MEXICANS SHOOT BRECK HIJACKER

RAILWAY MEN WILL OPPOSE ANY WAGE CUT

Charge Executives Have Been Extravagant in Order to "Make a Case."

International News Service. CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—Railroad men will present their case against the plea of the railroads of the United States for the immediate abolition of national agreement between the railroads and the railroad brotherhoods at a public hearing before the United States Labor board Thursday morning. American Federation of Labor officials charge that the railroads are not obeying the law in bringing their request and will ask the board not to consider it. They will charge that the roads are asking that the agreement be broken and that wages be reduced solely for the purpose of keeping up present freight and passenger rates.

APPEAL TO WILSON.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—President Wilson today received the telegram dispatched by union leaders from Chicago requesting an investigation of statements made by railway executives that there must be an adjustment of railroad wages or the railroads will be bankrupted.

MICHIGAN MOB AFTER BANDITS WHO KILLED TWO

BAY CITY, Mich., Feb. 1.—Fearing the police has captured the bandits who killed two men in connection with the deaths of Martin DeBats and L. M. Parsons, prominent citizens of this city. The two were killed during the robbery of the Bay County Savings bank on Jan. 15.

A crowd surrounded the police station and threats of violence were heard from the men were removed.

CHICAGO AUTO BANDITS TAKE $12,000 FROM BANK

International News Service. CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—Five automobile bandits, each with two drawn revolvers, entered the Kenwood Trust & Savings bank as it was opening for business today and with six employees covered secured $12,000 and escaped. No shots were fired.

The police have been unable to get any trace of the robbers.

COASTAL HEAVY CRUDE DOWN TO DOLLAR-FIFTY

International News Service. HOUSTON, Feb. 1.—Gulf and coastal heavy crude oil today experienced its third 50-cent reduction since Nov. 23, when the Gulf Pipe Line company posted a price of $1.50 a barrel at the wells. This reduction brings coastal crude to a level of one-half of that prevailing in November of last year.

HOUSE COMMITTEE HEARS ARGUMENTS ON RUSSIA

International News Service. WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Arguments for and against the immediate resumption of trade relations with Russia were heard today by the House foreign affairs committee.

"BENEFACTORS OF LIBERIA" GLAD TO LAND BACK IN LITTLE OLD U. S.

By Associated Press. GALVESTON, Feb. 1.—Like Moses led the children of Israel out of Egypt into the promised land, William Gales, a negro of patriarchal appearance and past his allotted three score years and ten, brought a little band of ten persons from Liberia to the United States. Besides the venerable leader, the party consisted of his son and eight grandsons. An Oklahoma farm is their destination. Eight years ago, while residing in Florida, the Gales were fired with a desire to "become of some use to their own race, in their own country," the venerable negro declared. After considerable study of steamship routes and disposal of the family's joint belongings, the Gales set out for the little republic on the west coast of Africa. It was the intention of the leader, he declared, to introduce American farming and business methods into Liberia.

Neighbors of the emigrants, however, viewed with distrust attempts to start new customs and introduce strange methods of farming. This distrust, the Gales said, coupled with a distinct dislike on the part of the natives for manual labor,

AMENDMENTS WEIGHT DOWN FORDNEY BILL

Duty on Sunflower Seed Latest Proposal Put Up to the Senate

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The Fordney emergency bill, now awaiting action of the senate has begun to resemble a wooden ship adrift in a harnale-infested sea. Enclumbrances are being added daily by both opponents and friends of the bill. The latter today began to see visions of it sinking beneath the waves from the weight that has been imposed.

Proposals to place an import duty on sunflower seed and nails were made in the amendments that appeared today.

SPECIAL SESSION OF SENATE TO CONFIRM CABINET

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—President Wilson was asked today to call the United States Senate into special session March 4 that it might induct the Harding administration's appointees into office. It is assumed that the President will comply with the request as it is a customary procedure for the Senate to meet in special session on inaugural day in order that it may confirm the appointments of cabinet officers or any others that the incoming President cares to announce.

FORFEITED BOND RESTORED WHEN MILES GIVES UP

Special to the Times. EASTLAND, Feb. 1.—The bond of Johnny Miles, charged with murder in connection with the killing of Jack Campbell several months ago, was forfeited when the case came up for trial and the defendant failed to appear.

However, he came into court today. The forfeiture was set aside and the trial set down for March 17. A special venire will be ordered from which to select the jury in the case.

Miles is charged with shooting Campbell at the "Stone House," two miles east of Eastland, several months ago. The house is said to have been one of disrepute and Campbell was its proprietor. At the time of the killing the report was current that Campbell's death was the result of a feud that had been in existence for months. However, it was never verified.

FOUR MEN MEET DEATH IN BIG FREIGHT WRECK

International News Service. NEWARK, Ohio, Feb. 1.—Four men were burned to death and five others sustained injuries when a Pennsylvania freight train running twenty-five miles an hour crashed into the rear of a wrecked train standing on a siding near here today. All the dead men's homes are in Columbus.

STATE ASKS DEATH SENTENCE FOR ROBBERY

International News Service. FORT WORTH, Feb. 1.—The jury in the highway robbery case against E. J. Johnson retired at 1 o'clock this afternoon to consider this verdict. The state asks that the death penalty be inflicted. The maximum penalty is being asked in such cases on Tarrant county in the district courts in an effort to curb the crime wave.

"BENEFACTORS OF LIBERIA" GLAD TO LAND BACK IN LITTLE OLD U. S.

caused them to be regarded as interlopers. Liberia's climate and richness of soil makes it comparatively easy for its people to lead an indolent, day to day life, with little expenditure of physical effort, according to the returning negroes.

Lack of markets for their own products, grown on an American scale, Gales declared, retarded their own farming venture to fail. Then the one desire of the colonists was to find a way to return to the United States—their own country.

A chance vessel finally carried the colonists to northern Africa, where after a short wait they transhipped to Barcelona, Spain. Penniless and their clothes—bought before they left the United States—threadbare and patched many times, the Gales threw themselves upon the mercy of the American consul. After investigating their claims to American citizenship, that officer finally arranged for their passage to the United States, all ten working about the ship during the voyage.

When the steamship Casinet docked here, William Gales first act, like that of Moses, was to kneel in prayer and offer up thanks for "their deliverance."

MOTHER LOVE.

International News Service. HARTLEPOOL, Eng., Feb. 1.—The mother-in-law joke was reversed today when Margo Alterton, aged 19, brought suit for divorce, alleging that her young husband had become infatuated with her mother.

100 PER CENT BEHIND ROAD DRIVE DEMAND

Merchants Expect to Keep After Holdups Until All Have Subscribed.

Team captains in charge of the good roads drive among the merchants expect to have subscribed that organization's minimum quota by this afternoon. Almost uniform success has attended their efforts, they say, except where the heads of businesses have been out of town or it has been necessary to refer the matter to out of town offices. Only a few refusals have been met.

The Merchants' association does not propose to quit until every retailer in Ranger has signed for his share. They will have cards out in a day or two showing just who has contributed, and the absence of a card will clearly denote those who refuse.

They do this, they say, because every line of business, every property owner and every individual in Ranger will be asked to donate. They think these residents will want to know who is lined up with them in this community proposition, and so the cards will be placed accordingly.

The first payment made by the retailers will be placed in escrow in a Ranger bank. The finance committee meets this afternoon to lay out the campaign among the next group, which may be the oil companies and supply houses. This money will be disposed of the same way, unless the full amount of $50,000 has been raised, in order that all persons may be assured their contributions will not be sunk in an incomplete project.

PAYMENT IS IMPOSSIBLE, SAYS BERLIN

BERLIN, Feb. 1.—Germany regards the notes on reparations terms, received yesterday from the Allies, as impossibly small. The general opinion is that the government cannot agree with them. The leaders of the reichstag used the term "madness" in referring to the note. Foreign Minister Simons declared that execution of the terms would produce chaos, not only in Germany but throughout all Central Europe, as the bankruptcy of Germany would also bankrupt part of her war creditors, among whom are France.

BRITISHER SAYS $0. TOO.

By Associated Press. LONDON, Feb. 1.—It will be impossible for Germany to pay the reparations debt fixed by the Allies, according to John Keynes, principal representative of the British treasury at the Versailles peace conference. He charges that Germany must have a total of 700,000,000 pounds exports in order to have a surplus export of 200,000,000 pounds.

NOTHING TO 'RED' PLOTS, FEDERAL ATTORNEY SAYS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The so-called red raids conducted by Attorney General Palmer and his associates were denounced today as a "shameful yielding to hysteria," by Francis Kane, former United States attorney of Philadelphia, before the senate judiciary committee.

"There was nothing in the so-called red agitation to show a movement for the overthrow of the American government," Kane testified. Kane resigned his office, he said, after he had disagreed with Palmer to how the department of justice conducted the campaign against the so-called reds in Philadelphia.

WHITE SOX PLAYERS POSITIVELY WILL BE TRIED, STATE SAYS

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—Vigorous denials of recent reports that Chicago White Sox ball players and several gamblers, indicted for conspiracy to throw the 1919 world series to Cincinnati, would not be brought to trial was made here today by State's Attorney Crowe.

It was declared by Crowe that the trials would be rushed and probably would be heard in sixty days.

