GENERAL RAINS FALLING OVER TEXAS TODAY

Cool Wave Also Moves From Gulf Northwest; Clearing Skies Tomorrow

DALLAS, Sept. 24.—General rains were falling throughout the state today, with the exception of the extreme southeastern portion, according to the United States weather bureau here. A cool wave sweeping northward from the Gulf precipitated the rainfall, which has extended well into Oklahoma and over the plains and panhandle country. Rain was reported as far east as Atlanta, Ga., at 7 o'clock this morning, but by 10 o'clock the sun was reported shining in Atlanta and a clear afternoon was forecast. At San Antonio the temperature dropped from 79 to 69 degrees between 8:30 and 9 o'clock this morning. Dallas had 1.98 inches of rainfall during the night; Abilene 2.2 inches, Bowie 1.15 inches and McKinney 1.55 inches, with rainfall continuing. Amarillo had a heavy rainfall last night and the temperature was reported down to 50 degrees this morning. Abilene reported a low temperature of 56 degrees and Dallas 64. About two inches of rain was reported at Sweetwater. Generally lower temperatures were predicted for the entire state in the next 24 hours, with rising temperatures and clearing skies for the week-end.

RODGERS DENIES ERROR IN TRANS-PACIFIC FLIGHT

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—Commander John Rodgers of the PN-9 No. 1 today denied the charges of Col. William Mitchell that the trans-Pacific flight has been mismanaged. Pausing for a moment in the welcome that San Francisco gave the returned crew and its commander, Rodgers repeated: "If there was anything wrong in this flight, I was morally responsible." He also said: "I had control of the whole situation in preparing for the flight. Everything was submitted to me before orders were given."

Ranger Dentist Gets Missouri Bonus Allowance

Dr. C. C. Craig, Ranger dentist, is in receipt of a neat bonus check from the state of Missouri in the sum of $130 as his share in the late bonus allotment made by that state. As a matter of fact, through some clerical error, the check was $10 too small, it is said. This check is said to be one of the last issued, as Dr. Craig did not make his application until very late.

Seven contacts will be made for oil, gas and food.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Sept. 24.—Scoring the seizure of Cleveland's Chinese population as too high-handed, the justices of the appellate court here today freed 15 Chinese and recommended that all others held by the police be liberated at once. The ruling of the court was made as the city announced that nine buildings in Chinatown had been condemned and recommended for destruction. Justice Vickery and Lavine severely criticized Federal Officer Burry and the Cleveland police who took into custody about 500 of Cleveland's 800 Chinese population following a long murder. The judges told the officers to catch the murderer, but not to punish innocent men in so doing.

LAW TO GIVE PRESIDENT NEW POWER PLANNED

Would Enable Him To Reorganize Administrative Agencies of Government

President Coolidge is putting out feelers for a law that will enable him to reorganize the administrative departments and agencies of the government. The proposed law would authorize the chief executive to coordinate, abolish or redistrict at will the 550,000 federal employees and the 200 bureaus and boards or federal agencies among the 10 cabinet departments. Republican leaders in the senate and house have informed Mr. Coolidge that the Smoot-Braun bill apparently cannot pass and as a substitute for that bill, which congress would specially reorganize several of the departments, a bill is being drawn by Senator Edge of New Jersey, following a conference with the president, which gives the president authority to effect such changes as he deems desirable so long as he does not abolish or create any cabinet offices.

Will Come Back To Ranger When We Have Houses

J. H. Fulcher, farmer and oil man, formerly of Ranger, who is now wild-cattling in Archer county, was in the city last night looking about. Mr. Fulcher was far more frank about his regard for the old town than are many who have tried their wings in other localities. He says he and his family long to return to the city of "flowing gold" and would do so but for the fact that it is too difficult to get a good house to live in. Mr. Fulcher strongly intimated, but did not state it in specific terms, that if he struck oil over in Archer, he might himself be one of a number to build some homes in Ranger. He says frankly it is his intention of his family to make their home in Ranger, when homes are to be had here.

Scandal Leaks From Trial of Officers of Army at San Antonio

Pending before the Ranger city commission is a proposition to take over the management and maintenance of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce. This has been done in various cities of Texas with marked success. San Angelo, Cisco and Amarillo being conspicuous examples. It is entirely non-political and would effect a big saving for the business interests which now maintain the Chamber of Commerce, inasmuch as it distributes the cost equitably among all the property interests that benefit by the operations of the organization that directs its efforts to the progress and advancement of the city.

LEGION LETS CONTRACTS FOR NEW QUARTERS

The bond selling campaign on behalf of Carl Barnes post No. 69, American Legion in Ranger. For the purpose of enabling the post to equip its new and commodious quarters, came to a brilliant termination last night when Messrs. Campbell and Doekery of the bond sales committee reported that responses on the part of Ranger business men had been such as to put the campaign over and Dr. H. A. Lozsdon, post commander, announced to a cheering assemblage that the Legion was ready to let the contract, and to enclose itself in what it is said will be as handsome and commodious quarters as possessed by any post in Texas.

Rain and Cool Norther Make Ranger Shiver

A drop in the temperature from around 90 degrees above zero to somewhere in the neighborhood of 50, together with a very chilly and very wet rain, featured the weather changes yesterday and last night. The rain was a rather hard one running up in the neighborhood of three quarters of an inch total fall. The rate this year, including city, county, state and schools, will be $5.32. In the city of Waco the city tax rate alone is $3.23 1/2 on a valuation of $7,000,000, and in other cities of Texas, the tax rate is reported equally high, which shows that Ranger's taxes, in comparison with other cities, are really very low.

Joe Pate, Pitching for Panthers, Takes Game From Atlanta

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 24.—Fort Worth won the second game in the Dixie series today by a score of 7 to 1. The most sensational plays were two triples, one by Konetchy, Cat first baseman, and the other by Zizzy Sears, Cat left fielder.

