

BELGRADE REVOLT: HUNDREDS SHOT

WIND-UP WORK SENDS C. OF C. MEMBERSHIP GRAND TOTAL TO 2,276

Reports of the teams in the wind-up luncheon at the Granger cafe this afternoon carried the total for the Chamber of Commerce campaign to 2,276.

Mr. Case, expert chamber of commerce secretary, drafted from his position at Seubenville, Ohio, by the American City Bureau and especially chosen for the installation work at Ranger, was introduced and outlined his plans briefly, asking for the same co-operation that had been given the campaign workers.

An address by Mr. Avery of the state highway commission, concluded the luncheon.

First steps in the installation will be taken Friday at 8 p. m. at the Baptist tabernacle, when the membership will be called together to act on constitution and by-laws.

In its mark for 2,276 memberships, representing a total of $56,900, with all of the larger companies to be heard from, Ranger has set a record for Chambers of Commerce in this country, which means a world's record, as Mr. McFarland pointed out.

Wichita Falls, with its budget of $66,000 claimed a world's record, which will be exceeded by more than $1.00 per capita by the close of his farewell talk.

Gifford Clegg, with twenty-nine and T. L. Owen with twenty-four, led in the reports of captains and were given noisy cheers.

While Rev. Karl Reiland, pastor of the fashionable St. George's Protestant Episcopal Church, New York, was preaching a Sunday morning sermon on the obligation of everyone to be kind and helpful to strangers, a madman leered and grinned in one of the pews with a revolver hidden in his pocket.

At the close of the services, as Dr. James W. Markoe, noted physician and personal friend of the late J. P. Morgan, bent above him in passing the collection platter, the man shot the doctor through the head.

Then, rushing down the aisle the man fired two more shots, wounding another worshipper. He was captured in Stuyvesant Park in front of the church by other parishioners.

HARDING-WOOD OHIO CONTEST HARD FIGHT

No Opposition to Gov. Cox, Democrat, at Primary Election.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 27.—Reports received up to noon today indicate a very light vote being cast in the presidential primary.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 27.—Chief interest in today's presidential primary election in Ohio centered in the fight on the Republican ticket between United States Senator Warren G. Harding of Ohio and Major General Leonard Wood.

Harding campaign managers claim that Harding will carry the state by a substantial vote and that all of the Harding delegates will be successful.

Wood candidates are not entered in the first and second (Cincinnati) and the twenty-first (Cleveland).

Because of the referendum called for by the Reynolds bill, which would have permitted women to vote for president in Ohio, women will be denied the privilege of voting at today's presidential preference primary.

SHOT STARTS BIG LEERAY OIL PRODUCER Active Wells Now Form Complete Ring About Town.

LEERAY, April 27.—The Stokes well of the Fensland Oil company, a half mile east of the townsite of Leeray was shot with 200 quarts of nitro and came in for a strong flow of over 3,000 barrels, throwing oil over fifty feet over the top of the derrick.

The Watson well of the Sinclair Gulf struck a stray sand at 2,600 feet which put oil over the top of the derrick. This sand has been cased off and drilling continued.

Leeray now has a complete ring around it of producing wells, and no dry holes. As Leeray is on the line of Eastland and Stephens counties, it is in the proven district of the south part of Stephens county, which is considered by the best informed oil men to be the strongest present oil field of both counties.

Many new rigs are going up in the Leeray district. The Virginia Oil company has put up a rig on the five-acre lease of Thron and Ray adjoining the town of Leeray on the east side.

OPERA HOUSE.

Big Time Vaudeville.

An excellent bill of big time vaudeville is showing at the Opera House the first three days of this week. The performances are clean and wholesome and considerably above the average in talent. A five-reel feature picture is also shown.

Haynes, Montgomery and Hanna in "The Deputy" score a destined hit. Good singing and clever repartee marks this act throughout. Love and Wilbur do stunts in acrobatics, and show real cleverness. La France and Kennedy, black-face comedians, put on a delightful farce called "After the Battle. The humor of their act grows steadily to a riotously funny climax.

Nada Norrine, "the girl with the phenomenal voice," sings some sentimental ballads which will be remembered. Lovers of good singing will appreciate her numbers.

One of the most appealing acts is that of a bunch of doughboys, with O. D. uniforms, overseas caps and the easy grace of the soldier. "A day in camp" is the title of the act. The stiffness which sometimes marks a performance where there are a number of players is noticeably lacking. They are equally good at singing, dancing, pulling stunts in formation, and indulging in acrobatics.

Cast of Unusual Merit in "Water, Water, Everywhere"

Will Rogers, Goldwyn star, has been surrounded by a remarkably strong cast in his latest photoplay "Water, Water Everywhere," which is showing at the Lamb today.

Irene Rich, who is the most beautiful woman in the photoplay world, according to Mr. Rogers, has the principal feminine part. She is cast as a rugged westerner's daughter. Marguerite Livingston plays as her weaker sister. Wade Boteler appears as the small town physician who has become a victim of drink and is shaken to the realization of his fault only by a great accident. Rowland Lee is the hypocritical agitator who urges prohibition only to fatten his own wallet and surreptitiously drinks his whiskey. Lillian Langdon and Lydia Yeamans Titus both have character parts that afford their great opportunity for clever work. Mary Jane Irvine as the child is credited by Mr. Rogers with being the only actress who ever made him shed real tears.

LIBERTY.

Lillian Gish in "The Greatest Question"

"Isn't that the sweetest thing?" This remark was made by a woman in the audience of the Liberty theater yesterday afternoon. The expression was not the usual gush that it implies but a sincere spontaneous outburst to the art of Lillian Gish in the closing love scene of D. W. Griffith's "The Greatest Question," now playing at the Liberty.

