FALL HURRYING TO NEW MEXICO TO HIS RANCH

Man Under Fire Hopes to Compose Shattered Nerves in Temporary Seclusion.

TOPEKA, Kan., Feb. 15.—Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, through whom the leases of naval oil reserves at Teapot Dome and Elk Hill were negotiated, hurried through here today en route to El Paso and to his New Mexico ranch where he hopes to be able to compose his shattered nerves. His old friend, George Curry, former governor of New Mexico and now United States boundary commissioner, is accompanying him, together with Mrs. Jack Fall, a daughter-in-law, and a trained nurse. At the noon hour, Fall was in his berth and Curry was keeping all inquisitive visitors away.

"Mr. Fall is worse than when he left Washington," Curry said. "He did not rest at all last night and is in a very nervous state." It was stated that Fall probably would remain in bed during the remainder of the trip.

"We never discuss his troubles with him," Curry said. "He is now under fire and at such a time it does not do to talk."

She was a member of the first board of regents of the Texas College of Industrial Arts and an active member of the board to her death. HOWARD CARTER HAS THE SULK

Immediately After Viewing Mummy Case of Long Dead Monarch, Retires to His Home and Orders All Work Stopped.—Egyptian Government Trying to Find Cure.

LUXOR, Egypt, Feb. 15.—Guards paced the Valley of the Kings today protecting the silent tomb of Pharaoh Tutankhamen, while Howard Carter, co-discoverer with Lord Carnavon of the ancient monarch's resting place, sulks in his house and refuses to comment on his action in suddenly ceasing the work of excavation at the moment when the actual mummy case had been disclosed.

The Egyptian government is studying the legal aspects of Carter's action and the next step in the dispute is expected to come from Cairo. Carter stopped work, it is claimed, because he wished to guard the newspaper rights for a syndicate in which he was interested, while the government wished information and opportunities to gather news of the Tutankhamen tomb to be given to all newspapers without favor or discrimination.

QUARREL OVER BORROWED FUND PARTS FRIENDS PHILADELPHIA LAWYER NAMED FOR PROSECUTOR

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Officials high in the government lost heavily in stock market plunges a year or more ago and the million dollar slush fund was used to tide them over their losses, according to private information given today as a tip to the senate committee investigating the leasing of naval oil reserves at Teapot Dome and Elk Hills.

When the plight of these officials became known to friends in Wall street, one million dollars was raised and transferred to Washington from New York. The relation of this million dollar fund to the oil scandal is expected to be disclosed by showing that oil men subscribed the money.

The slush fund was used purely as a loan, it is claimed, and all has been repaid but about $200,000. A dispute over this $200,000, believed still unsettled, is said to have caused hard feeling between Wall street men who raised the money and at least one of the government officials who was involved as a borrower from the fund. Through this hard feeling, the senate hopes to ferret the truth about the transaction.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Owen J. Roberts of Philadelphia today was nominated by President Coolidge to be the prosecuting counsel in the oil lease cases, succeeding Silas Strawn of Chicago, whose name was withdrawn by Mr. Coolidge when the senate declined to approve his nomination because of his connection with two Standard Oil banks in Chicago.

Roberts was endorsed by Senator Pepper of Pennsylvania. If the senate approves his nomination he will have charge of the government's case in the effort to set aside the Teapot Dome and Elk Hill naval reserve oil leases. He is a well known Philadelphia attorney and has been called on several times to take part in the prosecution of large corporations and has always avoided any business connection that might interfere with such work, the president was informed.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Federal investigation of charges that the so-called "bread trust" is robbing American consumers of nearly $500,000,000 annually was promised by senate progressives here today. Two courses of investigation are open. They are:

An investigation by the federal trade commission under authority of the federal trade and the Clayton act.

The progressives today will decide which course promises speedier and more searching revelation of the truth about bread. The decision will be embodied in a resolution to be introduced later today, probably by LaFollette.

EXPLORER SAYS ARCTIC CIRCLE INVISIBLE PLACE

PORTLAND, Ore.—The modern geography is undoubtedly the most widely read piece of fiction in the world.

Such was the statement made here by Vinjalmar Stefansson, Arctic explorer, who declared the Arctic regions are inhabitable and are not the places of absolute desolation.

There are some 700 varieties of plants and flowers that grow in the far north, he explained.

The North Pole, for instance, is not the coldest spot in the world. Cities in Montana, North Dakota, and other states experience a lower temperature at times.

Snow houses are as scarce as hatched roofs in America.

"At certain times of the year Italy is colder than Iceland. At Fort Yukon, in the Arctic circle, the thermometer often reaches a stuffy temperature of 90 degrees, or thereabouts.

"Most of the travelers and explorers who have died in the north succumbed to natural causes or were drowned, instead of freezing to death," he declared. "The Arctic region is a livable place."

"The proposed Arctic trip of the American navy's great dirigible, Shenandoah," he said, "will open a new era. It will make close neighbors of continents now separated by thousands of miles. It will dispel many myths of the north."

BRITISH DOCK WORKERS ISSUE STRIKE ORDER

Million Men Due to Quit Work Tomorrow, Affecting Every English Port.

LONDON, Feb. 15.—One million dock workers prepared today to quit work tomorrow and tie up every port in the United Kingdom unless a last minute settlement cancels the strike order. Scenes at the huge dock of the Port of London at daybreak today were of an unprecedented activity as the ship companies speeded up efforts to clear cargoes before the impending paralysis set in.

