

Ministers Attempt To Break Deadlock Over Peace Meet

PARIS, July 8 (AP)—The foreign ministers council recessed after a morning meeting today, still deadlocked on the question of sending out invitations for a 21-nation peace conference July 29.

Arguments that have marked Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's opposition to sending invitations for the conference unless they were accompanied by a strict code of rules for its procedure were presented again today in the face of pleas by Secretary Brynes and Secretary Bevin to have the invitations go out immediately.

Aleman Claims Victory; Padillo Charges Fraud

MEXICO CITY, July 8 (AP)—Miguel Aleman, 42-year-old candidate of the powerful government party (PRI), today claimed election as president of Mexico in balloting yesterday which brought charges of fraud from his principal opponent, former foreign minister Ezequiel Padilla.

Two deaths and a number of minor casualties marked the voting, in which the army was used for the first time in history to police polling places.

Although the results will not be known officially until Thursday, Aleman declared there was no doubt of his election and formally thanked the people of Mexico for "the great honor they have conferred upon me."

His defeat would be regarded here as a tremendous political upset. Padilla, candidate of the Mexican Democratic party, charged that the election in the federal district, which includes Mexico City and its environs, was "stained by the gravest of frauds" and added:

"The army maintained order, but did not have facilities to avoid fraudulent maneuvers. From what happened in the federal district, where all means of guaranteeing honest elections were hoped for, it can be imagined what happened in the rest of the country."

Padilla asserted his belief that the actual popular vote favored him overwhelmingly and added that "in due time we shall make statements."

Approximately 3,000,000 Mexicans were estimated to have voted in the elections, at which 174 deputies and 58 senators were chosen in addition to a president. Both houses of Congress are now controlled by a heavy government party majority.

Meat, Milk Cost Rising Here

Meat and milk prices were in the process of being raised here this week.

In most cases, meat costs have gone up already with varying degrees. The milk increase was pending, but certain.

Virtually all the milk hike will stem from an increase of $1.24 to be paid to producers per hundred weight. This will bring the price of milk to producers to $5.50 per hundred pounds.

Processors and distributors indicated that the cost necessarily would be passed along to consumers, with three cents a quart an approximate amount of raise.

No date has been set for the increase, but it will take place this week. Virtually all surrounding cities have experienced such raises.

One meat processor said that at the wholesale level most increases had ranged from one to two cents a pound dressed weight, which, he added, was about the equivalent of the now dead subsidy formerly paid producers.

The ultimate increase to consumer was varied, ranging from a few cents to sharp rises.

The congressman also is scheduled to be here on July 18 and will be featured speaker at a rally at the city park that evening.

Showdown Fight To Revive OPA Due In Senate

Truman Expected To Sign Measure If Passed As Is

WASHINGTON, July 8 (AP)—A prediction of presidential approval was thrown behind the compromise OPA renewal bill today as senators dug in for a showdown fight over whether—and how—to revive price controls.

With the nation entering its second week since the death of the war-born agency, a Capitol Hill adviser to President Truman

WASHINGTON, July 8 (AP)—Democratic Leader Barkley (Ky) told the senate today during a wrangle with Senator Taft (R-Ohio) that he had "disregarded" some of President Truman's veto message complaints in drafting a price control revival bill.

Chided by Taft for changing only the Taft-Werry profits provisions in the vetoed OPA extension bill, Barkley conceded he had made no attempt to meet Mr. Truman's objections to two other sections in framing the substitute measure now before the senate.

These deals with a system for gradual removal of controls and with a reduction in food subsidies.

Whether there was any information for the Tass report could not immediately be ascertained. The deadlock on the peace conference stemmed from Russia's insistent demands that the Big Four impose a set of rules of procedure on the conference.

These rules, which Russia proposed be sent out with invitations to the conference, included a proviso that a two-thirds majority vote of the conference should be required in order to make any changes in the draft treaties submitted by the foreign ministers.

American sources maintained that the six Slavic states—Byelo Russia, Czechoslovakia, Poland, the Ukraine, the USSR and Yugoslavia—traditionally voting as a bloc, the two-thirds rule would make it virtually impossible for the peace conference to change anything in the draft treaties without the approval of those nations.

Porter said last week he supported Barkley's substitute for a previously approved profit provision by Senator Taft (R-Ohio) requiring that individual manufacturers be given increases over their Oct. 1 to 15, 1941, prices to cover the average gain in industry costs since that time.

But the OPA chieftain intimated he didn't like other provisions of the new bill, which like its predecessor kills OPA's maximum average price order designed to keep low-cost clothing on the market and gives the secretary of agriculture final authority on taking controls off foods.

INTRUDER CHASES FAMILY, THE RAT

PHILADELPHIA, July 8 (AP)—A huge rat, obviously angry at being caught in a mousetrap, was waiting for Louis Somershoe and his family today when they returned from a weekend out of town.

The rat, with the trap clinging to one leg, chased Somershoe's wife, and their two small sons onto tables and chairs.

Somershoe finally managed to elude the rat long enough to telephone police. Officer Joe Kelly arrived in a riot car and dispatched the rat with his riotstick.

Powell Suffers Heart Attack After Injury

COLORADO CITY, July 8 (Sp) Lay Powell, well known pioneer Mitchell county rancher, was said by Root Hospital attendants here to be in a critical condition Monday morning.

Powell, 71, and owner of extensive ranch and cattle interests, suffered a heart attack in the hospital Sunday night and was placed under an oxygen tent. July 4th the veteran cow man had suffered a broken knee when a calf he was cutting from a herd of steers kicked him. His condition has been satisfactory until today.

Howard Hughes Near Death After Crashing Latest Experiment Plane

LOS ANGELES, July 8 (AP)—His collar bone and seven ribs broken, his lungs punctured in six places, Howard Hughes was given a fighting chance to live today after crashing an experimental plane into three houses and a garage in Beverly Hills late yesterday.

