

FROM THE HOPPER

M. F. Parton was about the proudest man we have seen lately when he examined the yield of his crop of sweet potatoes. But it was a different story when he began to dig some for the local market.

To his dismay, he discovered that the tubers were entirely too deep to be dug with a plow and now he is faced with the task of gouging out the full acre of 'taters with a shovel.

Corky Cain, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Cain, has been insisting that he was "tough enough and big enough" to play football. But his fond parents have always ruled differently.

A few weeks ago he and his father were involved in an automobile accident. Fortunately, Corky escaped unhurt, while his father was not so fortunate. Since that time, Corky has argued that "anybody that can go through an automobile accident and not get hurt ought to be able to play football."

If you will stop to consider, Texico-Farwell has been making some industrial progress in recent years after a long period of inactivity along these lines.

The most recent advancements are the Farwell Hog & Cattle Co. and the Texico Produce Co., which offers a fairly good payroll to local people.

Previously, the Roberts Seed Co. began operation of a feed mill and cube-processing plant, which also carries a good number of employees.

The Farwell Hog & Cattle Co. is still in the process of completing its large feeding plant just south of town. At least 2200 head of cattle will be kept on full feed when the plant reaches its full stride. A large crew of workmen are employed and a good market is offered feed growers of this area.

Still in the process of development the Texico Poultry Co. expects to be producing at least 5,000 frying-size chickens each week when full production figures are reached. Employment for some dozen local people is being afforded.

For the past several years, the cube-processing plant at the Roberts Seed Co. has afforded employment to a good sized payroll, and has been one of the mainstays in affording local jobs.

Conceived on the idea that "what Texico-Farwell makes, makes Texico-Farwell", these concerns are taking the lead in industrial progress. More firms, conceived on the same principle, are needed here.

Why not a few certified seed-growing farms in this region? That is something that needs to be developed. Presently, most of the certified seed is grown in Arizona.

Or how about a small packing plant to process locally grown hogs and cattle? A plant for processing black-strap molasses to be used in cattle feeds might be worth considering.

Towns don't "just grow"—they are built, and nothing helps to build a town more than a good, healthy payroll.

Highway Crew Here To Complete Paving

A maintenance crew of the New Mexico Highway Department moved in over the past weekend and began work on closing the 500 foot gap along Garwood Avenue in Texico between the dead end of the pavement and Wheeler Street.

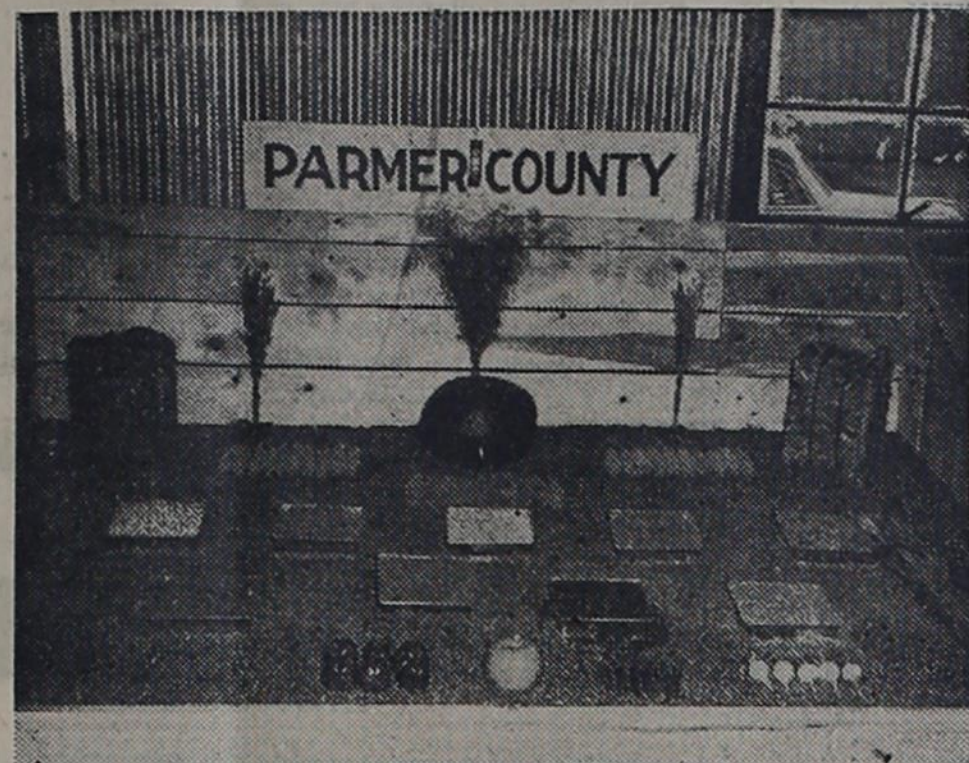

The grade was completed Tuesday afternoon and caliche base material will be brought in and applied before the finish application of ground caliche and black-topping is put on. Workmen on the job said they expected to complete the work in the next few days.

Dirt for the grade was ripped up from the old railroad bed built shortly after the turn of the century on the line that formerly ran from Texico directly southwest to Portales. That piece of railroad was abandoned years ago when the Santa Fe ripped up the tracks.

Business men in Texico indicated this week that an effort would be made to get Garwood paved from curb to curb along the first block south of Wheeler Street.

The pavement, laid last year by the New Mexico Highway Department, extending seven miles south along the Texas-New Mexico state line road, came to an abrupt end 1500 feet south of its objective when an argument over right of way developed.

WINNER AT COUNTY FAIR

First place winner was the Parmer County booth, shown above, at the Curry County Fair in Clovis last week. The exhibit garnered first place in the county booth division and won a cash premium of $30. The Curry County booth placed second.

Equalization Board Hears Little Fuss

The equalization board of the Farwell school district, meeting last Thursday at the courthouse for the purpose of hearing questions and complaints regarding a proposed tax increase within the district, received few complaints, according to Clyde Magness, member of the board.

"We had a number of people on hand, to hear an explanation of the increases," Magness said this week, adding that in general, little opposition to the hike was voiced after the explanations had been made.

As to what increase residents of the district may expect, Magness said that the rise will come from assessment of increased valuations, necessitated by the bond issue approved by the school district for construction of a new high school.

Irrigation wells and other farm improvement, plus natural improvement came up for a re-valuation, and in general, Magness pointed out, the rise will be about 14 per cent. As to how long such an increase would have to be maintained, Magness declined to guess, pointing out only that increased natural valuation in the district would lead to subsequent lowering of the tax rate.

With the bond issue's recent approval for construction, the district was put in the position of being forced to re-assess valuations, in order that a $3½ million valuation could be reported for this district, as compared with the former $2,800,000 valuation, he explained.

With the consolidation of portions of the West Camp and Oklahoma Lane school district within the Farwell area, the district now has an approximate acreage of 117,261 acres, with some 120 irrigation wells and 201 farm homes, figures reveal.

Many Chickens Being Processed Here Now

The Texico Produce Company, owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. John Getz, is beginning to hit its full production stride this week with receipt of 3727 frying Northwester chickens being received from Grosebeck, Texas, early this week.

Metz said that he planned to process at least 5000 birds each week when the plant reaches full production. Currently, the production has been curtailed by inability to get full sized birds, Getz said.

He launched a campaign this week to induce more local people to grow off the birds from baby-chick size to desirable fryers, and desires to contact persons who are interested in this kind of program. About ten weeks are required to develop the birds, he said.

Manned by a crew of ten women and two men, birds are being processed at the rate of about 50 per hour, when a Tribune reporter visited the plant early this week. The poultry is taken immediately to dealers all over New Mexico, with Albuquerque and Roswell furnishing the best market.

Getz said this week that he planned to handle regular fryers and farm eggs from local producers as soon as he could get all details worked out. Right now, he said, he is primarily interested in getting more of the Northwester pheasant-chicken type grown locally.

FATHER IMPROVED

Mrs. Jim Moore has returned from Hale Center, where she had been at the bedside of her father, Jack Smith, for several days. She reported that the elderly Mr. Smith is showing some improvement.

