SPINNERS ACCUSED OF PROFITEERING

LONDON, Feb. 20.—Accusations that both the government and Yorkshire spinners were making "colossal profits" in wool were made by Mr. Mackinder, a woolen warehouse man, at a recent meeting of the central profiteering committee.

Members of the profiteering committee complained that the government was wilfully withholding publication of reports of the investigating committees. Publication of these reports was demanded in a resolution.

What is happening in worsted yarns is happening also in cotton and metals, said Sidney Webb. "The safeguard of competition has been swept away and business is honey-combed by combinations and agreements to keep up prices."

REAR ADMIRAL ROBT. E. PEARY DIES AT HOME

Man Who "Nailed Flag to Pole" Was 64 Years Old.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—Rear Admiral Robert E. Peary died at his home here today from pernicious anemia.

It was on the afternoon of September 6, 1909, that the following few words reported to the civilized world for the first time this crowning achievement of three centuries of effort:

"Indian Harbor, via Cape Ray, N. E. September 6.—To the Associated Press, New York: Stars and Stripes nailed to the North Pole. "PEARY."

Peary's actual attainment of the pole had been just five months before, on April 6, 1909. When this dispatch came, the world was, quite unknown to Peary, already praising Dr. Frederick A. Cook as the discoverer.

While Dr. Cook's claim did not go unquestioned from the first, he had four days at least been widely acclaimed as the discoverer of the Pole. With Peary's message there arose one of the greatest controversies of all ages over the honor of actual first discovery.

The bitterness of this episode is only one item in the price which Peary paid for the immortal fame that is now acknowledged to be his. He spent practically all he had in money, gave all that was in him for hard work, and suffered all that human frame could endure from hunger, cold and disappointment.

BRITONS OUST AMERICANS IN CHINA TRADE

SHANGHAI, Feb. 20.—An order in council issued by the British government in London, of which notice has been received here, requires that British subjects shall take the place of Americans as managing directors of "China Companies" operating in the Orient under British register.

This affects a large number of business concerns conducted in the Far East by Americans, especially in Shanghai which is a center of American commercial activity. To them the order comes with stunning effect.

No person other than a British subject resident within the limits of this order, shall act as managing director or in any position similar to that of managing director, or shall otherwise exercise general or substantial control of a China company.

A fine of $50 a day is imposed upon the company and every director and manager who violates the order. Failure to comply with it will be considered as ground upon which an order for winding up the company may be made in court.

Meetings of the American Chamber of Commerce and the American Association of China were called to discuss the new order. At these letters were drafted and addressed to the British Chamber of Commerce and the British China Association.

It was planned also at the meetings of the American interests to send a cablegram of protest to the American State Department at Washington.

Some of the largest business concerns in the Orient are affected by the new order, and several of the largest have been operating in the Orient many years, having widespread connections and vast obligations.

Wallace Reid Says He's the Luckiest Star in Pictures

Wallace Reid considers himself one of the luckiest film stars in the business. Not only is he happily married, the father of a budding youngster, and one of the most popular and highest paid luminaries of the screen, but he has packed several times as many accidents into his youthful career as the ordinary mortal hopes to encounter.

Twice within the past year Wallie has escaped without a scratch from bad railroad wrecks. He was in a caboose that fell over a fifteen-foot trestle and a thirty pound chunk of iron "kissed him to sleep." A few weeks ago a train on which he was riding to Chicago for a brief vacation took a sharp curve at a fifty-mile gait, overturned and Wallie came up smiling without even a ruffle in his hair. He explained this latter by saying that the first wreck had taught him how to act so he "jumped into the aisle and hung on to everything in sight so that it would have taken an act of congress to pry me loose."

He has lost wheels off his automobile while in the heat of a race, has capsized in a sailboat, and awakened during a hunting trip in the woods to find a mountain lion caressing him. His traditional luck stays with him in "Hawthorne of the U. S. A.," his new Paramount-Artcraft picture at the Lone Star today, and it is little wonder that when Wallace Reid risks his last five franc piece at Monte Carlo he breaks the bank.

OPERA HOUSE.

Film Reveals Flight as Only Means To Escape Bitter Memories.

The best way to forget love is to run away from it. That is the policy visualized with dramatic effect by Earle Williams in his latest Vitagraph picture, "When a Man Loves," which will be shown as the feature attraction at the Opera House today.

Mr. Williams is cast in the role of a man, who, as the picture opens, is seen to have been unfortunate in love. He discovers that the girl he is engaged to wed really loves another.

John's alternative is to take a trip half way round the world and strive to forget the past. He decides this is the only way to get love out of his mind.

The young man travels to Japan meanwhile being pursued by another girl whom he doesn't care for. The situation is becoming badly complicated when John suddenly falls in love with still another girl. She is a beautiful creature buried in a curio shop of old Tokio.

The discovery of this new love which is reciprocated by the third girl, plunges the Englishman into the severest dilemma. He realizes that the girl of his heart will not be accepted by the exclusive aristocracy among whom his life is cast in London, and that he will be disinherited if he weds her.

Meantime the girl who has pursued him to Japan resorts to malicious deception to break up his romance with her rival. She cables a message to his father, who immediately orders the youth to return. John obeys, but he discovers what has happened, and returns to the girl in Tokio. There is a tremendously surprising climax when the pair appear in London.

LIBERTY.

Stirring Scenes in New Russell Films at Liberty.

The progress of banditry from the time when Indians held up the Western pony express in 1860 down to present days never was so well shown as in "The Lincoln Highwaymen," the new William Fox feature taken from the great stage success by Paul Dickey, in which William Russell will be seen as star tomorrow at the Liberty Theatre.

After an Indian attack on the pony express, the second episode of this thrilling feature shows a lone highwayman robbing an old stage-coach.

The third episode shows the Jesse James method of holding up a train. The action then shows the bandit of the present day, who holds up automobiles on the Lincoln Highway and releases the passengers of their valuables.

Put a pseudo-bandit in this case has a sympathetic reason for his actions and Jimmy Clunder, as the character is named, is finally vindicated after many stirring incidents.

The supporting cast is a strong one, including Lois Lee, Harry Spangler, Frank Brownlee, Jack Connolly, Edward Piel and Edwin Booth Tilton. Emmett J. Flynn directed the production.

LIFE AS SEA MASCOT NOT FOR MR. CAMEL

By Associated Press

DALLAS, Feb. 20.—Of the more than 700 ships in the United States navy not one is without a mascot and the collection is so great and varied that it would stock a modern zoo. The more unusual the mascot the more the sailors like it.

Describing the "four-legged" sailors, as mascots are termed in the navy, a navy press feature received at the Dallas recruiting station, says a frolicsome pup, a curly-tailed porpoise, a bewhiskered goat or a monkey, are always welcome and considered by the crew as an omen of good fortune. The variety of mascots range from roosters to bears and camels and, it is said, in one instance a wild boar was obtained and treated as kindly as if it were a landog. Many ships have a dozen mascots.

The crew of one of Uncle Sam's fighting ships captured a camel and put it aboard, according to the navy press feature. Life on the briny deep, however, did not agree with the animal and it was put ashore in a navy yard.

