ORIENT RAILWAY IS APPROACHING CRITICAL POINT

Future Very Promising If Reagan County Oil Field Develops.

AUSTIN, July 27.—Letters to obtain information looking to a conference of West Texas financiers in the near future to plan methods for rehabilitating the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient railroad have been sent out to a number of prominent West Texans by the state railroad commission, it became known here today.

In connection with the proposed conference, it also is understood that Chairman Clarence E. Gilmore of the commission probably will make an extended inspection tour of the Orient.

While in Washington recently, Gilmore conferred with interstate commerce commission officials on the Orient. No method has been devised as yet which will give the Orient sufficient financial support, it is stated. Proposed plans to be considered at the West Texas conference have not yet been made known.

URGED TO QUIT SQUABBLING

Baptists See Dissention in Churches, Holding Back Progress; Consider Evangelistic Ministry Chief Mission of the Holy Spirit; Dr. Scarborough Addresses World Alliance.

STOCKHOLM, July 27.—The Christian church has "no message today for a dying world, as a matter of fact the Christian church is preaching many gospels and the result is confusion and failure," Dr. Curtis Lee Laws, of Brooklyn, said today in addressing the Baptist World Alliance.

"Denominations are being rent asunder today," he said, "and those who have long been brethren are in warring camps contending, not over non-essentials, but, alas, over the very foundation principles of Christianity."

"The gospel conquest of the world depends upon an evangelistic ministry," declared Dr. L. R. Scarborough, president of the Southwestern Baptist Theological seminary, Fort Worth, Texas, last night in an address before the Baptist World Alliance upon "Training an Evangelistic Ministry."

"Evangelism is the chief mission of the Holy Spirit," the speaker continued, and true evangelism in the churches is a preserver and conservator of all that lies at the heart of the Kingdom of God.

THOMAS REDUS SHOTS WOMAN HE CLAIMS HIS FIANCEE, BUT WHOM HE IS DECLARED TO HAVE MARRIED

Mrs. Eunice Johnson, Mother of Four Children, Who Lived With Him Here, Is Victim of Tragedy Which Takes Place at Long Beach, Calif.

LONG BEACH, Cal., July 27.—Thomas Redus, oil field worker, today shot and killed Mrs. Eunice Johnson, whom he said had been his fiancée until they quarreled. He then inflicted a fatal wound on himself.

Both Redus and Mrs. Johnson came here recently from Ranger, where the mother of Redus lives. Mrs. Johnson is the mother of four children.

Domestic difficulties is believed by the mother of Thomas Redus, rig builder, who killed his wife and then turned the gun on himself with fatal results, to have been the reason for his act at Long Beach, Cal., last night.

"Not Going Right." "I wasn't a bit surprised," Mrs. M. A. Litton, his mother, said this morning with tears streaming down her cheeks.

"What would have prompted him to do it," she was asked.

"Tom always said if his wife ever proved unfaithful to him he would kill her and himself. Someone has sent him word about Euna and he came back to look into it."

The grief-stricken mother thinks her son came in last night from Casper, Wyo., where he has been doing oil work and the shooting took place before midnight.

Poor Little Children. "Oh, for those poor little children. What will become of them," she cried. "Here's a telegram from May."

Mrs. Euna Johnson Redus has four children by her first marriage, May, 13; Eunice, 11; Billy, 9; and Rolly, 7.

According to Mrs. Litton, Tom and Euna were married in August, Kan., on Oct. 27, 1918. She separated from her first husband, Milton Johnson, who afterwards died from influenza, said Mrs. Litton.

The elderly woman, burdened by the struggles of life and misfortunes that have overtaken her family, bemoaned that she couldn't bring his body back to his native state for burial.

"I told the undertaker to bury him there," she said. "I'm not able to send for the body," she added showing a telegram from the J. J. Mettall Undertaking establishment of Long Beach, which requested that instructions be wired regarding the burial of the two bodies.

"Your son died suddenly tonight," meaning Thursday night.

"If the bodies were sent here, I couldn't rustle enough to pay the undertaker for the hearse and the train expenses," she said. "It's that what hurts me. But we have to struggle here with what little we have."

Tom had been a loyal and helping son to the mother, according to her story. "He would always write me and help us out."

PAINTERS UNION AGREES TO PARE SCALE OF WAGES

Ready and Willing to Aid in Building of Homes in City of Ranger.

Wishing to assist in the erection of beautiful homes in the city of Ranger, the Ranger Painters Union, Local No. 609, has unanimously passed a resolution reducing the daily wage scale of painters from $10 to $8. This action was taken Tuesday night at the meeting of the local.

J. W. Sanders, chairman of the home ownership committee of the Chamber of Commerce, said today this action of the painters would aid his committee materially in selling Ranger to residents of the city, who live in property not their own.

Here is the resolution: "Whereas, we are heartily in favor of the building and loan association that is being promoted in Ranger,

"And, whereas, we wish to do all in our power as a union and as individuals to help, aid and assist in any and all ways possible the erection of beautiful homes in the city of Ranger,

"And, whereas, we believe this city of Ranger to be destined to be one of the best and biggest cities of West Texas. Be it unanimously resolved and adopted by this body in regular session assembled that the daily wage scale for painters and paper hangers be reduced from $10 per day to $8 per day. And be it further resolved that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Ranger Daily Times for publication, in order that we may let the people of Ranger know that we are ready and willing to do our bit toward making the building of homes in Ranger an accomplished fact."