Pentecostal Revival Opens On Sunday

The United Pentecostal Church of Texico announces a revival to begin on Sunday, Sept. 30, at the tabernacle located two blocks north of the Houston Lumber Co. in Texico.

Rev. Jerry Osborn, of Glen Rose, Texas, will be here to do the preaching each night, it is announced by Rev. C. A. Hatcher, pastor of the local congregation.

In extending an invitation to the public to attend the services at 8 each evening, Rev. Hatcher said, "Come hear the man of God expound the truths of God's Holy Word in its fullness." The services will be featured by gospel singing.

Farwell Exes Plan Second Annual Homecoming Fete

Officers and committee members of Farwell Ex-Student association began preliminary plans for the second annual homecoming at Farwell schools when they held a special meeting Friday night in the home of Robert Anderson, president of the association.

Attending the meeting were Peggy Schleuter, Mrs. Tom Foster, Iris Thornton, Ruby Meeks, Glenn Phillips, and Anderson.

Tentative date for the homecoming celebration has been set for November 24, or during the Thanksgiving holidays. Reason for this date is to enable college students and other out-of-towners to attend the social during the Thanksgiving vacation period, Anderson says.

Contact committee members were appointed to see Farwell exes in various communities, the prexy added. Committee members from various near-by towns are Mrs. Charles Felts, Lariat; Bessie Barnett, Clovis; Jenean Gable, Muleshoe; Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Henneman, Hereford; Abie Crume, Friona; and Mrs. Penny Anderson, Bovina. Representatives will also be selected for other towns, it was pointed out.

Glenn Phillips is chairman of the correspondence committee, and will be assisted by Mrs. Foster, Miss Schleuter, Miss Thornton, Wilma Austin and Wendell Christian.

"We will have a special entertainment, though the plans have not been completed," says Anderson. Committee members discussed both a barbecue and a banquet, which have been held on previous occasions. Any local organization wishing to handle the homecoming feed is asked to contact Anderson in the near future. Entertainment is also in the planning stage, though the association president states that local talent will probably be used.

Secretary of the group is Ruby Meeks, who says that over 600 ex-students now appear on her list of members. "Anyone knowing of exes not included are invited to contact me," she emphasized.

One hundred and seventy five exes were in attendance at the first gala homecoming last year, which was highlighted by an informal barbecue. The 1945 group had the largest number of exes present and all classes were represented with the exception of the 1924, 1927, 1929 and 1940 graduating classes.

Full list of officers for the association includes Anderson, president; A. C. Henneman, vice president; and Mrs. Meeks, secretary.

Mrs. Alvenia Cox is back on duty in the local sheriff's office, having returned last Wednesday from Truth or Consequences, N.M., where she and her husband had spent three weeks vacationing.

Fields Hospitalized After Fall, Friday

Kenneth Fields, principal of the Farwell grade school, was hospitalized at Clovis Memorial on Friday, following a fall at the school.

Fields was doing some repair work on one of the basketball goals in the school gymnasium when the supports gave way and the large box goal fell, striking him and knocking him unconscious.

The instructor was unconscious for several hours after the accident, but other than shock and bruises, was not injured. He was dismissed from the hospital on Tuesday of this week and returned to short shifts of duty at the school on Wednesday.

Mrs. Park Buried In Clovis On Monday

Final rites for Mrs. Alice Henrietta Park, 91, were held at Steed Memorial Chapel in Clovis on Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, with Rev. Lance Hurst, pastor of the Hamlin Memorial Methodist Church, of this city, in charge. Interment was made in Mission Garden of Memories, in Clovis.

Mrs. Park passed away in an Amarillo hospital on Friday night, following her admission there several days before. The elderly lady fell at the home of her son, F. J. Park, in Farwell, on Saturday and sustained a broken hip. On Tuesday she was reported suffering from pneumonia, and later reports from the attending physician that she had probably sustained a light stroke which caused her to fall and resulted in partial paralysis.

Born on July 14, 1860, the deceased was married to Chester Roland Park in 1897 at Oswego, Kansas. The couple moved to Indian Territory, now Oklahoma, in 1888, and later moved to Texico, where Mrs. Park had resided for 38 years. She was preceded in death by her husband and one child, Byron.

Surviving children are four sons and one daughter; Carl, of Amarillo; F. J. of this city; Ralph of Downey, Calif.; H. I. Park of Ft. Sheridan, Wyo.; and Mrs. Isabelle Baysinger, of Whittier, Calif. One brother, Herbert Park, of Fort Sumner, also survives.

Twelve grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren also survive.

Pallbearers at the funeral were Truman Doolittle, Riley Boss, Hamlin Overstreet, Claude Rose, John Aldridge, and Ralph Humble.

Out-of-town relatives attending the funeral included Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Park and family of Fort Sumner; Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Dunlap and family, of Quay, N. M.; Chester Park and son, Ross Allen, of Amarillo; Mrs. Ivy Baysinger, of Whittier, Calif.; and Carl C. Park, of Amarillo.

Conservation Program Will Be Tailored To Fit Individual Farm

Stress on conservation measures to fit individual farms will be the highlight of the 1952 Agricultural Conservation Program, according to a recent release received by Joe Camp, local PMA head, from B. F. Vance, chairman of the state PMA committee.

The 1952 program, Camp reports, is to be worked out for each individual farm, with particular emphasis being laid on the conservation measures which would give the most benefit for that particular farm. In other words, each cooperating farmer is to be contacted, his farm given a check-over and he will then select those conservation practices most urgently needed.

Camp said further that while technical advice is available from a number of government agencies, including the SCS in this county, it is up to each farmer to decide what conservation operations will be carried out each year and urged that they use all the advice at their command in developing their 1952 programs.

Chairman Vance explains that the new stress on "tailor made" programs is possible "because of the soil and water conservation accomplished during the past 15 years."

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Booth were in Lubbock the past Saturday, attending the Tech-WT football game.

"It's the only business of its kind in the whole state of Texas—and maybe in the nation."

That was the way John S. Potts, aged Bovina resident and one-time county official, sized up the situation when questioned about his domino parlor in Bovina. And Potts may be right.

Several years ago, Potts opened a six-table domino parlor along the main street in Bovina, and since the opening day the place of business has never had an attendant.

In a small building, where in cold weather the combination of pipe, cigar and cigarette smoke is almost stifling, the little business takes care of itself the year 'round. Equipped with modern facilities, including toilet, air-conditioner, electric lights, and gas heat and spittoons, the self-operated parlor does a satisfactory business and yields a neat return to its owner.

When the business was opened, Potts nailed a small box on the wall, cut a slit in it and attached a small lock. It is the responsibility of the players to keep account of the number of games they have played and deposit a nickel a game in the box at the conclusion of their past-time.

"I've had very few cheaters through the years," Potts reports.

The only attention he ever gives the business is to see that it is swept out daily and a fresh supply of crayon put out for his customers to keep their score.

Oddly enough, Potts says when times are hard his business increases. With weather conditions—which includes dry weather, wet weather, cold weather and hot weather—nearly farmers gather at the parlor to pass the time away and enjoy a few games of dominoes as well as a visit with their neighbors.

Asked about the proceeds of the business, Potts admitted that it had not been as good since a pool hall was opened in the city. But even now the business returns a nice profit. "A whole lot more than I could rent the building for," he said.

To conclude a typical hard day's work, the ingenious owner ambles down to his establishment, unlocks the box, and pockets the returns. Then he closes shop.

Welfare Board Will Consider Tharp Offer Soon

Members of the State Welfare Board of New Mexico have announced that their next meeting will be held in Clovis on October 29th, at which time the board is to work with N. L. Tharp, of this city, on his proposal to turn the Tharp farm and ranch property into a home for the state's needy aged.

Tharp met with members of the board in Santa Fe last week to consider preliminary plans for the project, and the meeting next month in Clovis is to continue plans, according to State Welfare Director Alva A. Simpson.

Simpson, who recently visited the Tharp establishment, is reported enthusiastic about the prospects of working out the donors' plans, and said that after the home is completed the board expects to enter into a contract with the N. L. Tharp Foundation, a non-profit organization, for operation of the home.

