COOLIDGE TO HOLD ENDS OF PARTY WIRES

Coolidge Promises to Build and Direct His Own Republican "Machine."

WASHINGTON, May 2.—President Coolidge is due to his management of his campaign to the republican national organization, according to information coming from persons in touch with his present political lieutenants. Instead, he will build and direct his own "machine" and make the republican national committee an auxiliary.

Whether or not this determination of President Coolidge is due to his doubts of the republican national committee's fealty or ability is not stated. It is reported, however, that he let it be known two or three weeks ago that he intended taking the direction of his campaign in his own hands. The president's first step toward this personal control of his party and its machinery, it is forecast, will be the removal of Chairman John T. Adams of the republican national committee. The president himself will select the successor of Adams, it is announced. It is thought likely that other present officials of the committee will be supplanted also.

Is Directing the Attack. The president is reported to be selecting the officers of the republican convention. He has chosen the "key-note" at the convention and will name the man who makes the nominating speech, it is reported. Both of these speeches, it is stated, will have to have the president's approval before their delivery if they are not actually written in whole or in part by him. Even the regional managers of the campaign will be of the president's choosing. They, in turn, will appoint their subordinates and the republican national committee will execute, not originate, the plans and tactics of the campaign. In fact, it is stated, the work which in former campaigns was left to be outlined and performed by the republican national committee, through its subsidiaries, will this time be done by an independent organization.

There is a good deal of speculation as to the way in which the officers and members of the republican national committee will receive their demotion or elimination. All of the committee officers were friends of President Harding, and many of the significant changes in his personnel when he became his party's candidate. John T. Adams was then vice chairman, and succeeded Will H. Hays on the latter's voluntary retirement.

C. Bascom Slempp, private secretary to the president, is said to have been one of those who counseled Mr. Coolidge to create his own personal organization. Slempp is also mentioned as successor to Adams as chairman of the national committee.

Cost Will Be Heavy. There are predictions that President Coolidge's campaign will involve larger expenditures than those incurred in 1920, when the various republican national congressional, and state organizations spent a total of $9,700,738, or an average of $202,098 a state, as reported by the Kenyon committee of the senate. Included in this total was $75,000 contributed by Harry F. Sinclair and at least $25,000 by Edward L. Doheny.

There are many sources, it is felt, from which the republicans may expect fat donations. One among these are the big interests which are profiting by the republican tariff, the individuals who want the higher surtaxes on large incomes cut in half, financial institutions which oppose any readjustment of freight rates in the agricultural sections of the country, groups which want to grab the nation's natural resources of oil, coal, metals, and forests, and a numerous band of other seekers after special privileges.

Democratic success, it is foreseen by these interests, would put an end to their exploitation of the public. It is taken for granted that they will be willing to pay heavily for the continuance of republican control of the government.

SENATOR JOE BURKETT TO SPEND SUNDAY AT HOME

Senator Joe Burkett, candidate for governor, is expected in Eastland Sunday for a short visit with his family, but will leave immediately for Anson and Stamford where he speaks Monday.

Mr. Burkett is said by those who have seen him during the past few weeks, to have completely recovered from the severe attack of the flu that kept him out of the campaign three or four weeks some time back. Interest in his campaign is growing rapidly over the state, according to those who have heard him speak in various parts of the state. He spoke Tuesday in Brownwood where he had a splendid audience and where his speech was well received by the crowd, according to an Eastland man who was present.

LOCAL CROP PROSPECT VERY GOOD THIS YEAR

Increase of About 50 Per Cent Acreage Planted in Eastland County.

Prospects at this season of the year were never better for a bumper crop in Eastland county than at present. There is a splendid season in the ground and the farmers, as a rule, have their soil in good condition and are well prepared to work their crops. Twelve carloads of commercial fertilizer are being used on the farms in this county this year.

The total number of acres being cultivated in the county has been increasing each year since the oil boom and this year there is a 50 per cent increase over last year. This increased acreage is not being planted to cotton only, but to grain and other feed crops as well.

Cotton Planting Time. For the purpose of controlling the boll weevil, many Eastland county farmers have planned to plant their cotton this year on a uniform date which is from the first to the twelfth of May. A major portion of the crop will be planted at this time. The purpose of this is to get the cotton up after the weevil has starved out and disappeared.

A considerable acreage has been planted to wheat and oats in the county this year and the prospect at present is for a yield of from 35 to 40 bushels of oats to the acre. Grain is beginning to head and will be ready for harvest within the next 60 days. There is a large crop of maize, kafir, feterita and sudan grass planted for hay and a good crop is almost assured.

Peasants Profitable

Farmers in the sandy land who planted peanuts last year did well. The yield was good and the price averaged about $1.65 per bushel. Therefore, a large acreage is again being planted in peanuts, both for home consumption and for the local market.

A large acreage is being planted to watermelons, many of them being planted for an early crop. Although sweet potatoes do well in this section, only a small acreage is being planted. There is only one potato curing plant in the county, according to County Agent Bush. W. B. Sherr, south of Cisco, has a curing plant and last year planted 38 acres to sweet potatoes from which he received a gross return of approximately $3,300.

Co-operative Marketing

Eastland county farmers are taking up co-operative marketing. Five hundred bales of cotton were marketed in the county last year by the Texas Farm Bureau Co-operative Marketing association at a profit of $55 per bale. Most of this cotton was from the Rising Star section.

Prizes for the greatest yield per acre from a given number of acres planted to cotton, have been offered by banks, firms or chambers of commerce in Rising Star, Gorman, Carbon and Cisco, and many farmers have taken advantage of the offer and are making plans to win the prizes. They are also contesting, in some instances, for the prize being offered by the Dallas News for the greatest yield of cotton from a given number of acres.

