BOSTON PLANS TO ALTER SOME NOTED PLACES

BOSTON, Jan. 19.—Boston is preparing to alter some of its most cherished historic features to meet the demands of modern conditions.

The paring of the common on two sides of its forty-three-acre area has been sanctioned only after the overcoming of long-standing opposition by those who held that no considerations of modern development should disturb this revolutionary landmark and present day breathing space in the city's center.

Under the plan, which is a compromise arranged between the street commissioners and the Boston Common society, Boylston and Boylston streets, which bound the common on two of its sides, will be widened to a maximum of forty-three feet instead of fifty to sixty feet, as first proposed.

Boston common was bought in 1634 by Governor Winthrop and others as a common cow pasture and training ground, and was one of several such tracts of communal lands and planting grounds.

It was on Boston common that revolutionary soldiers drilled; from its limits at Park square, then the Back Bay in fact as well as in name, and now "made land," the British started for Lexington on April 19, 1775.

The proposal to cut into the Old South Meeting house which was built in 1729 to obtain partial relief from traffic congestion on Washington streets, is still under consideration.

Under the plan the main part of the church, in which the colonists worked out plans for the "tea party," and which was later used by the British as a riding school during the siege of Boston, would not be disturbed.

CONCRETE PILES REPLACED WITH CROSOATED WOOD

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 19.—To replace the present concrete piles, caps and struts by crosoated wood piles and timber caps and struts is the recommendation of engineers in connection with the reconstruction of the ruined Santa Monica pier in California.

The investigating committee recommends that steps be taken at once for the replacement of the concrete piles with those of crosoated wood, retaining the present deck structure. It states that such a substitute should have a life approximately equal to the remaining life of the existing deck and so the greatest possible use of the original investment consistent with public safety will be made.

GIRL, DEAF MUTE, HEADED BAND OF PARIS THIEVES

PARIS, Jan. 19.—A slender young girl named Loisy headed a band of deaf mutes which perpetrated a number of the most clever burglaries that ever came to the attention of the Paris police until the entire gang was rounded up and sent to prison this week.

For several weeks the police received reports of daring apartment house robberies. On many occasions bedrooms were robbed while the occupants were at dinner in adjoining rooms, but not a sound was heard.

The police took finger-prints and by reason of other clues arrested four men named Barney, Pierre, Maurel and Ritter, all deaf mutes. They confessed that their leader was the Loisy girl, also a deaf mute. The girl told the police that the band worked so successfully because they carried on none of the whispered conversations that so often reveal the presence of burglars, but principally because they revealed no secrets to outsiders.

No word has been received by Postmaster Kelly from J. F. Connell, whose appointment as postmaster at Ranger was announced last week. It is not known whether or not he will accept the appointment.

Mr. Connell's name was sent to the senate along with numerous others by President Wilson. This amounts to the same thing as an appointment, as the recommendations are usually acted upon without debate.

HIPPODROME—"Billy's Night Out," presented by Wonderful Baby company; feature picture.

HIPPODROME

One of the biggest matinee crowds in the history of the Hippodrome theater, greeted the opening performance of "Wonderful Baby," the new musical sensation. There is a reason for everything and the reason in this particular instance is the wonderful talent that the company has with them. The company opened their week's play with a bill entitled "Billy's Night Out." It is a musical revue and contains more than the name of the bill intimates.

LONE STAR

"More Deadly Than the Male" is a well constructed photoplay, cleverly directed and with a surprise twist to the plot which converts its melodramatic trend into pleasing comedy. It is strong in suspense and the heroic role of Helen O'Hara gives Ethel Clayton golden opportunities for demonstrating her versatile talents. The leading lady wears a number of hand some gowns which are calculated to excite the envy of all feminine movie fans and set off her graceful figure to splendid advantage.

