Appears Far in Lead in Cities and Rural Districts Throughout the State.

DALLAS, May 3.—William Giggs McAdoo is the popular choice of Texans for the democratic presidential nomination, according to the state-wide returns tonight from the state-wide precinct primaries. McAdoo carried the bulk of the rural precincts which held local democratic primaries this afternoon to select delegates to the county conventions to be held next Tuesday.

In most of the city precincts voting tonight, McAdoo appeared to be the favorite. In Houston he was leading, with Underwood trailing in second place and the uninstructed vote, supported by Governor Neff, a poor third. McAdoo carried by a large majority.

Gator Sells, Texas manager for McAdoo, claimed the entire state tonight for his candidate. The democrats have waged a bitter campaign for Texas' 40 delegates to the democratic convention in New York City, McAdoo and Underwood fighting for an instructed vote and being opposed by Governor Neff, who stumped the state for an uninstructed delegation.

BIBLE THOUGHT THE JOYFUL REWARD—Well done, good and faithful servant; thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things; enter thou into the joy of thy Lord.—Matthew 25:23.

THE DEAD TOWN. There is nothing deader than a dead town. Try as hard as it may to conceal the facts, the truth is written all over it so that re who runs may read. No camouflage of bluff and bluster can conceal the true situation from anyone who comes within the limits of the community.

A man looking for a place to launch a new business or a new location for an old industry is not going to select a town that is dead. He is going to select a town in which money is plentiful, a town whose business men are progressive and whose residents, as a whole, are prosperous and contented.

A town is just like a corporation and the money possessed by its inhabitants is its capital. If this capital is depleted the town will fail just as the corporation, whose capital is depleted through poor management or other causes, fails.

Many people are apt to overlook the fact that they are stockholders in their town and that their fortunes are bound up with those of the community as a whole. They do not realize that if their town fails—they will fail with it.

General Smedley D. Butler is a brother of Horace Butler, president of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce, and his fellow citizens feel sure that if occasion arises for the chief executive of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce to show the mettle in his composition he will be found lacking in none of those characteristics and virtues that have distinguished the "devil dog" of the United States marines.

ALLEGED WIFE MURDERER IS THOUGHT DEAD

W. E. Crick Trained by Posse of Graham Men to River and Believed Drowned.

GRAHAM, Texas, May 3.—Search by a citizens' posse for W. E. Crick, farmer, accused of slaying his wife and 5-year old son with a hammer, was abandoned tonight. The suspect's hat was found on the bank of the Brazos river, leading authorities to believe that he had committed suicide. Footprints leading into the water indicated that the man had waded in and drowned himself, officers said. The sheriff's officers made arrangements to dynamite the river in the morning.

"We feel certain that Crick has drowned himself and that the river will give up his body," the sheriff said.

Crick left his ploughing two hours before his wife and son were found and then suddenly disappeared. The posse of 200 citizens searched the river lowlands for 24 hours until he was trailed to the river. They thought him hidden in the woods near here.

Crick's wife, 35 years of age, and their 5-year-old son, with mutilated bodies, were found Friday afternoon in a turkey pen on the MacLaren farm in a remote part of the Brazos river district, which was rented by the Cricks. The child was dead when found and the woman died soon afterwards without recovering consciousness.

Crick and his wife had been living apart for some time, but recently he had returned to her and they had rented the farm where the tragedy occurred.

BOTTLED CARBONATE BEVERAGE DAY JUST AHEAD

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Eight billion bottles of carbonated beverages were consumed by the American public during 1923, according to federal statisticians. Equally distributed, this was 80 bottles for every man, woman and child in the United States.

Of course, many persons drank more than 80 bottles and many did not drink any. But those who missed out on the per capita share last year will have a chance to make up for lost time on May 7. On that date, "Bottled Carbonate Beverage Day," the 12,000 bottlers of carbonated beverages in these United States will celebrate the centennial of their industry. And as part of that celebration they will keep open house for visitors and will distribute free of charge, millions of bottles of their bubbly beverages.

In the larger cities there also will be parades and displays at the stores of retailers, 150,000 of whom are cooperating with the bottlers to make the observance of the centennial a gala event.

