FOOTBALL PLAYER IS TACKLED UNFAIRLY

GOOD CITIZENS ARRAGNED BY GRAND JURY

Betting on School Games and Aiding Bootleggers and Thieves Charged.

Gambling on football games not only is a violation of the law, but its continuance is inimical to high school games and eventually will result in the discontinuance of all athletic sports in the schools, according to the grand jury of the 88th district court in its final report for the September term.

Dry law violations and burglary and theft are also touched on in the report with an intimation that the "so-called good citizens" are in a measure responsible for the successful evasion of the law by these criminals.

The Eastland county courthouse according to this grand jury report, is in a sad state of falling to pieces and something must be done within a short time to make the building safe for those who must use it.

The report in full: TO THE HON. ELZO BEEN, JUDGE OF THE 88TH DISTRICT COURT, OF EASTLAND COUNTY, TEXAS:

Your grand jury for the September term A. D. 1925, beg to report as follows:

We have been in session for twelve days and have endeavored to inquire into all matters of law violations brought to our attention. We have returned forty-six felony indictments and eleven misdemeanors. We have visited the jail and find it in excellent condition and we also find that the prisoners are well cared for.

We find that there are conditions existing in Eastland county that require the efforts of good citizens in co-operating with the peace officers to better these conditions. One of these is that of gambling on football games. We find that this law has been flagrantly violated and we request all good citizens who know of these violations of the law to report them to the proper authorities and insist that the law be enforced. We consider that a man who bets on the outcome of a football game as the worst enemy of high school football that we have and it seems that if this is carried on that it will finally cause the discontinuance of all athletic sports in our schools.

We also find that there are many violations of our prohibition law taking place and we have returned several indictments in this connection. We, however, wish to impress on the citizens of this county that it is necessary for those who believe in law enforcement to give more proof of these violations to the officers and less abuse of them as the former will enable our grand juries and these officers to stop these violations while the other only tends to discourage those who are attempting to do their duty.

We regret that there is some feeling in Eastland County by so-called good citizens who insist that it is not the duty of men who know of these violations to report them to the proper officials, but leave the whole thing entirely to the officer without giving him any assistance whatever.

"Wide Open" Propaganda. We also find that it is a tendency on the part of some organizations in the cities of Eastland County, for the purpose of obtaining conventions and other gatherings in their cities to hold out that the town will be "wide open" at these meetings. We believe this to be a bad practice and not in keeping with good government, and it has a tendency to cause an element not connected with the meeting to flock to those towns for unlawful purposes, and we recommend that in the future that all the police officers in the county cooperate with the view of seeing that conventions, where large number of people attend in this county, are not disturbed by law violators and that all such violators be immediately apprehended and prosecuted.

We in our investigation have further found that there are more or less organized gangs of people engaged in burglary and theft in Eastland County, and that people are buying property taken by these people without the proper investigation where the property came from. We believe it is the duty of all citizens to investigate the source of personal property they are buying and in case there is anything to arouse suspicion to report it to the proper officers.

Courthouse in Bad Shape. We have been informed by a reliable firm of architects that our present courthouse is in very bad shape, that the outside walls are badly cracked on all four sides, that the arches are falling out and that the west side of the building is in a very bad condition and is not plumb, that there are cracks in the masonry in practically every room of the courthouse, and that the floor where the county-court-at-law is held is in very bad condition, that the roof is full of holes and the steel frame work is badly rusted in places, that it will be necessary at an early date that something be done in order to protect the lives of the people using the

Farmers Plan To Be Heard Relative To Tax Reduction Bill

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Out of the west came word today that the farmers are gathering for a descent upon congress to make their voices heard in connection with the $300,000,000 tax reduction bill.

Word was received today by banks here that agricultural interests were raising money to demand relief for agriculture, telling of a movement which has not yet been fully revealed. It is related that the farmers are impressed with reports that have reached them that taxes on jewelry, works of art and inheritances are to be lowered, while automobiles and other commodities in which the farmers are especially interested may not receive a heavy slash.

MRS. FIELDS OF HASKELL RANKS HIGH IN RACE

Has Support of West Texas for Presidency of Federated Womens Clubs.

In the coming convention of the Texas Federation of Womens Clubs, to be held in Austin, Nov. 10 to 14, the candidacy for president of Mrs. J. U. Fields of Haskell holds special interest for this section of the state to which Mrs. Fields belongs.

The clubs throughout the plains district are standing strongly in favor of Mrs. Fields who also has many strong supporters in the larger cities of the state. The clubs of Abilene are 100 per cent for her as are a majority of those in Amarillo and San Angelo. Abilene, which formerly was a part of the first district, is now in the new sixth district and is soliciting the support of Mrs. Fields throughout the territory.

For years the state federation of womens clubs has had the same nominating committee, which has meant a general sameness in leadership. The fact that there are two candidates this year for election will inject something of democracy into the federation election and provide an unusual opportunity for the body at large to vote its preference.

Mrs. Fields is a woman of unusual mentality, a former school teacher who has kept on with her studies since her marriage, and a presiding officer of exceptional ability and fairness. She has made parliamentary rule a study for many years and has held many important offices in the state federation, and was formerly president of the first district.

Although both Mrs. Fields and Mrs. Potter, the other candidate, come from the same district, the latter is from Bowie, in the eastern part, which has been frequently represented in the higher offices of the state, and Mrs. Fields is from the western part of the district, which has had less representation and is now so much stronger in federation affairs than formerly that it seeks recognition in office.

The coming convention promises to be one of the most interesting ever held by the federation and promises to be the most largely attended.

Federal Law Blocks Development In Texas Mayfield Declares

DALLAS, Oct. 31.—The certificate clause in the federal commerce commission act was blamed here today for blocking a $50,000,000 extension program in Texas by United States Senator Earle B. Mayfield. He said that at the next session of congress he would launch a fight to repeal that section of the law. He said the act now blocks the construction of more than 1,000 miles of railroad in the state. He is touring the state explaining the situation.

Child Welfare Club Soliciting Funds For Its Annual Budget

The past week has been a busy one for the various committees of the Child Welfare club, for with the help of a committee from the Rotary club they have been soliciting funds in an effort to raise their annual budget, which they hope to complete in a few days. Reports from these committees are that the response from the public has been most generous and hearty, which shows the appreciation for the public for the work the club is doing.

The Child Welfare club calls for an expenditure of $2,000, which will cover the entire program of work to be done by the club for the coming year, pay part of the salary of the public health nurse, put free milk in the school for under-nourished children, and look after the general welfare of children, helping them in every way possible. Besides the work done for children, the Child Welfare club handles many charity cases and provides Christmas baskets for the poor.

The efficient manner in which this club has administered its affairs and

IMMENSE BOOZE CONSPIRACY IS BEING PROBED

Indictments Said To Involve Politicians and State Officials.

By United Press. INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 31.—Secret indictments were returned by the federal grand jury today against members of an alleged booze ring operating here and in St. Louis. The names of those indicted are withheld until arrests are made, but are thought to include St. Louis politicians and state and government officials of Missouri and several big business men of Cincinnati. Arrests are expected the first of the week.

The investigation, it was said, involves the biggest liquor conspiracy case uncovered within the last three years. George Remus, Cincinnati bootlegger, was a witness before the grand jury during its probe. It was rumored that Remus had turned state's evidence. Seventeen St. Louis politicians already under indictment in federal court there for liquor law violations may have been reindicted here.

Actual Cotton Crop Declared To Be Far Lower Than Estimates

By United Press. AUSTIN, Oct. 31.—State Agricultural Commissioner George B. Terrell said today he could see no reason for the decline in cotton prices, even though the Government be correct in its estimate of the cotton crop. Ginnings had been unusually high this year, he said, and probably more than two-thirds of all the cotton had been ginned. "It is true," he said, "the crop would yield more than 14,000,000 bales, which many believe to be the actual production. The Government estimates the crop at 15,000,000 bales."

Dan Waggoner Well Is Showing For 65 To 75 Barrels a Day

The Corzelius Bros., Taggart & Gordon well on the Dan Waggoner lease three miles northwest of Ranger which was recently cleaned out and shot is now showing from 65 to 75 barrels a day, according to reliable reports. This well is down about 3,300 feet. It was drilled in several days ago. Other activities are expected in that field, now that this production can be gauged, it is stated.

Texas Daily Press League Officers Are Elected At Meeting

DALLAS, Oct. 31.—The Texas Daily Press league meeting in Dallas in quarterly session at the Baker hotel, elected Bernard Hanks of the Abilene Reporter, chairman, and other officers as follows: A. G. Mayes of the Sherman Democrat, first vice chairman; C. W. Wilson of the Mineral Wells Index, second vice chairman; E. W. Batesman of the Marshall News, secretary-treasurer.

Officers of the league's advertising bureau were elected as follows: J. L. Nunn, Amarillo, chairman; J. L. Greer of Denison, C. E. Palmer of Texarkana and Walter Murray of Ranger members of the advisory committee.

