

By Hop Jr.

Next to the weather, the most currently popular topic in the land is, we suppose, politics. And to this subject, we have mixed emotions at the moment.

Of great significance to the nation's politics was Ike Eisenhower's announcement last week that he would accept the Republican nomination to give the office of presidency another try. And even though he made stringent reservations in his statement, it seems to be a foregone conclusion that he will get the GOP nod with ease.

The field of candidates is still wide open, of course, and as the heat of battle rises in this general election year, the issues will become more clearly defined.

However, we already know that Mr. Eisenhower will fall somewhat short of fulfilling our desires for an ideal candidate, because of his past performance in office.

There apparently is a great deal of pressure in the national government to liberalize (or "socialize," if you please) economic concepts—this pressure coming from all sides, all parties.

Many good men withered or at least mellowed under pressures from all about that push government over bigger—taxes ever higher. Ike's mood was pretty coldly conservative when he sought the nation's highest office four years ago. But what of today?

He wants Social Security benefits increased, and coverage extended. He opposed the Bricker amendment—a move that aimed at a return to government by the constitution and not by men—and now we have "brink of war" diplomacy, where one misstep by one man (or a handful, at the most) would plunge the nation into bloody conflict.

He has helped raise the minimum wage to $1 an hour, which on the outside might appear as a humane act against virtual slavery, but in reality turns out to be an instrument that will cut off many apprentice or elderly persons from gainful employment. It also will artificially drive all wages higher because the supply of labor will be lessened, and as an ultimate consequence, the cost of manufactured goods will continue to increase.

He supported the Texas-Louisiana-California tidelands issue at the time of his election in 1952, but now vetoes the Harrison-Fullbright gas bill. Was his first action merely one to woo the political support of such vigorous states' righters as Allan Shivers? How does Eisenhower feel about states' rights today?

And under the administration's blessing have come new policies in the agriculture department which point to a "return to normalcy" where prices for commodities in the market place are largely determined by supply and demand.

This, we still believe, in spite of much local opposition to such a philosophy, is the best one for the long-range interests of the farmers, but at the same time, Mr. Eisenhower has seen big business riding atop an all-time crest of prosperity—still enjoying the same tariff protections, the same old padded government contracts, as in the days of the New Deal and World War II.

It's hardly consistent, in a true analysis.

What is the cost of our national defense budget? Something around $40 billions, isn't it? Nobody can deny the necessity of this expenditure, because of the perilous times in which we live. No one complains that about 67 cents of every dollar he pays Uncle Sam in taxes goes to the upkeep of a strong military effort. Business gets most of this money in the form of defense contracts.

And while these huge amounts must be spent, and nobody denies it, there also is no denying that the war effort is a strong business stimulus that tends to keep the wheels of the factories turning at a torrid pace.

If anybody asked us, we would tell them we are anti-labor and pro-management in the titanic squabble for supremacy that is now being waged in our nation.

But even from our viewpoint, it appears that the farm program, with its $3.7 billion total bill, is perhaps given more publicity than it deserves. We favor an elimination of subsidies to EVERYONE, including the farmers. They would be getting along pretty well right now, we bet, if they had been left alone.

The same is true of everyone else. Stop subsidizing the airlines, the shiplines, the publishing companies, and all manner of business, big and small, when the subsidy to the farmer is eliminated.

The dust storms aren't really so bad. After all, it's good, clean High Plains dirt, filled with wholesome minerals of all kinds. Sniff it up.

We used to make some slurring remarks about the NBC production, Monitor. Sumpin' new has been added, however, and we are

Roy Tidwell New Church of Christ Minister in Farwell

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Tidwell and children, now of Clovis, are planning to move to Farwell in the near future to make their home.

Tidwell is the new minister of the Church of Christ in Farwell and is replacing Gene Sofford who, this week, moved to Amarillo. Sofford, who served this church for three years, will be preaching by appointment in Amarillo.

Tidwell started full time work in the Farwell church on March 4. Prior to moving to Clovis, Tidwell and his family spent two and one half years in Canada doing missionary work there.

Tidwell was graduated from Abilene Christian College where he received his B. A. degree. He did post graduate work at George Peperdine College in Los Angeles and was minister for several churches in that area during his five year stay there.

Starting his evangelistic career in Houston, Tidwell has been preaching for about 15 years. He has evangelized in churches in Colorado, Canada, California, New Mexico, and Texas. For two years he was minister of a church in Littlefield and he has served in a church at Portales.

Since returning from Canada in December of last year, Tidwell has not preached at any church regularly although he has substituted in the Farwell church several times.

Mr. and Mrs. Tidwell have three children, Roy Lester, 12, LaNita, 6, and James Dale, 4.

Tidwell says that plans for their moving to Farwell are still indefinite, but that he hopes that they will be able to move here sometime this month.

One of three men piloting Texas' huge highway program is Marshall Formby of Plainview, who last week addressed the Farwell Chamber of Commerce at its annual banquet.

Formby Cites Progress of State Highways

Marshall Formby, Plainview attorney, businessman, and a member of the state highway commission, turned a lot of usually dry statistics into interesting listening Friday night at the Farwell cafeteria as he addressed the Farwell Chamber of Commerce.

It was the annual banquet for the organization, and over 100 members and visitors were in attendance.

They heard the commissioner tell of the growth of the State Highway Department from its inception until the present day. Speaking of farm-to-market roads, a subject of interest to all rural

Housing Cooks Again

Farwell's belated housing project, which got far enough last year to cause a subdivision to be created in the southern part of town called Hillcrest, is once again on the "front burner."

Jack Stagner, Clovis contractor who first began the work by installing paving, curbing, sewer and utilities, reported Wednesday evening that men interested in pushing the work ahead immediately will be in town today (Thursday) to make final plans. "Several corporations" will be involved in the investment, he told The Tribune, although two men are doing most of the pushing at the moment. They are Paul Stout of Hobbs and A. L. Leal of Dallas.

Several months ago Stagner sold the land to a Dallas development company and announced that he was stepping out of the work. At that time he had projects of his own going in Clovis, Portales, and Fort Sumner.

However, this week he indicated that he "may" still be interested in the building program which is scheduled to begin immediately—possibly by next week.

Wilfred Quickel, Farwell city secretary, confirmed that Wednesday he had been approached by Stout concerning building permits for 22 homes.

Dickie To Address Farmer's Union Meet Next Monday Night

Alex Dickie, state president of Texas Farmer's Union, will address the Parmer County Farmer's Union at the Friona School auditorium Monday night, March 12.

W. L. "Preach" Edelman, county FU president, says that "Dickie is an outstanding leader in the fight to prevent the change in cotton basing staple from 7/8-inch to one inch. He has just returned from Washington where he did extensive work in the interest of Texas Cotton farmers."

The youthful farm organization president is a graduate of Texas A&M, and holds a masters degree in economics from North Texas State College. He was appointed to the president's agriculture economics advisory commission, but took instead the work of the Farmer's Union Texas presidency.

Six door prizes will be handed out by Friona merchants. They include a ham from Piggly Wiggly, a bushel of DeKalb seed corn from Cummings Farm Store, a wash and grease job from Veazey's Magnolia Station, a carburetor clean-up from Friona Motor, a tire from Herring Implement Company, and something for the ladies from Allen's Jewelry.

"The public is invited to hear this outstanding man in agriculture," says Edelman. "The meeting is not restricted to members of Farmers Union."

Also on the agenda for the meeting will be reports from Oscar Baxter and Gordon Massey who recently were in Washington in connection with Farmer's Union business.

Soil Specialist To Be in Bovina

Parmer County farmers will have an opportunity to hear a soil specialist speak in Bovina Tuesday, March 13, at 7:30 p. m. in the American Legion Hall.

