SUN'S ECLIPSE GIVES THRILL TO WATCHERS

Scientists Study Solar Corona And Other Features Within Their Observations.

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Watched by millions of people early today, the rays of the sun in total eclipse slid from beneath the disk of the moon in a flaming corona in the morning sky, furnishing this part of the country with a thrill not to be repeated for 200 years.

The moon's shadow reached across the earth and almost completely across a stretch of country from Duluth to Monmouth Point, N. J. It was near night in a territory 85 miles in width by 120 miles in length when the eclipse became complete.

The greatest mobilization of scientists in the history of heavenly phenomena occurred this morning, when telescopes were trained from 13 large observatories on the sun and moon, while millions braved zero weather to watch the passage of the moon across the face of the sun. They were rewarded by a sight unequalled in splendor by anything they had ever seen.

Eclipse Makes Big Impression Where Seen To Advantage

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—The spectacle of the sun in total eclipse was witnessed by huge crowds here today. Never before has the sun in the workaday world been so interrupted, never before have the eyes of so many human beings been focused upon a spectacle of the sun almost obliterated for a few moments by the moon, and never before was a total eclipse photographed by scientists under such favorable conditions.

"Astronomy advanced one thousand years this morning," said grey-whiskered J. B. Todd, professor and emeritus of Amhurst college.

Professor Todd, 80, was with difficulty restrained from ascending in an airplane to get a closer look at the eclipse. While Todd remained on the ground other scientists went into the air a mile on the broad back of a navy dirigible and from a specially constructed aerial observatory took photographs and impressions never before possible.

SUN'S RAYS INTERFERE WITH RADIO AIR WAVES

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—Conclusive proof has been obtained that the sun's rays are responsible for the difficulty in broadcasting during the daytime, Harold Ray of the research department of the Zenith Radio corporation told the United Press today. Ray stated that tests to determine whether the shadow of the moon created a condition similar to night were successful. At the station here he heard the announcer at WJAZ in Michigan broadcasting on a wave length of 268 meters from 4 o'clock a. m. until after the eclipse.

CHARACTER WITNESSES TESTIFY IN TRIAL OF CRAWFORD IN DALLAS

DALLAS, Jan. 24.—The trial of William Lester Crawford for the killing of Paul M. O'Day, Dallas attorney, was recessed at noon today until Monday morning. Four character witnesses were called when the court convened this morning. Counsel had announced they would call Mrs. Kate Lamar Crawford, second wife of the late Col. W. L. Crawford, to testify today and describe her son's condition the night before he slew O'Day after reading the legal brief which referred to Mrs. Crawford. She will probably be called Monday.

Crawford will follow his mother with a statement to the jury.

Kirby Petroleum Co. Sells Texas Company Oil Land and Wells

HOUSTON, Jan. 24.—The purchase of a tract of oil land, the property of the Kirby Petroleum company, embracing four producing wells with a daily capacity of 7,194 barrels of oil, was announced today by the Texas company. The consideration was stated as $750,000, with the equivalent of $250,000 to be paid out of one-fourth of seven-eighths of oil produced after the Texas company has sold 500,000 barrels of oil from the land. The purchase included four leases, two of them in Wortham and two adjacent to the city limits.

SIX HUNDRED MEMBERS NOW ARE ENROLLED

Membership Ranger Chamber of Commerce Approaching One Thousand Mark.

The half way mark in the drive of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce for a membership of one thousand has been passed, according to a statement issued by the Chamber of Commerce Saturday. Approximately six hundred members have been signed up in the past week. Committee men are busy visiting the prospects and are rapidly signing them up. They report that the trouble is not due to a lack of interest in cooperation by the citizens, but the failure heretofore of the Chamber of Commerce workers to extend the invitation to join.

Application cards poured into the Chamber of Commerce all week and upon totaling up, C. C. Patterson, secretary, reported about six hundred members signed up for a dollar a month. The year's dues have been set at $12, payable one dollar a month, in order that the entire citizenry of Ranger may be encompassed in the drive.

Citizens of Ranger are meeting the demand of the Chamber of Commerce with the utmost cooperation, all realizing the organization was formed to forward those public interests, civic and commercial, which have long been neglected because "everybody's business is nobody's business." The sole object of the Chamber is the public's good and therefore the upbuilding of Ranger.

One leading citizen in Ranger said membership in the Chamber of Commerce shows sympathy with an organized effort to better the city and the county. "The things that are worth doing are brought to a successful issue only through united demand and interest," he said. "A man in business is broader and more successful when he has a more active interest in municipal affairs, civic and commercial."

Several reasons why citizens of Ranger should join the Chamber of Commerce were set forth by one worker, among them being that the Chamber of Commerce is the only agency equipped to analyze and supply the city's needs and all citizens should be interested in this constructive work, as it means their future prosperity.

The Chamber of Commerce is now engaged in a constructive program in the best interests of Ranger, both industrial and civic, and all citizens are directly concerned in the growth of the town.

COMMUNITY SINGING AT EASTLAND SUNDAY IS ATTRACTING MANY

Plans have been completed for the big community singing to be held at the First Methodist tabernacle in Eastland this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Judge E. L. Rust, who is taking considerable interest in promoting the singing, said Saturday morning he was continually getting letters from singers from a distance, many of whom stated they would be in Eastland Sunday, and others regretting they could not be present, but were making their arrangements to attend the next singing.

