HAMON LINE ANNOUNCES A CUT IN RATES

Reduced rates on intrastate shipments to Breckenridge, Jimkurn and other points on the Hamon line will go into effect Saturday, July 30, it was announced today by the road's officials here. The reductions, General Passenger and Freight Agent Strupp said, will apply to all shipments originating within the boundaries of Texas and destined to Breckenridge or other points on the line north of Ranger. The reduction, which was allowed by a railroad commission meeting about a month ago, will amount to from $30 to $60 a car, he said. Reductions on shipments beyond the state line have not been arranged for and it is not known when they will go into effect. This reduction, technically known as the abolishment of the differential, was made at the request of the Hamon road. It is an increased charge allowed new railroads, but the Hamon line felt that it was no longer needed and asked the commission to abolish it in justice to shippers.

MAN AND WIFE BURNED BY GAS HAVE A CHANCE

Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Don't Know Yet Baby Died From Injuries.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Laurence who, with their two children were burned in a gas fire on the Caddo road yesterday morning, with the odds against them, have gained a little in the fight against impending death. Both are in a dangerous condition but attendants this morning hold out hope that they have a chance. They are fighting without the knowledge that yesterday their 1-year-old daughter Katherine, died of the burns received in the burning tent. The little body is being held by the Milford Undertaking company.

Boy Will Recover.

It is thought that the mother and father of the burned man and woman who are here will have it buried and tell the parents only after they have recovered sufficiently to withstand the shock. The 4-year-old son, Everett, while severely burned, will recover. It was thought yesterday shortly after the accident that the mother had a fine chance for her life but in addition to her burns she is suffering from shock. The father though blisters almost cover his body, is withstanding his injuries in a manner that is very gratifying to attendants at the Clinical hospital.

Gas Exploded.

The family were burned yesterday morning when Laurence arose to note the time and struck a match. The match ignited gas which had accumulated in the tent in which the family was living. The explosion and fire burned the tent in which they were living, took the life of the baby and placed the remaining three members of the family in the hospital.

Without warning, the bandits opened fire, dropping both Hogan and Dennis.

From their position on the ground, the detectives opened fire and shot and killed one of the bandits. Another bandit, Lewis Henroy, was later captured by a watchman.

DENBY WANTS FACTS

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Secretary of the Navy Denby today ordered Rear Admiral Sims to give him a complete report of his London "jack-ass" speech.

Any action that Denby may contemplate against Sims will await this formal report on the accuracy of the dispatches reporting Sims' remarks concerning Irish sympathizers in the United States. Denby's instructions were given to Sims when the admiral reported to the secretary, in accordance with orders cabled him while in Europe.

Admiral Sims denied the accuracy of the statements attributed to him in dispatches reporting his London speech. Denby said.

"I gave him a written memorandum, which amounts to a formal order, instructing the admiral to inform me in writing wherein he was misquoted, and if he could state just what he did say in that speech."

Wants Early Reply.

Sims was with Denby only a moment. Denby handed him the written order and Sims left almost immediately.

Sims went to call on Admiral County, chief of naval operations, refusing to comment on his conference with Denby.

G. O. P. DECLARE THEY SEE NEED FOR ECONOMY

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 23.—Republican leaders, particularly in the senate, have decided to take a firm grip on the executive helm, they made clear today.

After a conference, participated in by Senators Proxmire, Smoot, Watson, Lodge and others, it has been decided, it was learned, that groups advocating special or class legislation must not be allowed to control; that the legislative program must be strictly limited, both at the present extra session and at the regular one beginning in December, to matters of first importance.

That restrictive or regulatory legislation affecting business is to be discouraged.

That all "freak" measures are to be set aside.

That economy in legislation is as essential as economy in tax spending.

Mrs. Burkett Says She Backed His Campaign to Tune of $69,900.

HILLSIDE, Ind., June 23.—Mrs. Emma Richardson Burkett stated today that she has $69,000 coming from the estate of Theodore Roosevelt, because she loaned the Colonel that amount to finance his 1912 campaign.

Mrs. Burkett has filed suit in the East against the Roosevelt estate for recovery of the amount.

She said a friend, Judge Peyton, now dead, brought her to Chicago, and that she saw Roosevelt sign the note, together with a man named Charles J. Shunson.

Mrs. Burkett said she inherited the money, and invested it with Roosevelt on the advice of Peyton.

30 BASEBALL BOOSTERS ON TRIP TO SOUTH

In spite of the dire things the weather man had to say about the weather the baseball boosters at 9 o'clock this morning hied themselves away to Norman points in the county. About thirty were in the party and over their cars were draped signs which read "Visit Ranger." Gay arm bands also carried the word "Ranger." The party plans to visit Staff, Desdemona, Gorman, Carbon, Eastland and Olden, arriving home tonight. The pleasure of seeing the Nitros in action is the main event the boosters will advertise. Other features of Ranger will probably be mentioned, among the number being the Elks' carnival billed for tomorrow night at Shamrock park.

Among those in the party are: C. M. Smith, W. B. Collier, Joe Barnes, E. J. Armstrong, W. G. Grubbs, A. Davis, Sanford Dean, Frank Branham, Irving Schwartz, J. E. T. Peters, J. E. Farrow, J. E. Tennant, Ab Pitcock, E. L. Chaney, A. Joseph, V. Wakefield, C. E. Day, M. O. Burt, J. B. Owens, Rufus J. Lackland, T. E. Henshaw, L. T. Summers, W. J. O'Dell, O. R. Brady, J. C. Smith, The Rev. W. H. Johnson, M. Alexander, R. G. Stockman, N. J. Novakovich, and H. E. Bozeman.

MILK AND ICE FUND REACHES CENTURY MARK

Previously acknowledged. $ 91.00
C. H. Dunlap 5.00
Edward Shuttkir 3.00
Cash 1.00

Total. $100.00

In Ranger there is a widow living alone with her two children—a boy and a seven-months-old baby. The baby is sick with some childish ailment. It can neither grow nor get well without proper food and medical attention. The mother is compelled to remain at home to care for the child. Thus she has no means of earning a livelihood and would like to have work to do at home, so that she may care for and support her little ones.

This is just one of the touching cases which are disclosed almost every day by the committee of fifteen women who are distributing the milk and ice fund already in hand. The committee, in these cases, provide what milk and ice is needed, but often other necessities arise.