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 24.—At the beginning of the last half of the eighth inning today, the score in the second game of the Dixie series stood 6 to 1 in favor of Fort Worth. Atlanta could not solve Pate's curves. The Cats knocked Cy Warmouth out of the box in the third. Dell went in for Atlanta. Davis knocked a home run in the eighth with two down and nobody on base. Manager Bert Neihoff of the Atlanta team made the first error of the series, followed by Wandle, Fort Worth shortstop, who let in Atlanta's only score by fumbling a grounder. Neihoff's error consisted of dropping a pop fly. One of Atlanta's "gorillas" made two errors later. Fourteen thousand people saw the game today.

DOCTORS CALL RECOVERY OF MAY MIRACLE

Desdemona Youth Survives Broken Neck and Shows Signs of Returning Vigor

By what physicians pronounce little short of a miracle, Martin May, the Desdemona youth, whose neck was broken in a dive into shallow water in Red River, July 25, has survived the ordeal and is on the road to slow recovery. May, son of a Desdemona druggist and graduate of last year's high school class, was visiting a friend in Sherman when the accident happened. The dislocation was of such a character that physicians held out no hope to his family at the time, but expressed surprise when he survived the trip to his home, where he was brought, as it was supposed, to die. He will have to wear a cast for years, if not for life, it is said, but danger of death from the injury is now apparently passed. May is a nephew of C. E. May, of Ranger. He is very popular in Desdemona, it is said, and he made a host of friends in Ranger who will be delighted to learn of his recovery.

FRENCH DEBT ADJUSTMENT IS NOW AT ISSUE

Caillaux and His Delegation Begin Conference With Secretary Mellon

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—A formal proposal for funding the $4,200,000,000 French debt to the U. S. was laid before the American debt funding commission by Finance Commissioner Joseph Caillaux today and immediately taken under consideration by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and his associates. Although both commissions refused to confirm or deny such a move had been made, another session of the American commission with the French absent has been called for 4 o'clock this afternoon when the proposal will be discussed. Tomorrow morning it will be placed before the cabinet with President Coolidge presiding. The proposal, it is believed, is not completely satisfactory from the American viewpoint, but gives basis for consideration.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Andrew Mellon, secretary of the treasury of the United States and a genius of American finance, and Joseph Caillaux, finance minister of France and a political meteor of his nation, met across the table in the treasury department today to settle the French debt. The stakes at issue between these two and the two nations amounts to $4,200,000,000. After seven years the obligation is to be adjusted.

Both sides are confident an agreement will be reached soon. Caillaux has made reservations aboard a steamship sailing from New York, Oct. 3. Hence he believes negotiations will reach a satisfactory stage within nine working days sufficient to warrant his return home. Proceedings got under way at 9 o'clock this morning in a conference room, adjoining the secretary's office. The first session was devoted to an exchange of statements between Caillaux and Mellon. The first concrete business of the session will take place tomorrow. President Coolidge has openly stated this country will require payment of the principal in full, with leniency in the time of payments and the interest. President and Mrs. Coolidge will entertain the French delegation at dinner tonight.

Governor General Of Philippines Has Opposition to Fight

MANILA, P. I., Sept. 24.—Complete indifference to the recommendations of Governor General Leonard Wood will be the future attitude of the Filipino legislature, inquiry among leaders disclosed today. The policy will be neither co-operative nor non-co-operative, but each measure will be considered on its merits regardless of the recommendations by the governor general. The rumor that the legislature has decided to disapprove or ignore Governor General Wood's recommendations was completely without foundation, President Quezon of the senate told the United Press today.

FRENCH SAVE GARRISON FROM STARVATION

Druse Tribesmen In French Syrian Mandate Deprived Of Expected Prey

PARIS, France, Sept. 24.—After horses and mules had been slaughtered to provide food for the brave defenders and to save the megastore of water, the French garrison entrapped in the Souidia fortress for many weeks has been relieved by the timely arrival of 5,000 French soldiers. The garrison of 500 men has been under siege by Druse tribesmen since the latter revolted against what they called the domination of the French in the French Syrian mandate. Pounded daily by intense cannon fire and unable to venture forth, the garrison was on the eve of starvation when the French column under command of General Camelon arrived.

The Douglas transport plane, flying from Santa Monica, Calif., to New York through a connecting route, was forced to land on rough ground between Dryden and Fort Clark. One wing was damaged in landing. Lieutenant Williams and his crew of four men are proceeding to San Antonio by train.

CONTRACTS ARE LET FOR HOMES FOR WORKMEN

Casinghead Gasoline Plant At Sand City Will Give Employment to Many Operatives

The letting of contracts for the building of four cottages in Sand City, Ranger's newest suburb, signifies the near completion of the natural gasoline plant being installed there by the Phillips Petroleum company in what is considered one of the richest casinghead gas sections of the Ranger territory. That a new town will spring up overnight—a suburb of Ranger—makes this no mean importance to the city as well as the gasoline industry. The exact number of men to be employed has not been announced but several houses have already been erected to house the workmen and others will follow, it is said. The gasoline content of the casinghead gas in the Ranger field runs from one to eight gallons to the thousand feet. Figures have not been given out on the Phillips product but it is said to average up very fairly with the rest of the field. The plant is said to have a daily capacity of 6,000,000 cubic feet.

BIBLE THOUGHT.

Speak the Good Word: Heaviness in the heart of man maketh it stoop; but a good word maketh it glad.—Proverbs 12:25.
 Prayer: O Lord may Thy spirit apply to us the redemption of Christ, then we shall have the merry heart that doeth good like a medicine.

WOMEN STILL CHATTELS

A New York judge recently decided that, according to the state law, a woman's services belong entirely to her husband. It is held that "in the management of a household the wife is the agent for her husband, and any surplus arising out of the economy of the wife in her conduct and management of such household remains and is the property of the husband, unless bestowed as a gift upon the wife."
 The judge took occasion to remark that if he had the right to use his own judgment "my ruling on the point of law under discussion would have been entirely different. I personally am not in agreement with it and would faint see it, and all that it conveys, completely abolished as obsolete, unfair, discriminatory and offensive and belonging to the ancient and musty traditions of a bygone, narrow-visioned era."
 The Nineteenth Amendment only partially enfranchised women. Much remains to be accomplished in many states.