DOG OF THE RIO GRANDE

Peculiar Breed, Cross Between the Water Spaniel and Shepherd, Is Herdsman's Friend and Watches the Flocks of Goats and Sheep.

EL PASO, July 27.—In the Southwest immediately around El Paso, covering a part of Mexico, New Mexico and Texas, principally in the Mesilla valley of New Mexico and the Juarez and El Paso valleys, has sprung up in the past few years a breed of dogs peculiar to this country, and different from any other breed of dogs known.

There are many sheep herders in this territory, most of them Mexicans. The herders drive their own small herds of goats and sheep and are aided by dogs. Some of the men watch large herds of goats for others, and all rove over vast stretches of desert and fertile valley land.

The dogs used principally by the herders are part water spaniel and part shepherd. Just when water spaniels got scattered among the goat herders has not been found out. A type of shepherd dog has befriended the goat men for years before the airdales, it is known. And how the spaniel and the shepherd dog mixed and formed an almost new breed preferred by

ROBBERY AND NOT MURDER, PROBABLE MOTIVE IN CASE

Officers Arrest Alleged Assailant After Long Chase. He Gives Name of Joe Jackson and Claims Ranger His Home. Box of Red Pepper Found on Him, But No Weapon. Fair Thinks He Is Shot, But Surgeons Say Was Struck With Blunt Instrument.

H. Fair, proprietor of a jewelry store at 107 South Rusk street, was attacked in his store shortly before noon today and beaten over the head, the officers said, with a blunt instrument.

A man giving his name as Joe Jackson, 25, was placed in jail 30 minutes after the attack as a suspect. Jackson was pursued through alleys, yards and fields by a crowd of citizens, who quickly gathered on Rusk street.

Fair sustained a scalp wound two inches above the left eye and a deep one on the back of his head. The head wound on the back bled profusely. He thought he had been shot, but the surgeon found no evidence of bullet wounds.

On the operating table in Dr. W. C. Palmer's office in the Ranger clinic, Fair told this story: "Fair Tells of Attack.

"A man came in and said he would like to look at some suits of clothes. We went up on the balcony. I took some off the racks and he looked at them. He said 'let me see the serge.' I reached for it. I felt something stinging as if I touched a wire.

"He grabbed hold of me. I tried to wiggle loose. I got weak. I heard shots. He grabbed me by the throat when I yelled.

"Do you see any marks on me?" he asked the doctor. Red marks showed up on the right side of his throat.

"He ran down stairs. I got out into the street and hollered for help. I saw him last going through an alley by the Liberty."

Fair said he never had seen the man before. He managed to always keep back of him, he said.

Robbery is believed to have been the motive of the attack. Fair, who has a jewelry store at Main and Austin streets, is closing up this store and removing some of the stock to his Rusk street store. Only yesterday he had a large electric sign reading "Diamonds" erected in front of the Rusk street store.

Carries Box of Pepper Jackson did not have any weapons on his person. His undershirt was bloody in one spot. He is a big, strapping fellow. He gave his occupation as that of a laborer and his address as Ranger. A box of red pepper was found on him. He didn't explain the presence of this box.

"The whole town is coming after me," he is quoted by T. D. Wade, proprietor of Wade's cafe, as having said when he saw the posse closing in on him. Wade, Hall Walker, and several other were among the first to surround him.

Wade told him to throw up his hands, if he wanted to make sure of his safety. He did.

Jackson was hustled to the police station by O. V. Davenport, L. E. Davenport, chief and assistant chief, and Sergeant A. B. Pitcock. He was placed in one of the iron cages in the men's section.

People swarmed through the police station. The report had gotten out that Fair was dying from his wounds. Reports of shooting spread about, but none was found who heard any shots fired.

BIBLE THOUGHT.
WHY WILL YE DIE?—As I live, saith the Lord God, I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked. . . . Turn ye, turn ye from your evil ways for why will ye die, O house of Israel?—Ezekiel 33:11.

CRITICISM OF CONGRESS.
 Declaring that congressmen "have less to do than any class of men on earth," former Congressman Charles L. Knight, of Akron, Ohio, Republican, has stirred Washington with charges that congress is no longer a deliberative body, but "a registering machine for the decrees of party bosses."

Mr. Knight's attack is aimed at forcing a movement for drastic reform in the methods of the nation's law-making body. He would scrap the rules committee, which was unknown to congress prior to 1910, and leave to the house itself to decide, by vote, what measures reported out by committee may be considered by congress and in what order.

Largely because of the power vested in this small committee, he charges, "three or four men absolutely control the important legislation of the country and the membership of that body finds itself tied and unable to function."

"Congress has precious little to do with making our laws," he says. "That membership, restrained by a system which makes a successful fight against it hopeless, overruled by the imperious will of the leaders, afraid of being accused of party irregularity and ashamed to let its constituents know how helpless it really is, bears the ills it has rather than fly to those it knows not of."

