Allies Capture Eight More Towns

Reds Batter Nazis

By HENRY C. CASSIDY
 MOSCOW, Oct. 26 (AP)—Four hard-hitting Soviet armies today were pursuing the battered legions of Adolf Hitler retreating across southern Russia from the shattered Dnieper river defense wall toward the Bug river, 175 miles to the west.

Front dispatches indicated that the badly mauled Nazi forces were waging desperate but futile rear-guard battles along a 200-mile-long front from Kremenchug south to the Sea of Azov, intent only on saving as much as possible from what may prove to be the greatest German disaster since Stalin-grad.

The German retreat, accelerated by the Russians' capture of the industrial cities of Dnepropetrovsk and Dneprodzerzhinsk in the great Dnieper bend yesterday, was a bluntly characterized by a Russian communique as "disordered." It yielded "enormous quantities" of war material abandoned by the nazis. Thousands of Germans were reported killed in fierce fighting on the flat Ukrainian steppes above the Crimea.

It was Gen. Rodion Y. Malinovsky's Third Ukrainian army which stormed Dnepropetrovsk to topple that great economic and military center. He was supported on his right flank by Gen. Ivan S. Konov's Second Ukrainian army group, while the Fourth Ukrainian army which captured Melitopol Saturday backed him up on the left flank. The First Ukrainian army operating further to the north was believed plunging westward below Kremenchug toward Znamenka.

Russian columns were battering at the gates of Krivoi Rog, 85 miles southwest of Dnepropetrovsk, where front dispatches said the 23rd German tank division had been trapped, and spearheads of the fourth army were racing through Melitopol toward the Crimea, shattering an enemy defense line based on the Melitopol-Crimea railway en route. The Red air force, masters of the Ukrainian skies, were blasting the disorganized nazis over the entire front.

Premier Stalin saluted the freeing of the Dnieper bend by ordering 20 salvos from 224 Moscow cannon—the second big night celebration witnessed by U. S. Secretary of State Cordell Hull and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, attending the tri-power conference in the Soviet capital. Capture of Melitopol was celebrated in a similar fashion Saturday.

Jap Air Might Blasted In Daylight Raids

Bombing Assaults Destroy Rabaul And 311 Planes

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Oct. 26. (AP)—Rabaul, the heart of Japanese air might in the Southwest Pacific, has been completely overpowered and strewn with the wreckage of 311 planes in four recent daylight assaults by hundreds of General MacArthur's bombers and fighters.

Today's communique disclosed the results of the third and fourth raids by nearly 300 planes Saturday and Sunday—123 enemy aircraft certainly wiped out and 45 others probably destroyed.

This mounting disaster at Japan's New Britain air fortress over a 12-day period, from Oct. 12 to 24, has been achieved at a price of only 12 raiders.

Two Lightning fighters and two Mitchell bombers were lost in the latest attacks but both fighter pilots and the crew of one bomber were saved.

Total air losses of the Japanese listed in today's communique accounts of widespread operations were 203 which raised to approximately 800 the number of enemy planes bagged within the last two-week period in the south and southwest Pacific.

Nearly 50 Liberators, heavily screened by fighters, opened the latest attack on Rabaul Saturday afternoon. Making a feint as if to attack warships in the harbor—the warships began to zigzag frantically—the big bombers flew their 105 tons of bombs to the Rapaopo airdrome. Twenty grounded planes were destroyed for certain, seven others probably.

Fifty enemy planes swarmed to the attack. The Liberators downed four for certain, eight probably. The Lightnings tagged 11 certainly and claimed five probables. There were no Allied losses.

Sunday, more than 50 Mitchell medium bombers, escorted by nearly 100 Lightnings, baffled Rabaul's anti-aircraft defenses as they had done Oct. 12 and 18 by going in barely above the surface of the sea.

The Mitchells wiped out 45 flaming bombers on the ground with machine-gun and cannon fire and probably accounted for 10 others.

Upwards of 70 Japanese planes battled the raiders in a one hour running fight. The Lightnings bagged 35 of these for certain and the Mitchells eight. Fifteen others probably crashed.

Beauty In Battle—Although the moment was in the midst of a terrific air attack which spread death and destruction on the Jap-held island of Wake, this view, captured by a navy photographer's camera, presents a fierce beauty. The plane of Lt. Ridgley D. Hadney, Gladewater, Tex., its 1000-pound bomb suspended beneath is silhouetted against the clouds as it poses for its dive. (AP photo from U.S. Navy).

Father-Draft Legislation For House

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—The house got its long-awaited filing at father-draft deferment legislation today.

Indications were it would, by tonight, pass a bill to put husbands and fathers at the bottom of the induction list and strengthen the authority of Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hersey in administration of the Selective Service law.

Up for action was a rewritten version of the measure on this subject which the senate passed several weeks ago when the upper chamber rejected proposals for an outright ban on general father-drafting.

Specially, the bill requires that men be called for induction on a nation-wide basis in this order:

Single men without dependents, single men with collateral dependents, married men without children and married men with children.

It does not prohibit the granting of deferments to men without children, nor does it make any distinction between children born before Pearl Harbor and those born since then.

By providing for induction on a nation-wide basis, it does away, in effect, with the old system under which quotas were filled on a local board basis. Under that system, it was possible for fathers in one county to be inducted before all eligible single men had been drafted in an adjoining county.

The house legislation differs from the senate measure in that it gives selective service administrators little leeway in following the principles of the original house-passed Kilday bill under which fathers would be drafted last. The senate measure provided that the order prescribed in the Kilday bill be followed when administrative discretion. The house version requires it to be followed, but allows selective service to prescribe the regulations under which it will be followed.

The house bill also repeals a section of the first war powers act under which the president has delegated much authority for administration of the selective service law to war manpower Commission Chairman Paul V. McNutt. It contains an outright ban against induction of a man because of his occupation.

Where the original selective service act authorized the president to delegate its administration to the selective service director, but did not require him to do so, the new legislation directs the chief executive to vest administration in the director.

It retains senate provisions for creation of a five-man group to study the possibility of lowering service physical standards and modifies regulations governing occupational deferment procedure. The senate bill required an employer to certify that an em-

Littlefield Doctor And Wife Brutally Murdered In Bed

LUBBOCK, Oct. 26 (AP)—Dr. Roy Hunt, 37, central figure in a sensational shooting last year, and his wife, Mrs. Mary Hunt, about 26, were found strangled to death in their bed at Littlefield, 38 miles from here, today.

Dr. Hunt, stockholder and staff member of the Littlefield Hospital and Clinic and member of a pioneer Lubbock county family, was shot twice on May 21, 1942, and Dr. William R. Newton, Cameron, Tex., physician, was given a seven-year sentence on a charge of assault to murder.

Mrs. Newton is waiting trial on the same charge.

Dr. and Mrs. Hunt were tied in their bed with coat hangers and light rope. The eldest of their two

May Use Plane For Ambulance

CHICAGO, Oct. 26 (AP)—A new navy ambulance plane will be christened five years after its development began—because a movie actor wanted a bed in his private ship.

