

EX-KAISER'S DAUGHTER-IN-LAW PROUDLY ADMITS IMMORALITY

BERLIN, March 10.—Princess Eitel Friederich, daughter-in-law of the former kaiser, appeared in the Potsdam court Thursday as correspondent in a divorce suit brought by the Baroness Plettenberg. The princess confessed she had known the baron intimately for years and that their relations continued after her marriage to the ex-kaiser's son.

The persons in the court were astonished at the princess' frank confession of guilt.

The charges were in the form of a legal statement which was handed up to the judge.

"Do you swear this statement is true?" asked the court.

The princess laughed as though enjoying a joke as she replied:

"I swear it is true with the greatest of pleasure."

The court was angered by the levity of the princess and the manner in which she treated the charges against her morality.

The presiding judge reprimanded her, telling her that her conduct was not compatible with the dignity of the court.

A letter was introduced which the princess had written to Baron Plettenberg. In it she said:

"You know that I have nothing in common with the man to whom I am married, but you and I have so much to give one another."

Baron Plettenberg was an officer in a guards regiment during the war. Prince Eitel Friederich is the second son of the former German emperor. He was married to Princess Zophie Charlotte, daughter of the Grand Duke Friederich August, of Oldenburg, Feb. 27, 1906. Despite her 42 years, the princess is still a woman of beauty. She has a dashing, vivacious manner.

HOT DOG! CULLUD PARSON READS LIST OF "HELL CATS" AND "SNAKES" DECORATING HIS CONGREGATION

NEW YORK, March 10.—Opposing factions of the Holy Trinity Baptist church, a negro congregation in Brooklyn, marched to court here to tell the story of "a small-sized riot" that followed the alleged action of their pastor, Rev. T. S. Harten, Boston, in ordering to be read at a Sunday vesper service a list of the "hell cats" and "snakes" in his flock.

When the court had handed down a decision, pandemonium reigned in the court room, with women dancing down the aisles and men hurling their hats into the air and clapping their hands.

Testimony showed that Jan. 3, Rev. Dr. Charles D. Patterson had been ousted from the pulpit by injunction, after charges had been filed against him, and that the Boston evangelist—famous for his sermons, "A Hot Day in Hell" and "What the Devil Do You Want?"—had been named as his successor.

Then Mrs. Ella Cheatham, whose husband is chairman of the board of deacons, circulated a paper entitled "Why Rev. Dr. Patterson Is Absent Temporarily From His Pulpit."

Feb. 19, it was alleged, Rev. Mr. Harten ordered the church clerk to read the list of "hell cats" and "snakes" who had signed the petition. Thereupon, to the cheers of supporters and hisses of her opponents, Mrs. Cheatham was alleged to have marched down the aisle, snatched the paper from the clerk's hand and tore it up.

All of which led to John Dickerson, a trustee, and Harten supporter, obtaining a summons for Mrs. Cheatham on a charge of disorderly conduct.

The case was dismissed.

TWELVE SHOTS OF ELECTRICITY TO KILL NEGRO

LITTLE ROCK, March 10.—James Wells, 18, negro murderer, was electrocuted at the state penitentiary here this morning after eleven unsuccessful attempts had been made by an inexperienced electrician to execute him. The twelfth attempt was successful. Going to the chair singing, Wells continued to sing until the first charge had been sent through his body. He was examined by the prison physician and pronounced to be still alive. Another charge was sent through his body with the same result. Witnesses began to leave the death chamber and only a few remained when he was finally pronounced dead. Twenty minutes had been consumed in electrocuting him.

Wells was convicted of killing a farmer and was one of the prisoners who escaped with Tom Slaughter.

TREND AGAINST BONUS BILL IS SEEN IN HOUSE

WASHINGTON, March 10.—What seems to be a decided trend away from the soldiers' bonus has suddenly appeared in the house. Many members, both Republican and Democratic, hitherto favoring immediate passage of the bill, today are reported to have suddenly turned against the measure or at least to have gone into the doubtful class.

House leaders said they saw the change but that the success of the bill was in no wise endangered. The bill, they declared, will pass as scheduled on March 20, and there will be no difficulty in obtaining the two-thirds majority.

