U.S.-FRENCH TARIFF WAR NOW VERY LIKELY

Weather Forecasts Assign No Reason For Unseasonable Hot Spell.

By United Press.
CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—Withering heat which has caused more than a score of deaths in the Middle West entered the fourth day with no hope of relief before tomorrow. Temperatures into the nineties continued throughout the territory east of the Rocky mountains and from the Gulf of Mexico far north into Canada. Weather forecasters could assign no reason for the unseasonable hot spell.

It was the hottest September weather on record.

Throughout the central states drastic measures were taken to combat the heat. In many sections schools were closed and public bathing places which usually close after Labor Day remained open.

Death from sunstroke and heat exhaustion since the hot spell began Monday were placed at 18 in Chicago, which seemed to have been hardest hit. Four persons died in St. Louis from the heat and a few deaths directly or indirectly to the high temperature were reported elsewhere.

STATE BRIEFS

By United Press.
AMARILLO, Sept. 15.—The annual meeting of the West Texas Dental society will convene here Friday for a two day session.

GAINESVILLE, Sept. 15.—Mutilating a Texas flag cost an oil field worker $44.20 in fines at Muenster, German community 16 miles west of here. The man tore the flag from a staff and fastened it on the rear of an automobile, where it dragged in the dust. He was arrested and fined for mutilating the flag and for drunkenness.

WICHITA FALLS, Sept. 15.—Farmers of this section are better appreciating the value of irrigation, according to G. A. Remington, manager of the irrigation districts in Wichita county, who expects to see 35,000 acres irrigated next year. Remington reported that 28,300 acres were under irrigation this year, an increase of 2,203 acres over the preceding year.

HOUSTON, Sept. 15.—Despite the fact most banks of the city will soon start charging a monthly service charge on accounts averaging below a certain sum, the First National bank will continue to make no service charge, according to John T. Scott, president.

"While it may sound strange, the purpose of a bank is not primarily to make money," Scott explained. "While the stockholders are entitled to fair returns on their investment, we feel that a bank is in many ways a public institution. Many of our heaviest depositors at one time had very small accounts."

DALLAS, Sept. 15.—Five hundred Knights of the Round Table heard the annual address of Ernest McCleary, Detroit, president of the organization, here today.

The convention, which opened yesterday, was holding its annual business session today. T. Wayne Gibson, Berkeley, Cal., and Robert H. Perry, treasurer, E. A. Coleman, secretary, and Carlos G. White, governor of extension, all of Oakland, Ca., were other speakers today.

BANDITS ROB PLANO BANK AND ESCAPE

Robbers Leave in Auto, Firing at Bystanders, Believed Headed for Dallas.

By United Press.
PLANO, Texas, Sept. 15.—Three men held up the Plano National bank at 1:30 p. m. today, looted the cash drawer of all currency and made their escape amid a fusillade of shots. The amount of money taken has not been ascertained.

The bandits fled south in a Buick car, firing at bystanders as they left. A hastily formed posse of officers left in pursuit less than 10 minutes after the robbery.

Two of the men entered the bank while the third remained at the wheel of the car outside. Bob Weaver, local man, was struck by one of the bandits and knocked to the floor as he started to leave the bank as the robbers entered.

James Ellis, president; James Coleman, cashier, and Coleman's son and a bookkeeper were lined up along the wall while the cash tills were emptied. The three bandits were heading for Dallas, according to reports at 2 p. m. They were seen racing through Richardson, 15 miles north of here. A posse was in close pursuit.

Glassy Limits Could Not Hold Rage Outside

One on the inside looking out and one on the outside looking in, a few explosive words, a swift kick, and the window that divided the one on the inside looking out and one on the outside looking in, was no more.

It all happened on Ranger in the downtown business district and both the looker-in and looker-out were arrested, according to the Ranger police department this morning.

By United Press.

BRONZE TABLET WILL MARK SITE OF FIRST WELL

Statue to Be Designed at Once and Will Be Unveiled During Jubilee.

A bronze tablet, suitably inscribed and mounted on a six to eight foot concrete base, which will mark the site of McCleskey No. 1, the discovery well in Eastland county, will be unveiled at the Ranger Home-Coming Oil Jubilee, on October 21-22.

The unveiling of this bronze memorial to the pioneer oil well, will be one of the most interesting events of the Home-Coming Oil Jubilee program. A speaker of prominence will be here for the unveiling and suitable ceremonies will be arranged.

The inscription on the Memorial tablet has not yet been arranged but the committee in charge of the program for the Jubilee, thought that no more fitting tribute could be paid the discovery of oil in Eastland county, which eventually led to the opening up of all the northwest Texas oil fields, than the erection of this tablet as a perpetual monument to the discovery that unlocked the liquid gold coffers of West Texas.

The McCleskey well is situated about a mile south of Ranger and the derrick, oil stained, still stands as a mute reminder of the days of '17—the tablet will live after the derrick has crumbled back to dust.

Murder charges will be filed late today against Miss Atkinson, nurse and admirer of Bailey, Mitchell said. "Bailey has told me a number of things which he has not made public, but which he will testify to," Mitchell said.

District Governor Of Lions Speaks At Ranger Luncheon

District Lions governor, N. N. Rosenquest of Eastland, was the speaker at the Ranger Lions club today and made a very interesting talk in the interest of Lionism in district No. 2 and outlined his plans for the work of the year.

There was no other program at today's meeting as the time was given over to the district governor for the message he had for the club.

