COURT HOUSE AT DAYTON MAY BE UNSAFE

WOMAN TELLS SERVANTS SHE MAY NOT RETURN

Police Probing Mysterious Absence of California Ranch Owner and Writer

SANTA ANNA, Calif., July 16.—"If I am not back by tonight I'll probably never return," Mrs. Virginia Lee Cookson, missing ranch mistress and writer, told her servants the day of her strange disappearance. "Be sure to feed the cat," she told them.

Mrs. Charles Geer, wife of the caretaker of Mrs. Cookson's ranch, told officers today of the mysterious leave taking of her mistress. "She never acted so strange before," said the caretaker. "She told me to feed the cat and kill the dog if she did not return within 24 hours."

The dog was Mrs. Cookson's constant companion in her rambles over the mountains. She wanted his body cremated and the ashes put in an urn and placed on a shelf in her library.

Authorities had made little progress today after 48 hours' intensive search for the missing woman.

George C. Butte Making Headway In His Porto Rico Work

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, July 16.—In the pink palace of justice, as the old Spanish structure, with walls of coral pink, is known, George C. Butte republican candidate for governor of Texas in 1924, and record-breaker G. O. P. vote getter, is making new records in the administration of the law in this tropic isle.

The "pop" and snap that Major Butte showed in his Texas campaign has not been destroyed by this warm and balmy climate. Plunging into a stack of accumulated litigation, the Texan has already made big strides toward his pledge to clear the decks and bring the administration of justice here up to date.

Major Butte has a position that is unique. He is a sort of deputy governor, being acting governor when the executive leaves the island. He is chief advisor to the governor as well as chief law officer, with all the duties of an attorney general. In addition all penitentiaries, jails and reform schools are under his jurisdiction.

This year Major Butte delivered the address at the first graduation from the industrial school for boys. He made a great hit because he spoke in fluent Spanish as well as English. The school is run on the idea that it is an educational institution instead of a penal school and the result has been the reduction in the number of boys graduating from it into the penitentiary.

The fact that Major Butte speaks Spanish has greatly facilitated his work as most of the adults here speak that language though the American schools have made the younger generation English speakers. The Porto Rican politicians, with whom former governor E. Mont Reilly had some clashes, have taken a great liking to the new Texan whose frankness and friendliness have disarmed opposition.

NEGRO HEAVYWEIGHT DOES NOT LACK FOR PRUDENCE

DALLAS, July 16.—A negro heavy weight and his manager pulled off a big show in a neighboring city a few nights ago, and when they left town a warrant went forward for the arrest of the leather pusher for having squeezed one of the onlookers of $13.

Officers located the big chested "black beauty" taking a stroll in the bright lights of "deep Ellum" a few days later and promptly arrested him. The manager tried to tell the officers that somebody was trying to foul his man with a put-up publicity stunt, but they didn't like his explanation. He finally told them, however, that he would pay them the $13 in order to "keep it out of the papers" and save the reputation of his cub, and officers took him up.

The "coming champion's" name was not revealed to the press, and his dignity is unmarred.

Bandits Rob Bank In Holland, Texas

Special Correspondence.

TEMPLE, July 16.—Four bandits robbed the First National bank of Holland at noon Wednesday, escaping with $1,850 and overloading about $4,000 in their hurry. They held up the cashier and one customer who happened to be in the bank and locked them in the vault, but a burglar device kept the vault door from closing and they soon released themselves and gave the alarm. The bandits were in two automobiles when they raced out of town, going towards Little River between Holland and Rogers.

GIANT BAND OF COUNTERFEITERS UNDER ARREST

Eighty Alleged Members of Gang Captured and Jailed At New York

NEW YORK, July 16.—Eighty alleged counterfeiters, including seven girls, all members of one gang, have been captured and were being questioned today. Police Captain Parmo, who brought about the arrests, said the band was the largest and most thoroughly organized of any he had ever known.

The band scattered bills of small denominations in stores, restaurants and other places in New York, New Jersey and Connecticut towns, using the girls to pass the "quers" where men might have been suspected. They have circulated a large number of spurious bills, mostly of $5 and $10 denominations, according to the police.

North Texas Has Lower Temperature, South Texas Higher

DALLAS, July 16.—The current heat wave in Texas has shifted southward in the last 24 hours, the weather bureau announced this morning. The northern half of the state, which sweltered under an unusually high temperature early in the week, enjoyed a respite Wednesday, while the southern half had a heated spell. At Corpus Christi the mercury reached 100 degrees, with an equal mark at San Antonio, while at Abilene and Amarillo the highest record was 95 and at Dallas and Fort Worth a maximum of 98. Local showers at a number of places held the mercury down.