To miss seeing this picture is to miss reading what could be a page out of the lives of you or me. Nothing is overdone. The poverty, the lights and shadows, the romance and the passion of the best are real. They are placed on the screen by one who knows life from rubbing its rough edges himself.

David Griffith for years was a drifter doing anything that came to hand. He was a tramp. Always he wanted to see what lay in the green valley beyond the hill. His ambitions were to be a writer. Instead he is recording life with all its miseries and joys on the silver screen. Life, not as it is lived in a mansion, but as 95 per cent of the people live it. To see "The Greatest Question" is to plumb the depths of pathos and reach the joyous peaks of delight.

GRADUATION CLASS LARGEST AT ANSON

ANSON, April 27.—The largest class in the history of the Anson high school will be graduated May 28. There are twenty members of the class of 1920 and all deserve an exceptional share of credit for the excellent work done this year.

The public schools of Anson have made greater progress during the 1919-20 year than any year heretofore and it is a recognized fact that this is due to the untiring efforts of Superintendent W. A. Bynum and Principal Lenora Barrett.

In the recent inter-scholastic county field day Anson contestants won more first places than any other school in Jones county. The work of coach Nichols caused them to be victorious in most of the athletic events.

ANSON, April 27.—According to reports, the Cranston-Ely Gin company of Anson ginned more cotton than any gin of like size in the world. Up to this time more than 6,000 bales of 1919 cotton has been ginned by this firm.

There is much of the 1919 crop yet unsold. Buyers are continually complaining about the too nappy samples, which they claim was due to the fact that the cotton was ginned too fast.

Advertising Best Route to Reach Many, Expert Says

An interesting lecture on retail merchandising was given last night at the Moore hall when W. F. Brennan, expert lecturer of the National Cash Register company, told of the causes for loss in retail business, and how they could be remedied. A great many merchants and salespeople were present. Stereopticon slides and motion pictures were used throughout the lecture by Mr. Brennan to emphasize the various points.

"Inefficient business methods cause the great majority of losses," said Mr. Brennan. He then cited figures to prove this fact, showing that last year 4,030 merchants failed.

Particular emphasis was laid on the value of newspaper advertising to the retail merchant in the lecture. Mr. Brennan said in part: "More people can be reached oftener and at less expense by newspaper advertising than by any other medium. But don't spend a few dollars advertising, and then say advertising doesn't pay. Make advertising a continuous policy of your store, and you will not be disappointed with results." The proper method of preparing newspaper advertisements was shown by Mr. Brennan.

Mr. Brennan spoke highly of the service the Times offers its advertisers, saying that the Times was unexcelled between Fort Worth and the west coast. Advertising cut services such as were offered, gave advertisers metropolitan advantages in presenting their sales arguments through print, he explained.

"Advertising is simply a way of telling possible purchasers about the goods we have for sale. To be easy to understand, an ad must be made of simple words, short sentences, few ideas. Big words and involved sentences will not be read. The purchasing public does not care how well educated you are—it simply wants to know what you have to sell, its quality and its price.

"For many people to read it, an ad must be set in plain type and must be uncluttered and unconfused by needless cuts, borders and ornaments. If an ad tells of but one line of goods, it may catch the eye, but if it is crowded with many ideas, the chances are it will not be read. It is not the number of articles you advertise that counts, but the number of persons who come into your store to buy the goods you advertise. I do not mean that if you have a large space, you should use it to tell of one article. A half page or a page ad is really a collection of smaller ads, to each of which the principle stated should apply. Each should tell of but one line of goods.

"Your advertisement should take the reader over the five steps of selling: Attention, interest, desire, confidence, action. Some people, sometimes, only glance at ads. If the headings are schemed to make a complete impression, the ad gets both the 'glances' and the 'readers.' Illustrations must be suited to the subject—they could cover on the ideas of the text. Desire must be stimulated by attractive details, but it is mostly aroused by pictures. Variety is one of the best means of keeping interest in your ads. Change your offerings.

"As a general rule it is well to give prices in your ads. If you do not give them, the reader may assume that the price is high. If you are advertising high grade goods, place the emphasis on the quality and mention the price in an incidental way.

"Be absolutely honest in your advertising. You may as a leader, occasionally sell goods 'below cost,' but don't overdo the below-cost sale. Everybody knows business cannot be conducted on that basis."

Finally the lecturer showed that the modern store owner knows where the old-fashioned owner simply guesses. And with the aid of a second film he pictured the steady strides of a merchant to surpassing success following the visit of an expert in store systematizing, who built against the confidence of banker and wholesaler in the tottering structure of the merchant's good business ability, sadly undermined as it was by these preventable losses. The result was the installation through renewed credit of a proper business system, the release of the merchant from drudgery and despair, the renovation of the store, the renewal of customs, and the enthusiasm and vigor of happy, ambitious clerks anxious to maintain the reputation of their house for real service.

EMBALMING ANCIENT PROFESSION, RIGIDLY BOUND BY STATUTES

The undertaker of fiction and joke is a long-faced, sour-looking man who takes a gloomy view of life and never brightens up except when he watches it flicker out. Few persons are aware of the fact that embalming is not confined to men. In Texas there are twenty-five women embalmers, duly licensed and qualified. Of this number eight are negroes. About twenty negro men also practice the art. In two instances, negro men and their wives hold embalming licenses.

Texas laws regarding embalming are almost as rigid as those surrounding the practice of medicine, and these safeguard protect legitimate practitioners. There are three licensed embalmers in this city.

Embalming is the most ancient of all the sciences. When the practice of medicine was in the hands of witch doctors and long before it had been lifted above the influence of quackery, embalming had become an exact science. The ancient Egyptians knew more about the art than men of our own day.