Where Airplanes Lost—They Won

No less hazardous than flying across the water was the trans-Atlantic voyage and return to Newport, R. I., of the little sloop Primrose IV whose crew is shown here at the end of the trip. Their sail to England and back, a distance of 4200 miles, was replete with high adventure and danger. In the center is Frederick Lathrop Ames, wealthy owner of the vessel; in front (left to right) are Frances La Farge and Tom Shirwin, and in back, Jack Bishop and Warwick Thompson.

By United Press.
CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—A conspiracy to sell 20,000 counterfeit tickets to the Dempsey-Tunney fight a week from tonight, which has been rumored for several days, was definitely disclosed here today when private detectives, working on the case, arrived here from New York.

Ten thousand counterfeit $40 tickets already have been sold in New York, Cleveland, Boston and other eastern cities, one of the detectives told the United Press.

Ten thousand more have been printed for sale here but the counterfeiters have not yet brought them here from the east, he said.

By United Press.
WASHINGTON — Rep. Loring Black, democrat, New York, who is an "M. A." in addition to being an M. C., was accosted by a stranger in a New York-Washington train smoking car, passing through Baltimore.

"Pardon me, sir, aren't you H. L. Mencken?" the stranger asked.

"No, I'm at the other end of the intellectual scale; I'm a congressman," Black replied.

Black might be mistaken for Mencken of magazine fame from newspaper pictures, although he is much lighter in complexion and figure.

FLYERS WILL COME BACK BY STEAMER

Brock and Schlee Abandon Dangerous Flight Across Pacific Ocean.

By United Press.
TOKIO, Sept. 15.—William S. Brock and Edward F. Schlee, aviators, who flew more than half way around the world, today made plans to return to the United States by steamer.

The flyers announced that if their monoplane, Pride of Detroit, could be embarked upon the liner Korea Maru, they would sail for the United States on that vessel.

Capitulation to the pleas of thousands, including many complete strangers came against the desires of the aviators who hoped to press on around the globe, setting a new record for circumnavigation.

When the plane arrived here yesterday they said nothing could shake their determination to continue their flight.

After "sleeping on it" however, the flyers announced they had reconsidered.

RECIPROCAL TREATY IS ASKED BY FRANCE

Exorbitant Duties Are Being Charged American Products

By United Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—The possibility of a tariff war between the United States and France increased today with the reported refusal of France to negotiate the commercial treaty requested by the United States.

The United States is expected to reply to the French counter proposal for a reciprocity treaty by saying that this government under the present tariff law has no authority to enter such an agreement.

A statement authorized by Secretary of State Kellogg today pointed out that the president has no power to negotiate a reciprocity treaty but is empowered under the tariff law to retaliate by raising American rates against discriminating nations.

Meantime, Chairman Borah of the senate foreign relations committee after a conference with President Coolidge, declared negotiations for a French loan from private bankers in this country apparently have been dropped.

The United Press is able to state authoritatively that the administration here takes a most serious view of the tariff impasse with France.

The commerce and state departments have been flooded with protests from American manufacturers against the French duties effective September 6, which discriminate against American goods and levy duties thereon as high as 400 per cent over the duties charged on the same commodities imported from Germany and other competing countries.

County Is Given Choice of Space at Fair At Dallas

Geo. W. Briggs, secretary of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce is in receipt of a letter from J. A. Moore, superintendent of agriculture of the State Fair at Dallas, in which he informs Mr. Briggs that Eastland county has been assigned a position in the main aisle of the agricultural building for the county exhibit this fall. The letter further states that Eastland county's scoring for the past few years entitles it to any position it desires in the agricultural building.

Isadora Duncan, Dancer Killed By Automobile

By United Press.
NICE, France, Sept. 15.—Fate designed a dramatic exit for Isadora Duncan, the fair for the unusual that characterized her crowded lifetime extending to the hour of her death.

The dancer was killed last night when her Spanish shawl was caught in the front wheel of an automobile. Unaware, the chauffeur of the car which was being demonstrated to Miss Duncan, started forward. She was thrown out and under a rear wheel.

Her spinal column was broken. Friends saw that she was taken to a hospital but medical attention was futile. The dancer had been overtaken by the same trouble which had caused the death of her two children—the automobile.

She was in her forty-ninth year.

Marshal Foch Is Very Religious Is Great Reader
By A. L. BRADFORD (United Press Staff Correspondent.)
PARIS, France—Contrary to Napoleon Bonaparte and other great military strategists, Marshal Foch hardly ever plays chess.
When in a gay mood, Foch frequently exhibits to his intimates his talents as an imitator. He can imitate perfectly well known actors and other personalities, and he roars with laughter when in the family circle his imitations meet with success.
Foch chooses his reading with the greatest care. He hardly ever reads novels, but has a predilection for the tragedies of Shakespeare and for the romances of La Roche. The Marshal is thoroughly familiar with all the military works on Napoleon. He likes English literature, but finds literary works of Germany and Scandinavia disquieting and nebulous. And like most Frenchmen Foch entertains the greatest admiration for Victor Hugo.
When Foch has a few idle moments during the day or evening he almost invariably sets out alone for a walk, or takes a horseback ride in the Bois de Boulogne. The Marshal is a great walker and an accomplished horseman.
Every Sunday, Foch, accompanied by his family goes to church. He is a catholic and seriously practices his religion. Often during the war, and especially during the battle of the Yser, he was seen in some countryside church, standing in front of the altar, head bowed, arms crossed, deep in a profound meditation.
A day in 1918, Clemenceau, the fierce, anti-clerical war premier went out unexpectedly to French General Headquarters. Arriving, the "Tiger" demanded Foch in all haste.
"Where is Foch he snapped?"
"The Marshal is at mass, Mr. President, but we send to get him immediately," replied the officers about.
"No," replied Clemenceau, "leave him where he is. That has always agreed with him. I will wait."
At the beginning of spring and during the month of August, Marshal Foch with his family goes to his estate in Brittany. Foch's chateau neighbors the country home of General Weygand, and the two friends pay each other frequent visits during the vacation periods. Foch's manor house is of the Brittany style, simple but pretty, and is believed to have been built during the years of 1820-1825.
Foch bought his Brittany home in 1895, explaining that he felt the need of fixing himself to the soil and throwing his tent definitely in some spot. When his friends asked him why he did not purchase a home in the Pyrenees of his ancestors the Marshal replied:
"Madame La Marochale, you know is from Brittany; husbands, contrary to the code, follow willingly enough their wives nine times out of ten, and they are right in doing so."

