STRIKE DRAMA NOW SHIFTED TO ST. LOUIS

SYSTEM OFFERS COMPROMISE TO BROTHERHOODS

Call Conference To Settle Differences On Running Trains

DALLAS, Feb. 23.—The scene in the Texas & Pacific threatened strike drama have been shifted to St. Louis from Dallas, according to statements made by the Texas & Pacific officials today.

The dispute now is between the Missouri Pacific railroad system and the brotherhoods, the latest developments show. The question involved is the operation of trains between Alexandria, La., and New Orleans. This changes the complex of the situation.

The conferences between the representatives of the 2,200 train operating unions and Missouri Pacific officials are already under way. The Missouri Pacific has offered to operate the trains with crews recruited from the Texas & Pacific roster.

The system further agrees to recognize the Texas & Pacific seniority list.

It is now thought that some common ground for a settlement can be reached. However, the union leaders have not indicated the least inkling what steps they will take. However, they do not like to talk about striking. The next 24 hours probably will tell the tale.

NEW FIELD IN SIGHT AT RISING STAR

A considerable extension to the Cowboy Evans-Barney Carter pool south of Rising Star or perhaps the discovery of a new field may be made by Root & Rhodes of Eastland who have secured a block of 1,040 acres and are starting a well.

Their acreage is some five miles below Rising Star and is to the east of the gusher on the Dunn leases.

An excellent well has been brought in by Root & Rhodes and associates in the Cross Cut field. The Chambers No. 7 is making 1,250 barrels at the usual depth of 1,700 feet. The Chambers No. 8 is making forty barrels.

Root & Fohl are drilling a well on the Arrowwood in the "grassroots field" southwest of Cross Plains, where they have a string of producers at 350 feet.

BLIND SCHOOL IS EXPENSIVE INSTITUTION

AUSTIN, Feb. 23.—The Girls Training School at Gainesville, which for a long time, stood at the top of the list of the state eleemosynary institutions in per capita cost of maintenance, was displaced in January by the school for the blind at Austin. The school for the blind had the highest per capita cost, $63.74.

MAINAC SNIPER WILL NEVER GO TO THE CHAIR

OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 23.—Frank Carter, the farm hand who killed two persons and terrorized the Nebraska metropolis for a week, will never go to the electric chair for his crimes, physicians who examined him today declared. Carter will be dead of a raving mania before legal machinery putting him to death can be operated, the doctors said.

NORTHERN EUROPE WET AND DRY FORCES READY FOR A FIGHT TO FINISH

By MINOTT SAUNDERS (United Press Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Feb. 23.—Scandinavian countries, which for years have been wrestling with the prohibition problem, are preparing for further developments this year and both the wets and dries are rallying their forces for the fight. Both are confident of making gains, and movements in the struggle will be interest in all countries concerned with the prohibition issue.

A general election is scheduled in Norway this year to rule definitely on the prohibition of the sale of brandy and other spirits. The prohibition element is strong and claims a certain majority in Parliament, but the wets have been conducting a vigorous campaign, which has found much support in the press.

The present Norwegian law has created more difficulties in enforcement than the Volstead Act in America. It permits the sale of wines and beer containing not more than twenty-one percent of alcohol, and under this system distilled spirits can easily be passed under the guise of wine. Smuggling of spirits is widespread, although the government claims to be making headway against illicit traffic.

For several years Sweden has been under the Bratt system of prohibition. This is a modification of the old Gottenburg system and the dry element, which once welcomed it, now looks upon it with disfavor because it does not go far enough.

Under the Bratt system the retail sale of alcoholic drink is subjected to many restrictions, and is in the hands of special societies which must pay a certain percentage of their profits to the state. Every citizen, with the exception of drunkards, paupers and criminals, is permitted to use an order book through which he or she can purchase each month a limited quantity of drink. This is the so-called card system.

Temperance societies dislike this system because of the possibilities for fraud. Cards may easily be exchanged or bought by drinkers from those who do not care to use them. Also the dries claim that the system is the wrong kind of education for children, who see that their parents possess such cards and grow to believe that they should have one with their citizenship.

Sweden has local option, and many districts are now completely dry. The prohibitionists hope to gain ground through this local option, and ultimately carry the country which, like America has its greatest wet strength in the cities.

Prohibition by law prevails in Finland and the government claims to be making progress against illicit traffic. In Denmark the drink question is governed by local option.

PROBE OF TRUST CAUSES ALARM IN THE SENATE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—Republicans in the senate are up in arms over what they consider a Democratic attempt to embarrass, if not force the retirement of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and Attorney General Clegg by agitating the aluminum trust case.

The Republicans do not want an investigation of the affairs of that alleged trust which is controlled by the secretary and his brother. Recently an investigation was made by the Federal Trade Commission and the alleged trust given a clean bill of health, although there is practically no competition and none allowed to bob up.

Fort Worth Lad Must Asswer Murder Charge

FORT WORTH, Feb. 23.—Murder charges were filed against G. M. Thomas, 21 years old, in connection with the death of Mary Bentley, a week ago. The case will be investigated by the grand jury tomorrow.

Thomas stoutly maintains that the Bentley girl was fatally injured in an auto accident. Three other members of the "joy ride" party in which the Bentley woman received her fatal injuries are alleged to have made statements accusing Thomas of murder. The party was in a stolen car.

SURGEONS HAVE MAN ON TABLE DURING BLAZE

Women in Hospital In Maternity Cases Are All Sent to Safety

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—Ten children were among the 45 patients rescued early today from the Bay Ridge sanitarium, when fire destroyed the interior of the two-story frame stuccoed structure.

One man was on the operating table when the blaze began, but the surgeons completed their task and the patient was wrapped in blankets and taken through a driving snowstorm to the nurses' home next door.

Many of the women in the hospital were maternity cases, and the police records show that three babies were born during the excitement of the fire.

ARM OF LAW CARES FOR 3 NEEDY BOYS

Exploding the theory that the arm of the law is iron, comes a story of the law's humanity to men, as often witnessed in the Ranger police station. Unless one is afraid of the law, guilty of an offense or trying to evade it, friendly men and women, boys and girls, strangers in a strange land, go to the police station first when in need.