Dock workers' executives and employers were in conference today, seeking to break the deadlock that has existed since February 1. The threatened strike is international in scope. The complaint of the men is that wages since 1920 have fallen from 16 shillings a day in the large ports and 11 shillings a day in the small ports to 10 and 9 shillings respectively. They are asking the former rates and a guaranteed week.

In the larger British ports today there are more workers than jobs. In consequence the men line up at dawn and the foremen pick in order the number each needs for the day.

JOE JACKSON WINS SUIT FOR BACK PAY, ONLY TO HAVE IT SET ASIDE

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Feb. 15.—Joe Jackson today won his suit for $16,711 back pay from the Chicago White Sox, the verdict being given by a jury in the circuit court.

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 15.—Judge Gregory of the circuit court today set aside the verdict of a jury which awarded Joe Jackson $16,711 for back pay.

Jackson, who with several other players, was thrown out of organized baseball following the White Sox scandal in 1919, sued for back pay on a three-year contract.

Judge Gregory set the verdict aside and dismissed the case on the grounds that Jackson's testimony "reeked with perjury."

Jackson has the right to appeal to the supreme court for reversal of Judge Gregory's verdict. The jury of 10 men and two women answered all of the 10 questions of the court in Jackson's favor.

They decided that Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the Chicago White Sox, had promised to pay a bonus in the 1917 pennant race. It was determined that Harry Grabiner, White Sox secretary, had represented to Jackson when he signed him to a 1920 contract that the 10-day clause had been eliminated and that he had signed it with this understanding.

It vindicated Jackson of conspiring to "throw" any games of the world series of 1919 to the Cincinnati club. It held that Claude Williams did not give Jackson $5,000 before any of the games of the 1919 series.

VANDERLIP IS GRILLED HARD BY COMMITTEE

New York Financier Says Knows no More About Marion Star Sale Than He Told.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—In two hours of severe grilling, the Teapot Dome investigating committee found out that Frank H. Vanderlip, the New York financier, had no information on which to base his Marston (Ohio) Star ought to be investigated. Repeated efforts to get from him the authorship or basis for the rumors he said had been carried to him by responsible persons brought only the statement that he saw a "kettle of scandal simmering from morsels in it that ought to be scrutinized."

Vanderlip said he made his public statement regarding the rumors about the Marston Star solely to have the transaction brought to public attention and the rumors, if unwarranted, killed.

Democrats and Republicans were partially joined in submitting Vanderlip to a merciless cross-examination in which his action was severely condemned and his motive sought. He was accused of broadcasting scandal and of having a "grouch" against the late President Harding which he was seeking to satisfy. This he denied.

Part of Vanderlip's testimony referred to his criticism of the failure of the senate to force Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, to testify. He admitted today that his charge that the senate feared to question Fall was unwarranted.

Another witness before the committee today was Tom Johnson, foreman of Fall's New Mexico ranch. He denied ever receiving a check for $68,000 from Harry F. Sinclair. Such a check was referred to by Archie Roosevelt in his testimony before the committee.

BIBLE THOUGHT.
SPEAK THE GOOD WORD:—
 Heaviness in the heart of man maketh it stoop, but a good word maketh it glad.—Proverbs 12: 25.

LET LAW AND JUSTICE PREVAIL.

For many months there have been ominous mutterings from the national capitol of irregularities in high official places, and there has been the indefinite promise that those accused would be called upon to answer. Recent disclosures along several lines indicate a decidedly unfavorable condition, and that the time has come for a disclosure of the truth, no matter how unwelcome the revelations may be, or what political organization may be emmeshed. It has been known for years that speculative, or vested commercial interests know no party—one is as good as another so long as the 'goods were delivered.' Honesty nor dishonesty are qualities on which no political party holds a monopoly. From the disclosures there seems to be plenty of both.

There have been investigations and more are promised, but what the people are particularly interested in is that public officials who are accused of fast and loose methods, guilty of breach of trust or incompetency, should be brought to account in a proper court. If this republic shall endure among the civilized nations of the earth upon the fundamental principles that underlie our government, it must be because the citizenship of the country have a respect and an admiration for law, even though the law be wrong. We live by example. If those in high official life disregard our laws, in spirit or in letter, what can one expect of the common people?

No man, or woman, or school boy, finds fault with a square deal—but in this twentieth century all of them know when they get it, and when they do not. The vanishing of a sore spot does not heal the wound. The time has come when representatives of the people, regardless of party, must "come clean" or make room for worthier men.

TOO MUCH LAW.

The modern lawmaker seems to think it his chief duty to introduce new legislation. It does not seem to occur to him that the power to repeal is almost as frequently advisable to put into effect as the power to enact, nor does he realize the dangers and inconveniences of a cumbersome legal system. Usually he fails utterly to comprehend the fact that in a republic the best government is that one which is operated by the aid of the least law. One prolific cause of too much legislation is the disposition of legislators to assist one another by a trade of votes. Representative Jones votes for representative Smith's bill, regardless of its merits, on the understanding that Smith will vote for Jones' bill. This is an everyday practice in all parliamentary bodies of this country.

