RANGER SCHOOL MONEY MAY BE KEPT IN DALLAS

Southwest National Named for Depository if Proper Bond Is Made.

The Southwest National bank of Dallas will be the depository for the funds of the Ranger Independent school district, if a satisfactory agreement is reached between the board and bank on a bond.

E. H. Mills presented a resolution that the board accept the bank's offer to be depository at 2 per cent, providing the bond is satisfactory.

The Peoples State bank contract with the school district as depository expired Sept. 1, and the bank declined to continue to be the depository under the requirements of the law that requires the bank to give a $100,000 bond.

"To be frank with you," he said in answer to an inquiry by Mrs. Maddocks, "we don't care to be the depository and meet the bond."

M. H. Hagaman explained that the Southwest National bank of Dallas would provide conveniences, such as leaving enough funds in a Ranger bank for a checking account.

There was a difference of opinion as to whether a personal or surety bond is preferable. Mills said that the board would be less subject to criticism if the board took a surety bond.

"I don't think surety bonds are any safer than personal," Hagaman said. "Surety companies can fail as well as any banking institution. Surety companies have men behind them who lend their name to the institution."

School Board Is Concerned About Boys Playground

E. O. McNew, superintendent of schools, this morning brought to the attention of the board members of the Ranger Independent school district, who were all present except H. E. Clewell, that considerable timber had been piled on ground used by the boys attending the Central Ward school in playing baseball and basketball, so that play has been interfered with.

It was said that some of the ground, which is between the city fire engine building on Elm and South Marston street, is owned by the city and that part nearest Marston by the school district.

McNew was instructed by the board to inquire about the ownership of the timber and to see if the ground cannot be cleared and used as a playground as formerly.

The board, following the suggestion of M. H. Hagaman, ordered a note, amounting to $3,093, owed to the state banking department, paid at once. It is not due until Dec. 8, but the members have enough money on hand to pay the note and save the interest between date of payment and Dec. 8.

C. Q. Rogers, of the Rogers Electric shop, presented figures on the cost of installing an electric lighting plant and system in the new Merriam school building. His figures for the plant, wiring and fixtures aggregated $835. On the motion by Mrs. J. F. Dreinhofer, after Rogers withdrew from the meeting room, the board agreed to let the contract to him. The contracting firm which built the school building, will put up the building for the electric plant.

Insurance policies on the Teachers' dormitory owned by the school district, and the Central Ward building and fixtures, have expired, H. S. Cole reported.

On a motion by Hagaman, the Central Ward building insurance was reduced from $8,000 to $4,000 and the furniture insured for $2,000.

The Teachers' building, which is located on the west end of Elm street, was insured for $4,500 and the furniture for $1,500.

"Gifts of Gold" Paved Way to Electing Walton, Says Witness

HOUSE GETTING READY TO VOTE IMPEACHMENT

Four Interesting Addresses at Chamber of Commerce Breakfast.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 23.—"Gifts of gold" paved the way of J. C. Walton to the governor's chair, according to testimony given by Dr. E. T. Bynum, former banking commissioner of Oklahoma and adviser to the governor, testifying before the house impeachment committee today.

C. J. Wrightsman, Tulsa oil man and chairman of the board of regents of the University of Oklahoma, contributed $12,000 to the primary campaign fund of Governor Walton and gave $6,000 at another time, according to the testimony of Dr. Bynum.

A possibility that all the evidence might not be read and that balloting would be started late today or tonight was indicated by house leaders, who were taking additional testimony early this afternoon.

Balloting upon the first of the impeachment charges brought against Governor J. C. Walton will not start until late today, anti-Walton leaders indicated. Reading of the testimony collected by the Disney-Tolbert house investigating committee will consume the greater part of the day's session, which opened at 9 o'clock this morning, Disney said.

Considerable time is expected to be taken in balloting, since each charge will be voted on separately, Thomas Wren of Okfuskee county declared.

Suspension of the governor from office pending disposal of the charges filed in the senate from the house will become effective with formal notification of the executive that charges have been filed, Wren said. In the event Walton is suspended, Lieutenant Governor M. E. Trapp will act as governor pending disposal of the charges, it was indicated.

When Bynum balked Bynum told the investigating committee that he ascribed his removal from office to his refusal to appoint an unqualified man as assistant banking commissioner, according to his testimony.

He testified that a man named "Baugh" came to his office with a note from the governor, saying that he wanted this man made assistant commissioner. "Baugh" declared that he didn't intend to work, but he was to be on the payroll and was to use his influence for the governor.

Bynum told of the numerous campaigns for financial support both before and after his election. Witness said he had represented the governor on several missions. Among the funds raised were for primary campaigns, general elections, barbecues and anti-Ku Klux Klan campaigns.

FEDERAL PRISONS ARE BECOMING OVER-CROWDED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—The rapid increase in the number of federal prisoners has created an urgent necessity for additional housing space in federal penal institutions, Superintendent of Prisons Votaw reported today to Attorney General Daugherty.