Hill and his father were cut with knives and Blankenship was beaten about the head and had several ribs broken.

Sheriff Blaylock, who is investigating the tragedy, was told by one witness that Hill and his son engaged in a fight and Blankenship tried to separate them. A fourth person is said to have participated in the fight, but has not yet been identified.

TEXAS TECH STUDENTS MAY EARN EXPENSES

President Horn's "Acre Project" Based on Practical Lines, Wins Approval

Special Correspondence.

LUBBOCK, Texas, July 16.—Better production on fewer acres was urged by R. Q. Lee, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in an address to a gathering of Lubbock county people here. He urged sensible irrigation and intensive cultivation.

Mr. Lee was greatly pleased with the plan of President P. W. Horn of the Texas Technological institute, styled the "acre project," by which the institution is to be made to serve all the youth of West Texas. The plan is especially to help boys who wish to get an education, but lack the money to pay their expenses while in college. He plans to let each boy have one acre of land on which to grow garden truck and vegetables. This college and dormitories will supply a good market for the products, Dr. Horn believes, with the city of Lubbock, will be able to use everything grown.

Boys May Keep Cows.

By this plan Dr. Horn figures upward of 100 boys can make their way through college. Also Dr. Horn says ambitious farm boys may bring two or three cows with them and keep them in the college dairy barns. They can produce milk and market it to the college and in the city and by this plan Dr. Horn declares not only will many boys be aided but they will be working out a practical project in agriculture.

The college has 2,000 acres of land and plenty of water for irrigation.

Lee is enthusiastic over the acre project plan and declared it fitted in with his program of diversified and intensive farming. He also advised Dr. Horn to consider poultry in this plan and declared that a flock of hens properly managed will produce revenue sufficient to put any industrious boy or girl through college.

Plan for Opening.

Lee, together with Porter A. Whaley, manager of the organization, conferred with President Horn relative to planning for the opening of the new college Sept. 30.

Lee declared that Tech would have the most auspicious first year ever experienced by any college in America and prophesied the greatest celebration ever seen in Texas on the opening day.

The opening exercises will be held in the livestock judging building which will be equipped to seat 3,000 people.

ONE HOUSE HAS TWO FIRES THE SAME NIGHT

First Does Little Damage, But Second Causes Property Loss

Two fire alarms from the same residence on Marchbanks street, Lackland addition, Ranger, last night within one hour and a half caused work for the Ranger fire department and some excitement among neighbors. The house is the property of J. C. Leatham, 503 Marchbanks. The first alarm was turned in about 9:30 o'clock, when neighbors noticed smoke pouring from the house. A fast run by the fire department and the fire was quickly put out with chemicals. Although a line was laid for precaution, Acting Chief Joe Mannichia ordered his men to turn loose a chemical when he first investigated the blaze. Two smoking pairs of overalls were found lying beside a dresser in the front room. The chemical quickly extinguished the blaze with very little damage. Rolling up their lines, the firemen made a thorough inspection of the premises before leaving.

Ten or 15 minutes after returning to the station another alarm was turned in for the same place and the woman to turn it in said that the flames were already breaking out of the side windows. The truck promptly answered the alarm and two lines were laid from nearby plugs. The fire soon was under control, but only after considerable damage had been done to the house and its contents.

The second blaze originated in a closet between the front and back rooms and had a good start before being noticed and the alarm turned in.

The owner of the property, J. C. Leatham, stated that his family was away and that he was alone in the house. Relative to the origin of the first blaze, he said a box of matches was on the dresser just over the greasy overalls and that a rat may have chewed some of the matches, igniting them, as several matches were found near the clothes. He said he left the house about 10 minutes before the second alarm, as he met the trucks making the second run back and, fearing the house might have caught fire again, he turned and followed them back.

Insurance to the amount of $1,000 was carried on the building and contents by C. E. May agency, of Ranger.

Vacation Arrivals

RANGER LIONS FINISH THEIR PAINTING JOB

The "white wing" crew of the Ranger Lions' club, on duty again last night, starting work at 10 p. m., finished in the wee small hours of morning, and today Main street is marked off in even parking spaces from Commerce to Marston streets. Intersections of Main with Marston, Austin, Rusk and Railroad have been marked with double lines for pedestrian travel so that they may cross the street with safety, providing motorists observe a few of the traffic regulations called for by common sense and the law.

Motorists of Ranger are requested by the Lions' club to observe the parking stalls limits so far as possible and to park in the center for the safety of their own car fenders and to avoid locking fenders with other cars. The parking stalls are all at 45 degree angles and this morning Main street presented an orderly appearance in contrast with former days. Practically no cars were hogging several parking spaces by being parked at an acute angle or by being nearly parallel to the curb.

