

SAMMIES HAVE TWICE AMOUNT OF GAS NEEDED

New Source Expected to Be Reached by Sept. 1.

The Sammies Oil corporation has secured twice the supply of gas that will be consumed by its Ranger patrons during the winter, according to a statement from its manager, J. B. Owens. The new supply is located about one mile west of the Rickard-Texas well No. 1, the source of the present supply. Mr. Owens said this morning that the contract had been signed and his company would begin the work of laying the extension next week. He was of the opinion that the gas would be available by Sept. 1. An eight-inch line will be built to the source of the new supply. This action of the Sammies company is in accordance with the promise its officials made the city commission that it would supply an ample quantity of gas for the winter provided the city would allow them to make their rates such an amount as would allow them an adequate return on their investment. The rate was granted by the commission and took effect Aug. 1.

"GRAVE" SWINDLE AGAIN IS EXPOSED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—Exposition of what a war department announcement characterizes as a "despicable swindle" by which the mother of a dead soldier was the victim, prompted a new warning by the department yesterday that relatives of the soldier dead should pay no money to any person or organization for information as to burial places. Inquiries addressed to the quartermaster general will receive prompt and courteous attention, the warning said. In the case exposed the grave of the soldier was never found. The swindler told the mother he would visit Washington if she would pay his expenses and see what could be done. Later he reported success and that the body would be sent home. A brother of the dead soldier became suspicious and by a personal call at the war department found that no inquiry had ever been made.

GLADYS VANDERBILT INJURED BY BOLTS

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Aug. 13.—A dispatch from Raquette lake Monday night says that guides on the Barry Payne Whitney preserve brought out word Monday that Countess Lassetz-Szechony, formerly Gladys Vanderbilt of New York, was suffering from the effects of a slight lightning shock received near Forked lake Sunday.

TRICKED MOTORISTS.

MANCHESTER, Ia., Aug. 13.—Residents of this part of Iowa recently found the course of the old Ottumwa, Cedar Rapids and McGregor trail changed overnight. Meetings were held and finally a delegation went to Cedar Rapids to see officers of the trail association. They said they had not ordered any changes and blamed an unknown sign painter. The sign painter, it was explained, had been employed to remark the signs. His work was not satisfactory to some in McGregor and he was told to make it so. Instead he went back over the route, it was said, marking out some of the signs and pointing others into Minnesota as the "official route."

Lure of Booze Attracts Crowds Over Border Into Mexico; Many Orientals Are Smuggled Across

EL PASO, Aug. 13.—Nearly one-half million Americans visited the "wet" oases on the other side of the Mexico border during the fiscal year ending July 1, 1920, according to the figures that have just been compiled by F. W. Beekshire of El Paso, supervisor of immigration for this district. The records of his office show that a total of 455,963 permits to cross the border were issued during the fiscal year. Of this number 418,735 were to tourists and 37,228 were to residents of the border. These permits are distinguished from passports in that they are good for a limited number of days and the holders thereof cannot visit points in Mexico away from the border. They are commonly called "liquor bound licenses."

Flock Over Line.

That the lure of liquor caused an enormous increase in the number of persons who crossed the Rio Grande on border permits during the last fiscal year there seems to be no doubt. Not only do these visitors come from all parts of Texas, but many of them make the journey from more distant parts of the country for the sole purpose of crossing the Rio Grande and filling up on various kinds of intoxicating liquors, according to immigration officers. It is a common practice for passengers on the transcontinental line of the Southern Pacific to arrange their schedule as to give them a lay-over in El Paso in order that they may spend a few hours in Juarez. This is such an everyday occurrence that a regular police detail, both in Juarez and

ORDINANCE TO BAN PEDDLERS TO BE PASSED

The city commission will pass an ordinance which will prohibit all street peddling in Ranger with the exception of the vending of fruits and vegetables. This action was promised a delegation of the Merchants Retail Credit association who met with the commissioners in a called session yesterday afternoon for the purpose of considering the matter. The delegation was composed of M. O. Burt, secretary of the organization, J. W. Saunders, vice-president, Conrad Hatchett, representing the grocers and E. M. Humme, representing dealers in ready-to-wear.

The commission requested the association to prepare copies of ordinance along the lines of those in other towns and submit them for its consideration. The merchants are of the opinion that they should be protected in this matter because they are put to a large overhead expense in maintaining their establishments, while the street vendors have no expense at all. The commissioners viewed the situation in the same light.

MAY QUIZ HUNGARY'S FORMER PREMIER HERE

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Officials at Ellis Island began an investigation today to determine if Charles Huszar, former premier of Hungary, who recently arrived in the United States, entered the country in a lawful manner or by resorting to subterfuge.

The investigation was started as a result of charges by the Federation of Hungarian Jews in America that Huszar evaded the American immigration laws when he entered this country.

Records at Ellis Island are being searched to learn if the former premier was examined before reaching the mainland.

SUBS CODE BOOK IS BEING SOUGHT

SAN PEDRO, Calif., Aug. 13.—Navy intelligence officers, it became known Sunday, are conducting a search for a code book said to have been taken from the submarine H-1 when that vessel was stranded on the shoals of Santa Margarita Island, Lower California, last March. Captain Chamme Shaddock, commandant of the submarine was left in charge for a few hours during which the ship's safe was looted, presumably by the alien fishermen operating in the vicinity.

GREEK PREMIER IS SHOT BY ASSASSINS. IS IN NO DANGER

PARIS, Aug. 13.—Premier Venizelos, of Greece, was wounded Thursday when fired upon by two Greeks. He spent an easy night and is in no danger, physicians announce. The bullet in the premier's left shoulder will be extracted today.

RAILROAD ERECTS TANKS.

PORT ARANSAS, Aug. 13.—The San Antonio and Aransas Pass railroad has leased a tract of three and a quarter acres from the Aransas Dock and Channel company for a period of eight years, paying a cash consideration of $15,000 for the privilege of building two 55,000-barrel tanks upon the site and installing necessary pipe lines for receiving oil over the docks of the lessor. Right of way for all necessary trackage also was granted by the lessor.

FATHER CUTS OFF FEET OF DAUGHTER

EUGENE, Ore., Aug. 13.—While cutting hay on his farm a few days ago, Fred Lockwood, a rancher of the North Fork country in the western end of Lane county, cut off both feet of his 3-year-old daughter, who was playing in the tall grass, it became known here yesterday.

The little girl was not seen by her father until an instant after the scythe hit her. A surgeon from Florence attended the child's injuries. She is said to be recovering.

DE VALERA GIVEN LARGE SUMS FOR FUNDS

LONDON, Aug. 13.—The Evening Standard claims it has documentary evidence that a Sinn Fein congress in June authorized Eamonn de Valera, "president of the Irish Republic," to expend $500,000 "in connection with the campaign for the presidency of the United States." One million dollars in expenditures by de Valera was authorized to obtain recognition of the Irish republic, the newspaper declares.

WEST TEXAS WARNED OF FAKE STOCK SCHEMERS

Special to The Times. STAMFORD, Aug. 12.—A deluge of illegitimate stock promotion schemes will be presented to West Texas in the next several months as a result of the prosperity that has come to this section, according to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, which is today sending out warnings to all West Texas towns to be on the lookout for schemers, grafters, promoters and others who have fictitious companies and gobble up the people's money on specious propositions that they present with oily tongues and with venturesome design.

"Every town in West Texas this fall will have an opportunity to throw its money into the jaws of sharks," says the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. "Propositions to build large factories with funds already in the bank and efforts to secure endorsements of chambers of commerce and private citizens will be made."

"Already the hand of the promoter in his seductive quest for the coin of the realm has been witnessed in a number of places, and already this organization has been able to put the towns wise before they were fleeced of great sums."

DRILL PRESTON ANTICLINE.

