GORDON TRIAL MURDER CHARGE MOVES QUICKLY

Defense Attempts to Throw Guilt on Bob Dalton

EASTLAND, March 24.—L. C. Gordon was placed on trial in the district court Monday, charged with the murder of Roe Pollard. The homicide occurred in Ranger on the 6th day of November last. The jury was taken from the regular panel for the week and was secured quickly. By noon the state had developed much of its testimony and the defendant had disclosed the line of defense to be made. The defendant's counsel boldly announced during the taking of the testimony of the first witness by the state that they would undertake to prove that one Bob Dalton, an alleged outlaw and fugitive from justice, killed the deceased and not the defendant Gordon.

Coleman Puckett, a state witness, testified in substance that he and Roe Pollard on the day of the killing went from Eastland to Ranger, that they attended the dance hall, walked about the streets of Ranger, spent the afternoon together, and then went for a while at the station waiting for the train to come at about 2 o'clock that night to return to Eastland. They were on Pine street, in front of a cafe, when defendant L. C. Gordon came up and began talking to Pollard, and accused Pollard of having talked about him, and when Pollard said he did not know the man talking to him, Gordon began and continued to curse him, calling him an obscene name. The witness was sitting on a box and the two men were standing by the wall on the sidewalk. Gordon repeated that Pollard had been talking about him.

While they were talking, the testimony continued, two ladies and one man passed together and were at the corner across the street when witness saw Gordon with a pistol in his hand shoot the deceased. The witness and Pollard were near together when Pollard discovered that he was shot, and sent the witness for a physician. While the witness was on his way to summon the physician, a policeman caught and took him to the police station in Ranger. The policeman sent for a physician at the McCleskey hotel. At the police station witness heard someone called by the officers, Bob Dalton, cursing Gordon, who was also there at the station. A witness at the station identified the defendant as the man who did the killing of Pollard. He said he never saw any pistol in the hands of Pollard at the time of the difficulty or at any other time. He came back to Eastland that night and has not been back to Ranger.

On cross examination, the witness was asked if he did not see Bob Dalton beating defendant with a pistol and if he did not see blood on Gordon's face at the jail, to all of which the state's attorneys objected. Here the jury was sent out, and the defendant sought to get in the testimony about the difficulty between Gordon and Dalton. The court ruled that the difficulty between them was inadmissible. When the jury returned the witness said he saw Gordon turn aside after the shooting with his pistol in his hand.

Dr. Rucker of Ranger was next placed on the stand and at the conclusion of his testimony the court adjourned for lunch. He testified that Pollard died about 48 hours after the wound, and that it was the wound made by the pistol shot that caused Pollard's death.

L. C. Gordon was born in Nashville, Ark., and is 24 years of age. His mother, a widow, lives in Junction City, Kan. His father died when Gordon was two years of age, leaving a wife, a daughter and this one son. The daughter is married and lives in Kansas. Mrs. Gordon, the mother of L. C., is present and will testify for the defense.

Young Gordon has been working in the oil fields of Oklahoma and Texas, coming to Desdemona where for a few weeks he had been engaged with a casing crew. Just before the night of the homicide, he had gone up to Mineral Wells for a day or two and had come back and stopped off at Ranger on his way back to Desdemona. While there the arrest was made and he has been in jail ever since.

Gordon states that he joined the army as a volunteer the second day after war on Germany was declared, and served eighteen months in the service. He did not go to France, but was used as an instructor in the manual of arms at Fort Sill, Camp Bowie, and at Camp Pike, where he was honorably discharged after peace was declared.

WORKING MEN'S CLUB ACTS ON WATER SUPPLY

A permanent water supply for Ranger was the most important thing discussed by the Business and Working Men's club, who held their regular meeting in the American Legion hall Tuesday night. One speaker touching on the matter said that "every city, no matter how large, has no greater in an industrial way, than was its permanent water supply."

The president of the club appointed a committee to confer with the city commission on the matter. They were instructed by the club to ask the city administration to spare no expense in procuring the greatest authority they could on the question and hasten his findings. The sanitary conditions of the city were discussed and a committee appointed to bring the matter to the notice of the city commission. In the instructions given the committee, they were asked to submit a plan to the city whereby residents would be assessed an amount for their sanitary work, the amount to be collected by the sanitary inspector and turned over to sanitary service people. A representative of the service was at the meeting and endorsed the move.

