RECORD FLOOD POURING DOWN THE RIO GRANDE

Southern Pacific Tracks Cut and Trains Detoured Through Ranger.

EAGLE PASS, Texas, June 19.—Over 3,000 persons are homeless and thousands of dollars of property damage is the toll of the flood sweeping down the Rio Grande here today. The stream is still rising. Cloudbursts Saturday along the mountain streams of Mexico and tributaries in the southwest Texas border country are bringing additional waters into the river and heavy loss of life is feared.

At Rio Grande City the river is reported to be three miles wide and at Langtry, the fifty-five-foot stage has been reached. Thousands of inhabitants of Piedras Negras, across the border from Eagle Pass, and at other border towns, are preparing to flee to the hills to escape the flood.

The Southern Pacific railroad bridge and the footbridge across the river here have both been swept away. The Southern Pacific tracks on the main line around Del Rio and Langtry are under ten to fifteen feet of water. Passenger trains bound from California to the East were forced to detour over 700 miles.

Citizens were patrolling buildings near the waters' edge here today to keep people out, lest the buildings collapse. The previous high record flood was in 1919, when the river reached a stage of forty feet.

SITUATION IS SERIOUS IN BROWNSVILLE DISTRICT

BROWNSVILLE, June 19.—The Rio Grande, flooded by last week's rains in West Texas and in the vicinity of Monterey, Mexico, today is measuring strength with the levees protecting the irrigation districts in the lower region, while reports of conditions at Laredo are meager.

PIEDRAS NEGRAS FLOODED.

SAN ANTONIO, June 19.—Water, light and telephone systems at Piedras Negras, across the Rio Grande from Eagle Pass, were put out of commission Sunday night by flood waters, which also swept away the international bridge and the railroad bridge which connect the two towns. Military authorities at Eagle Pass expect to have a pontoon bridge completed in two days.

The fate of the 18,000 inhabitants of Piedras Negras is not known on this side of the border but there is not expected to be any loss of life.

STATE BANKS GROUPEE INTO NEW DISTRICTS

J. M. Dodson of the Ranger State bank and J. W. Thurman of the Peoples State bank, returned yesterday from Waco, where they had been attending the state bankers' convention. Mr. Dodson reports that the convention this year was a very successful and interesting one. Bankers from all over the state attended the convention.

In the work of organizing the state into districts, twenty-four new districts are to be organized, and Ranger thereby will be put into the Eastland district.

PENNSYLVANIA MINE OPENS WITH FULL CREW

PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 19.—The Crowe Coal & Mining company today reopened its mine No. 14 at Croweburg. Nearly forty men were put to work. Eighty men, according to the general manager of the company, applied for work but the company could not take care of them this morning. The mine will be fully manned tomorrow, it was said.

FATAL SHOOTING FOLLOWS VISIT TO DANCE HALL

HOUSTON, June 19.—A charge of murder has been placed against C. T. Goodson following the fatal shooting last night of George Buzzett, newspaper salesman. Goodson surrendered to the police after the shooting. It followed a quarrel early in the evening, when Goodson, his sister, and another couple looked in at a dance hall.

SHARK SLAYS GIRL SWIMMER; FLORIDA BATHERS IN TERROR

TAMPA, Fla., June 19.—Terror of a "tiger of the seas" kept bathers in Florida waters close to shore here today, following a tragedy yesterday when Dorothy McCatchie, champion girl swimmer, was bitten to death by a giant shovel-nose shark. Mary Buhner, 17-year-old companion of Miss McCatchie, will be recommended for a Carnegie medal for heroism in holding the dying girl in her arms and signaling for help from shore after the killer had made his attack. Two deep wounds in the leg proved fatal in a few minutes, the girl dying in her companion's arms.

The two girls, members of the state championship swimming team, were swimming in the ship channel in Tampa bay, off St. Petersburg, about half a mile from shore. Just as they reached the channel buoy Miss Buhner was horrified to see her companion drawn beneath the surface, as if by some invisible force.

A moment later, Miss McCatchie came to the surface, with the water about her rapidly staining with blood. "I've been bitten," she gasped. "My leg!" and she went down again. Miss Buhner, terrified, kicked vigorously with her feet to frighten off the attacking fish and seized and supported her companion, who was rapidly weakening, as a large artery had been severed by the shark's teeth.

STARVING CHILDREN FOUND BESIDE BODY OF BRUTALLY SLAIN MOTHER

HOUSTON, June 19.—Liberty county officers are investigating the death of Mrs. Jerry McShane, whose body was found Sunday at her home near Cleveland, Texas, with the skull crushed and apparently dead for several days. A pistol lying near the body had not been fired, but another pistol found in the yard had been discharged twice.

Beside the dead body were lying two children, one 3 years old and the other 7 months. They apparently had been without food since their mother's death and one is in a serious condition. No arrests have been made. One man also is in a dying condition as a result of a crime wave that has swept the little village of Cleveland during the last few days.

Steve Brown, 32, is in a dying condition at Cleveland as a result of an argument with a man said to be W. E. Brooks of Cleveland, at a church fair. Brooks surrendered to a deputy marshal at Cold Springs. Brown was attending church and was called outside by a man said to have been Brooks. After a fist fight, the man pulled a gun and shot Brown in the chest.

REFUSES TO HALT CAR; SHOT DEAD BY CITIZENS

HOUSTON, June 19.—Marshall Waters is dead and Zeke Rollins is seriously wounded as a result of the shooting by a party of Montgomery county citizens into an automobile in which the two men were driving, late Saturday night near Magnolia. The party, commanded by Constable Smith, had been stopping cars and searching for arms, ammunition and liquor, as there have been rumors lately that the negroes were arming and the citizens were attempting to apprehend bootleggers, who have been active recently. The car in which Waters and Rollins were riding failed to stop when ordered to do so and was fired on, it is stated.

Persons making up the party will go to Conroe today and make bond, it is stated, and will waive examining trial and let the grand jury take whatever action it believes proper.

TARIFF AND BONUS BILLS TO PASS BEFORE SENATE WILL ADJOURN

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Senate Republicans in conference today voted 30 to 9 against laying aside the tariff bill to consider the soldiers' bonus.

