MURDER AND ARSON IN PINE ST. FIRE?

TRADE CARNIVAL AWARDS DECIDED MONDAY, 3 P. M.

Tickets May Be Obtained From Merchants Until That Hour.

Ranger Trade Carnival tickets will be given out by merchants until just before the closing hour of the carnival, 3 p. m., Monday. All tickets will be placed in the barrel before final award is made.

The awards will take place at 3 o'clock in the Hodges Oak Park addition, just back of the Eureka Tool company's plant on west Main street. The judges will be selected from the crowd assembled at the drawing grounds, as will be the little girl or boy who hands them the tickets. Every effort will be made to have Eastland, Cisco and other surrounding towns represented by judges, the association announces.

If the winner of the award is absent, nine alternates will be listed in order, and published in the Ranger Times exclusively for six days. If the holder of the first award does not appear, then the first alternate ticket will be entitled to the prize, and so on down the list until someone has obtained it.

After the numbers awarded the first prize have been decided, the same procedure followed in awarding the second prize and the others as well.

By this method every holder of a ticket has a chance to be awarded every prize.

Second Carnival.

The merchants of Ranger are well pleased with the results of the carnival. It has been an unqualified success, they say, and beginning Nov. 27, and continuing until Monday, Dec. 27, an even larger trade campaign will be waged. In the second carnival awards will be made every week. They will include two automobiles, a Dodge and a Studebaker, a sewing machine, a kitchen cabinet, gold watch and other articles of value. The awards are designed to appeal to every person, regardless of age or sex. One which will appeal especially to the kiddies is a Sletland pony and cart, which the association is now endeavoring to obtain.

The merchants will stage a banquet Tuesday night, at which plans for the new carnival will be fully discussed. Election returns will be bulletined at the meeting.

Is Your Name on This List of Men?

Victory Medals Will Be Delivered at Elks' Home Sunday Afternoon.

Fifty Victory medals which have been received by R. H. Hansford, finance officer of the American Legion, will be bestowed at the Elks' home on West Main street, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. A fitting program has been planned and all ex-service men are asked to be in attendance.

Mr. Hansford announces that he has received medals for the following ex-service men:

SOCIALIST CHARGES ELECTION CORRUPTION

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Declaring that he had good information that "all kinds of violations of the law from mere technicalities to the buying of votes, stealing of ballots and the deliberate spoiling of ballots by election officials" will be reported in four congressional districts here next Tuesday, Julius Gerber, executive secretary of the New York county organization of the Socialist party, today called upon Attorney General Palmer in a letter "to see that the election be carried on in accordance with the law."

M'SWINEY'S BODY NOW ON IRISH SOIL

QUEENSTOWN, Ireland, Oct. 29.—The body of Terence MacSwiney, the lord mayor of Cork was landed here today from the steamer Rathmore. It was received by the urban council and thousands of the city's inhabitants. A draft of armed troops was present.

JOHNSON AND 'LOYAL FIVE' TO DISCUSS WAR

Decide Today Whether to Accept New Baseball Plan.

By Associated Press
CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—Headed by B. B. Johnson of the American league, representatives of the Washington, Cleveland, Detroit and St. Louis ball clubs of the American league met here today to take up the proposal that the national baseball commission be abolished and control of the game be placed in the hands of a "civilian tribunal" of three men not financially interested in the game. The results of the meeting today is expected to determine whether professional baseball goes on smoothly or will be thrown into factional war, with the entire National league, aided by the New York, Chicago and Boston teams of the American league on one side, and President Johnson and the "loyal five" on the other.

THIRTEEN INDICTMENTS IN BASEBALL SCANDAL

By Associated Press
CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—Indictments against thirteen persons in connection with "throwing" the ball games of the 1919 world's series between the Chicago White Sox and the Cincinnati Reds will be returned today to Judge Charles McDonald by the special Cook county grand jury, it was announced by the state attorney's office today.

The jury, which last Tuesday completed taking of testimony in five weeks of investigation of the baseball scandal, will hold its final session today.

REPUBLICANS DEMORALIZED, WHITE CLAIMS

By Associated Press
NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—George White, chairman of the national Democratic committee today made a forecast of election results.

"The general political situation is close but last week's campaign is full of signs that point unmistakably to a Democratic success," he declared. "The Republicans are demoralized from the Canadian border to the Gulf of Mexico and from the Atlantic to the Pacific oceans."

G. O. P. CHAIRMAN CLAIMS 'LARGEST MAJORITY EVER.'

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Will Hays, chairman of the Republican national committee, today issued a statement in which he said that the official Republican survey of the country indicated that Harding and Coolidge would receive the largest popular majority ever cast in a presidential election.

"I have complete faith of a complete Republican victory this fall because I have 100 per cent confidence in American common sense and a 100 per cent evidence that dependable American intelligence will express itself at the polls," he asserted.

MINISTER ON HUNGER STRIKE BECAUSE GIRL WONT GET RELIGION

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 29.—Kentucky has a hunger striker and while he is not so well known as was Terence MacSwiney, thousands of people are hoping he will change his mind before it is too late.

The striker is the Rev. Joseph Woodridge, of Russell county, Ky., one of the best known ministers in the mountain country.

Twenty-five days ago he began a hunger strike because his daughter, 25 years old, would not accept religion and join a church. The girl, it is said, steadfastly refused to become affiliated with any church and after all other means had failed, the Rev. Mr. Woodridge began a hunger strike in an attempt to force her to join the church and thus save his life.

The Rev. Mr. Woodridge has been conducting a revival near his home for six weeks and is preaching every night. Now, however, he is so weak he can barely drag himself along and his voice is little more than a whisper. Large crowds are attending his nightly services.

ONE JUROR BELIEVES WANDERER IS INSANE

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—Reports from the jury room early today indicated that eleven jurors stood for the conviction of Carl Wanderer for the murder of his wife and the "ragged stranger," while one held out for the plea of insanity offered by the counsel for the defense.

FARMERS' UNION HEAD DENOUNCES PARKER'S GIN-CLOSING IDEA

By Associated Press
FORT WORTH, Oct. 29.—In a statement issued here this morning President Lyday of the Texas Farmers' union denounced the request of Governor Parker of Louisiana that all cotton gins close down one month in order to raise the price of the staple.

"Such a policy would mean financial ruin to Texas farmers," Lyday said. "We still have 1,500,000 bales of cotton to gather, while in Louisiana the most of the crop has been picked, I understand."

PRICES OF MEAT ANIMALS DROP FOURTEEN PER CENT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Meat animals have been selling by farmers for a whole year ending with Sept., 1920, at prices that were lower than they were in the preceding year by 14 per cent. The fall in prices, compared with the former years, began in Sept., 1919. These statements are based on prices ascertained by the bureau of crop estimates, United States department of agriculture.

Prices of these animals were gradually increasing to the calendar year 1914, but they fell 8 per cent in 1915, followed by a gain of 17 per cent in 1916, of 49 per cent in 1917, when the peak of gain was reached, of 17 per cent in 1918, and of less than 1 per cent in 1919. Now, for the last four months of 1919 and for 1920 to September, there has been a recession of price movement with a drop of 14 per cent.

MILLERAND SAID TO RESEMBLE ROOSEVELT

PARIS, Oct. 29.—President Millerand greatly resembles physically the late Colonel Theodore Roosevelt. He has the same broad chest, short, thick-set stature, the twinkling blue eyes looking searchingly at one through thick lenses; the same large head, strong powerful neck; the same capacity for hard work.

At Versailles, after Millerand had been officially invested with the powers of president of the French Republic, the correspondent of the Associated Press was one of a large group of newspaper men with whom the President shook hands.

"How do you feel, Mr. President?" the correspondent asked.

"Splendid!" Millerand fairly shouted. Somehow, the word sounded very much like one heard years ago: "Bully."