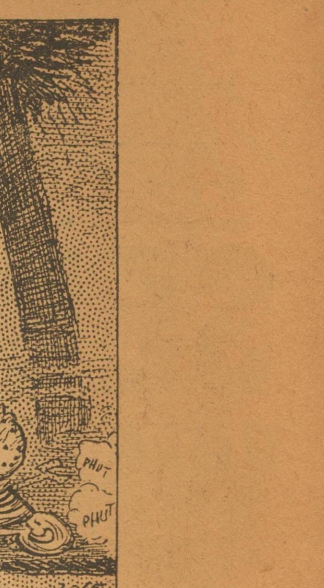

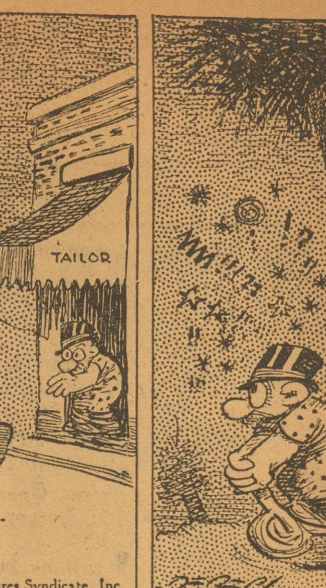

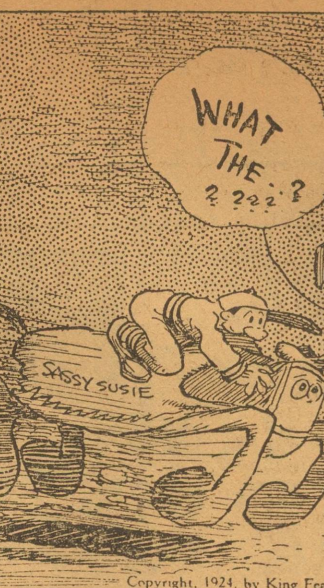

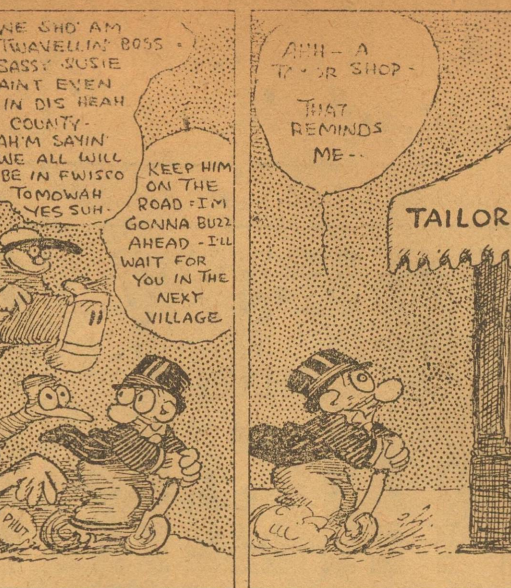

A remedy might be found, if we ceased designating bills introduced by the names of their authors. It flatters Representative Jones to have his name attached to a bill, and if his introduction of it did not cause that name to go thundering down the corridors of time, very often he would not introduce it.

Under present conditions it is claimed that the legislator who votes "no" on every proposition will be right more than half of the time.

AUSTIN—This city showed a net gain of 850 telephones during 1923. There is now a telephone for each 5.8 persons in the city.

Horton Kans. Diesel Oil Engine Runs for 200 Consecutive Days

WHAT is certainly a record for continuous Diesel engine performance came to light recently on receipt of a letter signed by the mayor, commissioner of finance and commissioner of utilities of the City of Horton, Kansas addressed to the Worthington Pump and Machinery Corp. The letter read in part: "This is to advise you that we have this day completed two hundred days of continuous operation of the Worthington Snow vertical engine and still going strong. We are not trying to make any endurance test of this engine but as it shows no evidence of having the slightest imperfection we can see no reason for shut down." Commissioner of Finance Lindsay who discloses a sense of humor writes that the engine is meeting every condition of the light and heavy loads that naturally exist in a small municipal plant and that it has now been possible to reduce the rates for lighting. He says: "I suggested to the superintendent that he might reduce operating cost by locking the building and laying off the engineers. It seems a shame to have the men wearing out their trousers seats not trying to make any endurance test of this engine but as it shows no evidence of having the slightest imperfection we can see no reason for shut down." Organize and Name the New Baseball League, the Oil Belt Association

By HOWARD BARMAN.

Fifteen men from Abilene, Cisco, Breckenridge, Eastland, Ranger, Thurber and Olden met in the radio room of the Magnolia Petroleum company Thursday afternoon to talk baseball. And here is what these gentlemen accomplished:

Organized and named the new semi-pro baseball league the Oil Belt Association.

GAME FELLOWS ONLY CAN GET ON IN BOXING

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—No one but a good game fellow can get along in boxing and no one can get along with boxing but a good game fellow.

Romantic fancy loves to paint a game fellow as one who rode the range alone in the old wild and woolly days; or one who ran a gambling house in Alaska when a "rod" on the hip was the only law; or a fellow who would push his whole pile across the board when the little ball started rolling around.

The game fellow is always associated with such situations in romance and fiction and many times these situations are found in real, every day life.

Game Fellow Can't Show Self.

There isn't the same romance today in which the game fellow can show himself, but the times are just as tough even if they are less spectacular and if they lack the old trimmings of the melodramatic.

