AMERICANS IN MEXICO ASK FOR WARSHIPS

TEAM WORKERS GO OVER WITH A BANG ON THIRD DAY OF C. OF C. DRIVE

Over with a bang! On a rush of enthusiasm that mounted in pitch as team by team reported, the workers in the Greater Ranger Chamber of Commerce campaign carried the drive over the top at the team luncheon this afternoon.

The mark stood at 1,601 when the teams started to report. Number needed, 399. When team by team piled in its new members, and the total for the day and for the entire campaign mounted, the cheers grew in volume.

With two teams yet to report, five members were needed. The gang held its breath. The captain of the next to the last team was called on.

"One," he answered, and a half groan arose.

"W. P. Rourke," called Bob Hodges.

"Four!" shouted Rourke. "It was just the number needed."

Whoop! Cheers, beating of knives on tables, whistles and "The Gang's All Here." The goal was reached. Two thousand members, $50,000 annual budget!

Executive committees, headed by E. B. Reid, J. E. Milford, H. S. Cole, Ed Malice and Ralph Stockman, added another sixty-nine, bringing the budget to $51,725.

None of the biggest companies, oil operators and supply houses, which have had to refer their quotas to central offices, have been heard from, it was pointed out.

The work of putting Ranger's campaign across has been borne by Ranger business men and moderate sized interests.

Bob Lincoln, erstwhile plumbing contractor, who made the success of the team luncheons possible, came in for his credit after the report was in.

He was given a rising vote of appreciation, a song, three cheers and "Who's All Right?" Bob dropped all his work to put over the first get-together Monday and the succeeding luncheons.

A final get together of the team workers will be held at the G-anger

OKLAHOMA GOVERNOR ATTENDS HEARING ON BOUNDARY DISPUTE

Governor Robertson of Oklahoma was one of the large group of state officials from Oklahoma and Texas which attended the hearing before the United States supreme court on the famous Red River Red case. The dispute concerns the boundary line between Oklahoma and Texas and has been standing for years. It has become more acute because of the discovery of oil in the river bed. The photo of Governor Robertson and his staff was taken while the hearing was on.

NEED OF PROTECTION DURING REVOLT URGED, U. S. MAKING INQUIRY

WASHINGTON, April 23.—American government representatives in Mexico have asked for the dispatch of warships to that country to protect American citizens and their property.

Requests came from Mazatlan and Topolobampo, on the Pacific coast, and Frontera, on the gulf coast.

Officials of the state, war and navy departments are investigating these requests, explaining that in times of disturbances in the southern republic it is not unusual to receive requests for warships when there is no need for them.

FOSSIL FOUND IN EASTLAND GRAVEL PIT

Workers Uncover Remains of Some Gigantic Prehistoric Animal.

EASTLAND, April 23.—The fossil remains of some prehistoric animal was found Wednesday about a mile and a quarter from the court house at Eastland.

While digging gravel, men working for the Muller Sand and Gravel company uncovered the jawbone of some monster of bygone days. What kind of an animal used these jawbones has not been established.

The bone was broken and each piece of the jaw was nearly as big as the head of a horse. Some of the teeth that remained in place would seem to establish the fact that the animal lived on vegetation.

Caillaux, Former French Premier, Gets Prison Term

PARIS, April 23.—A sentence of three years' imprisonment was imposed today upon former Premier Joseph Caillaux, convicted in the high court of the senate yesterday of commerce and correspondence with the enemy during the war.

ROB JEWELER BY BREAKING SHOW WINDOW

Thieves Then Steal Hats to Replace Headgear Lost in Flight.

Three burglars, who broke the glass of the window in the building of the U. S. Loan company at 125 Austin street with a brick wrapped in a sack last night, cleaned the window of watches, pins and safety razors, then left the place in a sudden hurry.

Detective Johnson, who happened to be in that section, heard the window crash and fired thirteen times at the men as they were running away.

One of them ran out from under his hat, which is now at the police station. However, it seems as though they could not be worried by a little matter like that. Since about the same hour the window of Weiss Brothers at the corner of Elm and Rusk streets was smashed and two hats taken. Nothing else in the window was molested.

'At the Leading Amusement Houses TODAY

LIBERTY—Wm. Farnum in "A TALE OF TWO CITIES."

LONE STAR—Doris May and Douglas MacLean in "Mary's Ankle."

LAMB—Bert Lytell in "THE RIGHT OF WAY."

OPERA HOUSE—High class musical comedy and "THE THIRD WOMAN."

HIPPODROME—Pioneer Girls present "CABARET NITE," also several vaudeville acts and pictures.

QUEEN—Bryant Washburn in "SOMETHING TO DO."

OPERA HOUSE.

Treats of Society.
 "The Third Woman" which is closing today at the Opera House after a successful run of two days, starts with a society atmosphere, telling of the love affair of Luke Haliday, graduate of an Eastern college, and a beautiful heiress. Later the scene shifts to the great outdoors where the theme is continued with backgrounds of the desert and a Pueblo village.

Caryle Blackwell, Louise Lovely and Gloria Hope are prominent members of the all-star cast on this picture, which is a Robertson-Cole entertainment. Others in the cast are Frank Lanning, Mayne Kelso, Winter Hall, George Hernandez, Myrtle Owen and Walter Long.

LONE STAR.

MacLean a Cure for Bites, But Not for "Mary's Ankle."
 The fair ankle of Doris May, who with Douglas MacLean is appearing in Thomas H. Ince pictures, received a warm reception that it did not exactly appreciate during the filming of "Mary's Ankle," the photoplay which is coming to the Lone Star theater today. According to the plot, Mr. MacLean is an impetuous young doctor without funds and without patients. Though unmarried, he has sent out announcements of his wedding in order to beguile a promised fortune from a wealthy uncle. The uncle is coming to produce a spouse, is manic stricken. At the psychological moment a pretty girl sprains her ankle in front of his office. Out he rushes and carries her in. He rubs balm into the injured member. And here's where the fun came in. No sooner had Mr. MacLean started to apply the remedy to Miss Mary's ankle, while the cameras clicked merrily, than the latter sprang to her feet with an exclamation of pain.

 "My foot is on fire!" she cried.
 Mr. MacLean started in alarm. Then he looked at the balm bottle in his hand. "Under no circumstances rub the liquid into the skin," he read.

QUEEN.

Sandow's Partner.
 Motion picture fans must greet another favorite in the person of Harry V. Meter, who is to be seen in support of Harry Carey in his west Universal feature, "A Gun Fighting Gentleman," announced at the Queen theater.

Mr. Meter, who was renowned for his strength while traveling as a partner of the famous Sandow, and gained skill in the saddle when he served with Roosevelt's Rough Riders in the Spanish American war, is the ideal actor for western roles, for in addition to his athletic skill he has the dramatic ability of the actor. He has appeared with many New York dramatic productions, played in the famous Elitch Stock Company of Denver, and was for three years heavy and character actor with the Alcazar Stock company in San Francisco.

He was born in Missouri, but the family moved to Denver while Harry was an infant, and he received his education in the Colorado metropolis. However, he went back to his native state for a wife, marrying a popular St. Louis society girl.

LIBERTY.

William Farnum in "Tale of Two Cities."
 The plot and characters of Charles Dickens' "Tale of Two Cities" is faithfully portrayed in the picture now being shown at the Liberty with William Farnum in the leading role.

