THREE NEGROES BURNED BY KIRVEN MOB

CEREMONIES TO MARK START ON NEW HI SCHOOL

Students Now Arranging Program for Ground Breaking Monday.

A formal program is being arranged by the High school students and faculty for the breaking of ground Monday for the new High school building by Henger & Chambers, general contractors of Dallas. The program as completed today includes the participation of Miss Myrtle Clemmer, president of the senior class, and Tom Alworth, captain of next year's football team. Miss Clemmer will guide the plow that breaks the ground and Alworth will drive the team. There will be singing by the entire school and short speeches will be made by officials of the school board and others.

The new High school building will be rushed to completion by the opening of school next fall. The location of the new building on the school property will be nearer the center than the present building and does not lap over the ground now occupied as at first announced.

PRESIDENT MUM ABOUT VIEWS ON NEW BONUS BILL

WASHINGTON, May 6.—President Harding after conferring with the senate finance committee today withheld his decision on the soldier bonus legislation until he can study the various plans proposed.

The McCumber plan was presented to the President by the senate leaders. The measure presented to the President is similar to that passed by the house except that the so-called reclamation option has been eliminated. Provisions are made for loans to the veterans on adjusted service certificates, the advances to be made for the first three years by the banks and thereafter by the government.

The President was told by Senator Watson, one of the leading members of the committee, that it was impossible to pass a bill through congress providing a sales tax as a means of paying the bonus. The President has indicated that a sales tax is the only feasible means of financing the expenditure and that an adjusted compensation bill which he can approve must provide means of raising the hundreds of millions of dollars necessary.

RAILWAY CLERKS WON'T REMOVE COLOR LINE

DALLAS, May 6.—The proposal to strike from the by-laws of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, the word "white," so as to admit to membership those of another color, was defeated at the convention of the brotherhood here today.

BODIES OF TWO UNIDENTIFIED FLOOD VICTIMS RECOVERED

FORT WORTH, May 6.—Two unidentified bodies of flood victims were recovered here last night and this morning. The body found last night was recovered from the receding waters of Sycamore creek and was that of a woman. Decomposition and the absence of clothing will make identification difficult if not impossible. The body found this morning was that of a baby.

DALLAS CAFE ROBBED.

DALLAS, May 6.—While crowds of theatergoers passed by, an unmasked bandit last night held up five employees of the New England cafe at the point of a pistol and took $100 from the cash register. When he had finished searching the register the bandit ordered all the employees to the rear of the cafe and walked calmly out of the front door. The cafe is situated in the heart of the business district, with a traffic policeman on the nearest four corners.

Two White Men are Cleared of Crime

By United Press. FAIRFIELD, Texas, May 6.—Claude and Audie Crowell, held pending investigation of their connection with the murder of Eula Ousley, were released from custody shortly before noon today, when the authorities became convinced they had no connection with the crime. John King, grandfather of the murdered girl, told officers he was certain the negroes alone were responsible for the outrage and that the Crowells had no connection.

The Crowells were detained, the sheriff said, because of tracks which led from the scene of the crime to their home. There was trouble some time ago between the King and Crowell families and some sort of fight followed.

LAWTON'S TROUBLED PASTOR WILL FACE ARSON CHARGE NEXT WEEK

By Associated Press. LAWTON, Okla., May 6.—Charged with setting fire to his church for the purpose of gaining sympathy and casting suspicion on his enemies in the Lawton Presbyterian church, the Rev. Thomas J. Irwin is free on bond today to answer on May 10 to arson information filed by the county attorney.

H. C. Lewis, supporter of the pastor and former member of the board of sessions, will be arraigned with Irwin on a similar charge.

The arson charge was filed against the pastor following a court of inquiry conducted by the county attorney in the face of statements by Irwin that enemies had set fire to the church.

The latest developments in the bathing pool marriage performed at a nearby resort last summer, came last night when Frank L. Wall of Oklahoma City, announced that he and his bride, Miss Helen Ermsfield, would be remarried and thus perpetuate the bathing romance.

Last Saturday night the Rev. Mr. Irwin was abducted by three unidentified men and found after midnight lying in a mudhole near Medicine Park, an amusement resort near here, the scene of a bathing pool marriage ceremony which the minister performed last summer. The county attorney launched an investigation in to the abduction and indicated today that he would drop it, intimating that he had obtained information supporting the theory that the abduction was a "frameup."

