NOMINATE SMITH AND TEXAS WOMEN WILL VOTE REPUBLICAN

WARNING IS ISSUED BY HEAD OF W.C.T.U.

Declares Prohibition Looms Big as Campaign Issue in Next Election

By United Press.
DALLAS, Sept. 2.—Women of Texas will withdraw their support from the democratic party and vote the republican ticket if Governor Al Smith of New York is nominated for the presidency by the democrats, declared Mrs. Claude Dee Van Watts, Austin, state president of the Women's Christian Temperance union, here today.

"With the wet question looming for next year's campaign," she told a convention of the organization, "this organization is going to fight the nomination of any wet candidate."

Mrs. Van Watts declared that the sale of liquor was decreasing in Texas and that it was only "wet propaganda which says it is increasing."

"The issuance of permits for prescription liquor is becoming a big question," she continued. "Last year in Texas 600,000 quarts of prescription liquor was issued."

STRIKE MAY BE CALLED OF ALL MOVIE HOUSES

All Efforts To Settle Chicago Strike Have Failed And Employees May Ask For Sympathy Strike.

By United Press.
CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—Appeal for a national sympathy strike of employees of moving picture theatres allied with theatres participating in the Chicago lockout were discussed by union officials today following initial failure of government mediators to obtain agreement to arbitrate the controversy.

The unions announced they would not agree to arbitration until the theatres were reopened.

