Export Corporation Assures Gas Market

OFFERS TO TAKE 170,000,000 GALLONS FROM INDEPENDENTS

Western Petroleum Refinery Association Receives Largest Bid in Oil History.

International News Service.
TULSA, Jan. 8.—In an offer made by the Export Oil corporation to the executive committee of the Western Petroleum Refinery association, in session here, of a market for 170,000,000 gallons of refined products, there is afforded the independent refiners of Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas a steady market for kerosene and gasoline, extending over a period of twelve months. This offer is said to be the largest ever made in the history of the oil business.

The Export Oil corporation proposed to the refiners that it will purchase from them for export 65,000,000 gallons of 64 gravity gasoline at 25 cents a gallon, 65,000,000 gallons of gasoline of navy specification at 21 cents a gallon and 40,000,000 gallons of kerosene at 9 1/2 cents per gallon. The total is said to amount to 13,500 cars daily.

Texas Has Been Active in Caring for Dependents

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 8.—The first definite organized steps toward caring for the dependents within the Texas boundary were taken in 1855, a period of state archives in connection with recommendations for the coming session of the legislature, reveals. In that year Gov. E. M. Ross in a message called the legislature's attention to the need for a lunatic asylum and institutions to care for the deaf, dumb and blind.

In 1856 the legislature appropriated 100,000 acres of land each for the building and maintenance of the state lunatic asylum, and Texas school for the blind, and institute for the deaf and dumb, all of which were located at Austin.

Ebenezer's activities of the state from that time until 1883 were confined to providing pensions for Texas revolution and Civil war veterans and caring for soldiers' families during the Civil war. In 1882 the North Texas hospital for the insane was provided. The year of 1887 brought into existence the deaf, dumb and blind institute for colored youths, the State juvenile training school and the State orphan's home. The Southwestern insane asylum was created in 1889, the Confederate home, which up to that time had been maintained by Confederate veterans, was taken over by the state in 1891. The epileptic colony came into being in 1890.

The twentieth century has brought down more eleemosynary institutions than any other period. They are: The Factory Institute, 1902; the Confederate veteran's home, 1911; the tuberculosis sanitarium, 1911; the Girls' training school, 1912; the State farm colony for feeble minded, 1915; the East Texas hospital for the insane, 1917; the North-west Texas insane institution, 1917; and the home for dependent and neglected children, provided for by the last legislature.

Jap Military Menace Seen in Effort to Settle in Rio Grande Valley

New Colonists Agree to Leave; Legion to Help in Getting Money Back.

International News Service.
SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 8.—That efforts to locate Japanese colonies at Harlingen, near the Mexican border, is more a Japanese military scheme than it is a commercial venture, is the belief expressed here today by government secret service men and Americans who are in close touch with affairs in Mexico.

For some time the United States secret service operatives have been keeping watchful eyes upon the steadily increasing number of Japanese who have been making their appearance on the Mexican side of the border. Reports are already said to have come to the war department at Washington, furnishing conclusive proof that one-fourth of the Mexican army is being trained by Japs.

LEGION DIGS UP OLD LAW TO FIGHT JAPANESE INFILTRATION

HARLINGEN, Jan. 8.—Representatives of the American Legion and a committee of citizens waited on the two Japanese families at a local hotel today, following the legion meeting last night, when it was decided to assist them in securing a refund of the money which they invested for land along the Rio Grande Valley.

The legion committee again told the Japanese that they would not be permitted to settle here, under provision of an old law, which attorneys for the legion dug out of the past.

AGREE TO LEAVE.

BROWNSVILLE, Jan. 8.—The tension along the lower Rio Grande Valley over the arrival of prospective Japanese colonists today appeared greatly eased, as a result of the promise of the two Japanese families at Harlingen to return to California. Members of the American Legion post at Harlingen promised aid in the recovery of $10,000, which the Orientals are said to have contracted paying partly in cash to Z. Yamata for farming property near Harlingen. Yamata is a resident of Los Angeles.

NO PROTEST TO WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The state department has received no protest from the Japanese government and no communication from the Texas government on the alleged "running out" of Japanese from Texas. Until the matter is officially brought to the department's attention, no action will be taken, it was announced.

FINANCIAL SANITY OF NATION RECOVERED, SAYS RESERVE BOARD HEAD

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—The nation has recovered its financial sanity and is not troubled so much with either extreme pessimism or optimism, J. P. Morgan, head of the federal reserve board, said in an address published here today.

"The country generally has recovered its normal state," said the governor, "we no longer are afraid and are not indulging the old idea and living beyond our means."

PROMINENT MINISTER OF N. J. CHARGED WITH VIOLATING MANN ACT

PASSAIC, N. J., Jan. 8.—The Rev. Cornelius Dennis, former pastor of the First Netherlands Reformed church here, was arrested today upon a federal warrant charging violation of the Mann act. The arrest was the alleged result of the placement of the charge by Miss Triana Tammeberg of this city, a former member of his church.

KIDNAPPED EDITOR HOME

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 8.—Jacques Villard, editor of "Free Age," who disappeared last December 27, arrived home early today. Villard refused to make a statement, but detectives announced he had been detained by Chicago kidnapers.

ITALY WOULD RECLAIM LAND OF ANCIENT ROME

"Campagna Romana," Historical Gardens of Rome, Uncultivated Since Her Fall.

OSTIA, Italy, Jan. 8.—Efforts are being made to reclaim and plant parts of the vast tract of land which stretches for several miles around Rome and goes by the name of the "Campagna Romana." It has been allowed to remain idle and uncultivated ever since the fall of the Roman empire.

Before that time it was sort of a terrestrial paradise; villas and gardens were dotted all over it as far as the eye could see, it was luxuriant with fruits and flowers, it supplied food and work for thousands upon thousands of men, it was one of the most beautiful and intensively cultivated spots in the world.

When Rome, however, was obliged to resign her position as "the mistress of the world," the "campagna" was abandoned and gradually became a malaria-infested desert, inhabited only by a few hardy shepherds.

Now, however, the law which was recently passed, decreeing that anyone who does not cultivate his land to the utmost of its capacity is liable to have the land confiscated, is beginning to have its effects. Prince Aldobrandi has engaged a company to reclaim a huge estate of several thousand acres, which he owns in the "campagna."

