Mrs. Lucita Rodriguez and Mrs. George Cabrera, Sr. returned March 20 from Brownsville, Texas where they stayed 10 days with Ramiro Manuel Rodriguez who was operated on for a tumor of the spinal cord.

Farm Bureau Officers Attend Special Meet

Bailey County Farm Bureau was represented by six voting delegates at the special called meeting of the Texas Farm Bureau March 22 at the Baker Hotel in Dallas. Purpose of the meeting was to consider recommendations for expanding programs of the organization "to meet current and future needs" of farmers and ranchers in Texas.

Attending from this County were James Warren, president; Reuel Kirby, Secretary; Ernest Ramm, Policy Development Chairman; Phil Garrett, membership Chairman; Clarence Mason, Director; and Freddie Parkman, member.

The special meeting was the first of its kind ever held by the TFB and culminated almost a year of study and program development activity involving hundreds of county Farm Bureau leaders. The 13-member State Program Expansion Committee consulted county Farm Bureaus in the drafting of the recommendations which were submitted to the voting delegates.

The proposals voted on at the Dallas meeting were based on the desires expressed in county Farm Bureau board meetings last summer. Priorities were established at a statewide meeting of county presidents in August. The State Program Expansion Committee, in cooperation with similar committees on the county level, has been studying and evaluating proposed expansion needs for the past several months.

outline on each of the candidates is presented below:

Carl Bamert
"As I, Carl Bamert, announce as a candidate to serve the Muleshoe Independent School District Board of Trustees, I do so with full knowledge of the many program changes which are facing all school districts in the near future. Having been privileged to serve on the school board the past three years, I feel that we must continually look toward the future for advancement as opportunities present themselves and as the needs for progress arise, we must be ready to meet them," said Carl Bamert, president of the Muleshoe Independent School District Board, and incumbent seeking re-election.

"I am a graduate of Las Cruces Union High School, Las Cruces, N. M.," he continued, "and I attended New Mexico School of Mines in Socorro before entering the air force for a two year tour of duty. After serving with the Armed Forces, I attended New Mexico State University for two years. I married Willow Rhea (Cookie) Cooger in 1947, and we moved to Muleshoe that same year and have been engaged in farming since that time. We have two children, Greta, a MHS Junior and Nicky, who is a sixth grader in Muleshoe Junior High School."

Hospital District Activities Outlined

As reported by Mrs. J.G. Arnn

On May 29, 1968, the Muleshoe City Council and Bailey County Commissioners Court met in joint session to discuss the hospital situation in Muleshoe.

Following discussions, they appointed the following persons to serve on the newly formed Bailey County Hospital Authority Board; Mrs. J. G. Arnn, temporary chairman. The temporary chairman assumed charge of the meeting on June 4, 1968, then called for nominations to the office of Directors. Officers selected included, Dr. Charles Lewis, president; Don Harmon, vice president; Verda Nell Arnn, secretary-treasurer and other board members, Arlene Phelps, Sam Damron, Freddie Parkman, D. O. Buresmith, Eddie Beene and Neil Dillman. The main purpose of the board is to have an open staff hospital--combine Green and West Plains Hospital--create a hospital district--convert West Plains into a convalescent home or build a new hospital.

The Board voted to retain Joe Smith of First Southwest Company of Texas Investment Bankers of Lubbock, Texas, as financial consultants until final negotiations were entered into. Eddie Faust gave a financial report of the present hospitals. Joe Smith found it would not be feasible to sell bonds to buy hospitals. It was reported that the local doctors would like to sell, but will keep the hospital open until a new one is built. Joe Smith presented a draft bill and explained that 40 cents tax on $100 valuation would be sufficient, with a 75 cent tax maximum. The public was informed of this information.

Target dates suggested by Joe Smith were:

Jan. 1969-Introduce Bill to Legislature to form Hospital District.

April, 1969-Pass Legislation establishing Hospital District.

Sept. 1969-Election to create Hospital District.

May 1970-Vote bond issue to build new hospital.

May 1970-Make application for Hill-Burton matching funds.

May 1972-Make re-application for Hill-Burton if not approved.

Dec. 1970-Grants announced.

Feb. 1971-Hospital building started.

Feb. 1973-Hospital building completed.

The hospital board planned open meetings at different communities in the county. Judge Don Cihak met with the board and asked that they look into the Hospital Authority more--hoping not to have additional taxes.