SNITCHER IN BOX CAR THEFTS PAYS WITH LIFE

By Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, March 10.—C. A. Barn trope, star witness of the federal authorities in a series of trials of box car theft cases, which were to have started Monday, was shot to death today in the Fort Worth & Denver yards. The killing is a mystery.

Workmen in one of the yard buildings heard several shots and rushed out to find Barn trope dying.

Barn trope was also the star witness in a number of similar cases which were tried sometime ago and resulted in a number of convictions.

Mrs. C. M. Linscott, aged 71, died this morning at her home in the Cooper addition following an illness of more than two years. Mrs. Linscott had been a resident of Ranger for eleven years, coming here from Oklahoma. She is survived by her husband and one sister, Mrs. M. F. Ames.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon under the auspices of the Christian Science church. Burial will be in the Ames family cemetery, a mile and a half south of the city. Funeral arrangements are in charge of the Jones-Cox company.

CONVENTION DELEGATES HEAR PRACTICAL, INSPIRING TALKS

cheese farcie, on saltine wafers; finger rolls, with sliced ham; celery on branch; sweet gherkins, lettuce and tomato salad, with Thousand Isle dressing; vanilla ice cream, macaroons and lady fingers, special cake, cafe noir, candies.

This dinner was attended by the delegates, members of local clubs, Rotarians and their wives, and Retail Merchants and their wives.

After dinner the delegates and others interested in the work reported at the church for the evening program, which was presided over by the state president, Mrs. S. M. N. Marrs, with Rev. A. N. Stubblebine giving the invocation.

Mrs. Gorman favored the audience with two beautiful piano solos, exquisitely rendered, which was followed by a reading, "Sissy," by Mrs. Sandford Terrell. Mrs. R. C. McCoy, accompanied by Mrs. Vincent Wakefield, sang "In Italy" and "Just a Song at Twilight," which quoting Mrs. Marrs, "gave one a touch of grand opera." Mmes. Wakefield, McCoy, Maddocks, Holmsley, Misses Schmuck and Douglas, accompanied by Mrs. Gorman, sang Cadman's "Land of the Sky Blue Water," and "When the Moon Drops Low," which was greatly appreciated.

Limerick on Us.

Miss Katherine Gray, assistant superintendent of public instruction in Texas, delivered a most eloquent address. In the beginning Miss Gray said that Ranger has entertained the Mothers' congress and Parent-Teachers' associations so royally that never again will they think of her as the center of the oil fields, but as a city of homes and of schools. She said that the following limerick was no longer applicable to Ranger, and should be forgotten:

"There's a town in Texas called Ranger That ought to be placarded danger, For there they play oil According to Hoyle, And my, how they take in the stranger."

"But now we are all glad to boost Ranger," she said. "This first visit of mine to the oil fields, the sights of numberless derricks, the throb of their engines and through it all to hear the uncertain throb of the human heart has been an experience I will never forget."

Pleads for Education.

A plea that more money be spent for education was the main point in Miss Gray's address. All over the state, she said, students are clamoring for accredited schools, longer terms and more equipment. This demand, she declared, must be filled if Texas is to have stability along with progress—otherwise, its millions taken from oil and cattle and other resources will be gained at the loss of its children.

Miss Gray complimented Ranger on its taking time to look after its schools during the period of the oil boom. So many places had failed to do this, she said, and the result was the children were being denied their natural heritage of preparation for life.

WIMMEN TO BLAME!

"Wimmenfolks" is said to have been at the bottom of the knock-down-and-drag-out encounter between two negroes yesterday afternoon at the corner of Main and Rusk streets. The fight furnished considerable entertainment until Deputy Constable Ted Hamilton arrived on the scene and arrested both participants. The negroes, giving their names as Alex Glover and George McRobertson, were fined $1 and costs or $12.70 each, by Justice of the Peace Fenlaw.

PARIS, March 10.—The demand of the American government that $241,000,000 due as expenses of the occupation of the Rhineland, must be paid before any reparations payments are made, was presented to the allied financial commission at the meeting here today.

WILLARD PLANS BUYING CIRCUS; NO MORE BOUTS

By United Press.

PONCA CITY, Okla., March 10.—Willard and Jones' three-ring circus. That's the title of a prospective new road show that may be ballooned from coast to coast this summer.

The Willard who would become owner of a circus is none other than "Big Jess," former heavyweight boxing champion, and the Jones is "Col-one!" Jones of Ponca City, Willard's former manager.