Dr. W. O. Trogon, soil and fertilizer specialist, will speak to interested farmers on "Soil Fertility and Fertilizers." The talk will also include a discussion on plant problems that are encountered in this area.

The program has been arranged by Troy Fuller, manager of Bovina Farm Chemical in Bovina. Fuller says, "Dr. Trogon is not a fertilizer salesman and the program will be purely educational. No brand names of fertilizers will be mentioned in the talk."

On Wednesday, following the Tuesday night meeting, Dr. Trogon will answer any individual questions that may come to farmers' minds. He will be at Bovina Farm Chemical all day Wednesday.

Fuller emphasizes that area farmers are invited to attend this meeting.

Texico City Election Scheduled for April

City dads of Texico issued a proclamation Monday night establishing, Tuesday, April 3, as election day for the city. To be elected are a mayor, two commissioners, and a police magistrate.

The mayor's office will be open for a two-year term. Scotty Levins is incumbent. Holding the two commissioners' posts are Joe Helton and Olan Schlueter, and these offices will be for four-year terms. Holdover commissioners who will not be voted on this year are Judge Stone and Les Means. Police magistrate (also a 2-year office) is Sam Lewis.

The deadline for filing with the city clerk for the election ballot is Thursday, March 29.

Nowell-Douglas Sale Is Next Tuesday

What Doshier & Francis, local auction team, are calling their biggest sale this year will be the farm auction of Claud D. Nowell and Douglas Avery Tuesday, March 13.

A very large list of machinery leads the sale, which will start at 10:30 sharp, and be held at the old Tom Smith place 6 miles south of Lariat, or 11 miles west of Muleshoe on FM No. 1760. Lunch will be served at noon.

Karl's Auto Clinic Slates New Building

Smokey Gast and Fred Curtis of Karl's Auto Clinic this week announced that they will soon begin construction of a new steel building to house their auto repair business in Farwell.

The 70X32 structure will be erected east-and-west behind the present site of their business, and when the new building is up, the old one will be removed and the space it occupied used for parking.

The new building will be built on a straight-wall design with gable roof. It will be insulated and will house four repair stalls, an office, and a parts room. Cost is to be $11,000.

90,000 County Acres Damaged by Wind

Around 90,000 acres of farm land in Parmer County have received "moderate" erosion damage from high spring winds so far this season, Floyd Crume, work unit conservationist with the Parmer County Soil Conservation District, revealed this week.

He had just finished making his monthly wind erosion report, and in it, he also commented that about 5,000 acres had received "serious" damage in the sandier areas of the county to the west and southwest.

The report, which was filed on February 29, indicated, oddly enough, that moisture conditions of the county farms are good, and that moisture is ample to make emergency tillage practices effective in curbing further erosion.

Previous to the big snowfall in early February, Crume had estimated that 50,000 acres were subject to erosion. The condition worsened after the snow melted and hard freezes crusted the surface of fields.

Gene Leach, state legislative director of Farm Bureau, here gets a point over at the annual kickoff banquet Monday night at the Bovina school cafeteria.

Bureau Kicks Off Membership Drive

Approximately 80 people including Parmer County Farm Bureau members, their wives, and their guests heard Gene Leach, state Farm Bureau legislative director speak Monday night at the annual FB membership drive banquet in the Bovina school cafeteria.

Plans for the membership drive that will be held all this week were made. The group's goal is 750 members. A victory meeting will be in the same cafeteria next Monday night.

Team captains for the five communities were named and they, with their helpers, began work on the drive Tuesday morning. Wilbur Charles is drive captain for the City of Bovina and A. R. M. Cutchan and J. T. Jones are captains for the Bovina area.

Leach, talking with an East Texas drawl, told those present that "three out of every four farmers in the United States that belong to a farm organization belong to Farm Bureau. There has never been an organization set up with such an unselfish attitude before."

He went on to explain that there are "65,000 Texas farmers in Farm Bureau and Farm Bureau is the only farmers' organization that maintains a headquarters in Washington when Congress is in session."

Getting to a subject that can be felt more in this Parmer County area, Leach said, "I've heard people talk price supports and have seen so many people misinformed about price supports that it almost makes me sick to hear about them," and he added emphatically, "Anybody that thinks Farm Bureau is for sliding price supports is as crazy as a blind bed bug."

4-H Adult Leaders in Meeting

Sixteen 4-H Club adult leaders of Parmer County met at the courthouse on Monday afternoon, March 5, for a general planning session. General 4-H Club work and the keeping of 4-H Club achievement records were discussed. Special guests at the meeting were Miss Doris Leggett and Knox Parr, District Agents for District I.

This group decided to help sponsor a county-wide 4-H Club party on Saturday night, March 17. A recreation training meeting was scheduled to be held Monday night, March 12, in the Bovina Legion Hall.

Representatives of each 4-H Club in the county have been asked to attend this meeting to make plans for the county-wide party. A special committee, composed of county leaders, will decide where the party will be held.

Those from Farwell who have been asked to attend are Joe W. Jones, leader, and Truman McKillop, Leon Langford, Jerry Henson, Ruby Hillock and Judy Herrington.

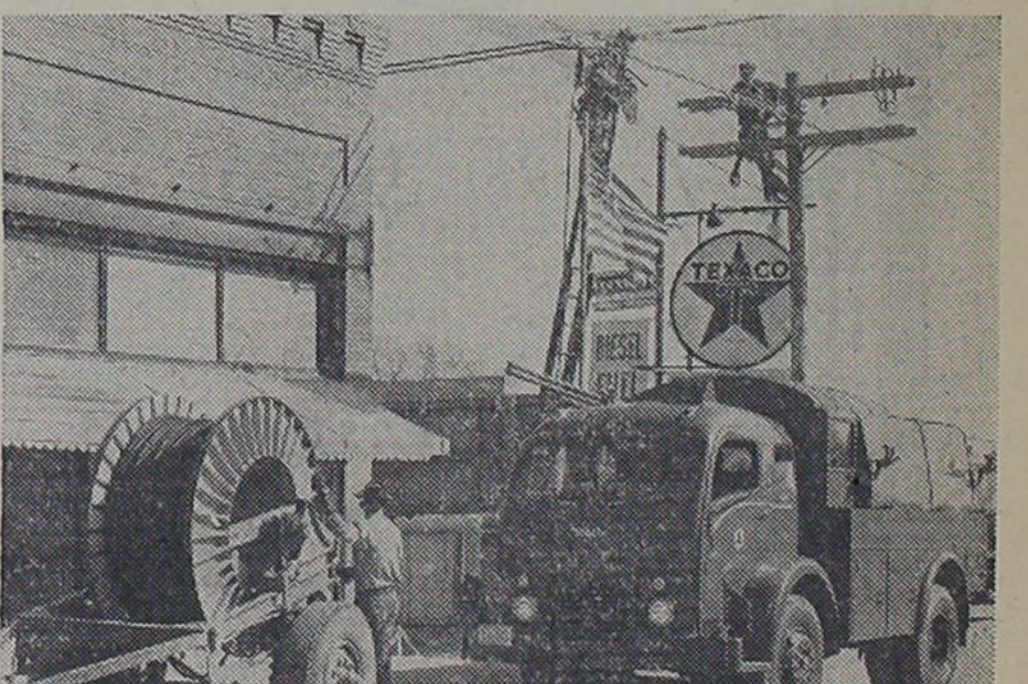

Attending Monday's meeting were the following leaders: Mrs. Gene Rea, Mrs. J. E. Whitesides, Mrs. J. A. Taylor and J. T. Jones, all of Bovina; Mrs. Bill Foster, Edd Hardage and Albert Smith, Farwell; Mr. and Mrs. James Mabry, Friona; Mrs. Garvin Thorn, Mrs. J. L. Ivy, Mrs. Duane Darling, Mr. and Mrs. Dee Chitwood and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Young, all of Lazbuddie.