Recently a poor woman drifted into the station. She had no place to lay her head. The Salvation Army folks were out on a quest of mercy, so the department cared for her until the next day, when she was turned over to the Army.

Only last night three youths were taken care of for the night. They came in separately. One claimed he was from Pennsylvania, another from California and the third one that he had come here to get a job, which was true, as he went to work today, but all were seeking some place to sleep for the night. The jail was empty.

Beds were arranged for the boys but before they went to sleep, road weary though two of them were, the American Legion boys, who were celebrating their third annual banquet upstairs, sent down a lot of fine food for the night police force and when they were informed that there were three guests at the City Hall for the night they sent back additional food, so that the boys not only had a good bed and a good night's rest, but a feed that they enjoyed down to the very last morsel.

The two travelers left early this morning, traveling Westward.

Ranger Masons Celebration To Be Held Tonight

A program of special interest will be presented at the Ranger Masonic lodge tonight in observance of the anniversary of the birth of George Washington, beginning at 7:30 p. m. Rabbi Harry A. Merfeld of Fort Worth will speak on "Washington the Mason," telling in his discourse of the love and respect that Washington bore for the Masonic lodge and the power for good that Masons wielded in those early days of American government.

A splendid musical program has been arranged, including vocal and instrumental numbers, a cornet solo, a violin duet and several readings by the best talent in Ranger.

This meeting will be open to members of Masonic Lodge No. 738, their families, visiting Masons, De Molays and Eastern Star members, the last mentioned having been busy all day preparing a sumptuous feed in honor of the event.

This celebration of Washington's birthday is not local altogether, but a state, and doubtless a nation-wide movement. In Texas alone there will be something like 1,000 speakers participating in this celebration of Masonic and patriotic education.

PAST POST COMMANDERS ARE PRESENTED JEWELS AT THIRD ANNUAL FEAST

The presentation of past post commander's jewels to Dr. W. C. Palmer and Dr. Harry A. Logsdon by Toastmaster Abe Shaw on behalf of Carl Barnes Post No. 69, American Legion, was a fitting close to the third annual banquet held Monday night in the Legion headquarters over the city hall.

The presentation of the quarters by Commissioner Raymond Teal and their acceptance by Post Commander W. C. Hickey was second in importance with the sterling address on "The Duty of the ex-Soldier to the Community," by Major Leonard Withington of Fort Worth.

The response to the toasts and the speeches of acceptance by the two past post commanders were the soul of wit for brevity. The boys were back in France again. Their memories turned back to the days when they "parley voused" with the mademoiselles behind the lines and when they were together in camp having a real old time. Ranks in life were forgotten. Former major, colonel, captain and lieutenant threw his arms around his buddy who was a buck private. And before the festivities ceased, the boys who went over the top to make this world safe for democracy danced some of the old-time breakdown jigs like they did overseas.

The same spirit that caused a buddy to go over the top in the Argonne forest to save a comrade and who came back sightless because of gases pervaded the meeting Monday night. All were Americans who had been tried and true. They had stood the test, and like those who always revere the memory of the ones who made the supreme sacrifice, the sty stood at attention and salute at the opening of the meeting and for 30 seconds engaged in silent prayer. Toastmaster Abe Shaw gave the command, after which "America" was sung.

During the course of the dinner, songs that buoyed the boys when they went over the top were sung and all went merry as a marriage belle.

During the evening, Past Post Commander Dr. W. C. Palmer and Past Post Commander Dr. Harry A. Logsdon spoke of the organization and realization of the members of the post, in having a live post and in obtaining a home.

Approximately 200 were present.

FIRM QUILTS EXCHANGE AT HOUSTON

HOUSTON, Feb. 23.—Anderson Clayton, one of the largest cotton firms in the world, resigned today from the Houston cotton exchange, according to an announcement by W. L. Clayton. The differences which caused the split have extended over a period of 60 days, their statement said.

No mention was made of the nature of the differences in the statement issued by the concern.

DALLAS IS HIT.

DALLAS, Feb. 23.—Differences between the branch office of the Clayton Anderson company here and the local cotton exchange of a nature the same as those that today caused the withdrawal of the company from the exchange at Houston are believed to exist and cotton men today expressed the opinion that the local firm would likely withdraw from the Dallas exchange. The matter is supposed to be a difference of opinion in grading cotton.

MOODY ANXIOUS FOR THE COURT TO DECIDE CASE

Plea Of Privilege Issue Appeal Is Filed; 90 Days to Perfect It

AUSTIN, Feb. 23.—Efforts were made today by officials of the Hoffman Construction Company to secure a settlement of the attorney general's suit for the cancellation of the road maintenance contract and for damages. The amount involved is estimated at $421,000. The efforts failed.

The proposition was discussed for more than two hours with Dan Moody. The company was represented by George Davison, president, F. G. Hoffman, vice president and general manager and John D. McRae, attorney.

Attorney General Dan Moody told the Hoffman Construction Company representatives the only way to settle the suit is to try it before the court, or let the jury determine the amount of the judgment. He said he would not rescind from that decision.

No efforts to dispose or compromise the criminal cases against Hoffman, charged with perjury and swindling were made at the conference.

Judgment was formally entered in the fifty-eighth district court of Travis county in the Hoffman Construction Company's plea of privilege hearing, wherein it is adjudged that the attorney general's suit against the company for cancellation of road maintenance contracts and damages totaling approximately $421,000 shall be tried in Travis county. The Hoffman Construction Company sought a change of venue to Eastland county.

The Hoffman Construction Company's attorneys gave notice of appeal and is allowed ninety days from adjournment of the court in which to perfect the appeal.

'NOT GUILTY' IS VERDICT OF THE JUDGE

TEXARKANA, Texas, Feb. 23.—

Judge Hugh Carter, in the district court yesterday, ordered an instructed verdict of "not guilty" in the case of state vs. E. D. Trigg, charged by indictment with violation of the Texas banking law.

