CHILDREN KNOW A GOOD HOME
 Better home in America demonstration week, 1925, has passed into history, to take its place in the annals of all forward looking movements. Today the eyes of club women are turned toward Indiana, where the biennial session of the Home Making Department of the Women's Federation is to be held at West Bodin the first week in June. More and more people are becoming interested in the subject of the American home and many startling revelations have been produced to stimulate this interest. One plan of work is illustrated by a Los Angeles club, which submitted a series of questions to high school pupils with the assurance that the papers would be unsigned and the writers unknown. The 144 answers received gave a new angle of vision to the 300 parents who heard them read. Nearly 90 per cent of these reports showed dissatisfaction with home conditions and contained suggestions that helped to a better understanding of these children. It is a plan that might prove profitable in nearly every community.

CHAUTAUQUA IN RANGER DRAWS FULL HOUSES

Open Program Win Warm Approval; Splendid Numbers Promised for Monday.

The opening programs of the Redpath-Horner chautauqua, Friday and Saturday, were literally speaking, eye openers for the crowds that jammed the Liberty theater both afternoon and night. The excellence of the programs was fully appreciated by those who attended.

The Cathedral Choir, a trained group of singers, received enthusiastic welcome by the crowd and their numbers enjoyed. Herbert Leon Cope, who shared the Friday night program with the choir, made a hit with his jokes and richly deserved the title "Kill the Blues Cope" as he was known to thousands of Americans overseas during the world war.
 Saturday's program was headlined by James A. Burns, or "Burns of the Mountains," as he is better known. His lecture on the mountain feuds of Kentucky and their ending was very interesting. The night program was a farce "Give and Take," that was enjoyed by the house.

No program being listed for Sunday, Monday will be the third day of the chautauqua. On the program for the afternoon are Clayton Staples and company in an exhibition of art and music. On the night program Governor C. W. Bryan will divide the program with the Clayton Staples company.

FENCING CLUB ORGANIZED AT UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS

AUSTIN, May 30.—Members of the fencing class at the University of Texas have organized the first fencing fraternity at a college in the United States. Six students were chosen as charter members of the fencing fraternity, and the name Omega Delta was selected. Charter members are Miguel Blanco of Mexico City, Kennedy Smith of San Antonio, Lee Sewell of Marlin, Wayne Coulter of Marlin, William Klein of Gonzales, and Melvin Williamson of Austin. Williamson is instructor in fencing at the university.
 Interest and ability in handling the blades is prerequisite to election to the fraternity. The purpose of Omega Delta is to promote interest in fencing, and keep alive the spirit of the sport. The Texas chapter of Omega Delta plans to install three new chapters in the near future at other colleges in the south.

RUSSIAN OIL MEN STUDYING IN MEXICO

MEXICO CITY, May 30.—A group of mechanics from the oil fields of Baku, Caucasian Russia, are expected to arrive in Vera Cruz early in June for an extensive study of the Mexican oil fields. They are sent by the Russian Petroleum syndicate.
 It is understood that a similar and larger group will shortly begin a study of oil production in the United States, permission having been obtained from the state department for their admission into the country.
 The study of both groups will extend through every phase of oil production and refinement. It is the purpose of the soviet government to apply the most modern methods in the rich Baku fields, which have not been up to standard production since the war.

PLOT TO KIDNAP MARY PICKFORD IS FRUSTRATED

Three Conspirators Arrested Just as They Are About to Execute Plans.

By United Press.
LOS ANGELES, May 30.—A daring plot to kidnap Mary Pickford, motion picture star, and hold her for $200,000 ransom was disclosed by police here tonight with the arrest of three men. The alleged conspirators, Claude Arthur, C. F. Stephens and Billy Woods were arrested when mingling with visiting Shriners in a downtown hotel.

Chief of Detectives George K. Home said the plot was first revealed three weeks ago when operatives overheard discussion of plans for the abduction. The men were taken into custody tonight as they were making ready for the dash to Hollywood to carry out their plans.