DENISON, Aug. 13.—An organization of oil men representing companies drilling or intending to drill on the Preston anticline in southern Oklahoma or northern Texas was effected here recently. By co-operating, the operators believe they can issue authentic reports on the progress of the various oil tests in this vicinity. There are at present ten tests under way in Bryan county, Oklahoma, Grayson and Fannin counties, Texas.

COIN COLLECTORS MEETING.

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—Collectors and dealers in coins will meet here Aug. 23 for the annual convention of the American Numismatic association, lasting three days.

Recent history in foreign and national coinage will be discussed. Waldo C. Moore of Levisburg, O., is president.

RANGER'S POPULATION 16,205

The census bureau today announced the population of Ranger in the 1920 census. The percentage of increase is 2,315 1/2 per cent since 1910, when only 760 residents constituted Ranger's population. The city was not incorporated at that time.

GOVERNOR OF VERA CRUZ IS OUSTED

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 13.—Antonio Nava, provisional governor of the state of Vera Cruz, has been relieved of his office by order of Provisional President de la Huerta.

This action was taken because President de la Huerta considered Nava had exceeded his powers in recognizing the state legislature and calling state elections.

$100 IN PRIZES

An ad judging contest will be held by the Times beginning Sunday, August 15th, and ending Saturday, August 28th. $100.00 in prizes will be given to the persons writing the thirteen best letters stating why they think a certain advertisement appearing in the Daily Times is the best.

First prize $25.00, second, $15.00; third, $10.00; and ten five dollar prizes will be given. Only one letter from each contestant pertaining to a certain advertisement will be entered. More than one entry may be made by one person, but different advertisements appearing on different days must be discussed.

Why do you think the advertisement of "such and such" a firm is the best in the paper? Is it because the size, wording or uniqueness sets it off from the others, or is it because you have been in the habit of reading that firm's advertisements and realize that the statement contained therein are truthful?

Send a letter to the advertising manager of this paper, stating your reasons. Only the criticisms of advertisements appearing between Sunday, Aug. 15 and Saturday, Aug. 28, are eligible. You do not have to be an advertising specialist—just a simple statement of why you read some ads and pass others by. Additional announcements will be made in another part of the paper.

HAROLD BELL WRIGHT IS SECRETLY WEDDED

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Aug. 13.—Harold Bell Wright, the author, and Mrs. Winifred Mary Potter Duncan of Los Angeles were married secretly at a hotel here last Thursday, it became known today. A township justice of the peace performed the ceremony.

Wright, a former Missourian, recently was divorced from his first wife, whom he married when he was a minister of the Disciples of Christ Church in Missouri.

WITNESSES IN DISPUTE OVER DOG

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—Twenty-two women were witnesses yesterday in a three-hour trial in Municipal court in an effort to decide the ownership of a small bull terrier which two women claimed. After the witnesses had divided about equally regarding the ownership of the dog, identifying him by the color of his eyes, his "friendly disposition" and in many other ways, the Judge declared he could not decide who actually was the owner, but gave the dog to the defendant by "right of possession."

Urges Greater Production.

COLLEGE STATION, Aug. 13.—America's greatest need today is the return of men from non-productive to productive pursuits, Dr. G. F. Warren, professor of rural economics and farm management at Cornell university, told nearly 1,000 Texas men, women and children, at the opening session of the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical college.

"Frugal living and wise and limited investment of savings will safeguard our country against the economic pressure under which many nations are groaning," Professor Warren said.

In the girls' division, dressmaking, canning, home sanitation, basketry, home laundry and home beautifying are subjects in which much interest is shown. Other subjects in this division are: Child welfare, dairying, poultry, husbandry, home gardening, bee culture and various phases of domestic science and economy.

In addition to the college faculty, leading agriculturists and authorities on home economics and domestic science from institutions all over the country are in attendance.

RAISE BENEFIT CROPS.

GALVESTON, Aug. 13.—The general rains recently followed by hot sunshine, ever moist of the cotton growing district, will benefit the crop greatly, experienced growers declare. Previously, the long dry spell had begun to render cultivation of the ground difficult, in many sections the soil cracking open. It is thought the rains will do little toward promoting the infestation of the boll weevil.

STEAMER MONTANA AGROUND.

By Associated Press. HALIFAX, Aug. 13.—The American steamer Montana went aground early today five miles east of Louisville and has been abandoned by its crew, who landed safely, according to a wireless message received here.

WANTED—IN COURT FOUR HUNDRED TO ANSWER TO CHARGE

Two fines of $25.70 each on charges of violating the sanitary ordinance were entered this morning by Police Judge L. H. Flewellen against cafe owners.

In assessing the fines, the judge declared that he had no wish to make it hard on any one but that Ranger had to be made a clean city. He declared that time after time the citizens had given notice to clean up and in many cases had refused to do so.

"There are 400 other violators of the sanitary laws in the city," the judge declared, "that should be down here and they will in time, too," he continued. "If their names are not put in a sanitary condition."

The two men paying fines were Albert Byland of 208 Lamar street and A. F. Ervin of 906 Blackwell road.

Judge Flewellen told Ervin that he was making his fine as light as possible but that if he came into that court again on the same charge, his fine would not be so light.

CANTU IS WILLING TO ABANDON PLANS IF KEPT IN OFFICE

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 13.—Governor Cantu of Lower California is willing to abandon his rebellion against the provisional government if he is permitted to remain in office until December, when state elections occur. He agrees to surrender his office to the successful candidate, according to advices. It is believed in government circles that the proposition will be rejected because it gives Cantu an opportunity to benefit from export taxes for the new cotton crop and from saloon and gambling concessions.

COMMUNITY CENTER PLANNED FOR STUDENTS AT UNIVERSITY

AUSTIN, Aug. 13.—Most favorable reports have been made to President R. E. Vinson of the University of Texas and to John A. Lomax, secretary of the Ex-Students' association, on the proposition of a community center especially designed to meet the social and group needs of the students of the university.

Investigation was made by James E. Pearce, associate professor of Anthropology in the university, and Dr. Charles W. Ramsdell of the plan as it has been put into effect at the University of Michigan. At that school, the only one known in the country to have carried out the idea so completely a scale, the students' center, erected and equipped at a cost of a million and a quarter dollars, has solved the distressing problems arising from a scattered student body and unwholesome social conditions.

Legion to Aid Injured.

AUSTIN, Aug. 13.—John W. Young, state Americanism chairman of the American Legion of Texas, was notified today that plans had been perfected by the national American Legion commission, of which Col. Arthur Woods is chairman, whereby men of legion posts will be able to co-operate with the hospitals of Texas in taking care of disabled service men who are receiving medical treatment.

Many complaints have been received Mr. Young from service men in hospitals and a thorough investigation of conditions will be made soon. Findings of the investigation will be reported to the state convention of the Texas branch of the legion which meets at Houston Aug. 23-24, and action will be taken by that body, it is said.

PRICE OF RAISINS RAISED FIVE CENTS

FRESNO, Calif., Aug. 13.—The California Associated Raisin company Monday named prices for the 1920 raisin crop on a basis of 15 cents to the grower. This is an increase of 5 cents a pound over last year.

In announcing the opening price, Wylie M. Giffen, president of the association, said that it was 3 cents under that paid by independent packers and 3 cents under that indicated at a recent auction sale in New York.

The estimated tonnage this year is 200,000, against 190,000 tons last year.

Something Is Wrong. Who Is to Blame? What Are YOU Going to Do About It?

This is one in a series of five or six articles dealing with the subject of conditions in Eastland county. The Times is not out after anyone in particular. The Times is just handing out some big facts from the records, presenting some matters that do not look just right. It is up to the people to do what they want about it.

Some Very Striking Peculiarities About Some Eastland County Bail Bonds.

Speaking about bail bonds along the lines represented in five previous issues of the Times, here is another rather striking peculiarity as disclosed by the records. Taking up the following cases and considering them individually just as the records show we find some rather unusual features:

Strange Similarities.