The most popular animal is said to be the dog. Their intelligence and faithfulness instantly wins the friendship of the sailors. The ranking "four-legged" sailor of the navy is "Mick," the dog belonging to Admiral Rodman, commander of the Pacific fleet. He lives aboard the supply-transporter New Mexico, surrounded by luxury and ease. His friendship does not end with the officers and he is said to be content with the humblest sailor.

The mascots' service records are kept and when the owner of one is transferred the service record and mascot go with him. It is stated only one "deserted" has been recorded—a big mastiff from the Nachelle. Becoming tired of sea life he went ashore one night at Havana and did not return.

Not only is it a good policy to advertise for your wants, but read that which is advertised by others

Sense Story of "Blind Husbands" Grips Audience

"Blind Husbands," which is showing at the Lamb Theatre today and tomorrow, is the most absorbing and enthralling photodrama of modern life that the Universal people have ever produced. Throughout the country it has been welcomed as the greatest picture of its kind ever filmed. It has broken many attendance records for the largest theatres in the United States and is a picture that stays in the minds of those who see it.

From Dallas, where the picture is playing for the first time this week, Mr. Lamb of the Lamb Theatre, yesterday received a wire that the picture was packing the Old Mill Theatre there to capacity for every show.

Perhaps no picture made has ever received any greater praise by the greatest critics in the country than "Blind Husbands." Wid, known throughout the universe as the most careful movie critic of the day praises the picture, something that this man has done for but few in his notable career.

"Blind Husbands" is a picture of a man who tries by every means known to a polished scoundrel to separate a husband and wife, and in the end he fails to accomplish his purpose—and the reconciliation between the two who really love each other, is at once the most effecting and uplifting thing ever seen in pictures. Once in a life-time comes a story with an indefinite something in its telling that grips you at the very start—sweeps you along helpless in the flood of its emotions—holds you breathless, spellbound to the overwhelming end.

Such a story is "Blind Husbands"—told with a fascination and a tenderness that make you oblivious to all but the tremendous drama being enacted before you.

ALLEGED MEX. SWINDLER COULD "MAKE $10 FROM $1"

By Associated Press
LAREDO, Feb. 20.—Alfred Rochilt, alleged famous swindler of Mexico, arrested recently at Juarez, will be taken to the Mexican national capital to answer various charges, according to Excelsior, a daily newspaper of Mexico City. His victim, the paper says, was Cavaliere Stefannini, an Italian subject.

Rochilt, of German origin, reared in Cuba, the paper asserts, is known as the "freakman" because of his ability to "imitate the frog and lizard, and through his expertness as a prestidigitator" has swindled many persons to "whom he professed to show his power in transforming five-pesos currency into fifty pesos and ten-peso paper into one-hundred pesos."

Securing large amounts of money from his victims with the promise to multiply the sum by ten, Excelsior says Rochilt "always fled with the money." The specific charge against the man, the paper says, is for alleged swindling of Stefannini.

"I LOVE ALL THREE, EMILY, MY HUSBAND, THEIR BABY," SAYS WIFE OF ERRING HERO

Mrs. Perley Spiker (left) holding the child of her husband and Miss Emily Knowles (right).

Quite matter of fact was the recent interview between Miss Emily Knowles, twenty-one-year-old English girl who came to the United States with her five-months-old baby, and Mrs. Perley Spiker, whose husband, formerly a lieutenant in the U. S. air service, is also the father of the child. Mrs. Spiker held the baby, which she hopes to adopt, while a photographer snapped the trio. "I love all three, Emily, my husband, their baby," says Mrs. Spiker. A brother of the erring husband has offered to marry the baby's mother.

When A Husband Becomes Neglectful, Unloving, Shall The Wife Accept Attentions From Another Man?

Dr. Robert Armstrong came to the Tyrolean Alps with his beautiful young wife. All too sure of her love, he forgot to prove his own—a fact which Lieutenant Von Steuben soon made her realize. Then came her great moment of decision. It could only mean the end of one of these two men. What happened?

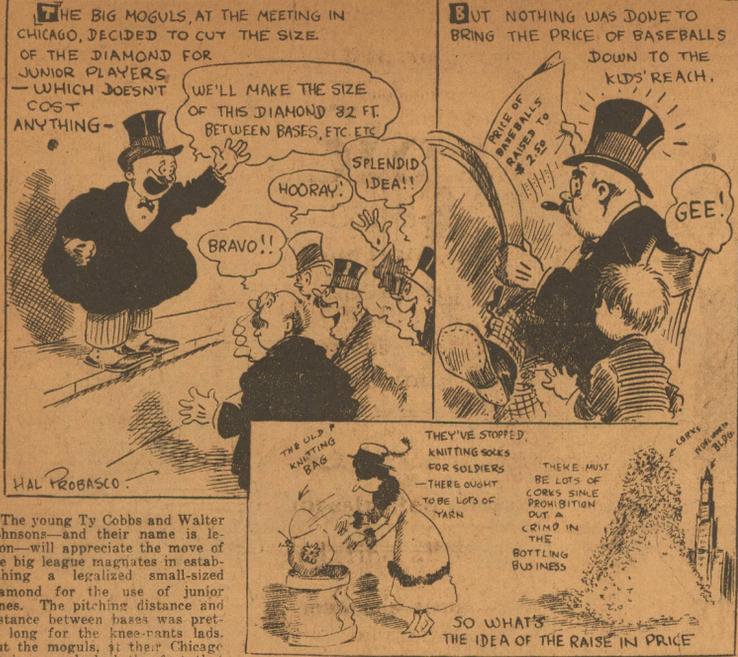

With as many thrills as the most thrilling Serial and as inspiring scenery as the most superb travel scenic "BLIND HUSBANDS" will give you a tremendous hour of drama, romance and glorious outdoor settings. Says PHOTOPLAY MAGAZINE: "The simulation of the Alps is almost beyond belief."

So gripping is this marvelous story, so perfectly told, that it requires almost no explanatory titles. Once it begins to unfold, you will be held breathless, glued to your seat by the intensity and truth of its presentation. And at the end—a glorious surprise that will send you away in a glow of happiness. Don't miss "BLIND HUSBANDS"—a picture you'll never forget. Now playing.

IT WAS VERY THOUGHTFUL OF THE MAGNATES BUT—

The young Ty Cobbs and Walter Johnson—and their name is legion—will appreciate the move of the big league magnates in establishing a legalized small-sized diamond for the use of junior nines. The pitching distance and distance between bases was pretty long for the knee-bents lads. But the magnates, at their Chicago session, overlooked the fact that the boosting of the price of real honest-to-goodness baseballs to $2.50 has put said treasures out of the reach of the vast majority of said juniors with aspirations to become big league stars—and money makers. The move was made to cut the price for the kiddies.

DALLAS COUNTY JAIL BULL PEN IS CRITICIZED

DALLAS, Feb. 20.—Declaring that any self-respecting bull would object to being confined in the "bull pen" assigned to them in quarters in the Dallas county courthouse, more than fifty members of the county central jury panel recently filed a sensational signed protest with the county judge and the county commissioners here. The quarters were declared to be not only uncomfortable, but insanitary as well.

County Judge Cecil L. Simmon said the protest was his first intimation of conditions and that the county commissioners' court would take steps to remedy conditions.