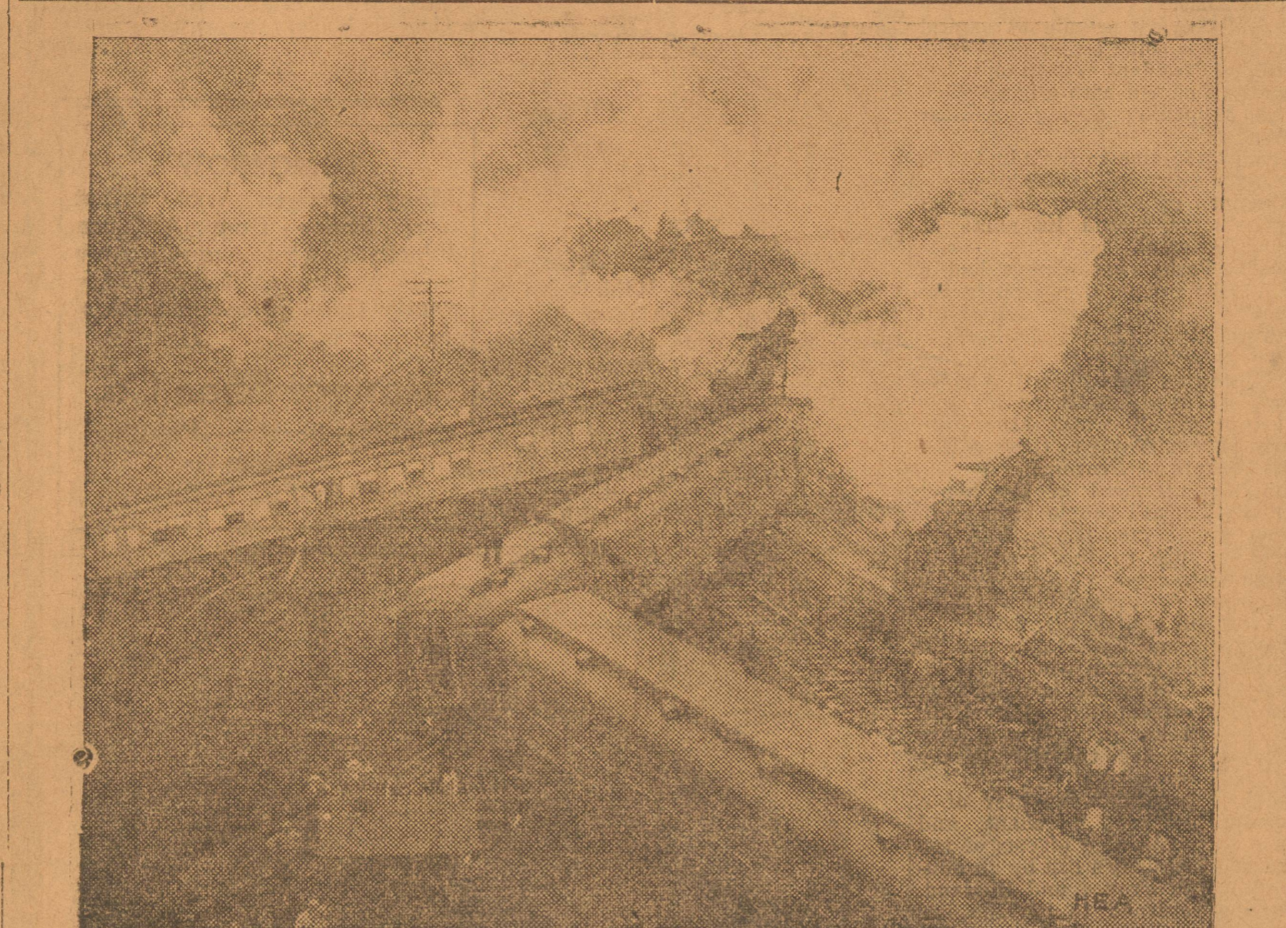

The exhibitors insisted on continuing the lockout until controversy is settled.

A sympathetic strike such as that under discussion would involve not only the moving picture operators but allied unions of stage hands and musicians.

Hundreds of theatres would be affected and thousands thrown out of work.

The only hope of averting an appeal was seen in an announcement that Ben C. Marchman and Fred Knighly, department of labor conciliators, who failed in their efforts would make another attempt to secure an agreement.

When the Broadway Limited Left the Rails

Here's what happened when the Broadway Limited, one of the Pennsylvania lines' fast express trains left the rails at Bonnington, Pa., near Altoona. The train, a double-header, was traveling at about 35 miles an hour and climbing a steep grade. The fireman and engineer of the lead engine were killed and nine passengers taken to hospitals.

FRENCH PLANE FORCED BACK TO LE BOURGET

Returns to Field Three and Half Hours After Start, Unable to Make Flight Thru Heavy Fog.

By United Press.
LE BOURGET, France, Sept. 2.—Three and a half hours after starting an attempted non-stop to New York, Leon Givon and Pierre Corbu brought their heavily loaded Farman biplane "Blue Bird" safely to earth at 10 a. m. (3 a. m. Texas time) abandoning temporarily at least a flight which they had planned for several months.

A thick fog a short distance from Paris above which they were unable to rise caused Givon at the controls to return to Le Bourget.

Fearful of crashing if attempting to land with the plane fully loaded with fuel, Givon circled above the field for an hour and a half before bringing it to earth.

Meanwhile Corbu had opened the valves of the tanks and drained most of the gasoline.

When the Blue Bird landed Corbu rising from the floor where he had been emptying gas tank was the first to stick his head out of the cabin. He was very pale. Givon had a faint smile on his face.

Then Givon and Corbu told what had happened.

ST. RAPHAEL PROBABLY DOWN IN OCEAN

Two Attempts To Fly Eastward Across the Atlantic Are Halted.

Mishaps and perhaps actual disaster marked the three attempts to cross the Atlantic which have been in progress since early yesterday morning.

The London-to-Ottawa plane St. Raphael in which the 63-year-old Princess Ann of Lowenstein-Wertheim was a passenger still was unheard from today although approximately 60 hours had elapsed since its flight had started.

The Windsor, Ont., to Windsor, England, plane, Royal Windsor, carrying Phil Wood and C. A. Schiller, which left Windsor, Ont., yesterday morning, was forced down at Mount Johnson, near St. John's, New Foundland, last night. Danger of fire forced the landing. The plane was little damaged, the flyers reported, and they expected to start again by 10 a. m. They had spent the night at St. John's.

The London, Ont., to London, England, plane was forced by fog last night to land at Caribou, Maine.

STATE BRIEFS

DALLAS, Sept. 2.—More than 200 retail druggists, salesmen and jobbers of the southwest are expected to arrive here today for the two-day meeting of the Western company. All persons connected with the drug business were invited to attend the conference. Competent speakers will discuss the various phases of the drug business during the meeting.

ABILENE, Sept. 2.—Whether any of the bevy of West Texas' prettiest girls will attempt an osculatory greeting when Col. Charles A. Lindbergh visits here Sept. 26 has become a highly mooted question in this section.

The local reception committee has issued sympathetic instructions that none of the girls are to attempt to kiss the modest young hero of the air.

When Lindbergh descends on Abilene he will probably see more pulchritude gathered than he has ever before seen. Virtually every town in West Texas is planning to send its fairest daughter to greet the flyer, and 100 towns will be represented when all beauty selections have been made.

GAINESVILLE, Sept. 2.—The Gainesville Junior Chamber of Commerce has established a convention bureau to bring small conventions to Gainesville during the coming year. With increased hotel facilities promised, Gainesville will be able to take care of conventions with as many as 500 delegates.

