DRY AND WET EVIDENCE BILL UP SENATE

Stuart's Constitutional Resolution Is Adopted Now Up to the House.

By United Press.

AUSTIN, Feb. 21.—Both branches of the Texas legislature adjourned shortly before one o'clock until Wednesday morning.

Governor Dan Moody, Lt. Governor Barry Miller and Speaker R. L. Bobbitt, will leave Austin at 3:45 p. m., today for Laredo to be guests of Speaker Bobbitt's home city in celebrating Washington's birthday.

The Texans also are to be entertained at Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, across the Rio Grande from Laredo.

The senate adjourned in the midst of a debate on Senator Woodward's bill to repeal the rule of evidence clause of the search and seizure bill to go on a trip to both the "dry" and "wet" sides of the Rio Grande river at Laredo.

Woodward arguing for passage of his bill contended that evidence found by officers in search of whiskey without warrant should be admissible in court. He pointed out that there is a provision in the statute for punishment of officers who make a search and seizure without warrant. Under the existing law evidence obtained without a warrant is not admissible. Senator Bailey opposed Woodward's bill and had not yet finished his speech when the senate adjourned for the border trip.

Under a resolution by Senator Bailey, adopted by the senate, Lt. Governor Miller today appointed a committee consisting of Senator Bailey, Real, and Hall to make investigation as to the proposal for purchase by the state of two oil paintings hanging in the senate chamber titled, "The Fall of the Alamo," and "The Battle of San Jacinto."

BORAH GROOMED FOR NOMINATION OF REPUBLICANS

By PAUL R. MALLON, United Press Staff Correspondent. WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Those who believe Senator William E. Borah, republican, Idaho, may receive the support of President Coolidge for the republican presidential nomination in 1928, should Mr. Coolidge decide not to run himself, may find basis for their arguments in the record of votes of Borah during the first half of the short session of congress now terminating.

A United Press compilation of Borah's stand in all record votes, shows that he has sided with the regular republican leaders and with the president in most all important matters, during that time.

25 LIVES LOST ON EAST COAST; OREGON SUFFERS

Railway Traffic Is Paralyzed In Some Sections, High Winds

By United Press.

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—A storm costing twenty-five lives, damages estimated at $500,000, passed from the eastern seaboard today leaving devastated property and wrecked shipping in its wake.

The heaviest loss of life was in the wreck of the coast guard patrol boat 238 which was broken up on Cape Cod and its entire crew of eight men drowned. Other deaths were due to exposure, traffic accidents and drowning in the affected districts.

The wind reaching a velocity of more than seventy miles an hour, piled up mountainous waves along the coast from Delaware breakwater to Nova Scotia. At high tide the waves mounted thirty feet high and swept inland carrying out to sea homes and doing inestimable damage.

Rogue River on Wild Rampage

By United Press.

PORTLAND, Oregon, Feb. 21.—Southern Oregon is flood stricken today. The greatest damage is reported along the coast of the Rogue river. The bridge across the savage rapids washed away, the electric light plant at Grant, Ore., was flooded and thousands of acres of farming land was submerged. More than three feet of water was reported on the Pacific highway near Medford. Several tunnels along the Southern Pacific railroad right of way were flooded causing suspension of trains.

Fear was expressed for the safety of Immigrant Dam above Ashland. Flood gates were opened to allow the escape of most of the storage water.

Floods Threaten California Towns

By United Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Feb. 21.—Snow and rain again today added to the seriousness of the flood situation along the Pacific coast. Several towns were threatened by the rampant rivers, rail and road traffic is being hampered, and thousands of dollars property damage has been done. Overflow of the Eel river near Eureka, California, is expected at any time.

INJURIES FATAL TO RACING PILOT PACIFIC COAST

DEATH PENALTY WILL BE SOUGHT IN STONE CASE

By United Press.

FORT WORTH, Feb. 21.—The death penalty will be asked for W. A. Stone, Kansas City youth who went to trial here today charged with robbery of Roscoe Wilson, theatre treasurer on January 31, 1927.

J. R. Silver, also of Kansas City is to be tried Thursday.

After the robbery trial, the two are to be tried for murder of Wilson who was killed when he resisted the demands for the $4,000 theatre receipts he was carrying to the bank.

They were arrested near Sulphur Okla., by the sheriff of Murray county a day after the crime is alleged to have been committed.

They were first taken to Ardmore to jail for safe keeping and then moved here. Relatives of the two men are here for the trial.

Shortly after they were arrested with an auto which is said to have been stolen, several of the eye witnesses to the hold up and killing were taken to Sulphur to identify the men.

Stone is being represented by former Assistant District Attorney W. H. Tolbert and former District Attorney Jesse M. Brown. They were appointed by the court.

So far little has developed from the questions asked the talesmen to show what the defense will be however, a plea of not guilty has been entered by the defendant.

Italy Turns Down Coolidge Plan To Cut Down Navy

ROME, Feb. 21.—Italy today declined President Coolidge's invitation for a conference to discuss further reduction of naval armament.

COUNTY AGENT BUSH RESIGNS, LEAVE MARCH 1

Takes Position With Chilean Nitrate Co. In Educational Work

By United Press.

R. H. Bush has tendered his resignation as county agent of Eastland county to take effect March 1, or as soon thereafter as another agent can be secured to fill his place.

Mr. Bush has accepted a position at a substantial raise of salary with the Chilean Nitrate of Soda Educational bureau with national headquarters in New York city. This organization has units in 21 countries of the world. It is backed by nitrate importers such as W. R. Grace & Co., the Dupont Powder people, Nitrate Agencies company, and others.

