rewrite this treaty, so Europe can live."
Revision of the treaty is the one way to save Europe, Borah asserted in an exclusive interview. Unless Europe can be saved and restored to normalcy, the United States not only has a small chance of collecting the more than $11,000,000,000 already due on war loans, but American prosperity will suffer through the failure of foreign markets, he pointed out.

Sorry—but we can't say another word on this subject today! But—tomorrow there'll be more of us to talk about!

LIFE ENDANGERED, IS PLEA OF SHERIFF ON TRIAL FOR MURDER

BROWNWOOD, Texas, Dec. 8.—The state rested late Tuesday in the trial of Sheriff Bob Miller of Concho county, charged with murder in connection with the killing at Eden Sept. 17 of Tom Bengé, cattleman.

The defense then began introduction of testimony to show that the defendant believed his life was in danger. More than thirty witnesses were introduced Tuesday afternoon and during the night session Tuesday night, and they testified in substance that Bengé was known in Concho and surrounding counties as a violent and dangerous man, who might be depended upon to carry out any threats he may have made.

Many of these witnesses testified that the reputation of some of the state witnesses also was bad as to veracity.

DAUGHTER GETS BULK OF JACK SANKEY ESTATE

FORT WORTH, Dec. 8.—Bequeathing the bulk of the John S. (Jack) Sankey $500,000 estate to his daughter by a former marriage, the will of the selfslain oil operator was filed Wednesday with Probate Clerk Harding.

Under its terms, $25,000 shall go to Mrs. Lena Faye Sankey, who was his wife at the time of his death Nov. 30.

Sankey's body was found in his office room at the Metropolitan hotel. A bullet wound was in his heart. The inquest verdict was that the injury was self-inflicted.

In the application to probate the will, it is stated that the estate, appraised at $500,000, consists largely of stock in the Skelley Oil company and in oil leases and holdings.

The will, written and signed June 11, bequeathes the following gifts: $100,000 in Gifts.

"To my wife, Lena Faye Sankey, $25,000.

"To my sister, Nellie J. Matthews, of Los Angeles, $25,000.

"To my brother, Harry S. Sankey, of Los Angeles, $25,000.

"To my mother, Mary I. Sankey, of Los Angeles, $25,000.

"All the remainder of my estate real, personal and mixed," the will recites, "I give, devise and bequeath to F. P. Lioullen, as trustee, to be held and controlled by him for the benefit of my beloved daughter, Eleanor Ruth Sankey."
