Part of All-Star Cast Which Makes Robinson-Cole Superior Picture Surpassing Attraction

Gloria Hope, one of the most appealing and beautiful actresses of the screen, has a prominent part in "The Third Woman," the Robinson-Cole superior picture which is opening today at the Opera House. She has the part of the daughter of a playman who loves a young society man who later discovers that he is partly an Indian.

The pair become lovers in the East before the man makes his alarming discovery. He then goes to a Pueblo village where he joins the Indians to whom he feels that he belongs more than he does to the whites. The girl and her father come seeking him. He will not allow himself to be found at first. Later, however, he goes back to the girl, realizing that love may in some cases completely overcome racial barriers.

Miss Hope in this remarkable picture is associated with other members of an all-star cast which includes Carolyn Blackwell, Louise Lovely, Maxine Kello, Winter Hall, Frank Lanning, Myrtle Owen, George Hernandez and Walter Long.

LIBERTY

London of Old Days Rebuilt For Filming "Tale of Two Cities."

True to the old life is the ancient London street which figures largely as a setting for the tremendous de luxe photo-play production, "A Tale of Two Cities," which William Fox will present at the Liberty theater today, with William Farnum as the star.

Even to the roughly paved roadway fringed with the picturesque houses, of "ye olden time" fidelity to detail is exact. One of the dwellings, a typical inn, is "The Nag's Head," exactly as described by Dickens, even to the sign which waves in the wind from the good town of London that stages for Dover leave at ten and two.

There is the Old Bailey, his majesty's jail; here Tolson's banking house; over yonder St. Cuthbert Lodge, where the mellow traveler might wax a degree or so mellow and rear with his fustled, of "mossy." And now it all, enveloping everything, is the atmosphere which Dickens pictured—the old apple woman with her little stand; the children; raffish of the street; marching soldiers in scarlet; hawking hostlers.

Old London come to life to live again for a while upon the motion picture screen.

LONE STAR

"Mary's Ankle" Is New Picture With Young Ince Stars.
May Tully's well known stage farce.

"Mary's Ankle," has been adapted into what is claimed to be a hilariously funny Thomas H. Ince motion picture and will be shown for three days commencing Friday at the Lone Star theater with Douglas MacLean and Doris May as the stars. These young people have already made a name for themselves in "Twenty-Three and a Half Hours Leave," and by many to be the best comedy picture of the season.

"Mary's Ankle" is about a doctor with out funds and patients who was persuaded by friends to collect a case from a rich uncle. When the uncle announces his coming, the youth is unable to produce the bride. But fate causes a pretty girl to sprain her ankle in front of his office, and then the fun commences.

Mr. MacLean and Miss May are noted for the youth and vivacity that they inject into their work, and "Mary's Ankle" is said to provide an excellent vehicle. Victor Potel, Neal Burns, James Godron, Lizette Thorne and Ida Lewis are included in the supporting cast. Lloyd Ingraham directed the picture, which is a Paramount Arctcraft, and Luther B. Reed furnished the scenario.

Stage Beauty Is Executed; Called a Spy

International News Service.
BUDAPEST, April 22.—In von Perény, the leader of the Budapest ballet, has, according to news received here from Pennsylvania, paid a tragic penalty for her beauty. Mile. Perény, acknowledged to be the most beautiful woman in Budapest, long resisted all overtures for her hand. Shortly after the departure of the Rumanians from Budapest after a stay of several months, she was reported "missing."

It was rumored that a high officer on the staff of General Madonescu had been fortunate enough to capture the heart of the capricious dancer. A short paragraph in a Rumanian newspaper recently announced her death for spying against Rumania.

Mile. Perény had apparently excited the envy and hatred of the Rumanian women, for from a letter she wrote to a friend before her death she declared she was the victim of a hideous plot, and that incriminating documents had been placed in her baggage, which formed so powerful an indictment against her that even her friendship with General Madonescu's staff officer availed her nothing.

General resentment against the Rumanians is felt in Budapest, as Mile. Perény was a universal favorite.

LONE STAR

Ethel Clayton in "Young Mrs. Winthrop." Husband boss, wife too gay, deadly feud, death to pay. The play is "Young Mrs. Winthrop," and its star is Ethel Clayton. It opened at the Lone Star Wednesday and shows again today.

Miss Clayton has the role of a young and pleasure-loving wife, not at all in sympathy with her husband, who has his nose to the business grindstone. Their differences result in an estrangement when a flirtatious widow comes upon the scene and involves the young husband in a compromising situation.

Only the young married couple's five-year-old child seems able to hold them together. Her death threatens a total breach. The wonder-worker is a young lawyer friend.

Miss Clayton is supported by Harrison Ford as the young husband, Charles Ogilvie as the lawyer friend.

Practically all of this documentary mail is thrown into waste baskets and sold for sixty cents a hundred pounds.

Thinks Marriage Is Decided Upon Too Hurriedly

BOSTON, April 22.—"Young people today are rushing into marriage blinded by temporary prosperity. It is 'so big a risk,' declared City Registrar McGlennon, who has been issuing marriage licenses for many years and who knows whereof he speaks.