Bexar County Grand Jury Says Highway Contracts Excessive

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 31.—Officials of Bexar County today are considering methods to be employed in carrying out the recommendations of the district grand jury that two constables and seven deputy constables be removed from office.

The grand jury at the same time reported that the highway contracts let to the Bexar Construction Co. for $77,120 should have been made for between $48,000 and $56,000, and recommended that it be cancelled.

State highways to be constructed in Bexar county have a total length of about 170 miles.

Recommendations for the removal of nine county officers were based on failure to qualify as such by making bond in four cases; in some "incompetence"; in several "not residing in the precinct in which they were officers," and in one case for being a soldier.

MISS ETHEL MANSFIELD DIES. FUNERAL TO BE SUNDAY

Miss Ethel Mansfield, aged 30 years and four months, died Saturday at 10 o'clock, at the home of her sister, Mrs. C. E. Dove, Ranger, where she has been ill for some time. Funeral services will be conducted at the family residence, 623 North Harrison, at 10 o'clock Sunday morning by Rev. H. B. Johnson, pastor of the Christian church. Burial will follow at Evergreen cemetery.

Baking "Trust" In $400,000,000 Merger Denied By Officials

By United Press. WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—General denial of the reported formation of a $400,000,000 baking "trust" was made by the directing heads of three baking corporations said to have been involved in the merger, the federal trade commission said today.

H. F. Hudson, chief examiner of the commission, investigated the reported bakery merger and advised the commission that while nothing could be done at this time it should be held open for future development.

DYING GIRL'S STATEMENT IS READ IN COURT

Accuses Three Defendants of Hideous Crimes Ending In Her Death.

By United Press. NOBLESVILLE, Ind., Oct. 31.—The accusing finger of Miss Madge Oberholzer was pointed from the grave today at L. C. Stephenson, Earl Klensch and Earl Gentry on trial for first degree murder for her death. The girl's deathbed statement was admitted as evidence, a severe blow to the defense, which had counted on having most of it ruled out.

I felt almost immediately after entering the house that I had been trapped. I tried to reach the telephone to call for help, but was prevented by Stephenson and the two men with him and forced to drink. I was then hustled into an automobile and taken to the union station. Stephenson and Gentry, each with a pistol in his hand, threatened to kill me if I made any outcry.

The statement charged the men with taking the girl on the train to Hammond and told of an attack by Stephenson. In Hammond, Stephenson took the girl to a hotel, where her wounds were bathed with witch hazel. "When we returned to Indianapolis, I begged him to take me to my home," the statement said.

Miss Oberholzer eluded her captors long enough to take poison and became ill. "They took me to the garage at Stephenson's home and kept me there over night without medical aid, and returned me to my home in the morning," the statement said.

By United Press. NOBLESVILLE, Ind., Oct. 31.—Two railroad men late today filed additional important evidence for the State in the trial of D. C. Stephenson, former grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan and his two aides, Klensch one of the aides, was pointed out by a Pullman conductor as having obtained tickets in Indianapolis for the party. Lewis Thomas, a negro porter, identified Stephenson and Earl Gentry as the two men who occupied a stateroom with a girl on a midnight train to Hammond last March. Thomas testified the girl was sick and vomiting when he entered the apartment to make up the berth for the night. He suggested a hot towel for the girl's head but Stephenson drew a revolver and told him he had better cease no trouble.

Employees of the hotel at Hammond where Miss Oberholzer, the alleged victim, was taken from the train identified the defendant as the man with her.

Eastland County Will Recover More Than Third of Money In Defunct Bank

By reason of their suit against the state banking department, Eastland county stands to recover approximately $250,000 of the $350,000 on deposit in the Security State Bank & Trust company of Eastland when it closed its doors some three years ago. For $85,000 of this amount the county has judgment against the state guaranty fund, and the balance will be realized from the dividends being paid by the bank to its common creditors, according to Judge Joe F. Orr of the firm of Burkett, Orr & McCarty, attorneys for Eastland county.

In passing on the case recently, section B of the state commission of appeals held that public funds could be protected by the guaranty fund of the state. It also held that a deposit in the bank under interest-bearing agreement could be transferred to a non-interest bearing account and thus the guaranty fund become liable for it, provided the actual cash was withdrawn from the bank and re-deposited at the time the transfer was made, or provided that the bank was solvent at the time the

REVOLUTION IS PREVAILING IN PART OF SYRIA

Syrians Bitter Against French Lawlessness Reported In Ascendant.

By United Press. LONDON, Oct. 31.—An Evening News dispatch from Rafia, Syria, today reported that complete revolution prevails to the north of Damascus. Telephone wires were reported cut, motor cars were stopped within 10 miles of Damascus and passengers were robbed.

Strong bands of men from Damascus were reported attacking villages to the north in revenge for the villagers' refusal to rise against the French. Damascus was reported quiet, but strong revolutionary currents are said to be manifesting themselves as result of rancor of inhabitants against the French for their recent bombardment of the city. The French have guaranteed there will be no further bombardment, but have barricaded streets with barbed wire and raised barriers to guard against attacks.

By United Press. GENEVA, Oct. 31.—Protest to the League of Nations mandate commission has come from Syria relative to the French Syrian mandate and was referred today for explanation. It is expected to come before a special session of the commission.

FRENCH RECALL HIGH COMMISSIONER IN SYRIA

By United Press. PARIS, Oct. 31.—The French cabinet, late Friday night, decided to recall General Sarrahl, French high commissioner in Syria, who permitted the bombardment of Damascus. He will be recalled to explain his action.

The French government is now seeking a civilian for the post. It was offered to Paul Boncour, who refused it, and has now been offered to Franklin Bouillon, who is acquainted with conditions and ways in the near east.

After General Sarrahl had heroically saved the Meuse valley, making possible the Marne victory of 1914, he was recalled by the government and given no other important command during the war. He has strong Masonic support, but is opposed by the Catholic group.

SOVIET OFFICIAL DIES

MOSCOW, Oct. 31.—M. C. Frunze, soviet commissar of war, died here today following a serious operation for ulcer of the stomach, which left heart in a weakened condition. Despite injections to keep him alive, he sank rapidly.

Frunze assumed the war post after Trotsky's retirement.

October Snowfall In Northern States Breaks Known Records

By United Press. NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Breaking all records for an October snowfall, a white blanket lay over the northeastern part of the United States today, while the New England states averaged under six and seven inches of snow in some sections. New Jersey reported the heaviest fall of snow for this time of the year within the memory of the oldest inhabitants. Sleigh bells jingled in Pennsylvania, many roads being closed to automobiles.

In New York snow started falling early Friday morning and persisted throughout the day. The temperature averaged about 20 degrees above zero up state. Philadelphia was in the grip of temperature below freezing.

SEVEN MILLION DOLLAR FRAUD IS CHARGED

Former Alien Property Custodian and Seven Others Are Indicted.

By United Press. NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Counsel for Col. Thomas W. Miller of Wilmington, Del., former alien property custodian, indicted with four foreign-born citizens and three foreign corporations here yesterday on charges of conspiracy to defraud the U. S. Government out of more than $7,000,000, said today he would have his client in court to plead "not guilty" next Wednesday.

Federal grand jury was hoodwinked into returning the indictments, Colonel Miller's attorney said. Miller was in New York today, but would not make a statement. The indictment against the former alien property custodian and others contained two counts and was nanced out before Federal Judge Savalle. Among witnesses here this week were: Kocis Szymon, one of the star witnesses in the Daugherty investigation; John T. King, a national Republican leader, and Gaston B. Means, who was brought from Atlanta penitentiary, but whose testimony was not needed.

The four aliens are accused of working through Colonel Miller and others in positions of trust at Washington to obtain cash and liberty bonds held as part of German property seized by the U. S. Government at the start of the war. Plans for the conspiracy are alleged to have been made in Germany. Cross claims were filed under false names, it is charged.

The foreigners and the foreign corporations indicted are: Richard Merton, president, Metallgesellschaft; Alfred Merton, president of Metallbank of Frankfurt on Main, Germany; Leopold Dubois, president Swiss Bank, Basel, Switzerland; Fitz Shangeig, president Societe Suisse Pour Valere de Metaux, Basel.

W. A. BUTLER TO BE TRIED FOR MURDER

By United Press. WAXAHACHIE, Oct. 31.—Witnesses were being summoned today to appear in the district court Nov. 5 in the case of W. A. Butler, charged with manslaughter in connection with the slaying of A. R. Alexander, who was shot to death in the Ellis county courthouse while being taken by officers to a courtroom for habeas corpus hearing. He was being held without bond in connection with an alleged attack on Miss Mary Butler, a nurse.

J. N. CARTER BURNS TO DEATH IN FIRE AT OLNEY

ED T. COX OF MAVERICKS IS STRUCK BY CAR

Severely Injured and Taken to Hospital. Driver of Auto Speeds Away.

