EX-KAISERIN OF GERMANY DIED TODAY

Former Empress Augusta Victoria Had Been Ill Long Time in Holland.

By United Press. DOORN, Holland, April 11.—The former empress of Germany, Augusta Victoria, died here today at 6 a. m. Warned by the long illness of the kaiserin, most members of her family were at Doorn, when death occurred. The empress was a victim of heart trouble. The illness was aggravated by worries over the world war and the kaiser's flight into Holland in the fall of 1918.

The funeral will be held at Potsdam, where the empress reigned for thirty years. The body will be taken there Wednesday, after preliminary services here tomorrow. Only members of the family will attend the ceremonies in the chapel here.

It has not been decided as yet whether the kaiser can accompany the remains to Potsdam. It would be his first visit there since 1918. Others of the family will make the journey.

HAD BEEN ILL LONG.

International News Service NEW YORK, April 11.—The former Kaiserin Augusta Victoria had been ailing greatly during the war. The fate that overtook the reigning empress and her mother, the Princess Adelheid of Hohenlohe—Langenburg. Her father died when she was a child, and she became a ward of Prince Christian, her uncle, who married the Princess Helena, a daughter of Queen Victoria of England.

It was through this relationship that she came to have an English education, for the young Princess Augusta Victoria went with her uncle and aunt to England and lived there at Cumberland Lodge. She was taken into the intimate entourage of Queen Victoria and might have continued her life in England, possibly marrying one of the English royal house, had it not been for a visit she paid to her home at Prikenu, in Silesia, where she had spent her earlier girlhood. Here she met Wilhelm and he fell in love with her in quite romantic fashion.

Romance of Royalty. Returning from a day's hunt, so the story goes, the ex-emperor lost his way. While wandering through a forest he met a young woman who directed him to the castle. The girl was Princess Augusta Victoria. Wilhelm said that he loved her at sight, but they were not married until February 27, 1881, when Auguste Victoria was twenty-three.

The empress was a total stranger to Berlin court life and Berlin society at the time of her marriage, and at first found it very difficult to adapt herself to the formal etiquette with which royal personages in Berlin were then surrounded. However, her strong character soon asserted itself, and in a short while she became a power in Germany.

The former empress was ever ready to help in every good work and her private charities were numerous. But she did not approve of the higher education or emancipation of women and entertained a holy horror of everything pertaining to the female suffrage movement. Women, according to her views, should remain in their own spheres and should regard their duties to their husbands, their children and their homes as their foremost obligations.

Respected Susan B. Anthony. However, when the women's congress met in Berlin in 1904 she received the delegates cordially and held a lengthy talk with the late Susan B. Anthony on woman suffrage topics. It is a well-recorded incident that the former empress insisted on standing while Miss Anthony remained seated and referred to her as "her honored guest."

The Empress Victoria was a devout orthodox Protestant, and a strong advocate for the betterment of religious conditions in Germany. On one occasion she refused an invitation of Countess Wagner, widow of the great composer, to witness a performance of "Parsifal." She declared the opera a desecration of a holy function. In 1906 she ordered the manager of the Royal theatre in Berlin to expunge every innuendo or risqué saying from plays in performance.

A few months prior to the beginning of the World War in 1914 the empress publicly denounced the night

Daylight Bandits Get $4000 In Fort Worth

By United Press. FORT WORTH, April 11.—Two masked men about 11 o'clock today held up the cashier at the Texas & Pacific depot as he and a special officer were going up Main street with money to deposit in a bank, and after several shots were exchanged escaped with about $4,000 in money. The bandits were masked and accosted the cashier and his escort on the crowded street, according to police report. After shots were exchanged the hold-ups got the drop on the cashier and the special officer, seized the bag and escaped in an automobile, according to first reports.

Alarm has been sent to all surrounding towns and officials and posses are searching for the bandits. The bandit in obtaining the money "rushed" Frederick Henry F. Sweeney, the cashier, and James Clark, the special officer, one fighting from one side while the other grabbed the satchel containing the money.

Clark's hip was grazed by a shot. A short time after the robbery several suspects had been picked up.