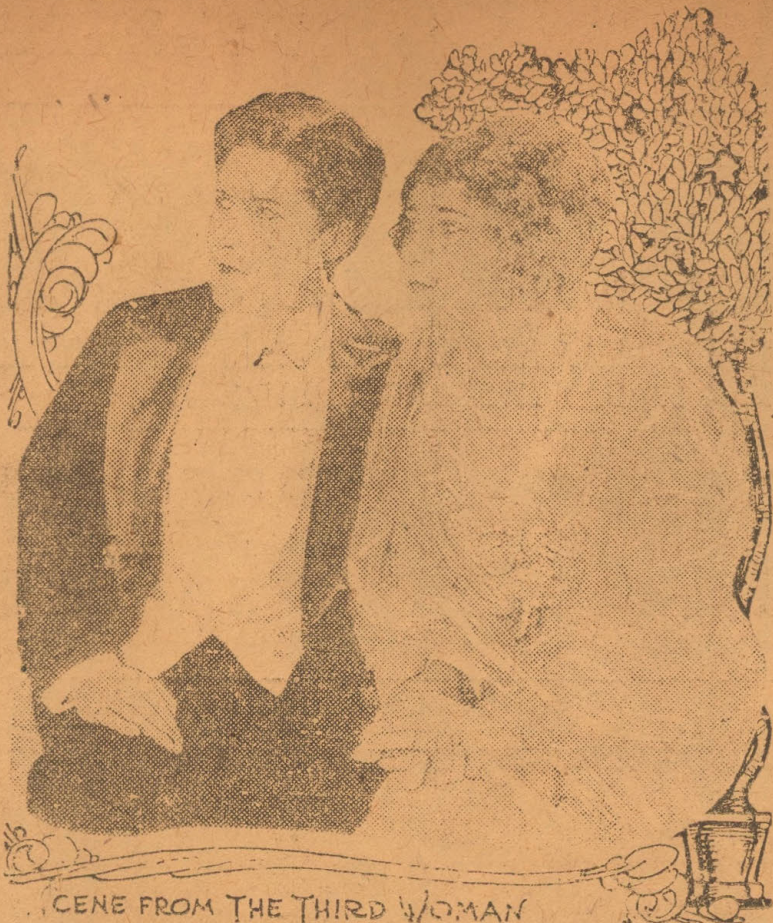

To carry the story forward many historical points of London and France have to be reproduced. The French Bastille with its grim walls surrounded by the moat is depicted with soldiers slowly training its walls guarding those within, many of whom are living their days out in its dungeons. The French peasants are shown capturing the bastille after being oppressed until human endurance can bear no more.

Many dramatic moments are staged. Some are so real, as in the case of the carriage of a noble running down a peasant girl, that it is wondered if it is not real instead of acting.

Throughout the play a love story runs that has an appeal that brings to mind the old adage that "All the world loves a lover."

RANGER POLICE GET STOLEN AUTOMOBILE AND MAN WITH IT

Fast work on the part of the Ranger police resulted in the recovery within a day of an automobile stolen from the Loville-Maher Motor Co., from in front of the Liberty theater Wednesday night. It was recovered at DelCon, and the man who is said to have taken it was arrested.

LITTLE BLACK BOY SHAKES MEAN FOOT; GATHERS IN DIMES

Dances come and go, new shows are tried out, attain success and fade into the background of forgotten things, but the typical negro backstreet endures forever. The honors in buck dancing belong to a good negro dancer.

In the Hotel Theodore this morning a negro boy, about twelve years of age, entertained a crowd of baseball players and fans from Gorman. Another negro furnished the music for the occasion.

The boy gave such a classy performance that players showered him with quarters and half dollars. He picked these up and pocketed them without once losing step.

An overall club 100 per cent strong and including every man in the company from Agent Steffens down to the janitor was formed.

"I like 'em," said Mr. Steffens. "They're cooler for one thing, and again they're not expensive."

ASSESSMENT WORK FOR 1920 IS BEGUN

STOP HEADACHE REMOVE CAUSE

Your Money Back While You Wait at Counter if Aspirinal Elixir Does Not Relieve in Two Minutes; Absolutely Safe.

You can save half an hour or more of headache pain by taking the new Aspirinal Elixir instead of the slow acting tablets that have to wait so long to be digested and absorbed. Aspirinal being liquid acts almost instantly and is prescribed by the doctors for the reason that it is not dangerous to the heart.

The next time you have a headache go to your nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspirinal and tell him to serve you two teaspoonsful in a little water. With your watch in hand count off two minutes and call for your money back, as per manufacturer's guarantee, if you can't feel your headache fading away within the time limit.

Doctors recommend and druggists guarantee Aspirinal because they know it acts so much quicker, without the slightest danger to the heart and because it removes the cause of bilious and sick headaches by its gentle action on the liver. Aspirinal corrects biliousness and constipation thereby preventing the return of your headache next day. All druggists invite and expect you to try Aspirinal, so don't be bashful. Everybody is doing it. Same guarantee applies to colds, coughs and neuralgia. Adv.

The Woman Who Saw

Matchless "Halves."

The woman swayed herself into the first seat of the trolley car and watched the Broadway stores slip by. She tried hard not to feel the little side bench dig into her knees and presently sharp tones behind her took her mind entirely from both stores and painful knees, and she gave herself up to eavesdropping.

"He's the queerest man for a good man I ever saw."

"Well, he's just like my husband," answered another voice.

"He can't be; there's only one like him in the world," the first voice returned to the attack. "Just listen to this:

"We were going down to that new moving picture theater last night. He made me have dinner at 6 o'clock and then he hurried so that he dripped the salad dressing on his new necktie. He grumbled at that all through the dessert and hurried me so that I poured coffee all over the table cloth his mother sent us for Christmas. He followed me into the bedroom and growled that we'd be sure to miss the curtain-raiser, and all the way down in the car he scolded because I had forgotten a handkerchief and had to take one of his—he had three.

"We got to the theater in plenty of time. They were just opening the doors. To get for the tickets first in one pocket and then another, fusing and fuming. At last he admitted he had left them home. I laughed; if I hadn't I'd have cried.

"Out he hustled me and back the way we had come, all in stony silence. There were the tickets on his bureau. He took them up furiously and took himself off to bed, mumbling, 'the next time' he took me out, I'd know it, and it was 'a crime for any woman to make a man miss a good show!'