Much of the picture's success must be attributed to the star's breezy vivacity and excellent acting. Helen O'Hara is something of a puzzle right up to the last, when she admits that she has been staging adventures for the sake of the would-be wanderer Richard Carlin, and that her supposed husband, big Terry, is only a mere brother after all. Which really comes as a relief, because Helen, in spite of her apparently impish tendencies seems altogether too nice a party to end up as a genuine "vamp." Carlin is ably impersonated by Edward Hoxen, who shines as a remarkably energetic lover admirably adapted to meet the resourceful Helen at her own game of playing with fire. Herbert Hayes takes the part of Tedd O'Hara, his Celtic grin radiating good humor and winning sympathy from the start. Hallam Cooley as Jimm Keene, and Peggy Pearce as Angel give capital performances in their respective roles.

Rapid action characterizes the feature throughout the entire five reels there isn't a dull moment in it and Robert Vignolas' direction leaves no room for unfavorable criticism. The locations are well chosen and the whole production immensely effective from a spectacular standpoint. There are any amount of exciting situations in evidence and a particularly vivid thrill is provided by the big scene which shows the breaking of the dam. The photography is of first-class quality and faultless lighting prevails. The outdoor views are exquisite; filmed, the long shots artistically executed and numerous fine close-up of the principals are shown.

LIBERTY THEATER

Screen atmosphere, or attention to the detail which makes for perfection in motion pictures, is receiving more and more attention from film producers. A striking example of this is "The Feud," the new Tom Mix picture which William Fox will present today and tomorrow at the Liberty theater.

Much of the action of this feature is laid in the ante-bellum days when women wore hoopskirts and men wore their hair long. The matter of costumes was easy enough to settle, for old illustrations were obtainable from which the costumes for Tom Mix, Ev Novak and the supporting players were copied.

But it was a hard task to secure the theatrical properties. Two carriages of the vintage of 1860 were necessary for the opening episode, in which the two feudist fathers clash over the right-of-way. One carriage was obtained from the descendants of a California 49er at San Pedro, some twenty-five miles from the big Fox studios at Hollywood, Cal. But it was necessary to send to San Francisco for the second carriage, which was unearthed after quite a search.

It took nearly as much time to get the pistols used in one scene, for the old flintlocks could not be used, nor could the modern revolvers. Finally a couple of smooth-bore percussion cap pistols were found in the private collection of a member of the Pasadena millionaire colony and the owner allowed them to be used on condition that he be allowed to load them himself. These pistols had not been fired in nearly fifty years until "The Feud" was filmed.

OPERA HOUSE

The archives of the state of California were ransacked recently by Jolin S. Sturteon, a Universal director, who was entrusted with the production of "Sundown Trail," the Monroe Salisbury photodrama now at the Opera House.

The scene of the story is laid in Spanish Bar, one of the most notorious of the 1849 gold camps. Sturteon insisted that the drama be filmed on the exact site of the old Spanish Bar camp at the end of Sundown Trail. A question arose as to the exact location of the old camp, forgotten now except by those old men who remember going there as children.

The records of the United States land office, copies of which were turned over to California when it became a state, were perused. It was definitely determined that Spanish Bar was the name applied to two of the old camps, one in the Placerville country and the other near Tobin.

Because of the greater beauty of the scenery "Sundown Trail" was filmed in the Feather river district near Tobin.

Monroe Salisbury is seen in the romantic role of "Quiet" Carter. He is supported by Alice Elliot, Clyde Fillmore, Beatrice Dominguez and Carl Beckdale.

The story was written by J. G. Hawks, author of many of the William S. Hart screen plays.

Heinie Zimmerman.

It's rumored this temperamental bird may be traded to the Pirates by McGraw.

Too Many Guests Cause Famine on Heels of Feast

CORDOVA, Alaska, Dec. 2.—(By Mail)—A play, a dance and a feast, winding up a season of plenty, was responsible for the near extermination of the Quiglingok tribe of natives last winter and spring, according to John H. Kilbuck, superintendent of schools for the Kuskokwim river district. The famine following the feast, Mr. Kilbuck said in his annual report to the bureau of education, caused the deaths of at least forty-two of the natives, and would have wiped out the entire clan had not missionaries come to the rescue with a meager supply of food.