The railroad crossing was also painted in accordance with the new state law, now in effect, calling on all motorists to stop their cars before crossing any railway tracks. Broad white lines placed about ten feet back from the tracks and running parallel to the tracks warn a motorist while they are still 20 or 30 feet from the crossing and the word "Stop," in ten-foot letters is painted across the street, one on each side of the tracks. A white line running vertically to the tracks and reaching back about 100 feet to the middle of the street intersection defines the limits for cars parking when trains are blocking the traffic.

Motorists who go to the Ranger postoffice daily for their mail are now observing the new safety zone in the middle of the street and the order to park to the curb in order to facilitate traffic on the street, according to reports. Formerly cars were parked at any angle, in all directions, thus tying up traffic and causing seriously congested conditions for inexperienced drivers who had difficulty in negotiating the precarious passages often left for them. Since the placing of the zone in the middle of the street, establishing a line for two-way traffic, and the sign placed on it to park to the curb, most of the drivers have been observing it. Of course, there are exceptions to the rule, but those who violate the orders and whose cars are struck by other drivers are "out of luck," police officials said, regarding collecting for damages and are liable to a fine for violating the traffic regulations.

The Ranger Lions club have always sponsored any civic move for the betterment of Ranger and the painting of the parking stalls on Main street is their latest move. Members who doffed their coats and became "white wings" for the time being last night, were J. T. Killingsworth, C. C. Patterson, W. B. Carroll, B. A. Tunell, Walter Murray, L. K. Valliant, C. C. Caylor, L. E. Forrest, and John Kinberg.

MONKEY DOES BOTH IN AND OUT OF DAYTON

DAYTON, Tenn., July 16.—The Scopes trial may unwittingly be the occasion of dispelling a cherished northern illusion about southern cooking. Those fortunate enough to be boarding with private families are all right, but in the town's lunch rooms fresh vegetables seem to be taboo and everything gets a coat of grease that makes the visitors pray for a speedy end of the trial.

Dogs roam through the court room during the trial sniffing about under the benches until someone sends them yelping out with well directed boots.

Dayton's first monkey hit town last night. It was brought here on a circus at Atlanta and created a sensation. It is a young Chimpanzee about 1-2 feet tall. Dressed as a man and carrying a cane, it was paraded down the main stem last night with a huge following.

This is only one sight of the informality at Dayton. Pop bottles are emptied by the young spectator gets thirsty and the empty bottles go plopping on the floor at unexpected intervals.

NEW YORK, July 16.—Peter Mangin, during an argument with his wife leaped to a chandelier in his home last night, from it monkey-fashion until he had torn it from the ceiling.

His antics caused Mrs. Mangin to call the police and Peter was taken to the hospital.

Asked what was the matter with her husband, Mrs. Mangin said: "I don't know, except we were discussing the Scopes case."

Police Follow Trail Until Discouraged

LIMA, Ohio, July 16.—Police and detectives early today chased a Ford prairie schooner across the Indiana line in the belief that one of its occupants was Philip Knapp, the New York war veteran who is wanted for the "thrill murder" of Louis Panella.

The first tip that the schooner might be Knapp's vehicle of flight was given the police by the young man having charge of the Lima license bureau after the suspect and two others had called to ask permission to sell cards on the street. The police were told one of the men resembled pictures of the missing Knapp and they took up the pursuit of the prairie schooner, even following it for some distance into Indiana, but failed to come up with it and returned here.

ONE MAN HELD FOR DEATH OF TWO PAHROLMEN

KANSAS CITY, July 16.—Charges of first degree murder were to be filed here today against George Nigro as a result of developments in the murder of Bert Loveloy and George Peters, patrolmen, who were slain by bootleggers here last February after the two men are alleged to have stolen liquor for sale to the peddlers.

Nigro is alleged to have established the connection between the bootleggers and the patrolman, an act that led to the murder. The two men were slain in an old barn where they had gone to negotiate the sale of liquor, and their bodies, badly mutilated, afterwards found in a whiskey cage at the river bottom. The police are searching Little Italy for other suspects.

AUSTIN, July 16.—University regents in session today received an opinion from Charles L. Black, Austin lawyer, previously retained, on validity of the law under which rich university oil leases in Reagan and other counties were obtained and which had been attacked by Regent Paddock. Black holds the law is valid. Mandamus proceedings to test validity of the law consigning oil royalty to the building fund will not be instituted until October.

JUDGE WARNS THAT APPLAUSE MIGHT BE BAD

Bryan Jr., Argues Scientific Testimony Should Be Excluded From Trial

COURTROOM, DAYTON, Tenn., July 16.—William Jennings Bryan Jr. made his first formal appearance in the Scopes evolution trial this afternoon. He will address Judge Raulston on the motion to exclude scientific testimony concerning the Bible and evolution, which the defense seeks to offer.