Unfit Driving Cars Held to Blame for Many Auto Deaths

CHICAGO.—Eight per cent of the applicants for positions as chauffeurs at the largest cab company in Chicago are imbeciles, Prof. Adolph J. Snow, psychological expert for the taxi-cab firm told the United Press.
 "Weed this 8 per cent out and you have eliminated most of your automobile accidents. Many of this group had driven automobiles."
 His statement was made in support of the Wolfe bill, now pending in the Illinois legislature, which provides for the licensing of every automobile driver in the state.
 "They say you can't weed out the nervous, irresponsible drivers," he continued. "We have done it. And the state should do the same thing. If we are to do away with the huge casualty list which creeps into the newspapers every day, telling of the number killed by irresponsible drivers."
 "I would be willing to wager that in nine-tenths of the accidents nowadays, the drivers of the machines doing the damage would have been unable to pass our tests satisfactorily."
 "Our 3,000 drivers have gone 36 hours at a stretch without an accident of any sort."
 "Nervousness, morons, and persons with nervous irregularities will react to tests as they will react to actual road condition in an automobile."
 Massachusetts has a regulatory law, and in the year following its adoption eliminated a large part of the automobile accidents there, he said.
 It is not a question of intelligence, but of nervous reaction which determines who shall be a good automobile driver, Dr. Snow contends. Men with high university degrees, masters of arts and sciences have failed in tests which are applied to determine who is capable of operating a machine with safety for the pedestrian.

Monkeys to Be Bred Into Higher Grade Stock for Production of Strong Glands

By THOMAS B. MOEGAN (United Press Staff Correspondent) ROME.—Favored by an exhilarating climate, the monkeys of Eritrea, the East African Italian colony, have been chosen as the best specimens to produce the Voronoff glands, calculated to produce eternal youth. An Italian company has been formed to breed and improve these monkeys into a type, the closest approximating the human. Throughout the exploitation of the gland theory, the company will make

Care In Addressing Mail Matter Urged

With a view to reducing the large and needless waste occasioned by careless addressing of mail matter, Postmaster General New has directed that an intensive educational campaign be waged during the first week in June to assure better mailing practices and to divert to constructive channels millions now lost, principally through carelessness.

The department already has been assured the cooperation in this endeavor of many of the nation's large mail users and of business, civic, and fraternal organizations. Twelve thousand moving picture theaters will run the department's slogans urging care in addressing, and it is hoped that newspapers generally will take part by disclosing to their readers the extent of the waste and the way in which it may be eliminated.

JOE BURKETT POPULAR GUEST AT BANQUETS

Senator Joe Burkett of Eastland, member of the state highway commission, arrived in Eastland Saturday morning from Baird, where he attended a banquet given in his honor by the citizens of Baird. BANKRUPT STOCK SOLD

The Del-Cox Grocery company stock of goods and fixtures sold Friday by the referee in bankruptcy, was purchased by the J. P. Webster wholesale grocery company of Cisco for approximately $4,200. There were about $14,000 worth of accounts that went with the stock, it is stated.

CISCO MASONS SOON TO INSTALL OFFICERS

CISCO, May 30.—Cisco Masons, at their last meeting, elected the following officers to act during the ensuing year who will be installed on June 28: J. W. Ridgway, worshipful master; W. L. Foy, senior warden; Fred T. Grist, junior warden; J. W. Patterson, secretary; Jewel Poe, treasurer.

extensive research in an effort to find just the gland which can be transplanted into the human organism with the best results. While the monkeys of Eritrea today offer the best procurable for that purpose, the company expects to evolve even a better type by crossing and selection.

There is to be a thorough selection of the finest young specimens. These young specimens will be mated always with the aim of producing a better and more advanced animal. Besides, glands from young monkeys will be transferred to even perfect monkeys to intensify more and more the qualities of youth until an animal has been produced which yields what the scientists will regard as the most perfect gland adapted for transplanting in the human organism.

Monkeys abound in Eritrea. A great variety also is available. While the experts engaged by the company may choose one certain species on which to make their major experiments, they will also use members of the other species in an effort to bring out characteristics in the offspring. Crossing of the various species is expected to be a large part of the program. Where one species is abundantly provided with the reproductive instinct, the scientists expect to transplant their glands into other monkeys who offer other characteristics making them better fitted for the production of glands transferable to humans.