CISCO NEWS

Formal opening of Randolph College, Cisco, was held Wednesday. Enrollment this year has been one-third greater than last, it was announced.

CHIEF JUSTICE TAFT 70 YEARS OF AGE TODAY

Plans to Leave Summer Home Soon and Return to His Duties at Washington

By United Press.
FOINTE-AU-PIC, Que., Sept. 15.—William Howard Taft, chief justice of the United States, today quietly passed the three score and ten mark. Entering his 71st year at the end of two months of vacation, Chief Justice Taft was turning his thoughts to the reconvening of the Supreme Court in Washington two weeks from next Monday. He will leave his summer cottage here in a few days to take up the duty of presiding over the high court for the seventh year, apparently in good health and determined to serve the rest of his years of usefulness on the bench.
The genial former president, perceptibly older and less retentive than in his White House days, expects to make new progress this year on his task of expediting justice in federal courts and adding dignity to their deliberations. In addition, plans are being drafted in Washington for beautiful and dignified separate buildings for the court, which has existed for more than a century in cramped quarters in the capitol.
The Chief Justice's vacation was taken up with reading and resting in this quiet little Canadian village. He dropped out of the public eye entirely except for one day in August, when Sacco-Vanzetti lawyers petitioned him to return to the United States border to hear a petition for a stay of execution. Three associate justices of the supreme court having rejected the same petition, the chief justice refused to leave Canada.
Chief Justice Taft, in addition to being the only living ex-president, is a former secretary of war, and was the first civil governor of the Philippine Islands.
He was born in Cincinnati, O., in 1857, and was admitted to the state bar in 1880. After being law reporter on two Cincinnati papers, he practiced law and served in county legal offices until 1887, when he became judge of the Cincinnati supreme court. Three years later he was appointed solicitor-general of the United States, his principal duty being to prosecute cases on behalf of the government before the supreme court over which he now presides.

Then he served in succession as U. S. Circuit Judge; professor at the University of Cincinnati; president of the U. S. Philippine commission; governor of the Philippines; secretary of war in the Roosevelt cabinet; provisional governor of Cuba; twenty-seventh president of the United States; and Kent professor of law at Yale University.
Mr. Taft was president of the American Red Cross from 1906 to 1913, president of the American Bar Association in 1913, and president of the League to Enforce Peace from 1915 to 1921. He was appointed chief justice by President Harding and confirmed by the senate on June 29, 1921.

CHERRY TO USE MANY FIRST STRING PLAYERS AGAINST WOLVES

CONTEST WILL BE LOCAL FIGHT FOR POSITION

So Far Only Few Of Bulldogs Are Assured Of Place On Team

At one time Coach Cherry may have had in mind the playing of the majority of unofficial games with mostly second string men, but starting the season with Colorado, Friday, will probably mean that the first string will have to play the whole game or at least the major portion of it.

As a matter of fact it appears that there will be little difference between the first and second string except in a few individual cases where there is little competition for places, and the traveling squad will no doubt consist of mostly men who are practically equal for their respective positions.

Friday's game will probably be two contests played simultaneously, for besides the desire to win over their opposing team, there will be also the keen competition between local players in demonstrating their superiority for respective positions on the team. This comes out of the fact that there are so few old heads on the team and so many who are anxious to make the team and are just waiting for a chance to get in there and play.

Probable Lineup.

This friendly rivalry will be watched with great interest by the regular crowd-in-the-wood football fans who not only never miss a game, but seldom miss an afternoon going out to the field to see the boys work, and there is a great difference of opinion among them as to who will fill this and that position better.

The probable lineup for Friday's game will be:

Left guard, V. Short (c), 150 pounds.
Center, Bohannon, 152 pounds.
Right guard, Tackett, 164 pounds; Mitchell, 157 pounds.
Right tackle, P. Hinman, 185 pounds; Pepper, 210 pounds.
Right end, D. Whitehall, 165 pounds.

Quarterback, Hubbard, 135 pounds.
Left halfback, E. Whitehall, 150 pounds.
Right halfback, H. Short, 143 pounds; Hamilton, 165 pounds.
Fullback, Phillips, 200 pounds.

It will be noticed that Byron Reeves is not mentioned as a possible quarterback. He will not be used unless it is necessary, in order to give a wrenched knee sustained by him last year all the time possible to heal so he can be used to a better advantage in later games.

Weak in Spots.

In some respects the team as a whole looks better than it did last year at the same time. This is true in some of the line positions which are being tried for by heavier men than last year's, and then, too, some of the men are faster than last year.

On the other hand, the kicking and passing department is not so good as last year, because all of last year's men are lost to the team either through graduation or ineligibility and sufficient time has not passed to permit the development of passers and kickers.

But Friday's game will no doubt develop a few weaknesses and it is hoped several strong points, and it is better to wait until after then to risk too much of an opinion as to how the team will fare in the title race.

FOOTBALL PROSPECTS

CARNEGIE TECH
By United Press.