The millionaire movie maker and plane builder was reported "resting easily" in Good Samaritan hospital. Physicians said the degree of shock suffered by the 41-year-old sportsman in the next 24 to 48 hours would be the determining factor.

Hughes also suffered a broken nose, third degree burns on his hands, and possible skull and left leg fractures in the crash and explosion of his newest plane, the

Ranchman Questioned In Bludgeon Slaying

May Takes House Floor In Defense

WASHINGTON, July 8 (AP)—Rep Andrew J. May (D-Ky) told the House today "there is something sinister in these attacks" on him in connection with the Senate investigation of war profits.

May took the House floor after Chairman Mead (D-NY), termed "wholly inadequate" the Kentuckian's testimony to the Senate war investigating committee June 4 concerning his relations with an Illinois munitions combine.

Declaring he had never used "one penny of anybody's money except my own," May told his colleagues:

"I cannot help but believe that there is something sinister in these attacks on me."

Mead's statement was made to the committee on the other side of the Capitol. The long-distance exchange between the two legislators came against a background of week-end developments which included:

1. Testimony to the Senate committee that two firms in the Illinois combine advanced more than $48,000 to the Cumberland Lumber Company and that more than $18,000 in checks and drafts were endorsed by A. I. May.

2. Two statements by May to the effect that he had not profited in any way from the Cumberland company. He said everything he did was for the benefit of his constituents and in promotion of the war effort.

Before the May-Mead exchange, the Senate group heard one of its investigators, Thomas O'Connell, testify he was handed $500 in a Chicago hotel last December by the understanding that he would withdraw from the investigation and take a political job in New Mexico, but he said he gave it back the next day.

May, chairman of the House military committee, addressed the House under personal privilege. In his statement to the committee, Chairman Mead said:

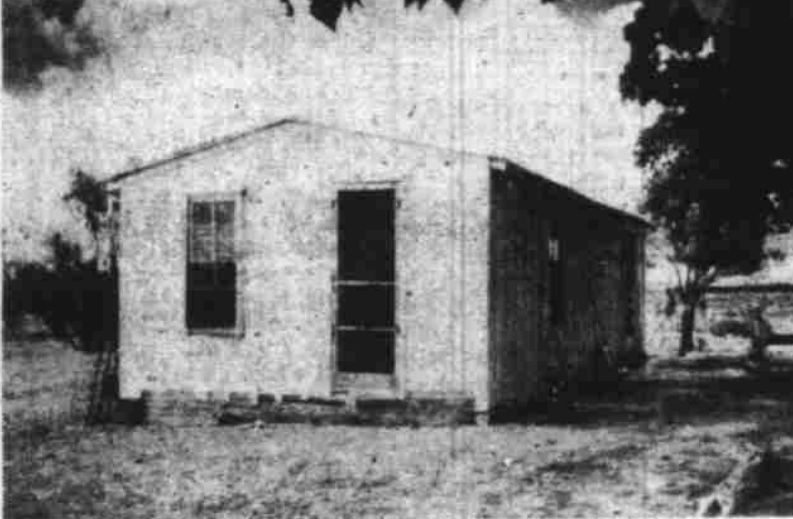

"He (May) was not under oath. He left the impression with the committee that he made a few disinterested telephone calls that were more or less incidental. Testimony has since revealed that he made many telephone calls which were repetitious and troublesome."

"The committee has invited him to testify in open session and give whatever information he may have, but he has so far failed to accept that invitation."

The committee has received testimony from Army ordnance officers that May repeatedly implored them to give contracts to the Illinois combine. The interlocked companies received over $78,000,000 in contracts and their officers were paid salaries which Mead called "war profiteering at its worst."

Heat Wave Continues To Keep Up Mercury By the Associated Press The US Weather Bureau today said there is no let-up in sight for the current heatwave that has all Texas sweltering in the high 90's and above 100.

Only a few widely scattered showers brought temporary temperature drops in pin-point areas over the state yesterday. Continuation of such showers is the only relief the weather bureau promises.

SLAYING SCENE—The body of Mrs. Beulah C. Williams, 46, wife of a Glascock county ranch hand, lies under bedding in center background in the midst of a welter of disarranged litter presumably created in a struggle in which the woman was bludgeoned to death Saturday evening in a two-room shack on the Roy Davis ranch 20 miles southeast of here. Officers said the struggle apparently started in the north room, seen through the door, and that blood stains indicated the fight progressed to the south room and that the body was then dragged back to the doorway. Earl H. Williams, 48, husband of the slain woman, who reported the slaying to officers, was in custody. Below is an exterior view of the death house. (Jack M. Haynes Photos.)

THREE POLICEMEN FIRED, ONE DEMOTED IN STAFF SHAKEUP

Three members of the Big Spring police department received letters of immediate dismissal Monday morning. They were Leonard Malmstrom, day patrolman; C. W. Beauchamp, day patrolman; and W. L. Baird, radio operator. They were notified in writing by Police Chief A. G. Mitchell, who cited "unsatisfactory service."

The men could not be reached by The Herald for a statement. Mitchell, in confirming the action, said the department "has certain rules and regulations, and these men have not seen fit to comply with the rules." He added that he had discussed the matter with the men before.

In addition, Mitchell has ordered the demotion of H. W. Zachary from captain to night patrolman. Zachary at present is on a leave of absence, and his future tenure was not known.

The personnel shakeup in the department is a development in differences which have arisen in city administration policies, affecting largely the police department, with some members of the city commission and City Manager B. J. McDaniel being at odds.

The commission has a meeting scheduled Tuesday and it was considered a certainty that the action by Chief Mitchell will be a factor in any settlement of the rift over policies.

Wyatt Says Controls Necessary To Meet Vets' Building Needs

AUSTIN, July 8 (AP)—Without price controls, it will be impossible to reach the goal of 2,700,000 homes and apartments for veterans and their families by the end of 1947, Wilson W. Wyatt, national housing expeditor, said here today.