Ed T. Cox, star full back on the Eastland football team, was run into, knocked down and run over by a Ford touring car, about nine o'clock Saturday evening while stepping from an automobile, on the west side of the courthouse square in Eastland. He was injured so severely that he had to be picked up, taken to a local hospital and placed in charge of physicians. The full extent of his injuries were not known at a late hour Saturday night. Fears of a fracture were expressed but they have not been confirmed. Physicians said his injuries will in all probability prove to be confined to some ugly bruises and abrasions on his leg—the same leg that was injured several months ago and hurt again in last Saturday's game.

The driver of the Ford did not stop and his identity is said not to be known.

Eleven Millions Needed Annually To Enforce Prohibition

By United Press. WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Andrews will try to run his organized prohibition enforcement staff on $11,000,000 a year, exactly the same amount Roy Haynes, prohibition commissioner, expended annually before Andrews took charge. The dry chief has asked the budget agent for an appropriation of $11,000,000 for prohibition enforcement during the next fiscal year. Coordination of all the federal law agencies also will result in a tremendous saving, he indicated.

"We can use all the money they give us, but want to keep down expenses," Andrews said. "From now on a dollar will do twice the work it has done."

RANGER BOY PROMOTED IN THE MARINE CORPS

Special Correspondence. WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—By showing marked aptitude for his military duties, Esker A. Singleton, formerly of Ranger, Texas, has been promoted to the rank of corporal in the marine corps, according to an official list of promotions recently received at marine corps headquarters.

Corporal Singleton lived with his father, Allen N. Singleton Jr., Ranger, before he joined the marine corps at Fort Worth in March, 1923. He was assigned to duty with the marines at Quantico, Va., the large marine corps post a few miles from Washington. When certain men of that post were recommended for promotion recently, Corporal Singleton was one of the marines selected.

PRISONER PREFERS DEATH TO LIFE IN PRISON

By United Press. CLEVELAND, Oct. 31.—In a voice broken with sobs, John Kolsenski, convicted of first degree murder in the bomb slaying of Policeman Stanley Lewandowski, today pleaded with Judge McMahon to sentence him to death instead of life imprisonment.

"I didn't do it; I am not guilty," he insisted. He said he did not blame the judge or jury for his conviction and then shouted: "I don't want to go to prison for life. Why don't you send me to the electric chair?" Judge McMahon explained he had to sentence him to life imprisonment because the jury's verdict had contained a recommendation for mercy.

TWO "SHOT FIRERS" KILLED BY EXPLOSION

M'ALESTER, Okla., Oct. 31.—Victor Morgan of McAlester and John Turner of Brewer were instantly killed Friday night in an explosion in mine No. 4 of the Southern Coal company, near here. They were "shot firers" for the company and had entered the mine for the usual night firing when the blast occurred. Their bodies, mangled and burned, were recovered. What caused the explosion has not been explained. Morgan was burned several weeks ago in a powder blast.

AD LIBITUM CLUB MEETS. A color scheme of yellow and black was artistically employed by Mrs. C. F. Underwood, Thursday afternoon, when she entertained the members of the Ad Libitum Club and one extra guest, in her pretty apartment at the Lorain. The spirit of Halloween was not only evidenced in the color motif but was suggested by many other symbols, as black curtains, hats and wigs played a prominent part in the decorations, even extending themselves to the refreshments, where Halloween nut baskets filled with Autumn nuts divided honors with the tiny black cats, that stood around over the luncheon plates.

The high score prize, a handsome Oriental table runner went to Mrs. C. N. Ochiltree, while the cut prize, a perfume atomizer, went to Mrs. J. R. Tolland.

ONCE A WEEK. Funny how folks "beat the devil around the bush" trying to square themselves before the eyes of the world and the eyes of their own families.

A small son of a certain lady, who was a bridge addict, got religion at a protracted meeting and as a result of this he asked his mother not to play bridge for prizes.

She promised him that she would not and she thought she meant it. Well, the next time she went to a party she won high score prize. She refused it very impressively, telling her reason why. It was a wonderful prize and had much value in her eyes, so she amended her decision by asking that the prize be given to a friend, who in turn could present it to her as a personal gift—thus saving her face in the eyes of her small son and at the same time retaining possession of the prize.

PROGRAM FOR W. M. U. EXECUTIVE MEETING. An executive committee of the W. M. U. of the Central Baptist church will meet at the church at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon, at which time the following program will be given:

DAY OF PRAYER. The Woman's Missionary society of the Methodist church will observe a day of prayer, Monday. The program will begin at 10 a. m. and last throughout the day, with an hour's intermission at the noon hour, at which time lunch will be served. All women of the church are asked to meet with the members of the society and worship with them on Monday.

ECHOES FROM MERRIMAN P. T. A. CARNIVAL. All reports from the Merriman Parent-Teacher association Halloween carnival are very enthusiastic and really they must have had one grand and glorious time if they did all the things they had planned. The school auditorium was wonderfully decorated in autumn leaves, stalks from the nearby corn fields, golden pumpkins, and all sorts of Halloween devices. A box of mystery caused a lot of merriment and some little awe, as those who had the nerve to investigate this dark place were conducted through some rather drilling experiences. One of these was the mounting of a slide brought from Italy, only to land on a bed spring, from which one bounced on and on into other horrors. A pantomime "The Lamb Went Out" was a clever thing, and was acted by Miss Mabel Knight, Helen Gunkle, and Messrs. Dewey Jones and Johnnie Stacks.

The parents present formed a jazz band, being equipped with jazzsticks, an instrument that makes a noise like one would produce from a comb covered with paper, and they furnished the music for the occasion. Refreshments of doughnuts and candy were served and there were booths of all kinds, where a great many things were sold for the benefit of the school's most crying needs. The attendance was splendid and those who fostered the celebration, feel well pleased with the results.

PHILATHEAN CLASS ENTERTAINED. The members of the Philatheaean Class of the Methodist Church were graciously entertained Thursday evening by Miss Velva Dixon. With a Halloween party. All the guests came in costume and were masked, which added much to the merriment of the occasion. The home was attractively decorated in autumn leaves and in Halloween colors and symbols. Games and contests furnished the amusements and hot chocolate and sandwiches the refreshments, which were served to Misses Alayne Stroud, Mabel Kitchen, Wilma Lee West, Gladys Garza, Elizabeth Davenport, Margaret Galloway, Adair Hagaman, Catherine Hall, Bonnie Spindle, Alice Mae Harmon, Clara Stahl, Alice McCaskill, Bernice McCullough, and the hostess, Messrs. Henry Holley, Kom Holley, James Whitney, Horace Davenport, Hubert Franklin, Jessie Jerry, E. J. DINNER FOR OUT OF TOWN GUESTS. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Milliken entertained Wednesday evening with a charmingly appointed dinner in honor of Mrs. Jack Hart of Weatherford and Mrs. Ralph Wright of Dallas, who are the guests of Mrs. Con Hartnett. Dinner was served at 7 o'clock and covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Con Hartnett, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dyer, Mrs. Walter Brabney, Dr. A. N. Harbinder, and the honored guests Mrs. Jack Hart and Mrs. Ralph Wright. After dinner dancing and cards were enjoyed until a late hour.

INFORMAL BRIDGE. Mrs. Walter Brabney entertained most informally Wednesday afternoon with two tables at bridge, in honor of Mrs. Con Hartnett's guests, Mrs. Jack Hart of Weatherford and Mrs. Ralph Wright of Dallas. The high score prize went to Mrs. Jimmie Ward and the low score prize to Mrs. Ralph Wright.

Two tables at bridge were also played, evidently with the sentiment of parting, for he seemed to try to make his last dance music his best dance music, and thus expressed his appreciation for the large crowd present at his farewell dance. Taken from every standpoint it was a most successful evening and does the hosts of the evening great credit.

FIVE-YEAR-OLD CELEBRATES HALLOWEEN. The witchery of Halloween was not confined entirely to its symbols Saturday afternoon, for a very real little witch, in whose baby eyes lurk a witchcraft more potent than any with the older generation, celebrated her fifth birthday. This little celebrant was Jane Milliken, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Milliken and she invited 18 of her most intimate friends in to share the pleasures of her birthday. All of the Halloween folks were there. The old witch who swept the cobwebs off the moon was there riding her broom-stick and she actually took the little witch to the moon and through it. At serving time the old witch appeared and said, "Let's go to the moon," and they followed her out in the yard, circled around and finally came to a stop before a big yellow moon, which had come down from the clouds and perched itself across the French doors between the dining room and living room. Of course, witches can do anything, so she conjured up a number of black cats, black cats, black cats and they walked through the moon and they did and found it was not made of green cheese, but of lots of good things to eat, for right before their eyes on a table covered in strips of yellow and black, was a three-tier birthday cake, topped with five red candles and decorated with black, red and yellow candy beans, rising from a mound of white cedar. Here they were served eskimo pies, cakes and their goodies and given five minutes of home.