PITTSBURGH.—Carnegie Tech, whose football team in 1926 lost to some comparatively weak teams and then rose to the heights by downing Notre Dame, champions of the United States by a 19-0 score, will again be represented by a "mystery" team this year.

Donohue, a great running half back and Tech's leading offensive man last year, graduated this spring leaving a big hole. Donohue played practically every minute of the 1926 season and was the pillar of the team.

Followers of Tech are but little worried over this, however, as Coach Wallie Steffin has a habit of picking a man out of nowhere each year and making a star of him.

No one on the freshman team are considered capable of filling the shoes of Donohue, but every one is confident that Steffin will find a back around which to build his brilliant open game.

Several changes in the rules, especially those regulating the lateral pass work with Steffin's style of play and a brilliant aerial game is expected to be uncovered by the Carnegie team.

Another loss that will be hard to replace is that of Bill Yoder, captain and all-American last year. It was this lad who ruined Notre Dame and placed his name on the all-American in that one game.

Goodwin, who played at both end and halfback and Mefort, a great end, also graduated.

The Carnegie Tech schedule this year is especially hard. Games are carried against Pitt, W. and J., and West Virginia in the tri-state district intercollegiate games with Detroit and the Oregon Aggies with a trip thrown in to New York to play New York University.

The Carnegie Tech schedule:

- Sept. 24—Westminster at Youngstown, O.
- Oct. 1—Thiel at Pittsburgh.
- Oct. 8—Drexel at Pittsburgh.
- Oct. 15—Washington and Jefferson at Pittsburgh.
- Oct. 22—Pittsburgh at Pittsburgh.
- Oct. 29—West Virginia at Morgantown.
- Nov. 5—New York at New York.
- Nov. 12—Western Reserve at Pittsburgh.
- Nov. 19—Detroit at Pittsburgh.
- Nov. 26—Oregon Aggies at Portland, Ore.

PURDUE'S CHANCES

LAFAYETTE, Ind.—"Stagg fears Purdue"—a wolf cry for a quarter of a century, proved good last year, and this season, the Purdue eleven coached by Jimmy Phelan appears to be just as good.

Phelan a Notre Dame graduate, who learned his football from the same mentor Knute Rockne did—the famous Harper—will have as his outstanding star "Cotton" Wilcox, a driving back. Last year Phelan shot Wilcox against the navy and he exploded large holes through the midgies' ranks, like gun-cotton, although navy finally won, 17-14.

This season the navy will have none of this team and so they will go against the effete Harvard team on Oct. 8 just 23 days after the team assembles for first practice.

Last year the Purdue team beat the traditional rival, Indiana, and then achieved the aim of beating Stagg's Maroons. The Purdue team looks to win at least half their games in the big 10 this year. If they can get past Northwestern, Wisconsin or Chicago they look good for the first division and that's a pretty good spot for a rising team.

Nearby vs. Thompson by DOC REID

Twenty-two years ago today the eyes of the fight fraternity were focused on Spokane, Wash., where Charley Neary, lightweight idol of Milwaukee, Wis., and Maurice Thompson, famed Michigan lightweight, fought 20 furious rounds to a draw.

Earlier in the year, the boys clashed in the ring at Neary's home town in an eight round affair and the latter was awarded the decision at the finish. The Spokane affair seemed to have satisfied them however, as they never met again to settle the question of superiority. Neary retired from the game in 1908 but 12 years later essayed a comeback by meeting Kid Graves in a no decision bout in Milwaukee. This was his last attempt.

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 15.—Larry Dailey, sports editor of the Tulsa World and formerly sports editor of the Denver Post, was freed today of a second degree manslaughter charge in the death of William Guy Clark, 36, oil lease broker.

Dailey was freed late yesterday after only three witnesses had been called in his preliminary hearing in common court pleas.

SEVERAL RANGER FITE FANS TO ATTEND BIG BOUT IN CHICAGO Straw Katies to Vanish at The Football Game Friday

BOTH BATTLERS, RICKARD TO BE INVITED TO JUBILEE

WOULD BE REAL HOME-COMING FOR TEX, WHO OPERATED HERE DURING BOOM DAYS.

At least seven Ranger people will go to Chicago to witness the settling of old scores between Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney.
Some time Sunday morning H. C. (Nep) Neptune of the Liberty Cafe, Sherty Houghton, Jimmie Gibbs and Frank Roberts will leave Ranger in an automobile and make the drive to Chicago.
Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Champion will leave the first of the week and will witness the bout on their trip as well as John D. Gholson who will be leaving about the same time.
Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Disney will also make the trip to Chicago to witness the fight, going from there to Detroit, from Detroit to Buffalo by boat and then to Bradford, Pa., where they will visit Mr. Disney's family whom he has not seen for 12 years.

It is thought that one of the purposes in the minds of these Ranger people is to extend Dempsey, Tunney and Tex Rickard each a personal invitation to attend the Homecoming Oil Jubilee which will be held in Ranger October 21 and 22.
Tex Rickard was formerly interested in oil operations in this field and maintained offices and a camp on South Rusk street.
Many friendships will be renewed here at that time and if any feeling of tenderness ever existed between Tunney and Dempsey, Ranger's Jubilee would be a fitting occasion for the hatchet to be buried and diplomatic relations resumed between these combatants of the heavy-weight class.

Varying Opinions
There was much discussion and difference of opinion after the Dempsey-Sharkey bout as to certain breaches of ring etiquette on the part of Dempsey during which Dempsey was charged with considerable fouling. The home folks, listening over their radios, could not possibly have any knowledge as to whether the charges were true or not and the only ones who were really satisfied over the results were the dealers in Radio batteries and supplies.