CIGARETTES STOLEN. CLEVELAND, Feb. 1.—One hundred and seventy cartons of cigarettes were stolen from a grocery company last night, according to report received early today. The loss is estimated at $1,200.

NEFF DEMANDS LESS LENIENCY FOR CRIMINALS

Wants Suspended Sentence Law and Concurrent Sentences Abolished.

AUSTIN, Feb. 1.—Governor Neff today recommended to the legislature that the suspended sentence law be repealed. He said he had obtained information from counties throughout the state showing that today thousands of criminals are at large as a result of the suspended sentence law. The law was passed in 1913.

The governor also recommended legislation amending the Dean law so that the unsupported testimony of a purchaser of liquor is sufficient for conviction in a case and for an amendment so that the higher court cannot set the jury finding aside on a technicality.

Governor Neff also recommended legislation making it impossible to immediately oust certain peace officers of the state whom he says he knows are not performing their duties. He also wants legislation prohibiting district attorneys from collecting fees from a number of indictments returned against one defendant where the sentence is imposed on a plea of guilty to only one indictment. He also favored the rule on concurrent sentences being abolished.

NEFF APPOINTMENTS.

By Associated Press. AUSTIN, Feb. 1.—The governor today sent the appointment of F. L. Hawkins of Waxahachie, as judge of the court of criminal appeals, to the senate for confirmation. Those of Joseph W. Myers of Fort Worth, appointed labor commissioner, and R. H. Hamilton of Port Lavaca, appointed assistant attorney general, to serve the court of criminal appeals, also was sent. The senate will consider the appointments Thursday while in executive session.

INDUSTRIAL BILL THURSDAY.

By Associated Press. AUSTIN, Feb. 1.—The senate committee of civil jurisdiction will consider a bill by Senator Witt proposing the creation of a court of industrial relations next Thursday in open hearing. The house bill by Hall, increasing sheriff's fees between forty and fifty per cent will be considered Monday.

TEARING DOWN SHACKS NEXT TO GHOLSON HOTEL

The work of tearing away the two old shacks on Main street next to the Gholson hotel was begun today and in their places buildings of brick and concrete will be erected at a cost of $25,000. The new buildings will be erected by John Poppajohn.

With the passing of these two old structures Main street will be a less unlovely way. The exception of one small section near Commerce street.

PASSENGERS ESCAPE ROBBERY WHEN TRAIN CREW CAPTURES BANDITS

International News Service. SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 1.—Passengers on a train arriving from Tuleba, Mexico, barely escaped being robbed, according to word received here, when armed bandits boarded the train near Munoz and endeavored to stop it by manipulating the air brakes. The bandits were overpowered by the crew and turned over to the police.

BRITISH ABOLISH RANK OF BRIGADIER GENERAL

By Associated Press. LONDON, Feb. 1.—The rank of brigadier general in the British army has been abolished. Officers holding that rank will henceforth be known as colonel commandants.

POULTRY AND PET SHOW BOOSTERS MEET TOMORROW

All poultry and pet stock fanciers are asked to meet tomorrow afternoon in the Chamber of Commerce rooms to consider final plans for perfecting a poultry and pet stock association for Eastland county and for holding a show in Ranger some time soon.

Committees were appointed at a former meeting to draft these plans and they will be submitted tomorrow. Everyone, both men and women, who are interested in pet stock or other work that could be included in a winter show are asked to be at the meeting.

JUST FISHING.

International News Service. MIAMI, Feb. 1.—Fishing on Coccolobo Island, thirty-eight miles south of here, President-elect Harding is having his first adventure with rod and reel since arriving in Florida. No word has been received of his fishing results.

OIL SUPPLY MEN SEE ADVANTAGE IN PRICE DROP

"The low price of crude oil now prevailing will possibly force most of the northern section of the Ranger field into the hands of the large operators, and developments will continue steadily," according to a statement made on the street yesterday. The speaker was a pure optimist and plainly declared that he saw in the lowered price a steady development that would make stable business in Ranger for a long time to come.

"When the entire field comes under the control of the large companies," he declared, "developments around Ranger will be taken up again, and while there will be no rush, it will continue at an even rate and will reach over a good many years." This, he said would also apply to the northern district.

The speaker, who is connected with an oil well supply house that has manufacturing establishments, and branches in many of the oil sections of the country, expects to see more operations under way in the Ranger district proper in the spring than has been the case for more than a year. This is true, he thinks, because the independents are nearly all gone and the big fellows may develop where they please without having to consider offsets.

BIGAMY CHARGE AGAINST 'NIG' PRINCE'S WIFE

International News Service. FORT WORTH, Feb. 1.—Blanche Prince has been taken here by Eastland county officials to face a charge of bigamy. She is alleged to have married "Nig" Prince without having been divorced from her first husband. Prince recently was convicted for his alleged connection with the holdup of the Oklahoma cabaret in Ranger.

MUD BY WAGON LOAD TAKEN FROM MAIN STREET

The street cleaning gang yesterday lifted the mud from Main street from Commerce to Marston. Today the work is being continued and will be continued until all the accumulated dirt is gone. After that time a regularly employed street force will sweep the paved street each day and haul away the trash. It is thought certain that by the time the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention meets the entire paved area will be as clean as it is possible to get it.

The street work is being done at the direction of Bud Paulson, who has the sweeping contract.

DUTCH NOT STRONG FOR BLUE SUNDAY MEASURE

By Associated Press. THE HAGUE, Feb. 1.—An indictment of "blue Sunday" advocates was returned in the report of a committee of the second chamber of the Dutch parliament on a bill proposing to forbid amusements, curtail train service, etc., on Sundays.

"The Sabbath was made for man, not man for the Sabbath," said the report, killing the bill. "The closing of the theatres and the prohibition of games would lead many to seek amusement in a less innocuous way. The reduction of passenger traffic on Sundays would prevent people who were shut up in close homes and narrow streets all the week from enjoying fresh air and nature on the Sabbath."

A. & M. MID-YEAR GRADUATES.

By Associated Press. COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 1.—Diplomas were presented to six graduates from the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas completing their work at mid-term. The graduates are: John Alvin Hendrick, Lincoln; W. F. Hamilton, Denton; E. R. Reynolds, Ft. Calm; C. M. Cole, Bryan; C. R. Drake, Maypearl, and I. R. Reed, Sterling City.

This was the first time in the history of the institution that diplomas have been granted at mid-term. There was no ceremony or formal exercise of any kind for the presentation. The seniors took part in the graduating exercises last May and at that time the announcement was made that they would receive their diplomas at the end of the past term.

RUNNING GUN FIGHT NEAR BRECK AFTER BANDITS TAKE $125

Battle Occurred Friday Night, But Officers Feared Lynching of Wounded Man and Concealed Arrest; Companion Escaped.

BRECKENRIDGE, Feb. 1.—In a running fight between two hi-jackers and twenty Mexican laborers staged Friday night one of the robbers, who gave his name as William Smith is in the hospital seriously wounded. The bandits had lined the Mexicans up and taken $125 away from them and were beating a retreat when their victims opened fire wounding one. The other was not hit and made his escape. The sheriff's department gave out the details of the hold-up today.

The laborers were working on a remote lease and for that reason were allowed to go armed. When the bandits appeared they did not molest their guns which were stacked nearby.

The sheriff's department kept the affair quiet for fear violence would be used on the highwayman now in the hospital suffering from a bullet wound from one of the Mexicans' gun.

The grand jury is in session today and it is investigating the affair. If Smith is indicted it is thought that arrangements will be made to place him on trial at once. In the meantime, the sheriff's force is continuing a search for the remaining hi-jacker.

TOOK 'WHITE PLAGUE' MONEY IS COMPLAINT

At one time the hijacking orgy around Breckenridge was so intense that there were open threats that there would be a lynching if one were caught. With the opening of the new fields in the South Bend district, the fraternity moved north with the first wave of the boom and they have flourished in that region, it is said. There they have operated almost with impunity, owing to the distance from established centers and the lack of police protection in the thinly settled countryside. Their activity seems to have been accepted there as one of old-time auxiliary activities, and there has been no fuss and publicity about it. At one time a woman hijacker was killed, but even that choice and juicy morsel of comment did not reach the outside for several weeks, when it was commented on casually by a worker who had come in for a "rest."

RANGER VOTING STRENGTH WILL BE ABOUT 1125

More than 400 poll taxes were paid yesterday, the last day payment could be made, without being disfranchised, making a total of 948 receipts issued by the Chamber of Commerce sub-office to Ranger voters. To this is added twenty-seven exemptions and possibly 150 receipts that were issued to Ranger folks at Eastland, making the voting strength of the city 1,125. While the number is not available, it is thought that less than 200 of those securing the right to vote are women.

The total of city poll taxes issued was 382. However, it is thought that the city commission will pass an ordinance making the payment of the tax precedent to the right to vote and fix the last day for payment sometime in March. If this is done the number of city poll taxes paid will probably reach a total almost as great as that of the county tax.

PLACE TRASH WHERE WAGON CAN REACH IT

A final appeal is being made to everyone to place their trash where it can be easily reached by the trash wagons, in order that the city may be as clean as it is possible to get it when the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention meets next week. The appeal is coming from the clean-up committee, who declare that results will depend upon the cooperation given the move by the people. It was also declared that measures would be brought to force those who do not co-operate to clean-up anyway.