Marshmallows tied up in the Halloween colors were passed around and in these were hidden fortunes, trinkets, dimes and so forth. The old witch hopped in on her broom stick and gave the children their fortunes and good luck coins. For games there was a spinning of a tail on a huge black cat, Jack-in-the-box and a number of other ones that were suitable to the occasion.

The little guests all came in costumes and looked very lovely. A prize was given for the prettiest costume and this went to little Dave Harbinder, who wore a red costume with cap to match. Others who received prizes for effective costumes were Claire and Patsy Dyer and June Brabney.

Jane was the happy recipient of a costly present from her little guests, who were Patsy and Virginia Dyer, June Brabney, Elaine and Marie Mills, Esther Wilson, Helen Aiken, Diane Harbinder, Catherine Jane Conley, Betty Jean Burden, Johnnie May Hick, Vashda Baskin, Vivian Champion, Elizabeth and Frances McLester, Betty Avon Smith, Claire Dyer, Mrs. Milliken was assisted in entertaining by Messrs. Con Hartnett, Jack Hart and Ralph Wright.

MARTHA CARROLL HAS HALLOWEEN FROLIC. Clowns, ghosts, witches and colonial ladies celebrated Halloween Friday night, at the F. L. Carroll home on Elm Street, when the little daughter of the home, Martha, was hostess to a number of her school mates. Black cats, witches and all of the other time honored symbols of Halloween were elaborately used, in house decorations and the games for the evening to their cue from the decoration motif. There was a crazy house, where dead men stalked and one fell over all sorts of eerie creatures. There was a fortune teller who told the past, the present and the future and of course there were the hobnobbing contests and last but not least there was rich pumpkin pie and cheese sandwiches and apples galore. Those celebrating this happy Halloween affair with the young hostess were: Mary Jane Dreinhofer, Cordie Mae McFarland, Wilbur McFarland, Jr., Nellie Barrett, Frances Glazner, Norman Hintz, Bertie May Sandford, Louise Woodell, Kathryn Galloway, Catherine Robinson, Alvis Barnes, Agnes Barnes, Fred Hight, Jean Sampson, Edna Myers, Nine Williams.

PERSONALS. Mrs. and Mrs. R. W. Thomas have returned from a visit to relatives in Tulsa and other points. While away they also attended the game between the University of Illinois and the University of Michigan, the former university being where Mr. Thomas attended college.

HEROES OF THE SEA Rescued But Their Ship Is Wrecked

By United Press. NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Another handful of heroes of the sea walked quietly ashore here today, their ship lost but their own lives saved through the perseverance of a Yankee ship captain and his crew. Capt. Gen. Marussen and 32 officers and men of the Norwegian freighter Elven were the rescued men. Capt. Harold C. Fish and his crew of the American Trader, a freighter, were the rescuers.

The Elven had given its life in an attempt to save the freighter Ignacio Flovi, whose crew finally were saved through the efforts of Capt. Paul Grening and his men on the finer President Harding. The whole story is one of the epics in which the sea is a battlefield. The Elven was in mid-Atlantic when it picked up distress signals and drove through the storm and stood by the Florida until the President Harding took off the wrecked crew. In another 24 hours the storm had lashed the Norwegian ship until it was a wreck and its lifeboat washed away. It was the Elven's turn to call for help and the American Trader answered.

These bi-weekly vaudeville programs are for one night only, it is announced. All the five to seven acts are booked direct from the Loew circuit and are identical with acts staged at the larger theatres in cities like Dallas and Waco. One performance a week ago, which pleased the audience very much, went direct from Ranger to Waco. These are all one-night bills, coming on Friday night. Whether they may be staged oftener depends on their reception in Ranger theatre fans, it is said. The next booking is for Friday night this week.

Tent Theatre To Give Free Sacred Concert Sunday. Newman's tent theatre players will give a free sacred concert in Ranger at the tent, West Main street, Sunday at 8 p. m. No admission will be charged, but a collection will be taken inside the tent for the benefit of some local charity, it is stated by the management.

The Newman have been playing to large audiences in Ranger with free seats for different organizations at each performance. Saturday afternoon, their merchants' all vaudeville show was seen by a large number of the 22 merchants represented having given away tickets with each dime purchase and up.

The band and orchestra have been drawing features for the show, which will remain over in Ranger another week it is announced. These will be heard at Sunday's free concert, it is stated.

ONE COMBATANT DEAD SECOND IS NEAR DEATH. By United Press. TEXARKANA, Ark., Oct. 31.—Bob Smith, a deputy sheriff who figured in a sensational gun battle Friday night was near death tonight. Sheriff E. F. Barber was killed in the affray and Henry Adams was wounded.

The latter is being held under guard in the hospital.

PAINLEVE AND HERRICK DISCUSS DEBT PROBLEM. By United Press. PARIS, Oct. 31.—Premier Painleve and American Ambassador Herrick today had a confidence on the question of French debts to America, but details were withheld. It was indicated that the French cabinet soon will take up the problem left unsettled by former Finance Minister Caillaux at Washington. The Washington proposal for a temporary arrangement for $400,000,000 annuity for five years met with disapproval here and there is a feeling the problem must come up again soon.

NAVARRO COUNTY FARMERS ENGAGE IN FATAL DUEL. CORSCANA, Oct. 31.—W. A. Deen, a farmer of Kerens, near here, is being held here tonight on charges growing out of the shooting today of John A. Atchison, a well known farmer of Navarro County. The men were neighbors. The cause of the trouble is not known. Atchison was struck with two loads of buckshot and is in a critical condition.

FALLS COUNTY WOMAN IS SHOT AND KILLED. MARLIN, Oct. 31.—Mrs. Dolly Jameson was shot and killed near heretofore this afternoon by an unknown assailant. Mrs. Jameson was seen here shortly before the shooting and left in an automobile with a 10-year-old nephew. She and his son were on under bonds in connection with the death of a young man at her home some time ago.

EUROPEAN COMEDIAN AND HIS WIFE IN SUICIDE PACT. By United Press. PARIS, Oct. 31.—Max Linder, the famous European Motion picture comedian, was in a critical condition and his wife dead in a hotel in the Etrole district tonight. It was believed that the two had entered a suicide pact. Linder and his wife both had taken poison. The motive for a possible suicide was not determined.

Spooks Frighten But Do Little If Any Real Mischief. The ghosts walked Saturday night, according to their time honored custom. They were very nice ghosts, however, so far as reports from fire and police headquarters revealed. No fires had been started in the city up to near midnight and no one, ghost or live human, had become so disorderly in his spookiness as to make it necessary to make an arrest.

Masked faces, weird sounds, grotesque costumes—all that makes Halloween a night of creepy feelings and spooky aspect, were in evidence on almost every street corner. Parties where beauty gave way to animal shivers were held here and there over town. Pranks were played, but so far as could be learned none was of the sort to inflict serious damages. All in all, it was a lively but not damaging Halloween.

HUDSON AND ESSEX CARS PRICED LOWER

Believed Step in Aggressive Program for Widening Circle of Buyers.

Hudson and Essex cars were substantially reduced in price in an announcement to the public last week by the Gullahorn Motor company, dealers for the Ranger area.

No comment was made with the reduction, on the Hudson-Essex theory that the public is more interested in the fact than in explanations. But the presumption in motor circles was that it is a further step in the aggressive Hudson-Essex program of making their cars available to a still wider circle of buyers. Along with the reduction in the list price came cuts also in war taxes and other expenses, so that the delivered prices in this city are now even more favorable than the mere reduction in list price would have effected.

"Now the question among automobile men," said Mr. Gullahorn, "is, how does Hudson do it? The public has seen Hudson-Essex make this

Prince of Wales Dressed as a Woman

This is the picture that sent all England into spasms—His Highness, Edward, Prince of Wales, dressed as a WOMAN! Of course, if Eddie wanted to dress to dress as a woman and act the part in a comedy on board the Repulse to wile away the long hours at sea, that was his affair. But to have the picture published, that was something else again. And it was taken by an official photographer. Here you see (right to left) The Prince of Wales as The Woman, G. Ward-Price as The Man, and Lieut.-Com. Lilly as the Prima Donna.

Credit Is Honor

Retail Merchants in extending credit to their customers — FOR THE CUSTOMER'S CONVENIENCE—have been imposed upon. Thousands and thousands of dollars have been lost — BECAUSE SOME PEOPLE PLACED NO VALUE ON HONOR. CREDIT IS A CONVENIENCE BASED UPON CONFIDENCE. Unscrupulous men and women have taken advantage of the confidence bestowed upon them by the merchants and beaten them out of fortunes. To eliminate this imposition, to make credit impossible for PEOPLE WHO DO NOT PAY THEIR BILLS also TO HELP THOSE OBTAIN CREDIT WHO REALLY DESERVE IT, the Retail Merchants Association was formed.

Every member of this Association has a credit rating of their customers BASED ON HOW THEY PAY THEIR BILLS. These ratings go through the clearing house, which gives this clearing house a record of how every customer in Ranger pays their bills with the various stores. It's a complete sum total of the value every customer places on HONOR CREDIT FOLLOWS YOU THROUGH LIFE.

