OFFICERS USE STOLEN CARS—GRAND JURY

'MODEL MILE' MAY BE BUILT THRU OLDEN

Believed This Location Will Be Agreeable to All Towns on Highway.

An effort is being made here to have the contractors construct the model mile of the Bankhead highway through the town of Olden, it was learned this morning. Olden, it is pointed out, is the nearest point to Ranger that this city could expect to bring the model mile, as a closer location would arouse strenuous objections from Eastland and Cisco.

Under the plan announced several days ago by County Judge C. R. Starnes, Smith Bros., contractors, will construct a model mile somewhere along the twenty-mile route of the highway between Ranger and Cisco, in order that the people of the county may see the high type of road that is to be built. It is understood that the plan to build the model mile of brick surface through the town of Olden would meet with the approval of all three cities along the route.

The construction of the highway, which was to have started Tuesday, has been held up on account of the weather, it was announced Tuesday from Eastland, and no further advances have been received. The contract for the highway has been approved by the state highway department and all the legal requirements have been met, Judge Starnes states, and only the weather prevents the work from starting.

NO MYSTERY IN R. R. MEN'S VISIT, SAYS M'CARTY

There was no significance attached to the visit here yesterday of J. W. Mitchell, one of the Hamon road receivers, and the party of Frisco officials, O. H. McCarty, general manager of the Hamon road, stated this morning. Mr. Mitchell, he said, had not had an opportunity to inspect the properties of the road since his appointment as one of the receivers last December, and was here for that purpose. T. A. Hamilton, vice president of the Frisco; M. M. Sissons, general manager, and P. G. Neff, district Frisco engineer, made the inspection with him out of friendly interest in the road, arising from certain traffic agreements, Mr. McCarty said.

The receiver discussed business matters with the general manager here during the day and visited the shops and other property and returned to Fort Worth with the Frisco officials last night in a private car over the Texas & Pacific road.

BURKETT LOSES SUIT FOR WARRANT PAYMENT

Special to the Times.
EASTLAND, Feb. 2.—Judge Ely, presiding over the Ninety-first district court in the place of Judge Davernport, Wednesday rendered a decision against the plaintiff in the suit of State Senator Joe Burkett against County Treasurer Ed Pritchard. Burkett had sued Pritchard because the latter had stopped payment on a county warrant for $625 payable to Burkett & Orr, given them for legal service rendered the county.

The plaintiff asked that the court order Pritchard to pay the warrant. However, Judge Ely declined to issue a mandamus. Carl P. Springer of Eastland was counsel for the county treasurer.

Another Hung Jury Looms in Arbuckle's Second Trial

GROUNDHOG'S DILEMMA: SHALL ROADS START OR DRILLING STOP?

At 1 o'clock this afternoon the groundhog was still undecided as to what brand of weather he would wish on Ranger for the next six weeks. Several things were troubling him. If he turned around and pulled his hole in after him after his traditional entrance into the upper world, it would mean six weeks more of bad weather and another delay in the construction of the Bankhead highway, which the county judge says is being delayed on account of the weather. On the other hand, if he stayed out of his hole the winter would be over and this might result in the loss of the present prospect for rain, needed to start drilling, so he did not know what to do. If he decided, he kept it to himself. The society editor says that it will all depend on whether he sees his shadow during the day, but the groundhog is not a social animal and it is possible that she may be confusing his habits with another of those species.

MINE BLAST IN PENNSYLVANIA BRINGS DEATH TO TWENTY-FIVE MEN

By Associated Press.
GATES, Pa., Feb. 2.—All hope for the miners imprisoned by the explosion in the Frick mine here early today were abandoned at 2 o'clock, when the rescuing crews came across seven bodies in the part of the workings affected by the blast. Nine bodies had previously been brought to the surface.

By United Press.
BROWNVILLE, Pa., Feb. 2.—Nine bodies crushed to an unrecognizable mass by a fall of slate following an explosion in the Gates mine of the H. C. Frick Coke company at 2 a. m. today had been brought to the surface at noon. Authorities say that twenty-three men are known to have been in the mine at the time of the explosion.

Searching parties are digging through the fallen wreckage for the bodies of other men. The explosion occurred about a mile from the entrance of the mine, which is located twenty-two miles from here.

The dead were sent to the morgue at Hasonstown, near here. While a part of the crowd remained about the shaft, the greater part, mostly hysterical women and children, followed the bodies and clamored for identification.

The Frick-rescue squad, equipped with the most modern devices for gas-filled mine rescue work, was hammering away at the mass of slate, rock and coal which blocks the passages to the men imprisoned. Occasionally they stop and listen for any sign that the imprisoned men might give as to their location.

Oil flaring out from beneath the boilers saturated the men's clothing, which caught fire as they were hurled in all directions.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Edward E. Shaughnessy of Chicago, second assistant postmaster general, died here early today as a result of injuries received in the Knickerbocker theatre disaster last Saturday night. Both are being treated at another hospital.

Followers of Case Offer Odds That Jurors Will Be Unable to Agree.

By United Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 2.—Both state and defense in the Roscoe Arbuckle manslaughter trial today professed the hope of a verdict from the jury before noon, but followers of the trial were laying odds of 5 to 3 that there would be another hung jury.