A resolution favoring final disposition of both the tariff and the bonus measures at this session and before any recess then was adopted, 27 to 11. The bonus would be made the unfinished business after the final vote on the tariff.

CANTON BOMBARDED BY SEN'S GUNBOATS

AMOY, China, June 19.—The president's residence in Canton has been taken by the troops of General Chiang Min. Dr. Sun Yat Sen is supposed to have escaped on board a gunboat. Canton City was bombarded Saturday afternoon by five gunboats under command of Sun Yat Sen. The residents deserted the city. There were only a few casualties.

The soldiers of the invaders did considerable looting, although there was no disturbance inside the foreign concession.

DIVE BREAKS YOUTH'S NECK

AUSTIN, June 19.—Diving from a swing into Deep Eddy pool, a local swimming resort, last night, Eddie Bergloff, 19, of Paige, Texas, broke his neck and was dead when taken from the water. Bergloff was a member of a swimming party of boys and girls.

CONCENTRATE NATION'S BOOZE, NEW PROHI PLAN

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Orders for the concentration in a few warehouses of the liquor now scattered in 304 warehouses throughout the country were issued today by Prohibition Commissioner Haynes.

Haynes' order was the first move to carry out legislation recently passed by congress to make the nation really bone dry. Other drastic regulations are expected to follow. Haynes acted under authority given by the treasury appropriation bills.

FIRE CAPTAIN IS HURT IN SAVING CHILDREN

DALLAS, June 19.—Andrew J. Welsh, fire department captain, is in a local hospital suffering from a broken leg and possible internal injuries as a result of letting a car fall on him rather than to hurt two small children. Welsh answered a call in Oak Lawn, where an automobile had been turned over in a collision. He and two companions lifted the car up and were about to set it right, when a couple of children got in the way. The captain, rather than hurt the children, let the car fall back and was pinned beneath. He will recover.

INK-MARKED BALLOTS HELD ILLEGAL IN OHIO

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 19.—Ballots in Ohio elections may be marked only with pencil and ink-marked ballots are illegal.

This was the ruling of the Ohio supreme court in an opinion by Justice R. M. Wannamaker and sustained by a majority of the court. The case arose out of a councilmanic election in Toledo.

Thomas C. Devine and William H. Tucker Jr. were tied after an ink-marked ballot was thrown out. Tucker filed a petition in mandamus to have it counted and won in appellate court.

The purpose of the law for pencil marking is said by election authorities to be to prevent identification of ballots and thereby to prevent corruption and connivance at elections.

Atwood on Trial Today

AMBASSADOR'S SON-IN-LAW HELD AS GUN RUNNER

George Harvey's Relative Tried to Ship Machine Guns to Ireland, Is Charge.

TRENTON, N. J., June 19.—Charged with conspiracy to ship guns to Ireland, Colonel Marcellus H. Thompson, son-in-law of George Harvey, ambassador to Great Britain, has been indicted by the federal grand jury. Seven other men were indicted at the same time. The indictments were returned several months ago by the grand jury, which was in session from January to April and charged conspiracy to violate the neutrality laws by shipping machine guns for use of the Sinn Fein. They were kept secret while officers tried to locate several of the men.

ROPE STRANGLES FARMER WHEN HE FALLS IN CREEK

FORT WORTH, June 19.—A. W. Waldamore, 70, was strangled to death Saturday five miles northeast of Handley when he fell into a creek and a rope he was carrying was drawn taut around his neck. He had gone to the creek bottom to gather wood. He had fastened a number of faggots with a rope, thrown the bundle over his back and started to his farmhouse. Apparently he slipped into the creek bed, one end of the rope caught on the overhanging bushes and the other end became drawn around his neck.

When he did not return for lunch, his wife became alarmed and started in search of him. When she found the body, life was extinct.

SOULMATE FOR PASTOR

XENIA, Ohio, June 19.—A warrant for his arrest on a desertion charge was on file today against Rev. W. W. Culp, 35, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at Spring Valley, near here, who early Wednesday eloped with Miss Esther Hughes, an 18-year-old music teacher, who was boarding at his home.

Mrs. Culp with their nine children, the youngest of whom are six months old, twins, signed the warrant. Mrs. Culp told authorities that her husband's parting words to her before the minister and Miss Hughes left together were: "I think I like her better than I do you, and I think I am doing the right thing by leaving you and going with her."

In a letter to the district superintendent, Rev. Mr. Culp told church officials not to look for him and that "I will be of no use to you in any way whatsoever and will not add to yours and my misery." He complained of hardships among them being "united to a woman for a wife who is very ignorant and very incapable of being a pastor's wife."

TRAVIS COUNTY BALLOTS RETAIN OLD VOTERS' TEST

AUSTIN, June 19.—The Travis county Democratic executive committee decided today to print the statutory test for voters on the ballots for the July primary, instead of the test recently decided on by the state convention.

MORE BONDS! ST. LOUIS, June 19.—Citizens of St. Louis in the near future are expected to vote on bond issues totaling $74,300,000 for civic improvements as recommended by the General Council on Civic Needs.

In the report of the council, which is a recognized civic body empowered to suggest to the board of aldermen improvements deemed necessary by the city, $5,000,000 is included for memorial purposes for war veterans and $20,000,000 for completion of a sewerage and sanitation program, and $12,000,000 for the erection of an additional water works.

Subpoena Waits to Block Times Reporter From Courtroom; Jury Quickly Selected; Cole Tells of Raid.

EASTLAND, June 19.—For some unknown reason, the case of Harry Atwood instead of that of Cleve Barnes was brought to trial today. Numerous witnesses were on hand as court opened. As William Eaves, Times reporter, who had been summoned to appear Wednesday as a "witness," stepped into the courtroom, he was served with a subpoena for today by Deputy Sheriff John Barnes. This subpoena, it was found on investigation, had been made out Saturday afternoon, but was not served at the time practically the entire Times force was subpoenaed for Wednesday's trial.

Eaves' names was not called in the list of witnesses, to be called up and placed under the rule. He informed Senator Jos. Burket, of Atwood's counsel, giving his name but saying nothing of its connection with the Times, of his fact, and was informed that he need not be sworn and could have the freedom of the courtroom. Later, he entered the courtroom as H. S. Cole was on the stand, and Burket insisted that he be sworn as witness and placed under the rule, thus barring him from the trial.