Offered Two Places. Mr. Bush will not be connected with the sales department of the organization, but his work will be in the educational department. The purpose of his work will be to teach farmers how to figure fertilizer formulas, how to ascertain unit values, how to pool carload lots, and to instruct them in the economical use of nitrates in fertilizers and how to find possible new fields for its use.

Within 12 hours, Mr. Bush had offered to him two important places. The extension service of A. & M. college offered him a place as poultry specialist working out of College Station and covering the entire state. This offer he declined in favor of the other, the position he accepted.

Six Years Ago. Mr. Bush came to Eastland county six years ago and has continuously served this county as demonstration agent ever since his arrival. He was graduated from A. & M. college in Mississippi in 1918, and immediately took the position as agriculturalist in the agricultural high school of Hines county at Raymond, Miss. Later he was connected with the extension service of Louisiana, after which he came to Texas and entered the service of the American Cotton association.

After the amalgamation of the farm organizations of Texas forming the Texas farm bureau of federation, he was employed by this concern for a short time, with headquarters at Waco. From here he came to Eastland county.

At intervals, Mr. Bush states, his work will bring him back into this section of the state. His headquarters probably will be at Tyler, Texas.

The district agent has assured Mr. Bush that he will place the best available man to be found as agent for the county.

INSULL AT BAR BEFORE COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Admitting he distributed $237,950 to virtually all factions in the Chicago primary, Samuel Insull, multi-millionaire traction operator, told the senate election committee his conscience would not permit him to divulge names of those to whom he gave $40,000 of his political contribution.

Insull stood with Attorney Daniel Schuyler, of Chicago, and refused to divulge this one transaction although he revealed that he has spent some $25,000 in Chicago alone for the county ticket.

For this refusal Insull and Schuyler are liable to be cited to the senate and sent to jail for contempt of the committee.

Governor Issues First Arbor Day Proclamation

AUSTIN, Feb. 21.—Governor Dan Moody today issued his first "arbor day" proclamation requesting that the people of Texas observe the day, Feb. 22, in planting of trees, shrubs and vines, in the promotion of forest growth and culture and adornment of public and private grounds, places and roadways, in such efforts and undertakings as are in harmony with the character of a day so proclaimed.

DR. BUCHANAN ANNOUNCES FOR RANGER MAYOR

Ranger's city political pot began to boil today when Dr. L. C. G. Buchanan, prominent eye, ear, nose and throat specialist and one of the largest real estate owners in Ranger, announced for mayor.

Dr. Buchanan does not enter the race without the full realization of the work and responsibility the position of mayor entails. "It is not a job to undertake with the idea that there is no work attached to it," Buchanan said this morning, "and if I am elected to the office of mayor of Ranger, I will make an effort to improve in every way conditions for better living in this city."

Came Here in 1919. Dr. Buchanan came to Ranger in 1919 and has followed his profession here since that time. Shortly after getting located here he found that there was a crying need for good rent houses. He foresaw that the day of shacks, with no conveniences, was rapidly passing into history, so he went to work to create homes. His first venture was on Pine street, where he now owns seven or eight houses and unless one has a mental picture of how that end of Pine street looked when he put his first four houses on it, they cannot possibly stretch their imagination to visualize what an improvement he has made in that end of town. He transformed muddy lots, crossed and recessed with roads and paths, into lawns and flower beds, which formed pretty settings for the houses he built thereon.

Rotarian. Dr. Buchanan has not only spent a great part of his time in improving real estate, but he has served as past president of the Ranger Rotary club, is a member of the school board and vice president of the Ranger Building & Loan association, and a factor in every step that tends toward the betterment of his home town.

Dr. Buchanan stressed the point that he only entered the race for mayor on the grounds of the city electing a strong board of commissioners, men who own homes in Ranger, and expect to stay here.

Ranger Golfers Limbering Up Spring Tourney

The links at the Ranger country club drew out a good number Sunday afternoon and the greens were pretty well dotted with players limbering up.

Dr. Harry Logsdon, who takes a great deal of interest in golf, and tries to get in a game as often as he can, said today that with weather like we have now there ought to be golfers on the links every day this week.

DUFFER NO. 2 500 BARRELS, NO. 3 ALSO GOOD ONE

Extension Wells Going Down All Over Sector; Gulf No. 1 Due in Soon

The Gholson pool, five miles south of Ranger, jumped into the limelight again today when Duffer No. 2 started flowing yesterday at the rate of about 500 barrels a day, and Duffer No. 3 came in early Monday morning with a production said to be better than either Duffer Nos. 1 and 2.

The six-inch casing was set in Duffer No. 2 almost a week ago, and for three days the coming in of the well seemed imminent, but first one thing and then another happened to deter the drilling in and it was not until Sunday afternoon that the well was completed.

Duffer No. 3, which was running a close race with Duffer No. 2, was more easily handled and slipped in most unobtrusively when all eyes were watching Duffer No. 2. Oil operators seem to think that this well will be the best of the three completions.

Gulf Nears Pay. The Gulf Duffer No. 1 is also nearing the pay and is expected in very soon. Both wells found the pay at 3,470 feet, the same depth that No. 1 encountered.

News that two producers were in the new pool caused much excitement in Ranger today, as there were many doubting Thomases who had predicted that the field was spotted, or that Duffer No. 1 was a freak well and there might not be any more production in miles of it. They waited for the drill to tell the story and now

OKLAHOMA LOSES FIGHT BOUNDARY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—The United States supreme court today denied the petition of the state of Oklahoma for rehearing of its decision in the Oklahoma-Texas boundary dispute.

The courts decision ordered a resurvey of the 100th Meridian. Oklahoma argued the decision would transfer many Oklahoma cities to Texas, causing Oklahoma to lose thousands of acres of land, including some set apart for the state university and upset many land titles.