The jury has been out since late yesterday afternoon. Early today it was stirring around getting ready for breakfast. Resumption of formal deliberations was set for 10 a. m. (12 o'clock, Ranger time.)

Final arguments were concluded late Wednesday. The defense waived its right to argue and the final instructions of the court were begun at 3:15 p. m.

The case was given to the jury at 3:42 p. m. The two alternate jurors were excused and the jury retired to deliberate.

'ROAD CLOSED!' MEANS NOTHING HEREABOUTS

Despite the fact that the Pleasant Grove road over the east slope of Eastland hill has been closed for over a month to traffic, drivers have broken down the barricades and thrown away the warning signs, it was stated yesterday by contractors who had formerly been at work cutting down the grade. It was pointed out that the breaking down of the barricade as fast as it could be replaced endangered the lives of strangers in the community, who would not otherwise be aware of the difficulties in navigating the stretch and that it was also a violation of the law.

Grading work on the hill was stopped some time ago when all road work in the county was suspended. The contractors, however, state that even while the work was being carried on, drivers of vehicles persisted in breaking through despite the warning signs. It was announced on the beginning of the grade work that the road would have to be closed and drivers advised of a connection with the Pleasant Grove road on the other side of Eastland hill by way of the Mirror lake road, which branches off to the left at the foot of the hill.

It is understood that when work is resumed on the stretch of road that an effort will be made to have the county authorities enforce the law against tearing down barricades of closed roads.

EMPLOYEES OF RANGER CAFE OUT ON STRIKE

Disagreement Over New Wage Scale Given as Cause for Walkout.

Nine members of the Cooks and Waiters union went out on a strike at the Ranger cafe during the breakfast hour this morning as the result of the failure of the management and the employees to agree upon a new contract, involving both wages and working hours. Two cooks, six waiters and a dishwasher are among the striking employees. Other help will be secured by night, the restaurant management stated and declared that it was unable to pay the boom prices demanded by the union help.

The striking employees offered to sign a compromise agreement, splitting the difference of the cut, but the offer was rejected, it is declared by W. J. McCarthy, business agent for the union. The union leader also declared that the restaurant proprietors wished to strike out the nine-hour clause in the old contract. The union employees at the restaurant had conceded a voluntary cut of 20 per cent in wages about a year ago, he said.

Different Tales.

According to the restaurant proprietors, the new scale of wages offered the employees, as compared with the old scale, demanded the following reductions: First cooks, from $55 a week and board to $45 a week and board; second cooks, from $45 a week and board to $35 a week and board; counter waiters, from $28 a week and board to $22 a week and board; table waiters, from $22 a week and board to $18 a week and board; table waitresses, from $18 a week and board to $15 a week and board.

It was declared by the business agent, however, that the first cooks have been getting only $52 a week and board under the old scale and second cooks $44 a week and board, and the proprietors wanted to cut counter waiters from $28 to $25 and board and table waiters from $22.50 to $18. Under the old contract all male help worked nine hours out of fourteen, seven days a week, and female help seven hours and forty-two minutes out of twelve hours, the maximum allowed by the state law.

TAX ON MAIL IS SUGGESTED FOR SOLDIER BONUS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Money for the soldiers' bonus can be raised by special taxes on first and second class mail and documentary stamps, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon told the house ways and means committee today.

Trying to use the foreign debt to pay the bonus is futile, Mellon declared.

With the present high tension on the prohibition question, it would not be practicable to underwrite the bonus proposal with a tax on light wines and beer, the secretary declared.

BOOZE RECORDS AND MORE CARE IN BOND MATTERS ARE ASKED

Fifty-Eight Indictments Returned, but No Papers Have Been Turned Over to Sheriff, So Men Named Are Held Secret.

EASTLAND, Feb. 2.—At 1:30 this afternoon none of the copies of the fifty-eight indictments returned by the grand jury yesterday afternoon had been received at the sheriff's office, it was stated. As the result no information could be obtained as to the names of those indicted even where the defendants are in jail at present. The sheriff's office could not say when the indictments, or bench warrants resulting from the indictments, would be received.

Members of the sheriff's department are using stolen automobiles and are not complying with the law in respect to stolen property, it is stated in the final grand jury report submitted yesterday afternoon to Judge E. A. Hill of the Eighty-eighth district court. It is recommended that all stolen property taken by the sheriff's department be turned over to proper authorities as required by law, that such property be kept and disposed of as required by law.

It is further recommended that all liquor acquired by officers in raids be received for by the sheriff from the officers turning it over and that the sheriff keep accurate records of all liquors received by his department, in order that accurate reports might be made to the grand jury when called for.

Bootlegger Still Here.

The bootlegger is still in our midst, the grand jury finds and also that liquors are still being sold in some localities. Officers are urged to apprehend these as well as other classes of criminals and close up their establishments.

For some reason or reasons no criminal bail bonds have been collected in the county in recent years, the report states. During the eleven days session the grand jury examined 191 witnesses and returned fifty-eight indictments, fifty-two for felonies. The names of those indicted have not been made public. The report follows in full:

Fifty-Eight Indictments.