CALIFORNIA MAY FREE PART OF STATE FROM QUARANTINE

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3.—Plans for lifting some of the quarantine restrictions levied in California on account of the hoof and mouth disease were under way today. State and federal officials expressed belief that the epidemic is rapidly becoming controlled and that it is confined largely to Merced and Los Angeles counties, which are free from disease is deemed unnecessary and it interferes with the usual activities of California cities. Lifting of the quarantine where there is no need for it would result in early resumption of summer travel through this state.

THURBER WINS FROM OLDEN IN BENEFIT GAME

6 to 0 in Thursday's Exhibition to Help "Lefty" Adkins.

THURBER, May 3.—The local baseball club "wilted" the Olden Magnolias here Thursday by a score of 6 to 0. The game was an exhibition benefit game and both teams worked rookie pitchers. Pat Carraway, the high school boy from Gordon, pitched for Thurber, while Chasteen worked at the mound for Olden. Carraway pitched a fine game for the locals and with the excellent support of his teammates he delivered a five-hit no-run game. Chasteen's pitching showed up good but the support furnished him was below par.

BRECKENRIDGE CAPTURES GAME FROM OLDEN

Magnolias Lose Fast and Interesting Contest, Score 4 to 7.

OLDEN, May 3.—The Breckenridge baseball team of the Oil Belt association won from the local entry 7 to 4. No baseball fan, whatever his taste, should have left the Magnolia ball park this afternoon dissatisfied. If the baseball bug was looking for sparkling pitching, sensational fielding or free hitting and heady baserunning, it was there for him. Middleton, for Breck, pitched a splendid game for his team and although the Magnolias got to him for several solid smashes, especially in the latter innings, flashy work by the Breck infield, kept him out of serious danger. Coop, Olden's grim visaged southpaw, was hit harder than the score indicates, but the oil gang was behind him at all stages, and two lightning double plays at critical moments pulled him out of the hole.

Old Man McArdle and Young Mr. McCasland, at short and second, respectively for Breckenridge, headed a wrecking and also a salvaging crew. McA. whammed the old apple for four out of five, including two doubles, and McC killed Olden's last chance, to tie or win in the ninth, when he made a sensational catch off Connolly and doubled Koch off first. The drive was on the line almost over second, and McCasland took it barehanded. Rainey followed with a hard drive to left. Rosenberg, batting for Coop, walked and Flagg hit to center scoring Rainey. That one play by McCasland was the break that won for Breckenridge. Ruth, King and Fuller hit for the circuit.

TILDEN ROW MAY CAUSE LOSS OF DAVIS CUP

By HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Sports Editor) NEW YORK, May 3.—Injection of personalities by the United States Lawn Tennis association into the controversy with William T. Tilden, the national champion, has placed the United States in a position where it is in danger of losing possession of the Davis Cup.

The Davis Cup is one of the most valuable trophies in the world of sport. It is emblematic of the world's tennis championship, and, as has been pointed out in the past, it is the only trophy that really represents a championship of the whole world. The Davis Cup strayed away from the United States several years ago, and it was brought back from Australia only after the United States had paid thousands of dollars to send teams across the world after it, and after Bill Tilden and Bill Johnson had made the sacrifice of time that represented thousands of dollars to them to travel around and battle for the trophy.

To a nation that is inclined to boast of its prowess on athletic fields the Davis Cup means much. It is as much to be desired as the international polo cup and the America (yacht) cup. With Tilden available, the chance for any foreign nation to take the cup away from the United States this summer was very small. Without Tilden, the chance is very good. Tilden could be counted upon for two points in the challenge round and two points are a big start in a five-point match.

There is much controversy between the association and Tilden to make the public feel, "let's have no more of it." Tennis fans are interested chiefly in the playing of the game, and not in controversies about who is to run the game. There is no doubt that the association felt it was doing something to preserve the game when it ruled that a player who engaged in literary work for a substantial compensation was not a real amateur at heart. There is also no reason to believe that Tilden feels that he is doing anything wrong when he accepts a contract to write articles on and about tennis for newspaper publication.

The association, after hearing an appeal from Tilden for an exception from the rule, stated, unofficially, that it could not grant him immunity from the rule. Tilden then announced that only one course was open to him and that at the end of 1924 he would be forced to withdraw from amateur competition to pursue his literary work.