The protest asserted that the system of electric fans "serves no other purpose than to throw back from the low ceilings into the nostrils and lungs of your victims foul air" of the quarters. The seating arrangement was declared uncomfortable, the arrangement for natural light inadequate, and the electric lighting system incapable of affording sufficient light. This was characterized as "entirely inexcusable."

"The appellation 'bull pen' given these quarters is a misnomer and a reflection on the bull," the protest continued, "as we are sure that no self-respecting bull would submit to confinement in them without making a vigorous protest."

"Certainly no thrifty farmer would jeopardize the life and health of a number of registered bulls by confining them under conditions such as surround these quarters and especially when a disease was epidemic among cattle as is the 'flu' among the people at this time."

STANDARD MEASURES FOR BUTTER ARE ASKED

AUSTIN, Feb. 20.—The commissioner of weights and measures will recommend that the governor establish by proclamation 4, 8 and 16 ounces as the standard weights in which butter may be offered for sale. This decision followed a conference here between the commissioner and representatives of concerns which sell approximately 15,000,000 pounds, or two-thirds of the creamery butter sold in the state.

These concerns, according to the commissioner, will be given an opportunity to use 2,000,000 cartons labeled 15 ounces, which they have on hand, but they were advised to buy to buy no more of them.

Discussion at the conference developed the fact that the creameries and retailers split the profit derived from selling 15-ounce packages of butter. The creamery sells the retailer a 16-ounce print for 71 cents and a 15-ounce print for 68 cents. The retailer generally sells both packages for 80 cents, and makes 3 cents more on the 15-ounce package than he does on the full pound. The creamery in selling 16-ounce packages gets a 7-16 cents per ounce, but he deducts only three cents from the short packages and thus makes 1 7-16 cents more profit.

TEXAS Y. M. C. A. GETS SERVICE MEN POSITIONS

DALLAS, Feb. 20.—The Texas Young Men's Christian Association secured employment for 8,480 former service men in Texas during April, May, June and July, 1919, according to figures submitted at a recent conference of the association here. It was also shown the association handled during this period 18,068 pieces of outgoing soldier mail and that 992 ex-service men were enrolled in education classes.

H. C. OF L. WORSE IN GERMANY THAN IN UNITED STATES

EL PASO, Feb. 20.—Cost of living in the United States at present is now compared with prices of necessities in Germany, according to Adolf Hoffmann, a pioneer business man here. This statement is based upon information contained in a letter from Mrs. Marie Hoffmann, his sister-in-law, dated Jan. 4 at Dresden, in which it is declared that "conditions in Germany are getting no better, but are growing worse daily." Explaining the differences in the spelling of his name and that of his sister-in-law, Mr. Hoffmann said he dropped an "h" from his name when he became Americanized.

In the letter Mrs. Hoffmann declared "business men are making enormous profits while the poorer classes are suffering intensely." Fuel, she said, was scarce and the price almost prohibitive for any except the well-to-do, and food prices were constantly soaring.

A family of five persons, the woman wrote, is allowed but one bucket of coal a week and comparatively few are able to pay the high price. Wood, which before the war sold for six marks, had increased to ninety marks.

The heaviest winner on English racing tracks in 1919 was Lord Glanely, whose earnings were more than $115,000.

GOVERNOR NAMES NEXT WEEK AS "SONG"

AUSTIN, Feb. 20.—Governor Parks designated by proclamation Feb. 22-28 as a week of song. The proclamation said in part: "During the week, in day special song programs should be given. Musical organizations are requested to arrange for community uses during this week. Clubs, other social organizations should provide for song parties or concerts either formal or informal. In a community there should be held near the close of the week a song festival which will include folk-songs, patriotic and national songs in which the entire audience may take part."

RUBE GOLDBERG'S BOOBS—But It Doesn't Mean Anything

into a book store to browse and picked up a faithful account of Greenland. He became an insatiable reader on the subject of the Arctic. He was then thirty years old. He was born in Cresson, Pa., in 1856. His father died when he was three years old, and his mother took him to Portland, Me., where he spent his boyhood, roaming about Casco Bay. He went to Bowdoin College, where fame there as a runner and jumper and stood in the honor column of scholarship. It was a little later that he had gone to Washington to work as a draughtsman in the Coast and Geodetic Survey offices. He spent his spare time studying civil engineering and passed in that branch into the naval service. He became Lieutenant Peary, U. S. N.

His first assignment was to the tropics. He was a leader of the surveying for the Nicaraguan canal route. It was when he returned to Washington that he fell upon the book about Greenland, and thereafter virtually consecrated himself to polar explorations. Obtaining leave from the naval service, he led an expedition into Greenland, to determine the extent of this mysterious land. He determined its insularity, discovered and named many Arctic points, which today are familiar names—such as Independence Bay, Melville Land, and Hellprin Land, and on one of his later voyages he discovered the famous meteorites which he brought back to civilization. One of them weighing eighty tons, is the wonder of visitors to the Museum of Natural History, in New York.

Between voyages, Peary resorted to the lecture platform to raise funds for further exploration. In one instance he delivered 168 lectures in ninety-six days, raising $13,000. Suffered Frozen Feet. On his sixth voyage, with the Pole in view, he had to give up because both of his feet became frozen. Although he had reached the most northerly land in the world—naming it Cape Morris K. Jessup, at the tip of Greenland, and had attained Lat. 84.17, the northmost record in the Western World, he was still in great despair. He wrote in his diary: "The game is off. My dream of sixteen years is ended. I have made the best fight I knew. I believe it was a good one. But I cannot accomplish the impossible."

By the time Peary reached civilization, however, he had decided upon still another trip. With the specially designed ship Roosevelt, Peary drove farther into the frozen ocean than any navigator had ever been before. On foot he advanced until his record for the seventh trip stood at 86.6, where starvation and cold again checked the party. The explorer was fifty-two years old when in July 1908 he set out on his eighth and successful invasion of the polar region.

Captain Bartlett, the veteran navigator for Peary, shouted to Col. Roosevelt as the ship was leaving its wharf at New York. "It's the Pole or bust this time, Mr. President." How it Was Won. The method of attacking the Pole was in five detachments, pushing north in the manner of a telescope. At the 88th parallel Peary parted with Capt. Bartlett, in charge of 4th detachment, and he with one member of his crew and four eskimos made the final dash. They covered the 135 miles in five days.

Thirty hours from April 6 to April 7 were spent at and around the Pole—a great tract of frozen sea—none of the land which Dr. Cook reported. The weather was cloudless and flawless. The temperature ranged from thirty-three to twelve below. Where open spaces permitted soundings, 9,000 feet of wire, which was all that Peary had, failed to touch the bottom. "When he got back to civilization, Peary was surprised to find such a fierce controversy raging over him and his rival, Dr. Cook, but he easily established his claim before scientific bodies throughout the world. He was raised to the rank of Rear Admiral of the United States navy and retired on pay. Congress voted him its thanks in a special act, and gold medals, decorations and honors of many kinds were showered upon him.