Defense held that neither the judge nor the jury could decide the issues involved in the case without expert testimony.

The prosecution maintained that the Tennessee anti-evolution law is sufficiently clear.

When Bryan Jr. finished, the judge ordered a brief recess. The judge asked that there be no applause at any time, for two reasons: First, it is improper; second, the courthouse is heavily weighted and the least vibration might cause something to happen.

Non-Resident Pupils for Ranger High Asked To Register at Once

Pupils residing outside of the Ranger district and desiring to attend here during the coming school year are to register this week at the Ranger high school, according to Principal Lyman E. Forrest. Mr. Forrest said that he will be at the high school office every morning and urges that all pupils wishing to attend school in Ranger and who live outside of this district, to register at once.

Pupils living outside the district and who plan to attend school here will not have to pay tuition if they register in time, for their names to be turned in to the state department of education for their per capita apportionment. All at once, without registering must pay tuition, Mr. Forrest said.

SIOUX FALLS, S. Dak., July 16.—Winifred Meek, a tall gangling youth of 21, sobbed in jail today while preparations were made in Garden City to bury the charred remains of Byrle Healy, victim of the "hay stack" murder.

Throughout the night Winifred wept his grief, apparently realizing for the first time the meaning of his death of his "puppy love" sweetheart, who asked for death to avoid living a life of disgrace.

Winifred pleaded "guilty" Wednesday to a charge of murdering his pretty Garden City sweetheart.

BAYLOR CO-EDS SHOW HIGH AVERAGE OF TASTE

WACO, July 16.—A questionnaire circulated among 60 co-eds of the household administration department at Baylor University, revealed that they had a pretty high average of taste and "wants."

When asked what kind of a home they wanted when they were married, the average cost was from $5,500 to $8,000, attractively but not luxuriously furnished. Fifty-nine of the sixty expected brick houses.

FRIENDS OF CONDEMNED MAN STRIVING TO SAVE HIM

CHICAGO, July 16.—Last minute efforts at intervention today buoyed up Russell Scott, 30, sentenced to hang tomorrow for the murder of Joseph Maurer, a drug clerk. Frank Grenier, internationally known architect, of Detroit, visited Scott today and after telling him not to give up hope went out in search of Governor Small. Small yesterday rejected another plea for clemency.

The meeting between Scott and his wife was touching. "Keep up hope," she told him as they touched hands over a table in the death cell. Guards prevented them from embracing.

Dear Mr. Gunn:-
Night after night I have been kept awake by several cats which were howling in our back yard. They made such a racket I couldn't sleep

In my anger I grabbed a sample jar of Magic Mud and threw it at them. The jar struck the fence and broke, splattering the cats with the contents.

The treatment has made their voices so musical that they now lull the entire neighborhood to sleep. Am enclosing $10.00 for the sample. It's worth it.

ON WONDERFUL TRIP

The overland trip of the little party, Mrs. Scott W. Key and two older sons, Howard and Allen, to California has so many unusual features in store, that the journey will be quite an event apart from the usual tourist thrills on such pilgrimages. Mrs. Key, a real chum to her boys, is traveling in garb, "just like the rest of them," as she aptly put it. No skirts or folderols to bother with. The two months journey will include a tour of the Yellowstone, and a visit to the grand canyon of the Colorado, then to Seattle, and the biggest jaunt of all, meeting with Miss Thomason, Mrs. Key's aunt, in Canada, where the balance of the summer will be spent in company with this lady, on fur-lough from her work as missionary in a school for Chinese girls in one of China's largest cities.

The party is traveling in the sturdy Ford, a new one, bought especially for this trip. During their absence, Billie Key will visit in Comanche, and Scott, Jr., will summer with his paternal grandmother in Austin.

DAINTY ENTERTAINMENT.

Mrs. O. D. Caldwell tendered a charmingly arranged card affair, Wednesday afternoon to Miss Catherine Birmingham, of Atlanta, Texas, and the Misses Betty and Harriet Taylor of this city, recently returned from a long absence in the East at school. The dainty home breathed its welcome in the arrangements of lovely flowers, blue bells in one room devoted to card tables, nasturtiums in a second, shasta daisies in another, and brilliant, fused, wild flowers throughout the rest of the charming home, carried the touch of the hostess' perfect taste. Table appointments and tallies were in the prevailing flower designs. At close of the games, the hostess assisted by Mrs. J. Floyd Owens, provided a most attractively served fruit salad, a variety of sandwiches, potato flakes, cocoa-nut angel food cake balls and iced tea.

