NEW HOME OF KARL'S—This steel structure is the new home of Karl's Auto Clinic in Farwell. Construction of the building was completed last week and the move from the old building to the new is to be done next week. The building is located behind the one now in use by Karl's.

Houston Lumber Closes in Texico

After operating for nearly 30 years, Houston Lumber Company closed its door in Texico this week.

E. M. Roop, manager for the past 13 years, is retiring and the present stock is being distributed among other Houston yards in the area, according to D. E. Maxwell, district manager.

One reason given by Maxwell for shutting down in Texico is that all trained personnel is tied up at other places at present, and no immediate replacement is available for Roop.

Also, Houston has a yard in Clovis and they feel that it is adequate to serve this area, according to Maxwell.

"We appreciate the fine business we have had in Texico, the people have been very loyal, and we invite our friends to do business with us in Clovis," Maxwell says.

OF ALL THINGS—LEWIS FINES COP

It was just another arrest, as state patrolmen brought a man into Sam Lewis' justice of the peace court Monday. He was charged with operating a vehicle without a driver's license.

Lewis proceeded to try the case and the defendant identified himself as a special police officer from El Paso, Texas. He had his badge and papers to prove it, Lewis says.

However, Lewis showed that he was in no way prejudiced, and fined the man $10 plus court costs, before letting him continue on his journey.

Gasoline Stolen From A. D. McDonald Farm

Last Wednesday afternoon when Mr. and Mrs. A. D. McDonald were in town, their farm was burglarized and 100 gallons of gasoline, some eggs and hens were reported stolen.

On returning from town, McDonald went to gather the eggs and discovered that there weren't any, and also that a water hydrant was running in the hen house.

McDonald started to investigate and found that 100 gallons of gasoline, which he had just purchased, had been drained from his tank and that his tractor had also been drained. Four feet of new garden hose had been cut off and was apparently used for a siphon hose.

The burglary was investigated by Jim Roberts, Parmer County deputy sheriff.

CONDITION IMPROVES

According to a report received here several days ago, Rev. Dewey Horton of Amarillo is recuperating at his home following major surgery performed at an Amarillo hospital several weeks ago. Friends say that he was still confined to bed at the time of the report, but that his condition was some improved.

School Taxes To Be Raised

A general raise in all school taxes is scheduled for the Farwell Independent School District, it was announced this week by the school board. The district's property, which is now valued at approximately $5 million, will be raised to $6 million.

The Board of Equalization for the school district will meet July 30 and 31 in the County Court Room from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. according to Wilfred Quickel, tax assessor-collector.

"The Board of Equalization will be happy to discuss this with any taxpayer on the above dates," Quickel says.

Several reasons have been attributed to the need for the general raise and all were discussed thoroughly at a school board meeting last week, says A. W. Gober, school board president.

Texico Court Decision Appealed By Pierce

A court decision, handed down by Judge V. G. Sullivan, in Texico's Municipal Court on July 3, has been appealed to district court by Defendant Lewis Pierce, according to May Hood, district court clerk.

The City of Texico charged that Pierce unlawfully dug a cesspool on his property in Texico and Judge Sullivan found the defendant guilty. Pierce, along with his attorney, Fred Boone of Portales, filed the appeal last week.

It is expected that the case will be on docket for district court within two weeks.

Two Showers Here Measure Half-Inch

The two showers that fell in Texico-Farwell Tuesday afternoon and last night measured one-half inch, according to a rain gauge at Roberts Seed Company.

Again, the rain was scattered and Texico-Farwell was at the edge, with most of the moisture being recorded farther west.

Baptist Revival To Begin Tomorrow

REV. BRUCE GILES

A revival at the First Baptist Church in Farwell gets underway tomorrow (Friday) and continues through Saturday, July 29, announces Rev. E. J. Keith, pastor.

Rev. Bruce Giles, pastor of the Flint Avenue Baptist Church in Lubbock, will be the evangelist. Rev. Giles is a former pastor of the First Baptist Church in Bovina.

The daily services begin with preaching at 10 a.m. Prayer meeting is at 8 p.m. and the evening preaching services get underway at 8:30.

Song leader for the revival will be Walter Hardage and pianist will be Mrs. Jack McManigal. There will also be a booster band at 8 p.m. led by Mrs. J. W. Patrick. Pianist for the booster band will be Mrs. S. S. Jobs.

Texico Farmers Begin Using New Natural Gas Line

Installation of the gas line southwest of Texico has been completed, announces Travis Binion, representative of B and R Construction Company, Lubbock.

Tests have been completed, a couple of leaks fixed, and farmers were scheduled to start using the line Tuesday, according to Binion. The completion of the project was delayed about a week, due to the failure of a pipe shipment to arrive.

