COLONY JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL TO OPEN SOON

Building For Three-School Merger To Be Ready November 15.

Colony Community Junior High School, a new educational institution in Eastland County located in the Colony district, merging three schools was expected to open Monday, Nov. 8. The opening date has been delayed a week, however, owing to failure of workmen to get the building completed and the furniture in. The opening will in all probability take place the following Monday, Nov. 15, it is announced. Elaborate plans are being made for the event, at which it is said some of the county's best musical talent will participate.

This school, known as Colony Community school, is to be housed in the new five-room school building, now nearing completion. The building is a substantial frame structure with four class rooms and a large auditorium, affording ample accommodations both for school and community center purposes. A four-acre play ground plat which, it is said, will be amply equipped, is laid out for use of the school. A principal and four teachers have been engaged as the school first faculty and the course will include all grades up to and including the first years of high school work it is announced, making it an accredited junior high school. A school truck will be operated to haul the students from the outlying portions of the district.

Starr Comes Home From Mexico City Liking Ranger Best

M. F. Starr of the S. & S. Store who has just returned from a visit to Mexico City, where he has a nephew who is attending college, is not at all infatuated with our sister republic or its capital. He reports it as being "wide open," but not at all prosperous, and says the people are filled with suspicion one against another which makes for anything but peace of mind or progress.

Mr. Starr attended some bull fights in Mexico City. He says tickets have to be procured days ahead in order to get a seat at the arena. He was astonished to see officers lined up at the entrance searching every one who went to the fights and taking all their firearms away. Practically everyone there carries some kind of a revolver, according to Mr. Starr and each one is compelled to check in before going into the grounds, such is the fear of private brawls or public uprising.

Gambling of every conceivable form is carried on in various parts of the city, he says. Liquor is sold on every corner. Suspicion of the government and of one another seems to be the prevailing feeling and business is stagnated as a result of all this, not to mention the impossible prices charged for commodities.

A hat which sells in Ranger for four dollars, will bring around eighteen pesos (Mexican dollars worth about fifty cents each in American money) in the Ranger merchant reports. The rule is to double the price in the United States and add the duty besides, he found.

This hen, No. 528 of the contest, laid a total of 315 eggs during the last twelve months, more eggs than were laid by any hen in an official contest in this district. Only one hen in the United States has gone beyond this record, and that one was entered in the Western Washington Egg Laying contest.

The Ninth Texas National Egg Laying contest was begun on Nov. 1. There have already been received 110 entries, coming from twelve States.

EAST TEXAS IS GETTING HEAVY FALL OF RAIN

More Than Six-Inch Downpour at Marshall Last Night. Tracks Wash Out.

RANGER LIONS PLAN TO LIGHT CHRISTMAS TREE

Will Co-Operate with Other Organization to Avoid Duplication of Charities.

Co-operation rather than duplication of charitable efforts, with some thought for the all-year needs as well as Christmas cheer for all, was the keynote and dominant sentiment of the Lions' club, at its meeting Thursday, when the first steps for their annual community Christmas tree came up for consideration. A committee, consisting of Lions Larson, Craig, Logsdon, Walker, White and Brasher, was named to work out the details for this year's tree, but much of their work was done for them when Lion Hall, pastor of the Methodist church, seconded by Lion Patterson of the Chamber of Commerce, Lion Craig and others, including John Thurman, president of the Rotary club, who was a guest for the day, called attention to the economic waste and sporadic character of the usual Christmas tree and basket dispensation of gifts.

The net outcome of the discussion was to invite close co-operation to avoid this duplication, also to make the Christmas season the occasion for cementing the all-year charities sentiment and placing some responsible organizations in charge of these less ephemeral dispensations of gifts to the needy. It was revealed that the Child Welfare association has long since expanded its labors to encompass all local cases, irrespective of age, and that the Salvation Army takes oversight of transients. The Elks' lodge also came in for favorable comment, as did the city's churches.

The community tree is a fixture with the Lions, it was stated, this being its third year to take that matter in hand. Definite action is to follow at an early meeting. The club has agreed to dispense with its regular meeting Thanksgiving day.

THE WEATHER.

SYRIAN REBELS AIMING ATTACK UPON DAMASCUS

Destroy Rail Line and Fighting French To Southwest Of The City.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—The Jerusalem correspondent of the Jewish Telegraph agency reported today that Syrian rebels are fighting the French in the slopes of Mount Hermann, southwest of Damascus. A rail line has been destroyed and the Syrians are apparently aiming at attacking Damascus evidently in retaliation for the recent bombardment. The French are hastening reinforcements and strengthening the defenses.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—French artillery has checked the advance of Syrian insurgents who were aiming a blow in the direction of Damascus. All traffic in Damascus was reported suspended with shops closed and inhabitants as the cloud of new trouble hovered about the city. Railway service to Raifa from Damascus was interrupted.