PAYS 30-CENT INCOME TAX MILWAUKEE

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 29.—Although his federal tax on income in 1919 is only 30 cents, a resident of Wisconsin is paying it in four installments.

SIX MEN SAW JAIL BARS AT BRECKENRIDGE

Special to the Times.
BRECKENRIDGE, Oct. 29.—Six men escaped from the Breckenridge jail last night by the conventional method of sawing through the bars on the second floor and climbing down a rope made of blankets tied together. It is believed the tools were passed in from the outside by a woman friend of one of the men.

Harry Gaines, convicted of the murder of a man named Bailey, on the Crystal Falls Road, about five months ago, was perhaps the most important of the escaped men. He had been given a five-year sentence for the crime and was being held awaiting transportation to the penitentiary. Gaines is about 28 years old, height five feet eight inches, and weighs about 150 pounds.

Another fugitive is a 21-year-old youth named Smith, well known to police authorities in this section. He was recently arrested by Officer E. H. Hughes and when searched was found to carry five watches which were later identified by victims of hijacking operations. He had been arrested three times previously, but the grand jury could not find enough evidence to indict him. Once he escaped from the officers while handcuffed, and was recaptured at Eastland. His effects when searched revealed about $700 worth of silk lingerie which was identified as having been stolen from a store at Caddo.

Jose Martinez is a young Mexican, who is alleged to have forged company checks and passed them in Breckenridge with good success.

The other three fugitives were held for minor offenses.

Sheriff Sears and his deputies are scouring the countryside and officers at all towns in this section have been notified.

COX WILL ANSWER HARDING STATEMENT THAT HE'S 'UNBIASED'

By Associated Press
YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, Oct. 29.—Governor Cox brought his campaign back to his home state today, beginning his morning speech at the home of E. H. Moore, his pre-convention campaign manager. In his speech tonight Cox plans to reply to Harding's speech delivered here Thursday night.

Harding declared that he was not a candidate of any clique or combination but was absolutely "unpledged" and "unbossed."

EVERY FIFTH PERSON HAS SAVINGS ACCOUNT

Special to the Times.
DALLAS, Oct. 29.—Every fifth person in Oklahoma and more than one in five in Texas has a checking account at a bank, according to the savings division of the treasury department at Dallas. Savings bank depositors have increased at the rate of over 100,000 a month in the nation for the last ten months. There are now more than 8,000,000 savings depositors, and their savings exceed $3,000,000,000.

In addition, there are the investments made by savers in government savings stamps and registered treasury savings certificates. Adults and children in the eleventh federal reserve district have bought together $116,000,000 savings stamps alone. In Texas there are approximately 1,000,000 savings accounts in the national banks.

PLAINVIEW TURKEYS SENT TO PHILIPPINES

Special to the Times.
PLAINVIEW, Oct. 29.—The "gobble of the Plainview Turkey" will be heard on Christmas morning in many Philippine towns as a result of the dispatching from here of several consignments of local produce houses, according to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Last year Plainview sent considerable shipments of poultry to Cuban destinations. So important has this branch of husbandry become that practically all farmers are raising poultry and many townspeople breeding chickens of the better strains. At the Dallas Fair recently Plainview chickens in competition with 5,000 birds from other parts of the state won many prizes.

DALLAS ATTORNEY ON TRIAL FOR MURDER

By Associated Press
DALLAS, Oct. 29.—The state rested its case today in the trial of Allen Charlton, prominent attorney, who is charged with the killing of Charles Eubanks, well known Dallas business man. The testimony of the defense began immediately after the state rested. Eubanks was shot and killed in a downtown office on June 22.

Charlton entered a plea of self defense.

LETTER TO MINISTER SAYS YOUTH SAW IT SET; ARREST MADE

Blind Fiddler's Death Would Be Murder If Charge of Arson Is Sustained; State Fire Marshal Investigating; Police Officials Active.

Murder and arson were committed the night of the Pine street fire, is a belief that is supported by startling evidence that has come to light. This evidence indicates that the fire, which started in the Prince Rupert rooms and burned Jake Houghton, the blind fiddler, to death and caused a property loss of $400,000, was the work of firebrand. It is the law of the land that if a person wilfully burns property and thus causes death, then he is guilty of the greater crime of murder, the same as if he had waited in the night for his victim to pass and shot him to death.

LETTER WHICH LED TO PROBE

Much of the excitement to support the belief that the Pine street fire was of incendiary origin is contained in a letter first written to a Baptist minister of this city. The letter reads:

Pastor Baptist Church, Ranger, Texas,

Dear Brother: I am doing something I never done before—this letter is strictly between you and me—I cannot afford to write an anonymous letter, nor will not.

Now, I have a friend who was in the hotel or rooming house at Ranger that burned with other property recently when the blind man lost his life. He told me all about it several days ago, and tells me that he saw the man set it afire and positively knows him * * * I advised him to return at once to Ranger and tell it. He told me he did not want to, it was running him crazy, and finally told me he would do the right thing some day at the proper time. He continues to stay here. It is a crime to conceal a crime. If there is anything to the report I hardly think I would do right in keeping it. This young man is one of our best families. His parents are real old and he is the youngest child of a large family. They are among my best friends and I would not do anything to worry them. So if you think best have some officials to summon * * * and please keep me out of it (unless I could be of any services). I have several friends living there, but I am a loyal Baptist, clerk of the church, a Sunday school teacher, 53 years old, so I selected you as one I could rely upon. If I am doing wrong, I pray the Lord to forgive me.

Yours for the right,

If this evidence is not followed up immediately I will be compelled to inform all companies with which I am connected to cancel their liability quickly, for if we cannot get help from the city and county officials in order to bring to justice criminals of this kind, it most surely will not be safe to operate in Eastland county.

Copy of the attached letter is being sent to the state fire marshal, the Ranger Chamber of Commerce, to the chief of police of Ranger and to the county attorney, together with a copy of this letter to you, and I would appreciate having you advise me promptly as to what action will be taken.

Yours respectfully,
HUNTER LYON,
Adjuster.

Arrest Made.

Yesterday for the first time this information came to the attention of the police department and last night an arrest was made. The arrested man is being held pending investigation and a charge will either be filed this afternoon or he will be released. While the arresting officers, Pearl Hunt and Dick Rust, say they have sufficient information upon which to file a complaint, they want to be very sure that they are not making a mistake. They have no desire to cause any unnecessary trouble for the man being held.

It is said that the Prince Rupert hotel building at the time it burned was the property of Bruno Gonzales, and that the upper story in which rooms were rented was underlease to some one else. Gonzales, it is said, had $20,000 invested in the property and carried only $6,000 insurance.

The lessee of the upper story, according to information secured, had only bought the furniture in that portion of the house a few days previous to the fire, paying $800 cash and executing notes for the remainder of the purchase price. From the same source of information it is learned that an insurance policy of $2,000 was carried on this furniture. As far as can be learned none of the insurance on this property has been paid.

'YOU HAVE SPOKEN TRULY AND FEARLESSLY' WILSON WRITES COX

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—President Wilson today wrote to Governor Cox expressing confidence in the Democratic nominee. He expressed the hope that under Cox's leadership "we may carry the policy of the national government forward along the paths of liberal legislation, with humane reform, until the whole world again sees the illustration of the whole strength of democracy in happy fruit of what the founders of the republic purposed when they set this great government up."

The president said that he had followed Cox's course throughout the campaign with admiration and expressed the belief that the governor would receive emphatic endorsement of the voters of the country. "You have spoken truly and fearlessly about the great issues at stake," the president said, in concluding the letter, he asked that he be permitted to sign himself "your gratified and loyal supporter."

MORE TEXAS GEOLOGICAL BULLETINS READY SOON

AUSTIN, Oct. 29.—Members of the field department of economic geology and technology at the University of Texas have been especially active of late. Several important bulletins are now ready for publication, among them being: "The Geology and Resources of Crockett county," "The Geology and Mineral Resources of Medina County," "The Geology of the San Saba Reservoir," and "The Geology of the Saliterra."