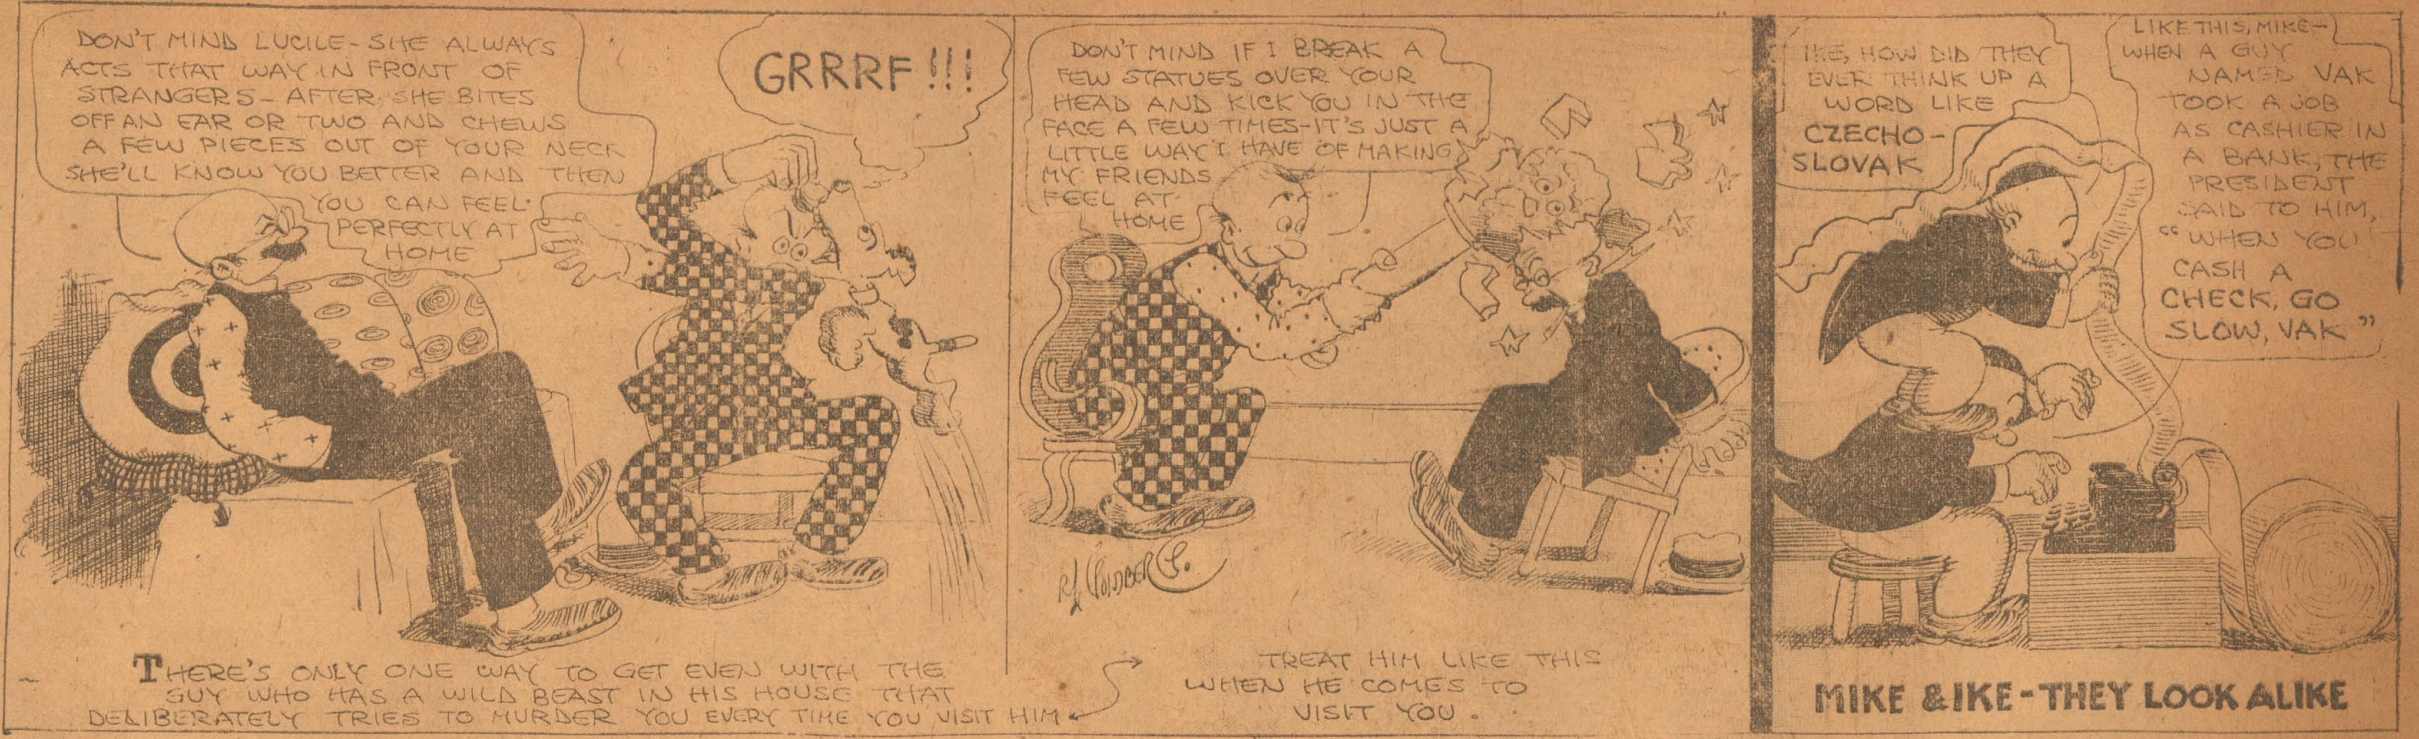

Unhappily, the woman had reached her corner.

GENERAL HINES' DAUGHTER LATEST BUD AT CAPITAL

THERE'S ONLY ONE WAY TO GET EVEN WITH THE GUY WHO HAS A WILD BEAST IN HIS HOUSE THAT DELIBERATELY TRIES TO MURDER YOU EVERY TIME YOU VISIT HIM

Baffled!

In a little shop on upper Broadway the woman found just the taffeta dress that she needed for an emergency call, and wonder of wonders! the price was within her reach. The blond salesgirl was all for trying it on right in the front of the store and expressed voluble surprise at the woman's predilection for the seclusion of a dressing room. "They don't notice the customers," and she indicated two carpenters constructing a show case in the rear of the shop. Through the plate glass window the woman glanced at the passing throng not six feet from where she stood and firmly repaired her request for a dressing room, and the baffled clerk led the way to a curtained recess and watched while the woman slipped out of her blue serge. "Well, I can't see why you were so particular about coming in here," she ejaculated. "You're clean!"

Pluck, Not Luck.

Like other passengers on the elevated at that particular moment, the man in brown was engrossed in an evening newspaper. But an intensity of concentration differentiated him. He was reading the paper as if it were a matter of vital importance, a duty not to be lightly considered.

As the woman watched, she saw him reach into the pocket of his overcoat and extract a small dictionary. This he hastily consulted, and losing as little time as possible, again slipped it in its hiding place and continued his self-imposed task. It was not long before Mr. Webster was again consulted, and the paper for a second time resumed. The realization of the magnitude of self-education and the force of character involved suddenly broke upon the woman.

"That is why foreigners get ahead so quickly in America," she heard a neighbor whisper.

And the woman found herself saying to the stranger at her elbow, who like herself had become interested in this tentative American citizen: "Yes, I used to call it luck, but now I know it's pluck that gets them there."

It's New York.

She has just recently moved to New York from Dixie and lives in a charming apartment house on the drive, at what fabulous sum per month the woman dares not even imagine. As they took tea together the other afternoon in her sunny living room and reminisced about days of old, the woman commented upon the absolute quiet of the place.

"So you notice it too," the hostess rejoined. "When I came here, having never before lived in an apartment, I expected to be bothered by crying babies and romping children. Not a sound disturbed me, and even the court rooms were free from noise. Then one day I commented on the quiet to Matilda, the telephone girl. Matilda glanced up from her switchboard to put her elaborate coffee and switch her gum to a position convenient for utterance. Then she explained laconically. "That's easy," she said. "You see you live on the dog side. The children all on the odd number side. Since then," laughed the hostess, as she refilled the tea-bell, "I've felt like a real New Yorker. The dog side? Imagine it!"

Just Like Home.

It was a busy wife and the woman should have hung up. But the opening words of the conversation she had interrupted were interesting, and she listened in with rapt attention.

"Yes, Sadie," came in muffled accents, "as I was telling you, Moe went to Atlantic City for the convention and I went with him. A grand time we had. Sure, the place was crowded, but what do you expect? That's what I always like. I ain't for no dead place with nothin' doin'." Moe and I soon almost every one we knew, and I met lots of the wives who were with their husbands. Such clothes, Sadie, and such styles! It was wonderful! Why, on the Boardwalk you could chust think you was in Harlem! Christ like Seventh avenue on a Sunday afternoon. Ah, it was grand!"

WALKING STICK'S BUILT TO CARRY JUST A WEEE DROP

"I have been working for Liberalism for years," said Mr. Gallichan, "but I have been able to enter the Liberal club only through the invitation of a man. Women political workers should be equals with men."

THE VALUE OF SPIRIT.

A chamber of commerce is a chamber of citizenship. It is not a mere E. Wilson, of the American Chamber of Commerce Building Office in New York.

Its primary function is to make the people think. When the public begins to think, the first step toward business prosperity has been taken.

There are a group of men in the commercial-educational organization field who still preach the doctrine that industrial prosperity is the result of which grows civic advance. They should know better, because the means of proving the absolute inter-relationship of good business and good civics has been in front of their eyes for ten years.

If the public is to begin thinking about its own future, this fundamental fact must be kept clearly to the front: All property values, all business values and all professional values that exist in any city are made by the spirit of its citizens.

And the converse is equally true: Whatever potential values are absent from a given community are missing because the spirit of that community has never prompted effort to procure or develop them.

"Spirit, according to Webster, is 'vigor of intellect, temper, disposition of mind, sentiment, desire, perception, animation.' In short, spirit is the prompt, lively element in thinking and it is the untold of spirit in a community that attracts and develops the kind of men that build empires and rule states. Values of all sorts—business, real estate, professional, mercantile, artistic, arise when a community of group evince the 'disposition of mind' and 'vigor of intellect' that is constantly reaching into the future for what it may bring.

In short, commerce exists solely because there are human wants to be satisfied and the word business is the name we give to the organized machinery of satisfying them. Business is not a thing by itself, divorced from everyday life; it is a part of life and every appetite of the day increases it.

If it rains frequently, the sale of rubbers and umbrellas increases, because people want dry feet and dry clothes. On the other hand, if the sun shines too fervently, the effect on the arms and necks of young ladies brings a discernible increase in the tide of money flowing into a certain eastern city where a large company makes cosmetics.

The modern chamber of commerce or community organization must predicate its long-term program of work on the great truth that "Real business progress comes from an intelligent endeavor to steadily raise the plane of living."