Joneses Take Over Phillips Station

Curtis and Don Jones, a father-and-son team, have taken over the Phillips station in Farwell formerly operated by Cecil Rundell. The change was made effective early this month.

The Joneses came to Farwell two years ago from Anton and have been engaged in farming in the Oklahoma Lane community. Don, who has had experience in the service station business, will manage the station.

Alton Berry, who worked for Rundell, will be employed at the station.

If the residents of Texico have been wondering what's going on in their town with all the telephone company equipment in action, it's part of an expansion program by Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph Company which, when completed, will almost double the facilities in this area. The completion date will be in April—at an estimated cost of $52,000, and another phase of the expansion program will then begin. C. H. Forester, Clovis exchange manager, says the new facilities will furnish most any type service that customers may desire.

THE TRIBUNE'S EDITORIAL COMMENT

The Public Schools Are Our Biggest Tax Bargain

Education is the key to better living, and it is significant that this week is set aside for the observance of the public schools in Texas. Our tax-supported community educational institutions are the best example we know of for a sound investment in the future.

In the public schools our young people are trained to face the unknowns of tomorrow, and as time moves on, the educational plane of all the people is being uplifted by this great system of teaching.

As an industry supported almost wholly by taxes, the Texas Public Schools without a doubt make better use of every nickel coming from the tax rolls than any other part of our economy. Rare indeed are instances where wasteful methods result in poor utilization of operating capital.

In 1854 the law provided for the first public school system in Texas. The state constitution declared, "A general diffusion of knowledge being essential to the preservation of the liberties and rights of the people; it shall be the duty of the legislature to establish and make suitable provisions for the support and maintenance of an efficient system of public free schools."

We must protect and nurture the public school system, without which democracy will be retarded, for it cannot prosper without diffusing knowledge to its citizens.

This week is Public Schools Week in Texas, and the four schools of Parmer County will welcome a visit from everyone. You will enjoy the experience of going back to school—if but for a day.

It Could Be Worse, Mr. Cotton Farmer

The United States cotton farmer isn't feeling too good nowadays about his future. The USDA has lowered his price supports, reduced his acreage, and threatens him with new restrictions. Spokesmen for the industry tell him that the world market has diminished to a trickle, and that domestic markets are being lost to competing synthetics. Meanwhile, everything that he must buy to produce cotton continues to increase in price.

It's not a very happy thought.

But the American cotton grower can still say with relief that his plight is hardly anything to compare with that of the cotton growers of Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, in the valley of the Nile, where last week 190 farmers died of suffocation after being jammed into a single-room prison.

The Sudanese, it seems, have their price troubles too, and they were rounded up by police and clapped in jail after rioting in the streets protesting the low prices they receive from the government for their cotton. Another 150 farmers were killed by police gun fire in the riots themselves.

Oftentimes it is easy for us to think of ourselves as having a tough go of it—until we look around us a little bit.

Denton, who is president of the Texas Farmer's Union.

We spent the first night in the Edwin Long Hotel in Rollo, Mo. The second night we spent in the Virginia Hotel in Columbus, Ohio, and then we went on to Washington where we spent five nights at the Continental Hotel.

People may think this trip was more play than work, but we had our work cut out for us before we left home. What we didn't know was that Bro. Stone was also a minister of a Baptist Church in Oklahoma City, and on Sunday morning about 10 o'clock we had church services.

The message was inspiring and was appreciated by everyone on the trip. May I say here that it was the first time in my life I ever heard a 40-mile sermon.

Monday morning (February 27) we got up at 6 o'clock and had our breakfast and went to general assembly. There were four other states represented—North Dakota, Illinois, Pennsylvania, and Minnesota—which made up a total of about 180 Farmer's Union members.

We were told we could rest and relax if we desired, but we were ready to "get with 'em," so they had to rearrange our schedule. They informed us the senate was in session and they would try to get tickets to get in the next day, but we wanted to get in on the ground floor.

So they said if we would go to the Washington Monument and see that, they would try to get some tickets in the meantime. We saw the monument and also the Lincoln Memorial. There we were contacted and were informed that we could get in. We then ate and went to the senate chamber.

The first speaker we heard was Senator Eastland from Mississippi who is a Democrat, but from the way he talks and the way he believes, he sure isn't for the little farmer or for this part of the country, in my opinion, and I think everyone who heard him will say the same thing.

The best speaker we heard was Price Daniel. He was only on the floor about 30 minutes, and it was hard to tell whether he was going to fall over the fence or get on the band wagon. I personally think he likes the fence.

The next speaker we heard was Hubert Humphreys. He has the deadwood and isn't afraid to use it. When he was announced on the floor, he informed the boys that his speech was an oration on the general farm situation, and that he had been working on it for four years just waiting for a chance to let the hammer down. He has and did.

I just wish that every red blooded American could have heard him. He challenged any or all of them to a debate and could quote facts and figures so that no one could be in doubt about the condition of the farmer of the United States.

Mr. Humphreys hadn't much more than gotten started until a senator got up and asked to be adjourned until 11 o'clock Tuesday morning, and that's when the little fireworks took place. I thought the man (Humphrey) needed applauding, so I just started and was immediately joined by about 300 more people that were in the balcony.

In came a little jughead who said that I couldn't do that, and we got into a little argument, and then a big boy came along and decided we had better go to the gallery.

We went downstairs and as we were going inside, Mr. Ed Conroy was coming out. He is Humphreys' special advisor. He said that (the applauding) was alright, but that the "big boys" had different ideas. Ed went to get Humphreys and I went to the judge.

The judge didn't like it much, but Mr. Humphreys said that there wasn't anything to keep a person from spitting on the floor after a session was over, and asked that I be permitted to sit with him the next day. Permission was granted, but Senator Kilgore passed away and there was no session the next day.

On Tuesday we went to the Treasury Department and saw how money is made. They make approximately 32 million dollars a day. This money is replacement money. The life of an average bill is 10 months. The old money is burned and new money replaces it.

We also went to the FBI headquarters and saw how the undercover men work and we learned some of the requirements of being an FBI agent.

Wednesday we were lucky enough to draw a card for the agriculture conference. We were supposed to see Ezra Benson, but we didn't. We saw Undersecretary True Morris. This was the biggest disappointment that we had. He didn't say anything and didn't give us a chance to ask anything.

The next day we broke up in groups of four and went to see senators and representatives. We visited most everyone around the capitol. Some were in important meetings that we didn't get to see, but we left word and notations of what our opinions were with their secretaries.

As all of us know, we have got to get together and join the farmer's way of life. The only way we can exist in this day and time is to unite and let the people on the hill know that we exist and if they want to stay in Washington, they are going to have to let us live and let live.

So, let us all get together and let our voices be heard through home folks and not through slick-tongued politicians.

I had a very enjoyable visit in Washington and learned a lot and wonder a lot about what goes on. There are some things going on no one will ever know, but by going or keeping up on what goes on, you can draw your own opinions about just who is for you or against you.

This year has been a most important one for Farmer's Union. They have sent something over 1300 farmers to Washington already, and I understand that there are more on the way.

It seems to me that 1300 Farmer's Union members have more bearing on what goes on than one lobbyist who has his hand in your pocket and mine.

I wish to thank each and every one for supporting the delegates for Farmer's Union from this county.

