MARRIED AFTER FIFTY YEARS' COURTSHIP

FORT WORTH, Dec. 17.—The spark of love, kindled in youth fifty years ago, has flamed again and this time it has resulted in marriage. D. S. McCarthy of Ranger and Mrs. Meissla of Denver, Colo., are the principals in this love drama of life. They were wedded here yesterday by Justice of the Peace Tom Mahen. He is 66 and she 68. They met when in the glow of youth, and like many others, a disagreement arose between them. "You mean old thing, I never want to see you again," she said, as the spark burned low, and they separated. Fifty years went by; she married and he went out into the world to make his way. The spark flickered, almost went out, and when they met again recently, it burst into a flame of love and they were married.

Keltem christened the huge structure. The crane, technically speaking, is of the stationary cantilever type and has a working capacity of 350 gross tons. It is operated electrically and will be used for fitting out all types of vessels, chiefly the great battleships and dreadnaughts. It can pick up a complete gun turret assembled on the dock and place it intact on shipboard. The photo shows the crane carrying a locomotive at each end and two other mammoth loads between.

Surprised When World Failed to Come to an End

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Astrologers were expressed by the superstitious when the earth did not come to an end today.

The ominous positions of the planets was well presented and some astrologers and persons versed in witchcraft had maintained at the precise moment when the "inferior conjunction" of the solar system formed themselves in a straight line with Neptune, Saturn, Jupiter, Mars, Venus and Mercury on one side, and the sun and Uranus on the other, the earth, which had moved four or five solar paces to the front of the line, would behave like a one-horse shay. Astrologers have predicted the end of the world on somewhat similar occasions for centuries. Professor A. F.orta, meteorologist, is given credit for first thinking up today's predicted catastrophe.

Whistle Starts Trouble

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 17.—One long, wailing, shrieking whistle, then others less strident, finally practically all sirens in the city mingled with the ringing of a number of bells, broke the stillness of early morning in Indianapolis.

This was followed by a continual jangling of telephone bells at local newspaper offices. "I guess it's notice of the end of the world," said one woman tremulously. "The whistles are calling the people to church and I'm going." It developed later that the throttle in a whistle at a railroad roundhouse became stuck, starting the din in which other whistles joined without knowing exactly why.

Marshall Well Draws Attention

FORT WORTH, Dec. 17.—Oil men are attaching considerable importance to the Marshall well of the Humble Oil and Refining company in the western part of Young county. Right now it is about the most interesting wildcat in the whole of the North Central Texas fields. The Marshall hit the top of the sand at 2,775 feet and at three feet in the sand the hole filled up with oil within less than half an hour. The well was shut down immediately and has been shut down since that time, with reports that it will not be reopened until sufficient storage is on the ground. There is some speculation whether the Marshall well is in an entirely different sand from other wells in North Central Texas. At its present depth the well is several hundred feet deeper than the so-called Strawn sand or the shallow sands of Eastland county, where there is considerable production at around 1,700 to 1,900 feet.

E. H. WEBB, MAKING 300, SWINGS OIL INTEREST TOWARD NEW SECTION

Territory that never before has produced a well, that's miles from the nearest production, and that for months has escaped even the casual glance of the oil fraternity, today kicks in with a well that promises to be a fair producer and which will add new zest to the action in that section.

Harkrider et al., on the E. H. Webb, five miles south of Ranger, is making 300 barrels from the top of a sand struck at 3,135 feet. The farm is 102 acres and is bounded on the west by Leon Oil company, on the Minnie Sibley 12 acres; north by the William Van Norman farm, 540 acres, divided between the Humble Oil and Refining company and the Texas company; in the east by the Humble and Cullinan tract, 273 acres.

This is two miles beyond furthest south production and by scouts is regarded as the most significant development of the last several months. It is possible that the new well, which is located in the northeast corner of the tract, has found a "streak" of pay and may play out, as did the Sinclair's S. P. McLothlin, after a two-day sensation. Nothing to date has indicated that the flow of the well is not normal.

Out west, Hercules Petroleum company's Brooks heirs No. 1, now a completion, with sand from 3,505 to 3,525, is making 2,000 barrels. Another producer in Pleasant Grove, of minor size, is Leon Oil company's Allen No. 3, making sixty barrels from the top of the first pay, at 3,390 feet.

Most of the refining of crude oil is done at coast points, 19 per cent being done at Atlantic points, 20 per cent in California and 33 per cent in Texas and Louisiana. The Wall Street Journal says that indications point to Texas and Louisiana becoming larger refining states because of the high gravity oil at Ranger, Burkburnett, Desdemona and Homer, La.