THE PRICE OF SUCCESS.

"I'm afraid" How often do we say it when we don't really mean it?
 We spend a great part of our life looking for "Safety" and "Success," regardless of Happiness.
 Fear seems to control us from the cradle to the grave, and it is bred into our blood.
 Most business men—men who are supposed to possess decision and executive ability, dodge, duck and run. Many of them conceal orders, stop advertising, cut down office force and hide themselves in the jungle of darkness.
 For nearly 250 years Lloyds Insurance Company has bought risks and made more than a million a year out of them. They say that 95 per cent of men's fears are moonshine.
 Courage is the most valuable possession of the man of business. The rougher the road the harder he digs in. He faces his fears, meets them half way with fists clenched, teeth locked and courage in his heart. The thing he is afraid of is an opponent and he proceeds to eliminate it with persistent effort. It took courage for Henry Ford to win his way to the top of industrial life. It took courage for "Fighting Bob" La Follette to stand to his guns for 40 years and in 25 years put on our statute books more essential laws than any other individual. The world is full of courageous men—men who refuse to acknowledge defeat—and they win out.
 No man can escape criticism or risk. No man can be blameless and no one can ever be safe. The price of success is risk. The price of life is risk.

Last year the average weekly admissions at motion picture theatres in this country was close to 50,000,000. At an average of 40 cents each this represents about $100,000,000 per year for amusement, over one-half of which goes out of the community never to return.

Its easy to steer a ship that is going somewhere, but how can you steer a ship that is shoaled. We are all going somewhere unless we are shoaled.

HONORING DR. ANNE BOHNING.
 From three to six o'clock Wednesday afternoon, callers were going to and coming from the home of Mrs. George Bohning, where they had been invited to meet Dr. Anne Bohning, the oldest daughter of this lovely home, who has just returned from a year's stay in Vienna where she has been attending clinics. Ranger friends were glad to have been given the opportunity of greeting this charming young woman, who years ago made her home here, before she moved with her parents to Fort Worth, while others who had come to Ranger since her departure were glad to add their greetings to the welcome extended Dr. Bohning by her old-time friends. In the living room guests were received by Mrs. Bohning, who introduced the honor guest. Mrs. John M. Gholson receiving in the dining room, was assisted by Mmes. L. H. Flewelling, John D. Gholson and M. K. Collier, while Miss Gwendolyn Bohning and Miss Helen Gholson served tea with sandwiches, olives and cake. It was indeed an informal affair, specializing in tea and talk, in a setting that would be pleasing to any eye. The dinner table with its lace and madras cover, centered with a basket of chosen flowers, and its bevy of lovely gowned women dispensing refreshments, was very attractive, as was the living room, with its bright hued flowers and softly shaded lights, which formed a pretty background for the beautiful toilets worn by those so warmly extending the hospitality of the home. Dr. Bohning's home coming was a memorable occasion and the only tinge of regret that manifested itself among those who bade her welcome home, was the fact that almost in the same breath they had to say "au revoir" since she left today for Fort Worth and will go from there back to Chicago, to resume her work at the Presbyterian Hospital.

ONE YEAR OLD.
 One tiny pink taper, topped a pink and blue birthday cake, at a birthday party given yesterday at the home of Mrs. Jack Sivalls, in honor of the first birthday of little Margaret Anne King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank King. The large lawn of the Sivalls' home on Pine street was the scene of this delightful party and out door games charmed the little guests until time came for refreshments, which were pink ice cream and cake. Favors were pink and blue baby shoes. While little Margaret has just rounded out her first year, still she was quite large enough to enjoy the party and to be very much pleased over the lovely gift that her little guests favored her with. Mrs. King was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Sivalls. Those present were: Dorothy, Louise and Marion McKinlay, Louise Kishner, Ha Ruth and Billy Kelly, Dorothy Colquitt, Helen Jacobs, Billie Longley, Ogie Swift, Joe Harrington Jr., Randall Risher.

A MEMBERSHIP DRIVE.
 The Central Ward Parent-Teachers' Association are putting on a membership drive, for the benefit of the school library. It is very important to supply certain reference books for the children of this school and as there is no school appropriation for this purpose, the Parent Teachers' Association of the school has taken this method of supplying this need. Membership cards have been distributed among the children who take them home to their parent for signature and the membership fee of one dollar. Fathers are not excluded, in fact where a father joins, it is counted as three new members. Fathers are supposed to be as interested in the welfare of the children as mothers and while it is practically impossible for them to become active members in the association on account of their business duties, still they can become paying members. This drive is in the nature of a contest between the various rooms of the Central Ward and the room that sells the most memberships will win a prize. Parents of the school are asked to fill in these cards and see that they are returned, however, the membership is not limited to parents, but any one interested in the welfare of the child is entitled to membership. In fact some of the most active workers in the Parent-Teachers' Association throughout the country are women without chick nor child.

WEDNESDAY BRIDGE CLUB.
 Among the many delightful club meetings of the week, was that of the Wednesday Bridge Club, yesterday afternoon, when Mrs. J. F. Chamfion extended her hospitality to the club members and a few extra guests. A voile "Nightie" was the high score prize and was won by Mrs. Harry Logsdon, while some dainty "hankies" were the low score prize and went to Mrs. C. C. Craig. A two course luncheon, consisting of a salad and ice course were served at the end of the game to Mmes. W. R. Millen, E. E. Crawford, Walter Burden, Chas. Conley, Fred Yonkers, Frank Brahan, Gus Coleman, Harry Logsdon, R. M. Coyle and C. C. Craig. The next meeting will be with Mrs. R. N. Coyle.