To the Honorable E. A. Hill, Judge 88th Judicial District, Eastland County, Texas:

"We, the members of the grand jury, having finished our work for the term, ask the privilege of making this final report. We have been in session eleven days, have examined 191 witnesses and have found fifty-eight bills of indictment, fifty-two of which are felonies and six for misdemeanors.

"During session we have inquired diligently and thoroughly into all classes of law violations in our county and we are of the opinion after due investigation that crime is on the decrease and that the county is much

BANKS' GAUDY UNIFORMS BLAMED FOR ROBBERIES

By Associated Press.
ST. LOUIS, Feb. 2.—Gaudy uniforms are blamed by the police for the oft-occurring holdups of bank messengers on street cars here. Five of these holdups have been committed in the last six months, the bandits obtaining thousands of dollars in cash and securities and most times escaping.

The practice of banking houses having their messengers garbed distinctively was censured by Elias W. Hoagland, chief of detectives. "When banks cease calling attention to their messengers by having them dressed in bright blue and gold braided uniforms, there will be fewer such holdups," he said. "The messengers should wear ordinary citizen's clothes in order not to attract attention."

The style of holdup consists of one or more robbers boarding the car, which is followed by a confederate in an automobile. The messenger is held up, the money satchel seized and the men leap from the moving car into a machine.

cleaner now than it has been; that all the towns of the county have fewer bootleggers and other criminals and that there is a general trend of sentiment in all communities for purer moral and civic conditions; however, we find that the bootlegger is still in our midst and that intoxicating liquors are still being sold in some localities; and we earnestly urge all law enforcing departments of the county to use every effort possible to apprehend these as well as other classes of criminals and to close up all places where liquor is being sold.

"We find that members of the sheriff's department are using stolen cars and are not complying with the law in respect to stolen property. We therefore urge that all stolen property taken by the sheriff's department be turned over to the proper authorities as provided by law in article 1033 and 1037 of the code of criminal procedure, and that such property be kept as provided by law and that no disposition of same be made except according to the law as provided in the article cited above.

"We recommend that in receiving all liquors acquired in raids the sheriff and other officers receiving same give receipts for such liquor to the officer from whom received and that the sheriff keep accurate records of all liquor received by his department and the disposition of same, in order that reports might be accurately made to the grand jury or other authorities when called for.

"We find that the fact that the county attorney's department is not at present supplied with an office aside from the grand jury room leads to considerable inconvenience to the grand jury as well as a failure to properly provide for the county attorney's department. We would respectfully recommend to the commissioners court that the county attorney be supplied with adequate offices on the first floor of the courthouse, convenient to the public and to the other county officials with whom his work is closely related.

Bonds Criticized.
"We find that for some reason or reasons criminal bonds have not been collected in the county during recent years. We would recommend to the officers who take such bonds, or other kinds of bonds, that they be very careful to comply with the laws in regard to the taking of same and accept no insufficient bonds.

"We desire to thank the county attorney's force, including Ove E. Overson, county attorney, and his two assistants, E. A. Bills and C. G. Hazel, for the full and unbiased co-operation which they have given us in all matters coming before us. We also thank the sheriff's department for their assistance to us in our deliberation.

"H. T. HAMRICK,

prietors declared in presenting reasons for the cut. "Mechanics work nine hours a day for 80 cents an hour or $43 a week. Of this they have to spend $10 a week for board, leaving them but $33, and on top of this he furnishes his own tools. A cook does not have to pay board and eats more than a mechanic because he does not have to pay for it. A cook making $45 a week and board under the new scale would be making much more money than a mechanic, working nine hours a day, six days a week." A common laborer working six days a week for $3 a day would have $18 a week to show for his work and then have to pay board out of it. The lowest paid table waiter was offered $18 a week and board.

"Despite the fact that we cut a voluntary cut of 20 per cent about a year ago, the prices at the restaurant have been reduced but very little since the boom days," one of the striking waiters said this morning. "Coffee has come down a nickel, but have you noticed any other reductions?"

All Others Sign.
In presenting the side of the union, W. J. McCarthy, business agent, declared that all of the restaurants in Ranger had signed contracts except the one where the strike was called. "In the larger restaurants employing help, all employees are union members," he said. "In others where the proprietor does all the work, the proprietors are passive members and pay $3 a year dues and have signed a contract in case business justifies their putting on outside help," McCarthy said.

"The management said they did not want union men at $10 a week," McCarthy said. "It is an attempt to break down the union for the open shop."

YANKEE NAME ON SYNAGOGUE LIST
BARES WINE PLOT

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—"Izzy" Einstein, versatile prohibition agent, saw something peculiar in the name "M. Wilson" on a list of thirty alleged members of a synagogue to whom wine was being delivered today and he decided to investigate. His ethnological study resulted in the arrest of Herman Cohen and his assistant, Jacob Levine, on charges of having violated the Volstead law and the confiscation of sixty-seven cases of wine. The wine was being delivered for "sacramental purposes" on the purported authority of two rabbis. "Izzy" looked over the list of ostensible worshippers which the truck driver carried. Pointing his finger at a number of apparently Yankee, Irish and German names, Einstein, whose knowledge of Hebrew patronymics is more than academic, said: "These look like 'ringers.'" "They are all good church-going Jews," protested the driver. "We shall see," replied Izzy, and he ordered the truckman to call on "M. Wilson."