AUSTIN SEEKING SELECTION FOR TEXAS CENTENNIAL

AUSTIN, May 2.—The Travis county committee for the Texas centennial has issued a call for a mass meeting to be held in the senate chamber of the state capitol Sunday, May 4, at 3 o'clock.

At this meeting Austin's effort to secure the location of the centennial will be outlined and a definite plan of action before the state convention which assembles in Austin May 21, will be decided upon.

A number of prominent and well-informed speakers will address the meeting. It will be fully explained how the centennial can be secured and what its location here will mean to Austin and all Central Texas.

That the exposition buildings could be designed and constructed to meet the desperate needs of the University of Texas and could be turned over to that institution at the conclusion of the centennial is one of the strongest arguments in favor of the selection of Austin as the site of the centennial. In his opinion of the strongest supporters of the centennial movement here.

Three Nations Have Round-World Flyers Temporarily Halted

Efforts of three nations to win long distance supremacy in the air were held up for all of them today. While the British and French are trying to make speed records, the American flight is designed to obtain data for future use.

The American air service planes, which started from California, near Los Angeles, March 15, are in Alaska, three of them at Dutch Harbor, Unalaska, awaiting the arrival of Major Frederick L. Martin, in the fourth plane, who appears to have been lost somewhere between that place and Chignik, in an attempt begun at 11 o'clock Wednesday, to hop from Chignik to Dutch Harbor in the teeth of a gale.

The British round-the-world plane, commanded by Major MacLaren, is near Karachi awaiting repairs. Major MacLaren left the hangar at Southampton, England, March 25, and is flying eastward. Repairs for his plane have been shipped from England, being rushed from Bologna to Marseilles, from where they will be sent, probably today, by ship to Bombay. It will probably be nearly a month before the British effort can proceed. He has flown 8,700 kilometers and has been 37 days on the way.

The French flight, announced only to Japan, is being made by Lieut. Pelletier D'Oisy. His plane is at Karachi, where he and his mechanic are overhauling his machine. He expects to resume his flight tomorrow. He has flown 6,000 kilometers in six days.

MAJOR MARTIN FLIES DIRECTLY INTO BLIZZARD

Tries to Hop From Chignik to Dutch Harbor and Disappears in Gale.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The army aviators at Dutch Harbor, Unalaska, today were directed by the war department to resume their round the world flight, in spite of the fact that Major Frederick L. Martin, commander, had not been found.

CORDOVA, Alaska, May 2.—Fear the Major Frederick L. Martin and Sergeant Alva Harvey, U. S. A., may have given their lives in an effort to make the Stars and Stripes the first flag to be carried around the world by air, was growing today.

Up to 10 a. m. today, Pacific coast time, no word had come from any news source of Major Martin and his mechanic. At 11 o'clock today it had been two full days since the seaplane, Seattle, with motor roaring and pilot unaided, arose from the water of Chignik and plunged into the snow laden Arctic winds, confident of overcoming the elements and arriving at Dutch Harbor within a few hours.

CORDOVA, Alaska, May 2.—Major Frederick L. Martin, commander of the American war department's round-the-world flight, was still missing at 4 o'clock this morning, 41 hours after he hopped off at Chignik in his seaplane, Seattle, bound for Dutch Harbor, Unalaska, there to meet his companions in the other three planes making the globe-circling flight.

The first belief was that Major Martin was safe, and would soon be found in one of the myriad bay inlets or coves which make the shores of the Alaskan peninsula and its islands a veritable labyrinth of gradually fading. Those mostly concerned in the flight admitted feeling grave anxiety as to the commander's safety.

Major Martin took off under most unfavorable circumstances and the weather conditions have been little improved. Gale with heavy snow fall were reported along his route to Dutch Harbor.

News that he was missing was broadcast by radio and the coast guard cutter Algonquin at Dutch Harbor ordered to proceed along the route taken by the flyer in an effort to locate him.

The Algonquin wireless a request that Chignik dispatch all canyery boats to search the numerous bays, as far as Shumagin islands. The cannery station at King Cove reported that the Seattle had been sighted passing there and that weather conditions were unusually unfavorable for flying.

DEATH LIST OF GALE VICTIMS IN SOUTHEAST CONTINUES TO GROW

ATLANTA, Ga., May 2.—The death list in the storm which swept over six southern states Tuesday and Wednesday had mounted to 120 today as additional reports of casualties were received. Appeals for outside assistance were received from several devastated towns and Red Cross units rushed to those places.

National guard tents were sent to Chipley and Bullockville, Ga., where many houses were wrecked and the populace forced to live in the open.

BARTON ASKS U. S. AID TO STOP "WHISKY REBELLION"

AUSTIN, May 2.—Adjutant General Barton today wired the attorney general of the United States requesting an investigation of San Antonio's "whisky rebellion" with the view of having orders issued from Washington compelling federal officers at San Antonio to accept complaints made by state rangers.

Allegations have been made that federal officers are not co-operating with the Texas rangers in enforcing liquor laws.

REPUBLICANS IN SENATE SEE DEFEAT AHEAD

Democratic-Progressive Coalition Kills Important Amendment to Tax Bill.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The democratic-progressive coalition won its first important victory on the tax bill in the senate today, defeating an amendment proposed by the republicans which they charged would adversely affect tax-exempt securities. The vote was 37 to 36.

Only six democrats bolted to vote with the republicans, while seven progressives voted with the democrats. The amendment defeated provided specifically that a tax payer cannot deduct from his capital loss or interest paid except those sums which exceed his income from tax exempt securities. It was recommended by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon.