And it is based entirely upon past performances. Some time you may leave your home town. You may go into a community of strangers. If your credit has been good at home, you'll have no trouble in securing credit again. CREDIT IS THE EASIEST THING IN THE WORLD TO GET, all you have to do is to PLAY SQUARE WITH YOURSELF AND YOUR FELLOWMAN.

IT PAYS TO PAY PROMPTLY.

and other price announcements when least expected. The buyers are asking what there is different about Hudson-Essex manufacturing and selling methods which have made these cuts possible.

"The answer is this: No one method or stunt either in manufacturing or selling can be held responsible. Rather, there is a great general cooperation all along the line to make the cars as carefully and as economically as possible, and to merchandise them to the public in the same way.

"Of course Hudson-Essex has basic advantages in being the largest manufacturer of six-cylinder cars in the world and in being the greatest closed car specialists, with over 95 per cent of their volume in this type of business. But these advantages are augmented by so many detailed methods that the reason is highly complicated and many-sided.

"The theory in every department of Hudson-Essex business is that the cars must be continued as 'the world's greatest values'—with the phrase considered as to more generality but as a truth fully backed by facts."

STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—Is Senator Burton K. Wheeler being persecuted?

A good many of his brother senators are going to make up their minds affirmatively unless the government makes it out a stronger case against him at his coming trial here than it made out against him in Montana, on the charge of having acted as "fixer" at the Interior Department of Gordon Campbell, the oil man. At least that's the consensus of a gossip around the capitol now.

PERSECUTING a senator, in other senators' eyes, is about the worst offense imaginable. Senators are something like royalty. Kings may quarrel between themselves, but let the populace rise up against any particular king and all the other kings are on his side.

Their feeling is that an institution of which they're a part is being attacked. What weakens or overthrows one king threatens the whole kingly system.

PLENTY of senators disliked Senator Wheeler's investigation of the justice department. When he was indicted some of them may have hoped the government had adequate grounds for it.

But if it was a "frameup" then each senator's attitude is: "The same thing may happen to me, when a party I don't belong to is in control, and I start something it wants to stop." So nearly all of them—if anybody tried to "frame" Senator Wheeler—resent it personally.

SHOULD the Washington case against Senator Wheeler fall as flat as the Montana case fell, there is more than a likely, then, to be a senatorial investigation to find out what the whole thing was about, how and why it happened, who began it and all that.

THREE MEN FOUND GUILTY OF USING MAILS TO DEFRAUD

By United Press.
TOLEDO, Ohio, Oct. 31.—Eugene C. Curtis, Joseph C. Crites and James R. Smith, all of Fort Worth, Texas, were found guilty here today of using the mails to defraud in connection with the sale of $250,000 worthless stock of the Reliable Information and Scout Service of Fort Worth.

Curtis was sentenced to seven months in the Dayton workhouse, Crites to three years in the Atlanta penitentiary and Smith's sentence was temporarily withheld. The men were accused of victimizing Toledo residents out of thousands of dollars through stock sales.

Compare these Better BUICK Sedans with "Coaches"

These finer closed cars are built on the famous Buick chassis with the 21-year-proved, 60 and 75 horsepower Buick Valve-in-Head engines. Extra power!

And they have the famous "Sealed Chassis" and the new "Triple Sealed Engine." No other car, regardless of price, furnishes this completeness of protection for driving parts.

And these Buicks have the characteristic Buick charm of body profile. They are finished in Duco. They seat five full-grown people in roomy comfort. They have the Fisher VV one-piece, ventilating windshield, automatic windshield wiper, and a host of like necessities. Buick's exacting closed car standards prevail in their Fisher-built bodies.

Come in and see how much superior these Better Buick Sedans are to "Coaches", before you spend your money!

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

BULLDOGS ARE ELIMINATED BY FASTER PLAYING

Lose Chance at District Championship When Abilene Game 25 to 7.

Ranger High football team, with the whole town behind them; with a special train to carry them; with most of the twelve business men who put up their money to make that train possible there with their eyes upon them; with the belief early changed to conviction as reports of Cisco's gains came over the wire, that their chance to recoup their loss and get back into the running for district honors to buoy them, they failed to put the punch into the game at crucial moments and lost to Abilene's faster playing, harder fighting team. Lost a clean game by the score of 25 to 7 and lost their last hope of being in the final competition for championship in the sixteenth inter-scholastic district.

Two Leading Teams. The only two teams which can possibly hope to win now, are Cisco and Abilene, unless in the game between Cisco and Ranger on Armistice Day, Ranger should defeat the Lobos, and in the game between Abilene and Breckenridge, Breckenridge should come back and defeat Abilene, in which two remote events, there would be a loss each charged to Cisco, Abilene and Eastland which would require a three cornered play-off of the tie. The loss by one of these two undefeated teams of the game ahead, would mean its elimination. Should both win, it will mean a play-off of the tie between Cisco and Abilene. In either event, Ranger is now in the attitude in which Breckenridge has been, for some time, of playing without hope of doing more than maintain her reputation for gameness and sportsmanship without hope of winning in the district.

The story of Friday's game is short. Abilene won 25 to 7. Abilene played a 25 to 7 better brand of football. Abilene fought 25 to 7 times harder. Abilene showed 25 to 7 better head work by playing the plays in which her players were strongest and not trusting to experiments. Abilene had a 25 to 7 better line. On the other hand, Ranger had in Buster Mills, a punter who out-classed the Eagles. Ranger had a back field probably the fastest in Texas which, for some reason, was kept worn down plunging a better line than Ranger's, and only in one thrilling play when Walker received a pass from Mills and out ran Abilene's back field men, making a total gain of 65 yards for the Bulldogs's only touchdown, did Ranger really play her brand and class of football.

Feature Plays. Walker, Cooper, Dupree, Mills and Shell (as far as his bruised fingers would allow) played a good, consistent, though ill timed game. Ghoslin, in one play, showed skill in recovering a fumble which had been as fast as Walker, would have netted the Bulldogs another touchdown, no doubt. Eugene Glenn duplicated his play last Saturday by losing, this time, fifteen yards in a fruitless effort to run around the end and making the fatal mistake of running back instead of forward.

For Abilene, Walter, captain and quarterback was the sensation of the day. He made gains aggregating and estimated 223 yards during the game and no one knew where he would hit, through, around or over. His head work and support were little short of marvelous. As a distance maker, he showed himself second to no man in the district. Cox and Zerafonetis not excepted. Osborne, Poole and Campbell also featured for the Eagles, Campbell making one 45-yard gain and Poole, one for 22 yards around left end.

Abilene's pep squad functioned beautifully. Ranger's squad, whom Lee Walker has named, "Ranger Red Peppers," aided by the band, Bill Mills bulldog and siren made all the noise heart could desire and her two girl clowns, Elaine and Roma Riddle drew cheers from both Abilene and Ranger with their acrobatic stunts. Abilene treated Ranger royally, meeting the special with the famous Simmons College cowboy band, tending all Ranger visitors free street car rides to and from the game and extending various other courtesies.

The officials of the game were C. A. Rickenstein, A. and M., referee; H. Lipscombe, Center, umpire, and "Swede" Swenson, Texas, head line-man.

DALLAS, Oct. 31.—Hearing of the prosecution of W. A. Martin for new trial was postponed until Monday when his case was called today. He was convicted of killing R. B. Parsons, deputy sheriff of Denton county.

Ivan Williamson, one of the stars on this year's Georgia Tech eleven. He was a halfback position. His stellar work did much to carry the Golden Panthers to victory over Penn State recently.

The twelve Ranger business men who put up the money to guarantee the special train were: Jack Mooney, Steve Gilbert, Ed Maher, Saunders Gregg, Charles and Albert Dyas, Dr. M. L. Holland, Maurice Leveille, Dick Barkley, Bill McDonald and A. G. Jury. Eleven members of the Ranger High School faculty attended the game. They were: Superintendent Holloway, Coach Cherry, Assistant Coach Wallace E. Davis, O. G. Lanier, and Misses Roberts, Pinson, Carter, Plahie, Cravens, Cochran and Walker. Ranger High School had a holiday for the game, but Central Grammar School in the same building did not, which detained Principal Forrest who saw the train off and gave out favors at the depot.

FIRST PHOTO OF MOST DISASTROUS TRAIN WRECK
IN RECENT YEARS

When the "Sunnyland" crack flyer of the Frisco Railroad, jumped the rails and plunged down a 40-foot embankment near Victoria, Miss., 10 persons were killed and more than sixty injured. This remarkable picture shows a group of rescue workers on the second Pullman trying to pull one of the wounded passengers out through a window. The train was traveling about 55 miles an hour at the time and this speed caused the car to be hurled nearly 75 yards from the track. The under-framework of this car can be seen in the adjoining picture.