Congress will be urged at the coming session, Votaw said, to authorize reformatories for first term prisoners and for all women prisoners. Congress will be asked also to provide certain industrial work that prisoners may aid in their own upkeep as well as that of their dependents.

BIG RAILWAY LINES FIGHT WOMAN

Miss Helen Schultz, w.a.

Four powerful railways, backed by many millions, are allied in a fight on pretty Miss Helen Schultz, 24-year-old woman, residing at Mason City, Ia. Miss Schultz seeks a permit to operate automobile omnibus lines out of Mason City. She already operates 24 such lines and wishes this permit extended. The roads are fighting her before the state railroad commission on the grounds that her lines hurt their business.

Problems of An Editor Are Told In The Century

There is some comfort for the beginner in literature in the reminiscences of L. Frank Tooker, for 38 years one of the editors of the Century magazine. They are now running serially in the magazine.

"The Century early gained the reputation of being peculiarly hospitable to unknown writers and of having been happy in its discoveries," he writes in the November issue, in the course of an article that discusses with charming candor an editor's problem. "The tradition," he states, "is still cherished in its editorial rooms."

"Dry rot," Mr. Tooker continues, "will surely come to the magazine that is edited by its check-book or that pays too great a heed to the writers who have gained their reputation elsewhere. To be known as hospitable to newcomers and to have a keen eye for unpublished talent are still great assets of success."

The editor's references to the piles of manuscripts through which he has labored are especially interesting. "Year after year," he reports with just a tinge of weariness, "I read nearly every manuscript that came to the office, and sifted the wheat from the chaff."

"I early came to know all the traps that authors who suspect that their offerings are not read set to catch unwary editors and at first took a boyish delight in placing my mark upon the discovered devices, ringing with a blue pencil the bits of paste that had held the edges of two pages together, or lightly pasting down the threads that would be found between other pages.

STATE RANGER RETURNS WHISKY TO SHERIFF

MARLIN, Oct. 23.—After checking the liquor confiscated in the recent raids, and stored in the Marlin jail, Ranger Sergeant Wheatley, in charge of the raid, in which Sheriff C. O. Moore of Falls county was arrested on charges of selling whisky, turned the entire stock back to the custody of the sheriff. Wheatley said that the rangers had no evidence that liquor was missing.

RANGER WOMEN TELL OF THEIR WORK IN CITY

Members Listen to Evidence Obtained by Committee, but May Not Wait for All.

Mrs. John Thurman, Mrs. J. F. Dreinhofer, Miss Nixon, public health nurse, and Mrs. M. H. Hagaman spoke this morning at the breakfast of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce at the McCleskey hotel. Each speaker took for their subject, the work they are vitally interested in and talked extemporaneously.

Mrs. Dreinhofer told of the effect of music upon child's play, studies and general progress in life. The Parent-Teachers association is fostering music in the school and home, she said.

Mrs. Thurman briefly outlined the work the Child Welfare club has done and wishes to do. She said that $800 had been expended for milk for school children. The club has the support of civic, luncheon and fraternal organizations of the city, she said.

Miss Nixon told of the results of health examinations of school children, the conditions she has found in personal investigations made, and the work that must be done to insure healthy red-blooded children.

Mrs. Hagaman related the accomplishments of the 1920 club the past 10 months and gave the breakfast guests an idea of future plans. R. H. Bush, county agent, will be invited to be present at the next breakfast to give a talk on tree and bush plantings.

Highwaymen Kill Man and Woman In St. Louis Dance Hall

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 23.—Mr. and Mrs. Richard Grant of Chicago were shot and killed in a dance hall in the western part of the city today and Wilfred Stalmaker, their chauffeur, was wounded seriously. The police were told the shooting was done by highwaymen. Grant was shot six times and his wife twice.

The dance hall is in the rear of an inn, the proprietor and two employees of which told the police that three armed youths had held them up, then had taken about $50 from the cash register and then had gone into the dance hall. No effort was made to rob Grant or his chauffeur.

UNDERWOOD TO SPEAK IN WICHITA FALLS TOMORROW

WICHITA FALLS, Oct. 23.—United States Senator Oscar Underwood of Alabama is due to arrive here tomorrow for the first of several addresses he will make in Texas.

Following his address here tomorrow night, he will be the guest of honor at a dinner by local admirers.

SIMMONS SAYS KLAN ALSO FOR UNIFICATION

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 23.—Appreciation of the plan advocated by David Lloyd George for the harmonizing and unifying of Great Britain and the United States in purpose and ideals, is expressed in a telegram received by the former British premier, signed by William Joseph Simmons. His telegram said: "The order of which I have the honor of being the founder and responsible to and composed of millions of native born, white Protestant citizens, has for part of its program the unification of the two English speaking peoples of the world."

AUSTIN.—Texas had 607,723 motor vehicles registered an Aug. 31 of this year, according to figures on file at the state highway department. This is 131,051 more than on the same date last year. It is now believed the year's total registration will be more than 675,000.

German Separatists Extending Sway But Without Bloodshed

Will Include Both Sides of Rhine For Long Distance In New States and May Reach to Cologne. British Will Preserve Neutral Attitude.