Suppose that you put every cent you had into the promotion of boxing in a state where the sport had just been restored to legal standing; that you put a lot of bum fighters and bum managers into wealth that they never dreamed of; that you provided the means whereby Broadway became cluttered with imposing offices where presided the managers who used to do their business over the bar in a cheap booze joint; supposing then that these leeches turned upon you and dug the knife in your back.

Suppose that the men with whom you were dealing thought so much of their benefactor that they helped get you into criminal court on a nasty charge and it cost you $100,000 to prove that you were innocent.

Suppose that the same gang after the jury had acquitted you shrugged their shoulders and whispered from the corner of a thick-lipped mouth that you had bought the jury and the state.

Put Yourself in His Place. Suppose that you had taken a foreigner who had arrived as a tramp in the steerage of a ship and made $300,000 for him in two years and the same foreigner turned around and sent you a cable: "Don't count me in on any more of your fights."

Suppose that some managers who came to you and said: "Put this boy on in a preliminary. His family's starving"—and you not only put them on once but a dozen times until their family got so fat they had to be hauled around in a 12-cylinder limousine and then your friends said: "He's got a monopoly. He's got the chairman of the boxing commission. We have to fight in the Garden to live and he robs us."

Supposing that you did something for your big city, got something for that city that the smartest business men and the wisest politicians had failed to land and then you heard from the alley: "He'll make $500,000 out of the concessions. He'll make a fortune bootlegging. He'll scalp the tickets."

Suppose that you knew a certain fight between two heavyweights could not be pulled off; that you had been told from high up to lay off it and that you made no attempt to arrange such a fight; that the manager of one of the fighters knew that it couldn't be staged, but he cut loose on you, assailed you for discriminating against his man and that the howl by the members of his race went to the legislature and nearly killed the game.

Supposing that your bitterest critic was the man for whom you had built a house and paid for it.

Supposing that all these things were true, that you figured out they were just the penalties of a funny business and went right along taking everything as it came and saying nothing.

Then you would be the gamest guy that ever lived.

Aero-Propeller Shaft Installations

DESIGNERS and builders of aero-propeller-driven craft, such as sleds and boats, are often handicapped by the lack of a suitable but cheap method of installing the propeller shaft. If advantage is taken of standard automobile parts, however, a very neat and close-coupled arrangement, which will give good service and operate efficiently, can be made at a minimum of cost and labor.

Front and rear-wheel hubs from a light car are used to form the main parts of the installation together with a special shaft and a couple of sprockets. The shaft design is a combination of that of a front-axle spindle and the outer end of a rear-axle spindle or shaft. Between the two parts is a pad or shoulder for the seat of the driven sprocket.

The shaft must be carefully and accurately turned from a solid piece of good machinery steel; the rear end is turned and threaded to the same dimensions as the front wheel spindle of the car from which the hub is taken, and the seats for the ball races must be held very carefully to size. The front end is turned to fit the rear-wheel hub, threaded for the nut, and keyseated. The seat for the sprocket may then be turned, keyseated, and the thread for the locknut cut.

The front wheel hub, minus the outer flange, is then slipped on, the ball cones adjusted so as to allow the shaft to run freely without any shake, and the locknut tightened and fastened with a cotter pin. The regular hub cap is used, filled with good grease, just as in the car.

The key that holds the sprocket should be large and set deeply, as it carries all the motor torque.

Two heavy wooden uprights, meeting at the top to form an inverted vee, are bolted to the sills of the frame, and straddle the body of the front-wheel hub as shown. Four 3/4-in. bolts hold the tops of the uprights firmly to the hub. Angular braces, made of 2-in. pipe, are also fitted, the ends being flattened and drilled for the bolts. The propeller should be balanced before installation, to insure vibrationless running.

The hub cap should be filled with good grease to insure perfect lubrication, and refilled at frequent intervals.

Use of Gas to Trap Animals Is Suggested by Edison

At the suggestion of Thomas A. Edison, the inventor, army experts are seeking to devise some means for using poison gas in connection with trapping so that wild animals will be instantly killed instead of lingering for hours in torture. The use of electricity in the traps was declared to be commercially impractical. Therefore, it was suggested that a chemical might be so placed as to be released when the trap was sprung.

Million Homes for Workmen Needed in the U. S.

About 1,000,000 more houses are needed in the United States to relieve the present shortage, investigators studying the problem report. In spite of the various "building booms" in many parts of the country, only one city shows a surplus of residence buildings. It is held that the type of houses for the workman must be changed, so as to bring about cheaper construction. This alone, it is said, would increase the proportion of home-owners by 30 per cent. Building codes, it is contended, must also be modernized.

SCIENTIST SAYS THE WORLD IS SLIPPING

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—Men are fast slipping back to barbarism and savagery, according to Dr. Edwin Slosson, director of science service in Washington, D. C., and author of "Easy Lessons in Einstein" and "Creative Chemistry."

"Back to Barbarism! Jazz your music, 'cube' your paintings, study football and neglect botany, build gymnasiums and neglect your libraries," Dr. Slosson ironically admonished. "This is the modern tendency that is leading us back to the dark ages."

"The advance of science has not served to check this trend of medievalism that is sweeping the entire world. The ouija board revives the players. Perhaps Wrigley conducts his baseball differently from his chewing gum business and perhaps Killifer doesn't like the idea of buying pennants.