The demand for bulletins of all sorts is steadily increasing. A recent publication of 10,000 copies of the petroleum district was exhausted in less than two weeks.

Fire Swept Block.

The fire which burned the Prince Rupert and swept the block on two sides occurred in the last hours of the morning. When the fire department arrived the upper story in which rooms were rented from its starting point it burned property for a loss estimated at $400,000.

It was in the Prince Rupert that Jake Houghton, the blind fiddler, was sleeping. When he tried to escape he walked into the stairway that was a roaring furnace. Here he received his death burns.

LAMB

Herschel Mayall, who plays Lane Morgan, a rancher, in "Drag Harlan," the current William Fox picture starring William Farnum at the Lamb Theatre, is, like scores of others of the best screen players, a graduate of the spoken drama. He is an alumnus of the University of Minnesota. His stage career covered a period of 25 years, fourteen of which were spent as leading man in stock companies.

He has played featured parts with most of the present big picture producing concerns. His last picture with Farnum prior to "Drag Harlan" was "Wings of the Morning."

"Drag Harlan" is said to be one of the most thrilling and heart appealing stories of the West yet filmed. It is a fascinating romance of the days when a man who could draw his gun a fraction of a second ahead of his opponent was supreme among his associates. Jackie Saunders plays opposite the star.

EXAMS FOR STEPHENS COUNTY MAIL CARRIERS TO BE HELD IN RANGER

The United States civil service commission has announced an examination for the county of Stephens, Texas, to be held at Ranger and Eastland, to fill the position of rural carrier at Breckenridge and Caddo and vacancies that may alter occur on rural routes from other postoffices in the above mentioned county. The examination will be open only to citizens who are actually domiciled in the territory of a postoffice in the county and who meet the other requirements set forth in form No. 1077. Admission of women will be limited to the widows of United States soldiers, sailors and marines, and to the wives of United States soldiers, sailors and marines who are physically disqualified for examination by reason of injuries received in the line of military duty. This form and application blanks may be obtained from the offices mentioned above or from the United States civil service commission at Washington, D. C. Applications should be forwarded to the commission at Washington at the earliest practicable date.

DR. TERRELL IMPROVES

The condition of Dr. C. O. Terrell, who has been critically ill for several days is much improved, according to reports this morning and it is thought that he will recover. However it is doubted that he will be back in his office for some time to come. As soon as he is able to travel, physicians have advised him to go to a warmer climate for the winter.

DUTCH ESTABLISH DEAD LINE ON BORDER TO STOP SMUGGLING

THE HAGUE, Oct. 29.—The Dutch government has drawn a dead-line 300 yards wide along the German border in an effort to curb smuggling, which has assumed tremendous proportions, particularly in foodstuffs and rubber goods going into Germany. Soldiers are constantly on the watch on the dead-line but, in spite of these measures, the smuggling continues.

Dutch stores in all the frontier towns have been prohibited by government order from carrying more stock than is necessary to supply the Dutch villages and the holding of markets in the streets has been forbidden.

PRACTICAL MEN MAKE BEST FARM DEMONSTRATION AGENTS; NO CONFIDENCE IN THEORISTS

Special to The Times.
STAMFORD, Oct. 29.—Agricultural demonstration agents "who can deliver the goods" are in strong demand in many West Texas counties, according to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Some of the leading counties of the west have in the last two or three years dispensed with the services of these agents because the results obtained were not always creditable. Some of the agricultural agents that were sent out to this section, according to county judges and others, did not know the elements of the trade sufficiently to make an impression on the farmer and to gain their confidence. Some of them had never had actual experience in agricultural lines save that gleaned at experiment stations and agricultural colleges. They were not practical men, but worked on theories. They had never seen real farms and real farm problems except in the books that they were provided with in their courses.

Farmers Like Real Experts.
No wonder that the commissioners' courts did not fall for them. But where counties got hold of expert farm demonstration agents they have cautiously held onto them, with the result that those counties have prospered agriculturally to the limit. In those counties it is impossible to turn the commissioners' courts against them and the farmers have formed a liking for them and have learned much to their deep benefit that a near riot might occur if the commissioners did dissent from their wishes.

One of the drawbacks from securing good agents is the fact that the remuneration is insufficient. But the counties which can get reliable, progressive, experienced men will pay much greater salaries than are usually demanded.

Among the counties which at present have no demonstration agent but would like to employ capable ones are Taylor and Jones, two of the best agricultural centers of Central West Texas. Neither now has an agent. These counties are figuring on the employment of cotton classifiers next year, provided they can obtain demonstration agents worth their salt.

TAXI PRICES IN BERLIN TOO HIGH FOR JOYRIDING

By Associated Press.
BERLIN, Oct. 2.—Taxicab and droshky drivers in Berlin, as numerous now as before the war, have so little to do that many of them stand all day at their meters without a single fare. They have increased their prices 10 to 15 times, he old rate but the cost of living has kept pace with the increase and some of them are in abject poverty. There are a few smart equipages, the obvious pride of the taxicab drivers, but most of their vehicles present a hattered forlorn aspect.

A droshky driver, whose tall hat was dirty and broken and whose clothes were patched in many places, perked up eagerly at the prospect of a fare but when he discovered only a questioner lapsed into his customary lethargy.

Three Fares in Two Days.

"I've had only three fares in two days and have not earned enough to feed my horse," he said.

"Before the war we were very busy. People then went pleasure riding, and always called a cab to go to their offices. Now the Germans cannot afford it and the majority of the foreigners have their automobiles."

On either side of the parkway down the middle of Unter de Linden hundreds of taxicabs and droshkies are parked, waiting for customers. They take their turn at calls from the hotels and they consider they are lucky to get one "long haul" customer a day.

More than 2,000 gray-haired men attended the thirtieth annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans, recently held at Houston, Texas.

SING SING LIKE HOME, SAY MEN WHO BROKE OUT

Living on Apples, Being Run Down by Men With Guns Worse Than Prison.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Sing Sing prison is not such a bad place after all. This, at least, is the opinion of George Stivers and Marcus Bassett, the convicts captured near Warner, N. H., by a posse of farmers a week after their dash from the prison.

Handcuffed to each other the two were returned to Sing Sing yesterday by Warden Lawes and a squad of keepers.

"We haven't slept in bed since we left prison, and for my part I'm glad to get back," Bassett said before he was locked in an isolation cell. He added:

"It's mighty hard to sleep in orchards when an armed posse is after you when you know that the first man who catches sight of you will put a bullet into you.

Fruit Diet Unsatisfying.
"Living on apples is not all what it is cracked up to be. We had only two meals after we left prison and the rest of the time we got along the best we could on fruit.

Bassett was asked why he broke jail with only two months more of his term to serve. He said:

"The time comes in every man's prison term when he wants to go. That's why I could not stay. Believe me we're tired out now. They kept us on the jump for a week before they nipped us.

"Of course, I'm in Dutch now, but I'm not sorry to be back. When you are being hunted by armed men ready to shoot on sight and shoot to kill, even Sing Sing with a bed to sleep in and enough to eat looks mighty good."

Both to Be Transferred.
Stivers, who had eighteen years of a murder sentence to serve when he broke out, said it was his "long bit" that "galled him." The fact that both men would be transferred to Dannemora or Clinton prison where jail-breaking is almost an impossibility made each sullen.

Stivers said:

"We saved two bullets for ourselves in case we did not get away. When they got us they caught us unawares. Armed men surrounded us and with one look at those guns we knew they meant business. If I had had a chance I intended to hold up our guards. Failing in that we intended to kill ourselves.

Stivers spoke of Jesse Pomeroy who has been in prison at Charlestown, Mass. for nearly fifty years, saying he supposed he'd have Pomeroy skinned for a sentence now," then he told something of how he and Bassett had got away with the authorities of three states hunting them. He said:

"One of those fellows gunning for us in the woods had a shotgun, but we got the drop on him with our 'gat.' We asked him what he was doing with that gun, and that tickled us he was hunting skunks. That sank in.