Under the plan the wagons that are now covering the residence sections will haul away all trash at 25 cents a pile, and it may be piled as high as the householder has trash—the price is the same.

DEBS THINKS PEOPLE WILL BE PEEVED OVER WILSON'S DECISION

International News Service. ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 1.—"Wilson will be asking the pardon of the American people for the balance of his days," Eugene V. Debs, socialist leader, said today when told that President Wilson had denied the recommendations of Attorney General Palmer that he be set free on Feb. 12.

"I did not expect favorable action," Debs said. "This suits me fine. My spirit is as great as it was when I entered here. I shall not die in prison because I have made up my mind to live. I can stay as long as necessary. I will not betray the movement even if I have to die in prison."

Federal Survey Shows Japanese Will Control Hawaii in a Few Years

HONOLULU, T. H., Jan. 5.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press) A federal survey commission, headed by Dr. Frank F. Bunker of Washington, which recently surveyed education conditions in Hawaii, in a preliminary report declared that the "momentum" of the Japanese race in Hawaii puts all other racial groups out of the running in respect to numbers and that the momentum if continued will carry the Japanese race into an increasingly dominant numerical position, giving their Hawaiian-born progeny in 1930 about 28 per cent of the electorate of the territory.

The report, which is freely interspersed with tables of figures obtained from federal and territorial official sources and from the office of the Japanese consulate-general in Honolulu, says in part:

Japs Increasing.
 "With an actual population now in the islands of 114,137 (1919), as reported by the Japanese consulate-general, against 25,000 Portuguese, the next largest group, it is clear that the Japanese race has acquired a momentum which puts all the other groups out of the running with respect to numbers.

"That this momentum inevitably will carry the Japanese race into an increasingly dominant numerical position, if continued, is clearly shown by tables compiled from information obtained from the office of the Japanese consul-general and from the records of the territorial board of health."

Dealing with the parallel presented by the methods of adjustment to island influences represented by the Portuguese and the Japanese races, the report says: "While both groups originally were brought into the islands to satisfy the need for cheap labor on the plantations, there is with both a pronounced tendency to seek a better economic position by breaking away from the plantations and engaging in other activities giving promise of a freer and more ample life."

Are Ambitious.
 "The Japanese are ambitious to become tenants, to own land, to set up business, to enter a profession, to rise above the category of unskilled labor and as they individually achieve their ambition, they are, like the Portuguese, participating more and more in the affairs of the islands; socially, educationally, politically. Furthermore, they are all at work. There are few triflers and idlers among them. There are now, approximately, 33,000 male and 27,000 female adult Japanese in the islands. A table, based upon information obtained from the Japanese consulate-general, shows that 50,149 of them are employed in gainful occupations.

"It should be said in fairness that there are few Japanese children in the juvenile courts and in institutions for delinquents; and there are proportionately very few Japanese among the convict labor gangs and in the jails. Few, if any, are supported by public charity, nor are any begging in the streets.

Third in Savings.
 Their per capita savings bank deposits rank third among those of the island races, being exceeded by the Americans and Portuguese only.

"All of which activity, laudable in itself, can be explained adequately on the basis of racial qualities, inherent in the Japanese, of patience, persistence, thrift, initiative, endurance, ambition, group solidarity, coupled with acumen and astuteness, which give them the ability to get on where other races have failed. Indeed, so well have the Japanese adjusted themselves to island conditions, and so rapidly are they increasing in the number of Hawaiian-born children, that this group soon will have a majority of the voters of the islands."

The commissioner's report then deduces from a table of births of Japanese children from 1898 that 12,216 Hawaiian-born Japanese will become old enough to vote in 1930; that 22,321 more will have been added to the lists of eligible voters by 1940, making a total during a twenty-two-year period of 35,137. Deducting 13 per cent to cover possible losses by removal and death, the report estimates that by 1940 there will be an aggregate of Japanese voters in the territory of 30,857, including 287 new registrars.

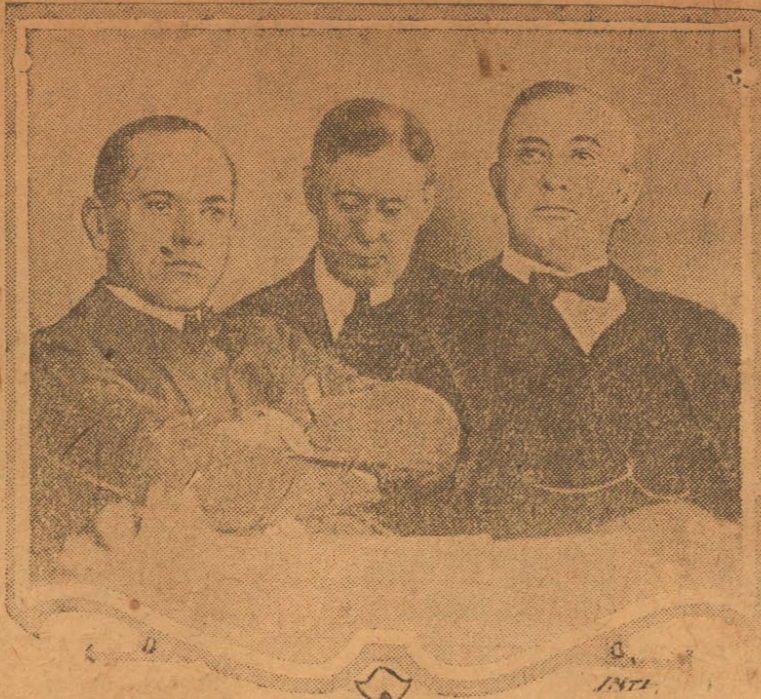

Pointing to the fact that Japanese children in the public schools of Hawaii in 1910 were 27.72 per cent of the total enrollment and that in 1919 this school group stood at 40.55 per cent of the whole, the report says this "indicates that the place in the electorate that the Japanese will occupy in 1930 and again in 1940 may, indeed, be under-estimated." The concrete deduction then follows:

Can Control Politics.
 "Whether or not the Japanese desire to achieve political control, without doubt, within a few years, they will be in a position to do so if they choose."

Interesting comparisons of the degrees of intermarriage indulged in by different races in the islands next are taken up, which bring the commission to the conclusion that, "In general, Japanese marry only Japanese. It is clear that all races, except the Koreans and Japanese, are fusing rapidly through intermarriage, but that the Japanese group is maintaining its racial distinctiveness."

Police.
 "Hear you got robbed last week," commented Jinks. "Let's see," meditated Binks. "Oh, yes, now that I think of it, the landlord did call around to collect the rent."—American Legion Weekly.

SCHWAB, IN TEARS, ON STAND RESENTING GRAFT CHARGE

The Walsh Congressional committee investigating United States Shipping Board operations, closed its session in New York with an apparently complete vindication of Charles M. Schwab, regarding the accusation that part of $263,543.53 paid for his personal expenses had been charged to the government. Mr. Schwab was director-general of the Emergency Fleet corporation during the war. While testifying before the committee Mr. Schwab broke down and wept while denying that he ever had received a penny from the government either in payment of his salary as a "dollar a year" man or in reimbursement of expenses incurred as director-general. The illustration shows Eugene G. Grace, president of the Bethlehem Steel corporation, and Charles M. Schwab, photographed while at the hearing.

MAJESTIC—Five acts of Loew vaudeville and picture, Gladys Brockwell in "The Sage Hen."

HOBO COMEDIAN WITH TWO SINGING PALS, MAJESTIC FEATURE

Powers, Marsh and Delmore in "The Crew," a bold song set enlivened by the antics of a hobo comedian who is made to laugh at the mention of work.

It is a pretty fair bill that the Majestic offers vaudeville fans. While these two are the big laugh makers, the other three acts are no mean entertainers.

In "The Sage Hen," shown yesterday at the Majestic theatre, what remains until today, Edgar Lewis has painted a vivid, poignant, masterful picture.

Tremendous, awe-inspiring, hallowed mother love is the theme that throbs like the heart of a wounded lion throughout the story, which has been visualized, humanized and characterized by a rather remarkable cast—Gladys Brockwell in the title role, Lillian Eich and Wallace MacDonald appearing in the romantic leads, James Mason and Arthur Donaldson doing some splendid heavy work, and Helen Case, Alfred Allen and Richard Hendrick contributing other types.

Thrills, also, are not lacking, there being a tense scene where the mother straps her son on a horse and sets the horse free after being wounded by marauding Indians. Then she faints and falls in a too-realistic slide over a precipice. Another thrill is the man washed down the rapids, over the falls, in a boat. A gold rush is pictured with much color and vividness. Also five acts of Loew vaudeville, which is the best that has been presented here for some time.

What's in a name? In the case of Jack London, whose famous story, "The Star Rover," comes in a screen adaptation at the Lamb theatre for today only, the answer is—everything. For Jack London's name evokes all that is thrilling, strong, adventurous. He is the super-adventurer of American literature.

It is gratifying to see his stories screened. The sheer drama, the utter strength of the plot, can be best appreciated in this medium. That is why this picture, enacted by a notable cast of players, including Courtenay Foote and Thelma Percy, is eagerly awaited.