County Man Reports On Farmer's Union Trip To Washington

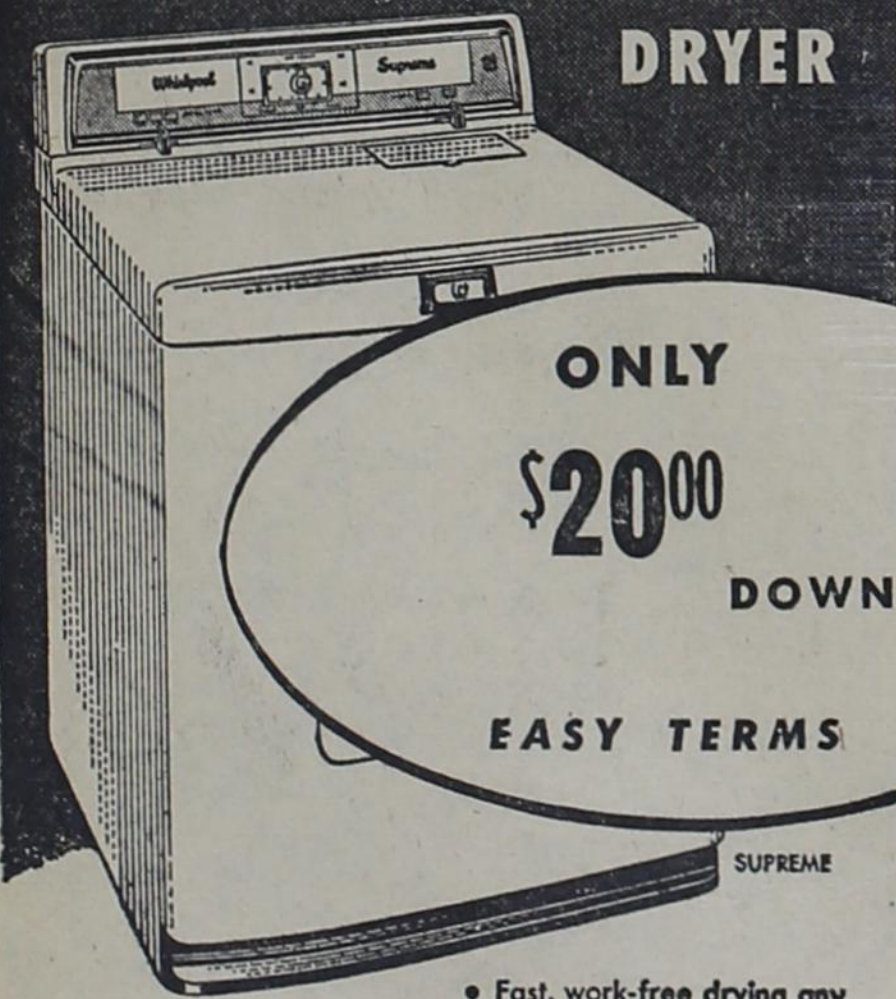

(Editor's Note: Two Parmer County men—Oscar Baxter and Gordon Massey, both of Friona, represented this area at a Farmer's Union meeting in Washington recently. The men were accompanied by their wives, and returned home this week. The following report was prepared by Massey):

The Farmer's Union bus left Amarillo at 4 a. m. Friday, February 24, for Washington. The purpose of the trip was to express our feelings and opinions of the farm situation, and the problems confronting the farmers these days.

There were 32 members in the Texas delegation, and they came from "all forks of the creek." We were very fortunate in having the president of the Oklahoma Farmer's Union, George Stone, on the bus, in addition to Alex Dickie of

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU
By RAYMOND EULER

Though it has already been widely publicized, we believe it might be worthwhile to repeat once more, the importance of cotton farmers getting a germination test on cotton seed before planting time. Your ginners or your county agent will gladly give you necessary instructions. County Agent, Joe Jones, urges farmers to take this step before planting time.

Jack Patterson, your director from Rhea Community, who won the speaking contest in San Antonio recently, was invited to speak to Farm Bureau members at Rose-dale, N. M., two weeks ago. There were about 125 folks present and he did a good job. He and his wife were called to the bedside of her mother last week, in Georgia.

We believe you and your family will enjoy the victory meeting in the Bovina auditorium next Monday night. Membership worker awards will be made, musical entertainment will be enjoyed, and some valuable door prizes will be given.

Here are four provisions American Farm Bureau is prevailing upon congress to include in a Soil Bank Farm Program: 1. Allowing farmers to voluntarily underplant acreage allotments in return for negotiable certificates valid for purchase of government-owned stocks of farm commodities. 2. Permitting farmers to place other land in the soil bank for at least three years in return for negotiable certificates for surplus stocks or other payments. 3. Prohibiting harvesting or grazing on any soil bank land, but providing Agricultural Conservation Program payments for approved practices performed on this land. 4. Requiring farmers to put an acreage of soil depleting crop land in the soil bank as a condition for price supports.

The Department of Agriculture has announced a new upland cotton export sales program for shipment after July 31. This involves export of cotton of 15/16 staple length and under. This is a move supported vigorously by Farm Bureau, and believed to be a long needed move toward disposition of surplus farm commodities.

PTA Plans Box Supper At Lazbuddie Gym

An old fashioned box supper, sponsored by members of the Lazbuddie PTA will be held at the school gym on Friday night at 8 o'clock.

Proceeds from the box supper will be used for paying for tile floor covering put in the new elementary school building. Construction costs were so great when the building was erected that several items had to be omitted. One of these items was tile floor covering in the grade school building.

The PTA took as its project this year the covering of as many of the floors as possible and furnishing equipment for the high school science department.

The tile covering has been installed and the PTA lacks about $900 having enough money to complete this project. Members of this organization are asking that every woman and girl in the community bring a box to be auctioned off at the box supper, and that every man and boy buy a box at the supper to help for the floor covering.

Something we've noticed during the years that we have been in the grocery business is that people really appreciate being treated courteously. Our customers are our best "advertisements," because they tell others how well they like to trade where they are treated right.

jottin's from jeanne

There is something about these days when we have the big blows. The little imps that dwell in our two sons seems to emerge in full force on those days.

After about 12 hours trying to keep peace in the household, we have a severe case of combat fatigue by bedtime. At least, we try to blame it on the weather.

Our sincere thanks to Mrs. Wilburn Carlton of Friona for voluntarily sending us this recipe. We really appreciate recipes and comments of readers concerning our column.

Mrs. Carlton says that this recipe is a favorite of hers because when she serves it, all else she needs is a tossed green salad and dessert—and working housewives usually don't have the time to prepare the type meals other women do.

HAMBURGER PIE

- 1 tablespoon shortening, melted
- 1 lb. ground beef
- 1/3 cup chopped onion
- 1 to 2 teaspoons chili powder
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 1 3/4 cups tomatoes
- 1 cup cooked pinto beans
- 1 cup corn bread batter

Brown meat and onion in shortening. Add seasonings and tomatoes. Cover and simmer over low heat 20 to 30 minutes. Blend in beans. Pour meat mixture into oiled 1 1/2 quart baking dish. Top with corn bread batter. Bake in hot oven (425) for 20 minutes. To Freeze: Cool thoroughly. When cool, cover and freeze. When ready to use, allow covered baking dish to stand at room temperature about 8 1/2 hours. Heat covered container in oven (350) for about 40 to 45 minutes. Serve hot. Makes six to eight servings.

The sorority of which we are a member was in session this week, and we were discussing having a "suppressed desire" party. Attendees for such a party are to dress to represent the character which they would most like to be.

Dorothy Quickel immediately exclaimed that her suppressed desire is to be a millionaire, but she just can't afford to dress like one. And Rosa Roberts, our educational director, had a secret ambition too—to be tall and thin. She has not yet decided how she could dress to express this desire.

One of our chief duties now seems to be to check at frequent intervals to see what small item Ronny, the 2 1/2-year-old, has given Hal, the 2-month-old. Ronny likes to be nice (?) to the baby, and Hal thinks any object is designed especially to be poked into one's mouth. So we hide everything that is smaller than a minute-sized lemon, and Ronny manages to find some of them. Marbles, paper clips and such are becoming a thing of the past at our house.