Jury Chosen Early. The jury was completed, with little trouble, about 11:15 o'clock. One man, Mr. Yardley of Ranger was disqualified by the defense on the ground that he said he would make the defendants prove their innocence before they were turned loose.

The question as to what newspaper the prospective jurors read played an important part in their part in their examination. Of the eighty-six men on the jury panel, only thirty appeared and seven of these were excused for cause. Judge Davenport ordered all others fined $25 and warrants issued for them.

At the beginning of the trial, Burket moved that the indictment be quashed on the ground that it read "possession of liquor for the purpose of sale," contending that sale for medicinal, sacramental or mechanical purposes was legal. This was overruled and he then moved that the jury panel be quashed on the ground that it had been summoned later than the law allows. This motion was overruled and exceptions taken to both rulings.

H. S. Cole, of the citizens' committee, was the first witness for the prosecution. He testified that on Wednesday preceding Sunday, May 21, when the raids were made, a committee had called Harry Atwood before it and told him that the selling of liquor must be stopped. Atwood refused. Cole said that he had never before been asked by a responsible citizen to cease selling liquor and now he would stop. On Sunday, Cole continued, he and a number of other citizens, with Assistant Chief of Police Gene Reynolds, raided Harry Atwood's place.

Not Atwood's. The defense objected that it had not been shown it was Harry Atwood's place.

Cole then amended his statement, saying the committee had raided the place known as the Elite rooms and the Hub, and that Atwood had told him Wednesday it was his place. At 3 p. m. Sunday, it was testified, the raiders found hidden under the floor of the garage immediately in the rear of the Hub, thirteen quarts of corn liquor.

The defense objected that it was not proven that Atwood owned the garage.

Mr. Cole then testified that it was on the same lot as the Hub and in the same enclosure, and one side of the garage was within a few inches of the Hub building and that a concrete walk connected the doors of the garage and the Hub.

This testimony was intended to establish that the two buildings were the same property.

In addition to the liquor, several casks and empty bottles smelling of liquor were found, he said.

Again quoting Atwood, Cole said that two hours later, at the office of Justice of the Peace McPater, Atwood told him, "Well, you found it. I didn't know it was there. I thought it had all been taken away."

Senator Burket then asked the witness how he knew the liquor was intoxicating.

"I smelled it," Cole replied.

Offered Sample. Further questioning brought the answer that the attorney might inspect the sample which had been retained.

Cole's direct examination was ended at about the time of the noon recess, and he was to be cross-examined as court reconvened at 2 o'clock.

It is expected that the trial will last all day tomorrow, although it is not known how many of its numerous witnesses will be introduced tomorrow. The list of witnesses called by the defense follows:

Defense Witnesses. W. B. Palmer, S. B. Tunnell, E. O. McNew and wife, Ben Owens, Pearl Long, Charles Bobo and wife, P. P. Palmer, V. V. Cooper and wife, George A. Gray, O. D. Dillingham and wife, William Denning, M. K. Colie and wife, E. H. Finney, S. A. Landers and wife, H. S. Cole and wife, Roy Jameson, Aubrey Jameson and father, J. M. White, Messrs. Dreby, Chaney and Stovall, Karl Jones and wife, Gifford Clegg, Mrs. H. E. Clewell and daughter, Wade Swift, and Miss Gene Chubbick.

Additional witnesses for the defense, summoned but not present, were: Rev. J. G. Winsett, wife and daughter, Mrs. Gifford Clegg, Mrs. J. M. White, Mrs. Pearl Long.

Witnesses for the state are: H. S. Cole, Roy Jameson, E. D. Finney and O. D. Dillingham. Others also may be called.

W. J. Cunningham, district attorney of Taylor county and candidate for congress, is assisting County Attorney Overton in the prosecution.

SMALL DEFENSE WILL PRESENT NO WITNESSES

WAUKEGAN, Ill., June 19.—The prosecution today completed its case against Governor Len Small on charges of conspiracy to defraud the state of large sums of money. Attorneys for the governor announced that outside of presenting a few documents in evidence, they would offer no defense. No witnesses will be placed on the stand to testify for the governor; they announce. The defense is expected to ask Judge Edwards to take the case from the hands of the jury.

BAY RUM IS SAVED FROM DESTRUCTION

WASHINGTON, June 19.—The barber shop bay rum bottle has been saved from destruction. It took an opinion from the department of justice to salvage it.

The bay rum supply for practically the whole world was in jeopardy because it was running counter to the American prohibition law. The chief source of supply is the Virgin Islands, under the control of this government.

The bay rum manufacturers were compounding their product with no dilution of the rum other than a small percentage of bay oil. The prohibition bureau sought to compel the addition of other substances to remove any possibility of the rum being used as a beverage. The manufacturers objected, claiming too great an addition of other substances would militate against the efficacy of their product and destroy their export trade to Europe and other countries.

The question was passed to Revenue Commissioner Blair who put it up to Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, who passed it on to the department of justice. The department has given an opinion that new regulations prescribed by Commissioner Blair allowing manufacture under permits that not more than 58 per cent alcohol and not less than 1.1 per cent pure bay oil will not be in violation of the prohibition law.

AMERICAN MURDERED SATURDAY AT TAMPICO

WASHINGTON, June 19.—The American embassy at Mexico City and the consulate at Tampico were instructed today by the state department to request federal and local Mexican officials to make every effort to apprehend the murderers of Warren D. Harvey, an American citizen, killed June 17, five miles from Tampico.

In reporting the case, the consul at Tampico merely said that Harvey was a paymaster for an unnamed oil company and had been killed by bandits.

SAM ELDER DIES IN BATTLE WITH STILL RAIDERS

Attacked Officer With Pick When Arrested; Gun Battle Follows.

CADDO, June 19.—Surprised yesterday afternoon while operating a still near Wiles, Sam Elder, a tool dresser, was shot dead by Deputy Sheriff J. H. Smith of Caddo, who with Justice of the Peace T. B. Satterwhite led a raiding party of Caddo and Strawn officers to the still, the location of which had been given them. The shooting occurred about 3 o'clock.