Rather graciously, Tilden offered his services for any purpose desired through the season of 1924, and then proceeded to go quietly about his business. The argument should have stopped there without any more words. The association had told Tilden that he could not play and write, and Tilden answered by saying that he would respect the sovereignty of the association and that he would write and not play. Instead of maintaining a dignified position, the amateur rules committee, which had handled the controversy, came out, through its chairman, Holcomb Ward, with a personal blast against Tilden, in face of which he could not remain silent. Although there had been no personalities in the entire discussion, Ward broke out with an attack on Tilden, in which, among other things, he accused the champion of being "an evil influence" on the game. This attack was entirely uncalled for and it served to arouse the belief that the association was not as sure of its ground as it would like to have it believed. Tilden then announced that he was

J. GEORGE LOOS SHOWS TO EXHIBIT IN RANGER THROUGHOUT THIS WEEK

The J. George Loos shows will be in Ranger all of this week at the ball park. Every thing will be in readiness by 7 o'clock Monday night.

The Loos shows are well known all over the country as one of the best troupes on the road and they have furnished the carnival and side show attractions for the Southwestern Fat Stock Show and Exposition in Fort Worth for the last ten years. They have increased their equipment each year until it has reached the height of show perfection.

There are many new and novel features with the shows this year in the way of rides and side show features. The equipment of the Loos shows, consisting of 25 carloads of material and 300 people, will arrive in Ranger sometime Sunday afternoon from Cisco.

MOSLAH TEMPLE ARRANGES ANOTHER SHRINE CEREMONIAL

Because of the heavy rains all over north Texas preceding the last Shrine ceremonial held at Moslah mosque at Fort Worth, another chance will be given the novices who wish to cross the burning sands.

Frank Taylor, potentate of Moslah temple, wired L. C. Gorton of Ranger that another ceremonial would be held at the mosque in Fort Worth, May 24, Saturday night and that all who wish to take the Shrine to be there on time.

"SPOONERS" CLAIM RIGHTS IN PARKS OF HOUSTON

HOUSTON, May 3.—The city parks in Houston belong as much to the spooners as to anyone else, and spooners are going to have their rights, was the dramatic declaration made to the city council at a recent session by Fire Commissioner Allie Anderson, a member of the municipal light commission.

The declaration of Anderson came as a result of the "city fathers" attempts to practice economy in the city's light bills by turning out all illumination in the city parks after midnight, and followed the aversion of Mayor Holcombe that unless officers cleared the parks of those romantically inclined it might have its bad effects.

It is said the council was able to move to the next order of business when the laughter subsided.

ARGENTINE HAS STRIKE AS PROTEST AGAINST NEW LAW

By United Press.
BUENOS AYRES, May 3.—Argentine's general strike, effective throughout the country last midnight, was ushered in with violence. A bomb was exploded in a coach of a passenger train, causing serious injury to a guard, who sustained a broken leg, and lesser injuries to a number of the passengers.

The strike was called by the socialists and labor union as a protest against the new pension law, which would allow all workers to retire on pension from government funds after 25 years of service.

BERLIN.—Five pfennigs, approximately 1 cent, were the entire bullion reserve of the Munich bank of Emil Haab & Co., Ltd. The banker Haab, 26 years old, and his managing director, George Oppenheim, even younger than his chief, are at large. This the laconic police report.

"FLAMING BARRIERS" CALLED PICTURE OF MANY THRILLS

Enough thrills for a full length serial are incorporated in the George Melford Paramount production of "Flaming Barriers" which comes to the Connellee theatre for today and tomorrow. Jacqueline Logan, Antonio Moreno and Walter Hiers are featured players and in the portrayal of their respective roles they accomplish death defying feats such as would put fearless circus performers to shame. Miss Logan pilots an airplane over a flaming forest and drives a fire truck over a bridge enveloped by flames. Mr. Moreno has his hands full in quenching the fire as it licks its way toward a gasoline supply truck, throwing himself full length upon the flames with a soaked mattress, saving hundreds of lives of excursionists who are trapped by the conflagration. These and other thrills galore distinguish this production.