His Writings. A scientific and popular narrative of his success he wrote into a book called "The North Pole," while his other expeditions are described in detail in his "Northward Over the Great Ice," and "Nearest the Pole." Peary's closing years were spent in well-earned rest, living for a large part of the time with his family of three—wife, daughter and son—on Eagle Island off the coast from Portland, Me. Mrs. Peary was formerly Josephine Diebitsch, of Washington, D. C., marrying the explorer in 1888. She frequently accompanied her husband on his northward journeys, and on one of these trips Marie Ahngnighit Peary was born and bears the distinction of having been born farther north than any other white child in the world. She is popularly known as the "snow baby."

TRIALS TOLD OF GUARDIAN OF U. S. FOOD

(International News Service.) PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 20.—The trials of the food administrator as well as the fun in the job are told in a report filed here by one of the men who had charge of one of the country districts of the state. "Some people thought the food administration had charge of everything," the report stated, "even to the keeping of chickens out of war gardens."

There were others who made drastic requests upon the administration and could not understand why they were refused. Among these the report mentions "one person who wanted 100 pounds of sugar for fifteen gallons of apple butter, another who had to have five pounds of sugar every month or she would die."

The report tells of the rumors of sickness from eating substitute was bread, which went the rounds, and how one physician, a foreigner, was giving his patients a prescription calling for pure flour. "The grocers asked me about it," the report goes on, "so I wrote to the physician. He wanted to know if he was to let his patients die for the want of pure wheat bread. I told him to send them back to the old country, where they'd get no wheat bread at all, and they would get better without a doctor."

"On my first visit into a certain store," the administrator said, "I told the keeper who I was and what was expected in regard to sales, etc. He took offense and ordered me out of his place. He told me he had been in business ten years, and he was not taking any orders how to run his business. He grabbed me, and as I did not resist, out I went. He shook his fist at me and told me never to come back. However, I went back four weeks later, and to my astonishment I found the place vacant. Upon investigation I learned that the man had found out that I was the 'good man,' as he called me, and he got alarmed and sold out his business."

There were a series of amusing experiences in one of his boroughs which resulted in $950 in fines being paid over to the Red Cross. The administrator was "tipped" by a foreign grocer to the fact that his competitor across the street was selling flour without substitutes. The competitor was apprehended and paid a fine of $100. "If I pay, everybody pays," said the man, as he gave his check to the Red Cross, and from then on he tried on every grocer in the place. His hardest task was to land the man who "tipped" him, but finally he detected him selling potatoes and marking the bags "cornmeal."

HIPS BROKEN WHEN CAUGHT IN BULL-ROPES. O. H. Woodland, employed by the R. H. Jones Drilling company at Necessity, was caught by the bull-ropes Thursday. The ambulance from Jones, Cox & Co. was immediately dispatched there and brought him to Ranger. He was badly injured and it is feared that both hips are broken. He was taken to a Dallas hospital for treatment.

West Texas C-C Is Nearing Quota Ranger Members. William T. Wheeler of Stamford, organization manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, is spending a few days in Ranger in connection with his office. He stated that at the present time Ranger boasted of only eighty members of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, but said that this was partly due to the unfavorable conditions that prevailed when he was here on his last membership campaign. At that time the Red Cross drive, railroad campaign and other activities hindered the organization. Thursday he secured over sixty new applications and stated that he was certain to get the desired quota before he left. The West Texas Chamber has been on display in front of the local Chamber of Commerce does for the city of Ranger. Another aim of this organization is to aid all the smaller cities and towns of West Texas and thus have a big body to do their concerted boosting.

HUMAN-HEADED CALF GETS REPORTER'S TWO-BITS. Ranger appears to be a good field for street vendors, fakirs and one-horse showmen. The last few days a picturesque canvas depicting what is supposed to be a human-headed calf has been on display in front of a local cafe and prospective patrons are invited to enter for the small amount of 25 cents and see this stupendous freak wrought by nature.

The announcer is one of the old type of showmen and his "line" is similar to that which used to attract us when we visited the county fair in his good old days. The stuffed body of a calf which possessed a slightly deformed head is the "attraction."

Steel Fragments Removed, Victim Is Convalescing. Ed Garner, the man who was blown through the roof by the explosion of an air tank on the Rorer lease last Tuesday, has been operated upon and the many small pieces of steel that were imbedded in his body removed. He is resting well and is expected to recover.

LABORER SUFFERS A FRACTURED ARM. J. R. Martin, employed by P. company as laborer, was caught in the bull ropes at their well at Ivan about four miles from Ranger and had his left arm broken about four inches from the shoulder and the ligaments of the shoulder itself severely torn. Jones, Cox & Co. sent their ambulance out at once and he was taken to Dr. Shackelford's office for X-ray examination.

BAY UNCHANGED BY STORM. CORPUS CHRISTI, Feb. 20.—Practically no change was made in the bottom of Corpus Christi bay by the storm of last September, as shown by a survey by J. C. Howard, city engineer, which has just been completed. The survey included soundings taken for a distance of 1,200 feet out from the shore line, and will be used as a basis in estimating the amount of fill necessary in the construction of the protective seawall here.

WAS ALMOST DISCOURAGED. Constant Headache and Much Soreness and Pain Nearly Got the Best of This Harrisburg Lady, But Cardui Made Her Well and Strong. Harrisburg, Ark.—Mrs. J. M. Needham, living near here states: "When I began working on me I suffered a great deal. I had so much soreness and pain in the lower part of my body I could hardly get up when I was down. I would have severe pains, all across my back, and my sides hurt me all the time. I would have headaches constantly, especially the back of my head and neck. I was almost discouraged with my condition when I thought of Cardui, and decided to see what it would do. I saw an improvement at once after the first bottle. I kept it up and the result was wonderful. I took altogether four bottles. I grew stronger, better appetite, less pain until I was well. I think Cardui is a Godsend to suffering women, and I certainly can praise it, and do so."

For more than 40 years Cardui has been in general use and in that time thousands have written to tell us how it helped them back to health and strength. At druggists.—Advertisement.

PARIS COPIES U. S. CHARITY ORGANIZATIONS

(International News Service.) PARIS, Feb. 20.—One of America's most valuable contributions to social service work in this country is the establishment of central organizations for charitable societies. At present there are three of them in France, operating in Paris, Marseilles and Havre. They are run on the same lines as the Associated Charities in New York, Chicago and Boston.

The first annual reports of these bureaus, which have just been published, furnish a proof of the success of one of the rare instances of a purely American type of institution being transplanted practically without modification. Before the war these central bureaus were quite unknown in France. But in the brief period since the armistice they have developed so successfully that they have become a permanent factor in French philanthropic work.

"They were organized by the American Red Cross and later were taken over by French committees, which have now assumed entire control. "I look upon our bureau as the first step toward real co-operation between the philanthropic societies in Paris," explains Mile. Grifflot, director of the Paris "Fichier," in her report. "Up to now Paris societies have never been able to hit upon a plan for preventing overlapping in relief work. Some attempts at federation have been made. They have been disappointing. We French are afraid of more bureaucracy and red tape, I suppose. The secret of the bureau's success is due largely to the impersonal nature of our work. This is as important here as the economy of time and money."

