DEATH CHAMBER QUIET IS BROKEN BY CRIES OF THE MEN FOR BREAKFAST

(By The Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—Two hundred prisoners of Cook county saw Raffalo Durrage die on the gallows this morning despite the request from Governor Lowden to Sheriff Peters last night that the hanging be private.

The usual death chamber quiet was broken by 200 involuntary witnesses, who loudly shouted for their breakfast while the condemned man was being bound and the noose adjusted about his neck.

Sheriff Peters, who planned to have the prisoners present for "the moral effect" on them, hung Durrage an hour and a half before the usual time to prevent a last minute reprieve.

Durrage was convicted of murdering Mr. and Mrs. Onofrio Gargano, with whom he lived, last May. Among the 200 who watched the execution were a number awaiting trial for murder and scores held for robberies, hold-ups, assault and other offenses.

The prisoners appeared little impressed with the hanging. They had been required to wait past the usual hour for breakfast and shouts for food drowned out the chants of the priests, who accompanied the condemned man to the scaffold.

Durrage was the quietest and most composed man in the death chamber. He never spoke while awaiting death.

THE DEATH NEAR, GERMANY ASKS FOR U. S. POTASH TRADE AGAIN

BERLIN, Jan. 2.—The German potash syndicate is negotiating with American again, says the North German Gazette, which believes it will be able to reach an agreement in regard to the exchange of potash for American coal.

Negotiations took place between the Germans and Americans last spring, but failed, says the paper, because America still thought it could rely on its own substitute for potash and refused the German offers, whereupon Germany sold her output, which was intended for the United States to Sweden.

Negotiations, says the Berlin paper, have now been resumed to enable the German potash mines, of which 120 are crippled through lack of coal, while others have only 25 per cent enough fuel, to buy American coal with dollars and recoup by selling potash to America at dollar rates.

Other negotiations are only under way between Germany and Holland for milk and dairy products in exchange for potash.

GREAT DAY FOR PERSHING'S HOME TOWN WHEN GENERAL RETURNS

Main business street of Laclede, Mo. Crowd trying to get view of Gen. Pershing upon his arrival. Below: Gov. Gardner reading his address preparatory to presenting a gold medal to Gen. Pershing on behalf of the state of Missouri. Pershing's son, Warren, at the left.

It was a great day for Laclede, Mo., when General Pershing returned for a day to his old home town. The whole town was decorated with the American colors, and everybody turned out to pay tribute to the great military leader who as a barefoot boy walked the streets of Laclede. The formal ceremonies included the presentation of a gold medal to General Pershing on behalf of the state of Missouri. The speechmaking was on the steps of the Pershing home. In his speech of acceptance Gen. Pershing was several times on the verge of breaking down, especially on referring to his parents, particularly to his mother.

ADVANCEMENT OF BRAZILIAN WOMEN SOUGHT By Associated Press RIO DE JANEIRO, Jan. 2. — An ambitious program for the enlargement of the field of intellectual, moral, commercial and political activity for the women of Brazil, through campaigns to be inaugurated by the recently organized Alianca Feminina, is announced by Senhora Amelia Rodrigues, poet of the state of Bahia and a leader in the feminist movement.

Turk Doctors Had Hand in Murders New York World: Physicians took a large part in the organized effort of the Turkish Government in 1915 to exterminate the Christian population of Armenia. The Turkish doctors were particularly savage to members of their own profession, of whom several were graduates of American medical schools.

The views of the pawnbroker are peculiar. Old Joe, who has been in the business so long that he looks on man and inanimate nature with frosty suspicion, is an example. I approached his shop the other morning about sun-up. "Isn't it a beautiful golden sunrise?" I asked by way of leading to the real object of my visit.

"He scanned the eastern horizon a moment in silence. "It looks a little bit brassy to me," he replied. "How can you do a good business in a town like this, where everybody makes plenty of money?" I asked. "People don't pawn jewelry and watches because they are hard up," he answered. "The more money they've in a town, the better our line of business. When times are hard our income falls off shocking. Men put up little articles of jewelry to have a good time with the money. They think they will make plenty more money and get their property back."

"Most folks call a pawnbroker 'ames,'" I said. "What do you consider is the meanest thing you ever did to deserve a hard name?" "He gazed at the showcase in front of him in dreamy abstraction. He absent-mindedly picked up a price tag from a watch and marked a one in front of the figure $2.70, making it $12.70.

"The meanest think I ever done," he said, at last, "was to advance a feller a handsome sum of money on an engagement ring. The diamond turned out to be phoney."

According to the Evidence. A certain little youngster on the North Side was on a visit to the doctor, who coaxed him along with the usual line of "jollying." "Now, Bobbie," he said kindly, "you must sleep all you can—get plenty of rest and sleep, and you will grow well and strong and have bright, rosy cheeks."

"It will develop the spirit of patriotism; it will stimulate protection for the worker, above all for the women and children. It will work for the creation of libraries, reading rooms and healthful recreation, for civil and commercial equality and for other feminist ideas. Its sphere of action will be the school, the lecture hall and the press. It will be non-political."