Smith was in advance of the other officers as the party crawled up on the still, located in the dense thicket of a draw, half a mile north of Wiles. He surprised Elder at work, with the command, "Throw up your hands. You're under arrest." Instead of complying, the officer states, Elder reached down and grabbed a pick. As he did so, another man hidden in the brush about 100 feet away, by Caddo firing at the officer, and Elder rushed forward with the pick. As he advanced, Smith fired one shot, which struck Elder in the upper abdomen, causing almost instant death.

The officers then turned their weapons on their invisible foe, who escaped in the thicket after a battle in which numerous shots were fired. The man was not seen by the officers and remains unidentified.

The still of fifty-gallon capacity, was seized and about 600 gallons of mash poured out.

An inquest over Elder's body was held on the spot, and Justice Satterwhite rendered a verdict that Elder came to his death while resisting arrest. Smith admitted the shooting, but it is not probable that any charges will be filed.

Elder's body was taken to an undertaking establishment at Strawn.

Elder has been in the Ranger territory for about two years, working for various oil companies, and at the time of his death was a tool dresser, doing extra work near Wiles. He is said to be about 25 years old, six feet tall, of dark complexion. He is believed to have relatives in Oklahoma, but their address is unknown.

RAIL AND MINE CHIEFS PLANNING JOINT STRIKE

CINCINNATI, June 19.—A definite program of co-operation during strikes by the railroad unions and mine workers will be formulated at a conference here today between Bert M. Jewell, representing the rail workers, and John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers.

The program agreed on will be submitted to a joint conference of railroad union leaders and miners' executives tomorrow night. Success of the proposed joint action demands that a specific plan be adopted by the conference, it was said.

Lewis and Jewell said today they had agreed to say nothing in advance of the conference as to the details of the plan worked out by them.

FATHER AND SON SHOT; RELATIVE IS IN JAIL

CORSICANA, Texas, June 19.—As a result of a shooting affray which occurred about twelve miles southeast of here Saturday night, Ben Roberts, 50, years old, and his son, 26 years old, are in a local hospital, and Tom Stewart, 43, a brother-in-law of Roberts, is in the county jail charged with the shooting. The shooting is the culmination of trouble of several years' standing.

"STOP, LOOK AND LIVE!"

The American Railway association seeks to do its part toward checking grade-crossing tragedies. It proposes a new slogan: "Cross Crossings Cautiously!" and paraphrases "Stop, Look and Listen!" to read: "Stop, Look and Live!"

This effort is commendable, but when did the reckless driver, or the man in a hurry, or the man who always will take a chance ever heed slogans, alliterative or otherwise? The careless by habit must pay the penalty for their infirmity. The reckless and the speed-mad must compensate the infernal fiddler who sets the pace and provides the merry rhythm whose inevitable conclusion is the wail of the miserere.

But railroad associations, automobile clubs, the press and individuals must go forward with their campaigns designed to make motoring safe.

Nearly all automobile accidents belong in the preventable class. Too few drivers understand the mechanism and potentialities of the machinery they drive. Many of them are totally lacking in the ability to coordinate hand and brain in time of crisis. These should not be permitted to drive at all. The most prudent and careful driver in the world is in constant danger from these, and from the reckless and careless operators of machines.

Any driver who meets death at a railway crossing, after all that has been done in the effort to educate him to the danger which always abides there, scarcely is to be pitied when he finds the Master of the hourglass and scythe awaiting him.

Clubs all over the country are declaring war on speeding. They are doing great work in publishing advice, instruction, warnings. The courts are doing what they can by making punishment of offenders more severe. The press daily prints the list of those who have died victims to their own or another's folly. But the grisly business proceeds. If men and women love the earth and its comforts and beauties—drivers, riders and pedestrians—they will "stop, look and live," or, failing to do that, they must pay Charon's fee for a gloomy ride over the silent Styx.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

In view of some professional politicians the greatest political scandal of recent times came to light when Senator Pepper filed his expense account. He took in more money for his campaign fund than he spent.—Detroit Free Press.

And why shouldn't Democrats look forward to 1924? They couldn't very well get any enjoyment in looking backward to 1920.—Knoxville Journal and Tribune.

Loneliness Plea Wins Acquittal For Stolen Kiss

DALLAS, June 19.—"I saw the fellow on the screen kiss his girl, and I just edged along the seat to get a kiss myself."

This was the plea a 17-year-old Dallas girl advanced to Police Judge Robertson when she and her fiancé were arraigned on a charge of indecent conduct Saturday.

A policeman took the stand and swore that he had seen the young couple hug and kiss in a picture show. "I was just in a rage," the girl said. "I live in a big boarding house and have no place to meet the man I am in love with. I met him in a theatre and I kissed him—that's all there is to it. We plan to be married soon."

AUTO JOLT CURES KNEE INJURED IN BALL GAME

TEMPLE, Texas, June 19.—While a baseball game between the Santa Fe shophen and the Modern Woodmen teams of the City league was being played, Schewe of the Woodmen suffered a dislocated knee. En route to the city in quest of a physician's services, the car in which he was riding passed over a rough place in the road, causing a severe jolt. His knee snapped back in place and Schewe caught the car to turn back and he re-entered the game, giving a good account of himself. His sacrifice was in vain, as the shophen trimmed his teammates, 11 to 0.

TEXAS WOMAN SEEKS NATIONAL CLUB OFFICE

CHAUTAQUA, N. Y., June 19.—Several thousand women, representing every state in the union, have gathered here for the biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, which opens tomorrow and will continue for ten days. The convention will convene Tuesday morning and be formally opened Wednesday evening with Mrs. Thomas G. Winter of Minneapolis, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, delivering the welcoming address. Mrs. Percy V. Penningbacker, president of the Chautauqua Women's club and hostess to the convention, also will speak.

The program embraces a wide variety of subjects for discussion. These include international relations, public revenues and expenditures, American citizenship, the problem of the ex-service man, child welfare, motion pictures, the elimination of illiteracy, public health, education, art, literature, music and science.