Mr. and Mrs. Tharp recently offered the 5,440-acre property, valued at between $750,000 and $1,000,000 for such purposes. Assisting Tharp in the organization of the Foundation are Wesley Quinn, A. W. Skarda, Otto Smith and Cash Ramey, all of Clovis.

When complete, the benevolent institution will be the only one of its kind in New Mexico to be privately endowed, and will prove a refuge for many completely indigent or financially crippled aged people.

Three Texico Boys Join Air Force

Three young men from Texico last week volunteered for service with the Army Air Force, and are currently stationed at Lackland Field, at San Antonio.

W. O. Reid, 1951 graduate of the Texico school, and son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Reid, of Texico; and Billy James and R. V. Goldsmith, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Goldsmith, are the new recruits in the service.

Saturday, September 29th, is voting day over Parmer County, when resident owners of tax-rendered property in the county will cast ballots in local option elections to determine whether each voting district shall become a part of High Plains, Underwater District No. 1.

Relative to the pending election, a special meeting was held by interested residents in Bovina on Monday night of this week. Bedford Caldwell, of Bovina, had charge of arranging the meeting, which was in turn handled by W. L. Edelman of Friona.

County Attorney Sam Aldridge, who is familiar with the provisions of the conservation legislation, explained the law concerning formation of the districts, and Jess Osborn, temporary director of Precinct 3 (embracing Parmer county), along with John McFarland, temporary director of the Hereford precinct, were on hand to answer questions.

On Saturday, voters will decide if they want to be in a district; will name a precinct director; and will decide about giving directors authority to levy a tax not to exceed 5c per $100 valuation. There will be three two-box polls in the county, at the Friona and Bovina American Legion Halls, and at the courthouse in Farwell. In these cases, residents of the incorporated towns and residents outside city limits will vote in separate boxes.

The single-box voting place, according to announcement made here, will be at the Lazbuddy school.

Residents within the boundaries of the proposed district are eligible to vote if they have paid taxes. Voting will embrace all of four counties and parts of 17 others, with the district consisting of all or any part of that area, depending upon the number of boxes which return a majority in favor of the district.

Boundaries of the conservation district are determined by those of the underground water reservoir, as defined by the State Board of Water Engineers.

Local Options Good

Since local option is allowed, only those voting places balloting in favor of the district will be parts of it, while a city or the portion of a county outside a town or towns may be in or out of the district depending on the way the voting goes.

Primarily, such water conservation districts are proposed to keep control—if it should ever become necessary—of irrigation water "at home". A trend toward federal control of underground water has gained much momentum, sponsors of the conservation movement point out, and cite this as another reason why the district should be approved to fix management of a conservation program at the local level.

As to that tax business, temporary directors (all of whom are irrigation farmers), have stated that a rate of from 2½c to 3c per $100 will be sufficient. The tax will be on renditions on the county rolls, and will be assessed and collected in the manner of regular taxes.

Purposes of the district are: to prevent waste of water and assure its beneficial use; to recognize individual ownership of underground water; to make a systematic search for a practical method of recharging the underground reservoir; to place in the hands of local people regulations to prevent waste, rather than giving such control to state or federal agencies.

If the district is approved, it will have no authority over wells used exclusively for domestic and stock raising purposes, or over those which cannot produce more than 100,000 gallons daily. Owners of non-irrigated land voted into the district will have their property excluded from taxes and rights of cities to acquire land for expansion of water supplies will not be affected.

Two Local Boys Get Army Promotions

Two local boys, Billy J. Johnson and Billy Christian, who are serving in the Far East command in the combat medics and stationed in Japan, have recently been promoted to corporal, it has been learned here.

Billy Johnson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Johnson of Texico, while Billy Christian is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rochelle Christian of Oklahoma Lane.

The boys have been together since leaving last October 23rd with but one exception, when Christian was sent overseas a few days in advance of Johnson. When the latter arrived at his overseas station and was assigned to a tent, he found his hometown buddy, Christian, waiting.

Steers Take 41-19 Defeat At Hands Of Vega Longhorns On Friday Night

The Farwell Steers took their second defeat in a row, Friday night of last week, when Vega's Longhorns removed a ground powerhouse attack to outscore the locals, 41-19.

Vega moved to the forefront in a hurry as the game got underway in a brisk north wind, capitalizing on a Farwell fumble to recover the ball and score within a few seconds of the opening kickoff. The Steers retaliated, however, and got their own first touchdown shortly afterward, but the try for extra point via conversion kick was blocked.

In fact, the game continued fairly close during the initial half, with Vega having only two extra points for a lead as the teams took a breather. It was during the last rounds that the Longhorns got up steam and consistently racked up mileage that got them where they were headed.

Dillehay and Price, alternating quarterbacks, along with Jones, halfback, did the heavy part of the work for the winners. Pike Jordan was particularly effective for the Longhorns, being assisted by Norton, Raney and Barber, the latter being put out of action in the second quarter by an injury.

The Steers racked up a total of 47 yards via air and got only 125 on the ground, while the Longhorns totaled 247 on the ground drives as against only 28 by passing. In the first-down department, the Steers actually had the best of it, eight compared to six, but they had only three penetrations as against Vega's five.

Three of Farwell's six passes clicked as Vega got only one successful drive out of four tries. In penalties, the locals lost 45; Vega was fined 25.

First Quarter

Getting the kickoff, the Steers lost ground in the opening seconds as Norton received the ball deep in his own territory and could get back only to the 13. A 5-yard penalty set them back to the 8, and after a one-yard gain the ball was fumbled, with Vega taking over on the Farwell 3. Dillehay quickly scored, plunging through for a counter, and Davidson received a perfect toss for the extra counter. Score, 7-0.

Vega booted, with Coburn returning the pigskin to the Farwell 38; Jordan plunged through to midfield; Raney got nothing, but Carpenter found an opening to reach the Longhorn 38. Jordan again carried, hitting the 35, and then followed with a right-end circle maneuver for a first down. Trying again, he split the middle of the line only to be downed one yard short of the goal line, and the touchdown honor went to Norton. Farwell's try for conversion was blocked by Davidson and the count stood 7-6, Vega.

The Steer kickoff was bad, going only 10 yards before a Longhorn touched the ball and covered on his own 42, from where Sides battled his way downfield for a first down on the Steer 38. At this point, the locals stymied the Vega attack and finally took over on downs on the 33 as the quarter ended.

Second Quarter

The Steer quarterback called for a kickoff, but Vega was alert and returned the ball to the 35. A spread formation ruined Farwell's defense and Dillehay stepped blithely down for a first. The Steers were penalized 15 yards, and on the next play Jones went around right end for 25 yards into paydirt, only to have it nullified because of a holding penalty against Vega.

Jones again circled left end and was nabbed on the Steer 15. Sheer power accounted for 4 more yards, Jones reached the Steer 5 for a first, then hit in for another touchdown, with Dillehay plunging over the extra, putting Vega ahead 14-6.

Norton received the kickoff and got back to his own 28; Jordan added 7 yards; Barber worked a reverse play to the 45, and Cassidy's first pass was incomplete. A quick-opening quarterback sneak sent Norton through center to Vega's 29, and Cassidy's aerial was complete to Norton on the 5. Here the Steers got a 5-yard fine, but Coburn made the score as he reversed right end from the 10. The extra point failed to materialize and Vega still lead, 14-12.

Vega returned the kickoff to the 37; Dillehay's pass try was incomplete, and on a second try, the aerial was intercepted by Guley of Farwell on his own 40, where the half ended.

Third Quarter

Farwell booted with Price receiving and managing to reach his own 33, where Jones swept left end for a first down on the Steer 40, and Dillehay went on for a second first down on the 25. Vega drew a 5-yard penalty for too much time. Dillehay circled left end for a touchdown and Sides followed through for the extra. Score, 21-12.

Norton received the boot and gained his 32, but Jordan's pass was intercepted by Sides and Vega was on the move again. Dillehay went to the 26, Jones got through for more, and Dillehay made a counter standing from the 16, then added the extra point through the line. Score,

Farwell received with Dial hitting the 38 before he was downed, and a play through center gained little as the quarter ran out.

