HELEN BROWN IS GIVEN HONOR BY ELKS COMMITTEE

Chosen as Ranger's Most Popular Girl; Likes Athletics, Including Golf.

Miss Helen Brown, popular girl in Ranger's younger set, has been chosen by the Elks committee on entertainment as Ranger's most popular girl and will be queen of the Jubilee festivities in this city Aug. 22-25, the committee announced today. Miss Brown was accorded the honor over four other Ranger girls.

She was taken back by surprise when apprised of being chosen for the honor by a Times representative this morning at her home at 314 Pine street. She was not inclined to honor a request for her photograph until she received a notification from the Elks committee, but she would talk about her life.

Miss Brown was born in Jarker, Ark., and with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Brown, moved to Texas, Kansas, Texas, where her father was for a number of years in the bond business. When her family removed to near Dallas, she entered the Hockaday school, a fashionable preparatory school for girls. About three and one half years ago, she joined her father here, who had embarked in the oil producing business.

Fond of dancing, swimming, golf and tennis, she emphasized most of all.

She has auburn hair and is vivacious in movements. One of her friends in speaking of the honor given her described her as being a "likeable and congenial girl."

MONEY IS DUE RANGER SCHOOLS SAYS COOPER

President of Board of Trustees Insists Bonds Were Sold at Par and Accrued Interest.

To the Editor of the Ranger Times: In compliance with the request made by your representative, I herewith submit to you my attitude and understanding with reference to the sale of certain of the bonds of the Ranger Independent school district.

It was my understanding that the school board sold the bonds to the Brown-Crummer Investment company of Wichita, Kan., for par and accrued interest, less a discount or commission of 10 per cent of the face value of the bonds. It was my understanding and belief that the school board would receive full payment for interest coupons that were then due at the time of the sale. It is my understanding and belief, and has been at all times, that the Brown-Crummer Investment company would pay to the Ranger Independent school district the full amount of accrued interest due on the bonds for the first year, which is in excess of $9,000. This has been my understanding at all times, and I think that the school district is entitled to receive this amount of money.

It has been my attitude at all times to work for the interest of the school district, and I have endeavored to recover every dollar that was justly due the school district. This desire has prompted me to make such investigations as have been made in the past. I know of no better policy to follow than this.

Yours very respectfully,
V. V. COOPER.

Mr. Cooper said following the school board meeting, Tuesday, that Mr. Smith had exhibited an instrument or memorandum on the sale, but he did not consider it represented a contract. He was asked if it was likely the instrument would be tested out in court.

"I cannot say," he replied. "That is a matter we will have to decide on later."

PROGRESS OF RANGER SUBJECT OF DISCUSSION

Chamber of Commerce Breakfast Enlivened by Four Entertaining Speakers.

Four interesting and instructive talks made the Chamber of Commerce breakfast in the Gholson hotel this morning notable in the city's onward march. Two of these talks were by women who are great workers for Ranger. Mrs. Fred Dreinhofer spoke on "Co-Operation," urging united efforts to make the schools, churches and organizations in the city helpful to everybody so that more homeseekers and homemakers would be attracted here. Mrs. M. H. Hagaman told what the women of Ranger are doing to help the city grow and add to the happiness and contentment of those now here.

"Cities are built to meet a great need at a great moment," she said, recalling some of the stress through which the people of Ranger had passed. She said the vision of the pioneer builders of Ranger had aided materially in the march to present progress. She urged public opinion as one of the greatest factors in community building if used correctly, but detrimental if not rightly used.

Gas Is Valuable.
William Moorhead, an official of the Lone Star Gas company who had come from his headquarters in Dallas to address the people of Ranger, spoke on the necessity of public utilities in the development of communities and told of Lone Star Gas company plans now being carried to fruition and others to come later. The company was organized in 1909 to deliver gas, deal fairly and give service; he said, stressing especially the necessity for service in the distribution of gas to the public. He said that natural gas was saving each household about $116 a year and also many hours of drudgery formerly necessary in getting in wood or coal and carrying out the ashes and cinders. This saving to the people runs into millions.