Trigg was charged with irregular transactions while cashier of the now defunct State City bank of Texarkana, which closed its doors Feb. 5, 1924.

GUARDS SENT TO COAL MINES OF INDIANA

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Feb. 23.—

Three units of the Indiana national guards were concentrated in Evansville today prepared for new violence in the struggle between the union and non-union miners of the southwest Indiana coal fields.

The national guard troops were ordered here last night after a conference on the mine situation between Governor Jackson and William Kirschner, adjutant general of the Indiana national guard.

Black Handers Send Italian Tenor, a Letter

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 23.—An anonymous black hand threat against the life of Benjamino Gigli, Italian tenor, was received by him upon his arrival here last night. It caused a hurried cancellation of a singing engagement here tonight. The star took flight from Detroit.

"If Gigli wants to adorn a slab in the morgue," read the unexplained note, "let him try to sing in Detroit, we will cut the canary's throat."

NEW ORDER IS PROTESTED BY HOUSTON

By United Press.
HOUSTON, Feb. 23.—Texas representatives at Washington have been petitioned to enter a protest with the Department of Agriculture against what is termed as discriminatory and unjust orders against Houston, which if allowed would paralyze the future cotton market.

The petitions with the protest were sent by the Houston and Galveston cotton exchanges. It was brought about by an order issued Monday by the Department of Agriculture. The order demanded that all reviews on the transportation of snap cotton heretofore held in Houston will be held in Washington.

Nightmares of Pain and Misery End With Use of G. F. P.

Expectant Mothers Secure Remarkable Results by Using Wonderful St. Joseph's G. F. P.

It is positively distressing to see the fear and misgivings with which so many women look forward nowadays to the consummation of that greatest ambition of woman's life—motherhood. To most mothers of yesterday this event was expected with confidence and joy. But with changing times people also change. Witness how the conditions of modern civilization have weakened and thinned out the ranks of the once sturdy and great Indian race.

When one sees women approaching that miraculous event—childbirth—with weakened flabby muscles and ligaments, and exhausted energy and vitality, one is reminded of the biblical parable of the wise and foolish virgins. Just as one cannot expect to burn a lamp unless it is filled, so one cannot expect to perform this miraculous task, which requires an unusual supply of energy and vitality, without suffering and pain, unless some steps are taken to replenish the store of nerve force and strength needed to assist Nature at this time. Failure to take this precaution invariably results in a weakly, sick and undernourished child and an irritable, nervous, pain-racked mother.

Hundreds of women are now anticipating this wonderful event in their lives with ease and pleasure because they have gotten their systems in readiness by using St. Joseph's G. F. P., the phenomenal medicine now being introduced to the women here.

COMMISSIONERS COURT GRANTS NUMBER OF NEW HIGHWAYS IN COUNTY

Besides a lot of routine business such as allowing of accounts, and other matters, the Eastland county commissioners court, which has been in session since Feb. 3, passed some orders granting petitions for new public roads in the county and reduced the valuations, for taxable purposes, on quite a bit of property in Ranger, Eastland and Cisco, where it was shown that errors had been made in assessments.

A petition signed by S. L. Hagar and others to open a public road as follows was granted: Beginning at the Ranger-Pleasant Grove Highway on the Maddox-Maynard line and proceeding north about one mile to the W. T. Davis farm; thence west about 300 yards to the Davis-Hamors line; thence north along said line to the Parker farm; thence slightly east to the land line; thence north through said farm to the Cunningham and Langford farms; thence north along said lines to the northwest corner of the Cunningham farm to the intersection of the road recently improved leading from Ranger into this community. The entire distance being approximately two and three-fourth miles.

A petition presented by citizens of the Colony community and which asked for the opening of the road designated above, was also considered and granted by the court.

Among other petitions granted was that of J. C. Thurman and others asking the court to widen to forty feet and to work a part of the second section of the Eastland-Coleman City road in the middle of section 41, block 3, H. & T. C. Railway Company survey; thence east three miles to an intersection of the road running south from Grapevine school house, D. D. Lewis of Cisco, George Huestis of Cisco and John Stamps of Cisco were named as a board of review to assess the damages caused by the widening of the road.

A petition asking the court to close that portion of the old Ranger-Desdemona road beginning at the corner of J. L. Brown's southwest corner, which joins the E. L. Reid tract of land on the east, and continuing in a south and southeast direction until it intersects the Eastland-Desdemona road, was granted.

A petition signed by A. F. Hartman and others asking to have a road leading from Sipe Springs road in a southerly direction to A. F. Hartman's place designated as public road, was granted.

Former district clerk, Roy Nunnally, was directed by the court to turn over all fees in his possession and that were collected for the sheriff, to present district clerk W. E. TUNN to present District Clerk W. B. Colie.

MONEY VOTED ERADICATE CATTLE PEST

By United Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—An appropriation of $6,000,000 for combating tuberculosis among livestock was contained in the appropriation bills for the Department of Agriculture. It was favorably reported on by the appropriation committee of the senate.

An effort also is made to obtain a large appropriation to combat the hoof and mouth disease that played havoc in South Texas last year and closed up the Chicago yards several years ago. Texas will be greatly benefitted by the tuberculosis appropriation. Considerable work already has been done to eradicate the disease.

DEATH AND SICKNESS VISITS HOME OF EASTLAND FAMILY

With one claimed by death and the remaining seven members ill, the outlook could hardly be more dismal and unhappy for one Eastland family.

Mrs. R. R. Ramsey died shortly after midnight this morning, death being due to double pneumonia. Her husband has the grippe; her son-in-law, W. C. Shamberger, is in a grave condition from pneumonia; her daughter, Mrs. Shamberger, is just recovering from pneumonia; three of the Shamberger children are suffering from trouble of the middle ear, and the fourth child has influenza.

When the entire Shamberger family became ill, Mr. and Mrs. Ramsey came to Eastland to minister to them. Soon afterward, both she and her husband became seriously ill.

The body of Mrs. Ramsey will be sent to Big Sandy for burial.