But imagine the consternation when Ronny handed the baby one of our clip earrings last week. But there was a catch to it. Hal took the earclip and into his mouth it went. Ronny had happened to have the catch open and during the process, the earring was clipped to Hal's tongue. True to his name, he did howl.

Letters To The EDITOR

Dear Mr. Graham,

Will you please send me 30 copies of your March 1st issue of The Tribune.

I was delighted to read your column regarding advertising by professional people—and I want to send copies of this to fellow members of the Panhandle Optometric Association in case they have not read your fine paper.

Such a small percent—less than 10 percent—of the practicing optometrists in Texas are guilty of "sucker bait" advertising . . . some means of public relations or education is needed so that the public may realize that there is a large difference between services rendered by a professional, ethical practitioner and the chain optical companies.

Thank you for bringing this out in your column.

Sincerely,
W. Beene, O. D.

content to listen to all kinds of uninteresting corruption just to catch a few sultry phrases from "Miss Monitor."

It's always at this point, however, that the wife pipes up with some comments of her own, and it's a delicate matter of diplomacy to get her to shush up without getting her wise.

Hal is into everything nowadays. Last week he crawled under the bed, and raising up to see where he was, he stuck his head through a couple of slats and got hung.

The little shaver dang nigh strangled before we could locate him and get him unhooked.

There is a rumor about that civic leaders in Texico may attempt to get a swimming pool for the community. If there's anything that would delight the kids more, we can't think of what it would be.

It's the summer time, after all, that gives us our biggest threat to delinquency when many youngsters are out of school, don't have full-time jobs, and are looking for something with which to occupy themselves.

We parents often complain about the heavy school schedules in the fall, winter and spring months, but one thing for sure, and that is that this activity doesn't give the average child much time to think about getting into trouble.

A swimming pool is a summer diversion that is accepted by virtually all kiddoes. Baseball fields and other sports activities are commendable, but there are always some children who lack the interest or the natural ability to participate successfully in such programs.

So, a swimming pool really fills the bill—and there's nothing more healthy than frolicking in a pool in warm summer afternoons when it is clean and well supervised.

Every town we know of in the area has had its serious moments in considering the possibility of swimming pools, but most of the hopes have faded in the face of sheer economic fact.

A swimming pool is both expensive to acquire and to operate. The initial cost is from $20,000 up. The story we hear now, however, indicates that it might be possible to use recreation money derived from taxes on cigarettes to keep up the pool.

The big hurdle—and it really is a big one—is getting the money together to build. This may be a real opportunity for community enterprise.

North Part County In 'Hopper Warning

Surveys made in 1955 by the pest control branch of the USDA indicates that Parmer County, and especially the northern part, may be in store for trouble from grasshoppers this year.

In connection with this information, County Agent Joe Jones is issuing a warning to county farmers that they be on the lookout for development of the insects this year.

"The government will cooperate with farmers and ranchers on large acreage poisoning," says the agent, but "the minimum acreage where government help will be available is 10,000 acres. It is possible that we might have that many acres or more in one spot."

Jones urges that farmers keep on the alert in order that the hoppers be stopped while still in their hatching beds and very small.

Copies of bulletins outlining suggested insect control programs are available at the agent's office, and these or other information may be secured at any time.

Farwell Operetta Is Well Attended

Mrs. Erma Jobes, director of the Farwell School music department, said Wednesday that she was very well pleased with the large crowd which attended the annual operetta presented by the high school girls' chorus Tuesday night.

Gate receipts for the evening were $104.20, and Mrs. Jobes says that considering the weather, she thought the attendance was very good.

The all girl cast presented the musical comedy, "Girls Will Be Girls" by Charles George, as a part of the Public Schools Week activities at Farwell.

Special acts before the operetta and between acts featured music by the Farwell Swing Band which played "Little Brown Jug," "Honey Hop," "Talk of the Town," "Lonesome Road Blues," "Martha," "Prom Polka," "Londonderry Air" and "Prom Jump."

Livestock Show Date Is April 14, Friona

Saturday, April 14, was the date picked by the board of directors last week for the annual Parmer County Junior Livestock Show. The event will be held at the fair grounds in Friona.

County Agent Joe Jones, general superintendent of the show, said this week that declined conditions for livestock in general would possibly be reflected this year, but he added that he hoped for a "pretty good show."

Competition will be invited from boys and girls in 4-H, and FFA work in the county.

Friona Group Plans Recreation Project

A group of about 30 Friona men met Monday night in an informal session to consider the possibility of developing a recreation area for that community and surrounding territory.

A development that could cost as much as $50,000 is being looked into, which, if undertaken, would provide the city with a swimming pool, golf course, youth center, and park area.

Three or four sites are under consideration as possible locations, reports John Renner, one of the men interested in the work. Some months ago, a drive spearheaded by Wes Long of Friona sought to establish a youth recreation center, and now the idea is catching hold to include this plan into the larger development.

Wright Williams, Friona businessman and investor, was named chairman of the group, which adopted the title of Parmer County Recreation Association. Interest from outside Friona itself is hoped to be stirred up by extending the boundaries of the Association.

Four committees were set up to check into the four different phases of development.

Those include:
Youth center committee—Wes Long, O. D. Bingham and Gus Rockway.

Swimming pool—Granville McFarland, Ralph Roden and Steve Bavousett.

Golf course—John Renner, Rolla Truax and Wayne Stark. Bedford Caldwell, Bovina, also was suggested as a member of this committee.

Park area—Steve Bavousett, Woodrow Fleming, and Carl Maurer.

Renner commented that it appeared that interest was sufficient that several thousand dollars of assistance likely would be pledged by interested persons to finance the underwriting of the project.

Mrs. Hayes and all her second grade pupils sang "Happy Birthday" to Lonnie.

Stevan Thornton had two birthday parties. Mrs. S. T. Thornton entertained Miss Hanson's second grade with a party at school. The two birthday cakes were decorated with gum drops and the candle holders were gum drops. The Easter theme was carried out in the decorations. Refreshments were cake and ice cream and favors were balloons and gum drops. Then after school, Stevan had a "come and go" birthday party for his neighbors. Those calling were Jay and Ramey Beene, Judy and Delores Phipps and Mesdames Charles Holmgren, O. J. Beene, B. E. Sanders and Pearl Hand.

Glenn Floyd was surprised with a birthday dinner. His father, C. F. Floyd, of Shallowater and two brothers and one sister had planned to make a family affair of the day. About 10:30 visitors began to arrive with baskets of food and birthday cakes. The afternoon was spent visiting. Those present were C. F. Floyd of Shallowater, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Floyd, Emma Dell and Oneita of Loop; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Harvey, Linda and Floyd of Anton and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Floyd and Phyllis Gail of Shallowater.

Others participating on the morning program were the Amarillo ROTC; Rex Baxter, secretary of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce; C. M. Rogers, superintendent of Amarillo Public Schools, the Area I FFA president; Area I historian; Helen Hamilton, pianist of Area I; and Phyllis Treider, Area I song leader, both of Friona.

Friona Represented At YWA House Party

Thirteen girls and their leaders attended a State House Party for members of the Young Woman's Auxiliary in Abilene March 24. The meeting was held on the campus of Hardin-Simmons University.

Leaving Friday afternoon after school, the party arrived in Abilene about 11 p. m. that night. While away, they stayed in the Mary Francis Hall on the HSU campus.

Mrs. Ivyloy Bishop, young people's secretary of the state WMU presided over all the meetings. "Publish Glad Tidings" was the theme for the session.