FIVE PRECINCT PRIMARIES FOR RANGER VOTERS

They Will Be Held at 2:30 o'Clock, Election Judges to Preside.

Precinct primaries are to be held in Ranger tomorrow at each of the five voting precinct primaries in the city. They are to be called to order at 2:30 o'clock by the presiding judge of each precinct.

The precinct primaries will elect delegates to the county convention, to be held in the courthouse in Eastland next Tuesday, May 6, and will indicate whether the Eastland county delegates to the state convention should vote for an instructed delegation to the democratic national convention or an uninstructed delegation, and if instructed, for whom the delegation should be instructed.

Ranger had only one voting precinct until a few months ago, when the county commissioners' court divided the city into five voting precincts, so five precinct primaries will be held instead of one.

Shrine Club Enjoys Chicken Barbecue With May Sports

The Ranger Shrine club's chicken barbecue yesterday evening was a success from every standpoint. The barbecue was served about 7 o'clock with chicken galore. Frank Brown presided over the barbecue pit and John Thurman did the serving.

The club's orchestra, composed of Gus Coleman, Dr. H. A. Logsdon, Hall Walker, Paul Lacy, Karl Jones and Dr. C. C. Craig furnished the music throughout the evening. The cars were formed in a semi-circle and their lights turned on. Sufficient light was secured in this way to illumine the entire grounds.

The games were a huge success and every one took part in them. The sack race for men only was won by Mr. Housewright, with the prize a corset. The potato race for ladies only was very exciting with Miss Genevieve Woodruff the winner and also the recipient of a baby rattle for prize. When it came to threading needles the men proved that they were not all helpless, when Mr. Dillingham, with Mrs. Wilson holding the needle, was the first one to thread it. Mrs. Wilson received a box of cigars and Mr. Dillingham a card of safety pins.

Mrs. Paschal received a pair of baby union suits for winning the pulling thread match. The younger children came in for their share of the good times when they participated in a May pole dance under direction of Mrs. Bowden and Mrs. Dreinhofer.

CHINESE HUMAN HAIR IS IMPORTED IN HUGE QUANTITY

GALVESTON, May 2.—At the rate of one pound of hair for each Chinese boy, it would take a Chinese city with twice the population of Galveston to supply the 90,051 pounds—45 tons of human hair—which were imported into Galveston during the month of February, according to statistics for the month at the United States customs house.

At 30 cents a pound the total import value of the human hair received at this port was $29,953. The retail value of the hair was not given in the report from the customs house, nor were the number of Chinese who were needed to supply this huge quantity of hair.

Butler Named By Coolidge Executive Committee Chairman

WASHINGTON, May 2.—William M. Butler, who will be chairman of the republican national committee, succeeding John T. Adams, arrived in Washington today to discuss with President Coolidge the organization of the national committee to conduct the convention.

Announcement that Butler would succeed Adams was made at the white house last night, following a conference between Adams and the president, in which the present chairman said he wished to retire and to which Mr. Coolidge made no objection. Instead, he accepted Adams' offer and promptly put out a statement designating Butler as his choice to succeed Adams as the head of the committee and director general of the campaign.

Mr. Coolidge's selection of Butler instead of C. Bascom Slempp, his private secretary, as the new chairman, caused considerable surprise.

CUBAN REVOLT ASSUMING MORE SERIOUS PHASE

U. S. Puts Embargo on Shipment of Arms; Clashes Are Reported.

HAVANA, Cuba, May 2.—The situation created by the revolt of a number of soldiers in Santa Clara province, assumed more serious proportions today following persistent reports that General Beliz had landed on the north coast and will assume charge of the movement against the government of President Zayas.

Armando Seto, brother of the secretary of Veterans and Patriots association was reported killed when government troops fired on rebels in a clash at Abroa in Santa Clara province late yesterday.

Military orders have been issued to search all automobiles and other vehicles leaving Havana for the interior. The president has asked for one million dollars appropriation to combat the rebels.

The United States cruiser Cleveland has arrived in Havana harbor to protect American interests.

There have been a number of clashes between the government troops and the rebels, according to the latest reports and the demonstrations scheduled for May Day labor day program have been suspended. Cienfuegos province is the newest addition to the rebel forces. The government has put a censor on all news from the interior and have asked the press to print only authorized reports.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE STOPS ARMS GOING TO CUBA

AUSTIN, May 2.—Governor Neff left today for Palestine, where he will make his final speech tonight in his campaign waged for the past three weeks for an uninstructed delegation from Texas to the national democratic convention.

BASEBALL CZAR TELLS WHY HE FOUGHT PARDON

Declares Saloon Keeper Pardoned by President Coolidge Not Entitled to Mercy.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Judge Keneshaw Mountain Landis furnished a new thrill today at the senate committee's investigation of former Attorney General Daugherty. Landis took the stand to give details in the case of Phil Grossman, a Chicago saloon keeper, who was pardoned by President Coolidge.

Landis shook hands with the committee and took a seat behind the table with W. B. Wooden, examiner for the federal trade commission, gave further details of the anti-trust cases in which no action had been taken by the department of justice. Senator Wheeler of Montana, committee "prosecutor," read a letter from C. W. Middlekauff, special assistant attorney at Chicago, in which it was said that Landis had refused to recommend a pardon for Grossman.

Grossman was sentenced to a year in jail by Landis for contempt of court in a liquor violation case. The saloon keeper never served a day in jail, according to the testimony. Landis said that he told Middlekauff that if it was true that Grossman was sentenced on the testimony of a liar, as Middlekauff charged, he should publicly demand a pardon.