Dr. Charles Lewis visited new hospitals at Bowie, Texas and Seymour; and was very favorable impressed. Both of these Hospitals are operated as Hospital authorities. Seymour Hospital cost nine hundred and fifty thousand dollars for a 52-bed hospital. Other board members visited the Seymour Hospital and were favorable impressed. Board members visited several different hospitals

Arthur Heyward-Lonsdale, who also is chairman of the local police authority. "Age is irrelevant," Mrs. Campbell-White snapped, but she surrendered and gave the evidence--she is 52 years old.

Rep. Bill Clayton Attends Two Day Met In Washington

State Representative Bill Clayton of Springlake, Texas attended a two-day meeting in Washington, D. C., with State Legislators from throughout the country on federal issues of importance to States.

Representative Clayton serves as a member of the Intergovernmental Relations Committee of the National Legislative Conference. The Committee met March 19 and 20. A briefing on the President's General and Special Revenue Sharing (grant consolidation) Programs was held for the attendees at the White House. Discussed were the implications for state and local governments contained in the President's six categorical special revenue sharing (grant consolidation) programs. To date, five of the six special messages (law enforcement, rural community development, urban community development, manpower training, and transportation) have been sent to Congress. The sixth--education--is expected to be sent next week.

Clark MacGregor, Counsel to the President for legislative and congressional affairs, addressed the legislators at a luncheon business session. He discussed the domestic initiatives of the President and their ramifications on state and local governments.

The Intergovernmental Relations Committee was formed by the National Legislative Conference in 1957 in recognition of the increasing importance of the expanding role of State Legislators in the federal-state partnership.

On a functional basis, the Intergovernmental Relations Committee has formed six task forces to consider problems and programs in the areas of: commerce and transportation, government operations, human resources, natural resources, urban affairs, and public safety. Representative Clayton serves as Chairman of the task force on natural resources.

BOMBING CUTBACK

vice president of the board, He has served on the Muleshoe School Board for the past three years.

He is a farmer west of Muleshoe and his wife, Pat, is a teacher at Muleshoe Junior High School. The Gunter has three sons, John III, Gary and Brent. John Gunter, in speaking of his candidacy, commented, "To give each child in the school the opportunity to achieve their maximum in their formal education is the aim of the Muleshoe schools. Doing this to the best of my ability, within the framework of existing laws, limited money and ever changing conditions is my pledge to the district."

He concluded, "I have lived in Bailey County the greater part of my life; finished Three Way High School and Texas A&M. After completing a tour of duty with the army, I started farming. My wife, Patsy, and I, and our three sons, John, Gary and Brent, live on a farm west of Muleshoe."

Walter Sain, co-owner and operator of Leo's Welding Service in Muleshoe, has filed as a candidate on the Muleshoe Independent School District Board of Trustees. He is married to the former Rose Little, and they are the parents of five children, Debbie, Becky, Bonnie, Timmy and Shelly.

Sain is active in the Trinity Baptist Church of Muleshoe.

He said he was a candidate for the Muleshoe School Board because he feels obligated to do his part as a citizen of Muleshoe and because he would not be afraid to speak up if he sees something he thinks needs to be changed in the school system.

Joe T. Gonzales, who has lived in Muleshoe for the past 12 years, and has been employed at Plains Auto Parts for the last eight years, is another candidate for the Muleshoe School Board.

He and his wife Alice, have five children, Daniel, 15; Mary Ann, 12; Eva, 11; Bobby, nine and Diane, seven years of age. They are members of the Catholic Church. He is a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and a former director on the Muleshoe Jaycees Board of Directors. He served in the U. S. Army and was in Korea for 13 months during the Korean War.

Gonzales said, "We think if a Mexican-American person is on the school board, we can be better informed about what programs are available and how they work in the local school system. We can let people know."

"If a person of the same race is on the school board, we feel a board member can communicate better with the Mexican-American people due to the large number of Mexican-American students enrolled in the four Muleshoe schools.

"I don't have any complaints about the programs in the schools or the way they work. But, due to a lack of communication, some Mexican-American people are not fully aware over the state. Bob Wingler, of Wingler and Sharp Architects of Wichita Falls met with the Board. Seymour used this architect firm.

Four board members met with the firm of Hewitt and Royer Architects of Kansas City, Mo. The board then re-discussed the District versus Authority, decided on Authority as best. Hired Wingler and Sharp on a contingency basis.

The board met with the City Council and County Commissioners and reported of Board's decision to try to go Authority. They were pleased at Board's decision.

Bob Wingler met with the Board to explain contract of firm and specifications or requirements for site, etc. to submit to H.U.D. for loan. After submitting, etc. Neil Dillman, Don Harmon and Dr. Charles Lewis met with H.U.D. representatives and found it doubtful that we will get a loan. This was late in November 1969.