May these dealers continue to grow and prosper and may more fans listen to the fight next week, for when these people get back home they'll be in position to give the home folks first hand information on details that were overlooked by the radio announcer in his great haste.

According to those who are alleged to be in a position to know about such things, this will be the greatest bout in ring history from several angles. There will no doubt be the biggest gate receipts, the biggest crowd, the greatest national interest, and the biggest radio hook-up that has ever been known.

Greatest in History
Undoubtedly it will be the greatest ring battle, for both men are good—plenty good, and there is the world's championship at stake, and Dempsey wants to win and retire while Tunney wants to win and keep cashing in on his name.

Dempsey has written several columns about how he intends to make Tunney fight whether he wants to fight or not and how he is going to do his part of the waiting or fighting just as Tunney chooses to lead, so it looks like the fierceness and speed of the battle will be that of Tunney's choice.

At any rate, Ranger will be well represented for a town of its size.
The Times and Telegram are arranging through the United Press for direct wire service from the ringside giving the details of the fight round by round and will publish an extra edition which will be on the streets in a few minutes after the fight has ended.

Aggie Squad Has Plenty of Fight Says Dana Bible

By United Press.
COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 15.—The Texas Aggies eleven this fall will be unknown quality when they enter their first game, but it can be depended upon that Coach Dana Bible's squad will have plenty of fight.

"I can't predict just what ability the lads will show when they enter their first game," Bible said after watching them go through two light practice sessions this week, "but I do know that with the aid of the new members of our coaching staff they will have plenty of scrap."

The 50 odd young men with gridiron ambitions who reported for practice this week will complete the week with two practice sessions a day, according to Bible. Next week the aggregation will be split into two squads and the first active scrimmage will be held.

Bible is assisted by Charles F. Bassett from the University of Michigan, and R. G. Higginbotham, former star athlete of A. & M. Bassett is coaching the line and Higginbotham will take charge of the freshmen squad after the present squad gets its training activities well underway.

The team for the opening game against Trinity a week from Saturday will be built around Captain Joel Hunt, stellar quarterback of last year, and nine other letter men who returned this year, including Burgess, Bartlett, Deffebach, Lister, Petty, Sikes, Sprout and Wylie.

Although Bible is making no predictions, it is general opinion in this region that the Aggies must be reckoned with in picking the 1927 champions of the Southwestern conference. Their schedule is ideal. It follows:

- Sept. 24, Trinity University, at College Station.
- Oct. 1, Southwestern University at College Station.
- Oct. 8, Sewanee at State Fair, Dallas.
- Oct. 15, Arkansas at College Station.
- Oct. 22, T. C. U. at Fort Worth.
- Oct. 28, Texas Technological College at Lubbock.
- Nov. 5, S. M. U. at College Station.
- Nov. 11, Rice at Houston.
- Thanksgiving, Texas at College Station.

Each Loser Will Get 50c Ticket On Brand New Hat

According to the style authorities today is the very last day upon which it is permissible to wear a straw hat, and with this in mind, it has been suggested by four or five of the town's best dressed men that a general straw hat wrecking take place between halves at the football game tomorrow.

For fear that the public might think it is framed up by the local clothiers, the stores handling men's felt hats have agreed to make certain concessions to those whose hats have been the victims of vandalism.

Every man whose straw hat is thrown in the fire or otherwise mutilated beyond recognition will receive a ticket good for 50 cents on the purchase of a new felt at any of the following stores: The Globe, E. H. & A. Davis, Joseph Dry Goods company, The Fair store, and J. C. Smith.

Not only is it a good opportunity to save four bits, but a good opportunity to get rid of the old straw katie, for while one may have great thoughts about how to put it away and wear it again next spring, it's dollars to doughnuts that it wouldn't be worn even if put away.

However, all are hereby warned that if they wear straw hats to the game the chances are very favorable that they will go home bare-headed.

LONDON MAY KEEP "LIT UP" ON PENNY A NIGHT IN 1927

By United Press.
LONDON.—London may keep "lit up" 50 years from now at the cost of one penny a night.

Among other similarly surprising statements made recently by Or. Percy Buck, to teachers attending lectures at the University of London, were the following:
That humans 50 years hence may get along without gas, coal, electric light or steam.

That railway transportation will be so cheap as to enable a train to run from London to Edinburgh, Scotland, at a cost of not more than a half penny.
That within the near future scientists may succeed in "splitting the atom."

London police are called "bobbies" because of Sir Robert Peel, who reorganized the police force in the latter part of the nineteenth century and was popularly known as "Bobby," according to an answered question in this week's Liberty.

Bible Tells Men They Must Show Real Interest

Special Correspondence.
COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 14.—The grid aspirant who is more interested in dates, moving picture shows and getting his name in the paper than he is in making a better football player of himself is not likely to be of much credit to his team or to inspire much interest on the part of his trainer, Coach Dana X. Bible, athletic mentor of A. & M. college, told his squad in a heart-to-heart talk on the opening of the new training season here.

"We are interested," Bible told the men, "in the football player who is interested in making a better player of himself. If he hasn't got that interest, if he isn't moved by that prime consideration, he can't expect us to have much time for him or interest in him. It's the man who reports for his work and follows the rules with the sincere desire to improve himself that we are interested in."

"We haven't got time for the man who's more interested in dates, picture shows and headlines in the paper than he is in keeping the rules and making a better football player of himself."

Bible put the matter of keeping training rules squarely up to the players. "We haven't got time," he said, "for the inclination to go nose-ying around to see if this man or that man keeps the training rules. He knows what they are and it's up to him to show whether he wants to follow them. We'll know whether he does or not. It'll show in his work on the field and in other ways."