GANGSTERS ATTACK FORMER BEER SYNDICATE HEAD.

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—Johnny Torrio, sole survivor of the triumvirate that controlled the beer syndicate of Chicago, was shot and seriously wounded in front of his home late today. He refused to identify the three or four men who poured a fusillade of shots against his machine. Police believe the assailants were rival gangsters. Physicians said that he had a fair chance to live.

Torrio is now under federal sentence in the penitentiary. He was given a week to wind up his affairs and was due to start serving his sentence tomorrow.

LAST WEEK TO PAY POLL TAXES

Less Than One-Fifth of Ranger Voters Have Obtained Poll Tax Receipts and Like Slowness Reported in All Parts of Eastland County.

Citizens of Ranger who should pay their poll taxes and obtain the privilege of participating in elections of the coming year are markedly slow in paying them. With less than 500 poll taxes paid in Ranger, C. E. Maddocks, deputy tax collector in Ranger, is anticipating a last minute rush during the remaining six days in which poll taxes must be paid to give the right to vote.

"The doors of my place of business will be closed daily at 6 o'clock as per usual custom," said Mr. Maddocks, "and no poll taxes will be paid after that time, as I will not be there to receive them. This applies, too, to next Saturday night."

To the citizen who wishes to vote during the coming city and school elections a hint to the wise should be sufficient. With only six days remaining in which poll taxes may be paid the prospects for a representative number of voters is simmering down to a minimum. Approximately 2,600 poll taxes were paid in Ranger last year and to obtain a like number of voters this year it will be necessary to write receipts for approximately 400 per day in the remaining six days.

It is the duty of every citizen of Ranger over 21 years of age to pay his or her poll tax and if just 21 years of age this year to obtain exemption certificates. Community interest in the growth of a city is essential for its prosperity and only through the interest of the citizens in paying poll taxes in participating in all elections at the present session. An understanding of opposition to the federal measure has been noticeable in the session since its start, and an unofficial check of the solons shows many against the amendment.

The first intimation that the measure might be viewed with disfavor was given by the introduction in the senate of a resolution condemning the policy of the government in offering federal aid for constructive purposes in state matters, although the resolution was amended to exclude the clause relating to federal aid in the building of highways within the state.

BROOKHART HAS REPUBLICANS AGAINST HIM

Iowa Central Committee Decides to Contest His Election in Senate.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Jan. 24.—"Broad in his speech" accomplished the election of Smith W. Brookhart to the United States senate last November, the Iowa republican central committee resolved late today, voting to contest his seat in the senate.

Members of the committee made it plain their action was not taken in the interest of the democratic opposition to Brookhart. The contest will be prosecuted on the ground that the name of Brookhart fraudulently appeared on the republican ticket.

The republican committee is starting the contest under the same rules as those applied to the cause of Lorimer of Illinois and Newberry of Michigan, both of whom were unseated.

Opposition To Stone and Warren Breaks Out Afresh

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—President Coolidge tonight faced a major political controversy over his nomination of Attorney General Stone to be an associate justice of the supreme court, and Charles B. Warren of Michigan to be attorney general.

A two-hour fight of intense bitterness was under way today in the senate over Stone's nomination, partly in the open and partly behind closed doors, and the battle will be resumed Monday.

While this was going on it became known that the subcommittee of the committee on judiciary, which had been considering Warren's nomination, had voted to return it to the committee without the courtesy of a favorable report.

YEGGMEN ENTER BANK IN DETROIT, TEXAS, BUT OVERLOOK THE MONEY

DETROIT, Texas, Jan. 24.—Bandits entered the First National bank here early today and burned their way into an outer vault with acetylene torches, obtaining $100. They overlooked $800 in currency on shelves and failed to penetrate the walls of an inner vault where most of the bank's funds were kept. The bandits obtained most of their loot from several private boxes.

WOMAN IS ACCIDENTALLY BURNED TO DEATH

TEMPLE, Jan. 24.—The charred body of Mrs. Emily Jachtik, 51, who has been missing from her home in Temple for the last two days, was found in a field near Rogers, 12 miles south of here, late today. The body was found close to the ashes of a small fire. The clothing had been burned from her body. She had recently become estranged from her husband. The coroner's verdict was death from accidental burning.

ADVOCATES OF CHILD LABOR WORKING HARD

Urging State's Rights in Effort to Win Their Way in Texas Legislature.

AUSTIN, Jan. 24.—The right of the state to dictate its legislation and the engrained opposition to any new movement by the federal government promises rough going for the twentieth amendment to the constitution now before the Texas legislature for adoption.

Action on the national amendment relating to child labor must be settled by adoption or rejection at the present session. An understanding of opposition to the federal measure has been noticeable in the session since its start, and an unofficial check of the solons shows many against the amendment.

The first intimation that the measure might be viewed with disfavor was given by the introduction in the senate of a resolution condemning the policy of the government in offering federal aid for constructive purposes in state matters, although the resolution was amended to exclude the clause relating to federal aid in the building of highways within the state.