By The United Press. BRUSSELS, Oct. 23.—Messages from Dueren today forecast that the boundaries of the separatist states will include all German territory on the left bank of the Rhine and an area extending 33 miles on the right bank from Baden to Trier.

The Rhineland republic continues to extend its sway with little bloodshed. Aix La Capelle is quiet, but a crisis is believed impending. The capture of Bonn is expected at any time. The separatists are declaring openly they will carry out their scheduled major movement today.

Dispatches received here from Aix-La-Chapelle report the separatist troops occupying Vichen, a railroad town northwest of Duesseldorf. After proclaiming a republic there, the separatists marched to and occupied Crefeld.

Conflicts have been reported close to Aix-La-Chapelle between separatists and the police, but no details have been received. One manufacturer's district is reported safe.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—If the German separatist movement extends to Cologne, where the British Rhineland army of occupation is stationed, Great Britain will preserve its attitude of neutrality, but will take measures to maintain order, prevent bloodshed and insure maintenance of governmental recognition.

A telegram from Aix-La-Chapelle to the London News this morning says the police there have succeeded in expelling the republicans from the town and have regained mastery of the situation.

BERLIN, Oct. 23.—The colors of the Rhineland republic were hoisted during the night at Weisbaden on the government building by followers of Dr. Dorken, leader of the Rhineland republic movement, whose home is in Weisbaden, the police there being disarmed and locked in their barracks.

A crowd gathered in front of the government buildings and was fired on by the separatists, 10 of them being wounded. A general strike has been proclaimed by the trades union.

The separatists have also taken possession of the government building at Bonn. Disorders which started this morning in Hamburg were being continued this afternoon. Popular discontent with food prices started the trouble. The police were reinforced and recaptured the station, but food shops in the city were plundered.

GREK GOVERNMENT CLAIMS REVOLTERS ARE DEFEATED

ATHENS, Oct. 23.—Two battalions of troops revolted against the Greek provincial government, surrounding Macedonia, but were forced to surrender, a government communication said today. Other revolters at Scutari, 50 miles from Athens, also were dispersed, it was announced.

The main forces of the insurrectionists are said by the government to be at Corinth under General Leonaropolis. A train in East Macedonia transferring troops to Salonica was bombed by the revolters from an airplane and 30 soldiers injured, the government said.

FORD-FOR PRESIDENT CLUBS ARE CALLED TO MEET IN DEARBORN

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 23.—A call for a national organization conference of all Ford-for-President clubs, to be held at Dearborn, the home of Henry Ford, Dec. 12, 13 and 14, was decided upon by several Ford clubs meeting here last night.

Formation of a new national political party with Henry Ford as standard bearer will be undertaken at the conference. The conference will probably name a place and date for holding the convention next spring.

COMMUNISTS AND POLICE IN CLASH AT HAMBURG

BERLIN, Oct. 23.—Fourteen were killed and 100 wounded in Hamburg today in a clash between communists and the police, late dispatches from there said. The communists were reported headed by women. They stormed the police station and tried to obtain control of the city. They were successful in places at first, but gradually were repelled as the fighting continued.

The arrival of torpedo boats from Kiel was expected to give the police the support they needed to put down the disorder.

FORT WORTH.—Druggists who violate the prohibition or narcotic law will forfeit their pharmacist license, it was announced by the state board of pharmacy which met here. Co-operation with state and federal officials in enforcing these laws was urged by the board.

ANTICIPATED FORECASTS BLOODSHED IN EUROPE. GENEVA, Oct. 23.—The "blood of the Burgundians" has appeared again on the water of Lake Morat, near Neuchatel, portending more trouble for old Europe, if ancient legend is to be believed. The reddening of the water of this lake is caused by the flowering of an aquatic plant, which, however, blooms very rarely. The phenomenon was seen in 1476, when 36,000 Burgundians under Charles the Bold were defeated near the lake by the Swiss. The last time the waters were red was in 1914, just before the outbreak of the world war, a circumstance said to justify the old saying, "When blood is seen on Lake Morat there will be bloodshed in Europe."

GREEKS TEARING EACH OTHER IN CIVIL STRIFE

Revolt and Counter Insurgent Classes Disturb Hellenic Land.

ATHENS, Oct. 23.—Colonel Plastiras, leader of the revolutionary party (the government), today issued a statement that General Mataxas is the instigator of the counter revolt that started yesterday.

The insurgents were dispersed, according to Plastiras. The government, in imposing martial law, apparently had crushed the revolt, he said.

Two revolutionary battalions are reported still holding out at Mauplai and Corinth.

BIBLE THOUGHT.
GUARD THE TONGUE.—Keep thy tongue from evil, and thy lips from speaking guile. Depart from evil, and do good; seek peace, and pursue it.—Psalm 34: 13, 14.