JOHN-A-DREAMS IV. The Slumber Thought That Brings Gifts

STRANGEST of all, because so diversified in their meaning, are dreams which bring gifts to the sleeper. They are infrequent and only few can remember having had them. Records show that men hardly ever dream thus, the vision being one for women and children.

If you receive a jewel from the hand of a man, this means danger; if from that of a woman, spite is the giver's feeling for you. Let these words be your guide:

Win her with gifts, if she respect not words;
Dumb jewels often, in their silent kind,
More than quick words, do move a woman's mind.

If the dream gift be wrapped, so that you know not what it may be, a great surprise, a joyous one, is in store for you. If the present is of wood, it means care; if of base metal, strife and anger. If it is a house, a vast change is coming into your life and you will turn your back on your home with tears in your eyes. But if the gift-house stands in the midst of a lawn, or near smiling woods or meadows, you will marry sooner than you expected, for he who is to lead you to the altar is determined to wait no longer. If you are a married woman, the gift of such a house is the forerunner of great good luck, of unexpected comforts and even of wealth. If you receive an animal of any sort, a short journey is certain to interrupt your routine. Glass means happiness; if it falls and shatters, a painful disappointment, a broken engagement perhaps, or betrayal of a confidence that will make you unhappy for a while. If some one gives you many presents this means unfulfilled wishes, for:

Saints themselves will sometimes be Of gifts that cost them nothing, free.

But the greatest dream-gift that can come to mortal woman is a garment, no matter of what sort, be it of rags or silk. It means another's soul, another's heart, another's whole mind. Such a dream is significant of the supreme token of love which, given by a man and not cherished by her who receives it, would make him the helpless plaything of ill winds. But if, receiving it, her heart rejoices and she clutches it tightly to have and to hold forever, it will keep and protect them both, for her heart is gladdened by his message:

"This, and in this, my soul I give,
"Lodged where I know 't will ever live,
"For never could myself or mine
"Fall into kinder hands than thine."

If you dream that you are in the company of many and all receive gifts, no matter who the giver, this foretells contentment in your immediate circle. Often this dream brings a warning as well: when some one enters, to take away a gift, beware of false friends, of bad counsel, of those who would induce you or yours into over-ambitious plans. If, in grasping a gift, the intruder's hand is stayed by some obstruction, you will have no difficulty in skirting peril. But if he succeeds, then all your ingenuity will be needed to keep the bark of your happiness in smooth waters.

GARDENS OF SLEEP.

Afar in the distance The evening star gleams And dim music drifts Through the dusk of our dreams, While low murmur lute strings And soft sounds the sweep Of swaying tree tops In the Garden of Sleep.

Application of modern practices of landscape work to our cemeteries makes them "Gardens of Sleep." The possibilities of uniform development of the idea of beauty and restfulness in these places has brought a transformation in the appearance, in the atmosphere and in the significance of these places.

Such a park cemetery has been provided for Ranger, in Evergreen. Though its development has not been completed and much more will be done, already it gives promise of the peaceful, beautiful place that it will be, and offers a sharp contrast to the burying ground that formerly served.

The rules of uniform beauty will be maintained. There will be no unsightly head stones, copings, fences. Simple and harmonious monuments may mark each division.

Perpetual beauty of the park, with no unsightly and pitiful reminders of the passing of the friendless, is assured by the provision of a trust fund, built of part of each sale, the interest from which is used for upkeep.

Evergreen park is a welcome addition to Ranger's assets.

Homer S. Cummings, chairman of the Democratic national committee, has been selected to preside as temporary chairman of the national convention at San Francisco, June 28. He will deliver the keynote address which will enunciate the party policies in the forthcoming campaign.

year has become a kind of memorial day. The suggestion that memorial trees and groves be set out in honor of the men and women who gave their lives in the war has been met with wide interest and enthusiasm.

Last year Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the American Forestry association, published an appeal urging that memorial trees be planted in squares and streets. That appeal has been heeded all over the country. A recent number of the magazine, American Forestry, reports such memorial planting in Connecticut, Georgia, New Jersey, Tennessee, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, Indiana and other states. In one city a high school which sent 233 members into the war has planted a tree for every one of those boys. Each tree bears the name of a service man, and the whole group is known as "Liberty Grove."

In another city where a "Road of Remembrance" was set out with trees, contributions were handled by a welfare association. Two and a half dollars paid for a tree and the name tag to mark the tree for some special boy.

This a beautiful thing for schools and communities to do. There is no lovelier memorial than a fine, growing tree.

CIGAR PRICES ADVANCE.

BOSTON, April 26.—Cigars are going up—not only in smoke—but in price.

The smokers' favorite weed costs from 5 to 10 per cent more in most of Boston's tobacco stores. The reason given for the advance is that cigars have jumped 82 per thousand and that the price of tobacco has crept upward along with the cost of labor and cigar boxes.

No longer will one be able to buy the brand of cheroot which sold in the old days for "three for a quarter" at 12 cents each or three for 35 cents. They now cost 13 cents straight. The cheaper cigars, however, did not advance in price.

The Woman Who Saw

NEW YORK.—Spring is a friendly time on the East Side. Long closed windows are coaxed open by the sun and women lean out, calling their children or gossiping from the escape to fire escape. Groups linger to talk on the stoops. Baby carriages make permanent blockades on the sidewalks, while young matrons discuss what the "professor" advised for new babies. And the pushcart bargaining is now prolonged and exciting, with no chill winds to creep under shawls or whip at skirts.