"Congress is not a hard-worked body. On the contrary, beyond the few men who really make the laws, congressmen have less to do than any class of men on earth. They meet at noon and seldom remain in session more than four or five hours. The theory that they are busy at the departments or on committees the rest of the time is a fiction. Any competent secretary, by the use of the telephone and an hour each day, can attend to the department routine as well as the member could himself."

"Most of the men do precious little work on committee, for the reason that they do not get a chance. The regular fellows frame the bills and they sit in as spectators until they get tired of the farce and refuse to sit in at all. If congress met at a reasonable hour there would be ample time for mature consideration of bills, and it could finish and go home in 60 days."

TEXAS PLAIN COUNTRY WILL WELCOME RAIN

By Associated Press
 CHILDRESS, Texas, July 27.—Lack of rain has done considerable damage to crops in Childress county and moisture is needed at present, according to reports filed with the U. S. department of agriculture. Crops generally are in good condition it is stated.

Cotton is reported making excellent progress. The wheat yield turned out disappointingly, due to hot winds and lack of rains. The yield is estimated to average six bushels per acre, with oats and corn about the same.

Pastures in the county are good but need rains. Cattle are in favorable condition. Hay crops are short but late rains should improve conditions.

Mystery About the Murder Of Penman Yet Is Unsolved

By United Press
 BEAUMONT, July 27.—The robbery theory as a motive for the killing of Dr. C. A. Penman with an axe as he slept in his home Wednesday morning has been discarded, and police are working on the theory that the physician was drugged before he was killed. On the latter theory, Penman's stomach was removed and today sent to Austin for chemical analysis.

Police Chief Reid Travis announced last night that he had discarded the robbery theory as a lead. He said he was working on several clues which he thought might clear up the murder, but he refused to give out any further information.

About midnight Tuesday, the slain man sent a telegram, it was learned today. The young woman who took the telegram told police that Penman seemed angry about something.

Burial of Penman will be held up until Saturday, when his wife will arrive from Colorado, where she has been spending the summer.

ROBS CALOMEL OF NAUSEA AND DANGER

Medicinal Virtues Retained and Improved—Dangerous and Sickening Qualities Removed. Perfected New Tablet Called "Calotabs."

The latest triumph of modern science is a "de-nauseated" calomel tablet known as the drug trade as "Calotabs." Calomel, the most generally useful of all medicines thus enters upon a wider field of popularity, purified and refined from those objectionable qualities which have heretofore limited its use.

In biliousness, constipation, headaches and indigestion, and in a great variety of liver, stomach and kidney troubles calomel was the most successful remedy, but its use was often neglected on account of its sickening qualities. Now it is the easiest and most pleasant of medicines to take. One Calotab at bedtime with a swallow of water,—that's all. No taste, no griping, no nausea, no salts. A good night's sleep and the next morning you are feeling fine, with a clean liver, a purified system and a big appetite. Eat what you please. No danger.

Calotabs are sold only in original, sealed packages, price thirty-five cents for the large, family package; ten cents for the small, trial size. Your druggist is authorized to refund the price as a guarantee that you will be thoroughly delighted with Calotabs.—Advertisement.

GASOLINE MEN DISAGREE WITH SOME EMPHASIS

Distributors Charge Refiners With Underselling Them Direct to Consumers.

By United Press
 CHICAGO, July 27.—A convention which included oil and gasoline refiners and distributors, called for the expressed purpose of lowering gasoline prices, ended in an uproar without accomplishing its purpose today.

L. V. Nicholson, president of the National Petroleum Marketers' association, was booed and hissed by producers and refiners opposing the plan for a 4-cent per gallon decrease.

After a long debate the only appreciable result was adoption of a resolution directing an investigation into the cost of producing, refining and marketing petroleum products.

Distributors said that the restricted earnings of 10 per cent profit on gasoline was due to the tremendous production and over-crowding of the storage tanks, charging that because of this refiners were selling direct to consumers at 4 to 6 cents a gallon less than the accredited distributors. It was argued that if the price of gasoline be lowered the public would be benefited, as they would share in the general reduction and would contribute to consumption of the over-production within the next 60 days.

The secret is out at last. Rudolph Valentino wears mule skinner's suspenders. Drawing our deductions from that, we would say that he wears red flannel underwear and had a very rough neck under that pretty collar.

If he is plebian enough to wear these articles of apparel he probably "musics" his soup and, being a wop, eats spaghetti wop fashion. That is to grip it firmly by the ends between his lips and inhale. This operation necessitates wearing a napkin tucked in the collar which is worse than anything.

We have hated Rudolph ever since the sweetest girl in the world (at that time) said, "Oh! I just adore that man." Believe the play was "The Sheik" at the old Temple theatre. This is the first time we have had a chance to tell the world we didn't like this guy.

The street comish had promised to fill up a ditch near Ed's house so he wouldn't get drowned out every time it rained. Understand he has given City Engineer Seward instructions to dig more ditches all over Ed's part of town.

ONE MAN ADJUDGED GUILTY, ONE FREED ON THEFT CHARGE

One of the young men held recently by the police in connection with an investigation of the theft of a music machine was released. His only connection with the action of another young man, who is said to have been out of work, was that a ring he had pawned was redeemed with money said to have been some of the proceeds from the sale of the music machine.