Fourth Quarter

An aerial to Norton put Farwell on the 37 for a first down, but a penalty slowed the Steers and on fourth down they were forced to kick; Vega returned the ball to their own 5. Vega kicked out and Norton came blasting downfield to the 23, where a pass against the wind to Coburn was snared for the last Steer counter, and the extra point came on a conversion kick. Score, 28-19.

On the receiving end, Vega returned the ball to the 40-yard line and Jones, on a reverse around left end, reached the Farwell 4. Dillehay followed through with a touchdown and extra point to put Vega at 35-19.

The kickoff went to Norton, who came back upfield to the 29, but the Steers chance for another score went awry when a fumble was recovered by Vega on their 31. A pass to Davidson from the 28-yard line was good for the last score of the game and the contest ended, 41-19.

Parmer Boys Show Swine At Amarillo

Champion Sears swine owned by Parmer County boys, were shown at the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo this week.

Weldon Crim won sixth with his county champion pen of three at the Amarillo fair; Jerry Gleason's Sears boar placed seventh; and Johnnie Armstrong's Sears gilt won a like placement.

Approximately 15 counties in the store area were in competition, says County Agent Joe Jones, who accompanied the boys to the fair.

CROP Set Up In Parmer County

A small gathering of representative citizens from Parmer County convened as a committee serving under the chairmanship of County Agent Joe Jones to discuss a county drive for the Christian Rural Overseas Program, Wednesday morning at the local courthouse.

Present for the meeting were Agent Jones, Rev. Lance Hurst, John Aldridge, Loyde Brewer of Farwell; Raymond Euler and Rev. George E. Meyer of Friona; and state CROP representative, W. E. Fisher.

According to a release, CROP is a program for the collection of farm commodities, usually conducted on a county-wide basis. Several carloads of a county's principal crop are often set as the county goal for relief to stricken areas overseas.

According to reports following the meeting, Texas will send a "Friendship Food and Fiber" ship to the Orient by the first of December. If there is a donor who has a special destination for his contribution, and if such destination is in an area approved by CROP, a process is set up to make specific delivery.

The Wednesday meeting was held strictly for organizational purposes; second meeting is planned at the Friona Legion Hall at 8 o'clock on the evening of Oct. 2.

Child Unhurt After Tumble From Car

Lester, 5-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Lindop, was uninjured about noon Monday when he fell from the family automobile, parked in front of Stone's Variety in Texico.

Mrs. Lindop said that she left the child asleep in the front seat when she went in the store to do some shopping. She was positive that the car door was closed, and was unable to explain how the child managed to tumble out on the pavement.

Joe White, mechanic with Hardage Hudson Co., flew in Sunday from Detroit, where he had attended a two-week special school for Hudson mechanics, held at the Hudson factory. Joe was back on duty at the local garage on Monday.

Local and Out-Of-Town Guests Attend P-TA New Home Tour

Two tours of people from Farwell, Bovina, Texico, Friona, Muleshoe and Clovis were guests of the Farwell home tour, sponsored by the local Parent-Teachers association Thursday afternoon.

Nine homes were on the agenda for the tour, which began at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Included in the group were homes of Joe Blair, Thad Watkins, Wilfred Quickel, Jack Williams, J. R. Thornton, Bob Anderson, and W. T. Meeks, all new homes. Also included was the Ben Smart residence, one of the older homes in town, which has recently been remodeled.

Last home on the tour was the Hamlin Overstreet home, where attendants were served refreshments of coffee and cookies.

An outstanding feature of all the houses was large walk-in closets, with plenty of storage space provided throughout the residences. Picture windows were also in vogue, and natural woodwork and hardwood floors were prevalent. Kitchens were modern to the most minute detail and each individual home featured special characteristics. Floor furnaces were used for heating in most homes.

Joe Blair Home

Visitors at the Joe Blair home expressed approval of the spacious aspect presented by the arrangement of the home. In the room of the Blair's small daughter, the closet and the clothes rack was low so the child could hang up her clothes. Space was provided for the rack to be moved higher later. All closets were lined with cedar paper. Linen and storage closets were located in the hall, also a special blanket closet with numerous shelves presented more storage space.

Color was the medium to give the home variety, with rose dominant in the daughter's room, and soft beige walls complemented by chairreuse accessories in the master bedroom.

The bath maintained aqua, which was emphasized by peach tile lower walls and a small peach half partition.

An all-steel kitchen had aqua walls, and rubber tile on the floor. Red and yellow were dominant colors. The large pantry provided ample storage. The service room featured an automatic washer, and ironer. The double garage completed the home.

Exterior of the home was stucco with a porch extending the full length of the ranch-style home.

Thad Watkins Home

One of the newer homes in town, which was featured on the tour, was the Thad Watkins home, located in the south part of town. The light brick exterior was used on the spacious rambling residence. Five large picture-type windows are located on the front of the house, with a brick flower box extending immediately beneath the windows.

Entering the living room, guests note draw drapes, topped by a matching cornice board extending the length of the east wall and covering the picture windows; on the west wall, matching drapes cover another picture window overlooking the back yard. An indoor flower box of light brick extends under the window, with colorful flowers planted in the space. Wall-to-wall carpeting, natural furniture, and pale textone, softly blended by two-way lighting, completes the living room picture.

The long winding hall extends through the house from the living room, with all rooms opening onto it. A special cubby hole is built for a deep freeze and a water heater, and many storage closets, cedar lined, with numerous shelves, make storage no problem. Sliding doors on closets are featured; and closets in bedrooms were built up, with drawers underneath.

The unique bath winds around in a circular manner, with a dressing table built around the wall, topped with huge mirrors. The shower is glass-brick enclosed. The smaller bathroom is finished in peach tile and white, with florescent lighting, and a glass brick window.

Bedrooms have double corner windows. A sheer quilted bedspread with huge matching pillows with hand-painted tops, were noted by visitors. Curtains were in matching blue. The den was finished in natural wood panels, with rustic western furniture.

A laundry adjoined the kitchen, with a special sewing nook, with a table folding out of the wall designed for cutting materials. All-white cabinet and many windows completes the kitchen, which opens off a small patio.

Wilfred Quickel Home

Mrs. Wilfred Quickel greeted home tour guests in the entrance hall of her recently completed home. The house is finished with textone walls, of pastel shades, and has a large picture window overlooking the front yard from the living room. Draw drapes of a colorful design extend over the window.

The living room is spacious with hardwood floors, and has a built-in china closet with novelty shelves constructed underneath, in natural wood, in the corner adjoining the kitchen. Wall are finished in a pastel green.

Storage closets and specially constructed space for the hot water heater are located in the hall.

Teresa, small daughter of the Quickels, has a room of her own, with a minute chair and dressing table; and an enormous closet for all her clothing and toys. Her brother's room is designed for a small boy, with western motif, and a small armchair.

One bath has maroon tile board and white ceiling, and large linen closet. The second bath is done in canary yellow, and has a shower. Floors are rubber tile.

Rose is the dominant color in the master bedroom, which has double corner windows, and all natural woodwork, and a large closet.

Mrs. Quickel's pride is her kitchen which features a natural wood cabinet, an automatic washer, and dish washer, arranged in convenient order. Grey tile board on the walls matches the color scheme of the room. A bar table separates the kitchen from the dining room, which is also done in gray. The west wall is made up of ceiling to floor built-in bookshelves.

Ben Smart Home

The Ben Smart home, which has recently been remodeled, is one of the older homes in town, and the Smarts revealed how the high ceiling houses of the earlier architecture can be modernized. The wide hall which formerly extended the length of the house, was partitioned into an entrance hall and an enormous cedar closet, as a space saver. The living room and dining room partition was then removed to make the room more spacious.

To make the ceilings seem lower, all walls were covered in colorfully designed papers; with ceiling and top walls covered in solid paper in exact color as carpeting on the floor. Purpose of this procedure, according to Mrs. Smart, was to make the ceiling and floor look closer together.