Mr. Moorhead denied that the Lone Star Gas company would abandon other fields and get all its gas from Ranger. "This would be unwise and impracticable," he said. The Lone Star Gas company will not take all its gas from Ranger, but this will be one of the most important of the 12 or 13 fields from which its supply of gas will be obtained. The Oklahoma fields will not be abandoned, but the Ranger field is about 100 miles closer to the consumers and therefore the Ranger gas is easier to deliver. It is the intention of the Lone Star Gas company to develop the Ranger gas field to its capacity, according to Mr. Moorhead.

RAILROAD ACTIVITIES

J. A. Hillis, of the Wichita Falls, Ranger and Fort Worth railroad, gave some statistics relative to the business that railroad is doing. During the six months ending June 30, he said, 230 carloads of commodities were brought into Ranger from competitive lines, and 341 carloads of commodities were taken out of Ranger to competitive lines. The railroad has 77 employees who have their homes in Ranger and the average monthly payroll of the last six months was $10,513.

Proclamation By Mayor of Ranger To Suspend Work

Whereas, Warren G. Harding, president of the United States since March 4, 1921, is dead, and funeral services for him will be conducted at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon in his home city of Marion, Ohio, and

Whereas, the people of the United States are uniting in services in memory of and tribute to the late Chief Executive of the Nation, who was a great and gifted leader, an advocate of world peace and brotherly love, and an American citizen worthy of the highest praise,
Now, therefore, by virtue of my office as mayor of the city of Ranger, and by authority of the same, I do hereby proclaim two hours cessation of all business activities within the city of Ranger during the hours of 2:30 and 4:30 p. m., Friday, being the hour of the funeral services and one-half hour before and one-half hour afterwards, and I further request all people of the city and all other citizens who may be in Ranger at that time to join in memorial exercises to be held in the Liberty Theatre, Friday afternoon between the hours of 3 and 4 o'clock, while the funeral of the late chief is being conducted in his home city.
(Signed) R. H. HODGES,
Mayor of Ranger.

WASTE OF GAS WHAT LONE STAR SEEKS TO STAY

William A. Moorhead Makes Instructive Address to Rotarians.

Curtailing of waste gas is the keynote of action in recent conventions of utilities and is back of the moves in that direction by various regulating bodies, William A. Moorhead, director of public relations of the Lone Star Gas company, told the Rotarians at luncheon today at the Gholson hotel.

"In investigating waste gas conditions, it was pointed out that the gas loss in Oklahoma and Texas would supply all the gas using communities in the United States for several weeks, Moorhead told the Rotarians.

"Stephens county has a 100,000,000 cubic feet waste of gas that would supply all of the important cities of Texas for 24 hours. The loss in Eastland county runs close behind.

"We have no 'kick' against casing head gasoline, for it is better to use some part of the gas. Gasoline is a necessity. But natural gas is being used for other purposes that should be prohibited.

"Our entry into this field is in conformity with the move to curtail the

BODY OF LATE PRESIDENT IS IN THE CAPITOL

Taken From White House Through Lane of Humanity to Big Rotunda.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Such honor as only the great dead of a nation may call for, were bestowed today on the memory of President Warren G. Harding as his body was carried from the White House to lie for a brief time under the dome of the capitol before being taken back to his native state to stay forever. The escort was composed of marching legions with General Pershing at the head. Soldiers and sailors were in procession. Behind the military came President Coolidge and following him the first of American citizenry.

Leaving White House.

It was a few minutes after 10 o'clock that the funeral procession left the gates of the White House, and moved up historic Pennsylvania avenue through a lane of humanity. Former President Woodrow Wilson, himself broken by the cares of the chief executiveship, came to the White House gates just before the procession, to take his place in the cortege. Chief Justice Taft of the supreme court, the only other living ex-president, was also in waiting there when the casket, in a shroud of stars and stripes, was lifted from its setting of flowers to be borne to the rotunda of the capitol. Services were conducted by the Rev. Dr. Freeman Anderson, pastor of Mr. Harding's church in Washington, and the Rev. Dr. James Montgomery, chaplain of the house of representatives. The strains of Chopin's funeral march played by the army band, were heard as the procession moved from the White House to the capitol.