MANY DEATHS IN WYOMING BLIZZARDS; SHELTERS BUILT International News Service. RAWLINS, Wyo.—Because of the many deaths throughout Wyoming in the severe blizzards of this winter, steps are being taken to erect "shelters" along isolated roads in the state. Already several of these shelters have been installed, and it is known that the life of at least one man was saved as a result. The shelters are provided with double bunks and are supplied with a small stove, coal, and a few staple provisions. Signs over the doorways will tell the distance and direction to the next stopping place, and placards will disclose that they were built "for the protection of human life, particularly during the winter months, and all needing succor are welcome."

At the head of the special commission—an actual Ministere de Deportation et des Massacres—were two physicians, one the professor of legal medicine and dentology (ethics) on the Constantinople medical faculty. Both of these physicians have fled since the pressure of the Allies has forced Turkey to summon to justice those responsible for the Armenian atrocities. Two of the twenty Turkish physicians specified as engaged in this work are graduates of the Munich Medical School, the others of the Constantinople Medical School. Among them was Dr. Reichid, who as Governor of Diabekir, it is said, caused the massacre of 100,000 Armenians. He committed suicide as he was about to be arrested.

Large number of the others are in prison or have disappeared, but some are still occupying their chairs in the Constantinople medical school. The pamphlet gives biographical sketches of the thirty-seven Armenian physicians massacred.

Clairvoyant of Fame Dies Poor

EASTPORT, Me.—After helping residents of Eastern Maine and Canadian towns in recent years to locate missing articles and bodies, pointing out where to dig for money and valuables, and trying to make others happy, "Dr." William Hunter died recently at the age of eighty years at Eastport Alms House. Born at St. John, New Brunswick, Canada, but claiming to be a native of Minneapolis, he came to this frontier city about fifteen years ago and had been a hard worker up to a year ago when failing health and no money obliged him to seek city aid, but he had been about the city up to two weeks ago.

As a clairvoyant, fortune teller and palmist he was best known about Eastern Maine and had frequently been called to other towns to locate missing people, articles and even bodies, and when on Aroostook County Deputy Sheriff mysteriously disappeared a few years ago "Dr." Hunter was called to the case, but no trace of the officer was ever found. He was recognized for his strange predictions and fortune telling and in all these years of aiding others he had neglected to look after his own financial end, and had been an inmate of the local alms house since early in the year, but had been a quite and law-abiding man and was known to most of the residents and often sought for to read their palms and locate lost articles.

Mrs. Hurley Now Gives Testimony

Mrs. C. A. Hurley residing at Fort Worth, Texas, is but one of the thousands who have testified to the merits of Orgatone treatment. Mrs. Hurley recently said:

"I have been in miserable health from indigestion for a number of years. Everything I ate would sour and often times cause me such distress that I would have to vomit. I often had headaches and eventually there would terminate into what I would term nervous sick headaches. I would have weak spells and felt tired and worn-out most all the time and would hardly get any rest at night. I was so wretched. "I had heard so much of the good Orgatone was doing people right here in Fort Worth, that I decided to try it. I did so and my relief has been remarkable. Really I have improved so much I am not like the same person. I feel stronger in every way, my food digests better, I eat anything I want and sleep better in my years. I have also gained in weight and I am sure it has done all for me that a medicine or treatment could do." Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific treatment absolutely free from alcohol in any form and is sold in Ranger by the Ranger Drug Company exclusively, under the personal direction of a special Orgatone representative.

LITTLE CHANCE O'DOWD BOXING G. CARPENTIER

By JACK VEIOCK, International News Service. NEW YORK, Jan. 2. — Michael O'Dowd, who tells all the rest of the middleweights where to get off, opines that he would like to tackle Georges Carpentier.

In suggesting himself as a logical opponent for the boss of European fistieuffs Michael points out that Billy Papke and Frank Klaus met and defeated Carpentier when they were leading middles. He wants to know why he isn't just as eligible.

At first glance Mike's argument sounds interesting, and he puts a little extra weight behind it by recalling that he stopped Dick Smith, the Britisher, in three rounds, a feat which required seven rounds of effort on Carpentier's part.

Admitting that O'Dowd is just reaching the top of his form as king of the middleweight division, and class of the 160-pounders of the present-day crop, there is still a little doubt regarding his rating as an opponent for the European champion.

Michael's intentions are all right. He isn't afraid of the Frenchman, and he has proven himself to be a good, tough boy, sufficiently clever to stand toe to toe with the average brawler of his size and give a fight crowd a good run for its money.

So from where we sit it appears that O'Dowd will do well to let good enough alone and remain in his class, which is the middleweight division. Carpentier is bigger and heavier, and we have not forgotten that the ambitious Michael took a fine boxing lesson from Jack Britton in a New Jersey ring a short time ago.

Figuring that Britton, who is a welterweight, stood O'Dowd off and outpointed him in eight rounds, it appears that Carpentier, who is heavier and more clever than Mike, would give him a fine thrashing.