The work has already begun and an experimental station has been set up at Ostia. The land was first of all drained and then arrangements were made to obtain water from the Tiber for irrigation. Electric tractors to draw the ploughs were then bought and various kinds of fruits, vegetables and cereals cultivated in order to find out how fertile the land is and what kind of crop it is most adapted for.

The results were beyond the wildest hopes of any of the promoters of the company. The land, after lying idle for centuries seems to have stored up its fertility throughout all that time and now yields crop upon crop with unstinting hand.

An attempt has even been made to grow cotton here and the experiment has been successful, but how successful it has been impossible to determine, as the cotton used was of the worst quality obtainable. This year, however, it is proposed to plant American or Egyptian cotton.

So happy have the results at the experimental station been, that it is hoped that soon the work may be begun for the total reclaiming of the whole "campagna."

CONGRESSMEN TO FIGHT MEMBERSHIP INCREASE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Opposition to the increase in the house membership from 457 to the present number to 483, as proposed by the majority of the house census committee, is made by six members of the committee in a report filed by them in the house today.

BODY OF INFANT FOUND ON FT. WORTH-DALLAS PIKE

DALLAS, Jan. 8.—The body of an unidentified infant, wrapped in newspaper with rubber bands, was found on the side of the Fort Worth pike, four miles from here, today. The babe was about two days old, sheriff Hartman said. A woman has been arrested.

ATTORNEY GENERAL WILL ASK DEB'S RELEASE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Attorney General Palmer has practically decided to recommend the release of Eugene V. Debs, socialist leader, from the federal penitentiary at Atlanta before President Wilson quits office, on March 4, it was learned today.

THREE IRISHMEN KILLED IN ATTACK ON POLICE

DUBLIN, Jan. 8.—Police barracks at Tramore in County Waterford, in the martial law area, were attacked last evening. A military party, which was sent to the relief of the police, was ambushed near Tramore. It was officially stated today. After heavy firing, the statement declares, the members of the ambushing party were dispersed, leaving three dead behind them. It is believed that the attacking party suffered other casualties.

POWER LINES TO BRECKENRIDGE CUT IN FRIDAY

Electricity Will Enable Wells to Continue Drilling Despite Drouth.

Breckenridge today and the section south of it are supplied with all the electric current they can consume, according to an announcement made this morning by Gifford Clegg, manager of the local electric company. The current from the Leon river power plant was cut into Breckenridge yesterday, Mr. Clegg said, and the lines will be continued into the territory north of that place.

Installing Pumps.
Coming from Breckenridge is the information that the Gulf Pipe Line company is now installing a 75-horsepower pump north of town and several wells are being pumped motors. Some 200 motors for pumping and drilling are available for those who do not care to risk their investments on rain or long water conveyance. As to city service, there is abundance of current for all purposes whatever the demand may be. Rates will not be immediately affected but in due season they will be adjusted to the conditions of cost of the service.

This electrical service assures the continuation of drilling operations even should the present drouth continue indefinitely. It is more economical, so claimed, to drill and pump by electricity than with steam power. This being so, there is hovering over the oil fields, due to scarcity of water.

Road Conditions Costly to Ranger, Caddo Man Says

With the Caddo road in its present condition, Ranger is now losing lots of business, in the opinion of J. H. Hood of Caddo, and is going to lose more and more in the future, if conditions are not remedied. Mr. Hood, who formerly covered the northern territory for the Ranger Tobacco company, but is now a druggist at Caddo, together with J. Goodfriend, picture palace man, and P. W. Hoenscheidt, was over to attend the Elk's meeting. Mr. Hoenscheidt was initiated into the B. P. O. E. last night and his companions came over to see that everything went off well.

"The road situation, from a Ranger viewpoint, is rapidly becoming serious," Hood said. "Caddo would rather do business with Ranger than with any other place, but with the roads in the shape they are, most of our business is going to Strawn and Mineral Wells. Mineral Wells is about the same distance from Caddo that Ranger is, and there is a good road most of the way. Lots of operators in the Caddo section live in Mineral Wells for this very reason, that they can go and come without wrecking their cars. Nearly all our freight now comes from Strawn, for the same reason."

Mail Service Slow.
"Our mail still comes from Ranger, but there is so much delay on account of road conditions that there has been a lot of kick and the people may ask that if he sent from Franklin or Strawn if conditions are not bettered."

"One can catch a jitney to Strawn and Mineral Wells almost any time," he continued. "But it has become almost impossible to get a car to Ranger. Service car drivers who think anything of their machines simply will not make the trip. One of our business men wanted a lawyer from Ranger the other day, but couldn't get him because it would have taken $50 to pay for a car for the round trip."

WATERSON REFUSES TO ADMIT HE'S SICK

INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE.
GALVESTON, Jan. 8.—There is nothing the matter with me that can't be cured with money," Colonel Henry Waterston, editor-owner of the Louisville Courier-Journal, said this morning. "The report that I am seriously ill is bunk." Dr. Edward Randall, who is attending the famous Kentucky journalist, declared today that he is suffering only from slight bronchial trouble.

MARYLAND MAN NAMED AS UNITED STATES TREASURER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—President Wilson has named Guy F. Allen as treasurer of the United States to succeed John Burke, resigned, the White House announced today. Allen, whose home is in Somerset, Md., has been assistant treasurer for several years. The nomination went to the senate this afternoon.

EMBEZZLEMENT TRIAL SET

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—"Moderate" embezzlement disturbances were recorded, beginning at 2:30 o'clock this morning, on the seismograph at the Georgetown university here. Father Tomford, observatory director, said that indications were that the disturbance was 2,400 miles from Washington, probably within continental United States.

Come and Get Your Trees, They're Here

Citizens who ordered shade trees through the Times are reminded that they arrived yesterday and are requested to come this afternoon and obtain their trees. Otherwise, the Times will be forced to place them on public sale, as they must be either planted or bedded in within the next day or so. Some 300 trees have been ordered and those not yet called for will be reserved through this afternoon before being placed on sale. There are other trees for those who did not put in applications, on sale at the following prices, which are just half the retail rates:

Six to eight-foot trees, 50 cents.
Eight to ten-foot trees, 75 cents.
Ten to twelve-foot trees, $1.