"Marriage is on the increase," Mr. McGlennon stated. "Records show 1,990 licenses issued for four months of this year, as against 1,796 for last year. A great proportion of these are young working people, with plenty of money on hand, but with absolutely no idea of planning for the days when conditions will be normal and wages less.

"It's all right for older people to marry—they know enough to think and plan for themselves. They have had the experience of saving money, and they are not carried away by extravagant standards. But young folks are up against it. Rent is high, food is high, furniture is high. A man needs to be wealthy to be able to furnish an ordinary flat—if he's lucky enough to find one.

"In the old days, when two people wanted to get married, they had their home expenses all itemized and put aside. They knew how much they were going to spend for the parlor furniture and the baking tins and the dining room set, and usually they had the money saved beforehand. Nowadays all people have is their day's pay and they spend that before the day is over. But they get married just the same."

Mr. McGlennon decried the number of "war brides" who are having time to reconsider their hasty marriages.

 "TRY TO GET IN"

IS SEEKING SOMEONE IN A TEST TO PROVE NO GHOSTS EXIST

Who wants to sleep in a graveyard, chained to a tombstone, from 10 at night until 6 in the morning?

Mr. Palmer, manager of the Liberty, today advises a reward of $20 to any woman who will do it, $15 in cash for any colored man, and $10 in cash for any white man who will undertake the experience.

It is claimed that the more active imaginative faculties of the colored man entitles whoever accepts the chance to double the return that the white man receives. In a facetious sense, the colored man should receive but half of what is offered to a white man, because his more keenly developed theories on graveyards as habitats will give him just twice the fun and experience.

However, the fact is that Mr. Palmer makes the offer as a bona fide proposition, with the understanding that the first applicant for the reward is to be given the privilege of ending it.

The reason for this unusual financial chance is a desire on the part of Mr. Palmer to prove that the prodigious was wrong in including, as he has, in his latest production, "The Greatest Question," a First National attraction which will be presented at the Liberty theater next Monday, a situation in his story, E. A. Butcher and Francis Pate, Ran-responding, in shadow form, to the tributes of a bereaved relative.

Mr. Palmer contends, in a statement to the Times, that there is no such thing as a ghost, and that the spiritists are wrong.

"Personally," he said, "I do not believe in ghosts, or that it is possible for the dead to return in any form, or to communicate, by any means, with the living.

"To prove the correctness of my theory, and to give the facts, I have decided to offer these prizes either to a woman, a white man or a colored man who will remain alone inside a graveyard from 10 o'clock at night until six o'clock in the morning. If he returns and tells me that he saw anything that even remotely resembled a ghost, I will publicly admit that I am wrong and that spiritists know far more about the supernatural than I do."

The prize offer is open now, and will remain open until April 28.

FRENCHMAN HONORED FOR INVENTING 150-MILE GUN

LONDON, April 22.—London is taking a grimly humorous view of the fact that M. Delamare Meus, inventor of the 150-mile gun, has been decorated with the Cross of the Legion of Honor, on "recommendation of the minister of health." The gun would make it possible for London to be laid waste from Paris, one paragraph points out.

Huge Oil Plant Now Being Built for Great Britain

International News Service.
LONDON, April 22.—For the purpose of distributing oil throughout this country as needed large refineries and storage tanks are being erected at a place called Skewon, about five miles from Swansea. It is understood that the project is being backed by the British government, which owns a large interest in the Anglo-Persian Oil company the organization which is erecting the plant.

It is intended to bring the crude oil from the Persian ports to the Swansea port in the tank steamers owned by the company, and it will then be pumped direct to the Skewon, works for refinement. It will then be pumped back to Swansea for distribution and will not be touched other than by mechanical means during the entire process.

Over 400 acres of land have been taken for the factory site in Skewon and for the building of the factories refineries, workmen's cottages, supply stores canteens and a model hospital. It is estimated that $35,000,000 must be expended. The value to the community will be very great, however, as it is estimated that the dock dues and charges alone will amount to about $400,000 per annum.

DRILLING RUSHED TO HOLD LEASE ON PECOS OIL LAND

Special to The Times.
PECOS, April 22.—A race to hold the lease owned by the Trans-Pecos Oil company is on in the Pecos field. Everything has been ready at the well in section 206, block 34, H. & G. N. Ry. survey for a week with the exception of a number of necessary tools. The rigging is all up and the gasoline engine which is to pioneer the local field for that kind of power is set awaiting the start, and the well must be down 100 feet within ten days.

The tools were shipped from El Paso Monday night, according to telegraphic advices, and if they arrive this week, the well will be able to make the limit within the time specified, barring accident. It is this latter possibility that is worrying the owners of the well. The well is a deep test, and is pioneering a new territory in Ward county, twelve miles northwest of Pecos.