THOUGH EXILED, EX-RULER OF AUSTRIA FINDS CONTENTMENT WITH HIS FAMILY

Ex-Emperor Charles and his family.

This new photo of the ex-ruler of Austria, his wife, the former Empress Zita, and their children, has just been received from Prangins, Switzerland, where the royal family is in exile. The ex-emperor has more time than ever to spend with his family and appears to be enjoying life. As the photo shows, he is following the example of ex-Kaiser Wilhelm and raising a beard.

CONAN DOYLE TELLS ABOUT SPIRIT CANVAS

International News Service. LONDON (by mail)—Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, who in his lectures on spiritualism has repeatedly declared that he has been in communication with the spirit of his son, writes a remarkable letter to the Daily Mail describing a "most marvellous" head of Christ which, he says, was drawn in a few hours by a woman who, normally, has no power of artistic expression.

Sir Arthur affirms that the picture, now exhibited in the Walker gallery, New Bond street, W., is the finest head of the Founder of Christianity that has ever been conceived. The work was executed by Mrs. Spencer, daughter-in-law of Viscountess Churchill.

The letter of Sir Arthur is as follows: "In the early days of this movement it was foretold by Mrs. de Morgan and others that the line of advance would be from the crude material phenomena common to those days to the finer and more intellectual proofs which the human race would become more fitted to receive. This prophecy has, in the course of the last fifty years, been amply justified. The spirit rap, levitation and even materializations have become far less common. Ade evidence in these directions has been given and this stage appears to be closing down. On the other hand, we have never before had such an outburst of the finer phases of spirit intervention, of spirit photography, of inspirational addresses, writings and paintings, and very especially of that clairvoyance or "discerning of spirits" which Saint Paul counted among the most valuable of spiritual gifts.

In writing this letter my object was, however, to point out some of the more intellectual proofs of spirit intervention which may appeal to those minds which recoil from grosser manifestations, only justified by the necessities of the material age in which we live. Of written inspiration much might be said, for no philosophy that has appeared has such a literature as has grown round spiritualism. To those who imagine that the inspirational messages are of small intellectual value I would name only two recent books: "Claude's Second Book" (Methuen) and "Letters from the Other Side" (Watkins), which contain the very essence of spiritual knowledge, and, incidentally, a good deal of prophecy; in the case of the latter book, which has been literally fulfilled since the time the messages were taken. If those two books are not indeed inspired, then what are we to think of the transcendent intellectual qualities of those two ladies whose hands were used to produce the script?

It is, however, to inspirational painting which I would especially refer, because when a masterpiece is produced by one who has no technical skill, and when it is exposed for all to behold, the most sceptical must admit there is something there beyond their ken. Some publicity has been given recently to the symbolic drawings of Mr. Charles Horsfall, and after inspecting them I am certainly of opinion that they are indeed truly inspirational in their origin and profound in their meaning.

I could, however, appreciate the position of those who have no turn for mysticism and who do not understand that there are some subjects so complex that they cannot be treated in a pictorial but only in a diagrammatic fashion.

To those people I would recommend an inspection of the head of Christ now exhibited at the Walker gallery in New Bond street. The picture is, in my opinion, the very finest head of the Founder of Christianity that has ever been conceived, and I can well understand the action of a great painter in Paris, who, when he saw the companion full-face drawing, fell instantly upon his knees.

It is, indeed, a most marvellous production, with all that inner soul which

Constant Headache and Much Soreness and Pain Nearly Got the Best of This Harrisburg Lady, But Cardui Made Her Well and Strong

Harrisburg, Ark.—Mrs. J. M. Needham, living near here states: "When I began working on me I suffered a great deal. I had so much soreness and pain in the lower part of my body I could hardly get up when I was down. I would have severe pains, all across my back, and my sides hurt me all the time. I would have headaches constantly, especially the back of my head and neck. I was almost discouraged with my condition when I thought of Cardui, and decided to see what it would do.

