PRESIDENT HARDING AT TOP OF WORLD

France Slams Door Shut In British Face, Then Opens It Just Wee Bit

New Mexico Editor Speaks Mind Freely While Court Listens

By Clever Play and Some Bluffing, His Counsel Obtains Ruling by Judge that May Open Way for More Criticism of Judiciary Without Fear of Retrials.

Special to the Times
LAS VEGAS, N. M., July 16.—Carl C. Magee, editor of the Albuquerque Tribune, must serve 360 days in jail and pay $4 in fines upon conviction of contempt of court on four charges, according to the judgment entered last Friday by Judge D. J. Leahy, alleged to have been treated with contempt by the editor in editorials.

Of course the supreme court may reverse the case and, failing in that, the governor may pardon the editor as requested in petitions containing thousands of signatures.

When the prosecution rested, former Judge Hanna, by a clever maneuver, succeeded in removing the danger of prolonged contempt of court proceedings hanging over Magee for perhaps years to come by bringing about an agreement, by which all of the testimony adduced in the trial just concluded is made to apply to the other six counts of contempt preferred against Magee.

Magee is now free to criticize Judge Leahy as much as he desires without running the risk of being cited or tried for contempt of court. As long as the seven other cases were pending, he would have been liable to new charges of contempt in case he again attacked Judge Leahy.

With the suits dismissed, Judge Leahy cannot cite him again, though he can file charge of criminal libel.

O. O. Askren at first declined to accept Hanna's suggestion to apply the testimony to the other cases.

Insurance For Nations

International Mutual Organizations Planned, Like Individual Insurance, for Protection Against Loss By War And Other Calamities

United Press Staff Correspondent.
GENEVA, (By mail to United Press).—From mutual insurance societies for the protection of individuals the world have now progressed to a basis where it will soon have mutual insurance societies for the protection of nations. This is one of the international social outgrowths of the war.

Two projects are now under way for the organization of international mutual insurance for nations.

The first of these is Lord Robert Cecil's project for an international guarantee pact, as an insurance against war. It is now under consideration by the League of Nations as an indispensable basis for disarmament.

Under its terms the nations signing it will not only pledge themselves not to attack each other, but to come to each other's assistance in the event they are attacked by others.

Just as each individual by reason of a mutual insurance protection is able to cut down his expenses for insuring the future of himself or his family, so by this international mutual insurance against war each nation will be able to cut down its expenses of self-defense from what it now costs to each nation to insure its own defense single-handed.

The second project of international mutual insurance for nations is that put forward by Italy. She demands an international treaty and organization pledging all nations to come to each other's assistance in the event of great natural calamities, such as earthquakes, fires, famines, epidemics, cyclones, etc.

POINCAIRE'S REPLY TO BALDWIN ON GERMAN REPARATIONS SEEMS TO HAVE MANY SHARP EDGES

By United Press
LONDON, July 16.—When Premier Stanley Baldwin delivered his address to the house of commons relative to the French attitude towards Germany and French invasion of the Ruhr he left the door open for a continuation of cordial relations with France, but Premier Poincare of France slammed the door shut, according to views generally expressed here.

Great Britain's note to Germany in reply to the latter's latest reparations offer, which is ready except for finishing touches, will not be acceptable to France if Poincare has correctly outlined the French policy.

Some of the British newspapers, however, believe that Poincare is merely marking time until the British note has been received in Paris. Copies of the note will be sent to the allies and also to the United States.

NO REASON FOR ENGLISH TO FEEL MAD, SAYS POINCAIRE

By Associated Press
PARIS, July 16.—Premier Poincare's answer at Senlis yesterday was a reiteration of the French government's policy and was not intended as a reply to the reparations speech of Prime Minister Baldwin of Great Britain it was explained in official circles here today. The address, with exception of a few paragraphs, was written before the British premier spoke, it is said.

The French minister asserted that France stands for complete execution of the Versailles peace treaty, and the full payment by Germany of 132 billion gold marks. He also opposes appointment of any international committee to reconsider the German debt and supplant the reparations committee.

M. Poincare said France had finished the making of concessions to Germany. She was tired of temporizing with that country. The premier's strongly worded address, while carefully refraining from mentioning the speech of Stanley Baldwin, the British prime minister, in the house of commons last week, is considered as the French government's preliminary answer to the British position with regard to the occupation of the Ruhr.