Wallace Beery, the movie star and aviation enthusiast, decided he was past the age when sleeping on frozen ground was fun during hunting trips. Also, the door on the plane he owned was too small to admit such game as deer.

How about a new plane with a big door—and a bed? The Howard Aircraft corporation went to work. Out of that special job—and $4,000 in extra cost—with its folding bed and big door, engineers visualized a flying ambulance.

The United States navy some time ago asked for plans of the flying ambulance. Next to the stretchers is a nurse's seat. Pilot and co-pilot sit up front.

The new series of flying ambulances to serve American fighters have been named "Howard-Nightingale," and the first will be christened tomorrow, navy day, by sister Elizabeth Kenny, famous Australian nurse.

The high-wing monoplane has a modified speed wing with ample landing flaps. While it can speed battle casualties to hospitals at two and a half miles a minute, its designers say it can land and take off from small clearings, cow pastures and beaches.

New Eye Test For Pilot Applicants

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
 AP Science Editor
 CINCINNATI, Oct. 26 (AP)—A new eye test to insure greater safety for pilots was reported to the Aero Medical Association of the United States today by Dr. A. J. Herbolzheimer of the Civil Aeronautics Administration.

The test uses four spots of light in a novel way to catch the fault of double vision in pilot candidates for civil or military flying. Double vision is the same affliction, sober, that a person has with too many drinks.

"Many of these charges came from congressmen during arguments over the drafting of pre-Pearl Harbor fathers. These 'unfair accusations must be emphatically denied.' Mr. Roosevelt asserted. Here are some of the figures he used to back up his denial.

Permanent full-time employees of the government, both men and women—2,980,404, of whom 2,825,904 are in continental United States—as of July 31.

Clubs Urged To Support WAC Drive

Men and women's clubs throughout the city are being urged to aid in supporting Texas in the WAC company that will compete for quantity and quality against WAC companies from the 47 other states of the union.

A chart, posted in the chamber of commerce window, will show how the various clubs stand in WAC recruiting on the basis of one point for the name of every eligible WAC prospect submitted and five points for every one recruited.

Speaking in behalf of the campaign, Lieut. Mary F. Goldmann, WAC recruiter, said that by joining now, eligible women "might possibly save the life of a soldier, will be supporting your club, state and nation, and benefit yourself in at least six distinct ways."

She urged that all eligible women (basically between 20 and 50) contact either she or Sgt. Paula Edwards in the postoffice basement any day or on Tuesday and Thursday evenings. She appealed for Big Spring women "not to lay down on the job."

Keith Brian Cass Wins Navy Wings

Keith Brian Cass, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Cass of Big Spring, won his navy wings and was commissioned an ensign in the naval reserve this week at the Naval Air Training Center, Pensacola, Fla.

Ensign Cass as a naval aviator, will go on active duty at one of the navy's air operational training centers before being assigned to a combat zone.

Slavs Capture City

LONDON, Oct. 26 (AP)—German forces lost their last heavy industry in Bosnia today when Yugoslav partisans captured the steel manufacturing city of Vares-Maydan, 20 miles north of Sarajevo, a communique of the Yugoslav national liberation army announced today.

The city fell to the guerrilla warriors of Gen. Josip (Tito) Broz after a fierce 12-hour battle, the communique, broadcast by the free Yugoslav radio, said.

German losses in men and material were heavy, the bulletin added. Two nearby railway stations were also destroyed.

In another battle far to the north, the partisans were said to have stormed into the town of Brcko on the Save river, but were forced to withdraw after the Germans rushed in 20,000 troops and strong formations of bombing planes from Serbia to reinforce the 5,000 men defending the town. The partisans said they blew up a strategic Save river bridge before retreating.

Near Andrijevica in Montenegro, German columns, aided by Albanian mercenaries, launched several attacks on units of the Yugoslav army second corps, but were sharply repulsed, the communique said, with 250 officers and men being killed. Widespread local fighting was reported from other fronts.

The free Yugoslav radio has repeatedly charged that Yugoslav patriots fighting under Gen. Draja Mihailovic, field commander for King Peter, have joined with the nazis in fighting Tito's partisans and cited several clashes around the Montenegro border in which units of Mihailovic's army were allegedly identified as being brigaded with the Germans.

Cairo dispatches yesterday quoted a radio message from Mihailovic in which he countered with a charge that Tito's partisans were not only attacking his army, but that Tito had claimed victories over the Germans for which his men alone were responsible. The message was issued through King Peter's government in Cairo.

Com. Votes To Hike Liquor Tax

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—The house ways and means committee voted today to boost the tax on liquor from $6 per gallon to $8, but rejected all proposals for any increase in tobacco or gasoline levies.

Committee members estimated that under the increased liquor tax, the total levy on a drink of 100 proof liquor, estimating 80 drinks to the gallon, would approximate 12.5 cents. The tax would be smaller on lower proof liquors.

The tax framing body also approved increases in taxes on other alcoholic beverages, as follows:

Beer, from $7 a barrel to $8; wine under 14 per cent alcohol from 10 cent a gallon to 15 cents; wine 14 to 21 per cent from 40 cents a gallon to 60 cents; wine over 21 per cent, from $1.00 to $2.00 a gallon; sparkling wines from 10 cents a half pint to 15 cents; other wines, from five cents a half pint to 10 cents.

The committee stipulated that within six months after the president declares an end to the war, the taxes on liquor, beer and wine should return to the rates as of January 1, 1943.

Medals Presented To Families Of Air Heroes

Medals, earned by fighting men in aerial battles over Germany, were presented Monday evening at the Big Spring Bomber School to the infant son of Lieut. Buster Peek, killed in action, and to Mrs. Janet Baker Holcombe, whose husband, S/Sgt. Horace N. Holcombe, is a prisoner of war in Germany.

While hundreds of assembled troops stood at attention and an audience of three score friends and relatives looked on, Maj. Conrad Frazier, adjutant, read the citations forwarded from England.

Lieut. Peek met death Aug. 31 on an operational mission—his widow thought it was his seventh but his bombardier, Lieut. Chancey Hicks, since missing, thought it was his 15th. He was buried in Brockwood Cemetery in England with full military honors.

From his first mission he had a heroic history, for as pilot of a Flying Fortress, "Old Ironsides," with an entirely new crew, he did some brilliant flying. The ship had to slug herself through fighter opposition to drop its bombs on a rubber factory target at Huls, Germany on June 26. Pierce ack ack crippled her so that she fell like a wounded bird to 5,000 feet. Somehow, Lieut. Peek pulled her out. Nazi fighter vultures swarmed in so that in 105 minutes the crew had to fight off 150 of these planes as well as rock-throwing armor-torpedo-anti-aircraft-fire over Rotterdam before a Spitfire escort came to the rescue over the North Sea.

Here, however, one of two motors still functioning cut out and Lt. Peek had to put her down. All got clear but the tail flopped and drug down a gunner. Today only two members of the crew survive.