1924 NATIONAL LEAGUE PENNANT NOT YET CINCHED BY CINCINNATI REDS, SAYS PAT MORAN, THEIR BOSS

By HENRY L. FARRELL. (United Press Sports Editor.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Pat Moran doesn't like the talk going round that his Cincinnati Reds are just as good as in with the 1924 National league pennant.

The general leader of the 1919 champions isn't a Gil Dobbie by any means, but he perhaps fears that some nasty cracks may be made next fall if he fails to get into the world's series.

It is a bad idea to get rabid fans sold to the idea that their team can't lose.

Moran admits that he has a better team than he finished in second place with last year and perhaps he would be willing to grant that the Giants are not as strong, but he is smart enough to realize that even a powerful team must get some of the breaks.

Bad luck that resulted from illness and injuries got the Reds away to a very poor start last season and it was only by a mid-season drive that they were able to land in second place.

The Reds look mighty good now, but Moran is right in maintaining that it isn't a cinch for them by any means and that he is gambling on pitchers.

If Carl Mays has a good season and if Jake May and Tom Sheehan go as good for him as they went in the minor leagues, it is quite possible that the Reds could lead from start to finish.

The regular run of fans, knowing how skillful Moran is in handling and developing pitchers, feel that this three pitching gambles will go through for him.

John McGraw has also strengthened the Giant pitching staff by the recruiting of three minor league pitchers. The Giants had enough minor league pitching last season. What they need is some major league hurling.

The Reds are taking a chance on Jake Daubert at first base, but the Giants are also gambling on Heinie Groh at third base, and the Giants also are experimenting with a youngster at shortstop while the Reds have one of the best in the business.

The Pittsburgh Pirates can't get any place without better pitching and that department hasn't been strengthened. The Cubs are a doubtful factor in the race. It seems strange that with all the Wrigley millions behind him Bill Killifer hasn't stepped out and bought himself some ball could find anything to give him relief. Three weeks ago I advised him to try Krumbled Bran, as I had told him what wonderful results I had gotten from it. The gentleman in question purchased a box, and he told me that for the first time in ten years he is regular without taking medicine.

Tasty Dressers Win Place With Greater Facility

By "THE STROLLER."
(Written for the United Press.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—So far as "old men's clothes" are concerned, there doesn't seem to be "such animal" any more. The familiar uniform of the middle aged and aged man—plain, severe and generally black or blue serge—has been displaced by the heterogeneous array which the more youthful men are adopting. Of course, the sensible men are not running to such extremes as are their youthful progeny, but all the same, there is a distinct swing toward a little more "pep" in dressing up dad and granddad.

And while the oldsters have been assimilating a few points from the youngsters, the younger element has been adapting some of the comfortable features that formerly were found almost exclusively in garments made for elderly men. The college type of clothes you see worn has stolen the looseness, the easy fit, the widely spaced buttons, the wide, straight hanging trousers, directly from the clothes worn by men whose college days have vanished into the mist of the years. Of course, the styles are vastly different, but the youth of today realizes that in wearing a suit that is not a straight jacket, a sense of calm well-being is induced.

Of course, professional men—lawyers, doctors, barristers, and the like—are adhering more or less to their professional severity in the choice of their dress. But the business man is using care in the selection of his suit and overcoat. He is, without any sense of being foppish, choosing those garments which set off his "good points." It has taken a long time to bring the male contingent to the realization that clothes are something more than protection from the weather, but the man who would be a success in almost every line of endeavor must realize that there is perhaps a grain of truth in the old saw that "clothes make the man."

FOX AND WOLF HUNTERS TO MEET IN CISCO

CISCO, Feb. 15.—The West Texas Fox and Wolf Hunters' association will meet here during the first week in April, according to J. M. Knight, Cisco delegate to a meeting of the association just held at Longview, Texas. It is stated that several wolf hunts will be staged while the convention is in session and that prizes will be offered for the best wolf dogs.

SNAKE COMES TO LIFE IN SUN'S WARM RAYS

CISCO, Feb. 15. A battle in a garage here between spectators and a large rattlesnake came near ending in complete victory for the reptile. After a raid on a snake den several of the largest serpents were brought to town and placed on exhibition in the garage. A small boy took one of the snakes from the box and placed it on the floor to show how harmless it was when chilled.

At the same time the sun came out and when the warm rays struck the snake it immediately became active. It struck at the lad and missed. A lively battle ensued. All rounds went to the rattler until a mechanic made a lucky throw with a monkey wrench and the snake took the count.

SLAUGHTER OF ROBINS IN TEXAS MUST STOP

AUSTIN, Feb. 14.—Wholesale slaughter of robins, which are being killed in untold thousands in Texas, has been reported to the state game, fish and oyster commission and instructions have been sent out to all deputies of the commission to enforce the law for protection of the birds.

It is a violation of both state and federal laws to kill robins, since these birds are protected because they destroy noxious insects.

Five fines were received by the commission today as the result of the investigation of the reported wholesale killing of robins near Paris, Texas.