Big Dam Loboes
Prove Too Strong
For the Mavericks

The Eastland Mavericks have gone down to defeat. But they went down fighting. Friday, they bowed to a heavier team, the Big Dam Loboes of Cisco, who have some 10 men weighing 170 pounds and up to the man and a line that would not let Eastland through. The score at the end of the game was 30 to 0 in favor of Cisco. And unless Cisco and Abilene lose to Breckenridge and Ranger, Eastland is out of the running this year.

The real team that defeated Eastland was Irvin and Alsbrook. Yet the first touchdown was made by Lavurle on a pass early in the first quarter and the second, by a goal from field on a drop kick in the second quarter, in which neither of these two were figured.

The outstanding Eastland players were Ed T. Cox, who was more or less handicapped by a lame ankle; Garrett, Matthews and Volney Day. The Loboes seemed to eat Cox and Williamson and center their attacks particularly on Cox. Their line was never threatened.

The Mavericks played game to the last and showed the same kind of fighting spirit in defeat they had shown in their victories. The Loboes were the first team to cross their goal line this year or win from them. They have no other games scheduled, the Cisco game being their fourth conference game of the season.

RED GRANGE ACHIEVES
VICTORY FOR ILLINOIS

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 31.—Red Grange, 24; Pennsylvania 2. This was the results of 60 minutes of battling here this afternoon. The Wheaton ice man, making his first appearance in the east, proved most amazing to the opposing team. They said Grange could not run in the mud but he did. It was Grange his critics declared was a false alarm.

The famous Illinois back carried the ball 36 times and made three long runs for touchdowns. The other six points for the victors were made by Piton who smashed through center on the one-yard line. Seventy thousand fans saw Pennsylvania humiliated.

SILENCE BROODS OVER
STILLMAN MARITAL TROUBLES

By United Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—From the snow capped forests of Quebec to the suns of South Africa, an increasing silence enveloping the James A. Stillman marital troubles today. Neither Mrs. Annie U. Stillman, who is on her farm home, fifty miles from nowhere, virtually cut off from communication by ice clad rivers and snow topped mountains, nor her banker husband, who is reported to be somewhere on the South Seas near Africa, would shed any light of the situation. All were equally reticent as to whether she had actually begun action for a divorce.

Florida Leeds, "the other woman" in the original Stillman case and likely to be named correspondent if there is another one, also remained discreetly silent in her New York apartment.

Farm crops in Texas are worth about one billion dollars a year, which is about double the figures of any other state.

Outstanding
Used Car Values
ARE BACKED BY OILBELT

Used car values that can't be beat are to be had at the Oilbelt Motor Company's used car department. Values on our used cars are truly remarkable, considering the time and extra work done to them by our mechanical department after we take them in on other deals.

Every used car that leaves our salesroom is guaranteed to be as represented. Of course, we have some junk if you want it, but our used cars of recent models are all thoroughly overhauled in every way.

We Do Not Increase the Price

Just because we overhaul a used car we do not compel our prospective purchasers to pay double what it cost us. Rather than sell a man a used car for more than it is worth, we would take a loss. Our used cars are sold for just what they are worth in dollars and cents.

Here are a few of our outstanding values. Call and look them over.

Studebaker Light Six Sedan; completely overhauled; good tires; upholstery like new. The keenest running and riding car in town. A beautiful paint job, the latest out $1045

Chevrolet Coupe; new tires and seat covers; Ruchelo brown ducio finish. A fine car for this Winter's use. (Priced to sell) $495

Chevrolet Roadster; A-1 shape; new paint and tires. A good buy $295

Chevrolet Touring; 1924 model; looks good and runs good; five balloon tires $425

Chevrolet Sport Roadster (Racer). The snappiest car you ever saw. Fine trunk red; collapsible top, can close up in bad weather; five brand new General balloon tires; sold six months ago for $785; but will sacrifice it now. Body alone is all steel and cost $325. Better see this today and take it for $485

1924 Ford Coupe. Pretty paint job; five new balloon tires; double Hasslers; big lock wheel; seat covers and lots of extras; just put on new tires for first time. Only $480

Ford Touring; 1924; balloon tires; new paint; extras; see this for $295

Chevrolet Truck; 1924 model; new tires; 3-in-1 body; just what you want in a one-ton truck; this week at $585

1924 Ford Light Delivery. For a light truck, you can beat this one; has on new set of tires and is ready to give you a lot of hard service. New oak body and cab. $395

Be sure and look this over before you buy, and get good values for your dollars.

State Teachers Arranging For the Annual Convention

Lee Clark of Gainesville, President of the Texas State Teachers Association.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE
 FORT WORTH, Oct. 31.—A notable program has been arranged for the Texas State Teachers Association annual convention which will be held in Dallas, Nov. 26, 27 and 28. President Lee Clark, superintendent of schools at Gainesville, expects West Texas to be very largely represented in the convention. Clark, who has for several years taught in West and North Texas schools, is well known by many people in Ranger. He is a brother-in-law of Superintendent R. F. Holloway of the Ranger schools.

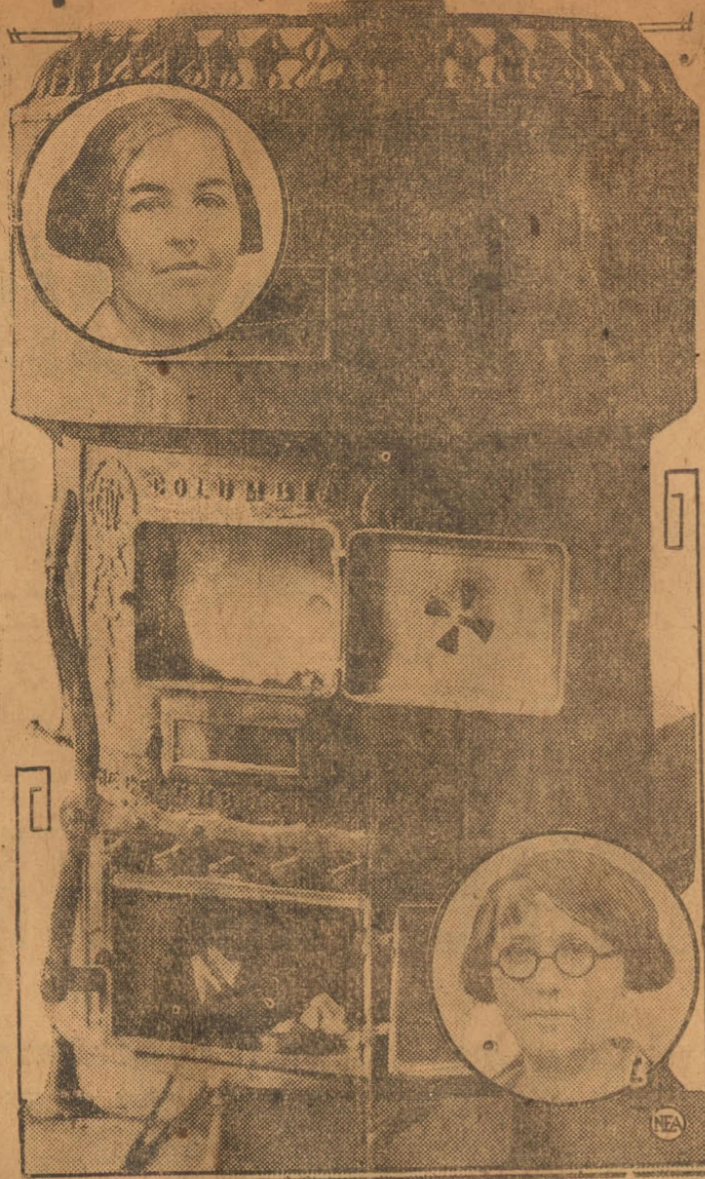

Railroads have granted a rate of fare and one-half to the convention. This is the best rate offered in the forty-six years of the association, and it is expected that the attendance on the Dallas meeting will be more than 10,000.

Some of the principal speakers for the meeting are John J. Tigert, United States commissioner of education; Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant United States attorney general; Moises Saenz, assistant secretary of education for the Republic of Mexico; John M. Foote, supervisor of elementary and rural schools for Louisiana.

DEAF AND DUMB DEFEND RIGHT TO DRIVE AUTOS

By United Press.
 LONDON, Oct. 30.—Deaf and Dumb Automobile drivers have risen in protest here against the possible withdrawal of their franchises and a warm controversy is in progress on the matter.

People have been writing letters to the newspapers recently complaining bitterly against allowing alleged unfit persons to drive cars on the public highway.

One-armed, or one-eyed men should not be allowed to add to the dangers of roadways, already risky enough, from the pedestrians viewpoint, they say.

The British Deaf and Dumb Association, in conference at Southampton, has made a strong protest against the suggestion that legislation should be framed prohibiting deaf persons from holding motor-driving licenses.

From Pulpit to Soda Fountain

Rev. Harold Turney, pastor of the First Christian Church, Inglewood, Calif., deserted his flock for the soda fountain, because "he wants to study and a minister has no time that he can call his own." He also hopes to make enough money at the soda fountain to obtain a college degree.