Occupation Of Nicaragua Completed Today

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—United States military occupation of Nicaragua will be complete today.

Marines were under orders to land at Corinto and take up positions at Chinandega, and Leon, and along the Managua-Corinto railway, the state department announced today.

The liberal revolutionary army is reported menacing the railroad. The steady American occupation during the last few months of liberal territory including the seven controlling ports of the eastern part of the country, and establishment of a "legation guard" at Managua, the conservative capital near the west coast.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY: Tomorrow the nation will pause in its occupation and all citizens will pay homage to the man who was the leader of the American forces that made the United States possible, and who served his country as its first president.

Washington still lives in the hearts of the people of the nation, and will live on as long as time lasts and the United States a free nation. It is well that the younger generation be made to reverse the honor of "Father of His Country."

In the trying formative period of the country, when a strong hand was needed to guide the destinies of the new born nation, he was found large enough for the undertaking and that nation has grown from the thirteen original states to one of 52 states and several territories on islands.

His home, Mt. Vernon, still is the shrine for the multitudes to visit and pay homage. In addition to being a leader, he was a man who measured foursquare, and lived as one. The story of the cherry tree may be a myth, but it is worth remembering and handing down to the children of today.

Washington's memory will not only be revered by the general run of Americans, native born and adopted citizens, but also by the masons of the nation. He was a mason and a man, and no higher tribute can be paid to any one.

DON'T FORGET AGRICULTURE: Because of the general resumption of oil development and the discovery of new pools in Eastland county sight should not be lost of agriculture. Thousands of acres of land lie idle in Eastland county that could be made productive.

SUPPORT THE JUNIOR COLLEGE: The junior colleges of Texas should be given the heartiest support and the move to make them part of the educational system is a good one. Like such schools as Rugby in England, the junior colleges can give the groundwork and the universities do the finishing in the various professions.

M'NARY FARM BILL BLOW TO CAL COOLIDGE

By RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Writer. WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—The senate's passage of the McNary farm relief bill was a convincing demonstration that President Coolidge is unable to tell the upper house what to do with any reasonable expectation that his wishes will be obeyed.

The president, despite the personal popularity which he seems to enjoy over the country, has failed in nearly every attempt to exercise his influence over the senate during the present short session and, what with its record in the long session of the Sixty-ninth Congress will be recorded in history as a particularly unruly body of legislators.

Passage of the farm relief measure was perhaps the most resounding whack since the soldier bonus bill was passed over the presidential veto. It came but ten days after the senate had approved funds for three new battle cruisers by a vote of 49 to 27.

Other recent political history includes the senate's emphatic refusal to confirm the appointment of Cyrus E. Woods as a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

WASHINGTON BIRTHDAY: The Silver Tea given by the Mmes. Ray Campbell, J. T. Gray's and A. J. Ratliff's circles of the Missionary Society of the Methodist church, at the Gholson Hotel, Saturday afternoon, was typically Washingtonian in its details and was a distinct success in every way.

Appendicitis Must Be Given Prompt Service

By HARRY G. SLOAN, M. D. (Written for the United Press) CHICAGO.—More than 15,000 people die from appendicitis annually. The death rate is not so far short of the number killed in automobile accidents each year. And the greater number of deaths from appendicitis occur in early adult life when the individual has his period of greatest usefulness ahead of him.

The reasons for this largely preventable mortality are these: failure of the individual to appreciate the seriousness of his pain; failure to understand the damage which may be done by taking a cathartic when in abdominal pain; delay in operation. What will lead one to suspect he ought to call the doctor.

Pain in the pit of the stomach, first. Next the unfortunate one is nauseated and vomits. The pain continues and after several hours shifts to the right side, below the navel. There is a degree or two of fever. As intimated, the family physician should be called in immediately to determine the cause of the pain.

When the diagnosis of appendicitis has been made, it is dangerous to delay operation. This is because, by the most exact method of investigation, the doctor is unable to predict accurately whether rupture of the wall of the appendix is imminent. During the delay the appendix may break.

Some cases of acute appendicitis recover without operation. Many die. The operation for appendicitis, if undertaken before the appendix breaks, has a death rate of only a fraction of one percent. If operation is undertaken after the appendix has ruptured, about one out of ten may be expected to die.

Projection Rooms In Hollywood Are Complete Theatres

By LINCOLN QUARBERG (United Press Staff Correspondent) HOLLYWOOD.—The most exclusive, smallest and most comfortable movie theatres are located in Hollywood. They charge no admission, have no box-office and passes are unknown. The seats are deep upholstered loges and patrons are permitted to put their feet upon the tops of the seats in front—and smoke.

These little theatres are the projection rooms of the studios. At the new First National studios, for example, there are three such miniature theatres. In them the pictures of the company are assembled, run, cut, edited and re-run scores of times before they are released to the public.

During the making and assembling of a picture, the director is an absolute czar of the projection room. Not even studio executives can enter without invitation from the directors. Even the stars are barred during this process.

The little showhouses are completely equipped—minus only the orchestras. The director sits at the back. At his side, with a desk and a low-shaded light, sits the script clerk, making notes on what he wishes done technical advisers, title writers, and others.

There is also a signal system. The director pushes a button for the film to start, or stop. If he wants a scene repeated, he pushes another button. Other buttons inform the operator to slow the film up, or increase the speed. There is also a "movie speedometer" on the desk, by which the director can note the number of feet the film is running a second, and can check its total length, or the length of individual scenes.

Hour by hour he works, cutting off tiny frames, throwing away scenes or sequences to shorten the film, replacing a title as unnecessary—much in the same manner that an author revises his manuscript.