Being featured Saturday morning were Mrs. Eula Mae Henderson, Doris DeVault, Mrs. Robert Fling, and Mrs. Woodson Armes. "Love, Courtship, and Marriage" by Mrs. Armes was the main speech that morning.

in & around FRIONA With June

When someone gets around to naming the country roads, we have one name picked out. There has been a lot of improving done over on Fillmore Street northwest of us. The Louis Welchs are adding two new rooms onto their residence. They have also moved a house in from the Rhea Community. It is located east of the Welch residence and is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Houston and family. Incidentally, they purchased the house from a Mr. Solomon who lives at Shamrock and was the Wilson home when Mayme Lou was born. Then a little farther east, the W. D. Buskes moved a house from Amarillo and that is, where we got the name, Fillmore Street. When it was in Amarillo, it was 1707 Fillmore, so, to us, that is the address of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bruce, Linda and Susan Perry and Miss Margaret Richardson. Mrs. Bruce and Miss Richardson are teachers in the Friona school.

We are beginning to wish Glenn had a birthday more often. Think Wednesday was the most wonderful birthday WE have ever had. About 10:30 a. m. our thoughts were running along this line, "Since Glenn only has one birthday every four years, it should be something special." About that time, what started out to be just another day was turned into something special by the arrival of his dad and 11 other members of his family. They brought two birthday cakes and food for a birthday dinner that looked like Thanksgiving dinner when we finally found space for it on the table. We enjoyed the day so much that we wish he had a birthday more often.

Did you see the pictures of three of Friona's younger set in the window at Ware's last week? Gary Pope, son of James and Betty Pope, placed first; Holly Welch, daughter of Louis and Mayme Lou Welch, placed second, and Ricky Lynn London, son of Richard and Peggy London was third place winner in a baby contest.

Our apologies this time for misspelling the name of Nora Wain who spoke at the auditorium Thursday night. We had seen it spelled at least four different ways and called several persons in an effort to learn the correct spelling. When all else failed, we relied on our memory. That proved to be our un-doing. Several years ago we read an article in the Atlantic Monthly which she had written, but didn't remember the correct spelling of her name. Too late for the paper, Deke Kendrick told us the correct way to spell it. Deke and Pudge Kendrick were close friends of David and Mary Tom Rasco, and David and Mary Tom knew Nora Wain personally, so the Kendricks especially enjoyed the lecture. Had you noticed that since David Rasco's death, the Amarillo News carries features by Mary Tom Rasco?

Have you visited school this week? If not, you just have one more day to get your name on the register during Public Schools Week in Texas. We haven't been yet but plan to go Wednesday. Since we have one child in each building, we plan to wear our walking shoes. Our other half visited the elementary and high schools Tuesday. When asked why he didn't go to the other building, his reply was, "I've been over there before."

This time of year we miss the hog wire fence which Sloan Osborn used to have east of us. For several years we had no trouble getting our wash tubs, trash barrels, old cans, etc., back after a "big blow." All we had to do was to drive down the fence and recover them. Since the fence has been torn down, we don't even know where to look for "blown away" articles.

The most colorful things we have observed recently have been the shirts worn by Friona High School boys. One we especially like was worn by Keith Taylor Tuesday. Upon discussing it with him, we learned that his mother had made it. He said, "I just told mother how I wanted it made, and she made it."

In Anthony Home

Patsy Anthony entertained a group of friends in her home Sunday evening. Those attending were Elizabeth Blaylock, Jerry Bell Norwood, Phyllis Hinds, Kim Caffey, Gerald Floyd, Leroy Blaylock and Kenneth Ferguson, all of Friona; Billy Johnson from Bovina and Bob McLean of Amarillo. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kappel were Sunday evening guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Elliott.

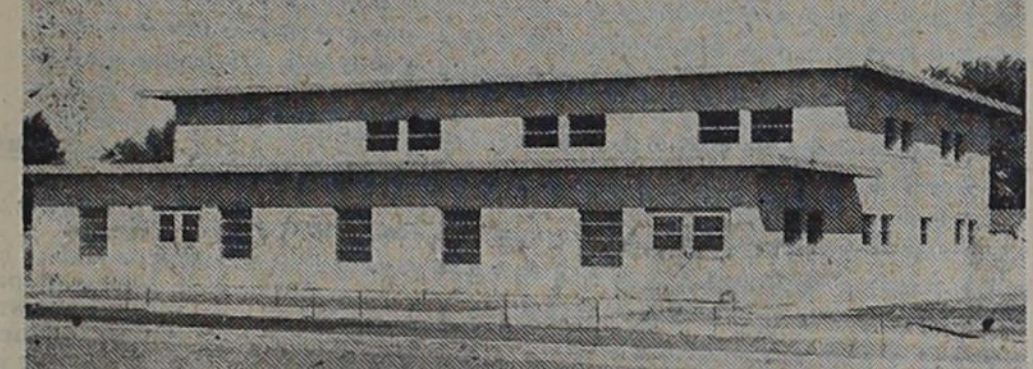

Bridge Club Meets

Senior Bridge Club met Saturday in the home of Mrs. Rose Lange. Those playing were Mesdames Pat Woodley, Pearl Bartlett, Irma Stark, Ann Shackelford, Luella Maurer, Rose Lange, Hazel Kendrick, and Melba Miller who was a guest. Pat Woodley received the gift for high score. Refreshments of cherry pie with whipped cream and coffee were served by the hostess.

Margaret won the first place ribbon on the word "birch," and the correct spelling of the word "certainly" won LaJune the blue ribbon in the junior division.

Margaret, who entered in the senior division, will represent Curry County at Amarillo March 24 in the regional spelling bee. La June, representing the junior division, will not spell beyond the county bee but is invited to the luncheon in Amarillo given for spelling contestants.

Others entering in the senior division were Karen Pack, Melrose; Ursel Doran, Fields; and Novita Pulliam, Rosedale.

Entering in the junior division were Jerry Gosner, Melrose; Dwight Turner, Rosedale, and Texico winner, Miss Burris.

Visiting sponsors were Mrs. Julius Roastingear, Rosedale; James Willis, Melrose and Mrs. Buck Doran, county school superintendent.

Mrs. Fred Danforth, county director for the contest says, "All seven candidates were such wonderful sports; it was a pleasure to work with them."

Texico Juniors To Present Class Play

"Mother Is A Freshman," a hilarious three act comedy by Christopher Sergel and Raphael Davis Blau, will be presented by the members of the Texico junior class on Friday night, March 23, at the Texico Auditorium.

The plot grows as Susan finds out there is some romantic feelings between her mother and Professor Michaels (Dick Lockhart). Susan, along with all the other college girls, has a crush on Professor Michaels, who teaches zoology.

Then comes the day when Mrs. Abbott slaps Professor Michaels and is subject to being expelled from the college by Dean Gillingham (Alex Brown). If you want to see a dramatic finish—be sure to attend the March 23 performance.

Other characters in the play include Mrs. Miller, a housemother, Verlene Thigpen; college girls—Bunny, Mikala Faville; Helen, Sue Stover; Sylvia, Carolyn Curd; Carrie, Oneita Autry; Clara, Betty Pendergrass; and Marge, Glenda Weisler.

College boys in the play include Bobo, Jack, Howie, Ralph, and Bill and are played respectively by Weldon Bell, Joe Berry Glaze, Barbara Caldwell, Joyce Gillian and J. C. Kelley.

John Adams and Merle Thurman are directing the play. Glenda Richardson will serve as announcer.

Library Etiquette

By Betty Pendergrass

Due to the fact that the library has been converted to the Dewey Decimal system, some of the students seem to be at a loss when trying to find information.

Knowledge may be gained about the location of certain subjects by looking at the chart just inside the door.

We have books on almost any subject from references to fiction. Among these are many new books. Two hundred and eighty dollars has been invested in new books which haven't been received.

In some recent "accidents" some of the library books have been destroyed. These books are furnished for the benefit of the students. After they have been destroyed, it is sometimes impossible to replace them.