Lieut. Peek, born in Merkel, was reared near Paint Rock. Graduating there, he attended McMurry College where he starred in football for four years. Receiving his degree in 1940, he taught and coached at Water Valley for a year before enlisting as an aviation cadet in Nov. 1941. His aviation record is outstanding.

Butter Issue Faces Solons

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—Butter or margarine—a choice the housewife knows plenty about these days—set up a fresh issue in congress today with one dairy state legislator forecasting a bitter battle within the farm bloc.

Opening of hearings before the house agriculture committee on legislation by Chairman Fulmer (D-SC) to lift federal taxes, license fees and some restrictions on margarine touched off the division of opinion.

Rep. Andresen (R-Minn) predicted a two-fisted fight, complaining of a "truce" under which he said Fulmer had agreed not to bring up his bill during the war.

Andresen declared that at least 5,000,000 farmers are opposed to lifting "restrictions on sale of margarine, particularly as to repeal of the ten cent a pound tax on colored margarine."

"The dairy group," he said, "do not object to sale of margarine as such but they want it sold for what it is and not as an imitation for butter."

Fulmer declared in a statement that two thirds of the nation's retail grocers cannot now handle margarine because of the tax and that "millions of American consumers are now deprived of a healthful, low-cost table spread."

Farmland Priority For Veterans Asked By Vice President

CLEVELAND, Oct. 26 (AP)—Vice President Henry A. Wallace suggested today service men be given "softer priority" toward purchase of farmland to help employ them after the war, and that government-owned acreage around this nation's sprawling ordnance plants could be used for this purpose.

Wallace did not elaborate on the type of priority, but said the Farm Security Administration could be of great help in such a project. "I remember some of the last war's veterans paid such high prices for land that they were bankrupt in a few years," he added.

TREASURER RULING

AUSTIN, Oct. 26 (AP)—The attorney general advised in an opinion today that a county treasurer cannot also hold the office of veterans' county service officer created by the last legislature. The opinion was requested by the Polk county auditor.

Government Workers Not Draft Dodgers Says Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—Answering that he termed "mud-slingers" who have been calling the government a haven for draft dodgers and slackers, President Roosevelt said today that only 3.2 per cent of the nearly 3,000,000 full-time civilian employees of the government had received occupational deferments.

To Vice President Wallace and Speaker Rayburn, for reading to senate and house, the president sent a 2,700-word letter of rebuttal to what he termed "groundless charges" and "irresponsible

"rumors." Many of these charges came from congressmen during arguments over the drafting of pre-Pearl Harbor fathers.

These "unfair accusations must be emphatically denied," Mr. Roosevelt asserted. Here are some of the figures he used to back up his denial.

Permanent full-time employees of the government, both men and women—2,980,404, of whom 2,825,904 are in continental United States—as of July 31.

Of those in the United States, 1,952,700 work for the war and navy departments, and about 84,000 have been given occupational deferments.

The post office department, the next largest employer, has 315,741 workers of whom only 61—all postal inspectors—have been deferred.

In all other governmental agencies, 13,992 men have been granted occupational deferments.

The total occupational deferment figure is 98,053.

In addition, there are 2,093 uniformed personnel in the war shipping administration's training organization and 14,050 cadets in the training organization schools, who have been deferred, but the president said these men are not "really part of the civilian establishment of the government."

"I am convinced that they (federal workers) are anxious to put on their country's uniform and that they have been kept, often against their will, in their present jobs," he wrote. "Their government itself decided that they could be more useful to the war effort where they are.

"This attempted discrediting of the public service is also unfair to the man who left the government to enter the armed forces and who plan to return to their positions after the war. x x x The estimated number today is x x x about a half-million."

Mr. Roosevelt asserted that standards of deferment of government workers are much stricter than in private industry. Unlike a government employee, he said, a privately employed individual may request his own deferment even though his employer does not do so.

He said draft-age men in the war and navy departments are being "released constantly" for military service and are being replaced in accordance with replacement schedules. The record, he said, is much better than the occupational deferments in private enterprise.

The greater part of the civilians in these departments, Mr. Roosevelt said, are engaged in war production in arsenals, ordnance plants, powder factories and navy yards, or in essential work at

Clark's Fifth Seizes Point Near Isernia

British Make Gains And Bombers, Fighters Blast Vital Targets

By EDWARD KENNEDY
 ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, ALGIERS, Oct. 26 (AP)—Allied armies in Italy have captured eight more towns in advances up to four to five miles, it was announced today, and German opposition on the Fifth army front diminished as the nazis apparently fell back to new positions.

Lt. Gen. Mark V. Clark's Fifth army seized Raviscanina, 19 miles south of the large transport city of Isernia, and an Eighth army column striking up from the southeast took Objano, some 15 miles from Isernia on the main road from Campobasso.

The Fifth gained four to five miles in taking Raviscanina, 19 miles north of Capua, and also took the towns of Crancolis, 2 1/2 miles west of captured Sparanico, and Rocchetta. Four other towns besides Bojano fell to the British—including Baranello, a strong point between Campobasso and Bojano, Spineto, four miles north of Bojano, Petrella and Palata.

Medium bombers and long-range fighters of the Northwest African air force attacked the airfield at Povidonia in Yugoslavia yesterday, an air communique said, while in Italy, medium, light and fighter-bombers hit road and rail targets north of the battle area on the east and west coast.

Tarquinia airdrome northwest of Rome also was hit. Two Allied planes were lost in all operations.

The Eighth army advance engulfed Baranello, on a line between Bojano and Campobasso. The Fifth army occupation of Raviscanina represented a gain of four to five miles.

German opposition diminished, indicating the enemy may be carrying out the final phases of withdrawal into his new positions.

Isernia, a key point in German supply, was being threatened by the Fifth and Eighth armies from the south and southeast.

Some German rearwards still offered stubborn resistance.

Francolise was captured in a fresh advance westward aimed at the main enemy defense positions at Mondragone and Massico Ridge which towers 2,500 feet. Rocchetta is four miles northeast of Sparanico.

Official information from the front confirmed an earlier forecast that the Germans are preparing a major stand along a line from Mondragone on the west coast northward through Velletri and then across Italy to the area of Vasto on the Adriatic.

Herald Poll Shows Some Reasons Why Women Not Joining The Service

It's no secret that recruiters have hubbed a stump in their efforts to enlist women in various branches of service.

Just why, The Herald wanted to know, so it polled a large number of women. If what they say is a criterion of the nation, here is the one thing on which the WAVES, WAVES, SPARS and Marines women's auxiliary must do a more convincing job of selling:

That the average woman can contribute more as a member of the armed services than she can as a civilian.

One girl said she had three brothers in the service, and that she felt she could do more at home for her family as a civilian.

Another would "like to join—that is, if I really felt I could do something to help. I think the majority of girls are helping in every way possible by working in army camps, in shipyards and war industries of every description." She added that it was unfortunate a few had given some unsavory publicity that had hurt a great many.

"I feel that if women in service were a necessary and valuable contribution, I would join tomorrow, but I cannot see that I would be contributing more to the war effort," said another.