Mrs. Harding was heavily veiled when she came down the White House steps. On one side walked Presidential Secretary George Christian and on the other Brigadier General Sawyer, a life-long friend of the Hardings.

Arrival at Capitol.

On arrival of the presidential party at the capitol, the troops presented arms. General Pershing joined in the salute. The long line of automobiles came to a stop. A non-commissioned officer stepped up and loosened the straps that bound the coffin to its funeral car. Then it was gently lifted down and with the band playing "Lead Kindly Light," the president was carried up the steps and across the spot where two and one-half years ago he stood to take the oath of office.

President Coolidge, Chief Justice Taft and former Vice President Marshall walked slowly into the rotunda just behind the coffin. Mrs. Harding was taken up to the rotunda by an elevator from the ground.

As the body was placed on the catafalque first built for Lincoln, it was exactly 11:48 o'clock. Dr. Henderson began the invocation and following was a quartet of the Calvary Baptist church, where the president worshipped, who took up the strains of "Lead Kindly Light," the favorite hymn of McKinley.

Services Simple.

Over the broken body of the nation's former leader the words of the twenty-third psalm were uttered. A simple prayer by Dr. Montgomery and a selection, "Nearer My God to Thee," and a benediction by Dr. Anderson and the services given the former president were concluded.

The services were over in a few minutes and preparations were made immediately to admit the vast throng outdoors who waited to pass by the bier of their former leader.

waste of gas in the fields and homes. We believe our entry will solve the problem of waste gas.

Would Curtail Loss.
 Moorhead read a letter which F. P. Chase, vice president and general manager of the Lone Star company, wrote to the chairman of the state railroad commission. In this letter, Chase asserted that his company is seeking to co-operate with the railroad commission in the move to curtail the loss of gas.

"We spend thousands of dollars in educating gas users in saving gas," he said. "Gas consumers lose on an average of 15 per cent on faulty piping, while 25 per cent is lost by the use of improper gas appliances and the incorrect use of proper appliances."

Moorhead stated that the Lone Star's security lies in the number of fields at the company's command and for that reason none of the fields controlled by the Lone Star would be abandoned as the result of the company coming into the Ranger field. He said the extension to the Ranger field means a shorter transmission. This, he asserted, will work to the advantage of the Ranger field because there is a "definite limit on transmission."

He spoke of gas conditions in the Indiana, Illinois and Pennsylvania fields. Natural gas supply is becoming shorter in states in the middle west and artificial gas is being mixed with the natural gas. Artificial gas has but one-half the heating value of natural gas.

Lasch Elected Member.
 M. B. Lasch, manager for the Lone Gas company in the Ranger field, was elected with much ceremony a member of the Ranger Rotary club. J. T. Gullhorn raised some objection to his election as a member, because he had not come sooner to Ranger to make his home, demanding an explanation, but several Rotarians who had vouched for him explained that Mr. Lasch had felt his presence was needed in Oklahoma until this year and had confidence that those who had preceded him to Ranger could lay the foundation for the city's substantial growth, so he delayed his coming until he realized that it was necessary for the good of Ranger that he make his home here. Mr. Gullhorn was satisfied with the explanation, withdrew his objection and Mr. Lasch was elected unanimously.

E. O. McNew told something of the recent Rotarian convention in St. Louis and gave an interesting account of the numerous courtesies extended the Texas Rotarians on the way there.

President Gus Coleman announced that the district governor would visit Ranger next Wednesday and notified every member to be present at next week's luncheon.

What the World Is Doing

Racing Auto Takes Gas and Oil "On the Run"

While racing along at a speed of nearly 50 miles an hour to break a record, an automobile recently was supplied with gas, oil, water, and relief drivers without stopping the car during a 3,155-mile run made in 50 hours 21 minutes. Although three stops were made for tires during this time, the engine was kept going without pause. All the other supplies were taken aboard, without stopping the machine, from another car which ran alongside during the period of delivery.