In the meantime, two nurses are on duty at the home which has become, in effect, a hospital. The Elks, Sunday school classes, and other philanthropic organizations are aiding in meeting the medical expenses of the unfortunate family.

Mount Lassen Now In Eruption In Lower California

By United Press.
REDDING, Cal., Feb. 23.—Mount Lassen, a restless California volcano burst forth in a mild eruption this morning.

No reports have as yet reached here from the base of the mountain. But reports from points some 50 miles, in an airline, from the volcano, the outburst did not seem to be a serious nature.

30 TREES SET OUT AROUND RANGER HIGH

With fitting ceremonies, Washington's birthday and Arbor Day were observed at the Ranger High School yesterday.

Thirty trees were set out, encircling the campus and within a few years their grateful shade and symmetry of outline will add to the beauty and attractiveness of the school. The trees were the gifts of citizens and of classes. The trees are hackberries and are already large, consequently it will not be long before they spring into size.

Prior to the planting of the trees, a program on Washington was given in the high school auditorium.

Chief Justice William Panmill of the court of civil appeals at Eastland was the principal speaker, giving an eloquent address in which he dealt with the inspiring events of Washington's life.

A unique feature of the program was provided by the junior class in representing different songs — old-time melodies — by characters in costume.

Modern Women George's Recipe For Making Beer

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 23.—Honesty, integrity, truth and sincerity are the traits a girl wants in a husband, according to results of a questionnaire submitted to 100 young women by the Rev. Charles Arnold, pastor of Grace Methodist church.

The 100 were unanimous on these qualifications, Rev. Arnold said.

Most of the young women expressed a desire for a husband "whom men admire."

"A ladies' man" means nothing to them they said.

Others declared themselves opposed to husband who drink or gamble. A few favored "home men" and practically all of them were strongly opposed to "stinginess, conceit, and domination" in prospective husbands.

New Trumpeter Of The Serenaders Finds Buddie Here

Ermyl L. Mason, recently of the Circle theatres of Dallas, is the most recent addition to the personnel of the Rainbow serenaders of Ranger. Mr. Mason played the Keith circuit last season with the Moro Castle review, and is an accomplished trumpet player. Manager Gus Coleman feels very happy over securing the services of Mr. Mason for his orchestra, as this gives him seven pieces and enables him to offer to the music loving public more and better music all the time.

In connection with Mr. Mason's coming to Ranger one realizes that after all, the world is not such a big place, for way back yonder when the boys were overseas, Mr. Mason and Paul Lacy were buddies. Mr. Mason was the solo trumpet player in a band of which Mr. Lacy was assistant director, so to one member of the orchestra he is no stranger.

Mr. Mason goes by the name of "Red", possibly because he is short, but more probably because his hair shows a tendency to be that color.

BROADCASTING WILL BE PROBED BY ARMY MEN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—Radio broadcasting may be revolutionized as a result of investigations and experiments now under way by the Army, according to Major Gen. C. McK Saltzman, chief of the Signal Office.

"There is going to be quite a change in the radio world in the next year or so in the use of short-waves," Saltzman said, "and our people have done some very interesting work along that line, in improving some of the material now on hand. We have gotten some very interesting results."

After short waves are better developed, Saltzman predicted that there would be more room in the air for additional stations to operate "with a minimum of interference, which they can not do now in using long waves."

Saltzman told of the receipt here of a message transmitted from Fort

William McKinley, Philippine Islands, on a 250-watt 'home-made' set.

"As we are developing the use of these short waves," said Saltzman, "and as the people get to broadcasting with them, you may have ten sets broadcasting, whereas with long waves you can only have four sets working comfortably."

"In the early days of radio, the work was done largely with short waves, but as soon as radio became a commercial enterprise, everybody thought that by making the waves longer, they could go farther, so there was a sort of a race in making sets using long waves, and we now use three or four thousand meter waves."

"We have recently commenced to discover that these little short waves that we discarded in the beginning are the most valuable. You can crowd in a certain band of wave lengths a greater number of channels when using short waves. It is just like this: Five thin men can walk abreast through a door which will accommodate only three large men."

Filipinos Kneel And Pray For Independence

MANILA, P. I., Feb. 23.—The entire population of the Philippine Islands knelt in prayer, Monday, Feb. 22, beginning the nation-wide day of prayer for independence.

Archbishop Daugherty conducted open air mass here and members of the Philippine supreme council occupied seats on the platform with church and government leaders.

Other meetings took place throughout the day at various churches.

"Let this prove to the whole world that our desire for independence is deep and can not be thwarted," said Manuel Quezon, president of the senate after the mass services.

AUSTIN, Feb. 23.—Only thirty-one students of the College of Arts and Sciences of the University of Texas were dropped from the rolls at mid-term examinations because of failure to pass the required number of courses, according to Dr. H. T. Parlin, junior dean of that college. In view of the fact that 3,233 of the 4,851 students registered in the University are enrolled in the College of Arts, the number is considered very small. Of the thirty-one, this number, there were thirteen freshmen, sixteen sophomores and one junior.

RANGER HIGH ATHLETES GET FIRST WORKOUT

The first track workout of the season by Ranger High school athletes was held yesterday afternoon.

Only a few of the lads were out as the track has not yet been placed in condition. By Wednesday afternoon, however, it is expected that all the candidates for a place in the county meet will be working out.

Coach Cherry has a likely looking bunch of runners and hurdlers but is deficient in field men. It is planned to hold a practice meet soon in Mineral Wells with Ranger, Breckenridge and Mineral Wells competing.

As the other cities of the Oil Belt have been going through track work for the past two weeks, the Bulldogs will have to make up for this start by working extra hard. Spring football practice delayed the start of R. H. S. track work.

"WINDS OF CHANCE" IS FRANK LLOYD'S GREATEST EFFORT

A pretentious, accurate production of a big story featuring a cast of celebrated players, Frank Lloyd's "Winds of Chance," began its showing at the Comeltes Theater to one of the most enthusiastic audiences that theater has ever held.