The Lady from Uptown has started out from the settlement with the laudable aim of looking up new members for her sewing class, but the lady, friendly spring caught her, too, and instead of climbing the steep, dark tenement stairs she found herself "clapping" on Mrs. Toosey's door. Mrs. Toosey was born in Italy, raised on the Bowery, married to an Irishman; a cosmopolitan New Yorker. What did the spring say to her? The kitchen was empty, but a voice "bubbled" from the other room, and the lady walked right into a May garden. Daisies, buttercups, bright red ponies, blues, green leaves and grasses were heaped on the floor and table, for Mrs. Toosey worked on artificial flowers. Her clever fingers stained with color, were deftly wedding garlands, but they went no faster than her tongue.

"Say, you won't mind, I didn't come out 'cause I gotta get these things done, or the boss'll kill me. Yesterday I had a grand time. You know my sister whose husband died? Has that woman got good luck? I'll say so. She took his insurance and the two cutest little kids and went home to Italy to see her mother. I was down to the ship with her, and such a nice steward! He got a mash on me right away and brought me up soup and crackers and sez, 'Say, why don't you come along? Honest, if it hadn't been for the two boys and the old man I'd have went.'

"It must be lovely there now," said the Lady from Uptown, with memories of a spring in Florence.

"You said it," and the flowers fell from Mrs. Toosey's hands, while her eyes traveled out on a beam of sunshine far beyond the gray walls of the next tenement, "over there," and her voice was a little husky. "Everything is now blooming, while over here," and she bent the wire around the daisy, "there I am working on this damned artificial."

Good Friday Spell. The great hall of the Metropolitan museum throbbed with the lovely tones of the orchestra. The leader's tall form was swaying with the rhythm and his sensitive face looked like a prophet of beauty to the soul of man. The woman listened with her eyes feasting on a beautiful green jade vase and on the rapt face of the poet who was in her line of vision. Still more impressive was the mood of the people crowded into every inch of space, sitting on the floor or standing for hours without the sound of a restless foot on the stone pavement. They were mostly from the tenements and it was plain that beauty's message was a reverent welcome.

The music ceased and there was a stir of aching muscles. From a nearby group came the voice of a man speaking from his seat on the floor to the girl who stood in front of him: "I'd give you my seat, if I wasn't too tired." The man next him rasped out in a hard voice: "I ain't tired and I don't give my seat to no woman. That's a bourgeois trick. I'm a radical, I am. I consider woman my equal." The speaker's personality was all cocksureness and blatant egotism. The woman shivered at the jarring note in the atmosphere. Just then the conductor's wand was once more raised and the "Parsifal" Good Friday music floated ecstatically through the great hall. Instantly, as if by magic, discord fell away and all were caught by the spell, following the yearning sweetness of the violin solo in an upper realm, where only harmony abides. Poet and radical alike became notes in the great union of those who aspire. The woman stole a look at him of the surly face and bitter tongue. He sat crooked like Balin's Thinker, and like him his brooding face showed only the seeker of truth. Harshness and egotism had fallen away like an outworn garment under beauty's spell.

Trustworthy. Edgar, the office boy, had something on his mind and needed advice. The very modern girl knew this by the very solicitous way her mail was handed to her and by the many errands he found that required lingering around her desk. So for revenge she said, "Well, Edgar, how's every little thing?" He leaned confidentially over. "Say, I want to ask you something. Honest, don't know what to do. You know I think the boss is an awfully good scout and all that, but look what he did. You know Mary?"

Oh, yes, the girl knew Mary, intimately. She was Edgar's reason for being the chief subject of conversation.

"You know I told you how particular her mother was," Yes, the girl knew. "She's let me take Mary to the movies and to church entertainments, but to bring a girl to New York to the theater you got to trust a fellow a lot," and he spoke of Staten Island as though it were darkest Russia. "Well, she says, 'Edgar, I trust you. You're not one of the wild young men and you can take Mary because I know you won't take her to one of those bedroom farces I read about in the papers. You know how particular I am.'"

"So," and Edgar's voice sank to a whisper, "I asked the boss for a couple of seats, and look what he gave me," and he showed the girl two passes to Monsieur Beaucaire.

The girl looked up, wondering. Edgar took courage, man to man. "I looked it up and it says, 'A Bath comedy. I went to one last year. Parlor, Bedroom and Bath.' All right for us—but Mary?"

And the girl had to talk geography hard to convince him that Bath was a respectable English town, respectable enough even for Mary.

HOGS OF HIGH DEGREE BROUGHT TO TEXAS

Special to The Times. CHILDRESS, April 26.—Lewis Brother and Cunningham have just received a shipment of thirty head of big type Poland Chinas from the North. The hogs were picked in counties in the corn belt, and are large and well conditioned. This is in line with the efforts of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to restock the West with better and more hogs.

GRATEFUL HUSBAND PAYS SURGEON $14,000 FOR SAVING HIS WIFE

CHICAGO, April 27.—After performing a successful operation on Mrs. Harry C. Moir, wife of a Chicago Hotel manager, Dr. Max Thorek was asked by her husband what his fee would be. The operation having lasted forty-two minutes, Dr. Thorek replied he thought $14, or $1 per minute, would be satisfactory. Moir wrote out a check for fourteen thousand dollars. "What's that for?" asked the surgeon. "I'm making it $1,000 a minute," replied Moir. "Saving my wife's life was worth it."

HALF PINT OF STEW FOR NICKEL IN BOSTON

International News Service. BOSTON, April 26.—"Half pints" are on sale in Boston for five cents.

They are half pints of "good nourishing stew," and the sale is the outcome of plans to reduce the H. C. I. for post-office employees by Postmaster Roland M. Baker. It is the first time that stew has ever been sold at the Boston office, but Postmaster Baker announces that he is determined to bring down the "high cost of lunches." Cardboard cartons contain the stew, half pints selling for a nickel and pints for a dime. The stew shop is on the second floor of the main post office, and is open from 11 a. m. to 3 p. m. for all postal employees.