"Official Laundress" Knows Whether April Showers Will Spoil Your New Spring Frock

MISS FISHER AT HER MINIATURE TUBS

NEW YORK CITY—Will April showers ruin your new spring frock? Miss Helen Fisher can tell you. As "official laundress" for a testing company she spends her time "doing up" samples of dress material to discover whether laundering causes them to fade. If a color "runs" or fades it means months of work for somebody out in the dye-plant to do all over again. The new industry has taken on huge proportions since the achievement by American dye-makers, returned to a study of the problem after the war interval, of a new permanent color process for commercial uses, compounded of American, German and French dyes.

Even the Cowboy Drops His Gun To Hit the Golf Ball

The Southwest Texas cowboy still clings to his high-heeled boots and the big sombrero—but he has changed his weapons. In place of the old-time and revered "forty-five" he now packs the nickle and the putter. His "showing up" of the other fellow is yet a feeling strong within him, but his terms are different. He still buries his man, but his man comes up smiling the next day and ready for another burial. Yesterday was different. Then the burial caused a change in the local personnel. Golf is a great game. If it had been introduced into the wild and woolly west four or five or six decades ago, many a brave and painted pater-familias among what we call the Indians would have lived long enough to have taught his children the English language and how to wear pants, and his grand-children would now be a multitude in the land of their forefather's birth. Golf is a great war game. It is also the best war game that ever hit the great and boundless southwest. It satisfies the fighting instinct, but adds nothing to the coffers of the local undertakers. And the funny

Southwest in towns of a couple of thousand people and over, the citizens are organizing golf and country clubs, and the beauty of it all is that these clubs are nuclei for all sorts of community co-operation. Gone is the day of the small town feud whether engendered by religion or politics, both of which have been the cause of some sad if petty divisions in small communities. "Rah for golf."

STRANGE MALADY HAS GRIP ON BABY BOY IN OHIO

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 15.—Three-year-old Steve Konyati was fighting for his life today against a strange malady that has had him in its grip, holding him in a state of coma for the last 15 days. Specialists are trying to diagnose the disease. The baby's mother watches unceasingly day and night by the baby's bedside.

ELLIS COUNTY CLERK NOTES SCARCITY OF WEDDINGS

WAXAHACHIE, Texas, Feb. 15.—"Concho Bill" Robinson, county clerk of Ellis county, is worried over the ladies of this county. Robinson reports that only forty-seven marriage permits were issued during January of this year as compared with 60 in January of 1923. Robinson believes either the men are in hiding or the girls are not overly diligent.

Labor Party Can Stamp Out Slums In English Cities

By C. T. HALLINAN. (United Press Staff Correspondent.) LONDON, Feb. 15 (By mail to United Press.)—A dull and prosy pamphlet by Sidney Webb—a pamphlet so dull that nobody read it at the time except a few workmen and a few experts on constitutional law—contains all the TNT that the new Labor government will need for some time.

At least, in the judgment of Prof. J. H. Morgan of the University of London.

That little pamphlet, now out of print, bore the drab title: "Grants-in-Aid." It wasn't literature. It was more like a small mound of earth thrown up by a diligent mole.

For Webb, being well off in this world's goods and free to do as he pleased, had gone burrowing, burrowing through long forgotten acts of parliament, dusty decisions of the privy council and rulings of the lord high chancellor and had revealed painstakingly all the things a socialist government could do IF it ever came into power, all the things it could do without anybody's leave. For instance:

1. Remold the entire police system of England by controlling the "grants-in-aid" to the local authorities.
2. Remold the educational system—except the great public schools controlled by the "governing classes," where their own sons are reared.
3. Control the health administration of the country, stamping out slums, protecting childhood and maternity.
4. Remodel the poor law so as to reduce the number of "unemployables" in England to a minimum.
5. And so forth and so on.

These are all things which can be started by a Labor minister without blare of trumpets and their total effect will constitute a "revolution."

BURNING AUTOMOBILE BRINGS OUT FIRE FIGHTERS

IN THE SPRING THE THOUGHTS OF MANY TURN TO GARDENS

Warm, sunshine weather is turning many folks' minds to a vegetable garden, flower plots and everything where the spade comes into use.

In several parts of Ranger a man with a team of horses and plow can be seen tearing up the black earth. If the weather continues fair the plowman should find his occupation gainful in Ranger for this month.

It is the observation of several people that more persons are turning the spade here now than last year at this time. The fine springlike weather is the probable reason.

CITY-COUNTY HOSPITAL VISITING HOURS ANNOUNCED

Visiting hours at the City-County hospital were announced today by the superintendent, Miss N. Chappelle. Visitors will be allowed to call at the rooms of patients between the hours of 2 and 4 o'clock in the afternoon and 7 to 8 o'clock in the evening.

Following a Caesarian operation at the City-County hospital Thursday morning, Mrs. V. W. Blanchard, wife of a Ranger merchant, was reported as "doing fine," by the hospital authorities today. Dr. W. C. Palmer performed the operation.

ANOTHER SOUTH AUSTIN STREET SHACK COMES DOWN

The box one-story building, next to the Austin hotel, which was recently razed, was being torn down today by workmen. The shacks are located across the street on South Austin from the Cole building. MOPPING UP MOSCOW IS IN FULL SWING

MOSCOW, Russia (By mail to United Press.)—The soviet authorities are continuing the "mopping up" of undesirable. Professional gamblers, money speculators and every-one else without a recognized legal occupation will be deported to certain fixed places. Their quarters will be confiscated and handed over to the soviet officials for redistribution.