Mel Coogan, the Brooklyn lightweight, hasn't much use for the Mitchell family. His aversion to mixing with the Milwaukee brothers, Richie and Pinkie, has led to the parting of the ways between Mel and his manager, Scotty Montieth, who formerly managed Johnny Dundee.

Scotty dug Coogan out as the boxer to help him revenge himself against Dundee, who dropped Montieth after long years of partnership. Scotty got his revenge, for Coogan gave Dundee a fine lacing in a bout in New Jersey.

Montieth was all excited about Coogan. He took Mel to Milwaukee to meet Pinkie Mitchell, and Pinkie gave the Brooklynite a beating, though Coogan finished the bout after being technically knocked out in the first round. This showed gameness.

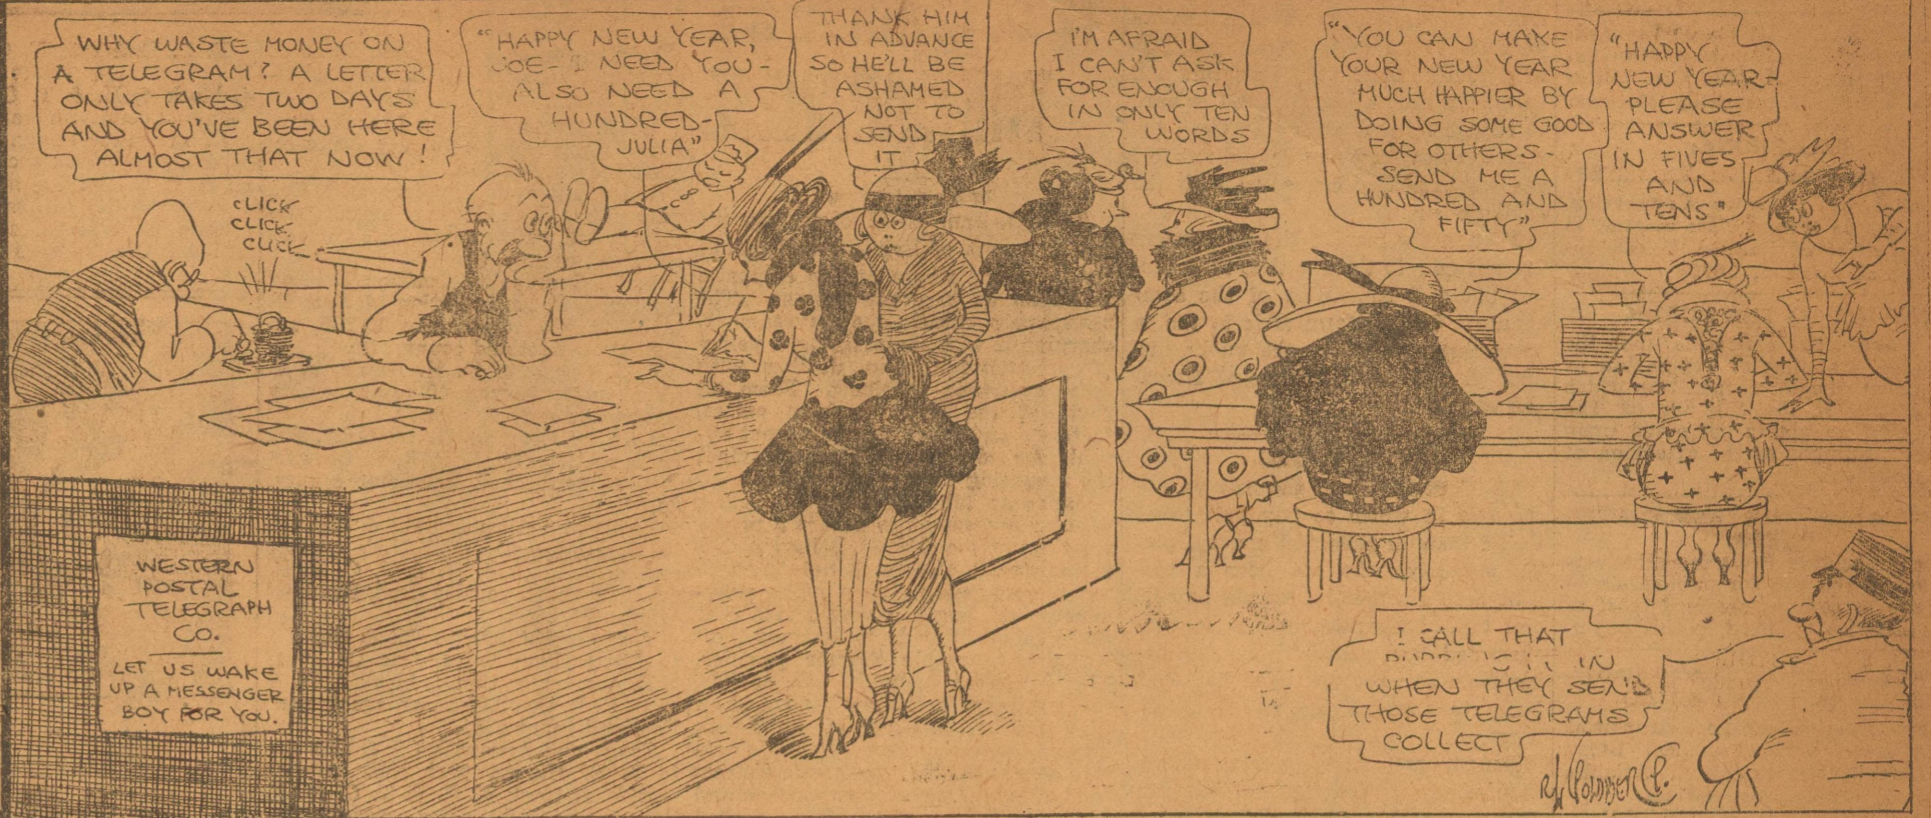

Coogan next faced Benny Leonard but not for long, as the lightweight champion disposed of him after a couple of rounds. Montieth then matched Coogan to box six rounds in Philadelphia with Richie Mitchell, and after the match was closed Coogan ran out. Right then and there Montieth was through. Coogan is now plotting his own canoe.

Other provinces are seeking to free Austria and turn elsewhere for help. There have been rumors of an impending revolt and declaration of independence in Tyrol. It is charged in some quarters that the whole separation movement in the Austrian provinces has been inspired by German propaganda with a view to establishing a corridor between Germany and Austria.

While Austria seems unable to obtain foreign credit for rehabilitation, there has been much comment here upon the fact that foreign private capital has been diligently exploiting the country. It is asserted that the country has virtually been stripped of its riches while its remaining resources are unable to obtain raw

HIPPODROME.

"Miss Money" is the title of the musical bill at the Hippodrome tonight. It is one of the best comedy sketches that the Jewel Golden company have yet offered during their stay here. Lillian Bessent, queen of syncope, will be seen at her best in this musical farce. Besides her, is Nina Rochester, prima donna, who will offer something new and entertaining. Then there is Hazel Welch, the pretty little novelty dancer, and Bernice McColm, who really knows how to put the schottish dances over. Last but not least is Miss Dixie McNeil, Hortense Green, Florence Maurer, Peggy McNeil, Buster Edwards, and pretty Edna Golden, of the chorus.

OPERA HOUSE.

"The Glorious Lady," in which Olive Thomas, the charming Selznick star, is appearing at the Opera House next Tuesday, paints a vivid picture of English society life and tells the tale of a love that knew no barriers.

The opening "punch" in the play concerns a "point to point" race, the English equivalent of our American steeplechase, in which the principal contenders are the Duke of Loame—Matt Moore in this part is as fit as the manor born—and Ivis Benson, a charming peasant girl of ancient but plebeian lineage. In this role Miss Thomas has far exceeded any of her previous performances.