It is spiritual advance—an increase in enterprise, in resourcefulness, in inventiveness, in courage—that brings economic prosperity.

The organization which begins at the other end and expects to develop resourcefulness and vision after the community has become very prosperous will reap a bitter disappointment for its followers.

"Economic prosperity is an excellent and a comfortable thing, but you can't achieve it by cheap, superficial or childish community thinking."

A DOCTOR WARNS.
When one has a cold, it is the usual thing to expectorate anywhere and everywhere. Warning that there is danger in this comes from Dr. J. B. McKnight, superintendent of the Texas State Tuberculosis Sanatorium at Sanatorium, Tom Green county, in a communication to the Ranger Daily Times dated April 19. It comes on the eve of the great nationwide drive to check the spreading of tuberculosis and save the nation from heavy losses due to the imports of that disease, Dr. McKnight says:

"THAT LITTLE GAME" === He Who Helps Himself

"Epidemics of influenza and other respiratory diseases, as well as infection from tuberculosis, are due largely to carelessness on the part of the public in spitting, coughing and sneezing, with no precaution for the protection of those nearby. The germs of tuberculosis, common cold, catarrh, pneumonia, influenza and the like are spread in all directions practically every time one coughs, sneezes, or spits.

"Nearly everyone, though he may be well apparently, carries one or all of these germs in his mouth, throat and lungs. Coughing or sneezing without covering the face causes persons or objects to a distance of eight or ten feet to be deluged with dangerous germs, and when the spitter deposits the fecal matter from throat or lungs on the floor, sidewalk or street the first passerby may carry virulent poisonous germs into his home, affording a ready means for infection of children and susceptible adults. Our highways and byways are overlaid with this form of filth.

"Nearly all of our cities have enacted ordinances designed to prohibit public spitting, but these ordinances are not effective. Only when the spitter who moves the spittoon or does not use a spittoon cup and the cougher or sneezer who does not cover his face with his handkerchief are looked on by the public in the same light as the person who fails to observe other common social amenities may, we hope to make progress towards elimination of the respiratory diseases."

BOY, 13, "TOO LAZY TO LIVE," KILLS HIMSELF

International News Service. (UPPER MERIDIAN) Ia., April 23.—The "kicking-out" business isn't just too lazy to keep on living and shoulder the responsibilities that go with life. This note was found beside the body of George Dishon, fifteen, a high school student here the other day. A shot from a small calibre revolver had pierced his brain.

Silken Hose for Young Girls Are Condemned

International News Service. CHICAGO, April 24.—Blondes should wear brown. Brunettes should wear yellow. And flappers of 15 should never wear silk stockings to school, nor high heels. Nor should they ever wear evening gowns.

These and other salient bits of wisdom came in the all-absorbing topic, "How to Dress," now in the sixth grade of the Bruce grammar school, was called to public attention by further promotion of the lady by the school authorities. On September 9, 1919, he entered the special school here unable to speak one word of English. In four "jumps" he became a sixth grade pupil, notwithstanding the fact that he had but scant education in the Belgian schools. He saw the Germans bombard his home village for fifteen days, finally taking it. His uncle and cousin were killed by a bomb from a French plane.

They wore house dresses, school frocks, evening gowns, sport suits, and each of these she described in detail, pointing out their respective merits. "A girl of school age should have two hats for each season," said Mrs. Reid, "and her footwear should consist of one pair of low-heeled oxfords and a pair of dress shoes."

A model of sixteen illustrated the discourse of girls' attire.

644 FIRES IN 2 MONTHS IS RECORD IN KANSAS

Air Boosters of West Texas Start in June

Special to The Times.

...April 23.—Two air-boosters, a big effort to carry expert publicity and exhibits men, numerous reels of moving pictures depicting West Texas towns and counties, and exhibits from all counties desiring to participate, will leave Stamford about June 1 for a tour of all eastern, northern and southern states, including north about October 1. The advertising campaign, unique in the annals of town and county advertising, is being conducted by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The project, which will entail an expenditure of approximately $40,000, will be made possible by town and county subscriptions. If every West Texas town and county aids the movement, the expenditure will be infinitesimal to each participant.

Tons of literature descriptive of counties represented will be carried on the planes and dropped over small towns, farming communities, large cities and distributed in cities at which the planes will stop. The truck will carry agricultural, mineral and other exhibits. Many reels of moving pictures will be shown at both large and small towns, in theaters anywhere else where. West Texas will be advertised thoroughly and with the literature to be prepared, interest in the West will be stimulated and a volume of new immigration will set in.

All towns and counties in West Texas interested in the project should immediately take up their wishes with the organization's headquarters at Stamford.

GORMAN AGAIN TODAY

Pophoy Smith's lads will go around again today with Jim Galloway's scrappers, the bill starting at 4 p. m. Unless his arm is not quite right, Red Hill may be called on for duty on the mound. He looked promising yesterday.

Galloway's Triple Brings Game Back From Fire, 7 to 6

One sure cure for all of a fan's ills, even those arising from pro-German umpiring, is the crack of bat against ball in a clean drive—by one of the home boys. And when that crack comes in the last of the ninth, just like in the stories, with the home boys one run behind, and with two men on bases, and when that crack is good for three easy bases and is made by the manager himself. Boy, howdy!

Well, as they rose from their seats in the sun-warmed stand at Municipal park after Jim Galloway and his Nitros had nosed out the Gorman Buddies, 7 to 6, the fans were able to forget everything unpleasant that had happened before. It was a good game, because of its finish. The Nitros looked the best they have, because of that finish. The weather was fine, because of the finish. Even the umpire. No this thing can be carried too far.

Pophoy Smith, argumentative manager from Gorman, had the game on ice, he thought, and so announced to the stands about the sixth, when the count stood 5 to 2, Gorman.

But Jim Galloway, who was in a tripping way yesterday, found Mr. Johnson in the eighth, with one down, and his tail drive to deep center was a three-base hit. He centered when Mooney rolled one to deep short for the second out. Clopp caught hold another of Johnson's slants for two bases, to left, and Anderson walked. Then came an epidemic of pinch hitters and by his strategy, Jim put the contest on an even basis.

The batter for Shaw and walked. That filled the sacks. Then McDougal was elected pinch batsman, in place of McGown. He qualified. His drive to left went for two bases and Clopp and Anderson scored. McCormick pinch-whiffed and the inning was over. But the score was 5 all.

Red Hill, with loads of smoke, took the slab for the Nitros in the ninth. With one down, Leslie walked, and Tressett caught hold of one of Red's fast ones for a clean triple to center. Gorman, 6, Ranger 5.

It looked like a gone game again. But Lovelace got a life when Witney dropped his drive of the straight-up sort. Smith forced him out with a bunt which Smoky Pittsburg, flinging for the Buddies, handled snappily. Shires walked. The tying run was on second and the fan to win, on first.

Jim Galloway looked over a congress felled one and then caught one himself. It went to the center field barrier. The winning run came home. Jim went, as third. It was a fitting ending to a see-saw day.

NITRO NOTES

Dale, umpiring, furnished entertainment with his judgment on balls and strikes, but the real delight of the day came when he called Shires out on his single to center. The ball bounced from Tressett's glove. It took the fans and Nitros some time to understand about it, but Dale was firm, if misguided.

Tressett, in a good game try, deserved credit. The drive was a hit, falling too short for him to have a chance to play it. But after a hard sprint, he snuck out his glove and the ball hit it, before bouncing to the ground. His team-mates on the Buddies' bench gave him credit for his try, with "Hard luck, Tressy."