BOSTON COLLEGE GIRLS BATHED IN ICY WATERS

International News Service. BOSTON, April 26.—Snapshots shown around the College of Liberal Arts revealed the fact that two Boston university girls opened the bathing season at Nantasket amid ice and snow while on the Alpha Delta Pi house party. The ice and snow, showing in the picture, did not make these two young freshman mermaids, Miss Dorothy Robertson and Miss Martha Kellogg, shiver, at least not until they had taken a dip in the cold, briny deep.

Mrs. John Gerken will judge the saddle class and ponies under saddle to be shown at the New York horse show this year.

BRITISH MARINERS BET ON RACES BY WIRELESS

International News Service. LONDON.—English sea captains are betting on the races by wireless. The first week of the opening of flat racing brought a number of turf transactions flashed from the high seas' passengers as well as masters and officers, ordering their bookmakers to place bets on "live ones."

A system of flashing racing "tips" by radio is being rapidly developed.

SPORTS

Nitros Meet Fast McCaulley Outfit Tomorrow, 4 P. M.

Just three days before the opener and the Nitros have one more battle. It was thought that the last game with Cisco, making the fifth straight victory, was the last exhibition game, but at the last minute Jim had a chance to hook up a good game and give the gang another chance to try out things they have been learning in the last days of practice.

McCaulley's camp from Necessity, will furnish the last game at 4 p. m. tomorrow. They are no slow outfit, listing as they do: Butch Kerns, catcher, formerly with Dallas; Ray Brashear, Pacific Coast player, who will be on second; Lynn Pittman, from the Northwestern line; Doc Scanlon, another Pacific coast, who will be on first; Ostgard, a former Sioux City, flinger.

This bunch cleaned up Park's camp and Park's camp, in turn, walloped Cisco. There you have it—for what it's worth. But you know how the dope runs. Jim had his gang at work at Municipal park yesterday afternoon and again today learning finer points about flinging and other things.

HOW A SICK DOCTOR REGAINED HIS HEALTH

Young doctor 27 years old was told by several eminent physicians that he could not live, but discovered a remarkable formula that restored his health.

In 1898 Dr. A. L. Reusing of Akron, Ohio, had just completed his course at medical college. He had paid his way through medical college by working nights as a telegrapher. Overwork and over-study had undermined his health, and he consulted many specialists, but they all pronounced him incurable and said that he could live only a few months.

But Dr. Reusing determined that if he must die, he would find the cause, since none of the physicians could diagnose his disease positively.

Knowing that without oxygen the body dies, he began a thorough investigation of the effect of oxygen on the blood. He studied Prof. Virchow's famous "Cell Theory" which proves that the body is only a collection of cells and that there are twelve cell-salts that nourish and maintain the cells of the body.

He knew that the red blood cells carry the iron in the blood and that iron attracts oxygen just as a magnet attracts steel. He learned that by increasing the amount of iron in the blood, the iron attracted the oxygen from the air in the lungs into the blood exactly as the magnet attracts steel.

Through careful research he learned the cell-salts that nature requires to feed the cells and maintain health. This led to the discovery that the health of the body is governed entirely by the health of the blood and that if the blood is rich in oxygen, plasma and iron, and supplied with the natural cell-salts that nourish and maintain the cells, vigor and vitality of the health, the whole body glows with health, strength and energy.

WHY PUT OFF BUYING oil and gas leases in UNION COUNTY, NEW MEXICO? May make you a fortune. North of the Canadian river, in Hartley County, Texas, and Union County, N. M., is the largest known oil structure in the world. One well now will produce 100 million cubic feet of wet gas—so you can safely bet that an oil pool is somewhere in that structure. Nineteen wells now drilling. Logs of some strongly indicate production soon. See GILES S. DOTY before it is too late to buy at present price; $140 buys 40 acre 5-year lease. Call 511 S. Austin St., P. O. Box 190.

To get the longest mileage out of tires, see that they are the proper tires for the rim and see that they fit snugly. Rims are made for certain tires and when the tire is forced on the wrong rim, the fabric can not pull true, causing it to break down sooner.

LARGER TEXAS OUTPUT OF OIL DURING MARCH

Federal Reserve Bank Tells of Increase in Producing Wells.

DALLAS, Texas, April 27.—Salient developments of the business and industrial situation in the Eleventh Federal Reserve district during March, according to the monthly review by the Federal Reserve bank of Dallas, were: "A revival of trade on new high levels of volume and prices for spring season; a late and rather unfavorable start in the planting of staple crops; the opening of the spring livestock movement; an enhanced demand and an enlarged production in the petroleum industry; an organized effort to co-ordinate the factors of supply and demand in the farm labor problem; and a steady expansion of credit to meet the seasonal requirements of the district."

Oil production for the month showed a gain with 47 of the 582 completed wells producers. Texas coal mines operated at full capacity during the month. Textile mills also operated at full capacity and have their output sold up to September. Not since the wholesale trade showed augmented totals, and all lines of retail trade, with the exception of hardware, enjoyed a substantial increase of business. There was a slight improvement in the car supply, but the withdrawal of the strike hampered transportation. The number of banks borrowing from the federal reserve bank increased by twenty-one, and loans increased by $5,738,242. Bank clearings exceeded those of February 14 per cent. Discount rates showed only slight variations. With proper distribution of available labor, the review said, there is no reason why the district should seriously suffer from lack of operatives. There were nineteen commercial failures involving liabilities totaling $203,445 during the month. Building permits issued by nine cities of the district showed an increase of 91.5 per cent in value of proposed buildings over March of 1919. The emergency building program is taxing the capacity of building trades and the available supply of material. Postal receipts at eleven cities of the district surpassed those of the first quarter of 1919 11 per cent. Dallas led in the volume of receipts, while Fort Worth showed the largest dollar amount of increase.