The fund has reached the $100 mark, and now "Yo, Heave Ho!" for the second hundred. For the heated season is yet young and the days to come will be long and hot for those who are denied the comforts of life while many, more fortunate, luxuriate at beaches and seaside resorts.

We're off! For the second hundred!

JURY TAKES 5 MINUTES, GIVES MAN 5 YEARS

Paul Burton, Hijacker, Operated on Ranger-Necessity Road in March.

BRECKENRIDGE, June 23.—A jury took only five minutes last night to decide a sentence of five years in the penitentiary for Paul Burton, convicted of highway robbery. Burton pleaded guilty at 7:30 p. m., before Judge Hamlin. The jury went out at 8:55 and was back at 9. The case of Tom Lane will be tried today. Major Tobin of Leeray was the principal witness to the events connected with the robbery three months ago.

Tobin and a Mr. Lillis received word that three heavily-armed hijackers were blocking the Ranger-Necessity road and robbing all passersby. Armed with one automatic pistol they went to the scene of the hijackers' operations and stopped their automobile near that occupied by the hijackers, pretending they were having trouble with their car. Tobin raised the hood and started "tinkering," and as the two hijackers approached Tobin took the pistol from beneath the hood where he had placed it and covering them compelling them to lie down in the road until an officer arrived from Necessity. These men were Burton and Lane, according to the evidence.

They then covered the third man in the car, disarmed him and made him lie down in the road, refusing his request that he be permitted to get his shoes, as he was barefooted. An examination of the car afterward disclosed a pistol lying by the man's shoes on the floor of the car. One of the men was granted bail in the sum of $5,000 and left the country, officers say.

FARMER'S HOME BURNED; NOTE SIGNED 'K. K. K.'

DALLAS, Texas, June 23.—The grand jury is expected to investigate the burning of the home of George Neal, near Lancaster, Sunday night, after Neal found a threatening letter in his yard.

J. E. Neal, son of George Neal, telephoned the police that he believed enemies of his father had caused the fire. He declared both he and his father were away from home at the time of the fire, but that neighbors told him they saw a number of automobiles near the place just before the fire.

Neal said his father found a letter in the yard last week, signed "K. K. K.," warning him to leave Monday. The letter bore no seal, he stated.

Last Saturday the older Neal went to Ennis, his son said, and had not been heard from since. Authorities are investigating.

A package was placed at the designated spot and a man who picked it up was arrested.

GULF STORM GOES INLAND NEAR HOUSTON

Little Damage Left in Wake of Tropical Hurricane Which Loses Force.

DALLAS, June 23.—After curving along the Texas coast more than 200 miles from the mouth of the Rio Grande to Port Arthur, the gulf hurricane which has been raging since Tuesday evening, passed inland within fifty miles of Houston northeastward, rapidly losing intensity as it went. Today it is in Northeast Texas. Heavy rains which accompanied the disturbance over Texas as far north as Dallas continued today. The storm left comparatively little damage in its wake. No loss of life was reported. The greatest damage so far reported was to small shipping in the vicinity of Port Aransas. Reports from Houston today indicate considerable crop damage along the coast, stating that communications which had been cut off in the Matagorda bay territory are being re-established today.

HEAVY RAIN AT DALLAS.

DALLAS, June 23.—Dallas was swept by a heavy downpour of rain last night, as the gulf storm swept inland.

The heavy winds which were reported on the gulf coast were lacking here.

Considerable damage to crops was feared in this section, and the grain harvest, already delayed by the continuous rain of the past few weeks, will be further halted.

The rain continued today, but in greatly diminished force.

HELP REACHES VESSEL.

GALVESTON, Texas, June 23.—Towing of the disabled oil tanker William L. Doheny, which lost its propeller ninety miles southwest of Galveston early yesterday, was started at daybreak, according to wireless advices here early today.

The tanker was being towed into Galveston by the steamer W. L. Steed.

The W. L. Steed, leaving here last night in heavy sea, reached the Doheny shortly after one o'clock this morning, and stood by until daybreak, advices reported.

The sea was calm, and unless unforeseen incidents occur, the W. L. Steed, with her tow, was expected to enter Galveston harbor some time late today.

The Doheny anchored in seventeen fathoms of water last night.

STRUCK COAST.

HOUSTON, June 23.—Another tropical storm on the Gulf of Mexico, which for twenty-four hours held the entire Gulf Coast in its grip, today passed to the mainland, without having caused serious loss, either to property or life.

Reports from the path of the storm showed it struck the coast at Freeport and Matagorda, northeast of Corpus Christi, following a north-easterly direction, and passed between Galveston and Houston, with a wind velocity averaging fifty miles an hour during the time the storm was passing.

Crops, oil derricks, wire service and a few freight vessels were believed to have borne the brunt of the damage.

Shipping along the coast which suffered, included a schooner going aground at Freeport, a barge and tug beached at Port Aransas, loss of a propeller by the tanker William L. Doheny, off Galveston, and damage to small craft.

Residents of all coast towns, who were thoroughly prepared for the threatened arrival of the water, were resuming normal lines today, according to reports.

WANT CUPID'S BOW? EASY! FEW STITCHES AND THERE YOU ARE!

PARIS, June 23.—The "sewed smile" is likely to become the latest fad with women whose otherwise perfect beauty is marred by a too wide mouth. The fad is expected to follow the successful operation undergone by Mrs. W. E. Corey, by which the corners of her mouth were slightly drawn in and sewed together, forming a perfect cupid's bow.

The operation is declared to be very simple.

PROFESSIONAL BONDSMEN ARE TO BE CURBED

County Attorney's Department Adopts Simple Plan to Prevent Claim "Alterations."

Life may become hard for the professional bondsmen under a tentative plan announced by the county attorney's department at Eastland. In future it is said every bond that is made will have to be signed in the presence of members of the county attorney's department, in order that sureties cannot come into court and swear that the bond had been altered and having the court declare it null and void.

This system has been practiced in the Eastland county court until it is declared it has become a nuisance. An arrest would be made, a charge filed and a bond submitted to the county attorney which would be approved. Later the person under charge would disappear and when his case was called and the bond forfeited the surety would come into court and swear that the bond had been altered. When this happened the burden was on the state to show that the document had not been changed, which was practically impossible.

Under the tentative plan of the county attorney's department it has been decided in the presence of some members of the department, it is hoped that the practice can be defeated.