FIRST NATIONAL DEPOSITORS MEET TO DISCUSS STARNES' PLAN AND REPORT DECISION

At a called meeting of the depositors of the First National bank, which closed its doors Feb. 18, held at the Majestic theatre this morning, a committee was appointed to examine the assets and liabilities, and obtain all information, and report through the press for or against the plan submitted by Judge Starnes. More than 1,000 depositors attended this meeting, and the motion appointing this committee was carried, with only one dissenting vote.

J. H. Clark of the Texas Pacific Coal & Oil Co. was elected chairman, and S. T. Hicks of the Sinclair Oil & Gas Co., secretary of the meeting. Mr. Clark reviewed the plan submitted by Judge Starnes in detail, then threw the meeting open for discussion.

Several of those present took part in the discussion, which finally culminated in the following motion being submitted:

Resolved: That a committee of five be appointed by the chair, such a committee to represent all classes of depositors, large and small, and small, who will interview the bank examiner, and get permission to examine the assets and liabilities of the First National bank, and obtain all available information necessary to enable them to report for or against life of Berlin, deploring the decline in birthrates and the general deterioration of public morals in the German capital.

Saved Kaiser's Mind. It has been said by diplomats and attendants at the court of Berlin that the character of Empress Victoria was all that saved her husband's war-crazed mind from lapsing into a state of insanity. After the ex-kaiser abdicated the throne and sought refuge in Holland, Empress Victoria constantly visited him at Amerongen, and finally went to live at Doorn, in Holland, when he removed there.

Throughout the World War the empress devoted her life to the German people. She was constantly with the troops at the front and became conspicuous by her disregard of danger. She visited the hospitals daily, carrying tobacco, cigarettes and flowers to the wounded, and often wrote and posted letters for them.

In her spare time the empress knitted sweaters and frequently invited large numbers of officers and men to her palace to dine. She was known to the soldiers as "muser muetterchen" (our little mother).

When the gold in Germany became so low she gave her jewelry and plate to the government. When the food supply grew scant she insisted on the use of bread and meat cards in provisioning the royal larder.

By CARL D. GROAT, United Press Correspondent. BERLIN, April 11.—Neither former Kaiser Wilhelm nor the crown prince will be permitted to attend the funeral of the former kaiserin at Potsdam, it was announced today. Other members of the family, living in Germany, will be permitted to take part in the services. Government officials also granted a petition that the former kaiserin's body be allowed to lie in state prior to the funeral.

Dr. Dryander, pastor to the royal family, left today for Doorn. He will have charge of the ceremonies at the private chapel there Thursday. Relatives of the family also left Berlin, although it was understood they will not attend the services here. Dr. Dryander and the relatives will return with the body. Prior to the services at Potsdam it is claimed that the body shall lie in state in Wild Park in the station of the royal waiting room.

Reports of the kaiserin's last hours said she realized that she was near death, and that she faced it calmly. She declined nourishment. She spoke of the funeral, expressing the wish that it be simple and that she be buried near the house where she had ruled during forty years of her married life.

Opinion Favors Plan.

It seemed the consensus of opinion among the depositors that it would be advisable to accept a plan whereby the bank will not be forced to go through liquidation, although there were a few who were not willing to accept the proposed plan unless a public statement be made.

During the discussion it was brought out that the commissioner of insurance and banking of the state of Texas has approved the proposed plan, and that the guaranty fund would guarantee payment of the 66 2-3 per cent of the deposits which Judge Starnes proposes to assume. The additional 33 1-3 per cent to be paid the depositors as fast as the outstanding paper can be collected. This plan proposes a 100 per cent settlement of all the deposits, providing that 100 per cent of the loans are collected.

It is also known that Mr. Garner has roughly sketched the borders of the five states, examined their resources and confirmed his belief that each has sufficient resources to support a state government. The least populous of the states he outlined would have more than a half million population.

Foreign relations, the railroads, soldier relief, naval policy and a score of other problems are threatening the hopes of Republican leaders that the session which opens today will be able to quit by autumn. It may be forced to continue until the time which the constitution set for a regular meeting next December. Only formalities were scheduled for today.

The house will organize by swearing in new members and re-electing present officers, including Speaker Gillett.

In the senate the first session will be even shorter. Both branches will name a joint committee to formally notify President Harding that congress is in session and awaiting any communication he may have.