The council of people's commissaries is now considering a project of stringently regulating the fluctuations of all Moscow visitors. The project provides that no stranger can stay longer than one month in Moscow unless he has been transferred from some state institution to Moscow to work there, or unless he has been detained by official business. The penalty is a fine of from 100 to 500 gold rubles and expulsion from Moscow for three years.

New Lamp Burns 94% Air

Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 25 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent air and 6 per cent common kerosene (coal oil).

The inventor, J. T. Johnson, 609 W. Lake st., Chicago, Ill., is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.—Advertisement.

RANGER POLICE HOLDING MEN FOR INVESTIGATION

The men are being held in jail, pending a further investigation of the ownership of the supplies.

Three men and one boy are being held in the city jail today while their record is investigated by the police department. The boy is only 15 years old. No specific charges have been placed yet, Chief O. V. Davenport said.

THE ETHICAL SERVICE BUSINESS RENDERERS

BY J. H. FUELICHER President of the American Bankers Association

I sometimes think we lay too much stress on the technical efficiency of our business instrumentalities and too little on their moral services.

It is enough to say to our radical opponents of the present capitalistic order that it effectively feeds and clothes and houses and furnishes us with physical comforts and pleasures and therefore it is good? That is not enough. They can fightfully tell us that, even though a system may minister to our physical well-being, if it stunts us morally, if it does not positively make us better ethically, it is an inadequate system.

The general answer to this assertion is obvious. The very fact that our industry, commerce and finance serve us so amply with the materials and means for physical well-being gives us the opportunity to build and support our churches, to foster the arts, to develop our great educational system,—to be kind to one another.

But need we deal in generalities? Do we not find in the direct effect of our business upon the individual much to improve his moral standard? To toughen his moral fiber? Is it not good for the personal character of the race to do business as we are now doing it?

Let us take the business of banking, for example. Is it a mere mechanism or is it a vital moral force? Does it do more than, by facilitating production, raise the physical standard of living, or is there anything inherent in the manner and methods of banking that raises the moral standard of living, as well?

Nine-tenths of our business is done by means of credit. The great bulk of that credit is obtained from the banks. It is obtained from the banks because men have character,—because they are honest, because they keep their faith,—because they can be trusted.

If they did not have these qualities they could not do business with credit, they could not do business at the banks. We say banks deal in credit. That is but a way of saying they deal in honor and honesty. They build the business structure with the faith of man in man.

The part banking plays in our business life is growing. That means that the faith of men in each other is growing. The more men who come to the banks with characters that entitle them to credit,—the more men who realize that to gain credit at the banks, they must possess themselves with characters that win them unquestioned trust, the higher becomes the ethical standards of the nation.

Is not this a great moral service that banking renders? It is a greater justification for our present financial system than even its wonderful efficiency in providing us with the material things of life. No greater service could be rendered the nation.

Many Americans fancy that, because labor is well employed and our industries have been reporting substantial earnings and improvement over the depression period, normalcy has been restored. The truth is, what we must consider normal in the future will be an entirely different thing from what was considered normal prior to the war. One reason is, our new place in the world as the leading creditor nation. That change is a permanent one. We are not going to return to the old position of debtor nation. Bankers in the agricultural communities have come to the conclusion that we cannot afford to maintain an attitude of isolation and that opinion is not a personal one. The men I have talked with are voicing the ideas of the people with whom they have daily business contact.

AMERICA'S NEW PLACE

A great many politico-economists have warned against America's entrance into the European situation, asserting that our foreign trade makes up less than 20 per cent of our production, and therefore is too small an item to be vital or to risk our investment in. They forget, and most people who have listened to them forget, that the unimportant 20 per cent is the difference between full employment of our industries and labor and much unemployment and business depression. If a manufacturing enterprise is running at 90 per cent of capacity, it may be making a fairly good showing of earnings, but it is not running at normal and is not earning the margin which it should earn in order to be fully prosperous. It appears obvious that we shall have to build up foreign investments in this country. But it will be necessary to go slowly in the matter of foreign investments. There must be assurance that what ever we loan will be used for productive purposes.—William E. Knox, Second Vice-President, American Bankers Association.

K. C. DANCE PLANNED FOR WASHINGTON'S DAY.

In celebration of the anniversary of the birthday of George Washington, a dance has been planned by the Ranger Knights of Columbus for their members and friends. Invitations have already been distributed among the members and will be mailed to friends early in the week. This is to be only an invitation affair and cards must be presented at the door for admission. The Knights of Columbus are giving it in compliment to their many friends and associates. The Gholson hotel will be the scene of the party.

CENTRAL BAPTIST HAS FINE VALENTINE SOCIAL.

The young married people of the Central Baptist church had a delightful time in the annex building Thursday night when a valentine social was planned for them. Games of various sorts were played, and refreshments served, the party breaking up about 11 o'clock. There were about 60 in attendance.

PERSONALS.

Mrs. W. H. Burden and little daughter are spending the week-end in Wichita Falls, with Mrs. Burden's parents.

Miss Mary Byron of Fort Worth is the week-end guest of Miss Lucille Kelth. Miss Byron is one of Fort Worth's most gifted violinists. For several years a pupil of Clyde Whitlock, and is heard frequently in concert in that city as well as in other parts of the state.