It is sacrifices her prospects of winning the race to save the Duke, who has been thrown from his horse and, in so doing, is herself injured. During the convalescence the Duke is a constant visitor and soon the flame of love burns brightly in both their hearts. But many obstacles stand between the young people and their happiness, chief among them being the duke's mother, a grande dame of the old school, whose god is tradition.

How the barriers of tradition are overthrown and the lovers find ultimate happiness is shown in one of the finest stories of the star's career. Interest is sustained right to the very end when the play finishes with a novel and gripping climax.

Gun at Ear is Novel Eye-Opener for Robert Warwick. Rousing one's self out of a sound slumber is unpleasant enough at the best. How would you like to be awakened by feeling the cold nose of a revolver pressed against your left ear? In "An Adventure in Hearts," the motion picture starring Robert Warwick at the Lone Star theater this week, the hero is a secret agent who escapes from the clutches of government officials and spends his first night in freedom in a haymow. His partner's gun is his alarm clock in the morning. Some idea of the speed with which this entertaining screen romance moves may be gleaned from the fact that the next night Warwick spends in the exquisitely decorated guest chamber of an Italian nobleman. The mewling of a cat outside his room at midnight starts a delightful love affair and plunges the soldier-star into a fine melange of blackmailers, estranged husbands and wives, and scheming villains.

"An Adventure in Hearts" is a picturization of Anthony Hope's well known novel, "Captain Dieppe." The cast supporting Mr. Warwick includes the beautiful Helene Chadwick, Juan de la Cruz, Winifred Greenwood, Walter Long and Howard Gaye. The picture is a Paramount-Artercraft and was directed by James Cruze.

QUEEN.

Patrons of the Queen theater, which will present as a special attraction "Virtuous Men," commencing today, will be afforded a real glimpse of New York society together with many views of the Ritz-Carlton Hotel, the most famous hostelry in the world. This magnificent edifice, one of the show places of New York City, figures prominently in "Virtuous Men." Its magnificent interiors and wonderful decorations form a beautiful picture which fills the eye of the spectator. Many patrons of the Queen theater will recognize familiar parts of these scenes, as doubtless many of them visited the Ritz-Carlton during trips to New York. Many leaders of society and public life appear in the remarkable scenes showing the famous Ritz-Carlton. Taken all in all, this constitutes one of the interesting features of the S-L picture, which contains innumerable spectacular episodes.

