He applied his brakes and attempted to go behind them and could have done so, but they jumped back and one of them jumped into the running board of his car. He didn't see the car strike the other one. He stopped his car as quickly as possible. It was one of the unavoidable accidents and I regret it very much," Mr. Jackson said.

THE JAY-WALKER AND DRIVER. The lad from the country, unaccustomed to the bright lights of the city, has long been familiarly known as a "rube," or a "jay." Today the term is applied to the man, woman or child who attempts to cross the street from diagonal corners, or at the middle of a block in congested or business areas. Whether he hails from the country or the city he is now considered not only a nuisance but cause of loss and damage to traffic, and many municipalities are considering ordinances providing for his arrest for violating traffic rules.

The same conditions apply to the driver of cars who fails to heed the traffic rules regarding the crossing of railroad tracks at grade crossings and whenever damage results to locomotive or cars the railroads propose to institute action for recovery, or for the arrest and punishment of the jay-driver.

In small towns where there is little traffic and where personal safety needs but slight attention, the inbabitants may cross the street at all points with equal safety but it is a bad habit to form, and it is also a bad habit to attempt to beat a train to the crossing.

Crossing congested streets in the middle of the block is a dangerous practice. In case of accident, the blame attaches to the pedestrian -not to the automobile driver, unless the driver has violated some law. In any case, both are equally negligent and the jay-walker cannot be awarded damages if he is injured. Nearly as many jay-walkers and jay-drivers were killed last year as there were United States soldiers actually killed in the war, but the number seems to multiply and deaths in-

One official aptly asserted that it was impossible to legislate brains and common sense into alcohol fiends and it seemed just as much of a job to educate the jay-walker and driver.

Simpson's explanation starts with the fact, previously determined by laboratory experiments, that when drops of water are broken up there is a separation of negative and positive electricity. This process occurs on a large scale in thunderstorms, where the falling raindrops are broken before they reach the earth by the powerful uprushes of air that occure in such storms. Positive electricity tends to remain in the drops, while negative electricity is carried aloft by the rising air and eventually gives a strong C. Ry. Co. survey, being middle of W. Dawson tract, S. DIRECT LAWS AT RECKLESS DRIVING

Reckless driving, but not ordinarily considered as such.

NLY a very small percentage of the street and highage of the street and highway accidents today can be attributed directly to construction and engineering defects," declares Construction of the National Conference on Street and Highway Safety in a report submitted to Secretary Hoover. The committee emphasizes the need of providing right-of-way for parking spaces, for clear view at intersections, and for the future widening "before the cost of land becomes prohibitive."

"Grade crossing elimination through cooperation of municipalities, states and railroads must be the ultimate remedy for the railroad-highway grade-crossing peril," the Committee declares, with the continuing recommendations that "the creation of new grade crossings should be avoided wherever possible" even to the extent of relocating highways to avoid such difficulties.

Standard rules governing the conduct of travelers on the highway; uniform speed regulation aimed primarily at reckless driving; and examination and licensing of all motor vehicle operators, with a ban on the mentally or physically unfit as well. as persons under 16 years of age or what cannot read English, are among the outstanding recommenda-tions made by the Committee on Traffic Control of the National Conference on Street and Highway Safety to Secretary Hoover. Other important recommendations directed primarily at reckless driv-ing and should be uniform through-out the country. That communities should be empowered to fix speed limit zones, but should be required to mark the boundaries of such zones plainly; and should be prohibited from establishing a speed limit lower than 15 miles per hour.

That overtaking moving vehicles on sharp curves, approaching hillcrests, at intersections or at railroad crossings should be prohibited.

Inother form of reckless driving not generally so considered.

DESIGNING FOR THE YOUNG GIRL A FINE ART

HERE is a fine art in the designing of clothes for the young girl. To incorporate just the correct amount of current tendencies in fashion, without in any way sacrificing the spirit of "jeunesse" requires a degree of taste and sense of the fitness of things which is possesed by few. Continental and English children are in general far more simply dressed than their American cousins. This may be in part caused by the fact that children on the other side of the water are kept more closely to the "nursery" or the "schoolroom," and do not mingle as freely with the grown-up members of the family as is the custom in America. Be that as it may, their clothes reflect engaging and appropriate simplicity combined with a perfectly ade-quate degree of becomingness and Take for instance this little two piece costume which has borrowed the ensemble idea from its grownup sisters but interpreted it in the inimitable spirit of just fourteen. It is of brown kasha, trimmed with a front panel made of printed crepe in a gay plaid, which also forms the dress beneath. The coat fastens all the way down the front panel, and has a childish rolling collar and big cuffs and pocket trimmings of the plaid silk.