In the case of A. F. Lowden, charged with manufacturing intoxicating liquors, bond was furnished February 14, 1920, in the sum of $750, with Roy Mays, J. D. Hollingsworth and T. M. Mirrick as sureties. The peculiarity about this bond is the fact that every one of the sureties writes a hand almost identical. The signatures are so similar in penmanship that it would certainly take an expert to detect any difference. Forfeiture of this bond is now pending.

R. M. Todd, charged with having in his possession a still, and who seems to have signed as one of the bondsmen for E. E. Davis and E. R. Davis, charged with the same offense, furnished bond on February 24, 1920, in the sum of $750, with Chas. Mays, W. J. Mays and T. M. Mirrick as sureties. It would take an expert to detect any difference in the writing of the signatures. So far as penmanship is concerned they are all just alike, and there is another peculiarity about this bond which will receive attention further along in this article.

And now we come to the noted case of Sam Figenholtz, or whatever his name is, Sam was charged in six indictments with receiving stolen property. In the six cases only one bond in the sum of $2,000 seems to have been filed. This bond was forfeited, and judgment nisi dismissed as against the sureties on account of defective bond. The body of the bond contains the name of Sam Figenholtz, whereas the bond is signed in a rather crude hand by either Sam Figenholtz or Fighart. The sureties in this bond are J. D. Hollingsworth and W. J. Mays, and both sureties seem to have written a hand almost indistinguishably similar.

A. E. Troxwell or Troxel (the name is typewritten in body of bond Troxwell, but is signed by A. E. Troxel) is charged with robbery. Bond in the sum of $1,000 was furnished February 25, 1920, with W. J. Mays, J. D. Hollingsworth and C. R. Miller sureties. It would take an expert to designate or determine the difference in the handwriting of these sureties. Judgment nisi against principal and sureties. Forfeiture now pending.

E. E. Davis, charged with operating a still, gave bond in the sum of $750, February 25, 1920, with R. M. Todd and W. J. Mays sureties. Signatures of sureties remarkably similar. Bond forfeited, and judgment nisi made final against principal but set aside as to sureties because bond defective.

WARSAW GOAL OF CIRCLING SOVIET ARMY

Bitter Hand to Hand Fighting Occurs; City in State of Siege.

WARSAW, Aug. 13.—Russian Bolshevik forces attacking the Polish lines northeast and east of here have penetrated to a point twenty-five miles from Warsaw. A state of siege has been declared in Warsaw and civilians are not permitted on the streets after 10 o'clock at night. Cafes and other public places are closed at nine. The determination of the Soviet forces to press on toward Warsaw has been demonstrated at several points where sanguinary hand to hand fighting occurred.

Polish successes on the southern front where Russians are pushing toward Lemberg, are reported in an official communique. Polish cavalry and infantry have ousted Bolshevik detachments from Radziechoff, Lopatyn, Stanystawczyk and Toporoff, it is reported. These towns are in the district north of Lemberg and to the west and northwest of Brody, along the old Galician border. Fighting continues further south along the border strip.

The poles are savagely contesting every foot of ground sought by the Red armies. It is reported that Pultusk changed hands several times and fighting swept back and forth and the latest advances say that vicious combat is now proceeding in the streets of the town.

ENGLAND NOT FOR WAR.

LONDON, Aug. 13.—A significant reference to the present crisis was made by Lloyd George in addressing a meeting of Coalition Liberals late Thursday. After expressing his fervent hope for co-operation between England and France, the premier continued, apparently alluding to the possibility of war with Russia "when the terrible question of peace or war has been declared our first duty—as a government is to the people who trust us not to commit our treasure to an unjustifiable adventure. Nothing but the most imperative call of national honor, national safety and national freedom can justify war. Before this country is committed to it, even in the most limited form, we must be satisfied that these are in peril."

WARSAW, Aug. 12.—Polish commissioners with authority to negotiate preliminary peace are expected to leave here Saturday morning to meet Russian Soviet delegates somewhere on the road between Warsaw and Brest Litovsk, the foreign office has announced. The meeting, it is said, will take place between 5 and 7 o'clock Saturday morning. American and British newspaper correspondents will be permitted to accompany the Poles, the Bolsheviks having invited their attendance.

They Called Him 'Cuckoo' and He Up and Beat It

By ERNEST SPARKS.

They called him a cuckoo—not only called him that but hung the name on him for life. No ordinary self-respecting parrot would accept such a name peacefully and this one was of royal lineage. He bore up under the disgrace as long as it was possible for parrot endurance then Wednesday morning in a fit of despondency just as the first red blaze of the morning sun spread over the eastern sky, he turned his face toward the west and the last seen of him was the flashing of his golden crest as he disappeared over Eastland hill.

His mistress perhaps does not know until yet why he left her with a sad and desolate heart after she had rescued him and paid his ransom, from a gang of fighting, cursing, plebian parrots in El Paso last February and brought to live in a royal cage in the Willson hotel.

Those who have had parrots confide in them know the act was caused by the ignominy of such a name. Imagine a parrot of aristocratic blood being labeled "cuckoo" when a cuckoo is a bird that lays its eggs in other nests than its own to be hatched. Why this parrot did not lay at all—he was not that kind of a bird—then they wonder why he went away.

Mrs. Leon D. Brooks bought the parrot in El Paso. He is a handsome bird pure white with a wonderful yellow crest—royal blooded, every line of him. She petted him and was teaching him to call her pretty names but with all her love, she did him wrong.

She called him "cuckoo" and he went away.

Well, to begin with, I was born and raised in Texas. Born in the cross-timbers and raised in the cross timbers in a two-room house. Of course, when they got to be nine of us kids the old man showed us how to build a loft to the biggest room and part of us kids stayed up there when we had a good deal of company.

I never was out of Texas but once and that was that time I moved up to Arkansas, but I didn't stay there long on account of the Republicans and miscreants. I drove a couple of good mules up there and all I had to drive home was a couple of burros.

What's that you say? You've got to catch the four thirty train back. Well, I know it will be a couple of hours late and anyhow I'm gittin' to the point of the story as fast as I can. I can't talk but just so fast and it ain't as if I would always lose an argument with my wife if I could talk faster. Law, she can talk for hours at a time on more subjects.

Old Bradley Sides Tells Reporter of Flint Creek Fight

Yes, my name's Bradley Sides. Glad to meet you, shore. Sit down in that chair and make yourself comfortable, but be careful about squirming around for one of the legs is weak. I been aimin' to have it fixed for quite a spell.

No, I don't mind tellin' anything I know. I've heard a heap about you newspaper reporters but I never thought one would come all the way from Fort Worth just to see me. Yes, I'll be glad to tell you all about what happened at the fight down at Flint Creek mill. I know all the details about how that lowly Holloway gang tried to wipe me and the rest of my bunch out. But I'll have to start at the beginnin' so's you can understand without interruptin' when I git to the excitin' part. It allus did put me out a right smart to have a man butt in when I'm tellin' a story.

Well, to begin with, I was born and raised in Texas. Born in the cross-timbers and raised in the cross timbers in a two-room house. Of course, when they got to be nine of us kids the old man showed us how to build a loft to the biggest room and part of us kids stayed up there when we had a good deal of company.

I never was out of Texas but once and that was that time I moved up to Arkansas, but I didn't stay there long on account of the Republicans and miscreants. I drove a couple of good mules up there and all I had to drive home was a couple of burros.

What's that you say? You've got to catch the four thirty train back. Well, I know it will be a couple of hours late and anyhow I'm gittin' to the point of the story as fast as I can. I can't talk but just so fast and it ain't as if I would always lose an argument with my wife if I could talk faster. Law, she can talk for hours at a time on more subjects.

It's interestin' to a stranger but I hear it so much it don't make no impression on me.