Wyatt told his luncheon audience that the veterans' housing program was drafted in the belief that sensible, working price controls would be retained until production reached a point where supply had caught up with demand.

Declaring that the fate of the veterans emergency housing program depends on the price control legislation now before congress, the national housing agency administrator said rising prices of building materials would put home building contractors "squarely on the spot."

Wyatt's listeners included the mayors and housing committee chairmen of some 25 South and West Texas cities.

Admits Possible He Killed Wife With His Fists

Confronted with overwhelming evidence against him this morning, Earl Hamilton Williams, 48, admitted orally he could have bludgeoned his wife, Mrs. Beulah Williams, to death. She died sometime Saturday night in a two-room shanty on the Roy C. Davis ranch in north-eastern Glascock county.

He was still undergoing questioning at the sheriff's office here at noon today, however, as police sought to piece the bizarre story together.

Williams had protested his innocence until he was returned to the scene of the tragedy this morning. He muttered his story to the Howard county sheriff, Bob Wolf, state highway patrolmen and others without a visible show of emotion.

As best as he could remember, he said, he used his fists to beat the woman to death but the battered condition of the body, which was brought to town by the Nalley funeral home Sunday, led officers to believe differently.

Williams was returned to the Howard county jail later this morning. District Attorney Martelle McDonald said a charge of murder against Williams had been drawn up and mailed to the Glascock county clerk.

The ranch hand, who was looking after the owner's property while the Davis family was visiting in Mineral Wells, spent last night in the Howard county jail after he broke the news of his wife's death to local authorities.

Williams, an employee of the Davis holdings for the past three months, walked four miles and hitch-hiked the remainder of the 23 miles to Big Spring to tell a grisly tale to Sheriff Bob Wolf and McDonald.

He had, he originally maintained, discovered the battered body of his wife early Sunday morning beside his bed in the two-room shanty the couple occupied. He insisted he had last seen her around 6 o'clock the previous evening when she departed the house for a neighborhood dance.

The woman had died, a coroner's report showed, of a broken neck after being hit repeatedly about the head and shoulders with a blunt instrument. Police theorized she had first been beaten to the floor in the north room of the small shack, dragged into the other room and there battered to death.

The scene of death was one of carnage. Blood was splattered about the walls and covered the floor.

When Williams led the officers back to the house, the body lay beside the bed just inside the door adjoining the two rooms.

Bloody footprints the authorities identified as made by Williams were in evidence in both rooms. Williams' clothing and feet were caked with blood.

The murder instrument was missing, despite an intensive search made by authorities. Walter Teel, Glascock sheriff who directed the investigation, theorized that the murderer had used either a hammer or a stick of heavy wood in his attack upon the woman.

A small tank near the house was drained but the weapon was not found. If the woman had been clubbed to death by a piece of wood, Teel said, the killer could have burned the stick.

Sixty-one West Texas towns are on Rainey's itinerary for the week.

Rainey Will Speak Here Wednesday

A sixth week of "whirlwind" electioneering will bring Dr. Homer P. Rainey, a prominent candidate for governor, to Big Spring for an address Wednesday night.

The deposed University of Texas president is scheduled to make a regular political address from the courthouse lawn at 8:30 p. m. and his supporters here began plans over the weekend for publicizing his appearance here.

Sixty-one West Texas towns are on Rainey's itinerary for the week.

Legal Test Postponed On Polio Quarantine

SAN ANTONIO, July 8 (AP)—City Attorney T. D. Cobbs has requested postponement of a legal test scheduled today in corporation court for violation of the city's polio quarantine ban of public gatherings for children under 14 years of age.

Doug Jones Wins Abilene Golf Championship, 1 Up

ABILENE, July 7 (Sp)—Doug Jones, who perfected his links game around Big Spring, won his second major triumph of the 1946 campaign by edging Jimmy Gilleland, Waco, one up, in the 36-hole final of the Abilene Invitational golf tournament here Sunday.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART If some service club will put up the money for the awards, the Big Spring Junior golf tournament, which was introduced here a year or so prior to the war, will be revived.

Age limit on the tournament would be 21 years. Such an event could be expected to attract young linksmen here from all over West Texas.

If the plans materialize, the meeting will probably be staged in early August, so as not to conflict with the Big Spring Invitational tournament, which starts August 30 and continues through Labor Day.

Our town's Marv Wright, who'd be a good bet for a junior tournament since the Muni is his home course, is passing up the annual State Junior tournament, which is being staged at the Brackneridge Park course in San Antonio starting today.

Not until the long 34th did Jones take a permanent lead. He ran down a well played par on that one to go to the fore after Gilleland wound up with a bogie five.

The champion-to-be never held more than a three-hole advantage and that occurred only once—on the 15th. Gilleland rallied to win 17 and 18 with a par and a bird for big-time competition but will probably go out amongst them in 1947, at which time he'll be finishing up his high school eligibility.

Some time ago, he told Obie Bristow he'd cut off his trousers above the knees and tour the course with J. Gordon in such a jester's costume if the man-mountaineer were ever able to negotiate the country club course in 32 strokes.

Red Cross Called Great Peace Force WASHINGTON, July 8 (AP)—Basil O'Connor said today the Red Cross can be "the greatest force for international peace that exists in the world today."

The chairman of the American Red Cross made his assertion in an address prepared for an Oxford, England, convention of the League of Red Cross Societies, which he also heads. The text was made public here.

O'Connor appealed to citizens of all countries to promote international good will and the brotherhood of man "while we await the coming of the one world under law that is implicit in the United Nations."

While terming the UN charter a "fine and hopeful blueprint," he declared: "Unfortunately — and perhaps inevitably — there have been too many and too divergent interpretations of its terms and specifications. The structure of international peace remains, at best, but a rosy vision."

O'Connor asserted, however, that "there is one ideal that is common to all men of good will — humanitarianism."

Lawyers Critical Of Clark Speech CLEVELAND, July 8 (AP)—The National Lawyers Guild is resolved to seek the removal of Attorney General Tom C. Clark unless he reverses the policies of the department of justice.