A stenographer took this view: "With brothers and fathers in the service, the task of helping in the support of parents has fallen on the shoulders of the women on the home front, and I think, (being one in this category) that I am doing more than I possibly could do in the service."

"My greatest objection to women in the service is," observed another woman, "that as civilians, women could be doing the same jobs, for civilians are doing these jobs now." Money put to giving military training, providing camps and sustenance, would produce more work by the civilian route, she thought.

A telephone operator would like to join—but family objections stood in the way. One woman felt that service in one of the branches of services was not necessarily the only test of patriotism.

Of the various services, interviewed women indicated the WAVES had done the best job of selling. One woman jokingly thought their uniforms were snappier, others thought they could be of more service in that branch, but most just figured they liked it the best. A girl laughed about a 5 a. m. rising hour. An office girl much preferred the WAC because she would like to go overseas. "Besides," she said, "I have three brothers in the army and my family would disown me if I turned out to be a sailor."

But all jesting aside, the women's services have a job of selling to do—and glamour and pseudo-patriotic appeals won't do it. If they convince Miss America, they will find she will volunteer like her brother.

Miss Laneous Notes

MARY WEALEY

Pity poor dad. He actually doesn't know where he is AT these days. One day he is practically off to the war, and the next day he is informed nobody wants him, not even on a silver platter.

The army and navy big wigs get together and the upshot is a statement that sends Dad off to get his business in order, life insurance and bills paid up. Mentally he is marching hup, hup, and figuring on where the little woman and the youngsters ought to stay for the duration.

Then the next few days pass and somebody makes a statement that Dads are just not good soldiers and that they will really have to be scrapping the bottom of the barrel before they get around to taking him.

That deflates Pop's ego and hurts his feelings as well. In that case, he figures, he might just as well relax and he sinks down in his swivel chair and turns his mind to business again. But this doesn't last long.

If he reads the paper, listens to the radio, or questions some of his friends, he can hear anything. One day he is needed, the next day not. One week the army and navy says, "anything but him" and the next week "bring Dad on."

Then somebody comes up to prove that even if they take him into service, he only has a fifty-fifty chance of passing the physical. In the fifth columnists keep reporting these things to Japan and Germany, those boys are going nuts. Dad is.

Serving War Industries is NOW my Biggest Job!

Wheels of Industry, turning machinery that must continually produce vast quantities of war equipment and material, depend upon electricity. Without an adequate and dependable supply of electricity, the country's huge war production program would collapse. Electricity's major job now is serving war industries.

In civilian life, electricity also aids the war effort. In homes, on the farm, in stores, shops, offices and elsewhere, electricity brings savings, conveniences, comforts, cleanliness and safety, which are so important in maintaining home-front morale.

Ample Power for Essential Needs

Because of foresight and planning there is available adequate electric power capacity to meet essential war and civilian needs in the territory we serve. The war loads have grown and have required the use of our reserve equipment and the operation of the older and higher production cost units, but every demand has been met and no industry hampered or delayed for want of electric service. Barring unforeseen eventualities, we believe we can continue to meet all such needs for electricity throughout the duration.

Your Government Asks You to Conserve for Victory

The electric industry, along with coal, petroleum, natural and manufactured gas, water, communications and transportation industries, has been requested by the Government to promote a voluntary conservation program throughout the entire United States for the purpose of reducing directly or indirectly the demands for materials, fuel, transportation and manpower which are so vital to the war effort. J. A. Krug, Director of the Office of War Utilities of the War Production Board, stated on July 24, 1943: "In the electric utility, the installed generating capacity, together with capacity now under construction, is ample to meet all foreseeable electric needs. But it is essential to save the use of electricity wherever possible so as to reduce directly or indirectly, the demands for materials, fuel, transportation and manpower."

We are cooperating in this program and request our customers to use electricity wisely. Use all the electricity you need in normal living, but turn off lights, radios and appliances when not in use.

You are NOT asked to do without — You ARE asked NOT TO WASTE!

Mr. Mac Gets Horse Fever In A Big Way

By JEANNE DICKERSON

Put R. R. McEwen down as a dissenter when it comes to the contention that wartime is no time for hobbies.

More than ever, Mr. Mac reasons, there's need for relaxation between drives, USO, Red Cross, and a multiplicity of other civic duties, not to mention business.

Several years ago, for no particular reason, he suddenly became interested in a horse and bought it. Before he knew it he was doing a lot of work on the side, learning a lot about horses and that much-talked about "horse sense."

lumber, wire and land buying and leasing — enough to overwhelm anyone but a hobbyist.

Today he has everything from unbroken colts to trained show stock. His white stables contain cow ponies, five-gaited saddle horses, a registered stallion, a gaited mare and a sorrel gelding, his pride and joy.

Among equipment is a sulky which gives the area around Highland Park and Washington Place a Hambletonian atmosphere; a buggy for pleasure driving; and of course a collection of saddles kept in the tack room where he and friends gather for a round of horse talk.

It might be mentioned that Mr. Mac earns his living as a horseless-carriage dealer.

Bruised And Mad Aggies, Mustangs Have Light Drills

By The Associated Press
The Texas Aggies and Southern Methodist Mustangs started the week with light drills as a result of the poundings they took in last week-end's losses, but other Southwest conference grid teams appeared in fair condition.
None of the Aggies was injured

N. M. Air Team Lists Texans

LUBBOCK, Oct. 26 (AP)—There's a touch of Texas in New Mexico this year and as a result of an old gridiron rivalry lives on unrattled.

Texas Tech of Lubbock and the University of New Mexico of Albuquerque had to cancel their traditional football game this year, but a couple of service teams will carry on, although the sons of Texas in this instance are "adopted."

Kirtland Field of Albuquerque and South Plains Army Air Field of Lubbock will clash in Albuquerque Saturday afternoon, but, strangely enough, the New Mexico representative will field more Texas players than the army team from the Lone Star state.

Big John Kimbrough, all America fullback from Texas A&M, will start for the Kirtland Flying Keltys, taking the place of Bill Dolan, former Rice fullback. Other Texas players include Connie Sparks of Texas Christian, Lewis Alexander of Texas Tech and Wick Malphurs of Sam Houston Teachers.

The Kirtland team is coached by Capt. Ted Shipkey, former New Mexico University coach. In contrast, the SPAAF Winged Commandos have an "all-United States" squad with only two Texans. Fullback Jim Weatherly of North Texas State Teachers and End Charles (Tex) Lawrence of Howard Payne.

but the first-stringers, sidelined by bruises from the scoreless game with North Texas Agricultural College, watched yesterday as the reserves ran through Arkansas University plays in preparation for Saturday's contest.

The Mustangs, battered and bruised from their 6-12 loss to Tulane, held light drill yesterday in opening preparations for their homecoming conference tilt Saturday with the University of Texas Longhorns. Coach Jimmy Stewart reported no serious hurts, but said the Mustangs probably would not be in top condition to meet Texas.

The Texas Christian Horned Frogs were in good condition after their 25-0 victory over Oklahoma A and M and expected to have a full squad for Saturday night's battle with Louisiana State. Previously it had been feared that seven Frogs who had received "shipping orders" from the navy would not be able to play this week.