The line is to benefit about 30 farmers in the Texico area. This is the culmination of two years of work on the part of members of the Texico Farmers Gas Line Association. A check with several of the farmers during the past week showed that they are all "rarin' to go," and this is something they have been looking forward to for some time.

In winding up the installations, Binion had considerable praise for the Texico group saying that "This is the best group of farmers I have ever worked with."

The group was most understanding about several delays, Binion said, and "A gas line is something they should have had a long time ago."

Absentee Voting To End Tuesday

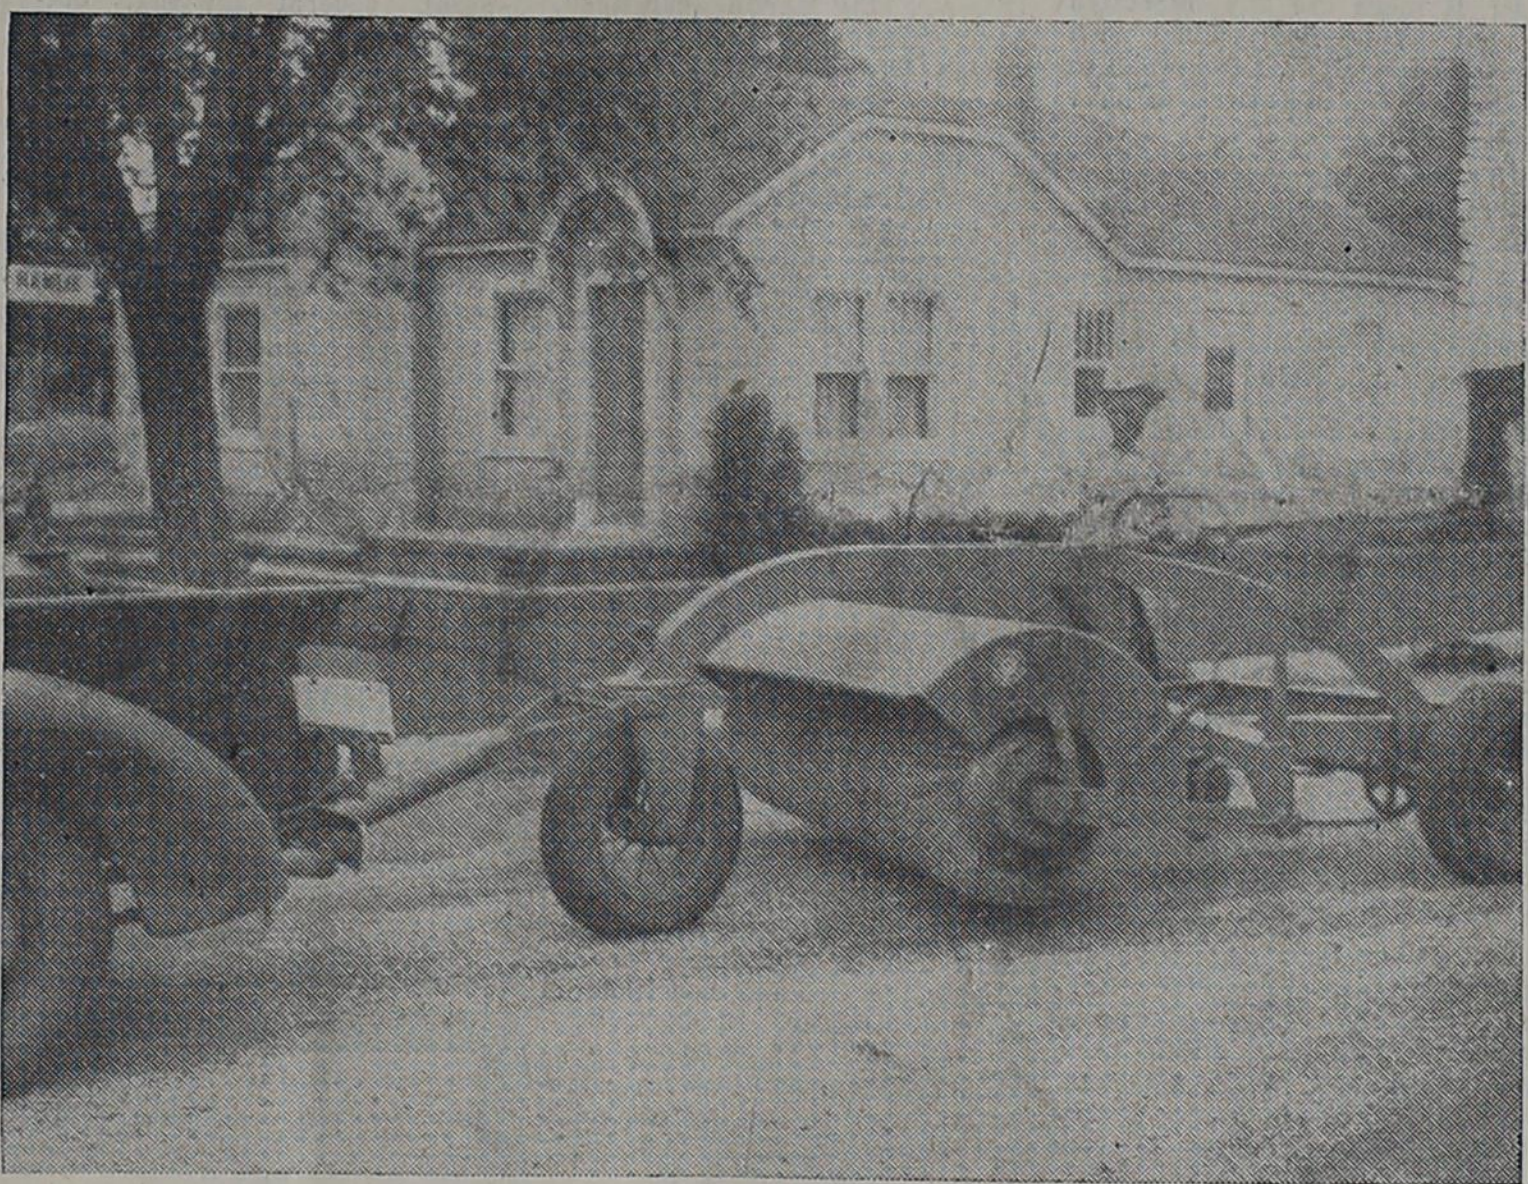

Absentee voting for the coming Democratic Primary election, July 28, will end Tuesday, July 24, says Hugh Moseley, Parmer County Clerk.

Through Tuesday of this week, 24 absentee ballots had been cast since voting started July 9, and Moseley considered this about average. Applications for absentee balloting may be obtained at the clerk's office.

Texico's tax rate is $.00225 (or 2 1/2 mills) of the total assessment value, according to Mrs. Autrey. (A mill is one-tenth of one cent).

It was pointed out that, according to the tax structure, five mills of the property value is the amount derived from taxes, but half of that total goes to the school district.

Present at the Tuesday meeting were Mayor Scotty Levins, Councilmen Judge Stone and Olan Schlueter, Mrs. Autrey, and a representative of the Santa Fe Railroad.

KING-SIZE BROOM—This is the new street sweeper recently purchased by the City of Texico. Russell Johnson, water and sewer superintendent, prepares to put the machine into operation Monday. The city purchased the sweeper from A. O. Poteet, paving contractor, and it comes in handy for keeping the loose gravel in the middle of some of Texico's "bleeding" streets.