This committee was also instructed to take up the matter with Mayor Haganman of setting aside the last day of March as general clean-up day. Asking that he issue a proclamation to that effect.

In the matter of a Labor Temple which the club has been considering, a committee was appointed to investigate all available sites and report their findings at the next meeting.

Before adjournment it was decided to change the meeting nights of the club from Tuesday to Wednesday.

GOV. LOWDEN, ILLINOIS, GETS WATERWAY PERMIT

By Associated Press
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 24.—Gov. Frank O. Lowden of Illinois has received a new permit for construction of the Illinois waterway, dated March 4, and signed by Lansing H. Beach, chief of engineers of the war department, Washington, and by Secretary of War Baker, according to an announcement by W. L. Sackett, superintendent of Illinois waterways.

The conditions on the permit issued in January, upon investigations by state officials in charge of the work were found to restrict the state in obtaining right of way and actual construction.

Application for an amended approval of the plans was made in February, the matter being presented to the war department by Mr. Sackett. The new document from the government authorizes the construction of waterway purposes and authorizes acquisition of property for development of water power, the original approval and authorization of construction restricting the state in these particulars.

"The question of diversion of water from Lake Michigan for sanitary purposes is nearer solution now than at any time in the past fifteen years," said Mr. Sackett, who attended the conference with engineers of the war department and members of the Chicago sanitary district board in Washington recently.

"Construction of sanitation treatment works must be pushed," Mr. Sackett said, "constructing works to prevent further interference with navigation as a result of lowering lake levels must be installed."

Mr. Sackett declared there was every reason to believe that the sanitary district trustees and the state will have a plan worked out soon which will meet with the approval of Col. Judson, resident engineer, and that it will have the support of the government engineering corps at Washington.

ACCIDENTAL SHOT BELIEVED CAUSE OF WATCHMAN'S DEATH

The body of John Trial, night watchman for the Gulf Pipe Line company at Tiffin, Tex., was sent to Oklahoma, by the Milford Undertaking company Wednesday. L. Trial, a brother, and J. E. and C. E. Trial, his two sons, accompanied the body.

Trial was found dead in his room at the Gulf Pipe Line company's buildings at Tiffin, shortly after 11 o'clock Tuesday morning. A revolver lay on the floor beside him and a bullet had passed through his head.

Justice of the Peace McFatter held an inquest over the remains and returned a verdict of death from a pistol wound of unknown origin.

Employees of the company are inclined to believe that Trial met his death as a result of an accidental discharge of his pistol. He had several hundred dollars in a bank here and money in a bank in Oklahoma. The only reason which could be advanced for his taking his own life is that he recently suffered a broken leg in a runaway accident, and since that time he is said to have suffered from spells of despondency concerning the state of his health.

FORD SHIPBUILDING PLANT WILL SOON BE A MEMORY

DETROIT, Mich., March 24.—The Ford shipbuilding plant, constructed in record time to turn out sub-chasers—or eagle boats as they are more popularly known—will soon be only a memory. Part of the equipment, however, is to continue in the navy service elsewhere.

The big warehouse, the only structure remaining under government control at the River Rouge plant, is being dismantled preparatory to shipment to Hampton Roads. The structure, 983 feet long and 58 feet wide, was erected in thirty days to house eagle boat equipment. It is to be loaded on freight cars and shipped to Hampton Roads, where, according to information obtained here, it will be divided into three smaller buildings.

Deserted, She Seeks Home For Her Baby

Who will open their home and hearts and take little Ernest Kiel, two-year-old boy baby, as their own son? Mrs. B. B. Malone asks that this request be made.

The boy's father, according to Mrs. Malone, deserted the boy and his mother, leaving them to struggle along the best they could. Mrs. Kiel took a place in the laundry that the necessities of life could be procured for herself and son. Her hours are long and while at work her child must be left among strangers.

To Mrs. Kiel the situation offers these alternatives: one, to stifle the greatest of all human emotions, the love of mother for son, and allow the boy to be taken into a good home; the other to let him be reared a boy of the streets. The future of Ernest is the deciding factor. If there can be found a proper home in Ranger, the mother of the boy will relinquish all claim and allow his foster parents to adopt him legally.

The youngster is a healthy, normal child. He is living at the home of Mrs. Malone on Mesquite street.