WHAT TO DO ABOUT IT?
 Little pictures of half a dozen prohibition law-breakers, and their separate operations are held up to us as a challenge for a remedy. The remedy is clear, though the writer would probably turn back instead of forward for his answer. "Charley," a ne'er-do-well until he was made a dry agent with power to take "ill-gotten" gains from bootleggers unless they came across handsomely; an ex-soldier, with a "charming" wife who was glad he was in the business of operating three trucks, with the help of six ex-soldiers, on rum-running trips to and from Canada; the Italian "Marco" who though he was justified in making wine because "Our blessed Lord" made it at Cana and that only fools got drunk; an old salt of 65 who had always had his grog and thought those who took it away from him were hypocrites; and an old farmer who made apple whisky and supplied it to a mounted police officer who patronized instead of arresting him, are the types played up in this article.

With the exception of the ex-soldier, a beer-drinker, who "developed a restless and unhappy disposition after the war," and could not get his former job back, and possibly "Charlie" "of the sullied soul," the characters in this story represent the ignorance about the nature of the present increasing knowledge of them, Marco, the Italian, who shared a tenement up five flights with two brothers, a wife and four children would probably resent any attempt of the health authorities to enforce regulations in regard to air space as angrily as he resents interference with his home-made wine trade.

What the World Is Doing

AS SEEN BY POPULAR MECHANICS MAGAZINE

Pound of Sugar Costs More Than Some Jewels

Sugars that cost from $75 to $375 per pound, because of the excessive care required to make them, are used in scientific laboratories. One is useful in detecting typhoid germs, as these tiny organisms multiply rapidly when feeding on it. A sugar, made from corn cobs, brings $120 per pound, while another, manufactured from scraps left over in making vegetable butters, sells for $140.

Sir Walter Raleigh's First Pipe Shown in London

Sir Walter Raleigh's first pipe with which he is believed to have introduced tobacco smoking in England, has recently been found in London. Made by American Indians, and decorated with carved heads of people and animals, it is said that he smoked it on the eve of his execution.

In the three centuries that have elapsed since, the spread of the habit has covered the civilized world. In the United States, a million and a half acres of land are given over to cultivation of many varieties of the plant, producing an annual yield far above a billion pounds, with a value of over $250,000,000.

Soviet Picture Cars Draw Interest of Peasants

By sending trains of picture cars into the rural districts, the Russian government is attempting to educate in the principles of communism more than 100,000,000 people who, heretofore, have shown little or no interest in politics. Painted on the sides of the railroad cars by the nation's most skilled artists, are propaganda and educational designs illustrating the communist doctrines. In trying to "sell" this form of government to the peasants, the Soviets probably have become the world's largest advertisers.

Fifteen Years Added to Span of Life in Past Fifty

Figures have been compiled showing that the average length of life for inhabitants of the United States has increased almost 15 years in the past 53. In 1870, the average was 41 years, while now it is almost 56. By 1950, the span will have reached the biblical threescore and ten, provided the present high standards of civilization and correct living are maintained, a scientist has predicted. In the 16th century the ordinary term of life was between 18 and 20 years, and about 1800, it was still less than 25 years. At the end of the 19th century, it ranged between 45 and 48 years.

Poultry Feeder and Rat Trap

A combination rat trap-and-dry-mash feeder is a rather novel addition to the poultry house. The feeder is a long box, 1 ft. high and 1 ft. wide, with a sloped and slatted top, through which the hens put their heads to eat during the day. To convert this into a rat trap, a 4-in. hole was bored in the end of the hopper, a short length of 4-in. stovepipe fastened in the hole, and a bag tied over the other end of the pipe and spread out on the ground. A heavy board cover was hinged to the feed box; this was kept open by means of a hook during the day, but the hook was released, and a small prop with a string attached to it used at night. The string led away to a distant window so that the poultryman could pull it without entering the poultry house and disturbing the rats. A yank at the string let the cover drop and trapped the rats inside. Then, by beating on the cover with a stick, the rats were made to run through the hole, down the pipe, and into the bag, where few blows killed them. As long as the hens ate from the feeder the rats never seemed suspicious.

When examining the storage battery of a car to see if any water is needed, do not simply test one cell; examine them all. One of the cells may be cracked, and will require water often than the others. A good idea is to examine a storage battery once every two weeks. In adding distilled water to the battery, always bring the level of the electrolyte 1/2 in. above the top of the plates.

ELECTRIC CLEANER PROPERLY CARED FOR WILL LAST LONG TIME

In every well organized household the electric cleaner has its own proper place. Sometimes that place is in the pantry, or some obscure corner or closet, but often this delicate piece of machinery—all machinery is more or less delicate—is stored in a place which is not chosen with sufficient care. In truth, as much care should be exercised in the selection of the electric cleaner's storage place as in the grouping of the living room furniture. With this difference, of course, the furniture is grouped for artistic purposes while the space where the vacuum cleaner is to repose should be selected for its temperature.