Well, as I started to say, wimmen is a sore trial to a man of my disposition. My wife's been predictin' we would starve to death for so long that she's got all the neighbors to believin' it and old Cox has just about cut me off from credit down at the store. Every time I go down there to spend Saturday evenin' he hints around and mentions how bad he needs money and asks about my cotton crop. I'll bet he's got it figured down to the last pound how much I will make. I usually send the old woman down to get groceries. Cox ain't got the nerve to say anything when she tells him to charge them to my account. He used to go with her herself but he was too dangled backward to make a proposal. I never see him without gittin' mad.

Will you have a chew? Well, I allus offer a man a chew when I take one myself but I do chew less in company since Tinsley has gone so high. Old man Moseley that lives over on the ridge by the school house won't never take a chew when anybody's around for fear they'll ask him for a bite. His wife's uncle came to see him last summer and stayed two months and the old man got so cross he couldn't live on the place and his wife finally asked him what was the matter. He told her that the relation follered him so close he didn't git a chance to taste tobacco and she up and told him her uncle never took a chew in his life. The old man humped up her uncle after that and pulled out a plug and asked, "Will you take one with me?" and the uncle said, "Doggone me if I don't. I never tasted the stuff before but it must be good or so many people wouldn't use it." The old man talked about gittin' a divorce from his wife but he found out the lawyer fee would cost $25 and he never did.

What's that? I ain't gittin' nowhere with the story? Well, if you want any more details you'll have to go to Little Bradley Sides that lives two miles over the ridge. He was the one that got into the shootin' with the Holloways. He's a second cousin of mine.

Sorry you're leavin'; you had better come in and spend the night.

TAKES NAP ABOVE STREET ON WIRES

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—William Merkel, about thirty, who coyly refused his address yesterday, told inquirers at Newark (N. J.) hospital that he could not remember under just what circumstances he had climbed a telegraph pole and gone to bed on the wires.

Patrolman Rush early yesterday saw Merkel lying across the wires at Fleming avenue and Providence street, Newark. Rush sent in a call for reserves. These came and stretched a life net of steel. A policeman with steeplejack tendencies climbed the pole and shouted: "Are you dead or alive?"

"Lemme sleep."

"Come on down!"

"Lemme sleep!"

While an interested crowd of several hundred looked on and gave advice, the steeplejack policeman finally persuaded Merkel to come down. After he reached earth they took him to the hospital.

SEIZES BURGLAR. RECOVERS LOST SUM

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Henry Crozier, a broker living at No. 555 West One Hundred and Sixtieth street, awoke yesterday to find a barefoot and coatless burglar in his room. He knocked the thief down, but while he was calming his excited wife the intruder regained consciousness and made off with $4,000 worth of jewelry.

Craiger gave chase and overtook the burglar in an adjoining yard, where he found him partially disrobed. When arraigned in the Washington Heights Police court the prisoner, who said he was Paul Pope, a seventeen-year old elevator operator, of No. 2322 Seventh avenue, said that he had taken off his coat, collar and tie to disguise himself. An effort to find his missing garments was fruitless.

Magistrate Sweetser held Pope in $3,000 bail for the grand jury.

BURGLAR TOUCHES CORPSE IN DARK, PLANS TO REFORM

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Walter White, well known to the police as "Silk Hat Harry," will leave Sing Sing Friday the thirteenth, on parole after seven and a half years. Yesterday he vowed he was going to remain "straight." He said he had reformed before being captured the last time, but was arrested for an "old job." He told the story of his reform yesterday:

"I entered a house a few months before I was arrested. I got into the dark parlor and was feeling my way around when my hand touched something cold. I thought it was a dresser or something but it felt queer. I flashed on my light. It was a corpse all laid out for a funeral. I quit being a burglar right there."

FIANCE KILLED AS WEDDING DAY NEARS

WAUKEGAN, Ill., Aug. 13.—Miss Winifred Gifford was making plans to wed Al K. Thompson of Milwaukee on Aug. 18. A telegram received by the girl today from R. B. Miller, also of Milwaukee, who was to be best man, stated that he was leaving immediately for Ashland, Ky., where her fiancé had met death in a train wreck. Miss Gifford collapsed at the home of her mother, Mrs. A. W. Gifford. Thompson was manager of a tractor firm in Milwaukee.

NOTE—This is the fourth of a series of articles calculated to give more or less intimate sidelights on the personalities of the great and near-great. Each article presents the impressions and observations of a newspaper reporter in the presence of the booted, spurred and belted—likewise the hooded, slurred and pelted.—Editor.

(Tomorrow: John Kendrick Bangs)
Ambassador James W. Girard.

By DICK DONAHUE
 I had taken a free-lance assignment from the Newark Evening News to "cover" Elk memorial exercises at a local theatre last Decoration day. I was told that Ambassador Girard, the man who huddled the challenge full and fair into the teeth of Prussia's vaunted superman, would speak. My instructions were to interview him.

I made my way back stage and began a still hunt among members of the somewhat flurried program committee for my man. As all men in full dress look alike to me I had some difficulty in finding him. I finally located him in a dressing room labeled "Star," assiduously shuffling a number of what appeared to be visiting cards, on the backs of which minute notes had been pencilled.

His "Notes."
 "It is an old trick of mine," he said, laughingly, when I introduced myself and explained my mission. "I learned it at college. In London once, at a formal function, I spoke almost an hour from key-word reminders emanated on the back of a laundry list." He laughed again amusedly and, against my protest, hunched himself on a shelf in the dressing room, leaving to my use the only chair it contained.

Girard is a meek appearing but not hesitant man. His forehead is high, domed. His hair is sparse and he has a way of wrinkling his face when he talks that gives him the appearance of possessing an extraordinarily long face. His hands are large and his body is loose jointed, with slightly stooped shoulders. The ensemble reminded me more of a college professor in one of the minor chairs or a somewhat aged corporation lawyer more than it did of a man who defied the greatest war lord of our time and, as ambassador of a technically neutral nation, warned him and his clique that inevitable punishment would reward his effort to enthrone armed might as the only arbiter of human destinies. Unlike the few other diplomats I have conversed with, Girard does not quibble with words. His language is not that of a man who seeks to state his case by insinuation, implied meaning and innuendo rather than direct, lucid words. He gesticulates while speaking more than Americans usually do.

To the Point.
 He evidently had long since reconciled himself to the fatality of attempting to avoid newspaper interviews, for at the beginning of our conversation, he frankly asked what I wanted him to talk about and how fully. When I sketched the subjects the paper I represented was most interested in, Girard began methodically to discuss them. In fifteen minutes I had obtained as much information as is possible to get in a hour when the interviewer is obliged to interrogate the man to whom he is talking.

At one point in our conversation Girard said: "There is a sharp difference between American and European journalism. When a journalist in Paris or London wants to interview a man he sends his card three or four days in advance. When an American newspaper man wants information he simply locates his subject and interviews him. If he is forbidden entrance, why, he climbs the lightning-rod. I have personal knowledge of a prominent London journalist who refused to interview or accept vitally important information, of international interest, from a high governmental figure because the latter affected boisterous clothes and the journalist feared he would be subjected to embarrassment if seen talking to him. Imagine an American reporter having such inhibitions."

Our conversation was interrupted by a tiny French girl who was to dance and sing a patriotic air during the memorial program. I was treated to the sight of a staid diplomat, whose post in Berlin immediately preceding America's entrance into the world war was by far the most trying position imaginable, dandling a laughter-shaken little girl on his angular knee.

LEGION CONVENTION WILL NOT TAKE UP MARTIAL LAW
 HOUSTON, Aug. 13.—The resolutions committee of the Texas branch of the American Legion will not permit the presentation of a resolution or motion touching on the proclamation of martial law at Galveston by Governor Hobby, it was announced here today by legion members making preparations for the state convention to be held. This puts to rest any talk that the legion might adopt a resolution in this regard, it was announced through Kent Watson, director of publicity. The convention date is Aug. 22, 23 and 24.

THE WOMAN WHO SAW

Not Entirely Accidental.