BODY OF WAR HERO BURIED IN EASTLAND

EASTLAND, June 22.—The remains of Walter Daniels, the first Eastland county boy to lose his life overseas, were interred here today, followed to their last resting place by perhaps the largest funeral procession ever witnessed in the county.

The body arrived Tuesday evening on the Sunshine about 8:30, the train being delayed because of a heavy rain east of here. The remains were met at the station by the local post of the American Legion accompanied by a large crowd and conveyed to the city hall where they were permitted to lie in state, under guard of a detail of ex-service men.

The funeral services were held in the city auditorium this afternoon at 3 p. m., and the city hall was packed to capacity. Rev. McMahan invoked divine blessing, and Captain Virgil Seaberry and Captain Austin F. Anderson delivered short and appropriate remarks on the career of deceased as a soldier and offered condolence in fitting words to the mother and other members of the family. Rev. Langston of the First Methodist church, preached the funeral sermon, after which the remains were conveyed to the Eastern cemetery where they were laid to rest with a brief ceremony at the grave.

"I WAS HUNGRY AND JOBLESS," SAID YOUTH WHO STOLE AUTOMOBILE

BRECKENRIDGE, June 23.—A hungry youth was discharged last night in the case of L. H. Harrell, 19 years old, who pleaded guilty in the district court to the theft of a car at Fort Worth, belonging to C. H. Clay of the Clay Lumber company of Breckenridge. The car was identified here by the police remaining on its floor from a wedding shower. The jury stood seven for a suspended sentence and five for two years in the penitentiary. Mrs. Alice Llewellyn, the boy's mother, and a bride of two weeks, sobbed softly during the trial. The boy said he stole the car because he was jobless and hungry.

SOME JOB!

GENEVA, June 23.—The League of Nations council today entrusted the United States with the task of preventing another Balkan war.

The League declined to consider Albania's request to fix her boundary lines and compel the withdrawal of Serbia and Greece from her territory.

An Albanian delegation which appeared before the council declared another Balkan war would result if Greece should be given a piece of Albanian soil to reimburse her for withdrawing from Smyrna.

The delegation made the war threat openly, and stated freely that it considered the council was considering some such settlement of the Near East problem.

The Albanians consented to the council's passing the problem along to the ambassadors' council when it was urged that the United States is represented on that body. The league's council will pass along to the ambassadors a number of proposals from Albanians, including urging that there be no withdrawal of their mother country.

Hill with a vengeance here today and swatted the apple to all corners of the lot for a total of 14 hits, one of them a homer, and 11 counts. Ferguson was jerked in the first round after three runs had been made off him as the result of three singles and a triple, none down and one on. Hill could not hold the hard-hitting Angelo crew and they ran up a total of eight markers against him. The best that Bear White's crew could do was to get one marker as the result of a couple of two-by knockouts. Kelly connected for a homer in the fifth with one man on.

The game was called at the end of the eighth to allow Angelo time to catch the Santa Fe train out of Buffalo Gap for Brownwood.

Programs for the seven registered shoots allowed the Ranger Gun club by the American Trapshooting association are now being printed and will be mailed out in a few days to Gun clubs, civic organizations and individual sportsmen throughout the state.

Numerous trophies, in addition to an opportunity of keeping one's handicap record up to date, are expected to make the competition keen and draw shooters from all of West Texas to each of the seven events, which will be staged on June 26, July 4, July 24, Aug. 7, Aug. 21, Sept. 5 and Sept. 18. For all of these meets the American Trapshooting association offers three trophies for every ten men participating. These trophies will be distributed as follows: First, high score; second, longest run; third, second high score. Special interest will attach to the Fourth of July and Labor day shoots, as in addition to the singles there will be ten pairs of doubles and forty targets of handicap shooting, and silver cups will go to the high scores, in addition to the A. T. A. trophies. The cup awarded on July 4 will be donated by the Davenport Hardware

OLDTIMERS WILL PLAY EXHIBITION BASEBALL AT CLEVELAND SOON

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 22.—Cy Young, Chief Zimmer, Charlie Hickman, Larry Lajoie, Jim McAleer and other famous old ball players better known to the fans of a generation ago than to those of today, are coming back into baseball. Not to the major leagues, or even to the minors, for these veterans have no idea that they can re-lace the stars of today, but plans are being made for all of them to appear in an exhibition game when the 125th anniversary of the founding of Cleveland is celebrated.

The team of old timers will meet a selection of Cleveland youngsters and efforts are being made to get some of the greatest ball players of baseball history in the Oldtimers' lineup. Cy Young, who stayed in the big leagues until he was well past the forty-year mark, will pitch for the Oldtimers, according to the plans, and Chief Zimmer, his old battery mate, will catch. Bill Bradley, whose wonderful fielding and batting feats still are related by the gray-haired fans, will be at third base. Terry Turner, the fielding flash of years ago, at shortstop, and Charlie Hickman at first. Larry Lajoie, still spoken of as the greatest all-time second baseman, will captain the team and play second. In the outfield will be Elmer Flick, Jim McAleer and Harry Bay, all stars in their day. Neal Ball, who gained fame years ago through an unassisted triple play while with Cleveland, Jess Burkett, Bunk Congalton and George Cuppy will be the substitutes. Lajoie thinks his team will hold its own against any other, despite the age of the players. "Give us a few days to get into practice and develop our winds, and we won't make any alibis," he said.

LAKE EASTLAND IS THROWN OPEN TO USE

EASTLAND, June 23.—Lake Eastland will be open to the public Thursday, June 23, 12 o'clock, according to Manager W. A. Orth. The bath houses have been completed, boats were being taken out today, and lights are being strung, and a sufficient number of bathing suits have arrived to take care of the crowds for the present.

It has been suggested that in all probability the proposed Fourth of July celebration may be held at the lake, thus formally opening it to the people of Eastland and surrounding country, and if this is done swimming, boating, diving, and other aquatic stunts with prizes will be provided, thus giving Eastland citizens their first entertainment of this nature.

Miss Marguerite Galom, an amateur photographer, has the distinction of being the first woman to take movies from a plane in flight, a feat she succeeded in doing successfully recently on Long Island.

"If 'Sentimental Tommy' does not mark a turning point in the history of motion pictures, then I am neither a prophet nor the son of a prophet."