THEATERS

QUEEN.
Fine Cast Supports Blanche Sweet.
An excellent cast has been assembled by Paramount in their company's production of the famous stage success "The Warrens of Virginia" which will be presented in reissue form at the Queen theater. The play ran for a year in New York and when it was produced by Paramount and James Neill in the principal roles, it proved highly successful.

LIBERTY.
Hero Medal for Nell Shipman.
Recommendation that a Carnegie medal for heroism be awarded Nell Shipman, starring in "Back to God's Country," by James Oliver Curwood which will be shown at the Liberty theater, commencing today, has been made following the knowledge that Miss Shipman has in the last two years saved three lives through her prowess as a swimmer and her courage.

Nearly two years ago Miss Shipman saved the life of Alfred Whitman, an actor, when he was stricken with cramps while swimming in the Kerr river, Kern county, California.

Just recently when Mrs. L. H. Rothstein and her seven-year-old son Roger capsized in a rowboat at Nat Goodwin pier, Santa Monica beach Miss Shipman rescued them from the water after they had gone under for the third time.

In "Back to God's Country," Miss Shipman has ample opportunity to demonstrate her aquatic ability. In a dramatic scene she rescues her father by leaping into the swirling rapids of a Canadian mountain waterfall. This is one of the few instances in which a star has risked her life for the correct depiction of a scene.

Thank Goodness, the World Didn't Come to Frigid End Before Payday

At the hour of going to press, it hasn't happened, but you never can tell. Even as your happy glance follows this line the conjunction of Mercury, Venus, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn and Neptune may start things.

According to Prof. Porta, who has spent some time investigating these matters, this get-together of the planets, all within the short distance of 26 degrees, an astronomical space is measured will cause a terrible gaseous explosion on the side of the sun, which will, in turn, set up unprecedented disturbances on the earth.

Well, if it's going to happen, it's going to have any effect on it, either passed by the chamber of commerce and the board of commissioners are going to have any effect on it, either.

Ranger, so far, is bearing up pretty well under the suspense.

"World's comin' 'n' end today; get your morning paper!" shouted one small newsie on Main street.

It will be weeks before the earth regains its normal conditions after the terrible cataclysm, says Prof. Porta, who has made a long study of the influence of the sun upon the earth.

With the idea of getting ready for the long cold spell, or whatever it will be, six pipeline workers this morning quit their positions and collected their time.

"Whatever it's going to be, I want to be home when it happens," said one of them, voicing the reasons of his companions for quitting.

Six large planets will be grouped and such a grouping, says the professor, will by its attraction, cause a vast wound on the face of the sun—a wound that will take the form of a gigantic explosion of the flaming gases that envelop the entire body.

Such explosions, according to scientists, have been known to leap 400,000 miles into space.

The cataclysm, if extensive enough when it arrives, will relieve Ranger of the worry of paving the streets, or if it results in terrible Arctic cold, will furnish the Sammies with a flock of new albis. Such a cold spell, too, might hold up the start of the new Texas & Pacific railroad station.

Anyway, it fell the day after payday, for which members of The Times family thank their conjunctive stars.

Grafonola Rewards Firemen for Work in Stopping Blaze

Fire Chief Ed S. Smith and his men are in possession of a fine new grafonola and a set of records, the reward of their work in stopping the fire in the block on the north side of Pine street between Marston and Austin streets last Friday.

The gift was made to the men by the proprietors of the places which were endangered by the flames: C. P. Hall, Leon P. Wilson, the Club barber shop, Oasis confectionery and the Opera House.

Oil Business Has Holiday Spirit

Special to The Times. FORT WORTH, Dec. 17.—The holiday spirit is beginning to make some inroads on the oil business in North Texas, and operators express the belief that not only will development, but the oil business in general, will move slowly after Jan. 1, when it is expected there will be a revival of development, and that operations next year will equal, if not surpass, what has been done this year.

REFINED OIL STOCKS ARE ON A DECLINE

Special to The Times. FORT WORTH, Dec. 17.—Stocks of refined oil are still very low in this country. According to the latest figures available and which were taken in September, many of the refined products were on the decline. Gasoline stocks decreased more than 63,000,000 gallons during that month, while lubricating oils decreased over 11,000,000 gallons.

In spite of the fact that during the same period kerosene stocks increased nearly 16,000,000 gallons, stocks of this product are said still to be very low.

Added to the shortage of refined stocks, there is also a shortage of crude stocks. Other figures of the United States geological survey show a total decline of crude stocks amounting to 1,670,000 barrels.

It Won't Buy Anything Either. You can buy a German mark now for a little less than three cents, but better invest it in something else.—Philadelphia Press.