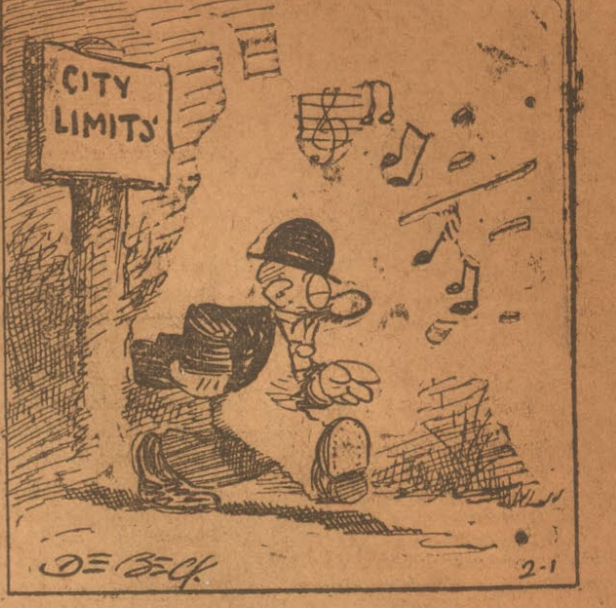

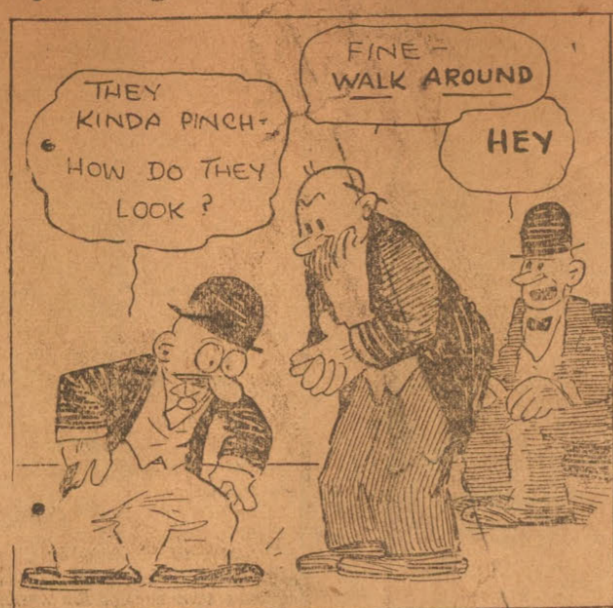

"The Star Rover" tells of a murder mystery cleared by a soul's flight into space. A young player, Ed. J. Standing, picks up a revolver let fall in the theatre box behind him by an unseen hand, and is arrested for the murder of a notorious political boss. He is given the "third degree" and strung up by the thumbs, but instead of the expected confession his soul roves among the stars, and he lives his reincarnations. His finances first succeed in stopping the terrible torture, then pleads for their continuance so that the victim may visualize the murder. The success of the experiment is the climax of the picture.

The production, by C. E. Shurtleff, Inc., is released by Metro. It was adapted by Albert Shelby LeVino and directed by Edward Slloman.

"He's just the kind of young man who should never be allowed inside of a girl's school. He's—he's unsettling—he's beautiful." Which is just about the truth when the object in mind is no less a person than handsome Wallace Reid, who will be the star in "The Charm School," the Paramount attraction to fill the screen of the Temple the last time today.

The facts of the case are that Mr. Reid, as Austin Bevans, an automobile salesman, inherits an exclusive school for girls, the legacy of an aunt. Fifty dimpled darlings in the school think he is just grand, and even one of the old maid teachers, and the girl got the impression that her teacher did not love her any more. The ending, however, is a happy one, but a lot of slightly comely transpires before it comes. Delectable Lila Lee shares honors with Wallace Reid.

WOULD STABILIZE MARKET FOR FARM PRODUCTS BY RESERVE FUND RAISED THROUGH TAXATION

W. B. Yeary Thinks Constitutional Amendment to Permit This Would in a Few Years Prevent Such Disasters as Country Faced During Last Year.

DALLAS, Feb. 1.—Amendment of the Texas constitution to provide for a tax on farm products for marketing purposes only, the taxes to be used for farm loans in times of need, is urged by W. B. Yeary, formerly cotton market inspector of the state department of agriculture.

"The people of Texas, as a whole, are beginning to take an interest in the farmer," Mr. Yeary said. "They are realizing their dependence upon him."

"Many are studying plans to aid the farmer to market his products in a business way, that others, as well as the farmers may survive and prosper."

"Should Organize." "All admit the farmers should organize and market their non-perishable products through the year at stable profitable prices. To do this, they need money with which to pay their debts, or ease them. As it is they have to depend entirely upon banks not able to give such aid. Through this defect the farmers of Texas lose annually millions of dollars and often hundreds of millions annually in the sacrifice of price. This, of course, hurts everybody."

"Farming is a species of manufacturing. It is producing commodities for sale. Farmers are conducting a commercial business in which they must organize their market co-operatives. To do this there must be money available to meet their obligations of production, the same as that of a manufacturer or business man."

"They should not be compelled to ask the state or government or banking institutions to furnish all of such money any more than other businesses do. They should provide a good portion of it themselves and do it in a way similar to that of others. Manufacturers of business concerns start in business with a surplus and by power of their charter or by laws set aside a part of their earnings annually to add to this surplus. This and their borrowing power at their banks permits them to sell only as the demand calls for their products and prevents them from having to sacrifice their price."

"Must Provide Surplus." "While the farmers are business men by being commercial producers, they have not gone into business yet, that is why they have not adopted business practices. They must provide a surplus to begin with or be at the mercy of the other fellows. Their business is too big and they are too much in debt to depend upon others for relief."

"Other business concerns are permitted by law, in some form, to assess their members or stockholders to provide themselves with a surplus or working fund. They are not wholly dependent upon the banks, neither are their banks expected to furnish all of their working capital, as is the case of farmers."

"The law does not give the farmers a right to have an assessment placed upon them as their lenders for this purpose. The constitution of Texas exempts farm products from taxation while they are in the farmers' hands. If it was changed so that farm products could be taxed for marketing purposes only, or for protection, farmers could do as others do."

"With this change, a petition to the legislature to levy an assessment of one, two or five dollars per bale for one, two or five years, would produce three to four million dollars annually for each dollar assessed and in a very short time would produce enough capital or a large enough bank to settle our financing and marketing problems and place agriculture in the business list."

"Such action would help the price of cotton enough the first and each succeeding year to double the assessment many times. Farmers could be issued stock in the bank, with proper restrictions for

'MEANEST MAN' PAID VISIT TO BRECKENRIDGE

Special to the Times. BRECKENRIDGE, Feb. 1.—Three hundred men, the victims of a fake employment bureau, are mourning the loss of $2 each and wondering if there might now be something in the old saw that "One is born every minute." Also they are planning various methods of slow torture for the fake employment agents who came in the night—stayed between two suns and went away as they came, $600 richer.

It was a handsome scheme to gather a little increment and it worked perfectly. The bureau opened a few mornings ago. It had a big red sign out in front that said "700 men wanted." During the day 300 idle men responded and laid $2 on the "barrel head" for the privilege of securing a job. Early the following morning they were loaded on trucks and carried several miles into the country, where a supposed pipe line ditch was to be dug. A foreman of the bunch was appointed. However, only a few tools were available. But the men were told to "stick around" and draw their pay; that other trucks would bring tools shortly.

They did stick, priding themselves on how easily they were "getting by." Along in the afternoon a part of the number decided that they were having things entirely too soft so they journeyed back into Breckenridge to make inquiries. They found the bureau closed and the erstwhile employers gone where "the woodbine twined," wherever that is. At least they had gone away from this city and in the going no footsteps were left in the sand.

AMMUNITION SHORTAGE SPOILS WILD WEST SHOW M. L. Dorsett was turned over to Sheriff Nolley last night after an evening of Jake joy in which he is said to have caused a reign of terror on Eastland hill. Dorsett, police officers say, shot up that section with gaiety and abandon. Unfortunately for his enterprise, he had to come to town to get some more cartridges. That gave residents a chance to come to town and notify the officers.

Ranger Captain Blackwell, Ranger Taylor, Assistant Chief Reynolds and Deputy Sheriff Johnson answered the call. Dorsett, a horseback, passed them when their car stalled. His quest for more ammunition had been successful. When he waxed belligerent and reached for his gun, Captain Blackwell beat him to it with a six-shooter blow across the MANY INDORSE REHABILITATION OF WAR FUND INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 1.—The American Legion has received more than a hundred favorable answers to its memorial calling attention to the situation which surrounds the rehabilitation of disabled world war veterans, according to F. W. Galbraith Jr., national commander of the legion. The memorial was presented to the president, president-elect and congress.

According to Mr. Galbraith, practically all of the letters from the secretary to the president, from senators, representatives and heads of various government departments and bureaus stated that the writer was squarely behind the legion's national plan of rehabilitation.

The memorial outlined the situation in regard to the disabled, suggested a remedy and urged the support of the president and congress. Copies of the memorial are being distributed to all departments of the legion and to patriotic and civic organizations in 1,500 cities.

ROMANCE LIVES; GIRL RESCUED MAN; TO WED

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—A romance that began last summer when Miss Gladys Linder, 18, of 79 East 37th street, Brooklyn, rescued a struggling swimmer at Manhattan Beach, will have its culmination soon, when Allan Tropp, 20, of Troy, and Miss Linder will be married. The announcement was made last night by Mrs. Alfred Linder, mother of the young woman.