"But I found that such was not the case," shouted Landis, pounding the table. "This man was operating a regular saloon and there were six witnesses who saw him selling whiskey."

Landis gave the names of witnesses who, he testified, said that they bought liquor at Grossman's saloon.

FARM RELIEF MEASURE LAID BEFORE HOUSE

Agricultural Committee Sets Forth Reasons Why It Should Become a Law.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The agricultural committee today laid before the house its formal report on the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill, with an analysis of the existing ills in agriculture and the manner in which the bill is expected to cure them.

Chairman Haugen said he expected to be able to get the bill before the house for consideration before the end of next week. The threatening situation is described in the agricultural report, which sets forth:

That half as many banks had failed between 1920 and 1923 as during the whole period from 1902 to 1923.

That four-sevenths of the total farm income was taken to pay taxes an interest on mortgages and debts.

That farm labor has become so scarce that the average farmer cannot afford to hire anyone.

That more than 1,120,000 farmers and hired men deserted the farms in 1922 to seek industrial employment.

That one-fourth of the farm owners in the corn and wheat states are bankrupt.

Above all, that the purchasing power of farm products is less than it was before the war.

The report advised the house that the McNary-Haugen bill was scientifically devised to cope with the situation. As described, the bill would:

Create a $200,000,000 corporation, the capital to be furnished by the government, with a board of directors composed of the secretary of agriculture and four members appointed by the senate.

Empower the corporation to buy and sell wheat, straw, rice, wool, cattle, sheep, swine and feed products whenever special emergencies exist in one or more of these fields.

TWO CHILDREN KILLED BY THEIR FATHER WHO SUICIDES

THREE DAILY NEWSPAPERS AND ONE SCOLD

According to an editorial paragraph in the Eastland Oil Belt News, "the three daily newspapers in Eastland county are not getting sufficient advertising to justify publishing one daily."

Back in the time of the grandmothers of this day and generation there was a popular song, one verse of which ran something like this:

A fox crept out of his hole and played a while with his tail in transport of glee,

Then thoughtfully walked to a green forest glade and sat himself down and most sweetly sang he:

When one hears or reads the wails of the Oil Belt News, thoughts of the sleeping goose dreaming of the quacking geese creep inadvertently into mind.

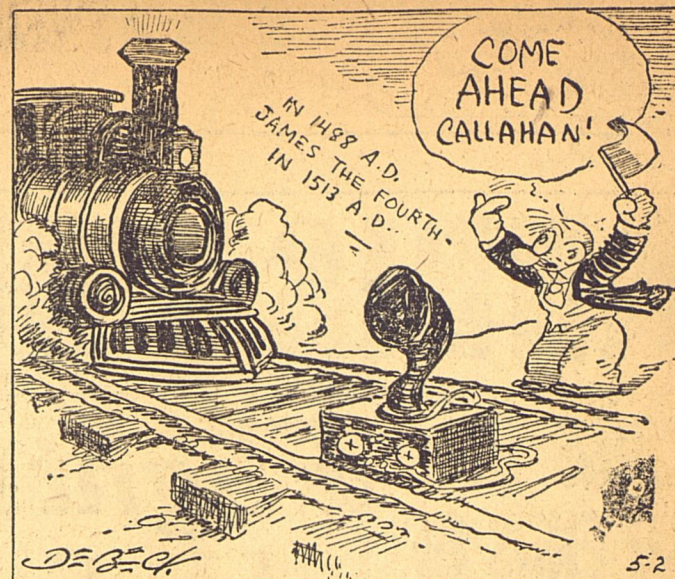

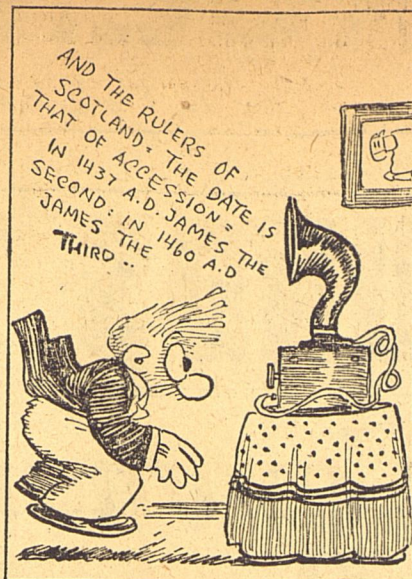

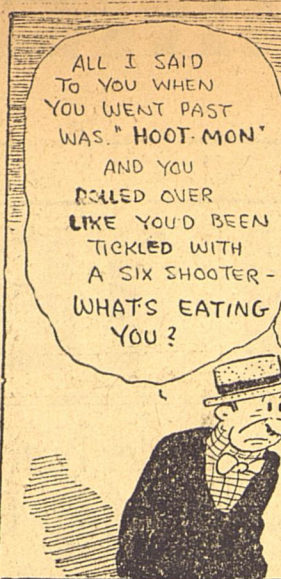

It may be the Oil Belt News referred to itself, the Eastland Telegram and the Cisco News in the matter of unsatisfactory advertising patronage.

The Ranger Daily Times has no complaint at all. The merchants of Ranger are using its columns liberally, and are, in consequence, getting a steady run of business.

This newspaper would suggest to the esteemed contemporary that it stick to facts and quit scolding.

Both the Western Union and the Postal Telegraph companies have agreed to deny wire service to any brokerage firm coming under the ban of the Pennsylvania bureau of securities.

SHATTERED NERVES

Lady Says She Was In a Desperate Condition, But "Now In Splendid Health" After Taking Cardui.