Arkansas Razorbacks, rested after more than a week of non-participation, went through a stiff scrimmage in getting ready for the Aggies.

Coach Jess Neely called off formal practice until Wednesday for the Rice Owls as most Rice students took advantage of between semester vacation. The Owls were in fair shape after taking a drubbing from Texas.

The Longhorns took it easy yesterday as drill started for the game with the Mustangs. Coach D. X. Bible said the Longhorns would go to Dallas in time to work out at Dal-Hi stadium Friday afternoon.

Pacific College Would Like That

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 26 (AP)—Talk of re-playing last Saturday's football game, in which the University of Southern California Trojans edged out Coach A. A. Stagg's College of the Pacific 6 to 0, is apparently just that — conversation.

Trojan spokesmen say they see no occasion for a return engagement.

The re-play proposal was an aftermath of the officials' ruling that Pacific's End John Hurley clipped Trojan Quarterback Mickey McCardie, thereby nullifying a Tiger touchdown in the second quarter on a pass from Johnny (Fredo) Podesta to Quarterback Joe Ferem.

Thorpe Seeks Berth In Oklahoma Univ.

SHAWNEE, Okla., Oct. 26 (AP)—Jim Thorpe, Oklahoma's great Indian athlete of yesteryear, disclosed today his longing for a berth in the athletic department of the University of Oklahoma.

"I want to help the state any way I can and I could do so there better than any other place," he declared.

Thorpe recently returned to Shawnee, his old stamping grounds, to be near his boys who are attending Indian schools in the state. His home recently had been in Detroit.

245 Yard Drive Bounces Into Cup

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 26 (AP)—"Fore!" cried Frank Dyeche, a 13-handicapper, as he belted the ball for Lakeside's No. 18, one of the longest three-put holes in the country.

Actor Don Ameche and other amazed spectators watched spellbound as the ball soared 245 yards, bounced twice and plopped into the cup.

Too Few Men For Nevada To Play

RENO, Nev., Oct. 26 (AP)—The University of Nevada football team has called it quits.

Coach Jim Aiken said when the season started he would field a team as long as he had 11 men. Yesterday he didn't have even that many.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—Chalk up another score for Deacon Branch Rickey... plenty of baseball club presidents have tried to take the sting out of a disappointing season by firing the manager, but the branch that grows in Brooklyn is the first one to figure out how to fire the manager and still keep him... Rickey gave Leo Durocher the heave-ho as player-manager just before the bums staggered home at the end of the season, allowed a month for the fans to argue about a new manager and to remember that Leo never led the Dodgers any lower than third in his five seasons, and then took him right back again without the "player" tag... That probably proves that Rickey prefers a manager who generally is in hot water to one who might never get hot... It may also prove that baseball news is scarce when Branch comes right out with such an announcement at the first meeting his Montague Street smokehouse.

Today's Guest Star
Hank Wolfe, Richmond (Va.) News-Leader: "Don't tell me that schoolboy footballers aren't war-conscious. We ballyhooed a local prep game with full force recently because it matched two undefeated teams. One player, after scanning a few wiretips, muttered: 'All that stuff is just propaganda for the opposition.'"

Laughing Latins
During the recent Pan-American tennis tournament at Mexico City, Referee Ernesto Lopez, who distinguished himself by calling foot faults against the visiting players, started exchanging wisecracks in English with the players during an exhibition match between Pancho Segura and Pauline Betz and Jack Krameyer and Berta Garcia... The results were so hilarious that Berta, a chubby little girl from Havana, laughed so hard she couldn't serve and the spectators were more than a trifle puzzled... Argentine newspapers devoted a lot of space to the 20th anniversary of the famous Dempsey-Firpo heavyweight fight, asking: "Is the championship going to remain forever in the United States?... And getting no answer from the 'wild bull,' who still has a lot of the tame bills ($) he collected during his fighting career."

Service Dept.
All of the 119 selected men now working at Camp Grant, Ill., under a new physical education rehabilitation program designed for convalescent soldiers are former athletes. The group includes "Bama" Rowell of the Braves, Heinie Mueller of the Phillies, Euel Moore, one-time Giants pitcher, and Milt Trost, former Marquette and Bears tackle... "Nelson's Asiatics" a softball team named for Marine Private Royce B. Nelson of Oklahoma City, won 23 straight games at a south Pacific base. Private Nelson pitched every game.

Schools To Open Half-Hour Later

Big Spring public schools will have their opening time moved back half an hour starting Monday, Superintendent W. C. Blankenship announced Tuesday.

Because the time of sunrise is getting progressively later, it was decided to move the time back largely because of the small youngsters in the elementary school grades.

The new time, effective Monday, calls for a starting time of 9 a. m. in all schools.

The high school schedule will be from 9 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. Grade schools will be from 9 a. m. to 3:30 p. m., but some grades in the latter will let out slightly earlier.

Steers Seen In Scrimmage Mon.

The Big Spring high school Steers got a surprise package of scrimmage Monday in addition to the customary loosening up.

All of his charges responded so well to exercises that Coach John Dibrell seized on the opportunity to work on some much needed drills. While much of the scrimmage work had to do with polishing the offense, Dibrell dwelt for a long time in teaching his ends how to get down under punts—and how not to let the safety circle them.

In Friday's game against Midland, Leo Rusk did a great job of kicking. He averaged 42 yards on six boots, which is something the college boys do not always achieve. Two of these kicks were into a strong wind. But Midland returned the kicks for more than half their total yardage, which isn't so hot in anybody's books.

For one thing, Rusk was out-kicking his ends. They simply couldn't or didn't display ample speed to get downfield as fast as the ball, which may or may not have been their fault. But whatever the cause, the Midland safety never had plenty of time to maneuver until his blocking got in place. And that's a very, very bad thing to let happen. Hence, the long drill on this department.

Barkley Wood appeared to be all right despite a bruise on his knee. It would be an awful lick were his services to be lost at center.

A great deal of time was spent Monday on passing, and Hugh Cochran and Dewie Stevenson were being maneuvered more and more into the chunking spot. However, Bobby Barron was still doing his share of the tossing.

All indications were that the Steers would be plenty ready when Tahoka comes here Friday evening—and then as ready as they ever will be for the San Angelo game on Nov. 11.

Men Hurt At Westbrook Rig

COLORADO CITY, Oct. 26 —Twin accidents on consecutive days at rig 57 in the Westbrook oil field have the Olsen Drilling crew hunting a rabbit's foot. Jesse Garner was brought to Root hospital in Colorado City Sunday evening suffering injuries to his abdomen after heavy pipe he was helping to move fell on his body when he tripped and fell.

Monday afternoon, William Henry Rogers, who took Garner's place at the rig, was brought to the same hospital with four fractures in a foot caught by a piece of pipe with which he was working. Hospital attendants reported both men resting well.