He said he did not know the money came from the sale when the ring was redeemed. The young man sent to Eastland by the Ranger police has been fined $10 and given 30 days in the county jail, according to reports received here.

DALLAS.—The block signal traffic system in this city that was installed about a month ago is working out well. C. J. Crampton of the Dallas Street Railway company, told the Rotary club here that the system has reduced accidents for his company.

AMARILLO.—Resumption of the electric street car service in this city after suspension of two weeks for repairs to the tracks and equipment, has pleased the people and added patronage has followed.

SIX RANGERS COMPETE FOR FAME IN THE UNITED STATES, BUT THE TEXAS RANGER IS BEST KNOWN

Ranger, metropolis of the County of Eastland, in the State of Texas, is by far the best known of all communities having that name in the United States, but the United States official postal guide shows five other communities in the country having the same name, one each in Georgia, Indiana, North Carolina, North Dakota and West Virginia.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—There is a very peculiar story connected with the naming of Peculiar, Mo., which is also a peculiar name for a town.

The federal government does not name towns and hamlets when they are born or feel the urge for a cognomen, but the postoffice department does regulate them to the extent of prohibiting duplicating of names within the same state. So when a newly formed community in Missouri suggested a certain name for its postoffice, the department informed the inhabitants there was already one by that name in their state.

Peculiar Sounds Good. Several other names were chosen by the residents and submitted but always with the same result. Finally an exasperated official of the department, in refusing the latest choice, wrote the city fathers among other things, "that it was mighty peculiar they could not find a good name for their town." Whereupon he received the following reply: "Acting on your suggestion we select the name Peculiar." And so Peculiar is on the map of today.

There is only one rule in the naming of new towns, and that is that there shall be but one of the same name in a state. But that does not prohibit other states from boasting towns of the same name. For instance there are 45 names used more than 20 times each to designate towns and cities. Benjamin Franklin is remembered as an inspiration more than any other person, and Franklin as a town name takes the prize, occurring 31 times in 31 states. The others in point of popularity run:

Clinton 30 times; Chester 29, Arlington 29, Washington 28, Troy 27, Salem 27, Madison 27, Marion 27,

Manchester 27, Clayton 27, Glenwood 26, Kingston 26, Newport 26, Ashland 25, Centerville 25, Cleveland 25, Auburn 24, Dover 24, Hillsboro 24, Lincoln 24, Monroe 24, Oxford 24, Princeton 24, Springfield 24, Warren 24, Union 24, Greenville 23, Wilson 23, Belmont 22, Buffalo 22, Canton 22, Dayton 22, Eureka 22, Liberty 22, Milford 22, Plymouth 22, Burlington 22, Lebanon 21, Portland 20, Lexington 20, Jamestown 20, Hudson 20, and Danville 20.

Duplicated names are the bane of the postal clerk, and the Yankee reputation for originality rises staggering when confronted by the apparent lack of imagination used to name American communities. There are even two Chicagos, six Philadelphias, seven Detroits and 14 Denvers.

Similarity in names also causes the postal department considerable trouble. Indistinct penmanship might easily confuse Eldoro, Ia., with Eldorado, Ia. In Pennsylvania alone there are 13 communities whose names begin with the prefix Green:

TWO FIGHTERS LIKELY TO GIVE DEMPSEY BATTLE

Firpo and Wills Looming Up As Logical Contenders For Title.

By HENRY L. FARRELL, (United Press Sports Editor.)
NEW YORK, July 25.—Just a few days ago Jack Dempsey was forced to retire because of the scarcity of "logical contenders" for the heavy weight championship.

Every aspirant was loaded down with some kind of a "too" that would not develop the steam necessary to put over one of the modern heavy-weight scraps.

Gibbons was too little; Willard was too old; Willis was too dark; Firpo was too green; Beckett was too horizontal; and Carpentier was too through.

In the short space of a few months, the whole situation was turned over, several "toos" were removed, and now Dempsey has in the makings enough work to keep him busy for a year and bring him another fortune.

Tommy Gibbons was the biggest factor in bringing the heavyweight division back as the leader in the biggest season that boxing has known in a decade.

It was Gibbons who exploded the popular belief that Dempsey was too good for any of his rivals and that the best of the contenders for the title would be little better than a setup for the champion.

When Gibbons went through fifteen rounds with Dempsey without being knocked off his feet, Dempsey lost all his claim to the title of an invincible superman, and it was only logical to figure that if a light heavyweight like Gibbons could keep Dempsey away for fifteen rounds that some heavier man, with a little class, could give the champion a great battle.

Some opinion exists that Dempsey "carried" Gibbons for the very purpose of destroying confidence in his ability so that he could get some big shots against the other contenders.

Dempsey's poor showing against Bill Brennan the last time they met, when Brennan went twelve rounds with the champion, made the Carpentier fight possible, because the public figured that the champion had slipped and that the Frenchman would have a real chance to win.

Perhaps Dempsey did not extend himself against Gibbons. No one knows but Dempsey, but few who saw the fight in Shelby on the Fourth had many doubts that the champion was doing his best and that he really tried to knock Gibbons out. As the result of that bank-breaking Shelby affair, Dempsey has two big fights in prospect with Luis Firpo, the South American giant, and Harry Wills, the big colored stevedore. Another match with Gibbons would also be an attractive card.