Going to Sleep a Week.
"I'm going to lie in that isolation cell and sleep for a week now, and I hope we get something to eat. During the week we had just two feeds that could be called meals. Once we had milk and crullers and another time we had milk and sandwiches. The rest of the time it was just apples."

Bassett told of one narrow escape they had from capture shortly after they got out of Sing Sing, when the Cadillac car they had stolen broke down in Port Chester. While the two convicts were attempting to get the engine going a village policeman came along and talked to them. Bassett said:

"The cop stood talking to us for about fifteen minutes. Just then an automobile stopped across the street with five troopers of the state constabulary. They were searching for us, oh, that's not them! one of the troopers said, and my heart did not beat until I saw them drive away.

Shortly after that we got the motor going again, and then went into Connecticut. When we 'stuck up' a fellow in the touring car (William McKaye of Derby), and were going through a fellow who was asleep in the back seat we found a .44 calibre automatic. We threw the rifle away."

Warden Lawes said that he would make a searching investigation into the escape of the two men.

UNIVERSITY GLEE CLUB PLANS VISIT TO RANGER

AUSTIN, Oct. 29.—Tentative selection of the first section of the University of Texas glee club has been made and hard work on rehearsals will be in order from this time, according to L. W. Jones, director, and C. R. Hooton, manager. Competition for places has been very strong this year, it is stated, and much excellent material is still available for further try-outs.

Plans are being made for a trip thru the northwest part of Texas during the Christmas holidays, giving nine concerts. Among the cities that will probably be visited are Brownwood, San Angelo, Abilene, Ranger, Mineral Wells, Fort Worth, Wichita Falls, Denton and Dallas.

RUSS OFFER MILLION RUBLES FOR DEATH OF AMERICAN WHO COMMANDS POLISH AIR FORCES

By Associated Press
WARSAW, Oct. 29.—Polish army intelligence officers report that Moscow offered a reward of 1,000,000 rubles for the capture, dead or alive, of Major Cedric Fauntleroy of Chicago, and McGehee, Ark., commander of the Polish air forces on the southern front. General Budenny's failure to take Lemberg, when the bolsheviks made the August drive upon Warsaw, is attributed by Lenin and Trotsky chiefly to the fight against the Cossacks from the air.

Major Fauntleroy was recently appointed chief of aviation of the Sixth Polish army. He has four squadrons under his command, one of which is the Kosciuszko air organization composed chiefly of Americans. Aviators in that squadron under the command of Captain George M. Crawford, of Wilmington, Del., are known to the bolshevik soldiers of the southern front as "devils of the air," according to recently captured red soldiers.

Airplanes Save South.
During two days in August when General Budenny was striving with every force at his command to break the Polish southern front and dash to Lemberg, the bolsheviks in the north having virtually reached the outskirts of Warsaw, the four squadrons of the Sixth army made 129 flights, dropped 15,000 pounds of bombs and used 16,700 machine gun bullets in attacks.

General Rozwadowski, chief of staff of the Polish army, in a communication to the chief of aviation says: "Activities of the squadrons of the Sixth army in battles with the cavalry of Budenny were directed with the greatest efficiency, this being acknowledged by the statements of bolshevik prisoners, and Soviet wireless messages."

One wireless message signed by Budenny and intercepted by the Poles said: "In battles near Lemberg our cavalry troops sustained great losses from Polish airplanes which flew in squadrons of twelve planes, bombing and covering the soldiers with machine gun fire."

Reviewing the work of the aviators of the southern front, General Rozwadowski wrote: "The extraordinary manoeuvres of the air squadrons of the Sixth army are due to the organizing ability and unlimited energy of the army's chief of aviation, Major Cedric Fauntleroy, to whom I convey the highest praise for the enthusiasm with which he has fought for Poland's cause."

Draws $16 a Month.
Major Fauntleroy was decorated recently by Chief of State Pilsudski with the Virtuti Militari, the highest award of the Polish government. The major who has been a member of the Polish army for more than a year, receives in pay, at the present rate of exchange owing to the low value of the Polish mark, about $16 a month.

WEST TEXAS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ENDORSES EDUCATION AMENDMENT

Special to The Times.
STAMFORD, Oct. 29.—Voters throughout West Texas are being urged by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to vote for the constitutional amendment Nov. 6 which will authorize school districts to tax themselves $1 on the $100 valuation for the support of educational facilities. Superintendent N. S. Holland of the local schools is making every effort in this part of the state to get the voters to see the inconsistency of voting it down, when it would mean not only a restriction of future school progress but an actual deterioration of the present inadequate system.

The campaign throughout West Texas will be continued intensely. The organization has received information sufficient to lead it to believe that the amendment in West Texas will carry by a large majority, as have all other wise amendments submitted to the progressive voters of this region of the state.

Stamford Hears S. P. Will Control the Texas Central

Special to The Times.
STAMFORD, Oct. 29.—Rumor has gained credence here to the effect that the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad which now has under lease and operation for 99 years the Texas Central line running from Waco to Rotan, a distance of 300 miles, will shortly lose control to the Southern Pacific system. It is believed that this is a move for the Southern Pacific to build westward from Rotan to El Paso, giving a North Texas shortline to California ports.

TAKEN PAST STATION, HE SUES CAR LINE FOR $2,000

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 29.—It is worth $1,000 per block to walk two blocks in a "disreputable neighborhood," in the opinion of J. Butler McCormick, attorney-at-law, who has filed suit against the United Railways, alleging that he was carried two blocks past his station.

McCormick charges that he was forced to walk two blocks "through a disreputable neighborhood filled with highwaymen, bandits and assassins," in constant fear of attack, causing him to be "broken up" and remain at home for several days to the neglect of his law practice. He asked $2,000 damages.

WANDERLUST LURES SCION OF WEALTH TO DEATH 'NEATH WAVES

NEW ORK, Oct. 29.—When the steamship Lapland, which arrived yesterday from Antwerp and Southampton, was off the Banks of Newfoundland on Thursday a seaman known as James Burgess, an American, fell overboard and was lost. The officers of the ship said they thought he was a member of a wealthy family in this country who had been satisfying a craze for adventure. When he signed on the liner he said he had served in the French Legion and had recently been in Japan. He joined the ship at Antwerp and his appearance was not that of a seaman.

Burgess slipped while lashing a lifeboat. The liner cruised about for two hours but he was not seen.

RAISING FUEL.

It is now in order for some persons to set up a howl at the announced intention of Nebraska farmers to burn corn instead of coal so long as the reduced price of the former and the increased cost of the latter remain in effect. Superficially it would appear that this practice would be dangerous to the economic life of the nation. The presumption might be reasonable that if the supply is forced below normal by this method it will tend to keep food prices up to their present onerous level.

But if the price of food is increased by this practice, the price of fuel should be lowered in like measure, for in this instance the two are being weighed in the balance of compensation. If one goes up, the other must go down. If this should not prove to be the case, one failure would not prove the proposition unsound. It might possibly be in the year 1920, for the crop was planted with the intention of using it as food for man and beast.

But there is no reason why corn should not be planted for the purpose of being used as fuel, if comparative prices warrant its economical use in that manner. It would not be waste, for fuel as well as food and clothing is a necessity of life, and corn would not more thoroughly be destroyed by use as fuel than it is as food.

The raising of fuel crops is just as practical as the raising of food crops and clothing crops, once we get the habit. And if prices permit its economical use, we wager that housewives in the coal burning regions would welcome the change.

BEDFELLOWS.

Socialism is really another name for co-operation. Socialism as an arbitrary system for bringing about and enforcing co-operation has never met with the favor of any considerable number of Americans. But co-operation for mutual aid has taken rapid strides in the past two decades.