I saw an improvement at once after the first bottle. I kept it up and the result was wonderful. I took altogether four bottles. I grew stronger, better appetite, less pain until I was well. I think Cardui is a Godsend to suffering women, and I certainly can praise it, and do so."

For more than 40 years Cardui has been in general use and in that time thousands have written to tell us how it helped them back to health and strength.

is so lacking in the old masters, whose Christ and Virgins appear to me to be very often the quintessence of materialism and vulgarity. Yet this wonderful work was done in a few hours by a lady who, as I am assured by her family, has no power of artistic expression when in her normal condition. It is a supreme example of the working of spiritual intelligence through a material mortal frame.

ARTHUR CONAN DOYLE. The story of how Mrs. Spencer came to discover her remarkable painting power, as told by Viscountess Churchill, her mother-in-law, is like a page from Hans Andersen. "I cannot explain it," she said, "except to express my belief that Mrs. Spencer has strong psychic power. It was just before the war that she made the discovery. She felt the desire to paint—to do something to brighten the lives of people—and picked up her little daughter's crayons. Although she had never received instruction in drawing or painting, she drew a perfect head of Christ on a piece of paper. She was so impressed by what she had done and felt so strongly that she could do it again that she procured all the necessary accessories for painting. There is nothing in the nature of 'control' in her work.

"I have watched her for hours at a time, and all the time she is painting she can carry on ordinary conversation. The first head of Christ she did in oils was seen by a French expert, who asked: 'Where was it picked up? I have not,' he said, 'seen brush-work like this since the old masters.' He could hardly believe that it was the work of Mrs. Spencer, who wanted to give $750 for the painting just as it stood, unmounted and unframed.

"The remarkable thing about this head was that it was done upside down. Mrs. Spencer worked at it solidly for about three hours, and when she had finished wondered what on earth she had done; it was only on turning it upside down that a perfect head of Christ appeared. Mrs. Spencer rubs in the backgrounds with her hand, and it was only recently we learned that this is how the old masters used to do it.

"I can only explain it by saying that I think that with her intense desire to help aid is given her; there is nothing in the nature of control or trance or anything like that." The oil painting at the Walker galleries, which she has named "The Light," was painted by Mrs. Spencer at her home in Scotland, while the pastel was done in an ordinary room in London.

Mrs. Spencer, then the widow of Captain Stanley Venn Ellis, R. N., married the Hon. Victor Alexander Spencer in 1916. She is the daughter of the Hon. Robert Beaven, formerly premier of Victoria, British Columbia.

Marriage Shark Deceives Many Girls in Texas

AUSTIN, Jan. 19.—Austin police have been warned by military authorities at San Antonio to look out for a fake army officer of handsome appearance who has a habit of marrying girls with available money, getting possession of their money and leaving in search of a new victim and bride.

According to accounts received here, the gay Lothario has repeated the marriage ceremony so many times that he has memorized the wedding march.

IS SHE STILL ALIVE?

For over four years a young Greek in America had not heard from his aged mother who lived in Constantinople. Eagerly he watched the mails for a letter. Month after month he sent her money for food and clothing, but never knew whether she received it or not. Four years passed without a word from his dear old mother and he was frantic with grief and despair. Then the war ended and he hastened home on the first boat that sailed for Constantinople to find out if his mother was still alive.

The terrible strain of the war has affected nearly everyone. American fathers and mothers have suffered in silence, waiting day and night for some word from their boys far away in the army.

Thousands of foreign-born Americans have waited in vain for a letter from their mothers, their sister or brother across the sea in war-torn Europe. Grief gripped their hearts when they thought of their loved ones cold, hungry and despairing amid their ruined homes and the graves of their dead.