After Harding's message, the house will start debate on the revised Fordney emergency tariff bill. Framed to protect farmers from competition with imported products, the bill will be introduced today in the form that was vetoed by President Wilson a little more than a month ago.

The first business in the senate will be the Columbian treaty. The second woman member of congress will be sworn in today. She is Miss Alice Robertson of Oklahoma, a Republican.

GARNER SAYS DIVIDE TEXAS INTO 5 STATES

Uvalde Congressman Suggests East, West, North, South and Central.

BY BASCOM N. TIMMONS, Times Staff Correspondent. WASHINGTON, April 11.—Proprietors of the plan to divide Texas today found a strong endorser in Congressman John N. Garner of Uvalde, dean of the Texas congressional delegation, and chairman of the Texas house caucus.

Mr. Garner, however, strongly demurred from the plan to divide Texas into two states. He emphatically urged that Texas be divided into five commonwealths as provided for in the enabling act of the law admitting Texas into the union.

Garner's reasons for the division of Texas were: It is too large and unwieldy to continue to form one political unit and it will grow more unwieldy as its population grows and its resources developed.

It will continue to grow more difficult to obtain the best men for state offices, for the reason that it is so large that no one but a rich man can make a race for state offices.

Five self-sustaining states could be formed, each building a constitution to suit its own needs, each legislating according to its best interests, whereas at present interests are so dissimilar that certain sections feel that they are continually being discriminated against.

Ten U. S. Senators. Nationally, the power of the government lies in the United States senate. The division of Texas would give it ten United States senators instead of two.

"I would name the states East Texas, West Texas, North Texas, South Texas and Central Texas," Mr. Garner said. "Never would I consent to the name of Texas being taken from any of them. Texas would be left—the Texas of glorious heritage. All would continue to worship at the shrine of the Alamo and San Jacinto. But it would be a practical meeting of a practical proposition. Texas is too large."

Garner's statement, which in view of his prominence not only in Texas but throughout the nation is certain to attract much attention, was made in connection with the recent agitation for a new state in the western part of Texas. It is definitely known here that Mr. Garner has no ambition for one of the eight senatorships that would be made available by a five-state division. He has repeatedly refused to attend the senate when it has offered strong support, and has stated that when he returns from the house he wishes to go back to private life.

It is also known that Mr. Garner has roughly sketched the borders of the five states, examined their resources and confirmed his belief that each has sufficient resources to support a state government. The least populous of the states he outlined would have more than a half million population.

Congressman Garner also believes that development of the various states formed out of the parent commonwealth would be more rapid, with each operating under a new and up-to-date constitution, each framing laws in accordance with its specific needs, and each with public officials responding to the pulse beats of the new state's ideas.

The plan to have each state bear the name of Texas will, I believe, remove objection that has heretofore arisen when the subject of dividing the state has been brought up," said Mr. Garner. "It really is the creation of five states of Texas instead of one, and it will give each state what all people desire—home rule."

Burkburnett Is Partly In Big Area Texas Loses On

Supreme Court's Decision Involves Loss of Land By Lone Star State Worth From $100,000,000 to $150,000,000; Dispute Over Boundary Line.

By United Press. WASHINGTON, April 11.—Oklahoma, by a decision of the supreme court today won its suit against Texas over the title to oil lands in the Red River Valley with an estimated value of $100,000,000 to $150,000,000.

The United States government intervened in the case in behalf of the Indians, backing the position taken by Oklahoma and claiming land in the bed of the river as public domain. Its claim was sustained.

Pending Since December.

The Red river boundary case, which was decided by the Supreme Court, has been pending before that body since December, 1919. The original action was taken by Attorney General S. P. Freeling of Oklahoma, who in a petition filed with the Supreme Court, claimed the south bank of the Red river as the southern boundary of Oklahoma. His petition was answered by the attorney general of Texas, who denied Oklahoma had just claim to this land.

The rich Burkburnett oil field lies partly within the disputed land. Most of this field now belongs to Oklahoma, by virtue of the court's decision, Freeling said.

The original contest over ownership of leases to the oil land in this field nearly precipitated armed clashes between Texans and Oklahomans and in 1919 Oklahoma residents in the southern part of the state asked that state guards be called out to restore order in this district.