The scientists also will study the evolution of the types. Not alone from the purely commercial side of developing a type which produces the best glands for humans, but also for the study of the historic changes of the genus, they will devote much research. In this, they will receive assistance from numerous university professors throughout Europe.

The Italian government seems disposed to aid the company in all ways possible. A number of chemical concerns also are interested in the project. The company plans to send its first expedition to prepare for buildings and laboratories in the near future. These buildings and laboratories will be of the most modern equipment designed to further the aims for which the enterprise is undertaken.

RANGER HOLDS PACKING HOUSE BUYING RECORD

Adams & Co. Buys Large Variety From One House Within Week.

Business in Ranger is on the upward trend, according to merchants of Ranger, who are confident the year of 1925 will be one of the most successful years in their business careers.

Purchasing orders are gradually becoming larger in every line of business, and several exceedingly large orders have been sent in by Ranger merchants.

Setting a record for the United States in one single purchase, as per the number of different items contained in one single order, Adams & Co., grocers, recently purchased 112 different items of groceries from Swift & Co., for their regular week's trade. The record of 112 items in groceries and products handled by Swift & Co., includes the entire nation. Kansas City formerly held the record with 102 items and then Chicago took it with 104, but now along comes Adams & Co., of Ranger, who purchase 112 items from Salesman G. T. Shepherd, of Swift & Co. The order is merely one of the regular weekly orders and another order will be sent in next week for more items.

While the order amounted to only $700 yet the record for the United States was set in the fact that 112 different items of products handled by Swift & Co. were contained on the bill.

G. T. Shepherd, salesman for Swift & Co., has been with the concern for the last three years and was sent to Ranger about one year ago. Chancing upon the article pertaining to the sales record for Swift & Co. recently, he accordingly went after the order which resulted in his hanging up a new mark for salesmen of Swift & Co. to try for in the future.

CAPTIVE BUFFALOES LACK STRENGTH AND ENDURANCE

MARLAND, Okla.—Devoid of the strength and agility of his towering brother of yester year, the present day buffalo is believed to rapidly nearing extinction.

The buffalo heard on the Miller brothers 101 ranch here, the largest privately owned herd in the United States, has been strengthened by the addition of 100 from the north-west. It was believed that the injection of new blood into the herd would aid in increasing the physique of future generations of the nearly extinct animal.

The present day buffalo is very temperamental and is smaller in physique than the shaggy headed monster that roamed the western plains two decades ago.

Recently motion picture producers found buffalo difficult to handle, because they are easily exhausted on a warm day by a short run. Often they will crumple to earth exhausted and never arise.

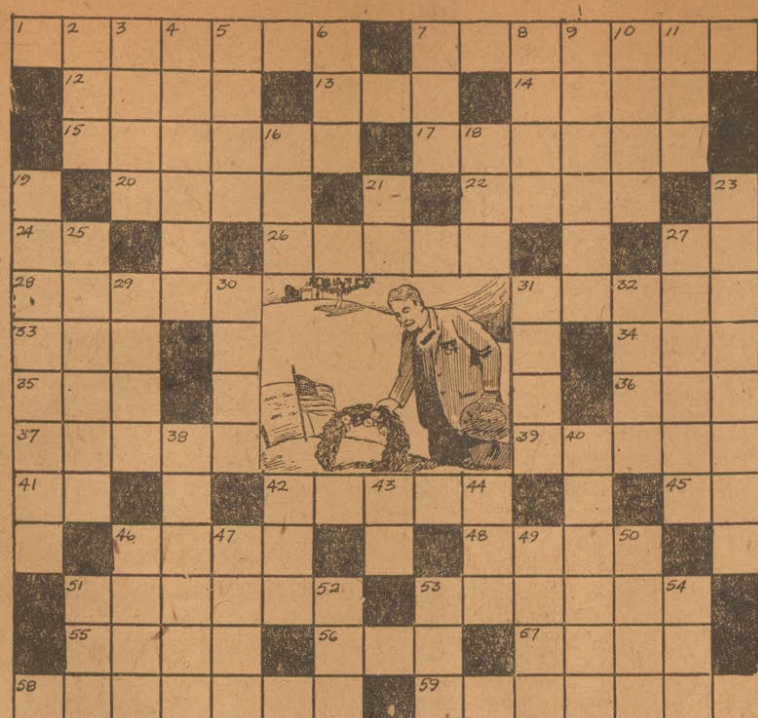

There are many calves in the 101 ranch herd this year. These, much to the surprise of visitors, are shaggy, long legged and are a peculiar yellowish brown, much the shade of a Jersey cow.