The Aggie head coach exhibited what in him might be called enthusiasm over the promise of the husky group who turned out for the initial workout. "I have never found a group of players who showed such marked determination as these boys do," he said. "And any group of men who go into a season putting themselves out on the field with a determination to do, will be hard to defeat. Just as football players, or players in any other game, including the game of life, have the determination to do, just so they will succeed. If the boys of the new Aggie squad keep up the determination to do they have shown at the start, they will do well. You can count on that. We hope to keep them interested."

WHEN OLD GLORY HURLED NEW DARE AT DANGERS OF GREAT ATLANTIC FLIGHT

BIG MONOPLANE WENT DOWN IN ATLANTIC 600 MILES NORTHEAST OF NEW FOUNDLAND; ALL THREE MEN ABOARD LOST IN WRECK

Here is pictured Old Glory's take-off at Old Orchard Beach, Maine, in her attempt to fly to Rome, after weeks of delay. The pilots, Lloyd W. Bertaud and James D. Hill, have had long experience in the airmail service. With them as a passenger was Yhilip A. Payne, New York newspaper man.

Some of the wreckage of the "Old Glory" has been found by the steamer Kyle, chartered by the New York Mirror for the purpose of searching for the lost plane and its crew. "Old Glory" sent out SOS calls a few hours after taking off from Old Orchard Beach, Maine. Among the wreckage was 34 feet of wing and several fuel containers which were fairly well filled with gasoline. These were found approximately 100 miles north of the point at which it is believed the monoplane dropped into the sea. So far no trace has been found of any of the crew nor of the rubber life boat and there is some question as to whether the crew had time to inflate its boat before sinking. Apparently the men did not have time to empty their fuel tanks before the plane was submerged.

Here is Mrs. Lloyd W. Bertaud. She is the former Miss Helen Lent of New York City, and was married to Bertaud in 1922 in a plane above New York.

The former Dorothy Hughes, winner of several beauty contests, is the wife of Philip A. Payne, New York newspaper man who flew with Bertaud and Hill.

Warning Issued To School Heads On Fire Hazards
 By United Press.
AUSTIN, Sept. 15.—How safe is your school?
 Every school day last year an average of five school buildings were on fire, declared a report issued to school superintendents today by State Fire Insurance Commissioner T. M. Campbell.
 Campbell urges every school official to see that his school is safe when the school bell rings this fall.
 Then he says parents relax their own vigilance and contentedly satisfy themselves that the children will be "safe in school."
 To make the children safe he offers these suggestions to school superintendents:
 Make a thorough inspection of every school building for fire hazards.
 Is the basement in good repair and free from fire hazards?
 Is your heating furnace in the building with the school rooms above?
 If so, is it free from fire hazards?
 Have an electrician make an inspection of your school building for defective wiring.
 Make an inspection of stoves, storage pipes for rust holes, and see that naked floor is not exposed to stove.
 Do boys smoke, and if so, is a close check made of their cigarettes and matches.
 Do not permit lanterns to leave oily rags or mops on floor in closets. They are subject to spontaneous combustion.
 Do not permit use of pencils, nails or wire for fuses in electric circuits.
 Is building equipped with fire escapes? If so, are the doors left unlocked? "Exit" signs should be painted in buildings and all schools should hold regular fire drills.

SAYS RADIO AIDS IN TAKING YOUNG SET FROM CHURCH
 LONDON. — Broadcasting, dancing and the motorcycle are gradually ousting the traditional influence of the village church in the opinion of Sir Henry Rew, president of the Village Club association.
 "The philosophic outlook of the younger generation," he declared, "has changed considerably since the war. Young men in villages today are not content to sit and watch the world at a distance as their fathers used to do. They want to take an active part in everything that is going on around them."
 "The church still influences village life to a certain extent, but it does not provide the social side as it did when the vicar or the schoolmaster was responsible for any entertainment that took place."

 The program will be given in the following order:
 Prayer, Mrs. M. H. Hazaman.
 Meeting called to order by Mrs. Phillip Pettit.
 Introduction of new officers.

 Mrs. W. W. Housewright of Ranger is incoming president and Mrs. Phillip Pettit of Cisco, retiring president.

Mothers Can Get Plenty Strength
 It is necessary for a mother to have the confidence of her children if she is to have a guiding and helpful influence over them. To get this confidence it is almost essential that she have the strength and patience to be a companion to them.
 That's why you find so many mothers now using G. F. P. to build them up and strengthen them when they are sick, weak and irritable.
 Mrs. Florence Baswell, of 310 — 37th St., N., Avondale, Ala., says, "It's so much easier for me to manage my home now I am regaining my strength using St. Joseph's G. F. P. and I have lots more time to give to my children. I wish there was some way I could let every woman know about this medicine."
 In many instances St. Joseph's Antiseptic Powder used externally in connection with St. Joseph's G. F. P. will be found very soothing.

Women have used St. Joseph's G.F.P. for over 50 years!