Dale, Ind.—"About three years ago," says Mrs. Flora Roberts, of this place, "I had the flu, which left me in a desperate condition. I had a bad cough. I went down in weight to little over one hundred pounds. I took different medicines—did everything, but nothing seemed to do me any good. I hurt so badly in the chest at times I would have to go to the door to get my breath. "I would have the headache and... was so weak I felt like I would just have to sink down and stay there. "My nerves were shattered. I looked for something awful to happen—I would tremble and shake at a noise. "My mother said, 'Do try Cardui,' and my husband insisted till I began its use. I used two bottles of Cardui... and noted a big improvement in my condition. I kept up the Cardui and weigh 180 pounds. I am now in splendid health—sure am a firm believer in Cardui, for I'm satisfied it did the work. "After a weakening illness a tonic is needed to help regain lost strength. Many thousands of women have found Cardui exactly what they needed for this purpose. It may be just what you need. Try it. All druggists." NC-155

IF RHEUMATIC EAT NO SWEETS

Says Glass of Salts Helps to Overcome Rheumatism Acid.

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly, keep the feet dry, avoid exposure and above all, drink plenty of good water and avoid eating sweets of all kinds. Rheumatism is caused by body waste and acids resulting from fermentation. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this poison from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this waste and acids, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain, called rheumatism. At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity, remove waste matter, also to stimulate the kidneys, thus often ridding the blood of rheumatic poison. Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.—Advertisement.

EASTLAND TENNIS PLAYERS VICTORS IN THREE MATCHES

Judge Scott W. Key received a telegram last night from Austin stating that Allen Key and Bobbie Garrett, Eastland High school tennis players, who are at Austin in the state meet, had won three matches and were still taking everything that was coming up. Besides Key and Garrett, who were the winners of boys' doubles in tennis at the district meet at Stephenville, Homer Mitchell, winner of high hurdle and broad jump, Ed T. Cox, first in shot put and second in the 440-yard dash; Mamie Tom Matthews, first in declamation, and Don Turner, first in junior declamation, are Eastland contestants that are at Austin in the state meet.

SAVE YOUR EYES BY THESE LIGHT RULES

- 1. The use and arrangement of electric lights to give the best results and to protect the eyes of workers and readers was outlined before the joint conference of the American society of safety engineers and the national safety council held recently in New York city. Dr. Charles Sheard, an authority on illumination delivered the leading address on "Glare—What It Is; What It Does," in which he gave the following rules: 1. Light should shine on the object under gaze, not in the observer's eyes. 2. Glare, which is light out of place, can be overcome by the use of diffusing glass globes, reflectors or shades. 3. Strong contrasts of light and shadow are to be avoided. Indirect lighting is to be preferred, by means of which the brightness of lighting bowls or other fixtures is reduced. 4. Avoid the glare of reflections from polished surfaces. 5. Localized lighting, in the form of drop lights, etc., is to be avoided. It produces too sharp contrasts of light and shadow. 6. Both too much and too little light strain and fatigue the eyes, which must labor to obtain sharp definition of the object under gaze. 7. Eye-strain and irritation result from the use of unsteady, flickering or streaked light sources.

Stage Star Sponsors Home Baking

OLGA LEE of the "Stage Star" has been heard that it is also cheaper to learn to cook than to enrich the restaurateurs. She is working backward on the menu and has started with cake. The perfect specimen she is so tenderly regarding, rejoices in the name of Chocolate Sahara cake and is concocted as follows: Cream one cupful of butter and one teaspoonful salt, add one cupful of sugar by tablespoonfuls, beating all the time, then add the yolks of five eggs each one separately, then add a half pound of cornstarch by tablespoonfuls, a teaspoonful of lemon extract and lastly whites of five eggs beaten to a stiff froth. Turn into a papered cake tin and bake in moderate oven for three-quarters of an hour. Sufficient for one cake. When cake is cool, pour on the frosting which is made as follows: Put unbeaten whites of one egg into shallow dish, add gradually 1 1/2 cups sugar and two tablespoonfuls of cocoa, which have been mixed together beating with wire whip until of right consistency to spread; add 1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract and spread on cake.