"As in the big American centers co-operation is achieved by purely mechanical means. We put societies in touch with each other by means of a simple card system. Our files only range the name and address of families and the organizations which assist them. No details of private life, no information as to the character of the relief extended. "At present 306 of the 2,000 societies in Paris are using our exchange bureau. We hope to have 200 more very shortly. "Our work has been of special value to societies distributing milk to babies. Until now ignorant mothers would go from place to place getting milk from each, with dire results to the poor, overfed babies—to say nothing of depriving others in these days of milk shortage. "Up to date we have 123,387 families on file. I believe that this exceeds the number registered by the New York exchange bureau during the first eighteen months of its existence."

T. & P. Alley Track to Be Completed. The Texas & Pacific alley track, which was partially completed about two months ago, is to be rushed to completion. A tracklaying gang is at work south of Hunt street. The grade is already finished. The alley track is being constructed to meet a demand from a number of wholesale establishments located a half block east of the main line of the Texas & Pacific. The track will be nearly a mile long.

POLISH DIET ASKS REMOVAL BY ALLIES OF COMMISSIONERS. WARSAW, Feb. 20.—The Polish diet has adopted a motion requesting that the Polish government take measures to petition the allies to recall from Teschen the interallied plebiscite commissioners, who have been accused of partially favoring the Czechs for official positions in a district chiefly populated by Poles. If the action is continued, it was stated, it will influence the Poles against Poland.

FARMERS' HELP IN CENSUS REQUESTED. WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—An appeal to farmers for fuller co-operation with the census bureau was issued today by Secretary of Agriculture Meredith. Delay and difficulty in taking the census of farms, the secretary said, has become a matter of serious concern to the department. The farmers were asked to assist in the work by notifying the department of any farms which have been overlooked by the enumerators.

AMERICAN COTTON INVADES DISTRICT OF LAGUNA, MEX. MEXICO CITY, Feb. 20.—American capitalists are reported to be planning for the development of cotton growing in the Laguna district of the state of Coahuila. This district has grown large crops of cotton for many years. It is understood also that the Americans will plant thousands of acres in Tamaulipas to wheat. The government is said to look with favor on these projects.

SHEFFIELD ADVERTISES WITH MOTION PICTURES. SHEFFIELD, Eng., Feb. 20.—This city is said to be the first in England to produce moving pictures to advertise its activities. Pictures of the steel manufacturing processes for which Sheffield is famous, will be sent to the United States, Canada and South America. Manchester, Glasgow, Liverpool and Birmingham have all embarked on a similar enterprise.

NORWAY IS GIVEN SOVEREIGNTY OVER SPITZENBERGEN ISLANDS

A harbor in the Spitzbergen archipelago.

Under a treaty just signed, Norway is given sovereignty over the Spitzbergen islands. Ambassador Wallace signed the treaty for the U. S. The archipelago, which is about the size of West Virginia, is valuable chiefly because of its coal mines. These mines were developed mainly by American interests. The islands never have been under the protection of any nation. As a result there has been no recognized law, the law of the gun and public sentiment ruling. The interested countries agreed to waive their rights to the islands in Norway's favor primarily because of the location of the islands, they being near Norway.

income so derived shall be spent by the association as herein provided. The trustees of this association shall permit the free use of the property to games where any admission is charged by the contestants, subject to such rules and regulations as they may prescribe.

ARTICLE VII. It is expressly ordained and declared, however, that no club, organization or association having an athletic team as herein contemplated, shall ever be barred from the use of the premises, because of any religious or political affiliation or business attachments, if such is lawful, but that all such clubs, associations and organizations shall be entitled to equal, fair and impartial use of the premises and treatment from the board of directors, provided, however, that no club or association having once used the premises and having failed to show the proper respect for law or order or the public authorities, or who wantonly or recklessly injures or destroys the premises, may, by a vote of the trustees, be denied the privilege of this park for their athletic games.

ARTICLE VIII. The premises shall never be leased or let or rented for any illegal or immoral purposes and it shall be the duty of the trustees to aid the public authorities in prohibiting such use. When the park or parks shall not be in use by clubs, teams, organizations or associations, such park and premises shall be open to the public and under the supervision and control of the board of trustees. It being the object and purpose of this association to aid and assist the city of Ranger in establishing and maintaining a proper and suitable park or parks and that all improvements and buildings erected shall belong to the city of Ranger.

ARTICLE IX. A modern brick building will be erected on Austin street, adjoining the Lone Star Theatre, by J. A. Craven, of the Craven Realty company.

Construction will start at once, Mr. Craven said. The structure will be occupied by a first class baker's shop, owned jointly by Mr. Craven and a partner who has had experience in managing a large city bakery.

Craven-Marowitz Firm Dissolved

The partnership between J. A. Craven and Arthur Marowitz, local real estate agents, has been dissolved by mutual consent. The two men formed a partnership last summer.

Mr. Marowitz has been in Shreveport, La., the last three months, dealing in oil and real estate. He will continue in business there.

Mr. Craven will transact business under the firm name of the Craven Realty company. He will stay at his present location on Austin street until the Guaranty State Bank building is completed, when he will take an office in that building.

FAIR WEATHER SPEEDS PAVING WORK IN CITY

With fair weather and dry streets, paving work in the city has taken on fresh activity. The McKenzie Construction company is getting its machinery in readiness for concrete base work on Austin street, north of Walnut. William M. Gibson, vice president and general manager of the company, stated Friday that the company would begin laying concrete on this block the first of next week, if the weather remains good.

Curb and gutter work on this block and also on the half block immediately north of Cherry street in Austin, has been finished. A large concrete mixer and a machine to measure accurately the amount of cement, gravel and crushed rock used, thus producing an even mixture, are in readiness to go to work.

Curb and gutter work is now being done on Pine street, west of Marston. The work will be extended down Pine street to Marston and up Marston to Walnut street, Mr. Gibson stated.

The middle of the corner of Cypress and Austin streets has been graded up, and filling installed. A dip will be built at the alley on this block to allow water to pass.

The McKenzie company will proceed with paving work as fast as materials can be secured, Mr. Gibson said. The company has been greatly handicapped on account of bad weather and difficulty in securing materials.

The General Construction company is laying curbs and gutters on Hick street, between Pine and Main. The block is ready for concrete.

Cemetery Cleanup Well Under Way; Funds Are Needed

A gang of laborers is at work cleaning up the local cemetery, clearing away the rubbish, cutting and hauling grass from the lots and mounding the graves. The work is in charge of W. O. Wheatley.

A committee from the Chamber of Commerce solicited funds for beautifying the cemetery. Mr. Wheatley stated today that several more days' work will be required to put the graveyard in good condition. The expense of the undertaking will be about $800, and additional funds are needed. Contributions will be received at the Milford Furniture company.

LOST TREASURE REVEALED BY FATAL EXPLOSION

AMSTERDAM.—A terrible explosion, with a strange sequel, has occurred at Gorinchem, in Gelderland. The family of Dirk Wouterzoon, a provision dealer, was seated at dinner when there was a terrific explosion. The room was rent as by an earthquake, and part of the ceiling and wainscoting fell with a loud crash on the diners, two of whom were crushed to death under the weight, while Wouterzoon himself and a child of six were seriously injured.