Three wells have reached the 400-foot mark in the contest to be the first to reach the Bell discovery well sands, which were struck at 657 feet. The Citizens Oil & Gas Co. has resumed drilling at 500 feet after a week shut down awaiting for tools. The Dominion Oil Co. No. 1 has reached 400 feet and is drilling while the Lucky Thirteen of the Bell interests is setting casing at 410 feet, and expects to be drilling by the middle of the week.

Other wells in the Pecos shallow district around the Bell well are Finley & Anderson No. 1, at 175 feet, and the Bell Reserve at 235 feet.

New rigging for the Abner Davis well has been moved on the site and is expected to start in within a few days.

The Zone Oil Co. has set their casing at 208 feet, shutting off a strong flow of water through the heavy gravel, and are now drilling. Previously they had used the sand.

J. C. Brasher of Dallas has announced a campaign that is to result in the drilling of 100 wells in the Torah shallow field. He has purchased numerous tracts in blocks 58 and 59 of the school survey, Reeves county, and has purchased ten tanks, and several drilling rigs. He expects to have commercial oil in a very short time. A. L. Overton of Dallas, is his associate.

The new pump for the Bell producer has arrived, but will not be installed until another of the 250-barrel tanks is filled. This oil is used by other drilling wells in the field for fuel. The new pump is expected to permit a longer stroke and give a better twenty-four test of the well, which is now producing about 150 barrels a day. A 1,600-barrel tank is now being built at the well.

The new Bell deep test is to start with a twenty-inch casing, due to the expectation of reaching water at forty-five feet, as was the case with the discovery well. With the wide casing much early trouble will be eliminated.

The 1,325 feet of new casing ordered for the Laura well has been shipped with a messenger, and is expected here about Wednesday. This new casing will be placed in the hole, and before the drill makes further exploration of the sands on which it is now said to be resting. Water that has broken into the hole now fills the old casing.

Nick Graham of the Big Six Oil Co. of Little Rock, is here awaiting the arrival of four rigs that have been shipped before beginning a campaign in a big block of section 58, block 20.

Quar E. Davis of Chicago announces a location for a well in tract 14, subdivision of northwest quarter of section 20, block 2, H. & G. N. Ry. survey, Reeves county, Texas.

ADVOCATES AMENDING OF BRITISH MARRIAGE LAWS

International News Service.
LONDON, April 22.—Publication of the marriage ban on bigamy, says Sir F. A. Bosanquet, who advocates changing Britain's marriage laws so that all parties affected by an intended marriage would be properly notified.

"If our marriage laws were so amended," says Bosanquet, "as to require a really public notice which would reach those most nearly connected with the parties a reasonable time before a marriage, there would be fewer undesirable and imprudent marriages and still fewer bigamies."