PARIS, Nov. 5.—Losses caused by the French bombardment at Damascus are estimated at $2,500,000.

Farmers Battle Pie Melon Pest

Farmers in the northern portion of Eastland County, report a pie melon pest which they are battling. These pie melons, or citron melons, said by many to be the equal of the real citron from the citron tree, and constituting a part of the commercial citron sold throughout the country, have no real market value in this Western country. And it is here, particularly in some of the sandy land sections, where they grow profusely and propagate from year to year from the waste seed of each prior season as if it was a wild plant.

These citron melons closely resemble watermelons and often fool people. Many a good knife blade has been broken thrusting it into the hard rind of these deceptive melons with texture more like a nut shell than a melon rind, though barely soft enough to eat.

Numerous farms in the northwestern portion of the county have been over run with them. The sap the substance of the soil somewhat and are annoying to plowmen when they attempt to do fall plowing. They have to be piled out of the way and in some instances, heaps of them are seen as high as Winter potato hills.

PACK OF WOLF HOUNDS RUN DOWN TIMBER WOLF

John Thurman, president of the Ranger Rotary club, and Allen Cox, well driller, with the aid of their own and H. G. Adams' hounds, captured and killed a huge timber wolf in the canyon on Morris Woods' ranch, on the old Strawn road, Tuesday night, and brought its left forefoot as a trophy. The beast was overcome after three hours' hard fought battle, it is stated.

ACCUSED TRIO IN INDIANA MUST MAKE THEIR DEFENSE

EFFORTS TO "SWIPE" A STEAM ROLLER CHARGED

DALLAS, Nov. 5.—The world's most ambitious man is believed found here today. He attempted unsuccessfully to "swipe" a steam roller. While his identity was only revealed in whispered conferences between a municipal judge and court attaches it was indicated it would come to light later. DALLAS, Nov. 5.—Farmers are to take advantage of another opportunity to make their cotton crop more profitable. Standardization of the seed, according to A. P. Jolly, Dallas County farm agent, makes a better staple and also a better yield. Extensive experiments have been made, not only by Texas experiment stations, but by Dallas County farmers, and records show that a uniform staple crop makes the crop much more profitable to the farmer. Greater care in the selection of seed is urged.

Ranger Building and Loan Association Is Proposed To Lions

Concrete action for a building and loan association for Ranger was taken by the Lions' club Thursday, when Lion Lillard, vice president of the Ranger State bank, suggested the need of such an organization, citing the case of the Deatur association which lent $30,000 during the first three months it functioned, and making the prediction that this character of association would mean the erection of 50 homes in Ranger in a few months.

The club was unanimous in its approval and Lion Murray, president of the club, at the suggestion of Lion Tunnell, in charge of the program for the day, named a committee consisting of Lions Lillard, Walker, White and Ringold to work out a plan of operations and report back to the club.

BREAK OCCURS IN RANKS OF THE BAPTISTS

Actual and Alleged Doctrine and Domination, detaches Missionary Union.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—The fundamentalist-modernist controversy today brought the first definite break in the ranks of the Baptist Church, second largest numerically in the country.

Charging a conspiracy between the Cackler-Podick combine to dominate its missionary program, the Baptist Bible Union today announced secession from the church organization. The union will carry on its missionary work independent of the church, it is said.

"This action grows out of the action of the Northern Baptists convention at Seattle in rejecting a resolution intended to recall modernist missionaries from foreign fields," an official statement said.

ROSE CULTURE GAINING HEADWAY IN EAST TEXAS

TYLER, Nov. 5.—Still another agricultural industry is coming to the front in the rich, sandy loam of East Texas.

It is not generally known, but Smith County has one of the most suitable types of land in the United States for rose culture, and large quantities of rose bushes are shipped each year to the North and East.

One Tyler firm alone will ship nine carloads of rose bushes this season, aggregating more than a quarter million plants.

The plants are kept in cellars through the winter months, being shipped during the fall season, and are then sold for transplanting during the spring months.

GAS WELL THAT SUPPLIED CITY MAY COME BACK

Fishing Job Now Drilling Job; Looks Like Iron Ore Where Drilled.

