Fire Fighters Work In Jaws of Death to Quiet Raging Flames

Eight Tanks of Gasoline May Explode

Men Brave Danger Without Hesitancy to Suppress Blaze Licking Immense Containers. One of Three Burned In Less Hopeful Condition Today.

Arthur Haney, one of the three men burned in a disastrous fire at plant No. 108 of the Chestnut & Smith corporation, west of Ranger Monday afternoon, was reported "not doing so well," at the Clinical hospital today. Haney told hospital attendants that he inhaled "some smoke and flames." Haney was an oiler at plant No. 108.

D. L. Williams, chief engineer, and George Seibert, engineer, both seriously burned, were said to be doing as "well as can be expected." Williams was burned about the face, head and arms. Seibert suffered surface burns on the hands, thigh and knees. Haney was burned about the face, knees and hands.

Hundred Men Fight Fire.
More than 100 men fought the flames before the blazing structure was subdued. Foamite, soda and water were used. Steam from the big boiler building 50 feet away from the big engine building was kept up but was not used in fighting the fire. When the gas was shut off, the boilers also were made useless.

Soda was thrown around a large tank in big quantities when the flames made their way right up to it. The tank, containing mineral seal, a cut of petroleum below kerosene, was in the tank, which stood less than 25 feet from the blazing engine building, and the men centered their early efforts around this tank.

When the pumper from the Ranger fire department attempted to negotiate the mud between the road entrance and the engine building, it became bogged half way. It took the combined efforts of more than 20 men to free it. The pumper was then taken out to the highway and a line of hose laid from a water ditch to the southwest end of the iron structure.

Gas Shoots Into Air.
Fire Chief Chapman centered his efforts on cooling the big engines. He found his work nullified at first with the gas pouring through the lines. An upright pipe that made an "L" on the outside and continued on to the interior of the structure was broken at the fitting with a sledge hammer, after it was safe to get close enough to do the breaking, and the gas then shot straight into the air, instead of continuing on to the engine room. The fire chief then was enabled to get the engines below the flash point.

Chestnut & Smith employees gathered from the other plants in the Ranger territory braved the hazards of fighting a casinghead plant fire with uncanny nerve. There were eight tanks, all in a row, the closest one not more than 20 feet from the west end of the building, all according to several employees, containing gasoline. The flames at times licked the tanks.

The tanks containing the mineral seal caused the fire workers the most apprehension.

Height of Danger.
"Is it still dangerous?" an employee of the plant was asked by a Ranger sightseer as he stood waiting for soda to be unboxed for him to carry and spread on the ground around the tank of mineral seal.

"Hell yes," he said. "We are at the height of the danger now."
A field plow with team attached stood ready to do ditch work in case it was needed. All of the casinghead plants have hand wagons that con-

ENGINEER TRIES TO SAVE PLANT AFTER WARNING

Even Though Unable to Prevent Explosion and Fire, Does Heroic Work.

Propped at an angle of 45 degrees in a room at the Clinical hospital, where he had been rushed two hours before, D. L. Williams, chief engineer of plant No. 108, Chestnut & Smith corporation, quietly and in low tones told a newspaper man, a few but momentous incidents that took place before he was knocked down helpless in a fire and explosion Monday afternoon in the long, galvanized iron building that houses big, powerful and expensive engines.

"I was making up the time of the boys," he said. "I had made out the time of seven or eight of them. I heard an explosive sound. I got up. It was the lid on a valve of the discharge line. It blew off."

"My first thought, of course, was to stop the gas from circulating. I shut off two engines and I was shutting off the third when everything went into flames."

"I crawled on my hands and knees with enough sense to know where the door was. When I got outside, I started pulling off my clothes."

"Why did that cap come off? I don't know. I was there five minutes before. I saw nothing wrong. It's one of those things I can't explain."

Williams appeared quite unaware that he had done his duty heroically, that he had played the part of a man in stopping long enough to shut off the engines, knowing that every second he delayed leaving the big room, rapidly filling with gas from the gas wells, he was in danger of paying a penalty of burns and perhaps claim his life.