"It is the only way to beat the increased cost of living and this bold profiteering, which will mean disaster if not curbed," said "Jerry," while the well-groomed city officials looked on with a smile. Alderman O'Connell told the gathering that he would be the first to don overalls and would go a step farther and wear old clothes until prices took a tumble.

It is understood that a city hall organization is seriously considering the question and may shortly appear carbed in old clothes and overalls. If this is a reality, the alderman says he will stick to his proposition to the city government.

In telling of increased oil production in March in Texas, the Federal Reserve Bank Review says:

"In March—the Eleventh Federal Reserve District produced 11,132,024 barrels of crude petroleum, valued at $31,000,000. The combined production of the four states in the Mid-Continent fields, Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Kansas, amounted to 21,425,610 barrels, this being the best month's record made by the Mid-Continent fields for the past five months. Of this production, the Eleventh District's contribution of 11,132,024 barrels, which was slightly more than one-half of the Mid-Continent output, represented a gain of 658,930 barrels over its February record, and also an increase of 197,963 barrels over its January production. In Texas there were increases in the Coastal and North Texas fields, and a decrease in the output from Central West Texas due to lack of supplies for completing new wells in proven areas. North Louisiana again came to the fore with a handsome increase of over 500,000 barrels, further emphasizing the rapid development of this section during the past three months. The March yield of 3,739,022 barrels of oil in North Louisiana was over two million barrels, or about 140 per cent in excess of its December, 1919 production. It gained over the month of February came chiefly from the Homer pool in Calumet parish. Ranger again led the Texas fields, it being the only field in that state to report a March production in excess of a million barrels."

Drilling Operations.
There were 582 wells completed in the Texas fields in March, of which 110 were failures, and 473 were producers having an initial flow of 110,200 barrels. This compares with a record of 640 completions, 149 failures and 491 producers for the month of February. The north Louisiana drilling results for March were also slightly off as contrasted with his previous month. Out of seventy-three completions this section had fourteen failures, including eight due to salt water encountered in the Homer pool, and a total of fifty-nine producing wells having an aggregate initial production of 44,730 barrels, against a February record of sixty-nine completions, all of which were producers, with the exception of four.

Prices.
During the past thirty days an advance of 25 cents per barrel in the price of crude was posted in the Louisiana fields. The only increase noted in Texas was a 50 cents raise at Sour Lake, bringing the price there to $2.50, to conform to the level of quotations in force at other coastal fields. Fuel oil is scarce and little is being offered. Recent quotations are as follows: Buyers' cars, $2.50 to $2.75; sellers' cars, $3.00 to $3.50.

Detailed statistics of the petroleum industry in this district for the month of March are presented in the following table:

In discussing agricultural conditions the report said: "The average condition of winter wheat is 70 per cent. The planting of cotton and corn is well advanced in south and southwest Texas, but late in the northern section. Three-fourths of the Texas fruit crop and one-half of the East Texas tomato crop was killed by cold and hail, according to reports. Both Galveston and Houston reported a slackening of cotton receipts, although shipments showed a substantial increase. Grain receipts in five of the principal markets showed corn gain of 51 per cent, and oats 18 per cent. Grain prices on local markets moved upward during the month.

Ranges greened rapidly throughout the district, and the spring movement of fat stock to market began briskly during the latter part of March, the report said. Quotations at Fort Worth were irregular, and the close of the month saw prices sagging under the spring movement. The month's supply of sheep and hogs was the heaviest of the year. Buyers from outside markets enjoyed competition at Fort Worth.

Reports from thirty-five mills in the district show them to be about three weeks behind with their orders, and the production of lumber is making fair headway, according to the review, in catching up with the demand. The last half of the month brought a moderate but general decline in prices, with flooring registering the biggest drop, it going from $15 to $95 per thousand. Public demand for lumber showed no abatement, and this is expected, the review said, to stiffen prices later on.

MOTHER AND LITTLE SON PRAISE TANLAC

Mrs. Nellie Peck Says Her Well Day Until He Began Taking Tanlac—Well and Strong Little Boy Never Had a

MRS. NELLIE PECK, of Kansas City, Mo.

"Will never be able to pay the debt of gratitude I owe to Tanlac for what it has done for my little boy and me," said Mrs. Nellie Peck, No. 1421 Charlotte street, Kansas City, recently.

"My little boy, Curtis, is fourteen years old and never in his life had he seen a well day until he began taking Tanlac. I worried and worried over his condition, but in spite of everything I could do he didn't seem to gain any strength and was weak and delicate practically all his life. He seemed to have a very weak stomach. It just looked like he couldn't eat anything and digest it like other children.

He had no appetite at all and what little he did eat seemed to sour on his stomach. Sometimes his heart would palpitate terribly and he would get so dizzy he could hardly walk and as I stood and looked at him I thought he would surely fall over. He would have bad headaches and was nervous and could never sleep well at night. At school he was never able to keep up his work and he had to stay out a great deal on account of poor health.

"I had heard so much about Tanlac I decided to try it and see if it wouldn't help him. Well, you just can't imagine how overjoyed I was when he began to improve! I kept right on giving him the medicine until now it is hard for me to believe he is better than ever before in his life and he is bright and playful all the time and he enjoys going out and playing with other boys. He has a splendid appetite and I let him eat anything he wants. He is not the least bit nervous any more and is asleep as soon as he goes to bed. In fact, he is perfectly well in every way.

"After seeing what Tanlac did for him I began taking it myself as I have been suffering from stomach trouble, headaches and dizziness for five years. Since taking this grand medicine I am now happy to say that I never suffer any more with these troubles.

"Tanlac has been one of the greatest blessings that ever came into our home and I expect to praise it as long as I live."

Tanlac is sold in Ranger by Phillips Bros. and in Eastland by Butler Drug Co.—Advertisement.