If R. E. Barker, farmer, proprietor of an absorption plant, overclouded the sky with a cloud of iron ore of the gas well five and a half miles west of Ranger, which, for a long time supplied Ranger with gas, was of a mind to turn promoter of the unscrupulous sort, he might easily lure someone to buy his place for the valuable iron mine on it. And as exhibit one, he could show where he is drilling into some very fine specimens of iron and taking out a pile of it, in small particles, of such age and state of corrosion as to closely simulate real iron ore. These samples are actually particles of iron casing which are being drilled out of the well which for years supplied all the gas Ranger consumed which, it is believed, will soon be functioning again at full capacity, once this pipe is drilled out.

A little negligence, a lack of knowledge of the filling qualities of what little salt accumulates inside small gas casing and other factors, contributed to stopping the flow to some extent and in an effort to pull the pipe it got caught as did some of the tools with which the workmen were operating and the well had to be abandoned pending completion of the fishing job. But the fishing job proved far more difficult than was at first contemplated. In fact, after many months of fruitless efforts to pull the casing, the task was abandoned.

CANCELLATION OF CONTRACTS BEING SOUGHT

Attorney General Alleges Price Is Excessive. Asks Also For Injunction and Receiver.

AUSTIN, Nov. 5.—The long expected suit by Attorney General Dan Moody against the American Road company was filed today in the Fifty-third district court of Travis county. It was brought in the name of the State of Texas and is for cancellation of road contracts, for injunction and to compel the refunding to the state of $650,000, alleged illegally collected.

Allegations of a sensational nature were made in the petition with reference to the formation of the American Road company and the contracts it obtained in Texas. The company was organized under the laws of Delaware, but maintained its principal office in Dallas.

The attorney general asked the court to set down the injunction features of the petition for hearing at an early date and also for appointment of a receiver to take charge of the defendant's property sought to be impounded. These preliminary hearings may be held next week. Moody authorized the statement that the filing of this suit will not halt the probe under way by the Travis county grand jury.

The suit was filed at 11:30 o'clock this morning, following a conference between the attorney general, a representative of the American Road company and Frank V. Lanham, chairman of the state highway commission.

Forfeiture of Permit. Forfeiture and annulment of the permit of the American Road company to do business in Texas is also asked, and that the assets and properties of the corporation within the state be distributed "among those rightfully entitled thereto after discharge of any judgment recovered."

Allegations are made in the petition that road contracts "were made in fraud of the state of Texas and the people thereof, and were beyond the powers of the state highway commission of the state of Texas, and were not and cannot be binding upon the state of Texas and ought to be cancelled."

SUSPECTED LOVER HELD IN MURDER INVESTIGATION

HILLSIDE, N. J., Nov. 5.—Joseph H. Cowan, whom police say stole the love of Mrs. William J. Clark, whose husband was beaten to death with a hammer, today denied he ever proposed elopement to Mrs. Clark. He is held for questioning. The money he confesses to have given Mrs. Clark was not to be used for elopement, Cowan stated. This contradicts a statement attributed by the police to the young widow. Cowan has claimed an alibi, which has been partially confirmed.

MAYOR HODGES BUYS BOAR BELONGING TO ARISTOCRACY

Mayor R. H. Hodges of Ranger, who is setting a pace for raising blooded stock in Eastland County, and who recently added several registered Jerseys to the herd on his farm at the edge of Ranger city limits, has just purchased from Cox & Sons of Rising Star, a registered Poland China boar. The mayor already has a number of good sows of that breed from another herd and will raise registered hogs, it is stated.

BIBLE THOUGHT.

Way to Life: He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?—Micah 6:8.

Prayer: O Lord, we know our duty, but we oftentimes hate it, and again find it too hard for us. Do Thou then make Thy strength perfect in our weakness.

THE SCHOOL SAVINGS PLAN.

School savings in the United States for the year 1924-25 increased in aggregate bank balances by $5,500,000, with a growth of 630,000 in number pupils participating, it is shown in reports made to the American Bankers' association. During the year closing June 30, 1925, the number of reporting school savings systems has increased from 683, which embraced 743 districts to 760 which embraces 1,557 districts; the number of schools from 9,080 to 10,163; the number of pupils enrolled in schools having savings systems from 3,095,012 to 3,848,632; the participants from 2,236,326 to 2,869,497; the deposits from $14,891,535.40 to $16,961,560.72; and the bank balances from $20,435,144.64 to $25,913,531.15. In some schools regular banking departments have been opened, conducted exclusively by students elected to the various positions.

MEXICO'S OIL INDUSTRY.

Since the first well was drilled in Mexico a quarter of a century ago, Mexico has produced more than 1,250,000,000 barrels of petroleum. The minister of commerce says this has been sold for more than $1,000,000,000 and has netted the government about $65,000,000 yearly. In addition other businesses have come into existence directly due to the oil production, that adds another $25,000,000 to the government income.