REPRODUCTION OF VOLCANO DELIGHTS BIG AUDIENCES

LONDON, May 3.—England at last has an active volcano. And Londoners and others are cheerfully paying one shilling six pence to witness it in eruption.

The volcano is one of the exhibits of the New Zealand section of the British Empire exposition at Wembley Park, and is an extraordinarily faithful reproduction of the Rotomua volcano in that dominion.

Three or four eruptions daily delight spectators, and there are continuous pools of boiling mud, clouds of steam and a geyser hissing never-ending columns into the air.

Demonstrations are given how one can cook food in the boiling pools, boil eggs for breakfast and wash clothes without having to pay a gas bill.

RANGER SENIORS TO ILLUSTRATE EFFECT OF THE MICROBE OF LOVE

The senior class of Ranger High school will give a benefit play called "The Microbe of Love." The principal characters of the play are Madame Cupid, Miss Jane Kenley; Billie Batchelor, R. N. Sandlin; Lonnie Lung, Evelyn West; U. B. Careful, Murray White; Mrs. Menpeck, Maurine Bowman; Mr. Henpeck, Verner Mitchell; Priscilla Prunes, Phyllis Williams.

In the town of anywhere lives a number of charming young spinsters, there being only five eligible bachelors in the place (and these five determined to remain unwed), the spinsters see but little chance for them to overcome their husbandless condition; so they decide to organize a club for the sole purpose of devising ways and means by which they may secure mates for their lonely hearts.

The "Microbe of Love" opens with a grand chorus of charming girls and youthful bachelors. After their triumphant flourish the spinsters begin a recital of their woes and their hopes. Among the many schemes offered, whereby they may secure husbands, is that of getting them from various mail order houses by means of trading stamps. But upon reading the description of the men given as premiums, with the various household articles quoted, the hearts of the spinsters are saddened to find them but a bargain counter lot and not a model one among them. However, Madam Cupid enters with the love microbes and guarantees it to puncture the male heart just as the boll weevil does the cotton boll. Developments prove that she knows what she is talking about.

Service

Service is not an extra that we throw in because we are so good natured. We give you good service because it's good business. We want you to come back, and we know you won't unless the purchases you make here continue to please you after you have left the store.

The things a man buys at a store like this are very personal. If he invests in a suit that doesn't wholly satisfy him at the time, it's certain he will think less and less of it—and of us—every time he wears it.

When we sell you a Society Brand suit, we know perfectly well that three months from the day you bought it you will like it even more.

COLLIE WANTS VOTES OF ALL HIS FRIENDS

Is Seeking Democratic Nomination for Clerk of District Courts.

WILBOURNE B. COLLIE

Wilbourne B. Collie of Eastland has announced as a candidate for clerk of the district courts subject to the action of the democratic primaries.

Mr. Collie has for the past 18 months been serving as first assistant district clerk. He is a young man of ability and integrity and qualified by experience and education to fill the position he seeks.

Mr. Collie's father, Rev. T. M. Collie, was a local Methodist minister. The family located in Stephens county in the early 80's and moved to Cisco in 1889, where Wilbourne was born. In 1902 the family moved from Cisco to Gorman where the elder Collie purchased a newspaper, the Gorman Progress, and Wilbourne worked in the office, setting type and doing office work after school hours and during vacation time. His father died in 1905 and the management of the newspaper was taken over by Wilbourne's older brothers, who were also owners and publishers of the Cisco Round-Up, now the Cisco Daily News. Wilbourne and two brothers were publishers of the Progress until the oil boom in Eastland county, at which time he quit the newspaper field and engaged in other work.

In the spring of 1918 he came to Eastland and accepted a position as deputy county clerk. From the county clerk's office he went with the Eastland County Abstract company, which position he resigned after two years, to go to Ranger where he was in the employ of the Banner Ice Company, which position he resigned to accept the one in the district clerk's office.

Mr. Collie is a member of the First Methodist church in Ranger, is an Elk, member of the Knights of Pythias lodge in Eastland and a member of the Dramatic Order Knights Khorassan. Always polite and agreeable in his dealings with the public, he is universally popular with the patrons of the office.

Mr. Collie resigned as deputy district clerk May 1, in order to give the time to an active campaign over the county.