The members have borne all expenses going to hospitals personally. They spent several months studying before we decided to go Hospital District. The Board is still trying for a way to build without taxation. They have re-applied for H.U.D.

An election was called for May 16, 1970. The proposal carried. The great opposition arose. A great number of people signed a petition to contest the election and served papers on Roger Gorrell on the 8th day of June, 1970. A suit was held in court on the 28th and 29th days of July, 1970. The judge ruled the election legal. They, including Chester B. Setliff, et al, carried the suit to the Court of Civil Appeals at Amarillo, Texas. A ruling was made March 16, 1971, in favor of the Hospital District.

The Hospital District Board has not been informed of the Hill-Burton Grant of which they expected to hear in Dec. 1970. They are now discussing the Hospital Corporation of America, as they have just completed a hospital in Lubbock and have one under construction in Levelland. Also as mentioned above, the board has re-applied through H.U.D. and are exploring F.H.A. for financing, since new legislation pertaining to construction of the Hospital has come into being since January 1971.

of what programs are offered or how they would affect their children who are students now or in the future.

"I feel I could be an asset to the community if I were elected."

Frederick Beversdorf
Fifth candidate for the Muleshoe Independent School Board of Trustees is Frederick Beversdorf, a native of Wisconsin. Beversdorf and his family have been Muleshoe residents for three years. He operates the local H & R Block Income Tax business in Muleshoe. He and his wife, Bernie, are the parents of eight children. Donna Lee and Daniel, who are college students and Esther, Frederick, Marcus, Tony, Samuel and Jessie, who are students in the Muleshoe School system.

Beversdorf said of his candidacy, "I am basically interested in education because it is one of the most important forces in a young person's life."

"I have been through college and have children in college. I think I understand some of the things that need to be done in the first years of school to prepare a youngster for college."

"And because I was a teacher for three years, I also understand a teacher's viewpoint in relation to the school board and the student."

"Up to now," he concluded, "I haven't bought a home in Muleshoe, but I plan to this year."

"I would like to be involved in education."

A biographical sketch of the three candidates for the Muleshoe City Council will be outlined in the next issue of The Journal.

National FHA Week March 28-April 3

FHA CARES is the theme of National Future Homemakers of America Week, March 28-April 3. During this week 600,000 members in over 12,000 local FHA chapters throughout the United States and its territories will carry out special projects and activities to show that FHA members do care.

National President, Ruth Ann Hockenbroch, a high school senior at Middleburg, Pennsylvania put it this way: "Future Homemakers of America do care. We care about what's happening to our country today, and we care about preparing ourselves for the future. Today we are teenagers, tomorrow we become The Establishment. Through our FHA activities and oriented learning experiences we are preparing to take our place in that establishment. In this, our twenty-fifth anniversary year as a national organization, we want National FHA Week to be a showcase for what 600,000 teenagers are doing constructively to find solutions to some of the problems confronting today's society in preparation for a better life tomorrow."

This national organization of high school home economics students provides opportunities for developing individual and group initiative in planning and carrying out activities related to the home and the community.

Throughout the country FHA members are learning by doing. They contribute to the community by working as volunteers. They assist in local head start programs or with the mentally retarded and handicapped through county health and welfare departments.

They organize reading classes and tutorial programs for migrant or underprivileged children. They visit and assist the elderly or work with other groups on community service projects. They serve as hospital candy strippers, hold career seminars, survey for job opportunities for youth, conduct sessions on preparation for marriage, hold morals discussions, and carry out many other projects which give practical application to their classroom learning.

Future Homemakers of America was founded June 11, 1945 as an incorporated, non-profit organization supported by membership dues. Nationwide in membership and effort it is co-sponsored by the U.S. Office of Education and the American Home Economics Association and was developed for the purpose of providing experiences that broaden the home economics education program in the high school. High school home economics teachers, members of the state home economics staff, and leading home economists serve as advisors to chapter, state, and national youth officers, giving guidance and counseling to the program.

Activities at all levels-national, state, and local-are youth directed. Twelve national youth officers elected yearly help develop and promote the national program of work and plan and preside over the annual national meetings. The FHA members themselves decide on their goals and purposes, and plan their own activities and projects. This provides an opportunity to develop leadership, express creativeness, and become aware of approaching responsibilities as adult citizens.

The annual state meeting of Future Homemakers of America, an organization of high school homemaking students, will be held in Memorial Auditorium, Dallas, Texas, April 23-24, 1971.