How could they reach when they were sick at heart? How could they help grieving as day after day went by and no letter came. The mother, whose son was grievously wounded and at the point of death somewhere in France, could not go to her boy. She could but wait and pray for him.

With the clutch of fear at their hearts and nerves strained to the breaking point, many fathers and mothers have bravely smiled, but the strain and suspense have lowered their vitality, exhausted their strength and undermined their health.

REOLO is sold in sealed packages containing 100 tablets, sufficient for two weeks' treatment. It only costs one dollar a package and is positively guaranteed to give beneficial results. We will gladly refund your money if you have not been suffering from nerve strain and enervating diseases, have not been restored to health by Dr. Reusung's wonderful formula.

THE SOUTHWEST AND RADICALISM.

It is a significant fact that the labor troubles which have so seriously interfered with the reconstruction work of the last year have not spread to the southwest, in any great degree. With the exception of the late coal strike, which was felt at Thurber and other mining towns of West Texas, there has been no strike in this state worthy of mention.

Of course, the southwest does not rank with the Great Lakes region and the east in an industrial way, but nevertheless there are thousands of large industries in Texas and other southern states which would be paralyzed by a strike. It is an encouraging fact that employers and employees have maintained cordial relations and that the development of the great southwest has not been hampered by industrial troubles.

Another striking fact is that the "red" and the I. W. W. have found scant encouragement in the southwest. It has been pointed out that the recent federal raids barely touched the South at one point—Louisville, Ky.

The relations of employer and employe have been most pleasant here in Ranger, on the whole. The unions here seem to be guided by men of sane leadership and common sense. Local unions have repudiated radicalism in the strongest possible terms and branded the "red" as the greatest enemy the union man has to face today. Union men have played a great part in the development of Ranger and the oil fields.

In Fort Worth labor conditions have been so satisfactory that a strong movement has been launched to prevent the formation of open shop associations there.

Texas is too busy and too prosperous to give heed to the insidious propaganda of the "red."

'FLU IS RAGING AGAIN.

Now that the 'flu, that dreaded disease which took such a large toll of human life last winter, is again making its appearance, 525 new cases being reported at Chicago alone, it behooves all of us to take precautionary measures against its spread. While the deaths in Chicago are negligible compared to the total number of cases,

SCRIPTURE

Isaiah 54:1-8.
Sing, O barren, thou that didst not bear; break forth into singing, and cry aloud, thou that dost not travail with child; for more are the children of the desolate than the children of the married wife, said the Lord.
Enlarge the place of thy tent, and let them stretch forth the curtains of thine habitations; spare not, lengthen thy cords, and strengthen thy stakes;
For thou shalt break forth on the right hand and on the left; and thy seed shall inherit the Gentiles, and make the desolate cities to be inhabited.
Fear not; for thou shalt not be ashamed; neither be thou confounded; for thou shalt not be put to shame; for thou shalt forget the shame of thy youth, and shalt not remember the reproach of thy widowhood any more.
For thy Maker is thine husband; the Lord of hosts is his name; and thy Redeemer the Holy One of Israel; the God of the whole earth shall he be called.
For the Lord has called thee as a woman forsaken and grieved in spirit and a wife of youth, when thou wast refused, saith the God.
For a small moment have I forsaken thee; but with great mercies will I gather thee.
In a little wrath I hid my face from thee for a moment; but with everlasting kindness will I have mercy on thee, saith the Lord the Redeemer.

IT'S BEEN A FINE EVENING FOR ME, - HASN'T IT! WELL, LET THIS BE THE LAST TIME ANY OF THAT CROWD COMES HERE! It is needless, nevertheless, that other sections of the country, and particularly Texas, shall see to it that the malady does not get such a foothold as was the case last winter.

ATTER-DAY SNEAK THIEF PLIES HIS TRADE IN COURT

International News Service.
BOSTON—Into the very sanctum of the court itself the latter-day sneak thief makes his entrance. One of these robbers stepped into Charles-town court and while Clarence S. Harlow, prominent business man and member of the firm of Staley, Harlow & Hamlin was testifying got away with Mr. Harlow's fur hat.