Some guardian angel of the little slum dwellers had turned on a water main on Fourth street the other day when the Woman happened by. Twenty youngsters of varying ages and sizes were having the time of their lives running in and out of the powerful shower. The spectators numbered easily a hundred, and from their ranks timid ones ventured forth to dabble experimental toes, only to find themselves almost drenched by some youth manipulating the whole four inch stream suddenly in their direction. One mere baby was pushed forward by his sister and caught by the deftly manipulated current and actually carried screaming downstream for several yards.

For a full block toward Sixth Avenue the gutter ran full, and more than one delivery cart found it inexpedient to try to pass that particular corner and turned and went back toward Sheridan Square. A bevy of laughing girls came past and the very swallows who had been most daring in directing the shower fell force onto an unsuspecting passer-by, rushed to lay dry bits of board to insure the safety of the tidy white shoes.

Then a limousine drove up to a little shop where hand dyeing is done to order. The chauffeur went in while the grand lady inside sat haughtily, unaware of the fun. There was no room in her world for dirty, polyglot kids. Presently one of the big boys began making the water do a pin-wheel stunt by manipulating it with a big stick and a little one. And somehow, quite accidentally, splash! went a shower over the grand lady and her white gown, and all down into the

Here's a chance, Miss Freckle-face to try a remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable concern that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles; while if it does give you a clear complexion, the expense is trifling. Simply get an ounce of Othine—double strength—from any druggist and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst cases. Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength Othine as this strength is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

The "gang" fell back of one accord, huddling in a tense half-circle. Little snarl, indrawn shrieks came from some of the girls. Two or three of the boys lew together and were just about making their way to her, led by the champion "pin-wheeler," when the chauffeur came out, and at a perfunctory wave of the hand from the grand lady drove off, without her having even glanced at the once bearers.

The champion water shooter just then happened to catch the Woman's eye. He winked openly and the Woman "wunk" back. For she had happened to be standing where she could see him working the "pin wheel" stunt accurately to meet out justice as he saw it, and he knew that the Woman was "on."

Refuting Tony

Not long ago the Woman told of a bootblack of the Cynic School who believes that hard work gets a man nowhere these days. To quote him once again: "You have to start to get a reach." If she felt sick at heart as she listened, she felt glad when a letter reached her breathing a different spirit. And so, as a tonic to the heart-sick and a brace to optimism, she is going to quote it just as it was written:

"Dear Woman Who Saw: Sorry, but I have to contradict Tony, the bootblack, who thinks that you have to steal your way to the top. He is wrong. It is not by hard work, but by brains, that there are many more. I venture to guess."

"Fifteen years ago my husband earned at his trade $25 a week, and now has been made a $10,000 man by a large concern, just by dint of hard work. He did not even apply for the position, but they sought him out, although there were four other applicants. He always worked painstakingly and spurred the six or eight hour day if his work demanded it. Tony and others also may see that hard and conscientious work pays."

"I grasp this opportunity to write because I enjoy reading your column. It helps me, too, with my English, as I am a foreign born. For this last reason kindly excuse mistakes in this little epistle."

But the Woman can find no mistakes in either the English of the spirit of the "little epistle." It is such foreign born citizens that make this country a better place.

CLARENDON NEEDS 250 CARS FOR SMALL GRAIN

Special to the Times.
 CLARENDON, Texas, Aug. 13.—Clarendon needs 250 cars to handle the small grain and 50 cars to handle the oncoming sorghum grain crop, according to the answer to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce questionnaire.

The cotton production last year was 30,000 bales. There has been a decreased acreage but the production will be 5,000 bales above that of last year, says the report.

CROWELL, Texas, Aug. 13.—In reply to the questionnaire of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce the Crowell Chamber of Commerce has made the following report on the car and cotton situation: Cars needed to move the small grain crop, 500; for sorghum grains, 100. Cotton production in 1919 was 9,000 bales. The acreage for 1920 has been doubled. The estimated production in 1920 has been set at 25,000 bales.

ROADS.

Ranger's chamber of commerce, in appointing Dr. R. H. Hodges the head of a committee to keep the city and the chamber informed on the progress of roads in the county and in Stephens county, with the power to appoint two other members to serve on the committee with him and the right to hire a man, if needed, to keep in touch with the road situation, is recognizing one of the city's vital needs—good roads, and protection in the building of them.

Ranger now claims, with better justification than any city of West Texas, to be the center of oil activities. Other cities regard Ranger as the hub. Other pools ship their supplies through here, or purchase them here originally.

In taking an active, aggressive stand on this question, the Ranger Chamber of Commerce is paralleling other chambers of the country whose good roads work is listed as their foremost accomplishment in statistics compiled by the American Cities Bureau.

Thus: Hutchinson, Kan., claims the biggest road building program in the state with twenty-seven miles of brick highways in Reno county. The chamber of commerce actively promoted this undertaking.

Johnston, Pa., chamber of commerce pushed a road campaign with such vigor that Cambria county now has an extensive plan of permanent highway construction.

Marshall, Tex., chamber of commerce lifted that city out of the Texas mud, by cooperation on a roads system.

New Castle, Pa., with its board of trade, co-operated with the county commissioners, enlisted help of the state highway department and furthered road projects which will see completion in 1920.

Parkersburg, W. Va., chamber of commerce fathered the plan to bond West Virginia for $50,000,000 for the purpose of building a statewide system of roads. Ranger takes its place with other aggressive cities of the United States in the interest the Ranger Chamber of Commerce demonstrates and converts into profitable effort.

DELUDED ORATORS.
 All these apostles of discontent who tell us that America condemns Bolshevism because it does not know the truth about it are themselves the victims of delusion if they really believe what they say on the subject.

The testimony of careful observers, such as Dr. S. G. Youngert of the United States commission to Europe, who spoke on this subject yesterday in Kewanee, is reliable and informing. It is based upon a careful study at first hand of what the Bolsheviks are doing and trying to do. Dr. Youngert properly calls Bolshevism the world's new foe. Men and women, enjoying the liberties and happiness of America, shudder at the evils the Russian plan embodies. They want none of it here nor elsewhere on the earth, if they can prevent it, for it is a contamination to all the world's peace.

Anybody advocating such monstrosities of governments and social life as those extolled in the Russian theory is out of tune with the American thought and conscience.—Kewanee Star-Courier.

POETRY.
 (Lord Dunsany.)

What is it to hate poetry? It is to have no little dreams or fancies, no holy memories of golden days, to be unmoved by serene midsummer evenings or dawn over wild lands, singing or sunshine, little tales told by the fire a long while since, glow-worms and briar roses; for of all these things and more is poetry made. It is to be cut off forever from the fellowship of great men that are gone; to see men and women without their halos and the world without its glory; to miss the meaning lurking behind the common things, like elves hiding in flowers; it is to beat one's hands all day against the gates of Fairyland and to find that they are shut, the country empty and its kings gone hence.

General Baron Wrangel has been recognized as representing the de facto government of South Russia. Well named, eh what?

Red haired, green eyed girls, formerly considered homely, are now heroines in nearly every novel. For ornaments, they prefer jade. Make your own jest.

PUBLIC FORUM

To the Editor:
 Permit me, sir, to thank you for the articles that have been appearing in your paper, "Something Is Wrong, What Are YOU Going to Do About It?" The Times is merely presenting the public facts that have heretofore existed in Eastland county. I personally feel that the people should know of conditions prevailing in the community in which they live. I am proud that we have a paper in Eastland county that has the backbone and nerve to publish the articles that have been published in your paper in regard to the public officers in performance of their duties. The good people of the county appreciate this information.

EFFICIENT HOUSEKEEPING

PUTTING UP YOUR PEACHES.