Irked by a speech Clark made recently in Chicago, the Guild so decided in a resolution adopted at the final session of the organization's 10th annual convention yesterday.

Speaking before the Bar association in Chicago June 21, Clark said one of the greatest dangers to "civil liberties of our fellow citizens and one which should be taken literally by all the members of our profession, is the method of communism and fascism to shackle democracy by indirection."

Clark also spoke of the responsibility of lawyers in guarding civil liberties. He said he believed "that our bar associations, with a strong hand, should take those brilliant brothers of ours to the legal woodshed for a definite and well-deserved admonition."

Bob Feller, Hal Newhouser Ready For All-Star Contest

By JOE REICHLER Associated Press Sports Writer National league partisans, already fully aware that their favorites will enter tomorrow's all-star contest in Boston against the American league's best on the short end of the worst mis-match in the classic's 13-year history, must have experienced that sinking sensation today.

If any National leaguer nursed a hope that the junior circuit's pitching twins, Cleveland's Bobby Feller and Detroit's Hal Newhouser, would not be "right" for the "dream game," that must be dispelled by now.

Feller, already named by American league all-star manager Steve O'Neill as his starting pitcher, whipped the Chicago White Sox 3-2 for his 15th victory of the season. The Indian fireballer whiffed six batters to raise his season total to 190 in 179 innings. The Sox, behind Eddie Lopat's two-hit twirling, copped the nightcap 5-0.

The Case Of Capsized Rowboat

Red Cross Life Saving Course Serves To Teach Persons To Act In Crisis

One of the purposes of the junior and senior life saving course, which gets underway at the municipal swimming pool at 6 o'clock this evening under competent instructors, is to teach the individual what to do in event of emergency.

Two boys, His wife and small daughter were drowned. Handling a rowboat takes as much training, according to Red Cross water safety instructors as handling a car.

He plans a short vacation in Los Angeles, Dallas and Houston before returning to school.

THE HORSE HAS FLOWERY TASTE

PHILADELPHIA, July 8. (AP) — A horse with a taste for flowery upset the residents about a little park at Front Street and Oregon Avenue by wading hungrily last midnight into the dahlias, morning glories, snapdragons, and other posies they had cultivated since March.

When they tried to shoo him away, he wheeled, kicked and shooed them away, and resumed his flowery feeding.

This went on until the horse tried his tactics on a policeman. It worked the first time but the policeman returned with a rope, lassoed the horse and took him to the police stables.

Just a hint. After preparing fish, rub hands with salt and lemon juice before applying any soap. Removes any tattletale odors. Delightfully different. Baste baked fish with lemon-sour cream (three tablespoons lemon juice to one cup cream). Bake fish in moderately hot oven.

Who Are We To Toss Stones?

Not a few Texans have scanned results of the Mississippi democratic primary unbelieveably. That man Bilbo was back again with the nomination (same as election) for another six year term in the United States senate.

And yet, who are we in Texas to toss many stones? We are guilty with Mississippi and many other states of permitting side issues, passion and prejudice rule our voting. It has gotten to the point in Texas that practically every candidate for major office is obliged to put on a side show with speaking incidentally. Pappy can be credited with starting the fad, but perhaps the underlying cause is that the electorate has not been thoroughly educated and sold on its responsibilities.

Just as much of our literature and public entertainment has been pitched on the juvenile levels to catch the masses, so have the candidates pitched their appeals to the voters. Always sensitive to the public pulse, they have learned that the man who would speak plainly without sensational embellishments and vague, colorful charges on issues would speak to himself.

It is easy to blame candidates for this, yet the general state of confusion has a greater bearing upon it. Until the public gets its feet back on bedrock, we cannot expect much else. Until we cease being taken in by whispirings, appeals to prejudice, hate and selfishness we cannot expect our democracy to be revitalized. The answer is education. By most hopeful estimates, it will require a score or more years to really begin making a dent in the trend, but it is time to start.

He Had A Secret For Living

Anyone who had been around these parts for many years knew Jim Winslow, a typical pioneer who has been removed from the passing scene.

There is no better way to describe him—and the vanishing tribe of early settlers—than to say he was just plain Jim Winslow. He had all the attributes of those who grew up with this country—optimistic, energetic, helpful, neighborly.

During his lifetime he fit perfectly into that segment which we term as the backbone of our society. If he and those like him ever looked for prestige, no one ever knew it. What they did look for—and found—was an opportunity to live abundantly with their fellow man.

It is in the passing of such people as Jim Winslow that we are reminded once again that old timers had a secret for successful living that many of us have not been able to grasp in our too hurried pace today.

THE BAD PENNY TURNS UP AGAIN

The Nation Today—James Marlow

On Guaranteed Wages

By MAX HALL
Associated Press Labor Reporter
(Substituting for James Marlow)

WASHINGTON, (AP)—One of the next big labor issues will be "guaranteed wages."

You are going to hear more and more about this subject, and these are some of the reasons why:

1. The CIO Packinghouse Workers are demanding a "guaranteed annual wage" in their contract negotiations starting this month.
2. The CIO Steelworkers have decided to make the "guaranteed annual wage" a major goal next winter.
3. Congress has set aside over $200,000 for the greatest study of guaranteed wages ever made. A small government investigating staff headed by Murray Latimer already had spent about $50,000 but was penniless when congress came to the rescue. Now the investigation is expanding and soon will be going full blast.

Eric Johnston, head of the Motion Picture association, is one of the key men in this study. It is being sponsored by the advisory board of the Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion. Johnston is a member of that board.

What is a "guaranteed wage?" First, it's not necessarily a "guaranteed annual wage." Johnston and Latimer leave out the word "annual." They say they doubt whether it's practical in many industries to guarantee a whole year's employment.