President Urges U. S. Must Quit Its Isolation Policy

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—President Coolidge today served notice on the irreconcilables in the senate that his administration was committed to reasonable co-operation with other nations in the interest of world peace and particularly to American adherence to world covenants. He was addressing the conference relating to the causes and cure of war now in session here.

The president said the United States could not remain in permanent isolation, that the interdependence of people and nations becomes more marked with every year, that none can stand alone, none dare court isolation and none may risk the ill opinion of civilized nations.

America Wins In League of Nations Anti-Drug Parley

GENEVA, Jan. 24.—The American delegation to the league of nations anti-drug conference came out victorious in its firm stand of adoption of the American program to abolish opium smoking and the production of the drug. Offering the conference the ultimate decision of considering the American proposition or have the United States withdraw, Congressman Stephens Porter stuck to his guns in the face of British, French and Dutch objections.

The last named nation maintained that the present conference was incompetent to consider the program proposed by Porter. It was Finland which finally came forward with a proposition acceptable to both Porter and Viscount Cecil, British spokesman.

INSANE MAN POSING AS STATE OFFICIAL HOLDS UP MOTOR CARS

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 24.—An insane bandit terrorized 15 motorists on the Seguin-San Antonio road last night. He took neither money nor jewelry, but beat his victims. One family he drove from their car into the mesquite bush.

Astride a pony and a Spanish saddle, the bandit wore a 10-gallon hat, chaps and high heel boots. When an automobile came along he halted it, declaring himself the state inspector general.

HEFLIN OPPOSES STONE FOR SUPREME COURT BENCH

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—The first fight against confirmation of the nomination of Attorney General Stone to be supreme court justice was brought to the floor of the senate today by Senator Heflin, Alabama, democrat. Heflin charged Stone acted in a suit for the J. P. Morgan interests in a Delaware court which was an outrageous affair. Republican leaders raised a point of order against Heflin, contending he was discussing questions that could be only discussed in executive session.

New Officials of Texas Sworn In and Begin Their Duties

AUSTIN, Jan. 24.—Mark McGee took the oath of office as adjutant general at 11 o'clock today. The first of the new officials to qualify was Mrs. S. W. Meharg, secretary of state. The others will be sworn in by Monday Governor Ferguson said.

A list of seven new regents of the University of Texas is said to be ready for presentation to the senate. This will be cut to five, however, should the senate confirm the appointment of Miss Florence Stirling and W. W. Woodson by former Governor Pat M. Neff. Cullen F. Thomas and T. W. Davidson, also nominated by Neff, have withdrawn their names, and Lynch Davidson, nominated by Neff as a member of the board of directors of the Texas Technological college, also has withdrawn his name.

PRISON SYSTEM NOW READY FOR MORE PROBING

Governor Sends Report of Advisory Board to Legislators For Study.

HOUSTON, Jan. 24.—Denunciations of "self appointed" censors of the prison system and those who think the penitentiary in every instance should be a great reformatory setting forth its inmates with trade marks and correct morals was contained in the message of the governor laid before the house with the annual report of the prison advisory board today. The report was delivered to the thirty-ninth legislature and to Governor Miram A. Ferguson. It was signed by Mrs. E. K. King of San Antonio, chairman; J. T. Harrington of Waco, and Byron Simmons of Orange.

"For more than forty years," the report continues, "the penitentiary has been exploited for politics; it has been investigated and reported upon by men and women throughout the state who have been only a few hours upon this widely scattered subject. There have been sensational and incorrect attacks by self-appointed censors and lecturers whose main objective has been advertisement rather than the statement of facts."

AUSTIN, Jan. 24.—Organization meeting of the prison investigating committee appointed yesterday in the house was held this afternoon. Chairman R. M. Chittwood, announced mapping out of a complete program of procedure will be left to the full membership, Speaker Lee Satterwhite announced.

Representative T. K. Irwin of Dallas, moving spirit in the investigation, is expected to present testimony which he developed prior to the submission and adoption of his resolution. Though he is said to have confidentially expected the chairmanship of the committee he has made no statement so far on Speaker Lee Satterwhite's failure to give him this post.

The senate was idle today, having adjourned over the week-end. In the house local bills were being considered.

TWO BOYS FILE SUITS, ALLEGING ALIENATION OF MOTHER'S LOVE

WACO, Jan. 24.—Two suits, each for $50,000, charging alienation of their mother's affections were filed here today by C. J. and John Deerr, aged 14 and 12 years of age, against E. W. Ray of Kerens, Texas. The complaint was filed in behalf of the children by their father as the next friend.

Ray, who employed the elder Deerr, conspired to win the mother's affections, according to the charges in the suit.

EXPERT TELLS HOW CHICKENS MAKE PROFITS

F. W. Kazemir Talks in Eastland and Ranger on Poultry Industry.

The Chamber of Commerce rooms in Ranger were well filled Saturday night with eager listeners to the talk on poultry raising by F. W. Kazemir, expert poultryman, who touched on salient points of the industry warranted to produce success if followed. Among these he advised never to purchase low-priced chicks because they were cheap, but to stock up always with the best stock obtainable; to insist on stock bred to lay, if going into the egg producing end of the business, and that a man who stuck to the determination to handle only high-grade stock and feed properly could not help but make money.