Wilson denied that he belonged to the congregation, but explained that someone recently had called on him and asked him if he desired to purchase good wine, Einstein said. The wine was the property of a Bowery liquor concern which, the prohibition agent declared, has been in similar trouble on two previous occasions. Wilson's story resulted in the arrest of the driver and his helper.

DOG ALMOST STARTS PANIC
DURING TRIAL AT MT. PLEASANT

MOUNT PLEASANT, Texas, Feb. 2.—Quite a disturbance took place in the district court room here while the court was engaged in the trial of the Will Brown murder case. A small dog, supposed to be mad, appeared in the crowded courtroom foaming at the mouth and snapping at everything he saw. A scramble to get out of the dog's way followed. Sheriff Reeves and Deputy Constable Thompson killed the dog before anyone was bitten.

Near-Pink Pants
May Now Be Worn
By U. S. Officers

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—Near-pink breeches for officers, tailored uniforms for buck privates and new model service caps designed from a more jaunty fashion plate are changes in United States army dress regulations announced at Governor's Island today as bait for recruits.

The new regulations provide a $308 clothing allowance for each soldier who enlists for a three-year period and places the stamp of approval for the first time upon the wearing of tailor-mades by enlisted men. During and since the world war enlisted men had no clothing allowance. Suits of olive drab shoddy, replaced when needed by newer suits of shoddy, were the regulations. Tailored suits were taboo, even on dress parade.

The gaudy breeches for officers came in under a provision that breeches may be a "different shade" from the regulation olive drab blouse, a few of the samples, officers say, are almost pink. The new regulations also permit reserve officers to remove the letter "R," which has followed the "U. S." on their collar ornaments.

RED HOT CHILI PUTS OUT BLAZING AUTOMOBILE

PUEBLO, Colo., Feb. 2.—A kettle of hot chili was used to put out a fire in an automobile here. Harry Hill stopped his automobile in front of a small restaurant and went in to get his dinner. Suddenly his car burst into flames. The cook and Hill saw the spectacle at the same time. Hill rushed out and the cook followed, grabbing as he went a kettle of what he supposed was water. When the cook reached the scene he threw the contents of the kettle over the blaze. The hot chili did the work. When the department arrived the firemen poured a few chemicals on the chili. Damage to the automobile, $50.

BROKEN NECK HEALED.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—The plaster cast in which Harry Herbert has been confined since he broke his neck Nov. 12 when playing quarterback for Syracuse university against Colgate, has been removed at Mt. Sinai hospital. It was said that a superficial examination indicated healing of the neck, but that the youth's condition would not be learned definitely until an X-ray photograph had been made.

TAR PARTY FOR PLAINVIEW MAN COURT CLEARS

PLAINVIEW, Feb. 2.—George Bass, 45, was dumped out of an automobile at a prominent business street corner here Wednesday night, stripped from his waist up and covered with tar and feathers. He ran into a drug store. He was picked up by a farmer and taken out of town, where the tar and feathers was removed and he was taken to Finney Switch, near here, this morning, where he caught a train. Bass refused to tell how many men were in the mob or any details of the "tar and feather party."

FREEZING WATER IS 'ACT OF GOD,' BURSTING PIPE IS NEGLIGENCE

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—Sub-zero weather may be an "act of God" but bursted water pipes, flooded cellars and spoiled potatoes are evidence of human negligence, according to an opinion handed down by Justice Page in the appellate division of supreme court. He reversed a decision dismissing a $3,000 suit against the Oleite corporation, which was responsible for the loss of 1,500 barrels of potatoes. Bursting water pipes in the Oleite building were alleged to have caused the flooding of the complainant's cellar.

DES MOINES BOY GROWS FOURTH SET OF TEETH

DES MOINES, Ia., Feb. 2.—The loss of a set of teeth is nothing in the life of Emory Rose, resident of East Des Moines. Emory, who is not quite 14 years old, has already had many more teeth than the average man acquires in a lifetime. Physiology teaches that man, in the course of his natural existence, is entitled to fifty-two teeth, twenty of the "milk" variety, which come in babyhood, and thirty-two permanent teeth. Emory has now had three complete sets of teeth and is starting on his fourth set, according to Mrs. Mary Rose, mother of the Des Moines champion tooth producer.

HIS WEDDING LIQUOR ALSO COST HIM BRIDE

BOSTON, Feb. 2.—Antonio Silvia, arrested at Springfield two weeks ago, with six quarts of moonshine that he was bringing to his wedding, and held in jail since, lost not only his liquor, but his bride. When his case came up in federal court here Silvia pleaded guilty, and the court was about to declare sentence when the prosecuting attorney announced that Silvia's bride-to-be had been married to another.

PARSON KIDNAPPED FOR FLAYING BOOTLEGGERS

SALIDA, Colo., Feb. 2.—Four arrests have been made here after an investigation into the kidnapping of the Rev. James W. "Big Jim" Kramer and his song leader, Ralph E. Mitchell, last week. Sheriff Hutchinson and Chief of Police Hage arrested Frank Costanda, soft drink proprietor, Emil Leo, Tony Maio and Frank Muto in connection with the case. The Rev. Kramer and his song leader were kidnapped and left at zero weather several miles out of town after they had launched a revival campaign against bootlegging.