"It grips a man with fear when such things happen," said a designing engineer of a gasoline plant and an authority on casinghead gasoline plant operations. "I've been through one. Men don't know when a gasoline tank is going to explode. To keep that from happening, a man must expose himself to certain danger when he works right up to the fire with foamite or water lines."

The engineer said that such as companies endeavor to guard against explosions, one never knows when it will occur.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE FOR COUNTY URGED

Suggestion Made by O. D. Dillingham for County-Wide Progress

An Eastland county chamber of commerce organization, with members from each organization in the county sitting on a board to function jointly on matters that pertain to the county as a whole was brought up this morning at the Chamber of Commerce breakfast by O. D. Dillingham, president of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce. Dillingham said he made such a suggestion six months ago and he brought it up again when the matter of the four chambers of commerce in the county paying the county agricultural agent their portion of his salary was placed before the eight members present.

A motion that the Ranger Chamber of Commerce get behind the proposition of having the county bear the portion of the salary now borne by the chambers of commerce and support the present agent, R. H. Bush, "until such a time as a body of the organized business men from over the county can go before them," was made by Walter Murray and adopted.

That much more could be accomplished for the whole welfare of Eastland county if there was a general committee representing Rising Star, Cisco, Eastland and Ranger, was the argument of Dillingham.

Bush said he personally believed the commissioners' court would be sympathetic to the proposition. "I believe the county ought to support the office," he said. "I don't care where it comes from."

Bush's contract with the Ranger Chamber of Commerce expired on July 1, but Ranger will continue paying Bush its part of the salary borne by the county chamber of commerce until further arrangements, under the resolution passed. Bush is paid $1,000 by the state and county each and $1,200 by the four chambers, making it $3,200. Each chamber originally signed a contract to pay $25 a month.

WIFE DEAD, HUSBAND DECIDES HE DOES NOT CARE TO LIVE ALONE

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 30.—Pending a post mortem examination to determine the cause of the death of Willie Robinson, 72-year-old broker, and his wife, Lillian, 70, police are inclined to believe that the wife died a natural death and that her husband had taken his own life rather than be left alone.

Police found all of the doors and windows locked. The belief that they had been killed by robbers has been discarded.

KLANSMAN OBTAINS COURT ORDER TO SAVE HIM FROM TRIAL
ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 30.—A. S. Whitfield of Chattanooga, Tenn., former member of the Ku Klux Klan of that state, today obtained a temporary injunction from Judge Humphreys to prevent the imperial klonklorium from ordering him placed on trial in the imperial palace. The court set Dec. 3 as the date for a hearing on making the order permanent.

Who Has An Income Exceeding That of Rockefeller or Ford?

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—The million dollar income class lost 12 members in 1921, statistics of incomes for that year issued by the bureau of internal revenue last night revealed.

In 1921, only 21 incomes of $1,000,000 or more were reached as against 33 such incomes in 1920. Only one income in excess of $5,000,000 was reported. This was reported by neither John D. Rockefeller nor Henry Ford, reported to be the two richest men in the world, but by an unidentified couple in New York state. The sum was embraced in a joint return by husband and wife. As Ford lives in Michigan and Rockefeller is a widower, neither can be identified with the record amount.

"FARMER JIM" YET HOPES FOR SEAT IN SENATE

Says His Horse Was Stolen; Supports Ford for the Presidency.

HOUSTON, Oct. 30.—"Farmer Jim" Ferguson, stormy petrel of Texas politics, came to Houston a few days ago. Interviewed, he said: "I will run for the senate when Earl Mayfield is unseated. I claim that it was my horse that was stolen in the election. I want it back. In the parlance of the Texas ranchman, I want that brand, KKK, taken off the office and the fair name of Texas cleared."

"Run for governor? That's figuring too far ahead. My plans don't go farther than the Mayfield fight. "Of the sixteen candidates who have announced so far there is yet lacking any definite promise of relief from the burdens of government now afflicting the state."