Duffer No. 2 500 Barrels; No. 3 Also Good One

(Continued from page one.) that production in three wells stands confirmed, the most skeptical stands convinced that the Gholson pool is a most worth while and proven field. With the Duffer No. 1 not two months old until next Sunday, the Gholson pool with three producers, and several drilling wells in its vicinity, has been a most phenomenal one and has attracted thousands of oil men to Eastland county.

The talent are buying leases and are getting ready to drill in that neighborhood. Among the latest ones to go into the field are Barkley and Crotty, Ranger operators, who are moving a rig on the Terrell tract, one mile east of the Duffer land and will begin operation in about 10 days.

Price and Russell are almost ready to spud in on the McClothlin tract, four miles south of Ranger. The Gulf is changing rigs on a shallow test and preparing to drill deeper and Gholson et al. are drilling on the Parrish, five-eighths of a mile from the Duffer.

Activity in the Gholson pool gains momentum daily and while up to the present time most all drilling is being pushed by Ranger owners, outside capital has been attracted enough to the pool to purchase large amounts of royalty and no doubt they will be announcing new locations now that the field has proven itself up with two more producers.

British Control Of Air Routes Boosts Flying

By United Press.
LONDON.—Six years of governmental control and support of civil and commercial flying in Great Britain has resulted in a tremendous expansion of the air routes flown over regularly by British machines.

Starting with a single route of 225 miles from London to Paris in August 1919 British routes today provide regular flying schedules over 1,400 miles of air ways, and this figure will soon be increased to 3,800 miles when the new passenger and mail air route from Cairo to Karachi, India, is opened. Since the opening of the London-Paris route, British passenger carrying machines have flown a distance of approximately 6,000,000 miles and carried approximately 75,000 passengers. In this time on 13 passengers on the regular lines have lost their lives and in the last two years there has not been a single fatal accident to a passenger on a British line.

The inauguration of the era of governmental control over civil and commercial flying has done much toward instilling public confidence in the safety of flying, but there is a feeling in British aeronautical circles that the stringent requirements of the government before licensing machines has retarded any tendency to any radically new designs. Under the auspices of the air ministry however, the present year has seen the introduction of two new types that it is claimed are great promise. One of these is the Hill-tailless airplane designed by an officer in the Royal Air Force and the other is the Cierva Auto-giro or "windmill" airplane in which a pilot can effect a vertical descent and land safely.

Private flying in England has been given a great impetus through the formation of numerous flying clubs, backed by a government subsidy of $150,000. These clubs have been equipped partly at the expense of the government and partly at the expense of the club members with light low-powered two-seater airplanes, capable of landing slowly yet developing a speed of about 80 miles an hour.

Under the governmental regulations no airplane is allowed to fly that has not first been inspected, tested and approved by government officials. Inspections are made at frequent intervals. Any machine that is not maintained in excellent condition is permitted to leave the ground. Governmental supervision also extends to pilots and no one is allowed to fly a machine either for his own pleasure or to carry passengers who have not first passed a strict physical examination and examinations demonstrating his efficiency in ordinary and acrobatic flying.

Yearly competitions for cash prizes totaling $25,000 have been held to bring out improved designs in light two-seater airplanes equipped with engines weighing not over 170 pounds.

Government support is also given to the long distance passenger lines.

Board of Regents of University to Elect Officers

Special Correspondence.
AUSTIN, Feb. 21.—At the next meeting of the board of regents of the University of Texas new officers will be elected and committee assignments made for the coming year. It is not known at this time whether H. J. Latcher Stark of Orange desires to be re-elected chairman of the board, but it is anticipated that if he is willing to again accept the honor it will be given him. In addition to the various routine matters that are to come before the board for consideration, it will probably award the contract for the construction of the new powerhouse building of the university. Bids for the proposed building have been already submitted.

Houston to Retire Teachers After 25 Years of Service

By United Press.
HOUSTON, Feb. 21.—Provision for retiring teachers after serving 25 years or upon disability due to illness is contemplated by the Houston school board.

Present plans for the action are that teachers would receive a percentage of salary similar to that allowed government employes upon retirement, it was said.

Dogs Kill Fox Caught on Hunt 30 Years Ago

By United Press.
FRANKLIN, N. C., Feb. 21.—In 1897 Zeb Shope and two other men went hunting foxes. Near Skeenah creek they caught a full grown grey fox alive, cut a crop out of one ear, twisted off half the animal's tail and let him loose among their dogs. The fox eluded his pursuers and disappeared in the timber.

The other men died in the intervening years, but Shope went hunting here recently alone. He came back to tell this story.

"My dogs smelled a fox near Thom mountain and started after him. When I caught up they'd killed the animal and there was the bobbed tail, cropped ear and all."

Shope brought the fox home and said there was no doubt but that the animal was the same he had caught 30 years before.

Milwaukee Elks Are Preparing For Bowling Tourney

By United Press.
MILWAUKEE, Wis., Feb. 21.—Preparations are already under way here for the Elks national bowling tournament which will be staged in Milwaukee, starting March 11, at the local Elks club.

While entries have already been received from Detroit, Chicago, Louisville, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Indianapolis, Ind.; Cincinnati, O.; Fremont, O.; Cleveland, O.; Sandusky, O.; Aurora, Ill.; Buffalo, N. Y., and a large number of Wisconsin cities, Art Williams, secretary, expects many numbers more before the entries close officially on Feb. 26.

Some of the world's most prominent bowlers, including Jimmy Smith, Jimmy Blouin, Frank Kartheiser, Sykes Thomas, Hank Marino, Dominick DeVito and others, will take part in the event.

Phillips Petroleum will build its fifth absorption gas plant in Panhandle field.