To Name Commissioners. Attorney General Freeling said he would leave for Washington this afternoon to take up with the Supreme Court the appointment of commissioners who will locate the state's southern boundary.

Thirty-nine thousand acres dotted with valuable oil wells was involved in the suit, which arose over a dispute in the boundary line between the two states. A question of the boundary line was a dormant one for many years, due to the shifting of the current of the Red river, but it threatened a war between the two states when a big oil pool was discovered in the disputed territory.

67TH CONGRESS WILL PRODUCE TARIFF LAWS

This Is Declared Intention of Leaders of Republican Majority.

BY L. C. MARTIN, United Press Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—The Sixty-seventh congress meets today with its leaders declaring that a tariff bill will be started on its way towards the statute books before the session is forty-eight hours old.

One of the most overwhelming Republican congresses in years will thus uphold one of the first tenets of the Republican party, the protective tariff.

Foreign relations, the railroads, soldier relief, naval policy and a score of other problems are threatening the hopes of Republican leaders that the session which opens today will be able to quit by autumn. It may be forced to continue until the time which the constitution set for a regular meeting next December. Only formalities were scheduled for today.

HARDING WILL TRY VALUE OF GOLDEN RULE

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER, United Press Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—President Harding today starts out to demonstrate his theory that congress will work better under the inspiration of the Golden Rule than the threat of the "blackjack."

The new President faces his real test as a leader with the assembling of the extra session of congress today when he goes into the new phase of his administration—determined to rely on persuasion and common counsel.

Troublesome issues divide various party leaders in the house and senate but President Harding has thus far listened patiently to the contentions without attempting to force one side or the other to surrender.

Harding practically finished revision of his message today and expected to send it to the printer within a few hours. He will read it in person at the joint session tomorrow.

READY FOR BUSINESS.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—The Sixty-seventh congress today sent word to President Harding that in response to his summons it was in session and was prepared to hear from him what in his judgment it should do for the good of the union.

The session of the house and senate in response to Harding's proclamation of March 22, got under way at noon. Fifteen minutes later the senate, fully organized and ready for business, recessed until 2:30 to give the house time to swear in new members and elect officers.

BILL HAYWOOD AND 78 OTHERS MUST DO TIME

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—"Bill" Haywood and seventy-eight other I. W. W. leaders, convicted in the court of Judge K. M. Landis at Chicago, for violation of the espionage and the selective service laws, must serve the sentences and pay the fines imposed upon them as the result of an order by the Supreme Court today.

The I. W. W., the court held, received a fair trial in the lower court, and their attorneys presented no reason sufficient to justify rehearing in the case.

STEWART WELL HOPS UPWARD TO 2,500 BARRELS

Vulcan's Well Increases 100 Since Stewart Came In; Prairie Expects One.

A sudden spurt put the Texas Pacific Stewart No. 2 nearly into the class of 2,500-barrel producers yesterday, reports brought in from the well say. The company is erecting more storage and will be forced to treat the oil before turning it into the pipe line, as it is cut oil. All tanks are full and the fluid is now pouring into the sump pit.

The gas flow is still so tremendous that the Stewart No. 4, which is going down two locations away, has been forced to suspend operations. This well, which is being put down for the Teo Pece by the Landers Drilling company, is down below 1,800. It will go on to the new sand if a good payer is not found at 2,000.

Vulcan Shows Increase. Another interesting feature of the well is that the Vulcan's Nannie Walker No. 1, about 1,500 yards south, has increased 100 barrels since the Stewart came in. The Nannie Walker was the first deep well in this territory. It came in for 1,000 barrels fifteen months ago.

It is said the White company plans to deepen one of its wells in this territory. Misses "Strip." The States Oil corporation's well on the P. H. Hood tract, expected in last week, failed to show. It ran into shale twenty feet below the Eldorado's Bobo well, which it offsets. It will be shot in both the Ranger and Caddo time, it is understood.

The Plateau company's Hawk well is due to reach the pay in a few days. This well is to the north of the Hood and is believed to have a better chance. Development so far indicates that there is a pay streak, probably 1,500 feet wide at its southern end, running north and south about two and a half miles west of Pleasant Grove. Drilling is extending to the west but whether this "strip" widens is as yet unknown.