"Oh, yes. The presidential race. There's only one man the democrats can nominate who has the slightest chance. "That's Henry Ford. "Ford is the personification of the one principal need needed in our government, to wit, a dollars worth of service for a dollar."

"The national government is a big business organization of 700,000 employees. Henry Ford has successfully managed and satisfied 500,000 employees."

"In less than six months after Ford becomes president, and he will, he will tell half of the 700,000 employees to quit and the other half to go to work."

U. S. SENATOR MAYFIELD LEAVES HOME IN AUSTIN GOING TO WASHINGTON

WAXAHACHIE, Oct. 30.—Earle B. Mayfield, United States senator from Texas, who is involved in an election contest filed in the senate by George E. B. Paddy, unsuccessful candidate at last year's election will leave his home at Austin this week for Washington, according to a letter received here by W. A. Roberts, a friend.

The senator-elect was called to Washington, but the purpose of his trip was not known.

Rehearing of a request that receivers be appointed for ballot boxes in the senatorial election was scheduled to be held in Amarillo today.

UNCLE SAM'S PLAN RECEIVED WITH APPROVAL

Suggestion for Economic Conference of Experts on Reparations Agreed To.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—The plan of Secretary Hughes for an economic conference to determine Germany's capacity to pay reparations has been accepted by all the powers, it was said at the White House today.

President Coolidge does not consider the conditions accompanying the French acceptance attached by Premier Poincare in his replies to Secretary Hughes and Lord Curzon constitute a rejection of the plan. He believes it offers a hopeful avenue before the world for a final settlement of the reparations question.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Willis Booth, president of the International Chamber of Commerce, sailed today for Paris, to arrange for a conference of delegates from 38 nations to make recommendations regarding the proposed reparations conference advocated by Secretary Hughes.

GREAT BRITAIN AGREES TO POINCARÉ'S RESERVATIONS

LONDON, Oct. 30.—Great Britain has accepted the terms specified by Premier Poincaré of France for a conference of experts to consider the reparations question.

The American government will be acquainted with the willingness of all the countries asked to participate in the conference and each will be asked immediately to designate its members of the committee of experts.

New Order of the Marry-For-Money Fraternity Founded

LONDON, Oct. 30.—The many mercenary "bridegrooms" who are willing to marry alien women for a financial consideration in order to allow them to enter the country, is providing the home office with a difficult problem.

Marriage to Britons makes these women British citizens, which is the goal at which they aim. The arrangement is generally that the bridegroom lends his name for the ceremony, receiving from $50 to $75 for his trouble. The couple part at the registry doors, and the wife is thereafter free to travel any place in Great Britain or the dominions without further question.

The home office has been able to intervene in many cases, however, where the bridegrooms have overstepped their legal allowance and married in some instances as many as 10 women. In these cases the women have been deported and the man sent to prison for bigamy.

The problem of the nationality of the wife was discussed several times during the last session of parliament and will come before the dominion's conference next meeting in London. Here it is expected a final decision will be made as to whether the wife retains her nationality, or takes that of her husband. If the former, the British government will take steps to have a bill passed allowing all married women to adopt English nationality at once, but prohibiting others from assuming it without going through the usual legal course.

During the year 1921 there were approximately 560 of these "convenient" marriages.

FOUR-YEAR OLD TOT LOST DAY AND NIGHT IN WOODED THicket
CINCINNATI, Oct. 30.—Diamonds and jewelry said to be worth about $75,000 were stolen from an apartment on the third floor of the Sinton hotel, of this city, last night, Ernest Straus of Chicago reported to the police today.

Cold Weather and Snow Spread Over North and West

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—Snow fell over the northwest last night and today, accompanied by a sharp drop in temperature. Nebraska was carpeted with the heaviest snowfall in the history of the state for October. In Kansas, too, there was a heavy fall of snow and parts of Wisconsin were covered to a depth of two inches. Minnesota was swept by a snowstorm and the temperature dropped to 18 degrees above zero. Light snow fell over Chicago and throughout Illinois. The cold wave extended down into Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico.