U. S. TO GET COPY OF BRITISH NOTE

By Associated Press
LONDON, July 16.—Prime Minister Baldwin announced today in the house of commons that he would communicate to the United States for its information the draft of the British reply to the German reparations note. The President, accompanied by Mrs. Harding, was to start late today on a 30-mile drive along the trail to McCarty on the Tenaha river.

CONVICTS SHOW DESIRE NOT TO FRIGHTEN WOMEN

Men Who Escape from Pennsylvania Penitentiary Sought in Five States.

By United Press
PHILADELPHIA, July 16.—Six escaped convicts, 48 hours after their daring jailbreak were being hunted by the sheriff's forces in five states. The men who perpetrated the escape over the walls of Eastern penitentiary last Saturday are believed to have scattered, having requisitioned two automobiles in which to effect their getaway.

An amazing story was told by Thomas P. McAllister Jr., who was kidnapped by the band and forced to drive them to freedom in his car. He expressed admiration for the convicts in that they refrained from doing anything likely to frighten any women. Several times they wished to stop at a farmhouse to obtain clothing which they might use to conceal their prison garb, but would not do so because women were seen in the houses. They held a pistol at McAllister's head and forced him to drive them for a long distance, but did not injure him in any way.

BIBLE THOUGHT.
THE BEAUTY OF HOLINESS:
 Give unto the Lord the glory due unto his name: bring an offering, and come before him: worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness.—1 Chronicles 16:29.

AMERICA'S 65 PER CENT FIRST MORTGAGE.

The annual taxes paid in the United States, national and local, on property and income, direct and indirect, are equal to the burden of a mortgage on all the property of the United States to the amount of 65 per cent of its valuation bearing interest at 5 per cent.

This tax mortgage is a prior lien to the other mortgages. It encumbers the property which is free from other debts and it is an additional burden to the property covered with other debts.

This statement is very easily proved. A fair conservative valuation of the property in the United States is $260,000,000,000. A mortgage of 65 per cent of the value of 260 billion dollars would be 170 billion dollars. Interest at 5 per cent on the 170 billion dollars would be $8,500,000,000—exactly the same as the taxes paid annually.

Some people think they do not pay any of this tax because they do not pay it to a tax collector and get a receipt. In this they are mistaken. All consumers pay taxes in the form of higher rents or higher prices for food, clothing and luxuries.

Owners of tax-exempt bonds are the ones who escape taxation. The big 65 per cent tax mortgage rests on the shoulders of all the rest of us. That mortgage is growing heavier every year.

The general burden of national, state and local taxation has increased 134 per cent—more than doubled—since 1912. Farm taxes have increased 126 per cent since 1914. Tax-exempt bonds have not paid one cent of this increased burden.

The amount of tax-exempt bonds increases every year. The taxation mortgage grows bigger every year. If future issues of bonds are made subject to income taxes, the debt can be reduced and the taxes made lighter.

It is up to American taxpayers and consumers to decide whether they will permit a bad condition to grow worse or insist that a change be made for the better by taxing bonds now exempt.—Statement by Dallas Trust & Savings Bank.

NEW MEXICO EDITOR SPEAKS MIND FREELY

to occupy the bench. The fact that Judge Leahy had the power to send him to jail for a period of years never stopped him once.

During the forenoon session Magee had named Judges Holloman of Santa Fe and Owens of Socorro as two district judges whom he had in mind when he had written that there were other judges besides Leahy whom a court of impeachment should investigate.

"On what facts do you base your statement this morning that Judges Holloman and Owens are corrupt?" Asken asked.

"I did not say that they were corrupt," Magee retorted. "In that connection I want to make a statement, I don't charge and haven't charged that they should be impeached. I hesitated to say that I considered Holloman and Owens in the same class with Leahy."

Asked whether his attitude as expressed in the editorial forming the basis for the contempt charges was inspired by the judge's attitude toward him during the trial for criminal libel, Magee said: "Partially, but chiefly by a determination on my part to break up conditions that were not apparent in my own case, but in the cases of many others."

"I would not have written it by way of reprisal."

Witness Leaves State.
 Aside from the testimony given by Magee, the closing sessions of the court was interesting chiefly through the fact that Secundino Romero, charged by Magee to be the man who controls Judge Leahy, failed to appear as witness.