WACO, Sept. 2.—When the first air mail plane leaves Waco this fall, a large part of its consignment will be letters to stamp collectors in various parts of the United States.

Nearly 50 letters are being held by Postmaster C. V. McMahon for delivery on the first air mail plane leaving here. The collectors desire to have the cancelled stamps of the first issue for stamp collectors albums, according to McMahon.

BIYAN, Sept. 2.—Sam E. Eberstadt, who was recently elected again as secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce, has the distinction of having remained on the job longer in one place than any other secretary of a similar organization in Texas, it is said.

Eberstadt has held the secretaryship of the local chamber for 11 years. The average tenure is three years.

FAIRFIELD, Texas, Sept. 2.—Anderson, Freestone, Leon and Cherokee counties joined hands in a huge celebration today at the official opening of the Trinity river bridge which will connect East and Central Texas.

Governor Dan Moody this afternoon will cut the ribbon stretched across the bridge and will walk to the opposite end of the structure followed by bands, citizens and officials. It was estimated that 15,000 persons will attend the celebration. Women of the four counties baked 4,000 pies for the picnic to be held this evening.

Lindbergh Does Few Stunts For Cal and Family

RAPID CITY, South Dakota, Sept. 2.—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh did stunts in the air for President and Mrs. Coolidge and their son John here today. The trans-Atlantic flyer who was the guest of the Coolidges in Washington on his return from Paris circled over Rapid City for 10 minutes.

President Coolidge left the summer executive offices to crane his neck to see the flyer and Mrs. Coolidge and John, who were shopping, ran out of the store to gaze skyward as interested as residents of Rapid City who had not seen the Spirit of St. Louis before.

Lindbergh flew low and the insignia on his plane could be seen clearly.

Sweet Folly!

FORTY-SIXTH SESSION LEAGUE OF NATIONS OPENED AT GENEVA

GENEVA, Sept. 2.—The forty-sixth session of the council of the League of Nations opened here Thursday. Final approval on the project for financial reconstruction of Greece is expected to be one of the important subjects under discussion.

The plan, when put into execution, will be the third which the league has sponsored for putting various European states back onto a sound financial basis. The first two, which were successful in every way, were undertaken on behalf of Austria and Hungary.

In addition, the league has also sponsored international loans for the aid of a million war refugees in Greece, for the aid of refugees in Bulgaria, and for the financial establishment of the Free City of Danzig.

The new project on behalf of Greece will embody not only the final settlement of the million and more refugees but the entire financial and economic re-establishment of the country.

The international loan which the council will sanction totals some $45,000,000 of which $15,000,000 will be used for the final settlement of the refugees; another $15,000,000 for making up budget deficits and definitely balancing the budget and the remaining $15,000,000 for strengthening the bank of issue in Greece.

As in the cases of Austria and Hungary, the administration of the loan will be under the control of a high commission of the League of Nations who will also control the revenues pledged by Greece for its repayment.

The meeting of the council today was the usual one that immediately precedes the annual meeting of the league assembly, scheduled this year for Sept. 5, and is therefore of minor importance for the council invariably passes on to the assembly for final decision or instructions, all important questions pending.

The council, however, will remain in session throughout the entire assembly for the purpose of dealing with questions that may come up, and also for several days after the assembly for the purpose of putting into execution any recommendations or resolutions on various subjects which the assembly may adopt.

The council will take during its present session the final steps for the holding of the league's two next international conferences. The first of these, for the launching of an international convention for the abolition of export and import restrictions, will be the first practical result of the league's international economic conference of last May. It will be held Oct. 17.

The second conference is that of the league's preparatory disarmament commission which on Nov. 15 will take up the disarmament problem again from the point where it was broken off by the virtual failure of the commission's efforts last April and also by the Coolidge naval disarmament conference.

Finally the council will have before it the replies of all the leading governments as to what extent they are disposed to participate financially in Dr. Nansen's scheme for the transfer of some 35,000 Armenian refugees from Europe to the new Armenian bolshevik republic in the Caucasian region and their settlement there on a self-supporting basis.

The council meeting, as usual, will furnish the possibility for Foreign Ministers Briand, Chamberlain and Stresemann to resume their private conversations on the settlement of question growing out of the Locarno agreements.

By United Press.
TYLER, Texas, Sept. 2.—J. H. Richardson, 51, today told from the witness stand how he and his wife were brutally flogged by four masked men near Marshall on the night of June 8, last.

On cross examination Richardson admitted that he had told Sheriff John Sanders and his deputies John Henderson that he did not recognize any member of the hooded band.