The entrance hall contains a small table topped by a decorative mirror. The master bedroom is finished in a yellow and green paper, with green ceiling and carpet. A green bedspread carries out the color scheme. The Smarts plan to furnish the room in antique furniture, recently obtained.

The large back porch has been converted into a laundry and utility room, where the deep freeze, washing machine and ironing paraphernalia is kept.

An all-steel cabinet is used in the kitchen, which has green leaf paper. Glass doors on the cabinet were particularly noted by visitors. A former sun porch has been converted into a bedroom, with windows extending the length of one wall.

Room which was constructed for the Smart's son was not quite completed, but it will be furnished in western furniture. An extra bath opens off the room. Another oversized closet opens off this room.

Jack Williams Home

The light brick ranch-style home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Williams, is spacious and comfortably arranged. Entering the home, guests were shown the large combination living room and dining room with dominant color of blue. Draw drapes cover the huge window, and grey wall-to-wall carpeting complements the color scheme, as does the furniture in grey and red. A brick fireplace is situated across from the picture window.

Bedrooms for the three Williams sons are furnished with ranch style furniture. One of the rooms has twin beds, chests and a desk, and "cowboy" bedspreads and drapes. The other room has a different design, although it also emphasizes the ranch theme.

One bath is walled in blue tile board, and the other bath has pink and white candy-stripe paper, and grey floor. A dressing table is built-in.

The kitchen is huge and overlooks the large backyard. A pantry with shelves on three sides, is located at one end of the room. The washer, dryer and ironer, is also placed in a specified section of the kitchen. The all-white cabinet extends the length of one wall. Yellow tile board covers the walls.

A picture window is located along one wall of the den, and has drapes matching the furnishings. Natural wood walls are fashioned into scallops at the top and a scalloped cornice board is situated over the picture window. The garage is large enough for a work cabinet for the boys.

Visitors were particularly impressed with the neat backyard enclosed in a brick fence, and showing a cement patio and a brick fireplace.

J. R. Thornton Home

The J. R. Thornton home was another residence on the tour, which has a combined living room and dining room. A picture window is situated across from the brick fireplace, which is topped by a large mirror and has florescent lights on either side.

Draw drapes over the picture windows and carpeting add to the theme of the room. A semi-entrance hall leads into the living room.

A linen closet is constructed, opening off the hall, and the telephone hook is built into the wall. The L-shaped hall leads to the three bedrooms of the residence and to the bath. All bedrooms have walk-in closets with sliding doors. The bath is finished in tile with large linen closets constructed there also.

In daughter, Iris's room, is a built-in bureau which is not only a space conserver, but adds to the beauty of the room as well. Twin beds are topped with matching quilted spreads and drapes. The guest bedroom is also furnished with twin beds and other matching appropriate furnishings.

The second bath featured peach-colored tile board. An extra shower is located here.

Unique feature of the kitchen is a table which folds from the wall. When closed, it looks like an ordinary cabinet. The Thornton home also has a basement, and the family utilizes this extra space also. One room of the two located downstairs is furnished as another bedroom. The other space is used for storage.

Exterior of the Thornton home is light colored brick. The porch extends across the front of the house in typical ranch style with rustic

To Attend Convention

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Anderson will leave today (Thursday) for Chicago, where they will attend a banker's convention, to be held September 30 through October 3.

Robert Anderson Home

Attracting comments at the Robert Anderson home was the unusual fireplace, made of a black marble-type substance, and surrounded by a large mirror from ceiling to floor. The fireplace is directly across the room from the picture window. A Chinese motif is carried out by the colorful figured drapes, tiny Chinese figurines, and deep colors.

In the bedroom, visitors were shown the only wall paper used in the house; walls are textone. The master bedroom had the conventional textone, but the ceiling of the room was papered in a bright and cheerful floral paper carrying out the colors of the room. Novelty shelves held minute figurines, and the green corduroy bedspread and drapes aroused comment. Twin closets were constructed in this room.

The small son's room was typical western with blue walls, and yellow and brown cowboy bedspread.

Walls in the kitchen were all tile board, to make cleaning easier, according to Mrs. Anderson. A love pantry is also a must in the Anderson home.

W. T. Meeks Home

Colorful wall paper was the decorative key to the W. T. Meeks home. Using a floral paper on three walls of the living room, a striped paper in the same colors covered the ceiling and fourth wall. This home, also has a picture window in the living room.

Going on into the kitchen, guests see a coral-colored cabinet, and blue and white rubber tile on the floor. A built-in china closet covers the west wall, with glassed doors. In the bottom of the china closet is the salt and pepper shaker collection of Mrs. Meeks.

The master bedroom has double closets, walk-in type, and hardwood floor with natural woodwork. Closets are cedar lined.

The bathroom in the home features deep color and unusual wall paper. Maroon tile board is used on the bottom portion of the wall and a deep maroon floral paper is used on the wall. The floor is grey and a small half partition carries out the colors.

The guest room emphasizes yellow, with a yellow floral paper on three walls and a striped design on the remaining wall and the ceiling. The garage for the home adjoins the house.

Hamlin Overstreet Home

Last home on the tour was the Hamlin Overstreet home. In the living room, paintings of Mrs. Overstreet and Jane Claire, attracted particular interest. Also shown at the Overstreet home were appliqued quilts, which were made by the hostess's mother. Much of the antique furniture used in the Overstreet home is family pieces, Mrs. Overstreet points out.

The hall is lined with unusual pictures. Pictures are used throughout the decorative scheme of the home. Particular interest was shown in the China used to serve guests. The hostess related that the China was very old; being early 18th and early 19th Royal Worcester and Spode china.

Guests were also shown the netsukes collection of Mr. Overstreet. The minute and very intricate pieces are mostly Japanese, and are of hand-carved ivory and also wood. A French glassed-in cabinet holds the unusual collection.

Mrs. Jack McManigal, president of P-TA expresses appreciation to all those who helped to make the home tour a success.

IN THE LAST FEW YEARS, we have nearly tripled our investment in plant and facilities to serve New Mexico telephone users.

- The increase in investment has been very substantial for two reasons. First, we have tried to keep pace with continuing demand. Second, it takes a lot more dollars to provide facilities at today's high cost levels.

- In the last five years we've spent $18½ million for construction of new facilities, and our program this year calls for $5½ million more.

- Not only is more equipment being added daily throughout the state, but New Mexico users are finding the telephone more and more useful.

- Ten years ago, about 200,000 local and long distance calls were being handled daily. Today the volume has tripled, with a daily average approximating 600,000.

- The combined efforts of 1,650 skilled employees are building for New Mexico a telephone system to match the state's growing needs.

New Deal Is First Foe In Steers' Conference

The first conference game for the Farwell Steers, re-routed this year into District 3-B, comes on Friday night of this week at New Deal. Coach Tommy Hestand said today, adding "We hope to be in good shape and on the winning end of the score, come game time."

After getting off to a good start against Melrose, the opening game which went to the Steers, the locals have been hapless victims of both Springlake and Vega, and feel it is high time they hit the winning side of the ledger again.

Just what may be expected from New Deal is a matter of strict conjecture. This will be the first time the Farwell and New Deal teams have ever had occasion to clash on the gridiron field, and little pre-game dope was available.

Speaking of his own squad, Coach Hestand reported that, in spite of their defeat, he thought his boys turned in a good account of themselves in the Vega scramble, particularly considering the fact that they were outweighed in the game some 20 pounds per man in the overall average.

This week is being devoted to emphasis on defensive tactics, Hestand went on, and added that Phillip Cassidy may see action in the backfield, in view of his appearance in workouts this week.

Calvin Barber, who received a blow on the head in the Vega game spent last Friday night in a hospital, but X-rays revealed no injuries, and the halfback is expected to return to the lineup this weekend. Otherwise, the team shows no injuries at present.

New Deal took the district title in play last year, losing later in the bi-district playoff to the strong Dimmitt aggregation, it is reported here. Watkins and Hood are expected to be particularly good in the backfield.