FATHER OF RANGER FIELD PAYS TRIBUTE TO LUTHER DAVENPORT

William Knox Gordon, of Fort Worth, who has been called "the father of the Ranger field," has taken notice of Ranger's Home-Coming Oil Jubilee, to be held on Oct. 21-22 in celebration of the discovery of oil in Eastland county and has written a very interesting letter regarding the coming event.
 Mr. Gordon, in this letter pays tribute to the later Luther Davenport, one-time chief of police of Ranger, who lost his life in the Leon river while swimming in 1923.
 "In celebrating the tenth anniversary of the discovery of oil in the Ranger field," writes Mr. Gordon, "it will be meet and proper that the names of Gholson, Hagaman, Duncan, Gordon and many others be mentioned, for to these much of the credit for the discovery of oil is due—but 'lest we forget,' attention should be called to one of Ranger's former citizens, who long since has passed on to that land from which no traveler returns—a man who held the confidence and the respect of every citizen in Eastland and Stephens counties—one who attained the record for the leasing of vast areas of gas and oil acreage in those counties—one who left a legacy to the oil companies in Texas in the working out of the system which prevails throughout the vast oil fields of this great state—a man to whom all credit is due and one whom Ranger should not forget—Luther M. Davenport."
 In the letter Mr. Gordon, who for years was manager of the Texas Pacific Coal & Oil company, tells some interesting events of the early days of the oil leasing game in this county, touching on events that happened in the late fall of 1916, when labor troubles hung heavy in the air and threatened to curtail the infant industry. Gordon needed a man, fearless and true. He called on Luther Davenport, who without a moment's hesitation said, "I will be there and bring all the men you want."
 "On a crisp Monday morning, on a mosquito-covered knoll in west Palo Pinto county, carload after carload of husky young men from Ran-

Mom'n Pop

The PENNY PRINCESS by Anne Austin

BEHOLD HERE TODAY Vera Victoria Cameron, efficient secretary, allows Jerry Macklyn, advertising manager of the Peach Bloom Cosmetics Co., to transform her into a beauty through the use of the company's cosmetics after she falls suddenly in love with a man who ignores her. In transforming her, the beauty specialist copies a picture Jerry finds in his desk. Jerry falls in love with Vera, also called Vee-Vee, and his love persists even after he learns she wants to be beautiful so she can spend her vacation at Lake Minnetonka and meet the man she loves, Schuyler Smythe. At the lake hotel, Smythe and other guests mistake Vee-Vee for the princess Vivian Crandall, who, after a Paris divorce, is in hiding. Vera tries to convince people of her true identity but is not believed. Vera opens a letter Jerry gave her before her departure and learns he unknowingly used the Crandall heiress' picture in refashioning her and warns her not to pose as the notorious Vivian should she be mistaken for her. Nan Fossdick, unattractive but wealthy leaves the hotel in anger because she believes Vera has taken Schuyler's affection from her. Nan's mother tells Vera that she has learned Schuyler is a salaried secretary, four-flusher and fortune hunter, but Vera refuses to believe it. Thurston, hotel manager, has Vera and Schuyler watched. They go to the pier at midnight for a few minutes alone and there Schuyler confesses his love. She and Schuyler leave in a car. Schuyler insisting they must marry that night, Vera, hoping he loves her for herself alone, tells him the truth, showing him Jerry's letter to prove she is not the heiress. Schuyler is insane with anger; then it occurs to him she may be testing his love and he tries to retrieve her too late, for Vera has seen through his scheme. She orders him to take her to the nearest town and on the way they are stopped by a car and two masked men. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXIX A masked man sprang upon each of the running boards of the roadster which Schuyler Smythe had stolen for his elopement with the girl he believed to be Vivian Crandall. In the dim light their eyes glinted weirdly through the holes in their black masks. "What does this mean?" Schuyler Smythe quavered. "A hold-up?" His teeth clattered on the words. "Hold-up is right, buddy," the man who was crouching over Schuyler laughed shortly. "Give me the keys to that car—and make it snappy! Climb out, lady! We're not going to hurt you if you do as you're told." Vee-Vee felt more like laughing than screaming as she obediently climbed out of the roadster. "I've never been in a hold-up before," she beamed. "It is a thrilling experience, and I am only sorry that I am wearing no jewels with which to pay for my entertainment. These jade earrings are worth not more than $25, unfortunately—" "That'll do!" snapped the man who was standing guard over Schuyler Smythe. "You can cut the comedy miss, and run along to that car of yours. And no monkey business either. You escort the lady, partner," he motioned toward the other man with his drawn pistol. "Vivian?" Schuyler Smythe called in an agonized voice. "Run for your life! They won't dare shoot!" "Oh, won't we?" the man by his side chuckled. "Where are you taking Miss Cran—Miss Cameron?" Schuyler spluttered, but he made no effort to get out of the car and follow her. "Don't you wish you knew?" the masked man mocked him. "Don't worry about her, buddy. Your sweeie's going to be safe enough, if she behaves like a good girl. Somebody will come along after a while and rescue you, sheik. But don't make the mistake of giving a passing car the high sign for at least half an hour, see? Not that we'll need that long, my partner and me, but we don't like to be hurried, especially when we're out driving with a pretty girl."

"I've never been in a holdup before," she beamed. "I am sorry I am wearing no jewels." "Partner?" he appealed to the man on the front seat. "Aw, shut up!" the driver growled. "Would you know that field in the dark? It was hard to tell just how far it was, with us walking before," he added cryptically. "Sure. It was one of them snake fences, the first one you come to on this road." "Listen, boys," Vee-Vee began ingratiatingly. "Why are you kidnaping me? Who do you think I am?" It had come to her in a flash, that this was but another amazing impersonation of the Crandall heiress. With the papers full of Vivian Crandall's disappearance and of the unsuccessful search that private detectives and police were making for her, there was small room for wonder that crooks had taken advantage of the situation. But—how had they known where she was? Then she remembered the anonymous letter which she had found under her door early that evening, demanding a hundred dollars for silence. She had not paid the blackmail, and now she was being kidnaped. Of course they would not hold her for ransom—"Who do we think you are?" the driver flung at her contemptuously. "Lady, we know who you are. We were hiding under the pier while you and that collar-ad sheik was billing and cooing. We sure got a earful of mush. Thought you two'd never break away. But you played right into our hands. Your sheik steals a car to elope with you, and we swipe another to follow you."