For the purpose of the study, they define a guaranteed wage plan as "a plan under which an employer guarantees a wage or employment to an individual worker for at least three months." Johnston recently told a congressional committee that instead of "guaranteed wage," he prefers to say "continuous employment" or "regularizing employment."

Labor unions are demanding

"guaranteed annual wages." But there probably won't be widespread strikes over the issue, not for a year or two at least. One reason is that rising prices may cause some unions to concentrate on higher wage rates and post-pone strenuous efforts to get guaranteed wages.

Another reason is that there are admittedly tough problems to be overcome in many industries.

Before you can guarantee wages for any period of time, you have to "stabilize" employment. Before you can do this, you have to "regularize" production. This is hard to do if your supply of raw materials is irregular. Or if people buy your product only at certain times of the year.

You must do away with seasonal ups and downs, at least to some extent. You must abolish layoffs. Millions of workers now are subject to layoffs.

Johnston told congress that most American wage-earners work less than 200 days in a year—"but they have to live 365 days."

Latimer, who is directing the actual research will have 79 people working on the guaranteed wage project at its peak.

Here's what they will do: Analyze present guaranteed wage plans; discover methods of "regularizing production and stabilizing employment"; estimate the cost of putting guaranteed wage plans into operation in selected industries; analyze the effects of guaranteed wages on the nation's economy; and finally, make recommendations.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., July 8 (AP)—A. F. Black, president of the Middle Rio Grande Milk Producers association, said 200 dairies in a four-county area are ready to halt local deliveries today unless Albuquerque distributors meet a demand for an increase of 50 cents a pound in the price of butter.

Government Boats For Vet Housing

WASHINGTON. — Veterans who go to college will be living in houseboats if a plan by Gen. Graves Erskine, chief of the Labor Department's retraining and reemployment administration, is adopted.

In order to alleviate housing problems for war vet students at colleges and universities, General Erskine has "persuaded the Maritime Commission to provide surplus river boats for colleges in waterfront cities. The boats will be loaned to the schools at no cost, except for upkeep, and will be used as floating dormitories for the vet students.

The vets will be charged a small sum for lodging and will be furnished two meals a day by the government at low cost.

Two such vessels, with stateroom accommodations for 400 veterans each, soon will be brought to Washington, D. C., to house overflow students in this area.

NOTE — General Erskine is being bombarded with reports that with increased living costs brought on by congressional scuttling of OPA, many war vet college students cannot make ends meet. In many cases, veterans have been compelled to restrict themselves to two meals a day.

Why Truman Has Trouble

At a recent White House cabinet luncheon, Judge Fred Vinson proposed the appointment of Gael Sullivan, hard-hitting assistant postmaster general, as the new director of the budget.

Attorney General Tom Clark immediately added his enthusiastic endorsement. Bob Hannagan also gave his support, though he said he would hate to lose his assistant.

The presidential lunchers then looked at the new Secretary of the Treasury, John Snyder. He is the cabinet executive who would have to work closely with the new director of the budget and his OK would be essential.

Snyder, however, said nothing. It was obvious he did not approve of Sullivan.

This illustrates one of the little-understood factors which operate inside the administration. It is doubtful that even the President himself fully understands it. His friends don't tell him. Truman has been constantly bemoaning the fact that he cannot enlist good men for government service; but he does not seem to realize that many good men refuse to serve because of the Missouri gang.

They know that their work would be constantly vetoed.

Missouri Gang Has Last Word

One such case occurred the other day when Truman invited J. R. Parten, wealthy Texas oil man and ex-member of the Texas University board of regents, to become chairman of the full employment committee. Later Truman announced Parten would not accept because he was making too much money. That, however, was not what Parten told either the President or Speaker Sam Rayburn who had urged his appointment.

Parten told the President that he thought the job of full employment chairman and director of the budget should be rolled into one. If the committee to bring full employment is to promote government spending, then it cuts across the bureau of the budget, and the two jobs must go hand in hand.

Knowing the close friendship between Truman and John Snyder, Parten did not add what he told others: that he could not work with John Snyder. So, since Snyder and the director of the budget must cooperate, the Texas oil man politely declined on the ground that he had to undergo an operation.

Many other well-qualified men have declined presidential appointments for exactly the same reason. They don't like the Missouri gang veto any more than members of the United Nations like Ambassador Gromyko's veto. They know that some of the old, old friends who sit very close to Mr. Truman have a lot more influence with him than members of the cabinet.

Roosevelt Children Row

For years, the voters of Seattle are watching a red-hot family contest between the two most politically-minded of FDR's children.

Jimmy, now political director of the Independent Citizens Committee, has thrown all his weight behind fighting Representative Hugh Delacy, while sister Anna Roosevelt Boettiger is trying to help Howard Costigan retne Delacy in the Washington state primaries Tuesday.

The family warfare started last month when Jimmy, ill and unable to appear in person, sent a warm endorsement of Delacy to a Seattle meeting of the Independent Citizens Committee. Jimmy also supported Senator Hugh Mitchell and Congressman John Coffee, Henry Jackson and Charley Savage, all of Washington and all Democrats.

However, Howard Costigan, a former political ally of Delacy's, jumped the race at the last minute and wrote Jimmy protesting the Delacy endorsement. Jimmy asked for a letter from Delacy outlining his political philosophy, got the letter, and then sent Costigan a sweeping endorsement of Delacy.

Meanwhile, sister Anna, who has lived in Seattle for some years, viewed her brother's intrusion from California with jaundiced eye. Doubtless she felt somewhat like Senator George of Georgia when her father invaded the senator's home state and proposed that George be defeated.

Anyway, sister Anna wrote brother Jimmy a letter attacking Delacy and praising his opponent Costigan. She also wrote Costigan giving him her unqualified support. Finally she authorized publication of both letters. Meanwhile, Delacy, unable to get equal publicity in the Seattle papers, has made recordings of Jimmy's endorsement, and is playing them over Seattle radio stations.