If these trees are not all disposed of today, the Times will be forced to bed them in, and the public is requested to spare us this expense and trouble. Remember, these are splendid trees and if you see them you will want them. They are the varieties selected by experts to grow in this section with the greatest rapidity and the smallest amount of care.

Remember, the trees are here waiting for you.

PAY TAXES NOW; SAVE MONEY AND HELP THE CITY

The property owners can save themselves a penalty of 10 per cent on the amount of their city taxes and can help the city administration by paying their taxes now. According to F. D. Dreihoffer, city tax collector, after Jan. 31 the penalty will be added to the amounts due and in addition, delinquent taxes will be assessed 6 per cent interest. The warning has been issued because the people are not paying the amounts as rapidly as they should.

On its assessed valuations the city taxes that are due, total about $200,000. Of this amount less than $70,000 has been paid, and at the rate payments are now coming in less than $100,000 will be in the treasury by Jan. 31, when the 10 per cent penalty will be added.

LIFE INSURANCE HEAD KILLED IN NIGHT BATTLE WITH K. C. MARAUDERS

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 8.—The body of O. V. Dodge, vice-president of the Midland Life Insurance company, with a bullet wound through his head, was found near here early today on the driveway of his home here. The body was clad in night shirt, overcoat and house slippers.

A small revolver, unfired, was found in the doorway near where the body lay and a thirty-eight caliber, revolver with one cartridge discharged also was found nearby. The large revolver did not belong to any member of the family.

SENATE WILL PASS EMERGENCY TARIFF

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The senate probably will pass the emergency tariff bill, but it is especially probable the senate will not pass the measure over the President's expected veto, Senator Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama and Democratic minority leader, predicted today.

STATE ASKS PERMISSION TO CHANGE VENUE

Hughes Case Also Transferred; Early Trial Asked by the State.

BRECKENRIDGE, Jan. 8.—On motion of the state, the case of Angelo Hughes, the Breckenridge deputy who faces a murder charge similar to that of which J. N. Ellis was yesterday acquitted, will on change of venue be tried at Dallas.

The motion for change came from the state's attorneys, for the reason, it is understood, that in another city there would be found less prejudice against witnesses such as the prosecution will introduce.

That an early disposition of the case is expected is shown by the presence in Dallas of the district and county attorneys, the defendant and defense attorneys, fifteen witnesses, who were sent in custody of deputies.

Trials upon bribery charges of Hughes, Ellis and Sears, the former Stephens county sheriff, also will be held in Dallas, presumably to follow immediately the disposition of the murder case.

Speculation is rife as to the outcome of the Hughes trial, but many who attended the Ellis trial express the belief that if the same character of testimony is used in his prosecution, it will result in acquittal.

INDIANS CAN'T GET BONUS UNTIL BOOTLEGGING GOES

By International News Service.
WOLF POINT, Mont., Jan. 8.—Reserve pay for your pay is the edict of Superintendent E. D. Mossman, of the Fort Peck Indian reservation. Mr. Mossman has sent a circular letter to business men in every town on the reservation notifying them that until all bootleggers are chased out, all liquor is removed from caches in reservation towns and "back-camp" poker games are stopped and boot players give up their bad ways the annual payment of $50 a year to each Indian on the reservation will not be made. The total payment for Indians on the reservation amounts to $1,665,000, Superintendent Mossman wrote. The business men of reservation towns.

"This payment will be held up until the towns on this reservation can assure us that no more gambling or booze will be allowed in these towns during the time and subsequent to this payment. At the present time when money is so hard to get it is criminal for any person to gamble or spend his money drinking booze and we desire to throw every safeguard around these Indians in the towns by cleaning up this gambling, which is going on in at least one or two different towns; and there appears to be booze in every town with possibly the exception of Breckenridge. This payment will not be made in towns that refuse to clean up."

George W. Tiley of Waco, as state fire marshal.

HAITIAN POLITICIANS SEEK WITHDRAWAL OF U. S. MARINES. REPORT

By Associated Press.
PORT AU PRINCE, Jan. 8.—Reports that Haitians formerly active in the politics of the republic were trying to put forward a movement looking to the withdrawal of American occupation troops have been widely circulated in Port au Prince. It was said that arrangements were being made by leaders of the movement to send a delegation to Washington to urge that, inasmuch as the bandit bands had been subdued, the government be turned back to the people. Military authorities do not believe, however, that the agitation will be far reaching.

Withdrawal of marines would mean the instant departure of nearly every American in business in Haiti, according to the view expressed by Americans generally. Indeed, it is said that if the marines should go, President Dartigues would start ahead of them.

Discussing this possibility, the president has declared that, under the treaty, the occupation forces will remain until the Washington government is convinced that the gendarmerie is prepared to deal with any situation.

The freedom with which some of the Haitian newspapers have accused and attacked marines has helped stimulate the demand of some of the old political leaders that they be sent home.

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 8.—The case of R. G. Callahan, former secretary and treasurer of the Atamo Loan association, charged by federal indictment on two counts with the embezzling of $90,000 from the institution, has been set for trial before Judge Duhal West in the federal court, on Feb. 27.

MOON'S BRIGHT RAYS CAUSE OF THIS SCANDAL

"Midsummer Madness" Tense Emotional Drama of Domestic Life.

Take a pretty, romantic woman whose husband is too busy to love her and an attractive man who is wearied of his wife. Place them together under the spell of the full moon at midnight. And what happens?

"Midsummer Madness" will tell you in a manner that will please and startle. This is the new William De Mille production which has taken its place beside the really fine pictures of the current season. It will be shown at the Temple theatre for three days, commencing Sunday.

The story, adapted from Cosmo Hamilton's society novel, "His Friend and His Wife," centers around two young married couples who are close friends. One of the husbands imagines himself in love with his friend's wife and she, neglected by her husband and starving for romance, yields to a temporary infatuation. The results are highly interesting and lead to a climax that for sheer dramatic intensity has seldom been equalled on the screen.

