ENROLLMENT IN RANGER SCHOOL BREAKS RECORD

More Than 1,500 Enroll By Noon Monday, 450 Already Entered in High School.

The "Back to school" call was answered by over 1,500 Ranger students today, which is the biggest enrollment ever recorded in the history of Ranger schools.

The high school led the list with approximately 450 students enrolled up to noon, this number being far in excess of last year's total enrollment, which was 429, with an enrollment of 374 on the first day of school.

R. F. Holloway, superintendent, predicts that the enrollment will increase even by tomorrow. Hodges Oak Park and Young schools were so crowded that a readjustment of the district line, so as to give Cooper ward more pupils, may be necessary.

Much enthusiasm was evidenced by the student body and the faculty at the chapel services at the opening of the Ranger high school this morning.

Rev. J. H. Carway said a word of prayer and then the assembly under the direction of Prof. J. M. Edwards, broke into song with "America" followed by the "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Prof. R. F. Holloway conducted the program giving as he said his speech by installments. He introduced L. R. Pearson, Ranger attorney, who was the speaker of the day.

On Wednesday morning the formal opening of the junior college for the year 1927-28 will be held, with Judge J. E. Hickman of Breckenridge addressing the student body and the visitors.

In this connection he urged that pupils consider the privileges of education that the state, the county, the city and their parents are offering them and take advantage of the opportunities for an education that are now in their grasp.

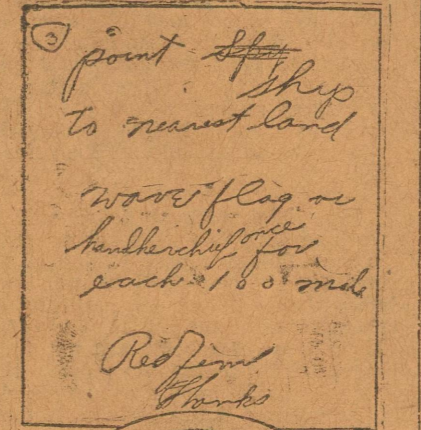

At the close of Mr. Pearson's address, Mr. Holloway introduced the new members of the faculty and then the old members. Introductions were made as follows:

Principal of the Ranger High school and dean of the Junior college, Prof. H. S. Von Rader; assistant high school principal, Mrs. Mae Healer; Spanish and French teacher in the Junior college, Mrs. Lizzie Meredith; commercial in high school, Miss Gladys Maddocks; business department head, Prof. O. G. Lanier; assistant mathematics teacher in high school, Miss Wilma Simer; Spanish in high school, Miss Helen Howdeshell; mathematics in college, George F. Nelson; history in college, J. C. Buchanan; history in high school, Miss Gladys Pinson; coach in Junior college, Blair Cherry; history in high school, Mrs. Wallace Wagner; high school English, Mrs. A. Neil; high school English, Mrs. Ernest Fletcher; Latin in high school, Miss Norma Woody Graham; home economics, Miss Lucile Hill; science in high school and college, Miss Mattie G. Roberts; English in college, Miss Mildred Mihills; assistant coach and manual training, Wallace Davis.

The fine arts department was then introduced and each one made his or her announcement as to class hours and location of studios. This department includes J. M. Edwards, director of choral work, and voice instructor; Miss Gillian Buchanan, who just prior to her announcement gave a violin solo, instructor of piano and violin; Mrs. Marion F. Peters, director of expression; Miss Nell Tibbels, who played all the accompaniments for the musical numbers of the morning program; piano; Miss Christine Carter, who will open a studio in voice and piano.

Rev. W. B. Johnson, pastor of the First Baptist church, dismissed the assembly, which adjourned almost wholly to the registrar's room to finish registration.

BELIEVE RAY TERRELL IS BANDITS' LEADER

Oswega, Kansas, Store Loses $10,000 In Loot Robbers Make Escape

OSWEGO, Kan., Sept. 12.—A gang believed to have been led by Ray Terrell, famous outlaw of the south-west, today held up and robbed a jewelry store here, escaping with loot estimated at $10,000.