The federal reserve bank was denounced as a socialistic scheme when it was inaugurated. As might be expected, of all bureaucracies it ultimately fell down on the job when a real grave emergency occurred in the shape of unforeseen drop in the prices of agricultural products. The general impression is that the reserve banks were put into being to stabilize just such situations, to take the movement so gradual that there would be no breaks and smashups. It declined to interfere.

Now comes the announcement that a railroad brotherhood has established a million-dollar bank, and other organizations are expected to follow suit. Labor organizations intend to help the farmers finance their crops. That is not socialism, it is co-operation.

Ever so often a movement hops up which is intended to divide labor and agriculture into hostile camps, but in reality their interests are the same. The farmer is not a capitalist in the true sense of the word, he is partly laborer, and the interests of the two are in the main identical. When this fact is fully recognized there will be more harmony, and more durable and constant prosperity.

TINKER BOB

By CARLYSLE H. HOLCOMB

RUFUS TELLS HIS STORY.

Mr. Loggerhead was the sorriest creature of the Forest when he heard Tinker Bob say that he would not return for an hour. Young Rufus the Tree Mouse had a good hold on his leg and it was hurting terribly. "Come back! Oh, come back!" cried he to the King as the King went away. "I will never do anything like it again if you will let me go."

Tinker Bob had heard that kind of a plea many times in the great Forest, for every creature that ever had any trouble promised that he would never get into it again if the King would help him out. But he did get into it again and seemed to forget his promise to the King—and the second time the fellow was in a bad way the King punished him longer.

Of course, Rufus the Tree Mouse could not say a word because he was doing his best to hang on to Mr. Loggerhead's leg with his teeth. But he would have a chance to tell his story to the King when he returned. In just one hour the King returned and found Mr. Loggerhead screaming as before.

"Now let go your hold on Mr. Loggerhead," said Tinker Bob to Rufus. "I think he has been punished enough." Rufus obeyed and Mr. Loggerhead was so weak from the struggle that he could not fly away. "Tell me how it all happened," continued Tinker Bob as he found himself a seat on a log nearby. Then Rufus spoke:

"Oh, King, it was like this: I was coming home from a long journey to see my grandfather, old Mr. Rat, and I had on my back a bundle of good things to eat that my good old grandfather gave me. I intended to store them away till he snow came so that I would not have to go out in the cold for food. While I was climbing to my home, which is in the top of the tree, Loggerhead came along and said if I didn't give him the bundle of food he would take it from me and then he would take me also. I told him I couldn't give him the bundle because it was my winter's supply of food and I would have to put it away till the snow began to fall. Then he laughed and said he would be in the Southland by the time the snow fell and he didn't care whether I had any food or not. Then I tried to run away from him, but my bundle was so large I could not go fast. Then he took me by the tail and carried me, bundle and all, to the fork of the tree, where he held me till he ate all the food in my bundle. Then he was about to peek my eyes out with his beak and I grabbed him by the leg and it frightened him so that he could do me no harm."

I tried to run away from him, but my bundle was so large I could not go fast.

Tinker Bob heard the story through and then he told Mr. Loggerhead that he would have to gather another bundle of food for Rufus or he could not go to the Land of the South. And Loggerhead was very sad.

THE WOMAN WHO SAW

Living Things Up.

Since the advent of women into the political arena the act of registration is not the dull drab thing it seemed when mere man reigned alone. Standing in line one evening outside the little booth where the registration board was in session, awaiting her turn to perform her civic duty, the Woman was vastly entertained by the genial friendliness of the waiting crowd and much amused at some of the incidents she saw and the remarks she heard. From directly back of her a quiet but firm feminine voice put forth: "I can't help what you think, Harry. I think for myself and I'm going to enroll with the Republicans and vote for them, too."

Back came a disgusted masculine growl: "If you do, I'll be sorry I ever gave you the vote."

A scornful "You gave me the vote? Hate yourself, don't you?" answered him.

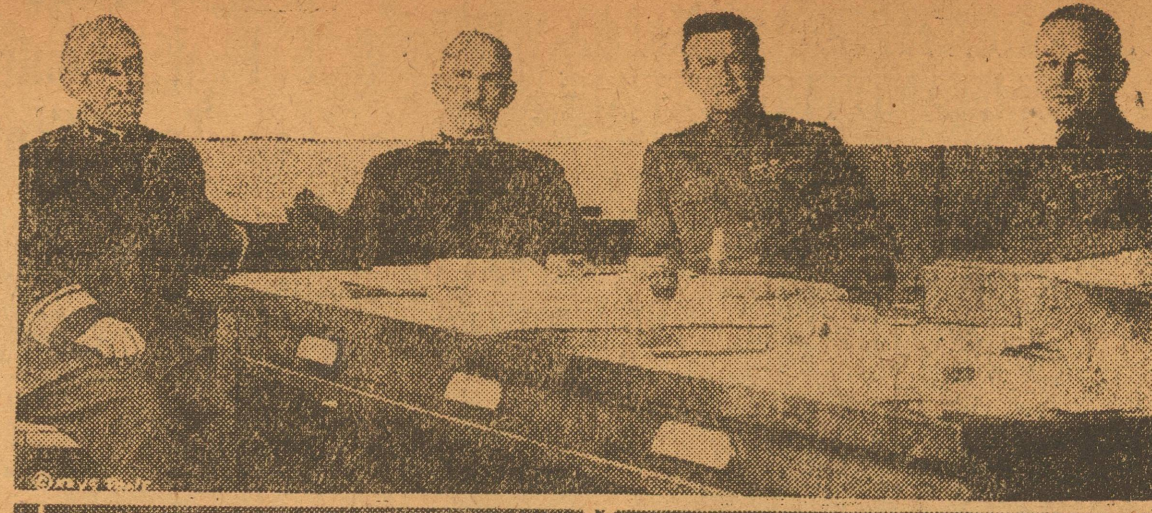

The Woman was making mental comment that there were rocks ahead for that pair when she saw the young woman ahead of her lean toward her husband and heard her say in a laughingly confidential tone: "Do you possibly remember what age I gave the last time I registered?" This husband had a sense of humor and a thready chuckle proceeded his "Darned if I can keep up to date on your age schedule. You should keep a set of books, then you wouldn't get so balled up."

"Which candidate are you going to vote for, Blanche?" one girl sang out to another standing near her. "Debs, I guess," came the quick answer. "He, at least, is safe in jail." And the crowd had its laugh.

Calories, Please! Boswell Johnson is the newest porter in the Woman's apartment house. He is often busy about his work when she goes forth in the morning, and sometimes essays the role of elevator attendant in answer to her earnest ringing of the bell. Yesterday, after repeated applications of her insistent forefinger to the little button, the door two floors below clanged to and Boswell was on his way. Up, up the car came—past the waiting Woman

THEY'RE PROBING REPORTS OF EXECUTIONS IN HAITI

The men above form the board of inquiry named to probe charges made of "promiscuous killing" of Haitians by members of the U. S. marine corps. Rear Admiral Henry T. Mayo is president of the board. Officers of the corps who have served and are serving in Haiti will be quizzed.

—on up to the very top floor—and then down. "Seuse me, miss," said Boswell, as he bowed the woman into the car, "Ah done clean fergot you was heah. Ah's busy studiy' what to have for brekfus—it's some bad meal to plan for."

"Well," suggested the Woman, "you might have shredded wheat, fruit and milk."

"No, ma'am, dat kind of light fabric brekfus is all right for folks like you what don't do no hard work, but jes' uses your brains; but it ain't gro-in' to push no two pound mop ovah this flo' for Boswell! Guess it's pok' chops for me!"

Inside the Booth.