TO DEFEND TITLE

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 26 (AP)—Bob Montgomery, holder of what Pennsylvania and New York term the lightweight championship, today looked forward to defending his title in New York, Nov. 19, after polishing off Pezey Scalzo, of New York, on a technical knockout in 53 seconds of the sixth round of their scheduled ten rounder in Convention Hall last night.

Home Trees for Christmas
ERIE, Pa., (U. P.)—Among the nation's biggest buyers of Canadian-grown Christmas trees, this city's residents have been advised to obtain their 1943 greens from Erie County woodlands—and even then many homes may be without this Yuletide decoration because of tree shortages and wartime labor and transportation restrictions, which in Canada have wiped out the Christmas tree cutting and shipping industry.

97 Voters Pick Irish As Best In Country

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—As if the expected 150,000 customers didn't know, 103 of the country's football experts agree that Saturday's games involving Notre Dame and Navy at Cleveland and Army vs. Pennsylvania at Philadelphia are strictly grade-A.

Ninety-seven of the typewriter experts selected the South Bend Irish as the best team in the country and rated their Saturday rivals from Annapolis as third.

Army retained second place and the Quakers skidded to sixth behind Southern California, despite a 33 to 0 trouncing dished out to Columbia. The Trojans climbed at the expense of College of Pacific, whom they defeated Saturday by a 6 to 0 score.

Virtually every seat in the huge stadium at Cleveland has been sold for the Irish-Middle clash and the officials are predicting an attendance of 80,000. Franklin Field at Philadelphia will be occupied by 70,000 for the Army's visit.

Other teams in the top ten are Purdue, Michigan, Duke, Iowa Pre-Flight and the College of Pacific.

The Army drew five of the first place votes not allotted to Notre Dame with the sixth going to Purdue. Five of the persons who didn't list the Irish as the best team, ranked them second and the sixth expert dropped them to third.

Argus Bowlers Win Honors

After trailing for two games, Capt. Frank Argus' team nosed out Jack Smith's quartet for series honors in the Major bowling league Monday evening, 2,079 to 2,065.

However, the Smith team's showing was good enough to keep its record clean for the season by reason of a 3-0 victory over the Rat Ramsey team. This gave Smith six games won against none lost. Capt. Argus' boys took three off J. L. LeBleu's club, but a bad start last week marred the deal.

Hiram Brimberry was high individual with 218 while Al Solokke nosed out Jake Douglass for series honors by a single point with 565. Last week a 1,968 was good enough for second team honors. This week LeBleu's outfit shot 1,863 and it was good enough only for last place.

Dodger Manager Dislikes One Man

BROOKLYN, Oct. 26 (AP)—"The mystery of the 25th player" provided a new puzzle for Dodger baseball fans today in the wake of the solution for "the riddle of the fired manager."

Branch Rickey, president of the club, neatly wrote finish to "the fired manager" riddle by announcing yesterday he had decided to retain Leo "Lippy" Durocher as manager for the 1944 season. Durocher, center of a player rebellion in July, was rumored on his way out especially after Rickey gave him his unconditional release last month in order to negotiate with him as a free agent.

No sooner had Rickey issued his announcement at a press conference than Durocher, asked if he could regain the confidence of his players, declared "I like all the players but one," of the 25 on the Dodger roster.

Immediately the identity of that 25th player became the subject of wide speculation.

Raiders To Trek To Houston

LUBBOCK, Oct. 26 (AP)—The Texas Tech Red Raiders will leave here Thursday morning for Houston and their game Saturday with the Rice Owls. The Red Raiders lost to the Owls last season at Houston, 19 to 7.

Cecil Gregg, Rice's line coach, scouted the Raiders here last Saturday night and said the Tech and Rice game would be a toss-up, because neither team is very strong. Tech lost here Saturday night to Lubbock Army Air Field 10 to 7. The army team's victory was a complete surprise. In the first game of the current season, Tech beat the air field 26 to 14.

Whiskey prices in Big Spring

There is a nation-wide shortage of whiskey. The whiskey now on hand is in no sense a "reserve."

Whiskey is aged for years before it is bottled and marketed and the present supply was intended for sale in '43, '44, '45, '46 and later. And now this supply must be stretched through 1947 and 1948... because distilleries are now making only alcohol for war.

That's why there isn't enough whiskey available to meet the public demand.

Yet since our plants stopped distilling whiskey last year there has been no change in the official prices of Hiram Walker brands except for the new federal excise tax in 1942 and the OPA adjustments in 1943.

The official OPA prices in this city are as follows:

Canadian Club
Blended Canadian Whiskey 90.4 proof, 6 years old
4/5 Quart $4.80
Pint $3.01
OFFICIAL OPA PRICES

Signet
Bottled in Bond Rye Whiskey, 100 proof
4/5 Quart $3.57
Pint $2.26
OFFICIAL OPA PRICES

IMPERIAL
Blended whiskey, 84 proof
The straight whiskeys in this product are 4 years or more old. 30% straight whiskey—70% grain neutral spirits
4/5 Quart $3.07
Pint $1.93
OFFICIAL OPA PRICES

Walker's Bourbon
Straight Bourbon Whiskey 90 proof
This whiskey is 4 years old
Quart $3.59
Pint $1.84
OFFICIAL OPA PRICES

TEN HIGH Bourbon
Straight Bourbon Whiskey 84 proof
This whiskey is 4 years old
Quart $3.42
Pint $1.76
OFFICIAL OPA PRICES

There will be times when your dealer cannot furnish the brand you request. But in fairness to him, please be patient and remember that the whiskey shortage is real... due to the war work of the distilleries.

Editorial - - - Navy Spearheads Victory Drive

The annual observance of Navy Day occurs tomorrow, and Americans everywhere join in paying tribute to the men and women of the navy, coast guard and marine corps with the slogan, "Spearhead Of Victory."

Last year the official slogan on the occasion of Navy Day was "Your Navy—First Line Of Attack."

The difference in the wording of these two slogans tells a powerful story of transition in the twelve-month period since last October 27.

For the story of victory, as it is being unfolded (even if slowly) day after day, revolves in great measure around the growing strength of the U. S. fleet and all its components.

It was on Navy Day last year that the navy proved beyond any doubt that it is an attacking force of terrific impact, capacity and daring. That was the date that a Japanese task force bent on retaking Guadalcanal was smashed, with heavy losses.

Since then, the navy has sent a mighty force against Wake Island, to blast the enemy installations on that historic island. It has moved into Japanese waters for raids on the Marcus Islands. It has, in fact, demonstrated on several occasions of late that it wants to take on the main Jap fleet. But the Jap has not shown a willingness to come out and fight.

The navy has been active in other theatres of war. Its importance in the invasions of Africa, Sicily and Italy cannot be underestimated. Indeed, in the latter operation, the firepower of naval vessels was brought up in support of army forces in their initial landing attempt, and provided a margin of force which meant that the beachheads at Salerno were secured.