A SANDWICH SUPPER.
 Prof. and Mrs. L. E. Forrest must have had a hint that latest night was the last night of summer, for they took advantage of it and entertained all of the High school teachers with a sandwich supper at Lake Leon. It was a gala affair, coming as it did after about 10 days of strenuous school organization work and offering to some of the teachers the first opportunity they had had for an evening's relaxation since the opening of school. Supper of sandwiches was served out in the open and the evening spent in conversation and toasts. Those attending were: Misses Billy Jean Mangum, Thelma Shovalter, Gladys Pinson, Mattie Roberts, Christine Carter, Elizabeth Craven, Joyce Connolly, Helen Stafford, Marie Flahie, Cochran, Walker, Prof. and Mrs. Forrest and Geraldine Forrest.

A BABY PARTY.
 A party that promises to be quite unique will be given tomorrow night in the High school gym, when the junior and senior girls entertain the freshmen girls with a "baby party." The freshmen girls will be dressed like babies and the junior and senior girls will be dressed as nurses.

PERSONALS.
 Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Green left today for Phoenix, Ariz., going by automobile and making the trip for the benefit of Mrs. Green's health. They expect to be away several months.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jameson will return from Dallas today, where they have been since Monday.

ON THE RANGE AT RANGER

By THE FENCE RIDER.
 (Items for this department must be phoned in to the Fence Rider, by 12 o'clock daily in order to insure their insertion. Don't be bashful. Jingle the telephone bell.)

A certain Ranger bachelor who is highly popular, claimed to have invented a new and useful device known as a baby silencer for use in hospitals and homes. It is said he will soon offer preferred stock to the public at par.

A. D. McKeenan is home after a five weeks' stay in Dallas, the city of slaughtered steers.

"Can you tell me where the O. K. wagonyard is?" asked a man Tuesday of a group of Ranger people, as he looked around in bewilderment at the brick and stone blocks which have long since replaced that once famous establishment.

The youngest chauffeur in Ranger is Master Lewis Hughes. He doesn't chauff much but he wears the goggles 'n everything.

"How long are your legs any way?" asked a jossler of an extenuated fellow standing on the corner of Main and Marston. Wednesday. "Long enough to reach the ground," the tall one replied, as did old Lincoln years ago, when the same question was asked him.

A group of special bank agents went out and teased the gentle turn of the doves with their shooting irons Wednesday after hours. At last the doves were holding a family reunion at which all were present except one small bunch of feathers.

The Fence Rider is trying to improve his English day by day. He used to say, "I play golf." Now he says, "I play at golf," which form of expression is recommended to some Rangerites you and I know.

Two charming young ladies working in a downtown office asked the Fence Rider yesterday to mention the fact that they would like to communicate with two young gentlemen of matrimonial intentions. They gave their names as Sarah Spatterfield and Roxanna Hooks. The Fence Rider hasn't been riding this range long and can't vouch for the accuracy of the names, but will be pleased to take any aspiring bachelor to their grazing place any time and ventures to say he will likewise be pleased.

A number of interiors and outside views of Ranger were being snapped by local photographers in Ranger yesterday, one of whom was heard to remark on the fact that Ranger business places are way up in the pictures.

TWO CLUBS HAVE ENDORSED HIGH SCHOOL LIBRARY

Rotarians and Lions Start Ball at Suggestion of Superintendent Holloway

Both President Thurman of the Rotary Club and President Murray of the Lions Club gave whole-hearted assurance to Superintendent Holloway of the city schools, that which he has rounded up other clubs of the city, the Rotarians and Lions will have their members in harness for the promotion of a better, fuller and more complete high school library. And the membership of both clubs are ready to back their respective chairmen in the matter, it is stated. Superintendent Holloway addressed the Rotary Club at its meeting Wednesday and the Lions at its meeting Thursday along the same line. He stressed the need for more books and fewer empty shelves. He set no less a goal than to have Ranger's High School Library the best in any town of this size in Texas and his suggestion met with hearty cheers.

Superintendent Holloway had wide experience it is said in inaugurating school library movements and he makes of this and the building up of a clean football team which will do the school credit his admitted hobbies, and he confessed to the two clubs. He is appearing before all the clubs of the city in advocacy of the library movement.

Foods in wonderful variety, for the deep-frying kettle

MRS. ADA CHITWOOD
 Mrs. Chitwood is conducting the popular Telegram Cooking School classes this week. Below Mrs. Chitwood gives many valuable suggestions for deep-frying.

Of all the ways of cooking foods, don't you really prefer them deep-fried? Vegetables, fish, chicken, fritters, etc., with that lovely, golden-brown crust!

But possibly you have not often indulged your fondness for deep-fried foods—either because you've found deep-frying expensive, in that you could use the fat only two or three times before you had to throw it away; or because you didn't like the smoke and smell of burnt fat in the house.

Then let me tell you of the advantages I have found in a wholesome vegetable shortening and frying fat—Crisco.

Crisco will not smoke at proper frying temperatures. You can even heat Crisco as high as 450 degrees without a bit of smoke or odor. So you can quickly fry foods in Crisco to a beautiful crisp crust—golden brown all over—no scorching, greasiness, too.

And when you are through with Crisco, simply push the kettle of Crisco to the back of the stove where it will cool and be ready for the next time you want it. You can use it over and over again, for frying all kinds of food. Crisco doesn't absorb food flavors and the moment you put the food in the hot Crisco, a crust forms on the outside which prevents the Crisco soaking in and keeps the true flavor inside.

Therefore the first two or three pounds of Crisco you use to start your deep fat kettle will last a long time and you can cook in it a surprising variety of foods—straining the Crisco occasionally if necessary. You can use the same kettle of Crisco for frying doughnuts, fritters, croquettes, chicken, etc., and each is good without a trace of taste from any of the others.

As quick as broiling a steak

All you need is an ordinary saucpan, a strainer and a 5-pound tin of Crisco.

Boulettes

When fried in Crisco they are cooked evenly all over with a crisp outside and tender and juicy inside—no smoke from burnt fat.