DOG HILL PARAGRAPHS

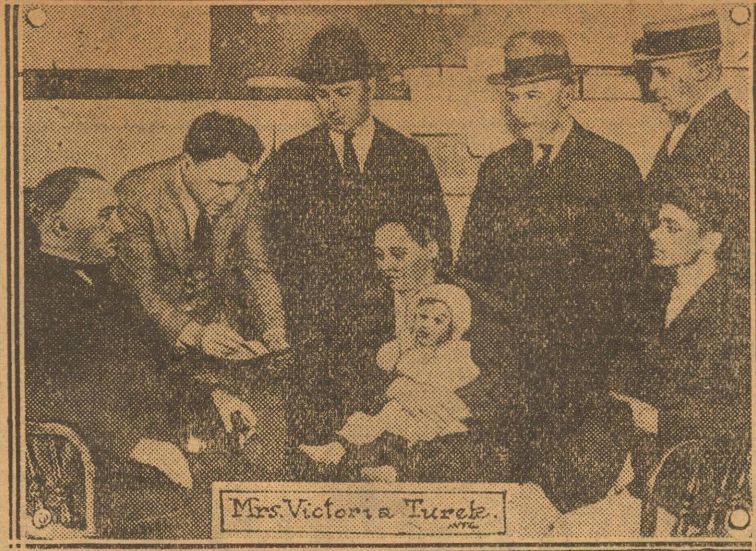

Salem Barlow was aiming to go over into the Calf Ribs neighborhood yesterday afternoon, but sat down by the road to watch a terrapin pass and did not get through in time. He says he always did wonder where a terrapin had started.

Fletcher Henstep says just about the time he got used to carrying an umbrella, it stopped raining.

Raz Barlow lacks only six more pages of having his love-letter completed.

CONFESSES THAT SHE HANGED HUSBAND

Mrs. Victoria Turek, 39, confessed to Chicago police that she and Leopold Mikrut, a former roomer in her home, lay in wait in the cellar for her husband, knocked him unconscious and then hanged him. Mikrut then went home, and Mrs. Turek went to sleep. In the morning one of her three children found the body, and the case was reported as suicide. She is shown making her confession.

ANOTHER BIBLE CRITIC!

Governor Tells Students Delilah Didn't Bob Samson's Locks; Sees Hope for World in Death Rate.

By Associated Press.

EVANSTON, Ill., June 19.—Unless Americans learn the way of life in human justice," they will die nationally, as miserably as the nations that have gone before, Chase S. Osborne, former governor of Michigan said in a commencement address today at Northwestern university. "It shall be a part of your sublime task," he said, "to blaze a new trail of life and lead the march."

"Delilah did not sap the Titan's power by cutting off his hair. She danced cheek to cheek with him in a sensuous wriggle. At least the modern Samsons are undone in that way. The hair story is allegorical and true."

We're Predatory. "The white race is predatory and epiphytic. When it is not preying upon and being supported by the blacks and browns and yellows, it slashes its own vitals in unwritten social harikari for the chance to gorge itself in economic cannibalism. During the last 100 years the white race composing the recent allied powers seized three-fourths of the area of the earth and placed two-thirds of the population in tributary slavery."

"The Genoa conference, the meeting at Washington, the council of Versailles are as those of yesterday; met in distrust and not in contrition; for safety first; not for right, and justice and humanity first. Just Social Certificate. "There has been created a distinct college caste. Young people are afraid to say they have attended a university. Too often a diploma is a social certificate rather than an indication of equipment to lead in life. The masses have a mortgage upon the life of every university graduate. The only way it can be discharged is by paying to the people morally, ethically, philanthropically and physically."

"The strong of the world are accursed because they have wasted themselves physically and morally by the exploitation of the ignorant and weak. We must get on to our knees and promise to do so no more and keep on praying and praying. Then if we shall do penance and practice humanity, justice and honesty, we shall be forgiven and shall flourish and be happy. "No people can strike or abuse or absorb or ride or rob others without suffering loss of vitality in all of its manifestations. There is never injustice without retribution. "Up to the present every strong nation in history has been a curse to the world. It is for America to elect now as to whether it shall be a curse or a hope and a help. "The only wars of the future should be waged against pathogenic germs in both the animals and vegetable kingdoms. Report Is Exaggerated. "There never was a dark age except to provincials. When Greece perished and Rome snuffed out, India and China were enjoying an effulgent golden age. The joys of tomorrow exist in the fact that the earth is almost as raw as when creation rolled the curtain of the stars. It will be your super-happiness to make things a little better and inaugurate a trend toward perfection. "The earth's people are completely swept away and a new population born every thirty-seven years upon the average. It is the hope of mankind. For this reason America may some day cease to be a tooth-pick chewing nation. "All the old rules of success, if success is ever success, are as good today as ever and needed much more. Early to bed and early to rise is too often parodied to read paint your cheeks and dab your eyes. "All the old superstitions are based on carelessness and exist to stimulate care. To break a looking glass really means bad luck for seven years because it will take that long to overcome the lack of care that broke the thing. The same with spilling salt or walking under a ladder."

BOOTLEGGERS FORM ARMY TO DEFY DRY LAW

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Federal Prohibition Commissioner Haynes is informed by Director Rutter of California that his agents have just unearthed what appears to be a nationwide plot against enforcement of the eighteenth amendment.

An organization, according to his information, employs legal counsel, detectives and has monthly dues running from $10 to $50 a month, based on the amount of business done by the members. Identity of the attorney, the acting or directing head and names of several of the detectives of the local association in Sacramento has been learned by the federal agents.

This anti-prohibition organization refers to its detectives as "makers." It is their duty to learn the identity of the federal agents as well as their plan of activity, which they acquire by attending hearings on liquor charges. They act as lookouts where bootlegging is going on and give the alarm when officers approach. When a raid is made at one place, all other places in the vicinity are warned by them.

Rutter advises the commissioner that he has found it necessary on account of the activities of this outlaw association, to rearrange his entire office so the field agents may not be spied upon. At Oakland, alleged "makers" were arrested, charged with vagrancy and ordered out of town by the police judge.

CALIFORNIA KLANSMEN MAKING HIM THE GOAT, GRAND GOBLIN'S WAIL

EL PASO, June 19.—Although reluctant to talk, William S. Coburn, grand goblin of the Pacific domain and supreme attorney for the Ku Klux Klan, made the statement before leaving this morning for Los Angeles that he had been "double-crossed" by fellow members of the clan and that the leader of the Ingewood raid of April 22 was trying to "pass the buck" to him.

Mr. Coburn explained that it was not the authorities in Los Angeles from whom he wanted to conceal his movements.