Sanders is a brother-in-law to Cain Anderson, wealthy Harrison county planter on trial for the anti-mask law.

Extensive Oil Lands Involved In Divorce Suit

Property valued at more than $100,000 and consisting of cash, real estate, oil production and leases, etc., in Eastland, Callahan and Brown counties and composing the separate and community estates of E. M. Ramsey and wife, Georgia Ramsey, of Rising Star, is involved in a suit for divorce and partition brought against E. M. Ramsey by Mrs. Ramsey in the 88th district court of Eastland county.

The petition, which alleges cruel treatment; asks for $200 per month for maintenance of the plaintiff during the pendency of the suit and for an injunction restraining the defendant from selling or in any way disposing of any of his own, plaintiff's or the community estate property, save such funds as are necessary to operate the oil properties until such time as a complete inventory of the property is made, was granted by Judge Bean.

Wireless Message Arouses New Hope For St. Raphael

By United Press.
ST. JOHNS, Newfoundland, Sept. 2.—A wireless message was received here today from the S. S. Bladenyck saying: "Sighted Thursday, 6 a. m. Greenwich time, white light from plane moving easterly direction."

The position given in dispatch would be approximately 500 miles east of Cape Sable Nova Scotia.

It would have been possible for the airplane St. Raphael to have been in that vicinity.

Babe and Lou Wage War for Home Runs Furiously

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 2.—Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig, waged their home run warfare fast and furiously today.

With two out in the first inning of the game between the Philadelphia Athletics and the New York Yankees, Ruth knocked the ball into the right field bleacher. It was his 44th homer of the season.

Gehrig, the next man at bat, knocked one over the right field fence, increasing his total to 42.

ST. RAPHAEL AND CREW NOW LONG OVERDUE

By United Press.
OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 2.—Long overdue there was still no trace today of the monoplane St. Raphael and it was feared that the 63-year-old Princess Lowenstein-Wertheim and the two British aviators, Captain Leslie Hamilton and Colonel F. F. Minchin, had alighted somewhere in the Atlantic.

The plane which left Upavon, England, Wednesday morning on an attempted non-stop flight to Ottawa, could not have remained aloft longer than midnight last night and it was improbable that it ever reached American shores.

AFRAID TO EAT

Bloating Spells, from Indigestion, Put an Oklahoma Man in a Miserable Fix, But He Found Relief.

Swink, Okla.—In describing how he suffered from indigestion, Mr. S. T. Strain, of this place, says: "I have been a user of Black-Draught for four or five years. I have been taking it for stomach trouble. I suffered after eating with bloating and a 'tight feeling'."

"I had spells when I could not eat much of anything. I had severe headaches. I would be nauseated and hurt a lot. I was in a pretty bad fix."

"I began taking Black-Draught. It seemed to help me wonderfully. I hadn't found anything that benefited me as Black-Draught did. I certainly can recommend it."

"There were times when I just did without anything to eat until I was too weak to go. I was just miserable, and when I ate, my system seemed clogged."

"I had very severe headaches. So I didn't know just what to do. I knew I couldn't work if I didn't eat. Seemed like what I spit up was water as could be. I took Black-Draught pretty regularly and got where I could eat, and I don't have to take it so regularly now." NC-177

ROMANTIC TINGE IN PROPOSED NEW NAME FOR CONSTANTINOPLE

By C. P. WILLIAMSON (United Press Staff Correspondent)
LONDON.—Turkey's proposal to change the name of the ancient capital of Constantinople to Kemal in honor of Turkey's President-Dictator, Mustafa Kemal Pasha, recalls the other changes of names since the war and the personality of the Turkish leader it is proposed to honor.

The vogue of changing place names has been a development of the post-war era. Russia led off twice changing the name of St. Petersburg, which became first Petrograd and later Leningrad, the latter in honor of the Soviet prophet, Lenin.

Norway abandoned her ancient capital's less ancient name of Christiania for Oslo.

Virtually every prominent capital in Europe has some street or avenue named for President Wilson or it has some street named with a connection with a happening during or after the war.

Perhaps no name so far adopted in Europe for a city will revive the same recollections of romance as that of Constantinople should its name be changed to Kemal.

Kemal Pasha has always had a flair for the romantic as well as the dramatic. His military coups, his overthrow of the old regime, resulting in a fierce new Turkish nationalism, are almost as dramatic as his two great love affairs which have been equally as remarkable as those of the old troubadours of Provence.

The announcement of the honor which the Turkish people propose to bestow upon the rug-maker who fought his way to the position of commander-in-chief of the Turkish armies came soon after his marriage to a beautiful girl of 17.