GERMANY'S ARMY AND THE PEACE TREATY

Germany has an army of 1,000,000 men, apparently ready for action. The full significance of this fact, as announced in press dispatches on Thursday, is naturally somewhat clouded, but the mere fact that Germany has this number of fighting men after four years of warfare is enough in itself to cause concern to the allies. Whether it is indeed causing concern also cannot be said, but in all events it should be cause of reflective thought as to what the eventuality might be.

The peace treaty is not yet in force. Many months ago it was the armistice that was signed and hostilities ended. Apparently ceaseless negotiations have been going on; and the United States has added its share to the delay. In all the mass of criticism of the senate on the charge of holding up ratification of the peace treaty and the covenant of the League of Nations, there stands out the fact that the United States has never taken action blindly and without cause. The discussions in the senate regarding the peace treaty were necessary in order that the treaty might be understood. Whether or not the senate discussions have enlightened the American public as to an understanding of the treaty is a very serious doubt in the minds of many, and The Times believes justly so. In all events, the senate discussions have held up the treaty, whether wisely or otherwise.

Whether Germany is maintaining her large army until the peace treaty exchanges have been made and all its provisions are in force, has not been officially explained. Presumably it is the intention of Germany to keep this number of men ready for service, supposedly for protection.

This number of men cannot be justly needed by Germany for safeguarding her own interests. It is folly, as The Times sees it, to grant the Germans even the benefit of the doubt. Enough has been yielded the Hun as it is, and with the peace treaty in effect the number of men kept under arms in Germany undoubtedly should be reduced as undoubtedly it will be.

POLICE UNIFORMS

Added respect for the men of the Ranger police department, and added morale from within are results of the new uniforms which the department has purchased. It is a human characteristic to hold in firm respect the representatives of law when their dress is the uniform which has always been associated with order and protection.

Members of the department have had this difficulty to overcome, prior to the purchase of the new uniforms—that a certain lawless few, always in need of restraint, welcome the

SCRIPTURE

Matthew 20:29-34.
And as they departed from Jericho, a great multitude followed him.
And, behold, two blind men sitting by the way side, when they heard that Jesus passed by, cried out, saying, Have mercy on us, O Lord, thou Son of David.
And the multitude rebuked them, because they should hold their peace; but they cried the more, saying, Have mercy on us, O Lord, thou Son of David.
And Jesus stood still and called them, and said, What wilt thou that I shall do unto you?
They say unto him, Lord, that our eyes may be opened.
So Jesus had compassion on them, and touched their eyes; and immediately their eyes received sight, and they followed him.

chance to question the right of the law-enforcer.

The second gain, in morale, is similar to that evident in every training camp when America was making soldiers. Brought in from their civilian pursuits to an entirely changed life, to a routine stiff with discipline and rules, the new soldiery found it hard to realize its new position. Until the men were uniformed, they did not feel the responsibility connected with the soldier's life.

Though the men of the department are not new to their duties, they cannot but feel something of the same change. The uniform adds to the respect due them from the public and adds to their own feeling of fitness and capability.

POLL TAXES

The first month of the new year is the last in which to pay poll taxes. Every man in Eastland county, past his majority, who has been a resident here six months, should pay his poll tax. Ex-service men, who were exempted last year, on just returning from service, now must pay their taxes to exercise the right of suffrage.

Ranger had many more residents than voters in the elections of 1917. The proportion of qualified voter was unusually small, because of the city's record growth. Now that the city is becoming settled and the population is becoming permanent, many more men are qualified.

Any bank will accept the tax, which is $1.75. Pay it now.

Plymouth Not Same Town The Puritans Knew

PLYMOUTH, Jan. 2.—Plymouth, from whence may come England's next woman M. P., today is not the little seaport town which the Mayflower left. It is still a seaport, shinning and fishing being the principal sources of revenue, but also one of England's most flourishing seaports, boasting of a population of about 200,000.

Despite the city's prosperity and maritime importance, there are many of its customs which have remained unchanged through the three centuries since the Pilgrims waved their arewells. American bicyclists have dubbed the town as "a nine o'clock town" for that hour each evening the streets are practically deserted. Blinds are drawn, taxicabs are unavailable and night clerks in the hotels have settled themselves comfortably for the night's slumber behind their desks.

But if it is a nine o'clock town in the evenings, it is certainly a "six o'clock town" in the mornings for that time sees the majority of the people about their daily tasks, the fish market and dock yards are in full operation, the shopping districts beginning to open and the streets are busy. "Famous as a departing place for the Pilgrims and more recently by the arrival there of the N. C. 4, after her flight across the Atlantic, it is appropriate that Plymouth should again set her name into history through sponsoring French invasion of the "dominions" commented one of Lady Astor's Unionist supporters.

BETTER THAN WHISKEY FOR COLDS AND FLU

New Elixir, Called Aspirinal, Medicated With Latest Scientific Remedies, Used and Endorsed by European and American Army Surgeons to Cut Short a Cold and Prevent Complications.