HOW TO PLANT HOME GROUNDS IN MOST ATTRACTIVE MANNER

In planting shrubbery about the house to improve the home grounds, there are a few well defined rules that should be carefully followed. In the first place, never plant them in straight lines, but group them in irregular masses or as nearly like nature grouped them as possible. When using them for foundation plantings next to the front and side of the house, plant the taller growing varieties back next to the wall with the lower growing varieties in front. Also do not plant the higher growing varieties directly in front of the windows and door, as it is not desirable for the view from the front to be cut off by these. If the foundation of the house is quite high, little or no attention need be paid to this point, but more often than not the foundation is not sufficiently high to make this point one that may be overlooked. Make Pencil Sketch of Grounds. Before selecting the kind of shrubbery to be used and ordering same from the nursery make a careful pencil sketch of the grounds and indicate where each shrub or tree is to be planted, keeping in mind that the front part of the grounds should be kept almost entirely free of trees and shrubbery. Of course these may be planted on the side front, but not directly in front as this would cut off the view, and that is undesirable. Never plant shrubbery except in groups, unless it is some of the larger flowering specimens like Crepe Myrtle, which can be used to decide advantage by planting it individually to the sides or to the rear of the grounds. Never plant the shade trees in straight lines. Group them more or less in the way nature groups them. Make Extensive Use of Evergreens. After the tentative sketch is made, indicating where the shrubbery and trees are to be placed, then select the kind and variety desired. It should be kept in mind that in the South extensive use should be made of the evergreen shrubbery, both the broad-leaved evergreen and the Coniferous evergreen. As a rule one-half to two-thirds of the shrubbery planted on Southern home grounds should be evergreens. The Abelia Grandiflora is probably the leader among the broad-leaved evergreen for use on Southern home grounds. Its leaves are a dark-glossy green and stay on throughout winter. From early spring until frost it is a mass of beautiful flowers. It will stand heavy pruning and may be cut so as to grow high, low or in any desired shape. Of the flowering shrubs that are not evergreens, Spirea is one of the leaders, and everyone should plant one or more clumps of this beautiful flowering shrub. Spirea Van Houttei, the common name of which is bridal bower, is one of the best. It produces a great mass of white blooms early in the spring. It grows quite high and a good arrangement is to plant the Spirea Van Houttei right next to the wall with a lower growing Spirea directly in front of it, such as Spirea Thunbergii. Then directly in front of the Spirea Thunbergii, plant a clump or group of the Abelia Grandiflora. This will give a mighty effective arrangement of these three shrubs. Of course these three are only a few of the many varieties that are especially suited to the South. Others that may be used very effectively are some of the Coniferous evergreens, particularly the American Arborvitae and the Golden Arborvitae. Still other flowering shrubs that may be used to advantage are Weigela, Deutzia, Hydrangia, Golden Bell, Lilac and Honeysuckle. There are many others that are well adapted to the South, but these are among the leaders. By choosing from the kinds and varieties of shrubbery named above and grouping according to methods suggested, one can, for a very few dollars, very greatly improve the appearance of the home and add $500 to $1,000 to the sales value of the place. CUT-OFF ROADS AROUND LARGE CENTERS FOUND TO BE MOST DESIRABLE

In the days of the horse, main arteries of travel naturally entered cities at the most convenient place, and travel along the highway passed down Main street without slowing up. The horse drawn vehicle could get through a city as fast as it could travel the country road.

car or truck can pass in half an hour? Not infrequently the cut-off actually saves mileage instead of increasing it.

To have all the through traffic go through Main street is all right as long as Main street is short and not crowded. To divert through traffic from Main street to a boundary road is good economics, good engineering and good common sense when Main street is long and congested.

CLUB WOMEN OF NATION DEMAND CLEANER MOVIES

Censorship Likely to Be Subject at Next Biennial of Federation.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—"What will the women of the United States do about the movie censorship?" promises to be a live subject at the coming biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs at Los Angeles June 2-13.

The women have on their Los Angeles program a visit to Hollywood and the studios. Certain movie stars of "spotless reputations" will appear on the program, and certain hospitalities will be tendered the ladies, none of which will be of the character featured in the daily paper crime columns.

At the Hot Springs biennial convention in 1918 a resolution, introduced by Mrs. A. H. Finn of Detroit, was adopted and has never been rescinded. It read: "That the General Federation recommend that women in the various states use all possible effort toward extending the area which is protected by law from the influence of harmful films, inducing the legislatures of states aside from Pennsylvania, Ohio, Kansas and Maryland, (where legal censorship then existed) to enact laws similar to the motion picture censorship laws of those states, governors to appoint suitable men and women to administer these laws, and in general to make an strenuous public opinion so that there may be authority at hand to cope with an evil which so seriously threatens the proper foundation of society."

The Art Of Beauty By B. M. DOUGLAS

The Very Young Person

WE don't like to call her a flapper, because the word seems to us to have gone out of style along with the frizzy bob, and the funny little hats perched over one ear. But although names may change the fact remains the same, and that very vivid and entrancing young person of the younger generation is always with us, and a very worthwhile sort, in spite of the fulminations of authors, and playwrights.

All her faults are those of over-emphasis, and nowhere is this more true than in the realm of cosmetics. Although the young girl needs less cosmetics than her older sisters, she nearly always uses twice as much, and thereby covers up the vividness and glow of youth.

Girls are usually in a hurry to get "down-town," to go to the dressmaker, or the milliner or to their dearest friend, or whatnot. Very often they seize a powder-puff full of powder and dab it on hastily, make a correspondingly hasty dab at the rouge pot, and sail forth in a comical sense of perfection, which is hardly borne out by the appearance they present. Moreover they are somewhat given to the use of dead white powder, whether it is becoming to the color of their skin or not.

As a matter of fact, it is now generally conceded that white powder is passe, and the warmer shades are more becoming to even fair skins. One reason for this is the vogue for out-of-door effects, demanding the Peach-ees or Peaches and Cream type of face powders, which combine soft tan and pinkish tones blending with the warm skin of the modern outdoor girl.

Leckie in "Artists & Models" of the red rose. Just a touch, enough to bring out the sparkle in her eyes. If her own lips are naturally colorful, she may let well enough alone, or use a colorless lipstick merely for keeping the lips soft and smooth. If she feels the need of accentuation let her first be sure that her diet is of the kind that brings the natural color to the lips, and then if she does use the lipstick, let her take her time and apply it carefully. Nothing is more unbecoming on a youthful face than the hard, artificial outline of poorly made up lips. And don't encumber the lure of beaded eyelashes and other sophisticated forms of make-up. It is not sanctioned by good form and has not even the excuse of becomingness.

Naturally our youthful heroines are bobbed. If she is of the type which can wear the hair straight and untouched by the curling iron, so much the better. This style of short hair is particularly piquant with the brunette type. If she must be waved, let her undulations be of the large, natural variety, and remember that both stiffness and fuzziness should be avoided in the coiffure.

tion, says that the work of Mrs. Harry Lilly of New York, motion picture chairman, succeeding Mrs. Wood-Allen Chapman, appointed immediately after the federation's resolution for censorship in Hot Springs, "has not worked in the interest of the resolution, but in the interest of the motion picture people." This, she says, "is a serious matter."