Those invited to meet the young honorees were Misses Dorothy Taggart, Virginia Weaver, Dixie Morris, Tully Beth Conner, Ruby Rae Toombs, Pauline Felker, Ivie Wilson, and Mmes. Frank Williamson, C. W. Perryman, and J. F. Owens. The hostess presented as favors, a pretty framed picture to Miss Birmingham, a dainty blue crystal sweetmeat jar to Miss Margaret Taylor, and a bottle of rose bath salts adorned with flaring pink satin bows, to Miss Betty Taylor. Favor for high score in games, a handsome memorandum book, was awarded Miss Virginia Weaver.

THE LOCAL NEWSPAPER.

"A good local paper makes a good local community," says the Spokane Spokesman-Review. "The well-edited paper is a distinct advantage to its community and serves a need that will always exist. It prints the current news of the community and becomes a real factor in the upbuilding of the community. It can and does accomplish much for the common weal. It reflects the character of the community itself. It adds materially in the direction and assistance of all community development, both industrial and educational. It could not survive one year if no need existed or it failed to fill the wants."

Mussolini, the prime minister of Italy, and leader of the Fascisti, is making a desperate fight to retain his political grip on affairs of state. As a last resort he has adopted the identical measures that resulted in forming the fascisti. Mussolini does not believe in democracy, and this fact alone means his downfall sooner or later. The day of the dictator, as well as the monarch, seems to have come to an end in Europe as well as in America.

Bermuda, which only last winter tried tennis played upon floodlighted out-of-doors courts, this summer is holding the first championship matches ever played after dark, upon electrically illuminated courts.

A RARE OPPORTUNITY

Is offered in the sale of Kold Kloth; if you are one who will take hold and work just like you would if you were employed in another business, you cannot help making real money. Kold Kloth is in demand in every home where ice is used, and is sold on a money-back guarantee, that it will save your ice and will not raise the temperature in your refrigerator. The work is pleasant, and either men or women, young or old, find it very remunerative. I have a very attractive proposition to make ladies' organizations; either church or lodge, and will be very glad to talk with heads of any such in Ranger, as may be in any way interested; I can show you how you can make $40.00 for your treasury in two days. Write or phone, I will call and see you.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By E. R. Waite, Secretary Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce.

That the problems of securing new business are the same today as they have always been.

That the most important of these problems is how best to materially secure increased volume of business at the least cost.

That modern business concerns have found that continuous advertising through the printed page has been the safest, surest and cheapest way to secure continuous business.

That the printed page has been found to be used by the people as an information bureau, because advertisements show the people what is on the market and where to buy everything they may need.

That the people know that continuous advertisers never offer them shop-worn stock, but offer them the newest and best of quality and at ways the best at the price.

Every city has a few business concerns who try to do business as in the days of long ago. Antediluvians who are content to take things as they come and try to live off the enterprise of the ones who advertise.

Business goes where it is invited and stays where it is well treated.

Quality, service and continuous advertising makes occasional customers regular customers.

Thurber and Rising Star Nines to Play Sunday at Desdemona

Special Correspondence.

DESDEMONA, July 15.—Local baseball enthusiasts, as well as fans from surrounding towns, will be given a rare treat here next Sunday, July 19, when they will have the opportunity of seeing the Thurber ball club cross bats with the fast aggregation from Rising Star in the new ball park being built here. Rising Star has developed quite a fast team and have played several excellent games already this season, while Thurber has maintained the same reputation and enviable record which it has held for the past few years. So far this season they have played 18 games, winning 11 and losing seven. The managers of the new park are having a new grandstand built and are getting the park in shape for the game Sunday and as this will be the first game here this season a large attendance is expected.

MINERAL WELLS PLANS TO CONTINUE HEALTH RESORT

Chamberlain was chosen from a list of 17 applicants.

He takes the position formerly held by Ray Leeman who resigned to accept a place with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at San Antonio.

Billy Evans Says

SUCCESSFUL COACH

JOE WOOD, former American League star, is meeting with as great success as a college baseball coach as he did as a player.

Wood, one of the truly great pitchers of the majors, hung on to a big league berth as a regular for several years after he was through as a twirler.

Wood could hit, particularly against southpaw pitching and was more than passing fair as an outfielder.

As baseball coach at Yale, Wood has enjoyed unusual success. Under his direction the Blue has again won the "Big Three" title from Princeton and Harvard.

It was the fourth successive season for Yale to be out in front in the "Big Three." Last year it was a triple tie.

A big factor in Yale's diamond success has been "Ducky" Pond, who also starred on the gridiron. He is through at Yale. Pond was Wood's star pitcher. He must develop a successor for him.

FATE OF HARVARD

WHEN Yale recently downed Harvard in baseball by the foolish scores of 25-15 and 18-4, it was the thirteenth straight defeat that Yale had handed Harvard in a major sport.