It should be dry—not too hot or too cold—because both temperatures are equally injurious. To much heat tends to dry the oil in the bearings of the electric motor while very cold or freezing temperature tends to contract the metal. This results in subjecting the mechanism to undue strain when set in motion from a cold start. Oiling is very important. Use only the best. Oil your cleaner according to the instructions in the manufacturer's booklet. Remember the motor and fan revolve at a speed of about a thousand revolutions a minute in order to create adequate suction, and when the bearings are dry the intense heat resulting from friction reduces the efficiency of the best machine. Do not strain the cord of the vacuum cleaner when it is in operation. Do not leave cleaner running when it is not in use. Be careful not to bang cleaner against walls and furniture because such treatment is not good for any kind of mechanism. When the door or telephone bell calls you away switch off the cleaner and put the handle down gently. Empty the dust bag each time after using the cleaner. Do not put it away thinking that you will do this before you start work the next time. The dust bag is so woven that it permits the air drawn into the cleaner by the operation of the fan to escape, but the dust remains in the bag. In other words, it is a sieve and in order to function correctly it must be kept clean. Turn the bag inside out and brush and clean it thoroughly and once in a while wash it. Otherwise, passage of air through the bag is retarded, with consequent slowing of the cleaning process. If these directions are followed carefully the life of the cleaner will be materially lengthened.

BIRMINGHAM'S AXE-MAN HAS RECORD OF 20 MURDERS
 By Associated Press
 BIRMINGHAM, Oct. 23.—Birmingham's axe murder record reached the total of 20 today when Mrs. Frank Romeo died from wounds inflicted last night in the store of Bernard Vigilant, her son-in-law. Mrs. Vigilant was probably fatally wounded.

The assailant used a meat cleaver. Fifty dollars in cash was taken from the cash register. Jim Taylor, negro, is being held for examination.

Bailey Brings on Sharp Retort By Presiding Judge

By United Press
 FORT WORTH, Oct. 23.—Heated exchanges occurred today between Federal Judge Killits and Joseph Weldon Bailey, former United States senator from Texas and now chief counsel for Dr. Frederick Cook, charged with misuse of the mails in connection with the sale of alleged worthless oil stock. A remark by Bailey that "the government is the only one that ever made anything out of this oil business" aroused the ire of Judge Killits, who added, "and the lawyers." Bailey retorted that the court was not respectful to him. "I do not withdraw the words and I will have to ask that you face me and not the jury when you address this court," said Judge Killits.

MEN ON SCHOOL BOARD WANT NIGHT SESSIONS BUT WOMEN DO NOT

"I'm in favor of night sessions," said E. H. Mills, member of the board of trustees of the Ranger Independent school district, this morning as he took out his watch and looked at the time. It was then 11 o'clock and the board had been in session almost two hours. "These day sessions take too much of your time." "Yes," laughed M. H. Hagaman, "we could make money while we discuss things." Several of the members took out their watches and began shifting in

 "No," said Mrs. Maddocks, "I don't think we need to." That ended further discussion.

Ranger Hi Still in Race District Championship Honors

By HOWARD BARMAN. Ranger Hi is not out of the running in section three of the University of Texas interscholastic football league.

Coach Sandlin, who was in Dallas Saturday, conferred with Roy B. Henderson, head of the league, and an understanding on the Strawn game was reached.

It amounts to this: Ranger is a contender still for championship honors of section three; the Strawn defeat does not affect the sectional standing; temporarily Ranger is out of the race for state honors.

UNDEFEATED IN HER SECTION. Henderson made it clear that a high school is in the running so long as it remains undefeated in her section.

This will not be comforting news for the jealous ones who were so solicitous as to send newspaper clippings and letters to Austin on the Strawn-Ranger game.

A news writer for a newspaper in a neighboring city, not being fully informed on the rules of the league, said his city and Abilene were the only undefeated teams in this section.

The facts on the Strawn game are these: Neither school exchanged eligibility lists before the game, which is contrary to a purely interscholastic game.

Coach Sandlin told Henderson that neither he nor J. W. Overall, principal of the high school were in possession of the latest book of rules containing the provision prohibiting "practice games" between teams of different sections.

Coach Sandlin at the suggestion of Henderson is sending in the names of several players who were ineligible to play in the Strawn game. This procedure will automatically cancel the Strawn game.

Scientists Trying To Develop Line of Mule Descendants

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 23.—That strange, childless animal, called the mule which through the ages has borne a large share of the world's work without a whisper, since it can neither neigh nor bray, finally has joined the charmed circle of motherhood, if the diagnosis of professors of animal husbandry at Texas A. & M. college here is correct.

The mule is a hybrid quadruped hitherto considered sterile. Scientists of the college here were, therefore, skeptical two years ago when L. T. Branham of Montalba, Texas, reported that a mule on his farm had produced a colt.

Professor W. L. Stangel of the animal husbandry department of this college offered to co-operate with the owner of the mule in proving her claim to progeny. The animal was brought here and mated with a stallion. The result is a fine colt with the general appearance of a horse but bearing the unmistakable marks of his animal ancestors—the long, sharp ears.

There is no official record of the mother mule's ancestry, but by every test that the animal husbandry experts can apply she is a mule. The college will attempt to purchase the mule in order to continue experiments.

There is apparently no record of a parallel case. Scientists who have discredited such reports in the past have held to the belief that the mother was not a hybrid but a horse with mule characteristics.