"While I have been indicted with the rest, I had nothing to do with the Ingewood raid, said Grand Goblin Coburn.

"I am being double-crossed from the inside. The fellow who led the raid is trying to squirm out of it before the law and is trying to pass the buck to me."

"You see, they have the fellow indicted who did lead the raid and he thinks that if he can keep me out of Los Angeles it will make it look bad for me and the authorities will naturally think I am guilty," said Mr. Coburn.

Mr. Coburn said that when he was here before on his way to Los Angeles he received telegrams urging him to return to Atlanta, but that he had since found out that it was the leader of the Ingewood raid who sent the messages and that his purpose was to keep Coburn out of Los Angeles as long as possible.

VERA CRUZ RADICALS WOULD SECEDE FROM MEXICO

MEXICO CITY, June 19.—A proposal that the state of Vera Cruz secede from the republic of Mexico has been made in the legislature of that state by certain radical groups which claim that they are not adequately or justly represented in the national congress.

A resolution demanding secession has been presented to the legislature, demanding that in the forthcoming elections a number of radicals be permitted to stand for the national chamber of deputies despite a federal ruling that they are ineligible because of a number of technical reasons. It is not believed that the resolution will pass.

DON'T WORRY ABOUT EMPLOYMENT IN FUTURE

The Publishers' Typesetting School at Macon, Ga., can solve the problem for you. Write for information.

To be sure of a chance to earn a living should be your chief consideration. Without it, your wife will be a failure. To have a trade or profession is absolutely essential unless you are to live from hand-to-mouth—unless you are to be uncertain at times whether you can get the necessities for existence.

The course of study in the typesetting school at Macon, Ga., is getting remarkable results. The diploma is accepted in the trades as the equivalent of an apprenticeship. The publishers of this paper will gladly advise with you if you want to go into the work. Write TYPESETTING DEPARTMENT, GEORGIA-ALABAMA BUSINESS COLLEGE, MACON, GA.—Advertisement.

POLICE SEEKING STRANGE WOMAN IN DUNE MURDER

CHICAGO, June 19.—What may be a working clue in the murder of an unidentified man, found with crushed skull and partially cremated in the sand dunes, was given today by a taxicab driver, who was approached by a woman alighting from an evening train on the day of the murder.

The woman asked the cabman to drive her to the beach with all haste. Arriving there, she leaped out, apparently in a state of great excitement. The cab driver shouted for her to pay the fare, but she told him to wait as she was coming back in a few minutes. In about three-quarters of an hour she came running back, hysterical, deathly pale and fell into the cab. The driver took her back to the station and she caught a train for Chicago.

The stranger was fashionably dressed, apparently a woman of wealth and refinement, and of striking beauty. The authorities believe she may have witnessed the killing of the stranger by appointment, or that she was to meet him, and failed.

The partially cremated body of the dead man bears a remarkable resemblance to "Terrible Tommy" O'Connor, who walked out of jail in Chicago two days before he was to be hanged for murder. It has the same bulging forehead, the protruding temples and the small ears, standing out straight from the head. It is the body of a man about O'Connor's age.

HOBO LEXICON SHOWS VARIOUS TRAMP CLANS

Five Classes — "Loiterers," "Ramblers," "Moochers," "Vags," "Winged Bums."

CHICAGO, June 19.—Your five-foot shelf is incomplete unless you have the newest or dictionaries on it. No, it's not the lexicon of flapper talk. That's had time to get dusty since its publication.

Here's the latest book you must acquire, if you would have a complete cultural equipment.

"The Classification of Tramps" ought to be off the press any day now, according to James Moore, its author, who has just passed through here.

Moore, known as the "Daredevil Hobo," said he spent ten years in his compilation of the work, which is to be a complete study of the various kinds of tramps.

"For instance," he said, in praising its everyday value to the man of literary finish, "some friend, speaking in that delightful dialect known as the 'Amurrican' language, says to you: 'Y' big bum, you.' Correct him. Ask him to be more specific.

"Ask him if he thinks you're a gay cat, a 'jungle buzzard' or a 'bundle stiff.' Whether he classified you as a 'fox,' a 'wolf,' a 'dangler,' a 'wingle' or a 'plinger.'

Webster of Hobo World. "In short refer him to the Noah Webster of the hobo world. That's me," said Moore.

The Daredevil Hobo, as he is best known among conferees, has spent one day out of every thirty in prison for the last ten years. He has been wrecked on land and sea. He has been shot at. To prove it, he shows where part of his ear is missing.

Last year he covered more than 19,000 miles in the United States, always working—at the classification of his brethren.

Now that he is finished with the United States, he intends to enlarge his forthcoming work and take in the whole world.

Moore has several explanations for the root of the term "hobo."

"Homo bonum," he said, with absolute disregard for gender, "Good Man, that's simple, isn't it?"

If that fails to satisfy the high-brow, the super-hobo has a historical derivation of his own kind.

"After the Civil war, fellows like us travelled about the country looking for work. They carried hoes and got to be called 'hoe boys.'"

Naturally, he says, the term was shortened to "hobo."

Simple, isn't it?

Moore has classified tramps into five kinds.

In class one, he says, that is, tramps of society or those who have some graft or excuse, are the idle rich or "loiterers." They stay at home and do no work, but may "earn a living by tricks, gambling and stealing legally from the poor." There are the "street fakers" who work some selling game, and the "professional beggars."

Class two consists of "tramps of vagabondism," who roam the country without funds and do not work unless forced to. Here is where the distinctions come in that make his dictionary absolutely necessary, he says.

Many Classes of Bums.

"Bundle stiffs are those who carry their blankets and cooking utensils on their backs.

"Gay cats are the scouts for the yegg-tramps.

"Jungle buzzards are the tramps who spend their time cooking and washing in the thickets along the railroad tracks."

Real slaves of the wanderlust comprise the third class. Here you find: "Pikers," who walk the pike; "rat-

WAS TOLD TO SLAY MOVIE STAR

Deputy sheriffs, answering a midnight call that a man was in the Los Angeles residence of Bebe Daniels, film star, intent on murdering her, arrested Charles Caprice and held him to have his sanity tested. Caprice said he was hired by the head of a drug-peddling gang to kill Miss Daniels, who had put obstacles in their way in the sale of narcotics to drug fiends in the Hollywood studios.