Radio Speeds Up Taking of Moving Pictures

Radio carried orders of the movie director to 5,000 members of the cast in a big scene in a western studio recently. Where, usually, the megaphone is used to shout instructions, while camera men are turning the cranks, this director, standing at a point from which he had a clear view of all the actors, spoke his orders calmly into a sending instrument, which made it heard clearly all over the lot. The directing, somewhat difficult because of the number of people employed, was simplified by use of radio, and the movie man predicted that it will be repeated in other big scenes. The same system was used to increase the carrying power of broadcast messages and concerts at the receiving end. Use of radio in this case not only spared the director's voice, but it produced better results by making it possible for all the actors quickly to go through with the scene without frequent stops.

Make Poison-Gas Test in Three Minutes

Simple tests to find the degree of poisoning from a gas known as carbon monoxide are now possible with the invention of an instrument that shows how much a person has been affected within three minutes, where formerly it took from 24 to 48 hours before this could be accurately determined. The apparatus may be carried in the pocket and is expected to prove of particular value in mines, where this gas is a much-dreaded menace. Because of the compactness of the new instrument and the fact that it can be applied to a patient by one who has had no special training, it will be of broad general service, it is predicted. Government experts, who tried it on a young girl, assert that it is the quickest method known to detect the gas.

Tennis Court in Squares to Teach Accuracy

Looking like a great checkerboard, except that each square has a number, a tennis court has been devised to teach accuracy. While an instructor calls out the numbers, the player is required to place the ball in the required section. The practice provides training not only for the hands and feet, but also for the mind, because of the quickness with which the numbers are called.

Equipping the Wheelbarrow with Shock Absorbers

The shocks suffered when pushing a wheelbarrow over rough ground can be largely eliminated by providing the wheel with shock absorbers made from buggyspring leaves. The leaves used for this purpose have eyes at the ends; each is cut to a length of about 8 in., and has three or four screw holes drilled through it. The eyes are reamed out so that they will accommodate the axle of the wheel and allow it to turn easily, and the springs are screwed to the underside of the wheelbarrow frame, the eyes being turned down.

Secure Latch for Paddocks
 It is desirable to have the gates of stables and paddocks provided with a latch that cannot be opened by the horse. A good latch, that is absolutely secure, and has been found to be very useful on the stallion paddock at the University of Illinois, is shown in the drawing. The gate is made so that it touches the gatepost at the bottom first, and the top must be sprung in order to hook the latch. There is not a chance for the gate to open when the latch is in position; the harder the stallion rubs or pushes against the gate, the tighter the latch becomes.

Oil-burning ocean vessels without large funnels are said to be regarded skeptically by Russians, Poles, and their neighbors, when about to emigrate to the United States. More often than not, in spite of explanations, they insist on using boats with smokestacks.

Don't Endanger Your Life By Neglecting High Blood Pressure

Reduce it quickly with new convenient Bi-a-lin Tablets.
 Dizzy spells, headaches, sleeplessness, shortness of breath upon slight exertion, flushed face, ringing in ears, nervousness and a general weakness, are all signs of high blood pressure. They indicate that poisonous wastes have accumulated in your system and have forced your heart to do double duty. If treated promptly, high blood pressure can usually be overcome quickly, but neglected, it brings on complications such as Bright's disease, hardening of the arteries and very often apoplexy and sudden death.

A simple, safe remedy for high blood pressure and the conditions that cause it is now offered in scientific Bi-a-lin. Dispensed by most good druggists, Bi-a-lin comes in convenient tablets and seems to act immediately upon the poisons that cause high blood pressure.

The fame of Bi-a-lin has spread all over the country and the results from its use have been so remarkable that the manufacture guarantees you wonderful relief from the use of the very first bottle, or your money will be immediately refunded. You can get Bi-a-lin at all good drug stores such as Harman's Drug Store, Texas Drug Store.—Advertisement.

ROBS CALOMEL OF NAUSEA AND DANGER

Medicinal Virtues Retained and Improved—Dangerous and Sickening Qualities Removed. Perfected New Tablet Called "Calotabs."
 The latest triumph of modern science is a "de-nauseated" calomel tablet known as the drug trade as "Calotabs." Calomel, the most generally useful of all medicines thus enters upon a wider field of popularity, purified and refined from those objectionable qualities which have heretofore limited its use.