ABILENE, Oct. 30.—Although a stiff norther was blowing today the mercury was forty degrees above zero, and as far as is known here there were no freezes in West Texas.

NORFOLK, Oct. 30.—The lowest temperatures for October in history prevailed over northern Nebraska today with three to six inches of snow on the ground. The minimum temperature was six degrees above zero.

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—Chicago awoke today to behold roofs and trees whitened by the first snow of the season.

POLICE CHASE FUGITIVE FOR MANY BLOCKS

Chief Fires in Air, but It Only Makes Hunted Man Run Faster.

Police were compelled to chase to capture yesterday afternoon a man of Mexican descent, who said his name was Gomez. He defied the efforts of four men to take him to jail.

A shot fired at Gomez on Walnut street by Police Chief L. E. Davenport, a chase up that street, south on Marston by Assistant Chief L. E. Davenport and finally his collaring at Pine and Marston streets by Bob Hamilton, son of Officer Ted Hamilton, caused enough excitement to attract several hundred people to the vicinity of the city hall at Pine and Austin streets.

Locked arms, one on either side of the prisoner, a tight grip on the man's heavy growth of hair on his head by a third man and a pushing force from the rear directed at the man's hips, brought the obstinate man to the police station from Pine and Marston streets.

Gomez had been annoying women on Walnut street, and had broken some flower pots when his actions were reported to Chief Davenport, who happened to be on Main street. Davenport hurried to Walnut and Rusk streets and attempted to take the man as his prisoner. Gomez ran and the chief fired into the air. The man ran faster. Assistant Chief Davenport joined in the chase, but was outdistanced. At Pine and Marston, Gomez was downed by young Hamilton and pinned to the ground.

Gomez was removed to Eastland this morning by Deputy Sheriff Hayden Neal.

The man has been acting strangely at various times, according to Chief Davenport. The other day he found him on the high school campus with a rod in his hand and warned him to leave. Gomez said he didn't "savvy" but he left the campus.

Gomez has been seen taking discarded food from cans at the rear of the Fern cafe and eating it.

It is believed there are several hundred World War veterans living in and near Ranger and there has been considerable demand for an American Legion Post here.

BONAR LAW DIES, MARTYR TO HIS PUBLIC DUTIES

Breakdown Following War Is Is Accentuated by Later Duties as Prime Minister.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—The Rt. Hon. Andrew Bonar Law, prime minister of Great Britain from October, 1922, to May, 1923, died at his residence in London at 2:30 a. m. today.

Bonar Law had been ill for many months. The cause of death was given as septic pneumonia. Death followed a long struggle in England and on the continent to regain the health which had been shattered by his duties as prime minister during one of the most trying periods of the nation.

The passing of Bonar Law was not unexpected, but caused profound grief throughout the nation when announced in this morning's papers, for he held a high place in the affection and admiration of his countrymen. He really sacrificed his life for his country. He knew he was signing his death warrant when he took over his duties of premiership after the resignation of David Lloyd George last year. The situation at this time, however, was such that he regarded his own life as of little importance if he could aid his country.

He came out of temporary retirement to take up public life again. He had been in poor health since his retirement as chancellor of the exchequer under Lloyd George, due to a breakdown from overwork during the World war.

The first intimation that death might be near was contained in a physician's bulletin issued Friday which said the former prime minister had suffered a relapse and that his condition was serious. It was stated Saturday that pneumonia had set in and that he could not live two weeks.

Andrew Bonar Law was born in New Brunswick, Sept. 16, 1855.

PARIS, Oct. 30.—Andrew Bonar Law died another martyr to the terrific duties of office, in the opinion of friends here. The heavy strain of making the decision to finally rupture the war alliance did more than anything else to bring on his final breakdown. The mental strain of reaching the decision that might change the fate of Europe left him a broken man.