250 University Students to Take Up Teaching

Special Correspondence.
AUSTIN, Feb. 21.—At the conclusion of this year's session of the University of Texas there will be approximately 250 students seeking positions as teachers, according to present indications. These prospective teachers attended a meeting called by Miss Miriam Dozier, secretary of the teachers' appointment committee of the university. She said that there appeared to be very much in earnest and to have a full realization of the responsibilities that are about to undertake in entering the teaching profession.

Australia's First Aerial Wedding Held at Sydney

By United Press.
SYDNEY.—Australia's first aerial wedding took place recently when Miss Rita Wallis, was married to Harry G. Farr by the Rev. Jesse Mayo. The ceremony took place at 1,500 feet above the ground.

It began after the airplane had risen above the roofs of buildings bordering the airfield. The couple leaned forward towards the clergyman, endeavoring to catch the words of the marriage service above the roar of the airplane motor. They clergyman's words were spoken almost in their ears. Then there was signaling for the ring, and it was all over. The bride was kissed as abandonedly as if she had been in a church.

The bridal couple are spending their honeymoon apart. Mrs. Farr has left for a holiday in Singapore, and the husband has gone on a business tour of the world including the United States.

Boston Braves Will Have Youths to Carry Banner

By HENRY MINOTT, United Press Staff Correspondent.
BOSTON, Feb. 21.—Extreme youth and equally extreme age, as baseball players go, will be depended upon next season to pull the Boston Braves out of the rut in which they have wallowed for several years. The squad has started training at St. Petersburg, Fla.

Made confident by their late season rally of 1923, during which they proved a deciding factor in settling the pennant race in the National league, the Braves face the new season with what they believe will be the strongest team they have put on the field in many campaigns.

Foremost among the newcomers is Jacques Fournier, experienced and hard-hitting first baseman secured from Brooklyn this winter. He is expected to be an improvement over Dick Burros, who had a poor season in 1923.

Ranked close to Fournier in new potential strength is Lance Richbourg, sensational outfielder obtained from Milwaukee for $35,000. Richbourg and Eddie Brown, Braves star of last season, are expected to fill two outfield berths. The third regular outfield place probably will be contested for by the veterans Jimmy Welsh, Jack Smith and Leslie Mann, and a newcomer Red Barron, Georgia Tech football star of three seasons ago.

Additions to the pitching staff include Charlie Robertson, who pitched a no-hit game for the White Sox several years ago; Elmer Knight, secured from the Phillies this winter; Kyle Graham and Harold Goldsmith, both from the Providence team, and Herman Holshouser, a likely rookie from Charlotte, N. C. club.

Manager Dave Bancroft expects some of these additions to supply even greater strength to a pitching staff whose progress already is generally recognized.

Frank Gibson and Zack Taylor, regulars; Oscar Seimer, substitute backstop last year, and Francis Hogan, acquired from Lynn, will comprise the catching staff.

With Andy High at third and Manager Bancroft at short, the left side of the infield undoubtedly will be the same as last year. The big fight will probably involve second base, for which Doc Gautreau, Eddie Moore and Herbert Thomas, who comes from the Providence team, will be the chief contestants.

"We believe that we have the greatest potential strength in the league," said President Emil E. Fuchs, in discussing the Braves' outlook for the coming season. "We are entirely optimistic as regards the approaching season and hope and expect to accomplish some real results."

New Electric Locomotive to Change Railways

By United Press.
LONDON.—Successful experiments with a new type of electric locomotive which maintains a high speed on a current of only 200 volts has led British electrical engineers to consider the possibility of electrifying the entire railway system of Great Britain.

Under present conditions 600 volts are required to start a train. The live rails will instantly kill a person coming in contact with them. Under the new system, which is the invention of Captain William P. Durrant, a well known London consulting engineer, the same voltage is used that is required for electric lighting purposes and contact with the rail would be no more harmful than shock from an ordinary house-lighting circuit.

Moreover, it is claimed that the new electric locomotive is much cheaper to run. While 600 volts are needed to start electric trains at present, once they are under way only 100 volts are required to maintain them at approximately their maximum speed. The result is that the remaining 400 volts still coming from the live rails are practically wasted.

Under present conditions 600 volts are required to start a train. The live rails will instantly kill a person coming in contact with them. Under the new system, which is the invention of Captain Durrant's invention utilized storage batteries to provide the additional voltage required to start the train. This reserve power is gradually and automatically cut off as the train gathers headway. When it is running at top speed the battery current stops entirely and the train runs on the 200 voltage supplied by the live rail. Meanwhile the battery is automatically recharged from the low voltage rail by a transformer.

It is claimed for Captain Durrant's invention that it dispenses altogether with the need of electrical substations even on long routes. Highly satisfactory tests are declared to have been made with the invention on a specially constructed line near Newcastle.

The invention is viewed with special interest by electrical engineers as its successful tests practically coincide with the passage by parliament of the new electricity bill providing for the establishment of a $250,000,000 system of super-power electrical stations to transmit power throughout England.

Working is almost as much fun as not working.

In the Matrimonial News

One hundred and fifty matrimonially inclined correspondents were heard from by Mrs. Ella Silver, 60, of End, Okla. In the final, out of four candidates for her hand Mrs. Silver chose Clement Benway, 32, a lonely soldier, located in the Hawaiian Islands. Here they are at End after their marriage. "I'm as happy as can be," said Mrs. Benway. "I wanted a home with a wife who was not frivolous and spoiled," said Benway. They'll live in Wellington, Kas.

Scotland Now Wants Home Rule, Like Old Ireland

By United Press.
LONDON.—"Scotland wants Home Rule and as much independence as the Irish Free State has."

This is a note in English politics that has just been sounded by the newly organized Scottish national movement and it is considered by observers here as likely to lead to a lively political struggle in the United Kingdom in the next decade or sooner.