Game Date Changed To October 4th

Announcement of a change in date for the coming home game between the Farwell Steers and the Anton squad was made today by Coach Tommy Hestand, who stated that the contest, previously slated for Friday night, October 5, would be played here instead on Thursday, Oct. 4.

The change was made at the request of Anton school officials who said that some of their team members planned to visit the Texas State Fair in Dallas on Oct. 5.

This will be the first conference game of the season to be played on the Steer home field. Further details will be announced next week.

Wolverines Defeat Lincoln Jackson

Texico Wolverines defeated the Lincoln-Jackson Negro team of Clovis 17-11 Tuesday on the local field.

The game was the first one to be held at home for the Wolverines.

The local lads jumped ahead in the first inning 2-1 and never lost the lead at any time. The lead was given a big boost when Charles Ott knocked 2 homers followed by Kenneth Doolittle's homer.

In the 5th inning with errors from the Wolverines the colored boys ran in 6 runs to make the score 9-16. Wilson and Morrer hit two home runs for the Clovis team.

The cagers took the field with their backs to the sand and played a shut out inning to win 17-11.

Friena Juniors Will Come Here Tuesday, Play Sudan 27th

Two games for the Farwell Yearlings were announced today by Coach Shelby Jobes, with the youngsters going to Sudan for a junior battle on Thursday night of this week, Sept. 27th, and laying plans to entertain the Friena juniors here on Tuesday night, Oct. 2.

Coach Jobes said today that the Sudan game will be played at 8 o'clock at Sudan.

The big game on the ledger is the one for next Tuesday night when the usual rivalry between Farwell and Friena will be encountered on the local gridiron as the juniors set going against each other.

The coach articularly emphasized this date, since earlier it had been announced that the two teams would play on Thursday, Oct. 4. Game time will be 8 o'clock.

Coach Jobes had not definitely arranged his players on Tuesday, but the Farwell roster includes: Lavon Jones, Pudge Rose, H. R. Billingsley, Jerry Poteet, James Roberts, Deon Branscum, Billy Watts, Gene Hardage, Don Pool, Don Gerries, Robbie Foster, Ed Roland, and Jesse Meeks.

Texico-ites Lose In Freezing Weather

Texico Wolverine's lost their second straight game Friday night in freezing weather to the Grady Bronco's to the tune of 16-3.

The team was made up of: Kenneth Allred, catcher; Billy Goldsmith, pitcher; Charles Ott, first base; Jame King, second base; Andre Palmateer, third base; Arlye Crooks, short stop; Kennard Harris, left field; J. B. Taylor, center field; Paul Crooks, right field and Kenneth Doolittle, float field.

The girls game was called off because of the cold weather.

PEP SQUAD TO GAME

The Farwell junior Pep Squad is making plans to go to Sudan tonight (Thursday) for the Sudan-Farwell junior football game. Head yell leaders are Glenna Ruth Davis, Betty Curtis, Cora Sue Atchley, and Doris Pond, with Shirley Jo Smith and Barbara Ham as assistants.

Yearlings Take Win Over Bovina Jrs.

The Farwell Yearlings, junior football squad men, opened the season with a home-town win last Thursday night, when they defeated the visiting Bovina junior squad, 29-12.

Coach Shelby Jobes used a total of 19 men during the four quarters, giving a number of his new recruits some experience for coming clashes.

Highlight of the game, so far as spectators were concerned, was Don Pool's 60-yard kick return for a touchdown, with the youngster showing some of the speed that his brother Jerry had been displaying on the senior team up to graduation last year.

In the first quarter, Bovina was trapped in their own end zone for a two-point safety to Farwell's credit, following which the visitors kicked off and Pool came sailing down the field for the first touchdown. The extra points came as Gene Hardage circled right end.

Don Gerries also racked up a score when he participated in a double reverse and carried from the 30-yard line; Troy Christian scored one six-pointer; and quarterback Eddie Smith also got in on the deal making one touchdown. Two extra points were credited to Gene Hardage as he sailed perfect aerials into the end zone.

FINGER IS INJURED

Miss Jane Adams, home economics instructor at the Farwell schools, sustained an injured finger the past Friday, when a slammed door caught the end of her little finger and badly fractured the member. She reported this week that the injury was showing improvement.

Wolverines Play Ranchvale, Friday

Texico Wolverine's softball team journey to Ranchvale Friday night for their fourth conference game of the season.

The Wolverine's with a 1 win and 2 loss record for the season hope to get their second straight win Friday night against the Trojan's.

The Wolverine's got their first win Tuesday against the Lincoln-Jackson Negro team of Clovis, after losing their first two game to Rosedale and Grady.

Bovina-Gruver Battle To 7-7 Deadlock In Cold Football Game On Bovina Grid

Locking horns in a furious battle that favored neither at the final conclusion the Bovina and Gruver gridmen wound up in a 7-7 deadlock on the local field Friday night as a good crowd braved the cold north wind to see the locals perform.

Even on the matter of penetrations the teams were even with both Bovina and Gruver getting a total of four. In yardage Bovina had a slight superiority, with 289 compared to 208, and also on first downs, the locals were ahead, with 15 compared to 11 for Gruver.

The first half went entirely scoreless, with neither team able to break a stubborn defense set up by the opposition. The third quarter saw the only scoring of the game, as Fox returned Bovina's kickoff for a tally and then kicked the extra point. A few minutes later, Hromas put a perfect pass to Ware for a touchdown and then fired to Pounds for the extra.

First Quarter
Bovina received on their own 30 and immediately began ground plays that netted two first downs without let-up. Gruver stiffened their line and held the Mustangs, with Hromas kicking and Fox returning the ball to midfield for Gruver.

In two tries, Fox made a first but the Mustangs held the next two plays to zero and on the third try Bovina recovered a Gruver fumble. Failing to gain on two downs, Venable broke through Gruver's line for 3 yards; Hromas hit the line and added 9 more; Venable again tried but gained only 1. Hromas passed and the ball was intercepted by Fox.

Fox took over for two successive plays and a first down; Don Peddy failed to gain and Fox circled end for a neat 20 yards. Gruver took to the air but failed twice. On the third down Peddy gained 4, and Gruver was in possession on Bovina's 26 as the quarter ended.

Second Quarter
Gruver gambled and lost and the ball went to Bovina, who were completely nullified and the ball went back to Gruver on downs. On a reverse, Fox made 25 yards before he was snared, but Gruver fumbled and Bovina had the pigskin on their 20. Leon Ware took the ball from Hromas on a shovel pass and gained 17; Hromas lost 4 as he was trying to pass; Ware went around end for 9; Hromas made 5 and a first through the line. Bovina fumbled but recovered; Venable hit the line for 2 and a Hromas-to-Pounds pass netted 6. The locals fumbled on fourth down and Gruver took over on Bovina's 45.

Fox swept left end for 27 yards to the Bovina 18; the Mustangs set the Gruver carrier back 8; Gruver made a small gain and then failed to click on two pass tries, with Bovina taking over. Ware gained 4; Venable made 7; Ware found a hole in the line for 13, but Gruver bore down and Bovina kicked out.

Gruver received on their 30 and returned 12 yards. A first down came on a pass from Fox to Gene Wyatt and the whistle ended the half with the ball on Bovina's 45.

Third Quarter
Fox received the boot on his 15 and made an amazing run through the entire Mustang squad for a touchdown, then kicked the extra point and Gruver lead, 7-0.

Bovina received and Ware carried the ball on a 15-yard end run. The locals failed to gain but a pass from Hromas to Pounds netted 20 to the Gruver 21. Ware made 4; Venable drove for 2 and 3, and Bovina called time out. On fourth down Hromas fed 12 yards to Ware for a counter, then placed the ball to Pounds for the extra and the game was tied, 7-7.

Taking the kickoff, Fox threatened to go all the way again but was dragged down after he made 30 yards. Rex Isham broke through the line to nab Fox for a loss of 4; Fox passed to Broadhurst for 6; then carried for 8 and a first down. Gruver put three tries together for a first; the Mustangs dug in and Gruver lost the ball on downs.