"The office is not a political office," said Mr. Collie. "It is a clerical position, not administrative in its scope, but requiring technical knowledge and ability to give attention to details. I believe that my experience both in the office of county clerk and the office of district clerk, has given me an insight into the work of both that fits me for the place I seek, and in that belief I am asking the consideration and votes of my fellow citizens."

GERMANY GOES TO POLLS OVER BIG QUESTIONS

Reds and Reactionaries May Gain; Too Early for Another Monarchy.

By CARL D. GROAT
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
BERLIN, May 3.—Germany's bitter reichstag election campaign ended today.

Tomorrow the nation goes to the election urns prepared manifestly to register a huge swing toward reaction. Police reinforcements in many quarters are placed to insure peaceful voting.

As the campaign closed it was apparent the real issue is the acceptance or non acceptance of the Dawes-Young reports as a basis for the settlement of the reparations problem. Reactionaries are terming the experts' report a miniature of the Versailles treaty and condemning the proposed program as subjecting Germany to a new slavery, while the socialists are advocating complete acceptance of the report as the sole means of achieving peace. This is expressed in a slogan coined by Chancellor Marx, who said: "We can't fight with canes and umbrellas, hence it is silly even to think of non-fulfillment of the experts' recommendations."

Gains on both extreme wings, for the communists and for the folkists and nationalists are foreseen.

For the purposes of the election the nation is divided into 35 election districts, which in turn are grouped into 16 election unions. Each election district has its sub-districts, like "wards" in America.

The voters have a wide choice, with between one and two dozen parties listed on the "unified ballot"—an innovation this year in comparison to the separate "party tickets" previously issued at the polling places.

All Over 20 Vote
Germany has equal suffrage, and everybody over 20 years of age has a vote insofar as he or she does not belong to the army, is not a convict, is not insane, and has not been deprived of the honors of citizenship by criminal process.

The woman's vote is expected to be heavy, but without unusual influence, as past experience here shows the women vote about as their men folks do—only perhaps slightly more reactionary.

Every 60,000 votes means one reichstag deputy. A system has been devised for pooling partial sixties in a district and again for pooling them in an election union.

Forecasts today indicated that the "right" parties would register a gain of 30 or 40 more delegates, leaving the folkist, nationalist, folksparty and Bavarian folksparty block with about 180 seats in the new reichstag. That is not a majority.

On the other hand, the communists are expected to gain between 20 and 30 seats, chiefly at the expense of the socialists, giving the reds 40 or so seats in the coming parliament.

Thus, it will be seen that the reactionaries will have no clear majority, but the forthcoming government will nevertheless have a nationalistic tinge. However, it is more than likely that the present middle coalition (likewise a minority regime) will again come into being, though whatever combination is made will probably not last beyond Christmas.

Hope for Dictator
The reactionaries hope, however, to have sufficient strength so that they can perhaps get a dictatorship erected and parliament dissolved.

Outside observers believe that though the new nationalist swing may bring with it serious consequences for Germany, it may, nevertheless, be beneficial in the long run by proving to the nation that men of the stamp of Ludendorff—his election to the reichstag as a folkist seems assured—cannot help, but instead can only harm their "Waterland" at this time.

In other words, the general prediction is that while the nationalists will have a marked victory tomorrow their influence will be short lived, and the German republic will awaken in the next few months to find that the Pan-Germans have not been able to rule better than the hitherto despised Markists and moderate middle party groups.

The campaign has been full of mud slinging, to say nothing of the brawls, many of which ended with enthusiastic extremists occupying places in the hospitals.

The reactionaries have sought to catch dissatisfied votes by picturing the return of the monarchy as just around the corner, though this issue has been kept fairly in the background by most agitators. All sane politicians realize that the time for the monarchy, if it comes at all, has not been reached yet.

PROGRESS

THE PROSPERITY of a community is not measured by population, but by its civic and commercial progress.

A handful of workers achieve more than a city full of drones.

Team work is what counts in everything. A prominent football coach recently said: "Give me a team of average ability who will work together, each with the other and all for the team, and I will win over any team made up solely of individual stars."

Individual ability makes great men--shining lights, but it is mass co-operation of energetic men of civic spirit, home pride and community enterprise that builds a town's progress and prosperity.