On Wednesday of this week Irwin announced that he had resigned his pastorate and was quitting the communion of the Presbyterian church, but that he was not leaving Lawton. Several days previous the board of sessions which had supported the minister throughout, announced it had resigned and would take to the Oklahoma Synod what it termed "persecution" of the minister.

Evidence on which the charges of arson are based, the county attorney said was obtained by placing diaphanous in a room where the ministers and elders were waiting to be called as witnesses in the investigation of the church fires. Their conversations were recorded and the county attorney said the information thus obtained was made the basis for the charges filed.

HYPNOTIST IS GOOD, OR SUBJECTS ARE BETTER, AT ROTARIANS' SHOW

Almost three hours of fun, during which Willard the Wizard turned a group of trained or hypnotized Rotarians into performing seals and sent them tumbling and dancing about the stage, marked the closing performance of the Rotary vaudeville show at the Majestic theatre last night.

Not content with his powers as a hypnotist, Willard closed the performance by calling one of more playful ghosts to his assistance and continued to play horse with Rotarians, who, with one exception, were the only ones brave enough to respond to the "wizard's" call for subjects. To his exhibition as a magician, hypnotist and spiritualist, Willard added a clever exhibition of wire walking and performing, leaving the impression with the audience that he was every kind of a wizard with the possible exception of the Ku Klux variety.

Can't Get Too Much.

Mrs. McCoy's singing proved as popular as ever with Ranger audiences. She accompanied herself on the piano during the first part of her act and was later joined by Gus Coleman and Dr. Clyde C. Craig, performing on saxophones. The three were kept hard at work as long as they would stand for it. Big Foot Gibson, minus the black paint, repeated his act of Thursday night and was followed by Bob Taylor, clog dancer. While Willard was negotiating with his ghosts behind the scene, Raymond Teal entertained the audience with a number of his song parodies.

Opinion differs among the performing Rotarians as to whether Willard the Wizard hypnotized them or not. Willard explained at the outset that it was hotter stuff than hypnotism. The general opinion prevails that the earnestness and simplicity with which the Rotarians performed came from the influence of the wizard rather than from any native histrionic ability of the performers.

W. J. McFarland was the snake slayer in the Willard circus. John Milford fled from a swarm of bees and was removing his clothing when escorted from the stage. Gifford Clegg fell in the creek while fishing, and after swimming out carefully wrung the water from his coat before resuming his listless attitude. Lytton R. Taylor rode a bucking horse across the stage and was finally dumped on his head. Karl Jones and Gifford Clegg danced sedately with eyes closed while Lytton Taylor and John Milford danced a break-down, garbed in calico aprons.

Ghost Swipes Coat. John Milford was induced to later "hold" the medium, who was tied in a booth to summon the spirits. He lost his coat in the ghostly scuffle that followed.

Large houses attended both performances of the vaudeville and the show is declared by Rotarians to have been a great success financially and by the audiences to have been a decided success in every other way. Willard the Wizard gave his enthusiastic support in putting the show over and never tired.

The funds obtained by the club is to be used in the general welfare work here.

RANGER HIGH WILL GIVE SUMMER COURSES

Seven weeks of summer school, beginning May 29, will be held at the High school this summer for High school students and students who expect to attend the High school next year, it was announced this morning by H. D. Woods, principal. The purpose of the school is to enable students in working off courses to lighten their work for next year and the number and character of the studies will depend on what is needed by the students.

The school will be conducted by Mr. Woods and W. E. Branch, science instructor at the school. All students desiring to take the summer work are asked to communicate with either of the instructors.

PEOPLE TO PAY BILLIONS UNDER NEW TARIFF ACT

Increased Prices Will Equal Nation's Taxes, Democrat Tells Senate.

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, May 6.—The taxes that would be imposed by the impending tariff bill would be as real as those imposed by the revenue bill and would probably reach between $3,000,000,000 and $4,000,000,000, Senator Simmons, ranking Democrat of the senate finance committee, declared today in the minority report.

Such taxes must be paid by the people just the same as those in the revenue bill, and not by the beneficiaries who have demanded and got them, he said. The people, under the terms of the tariff bill, must not only pay taxes on the imports but in the increase of prices all over the country.