Wouterzoon, on being examined at the hospital by a magistrate, stated that he had purchased a quantity of high explosives from a German soldier, adding that the price asked was so low that he could not resist such a bargain.

Later on, a search being made by the police for further explosives, it was discovered that the collapse of an old party wall had brought to light an oak box filled with gold and silver coin dating from the early sixteenth century and valued at more than $500,000. The treasure was temporarily placed under charge of the prefect of police.

ILLITERATE, BUT EARNS $5,527 A YEAR IN CANADA

International News Service. ST. CATHARINES, Ont.—An illiterate Austrian earned $5,527 in Canada in one year of the war as a laborer at the Welland steel foundries, it was learned here when Mike Ennis was fined for making a false income tax return.

SNOW SHOVELERS DIVVY BOOZE THROWN FROM AUTO

International News Service. BANGOR, Me.—A crew of snow shovelers working on the line of the Maine Central between Bangor and Northern Main Junction had the thrill that comes once in a lifetime when a large automobile passed by and someone threw out a sack into the snow.

The shovelers found that the sack contained twenty-one quarts of Canadian whiskey, which was distributed among the members of the crew. It was learned that the automobile had started for Bangor with the whiskey, but had covered only a short distance when another machine, advancing at a rapid rate, appeared behind it. The whiskey smugglers, fearing that the second machine held deputy sheriffs, then threw the whiskey into the drift near the shovelers. The second machine had only two commercial travelers, who knew nothing concerning the valuable cargo of the car ahead.

COUPLE STILL IN FORTIES HAVE 21 CHILDREN

International News Service. PENSACOLA, Fla.—A family of twenty-one children has been found in Santa Rosa county. The father, J. H. Taylor, is a preacher, farmer and merchant at Berrydale, twelve miles north of Milton, the county seat, and the last of his family consisted of two twin boys who were born on January 21. The whole family, it is stated, live within a few miles of the old homestead, and a very singular fact is that neither of the parents is yet out of their forties. They both appear to be in the best of health, and Rev. Taylor stated in Milton the other day that they were all happy and that they were trusting "in the Lord to continue his shower of blessings upon them." They had always been happy, he said, had always continued in good health and hoped to so continue.

THOUSANDS OF STARVING CHILDREN IN MEXICO CITY

International News Service. CHICAGO.—Every day of the year 50,000 homeless, starving children roam the streets of Mexico City, and this tragedy exists on a smaller scale in every city in Mexico, it was declared by Dr. William H. Teeter, director of the Childhood Conservation league in Mexico, at a luncheon here.

One morning recently, he said, sixty bodies of children who had died in the streets during the night were picked up and carted away.

"America must go into Mexico and help these children," Dr. Teeter declared. "They will either starve or grow up as criminals, with bandits as their heroes."

Prominent Physician Continues to Use Tanlac in Practice With Surprising Results.

One of the strongest and most convincing evidences of the remarkable results being accomplished by Tanlac throughout the country is the large number of letters that are now being received daily from scores of well-known men and women who have been benefited by its use.

Among the large number that have been received recently, none are more interesting than the following letter from Dr. J. T. Edwards, of Fayetteville, Ga. Dr. Edwards, it will be remembered, recently gave Tanlac his unqualified indorsement in a public statement, and the testimonial published below was recently given him by one of his patients. His letter follows, just as it was written:

Fayetteville, Ga.
Mr. G. F. Willis, Atlanta, Ga.
Dear Sir:

I am enclosing herewith statement I have just received from Mr. T. M. McLaugh. He has said out here and is moving to Turin, Ga. He was here this morning and came in to tell me what Tanlac had done for him. He says too much cannot be said about Tanlac. It certainly has cured him.

Respectfully,
J. T. EDWARDS, M. D.

Mr. Gough's statement follows: "I suffered from indigestion and could not eat anything but what would hurt me. Constipation gave me a great deal of trouble also. My symptoms were indigestion, heartburn and gas on the stomach, after eating. My appetite was irregular and my food failed to nourish me. This trouble caused me to get very poor; in fact, I got so thin and weak I was hardly able to go about."

"I bought three bottles of Tanlac on Doctor Edwards' recommendation, and I am now feeling all right again, and am able to attend to business. I gained seventeen pounds in weight and am doing fine. Tanlac did the work.

"I now recommend Tanlac to everyone who is sick like I was and wishes to take something that will help them."

Tanlac is sold in Ranger by Phillips Bros., and in Eastland by Butler Drug Co.—Adv.

Ripe Olive Poison Text of Warning Ohioan Gives Out

DALLAS, Feb. 19.—Charles L. Sebring of Sebring, Ohio, a recent visitor here, issued a warning to the people against bacilli botulinus poison in ripe olives which recently caused the death of seven persons in Memphis, Tenn. Mr. Sebring lost a sister and six friends from the same cause last August at his Ohio home. Physicians, he said, have found the botulinus toxin the most powerful they ever encountered.

"The effects of the poison are almost immediate," Mr. Sebring said. "There are two phases of the poisoning—double vision or paralysis of the eyes, and paralysis of the throat." The victims die in from six to 150 hours, depending on the number of olives eaten, he declared.

There were eighteen guests at a dinner party given by Mr. Sebring last August, he said, and seven of them died from eating olives. At my solicitation the Ohio State Board of Health investigated the case thoroughly and although the doctors at first believed the botulinus poison was conveyed by meat, Dr. Charles Armstrong of the state board succeeded in isolating the germ in the olives.

"A few weeks later eight persons in Detroit died from the poison. I investigated the case. The same thing happened out a family in the Bronx (New York City) last January. Now comes the Memphis case—all resulting from eating ripe olives which are responsible for the death of at least twenty-eight persons.

"I think the public should be warned of the danger. In Detroit, following the botulinus deaths, the sale of ripe olives was immediately forbidden. No store in my section—including Sebring, Alliance, Akron, Canton and that part of Ohio, will handle them now."

Mr. Sebring said Ohio physicians did not hold the company whose brand of olives caused these deaths responsible for the presence of the toxin, expressing the opinion that the poison is present in the olive itself and that the danger exists in the fruit.

How To Keep Young As You Grow Older

It is possible to have a hale, hearty old age. The body in youth possesses more heat than the body of middle age or old age, because the blood contains more oxygen.

It is possible for middle aged and older men and women to increase the oxygen carrying capacity of their blood—not by pumping oxygen into the lungs, but by supplying the blood with the organic iron which attracts oxygen just as the magnet attracts steel.

Two warring forces—the red blood cells and the white blood cells are always contending in the blood. They are the processes of building up, and tearing down.

During youth the hot, red blood, vitalized with oxygen, enables the building up process to overcome the tearing down process, and the tendency of the body is all toward growth and development.

As middle age approaches, the two forces tend to equalize each other, and the body retains its vigor and vitality.

But, with the coming of old age, the victory of the tearing down process is manifested by the slow, gradual decay of the vital energies.

The stress of modern life makes us old at fifty, decrepit at sixty, and useless, helpless wrecks before we pass our seventieth year.

There is absolutely no necessity for this premature senility, this surrender of strength and vitality, this abandonment of the pleasures and responsibilities of life. The bodily forces and energy can be maintained, the arterial degeneration prevented, and a hearty, healthy, old age assured.