And "Winds of Chance" wins its points on sheer merit—that infrequent happy combination of a big story, interpreted by big people under the direction of a man who knows how to do big things.

When Lloyd produced "The Sea Hawk" it seemed that he had reached the pinnacle of finesse. In "Winds of Chance" he goes a step further by proving himself not alone a master of spectacle and romance, but by giving a virile, colorful pictorialization. It is unquestionable that he understands his public and has the ability to provide what they visualize or like to had they the conception of imagination.

BIG PACKERS NOW OUT OF RECEIVERS

By United Press.

CHICAGO, Ill., Feb. 23.—Wilson and company, one of the nation's largest packing concerns, was removed from the hands of a receiver today and sold to a group of Chicago bankers for $23,150,000.

It is planned to reorganize the company at once. It has been in the hands of a receiver for more than a year and was thrown into bankruptcy for the purpose of perfecting a reorganization.

Wilson and company succeeded Schwartz and Sulzberger, who were the largest dealers in dressed beef in the world at one time. They retired and sold out to Wilson and company, a concern headed by one of their trusted men.

GOLD! Men came staggering in to Dawson under their heavy load. After long weeks and months in the Klondike camps, they turned with a whoop to the bar, the gambling tables and the dance halls. Gold flowed like water. Everyone was rich. Thousands and thousands were spent on a single night's pleasure. What cared they? The hills were yellow with metal. See this vivid picture of the wild days of the Klondike gold rush.

JUNIOR NEW ERA CLUB HAS PEPPY MEETING

In spite of the roll call being answered with quotations from Emerson, the Junior New Era Club had a peppy meeting last night at the Gholson, for it takes more than the ponderosity of Emerson's philosophy to put a damper on this girl's club. The meeting was presided over by Miss Helen Howdeshell, with Miss Morris as secretary. Miss Sue Dean, Miss Mittie Morris and Miss Marie Armer, contributed papers on Emerson and his works. Mrs. Lena Hight read the clever little newspaper, of which she is the editor, and gave some personal touches, highly colored of course, but indicating that she had a pretty good line on all the club members. By way of variation the club will entertain with a party at the next meeting, the nature of the event resting entirely in the hands of the committee appointed by the president, last night.

Mrs. R. B. Campbell was welcomed by the girls as "club mother." A good number were present and some new names were presented for membership in the club.

TWO SURPRISES IN ONE AFTERNOON

The ladies of the W. M. U. of the First Baptist Church had two pleasant surprises yesterday afternoon when they met as usual for the purpose of quilting. The first was the appearance of the "Two Jacks," Jack Davis and Jack Bell, the two entertainers at the Liberty, who sang and played the piano as the ladies quilted, and so quickly do needles fly to music that two quilts were gotten out and a third one was under way almost before the ladies realized it was time to go home, but before they adjourned the second surprise came. This one was a sub-ventual plate luncheon provided by the pastor's wife, Mrs. W. H. Johnson, and brought in as a complete surprise.

The attendance was good and it was taken as a whole a red letter day in the history of the society.

PERSONALS
 Mrs. W. N. Cox, who underwent an operation yesterday at the City-County hospital is reported as getting along nicely.

REGARDING THE LIBRARY
 The Ranger Public Library is still functioning and is open once a week. Books can be had on each Saturday from 9 to 11 o'clock in the morning and from 1 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon. It had been inadvertently omitted from the social calendar for several weeks, but it has been going right along and many come weekly for the books they enjoy so much.

ALL CIRCLES OF CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH MEET

All circles of the W. M. U. of the Central Baptist Church met together yesterday at the church, there being about forty present. Mrs. S. K. Mitchell lead the devotional service. Mrs. Leake sang. Mrs. J. M. White made an instructive talk on "Why We have a Missionary Society." Little Clara Barker, gave a reading and Mrs. Phyllis Rogers, a graduate of Ranger High, 1924 class, read two poems, written to Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Leake, respectively, which sounded the appreciation felt by the writer and by the members of the circles in a most telling way.

ELKS DANCE TOMORROW NIGHT

Invitations have been received announced an Elk's dance Wednesday night, Feb. 24, at their clubrooms in the Halbur building. Music will be furnished by the Rainbow Serenaders, and at this time they will have with them their new trumpet player, Ermyl L. Mason. The addition of Mr. Mason to the personnel of the Rainbow Serenaders, gives them seven pieces, and makes it one of the best musical organizations in this part of the country. The Elks, as usual will do everything in their power to make everyone present have a good time. Music will start promptly at 9 o'clock.

ROYAL NEIGHBORS MEET

The Royal Neighbors had a splendid meeting Friday night. After the business meeting a lunch consisting of cake and punch was served. They will meet on each Thursday night from now on.

MEMORIAL COIN DRIVE TO CLOSE ON SATURDAY

Saturday will close the Stone Mountain Memorial drive in Ranger. Miss Helen Gunkle, the Ranger sponsor, will put on a final drive on that day, in order that Ranger's quota may be brought as near the requisite amount as possible.

The ball to be given the sponsors of Texas will be on March 7, at the governor's mansion in Austin. It is expected that the Eastland county sponsors will attend. Since Ranger topped the world in the special coin sale, it is possible that her sponsor will be among the lucky ones to go to Atlanta to the final ball.

PLANS MADE SEND CHICKS TO FORT WORTH

Plans are now being made for an Eastland county poultry exhibit at the Fort Worth Fat Stock show next month, stated George W. Briggs, secretary of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce, today. This will be the third consecutive year that such an exhibit has been arranged. Rising Star, Ranger, Cisco and Eastland join in the financing of the exhibit.

"The first year that we had a display, people would exclaim, 'Why, I thought that they had nothing but oil in Eastland county,'" said Mr. Briggs. "But last year, people would read the slogan, 'The egg-basket of Texas' and they would say, 'Yes, I've heard of the poultry industry out there; that county must be well adapted for that business.'"