In biliousness, constipation, headaches and indigestion, and in a great variety of liver, stomach and kidney troubles calomel was the most successful remedy, but its use was often neglected on account of its sickening qualities. Now it is the easiest and most pleasant of medicines to take. One Calotab at bedtime with a swallow of water,—that's all. No taste, no griping, no nausea, no salts. A good night's sleep and the next morning you are feeling fine, with a clean liver, a purified system and a big appetite. Eat what you please. No danger.

Calotabs are sold only in original, sealed packages, price thirty-five cents for the large, family package; ten cents for the small, trial size. Your druggist is authorized to refund the price as a guarantee that you will be thoroughly delighted with Calotabs.—Advertisement.

POLICE RENEW SEARCH FOR THE FLOGGING PARTY

People Living Near Scene Said to Have Heard Screams, but Victims Not Found.
 Forty hours after a man's cry and also a woman's scream of terror are reported to have been heard by people living in and around the Lon Dooley tract, eight miles northwest of Ranger, attributed to a flogging administered to the man while the woman looked helplessly on, police who yesterday visited the scene of the supposed flogging incident said today that the evidence gathered supported the belief that a public whipping did take place but they were not able to learn the identity of the whippers nor the victim of the lashes.

Chief O. V. Davenport said that he was not satisfied with yesterday's investigation and that he and several of his men would return again today.

Tom Wisdom, his wife and daughter, who live on the Dooley lease, told the chief and Deputy Sheriffs Poé and Neal yesterday that they plainly heard the protestations of a man and woman shortly before midnight Monday. The cries of both persons indicated that they were being mistreated, Chief Davenport said he was told. "I'd rather you kill me than do that."

Harry Howard of the Texas Pipe Line company is said to have told some acquaintance in Ranger that the cries of a man and woman were heard on Monday night.

A pumper, whose name was not learned by the officers, told the latter that he retired about 9 o'clock Monday night and did not hear the screams of the alleged victims. This pumper lives near the scene where the flogging is supposed to have taken place.

The supposed scene of the flogging is off the Pleasant Grove road and is lonely and secluded. Watermelon rinds are said to have been scattered about.

The only eye-witness to the string of automobiles said to have been parked on the road and to have contained the floggers, according to a statement made to Chief Davenport is Sam LeBeau, a Ranger barber. He was driving to the Wisdom house when he was advised by someone near the string of cars to turn back, according to the story told the chief. He said the men were masked.

If a man was actually flogged Monday night, authorities think he may not want it publicly known and will take his punishment with as good grace as possible. They point out that if he is conscious of his own misconduct, he would rather suffer his wounds in silence than reveal his own wrongdoing.

The Wichita Falls story telling of the victim of a mob on July 30 only telling of his mistreatment yesterday suggested that possibly the local victim may be laid up from the lashes and can not get out to tell the police of his condition. Ed Smithson, 19, was carried off on July 30, severely flogged, he said, and was only yesterday able to get to the police station to recite his story of mistreatment.

CHINESE CONTINUE SLAUGHTER OF BANDITS RECRUITED INTO ARMY

PEKIN, Aug. 8.—Four hundred additional recruits of the Chinese army that formerly were bandits such as those who stopped and robbed the Shanghai express and kidnapped the passengers, have been sentenced to death on charges of desertion.

The governor of a Manchurian province made a report of the execution of 1,150 rebellious soldiers recruited from the bandit gangs, the artillery having been turned on the barracks in which they were confined and leveled to the ground, not one escaping, and now 400 others are to be shot.

All of these bandits are understood to have surrendered to the military authorities on condition that they would be taken into the Chinese army.

PART OF TOURING CAR CLAIMED BY MAN WHO TELLS OF MARKINGS

Police are in possession of a Ford touring car, which E. K. Taylor, grocer on Eastland Hill, claims to have bought from a man by the name of "Gibson" and also which R. A. Winchell asserts "partly" belongs to him. Winchell, who recently had his car stolen, espied a car on Main street late yesterday afternoon that seemed to be his. He immediately identified the body and top, but the wheels, steering gear and engine number were different.