The movement has largely been inspired, it is said, by Scottish envy of the success of South Ireland in securing a free state status, and also, it is understood, by a desire to be in a position to check the "Irishization" of Scotland which at present is proceeding at a rapid rate.

Promoters of the national movement express the aims of the organization as the "restoration of Scotland to her right full place in the comity of nations and her recognition as an independent state within the British Commonwealth; the re-establishment of an independent national parliament sitting in Scotland with an executive responsible to it alone; and having full financial commercial and military control, and the taking of a plebiscite of the Scottish people on the question of Scottish self-determination."

Officials of the movement declare it is non-party and non-sectarian. They stress the point that Scotland had no direct representation at the recent imperial conference "and is thereby placed in a humiliating position."

"Scotland for the Scotch" is another plank in the platform of the movement, and this, it is said, is inspired by a veritable Irish invasion of Scotland in recent years. It is estimated that between 1921 and 1923 approximately 300,000 Irishmen moved into Scotland from the Emerald Isle. With a reputed lower standard of living than the Scotch, the Irish have been able to accept lower wages. The result has been not only the creation of a certain amount of unemployment among the Scotch, but also in a general tendency toward lowering the standard of living in the cities.

In 1924, 28 1-2 percent of the children born in Glasgow were of Irish parentage. Taking the industrial areas as a whole Irishmen today constitute one-fourth of the population. It is also charged that many of the Irish immigrants are disinclined to work and that consequently they swell the totals paid out in doles and poor law relief.

In consequence politicians believe that the aspirations of the national movement, combining as they do, an appeal to the Irish with appeal to national pride in independence in political matters, will rally strong support to the movement and even at an early date provide interesting "political fireworks."

Shopping News Of Merchants Is Gone Like Others

By United Press.
NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 21.—The New Haven Shopping News, conducted by a number of local merchants, will be discontinued late this month, the United Press learned today.

The Shopping News, an eight page publication consisting entirely of advertising, was organized here about three years ago and was among the first of nearly two score that have been started throughout the United States.

It is to be discontinued, according to an official of the Edward Malley Company, local department store, because of the lack of continuous support from a number of merchants.

The News had been distributed free every week to stimulate the week end bargain trade, and claimed a circulation of 35,000.

A battle of several years' standing between department stores and two afternoon papers over alleged high advertising rates was ended here recently when the stores accepted the rates and inserted their advertising.

Asked whether that incident had any bearing on the discontinuance of Shopping News, the Malley official said that any report to that effect was "entirely erroneous."

Coolidge's Voice Will Be Heard Over the Radio

By WILLIAM F. FAGAN, United Press Radio Editor.
NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—The initial broadcasting on what is expected to develop into the first truly national broadcast network, with seven Pacific coast stations participating, will bring the voice of President Coolidge to listeners from coast to coast tomorrow.

The occasion will be the joint session of congress on Washington's birthday. It will mark the first address of the president over a nationwide hook-up since his inaugural on March 4, 1924. The record presidential hook-up at that time, 27 stations, will be broken tomorrow, with 38 broadcasters participating.

Speaking in the house of representatives, the president's voice will be carried by telephone lines to New York and distributed over the wire networks of the National Broadcasting company. This organization, upon the invitation of the United States commission for celebration of the 200th anniversary of the Birthday of George Washington, extended the government its facilities for the interconnection of the stations.

It is expected that the president's message to congress will go on the air at 12:30 p. m., eastern time, which is 11:30 a. m., central time, and 9:30 a. m., Pacific time.

The National Broadcasting company is already organizing a radio network for the seven Pacific coast stations involved, with the idea of developing a western program service similar to that of the east and middle west. Not only will programs be broadcast from some central coast point, but the programs of the east will be extended eventually, with the outstanding musical events of California, Oregon and Washington in turn made available to eastern listeners.

100 Merchants Face Prosecution In Soviet Russia

By United Press.
MOSCOW.—One hundred merchants have been arrested in Karkoff, charged with speculating in cotton and woolen cloth and profiteering.

They are accused of hiring persons to stand in the long lines for purchases from the government stores and then reselling the goods so purchased in their own shops. The private shops generally double or treble the prices for similar goods in government shops.

The great scarcity of manufactured articles, such as cloth and boots, cause stampedes to the governmental shops whenever consignments of such things are received and put on sale. The streets surrounding the shops are filled with lines of people waiting to buy.

The government shops sell only in small quantities. One can buy only just enough cloth for a coat or a suit or a dress. Three-fourths of the stock in the private shops searched in Karkoff after the arrests of the merchants there, consisted of such small pieces of cloth.

Though prices in government shops are not low, the cost of purchasing from private dealers is much greater. However, in many cases the private dealers practically corner the supply by many secret visits to government shops.

Broken Threads

©1926 NEA SERVICE INC. by Clifford L. Webb and Ernest Lynn

CHAPTER XLVIII
"I began to realize for the first time," Jim Elwell continued, "that I had acted the part of a selfish, thoughtless cad in marrying you the way I did, Betty, and asking you to keep it secret. It wasn't fair to you, even if you hadn't come into a fortune, for neither of you girls had ever gone around with any fellows—except Dick Canfield and me—and I had no right to tie you up the way I did. Dick did the honorable thing. Dick naturally would."

"The upshot of the matter was that I told Mollie and Prof the whole truth—that is, all except which girl it was I had married. That they didn't know until just a few minutes ago when Betty told them."

"We talked the thing over and decided it was only right and fair to give you your chance, Betty—you know, a chance to get free. Knowing you pretty well, we felt reasonably sure that you wouldn't take the chance if it was offered to you in the ordinary way—that is, to give you a divorce."