Dr. Mark Francis, dean of veterinary medicine, places credence in the claim, however, basing his conclusions on the theory that the horse, the zebra, and similar animals all have the same origin, coming from the native horse of North America. This horse, he says, migrated to Africa and became the zebra, to Central America and there became the Mongolian horse.

Crafty Business Brains Seldom Held By Ring Fighters

By HENRY L. FARRELL, United Press Sports Editor. NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Johnny Dundee, world's featherweight champion, has taken unto himself a manager.

Several years ago Dundee cut away from Scotty Monteith, the clever manager, who had brought out and made one of the greatest little fighters in the ring. Like many other boxers do, Dundee got to the point where he thought it was an unnecessary expense to have a manager cutting in on 25 per cent of his earnings and, believing that he could handle his own affairs, Dundee dismissed his manager.

Now that his earning capacity has been doubled or trebled with the possession of a world's championship, Dundee's action in signing up Jimmy Johnston, a high-priced manager, to do his business for him, is an obvious admission that he found himself unfit to do both the fighting and the handling of his business.

It has long been debated whether managers are an influence for good or bad with a boxer. There are examples to support both sides of the argument, but there are vastly more boxers who have succeeded with managers than those who have gone it alone to the top.

Johnny Kilbane, former world's featherweight champion, was perhaps the most prominent example of a boxer who succeeded in handling his own affairs. No boxer in the history of the game got more out of the investment of such little time and labor as Kilbane did, but his was a very unusual case.

Kilbane cut away from Jimmy Dunn and he remarked when he retired from the ring, that he thought Dunn was the greatest developer and trainer of boxers in the business, but he had too much on his hands to give the proper attention to the business end of the game.

Jack Dempsey certainly would not have gone as far in the heavyweight division if he had not been guided by Jack Kearns, the greatest of all managers. Dempsey had the natural ability to reach the heavyweight championship without much guidance, but he certainly would not have commanded the fee for his services that Kearns was able to get for him.

Benny Leonard might have become the lightweight champion with some manager other than Billy Gibson, but it is very doubtful. Leonard is gracious enough to give Gibson the full credit for his rise to the top.

Jack Britton owed much to Dan Morgan for bringing to him the world's welterweight championship and a fortune that has made him carefree for the rest of his days.

Georges Carpentier never would have made his fortune or gained the fame that he earned with a manager less shrewd and canny than Francois Descamps.

HENRY T. ALLEN MAY BE COOLIDGE'S MATE

His recent visits to the White House, followed by his defense of the president in answer to Gov. Gifford Pinchot's attack on the wet question, has caused the friends of former Gov. Henry T. Allen, of Kansas, to predict that he will be the vice presidential nominee if Mr. Coolidge wins the republican nomination for the presidency.

Four Years Ago In Ranger

Taken from the files of the Ranger Daily Times, Oct. 23, 1919: On their way to New York city, by a somewhat devious route, by way of Tulsa and Topeka, and Des Moines and Kansas City and Chicago, Lieutenants Bill Hahnel and Bob Kennedy are carrying the aerial message of the Texas oil fields to the folks of Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and New York.

The Lone Star theatre, located on Austin street, between Main and Pine streets, will be ready for its initial performance Saturday with a first-run Paramount feature. The Lone Star theatre building and the adjoining building belongs to Lt. Col. Harry A. Cole and his brother, Major H. S. Cole of Dallas.

MOSCOW GIRLS PINE FOR REAL U. S. A. DANCES. MOSCOW, Oct. 23.—A score or so of charming Moscow girls, taught to one-step and fox-trot by the men of the American Relief commission, during their stay in Russia, are waiting with longing hearts and itching toes for someone to come back and dance real U. S. A. with them again.

The A. R. A. personnel houses frequently gave dances, and the Russian girl employees learned to like jazz better than their own waltzes, one-steps and fox-trots. There are one or two cafes in Moscow where a sort of syncope is played nightly, but the dancing by the public does not begin until 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning. These places, too, are expensive and beyond the purses of the former A. R. A. girls, many of whom are now without jobs.

Aided by phonographs and American dance records, some of these sad young women have been trying to teach Russian men to dance in the American manner, but the girls say they put too much heel clicking and leaping about into the measures, and try to turn a fox trot into a ballet.

ALL NIGHT CAFE LIFE PROSPERS IN BERLIN, DESPITE THE POLICE

BERLIN, Oct. 23.—Since reformers started out recently to put an end to all night cafe life of Berlin, ingenious bootleggers have conceived all sorts of schemes to outwit the police. Despite the regulations, all-night cafes have been exceedingly popular here, and bring in handsome profits for their managers.

Clandestine cabarets and drinking places have been springing up like mushrooms, chiefly for the benefit of profiteers and their friends who usually do not feel like going to their homes when ousted by the police at midnight from the downtown licensed cafes. The bootlegging joints are easily found. To the late diners in the regulation cafes, the addresses of the secret resorts usually come unsolicited in whispers from the waiters. Many of these waiters have an interest in the illicit places, or else receive fees regularly for their "good will."