Topp was seized with a cramp while swimming, and was about to go under when Miss Linder jumped in and brought him to shore. He escorted her home that night. He is a marine corps veteran who won the Croix de Guerra while with the Second division.

FUNDS FOR T. & P.

One bill in the national Congress, which was sent to the floor of the Senate yesterday, should be of special interest to Ranger citizens. That bill is one requiring the treasury to immediately pay to the railroads the guarantees for the first six months of operation.

The reason for its importance to Ranger is that depot. If current reports are correct, the Texas & Pacific expected to receive $3,000,000 from this fund and the proper portion of this was to be applied to the construction of a passenger station here. The payment has been held up and the depot has not been forthcoming. The T. & P. says there is a connection between the two facts.

For that reason, and incidentally because it is in general would like to see the railroad thrive and prosper, all will be glad to have the bill passed immediately. If the T. & P. insists on waiting for this fund, the quicker the fund the quicker the depot. If it is an ultimatum, they will then have to seek another. In either case, Ranger will soon ascertain just how much the railroad really values the city's business and friendship.

WAGES AND CHILDREN.

In a group of pictures, published Sunday in the Fort Worth Record, there is food for thought for sociologists. And every good citizen is to some extent a sociologist. These pictures, taken thirty-five years ago, are groups of school children. There is a difference in the pictures. Some depict stalwart, healthy children. Others are thinner, more listless in appearance, and would be readily distinguishable even if patched clothes did not indicate that these children came from a different strata of society.

Poverty—a poverty not self-imposed through indolence—is the greatest crime of the ages. It is especially a crime against helpless children. It is a crime against society, in that nearly all the petty crime with which the world is afflicted springs from poverty-stricken surroundings. Also the road to indigence and shiftlessness leads outward from poverty flats.

All this preamble to point out that the world is immeasurably better off today than it was thirty years ago. The poor we may have with us always, but not so many of them. Regardless of any so-called "extravagance of the working classes," the past few years of high wages have been one of the greatest things that ever happened to America.

Thousands of children at a critical age in their physical and mental development have had plenty to eat and plenty of clothes and decent surroundings for the first time in their lives. These thousands have been given a fair start in the competition of life. Score that for high wages.

Wages, of course, cannot be kept so high that persons in other gainful occupations cannot afford to buy them. That question is one that should be decided by a survey of actual conditions. On the other hand, the worker, no matter what the temporary shortage of employment, should not be called on to serve for a lesser amount than that which will give his family a sufficiency. To do so is to force the workers to a lingering starvation rather than a quick cure.

It is to be trusted that wages will never again be so low that children will emerge into manhood and womanhood with lowered vitality and intellect, because of insufficient food, insufficient clothing and improper housing.

ONE ITEM OF RAILROAD NEWS The report from Topeka, Kan., that the force employed in the Santa Fe shops in that city will not be reduced is an interesting railroad item at this time when reduction is the order of the railroad world.

The Topeka item is interesting from another angle—it is a characteristic piece of Santa Fe news. The Santa Fe management may have played the game according to the elastic rules of railroad-ing, but in one respect its policy has been admirable from the arrival of Ripley. It has always kept its plant and equipment in first-class shape. The explanation that the present lull in traffic will be utilized to "get the equipment in condition," shows that, though Ripley is dead, the Ripley tradition survives.

It is a tradition that many other railroad heads ought to incorporate into their management.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Little Bennis Note Book Lee Peape

Ma sent me around to Suits this afternoon for 6 pounds of potatoes, ma saying, Can I keep the change, ma?

There won't be no potatoes no 6 pounds for a quarter and there's no dollar of them being any cheaper, son, ma, and I sed, Well suppose they just happen to be, ma?

They want, sed, ma, and I sed, they mite, ma, gosh ma, everything mite, and ma sed, O all rite, very well, if theyre cheaper you can keep the change, my goodness son, persistence.

Meeting mine, and I went around to Suits and there was a home made she on the potatoes saying, 6 pounds for 25, Ma thinking, Heck, and jest then I had a idee, saying, Hah Mr. Smit, have you got any potatoes with bad spots on? How mite are they that way?

I've got 't half a basket inside there that won't had on me, you can take them all away for 10 cents if you want them, but-wat do you want spoiled potatoes for, sed Mr. Smit.

O jest for the change, I sed, Being a joke without me meaning anything funny, and I started to carry the basket home and it was heavy as anything and keep on getting heavier and heavier, me thinking, Holy smokes, I wish I was a horse and wagon. And jest wen I got home ma opened the front door to see if I was coming yet, me saying, Hfer I am, ma, wate till you see all the potatoes I got for you, tawk about a bargain, ma.

For mersey sake, wats the idee of the big basket, I thawt you were lost, sed ma. And jest then she looked in the basket, looking more-surprised than glad, saying, What on erth, for pity sake, well of all things.

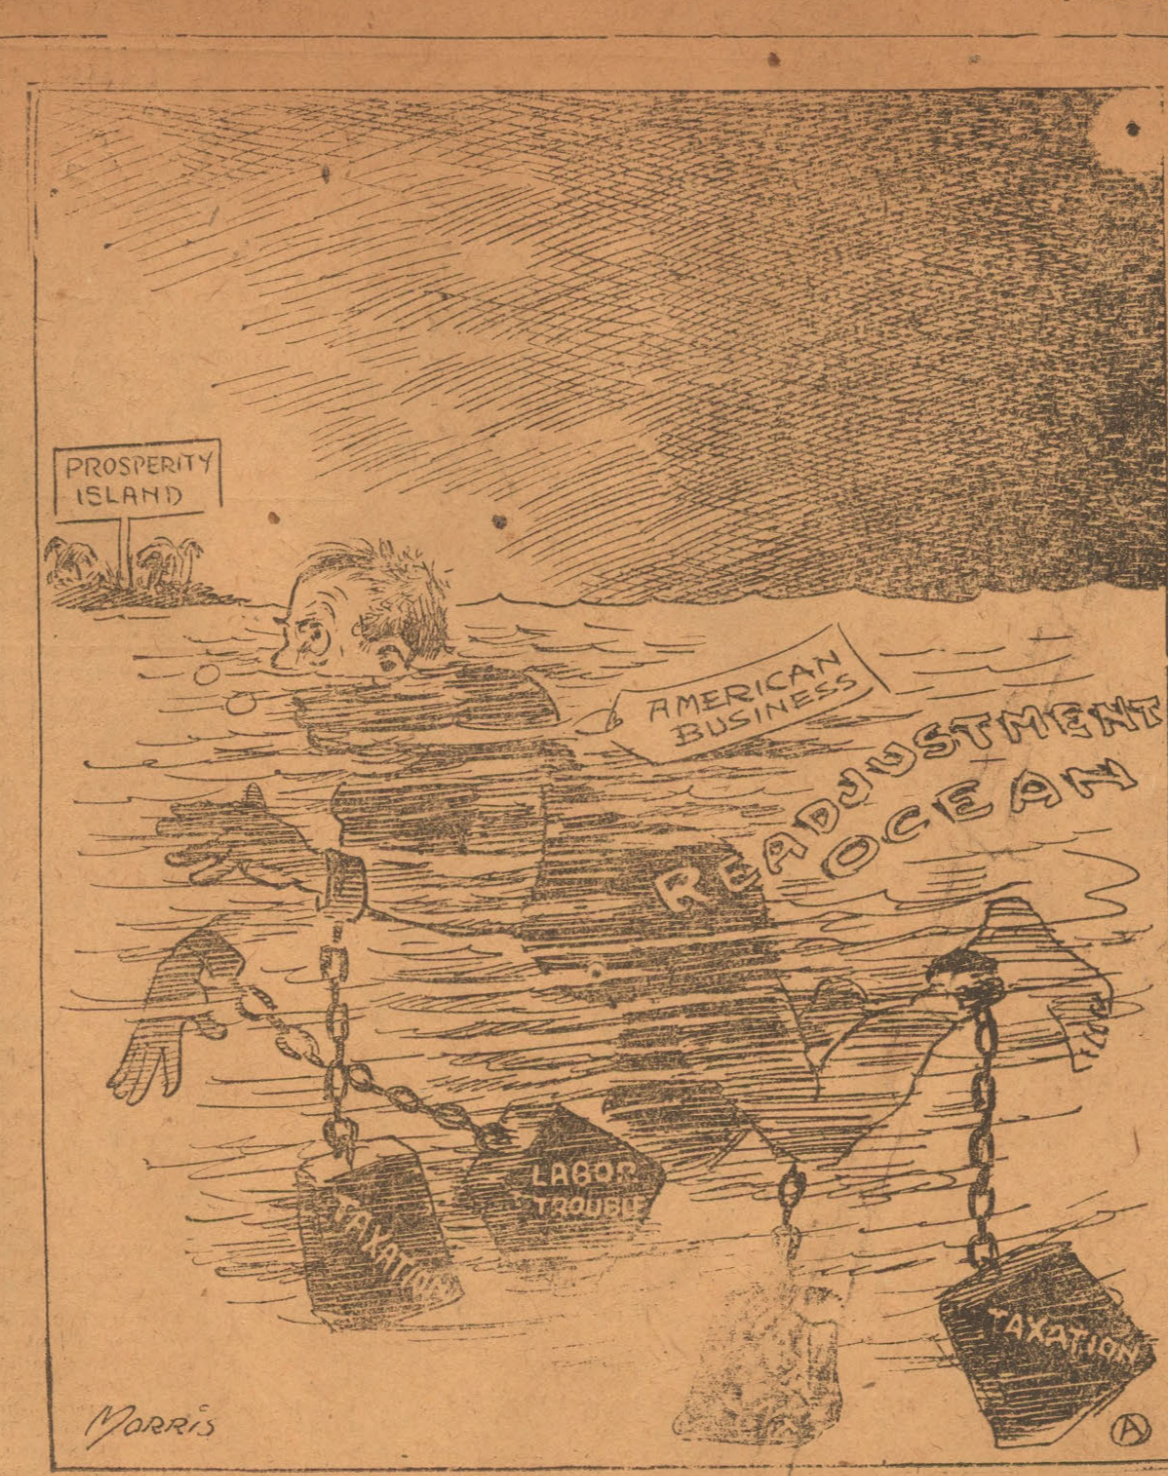

They only cost 10 cents, ma, look at them all, ma, that leaves 15 cents change for me, look at them all, ma, I sed, and ma sed, You imatch, them rite back and gettme a quarters worth of good potatoes. With I did, being even heavier on the way back than wat they was on the way over.