PRESBYTERIAN
 There will be services at this church, Sunday, both morning and evening. The subject for the 11 o'clock hour will be "A Prepared Man." For the 7:30 p. m. service, "Does Religion Pay?" The pastor, Rev. L. R. Hogan, will preach.

At the morning services Miss Josephine Miller, music teacher from Mineral Wells will sing, "Comfort Ye My People," by Caro Roma. At the evening service Mr. Briggs and Mr. Hogan will sing, "It Pays to Serve Jesus," by Huston.
 The Sunday school with Mr. G. W. Briggs as superintendent convenes promptly at 9:45 a. m. There is a place and a class for everybody. We want to make this one of the most helpful features of our church. Everyone is cordially welcome to all services.

BIG PASSENGER AIRPLANE SOON TO BE LAUNCHED

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—The largest passenger airplane in the world will be in operation in the European passenger-carrying air service, according to information reaching the offices in this city of Rolls-Royce of America, the American organization of the British motor car manufacturers.
 Accommodating twenty passengers and their luggage, together with the pilot and a mechanic, the new machine produced by the Cickers concern will have a wing span of over eighty-seven feet. It will contain a buffet in the cabin to provide meals for passengers en route from one European port to another. Two Rolls-Royce "Condor" engines, developing 1,300 horse power, will drive the great machine which will

That we are featuring all this week

Manufacturers have great racks of Coats they are anxious to sell. We wired our New York buyer to buy us over fifty coats and to pick the best values possible. By buying them this late in the season we were able to secure some unbelievable values. We are offering you these Coats in a special selling for this week.

Modes of the Season

Paris is authority for these stunning new Coats, fashioned of exquisite deep pile fabrics. Smart Flare Coats, new snappy models, clever straight line styles. To inspect this showing of $24.85 Coats is a fashion treat.

Luxurious Furs

Coat styles are almost passe if not beautifully trimmed with fur, for fur is one of the outstanding requisites of charm for the new mode. Even the check Sport Coats have fur on them. Furs that harmonize or contrast.

Beautiful Colors

Contrasting or harmonizing with plain or brocade Satin and Crepe linings, are the beautiful new coat shades for Autumn or Winter. Suede cloth is popular and you are sure to like Charmora or any of the other wanted materials used.

You Will Appreciate Yourself in a Fine Coat

Such wonderful values were offered that we bought a new lot of fine Coats that are really to be appreciated at the price offered. Squirrel and Beaver are two of the popular furs used for trimming on such fine materials as needlepoint.

It Took a Hundred Million Dollars to make possible Studebaker's One-Profit policy which brings this impressive Unit-Built Coach to you —"No-Yearly-Models" stabilizes this value

YEARS ago, Studebaker started to work to a certain goal... the manufacture of a quality car under the One-Profit—Unit-Built plan that won the world to Ford in the low-price field.

To gain it, we plowed the earnings of years back into our business. We used more than half of all earnings developing plants and machinery that stand out as world models. As a result, we have one hundred million dollars in net assets concentrated on the production of One-Profit Studebakers.

Because Studebaker builds vital parts and bodies for Studebaker cars—it is possible to give purchasers three advantages:

1. One-Profit Value, because Studebaker eliminates extra profits which all other manufacturers (except Ford) must pay to outside parts or body makers. Thus Studebaker is able to use steel of extra toughness, fine northern white ash and hard maple for body framework, wool upholstery, plate glass, painstaking workmanship to precision standards, and extra equipment, such as gasoline gauge, clock, stop light, etc.—yet charge no more than competing cars.
2. Unit-Built Construction, because all parts are not only designed to constitute one harmonious unit, but are Unit-Built in Studebaker plants. Being built as a unit, every Studebaker functions as a unit. This results in years longer life, scores of thousands of miles of excess transportation, greater riding comfort, minimum repair costs.
3. "No-Yearly-Models", because all phases of manufacturing are directly under Studebaker control. Studebaker cars are constantly kept up to date. Improvements are continually made—not saved up for spectacular announcements which make cars artificially obsolete. Resale values are thus stabilized.

For actual proof of these values we urge you to see the Standard Six Coach, outstanding example of One-Profit manufacture.

The Result from the Buyer's Standpoint — World's Most Powerful Car of its Size and Weight

BASED upon the rating of the N.A.A.C. and the Society of Automotive Engineers, the Studebaker Standard Six is the most powerful car of its size and weight. The most popular car in the Standard Six line is the Coach—the lowest priced enclosed car ever offered by Studebaker.

Thirty-one makes have 5-passenger closed models which cost from $50 to $1,990 more than the Standard Six Coach, but have less rated horsepower.

It has much more room than the average coach. It seats five passengers in real comfort—with ample leg and head room. Seats are restfully deep and full width.

Northern ash and maple are used in the body construction—the same as in our Big Six models.

Long resilient springs made of special chrome Vanadium steel give greater buoyancy and protection from road shocks. The crankshaft is completely machined to minimize vibration.

Equipment includes a gasoline gauge, an 8-day clock, automatic windshield cleaner, rear-view mirror, door pockets, ash receiver, cowl ventilator, stop light, dome light, coincidental lock, safety light control and full-size balloon tires.

Come in and let us demonstrate this sturdy One-Profit car.

A Single Ride Explains Its Popularity!

A single ride proves why the Chrysler Four justly merits the tremendous popularity it has built up in a few short months. In sustained high speeds—in pliability of power—in economy—in durability and in freedom from mechanical attention which result from high quality of design, materials and workmanship—in ease of handling—and most emphatically in riding steadiness and comfort—the Chrysler Four gives results not found combined in cars of any type even beyond it in price.

As distinctive as its performance is a beauty so advanced that popular desire sweeps towards it inevitably.

Your nearest Chrysler dealer is eager to give you this ride that proves why the Chrysler is the Favored Four among tens of thousands of owners.

THIS IS A STUDEBAKER YEAR

MAY SEYMOUR FOOT LOOSE

by BEATRICE BURTON

THE STORY SO FAR!

May Seymour, whose husband killed himself because of her love affair with Jim Carewe, returns to her home town after a year's absence. She sells her stocks and bonds, leaves the sale of her house in the hands of Ulysses X. Forgan, a wealthy widower, and with her little fortune in cash, sets out to find and marry a man with money.

At Atlantic City she meets a divorcee, Carlotta Froking, and her two friends, Herbert Waterbury and Dan Sprague. Both men pay court to May, greatly to the distress of Carlotta, who has been in love with Dan for many years.

But May sets her cap for Waterbury, sure that he is the rich husband she has been looking for. In her effort to "land" him, she spends thousands of dollars on new clothes, and jewels.

At last he proposes, and May accepts him. She turns over to him for investment all the money she has—including $12,000 from the sale of her house. But she immediately regrets this when Carlotta, departing for California, warns her not to trust Waterbury too far. When she goes to Waterbury to demand the return of her money, he disappears. And May, practically penniless, sells her jewels and fur coat to buy a ticket for California, where she intends to visit Carlotta.

On the way she stops off to see her lawyer, Dick Gregory, and Gloria, his wife, who is May's best friend. She shrinks from meeting her townspeople, who know her story of her husband's suicide. But Gloria tells her the only thing to do is to face them bravely. So she finally consents to go downtown to lunch with Gloria.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY:

Standing in the doorway of the restaurant, May drew a deep breath such as a swimmer takes just before he dives into icy water. She clutched Gloria nervously by the arm, as she looked around her at the familiar walls and snowy tables.

It was filled with bitter memories—this pleasant room. Here she had eaten many a silent meal with Dr. John in the old days—he buried in a medical magazine, she watching him with bored, resentful eyes.

Here, too, she had lunched dozens of times with Jim Carewe, under the cold, disapproving gaze of her women friends. She wondered if Jim ever came here, now.

And then, suddenly, she saw him! He was sitting alone at a table in a far corner, with his arms folded upon it, watching her solemnly. She could feel his eyes upon her, following her every move, as she and Gloria sat down in the middle of the room.

"Jim Carewe—" she began breathlessly, as she pulled off her gloves and powdered her nose.

"I know. I saw him," Gloria answered. "What are you going to do if he comes over here?"

"Why, talk to him, of course, as if

"Like old times to see you again, Maize," he was saying smoothly, as he pulled a chair out from the table.

nothing had ever happened between them, hated the very look of him, now! "Like old times to see you again," May said.

Her words were matter-of-fact enough, but her voice shook.

Even as she spoke she saw him get up and come toward their table.

Then, he was bending over her. She raised the corners of her lips in answer to his tight, stretched smile. He held out his hand, but she could not give him hers in greeting.

Here was the man who had wrecked her life!

The man who had cast her aside when he should have married her and protected her, after Dr. John's suicide! And such a man! He looked so absurd, somehow, with his too-tight clothes and loud necktie that matched his socks and handkerchief!

How had she ever fancied herself in love with this fop with his oiled hair, and his oily voice? Why, she Maize," he was saying smoothly, as he pulled a chair out from the table. He dropped into it, lighted a cigarette, and fell into easy conversation with Gloria.