RUSSIA STILL SORE SPOT OF GENOA PARLEY

By Associated Press. GENOA, May 6.—The most critical state of the Genoa conference resulted today as the result of the difference among the allied delegates over the memorandum to Russia and the attitude of the Russians themselves. It was announced today by the official Italian spokesman. The crisis is more grave than the one which followed the signing of the Easter treaty.

The conference between the Italian foreign minister and the Belgian premier is said to have had a good effect and the difficulties are not regarded as insurmountable. The Russians created a bad impression at their conference with Sir Worthington Evans and Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain, by not only demanding millions and millions in gold francs, not in the form of credit but in cash.

VICTORIOUS GENERAL WANTS CHINA TO UNIFY

PEKIN, May 6.—A temporary dictatorship has been declared by General Wu Pei Fu, following his victories over General Chang Tso Lin, the Manchurian commander, in the fighting around Pekin.

Wu plans to call a constitutional convention and permit the people to select the form of government they think best. He will interfere as little as possible with the present government pending the plebiscite.

Wu's chief desire, he announced, is to unify China. But diplomats and others expressed the fear that Chang, defeated in a final attack near Tien Tsin, will withdraw into his strongholds in Manchuria and there declare his independence of the Pekin government, possibly causing serious international complications.

General Wu expressed a determination to completely destroy Chang's power when some Chinese leaders suggested that he offer peace to Chang and thus prevent more loss of life. This may mean further fighting between the two armies.

General Wu made no triumphant entry into Pekin after his victory, and there is no outward evidence of his assumption of control. It was explained here that his campaign was financed by Pekin bankers as a means of suppressing lawlessness in China and that his domination of the city would mean little to him strategically.

PLANE TAKES BALLEW'S BODY TO ARDMORE

Slain Gunfighter Died as He Desired, "With Boots On."

By United Press. ARDMORE, Okla., May 5.—Bud Ballew, one of the last of the famous gun fighting peace officers of Oklahoma, died "with his boots on," as he always wished to end his career. Bud's body, with five bullet holes in it, was back home today from Wichita Falls, where he mixed yesterday with Police Chief J. W. McCormick, a former state ranger.

The body was brought from Wichita Falls last night by airplane to his wife and son and former chief, "Buck" Garrett, ousted sheriff of Carter county.

Funeral arrangements have not been made but it is expected that Ballew will be buried in the little cemetery near here, beside his father and son.

Ballew was born in 1877 and moved to the old Indian Territory as a youth in 1890.

W. J. BRYAN DESIEGED WITH PLEAS FOR LIQUOR HE'S S'POSED TO HAVE

By Associated Press. SAN ANTONIO, May 6.—William Jennings Bryan, one of the nation's foremost prohibition advocates, was kept busy during the early hours of his visit here this morning in answering telephone calls from persons who wanted to buy some "real stuff" which they had heard he had in his room.

Bryan found that he had slipped into a hotel where a convention was being attended by a number of his friends. He took the joke good-naturedly when he found the calls resulted from pranks of his friends. Mr. and Mrs. Bryan arrived by automobile, en route to California for Mrs. Bryan's health.

SCHOOLGIRL'S MURDER IS CONFESSED BY ONE, WHO ACCUSES OTHERS

Mob Takes Men From Sheriff After Desperate Flight; Negro is Credited With Capture of Escaping Culprit

By United Press. KIRVEN, Texas, May 6.—Stacking them on like sticks of cordwood, a mob of more than 500 burned "Snap" Curry, 26; Mose Jones, 44, and John Cornish, 19, all negroes, in the square here shortly before daylight this morning. The burning climaxed a night and day manhunt for the attackers and murderers of Miss Eula Ousley, 17-year-old school girl, found dead and mutilated by wounds, Thursday night.

Curry, the first man burned, had confessed assaulting and aiding in the murder of the girl. As he was strapped to the seat of a plow under which a fire had been started, he said: "Burn Mose Jones and John Cornish, too. They are as guilty as I am." As the flames reached up and set his clothing on fire, he began to sing, "Lord, I'm Coming Home." His clothes had been saturated with crude oil and kerosene and in a flash he was covered with flames. The last strains of the song were heard about four minutes after the match had been applied.

Mose Jones was then roped and thrown on the seat and more wood applied. He lived about six minutes. Then John Cornish was lassoed and dragged to the fire, and again more fuel was applied.