"Like 'Peter Pan,' 'Huckleberry Finn,' and 'The Prince and the Pauper,' it is a play for little men and women and those over-grown children we call adults. It is fantastic, humorous, pathetic, romantic, thought-evoking—but never mawkish or commonplace."

This is the sentiment of Benjamin de Casseres, the famous dramatic critic, regarding "Sentimental Tommy," the Paramount picture which comes to the Temple theatre for two days, starting today.

It is an intensely gripping and fascinating story without a villain, a cabaret scene, a death scene, a vamp, a pistol, a repentant chorus girl, or any of the stock "shots" of moviedom. It tells the tale of a lad who, in the quaint Scotch village of Thrums, lived in a world of brave imaginings. Who walked with his head in the skies and found a hundred foes to fight for his "lady fair."

But this lady fair was only a painted lady's child—a little wistful lass who "wanted so to be respectable." And as the years go by—then comes maturity and the culmination of a beautiful romance.

A cast which contains many of the best names on the screen, as well as the most suitable for their respective roles, is the combination in the picture.

In the title role is Gareth Hughes, a young Welsh actor whose brilliant histrionic ability has made him one of the best juveniles of the stage, and who was unanimously suggested for the trying role of "Tommy," May McAvoy, Mabel Taliaferro, George Fawcett, and Kate Davenport make up the balance of the unusual cast.

PRIEST TELLS STORY OF BIG BOND PLOT

In Tears Father Gorek Testifies He Buried Most of $85,000 Lost

TOLEDO, June 22.—Anthony Gorek, priest of an impoverished Polish parish at New Mexico, Ind., a native of Germany, who is under indictment for conspiracy in connection with the theft of a million dollars at the Central postoffice here Feb. 27, was to be cross-examined today on the story he told a federal jury yesterday, in which he declared he was brought into the plot by Wanda Urbaytis, one of the eighteen defendants now on trial.

The priest, in non-clerical garb, related his life's history to the jury in a voice choked with grief, and then involved two of his former flock in the conspiracy alleged by the government.

Father Gorek, explaining how he spent the money obtained from cashing a $1,000 bond, declared his parishioners were starving. He said he put the money in the bank, and then bought $55 worth of candles for his church and distributed the rest for expenses and necessities of his parish.

He paid three sisters their monthly allowance of $75 a month out of the money, he said.

The witness testified that he buried most of the $85,000 in stolen bonds, which he alleged were given him by Urbaytis, sent $1,000 to his brother in Germany, and gave three bonds to John Paulek, a parishioner, and a defendant.

TEXANS SPEND HUGE SUM IN OTHER STATES

Fifty Thousand Take $8,000,000 Yearly to Out-of-the-State Resorts.

DALLAS, June 23.—Fifty thousand Texas vacationists spend annually $8,000,000 or more of Texas money at out-of-state resorts, according to figures of the Texas Chamber of Commerce publicity department, which propounds the following questions to such seekers of far away places of recreation:

Do you want salt water swimming and fishing?

Then remember that Texas has the third longest coast-line of any state in the union; that it is indented with bays from the Rio Grande to the Sabine, affording protected fishing grounds for the amateur sailor who would spend his days in a "cat rig" or motor boat. Further that it is one of the best fishing areas in North America and has unexcelled bathing beaches.

Want altitude?

Then Texas has a whole plateau which is practically as high and as beautiful as the Yellowstone Park. The chambers of commerce of the Trans-Pecos region have started a movement for a state park in that section of the country, and have already made provisions to take care of tourists in the Davis mountains and surrounding country.

TEXAS LABOR SITUATION IS MUCH BETTER

DALLAS, June 23.—The labor situation in Texas has grown steadily better during the past few weeks, and the employment of thousands of idle laborers should have a good effect upon general business conditions within a short while, according to the Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The early opening of the harvest season in West and Northwest Texas has been the chief cause of the betterment of labor conditions. Numerous calls for farm labor have been received by the Texas Chamber of Commerce during the past few days from the grain growing sections of the state and the exodus of idle laborers to this section has greatly relieved conditions around the larger cities of the state.

Advices from the Mexican consuls at Dallas, Oklahoma City and Kansas City, from which points Mexicans were being repatriated by the Mexican government recently, state that the surplus of labor has practically disappeared. Roy Miller of Corpus Christi, secretary of the Rural Labor Owners' association, also states that the early cotton crop of South Texas will demand a large number of laborers within a short time.

COTTON TO BREMEN INCREASES STEADILY

WASHINGTON, June 23.—During the first three months of the present year arrivals of cotton in Bremen amounted to 300,639 bales, being for the most part cotton already sold and contracted for during the fall months. The corresponding period of 1920 shows the importations amounting to 40,455 bales, as reported by Consul Stewart, with the American mission, and consisted chiefly of shipments consigned to Bremen representatives of American houses.

WHILE CONGRESS

DAWDLERS.

Congress has been in session for more than two months. Beyond passing again a few measures left over from the Sixty-sixth congress what has it done? What has it accomplished in that solution of pressing problems to which it is pledged?

The Fordney emergency tariff bill was a sham and a fraud, put through for political effect. It was never calculated to profit the farmers, who had parted with the bulk of their crops, but speculators and traders. Few Republican senators and representatives pretended that it would do what had been claimed for it.

The new immigration law in the first week of its operation was shown to be both unjust and unworkable and to call for immediate radical revision. It was a purely theoretical solution that took no account of practical difficulties easy to foresee. It is an absurdity on its face, as was proved by conditions at Ellis Island during the first week in June. It exposes congress to ridicule for its ignorance of the shipping and passenger business.

The Knox peace resolution was repudiated by the house, which instead passed the Porter Peace resolution. A deadlock has resulted which may eventually be ended by some patch-up compromise for the sake of appearances. But how far even then will this nation have travelled along the road to an honorable peace? What is to be the next step? Does anyone know?

The naval appropriation bill and the army appropriation bill only bring in to relief differences between the house and senate. There is sincere, determined effort toward general retrenchment, toward the lightening of taxation, toward the reduction of the enormous cost of war preparations. Expenditures are to be maintained on the old scale of extravagance and reckless waste, while trade and industry languish and unemployment spreads in widening circles. When is the day of relief, so often promised and so long postponed, to come? What is congress doing to hasten its arrival? For over two months it has been shuffling, marking time, without revealing any clear purpose. It has been drifting aimlessly, irresolute, without competent leadership, without a concerted programme of legislation and without any settled plan for righting a situation that threatens disaster.