business with you howling in my ear?" the driver snarled at her. "I tell you I'm not Vivian Crandall if that is who you think I am!" Vee-Vee protested shrilly. "Please let me out!" "Say, lady, do you think we pulled this stunt before we was sure of the lay of the land? We had a picture of you and a complete description. You fit to the last detail, and we just been telling you we heard you talking to that sheik of yours down on the pier tonight. No lady, pipe down and be nice! Ain't no use pulling that gag on us! We know our onions!" She saw then that it was quite useless to try to convince them. No one would believe her, no one had believed her from the first. She lay back against the cushions of the stolen sedan—she had recognized it as belonging to Mrs. Fossdick, a fact which seemed faintly ironic to her, though she could not have said why—and closed her tired eyes. "Don't cry, lady," the moon-faced man urged with rough kindness. "We ain't going to hurt you. All right, partner. This is the lane where we turn in. Or shall we leave the car here?" "Leave it here, I guess," the driver grunted as he killed the engine. "All right, step lively, miss. Ever been up in a sky buggy? But I guess an airplane ain't no novelty to you. Bring that bag with you, partner," he called to the moonfaced man. "An airplane?" Vee-Vee echoed. Then, curiously, a little thrill of anticipation fluttered in her heart. She had always wanted to ride in an airplane, but she had never dreamed that the experience would come to her in this bizarre fashion. (To be continued) In the meantime, Schuyler Smythe gets back to the Minnetonka, where an alarm has been raised over Vee-Vee's disappearance. Read the next chapter.

Pimples, Boils, Skin Eruptions. Skilled physicians recognize the appearance of pimples, boils and other skin eruptions as being an indication of an abnormal condition of the system. This is why so many thousands have been enabled to free themselves of these unsightly blemishes and painful annoyances by taking a course of S.S.S. I suffered from impure blood—was weak, and I had lost so much weight, I didn't look natural. I had pimples and was also bothered with a breaking-out that itched terribly. I also had boils one after another. I tried different kinds of remedies, but nothing did me any good until a friend advised me to take S.S.S., which I did. This was some time ago. Now I feel well, and I am getting along fine. S.S.S. stopped the itching and it cured me of boils. I advise all weak and run-down people to give S.S.S. a trial. It clears up the skin; makes you strong and fills you with energy." Mrs. J. W. Barker, 1337 Walnut Street, Cincinnati, Ohio. S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. Near-Victims of the Poisoner

MYSTERIOUS POISONER STRIKES TERROR TO HEARTS OF MOTHERS

By NEA Service.
KANSAS CITY, Sept. 17.—A mysterious poisoner, who roams the city unseen and strikes in uncanny, hidden fashion at little children, is at large in Kansas City.

Mothers are having gift candy closely analyzed before they allow their children to eat it. Refreshments at parties are in many cases confined to articles that are not unwrapped from the time they are made up at the confectioners until they are ready to serve. Even fruit from trees growing in back yards is looked upon with suspicion.

Seek Crazy Woman.
All of this is because someone—a woman, it is believed, mentally unbalanced by some strange hatred of children—has been going about the city trying to put into execution a wholesale poisoning scheme.

Eleven persons, most of them children, thus far have been made ill by the poisons. Either because the poison doses were too small or because none of the victims ate enough to meet with serious effects, there have been no deaths.

But fear grips the city. Most of the poisoning cases have been confined to the exclusive residential district in the vicinity of 39th street and Agnes avenue. But mothers all over the city are taking precautions.

The mysterious trouble started at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rahner, where the four children found a nicely packed box of candy lying in the yard.

They ate part of it, and shortly afterwards became seriously ill. A physician was called and saved their lives; then Mrs. Rahner had police analyze the candy.

In it were found poisoned grains of wheat, such as drug stores sell for the eradication of rats.

A few days later Miss Catherine Dills gave a party to the girls of her Sunday school class. During the party a messenger boy delivered a box of candy. Miss Dills, supposing that one of her guests had had the candy delivered, served it. Five girls ate of it and became very sick.

Efforts to find who sent the candy have failed.

A little later Jackie Comstock, aged 5, found a package of candy lying in his little wagon in the front yard. He ate it and became sick.

Then Mrs. R. P. Noel picked up some pears which had fallen to the ground from a pear tree in her back yard. Shortly after eating them she fell ill and had to call a doctor. Examination proved that the pears had been poisoned. How it was done, and why, no one knows.

Ruth Tulper, aged 6, escaped similar trouble only because her mother had warned her not to eat any candy. The little girl found a box of chocolates in the yard of the Tulper home and took it to her mother. The mother had it analyzed and found that it had been poisoned. In addition, some women—police believe the same one who has been distributing poisoned candy—has been trying to cause trouble in other ways.

Wives have been receiving anonymous telephone calls telling them that their husbands were out with blond stenographers. There was discord in a number of homes—until one day a woman received such a call while her husband was at home with her.

The police got a number of calls from some woman, who would not give her name, telling them that stills were being operated in the basements of certain residences. Each time the report proved false—but a great deal of inconvenience was caused.

Police Are Puzzled.
Thus far the police have been able to make no arrest.

Residents of the neighborhood where most of the poisonings have occurred have demanded the arrest of a certain woman living on one of their streets—a woman who seems to be possessed by an intense dislike of children, and who drives the youngsters away whenever they wander on to her lawn.

But to date the police have nothing to connect this woman with the poisonings.

And meanwhile—the terror of the mysterious poisoner remains.