BREAD "TRUST" FEARED.

Many thousands of small bakeries see their very existence threatened by the power of the mighty $400,000,000 bread trust. If it follows Standard Oil methods it will depress prices in one locality at a time until its small competitors are wiped out.

Former Senator Lafollette secured the adoption last year of a resolution directing a full investigation of the scope and methods of the baking combination. For some reasons the investigation was not made, or its results were not given to the public. Now, however, the federal trade commission has formally charged the Continental Baking corporation, one of the principal concerns involved in the merger, with violation of the Clayton anti-trust law, and the matter may come up in congress.

Handing of the 30,000 bricks made daily by a large brick yard in Indiana is now being done electrically. The freshly formed bricks are picked up by this new electrical machine and properly stocked for drying and burning. This machine does much more accurately than it was ever possible to do when the "green" bricks were stacked by hand.

FRIDAY. Twentieth Century club meets with Mrs. Saunders Gregg at 2:30 p. m. Firemen's hall at the Gholson at 9 p. m.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB ORGANIZED.

What promises not only to be one of the greatest clubs of the year but one that will leave its mark in future years was organized Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Miss Showalter's sewing room at the High school. Sixty-five girls were present from the clothing and food departments, each taking an active part. The following officers were elected: President, Margaret Walton; vice president, Myrtle Walker; secretary, Marjorie Maddocks; treasurer, Evelyn Russell; reporter, Lula Yang; sergeant-at-arms, Mildred Bryant; program committee; Margaret Lee McDonald, Helen Hinton and Virginia Norton. The purpose of this club is to stimulate a greater interest in one of the most interesting and most useful subjects taught in the High school, sewing, designing, cooking, home nursing and physiology, with Misses Stafford and Showalter as sponsors. Under their able leadership great results are expected. The club is to meet every two weeks, the date to be announced later. A new program committee will be appointed each month. "Right from the start we are all doing our part," is the slogan. The club extends an invitation to other girls who did not join at the first meeting to become members.

SOROSIS CLUB STUDIES WORLD INTEREST THEMES.

The second meeting of the Sorosis club, held Wednesday afternoon at the Gholson hotel, was devoted to subjects of international interest which were presented to the club members in such a manner as to be more easily understood. As an introduction to the program, the leader, Mrs. W. C. Hickey, read extracts from the book, "Ten Years After," by Sir Philip Gibbs. The League of Nations was discussed by Mrs. J. M. White, followed by an article on the world court by Mrs. F. E. Langston. Mrs. A. L. Leake presented important points in the world council of churches. Travel letters of interest were read by Mrs. W. H. Conze. An enjoyable addition to the program was a reading by Mrs. W. W. Housewright, guest for the afternoon. Attendance was larger than at any previous meeting, there being a number of new members present. The program was followed by a short business session. The next session of the club will be devoted to the study of American shrines with Mrs. J. R. Tolland chairman.

DINNER AND BRIDGE.

In entertaining their club, which is known as the Pastime Club, on Tuesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Crawford reversed the order of things and called the club to meet at 7:30 instead of the usual hour and served dinner at that hour instead of luncheon after the game. This innovation proved very popular. Bridge tables were laid in pretty linen and silver and an exquisite rosebud in a bud vase centered each table. Attractive place cards marked places for the guests and saved for tally cards later on. After dinner, which was indeed a sumptuous feast, bridge appointments and a long evening of bridge followed. Mrs. J. T. Gullahorn made ladies' high score and was awarded a lovely boudoir pillow and Mrs. E. L. McMillan carried off low score honors for the ladies, and received a jar of homemade jelly. Dr. Harry Logsdon carried home the men's high score prize, a humidifier while Gus Coleman received a jar of homemade preserves as the low score prize for men. Members present were: Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Gullahorn, Gus Coleman, C. C. Craig, Roy Jameson, E. L. McMillan, C. C. Craig, Harry Logsdon.

There are many ways to treat a cold but only one DIRECT way— with vapors that can be inhaled. Vapors penetrate immediately into every corner of the air passages and lungs, soothing and healing with every breath. Vicks is so remarkably successful in treating cold troubles because it acts like "a vapor lamp in salve form." When rubbed over throat and chest the body heat releases vapors of Menthol, Camphor, Eucalyptus, Thyme and Turpentine. At the same time Vicks is absorbed through and stimulates the skin like a poltice or plaster. This double, direct action often checks the worst cold over-night.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL. Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Company, Atlanta, Ga. (adv.)