Ware left the game at this point, replaced by Oakley Stevenson. Bovina took over on their own 16. Stevenson took the ball for 9 and then again for 6 for a first. A pass from Hromas to Pounds made 15 and another first down. Stevenson followed Hromas out around right end for 20, then hit the line twice for 4. A pass intended for Tidenberg fell incomplete. Bovina took a chance on fourth down and failed to make needed yardage. The ball went to Gruver on their 25.

After faking a pass, Fox circled right end for 14 yards, then fumbled and lost 4 yards recovering as the third quarter ended.

Fourth Quarter
Final quarter action see-sawed back and forth close to midfield with neither team gaining much. Gruver ran 10 yards for a first, but Isham broke up the next play for a minus 3. A double reverse gained 7. On third down Gruver took to the air but Bob Burnett intercepted and ran 20 yards downfield.

Stevenson, Venable and Hromas plunged through the line for 7, 3 and 4 yards, respectively, and gained a first down on the same tactics. Their power ran out and Gruver took over.

Fox made 9 and then 1 for a first; tried to pass to Gene Wyatt but Burnett again intercepted and got back 11 yards. Ware came back into the game. Hromas to Pounds netted 7 yards and Ware plunged the remaining 3 for a first.

Failing to make the required yardage on the next series, Bovina lost the ball on downs, but Gruver's luck played out fast as Hromas intercepted a pass on their first try.

With 30 seconds to go, Hromas tried two passes to Pounds and Tidenberg, both of which were incomplete, and the game ended in a tie.

Pool's Speed Pleases ENMU Grid Coaches

The dazzling speed of Jerry Pool, well-known to Farwell football fans, has come as a pleasant surprise to Coaches Al Garten and Carl Richardson of ENMU in Portales, according to a news release concerning workouts of the Greyhounds, ENMU grid squad.

Pool, a 1951 graduate of the Farwell school and Johnny Ussery of Borger, are the half-pint halfback newcomers to the Greyhounds. Together they weight not more than 260 pounds, but speed is their merchandise, and indications already are that the youngsters will see some action this year.

Coaches also hint that passing may be a strong point of the Greyhound offense, and Farwell fans could also put in a plug about Pool's passing capabilities.

Friona Student Tells Of Bicycle Trip In Denmark

(Editor's Note: Jane M. Gallagher, daughter of the Reverend's Mr. and Mrs. George E. Meyer of the Congregational Church of Friona, Texas writes the following from Oslo, Norway of a trip made by a trio of students of the University during the period following the close of the summer session at which she had been a student at the University on a Houston Scholarship, and prior to the opening of the fall term of the University. Jane is majoring in English, with minors in Educational psychology and History working for a Candidate of Philosophy degree, the equivalent of a Ph.D. in America, which she expects to receive within the year.)

Two weeks before the summer session of the University closed I bought a Norwegian bicycle. A very sleek light weight, blue job with four shift gear, two wheel brakes, self-generating head lamp and saddle packs. It is quite a fancy outfit. The bike is the chief method of transportation for the vacation period. I had difficulty in persuading others to be as fool-hardy as I but finally two others were willing to undertake the trip.

On Sunday, August 5th we wheeled our little bikes down to the docks and stowed them away on the channel boat, Kronprince Olav, destined for Copenhagen. It was raining steadily, what we would call a permanent cloudburst. We arrived in Copenhagen, Denmark half asleep, rescued our bikes from the customs men, and started looking for a bank. You see we had only travelers checks, Norwegian kroner, and some few American dollars—none of which is acceptable in Denmark. We couldn't even buy a cup of coffee! We rode past the palace just in time to see the changing of the guard. Eventually we found an open bank and changed our money and cashed a ten dollar check. That was when I got lost. We had been riding single file, blissfully ignorant of traffic regulations. We hit a street where bike traffic was so heavy it was impossible to follow anyone. On top of that I hit a truck—a big bright shiny red one that anyone with half an eye couldn't have missed seeing. I did. I ran straight into the back end of it. Imagine running over a truck with a bike! I always did do things the hard way. Anyhow that stopped me for a minute then the others were far out of sight. One of our trio had the money, the second the address of the youth hotel, I had the map. In time they came back, found me, recovering me from the curb and together we found the hostel.

A European youth hostel is something no one could ever forget. Something like the tower of Babel must have been. There were 400 students there, no 14 from the same place: French, Indian, German, Portuguese, Turkish, Chinese, Arabian, Swedish and to these we added three strays, two Americans and one Norwegian. The girls slept in one room broken up into cubicles—eight double decker bunks to a cubicle. The boys, all 300 of them, slept in one room. What a madhouse! Incidentally English seemed to be the international language. The hostel had unwittingly sold one bed twice, and in the middle of the night the second boy came in. He started pulling the other out of the bed and arguing in English. It was after fully five minutes of argument they suddenly discovered that they were both French and then the battle began in earnest.

We had clean sheets, straw mattresses, and blankets, the first blankets we'd seen in Europe. In most places here you sleep under (dyenas) pronounced (dee nas) or feather beds. Under them, mind you. Very warm, very snug, but with a habit of slipping off and you spend half the night fishing around on the floor for them.

We found a restaurant and told the waitress we were "very hungry" and couldn't read the menu. That was a mistake. We weren't hungry when we finished, but horror! the bill came to 56 kroner. We decided to go on a diet.

It was now 16 o'clock—4:00 P.M. to you—Our plan had been to take a boat to Rotterdam, Holland and bicycle from there to Paris. None of us had military permits to Germany. We called the steamship companies and found that the only boat to anywhere except England and Norway had left at 2 p.m. and that there wouldn't be another for 8 days. We sure looked terribly stuck—especially since Denmark is surrounded on three sides by water and the fourth Germany. We could hardly swim with our bikes, and flying was beyond our combined means. There was but one choice. We looked up the German Embassy. Everyone in Copenhagen told us it would take at least a week to get a visa. We three braced our little bikes against the fence, stormed into the embassy ready to do battle. That was when I learned the value of those little green books with the eagle on the cover. We two Americans had our visas within two hours—our Norwegian friend had to wait 24 hours. He would have had to wait longer except that we said we couldn't go without him and rushed his visa through.

So we took off up the coast of Denmark to pass those 24 waiting hours necessitated by the delay of our Norwegian companion. It rained. All the time we spent in Hamlet's castle, the weather kept up an obligating drizzle. Castle Kronberg famous by Shakespeare's play Hamlet was most interesting. I expected to see Hamlet's ghost walking the parapets. The castle is tremendous. Really it is three fortresses built one inside the other with dungeons underneath and joining the three. The castle is still in use as a border patrol fortress and parts of it are modernized, including radar screens, but the main buildings are older than time. Oliver must have done his version of Hamlet in the central courtyard as it forms a perfect natural theatre. When those boys built a castle they didn't mean to lose it easily. Kronberg would have to be captured inch by inch. Even the king's bedroom is a veritable fortress. The largest room in the palace is the ballroom. It runs the full length of the building. Naturally I couldn't resist, so we waltzed to our own music, down the length of the white marble floor. It is a gorgeous palace, but I don't envy those who lived in it! I'm sure they must have worn every stitch of clothing they owned and still must have frozen all winter. It would be impossible to heat the place—ever.

We were guided down into the cellars by a woman who spoke no English. We got a very gloomy impression. Her mood fitted in well. We seemed to go down ladder after ladder until the walls around us glistened in the candlelight—no electricity anywhere except in the modern military post. The walls, floor and ceilings of the dungeons were drenched with beads of water and it was colder than the bottom of an unopened deepfreeze. No wonder their prisoners died off in a hurry. This was in August when the weather is supposed to be hot.

After Kronberg castle we biked back to Copenhagen and picked up Ola's visa, then off to Germany. What an experience we had in Germany. I'll tell you about that next.

Love
Jane

Happenings at Friona

ABIE CRUME, correspondent. Phone contributions to 2791.

Clear, Warm Weather Starts Fall Harvest

A swing back to clear, warm weather after a couple of brisk early-season northerners has sent combines into many fields in the Friona area, as grain producers get going on what is expected to be a near-record cutting.