FOCH BETTER KNOWN IN U. S. THAN IN FRANCE

PARIS, Feb. 2.—Marshal Foch, who probably could not conceal his identity in the United States, appears to be less well known in his own country. Two experiences in twenty-four hours indicate that his exploitation in France has not been as thorough as it was overseas.

The marshal, attending the current fencing championships, was inadvertently slighted by the French champion, Nadi, who, upon winning his bout with the Italian challenger, kissed Henri Pate, the government commissioner of sports, believing him to be the marshal. Nadi did not even salute Foch, but Pate coyly told the marshal he would keep the kiss as a souvenir.

At the Comedie Francaise the marshal, desiring to make a quick getaway before the performance was over, declined the let "the pirates of the cloakroom" take his coat and cap, but kept them on his arm. For this he received a bawling out from the young woman in terms beloved of the army top sergeant.

BOY OF 8 YEARS FIGHTS DOG THAT ATTACKS GIRL

CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—After viewing the bruised and bleeding face of little Mike Eppodito, 8 years old, several hundred persons went away convinced that chivalry is by no means dead.

Three little girls were on the way to school when a large dog leaped at them. Mike rushed in and fought the vicious animal until the girls were safely away, although he lay on the sidewalk, his face badly lacerated.

"My dad always tells me to protect women and girls, and that's all I did," he told the crowd of spectators.

When a doctor got through with him his head was all bandaged except one eye, which shone through merrily enough.

LET'S GROW MORE. Admitting that the best is never any too good, Ranger at the same time can well take pride in the voting strength shown this year.

With approximately 6,000 poll taxes paid in the county, Ranger can boast one-third of the total vote. There are 1,968 poll tax payers and 173 exemptions credited to Ranger—a known total of 2,141, and this city's pro rata of the 942 issued from the supplementary book should increase this to 2,300.

Eastland has 1,034 voters and Cisco 748, a total of 1,782, and this, in connection with increases from the supplementary book plus exemptions, for which certificates are not necessary in towns under 10,000, will approximately equal the Ranger total.

Stephens county paid 3,265 poll taxes, of which 1,091 are credited to Breckenridge.

That should be a plain and sure guide, laying aside all bombast and booster stuff, as to what town is "who" in the North Central Texas oil fields.

However, making chests for our own self-satisfaction will do nothing to forward the progress that is the normal ambition of every town. Though Ranger may be the biggest frog in its own puddle, it is still a "little feller" in Texas, and continued growth will not hurt its enterprises.

One way for a town to grow is to make itself a distributing center. Ranger already is that, but it can be even more so. And the first step in this direction is to do its own buying at home whenever possible.

IRISH TO VOTE ON ACCEPTANCE OF PEACE TERMS

LONDON, Feb. 2.—Michael Collins intends to submit the Irish peace treaty to what will virtually be a nation-wide vote, thus seeking a direct decision from the people.

This is disclosed in a list of resolutions which will be presented at a meeting of the Sinn Fein council in Dublin next Thursday. With representatives of 3,000 Sinn Fein organizations from all parts of Ireland attending, the council meeting will be the nearest approach, thus far, on the country's attitude toward the treaty.

Former President de Valera, Arthur Griffith and Collins will introduce resolutions. Collins will offer two resolutions, the first calling for the provisional government to "take immediate opportunity to submit the question of the peace treaty to the electorate for decision."

The second resolution will propose that in event of a disagreement in the council, the Sinn Fein funds be divided.

De Valera's resolution pledges adherence to the republic, thus carrying on his fight. Griffith's motion will ask that in view of the council's pledge of allegiance to the Dail last November, this council meeting vote in support of the Dail's action in approving the treaty.

EMPEROR OF SAHARA'S DAUGHTER IS MARRIED

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—Jacqueline LeBaudy, daughter of the late Jacques LeBaudy, self-styled "emperor of Sahara," has been married in Paris to Roger Sudreau, it was learned here through an announcement by Ernest Suffern, administrator of the estate of the young woman's father.

LeBaudy, an eccentric figure, was shot and killed by his wife three years ago when he attacked her and her daughter at the family home in Long Island. Mme. LeBaudy was acquitted by a Nassau county court when brought to trial.

About twenty years ago Jacques LeBaudy and his brother Max, who claimed they inherited a vast fortune from their father, began to attain prominence in dispatches from Europe. After Max died, leaving to his brother his share of the father's estate the latter conceived a plan of forming an African empire, and ordered built in London a magnificent throne. International complications developed and the plan came to nothing.

SECOND DEATH SOLVES BEAUTY POWDER MYSTERY

TORONTO, Feb. 2.—The nemesis of conscience, police declared today, drove James Buchanan of this city to take his life during the night.

Buchanan's son, Anderson, died ten days ago after swallowing a concoction labeled "beauty powder" which had been sent to the youth's mother anonymously through the mails.

Today the father's body was identified by C. McCarthy, a Hamilton printer, as that of the man who visited his shop two weeks ago to have printed directions for the use of a "beauty powder." The police believe the death dealing powder which young Buchanan swallowed in jest, was intended for his mother.