Dallas Society Dances Waltzes Of Ye Olde Day

DALLAS, Feb. 23.—Several hundred members of Dallas society for-got for one night last week such modern dances as the Charleston, the hotsy tots-fox trot and the Chicago drar and indulged themselves in old time dances, the Virginia reel, old time waltzes and two-steps. The occasion was an old time party and musical program given in the ball-room of the Athletic Club.

The orchestra featured such numbers as "Merry Widow Waltz," "My Old Kentucky Home" and "Kiss Me Again."

A feature of the evening was a minuet given in costume.

Do You Call One Doctor ---And Owe Another?

No law can force you to trade continuously with any merchant. Neither should you be or can you be compelled to call repeatedly on any one doctor.

You have the right to change as frequently as you please or as often as you feel that a change is desirable.

But the smallest trick to which we can stoop is to change from one doctor to another to avoid paying a bill.

Both doctors know what is going on. Both the one you left and the one you went to know why you changed. They have seen it happen before.

Of course honest folks don't do it—until they have paid the first doctor in full, or at least have honestly told him why they couldn't—and honest folks have the courage to explain.

Honest folks do not resort to tricks or subterfuge. They do not switch doctors to avoid paying.

Your physician comes at your call—day or night. In many instances if he demanded cash, he could get it—many times his modest fee. But he trusts humanity and hurries to your aid when he is needed. Not for the paltry few dollars. No indeed! It's because of the honor of the profession that he answers the call of the unknown at 2 a. m.

Be square, straightforward and courageous with your physician. Pay him promptly if you can. If you cannot—tell him so frankly. He will remain your friend and may help you when you are in sore need of his aid.

If you still owe your physician and can pay him, why not call and do so? Pay him today. You'll both feel better about it.

Treat Your Physician Fairly. Pay Your Bill When It Is Due.

RIBLE THOUGHT.
 The fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge; but fools despise wisdom and instruction.—Proverbs 1-7.
 Prayer: May our country ever be an advocate in the council of nations for peace. May contentment reign within our borders and happiness within our homes.

DUTY OF CITIZENSHIP

The manner in which the affairs of a government are run reflects the citizenship of that commonwealth. If graft and highhandedness prevail, the responsibility of it falls on the shoulders of the average citizen who is careless in his duty to his country.

If the laws of the country are not fully enforced, and murderers, bootleggers and highwaymen allowed to go free, the fault lies with the average citizen, who will not do his duty as a voter and who fails to serve as a juror when called upon to do so. Jury duty may be arduous, but every man should give part of his time to that service. If more real business men would render jury service there would be less lawlessness and fewer men walking the street who should be doing time in prison.

In his speech Monday night, Leonard Whittington sounded the keynote. He called upon his buddies to remember that peace hath her victories no more renowned than war. One of the victories of peace is the enforcement of the law through the courts.

Not more than a third of the voting population of Texas are qualified voters, and yet one stands upon the street corners and hear the same man who has not paid his poll tax cuss and abuse the government when he is responsible for it. Very often you hear a business man, barker and merchant, cuss the laxity of law enforcement for such crimes as murder, theft, bootlegging and the like, and yet if that man's name is drawn out of the jury wheel, he is one of the first to seek an excuse for not serving. It's his duty to serve. Juries composed of business men, soon would stop lawlessness.

There are other sacrifices that men should make. But above all, every man should pay his poll tax and vote for the man of his choice, and let that choice be a real man. Conditions have come to pass in Texas that cast a blot on her escutcheon. Who is responsible for it, the average citizen, who failed to do his duty and vote two years ago.

In England where laws are enforced there are comparatively few homicides. In Texas where they are lax in enforcing the law, homicides robberies and thefts of all kinds are numerous every day. In England an average citizen does his duty in voting and serving on juries. Jury service is an important service the average man owes to his country to keep her name above suspicion.

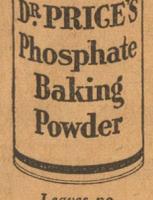

Poll tax payments this year are far behind those of last year. If things don't go to suit, Mr. Average Non-Poll-Tax paying citizen take yourself out into your own back yard and rig up a kicking machine and get busy.

"DO YOU EAT BANKHEAD EGGS?" STICKER

A large number of windshield stickers, "Do You Eat Bankhead Eggs?" have been obtained by the Eastland Chamber of Commerce. These will be distributed and Eastland county autos, as they go far and near through Texas, will give publicity to the eggs produced by the Bankhead Poultry Producers Association.

The Wife Who Wasn't Wanted

By DOROTHY A. F. MARCELL

Copyright, 1925, Warner Bros. Pictures Inc.

"THE WIFE WHO WASN'T WANTED" with Irene Rich is a picture of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

John Mannering, district attorney, finds his wife, Eileen, in the apartment of Jerome Wallace, his opponent in the political race until his withdrawal that very night. He curses both and storms out. Eileen, in desperation, enters a taxi and bids the operator "Drive, drive, drive." He leaves her at the hotel in a suburban town, where she is recognized by Diane Bledsoe, who was with young Bob Mannering the night their automobile struck and killed a woman.

And, what was more, now as Eileen, left finally alone, sank wearily down upon the edge of the bed, to fall back across it completely exhausted, Diane was still sending her horse thundering along the wooded road, which led to her father's beautiful lodge and applying whip and spur, as if pursued by some invisible fiend incarnate. Reaching the lodge she dismissed and tossing the reins of her foaming steed to an astonished groom rushed straight upstairs to her own bedroom. There, as if yet followed by this invisible terror, she burst into tears and pacing up and down the room, fell to wringing her hands. Amidst every luxury that money could buy this prepared child of the rich seemed the picture of misery and woe.

Soon growing somewhat calmer, she turned to her desk and after studying a moment her fingers

"This—you two did this thing?"

fairly flew as she prepared the following telegram:

"E. J. Bledsoe, Bledsoe Building, New York: 'Daddy Dear—Please come at once. Mrs. Mannering is here and I am sure she knows.'

"DIANE." A vague message this at best, and particularly perplexing and mysterious to one not blessed with a knowledge of what Eileen knew. Curiously enough, this seemed to be E. J. Bledsoe's predicament when he received his daughter's wire.