More than 5,000 members and advisors representing almost 76,000 members in 1600 chapters throughout the state will attend.

The theme of the meeting is "FHA Steps Into Action." Keynote speakers will be Reverend Logan Cummings, Brownwood, who will speak on youth involvement in today's society and Miss Barbara Baley, former FHA Area IV President who will tell of her experiences with involvement in standing up for America.

True or false? Food packages marked "enriched" on the label are for persons on special diets. The answer is false because enriched foods are for everyone! When a homemaker has a choice between an enriched product versus one that's not enriched, she should choose the enriched one. This means more vitamins and minerals are added to her family's diet.

Market Report

COLLEGE STATION--Take advantage of special sales, and buy foods in heaviest supply to help keep your food costs down, advises Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist at Texas A&M University.

And planning before your shopping trip is a good habit to develop if you are sincere about getting the most food for your money, she adds.

Since the 1970 turkey crop was an especially large one, turkeys are still available at attractive prices. Consider turkey as a special mealtime treat for your family.

Fryers remain at the same economical levels as last week, specials on eggs. Remember that the Grade A Large size is the best combination of economy and quality.

The beef counter should be well stocked, with more attractive prices this week. Best values include arm and blade pot roasts, round steaks and roasts, chuck steaks and roasts, rib steaks and roasts, ground beef and liver.

Ample supplies of pork are to be found, with best values on Boston butt roasts, hams, picnics, chops, shoulder steaks, loin roasts, and bacon.

At the fruit counter, you will find good values on still-plentiful supplies of grapefruit and apples. Prices on winter pears and avocados remain moderate, and the supplies are larger than a year ago. The supply of cantaloupe is increasing, making them a better choice. Other good selections include oranges, bananas, and strawberries.

Broccoli, cabbage, carrots, celery, yellow onions, potatoes, sweet potatoes, turnips, and some varieties of cooking greens are the more economical fresh vegetable choices. Fresh asparagus is available, but the price levels are relatively high.

Happiness is finding out the dull couple you absolutely HAVE TO HAVE to your next party is going away on vacation that week.

New Books For The Young Of All Ages

Seventy-one publishers selectively contribute more than 600 titles from their current lists to make the exhibit now on display at De Shazo and High School Libraries one which should have the attention not only of professional school personnel but of the concerned parent and citizen as well. The exhibit runs through March 29-April 2 and is open to all interested between the hours of 8:30 and 4:00.

The range and variety of the books are best indicated by the fact that they break down into 25 main classifications and 103 sub-classifications; all ages from Pre-School through Senior High are covered. An Elementary and a Secondary catalogue list the books by curriculum area and carry a comprehensive Subject Index, a Title and Author Index.

In keeping with today's teaching program trends, one third of the titles in the Junior-Senior High School range fall into the Social Studies category; another third into Literature, which consists largely of high-interest-level fiction dealing with the urgent problems of today. Other important classifications are Biography (62 titles), the Sciences, Careers, Guidance, and the Arts.

At the Pre-School through Grade Six level, the emphasis is again on Social Studies and Reading, with Science and Applied Science, Crafts and Activities, and the Arts among the main classifications included. Here are books designed to awaken the child's awareness of the world around him, to acquaint him with children and life in other lands.

Books on Exhibit, supplier of the exhibit, is a national exhibiting enterprise, now in its 20th year. Its free service to school systems, colleges, and regional educational agencies has been enthusiastically praised over the years for the efficiency and time-saving organization of its operation, as have its catalogues which are considered models of their kind. Educators across the country endorse the service, use it in workshops and institutes at all levels, and regard it as an indispensable aid in the evaluation and selection of the new books of the year.

The theme of the banquet was "Mexico," and was carried out very nicely. Crepe flowers ornamented the tables; and serapes, ponchos, and Spanish furniture helped carry out the rest of the theme. The servers were also dressed in Spanish attire.

The guests enjoyed a meal of tamales, Spanish rice, beans, and salad.

After the meal, the guests enjoyed an hour of modern "rock" music played by the "Cold Storage."

Each and every member of the Fine Arts Department wishes to thank every parent that made the banquet a success.

Registration began at 9:00 a.m. At 9:30 an assembly was held for all who attended. The 28 candidates for Miss Future Nurse 1971, dressed in street clothes, were introduced. Nurses from the army, navy, air force, school nursing, industrial nursing, and hospital nursing explained each of their nursing careers.

The assembly ended at 11:00. The candidates had lunch with the judges, where they were personally interviewed. All others at the assembly went to general sessions where additional nursing fields were discussed.