Willard admitted to the correspondent that he and Jones were considering purchasing a circuit this spring and touring the country with it. "But," he added, "there's nothing settled on the matter yet."

If Willard's plans materialize, this would not be his first "fling" in the circus game.

The former champion, several pounds heavier than when he was in the ring, tanned by a Kansas sun and hardened to work in the oil fields, declared that for the present, the oil game holds all of his interest.

Willard said he was "absolutely through with the ring," close friends say he has made too much money in the oil game to consider any size purse that might be offered for a match with him as one of the principals.

Woman Back of Every Motor Car Sale These Days

By United Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 10.—The art of motor car salesmanship has simmered down to a plain case of "cherchez le femme," Kansas City dealers declared today.

In other words, according to experts at the recent Kansas City motor show, whose theories are being put into practice successfully, there is a woman behind every automobile sale.

Instances where the average man obtains demonstrations and buys a car on his own judgment are becoming rare, so rare that very few demonstrations are given any more during business hours, it was said. Instead, the car is demonstrated after the average man is through with his day's business and the housewife has the supper dishes washed, so she can have time to go along and supervise the purchase.

Two or three of the larger salesrooms have inaugurated night demonstration forces because of this.

BIG KIDNAPPING PLOT DISCLOSED ON BORDER

By Associated Press.

SAN ANTONIO, March 10.—What is believed to be a huge international kidnaping plot has been uncovered in the investigation of two cases here by various state and federal agencies.

The first case was that of C. E. Courtwright and L. J. Velsit of Houston, who were arrested on a fake warrant from this city and upon being brought here by train were placed in a high-powered motor car and rushed across the border near Laredo. Here they were imprisoned upon trumped-up charges and held for ransom. After being transferred from one prison to another, they finally succeeded in sawing their way out of prison and came back to this country.

The other case is the frustration of an attempt to kidnap Gen. Francisco Murguia, living near here. One of the plotters disclosed the plan to Murguia and guards were thrown around his place.

Following an investigation in the last six days, it is believed the work is that of a highly organized band and a certain political significance attached to the work of the plotters. No arrests have been made although investigation is being made on both sides of the border.

Quilty at the age of ten was packing spikes in the mills and has been working ever since without being once late to work. His length of service is the longest of any of the corporation's 4,700 pensioners.

GIRL DETECTIVE ON THE TRAIL OF GIRL BANDITS

WASHINGTON, March 10.—"The girl detective versus the girl bandit." Under this title is developing a chapter in the history of crime and its detection and punishment in the United States. Nearly 100 girls and women are on the rolls of the department of justice as deputy United States marshals.

Having provided herself with a repeating rifle and a revolver, a 22-year-old girl at Syracuse assisted a man in holding up a taxicab and later a storekeeper. The girl stood off the police while her companion made good his escape. She was captured but the male bandit got away.

In every section of the United States women accelerating the crime wave, are being forced to appear in courts to defend themselves against criminal charges.

Women bootleggers are making difficult the enforcement of the Volstead law. On the borders they are smuggling liquor into the United States, and in the cities women are arrested frequently for distilling and selling liquor. Homes for the detention of women criminals inclined are crowded in many cities. Police in New York and other large centers make arrests daily of numbers of women.

With women both enforcing and violating the law a criminal war within the limits of sex is developing. The stage is set to put to practical test the formula of "Set a woman to catch a woman."

Women sworn in as deputy United States marshals are ordinarily not employed in active field work. Although they have the full power to make arrests—that goes with the commission—in most cities where they have been commissioned they are detailed to work as clerks of marshals. The rapidity with which women are taking to violating the law, however, will lead to the employment of members of the sex in active detective work.

Police chiefs of most large cities have proved the efficiency of women for police duties of specified character. In Washington women who belong to the police force are detailed to work that involves contact with children and adult females. In other cities the same plan is in operation.

Women commissioned as deputy United States marshals might well be employed in the detection and arrest of female gamblers, it is pointed out. Gambling, race betting and other forms of wagering that are contrary to law are being indulged in generally by women in so-called tea rooms and candy kitchens. In one mid-western city police recently raided a women's rendezvous disguised as a luncheon club, where liquor was being served and gambling with cards was going on.