So tomorrow, the people of Seattle will have to choose between the opposing candidates of the Roosevelt family; in one corner, Howard Costigan, wearing the colors of sister Anna, and in the other corner Hugh Delacy.

Capital Chaff

After the last war rents jumped to 158 per cent of normal. After this war the OPA prevented major rises. According to N. R. De Mexico, editor of the "Building Reporter," 61 per cent of the war veterans cannot afford to pay rents above $30 to $40 a month. He also warns that removal of ceilings on building materials will zoom building costs and rents far out of the veterans' reach. . . . The real estate lobby was active backstage in gutting OPA, but after the Truman veto, Howard Carpenter Jr., president of the New York State Association of Real Estate Boards, warned that the scrapping of controls was "the worst thing that could have happened to property interests in the state." Prisoners Recaptured In Laredo Jail Break

HOUSTON, July 8 (AP)—Three federal prisoners who escaped from the Laredo jail yesterday after overpowering the jailer were recaptured at Sapota late last night.

Houston police said they were informed that Texas Rangers made the capture.

The trio was being held for violation of the Dyer act, transporting stolen automobiles across the state line.

In making their escape the men also took the jailer's keys, his shotgun and his automobile.

The is one of the world's oldest building materials. Even the word is ancient, originating from an Anglo-Saxon "tigel" which is a derivative of the Latin "tegulo" from "tego" meaning to cover.

Temporary Christmas Present

Will Tax Rate Go Down To Zero?

By PAUL BOLTON

AUSTIN—None of the members of the State Automatic Tax Board will comment on it yet, but it is apparent that the ad valorem taxpayers of Texas are going to get an $11,000,000 Christmas present on July 20.

Because the Automatic Tax Board has little choice but to cut the present general revenue ad valorem tax rate of 35 cents per $100 valuation to zero. The remaining 37 cent rate for state ad valorem taxes can't be changed, so they will continue to collect 35 cents per $100 for the schools and two cents per $100 for the Confederate pension fund.

Gov. Coke Stevenson, Comptroller George Sheppard and Treasurer Jesse James are members of the Automatic Tax Board which meets every July to examine the state of the state's finances and set the rate for general revenue purposes which will be needed to meet the expected spending for the fiscal year which begins Sept. 1. Here are the factors which make it virtually certain that the rate will be cut to zero:

1. The General Revenue Fund will have an unencumbered cash surplus of around $21,000,000 by Aug. 31.
2. The anticipated spending out of this fund during the next fiscal year will be $47,186,751.
3. The anticipated revenue for that fund, with the ad valorem tax rate at zero, is $48,000,000.
4. The Constitution requires this board to set the rate so as to provide what is needed to meet expected spending, and no more, limited only by the 35-cent maximum rate.

Since revenue from other sources will come within $1,000,000 of the expenditures, leaving the $21,000,000 cash balance untouched, the board's decision logically would be to cut the rate to zero.

How the board happened to set the rate at 35 cents last year, and how this surplus developed, is quite a story. And it's the kind of thing that makes tax statisticians like Comptroller Sheppard wonder if they can make any kind of dependable predictions. Last summer, the board met with $13,215,274 surplus in sight by Sept. 1, 1945. But the war was still going on, gasoline was still rationed, and lower receipts were expected from many taxes like motor fuel. Every day more and more cars were wearing out, and declines in that source were expected.

So they guessed that revenues would drop. Instead, tax collections rose in practically every category. Cigarette tax income is at an all-time high. So are gasoline tax revenues, despite the shortages of cars. The true picture on cars appears to be that many hundreds of cars have been brought into Texas from other states, more than replacing the number worn out during the war. And old cars use more gas per mile. Nine months of crude oil tax collections this year equal collections during all of last year's.

Even inheritance tax collections, exactly as unpredictable as death itself, have practically doubled. So, instead of using up part of the surplus during the current fiscal year, the General Revenue Fund has continued to grow, and the result will be the reduction in the ad valorem to adjust the balance.

The rate reduction may be short-lived, however. Because the automatic provision means that the legislature, meeting next January, can spend $11,000,000 out of the general revenue fund without having to pass new taxes. They can just appropriate that much, and then it will be up to the Automatic Tax Board, in July, 1947, to reinstate the ad valorem for the general revenue fund to provide the money. The figure may be much more than $11,000,000 by then, too, because of the building boom which is adding thousands of dollars of taxable property to the rolls every day. But you can't get the total by adding up building permits, because homesteads up to $3,000 are exempt from the state ad valorem anyway, and the stress in the building picture for the next year or two will be on veterans homes, which would be exempt.

But, until next July, the landowners and property owners of Texas can mark it up that they've saved $11,000,000 because the war stepped up the production of oil and put Texans to smoking more store-bought cigarettes than they've ever smoked before.

Flowers From Caroline's Can Make A Room Perkier, Seem Much Cooler

Are you hot? Try placing a bowl of fresh flowers in your living room to bring a little moisture into the atmosphere and a little piece of garden indoors. Caroline's Flowers can always show you an extensive display of cut flowers which are just the thing to perk up a dull-looking, lifeless room. There is always a wide selection of flowers in roses, gladioli, carnations, daisies, and other garden blooms in colors ranging from cool white to crisp, pert coral and red.

For successful dinner parties whether indoors or in the summer garden, hostesses may always make sure that their table decorations include attractive and appropriate flowers. Such selections can range from sprays of white or gaily tinted gladioli arranged to give adequate decoration for a long table, to a low bowl containing a few rose blossoms floating on the water's surface for the ideal arrangement for a more intimate dinner party.

For that special anniversary or party, Caroline's can arrange a corsage that is just right for the lady's gown and flower preference. There is always a fresh stock of gardenias, roses or carnations for corsage use, or perhaps she might like something in agapanthus, more commonly known as "Blue Lily of the Nile."