A notable cast was chosen to play the chief roles in "Midsummer Madness," including such favorites as Lila Lee, Lois Wilson, Jack Holt and Conrad Nagel.

LAMB.

Lynn F. Reynolds, who directed Tom Mix, the daredevil cowboy star in "The Texan," a William Fox production, started his career of usefulness as a newspaper reporter in Denver. The stage got him shortly, and he played for a period with the Elitshing Stock company. Later, convinced that he was out for a motion picture director, he proceeded to prove it for Selig, Universal, Triangles, Fox and other producing concerns, with such pictures as "God's Crucible," "Madway Arizona," "Mr. Logan, U. S. A.," "Western Blood," "Treat 'Em Rough," "A Little Brother of the Rich," "The Brute Breaker" and "Overland Red."

"The Texan" is said to be a thrilling Western picture with plenty of chances for Mix to show his daring. It is to be shown at the Lamb theatre, for the last time today. The story is by the noted author, James B. Hendryx.

MAJESTIC.

The romance of a man who by sheer force of will and intelligence raised himself from a driver of cattle to a wizard of finance is told in "The Marriage of Pit," in which Frank Mayo stars at the Majestic theatre today only. The young hero, "Strong of the Street," breaks down the social barrier of an aristocratic beauty has erected between them and after a masterful wooing marries her. The development of her love for her husband in a post-marriage romance is one of the strangest situations of the screen.

Frank Mayo is the self-made hero of the romance. His own aunt, Belle Stoddard Johnstone, appears in pictures for the first time as the mother of his sweetheart in the story. Lovely Lillian Tucker is the girl, and Dagmar Godovsky has one of her characteristic, vivacious parts as the chorus girl who leads Mayo's rival to ruin. Others of the cast are Hal Wilson, Frederick Vroom, Boyd Irwin, Robert Dunbar, Ray Ripley and Will Herford.

CASTELLAW PUTS ON ADVERTISING PARADE

Heavily placarded and announced by blaring brass, Ye Old-fashioned revival parade started yesterday at 4 p. m. from the Texas Pacific station, passed through the business section and then circled the city for two hours.

The parade heralded not the beginning of a soul-saving campaign, nor the launching of a vice crusade, but was only a unique stunt conceived by Jekes Castellaw to advertise his sale which started today at 9 a. m.

LACK OF FUNDS STOPS WORK ON A. L. HOSPITAL

With $200,000 already expended in the erection of the American Legion Tuberculosis hospital at Knoxville, progress has been halted to some extent through the lack of funds, according to W. L. Gibson, local superintendent of the McKenzie Construction company. The McKenzie construction company is the contractor for the work. An additional expenditure of $150,000 will have to be made, Mr. Gibson thinks, before the project is completed.

However, much has been done. Wards have been completed and several detached bungalows have been erected. Mr. Gibson, who is familiar with the plans of the institution, thinks that it is ideal in every respect for the purpose for which it is being built.

The American Legion is behind the move and has furnished the funds for its erection thus far and has plans for providing the additional funds that are needed. When completed it will be a home for ex-service men who are suffering from tuberculosis.

Business Women's Club Will Present Home Talent Play

A home talent play will be given on the nights of Feb. 17 and 18 by the members of the Business Women's club. This was decided at a meeting of the executive council last night. The services of a company who direct the staging of home talent plays has been secured, as has the use of a local theatre.

On next Tuesday night a general meeting of the club membership will be held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms to work out final plans for the play and to assign members to their various parts.

WILL BUILD SPEED BOAT TO DO EIGHTY MILES AN HOUR

By Associated Press
DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 8.—A speed boat capable of eighty miles an hour will be required to successfully defend the Harmsworth trophy, according to Gar Wood, who captured the international trophy from its British holders off the Isle of Wight last summer.
Wood, who holds the most of the world's speed boat records, indicated that he did not believe a challenge would be forthcoming for the Harmsworth trophy in 1921. European power-boat men realize, he said, that they must build a craft capable of close to eighty miles an hour to compete with hydroplanes of the type of Miss America. He pointed out that Miss America's fastest lap in the recent Gold Cup races here was 71.5 miles an hour.
"This won't do in the next race for the Harmsworth trophy, however," he said, and added, "We will be right there with that eighty mile an hour boat when the challenge for the international trophy comes."
Wood said prospects were bright for a Harmsworth race in 1922 that would shatter all records for speed.

WILL DECIDE STATE CHAMPIONS IN HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 8.—Interest in the state championship in high school football which will be decided on Clark Field at the University of Texas today is assuming the proportions of a large college event. The men on both these teams are extremely large for high schools. Cleburne's back field, for instance, is made up of Rhone, full back, who weighs 180 pounds; Smith, right half, 167 pounds and Poindexter, left half, 175 pounds. Richerson, who is right guard for the Cleburne team, weighs 209 pounds, and holds the State Interscholastic league record for throwing the discus. He is frequently used to carry the ball, being exceedingly active for his weight. The Houston Heights team is also a husky bunch, and has demonstrated its wonderful power especially on the offensive. Indeed, both teams are offensive machines, and it is a foregone conclusion that either side will carry the ball whenever it secures possession of it. A magnificent trophy cup has been donated by an Austin firm to be given to the winning team. Both teams will be banqueted at the Driskill after the game, being the guests at this banquet of the athletic department of the university.

SILVER SPOON HOLDS BURGLAR AT BAY UNTIL POLICEMEN ARRIVE

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—Awakened at an early hour yesterday by the clicking of a key in the front door of her apartment, Miss Bertha Miller, architect, crept noiselessly from bed, drew a shining object from a buffet drawer and waited.
A man came through the door. He felt something press against his ribs and heard an order:
"Behave now; keep your hands up and sit down in that chair."
He obeyed. Miss Miller called her sister, who opened a window and blew a police whistle.
Police arrived. Miss Miller sighed, sank into a chair, and tossed the shiny object—a silver spoon—upon the table.
The man, who said he was Michael Amio of Danville, N. Y., was held in $2,500 bail on a technical charge of burglary.
At breakfast time Miss Miller called at the police station, requesting to buy food for the prisoner. "I want him to have the best of treatment," she said.
But Amio partook of jail fare.