At last the Woman could step inside the small booth, as she was next in line for enrollment. A bright looking foreigner was in the act of giving his "pedigree." The name he gave was simply a jumble of sounds without meaning or form and he was asked to "spell it out." In surprisingly good English he answered: "I can't do it, but if you will let me have a pencil and some paper I'll write it for you." The honorable board seemed to think for a minute that they were being "spoofed," but the sincerity of the speaker carried conviction. He wrote his name painstakingly, inspecting it carefully with visible pride in the result, then explained with evident satisfaction, but no apparent sense of being in any way unique or original, "I can write it fine, but I can't spell it for a darn."

FLOOD OF $100 BILLS WHEN MINERS ARE PAID

HAZLETON, Pa., Oct. 29.—More $100 bills have been in general circulation hereabouts the past week than at any period in the past history of the Lehigh field.

This is due to the large amounts paid out by anthracite coal companies in back wages, dating from April 1, under the award of the Presidential commission.

RIPLING RHYMES

THE IDOL.

Once I was a public idol for a fortnight and a day: like a bridegroom to the bridal I went my gorgeous way, and fair maidens went before me, strewing flowers along the road, and a halo hovered o'er me when I sat in my abode. But the idols always stumble, being fixed with feet of clay, and forgetting to be humble, I threw public love away. On the ninth day of October roses hit me in my walks; on the tenth the people, sober, handed me a bunch of rocks. For the wealth of adulation made me feel I was a king, made me think in all the nation I was sure the biggest thing. And in every place I landed I was swollen up with pride and my dome of thought expanded until my hat split up the side. And the people got the willies, poor erratic, changeful hicks, and they passed by no more lilies, but bombarded me with bricks. If again I am an idol I'll be wiser; I'll allow; and no cheap inflated pride'll strip the laurels from my brow. For the idols wouldn't tumble, they'd be cherished to the end, if they'd just be meek and humble as adown the world they went.

CORNET PLAYER THOUGH HE WAS GOOD; NEIGHBORS DIDN'T

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Oct. 29.—After ordering Charles Murray of this city to keep his windows closed during his practice hours with his cornet and to be very careful about using the horn at late or unusual hours, Police Judge L. M. Shober dismissed the charge against him by Mrs. A. E. Mater. Two others also complained against him, saying he seldom was musical, but spent his time making a rather unpleasant din. Murray told the court he had used the instrument for fourteen years and had believed himself to be fairly proficient.

Miss Evelyn Miller has been elected chairman of the Society of Women Journalists in England.

LITTLE BENNY'S NOTEBOOK

By LEE PAPE

I wook up this morning and I herd pop moving erroud getting dressed and terning the water on in the bathroom and off agen, me thinking, G he's all-most dressed and he hasent called me for skool yet.

And I kepp on laying there waiting for him to. Wicher he dident, and I thawt, G, I wonder if he's forgot all about me? Well heck, I aint going to get up without being called, I aint going to take the responsibility.

And I kepp on laying there waiting to be thinking, Gosh, you wouldnt think he would forget all about his ony son, if he had about 8' insted of jest me it would be different.

And pop kepp on moving erroud without calling me and I kepp on laying there hoping he wouldent and wondering wy he dident, and after awhile I thawt O well if he aint going to call me in going back to sleep, sleep does you more good than skool enyways.

And I turned over on the other side and then turned back on the first side and then I went to sleep agen, and the next time I wook up I herd the fellows wisseling outside and ma was calling up stairs, Benny, Benny, its 10 o'clock and youre not up yet, this is a fine way to waste your Sattiday, I must say.

Aw G, ma, holey snoakes, is this Sattiday? I sed.

English question number 6989, sed ma. Meaning certenly it was Sattiday, and I quosh jumped out of bed, thinking, Heck, gosh skool it.

And the fellows kepp on wisseling for me and I got dressed quicker that eny day since skool started, thinking, Jimminy krissmas, I mite of knew he'd never forget to call me for skool.

Wicher he probably never would.

AUSTRALIAN VOTERS AGAINST PROHIBITION

MELBOURNE, Australia, Oct. 29.—The voting on the question of prohibition in the state of Victoria resulted in only two districts voting dry. One hundred and thirty-two districts voted in favor of continuance of the existing limited licenses system, while 67 voted in favor of a reduction in the number of licenses.

General Townshend, Hero Kut-el-Amara, Will Join Wrangle

LONDON, Oct. 29.—Major General Sir Charles Vere Townshend, a hero of ten campaigns and one of England's most popular veterans, has resigned from the British army in order to make effective his protest against any compromise with the Russian bolsheviks.

In the recent war Gen. Townshend distinguished himself in Mesopotamia, where acting on his own initiative he conquered half the country. He fought and won the battles of Kurna, Amara and Ctesiphon, as commander of the Sixth division.

While a prisoner in Constantinople for more than a year, he made three unsuccessful attempts to escape. Toward the end of the war, while still a prisoner, he arranged details for the surrender of Turkey.

His military career has been filled with honors for gallant service. Entering the Royal Marines in 1884, at the age of 20, he became a major in 1895, a lieutenant-colonel in 1904, a brigadier general in 1909 and a major general in 1911.

He served in the Sudan expedition at Suakin with mounted infantry, in the Nile expedition with the Guards' Camel Regiment and in the Desert Column action of the Abu Klea and Gubat in 1884 and 1885.

MISSISSIPPI MAN WANTS PARTICULARS ON DEATH OF GRIMES

An inquiry has come to the city concerning the sudden death of Elijah Grimes, who was found dead in his bed in the camp of one of the oil companies.

The letter, which was addressed to the mayor, reads: "I received notice from your town through the bank of Houston that Elijah Grimes was found dead in bed. I want to know the particulars of his death, especially the cause, as near as can be learned; what was done with his body and how much money he had when found. He left here with $600 on his person."

The Milford Undertaking company sent the body to De Leon for burial. It was accompanied by the brother of the dead man, A. A. Grimes.

PARKED CARS INTERFERE WITH STREET CLEANING; MAY PASS ORDINANCE

Last night for the first time the streets were swept with a power sweeper, the Ranger Sanitary company having its recently purchased machine in operation.

The sanitary company says it cannot properly sweep the streets under these conditions and ask that car owners do not leave their cars on the street overnight.

The matter has also been referred to members of the city commission and it is expected that an ordinance will be passed prohibiting such practice.

BRITISH EXPANSION AT END, LORD CURZON TELLS ASIATICS; SECURITY NOW EMPIRE'S AIM

LONDON, Oct. 29.—The expansion of the British empire in Central Asia is at an end, and rightly so, Lord Curzon, secretary of state for foreign affairs to the Central Asian societies in an address here.

He advocated setting up an A. S. form of the administration in Mesopotamia and said Sir Percy Cox had gone out to assist in carrying on that work. He hoped for some form of Arab unity which would gratify the ambitions of the Arabs.

In Afghanistan there was serious trouble and commotion. The secretary said he knew of no country in Central Asia where the Bolsheviks had greater hopes of causing trouble for Great Britain, yet he regarded the interests of Afghanistan as identical with those of Britain. It might take years before the commotion in Asia subsided and no one should suppose that the work of Englishmen in those countries was over.

All India was seething with agitation and trying to establish some new form of government. In Tibet, the British had been welcomed as friends.

Lord Curzon expressed the hope that the Persian government and parliament would ratify the Anglo-Persian agreement and that this would assure the integrity and independence of that country.

The function of Great Britain in the future, he added, was not to absorb territory there but to give security and to arrange that the evolution to a different and higher state of things should be easy.

The great bulk of Central Asia, he said, had been thrown into the vortex of European politics. The Russian empire, which Englishmen have regarded with apprehension had been, for a moment, obliterated from the scene. There was in the throes of a military crisis, the object of which no one could foresee. Afghanistan had acquired something like independence.