Six weeks ago Karl Schlesinger, a banker, left his apartment in a fashionable part of Berlin and started on a long planned vacation with his family in an automobile. When he returned a policeman answered the door bell instead of the butler. Schlesinger's supply of champagne, Rhine wines, liquors and cigars were gone, and his butler and servants were in jail accused of having operated a full fledged all night resort.

FEW UNEMPLOYED LABORERS ARE FOUND IN RANGER

Few men are looking for common labor jobs in Ranger, although a large number of men are reported to be looking for work.

The Lone Star Gas company advertised for 100 men late last week and on the following day only 12 appeared ready to work. Several others inquired about the nature of the work, but not finding it the kind they wanted, did not care to be placed on the payroll.

The Lone Star is rushing construction work on its three plants, two, four and six miles west of Ranger and is in need of men to get the work completed by Nov. 15.

"WOLF OF WALL STREET" BACK IN PRISON

Father's Day Suggests New Idea to Himself Which He Offers on Commission; Heard on the Side.

By P. G. T.

Last Sunday we celebrated Father's day, which is a very nice idea that goes hand in hand with Mother's day. The chief emblems of celebration of these different days seems to be the wearing of different kinds and colors of flowers.

Wouldn't it be a clever idea to have every day a celebration in honor of something or some one. The figuring out of some kind of a day for 365 days a year would be very simple.

Then every one could wear a flower or flowers every day. This would be a very pretty idea to have every one decorated like the first of May the year round and florist shops would have a pretty good business.

Babies' day would probably be most celebrated by political candidates, each wearing a flower for every baby he had known, assuming he knew every one he had kissed while running for office.

After going to the trouble of mentioning this idea, we expect it, at least, to be taken up by the florists at their next convention. This idea ought to be worth something to them and naturally we'd expect a commission on every sale of flowers made on these days with the exception of Mother's and Father's day, which, of course, were invented before.

Doc Wilson succeeded in trying to get-in to Wade's cafe last night and then tried to give his order to one of a half a dozen waiters and cooks who were not doing anything except carrying dishes to and from, cleaning up vacant places and passing out the jewelry, salt, pepper, and so forth.

After making himself heard he announced that he was hungry. Chick Fair asked, all interested:

"Say, Doc, are you a Lion?" "No," responds the medico, indignantly, "I'm not a lynx, I'm tellin' the truth."

Then Chick goes on to explain that he wasn't looking for a battle, only wanted some dope on this Lion's dance, entertainment and so forth that's coming up shortly.

Testimonial letters you never see in print:

Dear Sir: Your "Kicko" toothpaste is the most satisfactory either my wife or myself have ever had the pleasure of using. As you say in your advertisement, it has a wonderful chocolate flavor and is 85 percent alcohol. This is a great inducement for its users to use it three times a day and possibly more. It forms a fine chocolate colored film over the teeth which has a truly artistic color and leaves a nice chocolate flavor in the mouth and alcohol scent on the breath.

Of late my wife and I have discovered a new method of using it. We make chocolate milks with it which we drink before each meal. This does away with the necessity of using a tooth brush and produces the same result or more so.

Despite the virtues of this wonderful preparation we have found it necessary to discontinue the using of it. Our little son, Philbert, has started to use "Kicko" on his bread instead of jam and we don't wish to encourage it.

Sincerely,
M. PISTACHIO.

GENTLEMAN BURGLAR TO FACE TOUGHER GOING IN SKYSCRAPERS

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—The gentleman burglar who operates only in offices located in skyscrapers will have a much harder row to hoe in the future as the result of a real two-fisted plan just inaugurated by the National Association of Building Owners and Managers.

Photographs, descriptions of dress, peculiarities and, in the case of known burglars, measurements, of these men who are known or suspected of belonging to the gang of skyscraper burglars, will be sent to every elevator starter and every doorman of every large building in the United States whenever an epidemic of such burglaries presents itself, according to the announcement at the headquarters of the association today.

The officials of the association are confident that an organized gang of highly talented crooks operate in skyscrapers. They give as the reason for this belief that the skyscraper burglaries come in epidemic form, the latest being prevalent in San Francisco. The system used in the Golden Gate city is precisely the same used in the east, south and middle western cities at various times during the past two years.

The method used, the officers say, is for some well dressed and well educated member of the gang to work his way into the good graces of some high social set. He gains the confidence of numerous men of affairs and learns the probable location of the money or securities in these men's offices. He then learns the time when the securities will probably be in the office, and the job is put through in accordance with this information.

AT THE LAMB TODAY

The tremendous devotion to duty of the United States postoffice employee, which forms the motif in "Loyal Lives," coming to the Lamb theatre today and Wednesday is illustrated by the conduct of mail clerks during the recent burning of the Broad street railroad station at Philadelphia.

Postal employees there rendered heroic service in removing 2,000 pieces of parcel post matter and nearly 1,000 bags of first class mail from the burning train shed of the Pennsylvania railroad. According to Postmaster Kemp, not a letter was lost in the fire.