WEATHERFORD MEN WILL IMPORT LONG STAPLE COTTONSEED

Special to The Oklahoman
WEATHERFORD, Jan. 8.—The bankers and other leading business houses of Weatherford are forming plans whereby they will furnish to the cotton growers of Parker county sufficient cotton seed for their spring planting. A seed has been selected of longer staple than formerly planted, and guaranteed to make a cotton crop worth from $25 to $30 more per bale. The bankers contemplate the shipment into this county of 100,000 bushels of the high grade seed, and will furnish same to farmers on full payment.
The farmers in this county have not acted in concert in planning the reduction of cotton acreage, but nevertheless the acreage will be reduced approximately one-half.

ENGLISH SOCCER STAR SELLS FOR $20,000

By Associated Press
BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 8.—Soccer, the English national game, like organized baseball in this country, has come into the eyes of the statesman. There has been no exaggeration in calling the "game." Both deal for $100,000 as yet, but word has been received here of the sale for $20,000 of Stanley Baxterly, a crack forward, who played on local fields for nothing a few years ago. The price of his purchase by the Everton club in England was said to set the high mark for the British national sport.

MEXICO BUYS MACHINE GUNS

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—Peter Kroun, 60, was beaten away at a pair of shoes in his shop when three bar handits, one of them in short trousers, entered the place and demanded his money.
The aged man struggled with the three, who finally ran out. Kroun afterwards learned that the boy in knee pants drew a revolver, firing one shot, which struck Kroun in the left side.

INDIVIDUALS MUST HELP.

Not only local opinion, but that of traveling men and dwellers in neighboring towns, is that passable roads to the territory served by Ranger are essential. Today, for instance, the Times publishes two interviews from men who are familiar with the situation. One statement by business men of Caddo should be of especial interest to those who are interested in Ranger and Ranger's future. It is a graphic illustration that a town must be ever on its toes and offer service and convenience to those with whom it does business, if it wishes to hold trade. These men, who like Ranger, would do business with us if it were convenient, but when the state of the roads is such that it is easier to go elsewhere, they naturally do so. Their freight, which once came to Ranger, now goes to Straw and Mineral Wells, on account of the condition of the roads. If road conditions were equal it would come here.

Now this is a matter of especial concern to wholesale houses. If they get their freight here, it is highly probable that a larger proportion of their purchases would be made here than is now the case. There is no argument on that proposition.

One hundred thousand dollars a year would seem at first glance to be a large sum to be spent on maintenance of roads. But even a sum of that magnitude would be small compared with the benefits derived, when one considers the degree in which trade would be augmented. It would be only a small tax on business done, and if everyone will recognize the necessity and pay his share, there will be no burden on anyone. A community working together for mutual benefit can accomplish wonders for the individual benefit if the individuals will but work together.

THE WOMAN WHO SAW

A Landubber Saint.

Two Saturdays ago the Woman stood watching Santa Claus as he navigated his ship St. Nicholas in one of the Fifth Avenue department stores. She knew she should be downstairs buying gifts, but the children, the toys and the sight of that ship would make any one linger.

It was a delectable ship, just what you would expect St. Claus to have for his own. There were real sails, a bell that rings, nice dry canvas water to sail on, a gangplank to go up on, lamps with real lights in them, and everything.

The children fell over themselves as they hurried up the gangplank and were overcome with shyness when met by Capt. Santa Claus. For a wonderful skipper is he. He is his own engineer, deck hand, quartermaster and purser, too.

While the passengers were singing one by one, about eleven years old, was too entranced with the whole outfit to lead his side to the tune. As the boat plunged into the sea the boy leaped out and swung along in rhythm with the Captain, to help along the going. And when the voyage was over and all the other children were safe ashore, the boy took a last look around and faced the skipper frankly.

"This is a peach of a ship you've got," things great. "But"—lowering his voice and looking around to see if any child were near enough to hear. "I wouldn't want any of these kids to lose faith in you."

"What's the matter?" asked the Christmas skipper.

"Well," said the boy, shyly, "you've got your port light on your starboard side."

Santa shook his head and sighed. "Well, now, ain't that terrible? That comes from using a sleigh so much. But I'll have that fixed. And you're a good chap to tell me the way you have."

The Toy She Left Behind.

The Woman was watching the well dressed bright-eyed little girl who was seated opposite her in the Madison Avenue car. The child's grandmother, a distinguished elderly woman with silvery white hair, was watching her young charge adoringly as she played with the toy beetle and frog which she had with her. There were only three other passengers in the car, so that there was plenty of room for her to wind them up, set them on the seat beside her and watch them roll off. She did this time and again, laughing at the sport, her blue eyes shining, her dimples twinkling.

The Woman smiled in sympathy when grandma gently reproved her with a "Don't, dear, wait until you reach home."

They left the car shortly after, and the Woman noticed all too late that the shining little beetle had been forgotten. She was thinking of the child's disappointment when her attention was attracted by an elderly Italian laborer who had just entered the car. He looked at the bright object near him, rubbed his eyes, looking again as if to make sure that it was no dream, and then slowly moved nearer to it. He picked it up, fondled it in his big, clumsy fingers, and then turned to the Woman eagerly.

"I take it to the besta Rosa," my daughter, her little gal," he chuckled happily. And the Woman smiled and nodded, and was glad when she thought that Rosa's joy would more than equal the rich little girl's disappointment.

And It Was the Right Number.

The Mid-Victorian Lady was having guests. One was an elderly lady from Boston who was never to be seen without her acousticon, a little black affair that looked like a telephone. The other was sunny-haired Polly, aged four, the Mid-Victorian Lady's favorite niece.

Now it happened during the course of the afternoon that the Mid-Victorian Lady, who was in the dining room, wished to ask the Boston lady to come from the library to partake of tea, and she sent Polly to do the bidding.

Polly's shrill little voice piped into the car machine—but to no avail. Either the notes of her young voice were too high or the machine failed to do its advertised duty. Discouraged, Polly came back into the dining room to report, "Auntie, I tried to tell her, really I tried, but she doesn't answer. The line must be busy."