Budget Approved for Texico

The City of Texico's budget for the present fiscal year was approved during a meeting Tuesday of city officials with Manuel R. Baca, budget specialist for the State of New Mexico. The fiscal year began July 1 and continues through June 30, 1957.

Total estimated expenditure for the present year is $59,328, according to Juanita Autrey, city clerk. This includes the general fund, $7,367; fire fund, $14,600; waterworks, $20,761; and street and paving fund, $15,000.

Of the total figure cash available is $37,328 and $2,020 will be raised from property taxes, Mrs. Autrey says.

Total assessed valuation of the property in Texico is $393,602. This is an increase over last year's, which was $385,671.99. However, this does not include the additional property, recently annexed by the city. Since this property was not added prior to January 1, it cannot be added in the assessment this year, Mrs. Autrey says.

George Heinemeir, Wilson, Texas, was the morning speaker and Rev. E. F. Schoenborn, Albany, Texas, spoke at the afternoon services.

Other activities during the day included Sunday school and Bible class, a dinner at noon, an evening meal, and the showing of the film, "Martin Luther," later in the evening.

A chicken feather is handy for brushing crumbs out of a pop-up toaster.

Good Crowd Attends Dedication Services

A good crowd was on hand for the dedication services of the new Parish Hall education wing annex of St. John's Lutheran Church at Lariat Sunday, says Rev. Gene Oesch, pastor.

Both morning and afternoon services, where out-of-town speakers were heard, had packed houses, according to Rev. Oesch. Rev.

Another teacher, Williams pointed out.