Some fields tackled by the crews early in the week proved a little too green for combining, but others were testing sufficiently low in moisture content to be listed for elevator storage.

General opinion seems to be that the majority of dry-land stuff will average out at around 1,000 pounds per acre. However, there are the usual exceptions, where scattered summer showers were received at exactly the right time to make an exceptionally good yield.

Irrigated fields, most of which are not yet ready for cutting, are expected to turn in yields of 2,000 pounds and over.

With increased storage space on hand in local elevators, farmers are not worried about the possibility of having to dump their precious grain on the ground this year, and early-season indications are also that labor will be plentiful.

Installation Program Is Planned By WMU

Friona Band Takes Part In Parade

The Friona school band, brightly clad in the red and white colors of the school, took part in Tri-State Fair festivities in Amarillo on Tuesday, when the students, with instructor Earl Hise, paraded down Polk Street.

Following the parade, band members were given an opportunity to visit the fair grounds as guests of the fair association.

The local band won a good number of honors in performances during the past two years, and is recognized as one of the top-notch school bands in the area.

IS OPERATED

Burl Beene, local farmer, underwent major surgery at the Farmer County Community Hospital, here in Friona, on Saturday of last week. He is reported to be recuperating nicely.

IS DISMISSED

Cecil Bass, who underwent surgery for removal of stomach ulcers some ten days ago, was dismissed from the Farmer County Community Hospital the past weekend, and is now recuperating at his home north of Friona.

Chiefs Start League Play Friday Night

The Friona Chiefs, boasting two wins out of as many starts, will open interscholastic league play on Friday night of this week, when they are guests of the Anton gridmen.

Coach Raymond Cook, speaking of the coming engagement the first of the week, was of the opinion that the Anton squad would be "tough", but had little actual pre-game dope to add to his prediction that the Chiefs would face their strongest foe of the season this weekend.

With a lay-off last week, the locals may be just a bit slow getting started, the coach opining that early-season open dates are not the best thing in the world to keep a winning streak going. However, workouts have been brisk and with no injuries reported, the Chiefs should muster a full lineup for the Anton contest.

Coaches Attend Two Sports Meetings

Coaches and faculty members of the Friona school attended two meetings pertaining to sports of the school on Tuesday and Wednesday nights, with a league football meeting held in Anton on Wednesday and a district basketball conference in Vega on Tuesday.

Main purpose of the Vega meeting was to outline the schedule for all teams in the district in the coming basketball season. Mr. Reno, of Adrian, is chairman of the boys' division, and Jack Williams, of Farwell, heads the girls' department.

Complete details on the meetings, along with the cage schedules, will be released shortly.

Methodist Pastors Exchange Pulpits

Methodist pastors over Texas are due to exchange pulpits for simultaneous revival efforts during the first week of October, it was announced today by Rev. J. E. Tidwell, pastor of the local church.

Rev. Tidwell is to go to Goldthwaite on Friday, October 5th, to open week-long services there, with a special youth rally program being held on Sunday afternoon.

Pastors from the north section of Texas will serve at various pulpits in southern churches, while the southern preachers are slated to visit churches in the north section.

The first of this week, Rev. Tidwell had not been notified who would have charge of the revival effort in the local church.

Visit In Lubbock

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Gee and children visited during the past weekend in the home of Mrs. Gee's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Rodgers, in Lubbock. On Saturday night, Gee, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spring and Mr. and Mrs. Terrell Christian and daughter were among those witnessing the Texas Tech-West Texas football game, which Tech won.

Friona Gin Gets Ready For Work

Friona's latest business, the North Plains Gin Co., is entering the final stages of preparation for the coming cotton season, with Wright Williams taking over as manager.

The local gin, bought in Oklahoma and moved here complete, is located south of the railroad tracks, and has been under construction since early summer.

Owne's said earlier that the gin would be ready for operation by the time cotton began to move in this section, and with an increase in such plantings over the Friona trade territory, business along this line is expected to be fairly brisk during the late fall and early winter.

Cotton fields in general bear every indication of a big harvest and thus far, no hints have been cast that labor for the work will be short, since a good portion of the operators are depending on mechanical pickers.

BEING MOVED

R. B. Miller, who has been stationed briefly at the Lubbock AAF, has received orders for transfer to a Georgia base, it is learned here by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Miller.

Last Call Issued On Birthday Calendar

The calendar committee of the Congregational Church, of which Mrs. George Treider is chairman, issues the final call for names for the community birth-dated calendar, on which personal names will be listed on proper birthdays.

All names, Mrs. Treider says, must be submitted not later than Sunday, September 30. Anyone desiring to put names on the calendar should see one of the workers, or leave the names with the pastor of the church, Rev. George E. Meyer.

Revival Concluded On Sunday Evening

Weekend revival services at the First Baptist Church in Friona were concluded on Sunday evening, with the pastor, Rev. Russell Pogue, having been in the pulpit for the special meetings.

Visible results included three conversions and two additions to the church by letter, the pastor said.

Miss Joyce Miller serves as choir director for special music during the weekend, and services were held on Friday and Saturday night, as well as at the regular hours on Sunday.

HAS APPENDECTOMY

Jim Mears, of this city, underwent an operation for removal of his appendix on Friday of last week, and is reported recovering satisfactorily this week at the local hospital.

District President Speaks At PTA

Regular meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association was held at the Friona school auditorium on Thursday evening of last week, with Mrs. Orville K. Smith, of Childress, district PTA president, as the guest speaker.

Mrs. Smith spoke briefly on "Fellowship in PTA", outlined the objectives of the association, and in closing gave some pertinent "do's and don'ts" for PTA groups.

Special music was given by a male quartet composed of Tim Magness, Dalton Caffey, P. L. London and Earl Hise. Committee reports were heard from several departments, and a short social hour closed the evening.

World-Wide Services Will Be Observed

The Rev. George E. Meyer, of the Congregational Church, states that the church will observe world wide communion Sunday on October 7, in cooperation with countless other churches around the world. The day's observance begins with the churches of New Zealand, the first country on the other side of the international date line, and advances across the world with not a single hour of the 24 being missed.

The service here is to be held at the usual hour, 11:00 a. m., and is to be featured by special music and other highlights in the service. Members will be received into the church and opportunity given for baptisms, according to Rev. Meyer.

Attends Meeting

Mrs. Bill Kennedy was in Hereford on Tuesday of this week, where members of the Episcopal Church served as hosts to Episcopalians from Hereford, Amarillo, Lubbock and Canyon in a regular district meeting. The gathering was an all-day affair.

Ladies Aid Meets On Wednesday

The Ladies Aid of the Congregational Church met Wednesday afternoon at the church parlors, with a splendid attendance. The president, Mrs. Pearl Kinsley, was in charge.

Mrs. Floyd T. Schlenker read a paper and Mrs. George E. Meyer read portions of a letter received from daughter Jane of the manse, who is a student at the University of Norway in Oslo, telling of a trip she and two other students made in Denmark, Germany and Holland, by bicycle and boat.

Mrs. Schlenker, serving as hostess, served a lovely dessert. The next meeting will be on Wednesday, Oct. 3, in the church parlors.

Communion Services To Be Held Sunday

Observance of the Lord's Supper will be held at the Friona Methodist Church on Sunday, September 30th, as world-wide communion is held, Rev. J. E. Tidwell, the pastor, announced today.

Customarily, world-wide communion is held on the first Sunday in October, the pastor said, but explained that Texas Methodists are planning simultaneous revival services opening the first week in October, necessitating the change in date for communion ritual.

Mrs. Gee Is Hostess To Methodist Ladies

Mrs. J. T. Gee was hostess in her home on Tuesday of this week, for the regular meeting of Women's Society of Christian Service of the local Methodist Church.

The group's new mission study, "Mission to America", was started at the meeting, under the direction of Mrs. Alan Romich. Mrs. Hadley Reeve had charge of the meditation portion of the program.

Members of the Kimbrough WMU circle of the Baptist church, along with their husbands and families, gathered in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Tarpley on Monday evening, to enjoy a social evening. A large representation was on hand for the affair.