CAN HE MAKE IT?

"Tinker Bob" Stories by Carlisle H. Holcomb MR. ALLIGATOR AND LADY DUCK.

Tinker Bob was glad that he had found this fellow whose name was Mr. Alligator. For if there was anything he liked to do better than anything else, it was to find a new creature in the world and get acquainted with it. Although Reddy had told the Forest King that this Alligator fellow was very dangerous, Tinker had found him to be very friendly, and he had such a wonderful history. To think that his tail had been pulled so hard that it had grown as long as his body was a terrible thing.

"Why, Mr. Alligator, do you dislike Reddy the Bat so much?" asked Tinker. "Oh," yawned the Alligator, "he would be all right if he didn't go about telling everyone that I was the most terrible creature in all the world, and that I had tried to kill all of his tribe, and everything else that is not good." When Mr. Alligator opened his mouth to yawn it made Tinker Bob shudder, almost as though he were afraid, for such a mouth Tinker had never seen before.

"Then you would not do Reddy any harm if he should stop saying such things about you?" asked Tinker, anxious that they should be friends.

"Why, he thinks that I don't eat anything but Bats. The fact is I don't care anything about Bats for they don't taste very good anyway. And then I haven't had a Bat to eat in so long that I don't know what they are like. We Alligators prefer to eat fish. You see the lake is very kind and gives us all the fish that we can eat. But there is something I see now that I would like to eat, and if a certain creature comes a little closer I will have a feast. It has been some time since I had a feast of that particular kind."

Tinker looked around and could see nothing but the Flying Bats, and Mr. Alligator had just told him that he did not like Bats. Of course there was his friend, Lady Duck, but of course Mr. Alligator wouldn't want to do her any harm. But while Tinker was looking about in the moonlight for the creature

When he shut his jaws he had Lady Duck firmly fastened in his mouth.

Mr. Alligator would like to destroy something happened.

Mr. Alligator made one swift move forward, his mouth opened, and when he shut his jaws he had Lady Duck firmly fastened in his mouth. It was all done before Tinker Bob could realize what had happened. So Mr. Alligator was not so slow after all! And if it hadn't been for his quick turning, Tinker would never have seen Lady Duck again, for Mr. Alligator was backing slowly into the lake holding poor Lady Duck by her soft feathery neck.

Tinker Bob now moved swiftly—knowing just what to do, for he had saved the lives of the Forest Dwellers many times before. He tapped the Stone of Knowledge and the Creature of His Desire came at once; and before Mr. Alligator knew it, he was laughing by his tail in mid-air!

Tomorrow—Mr. Alligator Promises.

THE HIGH PLACE.

I do not envy Warren G., his task I would not share; I have no presidential bee, I want no White House chair, for all it brings, as he will see, is plain and fancy care. He's full of high resolves, you know, our confidence to gain; he'd make the wheels of commerce go, as all good wheels should turn, and put the lid on every vex, and give us joy to burn. And if we all stood at his back, to help as best we might, to share the burden he must pack, and cheer him day and night, he might enjoy that old white shack and think his work delight. But ere he fairly warned his seat a million hungry claws will ask why, in the name of Pete, they don't get public snaps, and they will stop him in the street and bore him with their yaps. And he will sit at night and sigh, and cuss the awkward fates that put him in a place so high, where only trouble waits; no nation has enough of pie to feed the hungry shades. And those who fail to get a slice will say he is a fake, and they will hand him chunks of ice when he's expecting cake, and once a day or maybe twice, his weary heart will break. And he will walk with dragging step to meet his callers gay, and they will see he loses pep with every passing day; and soon he'll summon Old Dog Sleep to chase the bore away.

GIRL'S SKELETON GOES TO COURT AS SILENT WITNESS

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 1.—The skeleton of a 17-year-old girl was a silent witness in Circuit Court Judge Garesche's court today in a suit brought by Mrs. Kate Koerner, 471 Oldenburg avenue, against the United Railways company, in which she seeks $7,500 damages for injuries claimed to have been suffered when a Cherokee car on which she was riding collided with a wagon at Tenth street and Clark avenue on March 2, 1920.

The skeleton was used by Dr. Chas. Zimmerle, 6011 Kingsbury boulevard, an osteopath, who treated Mrs. Koerner. He showed how his patient's ribs had been sprained and how her tenth rib overlapped the eleventh, according to his examination, as the result of her alleged injury. With a piece of string he demonstrated the relation of the nerve to the ribs.

The Celebrity

A short while after Irvin S. Cobb had visited the trenches back in 1918, two soldiers were discussing the event.

The present cotton marketing methods were characterized as a dumping system and the farmers were urged to change to a real merchandising plan.

THE WOMAN WHO SAW

So Different in Brooklyn.

Advertisements in Brooklyn are always "so different" as many of our popular advertisements read. It is a great town in which to try out rhetorical ventures (to say nothing of strikes), and here is a theatrical story for which the Woman can vouch.

Madame X and her charming daughter occupy a delightful little apartment in one of the best residential localities near Prospect park. Moving from an old-fashioned three-story and basement brown stone of the olden time they had brought with them to the new home many valued possessions, such as old silver, pictures, valuable lace and jewelry, which had come down to the ladies as the sole remaining members of a once large family, and were treasured accordingly.

The morning mail recently brought a dainty envelope of high grade stationery addressed to Madame in a lovely feminine hand, which when opened proved to contain two tickets for choice orchestra seats for a popular production playing in Manhattan. Vainly the recipient searched for a card or line to indicate the name of the generous sender, but as there was nothing to disclose the identity she decided that the omission was accidental. The seats came just in time for the matinee on that particular day, so the ladies left in good season for the performance, remaining in New York for tea and a leisurely homecoming after the rush hour crowds dispersed.

On entering their little apartment a state of chaos was discovered, for the place had been rifled from living room to kitchen. The valuable old silver was missing from its accustomed place in the dining room, chiffonier drawers had been pulled out and the contents dumped on the floor in the search for the cherished jewelry, all of which was missing, clothing had disappeared from the closets as if by magic; but the crowning surprise which added insult to injury was the discovery of a sheet of writing paper on which was written in the same dainty handwriting as the fatal envelope of the morning, "Now you know who sent you the theatre tickets."

The Perfect Lady.

The Woman always likes to draw out the Little Typist and get her views on subjects. She has decided and very shrewd opinions about every person, place, or thing you can mention, and these opinions are always interesting, although they seldom coincide with the Woman's.

Recently the Woman and she got on to the subject of current plays (her "boy-friend" takes her to most of the shows) an allusion she slipped easily into the realm of vaudeville.

"I saw Kay Spencer last night," she remarked, mentioning an actress whom the Woman knows by reputation, although she has never seen her (and whose name by the way is not Kay Spencer) "I think she's wonderful. She's so funny and you ought to see her dance. You see she isn't like some of those dames that shimmy vulgar—she shimmies real refined."

And the Woman asks, "Can it be done?"

"There's Many a Slip." The reconstructed aunt has a small nephew, aged 3, who is a constant source of wonder and delight to her. The other day he came to her, and a dainty aunt was duly awed by his excellent table manners and general air of savoir faire. But suddenly he stopped short in the middle of a mouthful of chicken and flushed crimson, his big eyes filling with tears. Aunty exclaimed in concern, but the 3-year-old was master of the situation.

"It's all right," he announced, blinking back the tears with a brave smile. "My teeth stepped on my tongue, that's all."

Teacher Shortage Blamed for Drift From Farm to City

By Associated Press

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 31.—Poor rural schools are responsible for a large part of the huge national drift of farm people to the cities and the first step in making effective a "back to the land" movement is to give country teachers extra pay, according to the inconveniences and hardships they undergo in their work. This is the gist of a report made to the American Federation of Teachers by Field Secretary Josephine Colby here today.