- 1 pound of lean raw meat or left-over meat
- 1 tablespoon Crisco melted
- Juice of 1 lemon
- 1 grated onion
- 1 teaspoon pepper
- Dash of cayenne
- 1 teaspoon salt

Mince and chop the meat very fine. Add the chopped onion, Crisco, salt, pepper, cayenne and lemon juice. Mix together thoroughly with a fork. Form the meat into balls. It will make 6 or 8. Do not use any flour. Drop in deep Crisco kettle when it is hot enough to brown an inch cube of bread in 60 seconds (300 degrees Fahrenheit). Cook until well done or leave them rare, as you like. Drain on paper. Serve with Chili Sauce in lemon cups and garnish with parsley.

Nut Croquettes

A Quick Luncheon Dish

When you want something nice for luncheon make these Nut Croquettes. They are easy to make and very good. When fried in Crisco they will keep their shape, brown evenly all over and not be greasy. No smoke, either. You can shape them into pyramids, oblong shapes or balls.

- 2 cups hot rice
- 3 tablespoons cream potatoes
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 small onion, chopped
- 1 egg
- 1 teaspoon Crisco
- 3 tablespoons pepper
- 1/2 cup chopped pecans
- Bread crumbs

To the hot rice potatoes add the salt, pepper and onion. Add the cream and pecans, and last, the Crisco. Mix all together thoroughly. Roll in bread crumbs, then in beaten egg and then in bread crumbs again. Drop in deep Crisco at 300 degrees Fahrenheit, or when an inch cube of bread browns in 60 seconds, and cook until brown. Serve hot with any desired sauce. This makes ten croquettes.

French Fried Potatoes

A real treat at home. When fried in Crisco they will be perfect—a crisp even brown, no greasy outside and no smoke in your kitchen.

Allow one medium-sized potato for each person. Peel potatoes, cut in strips about one-half inch square. Let stand in cold water about an hour, or they can be kept in the ice-box overnight if covered with water. When ready to fry, drain, dry in a towel, and put a few at a time into hot Crisco (395 degrees Fahrenheit), or when an inch cube of bread browns in 20 seconds. When brown and tender, drain on brown paper, sprinkle with salt, and serve.

Fry raw or cooked sweet potatoes the same way, but do not soak them in water. Never wait for Crisco to smoke, as it would be too hot to fry if it were hot enough to smoke.

The FLAPPER WIFE

by Beatrice Burton © 1925 NEA SERVICE INC.

THE STORY SO FAR:

Gloria Gordon, beautiful flapper, marries Dick Gregory, a struggling lawyer. Her idea of marriage is fun and fine clothes, but no work or children.

She refuses to do her own housework, and hires a maid. But Dick has to let the maid go. For Gloria has swamped him with debts for her clothes and a new automobile.

She becomes infatuated with an actor, Stanley Wayburn, and follows him to New York. But he spurns her. Then she tries to get a job as a chorus girl and fails. Discouraged, she comes home to Dick. He takes her back, but not as his wife.

Gloria begins to suspect that he is in love with his secretary, Susan Briggs. When he works late, she accuses him of being out with Miss Briggs. And the breach between the two widens daily.

Finally Gloria makes up her mind to be a good wife to Dick. She tries to cook, and to keep the house clean. But she does a poor job. Then she insists that Dick discharge Miss Briggs, and when he refuses, she leaves him. She goes back to her father's home, but is very lonely and unhappy. One day she visits her own house and puts fresh flowers in the vases, and cleans Dick's smoking stand.

That night when she goes home, her mother gives her a letter from Dick. In it is a check for $50. Gloria decides that she won't take money from Dick, but will go to work. She goes to Dick's office with the money.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY:

Gloria turned then, and looked straight at Miss Briggs. "I want to talk to my husband. Will you please leave us alone?" she asked coldly.

The secretary did not meet Gloria's eyes. But she walked slowly out of the office. The door closed behind her.

Gloria opened her handbag and laid the check Dick had sent her, down upon his desk.

"There's your money. I've brought it back to you," she said. "I don't want anything from you, Dick."

She raised her questioning eyes to his face. "What was the big idea in sending it to me?" she asked.

Under her eyes, Dick flushed darkly. Gloria could see that he was embarrassed.

"I thought you understood that I was going to take care of you," he said. "I told you that if you lived with your folks, I'd send you $50 every week, just as I said I would."

Gloria shook her head. "No, you won't," she contradicted. "Because I shan't take it. I'm going back to work this morning. I'll earn my own money. So you can keep your nose to pay off some of the debts I piled up for you."

She couldn't resist saying that. The memory of Dick's sermons about debts was still a thorn in her flesh.

"I'll send you a check for $50 every week, just as I said I would," Dick repeated firmly. "So long as you're my wife, I'm going to support you. And I don't want you to work in some office with a lot of men."

Gloria interrupted him with a laugh. "I'm not your wife any more," she cried. "The law may say I am, and you may say so! But I'm not!"

Her face was white, and hard with rebellion. "And another thing—I'll work anywhere I please! And it'll take more than you to stop me!" she added.

Dick was speechless. As he stood there looking at her, without a word to say, she began to cry.

Tears reddened her eyes and coursed down through the rouge that was thick on her cheeks. Her mouth trembled.

"Dick," she began huskily. "I've been so lonesome. And look. She held out her hands to show him the burns and cuts on them."

"See, I've been trying to cook," she sobbed. "Dick please let me go home again. I can't stand being away from you. I can't stand it!"

Her voice rose on a high note of hysteria. "Sssh!" Dick hissed, frowning. "Be careful or Miss Briggs will hear you! Hush!"

Gloria sank down on the floor and laid her head on the seat of Dick's swivel chair. "What do I care if she hears me or not?" she said thickly. "All I care about is getting home, again!"

"Please, please don't treat me like this," she sobbed.