If the present congress is to do the work for which it was professedly elected, if it is to give a new direction to the current affairs, if it is to restore normalcy and foster more business in government, it must speedily change its habits. It needs to drop politics and the patronage game. It needs to settle down seriously to its task. It needs to score a few points if only to keep up the spirits of the Republican cheer leaders. They are losing heart.

Democratic senators had a holiday this week rehearsing the empty record of Republican achievements. Their criticisms had been anticipated by Republican spokesmen in the house and senate. The Republican press has been manifesting its impatience that so little progress has been made. President Harding, Washington reports agree, no longer conceals his impatience because of the delay and confusion on domestic issues. Yet congress persists in squandering the resources of the American people, in piling up appropriations by hundreds of millions, in schemes for federal highway systems, in swollen armaments, and $5,000,000,000 bonus raids. The times call for severe retrenchment, and there is no honest effort at retrenchment; for immediate attention to problems of revenue and taxation, and nothing has been done. Congress has revealed neither the intelligence nor the courage to handle the problems that must be handled without delay to avert national disaster. It pays no heed to the growing chorus of protestations. It is not even awake to the danger that it invites through its incompetence. In the face of earnest remonstrances from all sides it confounds its incapacity.—New York World.

TINKER BOB STORIES

By CARLYSLE H. HOLCOMB.

THE FINEST EGGS IN THE FOREST.

Tinker Bob had seen so many friends that he nearly forgot what he was going to do. He started out to see Three Legs the Muskrat. So away he went leaving Mr. and Mrs. Sandpiper happy in their home by the side of the brook. He felt that he must hurry a bit so he cut across the meadow to shorten the distance. Close by the place where the brook empties into the river there lives a great Oak tree by the side of a marshy place. While Tinker was still a great way off he heard a familiar voice. "Quong-karee! Quong-karee!" Perhaps the sound would not be familiar to you but it was the King of the Forest. It came right from the great Oak tree, and there is no other song like it in all the forest. It was the voice of Redwing, the Blackbird.

As soon as Tinker Bob appeared in sight Redwing left his high perch in the old Oak and flew down to light among the burbrushes of the marsh. As he flew the King could see the beautiful red patches on the bend of each wing, by which Redwing gets his name. "No one would ever take him for another," thought Tinker Bob, "for there is none other that has such a beautiful wing." "Oh King, I have been kept here so close to the burbrushes that I don't know what is going on out in the forest. Tell me something new," cried Redwing as he flew over close to Tinker.

VAGRANT OF THE AIR.

It was easier to imagine a world transformed by the use of airplanes before there were any airplanes than it is in these rather solemn post-war days when most of the famous aviators have managed to get themselves killed on the flying field or have gone out of the business and bought houses in the suburbs. When the plane was first invented man was so dazzled at the thought of flying at all that he thought leaped a century ahead of the game; he saw the earth as a prosaic taking-off place and envisioned traffic in the air, picnics on the moon, excursions to Mars.

SHIPPING BOARD MAY HELP PHILIPPINES TO ESTABLISH TRAFFIC

MANILA, P. I., June 22.—If the planters and the Insular government of the Philippines will co-operate in the project, the United States shipping board is prepared to inaugurate a steamship service to small ports of the Visayan and the southern islands of the Philippine archipelago, that will put shippers in direct touch with their markets abroad by means of through bills of lading.

With a view to inaugurating such a steamship service, Joseph P. Marias, head of the shipping board in the Philippines, has just completed a trip to the southern ports, including those of Mindanao. "One important thing required for the development of these smaller ports," said Mr. Marias, "is a dock-building plan. Instead of dribbling small appropriations out to these places from year to year, which are too small for the undertaking of adequate projects each year, a larger sum should be spent to construct a dock and provide facilities at one port."

Mr. Marias assured the planters in the vicinity of Davao, the principal port of southern Mindanao, that if the service is once started by the shipping board, it would be continued indefinitely. He said he would regard it as a feeder for deep water ships, similar to routes which have been tentatively established in China.

It has four of the finest eggs in it that were ever laid in the forest."

and I are great friends you know." Tinker Bob knew of nothing else that would be new so he asked: "Will you build a nest this spring Redwing, here in the marsh?" "No," replied Redwing. "I'm not going to build a nest, you see Mrs. Redwing and I have a nest already." "Of course I should have known that," said Tinker Bob. "That's right," sounded another voice and Mrs. Redwing alighted near the King also.

RECORD CATCHES OF RED SNAPPER BEING MADE AT GALVESTON

GALVESTON, June 23.—Record catches of red snapper are rewarding the little fleet of fishing smacks which ply between this port and the Campeche banks of Mexico. Recently the Areas, commanded by Captain Tom Kent, brought in port a haul of 37,000 pounds. His vessel has been out less than a month.

Four other smacks, which arrived in port about the same time, carried a joint catch of about 85,000 pounds of red snapper. The catch brought in by the Areas is the record for the past twelve months, although on two occasions last year Captain Kent's little schooner crept across the bar with over 40,000 pounds of fish aboard.

The snapper fleet generally gets its catch on the Campeche banks, but when only a short voyage is desirable, the little vessels fish off the Port Aransas banks or near Tampico. These fishing grounds, however, are never so plentiful in yield as are those of Campeche.

The average crew of the fishing smacks is ten men and the little vessels remain at the fishing grounds from 25 to 30 days in completing their haul. As soon as a shoal is sighted the little schooners tack and maneuver to come up to it as speedily as possible and from that time on all hands aboard except the cook are busily engaged in casting lines and pulling in their catch. Every member shares in proportion to the amount of the catch, the captain getting the largest, the cook second largest, and the remainder of the catch divided equally among the men. The red snapper are shipped to mid-west cities as far north as Chicago.

CHURCHMAN-LAWYER SAYS FOLKS ARE LOW-DOWN AND IMMORAL AND WORLDLY, BUT OTHERWISE ARE O. K.

By Associated Press. DES MOINES, Ia., June 22.—The year of 1921 marks a "crisis of the ages," the Hon. Ernest L. Tustin, president of the Northern Baptist convention, and a well known lawyer of Philadelphia, declared today in his opening address at the fourteenth annual convention of Northern Baptists in session in this city.