Taylor told police that he bought the car Monday for $225 and he exhibited a bill of sale.

When Winchell reported his loss, he told the police that three marks of identification would positively identify the car. The marks were three small tacks driven in under the rear seat, a bolt substituted for a piece of brass on the hood and a nail, which he used to replace a screw on the car.

YANK REFORM FEATURE OF THE BASEBALL YEAR

Influence of Ruth Said to Be Benefit to the Whole Team.

By HENRY L. FARRELL, United Press Sports Editor. NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—When the baseball season opened, the Giants and the Yanks were picked by practically all the experts to repeat as pennant winners.

The Giants were rated good almost to the point of a cinch for the National league pennant, while the Yanks were selected as just about good enough to win the American league honors.

It followed as a surprise when in mid-season the Yanks had taken unto themselves the role of a cinch and had galloped to a lead of 13 games, while the Giants were tossed into a fight for their lives with the Cincinnati Reds and the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The transformation of the Yanks from a rebellious, manager-bucking team of temperamental stars into a smooth working, morale filled organization was one of the most interesting features not only of the baseball season, but of the entire year.

It follows that there were reasons for the rather sudden and long delayed desire of the American league champions to develop harmony and get the best out of what has been for three years a very fine ball club.

There are many theories advanced as to these reasons. First quoted as the biggest factor in the improvement of the team is the reform of the great Babe Ruth. The swat king, although he is not within striking distance of new slugging marks, is, without doubt, the outstanding figure of baseball today.

FIRST CITY MANAGER MUCH IN DEMAND AND HIS SALARY ADVANCES

By Associated Press. LAWRENCE, Kan., Aug. 8.—When Charles Edward Ashburner, city manager of Norfolk, Va., assumes his new job as city manager of Stockton, Cal., Sept. 1, at a salary of $20,000 a year, he will continue to be the highest paid city manager in the United States, according to John G. Stutz of this city, executive secretary of the National City Manager's association. His salary at Norfolk is $16,000 a year.

"An interesting thing about Ashburner is that he not only is the highest paid city manager in the United States, but he was the pioneer in the profession—he was the first city manager," said Secretary Stutz. "When he accepted the job of manager of the city of Staunton, Va., in 1908, he received only a nominal salary. It was largely through the successful demonstration he gave there that other cities accepted the idea. When Ashburner was asked by the city of Stockton to fix his salary, he put the figure so high he did not imagine a city of but 50,000 population would accept. Although Norfolk, a city of 150,000, later met the rise in the effort to hold Ashburner, of course he could not annul Stockton's acceptance of his offer."

Ashburner went from Staunton to Springfield, Ohio, as city manager in 1914, and four years later to Norfolk.

More than 300 cities in the United States are operated under the city manager plan, according to Mr. Stutz.

AMERICANS WHO MARRY FOREIGN GIRLS IN EASTERN EUROPE FIND DIFFICULTIES IN CUPID'S WAY

MOSCOW, Aug. 8.—When the American congress passed the law annulling the previous rule that a foreign woman automatically became an American citizen by marrying an American, it put Herculean difficulties in the path of Dan Cupid in the document cursed countries of Eastern Europe most frequented by a certain type of young American men at an age when they are very susceptible to pretty foreign girls and matrimony.

The American Relief administration the Near East relief, the Y. M. C. A. and other organizations which since the war have conducted relief operations in Poland, Austria, Greece, Russia, the Balkans, and the Baltic states, sent hundreds of young Americans, mostly former army officers, into cities noted for their charming girls.

Before the law became effective last September, marriages of Americans to these girls was relatively easy, although even then it involved digging into records for documents, more documents, and still more documents. Once this was accomplished, however, all the young American had to do was to go to the nearest American consulate, have his wife's photograph pasted on his passport, and, if he was ready, could take her home an automatic American citizeness and show her proudly to his folks.