At the end of each period, magazines are supposed to be back in their places. They are not supposed to be left on and under desks to be torn apart and destroyed.

Fines on overdue books should be paid promptly. Our school has a smaller penalty than many others, and during the time that the book should have been checked in another person could be reading it.

It would be appreciated if stu-

Track, Volleyball Are Events For Junior High

Junior High boys just can't get out of that basketball groove. Coach Curtis Miller says the boys will be playing for another week or so, but will soon start outdoor sports such as track and high jumping.

Paul Frederick, coach, has several games scheduled for the Junior High girls' volleyball team. The two games with Rosedale scheduled for March 13 and April 3 are tentative. Two games with Ranchvale were also scheduled. Texico will travel to Ranchvale on March 27 and Ranchvale will be guests of the Texico teams on April 10.

Business Ed Club Schedules Stunt Night

The annual Stunt Night, sponsored by the Texico Business Education Club, will be held on the night of April 6, in the Texico High School auditorium. There will be three divisions including one for the grade school, the first through the sixth; a division for junior high and high school, the seventh through the twelfth; and one for all the clubs.

Competition will be high in all three divisions as each class will be going all out for the first prize.

Proceeds of this program will go to send business education students to Las Vegas for Highland's day as well as to help defray expenses of the department's banquet to be held in the near future.

Magician Appears On Assembly Program

Texico school children were entertained yesterday in a paid assembly in the high school auditorium.

The entertainment, a magician and ventriloquist act, was put on by Young and Company from the Southern School Assemblies of Dallas.

Many students were highly entertained through the use of a life sized puppet and the usual wonders that go along with a show of this type.

Commenting

With Carolyn

Have you stopped to realize that there are only two more six-weeks left of this school year? However, there are many activities that will be included during these last weeks. Accordingly, we are going to devote our column this week to comments on future events.

First of all, the business education department plans to keep themselves busy for the next month or so. They will sponsor a stunt night on April 6. Proceeds from this event will be used in sponsoring several delegates to the New Mexico State Commercial Club meetings at Highland's University in Las Vegas on April 13 and 14. Later on in April, the entire Business Education Club will be honored at a banquet.

Speaking of banquets, members of the senior class will be guests of The Texico Baptist Church at a March 20 banquet. One of the highlights of the year will come on March 29 when juniors, seniors and faculty members will gather for the annual junior-senior banquet.

The seniors will have more activities other than banquets and business education work to occupy their time. They have been selecting their graduation announcements and are starting plans for their graduation exercises and senior trip.

Other thoughts at random include: county volleyball tournament and track meet; junior class play, March 23; student council representatives to state meeting and the coronation of most beautiful girl and most handsome boy at the Wolverine Variety Show on April 17.

Whether we are a freshman or a senior, a member of this club or that club, we are all concerned with this last point. It is "Don't forget to catch up on your biology notebooks, review your American history and get that last book report for English class. Be ready for those last two six-weeks tests and the final test."

Now that you have previewed these coming activities with us you are exactly one minute and six paragraphs closer to the middle of May. Carolyn

Volley Ball and Track Prospects Are Good

Everything seems to be at a standstill in the athletic department these days, but it is possibly "a calm before a storm" for lack of competition.

The Texico girls have started volleyball with skinned knees and elbows after sliding around on the floor trying to pick up a spiked ball. But after a few days everyone is a mite wiser and have begun to wear their knee pads.

As for the Texico boys, they are grunting and groaning after a hard workout by Coach Stockton of three or four laps around the track getting in shape for the coming track season. Workouts have been hampered a great deal because of a few days of disagreeable weather, which has prohibited work on the track since the first part of the week.

The girls have the making of a good volleyball team with 5' 8" Gwennette Powell on center net spiking some hard balls that would be difficult for anyone to pick up and put back over the net. There are 23 girls coming out for volleyball trying to make their position on the main eight.

Four games are all that are scheduled for volleyball before the tournament, two being played with Rosedale and two with Ranchvale. The first game is to be played March 12 at Texico with Rosedale.

There are about a dozen boys coming out for track this season. Two boys from last year's team are Allan Kelley and Leon McDaniel.

The FFA's new barn is flat on the ground due to the high wind last week. The boys have begun to build all over again and the barn will be built to stand the test of time.

Jim Starkey, student teacher from ENMU, after taking over Professor Adams' world history class, has started off right by giving subjects and dates for oral reports. The reports are to be from three to five minutes and cover a large field of subjects.

The home ec. cottage has been repaired as the kitchen was in need of some new shingles.

The seniors' party went over like a lead balloon—it was a skating party and people were falling like the proverbial "pennies from Heaven."

There are some more little pigs! The first run on the school annual was back for its final inspection by the staff last week before printing and binding. It promises to be one of the best annuals ever; at least, the staff thinks so.

TEXICO STUDENTS HAVE BAKE SALES

Members of the eighth grade class of Texico School held two bake sales this week, one on Monday and one today (Thursday). Purpose of the bake sales is to raise funds to buy a telescope for the class.

Class members decided on the money-making project when they took up the study of science recently and found the need of a telescope.

Texico Seniors Hosts To Skating Party

Members of the senior class of Texico High School were hosts to a skating party Monday night of this week. Guests of the seniors were members of the junior and sophomore classes.

About 35 students attended the party which was sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Agrie Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stockton.

Grade Students Busy In Work and Play

Spring seems to be in the air lately as small groups of boys may be seen on the play ground shooting marbles. Another sign of spring may be found in the various rooms which are decorated with birds, kites, and books on Holland, made by the students.

On the sick list this week were Louis Warren who has the mumps, Barbara Raulie, Carroll Brown, Orvel Branson, Shirley Holmes, and Rosie Arnold.

The second grade has a new student, J. B. Winegeart, from Amarillo, whose sister, Janice, enrolled in the fourth grade.

The fourth grade conducted experiments in science to determine what foods contain starch. Some of the things tested were beans, corn, cereal, potatoes, sugar and flour.

Wanda Gayle Morgan brought a German doll to show her classmates. Her brother, Charles, who is serving overseas in the Air Force, had sent her doll to her.

The fourth grade class has recently lost one member, Belverd Harvey, who is moving to California.

The fifth grade pupils are sorry that Mrs. Peyton has been out of school recently due to the illness of her father.

Jo Doshier celebrated her ninth birthday last Friday. Her mother came to school Friday afternoon with a beautiful birthday cake, ice cream, balloons and candy. The children sang "Happy Birthday" to Jo and played a few games before refreshment time. Everyone enjoyed Jo's party and wished her many happy returns of the day.

After seeing a film, "Flying a Kite," the third graders have been "kite-minded." They have their windows decorated with children flying kites. Some of the children have large kites they enjoy flying at home and stories have been given about their experiences with them.

The film of "Spotty, the Fawn" suggested free hand drawing. At first the children felt it was impossible for them to draw any scene of the film. After some thought and class discussion, each child set to work with nothing to look at but a memory of what had been seen. "Many very good pictures developed from their efforts and they seemed to enjoy what at first seemed the impossible," says Mrs. Frank Seale, teacher.

Farm records have been called the eyes and ears of the farm business. They reflect how the business is doing and may prevent costly management mistakes.

Bovina Will Elect New Mayor in April

The Bovina city commission passed a resolution Monday night that will "stagger" the terms of the commissioners. To make way for the new resolution to go into effect, Mayor O. W. Rhinehart turned in his resignation to the commissioners. An election will be held April 3 for a new mayor.

Rhinehart says the resolution was passed after two or three months of discussion.

Four men—Allen Cumpston, J. P. Macon, Jay Sherrill, Jr., and Alvin Glasscock—were appointed by the city commission as candidates for the mayor's post.

The commissioners wanted to stagger the terms so that there would always be some experience on the city commission. In the future, an election will be held each year. One year for a mayor and the next for two commissioners. In the past all three members have been elected at the same time.