DOG REFUSES TO DESERT BURNING HOME HE WAS LEFT TO GUARD

"Jackie" and "Miss Mackey."

"Jackie," Atlanta's hero dog, is popular today because he refused to desert the Georgia home of his master, W. E. Mackey, when flames threatened the structure. "Jackie" had been left to guard the place, and he stuck to his post until firemen arrived and extinguished the flames. But "Jackie" was severely burned. In this picture he is shown in the arms of "little Mistress Mackey," after being given the best of medical attention.

CANDY MAN'S DIRTY SOX KEPT IN SHOW CASE

DALLAS, March 10.—The stifling odor of unwashed feet oozing from a dainty box of chocolate candy led to the arrest of the proprietor of a confectionery store here Thursday.

A bobbed-haired blonde who received the candy from her "steady," complained to the authorities. Investigation revealed a pair of dirty sox neatly tucked in the showcase with the candy. The proprietor pleaded placing them so that he would not forget to give them to the laundry man.

"Thin as your whipped cream," said the judge. "Fifty dollars and costs." The candy man paid and removed the offensive pedal coverings from the showcase.

SUNNY SKIES IN PANHANDLE AFTER STORM

By Associated Press.

AMARILLO, March 10.—Following one of the most severe storms of recent years, which yesterday and last night swept over the Panhandle, Eastern New Mexico and Western Oklahoma, this section today was digging itself out. A snowfall of from four to seven inches is reported in various parts of the territory and temperatures were reported from 20 to 24 degrees.

The storm had passed this morning and with clear skies and rising temperature the snow is melting.

A high wind piled up drifts which interfered with traffic and service in and out of Amarillo yesterday and last night was badly hampered. Livestock did not suffer, due to the short duration of the storm and generally high temperatures.

ORGANIZING FOR BEAUTY.

That Ranger needed a clean-up this spring, just as any normal town needs a clean-up, is amply evidenced by the fact that 200 or more loads of trash were hauled to the city dump.

That it will need another clean-up next year is equally certain, for during the winter, with its atmospheric incursions on outdoor activity, there is a worldwide tendency to let things drag and leave cleaning up until the spring sun and balmy breezes draw people into the outdoors.

However, it seems a pity—as it did last year and as it perhaps will next year—that the work will not be continued through the summer. What has become of the "war gardens," so popular and seemingly so worth while a few years ago? What about the city beautiful movement, that has turned many towns into bowers of flowers?

These, it seems, should be beneficial here. Why not have an intracity beauty contest this year, with the army of school children as shock troops against neglect and squalor? Gardens on vacant lots would pay in dollars and cents. Flower plots of vacant lots would make neighborhoods more attractive. Suppose there was given a prize for each school subdivision, and individual prizes were also given in each? This would promote a spirit of rivalry in which all could win, whether or not they took a prize. For the work would bring its own reward in beauty; the prizes would be merely an incentive to competition.

Why shouldn't some organization back such a movement? It would take work, but with proper organization and pushing, the results would be a laurel wreath on the brow of any civic body.

Our guess is that the Republicans will keep on experimenting with new taxes until they find one that will have to be paid entirely by Democrats.—Dallas News.

COLLEGE WILL MOVE TO CISCO FROM MIDLAND

CISCO, March 10.—The trustees of Midland Christian college at Midland, Texas, have accepted a proposition offered by the city of Cisco and, with the sanction of the educational board of the Texas Christian Church organization, the college will be located in Cisco before the beginning of the next school year, in September.

The city proposes to expend about $50,000 in repairing and equipping the old Britton college property, one and one-half miles north of town, to be used by the Midland college free from rent for a period of ten years, at the end of which time the school will obtain a deed to the property, now consisting of 100 acres of ground and three buildings, the main school building and two dormitories.

BABY'S BODY FOUND IN THICKET NEAR BRECK

BRECKENRIDGE, March 10.—The body of an infant girl, wrapped in a blanket, was found yesterday by children playing in a thicket a half mile northeast of town, according to a physician the child had been dead at least three days.

The sheriff's department is making an investigation.

AN EXAMPLE OF TAX EXEMPTION.