VEHICLES OUT FROM RANGER 5,000 A DAY

The roads of the oil fields have oftentimes been called the busiest channels of traffic in the world, but here comes an authoritative statement to prove it. County engineers in charge of the surveys for the road systems new under way for the county made a count of the number of vehicles passing out of the three cities, Ranger, Eastland and Cisco.

To facilitate the count, but one road was picked from each city, that the busiest highway to be found.

The count showed that from Cisco 1,400 vehicles passed in a day; from Eastland, 2,000, and from Ranger 5,000.

The total of 8,400 vehicles, representing only a fraction of the total traffic, indicates the volume of business that goes out daily from Ranger to the territory it serves.

EX-SERVICE MEN ARE DISSATISFIED WITH SIMPLE LIFE

By Associated Press
GALVESTON, March 24.—Declaring that they find civil life too tame for them, many ex-soldiers, sailors and marines are abandoning land pursuits in favor of the United States merchant marine. Observations of Captain O. J. Christensen, local manager of the United States shipping board's sea service bureau, are that a large number of men applying for berths are dissatisfied with indoor or sedentary occupations after the open-air existence of the army or navy. They are keen, too, to learn the opportunities for getting ahead of seafaring men.

Four classes of inexperienced workers are being taken on by shipping board offices: Ordinary seamen, messmen, coal passers and firemen. The ordinary seaman earns $85 a month as compared with $9 and $10 in pre-war days; messmen make $70; coal passers $75, and firemen $90. Before the United States shipping board came into existence the wages paid coal passers and firemen ranged from $12 to $20 a month.

Three years experience, according to the government regulations, are required as a prerequisite to an "AB" ticket, which pays $85 a month; another year and the able-bodied seaman may take an examination for his third mate's license, which pays from $165.75 to $188.75, depending upon the size of the vessel; at the end of another twelve months he may take another examination for second mate's license, at from $167.50 to $212.50. The first mate's license, which may be applied for after six years, brings a salary of from $216.25 to $241.25. The peak is reached when the navigator passes his master's examination, permitting him to command his own vessel. He then will receive anywhere from $330 to $412.50 a month.

In the engineering a like system of promotion prevails. Firemen advance successively from firemen to oilers, and from oilers to water tenders. At the end of their apprenticeship they may take the examination for third assistant engineer, paying $169.75 to $188.75; another year and they may take an examination for second assistant engineer at from $187.50 to $212.50; the third year may apply for a first assistant's ticket at from $216.25 to $241.25. When they attain a chief engineer's berth, they receive a remuneration ranging from $305 to $387.50.

Ships plying between this port and Genoa, Liverpool, Manchester, Le Havre, Marseilles, Rotterdam and Barcelona nearly all carry four or five inexperienced men. Those clearing for Havana, Cuba or Porto Rico, carry a slightly larger number of new men owing to the shortness of the voyage.

A navigation school, recently inaugurated here by Captain Christensen, is attracting a considerable number of youths.

PARIS, March 24.—Two German officers arrived today to explain to the allies what they consider the necessity to permit the German army to enter the occupied zone to restore order. They told Premier Millerand that Ebert had ample forces and was ready to deal with the situation in the Ruhr district.

No decision was announced but it is understood that the allies have decided to agree and all that remains to be decided is the guarantee to be furnished by Germany that her army will retire as soon as order is restored.

New Cabinet Imminent.
COPENHAGEN, March 24.—The formation of a new German cabinet is only a few hours off. The independent Socialists are sure of several important portfolios, according to a Berlin telegram.

Westphalia Unruled.

PARIS, March 24.—Reports indicate that the condition in Westphalia is unchanged. It is confirmed that the proletarian council will not be proclaimed but it is said that the miners are bitter against the government forces. A labor leader is quoted as saying that the miners are ready for the entente to disarm them but "they would rather die than surrender to the regulars."

LONDON, March 24.—In the strike settlement of the government with the labor unions the majority Socialists have pledged a place in the parliamentary program for the claims of labor organizations, says a Berlin dispatch. The government is willing to withdraw the troops from Berlin and across the Spree river near government headquarters and raise the state of siege immediately, it is said.

CHAOS RULED NAVY DEPT. AT START OF WAR

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 24.—Chaos existed in the navy department when war was declared. Capt. Harris Lansing, assistant chief of the bureau of navigation, testified today before the senate investigating committee. He said that no one knew what to do after the plan submitted by the bureau for operations had been disapproved and that "the personal characteristics of the secretary of the navy often made it impossible to get approval of really important policies."