His nephew and lieutenant, Sheriff Lorenzo Delgado, reported that the "boss" of San Miguel county was in El Paso.

The defense had subpoenaed Romero but Delgado was unable to find him. The same was the case of three other witnesses whom the defense sought to examine.

Last minute efforts of the defense to get into evidence several reports of the traveling auditor on San Miguel county institutions failed because the court sustained objections of the prosecutors to their introduction.

William Frank, secretary of the Las Vegas land grant board, testified that the board had sold 3,100 acres for $3,100, and has accepted a note instead of the required cash in payment. The note has not been paid and is overdue.

Ignatio D. Duarte was the last witness for the defense. The defense contended that Duarte, serving a sentence for assault to kill, had been pardoned through the efforts of Romero's "copped-riveted machine," after he had agreed to desert the Democratic party and become a Republican. Duarte denied that he had gotten his pardon through becoming a Republican, though he was confronted with a newspaper article written by him which warranted such an assumption.

The rebuttal testimony was unimportant.

Property Evades Taxes.

Former District Attorney C. W. G. Ward was put through a searching cross-examination regarding his part in a reduction of the taxes on land in which Stephen B. Davis, Republican, San Miguel county leader, is one of the owners. The tax was reduced from $138,501.89 to $22,000, and later to $11,000. Judge Leahy had signed a judgment for $22,000 upon Ward's recommendation.

Magee's attorneys charged that in the transaction fraud had been committed and that facts had been misrepresented.

Ward became highly excited and indignant at the insinuation of fraud. He stuck to his story that the reduction was all right, though he could not explain why taxes of less than $1,500 had been accepted on a tract of land embracing more than 200,000 acres.

PRESIDENT HARDING ADMITS ADMIRATION FOR APT IMPOSTER

WASHINGTON, July 1.—President Harding has confessed to a characteristic often ascribed to Americans by foreigners a fondness for being unbooned when it is done painlessly.

The confession was made in a letter written to Colonel George B. Christian, father of the secretary to the president, and has a background extending into the days when Warren G. Harding was editing the Marion Star. It was then that a stranger dropped into Marion one day, called on Editor Harding and, introducing himself as a member of the Virginia branch of the Harding family, mentioned that his cash in hand had unexpectedly run low and that a small loan would be useful. The President, then as now, was proud of the name of "Harding" and he extended the loan.

A few days later Mr. Harding met Judge Scofield, a leading citizen of Marion and a close friend, and told the story of the stranger's call. When he had finished Judge Scofield announced that he had been visited on the same day by the same gentleman, who described himself as a distant cousin named "Scofield," and a member of the Scofield family of Virginia. The judge, like the editor, extended financial aid.

Mr. Harding and Judge Scofield had many a hearty laugh over the incident, and they laughed even more heartily on learning several weeks later that Myron T. Herrick, then a Cleveland business man, but since governor of Ohio and ambassador to France, also had helped out in the hour of need "a cousin by the name of Herrick from Virginia who needed carefare home."

But gradually Mr. Harding ceased to think of it, until the other day he received a letter from Colonel Christian recalling the visit of the "Virginia cousin," and saying that he himself had been recently victimized in a similar way.

"I am in receipt of your letter," President Harding wrote in reply, "in which you tell me of the call upon you of the breezy, companionable chap who, after the fashion of the gentleman who was named Harding one day, Scofield another day, and Herrick another day, took you in for a small loan which would accommodate him on his virtuous way. I can only sympathize with you. You remember the chap who represented himself to me as a Harding from 'Old Virginia,' and I recall that I presented him to you and that he took you in as well as me, and that you and he fought over some of the battlefield of the Civil War without your detecting any fraud in him, but you did escape being touched as I was for a small draft upon my cash account."

"Somehow, I have always enjoyed being unbooned by that fellow. He was so clever about it that he skinned me without wounding me. One encounters so many confidence men in the activities of our present day life that it is a pleasure to meet up with an artist who can skin you without your having felt it. The thing that gets on my nerves most is the cruder and bolder confidence man who tries to put something over on me, and I know that he is trying it, and yet he thinks me susceptible enough to be wholly innocent of his plans.

"In other words, when you are taken in it is a joy to be taken in so beautifully that you haven't the slightest knowledge of it until you come to the later realization that a promised loan is not returned. I do not know but that it is a good thing that we have some of them in our midst at all times. It serves to remind us that one needs to be cautious without being suspicious, and also that the world is full of wonderful talent, which, if only applied in a righteous way, might result in notable accomplishment. Moreover, I think it brings us to helpful degree of humility to be reminded that there are smart chaps who can take us in without our even suspecting it.