Rhinehart was elected last April. Rhinehart says, "this (the resolution) was passed for the benefit of a more efficient government."

The commissioners also set up a planning board at the Monday meeting. This board will work with the city commission so that the best interests of the community may be represented, Rhinehart said. Members of this board that were appointed by the commissioners are C. R. Elliott, R. E. Everett, E. B. Caldwell, Luther Grissom, and George Trimble. This board will also be staggered in that Elliott and Everett will serve on the board for one year and the others will serve two years.

The planning board will meet with the commission tonight (Wednesday) to discuss problems pertaining to the sewer system.

Parmer County Sheriff Chas. Lovelace met with the commission to discuss the co-operative-city ers. There will be two Shorthorn heifers in the show. They will be exhibited Dickie Steelman and James Stevens.

Crawford has decided against showing the chapter-owned barrows. He said, however, that the barrows would be exhibited at the show.

Most of the projects to be shown will be taken to the show grounds on Friday preceding the show and all animals must be in there place by 9:00 on Saturday morning.

The purpose of the show is to get the boys as well as the community more interested in the projects. "The public is not only invited, but urged to attend our show," Crawford says.

An incomplete list of entries include Ferman Kelso, one Duroc gilt; James Lawlis, one Hampshire gilt; Billy Burnam, one Hampshire gilt; Ramey Brandon, one Duroc gilt; Donald Jones, two Duroc gilts; Elmer Snodgrass, one Hereford steer; Mike Barraza, one Chester White barrow; and Kent Glasscock, one Hampshire sow and litter.

Farmers Union To Meet Friday

A speaker for the Farmers Union will discuss what the Farmers Union now stands for at a meeting Friday, March 9, at 7:30 p. m. in the American Legion Hall in Bovina.

Richard H. Alexander, secretary and director of the farmers' organization will be the speaker. Alexander will tell his listeners what Farmers Union is doing in Washington to put a 90 per cent parity farm program over.

Alexander is also the state representative for the union and will answer any questions that may be asked concerning Farmers Union. Farmers Union leaders urge farmers of this area to be present at the meeting.

Maxine Wade of Groom visited over the weekend with her aunt and family, Mr. and Mrs. Reagan Looney. She returned to Canyon Sunday evening where she is attending West Texas State College.

Bovina's Hiway 60 To Be Four-Lane

Highway 60 inside the city limits of Bovina will be made four-lane probably this spring, O. W. Rhinehart, mayor of Bovina and S. C. McCarty, district engineer of Texas Highway department at Lubbock, have announced.

The Highway Department will pay for the additional paving and the property owners along Highway 60 will pay the cost of curbing and guttering along the fronts of their property. Approximately four-tenths mile of the present two-lane road will be widened.

The City of Bovina requested that the highway department assist it in making this improvement. The highway department will pay $32,000 for the paving.

In addition to constructing the new pavement, the highway department will have charge of the maintenance.

According to a minute order from the highway department concerning the project the city must: 1. Furnish all necessary right-of-way clear of obstruction and free of property damage and provide for the immediate construction of continuous curb and gutter, utility adjustments, storm sewers, etc., all as may be necessary for a complete project with the exception of pavement and widening.

2. Assume responsibility for the construction of driveways and sidewalks should they be deemed necessary now or in the future.

3. Maintain that portion of the work which is its construction responsibility and enter into agreements according to standard forms of the highway department to indemnify the State during and after construction against any and all liability or damage growing out of such construction, to regulate traffic, to provide for parallel parking and to prevent encroachment on the right-of-way.

The minute order also says, "An analysis of the requested work indicates that such widening will materially add to traffic safety on this facility."

Rhinehart says that the engineering work concerning the project is in the process of being completed now and that the contract for the construction will be let in the near future.

All property owners agreed to pay their part of the curb and guttering some time ago.

The four lanes will run from city limit to city limit in Bovina.

Funeral Services For A. M. Martin Held Tuesday

Funeral services for A. M. Martin, resident of Bovina, were held Tuesday at 3:00 p. m. at the Bovina Baptist Church.

Rev. Virgil Goodwin, pastor of the church, was in charge of the services. He was assisted by Rev. Wayne Perry, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Sudan.

Martin was born April 29, 1905 in Vanzandt County. He lived in Wilbarger County until 1948 when he moved to Littlefield. The Martin family moved to Bovina in 1952. He was engaged in farming throughout his life.

Martin died of a heart attack Sunday in Taylor Clinic Hospital in Lubbock. He had been in poor health for a year.

He was a member of the Baptist Church and Masonic Lodge. Burial was in Bovina Cemetery with graveside Masonic rites.

Martin is survived by his wife; one son, Dick; two daughters, Sandra and Mrs. Lawrence Jamer-son; all of Bovina; three grandchildren, Carol, Kelly, and Kendal Jamer-son; his father, S. C. Martin of Tyler, and three brothers and three sisters.

Hammonds Funeral Home of Littlefield was in charge of funeral arrangements.

FFA Will Sponsor Donkey Basketball

Basketball, donkey style, will be order Friday night, March 16, at Williford Gym when local people will play in donkey basketball games sponsored by the Bovina FFA Chapter, Roy M. Crawford, vocational agriculture teacher at the local school, has announced.

Four, eight minute games will be played. The show will also include "some added attractions," Crawford says.

The FFA boys will divide into four groups and the groups will take turns playing members of the school board, members of the Bovina Lions Club, the women teachers, and the FHA girls.

Crawford says that the FFA boys' opposition is subject to change.

The show, aside from the players, will be put on by Cliff Dunham's Donkey Ball Shows of Crescent, Okla. The donkeys are advertised as being well trained and will do a lot of pitching and just a little depending on the situation.

Dunham and the FFA Chapter will divide the proceeds from the game 50-50.

Admission charges will be 50 cents for adults, 35 cents for students, and 25 cents for children.

Members of the FFA Chapter will sell tickets in advance. However, Crawford says tickets will be sold at the door and they will be the same price whether they are purchased in advance or at the door.

The chapter will have charge of the concessions for the evening.

School on Saturday For Bovina Students

Students of Bovina Schools will attend school on Saturday this week for the first time in many years, W. H. Willoughby, superintendent, has announced.

The Saturday school was made necessary because of the seven school days that were lost during the recent snow storm.

And not only Saturday, March 10, must students and teachers alike attend classes but school will be held on March 24, April 7, and May 26, Willoughby says. School on Saturdays will begin 30 minutes earlier—at 8:00 a. m., instead of at 8:30—and only 30 minutes will be taken for lunch so that classes may be dismissed at 1:30 in the afternoon.

School busses, too, will run 30 minutes earlier.

School will run a week longer in May than it was scheduled to. This week in May will also help to make up the missed days.

Two days needed to be made up before the snow storm and the storm's seven days makes a total of nine that the local school was in arrears. However, the four Saturdays and the extra five-day week will balance out the missed days.

"We could let the school year run over into June and we wouldn't have to go to school on Saturdays," Willoughby says, "but who wants to go to school in June?"

Actually only two of the Saturdays will be spent in classes. On April 7, the district literary and track and field events will be held in Bovina and students will come to school on May 26 just long enough to pick up their report cards. May 26 will, of course, be the last day of school.

MAKE EVERY DAY THANKSGIVING DAY

Truly, there is abundance for all in this wonderful country called America. Who can deny God's goodness in a land of such plenty?

Why should only one day of the year be set aside for Thanksgiving? Here in March, when in only a few weeks another planting season approaches, and harvest time is a thing far away in the minds of everyone, we should still preserve the awareness of Thanksgiving.

Give thanks to God today—tomorrow—and EVERY day, for the blessings that he has bestowed upon you and your neighbors in this wonderful country.