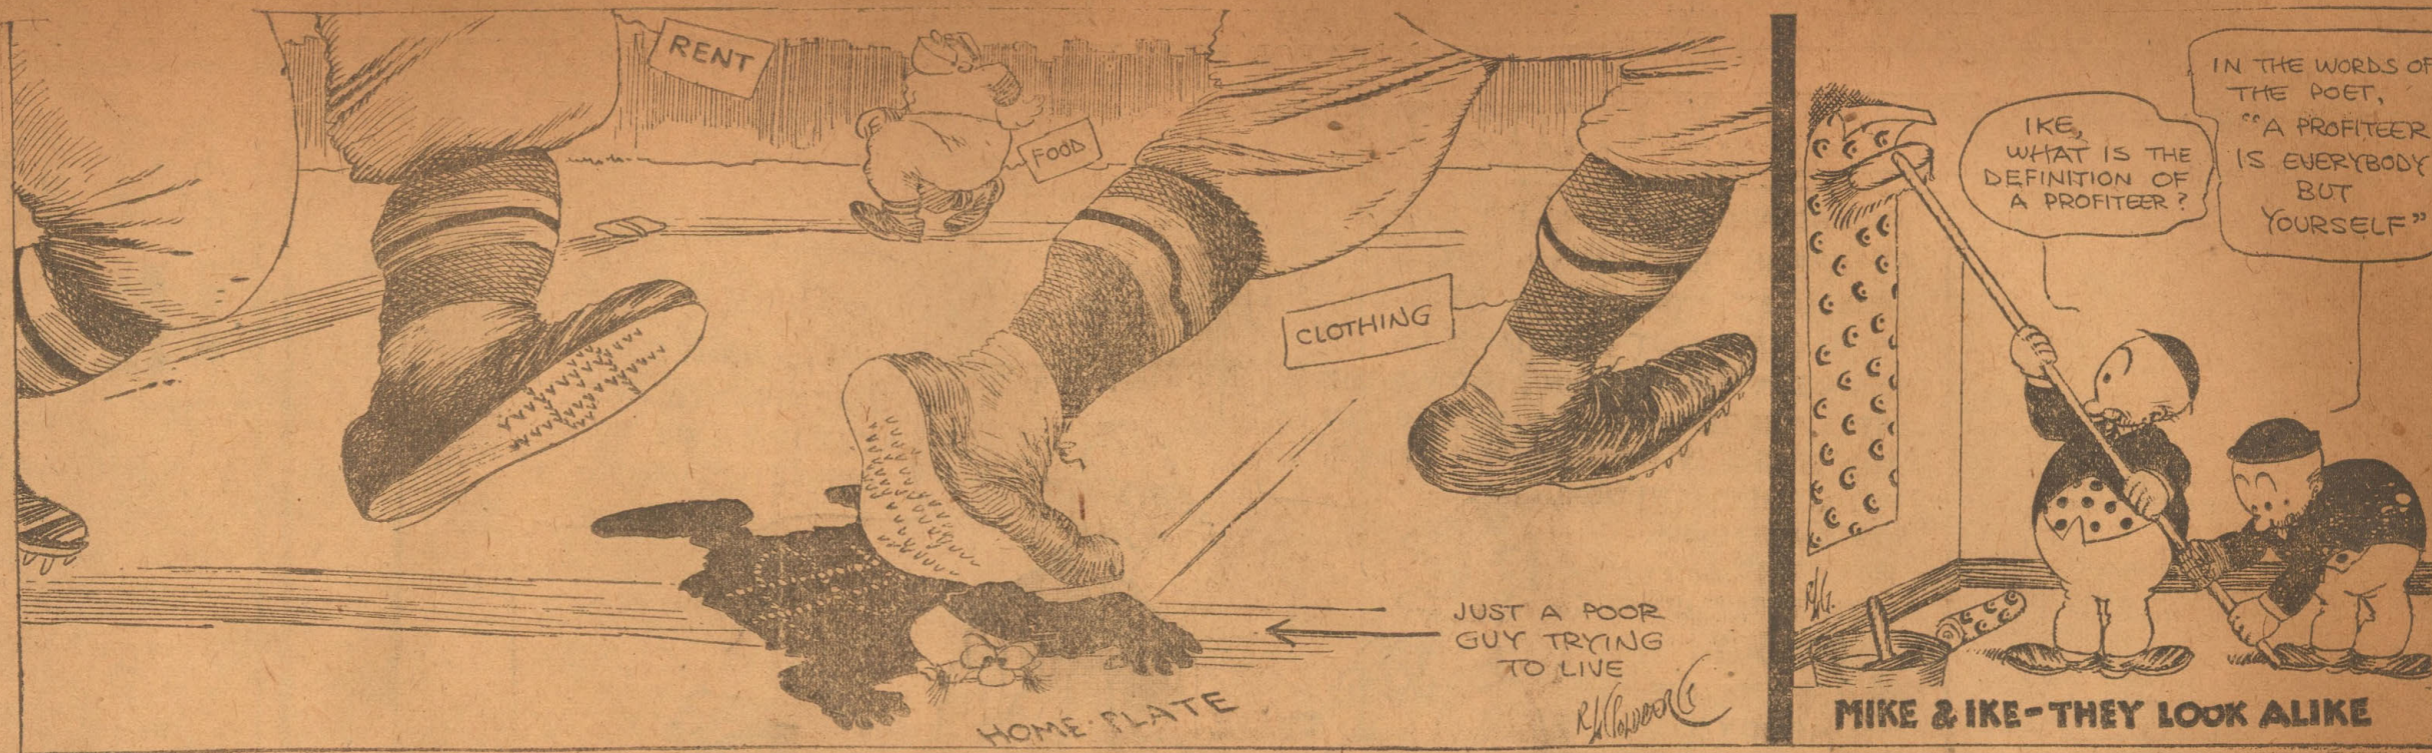

The law now requires posting the names of would-be-weds in a registry office three weeks prior to the ceremony.

NEW BRITISH ENVOY TO AMERICA TOLD HE FACES DIFFICULT TASK BECAUSE OF THE MANY PROBLEMS

quire to be harmless as a dove in dealing with a man who is suffering from overstrain and who, the more unpopular his politics become, holds to them with the greater obstinacy.

"The actual questions that will give Sir Auckland trouble are trade relations, involving the depreciation of the pound, the League of Nations, the Irish question.

"As to the League of Nations the longer it becomes discussed the less chance it has of obtaining the endorsement of the United States in its present form. The attempt to convince the States to be content with one vote while Great Britain and the dominions have six has been the main cause of the anti-English feeling. This is stronger than it has been for decades.

"Of the Irish question and still another, of deeper vane and real import, though never referred to in diplomacy, is Ireland in abundance—are like children playing with a live bomb.

"Then there is the curious political phenomenon to note that though the individual Yankee is keen on the dollar, the United States moves on idealistic motives. No nation in the world has a finer record in this respect.

"All matters of internal economy are best left severely alone by an ambassador."

"The Walk-Offs," with May Allison. "The Walk-Offs," a comedy feature released by Screen Classics, Inc., and starring May Allison, and a good two-reel comedy are attractions at the Lamb theater yesterday and today. Fox weekly news is also on the bill.