A probate court fight among the heirs of James J. Hill and Mrs. Hill has been on of late in St. Paul. The row has been over the appointment of an administrator for Mrs. Hill's estate of $12,000,000. But that is only incidental here. The significant point of public interest is that Louis W. Hill, former business adviser for Mrs. Hill, testified that beginning in 1916 and continuing until 1919, he disposed of heavily taxed securities held by his principal, substituting therefor tax free holdings, and in this way increased her annual income from $365,000 to $730,000 a year; that is he doubled net returns.

Here is a concrete example of the working of the tax exempt bond evil anybody can understand at a glance. In a single instance, in the case of a personal fortune which is surpassed by several in Michigan which have been similarly invested, a little shrewd readjustment has withdrawn $365,000 annually from the reach of the tax gatherers.

But the money thus lost to the public treasuries must be found somewhere, so the burden is shifted to business enterprises, to people who are obliged to work for their livings, to the widow with a cottage instead of a palace.

If the case of the estate of Mrs. Hill were an isolated one the matter would not be worth mentioning. But unfortunately it is typical of hundreds of other cases. A good many billions of dollars are tied up in tax exempt securities in this country. Figure very conservatively on the basis of what was done with the estate of Mrs. Hill by expert handling, and the extra weight of taxation placed in consequence on the shoulders of those whose property enjoys no exemptions becomes appalling. It runs into the hundreds of millions, possibly into the billions annually. It easily makes the difference between a situation in which the nation could handle its financial problems easily, and the present very difficult economic condition.—Detroit Free Press.

DOG HILL PARAGRAPHS By GEORGE BINGHAM

The canary bird of Miss Flutie Belcher has not been looking well here of late, but is feeling better since she takes it and the cage out for a walk every morning.

Clab Hancock says he can vividly recall the days of the dim and dusty past when a man could buy a cigar and feel deep down in his heart that the man behind the counter was not watching out of the corner of his eye to see that he didn't take over one or two matches.

Poke Eazley is laid up this week with pneumonia, and is worse today since several neighbors have come in and recalled that they had relatives to pass out with the same ailment.

HARVEY CHURCH, MURDERER, MENTALLY DEAD, IS CARRIED TO GALLOWES

Carrying Church to Gallows. (MPL)

(Copyright by Examiner-American Pub. Co.) Harvey Church, convicted murderer of Carl Asmus and Bernard Daugherty, automobile salesmen, was "mentally dead" when he went to his death on the gallows at Chicago. His case knows no parallel in the history of Chicago. For forty days he remained silent and for several weeks prior to his execution he had carried on a self-imposed fast. So weak was Church at the hour of his doom that he was strapped to a chair and bodily carried to the scaffold. Church's body was cremated and the ashes sent to Adams, Wis., his boyhood home.

WOMAN MAYOR OF OHIO TOWN HAS BLACK EYE

FAIRPORT, O., March 10.—Dr. Amy Kaukonen, mayor of Fairport, was attacked by an unidentified man who struck her in the face with his fist, discoloring her eye and then escaped. Announcement of the attack was made today by village authorities, who are hunting for the assailant.

The attack took place in Dr. Kaukonen's professional office at her home, where the man is said to have opened an argument with the mayor regarding the village's new license ordinance, regulating soft drink parlors and pool rooms.

"You are going too far in this bootleg business," the man is said to have asserted.

"I do not care to discuss the matter with you. You will please leave," the mayor is reported to have answered.

As she turned away the man struck her and ran. Police were not informed of the attack until today.

Dr. Kaukonen recently conducted a campaign to rid the village of bootleggers. She has postponed court hearings scheduled for tomorrow morning and other occasions for her public appearance.

By Associated Press.

CHILDRESS, Texas, March 10.—Joe Eudy, living eight miles south of Childress reports that doctors believe his little boy, who has been unconscious since Monday, when he was injured in an unusual manner, will recover.

The youngster was playing with a cow, holding her tail, when his hand became caught in the hair and the boy was dragged half a mile before Mrs. Eudy, chasing the exhausted animal with a knife, severed the tail.

AN ASPHALT WELL!

ARDMORE, Okla., March 10.—To be the only well of its kind in this country is believed to be the distinction of a test owned by William J. Scott, and which is producing asphalt in paying quantities. The well is located on the Price farm, near the center of section 35-1s-2e, Murray county, two miles north of the town of Dougherty, and in the heart of the Arbuckle mountains.