Other reasons necessitating the need for more taxes, as listed by the school board, include natural increases and increased maintenance and repairs to old buildings on the school ground. Also, during the past several years, debts have incurred on the operation of the school, and the board feels that they should be cleared up.

One is that increased enrollment has made it necessary to hire additional teachers, which will be paid for from local funds. The Farwell School just barely missed getting another teacher from state funds, according to Jack Williams, superintendent.

If 30 students had attended school one more day during the school year, Farwell would be eligible for

If only we can get some more rain, chances are good that we will have bumper-crops this year.

That's the consensus of opinion from farmers and elevator men of the area. At present, the irrigation farmers are having a hard time covering the ground as quickly as they should, and for the dryland farmers, good general rains are needed immediately if the crops are to survive.

Rains thus far this year have been pretty fair, but have been scattered. Nevertheless, they have been over a wide area and practically all spots in the Panhandle have received some rain.

The ground's surface has been so dry that the spotted rains are absorbed too quickly to be of the benefit that they should according to a grain dealer. That is why good general rain over the area now would be of utmost benefit.

As to which crops are in the best shape at the present stage, all seem to be excellent. Some seem to think that right now crops are the best they have ever been, while some consider them to be about equal to last year's.

More hot weather this year than was prevalent last year at this time, has caused the cotton to be in better shape. The early maize is considered better than that of last, but a few green bugs have been spotted.

One of the best looking crops in the area appears to be corn. A relatively new crop to the area, corn crops are exceptionally bright, according to the reports.

Practically all farmers are extremely optimistic about the coming crops and if moisture continues to fall, a bumper crop is almost a certainty.

Moisture total for Texico-Farwell has been approximately four inches since June 1, but it varies in different spots over the area. Some have reported more, while others less.

Pop Spurlin Home From Hospital

W. H. "Pop" Spurlin is convalescing at his home in Farwell this week after being released from the hospital in Clovis on Tuesday morning.

Spurlin was taken to the hospital on Monday night of last week and underwent an emergency appendectomy on Tuesday. His condition is reported as pretty good this week.

Escapes Injury in Saturday Mishap

Kenny Smith, young son of Mrs. Ann Smith, escaped serious injury late Saturday evening when he was involved in a bicycle-car collision near the Smith home in east Farwell.

Mrs. Smith reported Monday that besides being "shaken up," Kenny was getting along fine.

"Three Little Pigs" Booked at Theatre

An on the stage, in person booking of "The Three Little Pigs" has been announced by Scott Levins of the Border Theatre. The show will be at the local theatre at 10 o'clock Saturday morning.

The parts of the pigs will be played by midgets. In addition, a clown show will be presented. Only one show will be staged, says Levins.

HE Projects To Be Completed July 30

Mrs. L. B. Penick, Farwell home economics teacher, requests that all home economics girls who are working on summer projects have them completed before Monday, July 30.

Mrs. Penick will be at the home economics department from 9 to 11 a. m. on Wednesday, July 25, to assist those needing help in preparing their summer project reports.

SENSIBLE FENCE—"Good fences make good neighbors" the poet said, but good fences make good eating, too. At least, that's what the Felix Monroes have discovered. Here Mrs. Monroe shows a mess of Kentucky wonder beans she has picked from her unique back yard fence. It's an idea that gardeners who are hard-pressed for space might want to copy.

THE TRIBUNE'S EDITORIAL COMMENT

Why We Support Price Daniel for Governor

This newspaper supports the candidacy of Price Daniel, now junior United States senator, for governor of Texas.

We have read all the campaign literature that has come to our desk from the camps of the various candidates. We have examined whatever background material has been available in the newspapers and magazines, and have listened to radio addresses of all the important candidates. We have talked with our friends concerning the candidates in the gubernatorial race.

It is not necessary to go to great lengths to explain why we favor Daniel's candidacy, even though the ramifications of this campaign are many.

When the smoke clears away and the mud has been washed from the candidates, and the shouting has died down, the issues become clearly defined:

1. Price Daniel is the only candidate (with a chance to win) who believes that local government is better than federal government. . . that individual and state rights still mean something. . . that the Constitution of the United States, while establishing a union of the colonies, still preserved the freedoms of free enterprise and personal initiative for every individual.

2. Price Daniel is the only candidate who has thought himself worthy of the office he seeks on the basis of his own merits, and not the faults of others.

3. Price Daniel is the only candidate who has thus far even shown any inclination to analyze the peculiar problems of the grain sorghum farmers of the High Plains, and to seek more equitable application of farm laws in regard to this commodity.

In short, he's the only candidate The High Plains area can consider.

What Has Happened To Local Baseball Interest?