Harper Sues For Building; Wants $50,000

Special to the Times. EASTLAND, April 27.—C. J. Harper of Ranger has filed a suit against H. Berger and H. E. Sporer for title and possession of the seventy-two-room Harper building at Ranger. He alleges his right to the recovery of damages in the sum of $50,000 for the wrongful detention of the house by the defendants.

FIVE SMALL BOYS FOUND WITH JUNK; ALL VOW TO BE GOOD

Book Parrish of the police department took into custody yesterday afternoon five boys ranging in age from 8 to 12 years who were found with a wagonload of cuff valves and other pipe line accessories they had picked up in the Texas & Pacific yards. The boys when arrested were on the eve of selling the stuff to a junk dealer. They claimed when first arrested, according to the police department, that the pipe material they had in their possession was given them, but later the oldest boy acknowledged that they had stolen it. After a lecture by Chief of Police Parrish and a warning of what would happen to them if they came to the station again, the boys, after fearful promises, were released.

CITY WILL MAKE TRIAL OF COMMUNITY BUYING

WATERBURY, Conn., April 27.—Experiments in community buying are to be tried through the assistance of public spirited citizens, and based almost entirely on the excellent record of a public market which was maintained for a six months' period last year. The public market was more or less an exchange place for farm and garden products. The value of commodities exchanged was placed by an agent of the United States department of agriculture at more than $1,000,000. In August, 1919, alone, $292,000 worth of food was sold at prices under the current list which governed retail dealers.

SANITARY SERVICE RATES CHANGED

The sanitary service people of Ranger have asked that it be stated that in the business district of the city the price of sanitary work would not be changed, but in the residence districts, where it is possible for house owners to connect with the sewer, the price would be lowered to 75 cents per service. Where no sewer connections are possible, the price will be lowered to 50 cents per service.

BREEDEN'S RHEUMATIC COMPOUND SAVED WOMAN'S LIFE

Mrs. Daisy Harrell of Winfall, N. C., says: "In the year of 1916 I was down all the year with rheumatism. I went to three of four different doctors, and none of them did me any good, so one of my friends recommended Breeden's Rheumatic Compound. I began taking it and after I had taken down to the trial mark on the bottles I found a great deal of relief, and after I had taken four bottles I was perfectly well of rheumatism. "I highly appreciate and recommend Breeden's Rheumatic Compound for I believe that it saved my life. I cannot say words of thanks enough for it." Rheumatism is usually very painful. Breeden's Rheumatic Compound will give you quick relief from pain, although it contains no narcotics nor anything harmful. It will not hurt your stomach, you can eat your regular diet while taking the medicine; you do not have to use other medicines in connection with it to get good results. It is not recommended for all the ills of the human family and does not contain medicines for different diseases but it is a preparation for rheumatism, therefore, it has no equal in the treatment of this ailment. It gives quick relief where others fail. It is supreme in its field. It is not high priced. Try a bottle today. Sold by Ranger Drug Co., Ranger, Texas.—Adv.

AMERICAN IS ELECTED TO POST IN COUNCIL GOVERNING SHANGHAI

SHANGHAI, March 20.—(By Mail).—Seven British citizens, one Japanese and one American comprise the municipal council of the international settlement of Shanghai as a result of the recent election by taxpayers here. Sterling Fessenden, of a local law firm, is the American member, Dr. S. A. Ransom, the other nominee, having been defeated. A total of 883 votes were cast, the smallest number since 1913. Under a body composed of sixteen foreign counsels the municipal council of Shanghai governs a community of about three-quarters of a million people of whom about 25,000 are foreigners. Vigorous efforts of Chinese residents within the settlement boundaries, who pay roughly 85 per cent of the revenues, to obtain representation on the municipal council have thus far failed, though this question again is to come up for decision in the course of the year. The right of foreign residents of the settlement to vote in municipal election is determined by the payment of taxes on property.

GAS PLANT EXPLODES - KILLING ONE WORKMAN; SIX OTHERS INJURED

By Associated Press. DES MOINES, Iowa, April 27.—One man was killed and six others were probably fatally injured today in an explosion which destroyed and set afire the local gas plant. Buildings throughout the entire city were shaken. Plants dependent upon gas as fuel are at a standstill today.

ZONING FOR WOMEN MEETS OPPOSITION

By Associated Press. AUSTIN, April 27.—Efforts to divide the state into zones with different scales of minimum wage for women and children, to be controlled by conditions found in each zone, will be opposed by labor interests in the state, T. C. Jennings, commissioner of the department of labor, declares. The industrial welfare commission failed recently to agree upon a minimum wage scale for women and children and asked Governor Hobby to submit the matter to the legislature. Employers, Commissioner Jennings said, do not favor the proposed plan of fixing a flat wage rate for women and child labor employees. They said to contend that living conditions vary in different parts of the state.

RED BAND IS MARK OF SALVATION ARMY

Mrs. E. S. Comer, wife of Captain Comer of the Salvation Army, said today that as some contributions intended for the Salvation Army seemed to have gone elsewhere, she wished it announced that all Salvation Army representatives wear red hat bands, marked plainly with the words, "Salvation Army." Persons desiring to contribute to assist in the work of the Salvation Army, she said, should observe the bands worn by those to whom they give money. Captain Comer is at present on business in San Antonio.

MANY TEXAS SOLDIERS DROP WAR INSURANCE

By Associated Press. AUSTIN, April 27.—Of 174,000 Texas soldiers who carried war risk insurance while in the service only 19,007 are protected by this insurance at the present time, according to Frank Soape, field representative of the war risk bureau. The total government insurance carried by ex-service men in Texas totals $207,252,840, Mr. Soape announced. Ex-service men who have permitted their insurance to lapse can renew their protection if they act before July 1, Mr. Soape declares. He advised the former fighters to confer with local officers of the American Legion and officials of the Red Cross for advice in this connection.