The Boys of Youth.

A vast throng filled the moving picture palace. Every seat was taken—people were standing in all available spots—but the great throng was breathlessly quiet as the screen drama reached its climax. The setting showed an elaborate furnished room, in the center of which stood a luxurious bed from which the heroine was emerging—bent on utilizing the midnight hour to flee from the scene of her misery. As she slipped into conveniently placed boudoir slippers and reached for the fluffy negligee thrown with such careful carelessness over a nearby chair, a child's disapproving voice broke the tense silence. "Mother," it whispered hoarsely, "Mother, look at that. She went to bed with her shirt on under her nightgown. Didn't she know that wasn't healthy?"

CUPID WAS BUSY

CHEERUP IN YEAR 1920

By Associated Press. EL PASO, Texas, Jan. 8.—While cupid during the year 1920 was escorting 1,962 couples to the county clerk's office in El Paso county for marriage licenses causes and effects from various sources forced 578 couples to the district courts and obtained for them divorces, and gained for twenty other couples an annulment of their marriage—an average of one out of three marriages being recorded as a failure.

The couples had been married less than into court by wives. Ninety per cent of six of every ten cases were brought five years. One divorced couple in every six had children, according to the records.

"LICKING" OR "ASSAULT" TO WHIP MARRIED DAUGHTER?

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 8.—Mrs. Lillian Rebeck sued her mother, Mrs. Beena Meata for $250, alleging that the latter had delivered what the mother called a "licking," but what the daughter characterized as an assault.

She asserted her mother beat her across the arms and knees with a shoe. In a counter suit for $500 the mother charges the daughter brought on the assault by calling her "the man."

The Flirt—

"Tinker Bob" Stories by Carlyle H. Holcomb

THE KING A CHRISTMAS TREE

Now the tribe of Cotton Mice was surprised indeed to see this fellow whose nose was bumped, turn red all over. Mr. Mouse, who seemed to be the leader of the tribe, was so startled at the sight that his pipe fell from his mouth and his hat raised from his head. None of them, not even the Queen, had ever seen a red mouse, and now to see one of their own number, and one whom they thought was a foolish fellow—to see him turn red was enough to make anybody's hair stand up. But the lump on his nose was gone, and the pain was gone from his poor nose that had suffered so much since he fell into the King's pocket.

"Will this fellow always be red?" asked Mr. Mouse, as he came out of his spell of fright, and looked more carefully at his friend.

"This creature will always be red and never again can he be hurt on the nose. He can fall even from the tree top, but he will not be harmed for the Red Stone has made him so strong and hard that he never again will be hurt." These were the words of Tinker Bob.

It was hardly possible for the little mice who had known this fellow to believe that he would never again be harmed. Yet they had learned to know that when the King of the Forest said anything he meant it.

"Let us see how hard he is," asked a little creature in a squeaky voice.

"I am willing," said Tinker Bob, "if the Queen of your tribe is."

The Queen, in her soft and quiet voice, said to the tribe of Cotton mice: "Get in line and you shall march by one by one, and feel of this fellow's nose, and you shall see if it is hard or not."

They listened to the Queen and were glad to do as she said. One by one they climbed the King's knee and felt of this creature's nose to see if it might be hard, even as the King had said. Each one, when he felt of the little mouse's nose, shook his head in astonishment to think it possible for any good mouse's nose to get so hard. A red mouse with a hard nose was truly a wonderful creature.

"Now this fellow ought to have a place of honor," said Mr. Mouse. "He should sit beside the Queen to guard her through the days of her life."

The others cried out: "He shall sit beside the Queen," and that is the very thing he wanted to do and he did it. In the midst of all this Tinker Bob happened to look at himself, and to his surprise he found that he was decorated all over. He found that the Cotton Mice had hung their presents on his clothes, and he looked like a Christmas tree instead of a King of the Forest. This made Tinker Bob very happy—and all the others were happy, too, for the Red Mouse sat on one of his shoulders and the Queen Mouse on the other.

IRISH SOCIETY LIFE HARD HIT BY CURFEW LAW

Theatres Suffer and Street Car Service Is Almost Stopped.

DUBLIN, Jan. 8.—The 10 o'clock curfew, lately put into effect, hit Dublin a hard blow. The city had accommodated itself easily to a midnight closing hour previously in force, but the 10 o'clock embargo on all activity meant the complete abandonment of all social functions in the evening. The result has been to kill all the trade serving such events.

The great stores are almost idle, and the managers of some of the most popular of them say that they are operating at a loss. There is no demand for new dresses.

The theatres are suffering most. At one house the first night after the curfew, there were only eleven people in the auditorium. The moving picture houses are doing better, but they all have to close at nine to enable their patrons to get home before the curfew hour. The music halls which used to open to two houses a night have now only one. As they were always full for each performance this means cutting off half their income.

The tramway company's cars are now nearly empty in the evenings. They lately raised the fares by parliamentary authority to enable them to meet increased expenses, but the drop due to the curfew has more than wiped out the additional receipts.

The regulation is declared to be imposed in the interest of the public to induce them to avoid the risks of being abroad after dark. In present conditions, even if there were no curfew, many people would be too timid to leave home in the evenings.

Still there is much criticism of the imposition of a curfew at 10 o'clock at night, provoked by assassinations which took place at nine o'clock in the morning.

RIPLLING RHYMES

BY FORCE OF LAW.

We all desire to make a hit before we end our days, and leave behind us, when we fit, a fame that will amaze; and so we'd pass a law to fix the crimes of other days. As moralists will win renown, or break a valiant limb; and so we'll jump on Neighbor Brown, and put a crimp in him, and eagerly we'll load him down with ordinance grim. For Brown is fond of corkinole, croquet, and kindred games; and sports like these corrupt the soul, degrade both gents and dams, and when they die they're sure to roll to everlasting flames. We might persuade Brown, if we would, to quit his course of guile; we might persuade him to be good, and do it with a smile, but statutes, be it understood, are better worth our while. There is more fun in forcing eyes to walk the narrow road than there can be in counsel wise, on erring men bestowed; and if you'd have man win the prize, you prod him with a goal. By law we'll make the nations free, our plans are duly made; we'll pass a law forbidding tea and gum and lemonade; and when we're dead our busts will be in laurel wreaths arrayed. Or, normal station as a force is dead and in a crate, and legislation is the source of everything that's great; and though, perhaps, our work is coarse, we'll make sinners pay.