Tourists to Delve Into Mysteries of 'Egypt in America'

The most fascinating spot in the Western hemisphere today—a land rich in long forgotten ruins or temples, pyramids, monuments, cities and roadways that may antedate the pyramids of Egypt—soon will be opened up to American tourists. It is the treasure land of the ancient Maya civilization of Central America, hidden for centuries on the sloping jungle lands between sea and mountains in the Yucatan peninsula and in Guatemala.

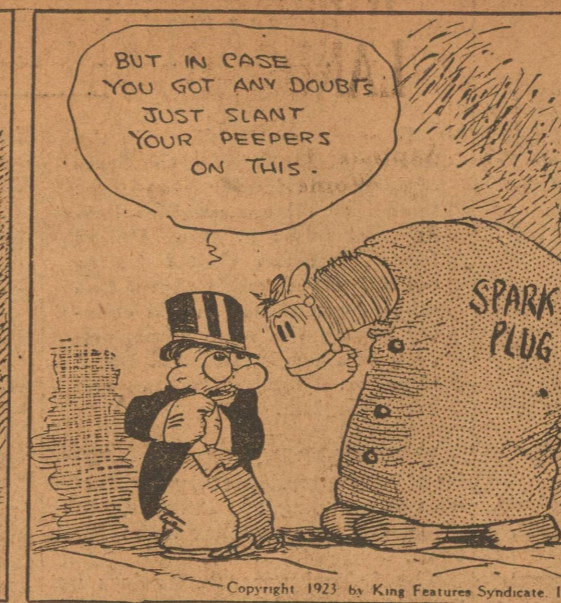

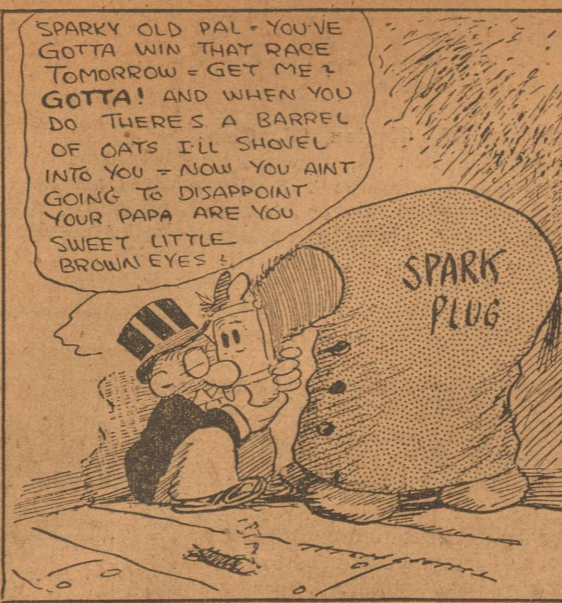

While Sylvanus H. Morley of the Carnegie Institute of Washington, D. C., now is leading an archeological expedition into this "Egypt of America" once inhabited by the "lost nation," the Guatemalan government is taking steps to make the land of mystery accessible to visitors. A national bureau of archeology, ethnology and philology has been established in connection with a national museum, and liberal provisions have been made for tourists and scientific expeditions.

The discovery of important treasure in one of the Maya ruins, revealed within the past two months, has aroused at least a score of students in the United States to seek to solve the riddle of who the Mayas were, where they came from, how long they lived, and from whom they learned their remarkable skill in architecture, sculpture, astronomy, painting and writing. This search and the secrets of the past it has revealed thus far are described by O. M. Kline in McClure's Magazine.

"Probably the largest, and certainly the most magnificent of the ruined cities in Chichen Itza, in the northern end of the Yucatan peninsula," writes Mr. Kline, "Chichen Itza seems to have been a sort of central shrine for the Maya people, comparable to the Mohammedan Mecca and the Christian Jerusalem. The location evidently was dependent upon the existence of two deep natural wells, or cenotes, the only ones in all that dry region.

SPORTS WRITER DOES NOT BLAME JACK KEARNS

By HENRY L. FARRELL, (United Press Sports Editor.)
NEW YORK, July 27.—No manager of prominent figure connected with boxing has been "panned" as Jack Kearns has. No one is being put on the carpet now like the manager of the world's heavyweight champion.

Paraphrased and editorial writers, shy of copy gossippers on the street, out of subjects, and cartoonists, groping for ideas, pick out Kearns as a good object for the "razzberry."

Friends of Kearns have always maintained that he was a square shooter, a good fellow and a "regular guy." Friends and others alike have to admit that he is the greatest manager ever known to boxing and a business man shrewd enough to hold his own with the smartest in the country.

It was not until Kearns became entangled in the financial meshes at Shelby that he had a good opportunity to show that he was "regular" and few know about it because he did not choose to advertise it.

Kearns is being painted in words and pictures as the man responsible for the collapse of three banks in Montana and the bursting of Shelby's bubble, because he forced the promoters of the fight to break themselves and the city to give his champion his "pound of flesh."

Kearns did nothing of the kind. It was not his fault that the fight was a "bust." He cannot be blamed for the mismanagement of the fight that made a fizzle of what should have been a $750,000 attraction.

Dempsey did not get his "pound of flesh," because Kearns was regular enough to push aside a contract that would have held in any court of the United States, and because he was willing to accept what he could get.