PRairie CLUB REORGANIZED. The Prairie Club met yesterday afternoon and effected a complete reorganization, taking in about ten new members at the meeting. It was decided to hold their first dance of the season Saturday night, at 8 o'clock in their club rooms. This club is a dancing club composed of some twenty-five couples. All the members are married and all close personal friends. It was organized several years ago and has been having dances on the first Saturday night of each month during all these years. It has been a most popular club and one into which entire is not easy—in fact is savor of the elusive, and is a most high class club in every way. At these dances light refreshments are served and different members of the club act as hostesses at optional. The Saturday night Gus Coleman's orchestra will furnish the music and all those who are eligible are looking forward to the dance with a great deal of pleasure.

FIREMEN'S BALL TOMORROW NIGHT. It is rumored that two orchestras will furnish the music at the Firemen's Ball Friday night, at the Gholson Hotel, however they both won't play at one time, but will rest one another. Gus Coleman's Rhythmic Five will divide honors with the orchestra that has been providing music for the Newman Tent Show, the past two weeks. From all indications this promises to be a most eventful event. A large number of tickets have been sold, not on the theory that "A big fire will get you if you don't watch out" but on the basis of friendship for the chief and his department, and as a token of appreciation for their good work in the past and their sure response in the future.

A LITTLE SON. Mr. and Mrs. John Peevehouse of the Prairie Camp are welcoming a little son, who arrived on the morning of November the second, at the City-County Hospital. The little son will hear the charming name of "Billy Jo." Mother and baby are both doing nicely.

MAY SEYMOUR FOOT LOOSE

by BEATRICE BURTON ©NEA

May Seymour, whose husband killed himself because of her love affair with another man, returns to her home town after a year's absence. She sells her property, and with her tiny fortune in cash, sets out to find and marry a man with money.

At Atlantic City she meets Herbert Waterbury and Dan Sprague, through a divorcee, Mrs. Carlotta Frolking. Both men pay suit to May, greatly to the distress of Carlotta, who has long been in love with Dan. She and May become great friends, however, and Carlotta invites May to spend the winter with her in California.

May finds Dan most attractive, but she sets her cap for Waterbury, having made up her mind that he is the rich husband she is looking for. Finally he proposes and May accepts him. She gives him all her money to invest for her. And he promptly disappears!

Penniless, May sells her rings and her fur coat to buy a railroad ticket for Los Altos, Calif., where Carlotta lives. On the way there she stops off in her home town, to visit her friends, Dick and Gloria Gregory. While there she meets Ulysses Forgan, a wealthy widower, who falls in love with her. When he proposes, May, who had made up her mind to accept him, refuses him. But at the same time she admits that she likes him as a friend better than any man on earth.

On the train going toward Los Altos she meets Dan Sprague. He tells her how much he thinks of her, but May is sure he is only a fortune hunter like Waterbury. She doesn't tell him about the loss of her money, and she is amused by his flirtation with Goldie Gay, a movie actress. Across the aisle from May sits a man who watches her every move. Goldie says this man is Lemuel Fishback, a millionaire movie producer.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY:

The train came puffing into the station at San Jose and May stepped out on the platform. Behind her tripped Goldie Gay swinging her short purple skirts; and after her followed Dan.

May wondered idly what had become of Lemuel Fishback as she stood beside her luggage and looked about her at the hurrying, colorful crowd.

Then suddenly she saw him coming toward her, smiling broadly as he came.

"There's been an accident up the line, and we won't get away for an hour. That is, if you're going north. You are, aren't you?" he asked in an ordinary tone, as if he had known May for years. His friendliness was disarming.

May nodded, and smiled wearily. "To Los Altos," she said.

She was dreadfully tired after her journey. Her eyes felt as if there were sand under the lids. She longed for the quiet of Carlotta's bungalow, a bath and a nap.

"Wonder what's become of Dan?" she thought and looked around for him. He was nowhere in sight and neither was Goldie Gay.

"We may as well go and sit down somewhere?" Fishback said hesitatingly. May glanced at him and saw that he was looking at her with half-shut eyes—an artist's look as he studied his model.

"Say, you'd film something great!" he exploded suddenly.

May gave a startled laugh. "You ought to know, Mr. Lemuel Fishback!" she answered, arching her eyebrows at him, "maker of movie queens!"

A puzzled frown darkened his broad, colorless face with its overhanging eyebrows and bulbous nose.

"How did you know what I am?" he asked suspiciously, and again May gave her little trickling laugh.

"Oh, I'm not a lady detective nor

And in the arms of this man who had just asked her to marry him, was Goldie Gay of the films, her lips pressed tight to his.

a prohibition agent," she said, and then she told him how Goldie Gay had pointed him out to her as the famous man he was!