"One of the main reasons for the desertion of farms by young and forward looking married couples is that country schools cannot compare, under existing conditions, with city schools in giving children opportunity for development," she said. "A survey of the situation shows that even now when unemployment and wage cuts are more prevalent in the cities there has been no corresponding slump in the shift of the rural population to the urban centers. Country and small town schools continue to grow worse because their trained teachers go to the larger cities where higher pay prevails and because the teachers they secure are far more poorly prepared than ever before."

Teachers Drawn Away.

"Since the teacher shortage became so acute the large cities have surpassed the rural districts in raising salaries, with the result that they have drawn practically all the competent teachers away from the 'little red school house.' The average salary of teachers in one-room schools is less than $600 per year. Tennessee, for instance, has an average of $258 per teacher yearly and thirteen states rank below that. Pennsylvania reports a lack of 73 per cent in rural and elementary teachers. This means that country children suffer in comparison with city children.

"This wrong will not be righted until country districts offer extra compensation for the inconveniences their teachers must undergo. What teacher will remain in the rural districts boarding around, walking to school in country mud, enduring rigorous weather when she can get better pay, higher cultural environment and greater comforts in a city?"

The Philosophy of Clothes

The philosophy of clothes has never been written. Carlyle came closest to it in his Sartor Resartus. But the underlying significance—the punch and power—behind the well-dressed man and woman, while apparent, has never been analyzed.

Most of us are content to know that clothes are important, without knowing just why. Very few people today believe absolutely in the old maxim that "clothes do not make a man."

Experience—Life's foremost teacher—has taught us that clothes convey an impression which words cannot carry, and right impressions go far toward establishing one's position in the business and social worlds.

The whole truth of the matter is that the proper amount spent each year in the purchase of clothing is the wisest expenditure you can make. It is an investment which pays, daily dividends in greater success to the wearer.

And the best way to buy clothing to the greatest advantage is to study the advertisements of the foremost merchants in the columns of this newspaper.

Their advertisements reflect their progressiveness, and they are doubly effective because they reach the progressive clientele of a progressive newspaper.

Here you will find unexcelled opportunities to replenish your wardrobe from the crown of your head to the sole of your foot. You will find, also, a choice and variety of merchandise which allows you a wide selection.

If you wish to have a future, instead of looking like the past, if you wish to increase self-respect and command the attention and respect of others, make up your mind now to read the apparel advertising even more carefully and continuously than ever before. Act upon its suggestions.

It is a step toward greater prosperity.

Begin today.

Extremists Fanning Flames of Sedition Which Will Set India Ablaze in Revolt

Sir Michael O'Dwyer, Former Governor of the Punjab, Utters Word of Warning and Asserts Rigorous Measures Must Be Taken to Curb Agitators Who, With Enormous Funds at Their Command, Are Carrying on a Campaign of Dangerous Propaganda.

By WILLIAM L. MALLABAR, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, Feb. 1.—"Extremists are setting India ablaze. 'The time for toying with sedition in this vast empire is passed.' 'The law must be rigorously and impartially applied.' 'Sedition is being preached throughout the country and unless the authorities wake up the fire will gain such control that it will be almost impossible to subdue it.' 'These are but a few of the startling statements made by Sir Michael O'Dwyer, former governor of the Punjab, in a series of articles he has written on Indian unrest for a prominent London newspaper.

Of the three hundred millions in India, not 1 per cent have any knowledge of English and only 6 per cent can write their name in any language," is another of O'Dwyer's assertions. "The agitators with enormous funds are carrying on their propaganda. Some of them being in the pay of foreign governments; while on the other side, the government, which is now paralyzed by the Indian members, is helpless, as it does not possess strong men at the helm. 'Extremists Have Power.' 'The extremists are saying that they will make our rule in India impossible, which is quite within their power,' is an extract given by O'Dwyer from a letter of a European planter, which adds: 'I would prefer to live in a purely native state than in India, supposed to be governed by us, but in reality governed by extremist agitators.' 'Gandhi is the man whom the Anglo-Indians point as the man cause of the unrest in India at the present moment and O'Dwyer denounces him as a "scheming, revolutionary fanatic."

"It can be stated with certainty that the present extremist movement is heading straight for the disorganization of trade and commerce and for the ruin of every British interest. It is for anarchy and rebellion and the one way to meet it and break this movement is to enforce the law irrespective of persons, class or caste," continues O'Dwyer. "All those who are heading the revolutionary conspiracy—Gandhi, the Ali brothers and Sagat Rai—should be dealt with under the law before it is too late."

Gaining Popular Support. "The masses of the Indian population expect, and they have a right to expect, a just and firm government which will maintain order and promote prosperity. Now they see order and prosperity seriously threatened and are at a loss to understand how such things can be. They are being slowly alienated, for Gandhi's latest programme is mainly addressed to the simple and credulous classes."

Sir Charles McLeod, senior partner of the firm of McLeod & company, of Calcutta, Bombay and New York, adds his voice to the demand for the suppression of Gandhi.

McLeod has spent many years of his life in India. He was for thirty years in Bengal and is now chairman of the East India section of the London Chamber of Commerce. He says:

"Gandhi and all his kind ought to have been put under lock and key long since. This is not only my private opinion of the arch agitator and all his works; it is the opinion of the Indian trading community itself.

The Indian merchant doesn't want politics that are going to ruin his business. The Gandhi are out for nothing but their own hand, and the Indian merchant knows it."

School of Mines Gives Valuable Aid to Vast Region

By Associated Press

EL PASO, Texas, Feb. 1.—Prospectors in the southwestern field are being aided in mining development by the school of mines and metallurgy of the University of Texas, especially in the testing and assays of ores. Located as it is in the heart of the mining territory which embraces thousands of square miles and lying northern Mexico, West Texas, New Mexico and Arizona as its fields, the school is busy throughout its year and summer students are occupied during the extra term, making tests and studying nearly every kind of ores.

Gold, silver, lead, iron, copper, tin, zinc and other metals are found in these three states and Mexico, which the school claims as its territory. Mine owners, persons who have property and have any reason at all to believe ore of some kind exists on it, and prospectors call on students of the school of mines for help. Under the direction of Dean S. H. Worrell ores from these places are thoroughly and expertly tested, assayed and reported on. When a man wants ore on his place tested or assayed, or when a firm wants such work done, he gets into communication by wire or letter with Dean Worrell and tells him where he obtained the ore, who owns the property and agrees to send the school a ton or more of the ore to be tested.

The students under Dean Worrell, assisted by other expert assayers at the school, make the test and furnish a report. No charge is made for this service.

Valuable to School. "The school holds that the opportunity given the students in assaying ores sent to the school from all parts of the Southwest is sufficient compensation for doing the work," said Dean Worrell. "Testing ores gives the students actual experience in what they will come into contact with when they leave the school."

No attention is paid to "wild cat" propositions or to any companies which merely seek to have ore assayed in order to promote stock. It is the property owner or the legitimate mining company, who hopes to develop the Southwest by smelting the ore to whom the school pays attention. Students in the school of mines are called on to aid in many other mining problems, some of them pertaining to construction, others to filtration, drainage and flotation. As is assaying and testing, no charge is made for this service. The students have just finished working out the best possible flotation process for a mining company in Mexico.

MRS. VANDERBILT, SURPRISE BRIDE

Mrs. Cathleen Nelson Vanderbilt, divorced wife of Reginald C. Vanderbilt, who was quietly married to Sydney J. Colford, Jr., also a divorcee. Their wedding came somewhat as a surprise to society, though it had been rumored for more than a year that they would be married. The couple secured their marriage license and were quietly married the same afternoon at the home of the bride.

ONE-TIME CHICAGO CASH BOY NOW HAS STORE OF HIS OWN

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—At the age of 13 Edward Hillman began his business career in Chicago as a cash boy in the Boston store, owned by the late Charles W. Partridge, forty-two years ago. Today he is sole owner of his own department store, which he founded twenty-three years ago, with Mr. Partridge as an inactive partner.

The half interest Mr. Partridge had in the Hillman department store was retained by five direct heirs after his death in 1917. Mr. Hillman has purchased that interest for a sum in excess of $2,000,000, his attorney announced.

Mr. Hillman had risen to the management of the Boston store when he left to organize the firm bearing his name.

Wealthy American Once Offered $10,000,000 for Famous Castle Overlooking Capital of Mexico

MONTEREY, Mexico, Feb. 1.—Announcement from the City of Mexico that President Alvaro Obregon does not intend to reside in the famous Chapultepec Castle, which, since the days of Spanish domination of Mexico, has been the official residence of the rulers of the country, recalls the fact that, about twenty-five years ago, while the late Gen. Porfirio Diaz was president, Jay Gould made an effort to purchase the historic building and grounds. At that time it was stated that he offered $10,000,000 for the property. He had planned to make the magnificent palace his winter home, it was stated. The offer was seriously considered by the Mexican government and finally refused.

Chapultepec Castle, in the midst of a forest, overlooking the Mexican capital, stands like a sentinel guarding the beautiful city. Rising abruptly from the valley, the whole top of the eminence is covered by the immense castle.

Legendary Interest. Legendary and historic interest has centered around Chapultepec Castle. In its spacious halls romance and tragedy have held sway. The magnificent castle and wooded surroundings are a never-ending source of wonder and admiration for tourist and native alike.

But little attempt has been made to improve the natural beauties of the site on which the palace stands.