"The Walk-Offs" takes its name from a quaint story told by an old Kentucky negro who is valet to the hero of the play. The absurdities and amusements of the smart set of New York form the background. A divorce court scene in which the judge gets the worst of the argument is particularly rich in humor.

The whole trend of the story is in the direction of dignified humor. This type of moving picture play is becoming more and more popular. May Allison is shown at her best. Her many little winning ways enlist the sympathies of the audience and her feminine contradictions are most appealing.

As a study in types, "The Walk-Offs" offers the serious minded a good deal for thought, while the tired bricklayer or business man who is in search of relaxation will find many things to bring a smile or a laugh.

C. OF C. POSSIBILITIES.

Ranger, in the first two days of its Greater Ranger campaign, has demonstrated that it does other things in a same manner that it built a city at the same speed that it is marvelous. It has exceeded all expectations, broken all records and will set new marks at which chambers of commerce over the country will be shooting for years to come.

Achievements for such an organization are measured only by limits of its ambitions.

What have chambers of commerce ever done that was worth while? asks the skeptic. He is in the minority here, praise heaven, as is shown by the full-hearted support of the campaign.

Walter A. Parcell, educational and publicity director who has been largely effective in the advance work of the drive in Ranger, provides many answers for that question, using specific cases. The Times will present some of these.

Seattle, Wash., with a population of 308,000 and a Chamber of Commerce with but 500 more members than Ranger's will have, though its annual income is $150,000, had a housing problem. Parenthetically, it may be considered that Seattle's budget compared with Ranger's is approximately four to one, as compared to a sixteen to one population ratio.

How Seattle built 5,000 homes, at the rate of 1,000 a month and the material consequences of that undertaking is included in recent history of the Seattle Chamber of Commerce.

Homes were needed when Seattle became a large shipbuilding center. But money was scarce, materials were high and labor at a great premium. Yet the Chamber of Commerce undertook the task.

It organized a more homes bureau, composed of the best brains in the city. It opened a special headquarters. Architects designed thirty-six types of standardized houses of three, four, five and six rooms. Plans, specifications and two sets of blue prints were offered for $12.

Here also was cataloged all available information on materials; a labor department was opened; a contracting department brought prospective home-builders and contractors together and a loan association furnished the money, if this was needed.

When the more homes bureau was in smooth working order, a campaign to insure the construction of houses was inaugurated. A canvass of business men and property owners was made. In five days, thirty-five teams obtained pledges for the construction of 3,700 new homes. Seattle then started to build. The objective was 1,000 new homes a month. Seattle reached that mark.

Not the least beneficial result of the campaign was the awakened interest in home building and home owning. With the completion of the campaign, the building of homes continued. New real estate additions were opened and thousands of houses constructed in the last year.

Due to the widespread publicity drive the matter of owning a home became a vital factor to Seattle citizens, a factor that will mean much to the city in years to come, as the desire to own a home, once fully aroused, as a rule ends only when the home is actually owned.

This is how Seattle moved at a big and vital problem, and cleaned it up. Can Ranger dispose of any of its problems with the dispatch Seattle showed?

The answer is another question. "Can Seattle or any city show speed like Ranger's in its reorganization drive?"

R. N. Grisham Candidate for Representative

R. N. Grisham of Eastland, established resident of Nolan and Eastland counties, has announced his candidacy for representative in congress from this district. He boasts the endorsement of many leading officials who know him among them that of E. A. Engle of Eastland, who says, in part: "I know Mr. Grisham as an efficient officer, a man of sterling character and one who by his faithful, unswerving and honest work as representative in congress will serve the best interests of all the people."

D. J. Neill of Gorman, who has been suggested as a candidate, makes the following statement: "I have been solicited by a great number of friends to enter the race for congress from this district, and at one time considered making my announcement. Since Judge R. N. Grisham of Eastland Texas, has made his announcement, however, and promulgated his platform which is of vital interest to the people of Texas, and especially to the people of this congressional district, I have decided not to make the race."

Judge Grisham has made the agricultural interest a paramount issue and has championed the cause of the producer and especially the cotton farmer and promises to aid him with measures of relief. He has witnessed conditions that surround the cotton market, its constant fluctuations day by day, working to the injury of the spot holder of cotton, and destroying half the value of cotton in a single week. His proposed measures to correct these market conditions will, in his judgment, greatly aid the farmer, but not insure a square deal in the sale of his products.

"I hope that the farmers of the Seventeenth congressional district with whom I have been associated for so many years and endeavored to serve, will give Judge Grisham's platform their careful attention and cordial support."

SCARCITY OF WATER HALTS DRILLING IN STEPHENS COUNTY

Drilling operations in Stephens County are badly hampered by lack of water, according to word brought here by oil men of Breckenridge. Many wells have been forced to shut down and numerous others will have to quit work soon if the situation is not relieved, they say.

DRILL AT CLAUDE WELL AT DEPTH OF 700 FEET

CLAUDE, Texas, April 22.—Claude's two local banks have a combined deposit of more than $640,000.

One well is drilling at a depth of 700 feet near Claude, and a location has been made for another.