The bandits were loitering around the store when it opened at 8 a. m. today and as soon as the safe had been opened by employes, they entered.

Several clerks were forced to line up face to the wall while several of the men took diamonds and other jewels from the safe.

Police were notified of the robbery too late to pursue the men.

LOUIS J. WORTHAM.
 The death Saturday of Louis J. Wortham at Greenville removed from Texas one of its most colorful newspapermen and editors and a man whose love for and faith in his state was unsurpassed. Col. Wortham, as he was affectionately known by his literally thousands of friends, was a rare type of real gentleman. He was a fighter but with it all he was ever the courteous gentleman. He was considerate and kind and seldom if ever lost his composure. And if he did on occasion during an unguarded moment lose his composure, it was for only a moment and the loved and venerable "old man" quickly resumed his quiet, courteous manner.
 Col. Wortham was born to the newspaper profession and learned typesetting in the plant of the Sulphur Springs Gazette, which was owned by his father. He never left the newspaper work except for short intervals, always returning to the profession he loved so well.
 Col. Wortham was known from the Red River to the Rio Grande and from Louisiana to New Mexico and he in turn knew and loved every section of his great state. He often said that there was not a county in Texas in which he had not been and of which he had not written some newspaper story. Col. Wortham was never an office seeker and only held one public office during his long life in Texas, that of representative from Tarrant county, but he was far better known than many of Texas' leading public men.

The death of few private citizens has ever cast such a pall over the state of Texas as that of Louis J. Wortham.

Negro Employe Of Garage Burned To Death Near Tyler

TYLER, Texas, Sept. 12.—His gasoline-soaked clothes a mass of flames, Gus Fevers, negro garagage employe, burned to death near here today while companions endeavored to catch him.
 The negro was bringing an automobile to Tyler when it caught fire. While he was under the car trying to extinguish the blaze, the gasoline tank exploded, sprinkling Fevers with the fiery liquid.
 Companions were unable to overtake him before he was fatally burned.

Seven of Balloons Believed Headed Toward Florida

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 12.—Nearby 45 hours after the start from the Ford airport here, seven balloons were believed this afternoon to be heading toward Florida in a race for the Gordon Bennett trophy of 1927. Six were officially reported down and two others were stated by private sources to have come to earth. Six of the balloons had not been heard from.

 Frances was salutatorian in the graduating class of Cooper Ward school in May and is one of the youngest pupils to ever enter the Ranger High school.

Gripings
 By GUS

Not a thing on earth about which to gripe today.

School got started off with the usual procedure. Some of the kids were glad to see it and some of them were not—you know how that goes.

We heard Monroe Sweeney was in town but didn't get to see him. Monroe will coach Randolph college this year and will probably officiate at some high school football games. As an official we think he is among the best. He runs the game and gives both sides a fair deal, no matter who is playing against who and we don't know of a coach in this country that was ever dissatisfied with his refereeing.

The High school team will be working hard this week getting ready to play Colorado next Friday at Lillard field. They will be playing a class B school and are naturally expected to win, but you can't ever tell. These class B schools are not to be sneezed at because very often they have 15 or 20 good sized boys going to school and it tickles them to death to beat a class A team.

At a ny rate, the boys will have a chance to show how they are going to look this fall.

 Mr. W. C. Coster and Mrs. Delma Carroll, both of Ranger, were married on Sunday afternoon at the bride's home on Main street by Rev. H. B. Johnson, pastor of the First Christian church.
 They will make their home in Ranger.