Peach Marmalade.—Drop the peaches into boiling water for about 1 minute and then into cold water to loosen the skins. Drain, remove skins and stones, (with several finely chopped kernels for flavor) in the preserving kettle (rinse the kettle in cold water before putting them in, to prevent sticking) and heat slowly, stirring and mashing the peaches with either a wooden or an agate spoon. Frequent stirring prevents burning. When the pulp is soft and thick, add sugar in the amount of three-quarters of the weight of the peaches (that is, the previous weight—when the skins and stones were removed at the beginning of the process). Boil until the juice is jelly-like when a little is cooled on the edge of a saucer or until 2 drops of the juice drop from the spoon in two separate places at one time. Turn into hot, sterilized glasses and let cool, then cover the top with paraffin. (The paraffin must be very hot.)

Peaches Canned by the Cold Pack Method.—Select peaches of uniform size, ripeness and color. (The yellow-colored ones make the richer-looking product.) Put them in a wire basket and dip into boiling water, holding them there from 1 to 2 minutes; then cold dip at once and remove the skins, taking care not to cut into the fruit. Halve and remove stones; pack into hot, sterilized jars and fill the jars with boiling hot thin syrup. (Make the syrup of 3 cups of sugar and 2 cups of water, heating until the sugar is dissolved and then using at once.) Adjust rubbers and covers, partially seal, and sterilize under boiling water in a wash boiler canner for 16 minutes. Seal and invert to test for leakage. (A delicious flavor is obtained by adding to each part one or two of the kernels from the peach stones.)

Sliced Peaches.—Follow directions given above, merely slicing the peaches and putting them into the jars instead of canning them cut in halves. Sliced peaches are used on winter shortcakes or in various desserts.

Peaches Canned Without Sugar.—(Canned in this way, the sugar will be added as needed when the fruit is served.) Follow directions given above for peaches canned by the cold pack method, but instead of filling the jars with thin syrup fill them with boiling water; and instead of sterilizing the jars for 16 minutes, sterilize them for 30 minutes.

Mrs. M. V. C.—"I got some iodine on a white dress. How can I remove it?"
 Answer.—Iodine stands in yield to other or chloroform; and if not badly set, they are soluble in alcohol.
 Tomorrow—That Left-Over Cup of Coffee.

"Tinker Bob" Stories
 by Carlisle H. Holcomb

A Sound in the midst of the night Tinker Bob laughed and laughed to see how fast the Hunter ran. For Mr. Hunter was big and fat and he had to make a great effort to run very fast. The Creatures of the Forest were not afraid of him any more and Red Fox shook so badly with fear that he shook the King's coat from his back. Mr. Weasel the Great was not seen again and I guess Mr. Bob Cat is running yet.

Jerry the Jay followed the Hunter to his home and cried, "Thief! Thief!" all the way. It made the Hunter so angry that he stood on his door step and fired his gun at Jerry, and the shot took every one of Jerry's tail feathers out.

It was very hard for him to fly without his tail feathers because he used them for balancers. And he was ashamed to have the other birds see him wabbling about in the air. He never did

EVIL TIMES.
 Oh, these are crucial times, my friends; each day presents its warning; and every time the night descends we think there'll be no morning. Our statesmen rag us from the stump, until there's a lather, and say we're going to the dump, where all the bow-wows gather. Our sacred rights are trodden flat, our bulwarks badly shaken, and if we don't do this or that we're bound to lose our bacon. It is the bogie, gray and old, of presidential seasons, the wrath that makes our feet grow cold, and undermines our reasons. At other times we do not think of chaos, in our hurry; our bulwarks may be on the blink, but we don't pause to worry. The country seems to slide along, and nothing yet has wrecked it, and if its works are badly wrong, we simply don't detect it. And then we put up candidates to cop the White House honor, and these potential magistrates insist the land's a goner. If 'other fellow wins the prize, becomes the nation's master, then we'll confront, with startled eyes, all kinds of black disaster. Once in four years we get this scare, when candidates assemble; we walk the edges of despair, and wring our hands and tremble!

Their advertisement printed on the 20th inst. impressed me more than any other. In the first place the name _____ is suggestive of health, of purity, and of trust, and is well chosen. In the second place, the advertisement is written plainly and simply, making no impossible pretensions. There are no bold statements to the effect that their products are the only good ones on the market. In the third place, their honest invitation extended to all to visit their "spotless, sun-flooded rooms, in the largest _____ in the world" and see personally how their products are made, is sufficient to convince me of the purity and excellence of "_____". Hunting Bargains in Ranger

Bargains discovered in trips through Ranger shops and department stores are here presented briefly, for the benefit of Times readers. If any of the articles described meets your needs, you may learn the shop where it may be purchased by calling the Times, telephone 224, and giving the shopping editor the number of the paragraph which tells of your particular bargain.

I have been asking some of my readers what they liked best to find on a bargain counter and a number have answered "hose." Silk hose is just as indispensable a necessity as powdering our noses—so we figure. Tomorrow a shop is going to use as a leader for its bargains full fashioned, pure thread silk hose, in black only, for $1.95. This shop also has other worthwhile bargains. A third off will be given on all silk underwear, including silk petticoats. Some good looking beaded georgette waists are selling for $3.85.

Are you always able to wear your wash skirts two seasons? They are usually plain, the style changing very little from summer to summer except in length which is easily remedied. A shop is offering its entire stock of wash skirts in satin, gaberdine and linen at half price. You can get at least a month's wear out of one yet and have it ready for next spring, already paid for.

'One-half price' is the inducement one shop offers you to buy a silk dress. Tulle, crepe de chine, crepe meteor or georgette. Dark blue, black or light colors. The prices of these were originally from $35 to $110. Whether you want a plain, practical work dress or a fussier, dressier one you will be able to find it in this lot.

Salvation Army to Organize Work of Charity Here

The advisory board of the Salvation Army, composed of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce, will stage a drive Sept. 7 and 8 to secure $10,000 to be used by the Salvation army for quarters and for financing the charity work of Ranger.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce held several days ago it was decided that the Chamber would request the people of the city to finance the work of the army and turn all charity work over to its local corps of officers.

To do this, it was pointed out, would require a systematic source of revenue which could be secured only by the citizens pledging themselves to donate a definite amount over a given period for the use of the army.

As the plans are worked out the people will finance the relief work and when applied to for charity, the applicants will be referred to the local charity organization who will investigate their claims and when found worthy, given the necessary aid.

By this method it is thought that merchants especially will save a good amount each year and at the same time all worthy charity cases will be properly aided.

GOVERNOR MAKES STRONG APPEAL FOR WOMAN VOTE

By Associated Press
RALEIGH, N. C., Aug. 13.—Declaring that women have "first right to speak when the issue is whether or not the world shall henceforth be ruled by reason and righteousness or blood and iron," Governor Bickett in a special message called upon the legislature to accept the inevitable and ratify the woman suffrage amendment.

The governor warned his Democratic friends that the most they would be able to do by defeating the ratification resolution would be to delay "for six months a movement you are powerless to defeat," adding that within a period of a few months some other state "will open the door and women will enter the political forum."

Miss Pearl Brandt of Houston, Texas, the first girl railroad mail clerk to be appointed in the United States, is said to be more efficient than any man who has held the position.

IRISH COERCION BILL IS GRANTED ASSENT OF KING

LONDON, Aug. 13.—Royal assent was given to the Irish coercion bill Monday after the house of lords passed the second reading of the measure without a division.

The staid house of lords was treated to a mild sensation as the lord chancellor resumed his seat after moving second reading of the restoration of order in Ireland bill. Alexander M. Carlisle, a Belfast Irishman, now a resident of London, who last Saturday said an offer to arrange a meeting between the Sinn Fein and Premier Lloyd George had been made to the premier, was standing behind the rail at the steps to the throne.

"If you pass this bill you may kill England, not Ireland," he said. No reply was made to him and he left after having delivered his protest.

Victory Service Will Pave Alley Adjoining Site

The Victory Service station on Marston street is excavating today to install an electric gasoline pump. The company is also receiving bids to have the alley from Marston to Austin street paved for the distance it is adjacent to its property.