The wheat acreage here is heavy and condition of growing grain excellent. All dwellings in the city are occupied. A new bank building for the First National has been contracted for at a cost of $35,000.

SISTER HELPED HER BROTHER

Mr. George Schillo, 6206 Pear avenue, Cleveland, O., writes: "I am glad I was recommended to your medicine. I was pretty well run down, nervous, and lost of ambition, felt tired at all times, could not sleep, and had loss of appetite, felt weak and trembled from weakness. I find your Cadomene tablets are helping me very much. I was writing to my sister about run-down condition. She advised me to take Cadomene, as she had been as bad off as myself. Cadomene built her nerves up and restored her health. I am more than thankful. I received her advice." Sold by druggists everywhere.

OIL BOOM MAKES PECOS LOOK METROPOLITAN

PECOS, Texas, April 22.—The oil boom is making Pecos more metropolitan every day. The city now boasts a switch engine, as well as having doubled its police force, utilized the band stand as an oil lease broker's office, and purchased a new fire engine.

The switch engine is busily puffing up and down the local yards now filled with cars of building materials, food supplies, drilling rigs and all kinds of machinery as a result of the increased demand due to the nearly 2,000 oil men who have descended on this city following the Bell oil strike.

JUDGE HOLDS INDIANS CITIZENS WITH RIGHT TO VOTE AT ELECTIONS

FORT YATES, N. D., April 22.—War achievements were vitied by a district judge recently in holding local trust-patent Indians to be qualified electors. It was said to be the first instance in the United States of a court giving members of a race, as such, the power of the ballot as determined by their status of civilization.

The case was a contest of an election to determine whether the seat of Sioux county should be removed from Fort Yates to Selfridge. The proposition failed to carry at the polls. Fort Yates has an agency for the Standing Rock Indian reservation. The court declared that among those who voted at the election were "certain trust-patent Indians sufficient in number to change the result."

District Judge W. F. Crawford who rendered the decision held that those Redmen who voted came within the provisions of the state constitution defining qualified electors for any election. The pertinent section includes "civilized persons of Indian descent who shall have severed their tribal relations two years next preceding such election."

The findings of fact and conclusions of law continued in part as follows: "That all Indians and persons of Indian descent who voted at said election were civilized persons and had severed their tribal relations more than two years next preceding said election. The court finds as facts that said trust-patent Indians live separate and apart from each other, intermingle with white persons who have purchased and own land in the reservation and the same are intermingled. That the civil right of said Indians are determined by the courts of this state."

"That no tribal relations exist or have existed among such Indians for more than two years prior to said election; that they own and farm their land; own cattle and control the same; live in separate houses about the same as white settlers in that community with whom they are commingled; have a rather high standard of intelligence and education, and as high a percentage under 50 years of age that are able to read and write as any average community in this state; that they maintain their churches and schools, and were very active in war activities during the world war, many of them joining the army. That in all walks of life such Indians are on a par with the average communities in the state."

Action was brought by Selfridge representatives to disqualify the Indian vote. It was contended the Indians were wards of the federal government and uncivilized to the extent the vote could be withheld from them.

It's 'Milk Cow' Now as 'Milch' Is Too Teutonic

International News Service. WASHINGTON, April 22.—Hereafter it will be "milk cow" and not "milch cow"—at least so far as the department of agriculture is concerned.

This decision marks the termination of a controversy in which etymologists in the department have had not a little interest. Those defending "milch" have pointed to scriptural use and certain of the classics as establishing precedents, while the opposition has contended that laymen, ranchmen and farmers in general use "milk" instead of "milch" almost universally.

The advocates of "milk" also favored that word because they contended it was more strictly an English word, while "milch" was akin to German. Since Americanization of language as well as words is an article in every patriot's creed, it is thought that this last ally of the "milk" defenders helped as much as any to decide the question in their favor.

BOSTON TRAFFIC COPS DON WHITE RAINCOATS

International News Service.
BOSTON, April 21.—Members of the traffic squad here donned their new white raincoats and caps for the first time. The main reason for furnishing traffic officers with white coats is so that night auto tourists may distinguish them more easily and also for their own protection. In the past automobilists have experienced considerable difficulty in seeing the officers through the rain-covered wind shields of their machines. The new coats are full length and designed similar to regular police overcoats. They have six buttons on each side and corduroy collars. A special pocket inside is used for carrying night sticks.

Every Day Ladies Day According to Big Jim Galloway

Every day will be Ladies Day at Municipal park, according to announcement of Big Jim Galloway. The only exceptions he makes are Saturdays, Sundays and the holidays, which makes the rule hold good five days of every week, or about five times as often as in the case in every other ball park of the country. Jim is displaying his gallantry and his acumen in the move. Not only are the fanettes good sportsmen at the park, but they are good boosters. And think of the affect of a flock of fair fans on the team. As that chap remarked about the bull fight, "It's no trouble at all when the gals are there." Or maybe he was talking about a private fight, specially witnessed. Anyway, what he said holds.