The one-piece wrap coat with the big fur collar and cuffs knows no rival in the wardrobe of the well-dressed woman this season. One shown at the Juliana Shop of rich brown peachbloom, collared and cuffed in Australian opossum not only is of the best of style but may be worn from daylight to dark and still be appropriate as an evening cloak. The back is embroidered with effect in self color chenille and gold thread. A narrow girdle, tasseled at each end, ties across the front. A semi-evening frock, evidently of Turkish inspiration, is of dark brown charmeuse with self color silk shadow lace making the round yoke effect, the long sleeves and panel sides. Bands of nutria fur give pretty touches to the sleeves and panels. Front and back of the skirt snap together at the hem and elastic in the sides gives the Turkish trouser effect leaving the lace, fur trimmed sides free to stand out in a most bewitching fashion.

II.

A pretty little Hindu turban hat at Cohn's Millinery combines all the bright fashionable colors in brocaded silk and velvet. Two brilliant pins trim the front. Gold cloth for the crown and brown panne velvet for the small upturned brim is the combination for most stylish hat which is worn under a big square brown veil.

At the J. M. White company tomorrow on any bill of goods you may buy, one fourth the entire amount will be deducted.

Elinor Glyn in America on Hunt for Superman

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Bringing many noteworthy persons the Mauretania of the Cunard Line arrived here this week from Southampton. It was her last trip before her withdrawal from service for several months, while extensive repairs are made. When the ship is returned to trans-Atlantic service it will be as an oil-burning liner.

Perhaps one of the most interesting personalities on board was Elinor Glyn, who returned to America after an absence of five years. The author of "Three Weeks" looked little changed since her last visit. She said she had returned to the United States to look at the "wonderful feet and ankles of the American women and do some more work for the movies."

She also brought with her a copy of her new book, "Philosophy of Life." She predicted that the women of today would be happier than those of any other age had been.

Not as Happy as Ours.

She said that while women in England were very much happier since the war, with the added freedom it had given them, they have not yet reached the stage of happiness of American women. She went on:

American husbands make the best husbands in the world. They are more devoted to their wives. They are more considerate and they spend more money making their wives happy than those of other countries. In England, for example, husbands are often more interested in their shooting than in their wives.

"But the women of England are very much better off since the war. They are not getting used to the new conditions. This is especially true of politics. In the old days English women often had to resort to cunning to gain their end. Today this is all changed, or changing rapidly."

Miss Glyn said she intends to write several stories for films for the Famous Players Lasky corporation and expects to do most of that work in the West. She also said she hoped the "young west" would surprise her with a new hero. This man "must be as chivalrous as Bayard, as strong as Samson and as ambitious as Napoleon."

BRUNETTES ON WANE, BLONDES INCREASING

LONDON, Oct. 29.—City life leads to an increase in blondes and the gradual extinction of brunettes, according to London doctors.

Coloring, they say, is in direct proportion to the intensity of the light in which people live. City people live much indoors and their sunlight is diminished by smoke and dust-laden air. Hence in time they lose their dark coloration. Eyes grow paler and the hair undergoes a kind of bleaching.

Short brunettes tend to die in cold, sunless climates because they cannot eat enough food to keep them warm.

ENGLISH PUNISH LANDLORDS WHO MAKE DEMAND FOR BONUS

LONDON, Oct. 28.—England has a rent law which applies not merely to grasping landlords with empty promises to let for all the traffic will bear, but also to persons who, whether letting directly or sub-letting, demand a premium over the stipulated rent. As this practice is common in the United States, Americans who have felt forced to yield to it, under stress of housing shortage should be interested in the working of the English law.

The first case of the kind here has just been handled judicially in the Old Street police court, where Magistrate Clarke Hall fined Morris Vatrik, a Exton street butcher, $50 for demanding a premium of $75 on two rooms he had offered for rent. The magistrate ruled that persons with rooms to let cannot impose a premium of any kind upon an applicant.

Vatrik's advertisement offered the rooms and also said he had a table and two sideboards to sell. When Mrs. Polly Fisher applied for the rooms, according to her story in court, Vatrik informed her that in order to get them she must buy one of the sideboards for $11. She did not wish the furniture and need of rooms was urgent so she took it and paid a deposit on it.

When she tried to move the rooms, she testified, Vatrik having rented them to her, said she had merely sold her the sideboards.

A warrant officer who went to Vatrik's place with an appraisal testified that in the expert's opinion the sideboard was worth $250. Magistrate Hill said if he thought Vatrik had tried to get rid of a worthless article to a prospective tenant, he would inflict a very heavy penalty upon him. While the sideboard transaction was perhaps inoffensive in itself, the sale could not have been made to Mrs. Fisher unless she had counted upon getting the rooms, and it was not only clear that Mrs. Fisher had been misled, but also that Vatrik had violated the rent law in demanding a rental premium of her. Vatrik had to return Mrs. Fisher's money and stand the costs of the proceedings, in addition to paying the fine of $50.

Mrs. Emmeline Petchick Lawrence, an English suffragist leader, next in distinction to the famous Mrs. Pankhurst, is now in the United States for the purpose of making a tour of the principal cities in the interest of woman suffrage.

CENTRAL AMERICAN REPUBLICS WILL SEEK TREATY PROVISIONS

SAN SALVADOR, Oct. 29.—Proposals for the revision of treaties with the United States and the definition of the rights of Central American peoples, advanced by the Republic of Salvador, will be considered at a conference of Central American republics, commencing at San Jose, Costa Rica, on Dec. 1.

In its call for the conference the International Central American bureau has outlined other subjects which will be discussed.

These include peace and unification, the constitution and bylaws of the Central American union, and questions relative to consular and diplomatic representatives.

Projects for the improved communications between the five Central American republics will be taken up, the establishment of direct wireless telegraphic systems being a matter of special interest.

Plans for the adoption of equal customs tariffs, interchange of agricultural products, weights and measures, and the organization of a coastwise shipping trade will be considered.

The conference probably also will adopt a coat of arms and a Central American national hymn and will prepare for celebration of the centenary of the independence of the five republics.

WANDERED FOR YEARS WHEN MEMORY LAPSED

IDA GROVE, Iowa, Oct. 29.—Clair Bradley, a painter and paperhanger, who moved here from LeMars and who disappeared from his home more than a year ago, has returned to his family and related a strange tale of how he suffered from a lapse of memory during his absence.

On the night of Sept. 25, Bradley came home, ate supper, complained of a severe headache and retired. He could not be found the next morning. County officials instituted a search but no trace of the missing man was unearthed.

After retiring to Ida Grove he said he was walking along a road within a few miles of Sioux City when his memory suddenly returned and he remembered that he had a wife and family in Ida Grove. He knew, however, that Mrs. Bradley's relatives lived in Odebolt, and immediately departed for that place.

Upon failing to find trace of his wife at Odebolt he came to Ida Grove and inquired for her. He was then informed that his family had removed to LeMars. Upon arriving at LeMars there was a reunion of the Bradley family.

Figures show that in Illinois there are 111 men for every 100 women.

COST OF WIVES AROUSES YOUNG MEN OF BURMA

By Associated Press
NEW YORK, Oct. 29. The cost of wives has increased in the far-off Chin Hills of Burma where they are obtained on the "dollar down" plan. Men matrimonially inclined are demanding lower and easier terms from their respective fathers-in-law, who are compensated for the loss of their daughters' labor, declares a report by Reverend Herbert J. Cope, representative of the Baptist Foreign missionary society at Haka.

"This year a lively discussion grew out of the revolution that the selling of daughters must cease," the report continues. "The custom has grown into an abuse. Men are demanding more and more until a chap who marries goes rightfully into debt which he is years in liquidating. And, if while paying slowly for his wife, the husband incurs the anger of her father, the daughter is promptly called home and in some cases sold to another man. We have been trying to get them to reduce the charges."

Efforts to induce the natives to follow the customs of white men are being made in educational institutions opened in these districts as a result of the New World Movement of Northern Baptists, Dr. Cope said.

Ethel Barrymore, the actress, claims that she is saving $110 a day by renting an apartment for $40 per day instead of a suite at a hotel for which she would have to pay $150.