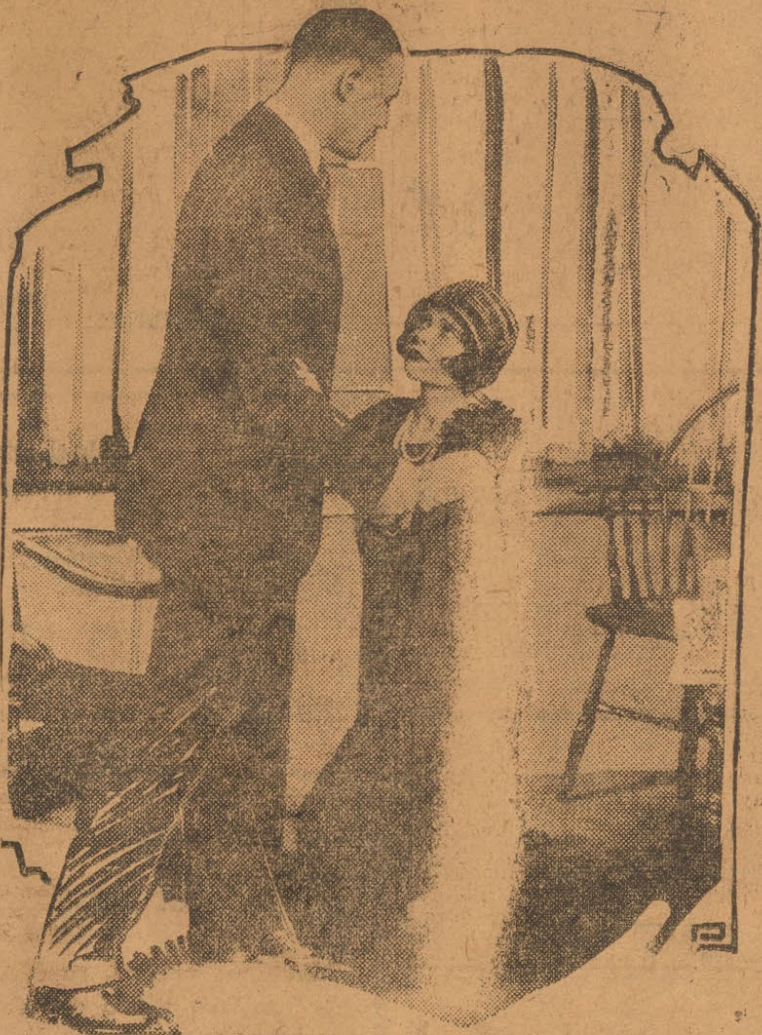

Dick lifted her to her feet. "For Lord's sake, get up!" he said sharply. "And don't come here again, until you can control yourself, Gloria! What are you trying to do? Put on a one-act play for Miss Briggs' benefit?"

His sharpness brought Gloria to her senses. She stood up and dried her eyes.

"All you think about is Miss Briggs, isn't it?" she asked, choking. "And what is she, anyway? Nothing but a little old maid! I wouldn't care so much if I'd lost you to a raving, tearing beauty."

Her voice broke again.

She almost ran out of the office. The women's dressing room was on the floor below. Gloria hurried down to it.

"For Lord's sake, get up!" he said sharply.

the mirror. "Don't envy me," she wanted to say to them. "I'm just a working girl like you are. Only I'm out of a job."

Out in the street the sun was high, and shining with a white, blistering glare. It was 10 o'clock.

The army of office girls had disappeared from the street—and those other workers—the home women, were abroad in their crisp wash dresses and white shoes.

"I was one of them once," Gloria thought regretfully, "but I didn't know my luck when I had it."

She was furious with herself for going to Dick's office.

"I suppose it tickled Briggs to death when I came out, crying," she said to herself, between clenched teeth.

Then, with her chin up and her head held high, she went into the real estate office of Forbes, Forgan & Fargo. She found her knees trembling, and her breath coming fast with nervousness as she followed an office boy into the presence of Ulysses X. Forgan.

He was a man growing elderly. Rather sparse brown hair streaked with gray, two bad brown eyes with pockets of wrinkles under them, a high nose, and a mouth like the slot in a gum-machine—that was Ulysses X. Forgan.

He had a mind like an adding-machine. He seldom thought of anything but figures. They were to him what talk and laughter were to other men.

The one quality he had that made him human was his love of beauty. He loved it in the impersonal way that the Greeks worshipped it.

And Gloria with her amber eyes, and tremulous mouth was beautiful that morning. Ulysses X. Forgan looked at her as he might have looked at a painting in a museum.

He hired her. "Worth looking at even if she can't typewrite," he said to himself. "And she probably can't. The good-looking are all dumbbells."

But as the days went by, he realized that Gloria knew her business. And she began to study his. She would slip just the paper he happened to be looking for under his nose just when he wanted it.

"I may have been a failure as a wife," she told herself Saturday morning, "but I've always been a crackerjack business woman! Maybe it's the thing I was cut out for, after all!"

She had a vision of herself in the coming years, growing large and sharp-eyed and efficient—a successful business woman with nothing to live for but a job!

It was a gray and dreary outlook.

When she went home that afternoon, she took a leisurely bath and curled up on her bed for a nap. It was 6 o'clock when she awoke.

Her hair was damp with perspiration, and it curled around her ears and forehead. Her cheeks were flushed, and her eyes were stary as a baby's when it awakens from its afternoon sleep.

She looked in the glass. No, she wasn't the type of woman to be unmarried, to live alone. She was too beautiful for that.

Down in the kitchen she could hear her mother at work, getting supper. She dressed herself in a gingham housefroak and went down to help with the meal.

Gloria sliced the cold veal loaf, and quartered lemons for the pitcher of iced tea. She made a plateful of lettuce sandwiches. "Thank goodness we aren't having anything hot to eat," she said cheerfully to her mother. "It's sweltering, isn't it? Look at those sandwiches! I'm getting to be some housewife, eh what?" She laughed brightly. But her thoughts were anything but cheerful.

This was Saturday night. Carnival for everybody! The end of the long week's work.

All over America girls were waving their hair, and dressing themselves in their best bib and tucker, to go out "stopping." Wives were hurrying with the supper dishes, so that they might not make their families late for the "movies."

Everybody, everywhere, had something special to do.