No one could have blamed Kearns if he had pulled out of the fight when the promoters admitted that they had failed to raise the $100,000 for the third payment on Dempsey's purse. Fighting is a big business now. Kearns is a business man, and the promoters were credited with being some of the best business men in the northwest. They signed a contract and the promoters did not live up to it. Any attorney can give the answer.

DUNDEE TAKES FIGHT TITLE FROM CRIQUI

Battle for the Featherweight Crown Goes 15 Rounds, Criqui Badly Beaten.

NEW YORK, July 27.—Johnny Dundee, who for years has claimed that he had been robbed of the featherweight championship, won the title from Eugene Criqui, French featherweight champion, in a 15-round bout.

From the first go Dundee had the fight his way, flooring the Frenchman in the first round for a count of nine and repeating it in the second. Criqui took terrible punishment but kept himself from being knocked out.

Brady Comes Here With Fine Record

Brady, represented by a semi-pro team, has defeated the Breckenridge Dynamo in games this season, according to John Shannon Jr., business manager of the Ranger Snappers. The Brady team to beat Breckenridge, must step some, and if the Snappers are going to beat Brady tomorrow and Sunday they will have to extend themselves as hard and maybe a little harder than they did in the Snyder game last Wednesday.

Brady has been playing such teams as Snyder, Breckenridge and Coleman.

Buffalo Herding Is Dangerous Job

BY HARRY W. FRANTZ, (United Press Staff Correspondent)
YELLOWSTONE PARK, July 13.—Life in the "Wild West" has changed a lot in the last few decades. A good many of the old square-and-fair bartenders are jerking soda or waiting on tables, and the Old Scouts haven't been shooting tin cans off each others heads for many moons, except in the movies. Nevertheless the changing times have brought to the West at least one new vocation which is as wild and dangerous as the most ardent Old Timer ever dreamed of. That is the pleasant job of buffalo herding. Of course there isn't a very big demand for buffalo punchers and the only ones we ever met are "Bob" Lacombe, chief buffalo herder at the Yellowstone National Park, and his assistant, "Jimmy" Dupuis. Bob and Jimmy, aided by Scotty

Bauman of the Tower Falls ranger station, recently drove a herd of 17 buffalo bulls from the Buffalo Ranch, in the northeastern part of the park, to the Buffalo corral near Mammoth Hot Springs, so the tourists wouldn't fail to see the animal that made William Cody famous. While at Mammoth Bob gave us a few sidelights on his noble profession.

Buffaloes Dangerous.
"Buffalo punching is much like cow punching," he said, "but it's much faster—maybe five times faster. A buffalo can get over any fence lower than eight feet, and our fences at the ranch are 12 feet. Buffalo are dangerous at all times, especially in the rutting season, when the bulls are liable to charge horse and rider."

"How does one get to be a buffalo puncher?" we asked Bob, rather ambitiously.

"Oh, you punch cattle years and years and then you punch buffato as a post graduate course." I asked Bob to tell me something of the wonderful herd of Yellowstone buffalo, which now has grown to proportions assuring the preservation of this historic American animal.

"First you should understand," he said, "that there are two bands of wild buffalo in the park, the only wild buffalo in the world. About 29 range in the Pelican creek section, and about 47 in the Lamar river section.

Tame Buffalo Herd.
"The 'tame' herd is kept at the Buffalo ranch, about 25 square miles, from Lamar Valley to Cold Creek. There are 578 big ones. Eighty-six calves already born this spring and 55 more expected. The calves are weaned in the fall.

"The monarch of the herd now is 'Commodore.' He's six feet one inch high at the hump, and the buffalo on the nickel, modeled from the bull at the New York zoo, was only five feet, eight inches." Bob says the biggest buffalo ever weighed was about 2,800 pounds, and he thinks Commodore and one or two other bulls at the ranch are as heavy, if not heavier.

Twenty years last September, according to Lacombe, the Yellowstone herd of buffalo had been cared for. It started from 18 cows and three bulls. The cows were originally taken from the Charley Allard herd on the Flathead (Mont.) Reservation, and the bulls from the Goodnight herd at Goodnight, Texas, on the Colorado river.

The ranch is now a show place of the world. There are splendid corals with white washed fences 12 feet high. Elsewhere 620 acres of hay are under cultivation to feed the buffalo in winter. Over 100 acres of wild hay also are cut.

Fewer cigars are smoked in the South and more on the Pacific Coast than anywhere else in this country.

RED BIRD CLUBS PLAN TO FIGHT MR. BOLL WEEVIL

Children of the South Organized for Battle to End Campaign Against Pests.

From South Carolina has come a new plan for fighting the bandits from Mexico that have wrought such destruction as has cost this country millions of dollars in the loss of property. Starting in the southern part of Texas 38 years ago, these bandits have steadily and stealthily spread and marched forward, ravaging and plundering as they went, until they have covered all the southern and southwestern portion of the United States.

These bandits had been hunted and fought in various and sundry ways, to very little avail, until now it is planned to enlist the millions of school children throughout the South in the fight on the "billion dollar bandits"—the boll weevils.