E. H. Catuna, manager of the Victory station, bought the electric pump while on a recent visit to Milwaukee. The pump, Mr. Catuna said, had a dial on it much like a clock and was equipped with a rotary motor that would pump a maximum of thirty gallons of gasoline each minute. It is also equipped with a control lever which could decrease the flow to a very small amount. This is the only pump of its kind this side of Oklahoma City, he declared.

The Victory company is making an effort to get the other property owners along the Marston street alley to join with it and pave the entire alley, but whether or not this is done Mr. Catuna stated that his company would pave its part of it.

RICH MAN'S SLAYER DIES IN AN ASYLUM

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Sing Sing attendants have received unofficial word that Miquerich Mihiterian, saved from the electric chair months ago, has died in the insane asylum.

Mihiterian, in a rage, on July 23, 1919, killed Gullabi Gulbenkian, millionaire rug importer of No. 225 Fifth avenue.

TRAIN IS BLOCKED, WOMEN WALK HERE IN FRENCH HEEL PUMPS

Women wearing pumps with French heels that sank deep into the mud at every step, were obliged to walk from Tiffin, four miles east of here, last night when the Sunshine Special from Dallas was blocked by a freight train which left the rails and tore up the track for approximately 100 feet. Many passengers, despairing of reaching town before midnight if they waited for the track to be cleared, hoisted their baggage to their shoulders and started the long walk to Ranger.

One woman was obliged to carry a small baby and a suitcase. Another was forced to open her traveling bag and don carpet slippers before she reached town. A road bed softened by recent rains was the cause of the accident. Only the engine of the eastbound freight train left the track. The passenger train was delayed several hours. Local service car men made a rich haul rescuing the marooned passengers.

Nitros Return to Open With Scouts at Home Saturday

With yesterday's double bill at Abilene rained out, and no game scheduled for today, the Galloways took their own sweet time about returning from Abilene and rather than the hard night on the train, stayed over in Eagle town another day. They open with the Cisco Scouts tomorrow. Cisco is two games behind Ranger and the Nitros have no intention of letting them make up any part of that advantage.

As one game with Cisco of the last series here was rained out, it is expected that Skipper Jim will stage a double-header the second day of the Scout stay here. This will throw a double-header on Sunday, with Mineral Wells opening here Monday.

The next few days are bound to be interesting.

TAD'S TID-BITS

(By International News Service)
Dempsey's Iron Gloves.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Long before Jack Dempsey knocked Jess Willard kicking there were rumors that he had plaster of Paris or horseshoes in his gloves.
The day before the big Toledo fight we were in Jack's dressing room talking about the coming quarrel with Jess. Dempsey was a perfect specimen of fighter. His arms and fists were wonderful. Old Mike Angelo would have used Jack as a model in a second had he ever given him the O. O.

We got to talking about hitters, etc., and how hard it would be to knock Jess down. Jess had said that no man could tip him over. Dempsey was sure that he could.
"If I get the chance, you'll see him tipped over," said Dempsey smiling and showing his tusks. "I haven't hit one right yet that didn't fall. They say that I have lead weights in my gloves. All that I ever pack in the gloves are these." And Jack raised those two brown fists.

Some writers said that Willard was terribly cut at Toledo and that Dempsey must have hardened his fists some way.
Where the cuts were on Willard the writer fails to remember. Sure, he had a pipe of a black eye, but why wouldn't he have this when he stopped about thirty punches with that. He had a cut mouth, too, but then it was not ripped.
Willard looked exactly as did Jim Jeffries after the fight with Johnson. He was just beaten up a bit, but not slashed. Any glove can do what was done to Jeff and Willard without being doped.

How Come, How Come?

BOBBY JONES, JR.

ON GETTING A BAD BREAK, HE SHOWS SIGNS OF BEING A DESCENDANT FROM PIRATE ANCESTORS

HE TOOK HIS FIRST SHOT AT THE AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIP WHEN BUT 14 YEARS OLD

THE YOUNG ATLANTA AMATEUR WHOSE PLAY SHOWS A MARKED IMPROVEMENT OVER HIS LAST SEASON'S GAME THAT MIGHT BE HARD TO BELIEVE

Judging by his play in recent tournaments, Bobby Jones, the Atlanta youngster, has lost none of his phenomenal ability.
When Jones was but fourteen years old, he qualified for the finals in the amateur championship at Merion. He made his first round in 74 and it took none other than Bob Gardner to stop the kid after he had eliminated E. M. Byers and Frank Dyer, one an amateur champion. Jones is now nineteen and six inches taller, and he has developed into one of the longest hitters in the amateur ranks.

While at Georgia Tech he beat every one the opposing colleges sent against him.
His iron shots are strong and firm and his forearms are big and powerful, which help him to get good distance and control.

Bobby is a great fighter and is at his best in a strong field. His playing is spectacular, often giving vent to his feeling in no uncertain manner. Temper, in fact, is his one weakness.
The South has yet to enter an amateur champion on its records, but Jones was runner-up to Herron last year and the first Southern golfer to have advanced to the final round in a national championship.

COTTON MARKET TO BE IN CONTROL OF FARMERS IN FALL

AUSTIN, Aug. 13.—That the farmers will be masters of the cotton situation next fall is the opinion of W. B. Yeary, cotton market specialist of the state department of agriculture.

"There will be very little old cotton on hand when the new crop begins to move freely," Mr. Yeary declared. "What little there does remain will be in the hands of the farmers. This gives them the whip-hand in making the price next fall, if the local banks and merchants stay behind them. It is the first time in history that they have been absolutely masters of the situation that is, if the reserve banks will adopt a human policy and extend loans of the members banks to the end that the crop may be sold to bring the cost of production and a profit. The state department of agriculture will give out Sept. 10 the report of its cost-finding and price recommending committee. If our credits can be mobilized behind the farmer, the work will be done, which will make certain the prosperity of the farmers and through them of all our people."

NITRO SHOOTER, TWENTY-THREE YEARS IN HIS PERILOUS GAME, TELLS WHY HE STAYS WITH IT

By PAUL YATES "Hello, give me the X. Y. Z. Torpedo company. Hello, that you, Jim? This is Charlie. Had a little bad luck. That shot went off when it touched the casing and it blew up the well, tore down the rig, killed two teams of horses and blew three other shooters to Kingdom Come."

Mr. Moore declared that on three separate occasions, while working in West Virginia, he saw a charge of nitroglycerine "burn" in a well, instead of exploding. This sight is worth seeing, he declares, especially at night. A golden flame visible for miles issues from the well, lighting up the countryside with a peculiar glare which is unlike anything else in the world.

Mr. Moore remarked that he had picked up several fellow workmen in a match box during his long years of experience. Fatalities in the Ranger field, however, have been kept to a minimum considering the large number of wells shot.

When the trucks reach this city the explosive is stored in one of the magazines. During winter the magazines must be artificially heated to prevent the nitroglycerine from freezing. It freezes at a higher temperature than water, and once frozen, it takes considerable trouble to thaw it out.

Randall-Lang Test to Get Nitro Jolt of Eighty Quarts

According to word from the well itself, the Randall & Lang test on the "ollett" ranch, in Palo Pinto county, has been making a flow a day, in a single deal, of twenty to thirty barrels, would be good for a hundred if put on the pump now and has not been shot, but will be this afternoon.

SOMETHING IS WRONG

The same two men are sureties for E. R. Davis, charged with the same offense, and of course there is the same similarity in the handwriting of both sureties. There was the same character of forfeiture in this case as in the case of E. E. Davis.

J. C. Bailey, charged with theft of over $50, gave bond in the sum of $1,000 on November 7, 1919, with W. J. Mays, C. R. Miller and Chas. Mays sureties. Signatures of sureties remarkably similar. Bond forfeited but judgment nisi set aside because wrong bond was called.

And Some More

The same thing happened in the case of M. C. Woods, charged with theft over $50. Same amount of bond, same sureties, same similarity of signatures and same action on forfeited bond.