He paused a moment while he patted Betty's arm. "So we decided to let you go on believing me burglar for a while—six months at least. You were to have your fling—to go to Europe and mix with other men and if you found one—the right one—then I would have made it easy for you to get your freedom. And that's why Mollie wrote you to tell you to go ahead with your European trip and forget about me. But—"

"But—I fooled you, didn't I, Mister Fixit? Now you've got to go to Europe with your little wife and if she catches you flirting with any pretty nurses—war nurses, I mean—well, it won't be very healthy for you."

Jim leaned back and smiled contentedly, blissfully unaware of the fact that during a certain period of his "living death" his actions had really given his mother cause for great anxiety and would have worried his wife considerably if she had known more about them.

"Just the same, Jim," Martha Dalton spoke reprovingly, "I think it was a mean trick to play on the girls. If you had seen these girls tonight when they were waiting for you to get home—honestly, I thought they would be nervous wrecks, both of them."

"And then, too," she added, "keeping this good news away from them for all these weeks, when they just as well could have known and been happy instead of heartbroken. Jim I think you've been cruel."

Martha Dalton spoke as if she was mad. Jim "took it" smilingly.

"I didn't get that, but I'll find out later."

When she had finished he said, "Don't help it, old dear, but that's the way I felt about it. I had no business tying Betty up with a marriage and then going away to war and expecting her to shut her eyes every time she saw another man. And now since she's become an heiress she must have to use a guard to keep the men away."

"All I need," remarked Betty humorously, "is Rusty's slipper. Eh, Margaret?"

"I didn't get that," said Jim, "but I'll find out later. I hope you girls forgive me for playing this little trick. Do you?"

"And you, Martha?"

"Well, just this once, Jim. But please don't ever—honestly, you almost broke my poor old heart."

"That wasn't the only stubborn thing he did," remarked Mollie Elwell. "Imagine going away to war and asking me not to try to find out which of the girls he was in love with. He was afraid, mind you, that if I knew which one it was I would favor her at the expense of the other in case he died overseas. Now, can you imagine any boy of mine being as misguided as all that?"

"And can you imagine him being as misguided as to think that I would desert him?" demanded Betty.

"Let the boy alone," said Prof. "I won't have you women picking on him like that. There are a few things about us men they'll never understand—eh, Jim?"

That was true, Jim smiled. "You mustn't blame Mollie," he said to Martha, "for what she said in her letter. If you'll remember, what she said was this: that there wasn't one chance in a thousand that I'd ever be any better mentally,

Betty suddenly lifted her head to look at Martha Dalton. "Why," she accused, "you've forgotten the peach pie, Dalty!"

"Peach pie!" Jim exclaimed. "Dalty's peach pie! Boy, bring her on!"

Martha Dalton waddled off to the kitchen to fetch it, and Betty confided to Jim that she had decided to allow the operatic stars to retain their laurels.

"And Rusty," she added, "will be willing to pass up her chances of being another Pavlova. Tell 'em Rusty, about Dick Canfield."

Rusty blushingly admitted that Dick was coming all the way from California, where he had a good job, on the strength of some answers she had given to his questions in a letter.

"And while you folks are so joyous let me remark that I know of a nurse and a newspaperman up in New York who are not so miserable," spoke up Prof Elwell. "The last word was that Jack Nevin and Nellie Downing were considering a certain matter very seriously!"

Betty giggled. Martha Dalton's arm. "Hear that, Dalty? Your romance with the capital R was all right, but it got its characters mixed."

The evening before, in New York, Jack Nevin met Nellie Downing and, true to her word, she gave him a story that was good for two columns and a four-column "art layout" on the front page of the Planet the next morning.

There were pictures of Jim, the twins, Prof, Mollie and after considerable persuasion on Jack's part, of Nellie Downing.

Nellie had to go down town with him and wait in a hotel lobby while he wrote the story.

"To his city editor he said: 'Boss, remember the night I threw you down on this Jim Elwell story and you wouldn't fire me?'"

The boss did.

"Well, if I came to you, with the same story, only twice as good, and wrote it on my night off, would that square things with you?"

It certainly would, the city editor admitted. "If it's real hot, Jack, I might be induced to put through a memorandum for a raise for you. I've been thinking of it for some time, but I wanted something to hang it on—make it look good to the front office, you know."

That was how Jack Nevin came to write the story of his life for the Planet—the best "human interest" story, the editor remarked the next day, that he had ever seen in his paper, and a scoop, too. "Whoever wrote it, send him in to me. I have something to tell him."

"You see," Jack told Nellie Downing when he had turned in his story to the city desk and the city editor had leaped nearly two feet in the air and shouted madly to the night editor to make a big front page "Tole!" "The yarn seems to have made a hit. It's all your fault, too, and I'm beginning to think that if I stick pretty close to you I'll get along in the newspaper game yet."

Nellie Downing gazed pensively at her hands.

"I hate," Nevin told her, "to ask you to take a man who's only got one leg, but how could a cripple like me do better than to get a nurse for a wife?"

Well, Nellie admitted, there certainly was something in that. Thus had the ends of the broken threads in the lives of the Elwells and their friends been caught up and tied together again.

Mother Destiny, beginning with that stormy night in October of 1898, had laid their lines in devious and baffling ways, but had straightened them out at last.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist, (adv.)

COLDS CHECKED QUICK

To check a cold quick and to cut short an attack of grippe, influenza, sore throat or tonsillitis, take one or two Klok-Lax tabules on going to bed tonight. By morning you surely will feel great.

Klok-Lax contains ingredients now recognized the world over to completely cleanse out the 28-foot intestinal canal of all poisonous wastes which breed disease. And Klok-Lax is as easy to take—no nausea—no griping—and yet you are thoroughly cleaned out—congestion relieved, liver active—head clear and the poisons in the bowels moved out.