Nature endowed the red bird with the ability and instinct to strike back whenever attacked and fight to the bitter end; he knows no surrender as long as there is life and strength with which to battle. The plan is to organize the school children of the cotton belt into local "Red Bird" clubs to fight the boll weevil.

All the schools close about the time, or shortly after the weevils begin to come out of winter hibernation, and the plan of the National Chapter of the Red Bird club, located in Sumter, S. C., is to organize the children thus liberated into clubs to go into the cotton fields to catch and destroy these first weevils before they have had time to deposit their larvae or eggs. If all, or even a majority of these first weevils can be so destroyed, the planters will be assured a crop.

In a contest among the members of the Red Bird clubs, one girl reported 4,000 weevils caught during one week, and it has been stated that the last census showed more than 4,000,000 white children in the rural schools alone of the cotton belt.

It is planned and expected that the planters and farmers in every section will contract with the club members to catch weevils, paying them either by the hour or according to the number caught.

And already several planters have assured the trustees of the National Chapter of the Red Bird club that they will be glad not only to pay the club members for this work, but they will also be glad to transport them to and from the cotton fields.

While the movement thus far has been confined to South Carolina, with the opening of the schools in the fall, it will be extended to the other states in the cotton belt.

CONSISTENCY THOU ART A JEWEL

To the Editor of The Times: We have all been watching with much interest the gasoline price war in Dallas and Fort Worth. Every consumer able to avail himself of the low price is doing it, seeing the opportunity of joy riding to his heart's content without making too heavy an impression on his pocketbook.

The question is, who is to blame for this "cut" or "slash" in prices? R. R. Darrah of Fort Worth, manager of the Northwestern division of the Magnolia Company declares in a published interview that his company had not "slashed" prices, but that it was "merely a reduction in the schedule for the purpose of meeting competitive conditions." He said, too, the "Magnolia Petroleum Company never cuts prices."

Perhaps he is right, but Ranger people have a keen recollection of awakening to the fact last June 14 that the Magnolia Petroleum Company had dropped prices at its local filling station to 20 cents a gallon when every other filling station in Ranger was selling gasoline at 22 cents a gallon and for three days were unable to obtain a drop from the wholesaler. We never heard that the Magnolia consulted with anyone and, when remonstrated with, the local manager said it was his "orders to sell to 20 cents."

Perhaps Mr. Darrah is right and the Magnolia does not cut prices. Perhaps we don't understand. But on July 4th, when the central filling stations agreed to close for the afternoon in honor of our nation's birthday, the local station of the Magnolia was wide open, notwithstanding the agreement to close, and did a profitable business. Might we say, "consistency, thou art a jewel." (Signed) T. E. DREBY. (Adv.)

AMERICAN LEGION PLANS BIG REUNION AT GALVESTON

By United Press

GALVESTON, July 26.—Final details are all that remain for completion of the program for the annual convention of the Texas Department of the American Legion, which will be held here Aug. 28, 29, and 30.

More than 3,000 legionnaires and members of their women's auxiliary which meets coincidentally with the state department, are expected to attend the three-day meet.

Judge Kenesaw Landis, national commissioner of baseball, has definitely announced his intention of being present Aug. 28 to deliver an address to the legionnaires. Governor Pat M. Neff and Senator Morris Sheppard, have also announced their intentions of being present to participate in the program.

Madam Schumann-Heink, world famous opera singer has offered her services during the convention. A number of other persons of national and international importance have been asked to attend the convalesce.

According to legion officials, the meeting will be one of the biggest events in the history of the Island City. Practically every section of the state will be represented and a mammoth program of entertainment is being mapped out.

Arrangements are being made with the navy department to send a battleship here for the occasion.

EDUCATE THE WOMEN OF ALL LANDS SHE SAYS

Baptists Told That Educating a Woman Is Liberating a Family.

By Associated Press

STOCKHOLM, July 27.—If the Baptist women of the world seize their present opportunity they will adopt as their slogan "Educate the women of all lands." Mrs. Helen Barrett Montgomery of Rochester, N. Y., and former president of the Northern Baptist convention, told the Baptist World alliance today during its special program given over to the consideration of women's work.

"When you educate a man you liberate an individual, but when you educate a woman you liberate a family," Mrs. Montgomery declared, and she said Baptist women of the world were performing no more significant service for womankind today, than through their Home and Foreign Mission societies in establishing schools for the education of women to whom doors of opportunity have been closed heretofore. Seven schools of higher learning in the Orient are supported by the Women's Board of Foreign Missions, the speaker pointed out, while the women of various denominations and countries are co-operating in the support of 18 schools in the Orient which have for their sole purpose the provision of a trained Christian leadership for the women of that section of the world. A fund of $3,000,000 for these schools was recently completed in the United States under the leadership of Mrs. Henry W. Peabody of Boston.

Christ was the great emancipator of women, Mrs. Montgomery declared, and in the proportion that the women of the world are educated and trained for service will the Kingdom of Christ be ushered in. With the larger education of women there have come larger opportunities in organization and service. It was set forth, and recent reforms in temperance and other welfare lines indicate the effectiveness of woman's power, once she is liberated and trained, it was declared.