COW VERSUS HEN

CHICAGO.—Producing circles here are having an argument whether the cow or the hen is man's best friend. The cow advocates cite milk production in 1923, the latest exact statistics, at $109,736,062,000 pounds. The hen advocates are hunting up statistics.

Foreign Diplomats at Washington Carefully Watching Secretary Kellogg

By HARRY FRANZ (United Press Staff Correspondent) WASHINGTON.—A new secretary of state at Washington is "observed" with the greatest interest by diplomats and the press. This scrutiny of personality is given added intensity by a notion widely prevalent that an incoming secretary of state can by his personality or his methods introduce striking changes in United States foreign policy. Following a secretary whose great ability is granted Secretary Kellogg faced a peculiar personal test.

After over two months of Kellogg, it may fairly be reported that he is regarded with much favor both by diplomats and by the press. The diplomats believe that Kellogg is a man of genuine ability, that his views are broad and generous, that he approaches problems confronting him in a spirit of earnestness and, when possible, of generosity; that from a personal standpoint he is a singularly friendly man; and what is of great potential importance, he is believed to understand the mind wherewith the United States approaches all international problems. Strangely enough, as with his predecessor, the first serious problem to confront the present secretary of state concerned Latin America. When Hughes became secretary, the first matter requiring his attention related to difficulties between Panama and Costa Rica arising from the boundary controversy. Secretary Kellogg, upon entering the department of state, had before him the matter of the Tacna Arica award, announced the day previous, and within a fortnight was obliged to reply to a strong Peruvian note of protest. Attention to this note required profound personal study by the new secretary. While the reply was sent by the arbitrator, it was believed to have been written by Kellogg. Diplomats generally felt that the terms of the reply were inevitably based upon the president's award, but commented the evidence of friendliness and patience shown by the author of the note.

The second serious matter confronting the secretary of state was the attitude to be assumed in the face of legal and press representations that certain provisions of the Russo-Japanese treaty, relating to Sakhalien oil, were in violation of the Open Door treaty. Kellogg skillfully avoided the trap, which might have further antagonized Japan, and also at a later time would probably have embarrassed American concessions seekers. He caused the press to understand that violation of the Open Door had not occurred and that there was no ground for an international issue. The incident quickly subsided.

The third great matter confronting Kellogg was the Russian policy. Kellogg has not given his final answer to this. But he did make plans to eliminate all preliminary misunder-

UNIDENTIFIED NEGRO LABORER SHOT TO DEATH

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By E. R. Waite, Secretary Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce.

That railroads are vital to the growth of a community. Nothing contributes more to their progress than the service they give.

That the public cannot afford to forget the railroads that serve them. They are silent partners of the railroads, as neither can succeed without the help of the other.

Right now much attention should be given to the railroad situation. There is danger of loss of railroad service to many communities on account of truck and automobile competition.

It is not good for any section to lose railroad transportation, and it will be a sad day for them when they are left with the highway as their only means of transportation. Truck and automobile competition is bringing about that condition in many sections.

This is the day of hard-surfaced roads. Good roads are a necessity—so are the railroads.

Prevention of loss of railroad service lies with the people. It lies in their backing the railroads as well as hard-surfaced roads.

ORDER TELEPHONED FROM CUBA TO AMARILLO

By United Press. AMARILLO.—When things are made in the Panhandle they are made good. That is the opinion of one flour manufacturer here after a customer in Cuba called him by long distance to order a rush shipment of flour. Clyde Smith, sales manager of the firm, was on the receiving end of the line and said he had no trouble hearing his Cuba customer—even if he did want flour.

Election this year was held by sending ballots to all the members of the association with a list of forty names on each ballot. The seven men receiving the highest number of ballots were elected directors for the ensuing year.