Believing himself secure before the court, Mr. Harlow before going on the witness stand divested himself of hat and coat.

Mr. Harlow was compelled to borrow a derby from Clerk Thomas F. Fitzpatrick until he bought himself a new headgear.

SUPER-HONEST MAN FOUND IN SAN FRANCISCO

Now, page Mr. Diogenes! Here's the story of an honest man.

Over the long distance telephone early today Chief of Police White received a message from R. Detrick:

from King City to the effect that Detrick had left his wallet containing $80 in a gasoline station at McCoppin and Market streets. Would Chief White please send out and get it? Chief White dispatched Policeman Mathew J. Coffey on the errand. Coffey found William Minz, 724 Fourteenth street, the keeper of the station.

"A man named Detrick says he left a wallet containing $80 in your gasoline station," said the policeman.

"Have you seen it?" "Yes," replied Minz, "I have the wallet, but Detrick is mistaken about the amount it contained. Instead of $80 there are $99. Here's the wallet and the money.

They say that Policeman Coffey has not yet entirely recovered from the shock. The wallet and the money is in the hands of the property clerk of the police department.

Expert Service in All Kinds of Insurance and Bonds

New Terrell Building Ranger, Texas

The railroads are indispensable to our whole economic life, and railway securities are at the very heart of most investments, large and small, public and private, by individuals and by institutions.
WOODROW WILSON

THE war could not have been won without railroads. Transport—by rail and sea—is an indispensable arm of national defence.

Carrying capacity, from the wheat fields and the mines and the steel mills to the front lines in France, was the measure of our power in war.

And it is the measure of our power in peace.

Industrial expansion—increasing national prosperity—greater world trade—are vitally dependent on railroad growth.

The limit to the productive power of this country is the limit set by railroad capacity to haul the products of our industry.

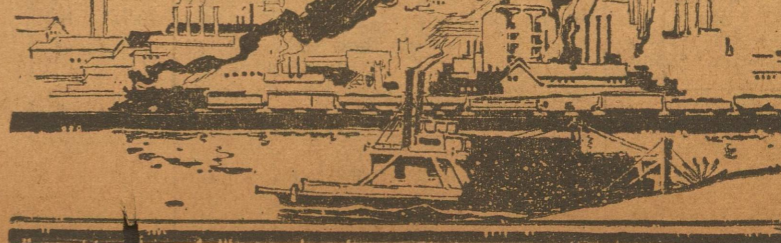

The amount of freight carried on American rails doubled from 1897 to 1905—since that year it has doubled again.

It will double still again.

To haul this rapidly growing traffic the country must have more railroads—more cars and engines—more tracks and terminals.

Sound national legislation, broad-voiced public regulation will encourage the expansion of railroads, without which the nation cannot grow.

Those desiring information concerning the railroad situation may obtain literature by writing to The Association of Railway Executives, 61 Broadway, New York

HOME MADE PIE SAVES HER FROM INJURY

International News Service.
PLEASANTON, Cal., Jan. 19.—A pie saved the life, or at least serious injury, of Mrs. Mary Waterhouse, of this city. She was carrying the pie to a window sill, where it was to cool, when a bullet, piercing the glass, tore into the pie, struck the pie tin, and glanced aside.
The bullet had been fired by Henry Moore, who explained he had been blasting stumps from some property. He would stand at a distance from his dynamite charge, setting it off with a shot from his rifle.
The scheme worked perfectly on two occasions, but the third bullet went wrong and crashed through the window and into the pie.
Sufficient Inducement.

WILL BE FRANCE'S "FIRST LADY" IF TIGER'S ELECTED

According to recent dispatches from France Tiger Clemenceau, now premier, may be chosen next president of France. As the Tiger is a widower his daughter, Mme. Clemenceau Jacquemaire, will become "first lady" of France if he is named and will direct the social activities during his term in office.