Fishback laughed fatly, so that his blue jowls shook and his cheeks quivered. May could see that he was enormously pleased.

"Is it so well-known I am, then, that people recognize me on the train?" he chuckled. "Like one of my own movie stars, I guess, yes? Well, well. Here, boy!" He signaled a red-cap with a wave of his sausage-like fingers.

When he had checked his bags and May's, he took her by the arm and steered her down the sunny street to a chili parlor a block or two from the station. May noticed that he limped when he walked.

Over the oilcloth-covered table he smiled at her with his bulging black eyes, and tapped the thick white bowl of steaming chili with his spoon.

"Think," he began, his mouth full of food, "at home I have a butler and fingerbowl when I eat! Flowers on the table, candles; everything just so. But this is the kind of meal I enjoy—takes me back to my boyhood."

May remembered vaguely that the great Fishback had started his career as a bootblack or newsboy on New York's lower East Side.

"There's a little all-night restaurant down on Hester street that to me was the grandest place on earth, in those days," Fishback went on, and there was a certain wistfulness on his broad face. "You know the kind—pork chops piled in the windows, high stools to sit on? Well, I never go back to New York without having a meal there. Funny, isn't it?"

understand? We'll take some 'stills' of you."

Would she take the part? Would any woman in America have refused it?

May jumped at her chance. "Take it!" she asked. "Will I? You know I will! When will you need me?"

Instead of answering, Fishback began to tell her in his slow, sleepy way, that this was how he picked all his actors.

"I walk along the street, and see a man with the face of a criminal," he explained. "Maybe he's a real estate agent earning $60 a week, and the straightest man alive. But he looks like a crook. So I hire him, and six months later everybody in America knows his face as a crook's face! I see you today with your look of a duchess; I take your name."

"But you haven't taken it!" May interrupted.

"Patience! We are coming to that," Fishback reproved her, and went on. "I take your name, and in two, three months, millions of people will know it. I do this! Lemuel Fishback from Hester street! Heine, it's a good joke?"

He burst into a great laugh and pinched May's arm appreciably, looking into her face that was on a level with his own.

May laughed and again he pressed her arm with his thick fingers.

"The richest woman in America comes to me last year, wanting a job in the movies," he went on. "But you have a crooked nose," I tell her. And it is true. So I put her in a dance hall scene. The richest woman in America, and she is part of the background for Lemuel Fishback!"

May looked at him disdainfully. How dreadful he was!

Lemuel caught her glance. "That's the way you should look!" he said, raising both his hands. "That's the way! Mean, y' know! Proud and mean! Oh, you'll be a knockout as my duchess!"

He fumbled in his vest pocket and pulled out a stump of a pencil and a soiled envelope. "Now tell me the name," he ordered, and May gave him her name, and Carlotta's address.

"Tomorrow I see you then," Fishback said, tucking the paper into his billfold.

They had reached the station platform. The train was ready, and May caught a gleam of purple on its rear car. She supposed that Goldie Gay must be there. With Dan, no doubt!

The thought brought her back to reality. All this last hour she had felt as if she were part of a queer dream.

"Let's get our bags!" she cried, "and for Pete's sake, hurry. Wouldn't it be ghastly if we missed the train. I'm so tired I could drop!"

She turned to go back but Fishback caught her by the arm.

"Listen," he said. "We don't have to go on this train at all. I can hire a car. Almost always I travel in my own car—a Rolls it is, with leopard-skin rugs and a folding car table—the best money can buy, y' understand? But I get sick of it. I like to get off by myself sometimes, like common folks!"

But May shook her head. "No, thanks," she answered. "The friend I'm going to stay with in Los Altos expects me by train. She'd wonder what to think if I turned up in an automobile with the most famous man in the world!"

And with this bit of flattery, May left him sitting on the platform, looking for all the world like a great

Buddha with his fat cheeks and little blinking eyes.

The train was fast filling with a noisy crowd—boys and girls with lunch baskets, women with children dragging at their skirts.

May walked through two coaches before she found a seat. She pitched her bags into the rack and sank down, thankfully, into the dusty seat.

The train gave a jerk, and started. As it rolled slowly out of the station, May saw a large black limousine swing up to the platform, and Lemuel Fishback climb into it.

"Nice old boy, even if he is a bit vulgar," she thought. "But who would ever have thought that I'd meet him, and that he'd give me a job in his blooming pictures? I must go and break the news to Dan and Goldie Gay. It'll be quite a shock to Goldie." She laughed.

But May, herself, was due for a shock. Through the open door of the rear car she caught a glimpse of Dan, as he entered it from the other end. And in the arms of this man who had just asked her to marry him, was Goldie Gay of the films, her lips pressed tight to his, her arms wound around him.