REOLO supplies to the cells of the body the organic iron—which is easily assimilated by the blood—and attracts oxygen just as the magnet attracts steel. It enriches the blood with cell-salts and vitalizes it with life-giving oxygen—increases the circulation, and by its power of cell nutrition and reconstruction—its tonic and stimulating qualities makes the entire body glow with health.

Start the REOLO TREAT ENT today and you will be delighted with the steady improvement in your strength, energy and vitality. The large package of 100 pleasant, tasteless tablets, enough for two weeks' treatment, only costs $1.

Reola is sold in Ranger by Texas

Drug Co., licensed distributors for the Dr. A. L. Rensing Laboratories, Akron, Ohio.

WAR DEPARTMENT TO SPEND MILLION ALONG THE BORDER

CORPUS CHRISTI, Feb. 20.—More than a million dollars worth of construction will be done in 1920 from Fort Clark to the mouth of the Rio Grande, according to John Garner, congressman from that district, who has received an official report from Major General Henry Jervey, assistant chief of the general staff and director of operations.

At ten towns and army posts the actual amount of construction now underway or authorized during the next twenty-four months amounts to an investment of $1,029,562.83, while cold storage facilities or other minor work will be done at twenty towns, of which there is no exact estimate of the cost.

The construction covers the building of quarters for both officers and men, stables, shed, mess shacks, warehouses, shops, infirmaries, and various other structures demanded by modern forts or cantonments.

BOY'S CAREER AS DAVID HARUM ENDS IN JAIL

International News Service.

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Lee Dickson, seventeen, started out here recently to become a David Harum. Dickson's career came to an abrupt end, however, when Judge Latschaw sentenced him to six months in jail a few days ago.

Dickson got into trouble when he rented a horse and buggy from a Main street liveryman, traded the horse for two ponies and the next day sold the buggy and ponies. He entered a plea of guilty.

SAN SABA WOODMEN GET STATE BANNER

Special to The Times. SAN SABA, Feb. 19.—Farmers Camp, the San Saba unit of the Modern Woodmen of America, has been awarded the state banner for having secured the largest number of members in 1919 of any camp in Texas.

A telegram to that effect received from the national headquarters of the organization at Lincoln, Neb., was read before a meeting of Modern Woodmen attending the zone class adoption and rally held. The banner is jeweled and said to be valued at $500. Credit for winning the prize is conceded by the camp members to be due to the work of R. J. Vidler, district deputy for the fraternity.

C. B. Connell, representing the supreme organization of the Modern Woodmen attending the zone class adoption for the zone class adoption, John E. Swanger of Dallas, state deputy, presided.

WOULD EVICT TENANT WHO HOUSED RELATIVE

CHICAGO.—Suit to evict a tenant because the latter permitted relatives to visit him in his apartment was filed here by a landlord. Robert R. Arnett is the tenant. The landlord, Solomon Halperin, charges that Arnett permitted his mother-in-law and other-in-law to live with him for four days. Halperin bases his suit on an obscure clause in the lease which reads, "the tenant shall not permit his premises to be occupied by any other persons, nor sublet the same without the consent of the landlord."

As this clause is in most leases issued here flat tenants generally are taking much interest in the case. The judge has postponed his decision.

Just Another Little Story About those Wonderful New Spring Suits

It is just impossible for us to keep from telling you about those new Suits for Spring, ladies. Really, we have never had so many charming models. This season, as no other, offers an opportunity for every woman to have a Suit that will just satisfy her, there are so many designs from which to choose.

From the school girl to the matron of conservative years, there is a garment unusually attractive for every woman. And Suits are so popular this year, too.

As we watch the arrivals of new models that come streaming into our Suit Section daily, we doubt if ever Suits were more beautiful or designs more charming and attractive. Each is a melody in itself—a separate and distinctive craftsmanship without a duplicate in all suit-dom.

There are those dainty ETON models with short jackets and graceful line effects. Other with box-coats trimmed in Military and Soutache Braid. Numbers have the new and extremely attractive Tuxedo collars giving that fashionable and graceful line effect and allowing the use of vests and blouses.

But why try to describe these new Spring models? Words are inadequate in their description. You Must See Them!

“WHITE CANNIBALS” SAID TO BE MYTHS

By Associated Press
LOS ANGELES, Feb. 20—Members of a mining expedition Captain Harry de Windt, an English explorer, says he plans to lead to Tiburon Islands, in the Gulf of California, need not fear "white cannibals" reported there, according to Los Angeles residents who have visited the island.

Persons returning from Tiburon, however, have given it an unpleasant reputation. They have reported that it is overrun with reptiles and that the few Indians living there, while not actively hostile, are sullen and distrustful.

Stories of a strange white tribe, using poisoned darts and an ancient blunderbuss to bag occasional visitors to provide native feasts, are scouted here. Some Los Angeles residents have reported having seen natives carrying modern firearms.

According to a telegram from G. A.
Bryant, from Hasse, the Comanche Oil association Sturkie well No. 1, has completed its fishing job and has got the tools out of the hole at 3,100 feet.
He reports that the interest in the
Hasse territory is strong.

SPRING ACTIVITY.

Spring days, with open weather, all that is needed to show the activity that the season will bring to the Ranger field. Every road leading out from Ranger, in four directions, is lined with wagons, trucks and the varied traffic of the oil industry, hurrying to operations that have been hampered by wet weather and eager to push ahead.

Every quarter of the fields that lie in every direction from the oil city reports new interests, an increasing number of locations and the promise of bustling business in the coming year. To the north, new territory is opened by good wells lying on the borderland of the county, bearing out the months-old prediction that the immediate Ranger pool and the productive Stephens pools would be linked up.

To the south, operations are carrying the frontiers of the immediate pool ten miles from the city; far to the southwest, wildcat operations presage westward extensions of the Desdemona pool.

Far to the east, a heavy, smoky gasser is presaging a new section—the Exray pool of the Ranger field, which has been followed with new locations and stimulation of interest. Shallow fields six miles northwest of Ranger have recently contributed wells that are stronger than any completed heretofore.

Every one of these pools counts Ranger as its center, its source of supply and the lines of traffic which bind them to the oil metropolis are convincing demonstrations of the intimate ties held by the city to development which lies around it, to the four points of the compass.

A casual examination of the consolidated drilling report of the counties in the Ranger field—Comanche, Eastland, Erath and Stephens—shows the preparation that operators already have made for operations of the year.

The 776 strings of tools already in operation are only the indications of the present activity. Rigs, rigs on the ground and rigs building, are the proof of the work ahead.

One string of tools will complete three wells a year. The present drilling operations may be regarded as fifty percent completed, what with those that are but a few feet from the pay strata and those that have only recently spudded in.

Of the 776 strings, then, 388 will be ready for new operations soon. And for the 388, there are 381 rigs already ready or under construction.

Old oil men estimate that twenty-five percent advance preparation indicates a field that operators are planning to keep going at its present, or increased rate. Ranger lists twice that.

Completions of the Ranger field for the year just closed, which was the record year of the petroleum industry and a breaker of all records in the North Texas fields, of which the Ranger field is more than half, totaled 1,333.