FOREIGNERS RUN STILLS TO EARN PASSAGE HOME

International News Service.
AKRON, Ohio.—Many foreigners are manufacturing moonshine distilled liquors for the purpose of raising money to aid them in returning to the old country.
"Our investigations show us that in a very large majority of cases the moonshiners are not in the business with an idea of establishing an industry on a permanent basis, or for the making of money as a living. They are doing it to make money quickly and for traveling expenses only," declared Assistant United States District Attorney Fred Courts, of Cleveland.
Attorney Courts arraigned twelve alleged moonshiners, all aliens, before United States Commissioner D. W. Harter here. Eight were held. The other four men were discharged.
"Some of these moonshiners aim to make enough to get them to New York and to pay their income tax before leaving, while others figure to make enough to cover all expenses, including the ocean passage," continued Courts.
"We find that, in many instances, the stills have been owned by those who have already gone back to the old country.
"It would appear that one man operates a still until he has made enough to pay his way back. He sells the still to another who is yearning to return, and so it goes. Some of the stills we have gathered in have been used by as many as a half dozen who, we are informed, have gone back to the old country."

NO EXECUTION; OH, NO! JUST WEDDING BELLS
Down in Southern California, Miles Thomas Seary, 27 years old, of San Francisco, is convinced that getting married is a man-sized job, according to word received from Los Angeles.

After winning the maid's contest to the nuptials Seary congratulated himself procured a marriage license in Riverside and motored to Los Angeles for the ceremony—happy in the thought that everything was going well on his wedding day. But later County Clerk Clayton of Riverside county received an urgent long distance telephone call. It was Seary. He wanted advice and wanted it in a hurry.
The preacher had refused to honor the marriage license issued to him and Miss Theresa L. Murray in another county.
"What will I do?" queried the prospective bridegroom.
"Come back and get married here," advised the clerk. "When you come for the license you said nothing about taking it to another county for execution."
"Who said anything about being executed," replied Seary. "I want to get married!" And he banged up the phone.

Every Druggist in U. S. Instructed to Refund Price While You Wait at Counter If Relief Does Not Come Within Two Minutes.
Delightful Taste, Immediate Relief, Quick Warm-Up.
The sensation of relief in the drug trade is Aspirinal, the two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories; tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the common people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.
All drug stores are now supplied with the wonderful new elixir, so all you have to do to get rid of that cold is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspirinal and tell him to serve you two teaspoons with four teaspoonfuls of water in a glass. With your watch in your hand, take the drink at one swallow and call for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel your cold fading away like a dream within the time limit. Don't be bashful, for all druggists invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it.
When your cold or cough is relieved, take the remainder of the bottle home to your wife and babies, for Aspirinal is by far the safest and most effective, the easiest to take and the most agreeable cold and cough remedy for infants and children.—Advertisement.

WHISKY IN XMAS TREES SAYS REVENUE AGENT

International News Service.
NEWARK — Whisky has been smuggled into the United States from Canada in shipments of Christmas trees, according to an agent of the internal revenue office here.
"The large number of Christmas trees in the market this season has been explained in many ways," the agent said, "but I have learned that some of them came in from Canada, and it is said that whisky was concealed in the shipments. Of course, the tree dealers never saw the whisky. It was taken out before the shipments reached them, but that's the inside story of the glut of Christmas trees on the market."

NEW BIDS OR OLD FOR THE POSTOFFICE?

Local postoffice authorities are lacking information concerning the next move to get a postoffice building for Ranger. George McManus and George A. Parton, whose bid for a building to be erected on Rusk street was accepted by the postoffice department, are both out of town. Before leaving, Mr. McManus expressed doubt whether he would erect the building as he had planned, saying he was not receiving the support of property owners nearby, who would benefit from the new location.