PERSONALS.
 Mrs. P. J. Rutledge and children left yesterday for Conway, Ark., where they will join Mr. Rutledge in their new home. Mrs. Rutledge had taught school in Ranger for the past two years while Prof. Rutledge was getting a degree in college work.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Woods and son, Bob, and Mrs. P. J. Rutledge and children, returned yesterday from San Antonio, after spending a week with Captain Boyd, Mrs. Woods' and Mrs. Rutledge's brother, who is stationed there.
 Mrs. E. L. McMillen and daughter, Betty Jean, and Mrs. McMillen's father, Mr. Lowe, have gone to Mineral Wells for a month's stay.
 Miss Christine Carter of Fort Worth was present at chapel services at the High school this morning.
 Miss Mildred Mihills, teacher in the Junior college, is expected to arrive here today.
 Mrs. W. H. King of Fort Worth is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. George R. Kelley, at her home on Elm street.
 Miss Helen Brady and her mother, Mrs. Carrie E. Brady, were delegates to the seventeenth district of American Legion meeting at Cross Plains, Sunday, from the women's auxiliary of Carl Barnes Post No. 69. Mr. and Mrs. Leon McPherson were also present at the meeting.
 Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Moake and children of Weatherford spent Saturday and Sunday in Ranger with Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie White and Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Glazner.

Ranger Legion Team Wins From Cisco Boys 23-2
 Four Cisco pitchers had little that bothered the American Legion slugs Sunday at Nitro park and the Doughboys from Ranger walked away with the game to the tune of 23 to 2.
 Every Legionnaire made at least one hit except Cook and Fairbairn and pitchers aren't supposed to hit. Colum led in the hitting with four out of six official trips to the plate, a home run, two triples and a single. Captain Davis parked one far into right field over the fence in the two-base limit. It would have been a home run but for ground rules.
 Only one error can be charged up against the Legionnaires and it was a difficult chance. The game was only a good workout for the boys who on Tuesday meet the ex-Cats of Fort Worth.

Church of Christ Revival Meeting Gains Interest

The revival meeting that has been in progress at the church of Christ, Ranger, since Sept. 2, is still in full progress.
 The attendance has been good and during the meeting there have been 12 baptisms and two restorations.
 Rev. W. T. Neal, the young minister who is conducting the revival, may possibly be employed here permanently, it has been suggested.

COOLIDGE IN TALK MAKES PLEA FOR MORE CULTURE

TEACH NOT ONLY SCIENCE BUT CHARACTER IS THEME OF ADDRESS.

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
BROOKINGS, S. D., Sept. 10.—President Coolidge here today pleaded for more culture in American life. Speaking at the dedication of the South Dakota state college's Lincoln memorial library here, he insisted that United States colleges must "teach not only science but character." Unless they provide youth with a "broader understanding of the spiritual meaning of science, of literature and of the arts," he said, they will have failed to fulfill their proper functions and "our people will be lacking in true culture."

Incidentally, he paid tribute to Abraham Lincoln for fostering land grant colleges, and to American agriculture for vast aid in winning the world war. Without American farm products, he said, "it is impossible to see how the war could have been won," though he added that many elements contributed to victory.

"We have been driven by necessity," he said, "to giving a great deal of attention to subduing the forces of nature."

"It has been necessary to create anew on this continent all of the instruments of civilization. We have had our cities to build, our highways, our railways and our canals to lay out, our mines and manufacturing to put into operation, our banking and commerce, as well as our agriculture, to organize, and our political and our social problems to solve. All of these have made necessary a great supply of material resources for their creation and support. We have been excessively busy seeking for information that could be turned to practical advantage in the matter of dollars and cents, rather than for that wisdom which would guide us through eternity."

"I cannot conceive that the object of Abraham Lincoln was merely to instruct men how to raise more corn, to feed more hogs, to get more money, to buy more lands, and so on in the expanding circle as the story goes. Of course he wanted to teach men to raise more corn, but his main object must have been to raise better men."

"All our science and all of our arts will never be the means for the true advancement of our nation, will never remove us from the sphere of the superficial and the cynical, will never give us a civilization and a culture of any worthy and lasting importance unless we are able to see in them the outward manifestation of a spiritual reality. Unless our halls of learning are real temples which are to be approached by our youth in an attitude of reverence, consecrated by worship of the truth, they will all end in delusion. The information that is acquired in them will simply provide a greater capacity for evil. Our institutions of learning must be dedicated to a higher purpose. The life of our nation must rise to a higher realm."