The rule will apply to the two pre-season games remaining to be played before the big start a week from Friday. So the fanettes will have a chance, without charge, to see Jim's Nitros and Popboy Smith's Gorman Buddies go 'round and 'round this afternoon and tomorrow. Popboy himself, whose first baseball experience is indicated by his nickname, is an interesting duck. He started out at Pelican park, at New Orleans, selling pop in the stands. But Johnny Dobbs gave him a chance at the slab and he made a pitcher. And a darn good one, in the Southern league, where the writer saw him work. He was sold to Cleveland and by them farmed. This year he obtained his release from Portland to take the management of the Buddies.

According to Mr. Connellee the hotel will be seven stories high and will contain 196 rooms, 146 of which will have private baths, and the remainder will have a toilet and wash basin. The hotel will cost not less than $400,000.

COMMUNITY HOUSE FOR RANGER PLANNED BY B. & W. MEN'S CLUB

A community house for the benefit of all civic organizations was discussed last night at the regular meeting of the Business and Working Men's club. A committee was appointed to confer with the Chamber of Commerce upon the matter. If the plans go through the house will be in charge of an information man, who will be prepared to give information to every seeker. It will also be utilized as a rest room. The club at its next regular meeting night will nominate officers for the coming year and at the following weekly meeting hold their election. Sam K. BRITISH EMPIRE UNION

FIGHTS INDUSTRIAL UNREST

International News Service.

LONDON.—The British Empire union is trying to raise 250,000 pounds to fight industrial unrest and Bolshevism, which it declares to be due to teaching false economics at labor colleges. The union believes the vast majority of workers are not revolutionary, and that if Bolshevism propaganda is met with counter blasts of truth, the menace will disappear.

YAQUIS JOIN IN SONORA REVOLT; SECEDING STATE BORDERS ON U. S.

The secession of the state of Sonora from Mexico seems certain to increase the turmoil along Uncle Sam's southern border. All Sonora, including the wild Yaqui Indians, 5,000 strong, is in revolt against Carranza. Sonora is just across the border from Arizona, and the photo shows one of the monuments marking the line. If there is much fighting in Sonora more American troops probably will be dispatched to the boundary.

Times Short Story

TWO IN BOHEMIA

By Jessie Douglas

The door was locked. Charita had seen to that. But, even so, Charita thought to the table and unfastened the one long drawer it held. Then she spread out over its top a row of rejection slips. She bent over them, one knee on the chair, and touched each one, the square blue one, the long white one, the rectangles of printed paper. There were twelve in all, and they represented twelve poems—poems that she had worked on and struggled with and almost wept over. But the editors had sent each one of them back, "with thanks."

Charita heaved a deep sigh and looked about the room as though she would desire consolation and new inspiration from its air of Bohemia. A blackened book shelf over a wee coal fire, that held two hours' grease-dipped candlesticks, a couch under a tumble of orange and purple cushions, a poster of strange, long-armed, blue-green figures that were called "Creation," and a very bare and dusty floor, completed her survey.

She leaned over, reached for a cigarette, and, having succeeded in lighting it, she made a very little face as she drew in the first breath of smoke. At least nobody knew. To the "Village," as the coterie of artists called the environs of Washington square, she was Charita Ware, poet and weaver of dreams, who perched herself in the topmost studio of No. 93 until the blind world would acclaim her. But how long could she keep it up?

Uncle William's last check would come on Monday. A double rat-tat-tat at her door. Charita knew it for the knock of Hallett Dean. She swept the bell-tails slips into her drawer, hurriedly, nervously, and having looked it, put the key on the slender chain about her throat before she dared breathe.

"Open the door!" a man's voice commanded on the other side. "A minute," Charita pleaded. In that minute she had taken to the sweep of a mirror, pulled a curl over her ear, straightened her orange smock and brushed some powder over her nose—and unlocked the door.

OLD ALBANIA ATE IN CAFETERIAS LONG BEFORE AMERICA DID

International News Service.—Long before the dairy lunch of the American cafeterias, those well-known American institutions into which the American business man dashes wildly at noon hour and helps himself from a tempting array of eats, burst upon the great republic, Albania had them. The "pick 'em yourself" places may have been a novelty in the United States ten or fifteen years ago, but even then they were old institutions here.

The carefully scrubbed marble top of the American dairy lunch, resting on a long table of marble front and sides, is replaced in the Albanian one by a dainty piece of rock about six feet long, three feet wide and four feet deep, resting on a bulky lot of timber, which, in turn, is supported by wooden legs just as bulky. The whole is as rugged as the mountain from which it all comes. In the stone, sometimes back in the past, circular-like excavations were produced at regular intervals. In the bottom of these a hot charcoal fire smouldered over which slowly cook the chicken, the turkey, the potatoes or the rice. At one end of the rock are the knives, forks and plates.

The methods of obtaining the desired results are the same here as in the United States, with the exception that the Albanian saunters toward the ceremonial rock in a calm, easy manner. There is no rush, no mad haste. He just takes up his knife, fork and plate and saunters down the line here and there, picking out that which meets with his approval.