He laid emphasis upon the "great extravagances in living," the "deplorable lowering of morals in our social life," the "moral degeneration and let-down in the habits of our young people," the "morals in our local politics perhaps lower than ever before," and the "non-church-going and non-religious people, whose knowledge of the sacraments is chiefly confined to those of marriage and of death" as evidence of such a crisis. There is, he declared, "a clear, distinct call throughout the land for the unification of all forces of Christianity to consider the great questions confronting the political, business and religious world."

Money Mad. "Countless thousands of our people are running beyond their means, and living without the economic care and saving of our forefathers," Mr. Tustin said. "There has come into the minds of the many a desire for equality of condition. In business lines, the whole assumption seems to be—get money; get it honestly if possible; but get money. In our local politics the morale is lower perhaps today than ever before. In nearly every city of our country the word of the boss is supreme."

As an evidence of the lowering of our social morals, Mr. Tustin cites the "terrible indictment" of young women, contained in the advice recently given by another denomination, which charged them not to swear, to give up drinking, quit gambling, refrain from immodest dress, and stop joy riding. He said that there was an "equal moral degeneration and let-down in the habits of our young men."

The Only Cure. "The cure, he said, can come only by united effort of all Protestantism." The marked decrease in church membership, he said, while fraternal and worldly organizations are increasing in membership, is due to the fact that "the great lack in the followers of Christianity of the present day is that we do not possess the fervor, the heart-thrills, which characterized the Christianity of a century ago. We allow worldly affairs to crowd out our devotion and loyalty to our religious life."

Better Sunday schools and Bible schools would counteract the moral let-down among young people today, he declared. He urged the Northern Baptists to sustain and develop the twenty-two colleges and forty-three schools of the denomination, and to earnestly strive for the religious education of all our people, from the cradle to the grave. He also urged the practice of tithing upon the denomination. "Let us try humbly, prayerfully, and sincerely with the opening of this convention to inaugurate a tremendous forward movement for another Pentecost," he said in closing.

FARMERS WILL GET STORE OF WAR EXPLOSIVE

More Than 12,000,000 Pounds of Picric Acid Will Be Distributed for Fertilizer

WASHINGTON, June 22.—More than 12,000,000 pounds of picric acid, one of the highest known explosives, accumulated for war purposes and made useless to the war department by the armistice, will be distributed to farmers for agricultural purposes.

When the war ended the army had on hand this immense stock of picric acid and in addition more than 26,000,000 pounds of T. N. T. The latter was distributed to various governmental agencies for use in railroad construction in Alaska, public roads in the national parks and various projects on Indian reservations. None of the T. N. T. was distributed to individuals and thus far not a single accident has marked the use or transportation of the millions of pounds of the high explosive, according to officials of the Bureau of Mines.

The question of what to do with the 12,000,000 pounds of picric acid puzzled the government officers for some time and the War Department had almost decided to tow the explosive out to sea and dump it overboard in the interests of the public safety when it was decided to institute a series of experiments in an effort to find some safe commercial use for it. The experiments were conducted by the Bureau of Mines and discovered many ways in which picric acid could be used safely and profitably on farms, such as in blasting out stumps and rocks and breaking up land. It was accordingly decided to free of charge to farmers.

HAWAIIANS PLAN TO LENGTHEN THEIR LIVES

HONOLULU, T. H., June 22.—Hawaii, generally regarded as members of a fast dying race, may foil the efforts of the grim reaper to wipe them from the face of the earth and make of themselves a strong power in future history if they strive for sturdy mental, physical and spiritual development, according to Dr. H. E. Gregory, director of the Bishop museum here and an authority on the Polynesian peoples.

Dr. Gregory, who made this statement before a gathering of the Daughters of Hawaii, declared that the death or life of the race is "up to the Hawaiians themselves." He pointed to the Navajo population of 30,000. Dr. Gregory added: "Other Polynesian peoples are increasing in number and civilization, and there is no reason why the Hawaiians should not do the same if they can be brought to believe in themselves."

Close to four million dollars worth of postage was used in the U. S. in 1920.

NO QUARTER BEING SHOWN IN IRISH WAR

Both Sides Charge Other Is Waging Warfare of Assassination.

By CHAS. McCANN. United Press Staff Correspondent. LONDON, June 22.—Is there a secret murder gang in Ireland that, ignoring every law of warfare, or even civilization adds terror to the fight between Sinn Fein and the British government?

Both sides of the war in Ireland have charged for a year that the other is engaged in a warfare of unreasoning assassination.

Every few days in Ireland someone is found dead, after mutilation, in a field or in a road; or someone is taken from his or her home at midnight and left a bloody corpse within gunshot of terror-stricken relatives.

Assassination in Ireland include men, women and children; every stage of life from childhood to old age. There is never a murder but one side or the other—sometimes both—denounces the crime as a final proof of the other's brutality.

Armed men recently took a young Ulster woman from her home, in the middle of the night, and shot her near by, leaving on her body a sign: "Convicted spy. Traitors beware. I. R. A."

A fake Sinn Fein "Bulletin" was published, giving what purported to be a Sinn Fein apology for the crime.

Armed men also recently took a couple of Southern Irish Sinn Fein officials from their wives' arms and shot them.

Sir Hamar Greenwood, in a subsequent speech in the House of Commons, charged that the men—known to be Republican leaders—were shot by their own men because they were peaceable.

A week ago, two women were killed when automobiles in which they were driving with their husbands—police officials whom Sinn Fein was known to have blacklisted—were ambushed. The authorities denounced the acts as atrocious. Sinn Fein, in an official statement declared the police and military in Ireland, "waging a ruthless war which the British government has publicly acknowledged to be a war," cannot fight Sinn Fein in the morning and at night as ride about openly in automobiles with their wives in the afternoon.

There is no other term than war for the fight in Ireland. But it is war without a parallel—consisting of open fights, open lootings, open official incendiarism, ambushes and cold-blooded murder that respects neither age nor sex.

Each side can explain without apparent embarrassment its own acts—or if it cannot explain them disclaims them.

MEXICAN GOVERNMENT AIDS ITS SOLDIERS

JUAREZ, Mexico, June 23.—Mexican soldiers, as well as relatives of their dead comrades, are being aided by the Mexican government.