And so it went with our attacking spirit, day in and day out, week after week, within the past year. Coupled with naval air power, submarine patrol, convoys and an implemented merchant marine, 1943 has seen the retaking of the Aleutians, the invasion of New Georgia, New Guinea and the conquest of Sicily. The year has witnessed the attacking forces shaped into a spearhead of might and brains rocking the enemy from the Pacific to the Atlantic to the Mediterranean. It has seen a bridge of ships from our Atlantic shores to Murmansk, England and Africa and uninterrupted sea lanes to Africa, the Aleutians, Australia and the reaches of the South Pacific.

The next year will see more spectacular action. This is pointed up in Secy. Knox's recent disclosure that giant aircraft carriers are in the offing. Other fleet units can be expected to be produced in proportion, and at the same time our fleet manpower grows.

We have cause to be proud of a navy which once was our "first line of defense," became an attacking force and now is reaching supremacy and becomes a spearhead aimed at Berlin and Tokyo.

Capital Comment — Song Writer Would Put 'Gib' In Governorship

Malcolm Ross, whom President Roosevelt has promoted from deputy chairman to chairman of the Fair Employment Practice Committee, is a former newspaperman who started as a reporter on the Dallas News. A native of Newark, New Jersey, and a graduate of Yale, Ross served as a lieutenant in the army air force in 1917 and 1918. After the war he worked a year as a "pipe-liner" in the oil fields around Burk Burnett on the Red River in Wichita county. Then he had a short hitch in the Arizona copper mines, after which he went to Dallas and worked a year as a reporter on the criminal courts beat.

Mrs. David Lynn, wife of the architect of the U. S. Capitol, has never been in Texas herself but she is descended from Texans. The wife of the late Capt. Henry H. Craig, who lived at Corpus Christi for many years, was Mrs. Lynn's great aunt. Mrs. South Trimble, wife of the present clerk of the U. S. House of Representatives, is a niece of Mrs. Craig. Mrs. Lynn's grandmother, Mrs. Carrie Belle Allen, of Houston, was a Morgan, the family whom Morgan's Point on the Houston-Galveston waterway was named.

Stewart P. Coleman, new head of Petroleum Administrator Ickes' programming division, is a Texan. He graduated from Rice Institute at Houston and M. I. T. in chemical engineering and was director of refining and technical work of Humble Oil when he joined the Standard Oil company. His new job is to direct a group of oil experts to collaborate with the oil industry and with Allied military and naval officers to see that petroleum products of the United Nations go where they are most needed.

War Food Administrator Marvin Jones has limited to about 2,000,000 boxes early shipments of white grapefruit for fresh consumption from Cameron, Hidalgo and Wilcox counties in the lower Rio Grande Valley. Individual handlers are permitted to ship between now and the first of the year, a quantity not exceeding 20 percent of their total 1942-43 season's grapefruit into the fresh market, to extend marketing over a longer period, and to insure adequate supplies of grapefruit juice and other grapefruit products for both military and civilian use.

That Gilbert B. "Gib" Sanderfer, of Abilene, would be popular with his colleagues in the Red Cross foreign field service was taken for granted. His many friends at Hardin-Simmons and elsewhere in Texas may be interested in knowing that the boys in his outfit are running him for governor of Texas on the good fellowship issue. One of the gang sent me a long theme song to promote their candidate. It is entitled "Gib for Governor," words by Jeff Sparks and music by "The Guy who wrote Deep in the Heart of Texas."

"We cannot tell a fib We give you Brother Gib Deep in the Heart of Texas Right from the Lone Star State He is our candidate Deep in the Heart of Texas.

"Our platform is a pip Just one word—Fellowship— Deep in the Heart of Texas Yes, Brothers, furthermore Gib will be Gov-ern-Or— Deep in the Heart of Texas.

President Roosevelt signed an amendment to the Migratory Bird Treaty Act regulations which changes the dates of the mourning dove season in Texas. The season will now be 42 instead of 30 days, an increase of 12 days. In Texas the season now opens October 20 and closes November 30. Before the dates were November 20 to December 19. The changes were made upon request of state game commissioners. Mourning doves, they say, have increased in the southern states and late season hatchings has been particularly successful. By moving the opening date forward the loss of young birds in nests should be reduced, and experts say that lengthening the hunting period is not likely to result in excessive kills.

Washington Daybook—Cinchona Culture One Of War's Big Problems

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON — One of the most thrilling stories of medicine in the war is how Lieut. Col. Arthur F. Fischer and a gallant crew of a battered Flying Fortress flew 2,000,000 cinchona seeds off crumbling Bataan to bring quinine back to the Western Hemisphere.

How Lieutenant Colonel Fischer, himself wracked with malaria, literally snatched those seeds under fire from Jap guns blasting the cinchona nurseries he had once superintended on Mindanao; how he ran a gauntlet of Zeros in a wheezing Fortress with one motor conked out to get them to Australia and then took them across the Nip-infested Pacific to San Francisco, is an exciting chapter in war history. But it wouldn't mean a thing more than a gallant wasted effort if it weren't for the chapter being written right now in Glendale, Md.

Over in Glendale is what is known as the Department of Agriculture's plant introduction garden. It is presided over by B. Y. Morrison, who has a title three lines long, but whose chief duty is to see what important plants can be developed for use in this hemisphere. If ever a mother hen had a favorite brood of chicks, the Mindanao cinchona seeds are Morrison's.

All available space in the nurseries has been turned over to the growing seedlings from Fischer's stock pile. There still are hundreds of thousands of perishable seeds on hand which have been nursed along for all these months and are still to be planted.

Almost every day, new seeds are going into the nursery soil.

But the most important is that more than 110,000 seedlings have been shipped to Peru, Ecuador, El Salvador, Nicaragua and Puerto Rico. In addition, more than a quarter of million seedlings are maturing toward the transplantation stage at Glendale.

The seeds brought in by Colonel Fischer are the Ledgeriana type, with a high alkaloid content, developed after years of experimentation by the British and Dutch in the South Pacific from seeds originally "stolen" from South America by the British. As a matter of fact it was bribery that Fischer persuaded a sea captain to smuggle the seeds out of Java for his original experiments at Mindanao.

If you think this is a lot of fuss to make about Western Hemisphere quinine which won't be importantly productive before 1946 or '47, think again. It has been proved that Ledgeriana Cinchona can be grown in the Western Hemisphere more cheaply than in the South Pacific—that is more cheaply to us at least.

The medical laboratories have produced two synthetics but nothing has been found so effective in combating the dread results of malaria as quinine. War demands are tremendous, but postwar demands may be even more so. It is estimated now that China alone, within a few years, will need a large percentage of the world's supply if it is to stop the disease there. In India, there are more than 3,000,000 deaths annually from malaria.

G-GIRL By LYDIA GRAY SHAW

Chapter 2
It was eleven o'clock that next morning before Sally actually discovered where she was going to work. She had spent the previous hours filling out three copies of her original application, having them notarized, being fingerprinted, signing a buy bonds pledge, making out a hospitalization application, listening to a speech on the importance of the division she was to work in, and collecting an armful of literature on what to do in Washington in her spare time.

All the articles Sally had read on life in Washington hadn't prepared her for the complexity of starting a job. I wonder if it takes as long to get fired as it does to get hired, she thought as she waited for the third assistant in personnel placement and management to escort her personally to the room where she was to work. Personally—because the War Commission wanted its employees to feel immediately at home.