"There is something more in learning and something more in life than a mere acquisition of wealth, a mere striving for place and power. Our colleges will fail in their duty to their students unless they are able to inspire them with a broader understanding of the spiritual meaning of science, of literature and of the arts. Unless our college graduates are inspired with these ideals, our colleges have failed in their most important function and our people will be lacking in true culture. Our colleges must teach not only science but character. We must maintain a stronger, firmer grasp on the principle declared in the Proverbs of his son Solomon, that 'the fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge.'"

Here's What The White House Got For $375,000

By RODNEY DUTCHER,
NEA Service Writer.

WASHINGTON.—There seems to be some confusion as to just what was done to repair the White House at public expense of $375,000. The fact is that not only has the White House been given a handsome new roof, but it also has acquired a new floor. In other words, instead of being a two-story building as in the past, it is now a three-story building.

Furthermore, the new roof is so designed as to leave a large area on which the president can promenade or entertain.

These are the principal changes in the white house and it becomes obvious that the facilities and occupiable portions of the presidential mansion have been greatly expanded.

Whether or not this expansion was as important an aim of the "repair work" as any is a question, but the roof structure and its supporting wooden trusses more than 100 years old have been understood to be in poor condition for the last 50 years.

The new third floor of the white house contains a number of comfortable bedrooms and bathrooms which will now be available for an overflow of guests. It also provides rooms for servants, linen rooms and storage rooms.

All this, of course, and everything including the ceiling of the second floor and upwards is brand new. That's where most of the $375,000 went.

The second floor provides the living quarters for Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge. Even while Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge are away, and all their possessions and furniture are removed, visitors are not permitted above the first or main floors.

Indeed, only the most privileged have been permitted within 100 yards of the white house this summer. It was suggested to the Coolidges at Rapid City that this might be a good time to allow some people who were anxious about it to inspect the second floor and the roof, but word came from Rapid City that this was not desirable.

The exclusiveness of the upper white house is officially explained with the theory that the portion above the main floor is not public property and that it is the only retreat the presidential families have from the glaring limelight which always beats upon them. Mrs. Coolidge, for similar reasons, has objected also to photographs of the little gardens off the south portico in which she and the president enjoy walking in intimate privacy.

When the builders went to work on the white house last spring the space above the second floor was attic space. There were a few cubby-hole rooms for servants but very small because they had to be built in between the trusses. But the up-and-down space occupied by the new floor was principally taken up by several feet of space between the second story ceiling and the floor of the attic.

This space was devoted to nothing more than a drainage system for the roof. With that system, considerable inclined was necessary as the drainage was carried inside through the attic to downspouts in hollowed wooden troughs.

By utilizing all this space the treasury's supervising architects were able to retain virtually the original appearance of the white house and the renovated white house is less than a foot higher than before.

The so-called "roof garden" atop the building is a large flat area paved with tile which can be used for anything from dances to open-air sleeping. It commands a splendid view of the white house grounds, the beautiful Potomac park system and the Potomac river. The contour of the roof is almost the same, except that it has more domer space. But it is a much better and safer roof and also much more attractive.

James J. Corbett says, "Faversham's advice decided me on Luckies"

Famous former heavyweight champion, with Mrs. Corbett after breakfast at their home at Bayside, L. I., recommends Lucky Strikes.

William Faversham, The Popular Actor, writes:

"For years I have been a Lucky Strike enthusiast, in fact, I never smoke any other cigarette. In all this time I have never been troubled with throat irritations. In addition to the enjoyment that I get from the superior quality of Lucky Strikes, it is wonderful to know that my voice will never be affected by smoking."

William Faversham

You, too, will find that Lucky Strikes are mild and mellow—the finest cigarettes you ever smoked, made of the finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos, properly aged and blended with great skill, and there is an extra process—"It's toasted"—no harshness, not a bit of bite.

"It's toasted"

No Throat Irritation - No Cough.

Legion-Cat Game Expected to Draw Crowd Tomorrow

The Ranger American Legion team will play a team composed of players who have been at one time or another members of the Fort Worth Panthers on Tuesday at 3 p. m.