Figuring the present strings in operation, with none added, and the advance preparations show that more may be expected, completions for 1920 may be predicted to be 2,328, or 1,000 stronger than the year preceding.

Fair weather furnishes a convincing demonstration of the work that the drilling report predicts in cold figures. The Ranger field is just entering its most active year to date.

Andrew Carnegie's total gifts to June 1, 1918, amounted to $288,743,861.

General Pershing's salary as a full general of the United States army is $13,500 a year.

LANSING'S RESIGNATION DISCLOSES FACT FRICTION LONG EXISTED IN OFFICIAL FAMILY

Robert Lansing. This portrait was taken while he was a member of the American peace delegation in Paris.

The clash between President Wilson and former Secretary of State Robert Lansing, which resulted in Lansing's resignation and Wilson's acceptance of it, disclosed the fact that President Wilson has felt for a long time that Lansing was not co-operating with him in affairs dealing with the state department. Lansing emphatically denies this, stating that he went ahead with his duties and called cabinet meetings without the president's o. k. in the belief that he (Lansing) was doing as the president would want him. Because of the fact that President Wilson virtually accuses the former cabinet member with violating the constitution in calling cabinet meetings, Lansing's resignation assumes more than ordinary importance.

AND AGAIN

If it did not, Ranger's leading merchants would not spend the money they do. When the leaders, who have grown to their present standing by constantly making such an expenditure, heartily indorse our columns, why isn't it good business for the small firm to adopt such a policy.

GOLD RESERVE FAILING, MINES CLOSING DAILY

By Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—The man with an income of $2,000 is now actually drawing $870, upon the basis of dollar value in 1913. This startling fact is brought out plainly in a statement to congress today by Harold N. Lawrie, a nationally known economist for the American Mining Congress.

The purchasing value of the ounce of gold which, under statute cannot bring more than $20.67, has, Mr. Lawrie shows, shrunk through inflation of currency until it is no longer possible for gold to be profitably produced. The expansion of the national credit has lowered the purchasing power of a dollar through increasing all commodity prices.

Based upon the pre-war prices of 1913, these prices gradually advanced from 100 per cent in 1913 to 223 in October, 1919. Each increase in credits has been absorbed by a corresponding increase in commodity prices and has resulted in placing the nation upon an artificial plane of living. The gold producer finds the actual purchasing power of his ounce of gold is now $9 instead of $20.67.

Gold mines of the United States are being closed down at an alarming rate. Many of these can never be reopened owing to the prohibitive costs of re-mining and unwatering. Cripple Creek, the greatest American gold camp, is taking on the appearance of a city of dead hopes. Great drainage tunnels, monster underground workings, vast areas of expensively constructed plants, whole cities of homes are being deserted and thousands of skilled miners are being forced to seek new camps because gold—the basic monetary metal of the United States—cannot longer be produced at a profit.

The manufacturers of the United States used $21,848,800 more gold last year than was produced in the United States. The gold producer lost millions during the war—forced to lose—by peculiar circumstances not easily understood by the layman. The manufacturing jeweler made millions because while his goods mounted in value, he secured the gold at coinage price of $20.67 per ounce, an amount less than the cost of production.

Seventy-five years ago the world produced but $30,000,000 in gold per year. In 1915, the world produced $469,000,000. Rapid increase in population, increase in per capita wealth and adoption of a gold standard of finance in all civilized countries together with waste and hoarding absorbed the increasing gold.

The gold stock of the United States suffered a loss in 1919 of $292,796,000 by the excess gold exports over imports. To further deplete the gold reserve, the consumption of gold in the arts and trades during 1919 was $80,337,600, while the production of new gold in the United States and possessions was but $58,488,800. The estimated production in 1920 is $40,000,000. The ratio of the gold reserve to the federal reserve net deposit and note liabilities continually declined since 1914, until it reached 44.8 per cent on Dec. 26, 1919, a margin of but 6.8 per cent above that required by the federal reserve act.

Certain officials of the government have persistently endeavored to minimize the danger of the failure of domestic gold production, but leading financiers of the United States are organizing a campaign to protect the gold standard. The American Bankers' association in 1918 and again in 1919 passed a resolution calling attention of the nation to the threatening danger.

COMMANDS FIRST GERMAN STEAMER SENT TO LONDON

Capt. R. Wesner on bridge of his ship.

The first German merchantman to reach London since the war broke out arrived at that port recently. It was the Borussia, commanded by Captain R. Wesner.

called a national gold conference in St. Louis last November and this conference of bankers, economists and miners, by resolution put itself on record as expressing the opinion that no change should be made in the gold standard and unit of value of monetary transactions in this and other countries, but requesting congress to impose a tax of 50 cents per pennyweight of fine gold contained in all articles which may be sold on and after May 1, 1920, from which fund the producer of the new gold ounce will receive on and after the same date a $10 premium to compensate for the increased cost of production.

This is the only proposal yet advanced, whereby the monetary unit is not altered and a free gold market in the United States may be maintained. The bill merely creates the machinery by which the manufacturers of gold in the arts and trades may properly pay the cost of its production, so that sufficient new gold may be produced to satisfy their requirements and make it unnecessary to withdraw their gold from the monetary gold reserve of the country.

The gold in the bank reserves is the basis of bank credit. The amount of gold in reserve limits the expansion of credit. These reserves have been steadily falling. The government has allowed vast shipments of gold for export and must continue to export gold in order to maintain export trade; meanwhile the production of the American mines has been failing with startling rapidity, from $101,000,000 in 1916 to $58,500,000 in 1919, a loss of 42 per cent.

At the beginning of the war, England arranged protection for all of the gold produced by British mines. This protection is still maintained and the gold reserves of England are being increased by imports from the United States, and their own heavy production of new gold. At the close of 1918, there was a gold cover of 60 cents for every federal reserve dollar. This had declined to 50.3c at the close of 1919. The federal reserve act requires 40c in actual gold against each dollar in circulation. At the present rate of loss in production, excessive gold exports and heavy consumption in the arts and trades, the legal amount cannot long be maintained.

The United States today owns approximately one-third of the monetary gold reserve of all nations and is expected to sustain the credit structure of the world. The depletion of the monetary gold reserve, either by excessive use of manufacturing or by the curtailment of production, necessarily will limit that commercial supremacy to which the United States is entitled by virtue of its natural resources, business sagacity and industrial efficiency.

New York City, with 27,362, suffered the greatest number of deaths in the influenza epidemic of 1918-19. Atlanta, Ga., with 212, had the least.

The first elevated railway train in New York City was operated April 30, 1878.

Automobiles killed 826 persons in New York City in 1918.

AUCTION---JEWELRY---AUCTION

The lease on our store building called for occupancy by us on September first. We ordered one of the largest and most complete stocks of fine jewelry ever shipped to this section. We received the goods in ample time for the holiday trade, but our building was not ready. We could not display our stock until just a few days before Christmas. This did not give us an opportunity to take advantage of the holiday trade, and left the greater part of the goods on our hands.

Our Loss Is Your Opportunity

We must dispose of this stock at once so we are offering this unusual auction. This is by no means an ordinary auction event and certainly not an ordinary stock of jewelry, but an OFFERING of the very highest grade of jewelry merchandise at figures which YOU will make.