Apparently there is something wrong with the Harvard system of athletics. It is due to be renovated. Harvard recently put off the election of a baseball captain until the fall, directly contrary to the crimson traditions. There must be a reason.

A year ago Harvard decided to do away with the professional baseball coach. The famous Eddie Mahan, former Crimson star, was placed in charge. The result was most disappointing.

On the other hand, Yale and Princeton are strong for the professional mentor in baseball. Joe Wood has been re-engaged at Yale and Jack Coombs, former star pitcher of the Philadelphia Athletics, will handle the Princeton candidates.

Harvard must follow suit if it is to offer worthwhile diamond competition for Yale and Princeton. It might be well for the Crimson to take a chance with an ex-big league pitcher.

MATERIAL FOR EASTLAND'S NEW STREET LIGHTS ARRIVE

J. E. Lewis, of the Oil Cities Electric company, which has a contract to install a hundred or more additional street lights for the city of Eastland, stated Wednesday that the material for the lights was on the ground and that the company had a crew of workmen now engaged in putting up the lights. He estimated that they would all be in use within 10 days or two weeks.

Does Your Face Reveal Your Character?

"That the intelligence of a person can be judged by his appearance, the shape of his head or the features of his face has been disproved by experiments conducted by Professors Donald A. Laird and Herman Remmers, of Colgate University, Glen U. Cleston, of the Carnegie Institute of Technology, and F. B. Knight of the University of Iowa," says Dr. A. J. Snow, professor of psychology, Northwestern University, Chicago, in a special article.

"In one test, pictures were submitted to 376 persons and their estimates of the intelligence and abilities of the ten subjects were compiled. The results showed that in attempting to arrange the pictures according to relative intelligence they could have done as well with their eyes closed.

"In another experiment, two groups of sorority girls, ten in each group, and one group of ten fraternity boys were selected as subjects. Friends of the thirty then gave their opinions as to the intelligence, frankness, will power, ability to judging them from their appearance were given a look at the thirty, one at a time, and their impressions compared. Their opinions agreed very well with the estimates of the friends who really knew the subjects.

"The only possible conclusion is that a peculiarly shaped head, an odd ear, close-set eyes, a hooked nose, wide mouth, receding chin, or any other unusual feature about your head has nothing to do with whether you are intelligent or dumb, honest or criminal, or whether you would be a success in one line of work but not in another."

Windshield Map Holder

The popularity of the strip map for auto tourists makes the holder shown in the illustration a great help. Take a piece of composition wallboard or heavy cardboard a little larger than one strip of your map. Near each corner, at one end, punch a small hole and push a length of stiff wire through it, bending each end to form a hook. Now get two rubber bands for the ends of the board to hold the map in place. Hang the hooks over the windshield so that the map is always in view of the driver and out of his way.

Kill Disease by Disease

That paralysis may be cured by infecting the sufferer with malaria fever was the belief expressed at a recent medical convention. The treatment, in which one disease is made to cure another, is said to have been tried with success. Blood taken from a malaria patient is injected into the veins of the paralytic who then has attacks of high fever. After eight or ten of these attacks, the patient is given quinine to kill the malaria germs which killed the paralysis bacilli.

WACO, July 16.—Baylor University has an excellent chance for a spurt in the improvement program, it has just been announced, and the ex-students of the university have put their shoulders to the wheel to see that alma mater gets it.

The general education board of New York city has just notified President Brooks that it would give $300,000 to the university, if the institution itself would raise $1,300,000 for the improvement and enlargement of the school by July 1, 1926, giving one year in which to raise the pledge.

SMOKESTACKS

In every community there are people who are always doing good and people who are always doing ill. There are those who are forever serving and giving and those who only ask and take.

There is no community that does not have those citizens who ask much from the community and give nothing in return. They are loud in the demand for "more smokestacks," but want the other fellow to take all chances while they sit on the side-lines and grab the benefits. His is a purely selfish loyalty.

The FLAPPER WIFE

by Beatrice Burton © 1925 NEA SERVICE INC.

CHAPTER I

It was the last night of Gloria's girlhood.

Tomorrow would be her wedding day! She stood looking down at the white satin dress spread out on her bed.

It had been worn by two other brides . . . her grandmother and, later, her own mother.

"But I certainly don't intend to have the kind of life they had," Gloria shook her bobbed head at the white walls of her room.

Her dead grandmother, whose work-worn hands had raised ten children!

Ten children! Think of it . . . Gloria shuddered.

"Not for me!" she said aloud, "Not if I know myself."

Of course, Dick might want children. He probably would. Most men did want them. Why not, since they had none of the bother and pain of having them?