He sat back in his big mahogany chair and blinked at the yellow sheet for a full minute. Then he stared down at the plate glass which topped the broad plain of his huge mahogany desk and blinked again, as if being a crystal gazer he might read the answer to this puzzle in its polished surface.

"Knows what? What in the heckety, blank, blank does she think John Mannering's wife knows?" muttered E. J. Bledsoe, being a rough man when peevish.

In short, Mr. Bledsoe was in a fair way to work himself into a very bad humor over his daughter's cryptic message when luckily his attention was diverted by the entrance of his secretary.

"Mr. Jennings, sir," said that worthy young man most respectfully.

And certainly in his big chair and behind his big desk there was something rather imposing and impressive about E. J. Bledsoe, particularly as the frown aroused by his daughter's telegram had not entirely departed.

"What does he want now?" said Bledsoe with an involuntary gesture, that seemed to involve the security of his pocket check book.

"He wouldn't say. He only said he wanted to see you personally, sir."

"Very well," said Bledsoe with much dignity. "Let him come in." There, laid forth for convenient examination, were startling headlines: "Mannering withdraws on eve of election," and following it in smaller type, "Mannering denies that his action was based on the fact that Mrs. Mannering was found in a notorious roadhouse during a raid last night."

Bledsoe read and having inwardly digested it all raised his eyes from the paper and sniffed.

"Wallace is a smart man, a damned smart man, Mr. Bledsoe. They don't come any smarter."

"Humph!" muttered Bledsoe in tones which might have daunted a less satisfied heart.

"You've got a good eye, Mr. Bledsoe," continued Slick, as if he had suddenly set up as an oculist. "You picked a winner and he gave you a good run for your money."

Mr. Bledsoe looked doubtful. Indeed, there was a vague something about him which might have led one to suspect that personally he was of the opinion that he had backed an also ran in this race of Slick's imagination.

But so filled with pride and contentment was Slick that he never noticed this.

"You couldn't beat it—no, not in a thousand years—that little scheme of Wallace's to get Mannering out of office. It worked—I'll say it worked," chuckled Slick, and his manner said plainly: "Why shouldn't it work, I helped to do it?"

But in the face of all this enthusiasm Bledsoe remained strangely cold. Now he shot a keen glance at the speaker.

"What did Wallace have to do with it?"

"Do with it!" Slick drew himself up with pride, even if his grammar did lapse sadly. "Me an' him did it. Yes, sir, you've got nobody to—er—thank but me an' Wallace for that smooth little trick."

"Trick?" Bledsoe looked surprised, more than surprised, but no flood of gratitude burst from his lips.

"This—you two did this thing?" he said slowly, indicating the newspaper.

"We did it. If you don't believe me look here." With a knowing wink he produced the signed statement for the possession of which Eileen had struggled in vain.

"This is what took her to the roadhouse—to get it. She was so crazy to help her kid that she didn't have any more sense than a jaybird."

"How did you get the paper?"

"H—ll, I kept it. What do you suppose? I just kidded her along. You know my way. It was like taking milk from a baby."

"And the raid?" said Bledsoe softly.

"Framed—everything pulled off like clockwork."

"And you mean to tell me that you two so managed that thing that Mannering has no idea why his wife went to that roadhouse?"

"Sure," said Slick, drawing himself up proudly and fairly beaming on Bledsoe. "That's the best part of the whole business. Mannering's got it in his head that his wife double-crossed him, because she was in love with Wallace."

His face purple with rage Bledsoe leaped to his feet.

"Why, you scoundrel! You d—d dirty, sneaking pair of skunks!" he bellowed and turned towards the door.

YELLOW STUB

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Henry Rand, 55, a business man, is found murdered in a cheap hotel in Grafton. Police find a woman's handkerchief and the yellow stub of a theater ticket.

Jimmy Rand, his son, goes to Waterton, where the theater is. The stub is traced to Thomas Fogarty, politician, who says he gave it to Olga Maynard, a cabaret singer.

Jimmy meets and falls in love with Mary Lowell. Later he encounters Olga. She faints in his arms when she learns police want her for murder. Mary, out with Samuel Church, a wealthy lawyer, sees them and misunderstands.

Olga tells police the stub and handkerchief might have come into possession of a man who "picked her up" nights before the murder. Jimmy receives several mysterious warnings to leave Waterton but ignores them. Later he is attacked at night by two men. He escapes, after seizing a blackjack from one of them.

With Jimmy and Mary estranged, Church presses his advantage and gets Mary's promise to marry him. Mary tells Jimmy this when they meet. Jimmy, trying to hurt her, accuses her of marrying for money.

He goes out that evening with Olga, "trying to forget." They are walking along the street when she sees the man she had been looking for, sitting in an automobile. Jimmy recognizes him as one of the men who had attacked him.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXIV

The two of them stood transfixed for a moment, staring at the face in the automobile window. The man was sitting on the right of the driver. He was looking straight ahead.

And then, just as the car began to move and while Jimmy was gathering his scattered wits together preparatory to making a leap for the running board, the man turned and saw them.

He jumped, and turned to his companion and whispered something in his ear. The automobile shot ahead with a grinding of gears. Jimmy could see the man—was wearing a cap pulled down tightly over his head—snap back in his seat as the car leaped forward.

"A taxi!" Jimmy yelled, grabbing Olga by the hand and fairly pulling her with him toward the cab stand a few steps ahead.

He pushed her roughly into the first one at hand. "Follow that car," he said to the astonished driver. "That green sedan. Step on it—he's trying to give me the slip."

He shouted in the driver's ear, after closing the door behind him, "Ten dollars if you don't let him get away!"

Olga moved up close to him, white of face and nervous.

"I'm afraid, Jim," She clutched his arm. "I'm afraid."

"This is what we've been waiting for," he answered, patting her hand. "Don't go to pieces now. There's nothing to be afraid of. I'm going to hail the first policeman I see and take him along. I'm only afraid they'll get away from us in this traffic."

IRISH PLAN FLIGHT WEST ON ATLANTIC

DUBLIN, Feb. 22.—Ireland has entered the international competition for the honor of first flying a heavier-than-air machine from the European to the North American continent.