Fred Wheat, charged with having intoxicating liquors in his possession, gave bond January 28, 1920, in two cases, in sum of $750 each. Signatures of all bondsmen and principal bear remarkable resemblance.

Bob Hickman, charged with murder, bond February 23, 1920 in sum of $3,000, with W. J. Mays, C. R. Miller, T. M. Mirrick and Chas. Mays sureties. Remarkable similarity of signatures of sureties.

R. R. Brennan, charged with robbery, bond January 16, 1920, with Roy Mays, W. J. Mays and J. D. Hollingsworth sureties. Signatures strikingly similar.

Noisy Watson, running gambling house, case now on appeal with J. W. Allen and Cleaves Barnes sureties. Original sureties in the sum of $500, with C. R. Miller, W. J. Mays and T. M. Mirrick as sureties. Signatures similar. Carl Churchhill, charged with running gambling house, gave bond on April 7, 1920, with W. J. Mays, T. M. Mirrick and W. C. Barnes sureties. Striking similarity of signatures.

All the Same

Homer Sprouse, charged with theft over $50, gave bond in January, 1920, in sum of $1,000 with W. J. Mays, J. D. Hollingsworth, T. M. Mirrick and K. Sorouse sureties. Striking feature about this bond is the remarkable similarity of signatures of principal and all sureties.

Jack Campbell, charged with bootlegging, gave three bonds, two of them dated April 17 and the other April 7, 1920, each in the sum of $1,500. One bond is signed by J. U. or J. W. Campbell, principal, with G. D. Clark, J. D. Hollingsworth, Jess Clark and T. M. Mirrick sureties. Remarkable resemblance of signatures of all sureties. Another, with remarkable similarity of signatures, is signed by G. D. Clark, J. D. Hollingsworth, T. M. Mirrick and W. J. Mays.

The third bond, with remarkable similarity of signatures of sureties, is signed by G. D. Clark, J. D. Hollingsworth, T. M. Mirrick, Chas. Mays and W. J. Mays sureties. Body of each bond reads "Jack Campbell." One of them is signed by J. U. or J. W. Campbell, one by J. M. Campbell and one by J. W. Campbell.

One particularly striking feature of the above cited bonds is the fact that some of them are signed by T. M. Mirrick, and some of them by T. M. Mirrick. Is there a T. M. Mirrick and a T. M. Mirrick, or does the gentleman spell his name differently at different times? There is a remarkable similarity in the signature, but a vast difference in the way the name is spelled.

Bonds in the following cases have been filed with the clerk, but do not show to have ever been approved: Louis Fitzgerald, two cases, and Fitzgerald forfeited his bond and judgment nisi made final against sureties and principal; Fred Wheat, two cases; Jack Campbell, two cases. Failure to approve is perhaps immaterial, probably being a clerical oversight.

ACTOR BADLY HURT IN BRAWL AT CLUB

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Police today continued their investigation to learn how John C. Slavin, veteran musical comedy actor, was so seriously injured that he may die. He was found in the street yesterday morning suffering from a fractured skull, near the residence of John J. McGraw, manager of the New York National league baseball team. At an early hour Slavin was still unconscious.

According to information given the police by Winfield Leggett, retired naval officer, he and Slavin accompanied McGraw to his home from the Lambs club in a taxicab. Leggett is said to have told the police that he and Slavin intervened in a fight at the club between McGraw and an unnamed actor. Leggett said he was unable to account for Slavin's injuries.

McGraw could not be found to give his version of the affair.

War on Pistol Toters. LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 13.—Governor Edwin P. Morrow has declared war on "pistol toters," as Kentucky calls those who habitually carry firearms concealed. In a formal statement he characterized them as undesirable citizens, a menace to good order and public safety.

Hereafter, the governor declared, persons convicted of carrying deadly weapons may not expect easy executive clemency, because, he said, no pardons will be forthcoming from his office. He called upon the courts to assist in saving the state from what he termed the "disgrace of its homicides," and urged them to faithfully execute the law which provides for jail sentences for the first offense and for the second disfranchisement for two years.

COTTON PICKERS NEEDED. CORPUS CHRISTI, Aug. 13.—The lure of the unpicked cotton, coupled with the high wages have caused the towns of the Gulf coast district to be deserted by surplus labor, according to reports received here. A local ice company, in a published statement, said that so many of its employees had quit to pick cotton that it was handling the situation with difficulty.

Thousands of cotton pickers are needed in the Gulf coast district, according to the Rural Land Owners' association, in spite of the fact that news of the great crop being made has drawn more labor here than ever before so early in the season. Farmers are paying $1.50 a hundred pounds.

KILLED BY BOLT, SITS IN LAUNCH

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—Sitting erect, but dead, Joseph A. Ayres, 60, of No. 4578 Park avenue, was found yesterday in the cockpit of his motor boat, Old Crow, in Pelham Bay. At first Patrolman George Bero and Patrolman Cyrus Horton of the marine division, thought they had discovered a crime, and they informed the homicide squad.

Examination, however, convinced the police that Ayres had been killed by lightning in Saturday's storm, or had succumbed to acute heart disease. The exact cause of death will not be determined until an autopsy is held today.

Ayres was a fishing enthusiast and frequently was out for several days and nights at a time angling, said his brother-in-law, Ignatius L. Bryan, who identified the body. Therefore the family was not alarmed when Ayres did not return home Saturday night.

Indications were that Ayres, sensing the approaching storm of Saturday, anchored his craft about a mile north of the Fort Schuyler shore, donned slickers and sat in the cockpit. As the boat wasn't found damaged, the police are inclined to believe that lightning did not strike it.

Student Loans Available.

AUSTIN, Aug. 13.—John A. Lomax, secretary of the Ex-Students' association of the University of Texas, is receiving applications for loans from the student loan fund of that organization.

Contributions from former students of the university make up the fund, and is used to help students who would not otherwise be able to attend school. For the past year consideration was given to ex-service men exclusively, but this year applications are being accepted from young women also, and there is indication that some of these will receive loans.

During the session of 1919-20 about sixty-five students received the financial aid necessary to enable them to attend the university. The committee on award is composed of John A. Lomax, Dr. Frederick Duncalf and Miss Clara Mae Parker.

DEAF MUTES TO MEET.

AKRON, Ohio, Aug. 13.—The largest deaf mute colony in the United States, located at Akron, will be represented at the annual convention of the National Association of the Deaf, to be held Aug. 9-14 in Detroit, by a delegation of 200.

Approximately 5,000 "silents" will attend the convention from all parts of the country.

The entire Akron delegation will be composed of workers in the Goodyear Tire & Rubber company, which has gathered deaf mutes from all parts of the country.

Eastern delegates will stop at Akron en route to the convention and will be entertained by the Goodyear silent colony of about 1,000 deaf mutes.

BOY BRIDEGROOM DOPED, HE AVERS, WANTS A DIVORCE

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—She vamped him and took him riding in a limousine. She feasted him and paid for the marriage license. She became his wife without even asking him to wed.

George J. Zohora, an 18-year-old boy, says it happened so quickly it put him in a daze. Yesterday he filed suit for divorce.

He alleges Beatrice Jardin is an Amazon. He also contends she fed him chocolate sodas full of dope. For, says the bill of complaint, it was two weeks before he was able to leave a room in a Crown Point rooming house where his wife took him after the nuptial ceremony. All this time his mind was not clear. She said they were married. Later the records proved it true. Such a marriage is illegal, Zohora claims.

Veteran Engineer Pensioned.

By Associated Press

DENISON, Aug. 13.—J. S. Clark, who has for forty years "pulled a throttle" on the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad, has been pensioned. Clark began his long service as an engineer in 1880 at Sedalia, Mo., after serving two years as a fireman. He was transferred to the Denison district four years later. He has had thirty-six years of continuous service on the various divisions out of this city. For many years he was in passenger service, but was forced to give that up a few years ago and take an engine in yard service here. Clark has been in several wrecks, but was never seriously hurt.