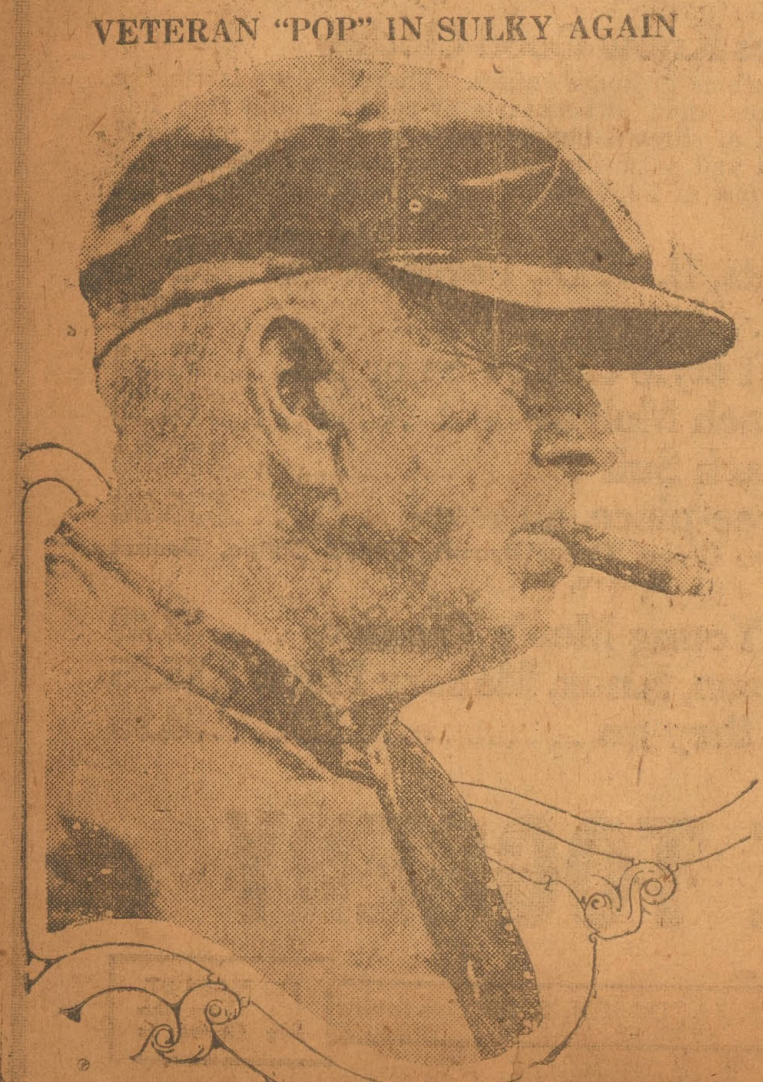

Tressett's try, which gave him a put out that was a surprise to him and Mooney's catch of Taylor's drive in the sixth, were the fielding efforts of the day. Mooney went to diet for Taylor's blow, but got it, and held it. He came up with it in his glove.

Lovelace may be credited with a good day in the field.
 Clopp, in his first appearance, got a two-base hit in two official times at bat, and a pair of walks. He handled five chances cleanly.

Johnson, who hung the game for Gorman up to the eighth, had more stuff than the Nitros could handle. He is a likely looking bloke, with a smoky fast ball, good curve, and good judgment.
 The Buddies again today.

Edward F. "Pop" Gees, "the grand old man of the sulky," will be on the job again on the Grand Circuit trotting circuit this season as he has for the last forty odd years. The hero of numerous accidents, in which he has been sorely injured, Gees is still a peppery gent and will soon be trying out his charges. He will drive for Frank G. "LITTLE MOTHER" BURNED WHILE ROCKING CRADLE
 International News Service.
 GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., April 23.—Playing with matches as she rocked the cradle of her three-month-old sister cost the life of Elsie Kloppe, three and one-half year old daughter of William Kloppe, laborer.

The girl acted as the little mother to three other children, attending to them while the father and mother, the latter a washerwoman, were at work. Neighbors heard the child's cries and found her enveloped in flames.

Unable to Walk Without Crutches

Used Two Bottles of Breeden's Rheumatic Compound and Was Completely Cured.
 Mr. W. A. Martin of Wagoncross, Ga., says: "I was a sufferer with a very bad case of rheumatism for eight years. Fully one-fourth of the time was unable to walk even with the aid of my crutches and spent about $100 trying the best physicians and various remedies but still got no relief. After using one bottle of Breeden's Rheumatic Compound I found relief and after the second bottle was completely cured. I have sold two gross or more of this remarkable medicine and have never had a single complaint from anyone using it. I consider it by far the greatest remedy to be found for the curing of rheumatism, and it should be in the hands of everyone suffering with this disease."

Rheumatism is usually very painful. Breeden's Rheumatic Compound will give you quick relief from pain, although it contains no narcotics nor anything harmful. It will not hurt your stomach; you can eat your regular diet while taking the medicine; you do not have to use other medicines in connection with it to get good results. It is not recommended for all the ills of the human family and does not contain medicines for different diseases but it is a preparation for rheumatism, therefore, it has no equal in the treatment of this ailment. It gives quick relief where others fail. It is supreme in its field. It is not high priced. Try a bottle today. Sold by the Ranger Drug Co., Ranger, Texas.—Adv.

NEBRASKA WOMAN IS HONORED BY STATE ASSEMBLY

Mrs. W. E. Barkley.

Perhaps for the first time in American history a woman took an active part and occupied a seat of honor in the state constitutional convention which has just adjourned in Nebraska. The woman is Mrs. W. E. Barkley, of Lincoln. She was given a seat of courtesy by a vote of the assembly and she was treated just like the regularly elected delegates. Her work is seen in the re-draft of the state constitution in many places.

TEXAS, FIRST IN COTTON CROP, IS AMONG FIVE LEADING STATES IN GROWING SEVEN OTHER CROPS

WASHINGTON, April 23.—Ranking first among all the states in cotton production and second in peanuts, Texas is listed by the United States department of agriculture as among the five leading states in the production of seven of the principal crops of the country. Taking each of about a score of principal crops of the United States, the department of agriculture has listed the five leading states in the production of each of these crops. Texas heads all the states in the number of crops in which production it is among the five leading states. In seven of the crops, Texas is among the five leading states. New York, Illinois and Minnesota are among the five leading states in six crops, while Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, North Dakota and Ohio rank among the five leading states in the production of four of the principal crops. According to the figures of the department of agriculture Texas in 1919 produced 27.1 per cent of all the cotton produced in the United States; 16.7 per cent of the peanuts; 7 per cent of the corn; 7.4 per cent of the oats; 17 per cent of the rice; 10.1 per cent of the sweet potatoes, and 5.5 per cent of the peaches. Texas is recorded as having leaped into prominence as one of the five leading corn producing states in 1919 by the production of 292,500,000 bushels, Iowa with 418,000,000 bushels, and Illinois with 301,000,000 bushels, alone surpassed Texas in its yield of corn, although in neither 1917 nor 1918 was Texas one of the leading states in corn production. For the first time Texas, in 1919, also achieved a place among the five leading states in the production of oats, with a total of 94,500,000 bushels. Iowa, with 196,182,000 bushels, and Illinois, with 123,000,000 bushels, alone exceeded the state. Texas was not included in the five leading oats states in neither 1918 or 1917. In rice, however, Texas dropped from second to third place. Occupying second place in both 1917 and 1918, Texas was outranked in 1919 by California, which stepped into second place, with Louisiana as usual in first place. The 1919 figures show Louisiana to have produced 19,817,000 bushels, California 7,881,000, and Texas 6,998,000 bushels.

Texas, fifth in the production of sweet potatoes in 1917, and not included among the five leading states in 1918, jumped to third place in 1919, with a production of 10,450,000 bushels, while Arizona, with 14,194,000 bushels, and Georgia, with 13,067,000 bushels, alone exceeded it. Leading in cotton production right along, Texas did not produce in 1919 as large a percentage of the entire crop of the country as in 1917, but yielded a larger percentage than in 1918. Its yield in 1917 of 3,125,000 bales was 27.6 per cent of the entire crop. In 1918 it yielded 2,697,000 bales or 22.4 per cent of the total. And in 1919 the yield of Texas was 3,065 bales, or 27.1 per cent of the total. Georgia remained second, and South Carolina third, but Oklahoma passed Arkansas and Mississippi and achieved fourth place among the cotton producing states, with a total production of 981,000 bales. Texas was second in the production of peanuts in 1917, dropped to fifth place in 1918 but got back into second place in 1919, with an output of 5,550,000 bushels. Alabama, with 6,540,000 bushels, stood first, and Virginia, with 5,282,000 bushels, was a close competitor of Texas for second place. In 1917 Texas was not one of the leading states in the production of peaches. In 1918 it reached fourth place and in 1919 this position was maintained, though with an increased production. California, with 34.9 per cent of the entire crop; Georgia with 11.7 per cent and Arkansas with 7.2 per cent, exceeded Texas with its 5.5 per cent of the total crop. The bushels produced were 2,769,000 in 1919 and 2,333,000 in 1918.