Several years ago, Farwell had an amateur baseball team. It was composed of baseball enthusiasts of the local area, and according to reports, Farwell had a reasonably good ball club.

At the time Farwell had such a ball club, numerous teams from near and far went together and formed two leagues. Several of the towns having entries in these leagues were Muleshoe, Portales, Friona, Dora, Elida, Clovis, Ft. Sumner, Big Square, Lazbuddie and Farwell.

While they were apparently well-balanced leagues, transportation was a problem to the local club due to the great distance to several of the towns. That, along with lack of interest on the part of businesses and local people, caused Farwell to give up baseball.

Since that time, the Central Plains League has been formed and it includes teams in this immediate area. Bovina and Friona, neighbors to the northeast, are members. It is a well-balanced league and much interest and support is predominant at most of the towns.

We would like to see some interest created locally. We are almost certain that Texico and Farwell together have enough amateur ball players to make up a good team, if they can get some local businesses and fans behind them.

Other than for high school age individuals, there is no recreation whatsoever in Texico-Farwell. While it's too late for this season, it's not too early to start thinking about getting started for next year.

According to what we have been told, organization of the Central Plains League was done in March. We are sure that Texico-Farwell could become a member. Now's the time to start thinking about it, if there are any people still interested in amateur baseball in Texico-Farwell.

So how about it? If there are any interested parties locally, why not get the ball rolling now. A little work and discussion is all that is needed to find out if it is feasible for Texico-Farwell to have amateur baseball next year.

The State Line Tribune will work to get the ball rolling among local businesses, and will donate a uniform to the team, if enough players are willing, and think such a team can be organized.

The husband was home this week as we fed the little one his vitamins. His remark was that "feeding vitamins to Hal is like supercharging a Thunderbird." We'll admit that he has enough energy to keep the Graham household in throes of disorder.

We drove up to Ruidoso a recent weekend so the children could have an outing. Mama and daddy enjoyed it too.

While there, we saw the Gene Coffmans, with Joyce dragging a spade behind her. She informed us that she never goes anywhere without her spade, striving always to find rocks or new plants to enhance her flower garden. From the blue ribbons she has won on her flower arrangements, she must do pretty well. And while driving down the street, some male poked his head out of a restaurant downtown and shouted "Get out of town." Before he ducked back into the place, we recognized Agrie Jones.

Betty Smart Reports Texas Girls' State

I would like to begin this article by thanking the following organizations and individuals for sponsoring my wonderful trip to Bluebonnet Girls' State: Texico-Farwell Lions Club, Texico-Farwell Fire Boys, ESA, Farwell High School, Justice Williams American Legion Auxiliary No. 516, and also Mrs. John Porter for her personal advice and help.

My parents took me to Amarillo June 6 where I met several other girls from the 18th district. We were all then taken to a restaurant and served a "get-acquainted" supper before boarding the train. The train pulled out of the station at 11:05 p. m. and arrived in Dallas at 7:10 a. m. June 7. Here two more cars were added to the train.

We arrived in Austin at 2 p. m. June 7 and were taken by taxi to the Texas School for the Blind where we registered and were assigned to our dorms and parties. Each dorm made up a city with two cities in each county.

We had the privilege of naming our own cities and counties Monday night after our first assembly. I was a voter of "Don't Sweat" in the county of "It" and also a member of the Nationalist party. The other city in the county was "Kill."

Each full day began with reveille at 7 a. m. followed by flag raising, exercises, and, of course, breakfast in which everyone was ready to participate.

Lights were supposed to be out at 11 p. m., but after assembly every night, we got to "raid the ice box" if there was anything left from the delicious meals which we were served every day. This was followed by a devotional before we retired. One can imagine when the lights finally went out! Speakers for the session included Governor Shivers, the Attorney General, several lawyers, outstanding women in the government, and many others. We heard at least two speakers each day, but one of the most outstanding to me was Mr. Allen, superintendent of the School for the Blind for 20 years. Mr. Allen, who is blind, wrote the first Alma Mater for the school on this anniversary year, and we were the first to hear it.

Friday and Saturday we studied city, county and state government, elected city officials in which I was elected city treasurer, and organized the Senate and House of Representatives.

During these meetings, we had the privilege of passing bills, resolutions and making amendments to the constitution of Texas. We entered into the discussions just as our Senators and Representatives do. Sunday there were Catholic and Protestant worship services held. Three hundred and sixty five girls actually held up traffic as they walked across the street to the services. That night we heard speakers from Protestant, Catholic and Jewish faiths.

Monday the primary party elections were held, and Tuesday was the big day, for on this day, both county and state officers were elected. Sherry Stewart from Wichita Falls was elected governor.