They could go on living their lives while the wives lost sleep and freshness caring for the children.

They could rush about, doing as they pleased. For their women were safe at home, chained to the cradle.

No, she was not going to have babies! Not even one!

So that was that!

Then Gloria's thoughts flew down stairs to the sitting room. She knew her mother was there in the old rocker, mending stockings. She was always mending. And still the basket was always full. It held an endless job.

Poor Mother! How hard she worked!

There was nothing for her but housework and her family, year after year. Ye gods, what a life!

A woman was either a slave or a doll.

But if she was a slave, it was her own fault. And that's all there was to it.

Gloria had made up her mind that she was through with hard work, forever, last week when she had said goodby to her typewriter and her job.

Gloria lifted the old wedding dress from the bed, and put it on a clothes hamper in the closet. But the silk was heavy and the dress slid off into a heap on the floor.

"Mother!" Gloria called downstairs, "will you come up here right away? I want you to help me with this tricky dress. It keeps falling off the hanger."

Gloria Gordon's mother was a small brown wren of a woman. All her life she had "babied" her beautiful daughter.

Now she hung the dress neatly in the closet. Then she turned down Gloria's bed, and put a hot water bottle between the sheets.

"Dear me, Glory," she fretted, "I don't know how you're ever going to get along without me to take care of you when you're married and gone!"

"Don't you worry about me," the girl answered, "I'll be taken care of all right. That's what I meant today when I told you I didn't want to learn anything about housework. You see, if I don't know how to do it, Dick will have to hire a maid for me right from the start."

She set her lovely mouth in a firm line.

"I had different ideas when I was a bride," Mrs. Gordon said quietly. "I thought a woman ought to help her husband."

"I know you did. Your idea of married life was to take care of your husband. Mine is that he is to take care of me!" Gloria shrilled. "Where you ran a carpet sweeper I'm going to run an automobile!"

"I've made up my mind that I'm going to be Dick's sweetheart—not his housekeeper. I'm going to stay in bed every day till noon, and keep my looks and my husband!"

She crossed the room to her dressing table. She leaned forward and studied her face in the mirror.

She knew that she was beautiful. She had red-gold hair and dark eyes and lashes. Her skin was smooth and white as a gardenia. And the forces that had modeled her features had made them clear and fine.

GLORIA GORDON

DICK GREGORY

But behind this sweet and womanly mask, she was wildly discontented and eager for life. And life—with a capital L—was beginning tomorrow.

Tomorrow she would burst forth like a butterfly from its cocoon, and fly away. Away from this shabby house, and the alarm clock that had wrenched her from sleep at 7 every morning for the last two years. Away from the necessity of working six days a week as typist. And mixed up with Gloria's love for Dick Gregory was an enormous gratitude toward him for taking her away from all this to a life of ease with him.

At least, Gloria intended that it should be ease—and luxury, too. She was tired of penny-pinching and hard work. Dead tired.

A job and a business career were all very well in their way for girls

"I must kiss you, dear! Think, it's our wedding day." "Darling, I'm not coming down," she said softly. "You shouldn't have asked me to do such a horrid thing."

who weren't beautiful and desirable—girls whom men didn't want.

But with a face like hers. Then she turned out the lights above the dressing table.

She climbed into bed, pulled the covers around her shoulders, and sleepily kissed her mother good-never lose its tang and flavor.

A man was a born hunter. He wouldn't be chased. As soon as he got what he wanted he was off at top speed for something else, for somebody else!

Well, she would keep Dick running after her! She would never go to him as she was going now! Never!

She turned and ran back to her room.

"Dick!" she called softly from the window. He came out from the shadow of the porch.

"Darling, I'm not coming down," Gloria said. "I just can't. I wouldn't be right. You shouldn't have asked me to do such a horrid thing!"

Without answering, Dick crossed the lawn and started his car. Gloria lay in bed listening to the sound of it. She heard it for a long time, and she knew that Dick had gone out to take one last look at the house he had built for her.

What a boy Dick was!

At 20, she was more worldly wise than Dick, in spite of his 30 years and his reputation as a lawyer.

He was like wax in her hands. She could make him utterly miserable by refusing him a kiss. And when she was tender he would willingly go through fire and water for her! He said so.

When she did kiss him, she was never thrilled by it. What excited her was the power that kiss gave her over him!

Yes, Dick was mad about her. He would give her anything she asked for. And she was not going to be slow in asking for the things she wanted—leisure, love and luxury. But above all, luxury!

Gloria's first thought the next morning was, "This is my wedding day."

Her second was, "This is the last morning I shall have to wake up in this dingy old room, thank goodness!"

She hated everything in it, from the battered brass bed to the imitation ivory toilet set.