The well was started four years ago, but not completed until 1920. Its production, which is coming from a depth of 1,175-1,268 feet, consist of 92 per cent pure asphalt, and 1/2 per cent to 1 per cent water, with the remaining percentage consisting of lubricating oils. GIRL SURVIVES TEMPERATURE OF 114 DEGREES

By Associated Press.

BRISTOL, Eng., March 10.—The extraordinary figure of 114 degrees Fahrenheit was the recorded temperature of a girl here, who was suffering from the grip.

When first summoned to see the girl the physician said he was astonished to find that his clinical thermometer recorded a temperature of 112 degrees but, thinking that the thermometer was out of order, he requisitioned two others only to find that they both recorded the same high point.

During the night the patient's temperature advanced two degrees. Appropriate treatment was at once applied, the girl's temperature gradually subsided to normal or thereabouts, and she is now stated to be in perfect health.

Medical journals here do not record an instance of such temperature being followed by the patient's recovery.

INDUSTRIES PREPARE FOR LONG COAL STRIKE

By Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, O., March 10.—Large consumers of coal in the Cleveland district are piling up stocks of fuel sufficient to carry them through a two or three months period if the threatened strike of coal miners goes into effect.

Railroads and public utilities companies have large supplies on hand, the Cleveland Electric Illuminating company having a three months supply on hand, despite the fact that they burn nearly fifty carloads a day.

Coal operators and dealers say central power stations and water works all over Ohio are building up their coal piles to withstand a three months suspension of mining.

OIL MAN KILLED IN ELEVATOR SHAFT FALL

TULSA, Okla., March 10.—John F. Noble, 24, secretary-treasurer of the Charles F. Noble Oil Sales company, was killed here Thursday when he fell eight stories down an elevator shaft in a building. How the accident occurred is not known. A woman who had stepped out of the elevator with him said she saw him leave the car, but that when she turned to speak to him an instant later he was missing. His body was found a few minutes later in the basement.

FLAPPERANTO ECHOES IN COLLEGE HALLS! ENGLISH DEAD LANGUAGE

By CARL VICTOR LITTLE, (United Press Staff Correspondent.)

CHICAGO, March 10.—Flapperanto—the dialect of the modern girl—has made English a dead language.

English speaking introductors on the campus of Northwestern or Chicago universities probably would have this same experience:

"Ooh—" flapperanto the co-ed, "I lost my mad money."

"Lost what?"

"My mad money. I had it squirreled in my locket."

"Meaning which?"

After resorting to every mode of expression from Sanscrit to the Sign Language, it was discovered the 1921 girl always "squirrels," or hides, a few dollar bills known as "mad money."

Thus, the independent maid need not walk home in case she becomes angry with her escort at a dance. She just takes her mad money, calls a taxi and leaves Apollo flat on the wax.

Noah Webster, if he visited flapperland, could get enough words—synonyms and antonyms included—to compile a $25 dictionary.

Abridged edition of flapperanto follows:

BUTTON SHINING—Close dance

ing or achieving the same effect without the music.

MUGGING MATCH—A putting engagement; to spark; to spoon.

NECKING PARTY—See mugging match.

PASH STUFF—Emotional torridity.

JEWELERS—Flappers who measure college success by the number of fraternity pins they collect.

MONOGS—Taken from the old English "monogamist," referring to the male or female student who plays with but one person of the opposite sex.

SERAPH—Girl who likes to be kissed—but not recently.

OWL—Flapper who cuts class and is only seen at night at dances and parties—usually wise enough to get high grades in academic work.

SWIFT'S PREMIUM—Clumsy flapper; wall flower; a ham.

FEATURE—To see; e. g.—"I can't feature him for the darkness"—anon.

PUNCHING THE BAG—Act of a man who chats with a girl and keeps on chatting; gymnasium term perhaps referring to the social finesse of a dumbbell.

HOLIHOLY—Flapper who won't indulge in mugging match.

HOLAHOLY—Made of holiholy.

DUDD—Profound student of books—not flappers.
GROUND GRIPPER—Female form of dudd.
BABY GRAND—Corn fed co-ed.
POCKET TWISTER—Girl who sats, dances and drinks up all of a nan's spare change.
STRUGGLE—A dance.
PILL—A professor.
GG—refers to a man; coded form of the English expression "gullible roof; which speaks for itself—but he doesn't."