He declared that the various units of the department could make no co-ordinated effort to carry on the war for lack of definite general plans; that the fleet was not ready at the outbreak of the war and that in the years immediately preceding, the navy department took no attitude toward legislation and policies to prepare the fleet.

LIBERTY.

Chaplin's "A Day of Pleasure" Today What the management of the Liberty theater declares to be the most pleasing Charles Chaplin production ever shown on a local screen will be seen for the first time today when the comedian's latest million dollar production, "A Day's Pleasure," opens its two-day engagement.

Characterized by the fact that those essentials that have contributed to the laugh-drawing powers of all other Chaplin productions are concentrated in this picture, "A Day's Pleasure," is said to enlist audience attention from the start, generate a good humor and then take the audience through the entire gamut of human merriment.

A Real Self-Starters. There is every conceivable form of fun in this latest production, so the management of the Liberty declares. All dull moments have been carefully eschewed and it evidently was Chaplin's desire to make a "Day's Pleasure" a comedy that would keep an audience in constant laughter.

The first part of the production takes place in a family auto of which Chaplin is the proprietor. He is seen for the first time as the happily-wedded father of a household consisting of a wife and two miniature Chaplins.

The picture starts with what is believed to be the funniest scene ever filmed in the history of the motion picture industry. The incident takes place on a busy street corner when the family automobile, through unknown reasons, refuses to abide by the wishes of the diligent driver and an exasperated traffic officer.

The picture is concluded on an excursion boat where on a negro jazz band adds its soul-stirring tones to the unsettled stomach of the participants of a rough voyage.

LAMB.

Strong vs. Weak Is the Theme of "Other Men's Shoes."

"Other Men's Shoes," the big Edgar Lewis special feature, showing today and tomorrow at the Lamb theater, is a story in which is depicted the struggle of the strong versus the weak. A minister who loses his nerve has his place filled by a brother who has learned much of the ways of human nature from twelve years of knocking about the world in search of adventure.

Andrew Soutar, author of "Other Men's Shoes," has hit straight at the heart of things and produced a plot that keeps one guessing at every turn and hanging on breathlessly to see how it turns out. He has also introduced some delightful characters and a romance that is beautiful and tender and noble.

LONE STAR. Miss Clark Popular.

Nearly all screen patrons will remember Marguerite Clark's first screen starrer, "Wildflowers," in which she created a photoplay sensation. Ever since that initial production she has been making pictures for Paramount and her popularity has steadily increased with each new achievement until now she is one of the best known and most universally loved actresses on the screen. Her latest picture "Girls," an adaptation of the play of the same name by the late Clyde Fitch, scored a huge success at the Lone Star today.

The section of the line from Mineral Wells to Breckenridge is yet in incomplete form. All of the necessary interurban data, including census, interurban population, completed surveys, etc., will take more time to complete and will necessitate raising further funds.

The secretary has been advised that the sum of $10,000 has been raised and paid in by Palo Pinto and that the sum of $11,470 has been raised and paid in by citizens of Breckenridge.

CHICAGO ENCOURAGES YOUNG TRUCK FARMERS

CITY GRADER TO BE PUT ON STRAWN ROAD

With the completions of the extensions now under way of the sewer connections, the city council decided Tuesday afternoon to discontinue this work, inasmuch as the sewer bond issue of $215,000 will have been expended together with an amount that will leave a small deficit.

Upon the condition of the Strawn road and South Rusk street being called to the attention of the commissioners by J. E. T. Peters, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, they decided to work this road and street with the city grader.

In the course of business the paving and curbing ordinance was passed to the third reading. After being published twice this ordinance becomes a law.

The sanitary people asked that the police be instructed to notify all trash haulers that the city had let a contract for that work and that others, hauling any but their own trash, were violating an ordinance and would be fined. The request was granted.

The question of building a tile sewer to carry waste water to a point about 3,000 feet below the disposal plant was discussed.

Needy Girl, Aided by Generous Woman Scorns Benefactor

Social workers as a rule do not expect or receive thanks or appreciation for their work. What they do they do for the love of the thing itself. Their reward comes in the knowledge of the good they are doing.

But altruistic as they are, they receive at times such gross cases of ingratitude that it leaves them disheartened and almost on the verge of quitting.