A Vital Message to Ranger Business Men

Courage, Confidence and Bigger Business in 1921

Up in West Chester county, New York, lives a man by the name of Muldoon. Muldoon, as you know, was the champion wrestler of the world for many years. He's a rough, gruff individual who is short on words, but long on action, and he is invariably "GETTING RESULTS." A prominent business man, who went up there recently to get the kinks out of his nervous system, told the other day of his experience. These are almost his exact words: "I remember the first morning after I landed Muldoon put me through a terrific pace. Weakened and exhausted, feeling that I couldn't go another minute, I was sent for my bath. Later on in the day I remarked to Mr. Muldoon that he had put me through a pretty hard pace. His only reply was: 'Rot.' You were not doing 80 per cent of what you were capable. I thought at the time that Muldoon did not know what he was talking about because I was of the opinion that I was doing all a man was capable of doing, or, at the least, 99 per cent. I don't know whether it was the supreme effort I made to put on the extra 1 per cent which I felt I lacked or the effort I made to put on the 20 per cent that Muldoon thought I lacked, but at any rate at the end of two weeks I had come to the conclusion that Muldoon was right. Whether it was putting forth the 1 per cent or the 20 per cent I am not capable of saying, but I do know that the effort made so strengthened and developed my power of endurance that the original work seemed somewhat like child's play." Now why is this written? Simply to show how the application of this one idea secured from Muldoon, the wrestler and trainer of men, can cash in for Ranger business men "in the present trying period of liquidation and readjustment." Muldoon is right. The man who puts forth the last 2 per cent scores, whether in physical or business training. And in the connection there recently appeared a truth which should be emblazoned in the banner of every Ranger man and every Texas business concern, ambitious to make a bigger success. This is the thought: "Most anybody can do business fairly well. Many men can do business very well. A few can do business superbly well. But the man who not only does his work superbly well, but adds to it a touch of personality through great zeal, patience and persistence, making it peculiar, unique, individual, distinct and unforgettable is an artist. And this applies to all and every field of human endeavor—writing, speaking, modeling, painting. It is that last indefinable touch that counts, the last three seconds he knocks off the record that 'proves the man is a genius.'" What we need today is to be imbued with the Muldoon idea that a man usually exercises only about 80 per cent of his faculties. And what is true of men is also true of merchants and manufacturers. Let us face the facts frankly. Business conditions are not normal. But that doesn't mean that people are going to stop living and laughing, and spending, even for luxuries. America has had several years of unprecedented prosperity. It is the richest nation in the world with the smallest debt. The Ranger business concern which fails to double its energy, double its advertising appropriation and thereby increase its enthusiasm and efficiency to overcome obstacles in 1921 is simply trifling with its opportunity. True, the readjustment period will cramp some concerns, others it will crush. A list of these can be summed up in a single sentence. Failure faces those who lose courage and confidence. It is, therefore, up to us to practice as well as preach the Muldoon gospel of 100 per cent capable. We must set our hearts and our hands to the task before us. We must urge our brain and our brawn to 100 per cent effort during the coming year. We must get our hearts and souls so full of the business possibilities which are rightfully ours that our enthusiasm and absolute belief will send business forging ahead of the best record in the past.

Unfortunately, or fortunately, success gravitates to the man who can shoulder it and power flows to the man who knows how. It is not what we wish and pray for that we get, but what we justly earn. Muldoon is right. The man who puts forth the last 20 per cent scores whether in physical or business accomplishment: "And how are we to gain this 20 per cent?" you ask. Simply in this way: ADVERTISE. Your advertising is not a thing apart from your enterprise. It is your enterprise a contagion which you yourself create, and, why, if thoroughly spread is as enduring as the everlasting hills. Advertising helped to win the war. Advertising created in the consciousness of our country a desire not only to dare, but to do. Advertising sold billions of dollars' worth of Liberty bonds. It did this when business conditions were unsettled and the ultimate outcome was only a prayerful hope. Now if we are to prove that "peace hath her victories no less crowned than war," we should apply the greatest lesson learned by utilizing this mightiest of modern commercial forces to stabilize and revitalize commercial conditions in our city and state. By advertising is not meant a reckless expenditure of money in this, that, or the other form of publicity. An investment in money and effort will materially increase your sales, and that means a consequent increase in revenue. Thus will courageous business concerns more than make up by increased stock turns whatever they may lose through decreased prices. Knowing this to be true, words rarely lack the power to tell the full significance of what a consistent, comprehensive advertising schedule throughout the year will contribute toward the success of your business. Realizing that the timid will be lax in their effort, the possibilities and potentialities open to the confident and courageous should impress you with the magnitude of the influence your advertising will have in persistently and consistently cultivating the prosperous homes which you can reach. YES, it is possible for you to hold your present customers and influence much new business in 1921 if you will only put forth, NOW, enthusiastic, intelligent effort. In other words, you can come into full possession of what is rightfully your own. You can increase your patronage, extend your prestige, and multiply your profits. Just remember that the only difference between the possible and the impossible is that it takes a little longer to accomplish the latter. This, then, is the time to think and work for bigger and better things.

A greater success will all be yours. Start right now for 100 per cent. This is a duty you owe to yourself. A duty you owe to your business. A duty you owe to your country. To live up to the full meaning of this message is to profit by advertising's mightiest power. And in advertising, as in all things, success has no fee, but fear; no limitations save those that are our own. Therefore, courage and confidence and energy in advertising are as sure to win, as sure to bring prosperity to the brave and bold in this year of 1921 as the dawn of tomorrow brings new day. Let's go.

CLOSE-IN PARK GIVES FANS MORE CHANCE, B. B. DIRECTORS THINK

Rex Outlaw Named President of Ranger Club; "Sled" Allen Here Tomorrow to Talk Over Managership; Will Incorporate.