"Everybody but me," Gloria said

Announcing the Sequel of-- "THE FLAPPER WIFE"

MAY SEYMOUR FOOT LOOSE

by BEATRICE BURTON SEQUEL TO "The FLAPPER WIFE" © NEA

Surely you recall May Seymour. Her doctor-husband ended his life about the time—Gloria Gregory decided that Dick, with his pipe and book in an easy chair was more desirable than the passing thrills of an auto ride in the country with a man who turns yellow when danger threatens.

May has been traveling. She found the home town too "cool" after the gossips began telling about her relations with the parasite, who also deserted her in her hour of need.

May wants to sell her home, and turn all her stocks and bonds into cash. She expects to marry again, but seems somewhat dubious as to how this may be brought about.

May is the leading figure in "May Seymour" (Footloose,) sequel of "The Flapper Wife," another story about local folks. Perhaps you've heard about it. This is to confirm the report. Gloria has presented Dick with a bouncing baby boy.

May Seymour, when she called upon her return to the city, said: "He looks just like Dick." Friends and relatives, especially on Dick's side, maintain that he is the very image of his father.

Now who would have thought that Gloria, The Flapper Wife, would settle down and actually enjoy the many demands of raising a child? This paper has obtained, in response to almost universal demand of its readers, exclusive publishing rights for the sequel to "The Flapper Wife."

The new story is named "MAY SEYMOUR" (Footloose.) It starts in this paper October 2nd. If you are not a regular subscriber fill in the coupon below or phone the circulation department and the paper will be delivered to your home.

TEXAS A. & M. TO PLAY SEWANEAT STATE FAIR
 Special Correspondence.

DALLAS, Sept. 24.—If all signs don't fail, the opening football game of the 1925 State fair season, in the big State fair athletic stadium at Dallas is going to be a hum-dinger.

A. & M. of Texas is to meet the Sewaneat Tigers at 3 p. m., Saturday, Oct. 10, opening day of the State fair, and every indication is that the opposing forces will constitute two of the best teams either institution has ever put on the field.

The Aggies are returning no less than 11 letter men of last year, and have an abundance of freshmen and reserve material from which to draw.

In addition to the really remarkable freshman team the Tigers had last season, they are returning a dozen—a full 13—letter men, and are determined that at the very least, the Texas Farmers shall know they've had a game on their hands after the thing is over.

Interest is keen all over Texas and what with low rail rates granted by various lines, a big attendance is anticipated. Early announcement as to ticket sales is expected from the office of James Sullivan, business manager of athletics at A. & M.

LAST NOTICE.

For the benefit of those who have the yellow coupons, entitling them to the beautiful frame with their portrait to fit, with five 4x6 portraits, all in folders, we will extend the limit to the 24th of this month, so hurry and bring in your coupons.

Things to Know Before Baby Comes

THE expectant mother's comfort and well being is very important. And one of the most important things for her to do is to use a non-irritating, safe penetrating lubricant to keep the skin, muscles and ligaments soft and pliable—thus aiding the tissues and muscles to relax and adjust themselves to the changes during motherhood. Mother's Friend is just such a preparation. It is the formula of an eminent physician and has been used by expectant mothers for over three generations. No woman awaiting the joy of motherhood should allow the days to pass without using Mother's Friend.

Mrs. Laura Hendrix, Gracemont, Okla., writes: "I used Mother's Friend with all my babies and I think it is the greatest help that has ever been discovered for expectant mothers. I can't say too much for it."

Mother's Friend has saved thousands of expectant mothers from much needless suffering. It relaxes those drawing, stretching pains so common during expectancy.

Mother! Insist on Mother's Friend—the same as used by our mothers and grandmothers. Don't wait—start using tonight—and meanwhile write Dr. Field Regulator Co., Dept. 21, Atlanta, Ga., for free valuable booklet "Motherhood and the Coming Baby" (sent in plain envelope). It tells how Mother's Friend can help you during expectancy and at childbirth. This booklet also tells you many other things you want to know. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all druggists—everywhere.

to run back into the tubers. Lift them very carefully, remove the soil and bring them indoors to dry. It is wise to allow them at least a week to become thoroughly dry then inspect them for any decayed bits which, of course, should be cut away. After this has been done, the bulbs are ready to be placed in the sand upside down and put in a dry and cool place.—From The Designer Magazine for October.

PUTTING YOUR GARDEN TO SLEEP.

All bulbs should be put in the ground in the fall, and the wise gardener gets in her order as soon as the catalogs come. With the exception of the Madonna Lily (Lilium candidum), which makes a leaf growth in the fall and which, whenever possible, should be planted in August, bulbs do not need to go into the ground as early as perennials. The last two weeks in October and the first two in November is the usual season. Surround bulbs with pockets of sand, because contact with rich soil often rots them, and be sure to place them at least four times deeper than their size.

After the stalks of gladioli have withered they should be dug up, allowed to dry thoroughly and placed in sand in a cool room where they will not freeze. Follow this method with all tender bulbs.

A little more care is necessary in preparing dahlias for winter. To begin with, they should never be gathered until they have been turned black by the frost and even then they should be left standing for three or four days to allow some of the sap

RCV RADIO IS GROWING.

In 1924 the United States total radio sets were $5,000,000, says Good Hardware. In 1924 the sales had jumped to $12,000,000. This year they will total $500,000,000. Radio is a business that has grown from nothing to sales of half a billion dollars in five years.

And the experts say that radio is still in its infancy. There are now in use about 5,000,000 receiving sets. There are 25,000,000 families in the country, of which about 17,000,000 enjoy motor cars. The wise ones say that before long there will be as many radios as autos. That means, then, that in a few years the new users' sets will increase the number at least three and a half times, to say nothing of the sets that will be replaced. Annual sales will probably total in the neighborhood of $2,000,000,000 a year—figures so big they stagger us. The story of radio is a real business romance.

To add the last touch to a delicious salad...

SEASON your salads with a mayonnaise made with Mrs. Tucker's Shortening.