Mr. Kazemir cited several successful chicken farms which started only a few years ago with little or nothing and were today a source of large revenue. He scoffed at the idea of there being an over-production of eggs, but cautioned each one to stick to a certain line of the poultry business for greater success, and divided it into hatchery, brooder, or egg-laying. He insisted that chickens bred for eggs will produce eggs if given half a chance, and that with simple equipment, properly arranged, one man can take care of 1,000 laying hens and still keep his position in town, whatever it may be, and that proper feeding and care will make the hens average a net profit of $2 a piece per year.

Work is Necessary. He said a man need not be an expert to go into the business, that he can make a diversion of it, but that he must be painstaking and willing to keep everlastingly at it 365 days (and nights, too, if necessary) in the year. He recommended electric lights as a necessity, as well as good feed, properly mixed, and plenty of fresh, clean water and litter.

A conservation of space with wider houses, fewer fences, more green food and lots of exercise were special points noted in his talk.

The remarkable progress of chicken farming in the last 15 years, and more especially in Eastland county in the last three years, was noted by Mr. Kazemir who recommended the business as the best one to be in, because it produces something to eat. He declared pullets were better layers than hens and urged frequent culling. Various kinds of feeds were discussed and the use of cod liver oil recommended for baby chicks during bad weather because of the great amount of vitamin or sunshine it contains. Frequent drinks of warm water, feedings of boiled liver and scanty scratchings scattered frequently were urged for cold, stormy weather, to insure continued egg production.

Others Discuss Poultry. Following Mr. Kazemir there was a short talk by Mrs. Roberts of the Universal Mills, in which she praised both the work of County Agent R. H. Bush, and of C. C. Patterson, secretary of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce, in building up the Eastland county poultry business. Mr. Bush spoke briefly on increased interest in this business, and urged all to join the Eastland county poultry association.

B. S. Dudley, spoke of the poultry show which will be held in Ranger in the latter part of August or early part of September and suggested an early meeting to make plans for it. Thursday night, Feb. 5, was selected for this meeting which will be held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

J. W. Sanders was chairman of the Saturday night meeting and introduced the speakers.

F. W. Kazemir, poultry expert, spoke to a meeting of poultrymen at the city hall in Eastland Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The major part of his talk dealt with poultry raising in Eastland county. Taking a 20-acre commercial poultry plant in Eastland county as a basis, Mr. Kazemir showed why, as compared to similar plants in other places, the plants should be paying propositions and how much profit owners should reasonably expect to receive from them.

It was pointed out by the speaker that Eastland county is splendidly located from many viewpoints for the poultry industry and that with the start this section has in that direction it should soon develop into one of the leading, if not the leading, poultry producing section in Texas.

THE TWENTIETH AMENDMENT. The proposed twentieth amendment to the constitution is a social question of the greatest magnitude and is being debated in almost every community. It concerns the vital activities of 35 per cent of our entire population. It affects the fundamental relationship of these children and their parents and guardians. It involves the question of whether the parents' income permits the support of the child to the age of 18 years. It raises the question of wage competition in mine, mill and factory between the child and its parent. "To regulate, limit and prohibit the labor of persons under 13 years of age," proposes an invasion of personal and civil rights never before advanced in this country, and it vitally affects our form of government.

To some extent compulsory school laws in most states remedy the evils complained of by society, but it has been found that too often parents, through lack of means, become a party to evasions of the school law, and from this source comes a very pronounced opposition to the proposed amendment. In most workingmen's families it is absolutely necessary for the boy or girl of 16 years of age to earn sufficient for their own sustenance, and in many cases to help with family expenses.

If the amendment becomes constitutional law it will mean not only a broad extension and application of the common community welfare principle, but it will also mean a necessarily higher average wage for the head of the family. Hence opposition on the part of employers. In view of recent history, however, this cannot be classed a hardship, because it has been repeatedly shown that an employer can afford to pay $20 per day just as easily as he can pay $2—providing his competitors do the same. The cost or less is passed on in any event to the consumer.

All really great reforms have met with strenuous opposition. Abolition of slavery resulted in a civil war. Almost every shop safeguard, including the compensation laws, have been obtained only after bitter contests. It is a long cry from the days of "bound-out" boy to that of a square deal for every child, but this is a Christian nation, and right wrongs no man.

OBEY OUR LAWS OR GET OUT. Senator Borah, chairman of the foreign relations committee, commenting on Sir Broderick Hartwell's boast that he sends $5,000,000 worth of whisky annually into this country in spite of our laws, declared that: "Our form of government above all forms of government must rest upon the sound principle of obedience to law because it is the law. The eighteenth amendment declared a great national policy. It gave notice to all the world that the United States would undertake the stupendous task of putting an end to liquor traffic. We were entitled and are entitled to have this policy respected by all other governments and entitled to have them compel their nationals to respect it."

In all probability some of the "nations," engaged in the smuggling business, will have a hard road to travel, for it is "a poor, lame that will not work two ways. Even Turkey demanded that foreigners must obey the laws of the Ottoman empire—or get out.