In Ranger a woman in trouble was taken into a good home. Money was provided her. She asked for and received a good position. The experienced eyes of a social worker were watching over her, trying to direct her footsteps along the line of a useful life.

The woman, in turn, accepted the money, denied any debts that had been contracted in her behalf, left the home that had been provided for her and asked that her movements be unhampered.

In this case there was a money loss, a time loss, and a little loss of faith, by the social worker.

AUDITOR'S DEPARTMENT OF OIL BELT ROAD TO NEW HEADQUARTERS

The auditor's department of the Wichita Falls, Ranger and Fort Worth railroad has been moved to the new office building, across the track from the freight and passenger depot of the company, on Hunt street. Other offices will be moved this week.

The office building will be completed in a few days. It will house all the general offices of the company.

FIRESIDES

Days of firesides are passing and soft evenings with velvet skies are becoming more frequent. Yet, when the excuse offers, and the cool of the evening steals away the warm glow of the day and brings the hint of a shiver, we light the open fire and gather around it, enjoying its comfort, but more its association, its significance, its assurance of security.

Fire ever has been man's friend, his symbol of home and protection. It was one of his early conquests over the untamed natural elements—as element it first was classed, one of the great three allies of man against many unkind gods and hungry beasts. Crouched on his haunches before its flickering blaze, which was caught and danced in green glow in the eyes of the dog-wolf which lay beside him, he watched the elfin flames and radiant coals and dreamed. He felt the security that it held against the night prowlers. Beyond, in the blackness, hungry eyes might watch, but they were kept beyond the circle of light by the fear of fire.

So man found security, and the place for dreams, of years unborn, of conquests unnamed.

His love for the open fire has come down through the misty years.

Not to be smothered by ultra-modern devices which obey the promptings of ingenious thermostats and regulators and dials to furnish made-to-order temperatures far more satisfactory from the hygienic standpoint and from that of mere bodily comfort, man's love for the fire of his early days expresses itself in fireplaces, or those unconvincing substitutes, gas logs.

Around it, as should be, he builds his home. As in the beginning, it is the nucleus. And musing before it, he feels still its defense against the circle of hungry eyes, its security, its inspiration to dreams of years unborn, and conquests unnamed.

BRECKENRIDGE TO SELL BONDS FOR UTILITIES

BRECKENRIDGE, March 24.—A large sum has been raised for the dragging of the highway between Breckenridge and Necessity, over which heavy traffic passes daily. Another sum was raised for improving Breckenridge streets.

DOG DON'T KNOW OWNER; JUDGE IS PUZZLED

By International News Service. BOSTON, March 24.—"I know how Solomon must have felt," declared Municipal Judge Michael J. Murray from the bench as he was trying to decide which of two women was the rightful owner of a French poodle.

He offered to settle the dispute by having the animal killed. One woman made a tearful plea for the poodle's life. The other's principal objection—and she has possession of the dog—was that such an act would make her two children sick.

Mrs. May Seigle applied to the court for a warrant against Mrs. Ida Polack. Mrs. Polack had the dog which Mrs. Seigle claimed belonged to her. The dog is four years old.

Judge Murray held the women take opposite sides of the courtroom and then instructed each claimant to call him. The dog ran frantically from one to the other, apparently unable to decide which was his mistress. The jurist acknowledged that such a scheme only added to the dilemma. The court admitted the hopelessness of the situation and declined to issue the warrant that Mrs. Seigle sought. She was advised to seek redress in a civil suit.

NEW 30-TON ICE PLANT BUILT AT BRECKENRIDGE

Special to The Times. BRECKENRIDGE, March 24.—Private parties have selected a site and are now installing a 30-ton ice plant in this city. The capacity is sufficient to take care of the needs of Breckenridge at present, and additional units will be attached as needs require.

GIANTS OF MUSEUM IN CHICAGO TAKE AUTOMOBILE RIDE

By Associated Press. CHICAGO, March 24.—A herbivorous dinosaur, a drove of South American peccaries and a zebra went riding down Michigan boulevard in automobiles the other day.

The occasion was moving day at the Field museum, where the skeletons of the animals had reposed since the world's fair days, twenty-eight years ago. They were being moved to the new museum in Grant park.

The dinosaur, whose eighty-foot skeleton weighs five tons, was moved in sections. It will take three months to take him apart, move the bones, and re-assemble the creature, according to E. S. Riggs, expert in paleontology of the museum.