Firemen Decorate in Preparation for Holiday Festivities

The fire hall is being decorated for the coming holiday. Firemen were at work today with paint brushes and decorative material. It is the plan of the department to have a Christmas tree the night before Christmas.

A large number of tickets have been sold for the first annual ball of the local fire department, to be held the last night of the year. It is expected that the dance will be a big success from a financial point of view and members of the force are looking forward to a good time.

All money received from the sale of tickets will go to a benefit fund for sick and injured firemen.

New Uniforms for Police Are Ready

New uniforms for the police department have arrived. All members of the force, with the exception of the plain clothes department, will wear uniform.

The frocks are blue serge, with brass buttons and gold braid on the sleeves.

Black and gold hats have been received for the men and gold hats for the chief and assistant chief.

Kiev Captured by Bolsheviki

By Associated Press. LONDON, Dec. 17.—The capture of Kiev and the occupation of Kuzpiansk, southeast of Kharkov, is claimed in a Moscow Bolshevik wireless message received here today.

HOPE FOR ANARCHY'S END.

At last apparently we have some definite move toward the end of Radicalism in the nation. Much has been said by word of mouth and much has been written in the newspapers concerning the need for aggressive and conclusive moves toward putting an end for all time to come of the radically inclined within the borders of the nation, but so far, outside of the arrest and imprisonment of a few of the leaders and threats of deportation, nothing that would tend to get at the heart of the matter has been forthcoming.

But now, press dispatches tell us, a bill has been reported in the House which would force the Department of Labor to arrest AND DEPORT all alien members of the I. W. W. and kindred organizations. The word "deport" is the most significant part of the dispatch. There is hope in that word. The Times does not intend to convey the impression that the Department of Justice has not done all within its power to force out the I. W. W., the Radical, and all others who seek to drive a dagger into the heart of the Government, but rather it desires to commend in highest terms what that Department has done. Every citizen knows what this nation would have been but for the quietly working but aggressive agents of the Department of Justice, and their work is making this country safe for itself is too well known to need comment.

The newspapers have been crying that the time has come for action. It has, indeed, and in the bill offered to the House The Times sees hope for the end of near-anarchy.

PAY POLL TAXES

Poll tax may be paid at any Ranger bank within the next few weeks. Now is the time to do it!

Ranger, though nominally a city of from 30,000 to 40,000 inhabitants, has only a small fraction of its potential representation on the poll tax rolls. Many of its residents, up to now, have been men who were not here permanently, or who had not been here long enough to establish legal residence.

Residence of a year in Texas and six months in Eastland county is necessary to give a man his vote here. Since the recent elections, many have qualified who were not able to vote at that time.

Vital issues will be coming up at city, county and state elections during the coming year, for which the voter should be prepared. Unless his poll tax is paid, his voice is silent.

Ex-service men who were permitted to vote without paying poll tax, provided their residence was in this county prior to entering service, must pay poll taxes this year.

The tax is $1.75.
The right of suffrage cannot be measured, in terms of money.

HUNDREDS OF WEDDINGS POSTPONED IN PARIS

International News Service.
PARIS—Hundreds of marriages have been postponed in Paris by the inability of young lovers to find apartments where they may set up house-keeping.

The question is easy of solution among the wealthy classes. The newlyweds whose nuptials are well supplied with francs are establishing themselves in hotels until the lodging crisis has passed. But persons in moderate circumstances whose business compels them to live in Paris are forced to wait until next summer, when they hope that business operations will relieve the situation.

Lackland Addition Streets Not to Be Closed by Railroad

All the streets in Lackland addition will not be closed by the right of way of the Wichita Falls, Ranger & Fort Worth railroad, as was announced in the first draft of the proposed ordinance closing the streets for the new railroad.
Lackland avenue, the main thoroughfare on the west side of the addition, will be opened, as it is now, and other streets at present used will be available in entering or passing through the addition.

Central Pupils Grow Lyrical as Gas Flickers

While the thermometer was flirting with zero and the stove fed by the Sammies Oil corporation's main was as cold as the proverbial tomb, pupils in Miss Lea Mangum's room at the Central school, the low seventh, were moved to poetry. They composed the following song, to the tune of "Keep the Home Fires Burning:"

"Keep the school fires burning, while the kids are learning,
Though the gas 's very low, they try to work;
In the room of learning there is no gas a-burning,
But the gas man does not care if the children freeze.

"While our feet are freezing and our teacher's sneezing
We will have to stay here though it is very cold.
In this room of learning there are children yearning
To make their grades this year before they grow old."