Two years ago Kemal divorced his first wife, the woman who did much to place him where he is today and whose brilliant intellectual qualities were as well known as her beauty which earned her the title of the "Rose of Smyrna."

She had been the daughter of a modernist Smyrna merchant and escaped the paralyzing effects of the normal Turkish lady's life by an education in both France and England. When she returned to Smyrna her father was a prisoner and he was not released until Kemal rode into the city at the head of the Turkish army. She offered the hospitality of her father's house to the deliverer of the city. Kemal was completely captivated by her charms. They were married in a way that scandalized the old Turks. The bride rode home in riding-breeches and without the traditional veil. The reason for the divorce was never made public.

Kemal's meeting with his second wife is the story of the king and the beggar maid, for he met the beautiful child while passing through the small town of Brusa some miles from Constantinople. The Dictator carried both the child and her father off to Constantinople. He found a position for the out-of-work peasant father and placed the girl in a good school. Their marriage was only made public recently.

In addition to her studies, Miss Ma has taken an active part in extracurricular activities. She has been a member of the woman's athletic association and in 1925 she was winner of the orange and white "T" awarded by the association. She has served on the university Young Woman's Christian association as chairman of the world fellowship committee from 1924 through 1927.

SIMPLE THING RUINS A WOMAN'S CHARM

Very often, because of a weakened and run-down condition, girls go hopelessly through that period of life when all their companions are looking forward with eagerness and rapture to the day when they shall realize the greatest ambition of their lives and become happy brides.
Fortunately, nowadays thousands of girls who were weak and run-down are finding St. Joseph's G. F. P. builds them up.
In Oklahoma City, Miss Jennie Flatt, who lives at 222 W. Noble St., says, "I feel so much better and stronger and enjoy life so much more now I am using St. Joseph's G. F. P. I want all girls to know about this wonderful medicine."
In many instances St. Joseph's Antiseptic Powder used externally in connection with St. Joseph's G. F. P. will be found very soothing.

Women have used St. Joseph's G.F.P. for over 50 years!

recently when Norma Shearer and Irving Thalberg, studio executive at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, admitted their betrothal. Persistent rumors of their engagement were confirmed for the first time when Miss Shearer appeared at the studios wearing a large diamond engagement ring. The wedding will in all probability take place late in the fall. Miss Shearer nor Irving Thalberg have ever been married before.

Charlotte Greenwood, eccentric dancer and comedienne, is the latest recruit from the speaking stage to the movies. She has recently gone to Hollywood to take up her contract with the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios. Miss Greenwood, star of the Greenwich Village Follies, "So Long Betty," "Le Maire's Affairs," and other stage successes, will have the leading feminine role with Karl Dane and George K. Arthur in "Baby Mine," an adaptation of the stage farce, which Lew Lipton will film as his initial directorial effort.

John Gilbert, starring in "Fires of Youth," who has been in Washington, D. C., making scenes for his new picture, written and directed by Monta Bell, recently returned to the studios, accompanied by Jeanne Eagles, who makes her first screen appearance as Gilbert's leading lady in this new film. Miss Eagles is the famous star in "Rain," the popular stage success.

In connection with Gilbert's return to the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios from Washington, it is announced by Louis B. Mayer, vice-president in charge of production for that concern, that "The Crossings," an adaptation of Lyof Tolstoi's famous romance, is to be Gilbert's next vehicle. George Hill, it is also announced, will direct the new screen feature.

Gripings

By GUS

Believe it or not, but a lady who has lived in Ranger a good long time and had been away on a trip got lost in her own home town last night.

The reason was that she did not recognize the town from the alley and did not get off the bus.

When the bus got down to the railroad, however, she remembered a few of the landmarks while waiting for a train to get off the crossing and raised a great war hoop to be permitted to get off.

It was raining, and emulating the true spirit of courtesy and service, the driver delivered her back to the hotel.

Moral: Learn to know Ranger's alley so you'll know where to get off when you return from a trip.

Whoever the guy was that left the anonymous letter on our desk may be assured that we passed it on. It said, "Do not tear this up, pass it on, it might save a soul."

And, if you ask us, whoever wrote it is a nut.

If any of you all want to write us a letter and cuss us out or compliment us or merely say hello, it'll be fine and dandy but don't come at us with a lot of bunk and forget to sign your name. If it takes all the nerve you've got to write it and you don't have enough intestinal stamina to sign it, either you or your message don't amount to a great deal.

Some people knock while others boost, but all good chickens come home to roost. Now—how do you like them apples?