Wednesday was also an exciting day. We loaded ten chartered buses and were taken to the governor's mansion where we enjoyed a short tour.

We then went to the Capitol and convened in the House of Representatives. Continued on Page 9

Agrie Joneses Home From Vacation Tour

Mr. and Mrs. Agrie Jones returned home Monday night from a vacation trip which Jones states was "the backward type". Jones says most people take off in the summer to find a cool spot for their vacations, but that he and Mrs. Jones went to the hotter part of Texas for their vacation and are now really enjoying the "cool Plains".

Last Wednesday the Joneses left home with no plans in mind except to "loaf along" and enjoy themselves. They planned each day when that day arrived and then drove until they were tired, then stopped. While on their tour, they visited Austin, Galveston, Houston, Shreveport, Dallas and Fort Worth.

Jones says that the hottest day they spent was Monday when they were traveling from Fort Worth to Texico, and adds that a vacation in that part of the country really makes one appreciate the summer climate of "the home place."

Good Milling Quality Wheat Pays Dividends to Growers

The 1956 wheat harvest has ground to a stop on the High Plains and for the most part, caring for sorghum, cotton, and other crops occupies the minds of most farmers.

However, as purchase, or arrangement for purchase of seed wheat for next year, and other plans for 1957 production are being made now or soon will be started, it's a good idea to bring up the subject of wheat plenty early.

The quest for quality in wheat is felt all the way from the field to the counter of the retail bakers, and the demand for better grades grows with each passing year.

Up until now, points out Agent Jones, Parmer County wheat producers have been able to produce an over-all crop that has been acceptable with the wheat industry.

However, there is room for improvement, he says, and it is emphasized that if any change in quality is made, it should be for better and not for worse.

Buyers of wheat actually keep up to date on prevalent varieties grown in different areas, and will know, for instance, what type wheat will be in a given elevator in a given community.

There are a number of varieties of wheat that are recommended as being both well adapted to the soils and climate of the High Plains, and the needs of the milling trade.

Four of the more prominent ones are Comanche, Triumph, Wichita, and Westar.

COMANCHE—A white chaff, bearded, mid-season variety possessing fairly strong straw and producing grain of a good test weight. It is resistant to the races of bunt present in the Panhandle and to some races of leaf rust.

Comanche has about the same maturity as Westar. Comanche's excellent milling and baking characteristics have made it popular with millers and bakers.

TRIUMPH—An early, bearded, white-glumed, short, moderately stiff-strawed, wheat. Susceptible to most common diseases such as leaf rust, bunt, and stem rust, but appears to have some resistance to loose smut.

Triumph is an excellent variety for family type flour because of its mellow gluten. For bakery type flour, it frequently lacks sufficient strength to be classified as excellent.

WICHITA—Bearded variety with white glumes. Slightly better straw than Early Blackhull, but not as strong as Comanche and Westar. Excellent test weight, good yielding ability. Early maturing.

Wichita is a good quality wheat, but does not possess dough stability and tolerance to mixing as does Comanche.

WESTAR—White chaff, bearded variety of high yield, high test weight, good milling and baking characteristics, and resistant to some races of leaf rust. Susceptible to stem rust. Matures about same as Comanche. Has strong staw and stands well for combine harvesting. Equal in winter hardiness to Comanche and Wichita.

TENMARQ—Bearded, fair straw, and plump kernels. Some resistance to leaf rust. Susceptible to Hessian Fly. Low test weight.

Generally a lower yield, and matures in from two to three days later than Comanche.

Excellent baking quality, however, having a strong gluten suitable for bakers' type flour.

TURKEY—Bearded, white chaff. Susceptible to common diseases, but adapted to winter wheat area.

Recommended for Texas High Plains. Turkey wheat is famous for outstanding quality, and has long been the standard of perfection for hard red winter wheats.

A drillbox survey taken in Parmer, Deaf Smith, and Sherman Counties last year indicates that area farmers are considerably above average in purity of wheat that they plant.

For example, 96.66 percent of the Parmer County wheat growers were listed as having planted pure seed. That compares with 96.37 percent in Deaf Smith, and 95.52 in Sherman.

(Sherman County is in the northern Texas Panhandle and is an important wheat producing area in Texas.)

The percentage of Parmer County farmers planting treated seed (which they produced) was 94 percent. This compares with 69 percent for Deaf Smith, and 59 percent for Sherman.

Out of 29 survey checks in Parmer County, two growers were listed as planters of certified seed, and five of them had their seed tested for germination.

In Deaf Smith County, 50 growers were checked, and none were found to be planting certified seed. Ten of them had their seed tested for germination.