Gold Coins of Croesus Minted In 546 B. C. Found In His Ancient City

NEW YORK, June 19.—Thirty gold coins belonging to the first series ever minted, have been unearthed by American archaeologists who are working on the buried ruins of Sardis, the ancient Lydian capital in Asia Minor. Fifteen of them may come to the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

They are the coinage of Croesus, the last king of Lydia and the first great international banker, whose name has been a symbol for wealth for nearly 2,500 years.

The coins were minted some time between 561 B. C., when Croesus ascended the throne of Lydia, and 546, when he was captured by Cyrus, the Persian king. Some of the thirty "staters," as they are called, are as bright as new minted pieces of United States gold money. They are lighter in hue, as they are pure gold.

Others, who ride freight trains; "ramblers," who ride passenger trains, and if they are "foxes" they flimflam the conductor; if only "wolves" they ride on the outside. These are again subdivided into "danglers," "catchers" and "roofers"—all self-explanatory.

Class four are the bums, those who will not work. They again are subdivided into "panhandlers," "floppers," "moochers" and "mission bums."

Class five are the crippled bums, with such technical titles as "wingies," "peggies" and "halfies," the latter being those who lack either one arm, leg or both legs.

Moore left for Omaha, himself a "rambler," clinging to the rods of a fast passenger train.

"That's my favorite mode of travel," he said. "I'm a born 'dangler.'"

TEARING UP MONEY DRAWS BIG AUDIENCE

NASHUA N. H., June 19.—Alienists are watching Athosis Grezeinitos. Athosis was found standing at the foot of the Soldiers monument here tearing up a roll of bills that originally represented $3,000. He had an enthusiastic and appreciative audience, which fought for the scraps of bills.

ARREST SPOILS HIS TRAINING IN ETIQUETTE

NEW YORK, June 19.—Rudolph Kolick, 20, with a dazzling smile and winning ways, was brought here yesterday from Newark by detectives to stand trial on a charge of forging fifty-two checks and passing them in hotels and shops here.

Kolick, in a written confession, tells a strange story of ambition to become "the master crook" and live "the life of a swell."

A month ago, he wrote, he was a "nobody," living at No. 237 West Eleventh street. He met Teddy Whitney, a youth from the West, who told him that the world owed them a decent living, and the way to do it was by cashing forged checks.

They started operations from the Biltmore hotel, the confession recited. But Kolick immediately struck a snag. He could not eat properly in a restaurant, Whitney told him.

So they dined in private on the money got by looting mail boxes in apartment houses and forging indorsements to checks thus obtained.

In two weeks, Kolick said, he and Whitney passed fifty-two checks, for a total of about $1,000, in exclusive shops in Fifth avenue, and not once did Kolick eat in public.

Studied a Manual. With a book on etiquette by his side, he followed directions on how to eat under the critical eye of Whitney. He was learning how to handle a knife and fork properly when detectives got on their trail and the two moved to the Plaza hotel. Whitney was captured and sentenced to Elmire reformatory.

Kolick fled to his uncle in Newark. He passed forged checks there, too, it is alleged, and was arrested.

When jailed Kolick had his book on etiquette in his pocket.

ONE SLAIN WHEN POLICE AND DEPUTIES BATTLE

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 19.—Spear C. Crossley, deputy sheriff, slain Thursday night in a pistol fight between forces of the sheriff's office and police department, came to his death by a bullet from the gun of W. H. Flynn, plain clothesman, a coroner's jury decided here Saturday. The verdict, however, declared the shot was neither premeditated nor fired with malice, and recommended that Flynn not be prosecuted.

The gun battle occurred when each party mistook the other for bandits.

Flynn testified that the first shot came from the gun of the slain deputy. He said that after the first volley, each group called on the other to "stick 'em up," after which a second volley was exchanged. Then county officers announced their identity and the city police did likewise, he said. Lights on the deputies' automobile were turned on and Crossley's body was discovered in the road, Flynn testified.

Flynn, who, it is alleged, fired the shot that killed Crossley, was for six years sheriff of Lubbock county, Texas, and has been a member of the Oklahoma City police for two years. He appeared at the inquest voluntarily.

Testimony was concluded at noon and the coroner's jury began deliberation without lunch.

Cooper of Ranger, and has resided with her parents at the family home in the Burger addition for about three years.

The young couple returned to Ranger last night and are at home at the corner of Haig and Summit avenues, where their many friends are showering them with congratulations.

A SUNDAY WEDDING. Sunday morning at 11 o'clock Raymond Hise and Miss Verdie Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Jones, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, 815 Spring road. Rev. M. F. Drury performed the beautiful ring ceremony that made them man and wife.

The Jones home was beautifully decorated in masses of cut flowers and potted plants, and the ceremony was witnessed by the immediate families of the bride and groom and a few of their most intimate friends.

Mrs. Hise has lived in Ranger for several years and her name has always been closely associated with the work of the East Ranger Baptist church, of which she is a prominent worker. Mr. Hise has also lived here for a number of years and is an employe of the Chestnut-Smith corporation. They will live in Ranger.

SATURDAY NIGHT BRIDGE CLUB.

The Saturday Night Bridge club was delightfully entertained by Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Haden Saturday night at their home on Spring road. This club meeting, with its elaborateness of decorations and favors, took on all the airs of a real party. Tables were arranged in the three receiving rooms, where a color motif of pink and white prevailed. Sweet peas, raised in the hostess' flower garden, and roses were used in profusion throughout the rooms, while bouquets of sweet peas were given as favors to all present.

During the game candies of many colors were of easy access to each player, and cigars and cigarettes were passed frequently to the gentlemen who cared to smoke. The refreshments, which were pink and white brick ice cream, pink cakes in the form of hearts, diamonds, clubs and spades, chicken salad, and coffee, served on pink plates, covered with white lace doilies, lent a further distinguishing touch to the prevailing color scheme.

PRINTING is the Inseparable Companion of Achievement

Every activity of mankind is accompanied by printing, either in advertising matter or in forms that must be used to forward activity.

From the registering of the birth of a child to the final certificate of death, every day printing must play a part, and without it man would not achieve much.