Junior College Coach Be Named At Meet Tonight

The Ranger Junior college board will meet this evening and complete plans that were launched recently for a strong athletic program. "Tricky" Ward of T. C. U., Fort Worth, will be present at the meeting tonight, as a prospective coach for the Junior college.

Mr. Ward is a graduate of Texas Christian university, a four-letter man in both football and baseball and a two-letter man in track. Last year he was assistant freshman coach at that university.

A number of last year's graduates of the Ranger High school have signified their intention of attending the Ranger Junior college, provided they are furnished with a good coach. Among these is Captain Charlie Cooper, who had made other plans but will probably stay here if a coach is selected at tonight's meeting. Workouts will start next week, according to Coach Blair Cherry and a number of boys have signified their intention of being in on this first workout.

Taylor, Grubbs and Phillips, who were ruled ineligible for the Ranger High school Bulldogs are eligible for the Junior college team.

American Legion Team Will Play Caddo on Sunday

Clint Davis of the American Legion baseball team announces that the local boys will play Caddo at Niro Park, Ranger, Sunday and Monday. The admission at these games will be only 25c.

They have several games arranged for the next few days, getting in shape to play the Fort Worth Cats here September 13th. Practically all the players are back who were here when they defeated Schmid's Chicks of Fort Worth on July 4th.

Rev. and Mrs. C. C. Klingman, and their son, John, of Electra, have been visiting at the home of Prof. and Mrs. R. P. Holloway. Rev. RANGER SCHOOL BOARD WILL MEET TONIGHT

The Ranger Independent school board will meet at the city hall tonight at 8 o'clock, it was announced today by school tax collector E. A. Ringold.

35 runs to three for the Nationals.

Later in the year, Washington, by playing brilliant baseball again got within hailing distance of the Yankees. And once again the result of the second crucial series was the same, three games for New York to one for Washington.

New York broke the Detroit streak in the typical Yank manner, coming from behind, 5-2, to tie it up in the eighth, then to win 9-5, when Lazzeri with two down in the ninth, and the bases filled, hit for the circuit.

Auto Dealers To Meet Next With Ranger Dealers

The next meeting of the Oil Belt Retail Automobile Dealers association will be held in Ranger on the first Thursday night in October, it was decided at a meeting of the association last night in Rising Star.

Those attending from Ranger were Mrs. Alice True, secretary-treasurer of the association and Messrs. M. R. Newnam, G. J. Boyd, J. R. Rutherford, Chas. Moore, Wm. Wallace and D. W. Hamilton and a representative of the General Motors Acceptance Corporation of Dallas, who was a visitor in Ranger.

The Rising Star members certainly arranged a splendid dinner and program for their visitors and everyone today reported most royal treatment. A dinner was served on flower bedecked tables at the Methodist church, and during the dining period music was furnished by Rising Star talent.

The welcome address was made by Judge Kelly of Rising Star and Mr. Robertson, secretary of the Retail Merchants association of that city acted as toastmaster, while Mr. Seilers, secretary of the chamber of commerce made a fine address.

Mrs. Lexie Dean Robertson contributed to the program by reading some original poems.

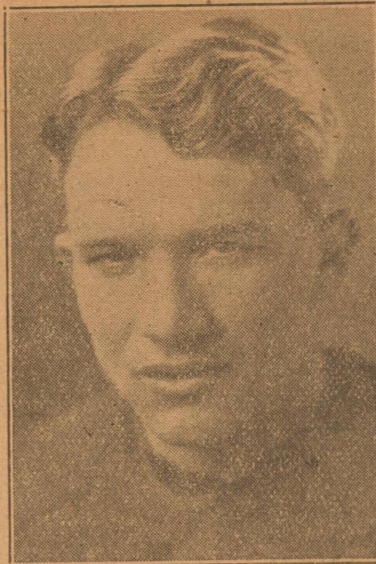

After the dinner hour the president, G. P. Daniels took charge of the meeting and presided during the business session.

Formal Opening Swimming Pool Has Been Delayed

With everything in readiness for the lightning and thunder fire works last night at "The Willows," Ranger's new swimming pool and park, nature took a hand, and dealt out a most lavish display of both, running most all of the celebrators who had gathered there for the formal opening to the safety of their homes.

A few extra brave ones remained in the pool and enjoyed the unusual pleasure of swimming in the rain. The opening has been postponed until a more favorable time. All indications were last night that a record breaking crowd would have been present had the weather been favorable.

VICTOR SHORT

The Ranger Bulldogs have elected Victor Short to fill the job of captain of the 1927 squad. Short is a heady football player with plenty of the old fighting spirit and plenty of nerve.