Bodies Cremated. After the third negro had been burned to a crisp, all three bodies were dragged together and a mass of wood and fuel oil was thrown over them. This was ignited and flames of the funeral pyre rose twenty-five feet into the air.

At 8 a. m. the fire was still burning.

When the fire finally died down nothing remained of the three bodies. The mob dispersed rapidly and as day dawned only a few remained to witness the aftermath of the simple cremation. All three of the negroes were employed on the farm of J. T. King, prominent farmer of this community and grandfather of the girl, with whom she had lived since the death of both her parents. King was said to have witnessed the cremation.

Negro Captures Curry

Capture of the three blacks followed one of the most thrilling man hunts in Texas history. Farmers and business men of three counties began early Friday morning to run down the slayers. With the clew from another negro that Snap Curry was guilty, the creek bottoms was thoroughly searched.

Due to another negro, Curry was captured about 5:30 o'clock Friday afternoon, about five and one-half miles south of Wortham. The negro, Harry Spence, was riding horseback along the road toward Wortham. He had heard of the manhunt and meeting on the road, offered a lift, which Curry accepted. About two miles further on, he stopped at the home of Homer Miller, a white man, saying he wanted a drink of water, he left Curry on the horse and entered the house. In a minute or so, Miller came to the door and covered Curry with a gun.

He was then taken to Wortham and placed in jail. News of the capture spread rapidly and within an hour a large crowd had gathered. The blacks were slipped out of the jail and placed in the First State bank, guarded by Chief of Police J. V. Lee and another officer.

Dodge Mob. Sheriff Mayo of Freestone county had been notified and arrived at Wortham about 11 o'clock. The crowd at that time had grown to such proportions that the sheriff decided to move the negro to another town. He was slipped out of a rear window and the sheriff with his prisoner started for Waco. About five

RANGER'S FOREIGN AFFAIRS

The government, in its relations with other countries, could not function very well without a department of state.

Likewise, a city, in looking after its interests in relation to other cities, cannot function very well without a chamber of commerce.

Take this matter of highways alone: Breckenridge naturally is trying to have the northern route made the official, to the exclusion of the one through Eastland county. The Southwest Trails association routes that road through Breckenridge and Cisco and on south. Neither step was taken by accident, rather, through design.

Those two matters are of more than common interest to Ranger. For just as the coming of the railroad changed thriving towns into cornfields, while new ones sprung up, to a lesser extent but in like manner will highways affect the prosperity and growth of various towns already established. Every highway gives the town which obtains it a distinct advantage over other towns. And these highways, within certain limits, are obtained by the towns which are most active in working for them.

Highways are one of the manifold activities which every town must pursue as a community enterprise. They will pass to either side of the town which is too indifferent to adequately support its department of state—the chamber of commerce.

The New Chamber of Commerce will be organized Tuesday night. Will you have a voice in its activities? Will you add your support, in order that Ranger may speak in a stentorian voice, which no opposition can drown?

miles out of Wortham pursuers overtook the sheriff and the negro. The sheriff left the car and went into a cotton field. This threw the mob off the track and Mayo then doubled on his tracks and headed for Fairfield, where he placed the negro in jail.

Under severe questioning he confessed the assault and murder and implicated the other two negroes. Word was sent to Kirven and Jones and Cornish were arrested and brought to Fairfield. Curry is understood to have told his captors the three had planned the crime since last January. The original plan he said, was to assault two other women on the same day. He did not say why the plan failed.

No sooner had Jones and Cornish been locked up than a mob of 400 gathered and stormed the jail. The guards were quickly overpowered and the three blacks were taken away in autos. In the effort to hold Curry, the sheriff was badly cut and bruised, after he had tried to persuade the mob that by holding Curry he could obtain more evidence.

Use Plow Seat

More than 100 automobiles were in the cavalcade to Curry, thirteen miles away. They entered the town at 4 a. m. and circled the square. A large plow was dragged out and as if by prearrangement a large amount of wood was on hand by the time the negroes were dragged out of the automobiles.