Mrs. Gus Coleman will spend the week-end in Dallas with her mother, little Nelma Jane Coleman being already there.

VALENTINE DANCE AT TEE PEE CLUB SUCCESS.

Many expressions of pleasure and words of commendation for success in management have come to the ladies of St. Mary's guild who planned the valentine dance enjoyed Thursday night at the Tee Pee clubhouse by nearly 200 representative people of Ranger and vicinity.

The large hall was effectively decorated with red hearts in various sizes, streamers of red and white crepe, and hearts pierced with arrows. Each guest was presented a valentine favor, red ones for the men and decorated hearts with verses for the ladies.

The night was just about perfect, warm without being oppressive for dancing, with a glorious moonlight adding to the charm. Everyone seemed to be in a happy frame of mind and enjoyed the evening with as congenial a crowd as has assembled during the present season. During the evening two elimination dances were arranged, providing additional amusement for the onlookers, and a daintily decorated box of candy, topped with smaller box of cigarettes for the gentleman and lady winning. This innovation added considerable to the enjoyment of the evening. Music by the Coleman orchestra was at its best. At the midnight hour coffee and doughnuts were served to all and the party was at an end, many expressing their enjoyment of the event as they left.

So successful was the affair that another one is already in mind for a date immediately after Easter, under the auspices of St. Mary's guild.

MRS. SIGLER HOSTESS TO CHEERFUL WORKERS.

The Cheerful Workers of the Christian church had a delightful meeting on Wednesday at the home of their president, Mrs. Charles Sigler. An interesting Bible study was conducted by Mrs. E. C. Shipp and plans made for a bake sale to be held Saturday all day at the Phillips Drug store. Dainty and delicious refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Next week's meeting will be a social at the home of Mrs. Ivan Clay with Mrs. Clay and Mrs. DeMasters hostesses.

MERRY VALENTINE PARTY AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.

Members of all ages of the First Baptist church enjoyed a merry valentine party Thursday night in the basement of the church. Games and surprises of various kinds were prepared for those present and much amusement was afforded by some of them. The rooms were gaily decorated with red hearts and potted plants. A quartet was sung by J. F. Connell and members of the choir. Mildred Wheeler sang a smiling song. Then there were "Smiles on your face and smiles in your pockets," "thrilling smiles" and other games, "living valentines," "hearts strings," conversation about the first love letter each had written and a joke basket. Plenty of fun for everyone and everyone had plenty of fun. Fried chicken, mashed potatoes, peas, pie and coffee were served. There were about 200 present. Mrs. Perry Fox, assisted by Mrs. F. A. Brown, Mrs. J. A. Pitcock and other ladies of the church managed the enjoyable event.

ITCHING ECZEMA GONE.

People who have endured tortures from itching eczema will be happy to learn that a means of relief has been perfected and is already enjoying unheard of popularity on account of the quick way it gets rid of the awful disease of the skin which nobody seemed able to figure out before.

Most all dealers have been forced to get a supply of this Black and White Ointment on account of the tremendous demand which has already reached the mammoth rate of nearly two million packages a year in its sales.

It is economical, too. The big 50c package contains three times as much as the liberal 25c size.—Advertisement.

S.S.S. stops Rheumatism

And with it pain and its probability of reaching the heart.

"Rheumatism? Me? No, indeed, it's all gone, every bit of it! It's sunshine and joy for me now for the first time in years, I feel a wonderful glory again in the free motion I used to have when my days were younger. I look at my hands and think of the twists and swellings they used to have. I bend way over to the floor. I haven't been able to do that in many years. I can thank S. S. S. for it all! To me it was a rising sun of joy and liberty. Brothers and sisters in misery, do not close your eyes and think that health, free motion and strength are gone from you forever! It is not so. It is here and now for all of you. S. S. S. is waiting to help you. There is a reason why S. S. S. will help you. When you increase the number of your red-blood-cells, the entire system undergoes a tremendous change. Everything depends on blood-strength. Blood which is minus sufficient red-cells leads to a long list of troubles. Rheumatism is one of them. S. S. S. is the great blood-cleanser, blood-builder, system strengthener, nerve invigorator. It stops skin eruptions, too, pimples, blackheads, acne, boils, eczema. It builds up run-down, tired men and women, beautifies complexions, makes the flesh firmer. Start S. S. S. today. It is sold at all good drug stores. The larger size is more economical.

"My Rheumatism is all gone."

S.S.S. makes you feel like yourself again

SLEEPLESSNESS

Virginia Lady Says That Many of Her Long-Suffered Ills Have Fled Since She Took Cardui.

Bristol, Va.—"I can sleep good at night now, something I have never done before in my life," says Mrs. Deala Hawks, of 712 Prospect St., this city, "and it is due to Cardui.

"I was always nervous and tossed when I should have been asleep, but since I took Cardui it has strengthened me, and my general health is so improved that many of the ills from which I have suffered for years have fled.

"I used to go to bed tired and, when I would get up in the morning, I was still tired. Now I feel like doing a day's work in my garden out in the house, and I owe all this good health to Cardui, for I had suffered for years until I took it.

"I had had female trouble for years and once, for six months, I was flat on my back. I am glad to recommend to other women a medicine which has helped me."

If you are nervous and run-down in health, suffering as Mrs. Hawks describes above, it is probable that Cardui will greatly help you. Try it.