RANGER TALENT HEARD FOR SCHOOL BENEFIT. A concert of interest was given Saturday night at the high school auditorium for the benefit of the high school library fund. A miscellaneous program of musical selections and readings was enjoyed by a moderate sized audience. The result of the ticket sale is not known but probably more tickets sold than there were people in attendance at the concert, although the best of Ranger talent was represented on the program. The high school parent-teacher association sponsored the event.

PRESIDING OFFICERS IN TEXAS LEGISLATURE WIELD POTENT GAVELS

AUSTIN, Jan. 24.—Exponents of action should find no fault with the gavel wielders in the house and senate of the thirty-ninth legislature. Lieutenant Governor Barry Miller gives a machine gun sound-off with the gavel and senators must be on their toes unless they wish to register ayes and noes while the succeeding measure is being placed before the body. "I am going to have some action of this senate," was Miller's statement of policy at the opening of the session. Speaker Lee Satterwhite also swings a mean gavel. Although he is cumbered with the large voting membership, the electric voting machine flashes with the regularity of a crossing signal when minor bills are laid into the legislative hopper. Members sitting in the rear of the house have some difficulty hearing voices of other members on the floor, but Satterwhite gavels them into attention without difficulty.

GERMAN MAIL LOOTED BUT FEW CONVICTIONS OBTAINED. BERLIN.—The police are still engaged in attempting to untangle the vast system of mail theft which existed during the Christmas mail period in Germany. Many letters from the United States containing money were opened, the cash extracted and the letters resealed so cleverly that they were accepted without question. Protests resulted in many postal authorities telling the hickers that the robberies were committed abroad or on route. There have been numerous local prosecutions, but in few cases were there convictions and in practically no cases were there recoveries of stolen mail.

ROCKEFELLER TELLS STORY OF GAMBLING IN ARMY

WASHINGTON.—John D. Rockefeller Jr., in a recent visit here, said the two things he has done of which he is most proud are his selections of his wife and his father. He also told his favorite story, which follows: A soldier, known as an inveterate gambler, was transferred to another command, his commanding officer sending with his transfer papers a warning concerning his sporting proclivities. The new commanding officer started to discuss gambling with the soldier, who replied with an offer to bet $200 that the officer had a mole in the middle of his back.

Thinking to teach the man a lesson the officer accepted and stripped off his coat and shirt to win the wager. Then the officer wrote to the soldier's former commander, relating triumphantly the lesson he administered, but was astounded to say the least, to get this reply: "That soldier bet me $1,500 he'd have the shirt off your back within 10 days after he changed outfits."

Architect's plans have been completed and adopted, which call for one of the most modern and beautiful church structures in Texas. It will be modern throughout and fireproof. Mr. and Mrs. Breck S. Walker of this city, who also have a home in Fort Worth, are donating $15,000 to the new edifice, and Mrs. Walker has promised to install a pipe organ to cost approximately $10,000.

Americans Stand For Fair Play Says N. Y. Boxing Head

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)
NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—Boxing has a most important part in forming the character of young American boys and it is the duty of ring champions to live up to the obligations of setting good examples of sportsmanship in the ring and in their conduct out of the ring, was one of the observations of George E. Brower, chairman of the New York boxing commission, in a statement written recently for the New York Evening World.

Brower pointed out Gene Tunney, Benny Leonard, Mickey Walker and Tom Gibbons as being the ideal type of a boxer.

"Prevailing upon the holders of boxing titles to defend their championships," Brower said, "against outstanding boxers, is, of course, the big issue a boxing commission has to struggle with. Our next important duty is to bring about such order at boxing contests that the attendance at these so-called fight clubs will be on a par in deportment with that which turns out for a theatrical performance or any other public entertainment.

"The American ideal is fair play and it should be absent in no manner or form from anything that may be a part of the boxing game. We should have fair play on the part of our champions, also fair play on the part of those who attend all contests.

"The influence for character-building wielded by the prominent boxers, and as reflected through the news columns of our daily press, is little realized. The men engaged in boxing are charged with a high responsibility as to the kind and degree of imagination their actions create.

"Where the evil is mostly to be feared in sports is from the great commercialized interests. This concerns baseball and other athletic pursuits as well as boxing. So long as these sports are honestly and properly regulated and are reported as contests waged truly as sport for sport's sake, with emphasis on fair play, the square deal, loyalty and unselfishness, and with prominence to pluck and grit, there is nothing to be feared.

"It is a fact that most of our boys can tell you the names of our presidents and great soldiers, but few could name the senators, even those of their own state.

PRE-EASTER RELIGIOUS CAMPAIGN TO BE HELD IN RANGER CHURCHES

Members of the Ranger Ministerial alliance, meeting Saturday, decided to have another pre-Easter simultaneous evangelistic campaign in Ranger, to begin March 29.

Preceding the revival a religious census of Ranger will be taken. A union meeting to be held next September also was discussed and given favorable consideration, but no definite action taken.

Present at the meeting were: Rev. A. W. Hall, pastor of the Methodist church; Rev. G. D. Robison, pastor of the Presbyterian church; Rev. A. L. Leake, pastor of the Central Baptist church, and Rev. John W. Tyndall Jr., pastor Christian church.