Every Druggist in U. S. Instructed to Refund Price While You Wait at Counter If Relief Does Not Come Within Two Minutes.

Delightful Taste. Immediate Relief, Quick Warm-Up.

The sensation of the year in the drug trade is Aspirinal, the two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories, tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the common people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

All drug stores are now supplied with the wonderful new elixir, so all you have to do to get rid of that cold is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspirinal and tell him to serve you two teaspoonfuls with four teaspoonfuls of water in a glass. With your watch in your hand, take the drink at one swallow and call for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel your cold fading away like a dream within the time limit. Don't be bashful, for all druggists invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it. When your cold or cough is relieved, take the remainder of the bottle home to your wife and babies, for Aspirinal is by far the safest and most effective, the easiest to take and the most agreeable cold and cough remedy for infants and children.—Advertisement.

PROTESTS ON H. C. L. MADE BY THE JAPANESE

By Associated Press

TOKIO, Jan. 1.—Protests against the high cost of living and demands for increased wages are as emphatic in Japan as in other nations. The newspapers attack the government, charging it with maintaining a policy of procrastination in dealing with these economic problems. From all parts of the country, from offices, factories and schools come urgent appeals for advances in wages to meet the mounting cost of everything.

Japanese laborers have started a popular movement to secure a reconstruction of the cabinet, believing that a ministerial change is necessary to secure economic reforms. The newspapers deal lengthily with a visit that seven laborers made to Marquis Okuma, the venerable former premier. The delegates included two coolies, three printers, a factory hand, and an ironsmith, all attired in homespun dress. Some members of the delegation attributed their economic distress to the lack of government action and denounced the cabinet for alleged failure to halt the mounting costs.

Marquis Okuma also asserts that the difficulties under which the nation is suffering are largely due to the fact that the cabinet has taken no effective remedial steps. He says he fears that unless some important reforms are undertaken there is danger of a popular uprising. To this he adds a vehement denunciation of the luxuries of the rich.

The house of peers has suggested that steps should be taken to control the prices of the necessities of life.

At an official conference called by Premier Hara it was decided that a public market should be established in each city with a population of 50,000 and that money should be advanced to the people at a low rate of interest for the building of houses, the material to be obtained from crown forests. Another idea is to remove the customs' tariff on imported food.

The economic situation of the country is causing grave concern to industrial leaders and bankers. The extraordinary interest in Japan on the labor congress at Washington is due to the fear that an eight-hour day for Japan would so reduce Japan's output and so increase the cost of production that Japan would find greater difficulty in competing with other nations in world commerce.

A vast amount of work now remains to be done which the intervention of war has necessarily delayed and accumulated, and the result is that very large capital expenditures ought to be made to make up for the interruptions inevitably due to the war and to prepare the railroads to serve adequately the increased traffic throughout the country.

WALKER D. HINES, Director General of Railroads

Work more—
Produce more—
Save more—

But we can't continue increasing our production unless we continue increasing our railroad facilities.

The farms, mines and factories cannot increase their output beyond the capacity of the railroads to haul their products.

Railroads are now near the peak of their carrying capacity.

Without railroad expansion—more engines, more cars, more tracks, more terminals—there can be little increase in production.

But this country of ours is going to keep right on growing—and the railroads must grow with it.

To command in the investment markets the flow of new capital to expand railroad facilities—and so increase production—there must be public confidence in the future earning power of railroads.

The nation's business can only grow as fast as the railroads grow.

SEARCH FOR THE BEST TAILORED MAN IN AMERICA

CINCINNATI, Jan. 2. — The best tailored man in America may be the guest of honor at the annual convention of the Merchant Tailors Designers' Association, to be held here Feb. 3 to 6, inclusive. Just who he is, is not yet known.

At the request of the local convention committee, merchant tailors throughout the United States and Canada have started a nationwide search for him. He is to be the living symbol of perfection in tailoring. The specifications provide that he must be a man who has never worn any but tailor-made suits from the time he deserted knee breeches for long trousers and that he must be perfectly proportioned.

The man who is finally picked will be asked on behalf of a movement for "a better-dressed America," to accept the invitation to attend the convention.

EUROPE TAKES INTEREST IN THE AMAZON VALLEY

PARA, MOUTH OF AMAZON RIVER—The industrial development of the Amazon valley is attracting the attention of European countries. British, German, Italian, Norwegian, Swedish and Dutch capitalists, engineers and importers are making investigations of the mineral and forest resources of the valley or have obtained concessions to establish industries here. So far American participation in this development work is conspicuous by its absence.

English Engineers are up the river at the present time investigating the possibilities of vegetable oils; English experts are here studying the practicability of extracting starch and industrial alcohol from the root of manioc; an English engineer has returned to this city from Iquitos for further equipment with which to extend the examination he is making in the mineral area of the Peruvian Amazon, on behalf of a British syndicate.