TRACES DEATH OF HORSES TO GRASSHOPPER PLAGUE

By Associated Press

WINNIPEG, Man., April 22.—G. L. Dodge of this city is authority for the statement that the grasshopper plague, which was most severe in Manitoba and Saskatchewan a year ago, and gives evidence of re-occurring again this season, was responsible for the death of large numbers of horses and cattle.

A post mortem of a horse which died of a strange ailment showed that the animal's stomach was, for the most part, filled with the bodies of grasshoppers and grasshopper eggs. Veterinarians who examined the stomach were of the opinion that the eggs developed within the horse. The larvae, in their opinion, consumed such quantities of food taken into the horse's stomach that the animal died of starvation.

Farmers who have learned of this case have asked veterinarians to advise a treatment for horses and cattle found to be suffering from the development of grasshopper eggs.

CORN PRICES GO TUMBLING IN BIG BREAK

Sheer Descent of 6 Cents a Bushel in Some Cases in Chicago.

CHICAGO, April 22.—Sharp new breaks took place today in the corn market at the outset.

The heaviest fall was in May delivery, which in some cases exhibited a sheer descent of 6 cents a bushel since last night.

Renewed weakness in the New York market was the main reason ascribed for the break.

The initial price of corn had a much wider range than usual and for May delivery as much as two cents apart for simultaneous trades in different parts of the pit.

The corn market opened as a whole 12 to 6 cents lower with July at $1.57 1/2 to $1.57 1/2.

Son's Indifference Tears the Heart of Doomed Mother

Misery forms islands that sit in the center of the current of life. Humanity in a ceaseless stream passes their shores. The outer edge ripples by the beach and perhaps sighs for the sufferer and passes on. Only the boats of the life savers make the island a port of call.

The white plague is slowly taking the life of a woman.

A tent is the home. A brother, who should be in school, is the means of support. Relatives who have made fortunes in oil ignore pleas for help. Only the relief ship of the Red Cross calls at this island of misery by which the current of life flows. A mother, old and worn, attacked by an insidious disease for which medical science has no cure, is dying. A son earning a beautiful salary passes with the current of life her island of misery.

A Salvation Army bark put in and anchored. Necessities of life are furnished.

But there is no balm that will heal a deserted mother's heart ache.

LEGION TALKS NEW QUARTERS 8:30 TONIGHT

Next club rooms for the American Legion will be discussed at tonight's meeting at 211 1/2 Austin street. An account of the hall being branded unsafe by the building inspector, no entertainment will be given after the meeting tonight, as had been planned.

The legion employment bureau will be maintained during the transfer to new quarters, it is planned, probably at R. H. Hansford's office in the Brown shoe hospital building on Pine street.

SICK BROUGHT TO RANGER FROM WIDESPREAD AREA

There are thirty-five doctors practicing in this city, and yet Ranger is one of the healthiest cities in Texas. This number does not include veterinarians or dentists.

Sick and injured persons from a radius of twenty miles are brought here for medical attention.

Ambulances of the two undertaking companies often make trips to Breckenridge, Caddo, Desdemona, Strawn and other cities and towns some distance off. Hence the number of doctors in Ranger.

BRYANT RESIGNS POST WITH C. OF C. IN HASSE

G. A. Bryant, oil broker of this city, has resigned his place as secretary of the Chamber of Commerce at Hasse, Texas. Mr. Bryant gave pressure of business as his reason for resigning. He was elected secretary of the Hasse organization at a meeting which was held following a showing of oil in Sturkie No. 1, two miles from Hasse.

Mr. Bryant stated today that the well will probably be good for ten barrels when put on the pump, and if drilled deeper may make a good well.

WORLD'S LARGEST STOCKYARDS IDLE AND PRACTICALLY EMPTY AS INSURGENT RAILROAD STRIKE TIES UP CATTLE SHIPMENTS

View of empty pens in Chicago stockyards and gathering of striking yardmen before meeting hall in Jersey City.

The tieup of all transportation lines in Chicago by the outlaw strike of railroad yardmen and switchmen has caused cattle shippers feeling with the Chicago stockyards to either withhold shipments or divert their cattle to other yards. As a result the greatest stockyards in the world are practically empty and idle.

Between 40,000 and 50,000 employees at the yards are out of work. The shutting down of the yards may have a serious effect on the meat supply of the nation.

ATTENDED 1,017 FUNERALS

International News Service.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 22.—“Patsy” Mulhern, who recently said that he had attended 1,017 funerals during his sixty years or more as a character in the North End, died at the Rhode Island hospital after a brief illness. Those who knew “Patsy,” and there were many, associated him with a cotton umbrella faded green with age, which he always carried. He was extremely religious and one of his peculiarities was to visit homes where some member of the family had died.

“Well, I guess I guess you were pretty drunk,” Barney placed his hand to his mouth and breathed out. He then put his hand to his nose.

“Well, I guess I’m guilty, judge,” he said.

“Ten dollars fine,” roared the judge.