The government is establishing soldiers on farms when they are discharged from the army, according to reports received at military headquarters in Juarez. Ten colonies have been organized in Tamaulipas. Immediate attention to the pension claims of relatives of soldiers killed on battlefields was ordered by President Alvaro Obregon, through the war department. The order said that pension claimants should be given immediate attention and supplied with necessary information, thus avoiding the complaints made by pension solicitors that their affairs are not carefully and speedily investigated.

G. O. P. AT WAR OVER TARIFF ON LUMBER

Fordney of Ways and Means Committee Threatens to Disrupt Party.

By BASCOM N. TIMMONS, Times Washington Correspondent.
 WASHINGTON, June 23.—Republican unity is more seriously threatened than at any other time in the past ten years due to the insistence of Chairman Fordney of the ways and means committee and other leaders supported by President Harding upon a countervailing tariff on lumber. This was freely admitted today among Republicans at the capitol, who are having the situation brought close to them by the tariff bill now being written by Republicans on the ways and means committee.

Today's developments point to the calling of a special conference of Republicans in a very few days to discuss Schedule 1 (lumber); that is, to demand information from Chairman Fordney as to what his committee proposes to do with it. The conference will be the means also of serving notice on Republican leaders that there is considerable strength that will be turned against them if they insist on the lumber policy favored by Mr. Fordney and on which he is seeking the approval of President Harding.

High protectionists believe they will command enough support to put through their plan when the conference is resumed. They think enough Republicans will stand by the administration to spike the guns of the group organizing to fight them. The party has a majority of 170 or more, and leaders claim they do not fear any combination that may be forged with Democrats. It was such a union twelve years ago that brought about the split in the Republican ranks.

Karding's Theory.
 President Harding believes that the executive should have power to make bartering tariff arrangements with other nations. He is for the broad principle of reciprocal arrangements in trade dealings with other countries. There is nothing in the president's position that indicates anything but a voluntary institution of such arrangements is desired. The administration has taken no position that would commit it to allowing free entry of goods held to be destructive to American industry, but the White House today puts its seal of approval on reciprocity as a general proposition.

This can be construed as indicating that the president approves the principle endorsed by Republican members of the ways and means committee for making countervailing duty on lumber.

GROCCERS CONSIDER MATTER OF CLOSING STORES ON SUNDAY

Ranger groccerymen are seeking to secure an agreement from groccerymen to close their stores all day Sunday. A practice now exists among many of them of keeping their places of business open from three hours to all day. A petition has been circulated and it has been signed by many groccery merchants. The majority of the groccerymen believe that keeping their stores open is neither a benefit to them or the public.

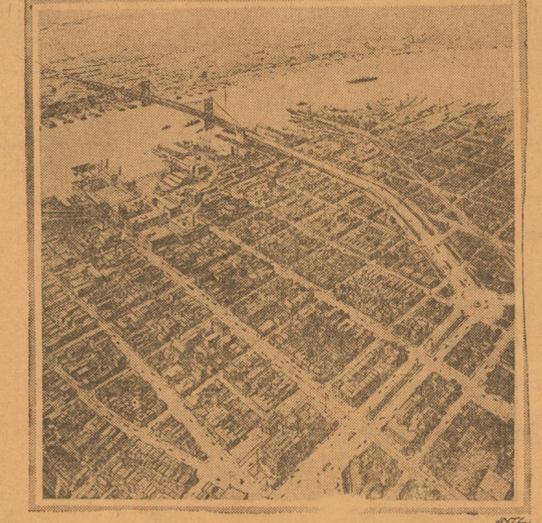

The following firms have signed the petition: Marvey Cash groccery, W. S. Brookes, J. Kelleymen, Esports Bros., Model market, Smith & La Bar, Summers, Mills Bros., Adams & Echols, Sanitary meat market, Z. Cohen, R. L. Jones, Slupp & Son, J. S. Johnston, J. R. Scott, Davenport & Hood and Zed Phillips.

LONGEST SUSPENSION BRIDGE IN WORLD TO CONNECT PHILADELPHIA WITH CAMDEN

A suspension bridge across the Delaware river, linking Philadelphia and Camden, N. J., has been approved by the joint Pennsylvania-New Jersey commission. In addition, there are to be four trolley lines and two ten-foot walks for passengers. The East Main river tower will rise 380 feet above the Delaware river. The span will be 1,750 feet. FATE OF THE 'VANISHED SHIPS' WILL PROBABLY REMAIN A MYSTERY

By United Press.
 WASHINGTON, D. C., June 23.—The fate of the "vanished ships" today threatened to go down in history as one of the unexplained mysteries of the sea.
 Officials of the department of commerce admitted that search for the twentieth century pirate, undertaken after all other theories to explain the disappearance of the half dozen boats off Cape Hatteras failed, so far had produced no results.
 "I have heard many tall yarns of the sea," said Eugene T. Chamberlain, commissioner of navigation, "but in this case the facts are there."

FAMILY'S FORTUNES ARE SHATTERED BY PROHIBITORY LAWS

By Associated Press.
 EL PASO, June 23.—A peculiar incident brought about by prohibition was experienced by an El Paso detective on a street corner at 2 o'clock one morning. An old man and a boy of 20, both ragged and unkempt, stood counting a few coins.
 "What are you doing?" they were asked.
 "We just got in a few minutes ago on a freight from Fort Worth and we are going to Chihuahua to work in the mines," the boy said. "This is my dad and we are not tramps even if we are hobnobbing."
 "It's no disgrace and Maggie, the boy's mother, who died up in the hills of Tennessee wouldn't care. I promised her I would educate the boy," said the old man.
 "Rather a bad way to start, isn't it?" You are making a hobo out of him?" replied the officer.
 "Before the country went dry," the father said, "I made liquor up in the mountains and the boy helped, so he ain't never had no schooling much. We have a friend in Chihuahua and he is going to give us a job. This fall, the boy is going to school, because I promised Maggie I'd send him to school. He didn't want to go to school back in the mountains, and besides I didn't want him to, and besides I couldn't find a job."
 "We had to beat our way, but when we get there I'm going to work and the boy is going to school and we are going to sort of start over." The officer walked on.