LEGISLATURE READY TO ENTER ON THIRD WEEK

By United Press.
AUSTIN, Jan. 24.—Both houses of the legislature apparently were ready to begin the third week of the thirty-ninth legislature by getting down to business as the second week ended tonight. A series of local bills were rushed through the house today and finally adopted. The senate was not in session.

One of the major problems facing the session will be laid before them Monday involving the tick eradication law, it was learned here tonight. The bill was worked out in keeping with the recent conference held at Houston. The measure will be laid before both houses simultaneously.

Working hours of the lower house were laid down by Speaker Lee Satterwhite today and unofficially subscribed to by the membership on a basis of four hours daily except Saturday. Satterwhite divided the house's working day between committees and a working session. Under his proposal the house will transact business on the floor from 10 o'clock until noon, recessing to 3 o'clock and then continuing in session until 5 o'clock.

The insistence of Representative John Veatch won out in the house late yesterday when that body overwhelmingly adopted the bill for consolidation of the marketing and warehouse and the weights and measures department with the department of agriculture. Veatch started his fight for the consolidation of the three departments in the thirty-seventh legislature.

RANGER AND CISCO TO PLAY TUESDAY NIGHT

High School Basketball Teams To Contest for Championship Honors.

Much interest is being manifested by the citizens of Ranger in the progress of their basket ball team and the first they will encounter in their march towards the county championship when they meet Cisco at the Ranger gymnasium Tuesday night at 8 o'clock.

With an unbroken string of victories over every high school team they have met this year, the fast stepping Bulldogs are champing at the bit, impatient to clamp their jaws into the hide of the Cisco Lobos and avenge the defeat handed to them on the gridiron.

With one of the fastest teams in the state, Ranger is grooming its team of hard fighting Bulldogs for the state finals. Journeying to Fort Worth they took the highly touted Panther city teams into camp, defeating every major high school there. Every team met in Eastland county has fallen before the onslaught.

Little is known of the strength of the Cisco team this year as it has encountered but few teams. Reports are that Breckenridge with a renovated team defeated them in two games. Ranger and Breckenridge met in a two-game series with the Buckaroos on the short end of the score in both affairs. A team may increase its playing 100 per cent through persistent efforts and rumors has it that such is the case with Breckenridge.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
PASTOR'S ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION TOMORROW

All members of the First Baptist church of Ranger have been urged to attend a basket supper to be held in the basement of the church at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night in celebration of the seventh anniversary of the pastorate of the Rev. W. H. Johnson.

Following the supper a program will be given. Several out-of-town will be provided by two quartets. The program will be more or less informal throughout, intending to afford all members of the church an opportunity to get together socially.

CARL BARNES POST ADDS TO MEMBERSHIP

One Hundred More Legionnaires Wanted and Must Be Enrolled.

Final preparations for the membership drive to be held by the Carl Barnes post of the American Legion in Ranger, are rapidly nearing completion. Post Adjutant Jimmie Toland said Saturday. Instead of having an active personal solicitation campaign the facts are being presented to all ex-service men in Ranger and under the jurisdiction of the Ranger post by mail. To every ex-service man whose address is obtainable will be sent a personal letter stating the cold facts about the American Legion and leaving the matter of joining up to his better judgment. New members are being enrolled daily, although the drive proper has not yet been actively inaugurated.

The American Legion as a potent factor in the history and life of the United States has grown until it is now recognized by leading business men and politicians of the country as a dominant force of clean patriotic men serving the best interests of this country with unstinted devotion. The leaders of the nation have recognized the value of the American Legion in services rendered by them in the past and given them credit for their great work. Men who are legionnaires are gradually superseding the older men in important posts of the nation's political life as they are keeping abreast with the times.

Some of the crises of the nation, in which the American Legion played no small part in safely negotiating are: taking the backbone out of the radical movement, when it prevented the "reds" from drawing support from the ranks of the discharged soldiers, sailors and marines, in the year of 1919, and relief for disabled veterans. In 1921 an acute unemployment situation was faced and a drive inaugurated under the heading of "The Day." March 20, 1922, was set aside as "the day" and was almost universally observed throughout the United States. When the first day's reports were in and tabulated it was found that over 100,000 unemployed men had secured work who on the day previous had been without employment. Within three weeks more than 700,000 men had been placed in employment sufficient to provide for their needs. In 1922, as a result of the fight started by the American Legion, millions of dollars were recovered by the government from fraudulent contractors and profiteers. Americanization of the illiterate was the next national movement on which the legion concentrated.

The Carl Barnes post in Ranger is but one integral part of the national organization, but it is the small cogs in the great machine that cause it to function smoothly and the present officers of the Ranger post are determined that they will do their part. A larger membership is the present objective of the Ranger post and officials have set the goal at one hundred additional members for the roster.

NEW MADISON SQUARE GARDEN TO BE LARGEST COVERED AMPHITHEATRE

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Tex Rickard, sport promoter, states that the new Madison Square Garden will be ready for occupancy by Oct. 15, 1925. It will not be on the site of the present garden but in Eighth avenue, and Fifth street. The old garden will be torn down at once and a skyscraper replace the famous structure. Rickard is putting up the new garden with the aid of the Ringling circus interests and other business men and sport lovers. He will be president. Car barns have long occupied the new site. Rickard has secured permission of the new owners of the old garden property to perpetuate the name of the new structure.