Just melt two cupfuls of Mrs. Tucker's and pour into lightly beaten egg. Add half a teaspoonful of mustard, a teaspoonful of lemon juice and vinegar, some salt and a pinch of paprika or cayenne pepper. Inexpensive, easy, this makes a delicious dressing.

This is but one of the countless uses for which Mrs. Tucker's is incomparable. A pure vegetable shortening, it imparts a delicious creaminess to all cooking and baking. It has all the richness of butter and none of the heavy greasiness of lard. And it goes further than ordinary shortening.

Get a pail of Mrs. Tucker's from your grocer today. It is made exclusively of choice cottonseed-oil. You can be absolutely certain that it will be absolutely sweet and fresh. The air-tight feature of the new pail makes sure of that. Interstate Cotton Oil Refining Company, Sherman, Texas.

"THE FLAPPER WIFE"

 to herself, as she sat out in the porch swing, after supper.
 She stared out into the gathering dusk. The stars were coming out, like polished pin points in the sky above the tree tops.
 A Ford car drove up before the house next door, and a man jumped out and ran up the steps. Gloria heard a screen door slam.
 Presently he came out again, with the girl who lived there—little Peggy Quin.
 "My stars! She can't be more than 16—and having a beau already!" Gloria exclaimed to herself. "But then, that's not so bad, when I'm only 21, and married and—" She stopped suddenly. She had almost said "divorced."
 With a pang of loneliness, she listened to Peggy Quin's gay voice, as she climbed into the little car and took her seat there. It chugged away down the street.
 Then her mother and father came out of the house. They were going out to do their regular Saturday night marketing.
 "Better come along," Mrs. Gordon advised her. "We'll probably wind up at a movie. We 'most always do."
 But Gloria shook her head. "No thanks, darlings," she said, "I'm too comfortable to move."
 She watched them go down the street together. What children they were, starting off on their innocent spree! After all, it wasn't what you did that made life interesting. It was the people with whom you did them, who counted!
 Her mother and father—they were happy because they had each other.
 Inside the dark house, the telephone rang.
 Gloria quivered. Who could it be? Dick, perhaps! But no, it was only Aunt Dorcas, very likely, or Cousin Lulu.
 "Hello," she said languidly, into the receiver.
 A man's crisp voice answered her: "Miss Gordon?" it asked.

Stewart's Washington Letter

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—G. O. P. regulars are having a hard time finding a bright side to young Bob La Follette's sweeping victory at the Republican senatorial primaries in Wisconsin.

They had hardly expected him to lose but they did hope the La Follette forces in the Badger state would prove to have been weakened by the death of the present senate candidate's father.

Instead of that they seem to be as formidable under the junior Bob as ever they were under the senior.

WHAT the regulars didn't take fully into account was the fact that young Bob was taking over an organization with which he was familiar. During his father's later years he had more to do with managing it than the latter did.

His Wisconsin Progressive leadership is hardly referred to correctly as "inherited."

In reality he had been coming into it gradually for some time and when the elder La Follette died, there was his son in control already.

RANGER PICTURE SHOWS EQUAL TO THOSE IN DALLAS

The past two weeks have been conspicuous for some extra good numbers in the local theatres. And it is said the weeks to come are to be equally fruitful of unusual numbers on the shadow stage. It is noteworthy that Ranger is getting exactly the same offerings as Dallas and Fort Worth and at approximately the same time.

The Ten Commandments was a production equalling Griffith's war pictures. The Iron Horse was one of the finest industrial and historic pageants woven around a pretty romance, that has ever been shown on any stage. The Centaur's wife, though badly named, is so well screened as to make up for that deficiency. Ranger theatrical managers keep the city in a class with metropolitan places in so far as its pictures are concerned. Even the first vaudeville number of the season was clean and classy.

ONLY A GRASS FIRE
The Eastland fire department made a run to the southwestern portion of the city Wednesday afternoon late on the occasion of a grass fire on some vacant lots.

KERRVILLE.—Attorney general approves $50,000 bond issue, for paving local streets.

IT isn't to be disputed that Bob owes his nomination and will owe his expected election, at so young an age to so high an office, to the fact that he's his father's son.

Still, this will not be altogether a handicap to him in the Senate. It may mean some slurs, but it will mean a great deal in the way of prestige also.

If the young senator makes good on his individual merits the slurs will soon cease and the prestige of his father's name will remain, clear velvet, to add to the credit of his own accomplishments.

BRECKENRIDGE, Sept. 24.—Clyde Leverett of this city reports the loss of his car, a 1925 model Ford coupe, in Cisco Tuesday night. The serial number of the stolen car is given as 11159287.

Dorris Lee Strickland, the two-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lennie Strickland of Breckenridge, died at the family residence here early Tuesday morning. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon, followed by interment in the local cemetery.

The survey of the Breckenridge-Graham highway, about 17 miles, has been completed and everything is now ready for receiving bids from contractors for constructing the road. The paving of this road will cost approximately $400,000, half of which is to be borne by Stephens county and the other half by the state.

Plans are about completed for the opening of the Oil Belt fair, which opens in Breckenridge, Sept. 29.

The United Carbon company of Monroe, La., has made application to the Texas railroad commission for a permit to burn residue gas in Stephens county, which is understood to mean that the company will erect a carbon black plant near Breckenridge if the permit is granted. Hearing on the permit is to be held Sept. 29.

Notwithstanding the ideal weather conditions existing in Breckenridge last Sunday attendance at the various Sunday schools in the city showed a decrease over previous Sundays. The total attendance last Sunday was 1,376.

MAKE YOUR FACE AS LOVELY AS YOU ARE

All most people see in anyone is what is on the outside. Naturally, those who are handicapped by pimples, blotches, "breaking out," eczema, etc., on their skin are not going to get any attention. You can "make the face as lovely as the picture really is" by simply getting rid of those skin disfigurements, if you will just use Black and White Ointment and Soap. Then your good nature and sweet ways will stand out without any drawback, and folks will want to be around you. They are economically priced, in liberal packages. The 50c size Ointment contains three times as much as the 25c size. All dealers have both the Ointment and Soap.—Adv.