For the lonesome hours which many are required to spend in uninteresting hospital rooms, Caroline's shop can offer a lovely bowl of bright blossoms for a spirit-lifting effect. Caroline's has facilities for wiring flowers anywhere in the United States, making for speedy service and getting fresh blossoms from accredited florists to any friend or relative, regardless of distance. For just what you've been looking for call 103 of stop by 1510 Gregg street.

HOME OF ELOQUENCE—No matter what words you use, there is perhaps no way to say anything so eloquently as with flowers. By this standard, Caroline's Flower Shop, 1510 Gregg, is a house of eloquence for she keeps fresh and abundant supplies of cut flowers, varied supplies of pot plants and other greenery which say the thing most people would like to say but have not the words. FARM MACHINERY INCREASES; MANY ITEMS AT OLDHAM'S

Farm machinery shipments are on the increase and they are expected to improve until full production is reached in possibly 120 days, George Oldham of Oldham Implements has announced.

Machinery on hand now includes two used tractors, new hammer feed mills, Fairbanks-Morse wind mills, gasoline engines, cream separators, two wheel utility trailers for farm use and camping purposes, single row power corn binders, on rubber tires, Bear Cat gasoline garden tractors, tractor-mounted post hole diggers, Acme terracers and bulldozers which fit on any make tractor.

Oldham's supplies Pennroll and Quaker State oil and greases. Also in Oldham's miscellaneous stocks are cotton chopping hoes, go-devil knives, cultivator sweeps, file wrenches and water bags. Farmers can get dusting sulphur for cotton flea hoppers, calcium arsenate poison for cotton insects and Pestroy, 25 per cent DDT concentrate for flies and mosquitos. George Oldham is the agent for McCormick - Deering equipment and International trucks. Owners of all types of machinery know that simply by going by Oldham Implements on the Lamesa highway, or by calling 1471 they can be assured of the type of quick, thorough service they need from factory trained mechanics.

Nail Held Without Bond in Odessa Case
 ODESSA, July 8 (AP)—County Attorney W. O. Shafer said John L. Nail, 28, charged with murder in connection with the shooting of the husband of his former wife, would be held here without bond until grand jury action is taken on his case. Nail was returned here from Austin yesterday. The defendant was charged with the shooting of Glen T. Thornton last Wednesday. Mrs. Thornton, to whom Nail had been married eight years before they were divorced, was beaten unconscious at the time her husband was slain.

When measuring yourself for a pattern hold tape measure around bust and waist easily; do not pull too tight. In taking hip measurements, however, tape may be drawn fairly tight.

NEIGHBORLY GROCERY—The very appearance of the Travis Reed Grocery and Market, which faces south on W. 8th and immediately east of the Reed home at 711 Scurry, is one of neighborliness. Surrounded by trees, border plants, etc., the store has an atmosphere of homeliness. This is natural, for Travis Reed, owner, has been in the grocery and market business in Big Spring perhaps longer than any other one person. Many people insist that their meats must come from Reed's. Wise Motorist Has Phillips Recap Tires

If your passenger car tires are becoming a little thin for driving on the hot, summer pavements, it probably will be wise to have them recapped. Ted Phillips, manager of the Phillips Tire company, advises. Although new tires are beginning to trickle through, it is expected to be some time yet before they start arriving in quantity.

Summer weather is hard on tires, especially if they have been driven for several seasons as a large majority of those in use today, Phillips pointed out. Therefore it is essential that good tread be maintained during this season.

The Phillips Tire company, 211 East 3rd street, is equipped to handle all types of tire repair work. They kept many automobiles rolling during the war and are prepared to continue specializing in this work. Most large truck tires also are scarce at present, and truck owners are reminded that they can get the same high quality service at the Phillips Tire company that is available to passenger car owners.

When tires become plentiful again, Phillips will offer motorists all the popular US Royals they want. Until that time, he is anxious to help keep their old tires in operation. Already becoming plentiful are tractor tires, with the company recently receiving shipments of most all types. The Phillips Tire company also maintains a good stock of various types of automobile accessories. At present they are featuring new seat covers, jacks, body polish, etc.

Absentee Balloting Opens In State Today

By The Associated Press
 Texans have already started casting absentee ballots in the first democratic primary, three weeks hence, while candidates for major offices stumped in all parts of the state.
 Absentee voting, with results carefully guarded by legal processes designed to insure secrecy, officially started Sunday, July 7, and will continue until July 23. Ballots so cast by persons unable for legally specified reasons to be in their precincts July 27 will be carefully guarded by county clerks and delivered to election judges two days before the primary. These early ballots will be counted on election day.

Office Seekers Visit El Paso

EL PASO, July 8 (AP)—Farther west than Denver, Colo., and Cheyenne, Wyo., El Paso often feels neglected by Texas office-seekers.

During the past few years, only one or two candidates for state offices have campaigned in this city of 115,000 persons.

This year no less than 10 candidates, four of them running for governor, have journeyed to far West Texas to seek votes in El Paso.

Young Casco March, gubernatorial candidate, started the parade of politicians early in the summer.

Later, El Paso greeted four candidates in one week.

Attorney General Grover Sellers, running for governor, and state Rep. Jo Ed Winfree, lieutenant governor candidate, arrived on the same day, although each disclaimed knowledge of the other's presence.

Next day, Olin Culberson, running for re-election as Texas railroad commission chairman, drove into town, followed by Lt. Gov. John Lee Smith, another candidate for governor.

A. J. Burks, former Odessa mayor, was the fourth gubernatorial candidate to visit.

Next on the list was Pat Neff, Jr., in the race for attorney general, and the most recent visitors were state Senator Alan Shivers and Boyce House, candidates for lieutenant governor, and Mac Coker, for railroad commissioner.

Texas Holiday Deaths At 29

By The Associated Press

Late reports today placed Texas first in the nation for traffic fatalities during the four-day Fourth of July holiday week-end.

Four deaths from accidents yesterday brought the state traffic toll to 20, three ahead of New York, in second place with 17.

Five drownings and four other fatal accidents brought the Texas week-end total to 29, New York's total was 37.