"Well, there's one thing the screen has taught her," May thought with startled amusement. "She certainly knows how to kiss!"

You Hate To Look At a Pimply Face

There is perhaps nothing more distressing to people who are bothered with them, and surely nothing as displeasing to others who see them, as pimples, blotches, bumps, rash, scrofula, eczema, "breaking out" and similar skin disfigurements.

But now that Black and White Ointment, and Soap, are proving to be so dependable in quickly getting rid of these diseases of the skin, it seems foolish for people to neglect using them and making themselves attractive to others instead of being slighted all the time.

All dealers have Black and White Ointment, and Soap, in the convenient, low-priced, liberal packages. The 50c size Ointment contains three times as much as the liberal 25c size—Adv.

Breckenridge and Abilene to Play Next Saturday, Ranger to Meet Cisco On Cisco Grounds Next Wednesday

Talk of calling off scheduled games, which had no foundation in the first place, is definitely ended. The two games scheduled for the Nov. 7 and 11 will be played. With no great hope, does Breckenridge go to Abilene next Saturday to play her last conference game with the swift Eagles and Ranger to Cisco next Wednesday to play her list conference game with the big dam Loboes. But both games are going to be played and admitting the faint ray of hope for either of these teams, at least it shines for what little light it gives.

Abilene has a team that hasn't lost a game. Breckenridge has a team that hasn't won a game. But Breckenridge has not one single true this season, played all her best men. Her four outstanding players, Harrison, Zarafonitis, Cox and Kinchen have never all been in at the same time. It is said they will all play at Abilene. And Zarafonitis will easily offset Walters, it is believed, and the game might just possibly end in a surprise. It would indeed be surprising should the Buckaroos win. But this is a year of surprises. It wouldn't mean much to Breckenridge to win. It would probably mean a chance at the chamampionship for Abilene to win. And that's that so far as morale is concerned.

As to Ranger's little glimmer of hope, Ranger will face a team playing for championship and will play with the full knowledge that it will not mean much to them to win—so far as any chances at district honors are concerned. But there is such a thing as playing for honor as well as for honors. And Ranger's players know—as do those who saw them in that glorious performance at Abilene—they did not play up to the Ranger class. No use to speculate on causes. The bald fact remains. And it will place them way up in the estimation of the people of Ranger if they show the Loboes they have the old fight in them Armistice Day.

They are fast. They are versatile. They have no one or two men, but a whole eleven men to watch in every play. They have a weak line at this time against a line of giants, to be sure. But they have a back field that can, if it will, do some really marvelous things with a football. They will, at least, give the Loboes a taste of what it means to play a fast team before the Loboes go against Abilene's little wonder of a playing machine. And they might—the glimmer is not so awfully weak—but knowing it is up to them to do something or fade out for the season, they might just get back into the game and spring something that would make that Armistice Day crowd say, "What do you think of that?"

The average home in the United States has six and a half rooms and investigation has found that in this "average" house between 21 and 22 electric lamp bulbs are used—21.80 lamps are used in ceiling fixtures; 4.28 go into side wall fixtures; and 3.95 lamp bulbs are used in the various portable lamps about this "average" house.

Traffic Signal Light Experiment Is To Be Tried Out In Ranger

Ranger will install traffic signal lights immediately and try them out for a period of sixty days. This was decided on at the meeting of the Ranger City Commission Tuesday. Two signs mounted on twelve-foot pedestals will be immediately installed at the intersection of Main and Rusk and Main and Austin streets, it is stated. Each sign will be equipped with three lights, a red light as a stop signal, a green light as a go signal and a yellow light as a warning signal, to be flashed while the bell rings. The lights are to be paid for by the company installing them, it is announced, they to get their compensation through advertising to be censored by the mayor of Ranger. The first experiment will be for thirty days, it is stated, after which, if found satisfactory, the commissioner has an option to retain the services for three years. The city is to pay for upkeep and electricity, it is provided. Should the service be continued after the expiration of thirty days, it is contemplated that at least two other signs will be installed, it is said.

It is estimated that during the past 12 months over 53,000 Jews have moved to Palestine, and the Jewish population is now 145,000. It is also estimated that the Arab population is nearly 900,000.