It is only from the time that movable types were invented that real advancement in human life was made, and today achievement follows only when printed matter is used—and lots of it.

The man who thinks he can get along without printing will soon find out that he will not get very far, and the more he uses printed matter, the greater advancement he will make.

MAGNOLIAS SHUT OUT BY PRAIRIE COYOTES IN FAST BALL GAME

The Prairie Coyotes of Madding camp scored a shutout victory over the Magnolias yesterday, 4 to 0, at Olden. As a result, the Coyotes are much elated, it being their first triumph in four hard-fought games with the Magnolias, who last Sunday beat Strawn, 6 to 4.

The Coyotes broke a scoreless tie in the fifth, when Germiller and H. Seale singled and were driven home by Young. They added two more in the ninth, when Newsom singled and came home on Tom Seale's triple. Seale counted when the Magnolia catcher dropped a third strike.

The shutout victory was the more remarkable, as the Magnolias made ten hits. In the ninth they filled the bases with one down but were retired on a double play—a forecourt at the plate, and a quick relay to first.

WELL WHACKED DRIVES OF PYLE GIVE NITROS FLASHY GAME, 6 TO 1

The Rev. Hits Triple, Single and Two Home's, in Four Times Up.

As a pitcher, the Arlington Appleton is a peach. But yesterday he met the usual fate of peaches, being devoured by the voraciously masticating bats of Parson Pyle and his fellow dynamiters, who pounded out a 6-1 victory.

All the parson did was to knock two home runs, a triple and a single in four trips to the pan. He scored three runs himself, drove in two, and gave a powerful boost to the sixth. When he finished his labors for the afternoon, the occasion could well be called Pyle day, for his accomplishments were not only gratifying to the congregation, but well rewarded by the first collection plate the Parson had seen this year. That came toward the close of the services, when a terrific rap to right center enabled Ranger's Long Tom to stretch his lengthy legs and collect that best of hits—a homer inside the park. The knock caught the crowd right, for it offset the Colonel's only score, and they showered down to the extent of $52.65, which was collected in a shovel and presented to the bashful bumper.

Making the Runs. The Rev. began his exhortations with the ash in the opening round, when with two out, he spanked a triple into left that scored Jimmy Flagg from first.

In the third frame, again with Jimmy gossipping with Williams, he singled to right and Jimmy took third. Then they put on the double steal and Jimmy counted, on a close play at the plate. Third base was left uncovered during the excitement, so the Rev. calmly took possession of it, crossing the plate when Dinsmore failed to trap Gober's grounder—the only error of the pasting-in. In the fifth, Dockery walked, and Pyle laid the ball over the fence for the cinching runs. His second homer was made in the seventh, and was a sizzling liner yards beyond Stewart's twinkling spikes.

Aside from the altitudinous right gardener's seismological swatting, several things made yesterday's affair a first class battle, from the home town viewpoint. It was flashily played by both teams, with Flagg, Craig and McElwee making circus catches. The latter two both made shoestring snags that robbed ambitious batsmen of bingles.

Jimmy Grabs 'Em. Jimmy Flagg, sporting a charley-horse that would put most players on the bench, performed in an entirely charleyhorseless style. He ranged all over the short position, snagging grounders and flies to the total number of ten. Several of his stops were sensational, especially the retrieving of a fast-hit bounder from Belcher's bat, which he plucked up near second base with one hand and flashed to first for the putout. He started two double plays and forced another runner at the midway station. At bat, he bingled safely twice. It might well have been Flagg day, if Pyle hadn't hit so heavily.

Lefty George Phillips, making his first bow before a home town audience, pitched a neat battle all the way. His kinks had the Colonels wobbly, they connecting two twice in the first sixth innings. In the seventh, breezing along with a five-run lead, he allowed three hits and one run, but a double play sawed the rally off short.

Fans Home Runner. In only two other innings did the Colonels even threaten. One of these was the first, when Home Runner Belcher fanned for the third out with a runner on second. The other was in the eighth, when hits by Edwards and McElwee put runners on first and second on one down. But Flagg forced McElwee at second on Williams' grounder, and Dinsmore popped up. In the ninth, Belcher led off with a single, but the next three men lifted easy flies to the infield.

All told, seven men went out by the pop fly route. It was a perfect day for home town bugs, with hearty hitting, good pitching and faultless fielding.

WEST TEXAS GAMES

CLOVIS HAS BIG INNING. CLOVIS, June 19.—An eight-run rally in the seventh gave Clovis a victory over Amarillo yesterday, 11 to 7. A homer by Dean with the bases full was the finishing punch. Both Maples and Hitt were driven from the box, after which Hill slow-balled the Buzzers into quietude. Amarillo rallied in the seventh, eighth and ninth, but had too far to go.

Score by innings: R. H. E. Amarillo000 000 331-7 8 2 Clovis000 003 80x-11 13 4 Maples, Hitt, Hill and Douglas; Sewell and Erwin.

SWATTERS BLANKED. LUBBOCK, June 19.—Woodbridge tamed the Swatters yesterday and Lubbock won, 4 to 0. Sweetwater's only rally came in the seventh, when hits by White, Hornsby and Mason filled the bases with none out. White was forced at the plate when Pipkin rolled to shortstop, and Woodbridge fanned Currier and Gressett. Brown's triple and double drove in three of the Lubbock runs.

Score by innings: R. H. E. Sweetwater000 000 000-0 7 0 Lubbock002 100 10x-4 11 0 Fleharty and Pipkin; Woodbridge and Allen.

BRONCS WIN IN NINTH. ABILENE, June 19.—A ninth inning rally won for the Broncs yesterday, 3 to 2. Butler walked, and hits by Mayhew, Robertson and Cocke put over two runs. The score had stood at 2 to 1 in the Eagles' favor after the first inning.

THE FRUIT TREE AND THE HUMAN BODY

Notice in the cut shown that where the branch from the fruit tree is pinched there is only a very small withered apple. Where there is no pinching the result is a large luscious fruit. So in the human body where the nerve is pinched leading to an organ such as the stomach, kidneys, bowel, heart, etc., the result is disease. CHIROPRACTIC adjustments remove the pressure and you regain your health. Come up and let us explain your trouble. Let us show you HOW CHIROPRACTIC IS THE BETTER WAY TO HEALTH.