INDUSTRIAL SURVEY OF TEXAS IS UNDER WAY

DALLAS, July 27.—A statewide industrial survey of manufacturing industry including every type of industrial plant in operation in Texas has been undertaken by the industrial department of the Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The co-operation of 350 local chambers of commerce has been requested in making the survey which will be completed within the next 60 to 90 days.

The survey will include the number of manufacturing plants in Texas; the number of employees; total value of products manufactured; total amount of payrolls and amount of capital invested.

NEW TELEPHONE EXCHANGE. SAN ANTONIO, July 27.—But one minute was required to switch 3,500 telephones to the new Woodlawn exchange, when that exchange was opened recently.

The cables were all prepared ahead of time and with a force of men ready to make the shift and a corps of 35 operators on duty in the new building, the change was made in what is claimed to be record time.

WEATHERFORD PHYSICIAN KEEPS STEP WITH WORLD

WEATHERFORD, July 27.—Although automobiles have been in vogue for a number of years, it was not until a few days ago that Dr. W. M. Heartsill, county health officer, relegated to the pasture and obtained an automobile. Heartsill has been a resident of Weatherford for 25 years and for 24 years has driven the same horse in his business.

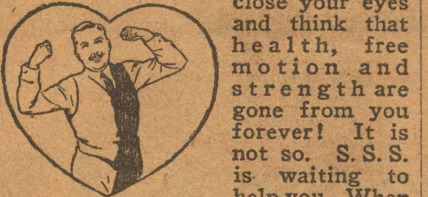

The horse will be permitted to graze for the remainder of its days, the veteran physician stated.

Louisiana Lady Says She Has "Never Found Anything Better Than Cardui for a Run-Down Condition."

Morgan City, La.—"It would be hard for me to tell how much benefit I have derived from the use of Cardui," said Mrs. I. G. Bowman, of 1319 Front Street, this city.

"I was so run-down in health I could hardly go. I was thin. I had no appetite. Could not rest or sleep well. I was so weak, and so very nervous, I was no pleasure to myself.

"I suffered some pain, but the worst of my trouble was from being so weak and easy to get tired and out of heart.

"This nervous condition was worse than pain.

"Some one told me of Cardui, and I decided to use it.

"After using a few bottles, I regained my strength. I wasn't so nervous, and began to eat and sleep, and grew stronger and was soon well.

"I have never found anything better for a run-down condition."

If you suffer as this Louisiana lady did, you, too, should find Cardui helpful for your troubles.

MRS. LILA LEAKE IS HONOR GUEST AT PARTY.

Mrs. Lila Leake, mother of Rev. A. L. Leake, who has been visiting her son and family for the past month, was honored at a delightfully planned party Thursday afternoon when Mrs. Nicholson was hostess to the T. E. L. class of Central Baptist church.

The guests were met at the door and ushered to the rear of the house where all the clever contests, fortunes, laughable games and conversation were enjoyed. Then at the appointed hour all the guests were invited into the front of the house, where all the living, dining and music rooms were thrown en suite. No more beautiful picture could be imagined than this attractive home made beautiful by flowers from the hostess' own garden and hanging baskets of fern. The tables spread in spotless covers were beautiful with the lights glowing softly on the cut glass, silver and hand-painted china. The place cards were hand-made powder box covers, which were dolls dressed in the class colors of

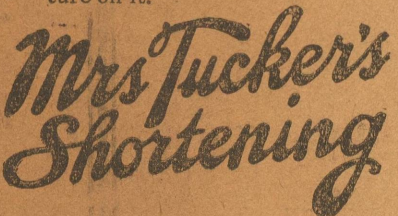

A joy to the woman who loves to cook

For Mrs. Tucker's pure vegetable shortening enables you always to have cakes and pastry as light and delicious as you could wish. Doughnuts fried in Mrs. Tucker's are never greasy. Meats and vegetables brown evenly, retaining all their delicate flavor.

As Mrs. Tucker's Shortening is made right here in the South, it comes to you always fresh. You will like its butter-like richness—and you will appreciate its economical cost.

A more serious note was struck when a box containing gifts from each member of the class to the other, for on top was a poem composed by Mrs. Barker to Mother Leake, whom she had known in years gone by. Its originality and charm touched all hearts, and at its conclusion Mother Leake offered prayer. The honoree was surprised and appreciative of this thoughtful courtesy. MUSSOLINI WOULD FLY.

By Associated Press

4,000-YEAR OLD BRICK FINDS WAY TO TEXAS

VERNON, Texas, July 27.—A brick 4,000 years old was exhibited here recently to a crowd of bricklayers who were working on the Presbyterian church and became engaged in a discussion on how long a brick going into a modern structure would last.

The brick, in the form of a clay tablet is the property of Dr. E. L. Moore. It is one of a number of temple records dug up in Babylonia on the sites of the ancient cities of Dreichem and Jokna.

The Proof of the Difference is in the Eating

MUSHROOMS and toadstools look so much alike that now and then somebody mistakes one for the other and the doctor gets a rush job.

Perhaps you can tell a mushroom from a toadstool—before eating. If you can't you'll find it pays to ask someone who can, rather than take a chance—and the same rule applies to valve cup buying.

Darcova Valve Cups and other valve cups may look pretty much alike but the difference is vast.

Before you re-cup, ask your neighbors in the oil country. They will tell you that "Darcova's" last longer and pump more oil.