It was in 1783 that Don Matias de Galvez, Spanish viceroy, began the erection of Chapultepec Castle, which was completed by his son and successor, Don Bernardo. Succeeding rulers added to its size and uses, until it became almost a community in itself. Adjoining the castle is the National Military academy. Below, on the slope of the hill, is the monument to the cadets who fell defending Chapultepec from the Americans under General Scott in the assault of 1847.

Winding Footpath. By means of a roadway and a steep winding footpath the castle may be reached. Ascending the stone pathway, the view of the valley from the broad esplanade is superb. Picturesque villages dot the plain; toward the west, Tacubaya, "place in the bend of the stream," one of the beauty spots of Mexico; Lakes Xochimilco and Chalco to the south, shimmering in the sun; to the east, just beyond the city, its gleaming waters clearly visible, Lake Texcoco; connecting the two southern lakes with Texcoco on the east, slender, silver, green-fringed Viga canal winds its way; every park and street, every dome and tower stand out in distinct relief.

Still farther beyond, stretching away to the snow-clad mountains, quaint villages and haciendas may be seen—Cherubusco, battleground and temple of the old war god, Huixtlopochtli; Guadalupe, with its sacred shrine and curious old stone stairway; Michoac, "place of flowers," and Molina del Rey, noted battlefield of the war of 1848 where many Americans fell.

Nestling at the foot of the giant hills lies a park of incomparable beauty, with its shrubs and many colored flowers, its fountains of unique and wonderful design, great trees rising hundreds of feet and the artistic winding driveway.

Great Archway and Garden. Turning into the great archway the immense interior garden, forming a perfect park, is found. Here is located the shaft, or well, which connects with a cave and passage up through the heart of the mountain.

In ancient days the original buildings were erected along the steep, rocky slopes which led down to the water and the crest of the mountain was dedicated to the gods. Temples and shrines were erected there, forming a mecca for the simple and devout folk of those early days. Hieroglyphics as yet but partially read are carved in the face of the rocky slope.

Nearly are the remains of the old aqueduct, with shrines and arches standing where they were first placed in the time of the Aztec emperor, Chimalpopoan, who obtained the right to the pure waters of Chapultepec for the capital city from the King of Atzacapatzaco and dominated the whole valley. This aqueduct was built in 1442. It was partially destroyed by the Spanish, but was rebuilt in 1779 during the viceroyalty of Bucareli. An inscription on the fountain which marks the terminus of the structure tells its story.

Top Overhangs the Base. On the farther side of the castle the mountain is so steep that the bluffs from the top overhang the base, and ascent is impossible. Verdure and bloom cover the great masses of rock, interspersed with cave-like recesses through which once surged the tide of a stream. Close by is Montezuma's bath, a large, clear spring, inclosed by flower-covered stone walls.

Much of the magnificence and grandeur of the castle's interior was aided during the brief empire of Maximilian and Carlotta. The Paseo, the splendid driveway from the city to the castle, was the conception of the empress, and is still looked upon as a monument to her. Many of the relics of the remote days have been removed from Chapultepec to the National museum. In a little room at the corner of the esplanade are two chairs which belonged to Cortes, and there are a few other articles of more ancient date, but most of the furniture and hangings date from the empire.

Interesting Apartment. On the walls about the grand staircase are the coats of arms of all the rulers of Mexico from the Tains of 1474 to the present. This is one of the most interesting apartments of the palace. The curiously designed emblems wrought by the ancient races show a wealth of imagination and beauty conception.

Grand Salons and elegant suites of rooms gorgeous with brilliant colors and sumptuous furnishings comprise the interior of the palace, floor above floor. A national observatory on the top is of especial interest. The terrace and roof garden above the palace afford a magnificent view of the valley and a grand marble staircase leads back down to the garden and the esplanade.

HAS 10 CHILDREN OF OWN, BUT SHE ADOPTS ANOTHER

CEDAR FALLS, Ia., Feb. 1.—Mother of ten healthy, sturdy children of her own flesh and blood and yet yearning to "mother" all the motherless children she hears about, Mrs. Hans Hansen, wife of a farmer living near here, yielded to her strong maternal instinct and adopted a three-week-old baby girl.

She even traveled to another town, thirty miles distant, to get the orphan, and when she returned with the baby cuddled to her bosom she was happy to have eleven children.

According to General Amos A. Fries, chief of the Chemical Warfare service of the United States army, this country is in a position to manufacture and to deliver on the field of battle more chemicals than any other nation or group of nations.

DID POKER PARTY CAUSE BLOWUP OF BOILER AT COOPER SCHOOL?

In some manner unknown, a gas explosion occurred in the basement of the Cooper school some time Sunday or Sunday night, badly wrecking the boiler around the water heater.

The explosion was discovered Monday when the janitor went into the basement to start the fires for the day.

Because some children playing on the campus of the school saw three men climb the fire escapes of the building and enter its upper story, the theory has been advanced that the school was being used as a poker parlor over Sunday, and the men so engaged caused the explosion. Beyond the fact that the men were seen to enter the building this theory has not been verified.

The boiler at the school is equipped with gas heaters, and it is thought probably that if the building was being used for the purpose suggested, one of the men entered the basement to start the fire to heat the room in which they were playing, and not understanding the workings of the heating arrangement, caused the explosion.

Oh, Grave, Thy Victory?

A group of old-timers had been caught red-handed at dice by the village preacher, who had delivered a broadside on the evils of gambling. When he was through one recalcitrant drawled:

"Say parson, you ever shot craps?"

"I should say not."

"You ever had a pair of dice in your hands?"

"Emphatically no."

"Well then, what you want to come around talkin' to us about paradise for?"

Renovation of Metcalf Corner Nearly Complete

The repairs on the old building at Main and Commerce streets has been almost completed and the fixtures and stock of the drug store to be installed in the corner space by D. N. Harmon are beginning to arrive. The main street space will be occupied by Metcalf's cafe which was in the building before the repairs were begun.

In the re-construction the partitions were all torn out and a single partition built separating the two rooms. The stairway was removed from Main to Commerce street and the entire lower story, inside and out, painted white. The cost has run into several thousand dollars. Mr. Harmon is said to have taken a ten-year lease on the building. The upper story he will use as a rooming house.

FLYING GRANDMAS COMPLETE TRIP, OMAHA TO WASHINGTON BY RAIL

Though they intended to fly all the way from Omaha, Neb., to Washington, D. C., Mrs. H. H. Wheeler, 55, of Lincoln, Neb., and Mrs. Drapper Smith, 66, of Omaha, were compelled to abandon their flight at Des Moines because of bad weather and continue their journey to Washington by rail. Both Mrs. Wheeler and Mrs. Smith are grandmothers and were entrusted with the duty of carrying Nebraska's electoral vote to the capital. Soaring in a fast airplane, beats riding in a Pullman any day is the verdict of the "Flying Grandmas."

PAVING BRICK TO BE SHIPPED FAST AS USED

Brick to finish the paving program will arrive almost as fast as they can be used, according to Mayor M. H. Hagaman after he had held conference with Ed S. Britton, manager of the Thurber Brick company, who was in the city yesterday. Mr. Britton was accompanied by Bates Cox, also connected with the brick company. This statement means, it is thought that the unfinished portions of the streets to be paved will be finished rapidly and only a short time will intervene until the entire program will be completed. W. L. Gibson, superintendent of the McKenzie company, has stated that if the brick could be secured two gangs of workers would be organized which means that several blocks could be finished daily.

LIQUOR SLEUTHS ARE MARKED FOR DEATH IN ALABAMA, SAID

FLORENCE, Ala., Feb. 1.—A plot to exterminate the entire force of prohibition enforcement officers operating in northern Alabama has been unearthed, according to State Supervisor N. L.

Pierce. Discovery of the plot, he said today, followed the arrest of eleven persons in connection with the killing last Saturday of Don Stephenson, a member of a prohibition squad, and the wounding at the same time of two other officers. Mr. Pierce declared there was reason to believe that state and county officers, as well as federal, were marked for elimination.

LARGE REWARD IS OFFERED FOR RECOVERY OF MISSING JEWELS

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Jan. 31.—A reward of $6,000 has been offered for the recovery of jewels valued at $50,000 belonging to John L. Severance, local millionaire, which disappeared last Saturday night. Announcement of the reward appeared in newspaper advertisements Thursday. A handbag which contained the jewels was found empty in a yard here Wednesday.

Red Who Reformed Marked for Death by Friends in Jail

BOSTON, Feb. 1.—The action of some of the eighteen alien radicals now at Deer Island awaiting deportation in passing a sentence of death on one of their number caused their confinement in cells today. For the first time since arrival at the house of correction, Master George N. Harlow said, they were not allowed to mingle with each other, and were required to eat behind the bars.

They resented the disciplinary measures, and threw mess dishes and utensils through the bars, but became quiet when told that food would be refused them if the disturbance was repeated. Commissioner of Immigration Henry J. Skeffington said it was planned to send the men to New York by special train next Monday for deportation on a steamer sailing about Feb. 1. Demetrio Iwankiw, the man marked for death, was separated from the others today. A well educated man, Mr. Harlow said, Iwankiw, who was arrested at Youngstown, O., had apparently undergone a change in his radical views. He voted his opinions among his fellows, and as a consequence, according to the master, a committee tried him as a spy. The death sentence was declared, and the committee bound itself to see that it was carried out as soon as the party reached Russia.