The Legion is presenting this game for two purposes, namely: It will give the local public an opportunity to see some of the most colorful players of Texas league history in action again and then, too, the Legion is trying to make enough from the proceeds to clear up a little indebtedness incurred by the ball team this year.

Tiny Goodbred, the famous pitcher-coach-coach, will be there to provide plenty of fun for the occasion as well as Clarence Kraft, who holds the Texas league record for home runs in a season.

Joe Pate, who pitched for the Philadelphia Athletics for the last two years and who is said to be one of the headiest ball players in the game, as well as Wachtel and Whitaker, will be there to do a part of the mound duty.

Among the other players of note are Art Phelan, Ziggy Sears, Chink Taylor, Pete Kilduff, Ed Konetchy, George Bischoff, and Fillingim.

Highway Club To Urge Lights On All Vehicles

Special Correspondence. FORT WORTH, Sept. 12.—As a measure of safety for operators of both horse-drawn and motor-driven vehicles, the Highway Club of Texas will advocate at the next session of the legislature the passage of a law requiring all vehicles operating on the highways at night to be equipped with a tail light.

Such a law already is in effect covering motor vehicles, but does not apply to buggies and wagons.

W. T. Wheeler, general manager, in announcing the Highway club's advocacy of the new law, stated that many fatal accidents now occurring on the highways of the state can be avoided through such a measure.

Attention of the club has been directed by Judge Oscar C. Dancy of Brownsville to an accident of this nature recently in which three prominent citizens of the Rio Grande valley were killed and a number of Mexicans riding in an unlighted wagon were injured.

SAN ANTONIO.—The state plans a $100,000 woman's dormitory at the San Antonio State hospital.

LONGVIEW.—The board of education here plans a new school to cost $110,000.

Longhorns Will Be Given Light Workout Today

AUSTIN, Sept. 12.—Two weeks hence Clyde Littlefield, football mentor at the University of Texas, will trot out an improved model of his 1926 Longhorn eleven.

Unless the veterans of last year fail miserably, the squad that represents Texas this fall will be much the same as last year's aggregation in personnel. Littlefield expects to have eight or 10 of the 1926 team in the lineup again.

"They're good material and have the fight," he commented after the first day of practice. "A little developing, especially in punting, passing and place kicking, and I think they'll be in top form."

For the past week, the Longhorn coach has had his prospective proteges studying the 1927 rule book. He is a strong believer in every man knowing where he plays.

"Knowledge of the strategy of the game, knowledge of the fundamentals and familiarity with the rules are three of the most important things," the coach said.

Littlefield believes his line will be in good form. Much attention will be given to the backfield from now until the opening game against Oklahoma Southwestern Teachers college here Sept. 24.

Equipment will be issued this afternoon and most of the 50 odd men who reported at the opening session Saturday will go through a light workout. Littlefield does not expect to hold any heavy workouts before the last of the week, because of the possibility of injuring his men before they get in form.

The letter men Littlefield expects to have available this season include the co-captains Rufus King, Austin, halfback, and Ox Higgins, Dallas, end; Joe King, Dallas, quarterback; Patsy Allen, Luling; Tom Hughes, Texarkana, and John Estes, Dallas, all halfbacks; John McCullough, Waco, guard; Jack Cowley, Paris, tackle; Steve Wray, Donna, center; O. A. Rhoades, Dallas, end, and H. G. Tigner, Houston, and Ike Sewell, Willis Point, guards.

The complete Longhorn schedule follows:

Sept. 24, Oklahoma S. W. Teachers college at Austin.
Oct. 1, T. C. U. at Austin.
Oct. 8, Trinity at Austin.
Oct. 15, Vanderbilt at State fair, Dallas.
Oct. 22, Rice at Austin.
Oct. 29, S. M. U. at Dallas.
Nov. 5, Baylor at Austin.
Nov. 11, Kansas Aggies at Austin.
Thanksgiving, Texas A. & M. at College Station.