BIG INCREASE IN IOWA SUGAR BEET GROWING

MASON CITY, Iowa, April 23.—The sugar beet acreage of northern Iowa promises to be more than doubled for the growing season of 1920 over that of 1919, according to the general survey in this part of the state. Iowa's sugar beet acreage has been something less than 10,000. Mill capacity is also increased, three mills operating in this section instead of the single one which operated last year. These mills are at Mason City, Belmond and Waverly. That at Waverly has been idle for a half dozen years.

PROPOSE DENIM DRESSES FOR LOUISVILLE WOMEN

MIDDLESBORO, Ky., April 23.—Louisville & Nashville railroad employees have begun the organization of an overall club here. The membership includes also about one-fourth of the business and professional men of the city. In contrast to the action of merchants in Birmingham, Alabama, who will oppose the plan, merchants here are boosting it, and competing for the biggest volume of overall business. The women have undertaken to organize a Denim club, the members of which will be asked to wear denim dresses.

Horace Soule, recently elected post commander of the Desdemona post, Peavy Price No. 110, American Legion, clearly defined the aims of the legion as he saw them "for law and order and decent men in office" in a talk at the meeting of the Carl Barnes post last night. Mr. Soules, with M. Vandervoort, Williams and Manoil, all of the Desdemona post, were visitors at the Ranger legion.

The board of trustees was authorized by the legion to take steps for new quarters and it was agreed that while new quarters were sought the employment bureau would be maintained at 220 Pine street, while advantage would be taken of the city's generous offer of the second floor of the fire station to keep the band instruments and for rehearsals.

Diff Clancy of Shamrock park, offered the use of the dance pavilion at the park for the weekly meetings of the legion. He also spoke of "Legion Day," which will be given at Shamrock park, sometime in the middle of the season, with legion men in charge, proceeds to go to the legion.

Valiant 300 in Weatherford Work on Streets

WEATHERFORD, Texas, April 23.—Weatherford's streets were given a complete overhauling last Wednesday, with about 300 men, acting under the direction of the Y. M. C. A. and the city commission, spent the day in working the streets. Dinner was served the workers by the various ladies' clubs of the city, in the court house, and the men ate with as much vigor as they worked.

Parker county has secured an additional $40,000 to be spent on her east and west highway which is her part of the Bankhead highway. This money is coming from the highway commission and was awarded by the action of the commissioners court in complying with some certain condition. There is to be spent $340,000 on the highway through this county. Besides the building of the highway through this county several thousand dollars are to be spent in improving our country roads, the first step being the completing of the highway.

Work on paving the streets of Weatherford has been resumed after a delay caused by shortage of material.

The scholastic census of the city has been completed and there are a total of 1,709 pupils within the age limit. Of this number 66 are negroes, which is a slight decrease over last year. There was a gain of 151 pupils over last year.

FOUR MORE ENGINES NOW ON WAY HERE FOR RANGER RAILROAD

Four locomotive engines are on the way here to be used on the Wichita Falls, Ranger and Fort Worth railroad. Six engines are now at work on the road, four running out of Ranger and two out of Dublin.

Freight and passenger services will be extended to Dublin by May 1, officials state.

EASTLAND, April 23.—Eastland county has secured the maximum aid for the construction of the new road system that a county can get from the state and from the federal funds. This coupled with the $4,500,000 that was amount that has been promised when secured from the bond issue will make a total of $4,700,000 that will be available for the construction of the roads.

County Judge C. R. Starnes has returned from a meeting with the state highway commissioners and announced that he had been promised $100,000 from the state and $100,000 federal aid.

Eastland county will have to build the roads and then will send the bills for $200,000 to the state commissioners, which they will honor.

The judge said that this amount had been promised sometime ago informally but that nothing had been said about it for fear that there might be some "mis-hap."

U.S. GOVERNMENT CARTRIDGE SILK, USED IN WAR, CONVERTED INTO WONDERFUL APPAREL.

Latest Styles and Designs Brought Out by Famed Costumers Show Merits of the New Fabric of Which Eleven Million Yards Are Released.

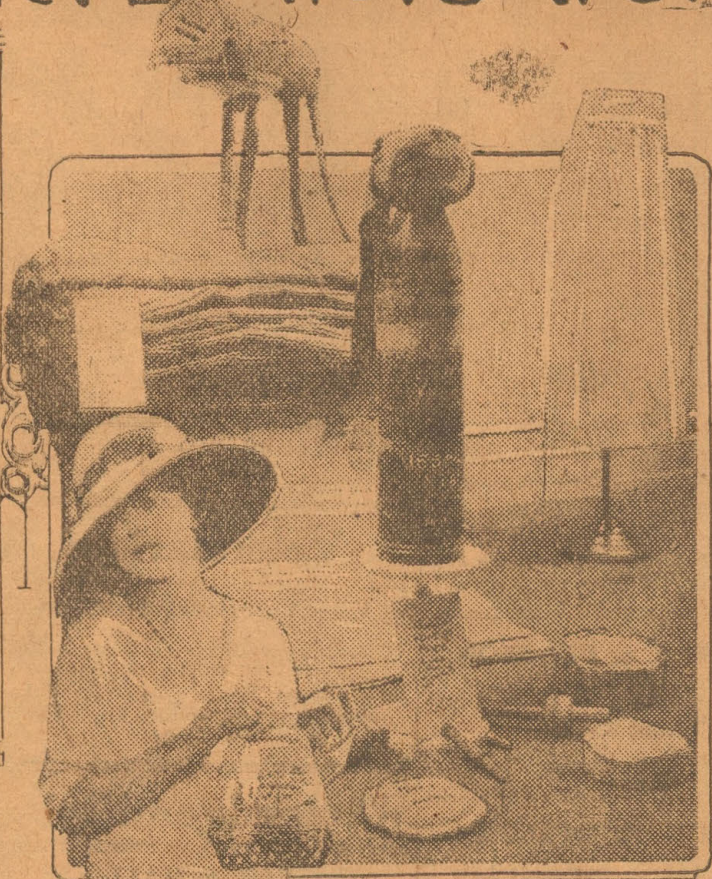

Director of Sales E. C. Morse of Washington, D. C., who has charge of the disposal of government surplus, and T. J. O'Neil, Chief of the Division of Textiles of the Ordnance Department, U. S. Army, could scarcely believe their eyes when a group of mannequins walked out on a promenade-way at a Fashion Show in New York the other day. They were clad in cartridge silk, the fabric that was used to hurl death dealing whizz-bangs toward the Fritzis.

Afternoon gowns, tailored suits, with hats to match, motor coats, boleros, lingerie, riding habits, sport suits, shirts, coats, parasols, sport shoes, all of cartridge in an infinite variety of hues and patterns, and designs created by the most exclusive and smartest Fifth Avenue dress-makers, passed in almost bewildering panorama before their eyes. Children's gowns, dresses, and coats