He has proven himself to be one of the best linemen for his size in this district and frequently the opponents gang up and run over him but seldom do they ever go through his position.

Assistant Coach Davis has returned from his vacation trip and was out with the boys Thursday. Davis reports a nice trip and all that but said he is glad to get back home and glad to be with the football men.

A man was shot in Chicago for eating all the family's rolls. Maybe he thought they were biscuits.

MILADY'S BOW WOW TO WEAR SNAKESKIN

By United Press. PARIS.—Paris dressmakers determining coming winter styles are paying almost as much attention to the dress of the pet dogs as to that of their owners.

Designers of canine equipment are seeking to keep the collars, blankets, sweaters, etc., of a woman's dog in harmony with the tone of his mistress' attire.

The snakeskin rage has spread to the dogs, and is reflected in snakeskin collars and leashes, some of these with modernistic buckles.

One shop is exhibiting dogs' sweaters in the new printed wools, and another elaborate model trimmed with fur.

The pay allotted to a cadet while he is at West Point is $780 a year, plus one ration a day at $1.08 or $1.174.20 according to an answered question in this week's Liberty.

The PENNY PRINCESS by Anne Austin

did not have time to evade them. His face was almost touching hers, his breath hot and eager upon her face.

"No, no! Not—yet!" Vee-Vee gasped, throwing her head backward so that her pretty hair was crushed against the seat of the car.

"Remember, Schuyler Smythe, I haven't been—carrying—your—picture—for five years!" It was beastly of her voice to betray her like that, to come in little gusty gasps over her parted lips.

"I'll wait!" he decided, wrenching himself away from her, his hands going back to the steering wheel. "If only that little gossip of a Mrs. Bannister doesn't let the cat out of the bag, get word to New York that you are here—"

"What would happen?" "They'd come for you, of course! You know that! They say he's looking for you, wants to get you back. But you won't sell yourself into that slavery again, will you?" he demanded fiercely.

"No," Vee-Vee answered quite truthfully. "I'll never go back to him."

Suddenly the game seemed thrilling in its dangerousness. "Wouldn't the girls at the office gasp if they could see her now?"

"I think I'd like my tea," Vee-Vee said demurely.

"Would you, my darling?" Schuyler Smythe laughed, his voice ringing out exultantly. "Then you shall have it, and anything else in God's world that I can give you. Do you think you know a lot about being loved and wooed, my princess? Well, I'll prove it to you that you don't! I'll prove to you as you've never been wooed before!"

Out of the great cornucopia of wisdom which her Aunt Flora had heaped up for her to use in this game of husband-getting a pearl rolled out now, rattled around in Vee-Vee's mind until she seized upon it. "Make him think you are unobtainable, that you have had so many sweethearts, so many proposals that his cannot interest you. But don't be too convincing!"

So Vee-Vee said, a smile tugging at the dimple in the corner of her adorable mouth, glancing in the clear emerald of her eyes: "I shall never fall in love again!" That was true, too, she told her conscience, for she never expected to love anyone but the man beside her.

When they reached Snyder's roadhouse, on the far side of the lake, only that little gossip of a Mrs. Bannister rather impatiently awaiting them and bored with each other. Mrs. Bannister pounced upon them, her eyes alight with the insatiable curiosity and suspicion of the inveterate gossip.

"You two must have got lost," she crowed. "We've been drinking post after pot of tea. The cinnamon toast here is really divine, Miss Cameron," she turned upon Vee-Vee, hesitating as usual upon the name, suggestively. "I declare, I have to catch myself every time. It's such a temptation to call you Vivian. After all, I am lots older than you, though everyone says I don't look a day over twenty-five."

Vivian! The name rang a bell in Vee-Vee's mind but the memory it evoked was too faint for her to catch. So the other girl—the girl whom Schuyler Smythe had been in love with for five years—the girl who had been sold by her family to a titled foreigner, the girl whom she herself resembled as if she were that girl's twin sister—was named Vivian.

That accounted for the similarity of initials, at least for the sameness of the first initial. And Mrs. Bannister had eyed the tiny "V. C." upon her luggage before she jumped to the conclusion. Vivian C. was the "C" the initial of that other girl's maiden name or her married name? Oh, it was all a silly puzzle and she had no time to solve it now.

"I'd rather you did not call me Vivian—for obvious reasons. While I am here that is not my name," Vee-Vee answered evasively. "My name—" and she was glad to be telling the truth, though it did not sound like the truth—"is Vera Victoria Cameron. My friends call me Vee-Vee," she added.