The new board will hold their first executive meeting sometime next week. Directors elected are: W. W. Housewright, Abe Davis, D. Joseph, H. G. Adams, J. T. Killingsworth, R. R. Stafford, J. M. White. Mr. Killingsworth is the one new director elected on the board.

By United Press. BRECKENRIDGE.—Breckenridge is well pleased with its newly purchased fire fighting equipment.

The heroic figure of justice, towering above the county building, was drenched by the hurtling streams, and the lady never batted an eye.

J. M. White Home From Successful Trip to Market

Returning from an unusually successful buying trip to St. Louis, where he attended the giant price cutting sale of Rice-Stix company, J. M. White of J. M. White & Co., was jubilant over his purchases.

"I bought merchandise on this trip at the great friend-making sale of Rice-Stix company," said Mr. White, "for less money than I have ever before purchased the same materials and merchandise since cotton sold for 10 cents a pound."

Rice-Stix & Co. of St. Louis, giant wholesalers and manufacturers, recently conducted a friend-making sale, whereby merchandise was sold by them for less than the replacement price. They were able to do so only through the co-operation of the various factories and manufacturers who supply them with part of their articles.

"I made some wonderful purchases in piece goods and ladies' ready-to-wear," said Mr. White, "and I am going to pass these values on to my customers in Ranger."

FORT WORTH.—Plans are being tentatively considered by county authorities for a system of highway lighting on the Fort Worth-Dallas highway.

Gen. H. B. Stoddard, 33rd Degree Mason, Dies In Bryan Home

Special Correspondence.

BRYAN, May 30.—General Henry Bates Stoddard, one of the best known men in the state of Texas, died at his home here at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon. High in Masonic circle, prominent in Confederate veterans affairs, active for many years in the livestock industry and always looking forward to the best interests of his state and people, the general was known far and wide, not only in Texas, but throughout the United States. General Stoddard died at the ripe old age of 84 years.

Born in New York in 1840, General Stoddard came to Texas in 1860 and shortly after entered the Confederate army as a private. After the war he located in Millican, Texas, at that time the terminus of the Houston and Texas railroad. He was one of the three white men left after the yellow fever epidemic of 1867, who was able to work. In the latter part of 1867 he moved to Bryan, where he has since resided. In 1869 he married Miss Ross English who died in 1905, leaving a daughter, Miss Charlotte Stoddard, who is teaching in San Antonio at the present time. In 1909 he married Miss Hortense English, a sister of his first wife. In addition to the numerous Masonic honors awarded him as a just reward for faithful service, the 33rd degree of Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Freemasonry was conferred on him in Galveston in 1920.

Gullahorn Motor Co., With H. R. Gholson As Associate of J. T. Gullahorn, Expects To Hang Up New Record of Car Sales

Entrance of H. R. Gholson into the Gullahorn Motor company as an associate of J. T. Gullahorn, announced one week ago, marks a new era of progress by this automobile agency which has put the Hudson and Essex cars on the streets of Ranger and the highways of Eastland and adjacent counties.

Mr. Gullahorn established this business in Ranger about 16 months ago and has had remarkable success. Mr. Gholson, who has been operating in oil with marked results, has retired from the oil business to devote his energies to selling automobiles. He is a capable business man, has a winning personality and he and Mr. Gullahorn are expected to make an ideal combination.

Mr. Gholson is a native of Ranger and grew up here. When the United States entered the world war he attended the officers' training camp at Leon Springs, was commissioned a first lieutenant and served through the war, returning to Ranger just at the beginning of the oil boom. He became associated with his father, John M. Gholson, and quickly proved his ability as a business man.

Mr. Gholson comes into the Gullahorn Motor company just at the beginning of renewed activity in business with the coming of Ranger's second oil boom. Since this agency was established in Ranger, it has sold more than 140 new cars and disposed of about 200 used cars, which is a record it would be hard to beat anywhere. But it is a record the new combination expects to equal and exceed. During the year Mr. Gullahorn has been selling automobiles he has proved himself a salesman of unusual ability, and with Mr. Gholson at his side, and with a force of salesmen that includes E. M. Agrelius, M. H. Wright and R. L. Hodges, the company may easily expect to hang up a new record.
