YOUR doctor can tell you that you wouldn't live very long if you didn't get from the food you eat the health building element known as Dextrose. It is indispensable for health building.

This is why Karo is such a wonderful food for growing children: It contains a large percentage of Dextrose which helps to put back into their bodies the vigor and energy they spend in their strenuous work and play.

Ask your grocer for either Blue Label or Red Label Karo-both of equal nutrition.

YOU could not live long without Dextrose. The starch and sugar in all food you eat - bread, vegetables, potatoes-must be changed into Dextrose before your system can use it as an energy food.

By P. M. SARL, (United Press Staff Correspondent) LONDON, Oct. 11 .- Interest in the international race between Papyrus, the English Derby winner and Harry Sinclair's Zev, at Belmont Park, Oct. 20. has been aroused to an unusually high pitch since the British thouroughbred arrived in the United States and started training.

Up to the time Papyrus sailed on the Aquitania, British sportsmen were rather skeptical about the race, and now that it has been assured, the turf fans are, for the first time, paying some attention to American racing methods and general conditions.

Up to this time the English race followers had looked lightly upon the American turf and had rather disregarded its activities as being vastly inferior.