Mrs. M. L. Garvin, 67, died in Fort Worth yesterday morning from injuries received in an automobile collision Saturday night.

Also in Fort Worth, Douglas DeWitt Davis, 5-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Davis, died early today from injuries sustained when the family car overturned near Birdville last night. Mr. and Mrs. Davis received minor injuries and a daughter, Betty, 3, was injured seriously.

At Amarillo, Claude E. Trimble, 72, was killed Saturday when hit by a truck as he crossed a street. Kitty O'Keefe, 18, died yesterday afternoon from injuries received in an automobile collision.

Other late fatalities reported included:

Ocie Lee Lusk, 43, a carpenter, was struck and killed by a freight train Sunday as he walked across a crossing at Houston.

Edgar L. West, 26, of Houston, survivor of nine major Pacific naval battles, was electrocuted Saturday while installing a radio ground wire.

Don Freeman, 8, son of H. M. Freeman of Longview, was killed early Sunday morning in a collision of two automobiles.

Frank Dunn, who lives near Tyler, was killed when his automobile went into a roadside ditch and overturned near Kilgore.

Claude Martin, 35, was found dead beneath his truck which had struck a tree near De Kalb Saturday.

Mrs. Nona Mae Perry, 21, was burned to death at Houston in an apartment fire Sunday.

Violent Deaths Lower Than Expected During Four-Day Holiday

By The Associated Press

The nation today counted up 224 dead in traffic accidents during the four-day Independence celebration, but this toll was far less than had been expected and even considerably below that for an ordinary four-day weekend period.

The National Safety Council says 400 persons normally die in traffic mishaps during an ordinary four days which include a Saturday and Sunday. Weighing this average to allow for extra holiday traffic, the council had estimated 450 would lose their lives in road accidents from 6 p. m. (local time) last Wednesday to 12:01 a. m. today.

The council had predicted 1,300 persons would die violently but only 495 violent deaths were reported, including the traffic fatalities, 159 drownings and 112 deaths from miscellaneous violent causes.

New York had more than any other state—a total of 37, with 17 of the fatalities the result of traffic accidents. Road accidents killed 20 in Texas, 15 in Ohio. Michigan had 20 drownings, California 10. Delaware and Vermont had no violent deaths.

Cotton

NEW YORK, July 8 (AP)—Cotton prices soared more than $3 a bale on an unexpectedly low government report placing the 1946 cotton acreage at 18,316,000 acres. This was only moderately above last season's low acreage of 17,749,000 acres and more than a million acres under average trade guesses.

Traders roughly estimated that the crop could be well under 10,000,000 bales compared with the 1945 crop production of 9,000,000 bales.

12-30 prices were $2.55 to $3.45 a bale higher. July 31.75, Oct. 31.71, Dec. 31.90.

Markets

NEW YORK, July 8 (AP)—Individual stocks groped for recovery today while many market leaders continued to stumble in another one of the slowest sessions for the past year.

Distillers Corp. edged into new high ground for 1946. Favored were Canadian Pacific, Santa Fe, Revere Copper (starting on a 8-Preferred), Goodrich, Montgomery Ward, Douglas Aircraft, International Nickel and J. C. Penney. Declines were recorded from Bethlehem, N. Y. Central, Baltimore & Ohio, Dome Mines, Chrysler, General Motors, U.S. Rubber, McIntyre Porcupine, Anaconda, Kennecott and North American. Bonds were narrow.

China Not Suffering Shortage Of Cotton

NANKING, July 8 (AP)—Economic Minister Wang Yun-Wu today dispelled fears of a cotton shortage, saying China has a stockpile of 800,000 bales, including UNRRA imports.

China is expecting a new crop of between 500,000 and 800,000 bales. This, plus the stockpile, should be sufficient for one year's operations of the textile industry.

Picnic Scheduled

Brotherhood of the First Baptist church is scheduled to have its annual family picnic at the city park today at 7:30 p. m. It will be a basket picnic with an old-fashioned spread. Cecil Collins, president of the Brotherhood, has announced.

Truman, Byrnes Ask Passage Of Loan

WASHINGTON, July 8 (AP)—President Truman and Secretary of State Byrnes stepped directly into the fight over the British loan today as some administration leaders privately voiced concern about the impending house vote on the huge transaction.

Mr. Truman sent a letter to the Chairman Spence (D-Ky) of the house banking committee, renewing his request for congressional approval of the proposed $3,750,000,000 credit. Spence will read the letter to the house, opening four days of debate today on the loan agreement.

Byrnes cabled Spence from Paris that the loan is essential to the welfare of the nation and the world peace. Byrnes is attending the foreign ministers conference.

Cotton's Importance Theme Of Meeting

DALLAS, July 8 (AP)—"Cotton—a world force" will be the theme of the seventh annual meeting of the Cotton Research Congress opening here today for a two-day conference.

"Cotton has been taken for granted so long and accepted as a natural gift as the sun and moon that few of us realize what a tremendous force it is in the world today," Burr Jackson, general chairman of the state-wide cotton committee, said in an address prepared for delivery today.

He was still groggy when first questioned Sunday morning.

Tall Pole Tale

WHEATLAND, Wyo. — J. B. King, manager of the telephone company here, vividly recalls when he started in the business 35 years ago by climbing poles which several years later proved to be too tall.

Back in those days, he said, it was believed the telephone poles should be from 60 to 65 feet tall. When the 45-foot poles came into use, King was so accustomed to climbing the taller ones that one day he forgot to stop going after reaching the top.

He climbed right on off the top of the pole and landed in the branches of an apple tree 25 feet below.

WASHINGTON, July 8 (AP) — Urged by President Truman to speed action, the House beat down 181 to 87 today efforts to block consideration of the $3,750,000,000 British loan.

The vote put the loan formally before the House for four days of debate.

However, it furnished no accurate measure of the strength of the opposition, as anti-loan forces split on an effort by some members to block consideration of the Senate-approved legislation ratifying the credit.