LOYD GEORGE TELLS HOW HE AND BONAR LAW WORKED WELL TOGETHER

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30.—"I have heard the sad news with deep regret mingled with relief that his long and severe suffering has at last come to a peaceful end," David Lloyd George said today in a formal statement on the death of Andrew Bonar Law.

"I saw him shortly before I left for this country and the news certainly was not unexpected by me. During the last years of the war and the first of peace, we worked in closer co-operation and partnership than probably any two ministers of the crown had ever worked before. Hardly a day we did not meet and not a day we did not communicate with each other and interchange views. No man could wish for a more loyal, sagacious and helpful partner in times of stress."

BALDWIN VOICES TRIBUTE TO FORMER PREMIER
LONDON, Oct. 30.—Stanley Baldwin, who succeeded Bonar Law as premier of Great Britain, paid the following tribute to his predecessor: "For him I'm thankful that he has been spared further suffering. The country will not forget that he sacrificed his life in her service."

INTERNATIONAL COURT OF JUSTICE.

Five presidents of the United States have specifically advocated an international court of justice, according to the commission on international justice and goodwill of the Federal Council of Churches. They are Presidents McKinley, Roosevelt, Taft, Wilson and Harding.

In a carefully prepared paper issued today the commission declares that the permanent court of international justice is an American ideal made practical through American ideas and activities.

In making the material public it was stated that it was submitted to leaders of both political parties and to authorities on international law to pass upon its accuracy. The statement is being sent to 120,000 pastors throughout the country for use in connection with World Court Week, which will be observed by the churches beginning Monday, November 5, and ending on World Court Sunday, which is Armistice Day.

It describes the permanent court in simple language saying in part:

"For many decades the peaceful settlement of international difficulties has been an American ideal. Five American Presidents have specifically advocated an international court of justice—Presidents McKinley, Roosevelt, Taft, Wilson and Harding.

"Two American Secretaries of State, Hay and Root, instructed the United States delegates to the Hague conferences of 1899 and 1907 to work for its establishment. Senator Knox was proposing a similar plan when the outbreak of the world in 1914 caused its postponement.

"The Bar association of New York had a large part in securing the insertion in the Covenant of the League of Nations of article 14, which provides that the council of the League should formulate and submit to the (nations) members of the League, plans for the establishment of a permanent court of international justice.

"An American statesman, Elihu Root, took a distinguished part in formulating the details of the plan. It was his creative mind that solved the difficulty heretofore appearing almost insuperable, providing an electoral system conserving the interests of the powers both great and small." (Secretary Hughes.)

"America's foremost authority on international law, John Bassett Moore was elected by the nations to sit as one of the judges in this court.

"In obedience to article 14 of the Covenant, the Council of the League on February 13, 1920, set up a committee of international jurists to draft the statutes creating the organization and defining the jurisdiction of a World Court of Justice. Of this committee, Mr. Root was a leading member.

court actually came into being and is now working.

"The court statute provides two special Electoral Bodies representing the large and the small nations, namely, the Council and the Assembly of the League of Nations. When these bodies proceed to the election of judges to the Court, they sit and act.

"The make-up of the Court is as follows:

"The Court is composed of eleven regular judges and four deputy judges. Each judge is elected for nine years and may be re-elected. Nominations for judges are made by the national groups represented in the 'Permanent Court of Arbitration,' but they did not make, in 1920, any nomination for the judges of the Permanent Court of International Justice, although they had the right to do so according to the statute creating the court. In 1923 they did, however, avail themselves of this right.

"The Court is composed of a body of independent judges, elected regardless of their nationality, from among persons of high moral character, who possess the qualifications required in their respective countries for appointment to the highest judicial offices, or are jurist-consults of recognized competence in international law.

"It is also provided that the court as a whole 'should represent the main forms of civilization and the principle legal systems of the world.' There shall not be two judges of the same nationality. The official languages of the court are French and English, but at the request of the parties involved, the court may authorize the use of another language.