"Haven't seen you for a coon's age, Mrs. G.," he said genially. "Not since the last dance at the club. Well, are you girls going to let me buy you lunch, just for the sake of 'auld lang syne'?"

May looked "No" at him, being unable to speak. Oh, why didn't Gloria tell him to go away? She must know that this was a sure way to stir up all the old scandal, to set the gossip's tongues wagging again!

But Gloria was calmly scanning the menu.

"Jim," May managed to say at last, "I think you'd better go back to your own table. Glory and I are so nervous that we never lunch with married men."

She forced a light laugh. Carewe looked at her in real surprise. Content in him that he was no longer attractive to this woman who had once adored him? Oh, no, that wasn't possible: women never recover from a love affair. It was the men who always tired of them.

ECZEMA

Dries right up!

If you just realized how easy it is to stop fiery, itching, burning eczema by simply building up the red-blood-cells in your blood with S. S. S., you wouldn't waste another minute trying to do it any other way.

That's the only way to relieve irritation, broken out skin of any sort. You lack rich, red blood. Impurities are in your system. The blood is so weak it can't fight back and overcome the enemy, so the impurities break out through the skin.

S. S. S. builds the blood back—builds millions of new red-blood-cells. Eczema dries right up. Boils, pimples, blackheads, ugly blotches and irritating rashes all disappear.

Clear up your skin. Get S. S. S. All druggists sell it. The larger bottle is more economical.

So Jim only laughed. "I'm not so terribly married, Maize," he said cheerfully. "The wife wouldn't mind my being here. She leads her life, and I lead mine. No questions asked. Get me?" To May's dismay he began to unfold his napkin—this man she detested and despised. "What are you going to eat?" he asked amiably. "The spring lamb with creamed peas sounds good, doesn't it?" May didn't answer; and he went on cheerfully while his eyes explored her face. "Gosh, but you're looking fit! Seems to agree with you to be a widow." Very pale, May raised her eyes to his.

"Jim," she said harshly. "Either you get up and leave this table, or I'm going to! I simply will not sit his."

here with you."

She broke off. And Carewe's eyes followed hers that had suddenly widened into pools of light. Her mouth smiled.

A man was in the doorway of the dining room—a spectacled man with a keen face, who stood as stiff as steel, looking at her. As if her eyes called him, he came straight toward them and stood by the table.

"Mr. Forgan!" May cried, and there was a world of welcome in her voice. "Mr. Forgan!"

Slowly she lifted her hands, and the man took them for an instant, dropped them, and plunged his own into his pockets.

"Last person in the world I expected to see here—Mrs. Seymour," he said awkwardly. "Awfully glad to see you, though."

He turned then to Gloria. "Ages since we've met, Mrs. Gregory," he greeted her, smiling. "Ah, Carewe, lunching here?"

"No, he isn't," May answered, before Jim had time to speak. "He just came over here to say 'Hello' to Gloria and me."

She didn't want Ulysses Forgan, of all people, to think she was having lunch with Jim Carewe by appointment!

"You'd better go back to your soup, Jim," she added, not looking at him. "It must be stone-cold by now."

To her great relief Jim got up. "Thanks for your invitation to leave," he muttered. "Guess I'll accept it."

He sauntered back to his lonely meal, and ate it with no great appetite.

Ulysses Forgan watched him go with a curious smile on his lips.

"He knows about me and Jim!" May said to herself. "I suppose he thinks I'm still in love with him."

She looked up at Ulysses as he stood, hesitating, with his hand on the back of the chair Jim had just left.

"May I sit here with you for a minute? he asked. "I'm going to have lunch with my young daughter, Sally, and she's late as usual."

He turned to Gloria as he sat down.

"They tell me you have a new young son at your house, and that he's quite a boy," he said to her.

"He's the wonder child of the age!" Gloria answered, twinkling.

She always brightened when anyone mentioned her marvelous baby to her.

"He sleeps all night without yipping, and never has a tummy ache. He's really not a bit of trouble."

Ulysses shook his head, and his eyes darkened.

"It's not when they're babies, that our children are a trouble to us, Mrs. Gloria," he said. "They're a problem only when they cease to be children—when they grow up. Take the case of my Sally, for instance. Sally's just 18. Yesterday she was a child. Today she's a woman."

"I know. I've seen her around at parties," Gloria interrupted. "She's far and away the prettiest girl in town. Is she really 18? She looks like a child."

Ulysses nodded.

"She may look like a child," he said, "but she knows her way about as well as I do at 50. Better. She has the wisdom of the world at her fingers' ends, like all the rest of the flappers that are growing up around us. Threatens to elope with some young whipper-snapper or other, every couple of months. And showed me how to roll a cigaret with one hand the otherday! Proud of it, too!"

He groaned with a comical sort of despair as he turned to May.

"I'd like to have you meet Sally, Mrs. Seymour," he said to her.

"I know. I've seen her around at parties," she really a sweet little thing, but she's never had a woman to look after her. Mother died when she was born, you know."

Under cover of the table Gloria kicked May's foot. A smile played around the corners of her mouth.

"You ought to marry again, to give Sally a step-mother, Mr. Forgan," she said wickedly.

May felt herself blushing, for no reason at all, so far as she could see.

"I should love to meet Sally," she said, and just then Sally came up from behind her.

May knew she was Forgan's daughter the minute she glimpsed her. She had his sparkling brown eyes and straight, fine nose. But here the resemblance ended.

Sally's little mouth was a perfect cupid's bow, and it was painted a bright nasturtium red. Her cheeks were painted, too, and her thick eyelashes were beaded with mascara.

Under her white felt hat little wisps of curly blond hair gleamed, contrasting with her straight, black eyebrows. She was really beautiful in spite of her fussy clothes, and the heavy rings on her little hands. From her wrist dangled a gold vanity case and lipstick, and a cigaret case of scarlet enamel.

"Portrait of a Flapper," thought May as the girl greeted her father.

"Hello, dad," she was saying in the shrill, whining voice of a spoiled child. "I told you I'd meet you outside the restaurant—not in here!"

"Yes, dear, I know," her father replied patiently. "But I saw Mrs. Gregory and Mrs. Seymour in here, so I came in to say 'how do you do' to them."

Sally turned then, and looked May and Gloria over with frank curiosity. She had the candor of a child.

Ulysses rose. "Mrs. Seymour, Mrs. Gregory," he said, "my daughter, Sally."

"Oh, dad, please don't introduce me to people as if I were a child!" the girl whined when she had shaken hands. "Why can't you say, 'My daughter, Miss Forgan,' instead of 'My daughter, Sally'? I'm of age, you know!"

Ulysses laughed. "All right, all right," he promised. "Next time I'll remember."

He put his hand on her shoulder to guide her toward the next table, then leaned down and spoke to May. "Want to talk to you," he said shortly. "When may I?"

"After lunch?" May raised her eyebrows, questionably.

At this Sally clapped her hands. "Good for you, Mrs. Seymour!" she cried. "I'm having a crowd in for tea, and if you'll just keep the dad away from home this afternoon I'll love you forever! He crabs all my parties! He's so darned goody-goody."

"Never you mind, young woman," Ulysses grimly told her. "I'll be there on the spot when your friends come in for tea, same as I always am! Will you help me chaperon the party, Mrs. Seymour?"

BEAUTIFUL MAHARANCE KEEPS HER FACE HIDDEN

By United Press.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—Although she had been six months in London the veiled Maharance of Jodhpur is enroute back to India today without a single white man having seen her face. At the station where she took a special train for Dover her progress down the station platform was veiled from the curious by a corridor of screens erected by a small army of Indian servants that are a part of her retinue.

She is the wife of the immensely rich Maharajah of Jodhpur, and is reputed to be extraordinarily beautiful. The visit of the Maharajah of Jodhpur together with that of the still wealthier Maharajah of Patiala has been one of the outstanding events of the London social season.

TURKISH GOVERNMENT WILL REQUIRE SURNAMES

By United Press.

CONSTANTINOPLE.—Turkey today requires every school-child to have a surname.

Beginning with the present younger generation, the government aims to make the use of family names universal throughout the republic.

The Ministry of Education has issued a set of rules governing selections.

Nicknames may be adopted as surnames provided they do not signify anything insulting or immoral. It is recommended, however, that persons take the name of their most remote ancestor or any other purely Turkish name, on condition that such is not historically famous.

Non-Muslims are compelled to drop the American, Greek, Spanish, or other terminations hitherto distinguishing their national or racial identity.

No evidence of foreign origin is to be allowed in any surnames. If any non-Turkish surnames are unrecognizable in the Turkish language, new ones must be adopted.

APPLE CROP SMALLER THIS YEAR, BUT QUALITY BETTER

The per capita consumption of apples in the United States is now about half an apple a day, says the United States Department of Agriculture.

The total crop this year will reach 164,000,000 bushels compared with 179,000,000 bushels last year. The decrease in total production, how-