Ranger conditions in the Ranger trade territory are holding up nicely in spite of the hot weather of the last six weeks. The wet spring months gave the grass a long start. Rain is needed on the ranges, but they can stand up for some weeks to come even though the country is visited by only occasional rains and showers the remainder of July.

World's Greatest Auto Plant Shown In "The Ford Age"

The story of the world's greatest automobile manufacturing institution will be told on the screen of the Lamb theatre July 17 and 18 when "The Ford Age" will be presented by the Ford motion picture laboratory.

The picture is replete with interesting scenes which embrace nearly every phase of Ford manufacture from the time the giant trees are felled in the Ford forests, ore taken from the Ford ore mines, coal from the Ford coal mines, and on all through the various stages of development from raw materials to completed cars and trucks.

Of particular interest are the scenes in the great River Rouge plant of the Ford Motor company where glimpses are given of the world's greatest foundry with a series of thrilling pictures taken in the great furnace rooms where molten metal flows in fiery streams all day long.

Dempsey Rakes In Million Dollars By Four Short Fights

By PAUL R. MALLON, United Press Staff Correspondent. NEW YORK, July 16.—Jack Dempsey has made an even million dollars out of four afternoons' work as heavyweight champion of the world.

Figured down in minutes, it is estimated that the iron man worked about two hours for his cool million. Of course, he had to spend a lot of time in training, but there probably isn't any worker in the United States or any sport champion who received anything near the sum he has cashed in.

Dempsey got one hundred thousand iron men for bowling over Billy Miske and a hundred thousand more for playing around a few rounds with Bill Brennan.

Then came Georges Carpentier, the French beau brummel, who wanted to get knocked out. Dempsey did it for 90,000 spectators for $300,000.

Then there was the Shelby affair with Tommy Gibbons. Jack Kearns, manager of the champ, after fidgeting around with the promoters for a while, whistled to himself, "My Gawd, how the money rolls in!" and plucked out $300,000.

Those four fights gave Dempsey $800,000. Movie rights and other concessions bring the total to an even million. A few exhibitions may have been necessary to swell the figure, but Jack Kearns attended to those.

Dempsey and Kearns were just about broke when the fight with Jess Willard was arranged at Toledo four years ago.

It was a tough break of luck that kept Zev, the champion three-year-old, out of the Latonia derby. That race was just what Zev needed to set a new record for cash earned during the season. It would have made more certain the position he holds as king of his class.

The West cleaned up in the race, winning the first three positions at the finish. Without attempting to detract from his honor, it is only fair to say that it probably would have been a different story if Zev had run.

AUTO ACCIDENTS JUMP 42 PER CENT IN 3 YEARS

By Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 16.—Lax supervision of motor vehicle drivers and the resultant increase of 42 per cent in the automobile death rate during the past three years, is due to the fact that the majority of state legislators are from rural districts where strict examination and registration of drivers is not a vital matter, according to a report submitted by William J. Cox, traffic accident research engineer, to the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters. There were 14,000 deaths from motor accidents last year, he said.

After the thorough investigation of the problem, and a careful examination of the records of some 300,000 accidents, Mr. Cox has prepared a table showing that registration and examination of all drivers is the only method of stopping the rising number of traffic casualties.

In Maryland, Massachusetts and Connecticut, where strict supervision of drivers is maintained, casualties have fallen off 2 per cent, while increasing 42 per cent over the country. According to Mr. Cox's figures, there would have been 4,300 fewer deaths from automobiles in 1922 had the percentage of these three states been universal.

"Only seven states require the examination of all motor vehicle operators," said the report, "while 35 states require only chauffeurs to be licensed, and many of these are never examined. An automobile driver's license must be something to be acquired through merit, and not through the payment of half a dollar."

Baptists To Meet In Stockholm for World Congress

By DON Q. RIDDLE

United Press Staff Correspondent. STOCKHOLM, Sweden, July 16.—For the first time in eleven years, the Baptists of the world are to hold a world congress and this city has been selected as the place of meeting.

The congress is scheduled to convene here July 21-27. The last world meeting was held in Philadelphia in 1912. Plans were laid there for another world gathering in 1916, but this was cancelled because of the war, and postwar developments made it unwise to hold another congress until this year.