The Finn faction is now ready, it is stated, to make a fight for federal supervision in the shape of a bill for the regulation of motion pictures in interstate commerce, along the line of the Upshaw bill, indorsed by the National Motion Picture conference held in Washington in February, and introduced shortly afterward in the house.

Mrs. Lilly, the movie chairman, will report on motion picture work in the 25 federations where a motion picture committee is functioning. No matter what she recommends, a row is likely.

PHONOGRAPH MUSIC MADE POSSIBLE BY TINY INSECT

How many realize as they listen to the phonographs in their homes that the efforts of a tiny insect working industriously in the far away forests of India make it possible for the vast pronograph industry to place the music of the world at the command of the public?

Science having failed to produce an effective substitute, the phonograph industry must depend upon the insect known as the "lac" insect for the substance of which every record contains about twenty per cent.

These useful little creatures derive their name from the Hindi "laksh," which means a hundred thousand. They settle by the millions on the young shoots of certain trees in India and suck therefrom juices which subsequently are excreted in the form of a yellow substance. This substance is gathered by natives twice a year, and after being pressed and strained through muslin bags, is rolled into thin sheets and sold as shellac—the material without which no phonograph record can be made satisfactory. It acts as a binding agent in the process of making the record.

Shellac varies in color from pale amber to black. The palest shellac, known as "orange lac," is exported every year for use in the manufacture of phonograph records. The lac insect is affected by adverse weather conditions. Frost and heavy rain are invariably followed by a decrease in the yield of shellac.

Rev. A. L. Leake, pastor of the Central Baptist church, has his salary raised $50 a month as a measure of appreciation for the work he has accomplished in the past for the church and for the work done during the recent revival held here. The members conference of the church monthly conference of the church Thursday night voted unanimously for the increase. The finances of the Central Baptist church are in better condition now than at any time in the history of the church it was said. The collections of the church are averaging $200 a week and a total of $2,700 was collected for the first four months of this year, which is $900 more than was collected last year for the same period.

DR. CATON OF EASTLAND OFFERS TO AID C. M. T. CAMPS

FORT SAM HOUSTON, May 2.—Dr. J. H. Caton of Eastland, has volunteered to conduct free of charge physical examinations for applicants to the Citizens' Military Training camp to be held at Fort Sill, Okla., in August.

The basic physical qualifications for admittance into a C. M. T. C. are very simple, requiring only that the applicant be free from disease, able bodied and have "health" and strength adequate to undergo a month of training.

A total of 474 applications representing 235 different cities have been already received for the camp to be held at Fort Sill, and young men desiring to attend are advised to write to the C. M. T. C. Officer, Fort Sam Houston, at once, to insure reservation being made for them.

FORMULA FOR WATER-PROOFING TENTS

So much has been said in regard to what kind of tent one should use while camping out and the formula used in making them waterproof, that I hesitate in suggesting the following, in fact, the only remedy that I have found worthy of consideration. I know of several instances where the so-called waterproof remedy not only failed to waterproof the tent, but also did considerable harm. I have a real good friend who got a formula out of some sport magazine, and mixing the remedy according to directions applied it to a fishing line in order to note results before trying it on his tent. The result is not worth mentioning only that the line was rendered practically useless. It became gummy and sticky and it was necessary to boil it in hot linseed oil before it could be conveniently used again. Obtain some paraffin; melt it and apply hot to your tent with a brush. Then go over with a hot iron and your tent will be as near waterproof as it is possible it can be.—Sportsman's Digest.

McGraw Takes Chance to Win And Does Win

By HENRY I. FARRELL, United Press Sports Editor.
 NEW YORK, May 2.—Although the results are often painful, there are some advantages in finding out the full capabilities of a young athlete. In professional sports, where so much depends upon building a good foundation, it is the accepted privilege of a manager to bring youngsters along by adherence to a nursing program in which the hard spots are reached by gradual degrees.

John McGraw, manager of the New York Giants, whose success in baseball has made his theories one of the accepted rules of the game, said once that even a finished product from the minor leagues needed at least one season upon a major league bench before he was ready for the big time.

McGraw, however, knows that no standard rules can be applied successfully in every case and his success has been due largely to his inclination to make his rules fit the case.

The Giant manager caused veteran writers and old-time fans to hold court on him when he started three rookie pitchers during the first week of the pennant race. The verdict had to be returned in favor of McGraw, however, as the youngsters got by with the games.

Commenting about it later, McGraw said that he had to find out what they could do and the only way he could do it was by showing them in and letting them take it.

In the second game of the season, McGraw started Weyland Dean, a youngster who had never seen a big league park before. He got smacked for two home runs in the first inning, but he didn't lose heart and won his game. McGraw then turned to Virgil Barnes, who had gone through the bench duty for two seasons and he turned in his game. Walter Huntzinger, a boy just a year away from the University of Pennsylvania, then got his call, and he delivered.

The results, of course, were highly successful, not only in the games won and lost, but in the confidence that was instilled in the youngsters by getting recognition from the manager and by making good. The results also had a psychological effect upon the whole team, who played their hearts out to encourage the youngsters.

J. M. ALLEN'S CASE REVERSED. REMAIND FOR NEW TRIAL

The court of criminal appeals at Austin reversed and remanded the case of the State of Texas vs. J. M. Allen from Eastland county. This is a case in which Allen was charged with swindling. The amount alleged to have been involved was approximately $5,000 and was in connection with a land deal with Dr. Earnest of Ranger. The case was tried here in the Ninety-first district court in December, 1922. The defendant was convicted and given three years in the state penitentiary. Allen came to Eastland during the boom.