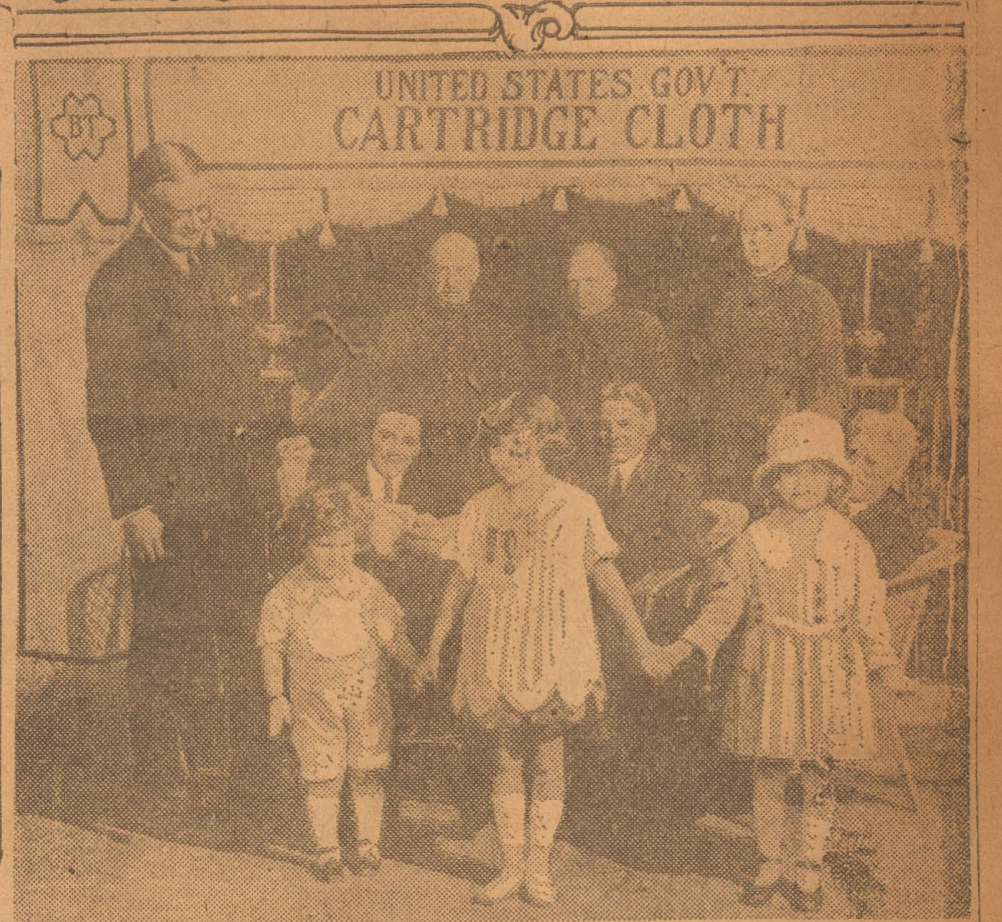

It was the first Fashion and Style Show given in the Bush Terminal Sales Building, New York, to demonstrate the many uses of United States government cartridge silk. Living models displayed the garments in a setting of upholstered furniture, lamps, tapestries, table scarfs, bed spreads, pillows, waste baskets, and draperies, all made of or upholstered in cartridge silk. A wonderful array of apparel ranging from delicate lingerie to suits for roughest sport wear were shown. New and fascinating were the styles especially created to show forth the fabric. Made for War Purposes. In the annals of fashion there are few more interesting stories to be recalled than the history of this fabric. It is a story which is a is an absolutely pure silk fabric, manufactured during the war for the purpose of containing powder for high explosives. Turned out at the rate of 5,000,000 square yards a month there was naturally an enormous supply of this material on hand when the Armistice was signed.

What to do with these 30,000,000 yards was a problem for which, apparently, there was no solution. The Government officials believed that since commercial silk was so expensive, and beyond the reach of most American women, a use for the new fabric worthy of its many desirable qualities should be discovered.

Wonderful work to promote the silk was done by Major W. J. Grinden, chairman of the New York District Ordnance Salvage Board. The Government officials interested Irving T. Bush of New York in their plans to put this silk before the American people. Mr. Bush, in turn, called the attention of F. A. McLane, an experienced silk manufacturer, to its possibilities. Mr. McLane directed a corps of expert silk men to the treatment of the silk. It was processed and finally a wonderful commercial textile was produced, totally unlike any other upon the market. The new fabric has a slightly rough, lustreless surface which takes the dye most beautifully, and in its natural state it is oyster white in tone. It comes in eleven prime grades and is from 36 to 72 inches wide. It has been dyed plain colors, including the pastel shades, and in many designs, including drapery and other decorative motifs.

Comes in Wonderful Colors and Designs.

The best talent in the country was called upon for ideas in color and design. Likewise, forty leading American costumers and several Parisian modistes volunteered to make up garments of the new material to demonstrate just what could be done with it. These garments have just been shown at a United States Government Cartridge Silk Fashion Show which was given in the Bush Terminal Sales Building in New York under the direction of A. Cavalli and Mrs. F. W. Hoffmann. When you look at the pictures on this page you will concede that they know something about giving a Fashion Show.

The Cartridge Silk Style Show was a wonderful success. It has proved beyond doubt that United States Government Cartridge Silk is the silk of the season. It has demonstrated that there are more than two hundred possible uses for the new fabric. It is practically indestructible. It was made to conform to rigid tests for tensile strength. The lighter and medium weights will make wonderful summer suits for men and boys. Now that prices for upholstery material have almost reached the sky, the heavier grades of government cartridge silk will prove a boon to upholsterers.

Everybody Can Wear It.

Almost eleven million yards of the silk are to be placed upon the market as a starter. A scale of wholesale prices has been fixed varying from the lightest to the heaviest weights. It is not only one of the handsomest and most durable fabrics in the world, but in the opinion of experts it is far cheaper than other fabrics of similar intrinsic values. It is all pure silk, for silk when ignited leaves no ash or flaming residue to foul the breach of a howitzer or cause a subsequent explosion.

The lighter grades will make soft outing shirts for men. The heavier grades can be used for book covers, for painter's canvas, for tents, screens, and awnings, bags, shoes, scarfs, caps, bed spreads, drapes, valances, novelties of all kinds, rompers for children made of cartridge silk will be practically popular for this year.

FIGHTS INDUSTRIAL UNREST

International News Service.
LONDON.—The British Empire union is trying to raise 250,000 pounds to fight "industrial unrest and Bolshevism," which it declares to be due to teaching false economies at labor colleges. The union believes the vast majority of workers are not revolutionary, and that if Bolshevism propaganda is met with counter blasts of truth, the menace will disappear.
The co-operation of employers, and similar organizations are asked to co-operate with labor in "removal of grievances, by promoting profit-sharing schemes, by encouragement of high wages based on production and in other ways as is done in America." Money will be used.

No 'Air Trust' Planned, Says Air Ministry

LONDON, April 23.—The report which has been circulated here that an "air trust" has been organized, consisting of representatives of the leading aircraft manufacturers, is denied by the air ministry. The report stated that the various firms in the combine had agreed to divide the work in such a manner that one group should have the sole rights to passenger traffic, another to mails, a third to "joy flights," and so on. By this means it was hoped to make civilian flying a financial success, independent of government subsidies.
"Nothing has been done in this way," said an official of the air ministry. "For one thing, it must be clearly understood that nothing can be done in the flying line without the consent of the air ministry. We oversee everything in the flying line, and certainly will never agree to any monopoly of one branch of the work by an individual corporation."
None of the concerns said to be affected would make any statement on the matter, and it is therefore thought that the proposition if ever suggested has received its deathblow from the authorities.

My Sides, Back and Head Pained Me Just All the Time," Says Alabama Lady, Who Took Cardui and Got Well.

"We had the doctor every day and he did everything he knew how, it looked like. Yet I lay there suffering such intense pains as seems I can't describe."
"Finally I said to my husband, let us try Cardui. He went for it at once, and before I had taken the first bottle the ... came back, the soreness began to go away, and I began to mend. The intense pressure seemed all at once to leave my head, and before long I was up."

America's Demand for Tobacco Still Steadily Growing

WASHINGTON, April 22.—The computed per capita consumption of tobacco in this country has been steadily gaining since 1885, according to compilations made by the bureau of crop estimates of the department of agriculture. Before that time, back in 1829, it seems to have been about .33 pounds. Following the Civil war the computed average is as low as 2 pounds, and this was followed by a climbing movement that reached 6 pounds in 1906-1914 and 8 pounds during the following four years.
Tobacco consumption in 1790, the oldest year for which it can be estimated, appears to have been nearly 20,000,000 pounds in this country. In 1917 it was 1,000,000,000 pounds, while in 1918 it dropped back to $28,000,000 rising to 914,000,000 pounds last year.
Prewar consumption was eight times this consumption of forty years ago, and in the war years apparently ten times that quantity.

Good Neighbors Fall Out Because Dogs Will Fight

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 23.—The love of T. E. Price, wealthy grain broker, for "cows and chickens and the simple life" cost him $100 and costs when arraigned before Police Court Judge Nix.
Price, who admitted having in the yard of his home practically every variety of barn-yard habitant with the exception of pigs and cows, contended that his fowl were "well bred" and didn't disturb the neighbors, as guests of the fashionable Buckingham hotel, next door to his home, contended when appearing as witnesses against him. Some of the Buckingham guests declared "Price's well bred" ducks were early risers and seemed to think themselves an alarm clock for the neighborhood, as they awoke tired sleepers as early as 4 o'clock in the morning, and that the neighborhood was further disturbed by cooings of pigeons and turmoil in the hen yards during all hours of the night.