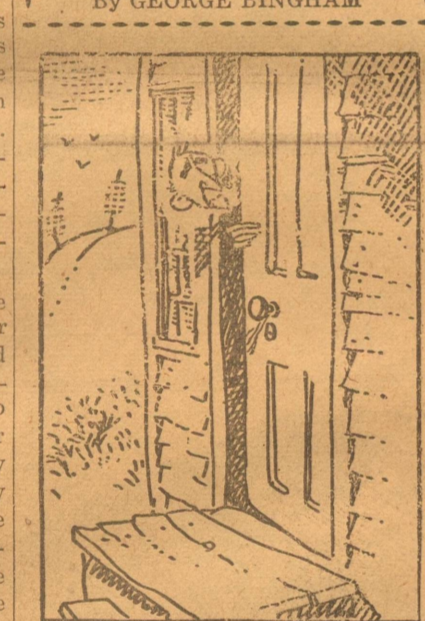

Wanted Company

Curry was first brought forward and after confessing the crime he was mutilated and crude oil and kerosene poured over him. He then cried out to burn the other negroes too, that they were just as guilty as he was.

Jones and Cornish did not confess and after some delay they also were mutilated and burned. For awhile Friday afternoon it looked like Curry would escape. Bloodhounds were brought from Huntsville by special permission of Governor Neff. The request was made of the governor by the American Legion at Teague and Herbert Kinzie piloted a plane which brought them from Huntsville to Kirven in three hours.

FAIRCLOTH ASKS ANOTHER TERM AS CONSTABLE

Re-election on his past record as an officer here is asked by Constable R. L. Faircloth in making known his candidacy to the voters of Precinct No. 2. Referring to his announcement two years ago in which he stated that the city had been organized with an able and efficient police force and that he would therefore turn his attention to civil works, Constable Faircloth explains that circumstances has forced his office to do no little criminal work.

In this connection, he points out that he has "worked in harmony with the state rangers, the federal officers, the county officers and the police."

The constable's formal entrance in the race brings the total number of aspirants for the constable's office to four, the other entries including former Deputy Constable Ted Hamilton, P. P. Palmer and Wade Swift, the city sanitary inspector.

THREE KILLED, FOUR WOUNDED IN GUN BATTLE

CANTON, Ohio, May 6.—Three men were killed and four wounded, two probably fatally, in a gun fight late Friday between a posse and four gunmen, which was staged about five miles north of here. The battle, which lasted more than an hour, followed the kidnapping by the gunmen of Motorcycle Policeman John Wise. Several hundred shots were fired.

The dead: Ralph W. Hoffe, 28, contractor, member posse; Eddie Stevenson, alias Joe Plapo, fugitive, and an unidentified member of the gunman crowd.

Most seriously injured: Harry Harper, Cleveland, one of the gunmen, shotgun wounds in head; condition critical. George Brainer, gunman, shot through head, not expected to live; Patrolman Jesse Vogley was shot through the right leg and Robert Boston, a posseman, was shot in the left foot.

The gunmen kidnapped Wise when he attempted to arrest them for speeding in an automobile just inside the city limits. As the officer stopped them, the bandits forced him at the point of revolvers to get into their car and then turned their machine and headed north. Witnesses notified the police, who started in pursuit. They soon were joined by several scores of citizens. When the bandits found they were being overtaken, they abandoned their car and took Wise to a farm where they bound and gagged him. As the first automobile with police appeared the gunmen opened fire. The officers returned the fire and one of the gunmen dropped, fatally wounded.

The other three fugitives then abandoned Wise and fled into a small woods half a mile away where they were surrounded by the posse and the fight proceeded, until all of the gunmen had been wounded and captured.

MAGNOLIA WILL DRILL 3 TRACTS IN DALTON POOL

MINERAL WELLS, May 6.—Local oil operators have begun to take a hand in the development around the Jack Dalton well in Palo Pinto county, the latest of these to enter the field being Tom Owens and John Burket. They will begin drilling immediately on a forty-acre tract offsetting the Dalton on the west. The location will be approximately 1,000 feet from the offset line and a string of their own tools will be used. Jones & Burket are also making preparations to drill a mile north of the Dalton. This firm has been operating in the Brazos field and have three producing wells.

C. Rosenfield is said to be making preparations to drill on his eighty-acre lease, which he purchased from W. J. Woods at price of $40,000 in oil and other consideration. This lease is out of the A. S. Simmons survey.