"The Permanent Court of International Justice should not be confused with the Permanent Court of Arbitration. The latter was established as a result of the first Hague Peace conference in 1899 and still exists. It is merely a panel of about 130 men, scattered all over the world, nominated by the various countries as men suitable for service on committees or boards of arbitration when they may be needed. They never meet as a body.

"The 'Court of Justice' does not supersede the 'Court of Arbitration' but is established, as its character expressly declares, 'in addition to the older tribunal,' in order to carry one step further the 'pacific settlement of international disputes.'"

GIANTS' SHORTSTOP RECOVERS HEALTH

Dave Bancroft, shortstop for the New York Giants, writes: "I have used FERRASAL for a year with splendid results. During the playing season, whenever I was troubled with indigestion, I took FERRASAL and it kept me in fine condition all year. I have given FERRASAL to friends with the same splendid results."

DAVE T. BANCROFT, Care New York Giants. Dave Bancroft has been benefited by FERRASAL and recommends it from actual experience. 80% of our health troubles begin with indigestion. The real cause is excess acid. FERRASAL gets at the source of the trouble by neutralizing the excess acid and expelling it from the system. It also aids digestion, keeps the alimentary tract clean and deodorized and the kidneys regular.

FERRASAL is not a purgative. It is a mild laxative and absolutely harmless. TAKE FERRASAL REGULARLY NIGHT AND MORNING FOR A MONTH. It will sweeten your breath, clear your skin and improve your general health or your money refunded.

tain foamite. These were brought from other plants. The Gulf Production company has several cottages on a slight rise of the ground 300 feet south of the plant. Glass was shattered in the windows of one of the cottages. J. H. Arthur, oil field worker, was laying rods, near an oil derrick, across the road about 200 feet from the plant. He was facing the plant when the explosion occurred. He said he saw five men come out of the building. Only one, according to Arthur, was in flames. Hundreds of people went out to the scene of the fire in the late afternoon and evening, merely to "look it over."

WEEKLY BREAKFASTS OF C. OF C. WILL BE DISCONTINUED A WHILE

Decreasing attendance, wintery weather, and bigger drafts upon the time of business men with volume of business improving have served to discontinue the weekly breakfasts held each Tuesday morning by the Chamber of Commerce. The last one for this year was held at the McCleskey hotel this morning.

"The time has come when it is hard to get here for breakfast," President O. D. Dillingham said. "We can't hold the attendance up. We come here and stay until 9 o'clock and that means a delayed start for many of us."

He suggested that the breakfast be discontinued until next spring and that if there were any need of a get-together session, a dinner be held, preferably in the evening.

A motion that the breakfasts be resumed when they are thought to be timely was made by Walter Murray and seconded by M. R. Newnam.

Did you ever realize that trolley car current has a fondness for flirting with the needle of a ship's compass? The British admiralty has found that vamping of the helpless needle by the electric current which operates the "tram-car" lines of Greenwich, so distracts the needle that it will point almost anywhere except to the exact magnetic north. As a result its compass-testing station has just been removed to an isolated spot in the Surrey hills, miles removed from trolley car lines.

SEARCHING PARTY GOES INTO UNEXPLORED LAND OF SOUTHEAST UTAH

An expedition sent out by the National Geographic society, which has been assembling at Gallup, N. M., has started for a reconnaissance of a hitherto unexplored portion of the United States, the San Juan country of Southeastern Utah.

Leaving Gallup the geographic party will go by automobile, carrying its supply of gasoline in drums to Kayenta, Ariz., and then on horseback across the Utah line into a land of knife edge canyons, until the pack animals encounter impassable barriers. Then it will proceed on foot.

The expedition will attempt a preliminary survey of the region between the Colorado and San Juan rivers, much of it never traversed by white men, which constitutes one of the largest unexplored areas in the country.

Occasional news of an Indian war, such as the Piute outbreak of last March, brings sharp reminder that there still is an American frontier.