"How cute!" Mrs. Bannister gushed. "My first name is Rita. I'd adore having you call me that. Cinnamon toast and tea for you, too, Schuyler?" she asked coyly. "Or will you have the same kind of tea that this terrible John of mine has been drinking?"

"Ceylon for me—and cinnamon toast," Schuyler told her, frowning slightly.

It was seven o'clock when they arrived at the hotel, Schuyler's car decorously leading the way. The two couples had kept within halting distance of each other during the hour's drive after tea, an arrangement insisted upon by Vee-Vee and acquiesced in rather sulkily by Schuyler.

"But I suppose you're right," he admitted grudgingly. "That gushing little gossip will have us talk of the hotel if we don't take care. And that would be dangerous. Any departing guest could carry the story to New York and cause a frightful row. I'm not ready to have your mother or father pounce on us just yet."

"No one dresses for dinner here on Sunday night," Schuyler told her, as he assisted her to alight from his car. "Don't run away. We can talk in the sun parlor. No one will be there now." His voice was pleading, and his hand would not release hers. "The dining room closes at eight. There won't be much time."

"I want to freshen up a bit," Vee-Vee told him. "I'll be down at half past seven. You sit at Miss Fosdick's table, don't you?" she added.

"Not any more!" Schuyler retorted ardently, but she thought she detected a shade of fear or uneasiness darkening the glow in his brown eyes.

When Vera reached her own room, she tossed her hat to the bed, then flew to the mirror to search her newly flawless complexion to see if the warm June sun had brought out pale ghosts of her old freckles.

Caddies Play At Eastland Club, Dinner Guests

The Eastland Golf and Country club's three-day caddy tournament closed Thursday. The boys thoroughly enjoyed the event as did the members of the club who loaned their equipment to the caddies.

The club served a fried chicken dinner to the boys at the clubhouse Thursday evening at 6:30. Mrs. Carl Angstadt and Mrs. Walter Clark acted as hostesses for the club. In addition to the caddies, who played in the tournament, the following guests were present: Luther J. Lambert, Clyde Bouse, Jack Barnett, Tommie Joe Burkett, Robert Pentecost, L. G. Laney, and Merle George Snelling.

L. V. Wicheer, as toastmaster, called on George and Dale Meredith, T. C. Dingle, Joe Buckee, Elmo Snelling and Harry Watson for speeches, each of them responding.

DENIES PROTESTANTS LOSE 500,000 MEMBERS YEARLY

By United Press.
 CLEVELAND, Ohio, Aug. 31.—A recent statement that Protestant churches of the United States are losing 500,000 members a year, made by Dr. H. K. Carroll, secretary of the continuation committee of the inter-church conference is vigorously denied by the Rev. E. R. Wright, executive secretary of the Federated Churches.

According to the Rev. Wright, accurate figures on increases and decreases in church attendance are almost impossible to obtain, because of the constant shift in population.

"Dr. Carroll's statement is misleading because he only reports the number of persons who for various reasons have withdrawn from the rolls of the churches, and fails to give a figure on the newcomers," Wright said.

"Membership in the Cleveland Protestant churches comparatively has increased more rapidly than the population during the last 20 years," the pastor asserted. "There have been some years in which certain churches have shown a loss in membership, but there have been other a material increase. This is true in years when the same churches showed all parts of the country."

Cleveland churches acquired 13,353 new members during the last fiscal year, according to Wright.

WOMAN MAKES AUTO TRIP TO ARCTIC OCEAN COUNTRY

By United Press.
 STOCKHOLM.—An automobile trip through northern Sweden to the Arctic region has just been completed by Mrs. Victor Bruce, an Englishwoman, accompanied by her husband, Robert W. Weare, a British newspaperman. Their intention was to drive northward until they reached the shores of the Arctic ocean itself, just to prove it could be done, and they actually came within 40 miles of it before they got stuck in a marsh.

Traveling at the rate of 200 miles a day with Mrs. Bruce at the wheel the entire time, the car covered 2,500 miles north of Stockholm with only two accidents, one tire puncture and a leak in the radiator caused by a flying stone.

Even north of the Arctic circle, Mrs. Bruce found the roads in good condition, but finally she had to drive along reindeer paths across open heaths. Many reindeer were encountered along the route, some of which were so tame that Mrs. Bruce was able to pat them, but of their owners, the nomad Lapps, who are shy of such modern things as automobiles, she saw only two. From Stockholm Mrs. Bruce returned to London by automobile via the continent, but next winter she plans to return to take part in the annual race to Monte Carlo.