STOLEN CAR YET MISSING BUT ONE ARREST MADE

Deputy Sheriff Brad Poe reports the Ford automobile stolen in Cisco a few nights ago from Claude Crossley, an Eastland barber, not yet recovered. A party has been arrested, however, on a charge of having stolen the car and has given bond for his appearance before the grand jury in that state. Sheriff Barton said that no arrests had been made in connection with the attempted blowing of the safe in a store at Sabanno some weeks ago. It is understood that the recent grand jury investigated the case.

ALAMEDA CEMETERY ASSOCIATION HOLDS ITS MAY MEETING SATURDAY

Citizens of the Alameda community will meet at the Alameda cemetery Saturday, as has been their custom for more than 25 years, and spend the day in cleaning up the cemetery and otherwise beautifying the graves of those buried there. They will take their dinner, which will be spread at the noon hour in old-fashion picnic style.

The Alameda cemetery is one of the oldest burying grounds in the county. ### CITIZENS' MILITARY TRAINING CAMPS OFFERED TO BOYS

Young men, from 17 to 24 years of age, wanted for training in citizens' military training camp at Fort Sill, Okla., and Fort Sam Houston, Texas, from Aug. 1 to Aug. 21, 1924. Attendance in the training camp does not constitute any present or future contract of enlistment in the army of the United States.

The United States government pays the expense of those attending, including transportation to and from camp, uniform, food and medical attention.

The object of the training camp is to bring young men of high type from all sections of the country on a common basis of equality and under the most favorable conditions of outdoor life; to stimulate and promote good citizenship, patriotism and Americanism, and to realize their obligations to their country.

Health Hints by the Father of Physical Culture

Primitive nations can dispense with physical training-schools as the creatures of the wilderness dispense with houses and clothes, but city-dwellers need a substitute for the lost opportunities of outdoor exercise. Mental culture and gymnastics should be as inseparable as body and soul. "It is impossible to repress luxury by legislation," says Solon in Lucian's "Dialogues of Anacharsis," but its influence may be counteracted by athletic games, which invigorate the body and give a martial character to the amusement of our young men."
And that remedial use of gymnastics requires the supervision of an expert teacher. It is not enough to provide an assortment of training-school apparatus and trust visitors to use it to good advantage. We might as well establish a free public drug-store and invite patients to come in and help themselves. I have seen athletics on the Let Alone plan tried in a city park, and remember the results in the case of novices who go discouraged the first day by disfiguring accidents, and of others who contracted dyspepsia by exercising directly after dinner.

A well-developed system of physical culture offers remedies for almost every disorder of the human organism, and for all but the most hopeless malformations. As a preliminary, gymnasium pupils should be advised to postpone the principal meal of the day (call it supper or dinner) to the late afternoon, and at least half an hour after the conclusion of their exercises.

Violent muscular efforts can exhaust the vital vigor of the organism to a degree which—for a short time—may take away the appetite, and make it advisable to defer repast for a little while; but even a direct rush from the gymnasium to the dining room would be hygienically preferable to the opposite mistake. After dinner rest is recommended. After being nursed, a fretful child will fall asleep; the physiological reason can be found in the fact that exercise interferes with digestion, and obliges the stomach to retain an accumulation of ingesta, till there is a risk of their undergoing a process of fermentation and becoming a positive danger to the system.

JIM CHEATHAM NOW CITY MANAGER OF EASTLAND

Jim Cheatham, the newly appointed city manager of Eastland, took office Thursday morning, succeeding Clyde L. Garrett, who resigned. Mr. Cheatham said that he did not know when the commission would meet again, that two of the members of the board were out of town and possibly would not be back for several days.

LOGIC OF TROUBLE SEEKING.

The diagnosis of a trouble is a matter which should be undertaken without flurry, and much time can be saved by thinking out the cause before actually tackling the job. As an instance of this, a certain engine fitted with two carburetors would only run on two cylinders at high speed. Investigation revealed the fact that though there was the normal suction at the air intake of one carburetor there was none whatever at the other. A few moments' quiet thought diagnosed the trouble in the following manner. If there is no suction, either the piston of one cylinder is defective, or the engine is taking in air from some part other than the inlet pipe. Considering this in detail, it was obvious that the pistons were intact since there was compression in all four cylinders when the handle was turned. Obviously, air was being sucked from some other part.

Considering this, it was possible for a leak to occur only through the cylinder head gasket, the spark plug hole, or the exhaust valve seat. The spark plug was certainly tight, the gasket trouble was unlikely, and everything pointed to the exhaust valve. It was quite evident that the inlet valve could not be the cause of the trouble, as even if this valve were completely off its seat, there would still be suction in the carburetor, and it was obvious, also, that nothing the carburetor might do would make any difference to the suction.

Acting on these lines the cylinder head was removed, and though both the exhaust valves of the two cylinders affected outwardly appeared to be intact, they were removed, and the valve faces were found to be extremely bad. New exhaust valves cured the trouble.

ARKANSAS NATURAL GAS TEAM DEFEATS FIREMEN

The teams of the Arkansas Natural Gas and the Firemen, both of the Sunset baseball league, played Thursday afternoon at the Comellie park at 5:30. The score was 10 to 4 in favor of the Arkansas Natural Gas.

Jim Boyer, athletic director of the American Legion Athletic club, stated yesterday that the high school team had been admitted to the Sunset league and that another team was needed to bring the number of teams up to six.

In the Kid league the Steers defeated the Crabs yesterday by score of 16 to 7. This was an indoor game.