Sherman County growers of certified seed numbered three out of 46, and eight had their seed tested.

Nearly 100 per cent of the oil derived from cottonseed is used in food products.

Eight Varieties Are Undesirable
In Milling Quality

Eight varieties of wheat will be discounted 20 cents per bushel by the USDA under its loan support program this year, announces the county ASC office this week.

These varieties were placed on the list of less desirable grains by the Department last year to encourage the production of wheat which is of better milling quality.

The varieties in which Parmer County will be interested are Red Chief, Red Jacket, Kanking, Chiefkan, Early Blackhull, New Chief, Yogo, and Blue Jacket.

Did you ever hear of putting flower seed in the refrigerator before planting? We hadn't until lately. On a packet of flower seed which Ruth Houser purchased recently there was a notation printed on it which read, "For best results, refrigerate before planting."

Since flower growing isn't one of our accomplishments, we really need to know any and all short cuts to raising any kind. We have always thought that some persons just were not born with the proverbial "green thumb." However, it may be that we have just never put forth enough effort.

Last summer we had squash all summer and never saw a squash bug. We enjoyed it so much and complained no end about having

ATTENTION HOUSEWIVES

Neighbors, today there are more modern homes that have septic tanks than ever before in the history of our nation. There has been no consideration given to the public for the treatment and care of septic tanks and grease traps.

We are all concerned with where the dangerous polio virus might be existing. According to medical science and bacteriology, as long as we have proper bacteria reactions in our everyday life, plants and treatment of sewage, healthy and sanitary conditions will be maintained.

Anaerobicul, produced by Capitol Sanitation Company of Austin, Texas, is now on the market and available to the public and cities for the treatment of sewage disposal. Capitol Sanitation laboratories have been serving cities throughout the United States with these products, and their technicians are ever searching for a condition that our product could not handle.

Today we can say that we have been able to take care of most all of the problems of the treatment of septic tanks, city sewage lines and disposal plants for seventeen years.

The septic tank is a device utilizing the theory of anaerobic digestion just as our large municipal sewage treatment plants practice, however the septic tank is more subject to upsets due to the fact that the waste is from one household or establishment and not a mixture of wastes that may tend to counteract each other, becoming balanced by the time it reaches the city plant. In the septic tank an extra amount of bleaching material, strong acids, or alkalis may kill off certain strains of bacteria, and promote the growth of others, causing the contents to become out of balance and they cannot do their job (decompose the organic matter).

Grease (fats) are more difficult to break down than the bulk of waste entering the septic tank, fat splitting bacteria get behind with their work, and the result is an accumulation of the grease floating on the top and reducing the digestion capacity of the tank. This grease will work out into the

ANAEROBICUL

These bacteria are blended into proper food mediums to sustain them, and also to furnish quick available food as soon as they become moist or wet.

our county govern-flow water ran onto it. Not until after frost did we learn that the dampness of the ground had anything to do with controlling squash bugs.

Bessie Rolon, our neighbor on the east, is a very good gardener.
One day late in the summer we were telling her how much we had enjoyed the squash and how much we didn't like wading the mud to get it. Then she informed us that had it not been for the mud the squash bugs would have taken the squash vines.

For those of you who enjoy outdoor cooking, we are printing below a recipe for campfire stew which was served at the last Girl Scout camp out we attended.

It is simple to prepare and very delicious and would really be good to serve as a one dish dinner.

Ingredients: 1 pound ground beef, vegetable soup, salad oil and onions. Brown one medium size onion in salad oil, add ground beef and brown well. Then add one can of vegetable soup and simmer until well cooked. This should make enough for three servings.

How many of you have attachments for your machines which you have never tried to use? Very often we hear someone say "I have several attachments for my new machine that I do not know what to do with."

All of them are designed for a specific purpose and most of them are simple to use once you learn how to use them.

Total energy requirements for

If it will be possible for us to obtain the readings which he mentions, and get them listed by these new wells in the county, this would make interesting reading, we think.
We'll try.

When it comes to irrigating from a river, there definitely is a limit to the development. We have mentioned this to bring up the illustration of the lower Rio Grande Valley.

Many farmers in our country,
a little taste of irrigating cotton have decided that a 40-acre farm in the deep Rio Grande country would be paradise indeed.
They could grow long-staple cotton without a worry about freezing, and just drain the water from the river whenever they want to irrigate—is some of the local thinking.

Well, fellas, it isn't quite as rosy as that. Ask a few of your neighbors who have tried it out.

In last week's Mission Times, a newspaper which we take on an exchange basis, we notice that the lead story's headlines read something like this: "Mission's Water Supply To Be Cut Off Saturday."