Open New Crusade Against Spreading of 'White Plague'

International News Service.
ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 23.—In an endeavor to reduce the death rate from tuberculosis and to save the United States at least a half billion dollars annually, nearly a thousand anti-tuberculosis workers will launch this afternoon the Crusade of the Double Barred Cross, at the sixteenth annual meeting of the National Tuberculosis association, which opened here today.

For the next three days these leaders from every part of the United States, and even from the Philippine Islands and Porto Rico will discuss how the white plague can be abated. Discussions will deal with every phase of the problem. There will be presentations by the leading laboratories of the newest discoveries in research in tuberculosis, the leading physicians of the country will present papers to show the latest methods in the treatment of the disease, social workers will discuss methods and programs of the campaign and prominent laymen will offer their contribution toward the solution of the problem.

The meeting opened with an address by the president, Dr. Victor C. Vaughan, dean of the medical school of the University of Michigan, and a report of the year's work by Dr. Charles J. Hatfield, managing director of the National Tuberculosis association.

At the session this evening the advisory council, under the chairmanship of Dr. Allen W. Freeman, commissioner of the state department of public health, Columbus, Ohio, will present the program on public health nursing. Principal speakers besides Dr. Freeman will be Miss Elizabeth G. Fox, representing the American Red Cross; Dr. William J. Galivan, director of the division of tuberculosis of the Massachusetts state department of health; Dr. Robert G. Paterson, of the Ohio Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis; and Miss Katharine M. Olmsted, representing the National Organization for Public Health Nursing. This session will aim to present plans for closer cooperation between the various national and state agencies engaged in public health nursing throughout the United States.

On Friday morning the various sections of the association will meet. The clinical, pathological and sociological sections will each hold a session in morning and afternoon.

Among the principal papers to be presented at the clinical section will be one on "Differential Diagnosis," by Dr. James Alexander Miller, of New York; one on "Elimination of Tuberculosis from the Army," by Major Ralph C. Marston, of U. S. A. hospital No. 21; and one on the "Relationship of Influenza to Clinical Tuberculosis" by Dr. M. P. Sloan, of Maryland.

In the pathological section to be held in the afternoon, Dr. Lawson Brown, of Saranac Lake, will present a series of studies on the causes of tuberculosis; Dr. Paul A. Lewis of Philadelphia, will present a paper on "Essential Factors in the Resistance of Tuberculosis," and Dr. E. J. Corpe of Denver will present a paper showing the effect of heat on experimental tuberculosis.

In the sociological section Dr. A. M. Foster of Colorado will describe "The Industrial Colony" in the Campaign Against Tuberculosis; Dr. John W. Turner of the federal board for vocational education, will tell how the United States is rehabilitating discharged tuberculous soldiers.

On Friday evening the local committee of arrangements will present a number of films and talks demonstrating the modern health crusade—a movement for the health education of school children.

On Saturday the clinical and pathological sections will resume their subjects with papers by prominent specialists. The sociological and nursing sessions will conclude their part of the program in the morning.

The chairman of the clinical section is Dr. George Dock of St. Louis; the secretary, Dr. J. J. Singer, also of St. Louis, Mo. The chairman of the pathological section is Dr. E. L. Opte, the secretary, Dr. M. T. Barrows, both of St. Louis, Mo. The chairman of the sociological section is Dr. H. W. Hill of St. Paul, Minn.; the secretary, Dr. George Laves of Alabama.

The officers of the National Tuberculosis association are: Dr. Victor C. Vaughan, dean of the medical school, University of Michigan, president; Col. George E. Bushnell, of Massachusetts, honorary vice president; Dr. Gerald B. Webb of Colorado, and John M. Glenn of New York, vice presidents; Dr. Henry Barton Jacobs of Baltimore, secretary, and Henry B. Platt, treasurer.

MOTHER, INSANE, SLAYS HER FOUR CHILDREN

ELK CITY, Kan., April 23.—The last chapter in the tragedy which cost the lives of Mrs. Elmer Cowart and her five children was closed here the other day when the bodies of the mother and her offspring were laid to rest in the same grave. The body of the youngest child, a four-month-old baby, lay folded in its mother's arms.

Mrs. Cowart, supposedly in a fit of insanity, cut the throats of the children and then drew the blade of the same keen knife across her own throat.

The tragedy occurred in the tent home of the Cowarts while the husband and father was at work in an Elk City mill.

Briton's Plan to Assist All Auto Tourists

By W. L. MALLABAR

International News Service Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, April 23.—Americans who come over to England this coming summer with their own cars are to have the special attention of the British Automobile association. An agency of the association has been established in New York, and, in addition, agents of the organization will meet American visitors and give them every assistance whether they are visiting only Great Britain or are also going to tour the Continent.

Arrangements will be made to provide the visitors with driving licenses and to instruct them as to laws and so forth in this country. Typewritten details will be furnished regarding routes selected, with information regarding hotels and places of general interest. Special attention will be given to places of interest in the battle area.

Another matter which will be appreciated by the motorist will be a system whereby the motor car owner will be enabled to pass from one country to another without the trouble of depositing the custom dues. A banker's draft will be taken by the association on an English bank for the amount of the customs and a pass will thereupon be issued for the car, which will be permitted to cross any European frontier without any further formalities regarding customs. On returning to England the full amount of the deposit will be returned to the car owner.

Another matter which the association is taking up is an agreement with the various European countries whereby a motorist can obtain an international pass. The driver will have to undergo an examination in driving and the car will also be inspected to see that it complies with the regulations of the various countries through which the motorist intends to travel. This pass will be good for passage through any of the countries in which the motorist intends traveling and will save much time at customs and other official stopping places.

Special motoring maps of Europe are being prepared and at the agencies of the association in the large Continental cities repairs will be attended to. Spare parts of all standard American cars will be kept in stock.

A special effort is apparently to be made to make the path of the American motorist in Europe this summer as easy as possible, and the association's plans are but a small part of the effort which is to be made to attract the dollars to this side.

JOHN-A-DREAMS 1. When You See Little Children

Difficult to interpret but, fortunately, easy to remember, are dreams about little children. It is one of the quaint characteristics of slumber fragments that some are so elusive that waking memory vainly tries to recall them, while others seem to have more substance and cling to recollection; among these are dreams about little children.

If you see a baby asleep, a hasty marriage of one near or dear to you is certain to occur. If you take the babe in your arms you will be the bride; if you are a married woman a child of yours or, if you are childless, the child of your brother or sister, will be taken ill. If you see a toddler running towards you, a fine opportunity awaits you. If you try to clasp a child in your arms and he strains away, your dream tells you that you have missed or are about to miss, a great opportunity through your own folly or lack of understanding. You are warned that you will have to coax and beg to bring it back, as though it were a child which divines that it can not get sympathy from you.

But if your mind fashions the images of laughing children, or shows them in play, well may you wake with a smile on your lips, for you have had a glimpse of a happy event to come; and the silvery laughter of the little ones will ring through your soul and weave a shining thread of good fortune through the fabric of your fate.

If you see a child in trouble, you have done an unconscious wrong and it is a warning of the uneasy mind to discover the ill and to repair it.

Children are the keys to paradise. They alone are good and wise. Because their thoughts, their very lives are prayer.

All this refers to the dream-forms of children you do not know. If you are a mother and see your own, the dreams have deep meaning of actual happenings. Your child in an accident, means a little misfortune in real life; an illness, a message from relatives far away; if the child weeps, there will be mourning in your family; if you hear its laughter or happy prattle, a trip, with gain at the end of the journey, is in store for you. If you scold your child, you will have a happy party at your home. If you rescue it from danger of any sort, the business affairs of your husband, father or oldest brother have fallen upon evil ways.

The best dream to have of your own child is to see it run after you, no matter whether you be on foot, or in a motor or a train. The dream signifies that you are on the right path in attempting to solve a problem that greatly affects your every-day life. Tell those around you to follow your guidance. Then their path, and yours will lead to contentment. (Copyright, 1920, by W. C. P. Co.)

Tomorrow's chapter will deal with spirits come to Earth.

John-A-Dreams will be glad to interpret dream experiences sent to the editor of the Daily Times, by its readers. No replies will, however, be given privately and no fee will at any time be asked or accepted. It is distinctly understood that there can be no guarantee when such questions will be answered, though every effort will be made to satisfy inquirers within three or four weeks.