I certainly feel anything but at home, Sally thought dazedly. She had covered miles of corridors in the wake of one after another of the exuberant personnel staff. Though all concerned called her "Miss Thayer" cordially, she felt more anonymous than an elephant at a circus. In fact, the whole business of becoming a G-Girl reminded Sally of a circus. Somebody must have figured out the procedure when she was sleep-walking, Sally decided.

Finally she reached her desk. It was at the end of a long line of desks in a huge room swarming with humanity. "Temporarily you're sitting in the allocations division," the personal woman explained, "because Miss Lyons—she's the secretary you're to assist—doesn't have an extra desk near her. But before long we'll get you in the right place. Actually, we're lucky to have a desk for you at all. Here's Miss Lyons now. I'll leave you in her hands."

Miss Lyons was a thin blonde girl with an exaggerated pompadour. "I'm certainly glad to know you're going to help me," she greeted Sally. "Till we get together I'll just send some typing down to you. You can type, can't you?"

Sally said in a surprised voice, "Of course." How could she have been hired as a stenographer if she couldn't type?

"When it comes lunch time suppose you take the 1:30 shift," Miss Lyons continued. "I eat at 12:30 and you can sit at my desk while I'm gone. Not that you'll know anything, but you'll look official. Did you get your vaccination this morning?"

Sally shook her head. Miss Lyons went on, "We're all supposed to. The patriotic War Commission employees must set an example to the other agencies, so we're the goats. Why don't you go down now and get it over with? I haven't any jobs this minute. You go to the basement health room on G corridor."

"I suppose I might as well," Sally agreed doubtfully. Getting vaccinated was just about the last thing she wanted to do that minute after the confused morning she had. "See you later," Miss Lyons said cheerfully.

She was the only victim in the health room. After battling with the frenzied mob in the elevator, Sally had decided everyone in the building was lurching simultaneously today. It was peaceful in the bare white room. Through a half-door she could see a tall thin-faced man taking off a white coat. As she stood uncertainly in the room, he half turned and caught sight of her. He groaned and pulled the coat on again. "Just when I thought I was through," he muttered. "Come on in, sister. What are you waiting for?"

Sally flushed and pushed the door open. "Roll up your left sleeve," the man commanded. Sally saw he held the needle all ready in his hand. It looked as long as a dagger as it glistened in the sunlight. Sally shivered.

"I suppose you're going to faint," the voice was weary. The needle scratched her arm abruptly.

Sally's dizziness disappeared. She retorted angrily, "I am not." Then, feeling the need to justify her reaction to the needle. "It's just that I had to get up pretty early to get to work, and I skipped breakfast."

The doctor's lips twisted in an ironical smile. "Lady, it just so happened that I haven't been to bed at all. I spent a pleasant night removing two beautifully overgrown appendices, delivering a set of twins, and binding up an artistic knife case."

Sally forgot her arm. "But why?"

"Haven't you heard? There's a war on. And there are a lot of doctors in the war. And there are too many patients in Washington hospitals. So I do just a wee bit more work than usual."

Sally was agast. "But how can you stand it?"

The doctor's laugh was not friendly. "Didn't anyone ever tell you that there are great many unpleasant things to be endured in this world? Or have your parents kept you wrapped up carefully in cellophane?"

It was Sally's turn to be angry. "I like to know why you are acting as though I were a coddled child. I wouldn't have come to Washington if I hadn't wanted to work hard."

"Wouldn't you? I wonder. I think you're just another one

Learn To Play The Violin, Lose Summer's Tan

HOLLYWOOD — Carl Elinor, the violinist who taught Claude Rains to "play" the violin in six weeks, is tackling the same job with Peter Coe, Maria Montez's new leading man.

Thomson Rains' fiddling in "Phantom of the Opera" was dubbed in. Elinor says his fingering and bowing were so accurate that he could have played the one selection he learned. Coe, as a gypsy violinist in "Gypsy Wildcat," must learn several tunes and play as if he had been born with a fiddle in his hands.

Playing now in "Gung Ho," which keeps him in the sun much of the time, Coe was saying he had to lose some of his sun-tan before starting the new picture which is in color.

"I know the perfect way to lose a tan," suggested Elinor. "You take your violin, and stay inside until you learn your pieces—and you will come out several shades lighter!"

Coe is a husky chap with a build and personality fitted for virile roles—so husky, in fact, that it's hard to believe that as a child in post-war Yugoslavia he suffered from rickets.

Born on Armistice Day, 1918, his father absent in the army, Peter was taken by his governess into the mountains for safekeeping when his mother died. Poorly fed and deprived of milk, he developed rickets and did not walk until he was seven. But at four he learned to swim—and developed into a champion. He swam in Billy Rose's Aquacade in 1940, and has acted in Broadway plays including "My Sister Eileen," "The Fifth Column" and "Man in Shadow."

Tyrone Power, John Payne and George Montgomery—all in the armed forces for months—are still tops in fan mail among 20th Century-Fox's male stars. . . . Zorina's "Jitterbug ballet" in "Three Cheers for the Boys" is taking her last pair of big-meshed latex opera hose—she says now on she'll have to dance barelegged. . . .

One Hollywood farmerette picked a good crop. Two years before Pearl Harbor, Helen Vinson bought a 170-acre farm near Williamsburg, Va. On the advice of the nearby county experimental station, she planted most of the land in two varieties of soybean, which has become a basis for plastics, paints and food.

"She's remarkable," says Patric Knowles, playing in "The Third Glory" with her. "After a love scene, we go over in a corner and talk about beans!"

of these girls who thinks it's going to be glamorous to work here. Next best to doing a Mata Hari act. I'll give you a month to find out differently—and go home to Mama."

Sally pulled down her sleeve viciously and turned toward the door. "I think you are without doubt the most unpleasant individual I have ever seen. I hope the Army get you and puts you right up in the front line."

The doctor opened the door ceremoniously. "So do I, baby, so do I. Then I wouldn't have to waste good vaccine on —"

Sally snatched the knob out of his hand and furiously banged the door behind her. She was still shaking with rage as she got into the elevator. The man was positively insulting.

A pile of schedules lay in her incoming box on her desk. She grabbed up the first one and began putting carbon paper between the sheets. I'll show that doctor I'm no sissy, she thought angrily. She didn't stop to think there was no reason why she should see the infuriating doctor with the sandy hair and disturbing brown eyes ever again. But this was Washington—and anything could happen there.

Hey, there, Mr. Applegate!

What's this about sharing our party line?

Mary'd been holding the watch on me. She said I talked eighteen minutes. And I'm the boy who's been complaining. I honestly thought we never got to use our party-line telephone.

Right then and there Mary and I decided that telephone service has to be shared these days just like food and gasoline and other things. Decided we'd do our part. Not talk too long. Allow plenty of time between calls. Give other people time to finish theirs.

The idea caught on... sort of contagious. There's telephone room for all of us... now that we're sharing our party line.