The Italian syndicate which has been operating a small experimental vegetable oil factory at the town of Cameta, on the Tocantins river, about 100 miles from Para, has applied for a concession to open a large factory in Para for the extraction of lubricating, illuminating and edible oils from the nuts of palms and trees which abound in the forests. A similar concession has been given to a group of local capitalists for the establishment of oil factories in certain municipalities throughout the state.

Concessions have been granted recently by the state congress for various factories to manufacture glass, hammocks and thread, salt and its products, paper of all grades, rubber roods, vegetable dyes, ink and buttons from vegetable ivory nut. These so-called "concessions" are not to be confounded with the exclusive monopolies so popular in other Latin-American countries which in the past have proved to be a hamper instead of an aid to industrial development. In Brazil a "concession" to establish a factory or industry is more in the nature of a "charter" with, in some cases, special tax exemptions for a number of years, or privileges in the matter of import dues on machinery and equipment.

The Asiatian Plantations company, a German syndicate, has reopened its plantation near Para, which was abandoned when Brazil entered the war on the side of the allies. This company has 200,000 banana trees and 100,000 abacaxis (pineapples) under cultivation. Bananas thrive exceptionally well in this region, they are subject to none of the diseases prevalent in other banana growing countries, and owing to the extraordinarily even climate of Para require little attention when growing.

Kentucky Oil Fields Making 7,500,000 Bbls.

Special to The Times.
LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 2.—In a century of development, Kentucky oil fields have reached a capacity of 7,500,000 barrels, valued at $20,000,000, marking the growth to 30,000 wells since oil was discovered, according to Prof. Willard R. Jilson, state geologist.

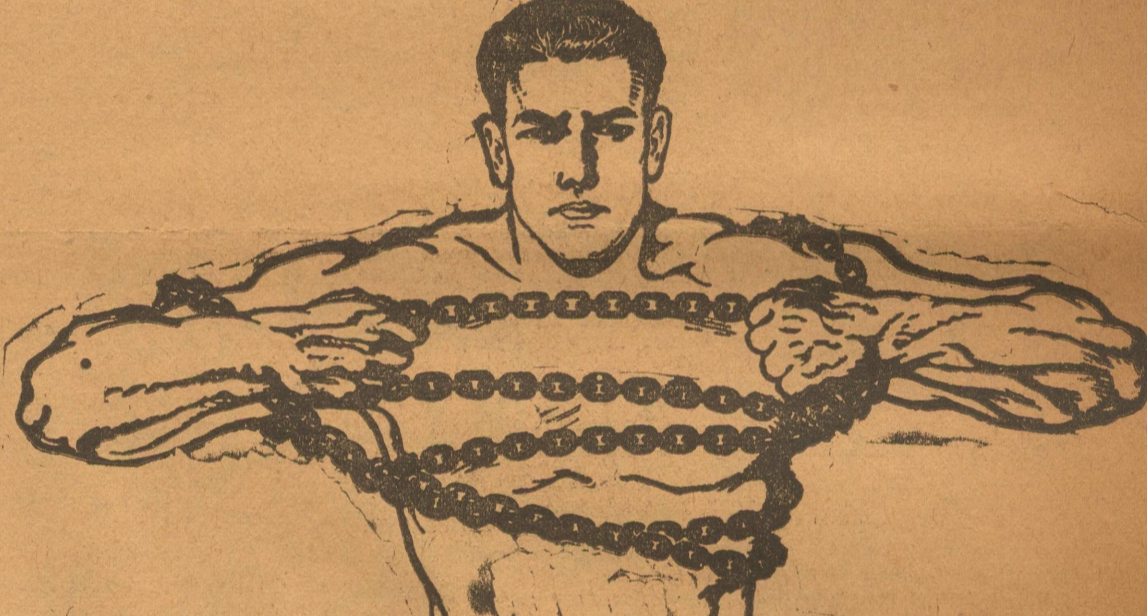

A Financial Diagnosis.
In a confidential little talk to a group of medical students an eminent physician took up the extremely important matter of correct diagnosis of the maximum fee.

"The best rewards," he said, "come of course to the established specialist. For instance, I charge $25 a call at the residence, $10 for an office consultation and $5 for a telephone consultation."

There was an appreciative and envious silence, and then a voice from the back of the amphitheater, slightly "chickened, spoke."
"Doc," it asked, "how much do you charge a fellow for passing you on the street?"—Chicago Journal.

Argument.
"Wife, you don't like tomatoes, won't eat them, and are thus depriving yourself of much in life. If I were you I'd learn to eat them."
"But you don't like eggplant, John."
"Oh, well, that ain't fit to eat."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Break Your Chains Be Strong and Well

Why drag along through life—half-sick, weak and tired out all the time? You can be strong and well—full of energy and vitality—glowing with health, and thrilled with the joy of life. You can enjoy life.
Rich, healthy blood makes the whole body healthy.
Nature intended that everyone should be strong and well, and there is no mystery about Nature's laws.

Oxygen is the life giver—necessary to maintain life. REOLO absorbs the oxygen from the air in the lungs and carries it into the blood—rapidly oxidizing or revitalizing the red blood cells—and increasing the amount of hemoglobin in the blood, sending through the entire body a stream of rich, vitalized, health-giving blood that nourishes every cell of the nerves, tissues, brain and bones.