Men of this community, be ye more than mere residents--be citizens.

The shirker says: "Let George do it." The worker says: "Let me help."

W. H. SEWELL IS SEEKING PLACE ON THE BENCH

Enters Democratic Primaries for Judge of Eighty-Eighth District Court.

Announcement is made today by W. H. Sewell of Eastland that he will seek the office of judge of the 88th district court of Eastland county, the court now presided over by Judge E. A. Hill, who will not seek re-election. He is a candidate for the democratic nomination at the primaries to be held in July.

Judge Sewell is a lawyer of ripe experience, been in active practice continuously for the last 20 years. He has successfully handled some of the largest and most bitterly contested litigation in Eastland and adjoining counties.

For the last five and one-half years he has been a resident of Eastland, coming from Abilene, Taylor county, where for nine years he was associated in the practice of law with the Hon. W. J. Cunningham. He studied law in the office of Judge W. K. Homan, Colorado City, and was admitted to the bar in 1904 in Mitchell county, taking the examination under one of the first boards appointed by the Texas supreme court under the law requiring written examination of all applicants for law licenses. "I do not consider this a political office," said Judge Sewell. "Experience, knowledge of the law and ability to interpret the law should rule. I have never been associated with the Ku Klux Klan, have taken no part in the road controversy, never represented any of the contestants in that controversy in any litigation. During the boom period, where there was a mass of criminal cases on the docket to be disposed of, I was an assistant county attorney, representing Eastland county in the district court in the prosecution of felony cases during a part of 1919 and 1920."

Judge Sewell is entitled to the consideration of the voters of Eastland county. He is seeking the office with the purpose of maintaining it on the high level which the dignity of the office requires and to serve Eastland county in the best manner. He expects to make an active campaign and will discuss those issues which are pertinent to the office.

EGG PIGMENTS USED BEFORE OIL PAINTS

For Many Years Artists Had Nothing Better to Bind Colors.

Not all the pictures that pass for oil-paintings are actually done with oil, according to the authorities of the Fogg Art Museum at Harvard University, and for hundred of years before oil was adopted at all, painters in Italy, in France, in England, in Spain, and elsewhere, had been painting their pictures with the humble egg.

From the 12th century, say those in charge of the Harvard museum, we have pictures on wood and cloth painted in Italy and in other countries with egg. Early in the history of the art, the white of the egg replaced vegetable gums as a binding medium for many of the pigments of the illuminator; the white and the yolk were mixed together, with water and sometimes with the juice of the fig-tree, to form a "tempera." And with such temperas fine colors were ground, and laid on a pure white plaster-covered surface.

In the perfection of the art, the yolk alone was used, and the quality of that article was closely examined. A manuscript from the 15th century directs that "for the faces of young people you shall use the yolk of the egg of a city hen, as it is lighter and less red in color than the yolk of the egg of a country hen." The rivalry between city and country hens in the 15th century in Italy is said to have been intense; during the intervening centuries this has fallen off greatly, owing to intermarriage, and the joint descendants of those early families now unite enthusiastically in welcoming American tourists to the scenes of their ancestors' triumphs.

The white of the egg was used for gilding, to hold the gold-leaf on panels and frames. The yolk and white were often mixed together with colors for putting the finishing touches on fresco-paintings. Mixtures of egg with oil and varnish were used in glass-painting; the ladies of the Renaissance favored the use of egg in the decoration of their dresses, and painting with egg adorned the finest furniture.

It is said that in Russia, the use of egg persisted long after the introduction of oil, as it was considered more appropriate to the representations of the Trinity than a man-made product.

The art of egg-painting, according to Harvard, reached its perfection in Italy in the 15th century, and having reached it, vanished. Nothing in the history of art, is more striking than the fall of tempera-painting, which having spent three or four hundred years in achieving completion, died of its own perfection. In the 16th century it was jokingly referred to as painting "al putride," and the decay of the tempera-manner is comparable to the decay of the egg itself in rapidity and completeness. In the midst of its decline, we have a strange record of the use of egg by a painter who had adopted the oil-manner; it is reported by Vasari that hard-boiled eggs, by the dozen, untempered with any other food, formed the diet of that most eccentric painter, Piero di Cosimo.