Harold Lloyd Appears In "The Freshman" At Lamb Theatre, Ranger

In producing "The Freshman," his newest comedy feature, which is being shown at the Lamb theatre, Ranger, this afternoon and tonight, and will be shown again tomorrow and tomorrow night, Harold Lloyd has endeavored to give the public something different in a college story. Instead of the usual smart-alec type that most writers place in college stories, the freshman of this story is a youth so eager to please and thereby become popular that he is the favorite object on which every jokester on the campus practices his tricks. "The Freshman," as written by four famous gag men—Sam Taylor, John Grey, Ted Wolde and Tim Wheeler—has four distinct laugh factions. The first is the arrival of Lloyd at college, which is followed by football practice. Then follows the fall dance, which Harold gives in his anxiety to become the most popular man in college and to which he is forced to go wearing a Tuxedo that has only been basted together, and finally the big climax of the football game. Those who have seen "The Freshman" do not hesitate to claim that this contest is the funniest of its kind ever put on the screen. It was the object to make this game such that, whether you understand football or not, it would nevertheless be funny. Jobyna Ralston and Hazel Keener.

Takes the Place of Drastic Calomel

"Pepsinated" Calomel Acts Better—Does Not Cramp or Sicken Yet Is More Effective Than Ordinary Calomel

Never take another dose of the old style "raw" calomel. It is too drastic on your system! There is a newer and more improved kind that is mild and pleasant. It does not tear through your system like a streak of lightning. It is combined with pepsin which makes it act slowly, thoroughly and more effectively. This new pepsin and calomel combination is known as "pepsinated" calomel. It has all the beneficial system cleansing and germ-inactivating effects of ordinary or "raw" calomel—but the drastic and unpleasant effects have been entirely neutralized by the digestion aiding pepsin. Nasty "follow up salts" are not even necessary. People who are ill or suffering with biliousness, constipation, indigestion, and especially headaches, headache and torpid liver can secure immediate and complete relief with Pepsinated calomel. One tablet at bed time lets you rest well all night long and get while you sleep it slowly and effectively drives out the poisons that are responsible for your illness and suffering. Hereafter when you buy calomel, always demand the "pepsinated" kind. It is better for you, for it is purer, milder and more beneficial to your entire system. For sale by Phillips Drug Store and all other good drug stores in 25c and 50c packages.—Adv.

New Strength for Tired Women
Do you feel tired out, run-down and exhausted long before the day's work is finished? Why is it that women will permit repeated attacks of dizziness, headache, backache, nervous exhaustion, indigestion and constipation, when perhaps all they need is a good general tonic? No woman can feel her best troubled with these ailments. To let them run on uncorrected is the greatest mistake in the world. Thousands of ailing men and women have been made strong, well and happy with Lyko. The secret of this remedy's wonderful success is the combination of medicinal ingredients it contains. One aids digestion; another is a laxative that keeps the bowels open; another acts on the kidneys, and a fourth aids the liver. With these vital organs working in proper harmony, the health-destroying poisons are driven or carried out of the system. No matter what you have tried before, go to your druggist today and ask for a bottle of Lyko, the great general tonic. Find out for yourself how simple and easy it is to keep well with the aid of this marvelous remedy. This Coupon Brings Trial Bottle

Things to Know Before Baby Comes

THE expectant mother's comfort and well being is very important. And one of the most important things for her to do is to use a non-irritating, safe penetrating lubricant to keep the skin, muscles and ligaments soft and pliable—thus aiding the tissues and muscles to relax and adjust themselves to the changes during motherhood. Mother's Friend is just such a preparation. It is the formula of an eminent physician and has been used by expectant mothers for over three generations. No woman awaiting the joy of motherhood should allow the days to pass without using Mother's Friend. Mrs. Laura Hendrix, Gracemont, Okla., writes: "I used Mother's Friend with all my babies and I think it is the greatest help that has ever been discovered for expectant mothers. I can't say too much for it." Mother's Friend has saved thousands of expectant mothers from much useless suffering. It relieves those drawing, stretching pains so common during expectancy. Mother! Insist on Mother's Friend—the same as used by our mothers and grandmothers. Don't wait—start using tonight—and meanwhile write Bradford Regulator Co., Dept. 21, Atlanta, Ga., for free valuable booklet "Motherhood and the Coming Baby" (sent in plain envelope). It tells how Mother's Friend can help you during expectancy and at childbirth. This booklet also tells you many other things you want to know. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all druggists—everywhere.

The Va-per Marcel Machine has been installed in our Beauty Parlor and by actual test gives a beautiful permanent Marcel.

This is the second one of these machines to be brought to Texas and they differ from most permanent machines in that they give a deep, permanent Marcel wave without the use of electricity.

This new Va-per Marcel Machine eliminates the danger of cooking or burning the hair because no electricity is used. The life of the wave is the same of any good permanent.

In most all the cities where the permanent Marcel is given the price is twenty-five dollars, but we are going to give the same permanent Marcel at the introductory price of