But today things are different. A few weeks ago one young member of the Near East Relief mission in Armenia got a brief vacation and law and Russian difficulties in the way of Poles entering, required them to have one, and this was American. Finally the young man prevailed upon the Polish authorities to give his wife a Polish passport, and upon an American consular official to give him a letter stating the couple had been legally married, although the bride was not an American citizen. The worried bridegroom pasted his wife's picture on the letter, attached the letter to his own passport and finally got through.

SIX TEXAS OIL OPERATORS INDICTED IN CALIFORNIA

By Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 7.—The federal grand jury which indicted 10 oil operators yesterday, six of Texas and four of Los Angeles, and one Los Angeles corporation on charges of using the mails to defraud, has adjourned subject to call and is not expected to meet until Sept. 15.

Six of the men indicted are charged with having falsely represented certain lands in Zapata and Webb counties as valuable oil lands easily worth $10,000 to $20,000 an acre while the government declares it worthless from every viewpoint.

TERRELL.—The old system of road overseers and working on roads by citizens is to be reinstated in Kaufman county, according to county officials. The custom has not been used in recent years.

DALLAS.—Thirty new modern street cars have been ordered by the Dallas Railway company and will be delivered next January. The cars are of the latest type, it is said, and can be used as pay-as-you-enter or as-you-leave.

LUFKIN.—A rural life conference will be staged here Aug. 20 to 24, under direction of Miss Gertrude Blodgett, district demonstration agent. The conference here will be for the entire East Texas section. Lecture courses and round table talks will cover every phase of rural economic life, it is said. Similar conferences will be held at Georgetown, Corpus Christi, Greenville and Thorp Springs.

AGE OF OIL, DEVELOPING SLOWLY, SEEMS ALMOST SUDDENLY TO HAVE TAKEN ON GREAT PROPORTIONS

The Age of Oil, measured in terms of ordinary life, has come suddenly. Men are now living who were actors in the drama staged in Northern Pennsylvania when petroleum in commercial quantity was first being developed in this country. They have seen in their life time the entire development of the modern petroleum industry.

Yet known occurrences of petroleum goes back to the earliest historical times. Crudely produced and utilized oil dates from the days of the ancients.

In Days of Ancients. An oil substance was probably used as mortar in building the Tower of Babel and the Walls of Babylon. Nehemiah poured the "thick water" on the altar and "there was a great fire kindled."

Alexander the Great saw "a gulf of fire, which streamed from an inexhaustible source." Chinese ancients derived in a crude way heat and light from petroleum deposits and seepages.

Ancient Egyptians used petroleum for embalming and medicinal purposes. The Incas of Peru, and the Aztecs of Mexico employed oil in their architecture and works of art.

Previous to the Saracenic conquest A. D. 636, fire worshippers made annual pilgrimages to Baku, on the Black Sea, where there were burning oil springs. Marco Polo tells of the great oil springs toward Georgi- (Baku).

Primitive oil works exist in Galicia and Roumania. The Alsatian peasantry skimmed off the water and used oil as lubricant in lamps at the beginning of the sixteenth century.

Crude oil was long used by the American Indian. Ancient oil pit heaps, sometimes supporting trees of the growth of centuries have been found in the vicinity of Oil Creek, Pa. The visit of a Franciscan to the oil springs in what is now New York state is described in a letter dated 1629.

Birth of Oil Industry.

It was not until the nineteenth century, however, that real progress was made in the distillation of oil and that commercial development of petroleum began. The modern oil industry had its very small beginning in 1859. Until 1906, or even later, the industry existed through its ability to supply kerosene. Gasoline was virtually a waste product. Now it is the principal one, 6,202,234,613 gallons of it having been manufactured in 1922.

Had 3,500,000 automobiles—the estimated number which will be made in the United States in 1923—been in existence in the United States in the year 1906, they could not have operated, because the oil refinery industry could not have produced the necessary gasoline to run them; and even had the gasoline been produced, the facilities at that time for storage, transportation and distribution would have completely broken down.

The growth of the automobile and of the uses of petroleum in so many other ways has meant a complete revolution of the effective service which the petroleum industry performs, the production of undreamed quantities of crude oil and the investment in plants, equipment and facilities of billions of dollars essential for the performance of that service.