Dinosaurs gambled over the middle west several million years ago, during the Magdalenian period of the paleolithic age and browsed off the tree tops until the rule plesiosaurs and the pterodactyl.

GOOD GROCER GOOD MEDICINE

An East Nashville Grocer Says He Has Used Black-Draught for Years, Whenever Troubled with Torpid Liver.

East Nashville, Tenn.—"You ask me about Black-Draught. It is without doubt the best liver medicine made, and I don't believe I could get along without it," declared Mr. W. N. Parsons, recently.

Mr. Parsons, who is a prominent grocer at 243 North First street, says further: "I take it (Black-Draught) for sour stomach, headache, bad liver, indigestion, and all other troubles that are the result of a torpid liver. I have known and used it for years and I can highly recommend it to every one. I won't go to bed without it in the house. It will do all it claims to do. I can't say enough for it."

Thedford's Black-Draught, which has been in successful use for more than seventy years, is a medicine especially adapted to the treatment of many liver troubles. It has proved helpful to thousands and thousands of persons suffering from stomach and liver complaints, and should be helpful to you.

Black-Draught is easy to take and has not the bad after-effects so common with many mineral drugs. Most good druggists sell it.—Adv.

AUSTRIAN MARINES, LACKING OWN SHIPS, SEEK U. S. BERTHS

By Associated Press. GALVESTON, March 24.—Thousands of Austrian marines, prevented under the terms of the treaty of Versailles from sailing under their own flag, are seeking employment in the United States merchant marine, according to Captain O. J. Christensen, in charge of the shipping board's sea service bureau here. The captain received a letter from the Austrian consul-general at Hamburg, stating that the plight of the Austrian seamen is deplorable.

Former officers of the imperial Austrian navy, skilled electricians, expert machinists, telegraph operators, engineers and assistants, the letter says, are among those who are anxious to sail under the American flag.

The men seeking employment in this country, the letter states "are mariners heart and soul," but owing to the fact that their country no longer possesses a fleet, they are unable to practice their beloved profession under the flag of their own country.

Hundreds of the applicants for positions, according to the consul-general's letter, are of the upper stratum of society, speak several foreign languages and are otherwise qualified to hold responsible positions in the merchant marine.

BRECKENRIDGE HOUSING SITUATION BETTER

By International News Service. BRECKENRIDGE, March 24.—The housing situation in Breckenridge has shown wonderful improvement in the last two months, according to Curtis Hancock, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. A number of large hotels have been completed and others are under course of erection. Likewise there is considerable building in the residence district. It is believed by the secretary that housing conditions will improve from week to week and will be entirely solved with the arrival of a railroad to bring needed building material.

BRECKENRIDGE GIVES $1,000 BONUS TO CENSUS TAKERS

Special to The Times. BRECKENRIDGE, March 24.—In order that Stephens county might get a full count in the government census during January and that the remuneration might be sufficient in view of the high wages paid in the oil fields, the sum of $1,000 as a bonus was raised by the Breckenridge Chamber of Commerce. The census takers were quickly secured and the enumeration carefully made. Distribution of the bonus was made to the enumerators by County Judge J. W. Darden.

Little Hope of Relief For Victims of Catarrh

Unless Old-Time, Obsolete Treatment Is Discarded.

Doubtless during the mild summer months you have enjoyed some relief from the disease, because there is always less inflammation of the membranes during the summer, but do not make the mistake of thinking that your Catarrh is gone, for the very first raw, damp, wintry day, the delicate linings of the membranes will begin to clog up, and soon you will find that your old enemy is still with you, with a fiendish intention of making the winter as full of discomfort as ever.

What are you going to do about it? If you have had the disease for any length of time, the chances are that you have used enough local remedies to convince you that there is no cure for you in this method of treatment. Are you going to drag through another winter hawking and spitting and spraying constantly in an effort to unclog the stopped up air passages so that you can get your breath for awhile, knowing that these accumulations will immediately reappear—or are you going to discard this makeshift treatment, and use a little intelligence in an effort to get rid of this disease that is such an annoyance and a constant headache?

You must accept the teachings of science, which shows that to get rid of any disease, you must treat it at its source, you must direct your efforts toward removing its cause, instead of being satisfied with slight temporary relief from its symptoms. You must root out from your blood the millions of tiny germs which cause Catarrh, so that there can be no more inflammation of the nose and throat, and choked up nasal passages that make breathing difficult and painful.