The postoffice department has advertised for bids for carrying the mail from this city to Necessity. The trip will be made six days in the week. A bond of $4,000 is required. All bids must be received on or before May 17 to be considered. Details concerning the requirements necessary to acceptance of a contract may be obtained at the local post office. A main route from here to Necessity has been established some time. The new postoffice building under construction on Elm street will not be ready for occupancy before May 15 and possibly not until June 1, J. F. Connell, local postmaster, stated today. Delay in securing material has held up the work at times. The building is being constructed by McManus and Parton. When completed it will compare favorably with any post office building in West Texas.

SHOE FACTORY STOPS FOR SMOKING PERIOD TO SPUR PRODUCTION

By Associated Press. MARLBORO, Mass., April 27.—Regular smoking and chatting periods have been introduced at a local shoe factory in an effort to increase efficiency. Several ideas eliminating unnecessary processes have been adopted and other suggestions aimed at time saving are being tried out. Some of the operatives, it is said, do not take kindly to the experiments and were wondering dubiously what the next attempt of the management to obtain a short-cut to production would be. It came in unexpected form and employees are now discussing the latest idea over their pipes and knitting "on the company's time." Their speculation over the next efficiency plan was answered by the following announcement: "Production must be increasing tomorrow, operations will be suspended twice daily to allow operatives to rest." During these periods, which begin at 10 in the morning and 3 in the afternoon, the power of the plant is shut off and the wheels are stopped while the men smoke and the women chat or knit. Then the whirr of machinery begins and the workers return to their task of making shoes.

MID-TEX GAS CO. CASINGHEAD PLANT UNDER CONSTRUCTION

Ten to twelve million feet of the gas production on the Barker Heirs tract of the Gates Oil company will be utilized by a new casinghead plant under construction for the Mid-Tex Gas company. It will be one of the largest since plants in this section, according to T. S. Williams, president of the company. He expects that it will be completed and in operation within five weeks. Other plants will be constructed later. The absorption and compression method is used and the daily capacity of the plant will be between 7,000 and 8,000 gallons, according to Williams' estimate.

CANDIDATES TELL COUNTY PLATFORMS

Many Speak or Announce Themselves at Citizens' Meeting at Carbon

Special to the Times. EASTLAND, April 27.—It is evident that political campaigning in Eastland county has been placed on a new footing because of the new conditions. The people of Carbon on last Friday night inaugurated a brand new way of having the candidates do their electioneering. The political "pow-wow" down there was held in the Baptist tabernacle and all the candidates were invited by the Carbon people and nearly all candidates were present. The meeting had pep and zest in it. Rev. P. D. O'Brien was chairman and the house was well filled with people, anxious to see and hear the candidates. J. A. Russell made his announcement for state senator for this senatorial district. His speech indicated that he expects to put energy in his campaign and his discussion of conservation and economical disposition of public funds and his further declaration that he favored the exercise by the state exclusively of those functions that properly belong to the state government was applauded by the audience. Elzo Been wants to be district judge and promised to give a vigorous and effective administration of the duties of that office. His speech was well received. The event of the evening was the discussion by the candidates for county attorney. G. G. Hazel came first and after explaining the change in the law that made him do the duties formerly performed by a district attorney discussed at some length what his office had done since last July, and asked the people for their endorsement for a second term if they thought him worthy. He spoke of his assistants and gave a summary of the results of prosecutions in the justice courts and in the district court. A. V. Pendleton of Ranger announced that he desired the votes of the people for county attorney, and after giving many facts concerning his life and professional career, boldly stated that if elected county attorney he would see to it that gambling, high-jacking and crooks would be run out of the county. His speech had some telling points. W. V. Dunnam, who is entitled to the credit of initiating the meeting, made an eloquent and effective speech among his friends and homebodies. He went in detail into the record of the present county attorney, giving detailed facts of convictions, of pleas of guilty, not guilty, and dismissals on motion of the state. He promised a vigorous enforcement of the laws relative to gambling in Desdemona, Ranger and other places, and to rid the county of whiskey stills. He would have forfeitures on bail bonds made final and collect the money due the county on such forfeitures. Persons charged with felonies would receive vigorous prosecution at his hands. Other candidates who made announcements are as follows: Judge Starvos, for county judge of commissioners' court. Joe Jones, for judge of the county court at law. John H. Moore, for sheriff. Wiley C. Hittson, for sheriff. Sam Nolly for sheriff. Earl Bender, for county clerk. Ed Prichard, for treasurer. John S. Hart, for tax collector. Oscar Lyvela, for tax assessor. Mrs. Barbara A. Singleton is appraiser for a Cleveland firm that buys and sells mill sites.

Skovgaard the Violinist Plays Here Night May 1

This company has been highly endorsed by the press of the country. The concert company, while composed of grand opera artists will include many lighter numbers, both vocal and instrumental, in their offerings. The Mothers' club is giving the concert to forward their efforts to obtain funds for the recreation equipment of the schools.

NO MOTOR NUMBERS, REASON FOR CARS BEING SEIZED, SAID

In connection with the arrest of Ralph Benson, owner of the Mission garage, Sunday morning, Harry Hoag today said that "Saturday night two cars were found in this garage, one with the motor number removed and the other badly mutilated." According to Officer Hoag the cars were offered for sale without the numbers, which is a violation of the state law governing the sale of cars. The two cars were taken to the police station and are still in the custody of the department, pending investigation. Hoag stated that the arrest of Benson occurred upon Officers going to the Mission garage to investigate another case. He was released Sunday afternoon. Officers of the Ranger Auto and Accessory Dealers' association have stated that they have taken no action in the matter.