Approximately 750 Americans are planning to be in Stockholm for the convention, many of whom sailed from New York June 30 on the United States liner "America," known as the "official ship." The "America" carried the largest party of any going from the United States, but several other groups of 50 to 100 have been reported.

One of these was the Kungsholm sailing on June 20, when more than 100 delegates mostly Swedish-Americans, embarked for Gothenburg. Another party of 60, most of whom were from Texas, sailed on the Berengaria June 26.

Thousands of delegates are expected from the United States, Canada, South America, Central Africa, New Zealand, Australia, Japan, the Philippine Islands, China, Burma, India, as well as from Great Britain, Sweden, Norway, and the countries of Continental Europe, including the new states of Latvia, Estonia, Poland and Czechoslovakia.

Several topics of special interest to Baptists as well as significance to the world at large are scheduled for consideration. International peace, in which the League of Nations will, doubtless be included, the need of help in Europe and relief work, and especially religious liberty and the separation of church and state, will receive attention.

Main Drag Stuff

By P. G. T.

Eddie and Myrtle were married Saturday. Eddie is the long, tall boy who is teller at the Ranger State bank and Myrtle is a sweet young thing, just as a bride should be. We don't usually call Eddie by his first name, but Eddie and Myrtle sound so nice all mixed up together that we couldn't resist the temptation to be familiar.

They were married on the last day of Eddie's vacation and it looked as though the honeymoon was all shot, but Eddie's friends decided that a honeymoon must follow a wedding right away. When we arrived at the nice new house, Eddie and Myrtle were hanging pictures on the wall and getting the love nest in order. The bride's "going away" dress consisted of an attractive gingham house dress and the bridegroom was attired in a blue serge suit with vest, sans coat. He also neglected to get a hat. Doubting Eddie's willingness to honeymoon, the specially constructed oil field honeymoon car was equipped with lock and chain that fitted nicely around Eddie's ankle and we trusted to love that the bride would stick through thick and thin. After several trips up and down the main drag of our city, with the melo music of tin cans and wash tubs keeping time with the raucous horns of automobiles and the inquiring gaze of the multitude on the street we returned the dear children to their love nest and wished them all the good luck in the world.

Someone, either by accident or mean intent, wished Eddie "many happy returns of the day," but Eddie is a good scout and remained unoffended.

Ranger's latest pest is the mammoth bird eating grasshopper. A lady friend of ours was trying to run the hoppers out of her garden when one of them bit her finger—and she don't mean perhaps. She had to wrap the digit up in bandages and is now afraid of grasshoppers.

Just the moral and physical courage of one hoppergrass has given his whole community a nice green garden to feast on. This sounds like a fish story but it's not; it's a grasshopper story.

German Republic Fourth of July Is Set for August 11

By GUS M. OHEM,

United Press Staff Correspondent. BERLIN, July 16.—Germany's fourth of July has officially been set for Aug. 11.

After several years of discussion, the matter has finally been decided by the juristic committee of the reichstag and Aug. 11—the anniversary of the adoption of the Weimar republican constitution which made Germany a republic in fact—has been legally named as a national holiday.

Last Aug. 11, the third anniversary of the birth of the republic, was only half-heartedly observed in Germany, practically all business going on as usual, though a very formal and perfunctory meeting attended by President Ebert and Chancellor Wirth was held in the reichstag.

Both committee members of the right parties voted against setting aside this day.

Germany will also have an official national memorial day for soldiers who died in the World war, the committee setting aside the sixth Sunday before Easter for the purpose.

Come Hear—Then Judge!

A misunderstanding and dread of this event has unbalanced many minds and caused many suicides. An understanding of the Bible broadens one's view and inspires cheerfulness and optimism.

For nine years the people of the earth have suffered greatly.

The Lecturer will point out that this has been permitted to awaken the people of the fact that the "old world" is done—has really ended and the new is beginning.

There is special significance in the troublous days through which the world has passed since 1914. Well did the Apostle foretell:

"Upon the earth distress of nations with perplexity—Men's hearts failed them for fear, and for looking to the things coming upon the earth".

Let us assist you to a clear understanding of the meaning of

as well as the troubles the world has endured since 1914, for there is a silver lining to the dark cloud that now hangs as a pall over-stricken humanity.