This little costume is extremely up-to-date too, for Henri Creange, Chency style authority, tells us that the newest note for Spring will be ensembles showing a printed silk dress worn with a coat lined with the same material as the

WEST VIRGINIA DEFEATS S. M. U. IN CLOSE GAME

Teams Well Matched, But Visitors Win By Score Of 9 to 7

FAIR PARK STADIUM, DALLAS, Jan. 2.—Recovery of a partially blocked pas by Bullman, end, gave West Virginia Wesleyans the victory over S. M. U. by a score of 9 to 7 in one of the hardest fought post-season games seen in Texas in many years. A crowd of 5,000 fans years. A crowd of 5,000 fans braved the weather.

S. M. U. scored in the third quarter through a fluke equally as heartrending as the one that gave the Bobcats their winning touchdown, Watters the odd man in the line-up of the Methodist players who have fought side by side for two years undefeated, was the individual and shining luminary of the game. Breaking through in the third period on Garrity's attempt to pass, he rushed the passer and Garrity fumbled. In an endeavor to scoop up the ball with a flying dive Watters knocked the ball over the goal line, raced across and recovered for the Methodists' lone score.

The first half ended 0 to 0, with both teams fighting desperately and S. M. U. having the edge over the visitors. In the third quarter S. M. U. scored and the Bobcats' machine came to life and marched to the 30yard line where King kicked a fiel yard line where King kicked a field goal. Third period ended 7 to 3 with S. M. U. apparently winning.

In the fourth quarter a 35-yard pass by DeLong was apparently intercepted by Stollenwerck. However, the ball just tipped his hands and Bullman, who had raced down the field under the pass grabbed the ball out of the six and sellowed 25 ball out of the air and galloped 35 yards more for a touchdown.

belonged to a man in Cisco.

The cairs were located in an outof-the-way place and had been concealed in the brush, officers stated.
It is believed that the cars were put there by the parties stealing them and that they expected to drive them away within a few days.

JANUARY The Month of Value Giving---beginning Tomorrow

A sensational clearance sale of Fall and Winter Merchandise. For years the month of January at Joseph's has been looked upon as a month to buy. This January brings the most substantial bargains we have ever

Every Department Contributes Unsurpassed Values

-For this, Our Greatest Clearance, each department offers its line at drastic reductions. Regular merchandise and odds and ends left from our immense holiday stocks will be offered at prices which will astonish the most economical shoppers. It would require several pages to list each item. The quantities in some instances are limited, therefore we urge you to come

All Winter Apparel at Enormous Reductions

-We do not intend to carry over a single Winter garment, or any Fall and Winter merchandise. With several Winter months ahead of us, it will be much to your advantage to secure the things needed for home and personal use NOW at prices that you will be glad to

Women's and Misses Wearing Apparel at Sensational Reductions

-Hundreds of the season's most fashionable and exclusive garments will be offered for immediate clearance at only a fraction of their real worth. Our entire stock has been divided into special groups, and each represents values far out of the ordinary. For first choice, we advise early selections.

Clearance of Shoes

—Our first of the year inventory showed several numbers in shoes that were badly broken in sizes. Some only one or two pairs of a kind in perfectly good styles. We have gone through the stock and reduced the price on all these numbers so as to close them out.

What kind of a looking man, anyway, is Rafael Sabatini, the author of "Captain Blood," "Scaramouche" and "The Sea Hawk"? That's what novel readers and picture lovers have been asking for a long time. The answer is seen above. Mr. Sabatini (right) is shaking hands with Albert E. Smith, president of Vitagraph, producer of the screen version of "Captain Blood," in front of Vitagraph's London offices.

GRATITUDE PROMPTS LADY TO MAKE STATEMENT

thankfulness be more eloquently expressed than the following statement from Mrs. Myrl Person, of Hastings, Okla., regarding the wonderful good that Nature's Iron Tonic has done for her?

Mrs. Person says: "I had stomach trouble very badly. I lost weight continually and became so nervous and weak I was unable to do my house work. At times I would smother and I actually thought I was going to die. I was so nervous I thought I would go wild. I could go no place and life was almost a misery to me. I tried every treatment I could was almost a misery to me. I tried every treatment I could hear of and none of them seemed to help my condition until a good friend told me of Nature's Iron Tonic. I had not taken all of the first bottle until I could tell it