Rex Outlaw was named president of the Ranger baseball club at a meeting of the directors yesterday afternoon. To succeed Jim Galloway, last year's president manager, who has gone to Dallas to manage the Marines. Otis B. Chapoton, the sporting teller of the First National bank, was elected a director and named secretary-treasurer of the club. The transfer of the Eastland franchise to San Angelo was approved by the directors, who believe that with this step taken the league will be in strong financial condition for the next year. Minimal Wells recently doubled its capitalization, Cisco came so near losing its franchise that the club backers there have amply provided themselves with sinews of war. Abilene came through last season with a balance in the bank. Sweetwater provided for ample support when the Gorman franchise was taken over. San Angelo was told to "head themselves" before they came in, and "Ranger is Ranger," were the factors on which the board's opinion was based. Will Move Park. OXFORD, Jan. 8.-Several of the Americans who came into residence at Oxford last October have made a place for themselves in athletics. Alfred K. Reese of Nebraska, now at Lincoln college, Oxford, won the shot put in the inter-college fall meet, with P. K. Brown of Washington, at Exeter, a strong second. Three Americans were semi-finalists in the university freshman tennis tournament. R. W. Shaw of New York, at Lincoln college, J. M. Clarke of Pennsylvania, at Exeter college, and A. K. Davis of Virginia at Balliol. Davis and Clarke in a very close match the set scores being 9-11, 7-5, 6-2.

Both playing a hard back court game, with very little to choose between them as to ground strokes. Davis has a little edge on court tactics, but both are potential material for the Oxford university team. Davis was defeated in the finals by Hall, two sets to one, after a very hard match.

WELLS

Cooper-Henderson Co. to Halt Wells at Top of Lime

The Cooper-Henderson company, largest independent corporation operating in the Stephens county field, has announced its plan to complete no more wells until the water shortage and congested pipe line problems have been solved, holding all wells now drilling near the pay depth. Oil, they say, unless it is to move from the field immediately, is safer in the deep recesses than on the surface where it is subject to lightning, cigarette stubs and other sources of ignition which would lead to its loss. The company has in the neighborhood of forty wells drilling, and none of these will be completed in the next few weeks unless, when stopped at the top of the lime, the wells blow themselves in.

Wildcat Well Making Gas at Sweetwater

Texas Delegation Regards Bill as Farmer Aid Measure, Says Parrish. W. HAMILTON WRIGHT, Times Staff Correspondent. SWEETWATER, Jan. 8.-After a monotonous hill in local oil circles for several weeks, Sweetwater is about to spring into the limelight again with the possible bringing in of a genuine oil producer in the Kuteman well of the original Wichita-Nolan Oil company, situated fifteen miles south of Sweetwater, according to information given out here today. It was reliably reported here today that a match struck at the well yesterday produced a flame which ascended half way to the derrick, denoting considerable gas pressure. The drill had just penetrate an oil bearing sand when salt water encroached and filled the bore of the well up to a depth of 2,000 feet. The well is 3,700 feet deep. This occurred during the Christmas holidays. Since that time and adjacent wells, saying that the curb in production has prevented, or at least postponed a drop in the price of crude and that most of their crews can be employed in making locations and other work, the small operator is being hard hit by the shutdown due to water shortage. Most contracts are framed with the stipulation that the operator is to furnish water and fuel, and therefore the shut-down comes on the operator's time, for which the drilling contractor receives compensation at the rate of $100 a day. The situation is also a handicap to the syndicates who have begun drilling before its stock has been fully subscribed. Prospective buyers of these shares are likely to postpone their purchases until the drill starts biting again.

FORD PLANTS REOPEN FEB. 1, MAHER IS TOLD

The Ford factories at Detroit, and all its assembling plants over the country recently shut down, will be again in operation by Feb. 1, according to a forecast made by the Dallas branch. This information was given Edward R. Maher, of the firm of Leveille-Maher, local Ford agents, during a recent trip to Dallas.

The forecast is based on the fact, Mr. Maher said, that dealers over the country are asking for more cars, and the diverting of shipments from one agency to another. The Dallas branch, which is probably the largest of all the assembling plants of the Ford company, he is sure will again be full with a full crew by the date set. This plant several weeks ago cut its force and nearly ceased operations.

In Ranger the local company has continued, each month, to deliver more than its monthly quota of cars which has been placed at forty-two monthly. During October, November and December this mark was surpassed by more than 100 per cent.

Burglary May Be Punished by Death in New York

By Associated Press
 NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—Legislators in this state served notice during New York's crime wave that at the next session they intend introducing measures to provide greater punishment for highway-men and burglars.

With daring robberies becoming every day occurrences, the courts here quickly decided to mete out maximum punishment wherever possible and raised bail to insure keeping criminals behind bars.

A study of existing laws in various states shows that in three, burglary is punishable by death and in four, robbery—should the maximum punishment be applied.

Other States Have Law.
 First degree burglary may be punished by death in North Carolina and Virginia by means of electricity and in Delaware by hanging. Alabama and Virginia's laws provide the maximum of death in robbery cases, while Nevada specifies death for train robbers and Texas for robbery accomplished by means of deadly weapons.

Several states provide for life imprisonment or for "any term up to life" in burglary cases. The life penalty thus is possible in Massachusetts, Florida, Iowa, Rhode Island and South Carolina, while in Maine the law newly provides "any term of years," making it possible to impose a sentence which virtually means life. New York, Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota accomplish the same end by stipulating that burglary shall be punished by "not less than ten years."

Other states vary from maximum punishment of forty years in Utah and thirty years in New Hampshire to only seven years in Arkansas. The heaviest fine possible for the offense is in Pennsylvania, which provides "not over ten years and $10,000."

Life Term in Texas.
 Robbery may be punished by life imprisonment in Idaho, Rhode Island, Texas, Oregon, Utah, Illinois, Massachusetts, Michigan, and Hawaii. California provides for "not less than one year." The least severe penalty is that of Connecticut which stipulates "not more than seven years." In most states the maximum varies from fifteen to twenty years.

In view of present conditions, however, bills are being prepared for introduction in several states to increase the maximum penalty to death or life imprisonment.

GERMAN OPERA PRICES ARE MORE THAN DOUBLED NOW