In case he definitely refuses to go through with the project, the department will either ask for new bids or choose another location from bids already submitted. It is known that several desirable offers were made by different individuals, and one of these may be accepted.

Ranger Man Draws Two Years in Pen for Theft

SPECIAL TO THE TIMES.
EASTLAND, Jan. 19. — While the district court docket is crowded beyond comparison, yet Judge Hill has cleaned up the docket of settings for the past week. He had to work both day and a portion of each night to do this, but he will take up again the civil docket today with practically a clean slate behind him.

While preference has been given this week to criminal cases, many civil cases have been disposed of between times. Next week preference will be given to civil business.

Steve White, charged with stealing $22 worth of cigarettes from Curly Harper at Ranger, thought to get a suspended sentence on his plea of guilty, but the jury refused to suspend his sentence and gave him two years in the pen.

W. B. Parr, of Gorman, charged with running a gambling house, drew a hung jury, and since the jury could not agree, his case was continued and set for trial at the March term.

The court was in session six days, reported thirty-two indictments, two being for misdemeanors and transferred to the county court, and then recessed till the first Monday in February.

20 New Members Received at the Baptist Church

Twenty new members were received into the local Baptist church yesterday, the largest number on record for one day. The attendance also broke all records. The Baptist tabernacle, located back of the new Baptist church building, on Walnut street, was crowded to capacity.

Rev. Johnson, pastor of the church, preached two inspiring sermons. A great deal of interest is being shown in the Sunday school and church services, and the need for the splendid building now under construction is emphasized by the large crowds which come to the tabernacle.

COFFEE CLUB TO SUPPLANT WHITE CAMEL

Miss Edna O'Harra, Miss Edith Litzrodt and Miss Lenore Edgerton, who recently purchased the White Camel cafe, located in the DeGoff building on Marston street, have arrived in this city and taken over the management of the cafe. The name will be changed from "White Camel" to the "Texas Club Coffee Shop."

Miss O'Harra stated today that it is the intention of the new management to remodel the cafe, redecorate and install modern and up-to-date fixtures. When this work is complete, the cafe will compare very favorably with the best in Ranger.

Miss O'Harra comes here from Beaumont, where she was secretary of the Y. W. C. A. Miss Edgerton was assistant cafeteria director at Beaumont, and prepared meals for between five and six hundred people daily. Miss Litzrodt had charge of the Texas Oil company's dining room and hotel at Port Neches, Texas.

The White Camel was formerly owned by White and Maxich brothers. Miss Edgerton will have charge of the newly established catering service of the coffee house. She will make a specialty of arranging and supervising dinner parties, banquets, etc. She specialized in this work while attending the domestic science course of the state school at Manhattan, Kan.

ALLENDALE OIL COMPANY

Mr. "Art" B. Dale, President of the Allendale Oil Company, is in Ranger this Monday morning, en route to Desdemona.

Mr. Dale has consented to be in this office tomorrow, Tuesday, the 20th, after three o'clock for the afternoon to meet stockholders and friends and persons interested in buying stock in the ALLENDALE OIL COMPANY.

To those who have not yet bought stock in the company at par value, $1.00 the share, we wish to mention that we have a few shares left that can be bought that will carry the Special Dividend certificate guarantee.

Perhaps more ALLEIDALE OIL COMPANY stock has been sold in Ranger and in this county in the past few days, both through this office and orders that have been sent in direct or reservations wired to the ALLENDALE OIL COMPANY at Fort Worth, than has been sold in this vicinity since the early boom days of the Ranger oil field.

Stock sold here, because there is merit to the Allendale Oil Company. The oil men believe in it. Oil men have bought largely of the stock. Drillers, tool dressers, employes of almost every oil company operating in Eastland and Stephens counties, carpenters, painters, plasterers, civil engineers, and many professional men and business men.

After the initial issue of a quarter million dollars is sold out, you will doubtless be unable to even purchase Allendale Oil Company stock at par, $1.00. So if you want in, buy of the few remaining shares of that issue left.