Under the "public calamity" clause of the state constitution, the legislature has remitted state taxes in the following counties. Aransas, Brazoria, Brooks, Calhoun, Cameron, Duval, Galveston, Hidalgo, Jim Hogg, Jim Wells, Kenedy, Matagorda, Nueces, San Patricio, Wharton and Wilbrey.

Golf Curtails Playing Talent For Baseball

By BILLIE EVANS
The tremendous popularity that golf has attained during the past 10 years is the cause of this question being put to me time and again during the summer months, when the national pastime is at its height:

"How much has golf hurt baseball?"
There are two answers to that question. The first deals with any effect golf may have had on the attendance figures in recent years. The other relates to the influence for good or bad that golf has had on the playing talent which determines the brand of baseball offered.

I do not believe that golf has had any particular bearing on the attendance. Give the fans a race such as the National League has on tap or let them know the Yankees, with Ruth and Gehrig going neck-and-neck in the home run derby, are the attraction, and you pack 'em in. As in any other sport, the attendance is largely measured by the attraction offered. Fans will flock to the park to see the slugging Yanks in action, whereas the tail-end Boston Red Sox are seldom bothered by ground rules.

Let Some Fans.
True, baseball has lost some fans who for years followed a sport that offers not only a chance to be out in the open but a little exercise in addition.

I would say that for every fan lost to baseball because of golf, two have come up to take the place of the deserter who has become inoculated with the golf germ.

Our parks of today, in most instances, are twice as big as they were ten years ago. Yet any time a worth-while attraction is offered or the race for the pennant is a hot one the standing-room-only sign is usually out early.

On the other hand, only a limited few thousand can watch a golf match in comfort and have the slightest idea what it is all about.

Therefore, I would say, the influence of golf on baseball as far as the crowds are concerned is entirely negative. At least, as yet, I do not believe golf has asserted itself as a detriment to the financial end of baseball.

Hurts One Way.
However, I do believe that golf has already had a very definite influence on the mediocre standard of baseball now prevalent in the majors.

I am not one of those old-timers who insist that modern game doesn't compare with the brand of twenty years ago. Still I am positive that on the whole it isn't nearly as good.

Golf statisticians tell me that there are in the United States more than 400,000 caddies during the summer months. These caddies are drawn from the ranks of the boys who used to spend their spare time becoming proficient in the art of baseball.

Any youngster fond of baseball as a kid usually carries through life his love for the game. However, take away close to a half million boys from playing baseball each summer and it is only natural to assume that many a future Cobb or Johnson is lost, because golf has a stronger appeal.

A good caddy can earn anywhere from $2 to $5 per day, depending to a certain extent on the liberality of the player for whom he is caddying. There you have another lure sandlot baseball lacks, compensation for effort.

Unquestionably, golf is curtailing the playing talent, thereby lowering the standard of baseball, but as yet it has had no appreciable effect on the financial end of the game.

Mayor Thompson of Chicago has undertaken to find the republican party a nominee for the presidency. Won't there be trembling in Buckingham palace now!

Legion Will Not Meet In Ranger During October

Carl Barnes Post No. 69 of Ranger did not accomplish its objective at the quarterly meeting of the Seventeenth district of the American Legion at Cross Plains Sunday. When it invited the district to meet in Ranger on October 22-23 it was routed by the fact that the constitution and by-laws of the Legion permits only three meetings a year and these had already been held.

The Legionnaires report a fine time at Cross Plains, as the post of that city provided fine entertainment, the outstanding features being a barbecue, church services and a parade.

LAME THEATRE CLOSED FOR IMPROVEMENT

The Lamb theatre, Ranger, was closed Sunday night preparatory to its complete overhauling and possibly rebuilding.

All of the movable equipment has either been moved to the Liberty theatre or put in storage, but complete information as to the plans for its remodeling is not available at this time.

Manager Hughes stated that the Liberty will continue to run with all the feature pictures showing there that have been booked for the Lamb and the prevailing admission prices will be the same as formerly at the Lamb.