The father's body was found upright in a chair in a gas-filled room of his home. A bottle of liquor was on a nearby table and the suicide's lifeless hand still clutched a volume of Mark Twain.

THERE'S NO DREAMLESS SLEEP BUT MOST DREAMS ARE FORGOTT

"When we come to think of it, it is very remarkable that most of us consider our dreams so little. We spend approximately one-third of our lives in sleep, and it is almost certain that there is no such thing as dreamless sleep! We all dream all the time, only we do not remember our dreams. Therein lies the difference," writes Dr. Hereward Carrington, in Leslie's.

"But many dreams are remembered—and a hopeless jumble many of them are, you will say! Certainly, they appear to be so; but it is very doubtful if this is the case, as usually understood.

"We now know that we remember only a small fraction of any dream—what is called the "manifest content," and that below this is a vast mass of dream material never normally recalled, known as the "latent content." If we could remember this, we should see that most of our dreams are systematic, coherent, and frequently represent some wish or desire. All this has been shown by psychoanalysis and other methods.

Dreams All Have Had. It may be pointed out that practically every one of us has had, at one time or another, seven common dreams, which are said to have been dreamed at one time or another by nearly everybody in the world:

- 1. The falling dream. 2. The flying dream. 3. The dream of inadequate clothing. 4. The dream of not being able to get away from some beast that is pursuing. 5. The dream of being drawn irresistibly to some dangerous place. 6. The dream that some darling wish has been gratified. 7. The dream of being about to go on a journey, and being unable to get your things into your trunks, etc.

Some Physical Causes. "Much work has been devoted to a solution of dreams, and many theories have been advanced by ways of explanation. Some are doubtless due to purely physical causes (e. g. the dream of inadequate clothing) which is due, in most instances, to an insufficiency of bed clothing. Others, again, are due to deep psychological causes, which would require elaborate explanation.

"The most rational theory of the falling dream is probably the following: By lying too long in one position, the blood supply on the under surface of the body gets cut off. This produces a temporary insensibility on this side of the body. The sleeper would no longer feel the bed holding him up. This would give rise, by association, to the idea that nothing was supporting him, and consequently that he was falling in space. The bodily sensations would facilitate this.

Flying Dreams. "It is upon the flying dream, however, that the most original and the latest researches have been made—by Dr. Lydiard H. Horton of Boston, in a series of articles in the Journal of Abnormal Psychology. The interesting point about these researches is that, by means of certain experiments, flying dreams were induced in subjects who were actually awake—before they fell asleep! This was due to the fact that the subjects experimented upon were successful in inducing a state of complete muscular relaxation, of which the following stages were noted:

- 1. The relaxation of the voluntary muscles, allowing the bodily posture to adjust itself to the chair or couch. 2. The decrease of muscular tension below the ordinary, a state in which there is no tendency to maintain any posture into which the body falls. 3. A still greater relaxation, in which the felling of self-activity diminishes, and in which the subject, although fully awake, is surprised and pleased that he does not feel desirous of moving or acting. In this state the subject feels 'as limp as a rag,' etc. 4. Next comes a change in the

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 2.—Tendering a worthless check in payment for liquor is not a violation of the law, Judge Harry B. SOME TOWNS DON'T LIKE RATS.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 2.—More than 150,000 rats have been killed in the business district here, it was estimated by Health Commissioner Starkloff, who is conducting a campaign to exterminate the rodents. An unusual number of rats, driven from their haunts by poison spread in the district, are being seen.

LOVE SUIT DOESN'T BOTHER CHIROPRACTOR, BUT TITLE M. D. DOES

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—The term M. D. is an insult, says William Scott Fennell, chiropractor, in a letter to a New York newspaper concerning a suit for $10,000 for alienation of his wife's affections, filed by Mortimer W. Solomon. Aside from representing the statement that he is an "M. D." Chiropractor Fennell isn't worried much about the suit, it is indicated in his letter, which follows: "Your newspaper this morning represents me as an M. D., which is incorrect, and I resent such accusation. I am a chiropractor.

"The complaint made by William S. Fennell is a tissue of deliberate lies. "He knows that his wife left him because of his brutal and inhuman treatment, and that I was unaware of the existence of himself, wife daughter or any other relative or friend until some months afterward. "As for collecting $10,000, his chances are about the same that a wax mouse would have if it were being pursued through — by an asbestos cat."

MAMAS MADE FLAPPERS

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—A method of rejuvenation for women, along lines somewhat similar to the monkey gland operation to which men have submitted, has been discovered by European scientists.

This information was brought from Paris by Helene Rubenstein, Parisian beautifier of women, who arrived on La Lorraine. Three scientists, she said, have long been working on a serum which will make women of 40 or more as active or vivacious as the debutante.

QUITS, BY HECK!

FRANKLIN, Ky., Feb. 2.—James Arthur Poteet, whose income is $50 a day as the result of five oil wells recently drilled on his farm near here, has "retired" from his job as a $1-a-day farm hand, it became known today.