By tomorrow morning she would be the wife of a man who could buy her wonderful things—a toilet set of silver, perfumes, lacy handkerchiefs, chiffon stockings too thin ever to be mended!

She had made up her mind that her honeymoon would be a shopping trip, too. With Dick to pay the bills!

"Sweetheart," Dick had said, "let's honeymoon in some quiet place where we can be alone." But she had laughed him to scorn.

"Don't you know you can be lonelier in a big city than anywhere else in the world, silly?" she had asked. "I've decided on Montreal. It's romantic, but it's full of lovely shops and restaurants. And we shall stop at the Ritz—and be very smart and Ritz!"

Dick had laughed. And she had her way.

So when a certain train rolled across the country that November night, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gregory were on it. Their drawing room was packed with bride's roses.

"You're like a rose, yourself, my little Glory! All mine at last!" Dick murmured. His arms held her close. His eager lips pressed down hungrily upon hers that were so smooth and cool.

FRIDAY
Young Matrons' bridge club meets with Mrs. M. K. Collic. Country club dance in the evening.

WEINER ROAST
Miss Nona Mae Jones entertained delightfully with a weiner roast Wednesday evening, at Winsett springs, in honor of Miss Mary Leigh Brookes, of Sweetwater, who has been her guest for several days. The ever popular "weenies" were roasted out in the open and served with pickles and olives and other good things to eat. After the guests had eaten their fill they spent several delightful hours in this pleasant setting laughing and talking and enjoying the outing. The young folks were chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Forman and Mrs. J. F. Jones. Those invited were Misses Mary Leigh Brookes, Katherine and Rose DeBeauford, Mary and Christine Hubbard, Mary King, Thelma Jamison of Coffeyville, Kansas, Pauline Lowe, Frankie Williams, Messrs. Rex Thomas, Alfred Glenn, D. Mitchell, Brownie King, Eugene Glenn, Arthur and Dewey Jones, David and Ernest Whitehall, Byron Reeves, Thurman Gholston and the chaperones.

GOING OUT TONIGHT WITH THAT PIMPLE SHOWING

The boy or girl who has nothing to worry them about the way they look are so much more noticeable when compared to the shrinking and backwardness of the ones who are afraid to mingle in the fun because they know how unattractive they must look on account of their pimply, blotchy or rough, eczemic skin. Their one friend is Black and White Ointment, if they will just use it faithfully, because it will get rid of all those ugly bumps and make their skin soft, smooth and lovely. Then, to keep it that way, be sure to use Black and White Soap when you wash. They are both economically priced in liberal packages. The 50c size Ointment contains three times as much as the 25c size. All dealers have both the Ointment and the Soap.—Adv.

DUNCE CAP

THE dunce has never had any particular standing in his community, but this year his hat is becoming quite the vogue. Paris is quite mad over the dunce hat, usually of velvet with a high pointed crown and fancy band about the face. It is very becoming, and youthful.

2:30 a. m. You are invited. Please present this card with $2.00. Six piece orchestra of Coleman. T. P. W. B. S. What the mysterious initials mean is a matter of conjecture. It might mean that "this party will be select," or it might mean something else, but since Country club affairs are generally select, it doubtless means that. Bridge tables will be arranged for those who do not dance. Comfortable chairs on the patio will be conveniently arranged for "setters-out" and an innovation in placing the orchestra will be a pleasant surprise.

EASTLAND AND MAGNOLIAS PLAY IN OLDEN, SUNDAY

R. W. Fairbairn, manager of the Eastland baseball club, stated this morning that the Eastland team would play the Magnolias at the old Magnolia park in Olden Sunday afternoon and that the game would be called at 3:30 o'clock. These teams have played four games this season and most of them have been very close. In one of them the score was 1 to 0 in favor of Ranger at the close of a 12-inning game.

Ranger DeMolay Officers Installed

Officers for the ensuing term of three months were installed last night at the called meeting of the Ranger chapter Order of DeMolay at the Masonic hall.

How the Evolution Story Got Its Start

That the Scopes evolution case was "no more started as a publicity stunt to advertise Dayton than the Santa Barbara earthquake started to advertise Santa Barbara," is the declaration of John T. Moutoux, staff correspondent of the Scripps-Howard newspapers, which relieves our spirit not a little.

When Mr. Moutoux arrived in Dayton, on the night that Scopes was bound to court, he telephoned to the school teacher, asking for an interview, but Scopes, apparently unappreciating the importance of the call and disgusted because his name was getting into the local papers, hung up the receiver.

It probably is evident to most Americans now that Britain and Japan are mainly to blame for recent trouble in China.

NOW, Americans talk a good deal of their altruism in international affairs. Sometimes this may be justified, sometimes not quite so much.