Increase Rapid. In a decade and a half the annual production of crude oil has increased in quantity from approximately 12

Boils

THERE is a reason for everything that happens. Common-sense kills misery. Common-sense also stops boils! S. S. S. is the common-sense remedy for boils, because it is built on reason. Scientific authorities admit its power! S. S. S. builds blood-power, it builds red blood-cells. That is what makes fighting-blood. Fighting-blood destroys impurities. It fights boils. It fights pimples! It fights skin eruptions! It always wins! Mr. V. D. Schaff, 557 15th street, Washington, D. C., writes: "I tried for years to get relief from a bad case of boils. Everything failed until I took S. S. S. I am now absolutely cured, and it was S. S. S. that did it."

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Concerning Floggings; New Uses for Ear Rings; a Cool Evening; Dick Phillips' New Discovery.

By P. G. T.

The air of mystery still hangs over Ranger.

Who was whipped? If so, what for? Why don't he let the world know that he is licked?

Some one near the scene of the supposed whipping post heard a man scream, "Don't do that to me, I'd rather have you kill me?" Then a man's horse neighs, there are gasps of pain and a woman's shrill scream of terror. Not one, but again and again.

This can be nothing but a horrible dream of the person who is said to have heard. We are in a civilized country; its people are civilized. THEY HAVE STUDIED CIVIL GOVERNMENT IN THE NATION'S SCHOOLS AND KNOW THAT JUSTICE IS METED OUT BY LAW and the officials are average righteous men who have a solemn duty to perform.

This thing might happen in Mexico or in China or in the wildest portions of Africa or South America. Even in those countries private differences are wiped out with a bullet.

Whippings hark back to the days of pirates, slave ships, slave drivers, when women sometimes were called witches and supposed to be possessed of the devil; when the minor population of the world ruled the masses with fear; when the masses had no voice in their government and were ignorantly submissive to all indignities that the evil minds of cowardly royalty could conceive.

Can such a condition exist in these United States?

We went to one of these parties the other night where you don't know who your dancing partner is going to be until you get there.

Our gal turned out to be a classy looker but she met us with a cold stare. Every time we'd try to pull a funny crack she'd give us the cold shoulder. In fact she had a very frigid personality. Before we left we felt the need of an overcoat and a set of ear muffs. This is one of the coolest evenings we have spent since the hot weather hit Ranger, therefore, it was quite pleasant.

A paragraph in the Dearborn Independent states that, "It is White House etiquette for the president to be served first at dinner."

Henry Ford don't know whether he wants the presidency or not, but this looks as though he did. He's getting acquainted with the job even to the details of the table manners used in the White House.

Dick Phillips, whose dad runs the Texas Drug, scratches matches on his teeth. We have often wondered what we would do if we were out on the dessert some place where there was no place to scratch a match. If there were no rocks, if our finger nails were too short, pants too slick, and we were bare footed, it would indeed be hard to get a light for a cigarette, but Dick's marvelous brain and teeth have found the answer to this problem.

FELT TIRED, SO TIRED

Indiana Lady Says She Was Run-Down, Suffered With Her Back, Took Cardui, and Got Well.

Richmond, Ind.—"I thought I would write a line or so, to say that I owe my good health and strength to Cardui," says a letter from Mrs. Cora Courtney, 31 Railroad Street, this city.

"I was all run-down until my family thought they would lose me," writes Mrs. Courtney. "My husband coaxed me to take Cardui, so, to please him, I did, and will say I do not regret it, for I am able to do all my work and do my shopping."

"I have five children, four in school, my husband and a boarder to do for, and I do all my own work for all of us, and find time to play. We all praise Cardui. Every sick and run-down woman should take this wonderful medicine."

"I suffered with my back; a very weak feeling in my limbs."

"I felt hardly able to drag; just tired—so tired all the time."

"It was an effort for me to do anything, but Cardui helped me so I felt like a different woman."

If you are in a run-down physical condition, suffering as this Indiana lady says she did, give Cardui a fair trial. It should help you.
