LEGION POST CARES FOR FRENCH BRIDE WHO LOST IN WAR ROMANCE

SALINA, Kan., Oct. 22.—A war romance that had its beginning in France culminated here in a domestic tragedy that leaves a French bride and her month-old baby facing the world in a land of strangers.

Her husband away, Mrs. Chester Cooper is being cared for by members of the local post of the American Legion and Salina Chapter Red Cross.

The Coopers made their home at Sharon Surings after their return from overseas, but shortly after arriving there Cooper disappeared. Mrs. Cooper, who is unable to speak English, is suing for divorce through a lawyer, who, as a member of the Legion, offered his services free. She plans to return to her aged mother in France.

Salina Post has offered a reward of $50 for the apprehension of Cooper.

MR. HARDING TALKS OIL.

In his speech at Oklahoma City, which was the climax of the effort to swing Oklahoma into the Republican column Mr. Harding devoted the greater part of his time to a discussion of petroleum. The choice, probably, was on advice of counsel. The master of ceremonies at Oklahoma's capital, and, indeed, throughout the entire journey across the state. was Jacob Hamon, Republican nationa committeeman from Oklahoma, and millionaire oil operator. In the party too, was Mr. Hamon's predecessor as national committeeman, J. J. McGraw, also

But as to the petroleum sins of the present administration, Mr. Harding was hopelessly vague. He mumbled about the forehanded efforts of other nations to procure control of the world's oil supply. but he failed to specify in what respect the present administration had been re miss. He gave no indication as to what ought to have been done, or what, i elected, he would undertake to do to extend our oil possessions. He thrust a cautious oratorical toe across the Mexican border, but withdrew if almost im-

may be assumed that, in this respect, just as regards our foreign relations generally, Mr. Harding is without a constructive program of any sort. Yet there are ways, rather obvious, too, by which the United States may conserve its present oil supply and postpone to a remote future the fateful oilless day. An immediate and absolute embargo on oil ex ports, for example, would be helpful, but it is not likely that the oil magnates would approve of such a policy, with its restricted market and its inevitable reduction in prices and profits.

There is another, bolder plan-to wage war on Mexico, thereby acquiring our neighbor's oil and enriching our oil mag- The Unexpected. nates. To be sure, Mr. Harding did not advocate such procedure, and we do not believe he would willingly participate in such a monstrous adventure. The conquest of Mexico, just the same, is the cherished dream of many of the American junkers who are supporting Mr. Harding. But there is no sentiment among the people of Oklahoma, or any State, in favor of exchanging American blood for Mexican oil.—St. Louis Post

JOHN-A-DREAMS

CLXXII. DREAMS OF ANGELS. It is very rare that dreams of angels ome to sinful humans. When such isions do appear, the sleeper may make up her mind that she is traveling the right road, that, though she may at times think she has done some minor thing now and then, in a larger sense her conduct and her ways and her plans are pleasing to all those who really care for

In all cases, dreams of angels are splen did omens. They, like most religious visions, foretell quiet happiness and many years of contentment.

Should it happen that the dreamer, at the time the vision appears to her is troubled or feels a sense of guilt, or is beset by problems, or is a sufferer, to be found.

I might almost say that such a dream is better than any other that could come to mortal woman, for it is not only a promise of bliss but also an assurance of fulfillment.

It does not particularly matter what else happens during the dream-the mean ing remains the same. The episodes which may transpire are merely distor-Dog notes. Sid Hants for terrier tions of the main theme, and only the

A Fable In Slang

By our own BRICK WALL MASON

Now the outlook wasn't brilliant as he lamped about the place; anyone could see his finish if he didn't change his pace. All his shelves with goods were burdened, bought by box and barrel and bale, in a market that was tilted and had cost him scads of kale. With the season fast advancing and with goods that ought to sell, he at last agreed with Sherman that, war most certainly was—Well, it is strange how fearsome fancies flit across the mind, and the fear of going "bughouse," left the thought of Bug behind. In days when trade was brisk, when he felt so sure and smug, he'd refused advertising and made not a budge. With his business prospects brightest he declined with such disdain, that the "Print-Smith" who had asked him never spoke of it again. But, thought he, with storm clouds rising, better seek most any port than to drift in troubled waters ending in the Bankrupt's Court. So he beat it to the print shop, to Ye Ed began to moan "What's that advertising service, beat it in my ivory dome."

Maybe we should have a moral to adorn this little tale 'bout this advertising service turning "Stickers into Kale." And that we should give in detail how the service pulled him through, but we'd rather spend the same time showing what 'twill do for you.

MRS. ROSE E. TUTTLE. of Portland, Maine, who says she feels like she has taken a new case on life since taking Tanlac. Her rheumatism and other troubles

'Tanlac is the grandest medicine on earth, and I just wish it was so every woman who suffers like I did could know what it will really do," said Mrs. Rose E. Tuttle, of 239 Congress street, Portland, Maine, re-

"No one will ever know how I suffered," she said. "My stomach was so disordered I had to be very careful about what I ate. Potatoes and other starchy foods would completely upset mc. Frequently after meals I would have terrible pains in my stomach, my breath would get short, and I would have a depressed and uneasy feeling about my heart. Often I was troubled with pains under my shoulder blades and I frequently had bilious attacks.

"I also suffered with rheumatism, and this, together with my other troubles, was simply wrecking my health. I felt weak, nervous and run-down all the time, and seemed to be losing weight and strength every day. My sleep was poor, and often I was in such misery I wouldn't close my eyes all night long.

"Before I finished my first bottle of Tanlac I realized I had at last found the right medicine. My condition improved daily as I continued taking Tanlac, my appetite picked up and I was soon eating three hearty meals every day without suffering

"My face was broken out with bimples and blackheads, and my druff. The dandruff scaled off and my hair was constantly falling out.
It was lifeless and did not grow any at all. I used a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and bought several cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment, and now I am completely healed." (Signed) Miss Vannie Rowland, Fuget, Kentucky.