Doctors recognize constipation as the one greatest danger to health and longer life—don't trifle—treat constipation rationally—most remedies relieve but do not thoroughly cleanse. When you know how Klok-Lax benefits you tell your friends—you will be so enthusiastic you will strongly recommend it to others.

Your druggist will guarantee Klok-Lax.

After the "Flu" is over — you need a Tonic

Help is Needed to Restore Your Wasted Strength and Energy.

"Flu" leaves the body weakened and rundown. In such cases, a tonic is clearly indicated. Restore the appetite and rid yourself of that let-down feeling.

"Flu" is a very enervating disease. It leaves its victims so weak and debilitated that there is as much danger from the after-effects as from the disease itself. In other words, after an attack of the "flu," you need a selective tonic to rebuild the system so that you may have your old-time strength and energy restored.

S.S.S. is unequalled for restoring strength and vitality.

You owe it to yourself and family to give S.S.S. a trial. It helps Nature build up red blood corpuscles. It improves the processes by which the body is nourished. It is time-tried and reliable. S.S.S. is made from the roots of fresh herbs and plants, and is prepared in a scientific way in a modern laboratory.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

CANCERS CAUSE LARGE PERCENT ADULTS DEATH

By C. E. PFAHLER, M. D.
Member Gorgas Memorial Inst.
(Written for the United Press)

CHICAGO.—Cancer is the cause of one out of every ten deaths over the age of twenty. It may occur at any age, but occurs most frequently between the ages of forty and sixty.

Through the leadership of the medical profession together with the individual and united efforts of the public in the fight against the infectious diseases such as measles, scarlet fever, whooping cough, diphtheria, typhoid fever and tuberculosis, the deaths from these causes have been reduced about 50 per cent during the past 20 years. This has given an average prolongation of life, but has carried more people into the cancer age. This must therefore be at least one cause for the increase of nearly fifty per cent in cancer deaths during the same twenty years.

Cause Not Known.
The exact cause of cancer is not known, but we do know that cancer does not begin in healthy tissue, and that, if the tissues are kept in a healthy condition, cancer will not be likely to develop. Toward this end all warts, moles (especially if undergoing change), chronic sores, and recurring crusts should be removed or properly treated.

In the mouth, white patches or any sore or ulcer on the lip, tongue, cheek, or throat that does not begin to heal within two weeks should receive skillful medical treatment. Any tumor may be cancer, or may change into cancer.

Indigestion which recurs frequently should be carefully investigated and properly treated. Any unsatisfactory discharge from the body should arouse suspicion and should be definitely proven not to be due to cancer. Cancer does not indicate any blood taint, involves no disgrace, is not contagious, and is not painful at the beginning.

No Cure Found.
No serum or medicine has been found that will cure cancer, but that applies also to tuberculosis, and yet through watchful care, tuberculosis can be prevented, and, if properly treated at the beginning, can be cured. Likewise, if cancer is recognized and treated at the beginning while it is still a local disease, it can be cured in the great majority of cases.

One may compare a cancer to a fire. A fire can easily be put out, even by a pitcher of water, if it is recognized and treated properly at the beginning. But the more the fire has spread, the more difficult it is to fight and the more damage will be done. Depending upon the nature of things, the fire or the cancer may develop very slowly and the fight may be successful, although begun very late, or it may develop very rapidly and delay may lose the fight.

To prevent a fire, the fire underwriters inspect the building and have the conditions removed which lead to fire. To fight cancer, have the body inspected so as to remove the conditions which precede cancer or, if this has not been done, have the cancer treated skillfully and thoroughly from the beginning.

Mackey Denies Sale of Postal to Radio Concern

President Clarence H. Mackey, of the Postal Telegraph company, denies the report current that the Postal Telegraph Commercial Cable company is to be sold to the Radio Corporation.

Mr. Mackey says in a message to the Ranger Postal office, "In view of many inquiries being made by members of the staff as to this, I think it advisable to repeat the denial of these reports, which I made to the press a short time ago,—namely, that there is no truth in any of these rumors that the Postal Telegraph Commercial Cable company system is to be sold to the Radio Corporation."

Mrs. Corneau To be Laid to Rest In Old Home Town

Mrs. Laura Lamb-Corneau, born in Danville, Illinois, aged seventy-six years, when she passed away with pneumonia, at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Wilson, on Saturday morning, February 19, 1927, was a member of fifty-six years standing in the Episcopal church.

For many years Mr. and Mrs. Corneau resided in Litchfield, Illinois, where her body was shipped yesterday noon, to rest beside that of her husband, who passed from his earthly life, six months ago.

Since then Mrs. Corneau has been here with her daughter and was ill but a few days.

The home was filled with sympathizing friends, for their last kindnesses in Eastland, and the brief message to the stricken and grief for the dead, were read by Rev. L. R. Boran from the Ninetieth Psalm.

Magnificent floral emblems and lovely flowers cast a fragrant blanket over the silvered gray casket, borne by Joseph B. Leonard, W. K. Jackson, Richardson, M. Brelsford, Jr., Hilbury, McCarty and J. A. Wright, to the train.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson were accompanied on their sad journey by their son Clifford C. Wilson.

Woman Seriously Injured Jumping From Moving Auto

Mrs. M. Paul Martin, of Breckenridge, formerly of Eastland, was seriously, if not fatally, injured Sunday evening when she jumped from a car while driving on the Bankhead highway between Weatherford and Fort Worth.

The injured woman was with Mr. and Mrs. Trammell of Weatherford and had just finished coasting down a hill when the car backfired, thinking that it had caught on fire, Mrs. Martin jumped, striking her head on the pavement and fracturing the skull, and the jaw bone. She was rushed to a hospital for treatment.