Dr. Neil M. Judd, archeologist, of Washington, leader of the National Geographic society expeditions which excavated and studied the pre-Columbian communal dwellings of Chaco Canyon, N. M., heads the Utah expedition. Accompanying Dr. Judd, is Edwin L. Wisherd, staff photographer, and a party of assistants and guides.

Dr. Judd's primary intention will be to determine whether the cliff dwellings and skeletal remains, the traces of pottery, basketry and cliff inscriptions believed to abound here will justify other larger expeditions, which shall include experts in every phase of scientific inquiry which the area warrants.

Perhaps prohibition is working as well as could have been expected but a great deal of fermentation is working better than was expected.—Cleveland Times-Commercial.

Easily Prepared Dinners Planned By Well Known Expert

In writing of Sunday night suppers that can be easily prepared at home, thus making hospitality the more acceptable, Helen Harrington Downing says:

If the young home manager must cook and serve a meal without the help of a maid, a dinner is rather a formidable undertaking, although with a little practice it is quite possible.

You have no doubt dined at many tables where a dinner consisting of soup, meat and two vegetables, followed by salad, dessert, and coffee, was perfectly cooked and daintily served by the hostess herself.

Football Blankets For Team Arrive

The blankets for the football team arrived this morning. The team and high school boys and girls, who believe the maroon and white will be county champions in two more weeks, were called into the auditorium this morning for a presentation ceremony.

Several business and professional men helped the school authorities in the little ceremony.

The blankets are nifty, as one freshman put it. They have a maroon body and the edges are bordered with white. A 15-inch letter "R" in white appears on the back of the blanket.

There will be blankets for 15 boys, and will be worn for the first time at Comanche Saturday.

SHERIFF BARTON SOON TO FACE JURY AS A DEFENDANT

Next Wednesday, Nov. 7, has been agreed upon tentatively, as the date for the trial of Sheriff J. D. Barton, of Eastland county, who was indicted several weeks ago by a grand jury in the Eighty-eighth district, charged with embezzlement of funds belonging to an estate of which he had charge.

Announcement of the date of trial was made by W. J. Barnes, county attorney. Barton is at liberty on $1,000 bail, made by P. L. Parker and J. R. Yarbrough.

Miss Grace Abbott, chief of the federal children's bureau, says that the eighteenth amendment is "perhaps the most important child welfare measure of the century. Very few children now know the poverty and demoralization of family life which imperate drinking by the father or mother causes."

PASSPORTS TAKE TIME APPLY EARLY ENOUGH

In obtaining a passport prior to traveling abroad, apply in plenty of time, says the State Department. If one lives in or near New York, time may be saved by applying at the Passport Bureau in the Custom House there. If near Washington, apply direct to the Passport Bureau of the State Department. If the prospective traveler lives some distance from either of these centers, he should apply to the clerk of the Federal or state court who will supply the necessary blanks and give assistance in filling them out and advise as to

LOVE MAY BE BLIND

But before you can impress someone of the opposite sex enough to get them to share this happy state of mind with you, you certainly must keep your appearance pleasing and attractive. Pimple, blotchy, eczemic skin seems ten times worse to strangers and new acquaintances. And even husbands, wives, parents and kin feel sorry for loved ones who suffer from such skin diseases.

The way to get rid of all these drawbacks to unbroken affection and devotion from dear ones as well as new acquaintances, is to use the wonderful Black and White Ointment. It is economically priced, in liberal packages. The 50c size contains three times as much as the 25c size. All dealers have it.—Advertisement.

DON'T BLAME THE HEN!

Whose fault is it if your hens don't lay eggs? Before you blame the hen, ask yourself these questions:

1. Am I feeding a proper egg-making ration?
2. Is it manufactured by scientific authorities?
3. Am I sure the feed is always uniform?
4. Has it been proved by others in practical tests?

The way to answer "yes" to all four questions is to feed Purina Chicken Chowder and Purina Hen Chow—made and guaranteed by feeding authorities, proved by millions of poultry raisers. Sold in checkerboard bags by Many Hounds Join in Chase for Hare After Police Chief's Automatic Sounds Start; Himself Has Fortune Foretold.