Fifty-two men were engaged in taking out mail sacks and transporting them to other postal stations in the city. Within a few hours after the fire had broken out—the flames raged for more than 20 hours—practically all of the mail had been taken away. A thorough search of the train shed and the cars that were trapped in the blaze, according to William Leutwyler, clerk in charge of the railway mails at the Philadelphia terminal, disclosed no loss.

Three hundred sacks of mail were endangered in a room on the Market street side of the station when the fire started. Several hundred more were in a Boston mail car in the shed.

Under the direction of Postmaster Kemp and George Baker, superintendent of the railway mail service, these bags were removed, while postal employees, police and sailors who volunteered for duty, plunged through the smoke and blazing embers to get them.

"Many of the postoffice men were called from their beds to extra duty," Postmaster Kemp said. "All of them dashed into the smoke and flames, regardless of personal danger and carried out the mail matter until they were exhausted. It was a splendid example of devotion to duty."

"Loyal Lives," a Whitman Bennett production distributed by Vitagraph, is a melodramatic story of the life of a typical postoffice employee. It is filled with thrills, humor and pathos. The picture has been endorsed by postoffice officials as a great tribute to the mail service.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush Your Kidneys Occasionally by Drinking Quarts of Good Water.

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Too much rich food creates acids which clog the kidney pores so that they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood. Then you get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage, or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin to drink soft water in quantities; also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone can take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby often preventing serious kidney complications. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year. —Advertisement.

FIRE DEPARTMENT OFTEN RECEIVES "FREAK CALLS"

HOUSTON, Oct. 23.—Daily entries are being made in the Houston fire department's book of "freak calls." Among the recent one are:

"I want you to chase some pigeons out of my attic," a woman told firemen who made a hurry call to her suburban home.

At another address a housekeeper was fighting bedbugs with a torch. A nervous woman pulled the fire alarm.

Mosquitoes caused insomnia in a rooming house. A roomer built a fire on the floor to smoke 'em out. Firemen saved part of the furniture.

ST. MARY'S GUILD MEETS AT HOME OF MRS. TAYLOR. St. Mary's guild was delightfully entertained on Monday at the home of Mrs. Earl Taylor with Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Speed joint hostesses. Plans were made for the union missionary meeting of Oct. 29 which will be held at the Methodist church.

Letters were read from Miss Frances S. Merriman who gave the handsome Bible to the church recently. Mrs. Karl Jones and Mrs. P. E. Nicol were appointed standard bearers for the pageant. The next regular meeting will be held Nov. 12 in Eastland with Mrs. George K. Taggart. An interesting contest was started among the members, the guild being divided into two groups with Mrs. Crawford and Mrs. Karl Jones captains. Following the business session delicious refreshments were served. Those attending were: Mmes. S. A. White, H. A. Logsdon, E. E. Crawford, Roy Speed, Earl Taylor, J. B. Haden, Karl Jones, C. G. Norton, G. D. Chastain, and W. H. Bruns.

MRS. JAMESON HOSTESS TO AD LIBITUM CLUB. One of the prettiest parties of the season was that given by Mrs. D. L. Jameson last week in honor of the Ad Libitum club and a number of other guests. The house was beautifully decorated with Halloween symbols, which appeared in elaborate covering for the lamp in center of the dining table, and also around electric lights and window draperies. There were four tables of bridge, and the afternoon passed merrily for all present. High club prize was won by Mrs. W. C. Palmer, and high guest by Mrs. Roy Jackson, both ladies being presented with a pair of handsome pillow cases.

Cost prize, a pretty bath towel and wash cloth, went to Mrs. J. B. Haden. Following the game scaterable and delicious refreshments were served, and each guest was presented with a Halloween favor. Those present were: Mmes. Earl Taylor, Lytton R. Taylor, H. A. Logsdon, Walter Murray, Harry Pearson, Walter West, C. G. Norton, John Thurman, S. P. Boon, Roy Jameson, Lorraine Mitchell, J. H. Moyer, W. C. Palmer, J. B. Haden, T. J. Holmesley, and Shirley Marston.

WOMEN NEED SWAMP-ROOT. Thousands of women have kidney and bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased. Pain in the back, headache, loss of ambition, nervousness, are often times symptoms of kidney trouble. Don't delay starting treatment. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription, obtained at any drug store, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Get a medium or large size bottle immediately from any drug store.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Advertisement.

Dave Bancroft, shortstop for the New York Giants, writes: 'I have used FERRASOL for a year with splendid results. During the playing season, whenever I was troubled with indigestion, I took FERRASOL and it kept me in fine condition all year. I have given FERRASOL to friends with the same splendid results. DAVE T. BANCROFT, Care New York Giants.' Dave Bancroft has been benefited by FERRASOL and recommends it from actual experience. 90% of our health troubles begin with indigestion. The real cause is excess acid. FERRASOL gets at the source of the trouble by neutralizing the excess acid and expelling it from the system. It also aids digestion, keeps the alimentary tract clean and deodorized and the kidneys regular. FERRASOL is not a purgative. It is a mild laxative and absolutely harmless. TAKE FERRASOL REGULARLY NIGHT AND MORNING FOR A MONTH. It will sweeten your breath, clear your skin and improve your general health or your money refunded."