V. Thompson expects to begin operations on his eighty-acre tract on the south side of the C. Wells survey soon.

Surveys are being made for the Canadian Petroleum company's No. 1 on the forty-acre lease offsetting the Dalton on the west. The total number of locations which have been made up until today number twelve and work on all is to begin without delay. The larger companies have already made locations, and rig building soon will be in full swing.

Magnolia Makes Locations
The Magnolia Petroleum company through its representative, H. A. Johnson, announced today they would begin immediate development on the three tracts owned by the company near the Jack Dalton. The tracts consist of 200 acres north, 160 acres one mile south, and a fifty-five-acre lease one-half mile due west. Another tract was bought by Mr. Johnson of seventy-four acres, offsetting the busher on the southwest. The purchase price paid for the lease is the highest on record in this field, being $650 per acre. A cash payment of $50,000 was made and the balance will be paid in oil. This deal is encouraging to the oil fraternity in that it shows what the larger companies think of the field.

On the south of Mineral Wells, one mile, the Rochell well is shut down waiting for casing. The 4,000-foot mark is near, and the drillers are expecting the pay at 4,200. Acreage around this wildcat has been moving rapidly, hundreds of leases having changed hands and the prices going up accordingly. It is the best wildcat play in the county.

As the weather clears, the roads leading to the Dalton field are being put in good shape to accommodate the traffic which is sure to follow. Several bus companies have

HOUSEKEEPING ON THE ROAD AT DANFF MOTOR CAMP A THRILLING BIT OF ROAD THROUGH SINCLAIR CANYON ON THE GRAND CIRCLE

One last link, only a few miles in length, remains to be built to complete the 5,000 mile Grand Circle Motor Four highway. This section will be finished by late summer to the joy of hosts of motorists who are eagerly anticipating the possibilities of this tour. What does this mean? It means that motorists may start at Calgary, Alberta—this being a loop highway, they may start at any other point they desire—travel through the grassy foothills to the great front door of the Canadian Rockies which is also the gateway to the Banff National Park. At Banff a fine campsite as well as several good hotels will be found where tourists may linger to bathe in the radiating hot springs, play golf among the clouds or fish in the nearby streams.

Illustrated Sermons on Life of Christ Begin Sunday at Presbyterian Church

The first of a series of four illustrated sermons on the life of Christ will be preached at the Presbyterian church at the evening services tomorrow by Dr. A. N. Stubblebine. The illustrations used in the sermons are beautifully colored reproductions of the old masters, including Tissot, Hole, Ven Eyck, Ruben and others. The sermon tomorrow evening will be illustrated by thirty-six pictures depicting the life of Christ from birth to the presentation in the temple. Illustrated hymn sets will be sung from the screen during the services. Tissot and Hole, Dr. Stubblebine explains, have endeavored in their paintings to give the exact dress environment and action of the time of Christ and spent years in Palestine, where their paintings were made.

At the morning services tomorrow, Dr. Stubblebine will preach on "Let Us Go On." The musical program includes anthems by the choir and soprano solos by Mrs. R. C. McCoy.

been started, running on regular schedule. Hundreds of people are visiting the new townsite of Dalton City, and it is said lots are being sold at a rapid rate.

There should be forty-eight stars, one for each state, in the United States flag.

Crawford in Charge While Club Looks About for New Manager.

ABILENE, May 6.-The Nitros, with Crawford as temporary manager, failed to mop up on the opposition yesterday...

Red Roberts' speed ball wasn't working so well yesterday, and therein lies the greater part of the Nitro funeral.

President Smith of the Ranger club is here today, figuring with President Northern and others on a man capable of pulling the Nitros out of the ruck.

The Nitros admit the going has been rough but they are not downhearted. They believe that with the filling of a couple of gaps, they have "the makings."

RANGER HI WINS FROM EASTLAND IN B. B. TOURNEY

Members of the Ranger High School club were hosts to members of the Eastland High School club Friday afternoon at Nitro park. Baseball was the diversion of the afternoon, and when the scores were counted, it was found that the Ranger club had won high prize...

Only one untoward and uncourteous feature marked the play. That was the dealing of Mr. Leland Pellerin of Ranger, who consistently dealt nulls to the visitors.

Meanwhile, Ranger was bidding no trump-doubled and redoubled most of the time, and with the assistance of a good slam by Austin Huffman in one set and various little slams, piled up quite a respectable number of points.