The Prairie's Veale well, north of Caddo, was shot Saturday but bridged. It has a showing of oil and gas and the bridge is now being cleared. This company also is expecting a well on the Weir tract, seven or eight miles north of Ranger, to touch the 3,500 pay in a few days.

SUIT IS FILED AGAINST RANGER TIMES FOR $50,000 Special to the Times.

EASTLAND, April 11.—Suit has been filed in the district court here against the Ranger Publishing Co., publishers of the Ranger Times, in the sum of $50,000, in which John C. Farrell is plaintiff and the Ranger Publishing company is defendant.

Burkett, Anderson & Orr, and Carl Springer are representing the plaintiff.

The suit is the outgrowth of an article appearing in the Times recently concerning the theft of a Cole eight belonging to L. F. (Pete) Lippold, manager of the Rehobol Lumber Co. in this city, in which case Harrell and two other parties, Cash and Keeling by name, were indicted by the grand jury, and placed under bond.

He has for some years been a lecturer on one of the major circuits of the Redpath-Horner chautauqua and is known personally to several business men here, who have heard him lecture. There is no admission fee to these lectures, which will be supported by voluntary contributions.

PROGRAM

MAJESTIC—Big musical comedy. On the screen, "Should a Wife Forgive?" also comedy, "His Jonah Day."

TEMPLE—Wesley Barry, Helen Jerome Eddy and David Butler in "The County Fair," also a new Universal comedy.

LIBERTY—Elsie Janis in "The Imp," also "The Avenging Arrow," and comedy, "Out for the Night."

LAMB—"Bunny Pulls the Strings," all-star cast; also Buster Keaton in "Hard Luck" and Pathe News.

LAMB.
As fine a blending of pathos and comedy as has marked any screen play appearing in Ranger in many months is to be seen in "Bunny Pulls the Strings," a Reginald Barker production, released by Goldwyn, which is showing at the Lamb theatre today and Tuesday.

Based on an excellent plot, the story that is told "catches on" at the very beginning, and holds one's attention without a break to the end. It tells of a Scotch girl and her love affair with "Weelum," which she was ready to sacrifice for the sake of her stern old father, and her erring brothers, but which turned out all right in the end," because—but to tell the story would spoil the picture for those who have the pleasure of seeing it still before them.

The character drawing in "Bunny Pulls the Strings" is wonderfully done. The photography and setting of the play also make a deep impression. The Goldwyn firm erected a Scotch village in California especially for the taking of the picture.

No one player is starred in the picture, but all of those who take part have established enviable records, and are well known. Leatrice Joy, one of the most attractive girls in pictures, plays "Bunny," and Russell Simpson, who made such a hit in "Godless Men," plays "Tam," the father.

TEMPLE.
Wesley, "Freckles" Barry in the "County Fair"—that's what the Temple theatre is offering today and Tuesday. The Famous Freckled Funster—that's Wesley Barry exactly. He's the kind of a kid that just can't help being funny. When he walks—every step is a laugh—especially in the "County Fair," where he wears a pair of shoes that tell all the world they're new, in loud and squeaky tones.

Freckles pops up throughout the whole picture whenever the audience is in the way of becoming just a little too tense over some exciting happening, and the minute that bespeckled face is projected into a scene—there's bound to be laughs aplenty.

When the great greased pig chase comes off at the "County Fair," it's Freckles that stops him—but not until he's given you a full week's supply of laughs.

But "The County Fair" is not all laughs. There's excitement and thrills galore in this feature picture. The story is built around the old homestead—mortgaged, of course, where Aunt Abigail and Sally, the pretty niece, are fighting hard to pay off the holder of the mortgage, who had just as soon have his son marry Sally as have his money. So you see there's hard times ahead—and mighty little hope.

But you've forgotten "Cold Molasses"—the farm work-mare, Jimmy Vail don't overlook her, though. He sees in this mare of the slow name the signs of fast racing stock—and acts accordingly. So on the day of the "County Fair" you see "Cold Molasses" in on one of the most thrilling races ever staged—judge for yourself which horse won and what followed; but if you want to be on the safe side—and want to get more laughs and thrills than you ever have gotten before—see the "County Fair."

PARENT-TEACHERS.
The Parent-Teachers' association of Central school will meet Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the school building for election of officers. A full attendance is desired.