NEWCOMER IN FRANKELL POOL WILL DRILL TWO

J. H. Fraser One of Promoters of Northern Texas Petroleum Syndicate.

The Northern Texas Petroleum syndicate is the latest entry into the Frankell pool, which has recently held the limelight in the Ranger field because of the Stewart and Nannie Walker wells.
 This is a new concern, capitalized at $200,000, with Vice-President J. H. Fraser of the Wichita Falls, Ranger & Fort Worth railroad as trustee. It will put down two wells on twenty acres of the Bradford farm, south-east of Frankell and adjoining the Prairie's Ware well and other large producers. This tract lies between the producers south of Frankell and the Stewart-Walker wells east of that town and a successful operation will tend to prove that the two pools link up.
 One rig is up now on the lease and the well will be spudded in next week. Drilling operations of the syndicate, which is formed on the unit plan, will be in charge of A. R. McLennan, who has directed all operations of the late Jake L. Hamon in this field, and who is one of Mr. Fraser's associates.
 Mr. Fraser and his associates also own forty acres directly south of the syndicated tract, which they will drill independently.

MEXICO HIKES DUTY ON COTTON FABRICS

Special to the Times.
 WASHINGTON, June 23.—According to a cablegram from Consul Cornelius Ferris Jr., at Mexico City, the Mexican import duties on all kinds of cotton fabrics have been increased by a degree now effective. These increases range from 2 to 25 centavos per kilo. A few of the notable increases per kilo are as follows:
 Sacks, 18 centavos; cotton cloth, with metal thread, 25 centavos; cotton cloth not specified, with or without a mixture of imitation metal, 25 centavos; unbleached, colored, or white twills, drills, denims, and manta cloth, 8 centavos; and underclothing, 50 centavos to 1 peso.

WAR DEPARTMENT WILL FIRE WOUNDED VETS

Special to the Times.
 WASHINGTON, June 23.—Officers of the National Capital Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars have complained to the war department, it was learned, against the alleged intention of the department to discharge two employes who were wounded in action and maimed for life, while retaining non-service men who are no more efficient.
 One veteran is a guard at the state, war and navy buildings, who lost a leg in the Philippines twenty years ago, and who has two army discharges and two excellent recommendations. The other is a world war veteran who lost a leg and the sight of one eye. He had been notified that he must vacate his position as night telephone operator at the Walter Reed hospital.
 "What has become of the ruling of Secretary of War Wood that the law giving preference to former service men working in the war department over those who were not in the service?" asked George J. Neuner, commander of the National Capital Post, last night. "Both of these disabled veterans are married men and in both cases the officials claim they are being let out on account of lack of funds. Why not let out non-service men? There is but one way to stop this outrageous practice and that is for all veteran organizations to form one big union."

GASOLINE WILL BE GIVEN CORROSION TEST

Special to the Times.
 WASHINGTON, June 23.—The technical committee on standardization of petroleum specification plans an open meeting in the offices of the United States bureau of mines in Washington, Tuesday, July 12, for the consideration of suggested modification and additions to Bulletin 5, which contains the specifications under which governmental purchases of gasoline, kerosene, fuel and lubricating oils are made.
 From the standpoint of oil trade the most important change proposed is the addition of a corrosion test to the specifications for motor gasoline. Some of the gasoline recently purchased has been found to be corrosive, and a test has been proposed to insure against a repetition of the trouble.
 A few new specifications to cover products not now listed in Bulletin 5 have been suggested. Other modifications have been proposed, looking to improvement in the manner of making some of the tests.
 Mr. N. A. C. Smith, petroleum chemist of the bureau of mines, is chairman of the technical committee.

NEW REFINERY WILL BE GIVEN A NAME TODAY

The name of the new refinery which began operations today, under control of G. A. Clements, R. D. Lavery and M. H. Hagaman, will be decided upon today. This plant is the old Odessa refinery, which has been idle for nearly two years, and has been taken over and put in shape by the new concern. It started operation with a crew of twelve men and will handle 1,000 barrels of crude daily, it is expected. It will manufacture kerosene and distillate as well as gasoline. The plant operations will be under the direction of Walter Cash, for years with one of the Standard Oil's largest refineries.

Included in the new firm's business also is a chain of filling stations and supply houses, formerly known as the Ranger Gasoline company, the Graham, Eastland and Breckenridge Gasoline companies. General offices of the new concern will be established at Ranger within a short time. There also is a possibility that the new company will operate the Hagan refinery, which was sold to the Ranger Refining & Pipe Line company but has been idle since that concern went into the hands of a receiver more than a month ago.

BRITISH WOMEN TELL "WHITE LIES" ABOUT AGE

LONDON, June 23.—At least 3,000,000 white lies were told today by British women when they were required to give their ages for the census, according to the opinion of the enumerators.

A $50 fine as the legal penalty for giving a wrong age did not deter the women from "keeping themselves young."

Twelve million census forms were filled out today. King George sent the details of his family from Windsor castle. The other end of the social scale was handled by the police, who toured the arches of all bridges and also the Thames embankment tonight, awakening vagrants and noting them on special forms.

The register general believes that the population of England, Scotland and Wales has increased 2,000,000 since 1911, when the total was 41,000,000.

Ireland is not included in the census this year as the Dail Eireann pronounced a ban against it.

The out and in-door meeting held last night was a semi-annual event. Changes are made every six months, in June and January.

The out-of-town directors were: Col. George Woods, division commander for Southwestern states; commander Steward of Fort Worth and Adjutant Robb of Dallas.

MODERN SCHOOL BEING BUILT ON KANSAS PRAIRIE

GARDEN CITY, Kan., June 22.—What is described as one of the most elaborate consolidated school plants in America has just been dedicated at Holcomb, seven miles west of Garden City on the western Kansas prairie. The plant cost $225,000.

Seven school districts joined to construct the single plant where the pupils may have the advantages of a city school, including manual training, domestic science and scientific training of several varieties. Six one-room schools of the old type and a three-room school at Holcomb were abandoned in favor of the consolidated project.

The pupils are transported to the school by motor busses driven by teachers who receive $20 a month for this extra work. The busses have a capacity of thirty to forty pupils each.

The Holcomb consolidated school district has an area of 124 1/2 square miles. The school population at present is 375. The new plant has a capacity of 650 grade and high school pupils.

The consolidated school group consists of seven buildings in all, with others to be added later, a first-class farm for instruction in practical agriculture, and a large athletic field. In addition to the main high school building and a grade school building, there is a large garage for housing the motor busses, a cottage for the superintendent, and a cottage for the janitor.