Poteet has built a $250 home, which he erected with his own hands, and, with his family, has moved into it. Mrs. Poteet has received a sewing machine, long coveted by her, while Poteet has expended $6 for a year's subscription to an oil publication for his own enjoyment.

The land was purchased for $10.

The Estonian war office has drafted a law proposing that women should be mobilized in event of war. All women between the ages of 18 and 41 would be given useful work, compatible with their sex.

THE MERRY JOURNEYS OF MARY JANE

What the Jolly Jumping Jack Said to Mary Jane

Josiah shook his knees and elbows, and said "There isn't anything as good as Mary Jane Syrup."

ONE day Mary Jane met Josiah Ouchterloney, the jolly jumping jack. Her little brother, Bobby, had him on the end of a stick. He was all painted up beau-ti-fully in a red coat and a belt.

All Bobby had to do was to push up the stick and Josiah would turn a somersault, and shake his knees and elbows just like old Mr. Slimkins when he has a misery. Mary got to talking with Josiah. She found out he was a great traveler. He had been to Mobile, and Oscaloosa, and Pensacola and everywhere. He told Mary a lot about the wonderful things he had seen on his travels. Finally he got to talking about the best things to eat.

Josiah shook his knees and elbows, and said "There isn't anything as good as Mary Jane Syrup. Everybody knows that. If you put a lot of nice rich Mary Jane Syrup on your pancakes or hot biscuits, or spread on bread after you come from school, you'll be big and strong, and can turn somersaults and everything—just like I do.

Then Mary Jane said this was no news to her, for they always had Mary Jane Syrup on the table up at her house. And not only that, but they made the most delicious fudge and peanut brittle with Mary Jane Syrup. Josiah said he was glad to know about this, and that, first chance he got, he'd make up a big batch and distribute it around to all the boys and girls. And then he shut his eyes and went to sleep, and Mary Jane and Bobby went home to supper.

WANTED—WIFE TO GRUBSTAKE TREASURE HUNT

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 2.—Here's romance, bedecked with all the thrills of uncertainty, adventure, love and the rest of it! Jean Bernard Miller, linguist, world wanderer, former naval officer, has offered to sell himself into matrimony that he may obtain funds and a wife to assist him in recovering a vast treasure hoard on the California coast.

The only condition is that the bride shall bring to him $4,000 in cash and that she shall not be older than thirty-five years. He advertised in the San Francisco newspapers, and within twenty-four hours he was deluged with correspondence. He asserted that most of the letters were acceptances of the offer, and explained:

"Blonds and brunettes, fat ones and thin—they are all jumping at the chance. So many have agreed to my proposal that I shall sit back and wait until all the returns are in before I pick the winner, so to speak. I would not say that my personality appeals to them; rather it is the quest of womanhood for adventure, the urge of the restless.

"Women are born gamblers, and this proposition looks to them like a gamble, though I assure you it is a sure thing."

The treasure in the plot consists, according to the mariner, of a store of Spanish gold pieces and jewels cached by pirates long ago. An old shipmate whom he befriended in the Indian ocean confided the location of the secret hoard to Miller, he says. He found that it would take $4,000 to outfit an expedition, and after trying in vain to save or borrow the amount, he hit on the idea of selling himself, he explained, and as there was more of the hazard of life in selling of one's self to a woman than to a man, he advertised for a dowried matrimonial partner.

EMPLOYMENT DECREASES LESS THAN EXPECTED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Reports from various localities, indicate that the recent falling off in employment has been less than was anticipated. Colonel Arthur Woods, chairman of the standing committee of the national conference on unemployment, said in a statement tonight.

Efforts of the cities of the country, he declared, have done much to mitigate the general situation, but if business conditions remain the same until spring the situation will depend upon the severity of the winter.

Colonel Wood said many cities are appropriating funds in addition to regular budgets, including Kansas City, which has raised $290,000 in a charity drive.

UNION EXPECTED TO ACCEPT LANDIS AWARD

CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—Building trades unions are expected to accept the newest wage award announced by Judge K. M. Landis, arbiter of the dispute between the unions and their employers that has hampered building operations here for more than a year. William A. Curran, president of the Building Trades council, has announced he will recommend acceptance.

The new scale, which replaces a previous scale to which the unions objected, provides for wages ranging from 55 cents an hour for excavating laborers to $1.12 1/2 per hour for expert tile layers.

said Crescent Sheet Metal Works, a corporation, to-wit:

All of lot ten (10) in block one (1), together with all improvements thereon, consisting of one sheet-iron building, 37x84 feet with four rooms above and being in the city of Ranger, Eastland county, Texas.

And on the 7th day of February, A. D., 1922, it being the first Tuesday in said month, between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m., and 4 o'clock p. m., on the said day, at the court house doors of said Eastland county, I will offer for sale and sell at public auction, for cash, all right, title, and interest to the said Crescent Sheet Metal Works, a corporation, in and to the said above described tract of land.

Dated at Abilene, Texas, on this the 11th day of January, A. D., 1922. JAMES A. BAGGETT, U. S. Marshal Northern District of Texas. By Baylor Crawford, Deputy.

'MORMONISM REVERSED' WOULD BE NICE, SCHOOL GIRL SAYS IN ESSAY

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 2.—"The Mystery of the Tabooed Essay, or Mormonism Reversed."