REOLO Makes Rich Red Blood

If the supply of oxygen is not sufficient, the engine runs down, vital force wanes, the fire goes out and the whole machinery of the body stops. When the blood is vitalized with oxygen, the complicated structure of the cells of the body is broken down, and the energy liberated which serves to drive the human engine.

VALUES COOK AT $2,000,000 IN N. Y. MARKET

New York World.

"Say, if you had tasted one of Mary's biscuits you would not have hesitated to offer your whole fortune to keep her out of trouble," said Almerindo Portofolio of 330 West One Hundred and Second street to a reporter for the World.

Mr. Portofolio had offered $2,000,000 as bail for his colored cook, Mary Scipio, when she was arrested Wednesday, following a dispute she had with another woman while waiting to mail some Christmas presents. He said yesterday that Mary would be on hand tomorrow to cook his Christmas dinner. When a reporter for the World saw him in his office at 133 Broadway, he was beaming over the whole incident.

"We have had Mary for several years, and I'll say she is worth her weight in gold," he said. "I offered $2,000,000 bail, but the desk lieutenant in the West Forty-seventh street police station seemed to think that $10,000 was enough, even for the best cook in the world. In fact, the police officer thought that $500 would bind the deal."

Mr. Portofolio, who is head of a cloak and suit manufacturing concern, wanted to be on the safe side, however, so he insisted on giving a $10,000 bond.

"We bought all of our Christmas provisions with Mary in mind, and we have invited twenty-five relatives and friends to come and enjoy Mary's superb cooking with us on Christmas day, so I just had to act quickly," he explained.

"The minute I had that telephone call, telling me that our Mary was locked up in a police station, I jumped in my car and dashed over to save her at any cost. I can't imagine Mary getting into a dispute, anyway. She is the quietest cook we ever have had."

Mrs. Dorothy Foyer, who lives in the Palace hotel, 132 West Fifty-fifth street, had Mary arrested in the sub postoffice at 217 West Fifty-first street when, she alleged, the colored girl slapped her and called her improper names, following a dispute over their respective places in the line waiting to buy stamps.

"Mary never was arrested before," said Mr. Portofolio, "so her nerves are a little bit upset. I allowed her to go home to recover and get into shape for the big day tomorrow. Any person who has had the trouble I have had in finding cooks will appreciate to what extent I would go to keep Mary."

He Was Brave, But This Combination Sure Got His Goat

EASTLAND, Jan. 2. — Fossil remains, petrified trees and other interesting things have been passed through by the bit in the quest for the far-famed liquid gold, and probably if the bailer or fishing tool should bring up the skull of the "Missing Link," the driller would not be startled, accustomed as he is to unusual things.

But for a driller that has just gone to work after having his Christmas cheer, and feeling rather groggy, to pull out of the hole from a depth of several hundred feet a slightly odorous, but perfectly presentable goat, is apt to make the most hardened and his eyes and wonder if they too have been a victim of wood alcohol.

In one of the wells in the Eastland field that has been shut down for the holidays, the driller found the body of a goat several hundred feet down in the hole. The goats crowding into the derrick out of the cold forced those in the center down in the open mouth of the hole and the driller states that he fished out not less than seventy-five goats.

He further states that when the first one came out he immediately made a New Year's resolution.

SANITARY CO. RESPONSIBLE FOR CLEAN-UP

Experiments with sub-contracts and private disposal of trash having proved failures, the board of commissioners has determined to concentrate the business of trash and waste hauling with the Ranger Sanitary company, and will instruct P. H. Hopkins, superintendent, to provide sufficient equipment to handle the city's sanitary problem.

Since the contract was let to the Ranger Sanitary company, several contractors have been given the task of hauling garbage from the cafes. For varying reasons, all have quit. One stated that the garbage, which might be used for hog feed if properly separated, was filled with broken glass, tin cans and crockery. Others have failed to make good on their promises to take care of this question.

Disposal of trash by anyone who wished to haul it was authorized a few weeks ago, but has proved a signal failure, as those who took the work would not carry the waste to the city incinerator, but would dump it on the city streets and vacant property. Sanitary Inspector W. H. Stowe reports that down town alleys have been made impassable, in some instances, and become dangerous fire hazards

$8,000 Raised for New Church

Over $8,000 has been raised by committees working to complete financing of the new Baptist church, now being built near the corner of Marston and Walnut streets. The goal of the workers is $20,000, and it is the belief of committeemen that this amount will be readily raised by the time the canvas is completed.

Brick work on the church is progressing. Everything done so far has been accomplished on a cash basis, and the object of the present canvass is to raise enough additional money to finish paying for the building and complete furnishings.

through failure of trash haulers to fulfill their contracts. Companies who have their own teams and trash wagons still will be permitted to care for their trash, provided they live up to the letter of the city ordinance, hauling the waste without spilling any along the road and dumping it at the city incinerator, under supervision of the fire chief, under supervision of the fire chief stationed there.

Looking Ahead.