Child Lost in Corn Field.
MOUNT VERNON, Ind., Oct. 29.—A six-year-old son of Louis Richardson, a Wabash bottom land farmer, living on the Spencer farms, twelve miles from this city, was lost in a large corn field in the bottom lands for twenty-four hours. The child left the house to go to his father in the field and lost his way. When he did not return search parties made up of fifty residents of the neighborhood took up the trail. The boy was found with his clothes badly torn from stumbling and falling in the field and very much frightened. He had spent the entire time wandering about in a small area.

LIST OF SYMPTOMS

With Carolina Lady Was Nervous, Weak and Suffered Greatly, but Relief Soon Came After She Took Cardui.

Asheville, N. C.—Mrs. J. A. Sluder of 45 Woodrow avenue, this city, recently made the following statement:

"I was in a very run-down condition after . . . I wasn't able to go.

"I was nervous, weak and couldn't do my work.

"I felt like, at times, no matter what happened, I couldn't get up a spark of interest.

"I was depressed, blue, and continually on the lookout for something to happen.

"I couldn't sleep to do any good, and had to force myself to eat when meal time came.

"I suffered some pain in my back and sides, but the worst trouble was weakness and depression.

"I decided to try a tonic. "My sister had gotten such fine results from Cardui, I began using it.

"Soon I noticed I would get hungry, and sleep at night, and this, of course, was a great help.

"I grew less nervous. "The depression left me and soon I was well and strong.

"I enjoy good health, thanks to Cardui." Ask your druggist about it.—Adv.

Female Rasputin Controls Lenine and Soviet Chiefs

LONDON, Oct. 29.—An attractive, big-eyed, healthy and placid-looking woman named Olga Gorokhoff is Soviet Russia's most powerful citizen, according to the Russian newspaper Obshcheye.

Mlle. Gorokhoff, who is twenty-three years old, is Lenine's chief inspirer. She is the fanatic preacher of a Bolshevik holy war against England in Asia, and the brain and will behind the recent resurgence of terrorism.

She has gained control by a queer mixture of mysticism and impudence. To Lenine and the other Soviet chiefs she professes to have prophetic powers, and every week has visions in which the complete collapse of Europe and the rise of universal Bolshevik empire under Moscow's dictatorship are the chief features.

Among anti-Bolshevik Russians—who are responsible for these details—Olga is known as the "Red Rasputin" and her influence and practices are said to be of a character very similar to those of the monk who helped to bring down the Romanoff dynasty, when concocting the most diabolic plans, she affects an utter nonchalance and an amazing sang-froid.

She is the daughter of a former official in the department of state control, was imprisoned in 1916 on a charge of carrying pacifist letters from the former Minister of the Interior Protopopoff to intriguers for a separate peace and was released after the first revolution. As a Red prophetess she first became known when serving in a Kremlin Soviet office.

The minor Moscow commissaries flatter her and give her money, and in return she uses her influence to promote their advancement. At her behest Lenine dismissed and imprisoned six high officials in the mobilization department who were suspected of inspiring gibes against the new Joan of Arc in the newspaper Red Army.

GANGSTER BEAUTY YAWNS AT ARREST IN HALF MILLION THEFT

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—The party will arrive in Nashville soon. Give her the stuff. She's all right.

This brief note smuggled out of a cell in the toms and intercepted by government agents, led to the arrest of a young blonde. It will lead further, the authorities predict, and probably solve the mystery of the theft of more than $500,000 in platinum from a government powder plant at Jacksonville, Tenn.

"Aw, let 'em prove I was in on the pinches," commented the prisoner, Florence Weiler, after she had been held in $25,000 bail for hearing Tuesday before Federal Commissioner Hiltchcock. Then she added, with a yawn:

"Lord! Can't they see I'm sleepy? Gee, it's hard on a girl to be pinched on a hot day!"

A Gangster Family, Hers.

The girl's sang froid befitted a member of a family that has been in the police "black book" for more than a decade. She admitted almost proudly, while she turned a pair of large blue eyes on her questioners, that she is the wife of Joe Spanish and was sister-in-law of John (Weiler) Spanish, two-sun gangster who by popular reports had eleven notches on his worn revolver when he was killed from behind, a year ago last July.

Joe Spanish is now serving a term in Dannemora prison for the shooting of the sweetheart of "Jack the Dropper," an old enemy of Joe's brother. The chance presence of one H. H. Brown, alias Robert Carter, in the Tombs, while Joe Spanish was awaiting transportation to Dannemora, is principally responsible for "Flo" Weiler's predicament.

Assistant Federal Attorney Taylor, said that she, Brown, one Abraham Roth, alias Roddy Rothman and H. B. Grone, government chemist in the Ordnance Department's "Old Hickory" powder plant at Jacksonville, Tenn., have been indicted at Nashville.

SYLVIA SENTENCED.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—Sylvia Pankhurst arrested Oct. 19, and charged with attempting to cause sedition in the navy through articles in a newspaper she edited and published, was today sentenced to six months' imprisonment on a second offense.

MERE BURGLAR NOT ENOUGH TO INTERFERE WITH AGED MAN'S SLEEP

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 29.—"Twelve hours sleep a day is more important than burglars to a man of 92," according to Goodman Alexander, who told the police here that he went back to sleep immediately after a prowler in his bedroom awakened him with a flashlight. "If I let burglars and such worry me, I wouldn't be as old as I am," he continued.

Alexander, who appears to be in excellent health, also said that "egg shells and hard bread preserved my teeth. I eat a soft-boiled-egg and then the shell every morning for breakfast." He also suggested that boys start smoking early, because, he said, tobacco soothes the nerves. "I've smoked since I was 16 and I smoke today more than a pound of tobacco every month."

Alexander has lived in Seattle since 1906, at which time he left San Francisco. He was born in Poland and came to the United States when he was 18. He is certain he will live to be 100 years old, he says, "providing that thieving burglars don't steal any more of my sleep."

WILD WEST SHOW MUST GO, SAYS HUMANE AGENT

OMAHA, Oct. 29.—Wild west shows must be eliminated from the calendar of American sports because of its brutality, Frederick B. Fanger, of Denver, told the American Humane society at its closing session here last night. Fanger is state officer of the state bureau of the child and animal protection of Colorado.

While referring to the exhibition in question as wild west shows, Mr. Fanger remarked that in every community in which they were permitted they were called by different names, such as the Wyoming, Stampede in Texas, and so on.

Female Rasputin Controls Lenine and Soviet Chiefs

LONDON, Oct. 29.—An attractive, big-eyed, healthy and placid-looking woman named Olga Gorokhoff is Soviet Russia's most powerful citizen, according to the Russian newspaper Obshcheye.

Mlle. Gorokhoff, who is twenty-three years old, is Lenine's chief inspirer. She is the fanatic preacher of a Bolshevik holy war against England in Asia, and the brain and will behind the recent resurgence of terrorism.

She has gained control by a queer mixture of mysticism and impudence. To Lenine and the other Soviet chiefs she professes to have prophetic powers, and every week has visions in which the complete collapse of Europe and the rise of universal Bolshevik empire under Moscow's dictatorship are the chief features.

Among anti-Bolshevik Russians—who are responsible for these details—Olga is known as the "Red Rasputin" and her influence and practices are said to be of a character very similar to those of the monk who helped to bring down the Romanoff dynasty, when concocting the most diabolic plans, she affects an utter nonchalance and an amazing sang-froid.

She is the daughter of a former official in the department of state control, was imprisoned in 1916 on a charge of carrying pacifist letters from the former Minister of the Interior Protopopoff to intriguers for a separate peace and was released after the first revolution. As a Red prophetess she first became known when serving in a Kremlin Soviet office.

The minor Moscow commissaries flatter her and give her money, and in return she uses her influence to promote their advancement. At her behest Lenine dismissed and imprisoned six high officials in the mobilization department who were suspected of inspiring gibes against the new Joan of Arc in the newspaper Red Army.