This startling subject is now brewing a tempest in the Los Angeles high school teapot. Pretty Jeanne Weldon Hill, blonde, vivacious, petite, and one of the most popular of the 3,000 students of the "L. A. High," now occupies the center of the stage. She has written an essay and—being a sophomore—of course, it is a wise one. "Mormonism Reversed," was the theme she chose, and started to read it to her class. After a hundred words or so, Jeanne's teacher took a hand and politely, but firmly, asked the pupil to "stop right where you are."

The essay follows: BY JEANNE WELDON HILL. Brigham Young had the only system on earth, but he had it the wrong way. If, instead of a man being permitted to have all the wives he wished, the woman had all the husbands she wanted, think how much more sound the proposition would have been.

Would it not be better for the woman to have plenty of suitors at home than to have to go abroad for amusement? Then, also the husbands would not see so much of their wives, and thus enchantment would remain a few days after the honeymoon.

A woman must have plenty of playthings, and why should she have to leave her friends to find them? Why not furnish her toys and know where she is playing?

Many Pocketbooks.

The men surely can see the sound reasoning of this proposition. You say that the woman would have too much to do. However, many husbands would mean many pocketbooks at her disposal, and, therefore, while the expense would be greatly increased, the income would show a rise and help might be hired, releasing entirely the wife and leaving her free to entertain her husbands.

This system would relieve the present scarcity of escorts, and if Ed cared to stay home of an evening, Ted could take Elizabeth out. And in case none of the husbands cared to leave the hearth fire in the evening after a day's work, turns could be taken and if "Mormonism Reversed" had been properly applied there would only be two or three evenings a year when Ed would have to go to a dance or theatre.

Elizabeth could go every night, and having every night a different escort would surely add a variety. And is not variety the spice of life? Most assuredly.

BRITON SEEKS TO BE DEPORTED TO ESCAPE BAD KANSAS BOOZE

TOPEKA, Kan., Feb. 2.—When Leopold Garcia showed a fondness for strong drink his parents in England sent him to Kansas, believing the state was dry. Garcia claims to be an ordained minister. Now he has appealed to federal authorities to deport him. He said "bad Kansas booze" was wrecking his life. He was formally arrested on a charge of entering the United States on a passport obtained by making false statements.

'NOTHER MAN WOULD LET BEER PAY BONUS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Authorization of the sale of light wines and beer and use of the revenue from taxes on such manufacture and sale for payment of a soldiers' bonus, was advocated Wednesday before the house ways and means committee by Representative John Phillip Hill, Republican, of Maryland. Hill urged changes in the Volstead law permitting 12 per cent wines and 4 per cent beer sold in original packages for home consumption. He urged a tax of 20 cents a gallon on beer and 40 cents a gallon on wine.

'GOLD RUSH' PIONEER DIES AT ROBY, AGED 91

How an EXPECTANT MOTHER Prepared for Baby's Coming

Do you know that thousands of women never really suffer at child-birth? Perhaps you have thought with many others that this should always be the case. But how?

Let Mrs. Mattie Paul, of Ocala, Ga., tell you. She is one of thousands who has demonstrated this fact:

"As I am a young mother of one baby, I am writing for free booklet to expectant mothers. I used only two bottles of Mother's Friend before I was confined and had a quick and easy time through labor. I can recommend Mother's Friend to all expectant mothers. I will never go through pregnancy without it."

It goes into the features of maternity and gives, in a plain, interesting manner, information about what the mother needs in clothing before baby is born, what clothing will be necessary for the baby; an interesting table as to the probable date of delivery; simple but necessary and helpful rules of hygiene to follow, and much other worth-while information. This little booklet also tells about Mother's Friend and the wonderful good it is doing for expectant mothers.

You, too, can have this booklet for expectant mothers by sending coupon below.

Don't let false modesty keep you from performing this duty to yourself—your family—and your baby. Send for your copy NOW.

WARNING: Avoid using plain oil, greases and substitutes—they act only on the skin and may cause harm without doing good.

Folks, We're Up Against It! We Must Have Relief, Even at a Great Sacrifice which We're Going to Make

Sale Begins Friday, Feb. 3, 9 a. m.

OUR MESSAGE TO YOU: We have consolidated three stocks in one, totaling in round figures more than $200,000, which is entirely too much stock for us to carry. Necessity demands that we reduce our stock several thousand dollars at the earliest possible moment, in order to meet demands which will soon be made on us. Dangers of business warn us to take this drastic step. Beginning Friday morning, Feb. 3, at 9 o'clock, we will place our mammoth $200,000 stock on the altar of sacrifice at prices unequalled since the days of antebellum. Trade has not been up to the average and we are not ashamed to take you into our confidence and tell you our true condition. We are not going to wait until your need is over to make a reduction in price. We're going to do it now, while you are in need of the merchandise. We've gone the limit in lowering the price for this occasion. This is not to be a sale of a few items, but every article throughout the entire store has been ordered to contribute its share in this great offering. Not only have we cut off every vestige of profit, but often deep into the vitals of the original cost. This is your opportunity to make your dimes do the work of dollars, ours to unload and we shall expect to see you here on opening day to secure your share of this offering.