S. S. S., the fine old blood remedy, has given splendid results in the treatment of Catarrh, and you will be delighted with its effect on your case. It so purifies and cleanses the blood, that disease germs are eradicated, hence when the germs of your Catarrh are eliminated from the blood, you are on the right road to a permanent ridance from the disease. Go to your drug store, and get a bottle of S. S. S. to day and begin the real rational treatment that will give real results.

If you will write our medical department, we will take pleasure in giving instructions regarding the treatment of your own particular case. Address Chief Medical Adviser, 15 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

Clairvoyant, But Gypsies Could Not See Arrest in Store

Adorned with necklaces of golden coins, great silver bracelets, picturesque clothes, dirt, dogs and children, eight gypsies lined up before the night desk sergeant Tuesday night charged with vagrancy. In the exuberance of spirit that characterize this class they made a joke of the matter and unearthened money enough to pay several such fines as were imposed.

The women have been telling fortunes on the streets. They were told that "if they could not forecast the fact that they were going to be arrested there was something phony about them and they had better leave town." They promised to do as soon as the banks opened Wednesday morning, so they could remove their deposits.

THE TIMES' DAILY SHORT STORY

MRS. GARRITY'S PARLOR

By Dora Molan

Copyright, 1920, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.
 South avenue in Rockhaven is essentially a street of respectable rooming houses. Rita Hemingway, in search of a place to hang up her marmot coat, and so call "home," rang the bell at No. 8. Simultaneously, at No. 40, Mrs. Garrity turned with a satisfied sigh from her account book, which showed a substantial balance on the right side, to answer a ring at the phone.
 Now No. 8 and No. 40 were almost a block apart, yet fate had ordained that Rita's fur wrap should find at least a temporary resting place in the clothes press of Mrs. Garrity's third floor front. Therefore Rita rang the bell at 8, and the intervening bells as well to no profit. Mrs. Garrity was stout and placid. No one credited her with especial astuteness. Yet the reputation of her house was the envy of the street. It was well known that she rarely had a room vacant longer than a day. Yet she broke every established tradition of her competitors.
 She turned down the cream of the trade, single men. She took only business girls and she allowed them many privileges. And she was the only landlady on the street who voluntarily sacrificed that plum of rooming house income—the rent of the front parlor. It could not be hired.
 But Rita Hemingway was ignorant of all this when she rang Mrs. Garrity's bell. She only thought the outside appearance of the house nearer than most of its neighbors and prayed that it might contain one unoccupied room sans green carpet and red wallpaper. She had seen a dozen such in the last hour.

 There was a vacant room. Mrs. Garrity assured her caller. She led the way through neat halls, up two flights of immaculate stairs and into a room where the soft brown of the floor harmonized with the tan of the walls and the curtains were crisply fresh.
 "Oh, how nice!" exclaimed Rita; "but its occupied isn't it?" For an open magazine lay upon the couch and a basket of sewing stood on the table.
 "It was up to fifteen minutes ago," replied Mrs. Garrity. "Then Miss Green, who had it phoned me she was being married this noon. I don't take married couples. I make that understood. That's the fourth to leave for that reason this month. Have you a bean, my dear?"
 Rita turned resentfully from the inspection of the room. So this was to be life in the apartment of such an attractive house—a noisy landlady! But Mrs. Garrity was proceeding: "I have a parlor; such a lovely parlor! It is always open to my roomers and their gentlemen friends."
 "Why, yes; I have a friend," Rita found herself saying. "who will probably come to see me. We are not—that is—anyhow, if we ever married it will not be till he is better established in his business." And for the telling of so much of her affairs to this perfectly strange person, whose concern it certainly was not, Rita was promptly ready to bite off her tongue.
 "Ma'am" commented Mrs. Garrity, with the air of a physician who understands the symptoms and is sure of the treatment.
 It ended in Rita engaging the room. Five minutes after closing time in the big offices of the Underwood Insurance company she told Charlie Winters all about it. Charlie was waiting for her at the corner.

Dancing, refreshments and trips of inspection through the well appointed lobby, dining room, and guest rooms of the New Hotel Theodore provided a pleasant evening for the hundreds who responded to Mrs. Mabel Willson's invitation to the opening of the new hotel, at Pine and Commerce streets, Tuesday night.