The plans call for a building of steel construction, fire-proof and modern in every respect, with every mechanical device for the conduct of any indoor sporting event, any social function, any industrial display and with facilities to house the largest conventions. A prospect of getting the republican national convention for it in 1928 figured largely in the preliminary arrangements. It will cover a plot of ground 200 feet wide by 500 feet long, and 125 feet from pavement to cornice.

The whole will be divided into two levels, making it possible for two separate activities of large proportions to take place at any one time. The lower level, which will be 200 feet wide by 175 feet long, is especially designed for commercial exhibitions; the upper for conventions, athletic exhibitions and sports.

It will be possible to seat 23,000 spectators without undue crowding, or 9,000 more than the Olympia in London—at present the world's largest covered amphitheatre—and 10,000 more than the old garden could hold.

It will contain the most modern ice hockey equipment. A franchise has been acquired from the National Hockey league and Canadian players will be seen in action there next winter.

In addition, the plans call for club rooms and dining rooms. Rickard says that in the four and a half years he has had charge of the old garden, over 7,000,000 people have been entertained there.

HEAVY GASOLINE TAX.

WASHINGTON.—Automobile is becoming almost a luxury in our sister Central American republic of Panama. Consular advices to the department of commerce state that a sales tax of five cents a gallon is being imposed on all imports of gasoline. This is higher than any gasoline tax levied by any state in this country.

DELINQUENT TAX SUITS TO BE CALLED THIS WEEK

This week had been designated as criminal week in the Eighty-eighth district court, but the county attorney being unable to get his cases ready for trial, Judge Elzo Been dismissed the jury, notice of which was given, and the week will be devoted to the trial of delinquent tax suits instead.

There are an exceptionally large number of delinquent tax suits to be heard and according to the attorneys in the cases approximately 55 of them are ready for trial.

LAW LIBRARY AT UNIVERSITY VERY VALUABLE

It is Keeping Pace With Work Required of Students in Law Department

(This is one of a series of articles written by Dr. W. M. W. Solman, president of the University of Texas.)

Under the direction of Dean I. P. Hildebrand of the school of law of the University of Texas much attention is being given to enlarging the library of that branch of learning. The school has under way the establishment of the Townes memorial library, as a monument to the late Judge John C. Townes, whose memory is revered by the lawyers of Texas for his notable services as head of the law department of the university and as instructor. It is planned to give special attention to building up a Spanish research law library.

In the first year class of the school

All of the subjects are required and include contracts, criminal law and procedure, common law actions, property, torts, and legal bibliography. Second year students may select their courses from administration of estates, agency, wills and notes, carriers, civil procedures, equity, interstate commerce, persons, property 11, sales and wills. Third year students may select from administrative law, conflict of laws, constitutional law, conveyancing, evidence, federal procedure, mortgages, oil and gas, private corporations, property 11, trusts.

"Case Book" System.
In common with all of the leading law schools of the country this school uses what is sometimes called the case book system of instruction, but which is properly styled the method of original sources. This method has been in vogue partly in the school since its founding, as Judge Gould taught this method, as did Professor Clarence Miller, T. S. Miller, and Professor Peterson. It is now used in all courses except two.

The majority of the case books compiled up to date are based largely upon common law and equity cases, making it necessary to supplement them with Texas cases in instances in which the common law rules have been modified by Texas statutes and decisions. This valuable work is done by the members of the faculty selecting suitable cases in their respective courses. Supplementary case books have been prepared in contracts, criminal law, common law, law actions, torts, carriers, civil procedure, equity, interstate commerce, persons, property 11, wills, constitutional law, conveyancing, international law, mortgages, oil and gas, private corporations.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By E. R. Waite, Secretary Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce.

That modern realtors are a great asset to a city. No city can progress without their aid.

That when opportunity knocks at the door of a city, the realtors are the first to answer her call.

That the snappy way in which they grasp opportunity is what makes towns into cities and good cities into better cities.

That realtors are always conspicuously active in the growth of modern cities, and pave the way for their success.

That the service they give is of particular interest to the home buyers, the home builders and to every one who desires to locate an industry or to any one desiring to sell real estate.

That those realtors who have bought and sold for many years are always familiar with realty values and are of great assistance to those who wish to build a home, for they can give reliable advice as to financing it, and are always posted on material markets and prices.

Modern realtors are great advertisers. They advertise in a way that attracts the attention of the most desirable class of investors and home seekers to their home city.

You should boost your realtors. They boost your city.

SHIP OFFICER ARRESTED FOR KILLING MAN AT SEA
By United Press.
GALVESTON, Jan. 24.—Charges of murder were filed late Friday against W. A. McHale, chief engineer of the liner Knoxville City in connection with the fatal shooting of Newt K. Borg, 40, seaman, on the coast of Egypt while the vessel was en route from Calcutta to Galveston.

McHale was arrested Friday as the vessel docked at Galveston. He declared his gun was accidentally discharged during an argument with Borg, who he alleges was intoxicated and insubordinate. Borg died on Dec. 28, two days after being wounded. His body was buried at sea.

McHale will be arraigned before United States Commissioner Bentley Harris at 2 p. m. today.