By P. G. T.

Even as our great American general, George Washington, said on the day when the boys got ready to cross the river at Valley Forge, "It sure is a hot dogged cold day, ain't it?"

Yesterday's greatest event in Ranger was the great Mexican-American combination foot race and gun battle.

What has taxed the greatest brains in Ranger is to understand exactly what this hombre was pursued and arrested for. Some say he biffed somebody over the bean and some say that he is such a perfect replica of Pancho Villa that he frightened a woman by looking at her. However, the most sensational part of the event was the chase.

When Ranger police arrived on the scene of the disturbance the senior became afflicted with the roving spirit and started on a slow dog trot for parts unknown. After the first and only shot was fired the cops were augmented by all those who were free and foot loose and by the time the hombre was arrested at least a hundred persons were on hand to prevent his escape. The crowd increased as it followed him and his captors to the bastille and City Tax Collector Ringold estimates that at least two hundred people got their first look at the new city jail and police headquarters.

Happened to be invited to a seance and dinner party the other night. The seeress who shot the palmistry to the crowd was a No. 1 in her line, except for the fact that she didn't have any wrinkles or cracked "sour-castic" voice like seeresses is supposed to have. Also the lady worked with paste boards that we had seldom seen used in such noble work even if they had assisted in a few such things as troy, blackjack and other games of no chance.

Seems as though the paths of the fortune teller was always being crossed by dark or light men or women. It was easy to figure out how paths could be crossed by dark people, as we have quite a colored population here in Ranger, but the only two really light men that have been around Ranger for a long time were Eko and Iko, the Albino boys who were with Barnes' circus. They are a long ways away now and evidently will have to do a lot of traveling if they cross and double cross all the people whose fortunes are being told by local psalm wizards.

Also everybody who had a long travel line on their mits were going to take a long journey to foreign countries. The percentage figured more than half of those present. If this is an indication of the average palm of the people of Ranger, lots of them will be fussing around foreign countries before long. Consequently it might not be amiss to write Ellis Island officials in New York to admit about five to 10 thousand immigrants to take place of Rangerites who will be leaving. After every one was assured that they would or wouldn't get their wish and lots of other so forth things it was decided to break up the party by taking the first leg of the long journey in various sea going flippers that had been brought for the occasion.

FINGER TRANSFERRED FROM HAND TO FACE REPLACING HIS NOSE

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Oct. 30.—The successful grafting of a new nose on the face of a human being has been made possible by the wonders and triumph of modern surgery, it was demonstrated here recently when the operation was performed on Thomas Kilcullen at Sydney hospital. Kilcullen lost his nose through an operation. Surgeons expressed the belief that they could graft a nose to his face using the middle finger of his left hand for the missing organ.

The delicate and painful operation took three weeks. The finger, still attached to Kilcullen's hand, was bound closely to his face, after the skin had been prepared to make the grafting possible. His left hand and arm were bandaged so that they could not be moved and in that position Kilcullen remained until the graft was completed, when the finger was severed from the hand.

The surgeons said that Kilcullen will be able to breathe through the transplanted finger and will even be able to blow it. They could not guarantee that it would serve as an organ with which Kilcullen could distinguish various odors.

QUART OF WATER CLEANS KIDNEYS

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Eating too much rich food creates acids, which excite the kidneys. They become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood. The we get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys, or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin drinking a quart of water each day, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, and in a few days your kidneys may act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush and stimulate the kidneys; also to help neutralize the acids in the system, so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby often avoiding serious kidney complications. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Advertisement.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

New Roadster

Business men—with whom the runabout has always been very popular—are well pleased with the changes embodied in this model. Always rugged, the car has been made decidedly trimmer and more comfortable. This result is obtained by raising the radiator and enlarging the cowl; making a decided improvement in looks and providing more leg room. A well designed top and slanting windshield do their share toward adding a finished, clean-cut appearance. Make it a point to see the other new models also on display in the nearest Ford dealer's show room.