"At the time I got Tanlac three years ago I hadn't been able to put in a full day's work for two years; but the medicine fixed me up to where I felt fine and I've not lost a day's work on account of ill health since," was the statement made by Charles Hamblin, well known farmer residing on R. NITROS HIT IN PINCHES, BEAT BRECKENRIDGE

Come From Behind, Take 6-4 Game From the Independents There.

The Nitros scored a well-earned victory over the Breckenridge independents yesterday, 6-4, and evening up for the defeat last week. Heavy mauling with men on, and a neat squeeze with Sled Allen at the bat, were the main factors in the victory. Most of Breckenridge's runs were scored on errors and bad hops of perfect throws to the plate.

The Nitros went into the fifth with a three-run handicap. They tied it up in this round and forged to the front in the sixth, when the squeeze was worked with Allen at the bat. The clinching tally was added immediately after on a clean drive.

Hale was the most prominent factor in the scoring of both teams. He batted 1000 and fielded .500. Lovelace played a nice game at first.

Nitro Notes

Manager Allen left this morning for Dallas on the final look-see for players. He expects to have at least one lefthander on the string by the time he returns, and there may be other aspirants. A lefthander who can deliver is one of the cogs in the machine that Sled will insist upon. Thomas, the only one in stock just now, is as yet an untried quantity, but Sled has one good thing to say for him so far: "He's got control, something you can say for but few southpaws," was his verdict.

There may be three more of last year's Nitros on the squad in a few days, was another of the predictions this morning.

Catcher Wallace and Infielder Ellzey were released just before the Breckenridge jaunt. Ellzey is a peppery ball player but Harper and Hale are bigger men and hit better.

Our streets are lined with White Sox at the present time but this does not prevent a fellow from taking a sly glance at the other kind.—Waxahachie (Tex.) Enterprise.

TRAPSHOOTERS OUT IN SPITE OF COLD WIND

The biting wind couldn't drive all the Gun club enthusiasts indoors yesterday, but it reduced the number of the regulars and made shooting difficult. W. E. Fairless, a Peters Cartridge company expert, was high man. Irving Schwartz led the local sportsmen. Following are the scores:

Fairless	22	25
Schwartz	21	25
Day	20	25
Waits	18	25
Lowry	18	25
Logsdon	17	25
Bray	15	25
Wallace	15	25
Moore	15	25

Interest continues to increase in the West Texas tournament which the Ranger club is holding on the 20th and 21st, and entries are mailed in daily from other towns in the West. They are especially numerous from the oil belt, where shooting has gained a strong hold.

All members are asked to meet tonight at the Chamber of Commerce rooms, where plans for the tournament will be taken up.

EASTLAND LOSES TIGHT GAME TO CISCO SCOUTS

EASTLAND, April 11.—The Cisco Scouts of the West Texas league won from the Eastland independents in an eleven-inning game here yesterday, 8 to 6. The feature of the game was the batting of Nolley, who made a double and two singles out of four times up.

Batteries: Eastland—Gibson and Sairborn; Cisco—Johnson and Chapman.

POSTMASTER AT CADDO TO BE SELECTED

Examination Will Be Held at Ranger on May 18 for That Office.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—To fill the vacancy in the position of postmaster at Caddo, Texas, the United States civil service commission has announced, at the request of the postmaster general, an open competitive examination to be held on May 18, 1921, at Ranger. This office has an annual compensation of $2,000. To be eligible for the examination an applicant must be a citizen of the United States, must actually reside within the delivery of the postoffice in which the vacancy exists, must have so resided for at least two years next preceding the date the present vacancy occurred, must be in good physical condition, and must not be less than 21 nor more than 65 years of age.

While the civil service commission is charged with the duty of testing applicants for positions of postmaster at offices of this class, such positions are not classified under the civil service law, being filled through nomination by the President for the confirmation of the senate. However, the President is using the civil service machinery for the purpose of selecting the nominees, and issued an executive order on March 31, 1917, which was amended Oct. 8, 1920, providing for such procedure.

Competitors will be examined in the subjects of arithmetic and accounts, with a weight of 30 per cent; penmanship, 10 per cent; letter writing, 25 per cent; and business training and experience, 35 per cent. The