CITIES WANT QUICK WAY TO REMOVE SNOW

It Clogs Streets, Congests Traffic and Is Costly to Clear Up.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—Some of these days a lucky inventor will stumble on a new method of snow removal and solve the problem that companies a snow fall in the major northern United States cities.

New York, during the early January snowstorm of 1925 paid nearly two million dollars to clear up less than a foot of snow; suffered untold losses due to freight congestion with ruined shipments and broke the commandment against profanity an equally untold number of times.

After years of experiment, the city has nothing better to offer than the ancient method of picking up the snow and carrying it to the rivers. The process involves handling the snow from three to seven times. That's why it's so costly.

No man who has not been in New York during a snowfall can comprehend what a problem a heavy snow fall is to the congested space marked on the maps as Greater New York. Three inches of snow is a heavy handicap; six inches is a disaster; ten inches a calamity, and anything over a foot a catastrophe.

Streets Become Clogged.
The narrow streets in the business district are clogged. Heavy trucks die in the streets and are abandoned for days and nights to block narrow passageways. For talk as you please, the auto, even with chains, is not a good snow traveler. The horses go better, but they can't climb over trucks. Neither can street cars.

Sidewalks are cleaned and snow piled in great heaps in the gutters. Garbage collection halts. In the tenement districts the contents of the countless garbage cans are used as a frosting for the piles of snow, which swiftly assumes a dirty-brown color and an odor of the same hue. Comes a little freeze and these masses are merged in a mass that requires the use of the pick. A week after the last New York storm, thousands of men were still carting the assembled filth into the rivers and bays.

Sectional chamber of commerce and business clubs of shippers, commission men and what not set up loud roars which fill the newspapers. Supplies run short along perishable lines. That's what less than a foot of snow does in New York.

Unemployed Get Work.
Of course, a lot of contractors make wealthy money out of the mess, while the always present army of unemployed gets several days work at 50 cents an hour as long as they can stand up. The vultures who cash the men's pay slips to permit them to exist until they can do another day's work, fatten because of the city's red tape. The sellers of the humble rubber and aristocratic galosh have a field day.

Men, finally washed, the city spruces up and hopes there won't be any more snow until New Year 1926. There usually ain't.

But the curse! They haven't found it yet. One genius invented a wagon with a big steel plate, under which burned gasoline. The idea was to melt the snow and let it run off. It looked pretty, but even with a flock of these wagons, the July sun would be needed to solve the removal question. It was too slow.

Then another inventor tried the flame projector, similar to those used by the German armies during the world war. The idea was to melt the snow and run it into the sewers. It burned cute little holes in the snow and garbage piles and made a horrible smell and clogged a few sewers, but it ain't the solution.

So New York and other cities went back to the man, the horse, the auto truck. They are now waiting for the Edison of the Snowdrift.

"I suppose you never worry yourself over the grocery bills, George?"
"Oh, no; we let the grocer do that."—Progressive Grocer.

CARBON MEN RETURN FROM BRIEF STAY IN LEVELAND

E. E. Wood and Emmett Gilbert of Carbon have just returned from a business trip to Leveland, Texas.

Mr. Wood states that they found the ground covered with snow on their way out, but most of it had disappeared as they were coming back.

"West Texas is in a splendid condition and settling up very rapidly," Mr. Wood says. "I found several new stores housed in good buildings at Leveland, put up since I left there only a few weeks ago."

The Santa Fe Railroad company has two large crews of men making a survey for an extension of their line from Lubbock west, Mr. Wood said.

New chassis—with larger, stronger frame; new semi-elliptic, chrome vanadium steel springs; stronger axles, rear axle of the finest construction—banjo type housing with greatly strengthened gears; improved, fully enclosed dry-plate disc clutch requiring no lubrication; extra heavy brake bands; and many improvements on the powerful Chevrolet motor.

New bodies—of even greater beauty and comfort. All models have new radiator of more beautiful design, made of non-rusting airplane metal. All closed models have new and exceptionally beautiful Fisher bodies with the new VV closed-body one-piece windshield and automatic windshield wiper. Balloon tires on all closed models and disc wheels on the Sedan and Coupe.

New finish—all models are now finished in Duco—the new finish that retains its color and lustre almost indefinitely and withstands the severest usage. These are but a few of the quality features of the new Chevrolet—quality features that you would expect to find only on cars of much higher price.

CAMERON MARSHALL WILL SING HERE TUESDAY NIGHT.

Cameron Marshall, baritone, and head of the fine arts department of Howard Payne college at Brownwood, will sing in Ranger Tuesday night at the High school auditorium through the courtesy of the extension department of the college which is operating in Ranger under the personal supervision of Mr. J. Mr. Marshall has an original way of illustrating his songs with drawings which add to the interest of his entertainment. He will give special attention to some of the music memory contest numbers, and all children and parents interested in this contest will be especially pleased with this concert. EXCELSIOR SPRINGS BANK PRESIDENT TO FACE CHARGES

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 24.—Arrest of B. M. Meservey, president of the First National bank of Excelsior Springs, was expected to be made this afternoon, following disclosures of alleged irregularities in the bank's affairs. Meservey, according to the national bank examiner, has admitted using funds of the bank, E. B. Brasher, cashier of the bank, committed suicide last Wednesday.