That means that not only had water for agricultural purposes been depleted, but that even drinking water was playing out. And that was in spite of the big Falcon Dam which was built across the Rio Grande last year, and was supposed to end droughts in the lower part of the valley!

From the time that the snows
melt high in the New Mexico Rockies, men start sipping away at the stream which made the Southwest famous. Down through central New Mexico they siphon its water away time and again, until by the time it reaches El Paso, it is hardly a "Rio Grande."

Then, as the once mighty river snakes its way through the Big Bend Country of Texas, it holds its own in size until it straightens out over an irrigable area, and men once again begin to tap its strength.

By the time it reaches Laredo, it usually is reduced to a trickle. In fact, much of the time it doesn't even flow there. Hardly any water now finds its way to the Gulf of Mexico—it is used up by cities, industry, and agriculture.

In fact, we understand that the folks of that part of the country are worrying about ways to keep salt water from the Gulf from backing up and ruining farm lands.
There isn't enough fresh water from the Rio Grande to keep out this briny intrusion.

The Rio Grande is the river of life to the Central Southwest, but it has about been bled to death.
And as the river fails, then men resort to wells drilled into the sands it feeds beneath it, which in effect is reducing the supply even further.

It's a sad story, and one that we ought to be mindful of.

One refining terminal receives about 180,000 barrels of crude oil every day. If these barrels were lined up side by side the row would be 68 miles long.

Saturday was a happy and yet sad day. There wasn't even the mad scramble to the "mail man!" After our final assembly Saturday morning, we all parted with pictures taken during the session as a record of the 360 girls singing, and the memory always in our hearts of all the wonderful girls we met and the fun we had while we learned more about our government in those few days than we would have in a whole year of reading about it.

In closing, I would like to add that during the whole session of Girls' State, every speaker stressed the fact that our county government is very weak. Everyone is encouraged to pay their poll tax and vote—to help strengthen the state and national governments besides being a boost to county governments.

Pony League Team Has 5-0 Record

Going into today's game with Friona, Texico-Farwell's Pony League team remained undefeated with a 5-0 record. The locals have won four games in the Parmer County League and yesterday took a 14-2 decision from an Elida team.

The second half of the season got underway last Thursday and the Texico-Farwell squad was scheduled to meet Bovina. However, Bovina forfeited the game due to the lack of players.

Coaches Calvin Murray and Curtis Miller take their squad to Friona today (Thursday) for a second encounter with Friona's entry in the league. The last time the two teams met, the locals won out on the home field, 5-1.

A win today could give Texico-Farwell the title in the league, according to Murray. Complete records of the other league teams are not known, but Murray thinks that each team has lost at least two games. Aside from today's game, the locals have only one game left, that being with Lazbuddie, on the Farwell field, next Thursday.

In yesterday's game with Elida, the locals were in command all the way, with Larry Powell handling the pitching duties.

Little League Teams Lose to Lazbuddie

During the past week, both Texico-Farwell Little League teams were defeated by the Lazbuddie Red Sox in Parmer County League games. Last Tuesday, the Pirates dropped their first decision of the season to the Lazbuddie squad, 15-6.

On Friday, the Yankees, Texico-Farwell's second entry in the league, lost to the same team, 15-10. In both games, the local teams were short handed due to players being on vacation and at camp, says Curtis Miller and Calvin Murray, coaches.

After the losses, the Pirates record now stands at 5-1 and the Yankees, 4-2. The two local teams were scheduled to play each other here Tuesday, but the tilt was rained out. The game will be made up at a later date.

The local squads play again tomorrow (Friday) when the Lazbuddie Dodgers come here to meet the Pirates and a Bovina team plays the Yankees. The double-header is scheduled to start at 3:30 p. m.

The season ends on July 27 and the top four teams in the six-team league are to participate in a Shaughnessy playoff. The sites and pairings of the games will be determined at a meeting of the league officials at the close of the season, according to the local coaches.

Fine Fur From Wildcat Wells

One more "miracle" has been added to the long list of petroleum-derived wonder fibers — "Darlan." Chemically different from any fabric now on the market, the fiber can be adapted for almost every type of clothing, such as sweaters, and knit goods, dresses, coats, and suits. The fiber has been introduced to the market in women's fur-fabric coats as luxurious as any mink. "Darlan," a chemical made from petroleum, has been on textile industry designing boards since before World War I, but it has never been produced successfully until now. Providing raw materials for practical attractive, economical wearing apparel is just one of the hundreds of jobs petroleum does for the American consumer.

The first railway built in the U. S. was from the granite quarries at Quincy, Mass., to tide-water, a length of 5 miles. It was begun in 1826 and completed in 1827.