Plans are in progress for an attempt to be made in July under the direction of the Irish Free State Air Force. The start will be made from Clifden, on the west coast of Ireland. This is the historic spot where Alocck and Brown landed after their remarkable flight from Newfoundland in 1919, and in taking off there on their westward journey the Irish will pay homage to those hardy pioneers of Atlantic flying.

The Irishmen's machine will be of British make. The particular plane has not yet been chosen, but it will probably be a heavy bi-plane equipped with three 400-horsepower motors. It must be large enough to carry a heavy load of gasoline and oil. The crew will consist of two pilots and a navigator. Col. C. F. Russell, commandant of the Free State Air Force, and himself a skilled pilot, will probably be chosen to command the flight.

The Irish plan to take the same course, with the direction reversed, as that traveled by Alocck and Brown. The distance of 1890 miles was covered by the Anglo-American crew in sixteen hours and twelve minutes, but the Irish expect to require between twenty and twenty-four hours. Alocck and Brown had the advantage all the way of a tail wind, which the Irish heading westward will have to nose into. They have chosen July because weather conditions should then be less disadvantageous.

The Irish will have a greater safety margin than Alocck and Brown in their bi-motored Vimy-Vickers. With three motors they can risk the failure of one and still sustain flight.

In addition to the honor to be gained by Ireland, the Free State Air Force hopes to gain valuable information that will further the dream of a regular ocean air service, with its eastern terminal situated in Ireland.

Symbol of Death Means Life To All Vegetation

Earth to earth, symbol and ritual of death—but in a mere teaspoonful of earth there is more life than the population of the entire United States.

The bacteria of the soil. This mere pinch of earth contains from 45,000,000 to 22,500,000 bacteria, a fluctuating population producing a new generation every fifteen minutes.

The famous English experiment station at Rothamstead some time ago undertook to take a census of the soil population and the above figures are the estimate. It also found that the weight of these minute organisms upon which the growth of plants and indirectly of human beings as well depends, was estimated from 50 to 25 pounds per acre.

Among the most important of these minute organisms are the azotobacteria, the independent nitrogen-forming bacteria. We have heard much of the nitrogen-forming bacteria that live on the roots of beans, clover, peas, and other legumes and form the nodules on the roots. These are a different type. They live only on these roots. They are not parasitic because they assist in supporting the plants and are known to science as symbionts or symbiotic bacteria, organisms that co-exist with another and cannot live without it.

We give the soil fertilizer to feed the bacteria, particularly the azotobacteria. They aid in breaking down organic matter such as stable manure, commercial fertilizers, vegetable refuse and similar substances, feeding upon easily oxidized carbon. When we put fertilizer into the soil the azotobacteria converts it into nitrogen for the plant and he is breathing off more carbonic acid gas for his size than a human being.

According to the late Dr. Cyril G. Hopkins of the University of Illinois, one pound of azotobacteria exhale 1.27 pounds of carbonic acid gas in twenty-four hours, while a man weighing 150 pounds, and doing hard manual labor exhales only 3.74 pounds. This carbon dioxide absorbed in the soil mixture dissolves food elements into form suitable for plants.

PRESIDENT TAKES UP SHAME CASE

MEXICALA, Mexico, Feb. 23.—Governor Rodriguez was en route to Mexico City today for a conference with President Calles on the vice problem at Tia Juana and Mexicala.

The Mexican president is said to have demanded an explanation from Governor Rodriguez for the asserted lax government in the Lower California province.

The conference was called following the drastic protest the Mexican government by the state department of the United States demanding that some action be taken. The "shame suicide" of the four members of the Petecet family and the holding of the American sailor in jail coupled with the murder of the cotton broker, Mr. George, from Georgia, caused the state department to get busy.

it open and the house inside was in utter darkness. He struck a match and found himself in a long hallway. The match flickered and he strained his ears and eyes for sound or sight of the men who had gone in ahead of him.

The match went out and the gloom enveloped him again. He started feeling perhaps two or three slow steps when he heard a slight scuffling sound in the rear of the house. It sounded like heavy feet scraping along the floor. His only thought was that the pair were making their escape through the back and he sprang forward in the darkness toward the door that the match had revealed at the end of the hall.

The noises were louder now. He heard a knob turn in a door and saw just ahead of him, in the kitchen, a dim, shadowy form crouching. Out of the darkness another and a larger figure loomed—close beside him. He ducked instinctively, but too late. A crashing blow caught him squarely in the temple and he sank limply to the floor. He heard the door slam and then consciousness left him.

man and the lady piled into my cab and tell me to follow the green sedan. I do, and here's where we ended. I didn't get a good look at either of the guys in it. "You did just right. I don't blame you," the officer answered. "This young bucko here has got too much nerve for his own good."

"You don't understand how important it was," said Jimmy from the floor. "You'd have done the same thing if you had been in my shoes. You wouldn't have stopped to figure on any danger." He was interrupted by the clatter of feet on the front porch.

It was a squad of policemen.

How to Stop That Weakening Cough

Why let a heavy, stubborn cough wear you down when you can get speedy relief and often break it up completely in 24 hours through a remarkable new method based on the famous Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs?

Here is the method: You simply take one teaspoonful and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. It has a double action. It not only soothes and heals irritation, but also removes the phlegm and congestion which are the real causes of the coughing. So with the cause removed the worst cough soon disappears.

Dr. King's New Discovery is for coughs, chest colds, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, etc. Fine for children, too—no harmful drugs. Very economical, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good druggists. Ask for

You don't have to put up with this embarrassment because you can get rid of the trouble you are bothered with by using Black and White Ointment. It is the quickest way to relieve yourself of eczema, rash, "breaking out," boils, pimples, etc. Be sure to use Black and White Soap when you wash to keep the skin soft and smooth after that.

Black and White Ointment and Soap are economically priced, in liberal packages. The 50c size Ointment contains three times as much as the 25c size. All dealers have both the Ointment and the Soap.—Adv.