The introduction of the master of ceremonies, Dean Kelly, started the formal assembly at 12:45. Each candidate, dressed in formal wear, was again presented on stage where they gave a short statement about nursing. The judges then left to choose the five finalists.

While awaiting the return of the judges, the audience was entertained by Miss Future Nurse 1970 and Dean Kelly. Upon the return of the judges, the five finalists were individually called upon stage where they gave their opinion to a question which they were asked. Next on the program, the runners up for Miss Future Nurse 1971 entertained.

It was a tense moment when the judges handed the envelopes of the winners to Dean Kelly. Second runner-up was Linda McKay of Channing, Texas who won a $100 scholarship. First runner-up was Betty Chandler of Muleshoe, who won a $200 scholarship. Miss Future Nurse of 1971 was Jan Lassiter of Amarillo, who won a $300 scholarship.

The scholarships are to be used in the second year of Northwest Texas School of Nursing or the third year of the Baccalaureate in college.

Unions & Wages

Several Senators have suggested Congress act to curb the power of unions to force pay increases, increases which sometimes prove so unreasonable they harm the interests of the workers themselves.

Cases were cited in which pay scales went up so steeply union workers found themselves out of work. The industries affected could not pay the increase and earn a profit. This has been true in several areas in the construction industry, to such an extent President Nixon recently acted to halt swiftly rising pay scales on federal projects.

Few would seek to diminish the power of organized labor so that such power would revert to industry but there is a paramount public interest the federal government must take into account in its legislation dealing with both management and labor. In essence, the responsibility of Congress is to see that neither industry nor labor abuse the public, and this has happened too often recently, in the transportation industry and in others.

There is also the national security field, and neither industry nor unions should be allowed to endanger national security, which has also happened in recent years on several occasions. The public interest should be protected in these areas by congressional action.

Construction grants cut from Hill-Burton

The Administration has decided to eliminate grants for new hospital construction in allocating the $172.2 million Hill-Burton grant fund that was appropriated by Congress for the present fiscal year (1971).

The Administration's decision was indicated by President Nixon's proposed 1972 budget, which was submitted to Congress January 29. Although fiscal 1971 began July 1, 1970, Congress did not complete work on the 1971 appropriations bill for the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare until last December. Thus, it was not until Mr. Nixon submitted the proposed 1972 budget—which compares 1972 requests with 1971 appropriations—that the Administration's spending plans for the current fiscal year were made public.

Of the $172.2 million appropriated by Congress for Hill-Burton in 1971, the Administration has allocated $42.2 million for long-term care facilities, $85 million for ambulatory care facilities, and $45 million for modernization. Although the total figure is the same as the amount appropriated for Hill-Burton in 1970, allocations differ by categories. In 1970, $54.2 million was allocated for hospital construction while $63.5 million was allocated for long-term care facilities, $27.3 million for ambulatory care facilities, and $27.1 million for modernization.

The decision to eliminate grants for new hospital construction is being reconsidered within HEW. Pending the outcome of that appeal, the Health Care Facilities Services, the newly renamed federal Hill-Burton agency, is withholding the distribution of 1971 funds to state agencies.

The Administration's intent to cut off Hill-Burton grants for new hospital construction also is reflected in Mr. Nixon's proposed 1972 budget, in which he requests only $85 million for Hill-Burton grants, all for ambulatory care facilities.

The budget states that new construction and modernization could be financed by the new Hill-Burton loan guarantee and interest-subsidized, direct loan program and it requests $20.3 million for interest subsidies.

The loan program, approved last year, has not yet been placed in operation. HEW still is working on regulations, which are not expected to be completed for another two months.

Four NHI proposals introduced

More than 4000 bills and hundreds of resolutions were introduced in the Congress between its January 21 opening date and the February 11 recess for the Lincoln and Washington birthday celebrations.

About 200 of the bills addressed themselves to health. Among these were:

• S.3 and H.R.22, introduced by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy (D-Mass.) and Reps. John C. Corman (D-Calif.) and Martha W. Griffiths (D-Mich.). The bill has the backing of the AFL-CIO and the United Automobile Workers of America Committee for National Health Insurance, which last year backed separate but similar bills.

"I CAN'T WATER IT TOO MUCH. IT MIGHT GROW OUT OF CONTROL."

All letters to the Editor of reasonable length are welcome and will be published. Letters to the Editor must be signed, however, names will be withheld upon request.

The measure proposes a program that, with certain limitations, covers the entire range of health services. Costs of the program would be budgeted in advance and the program "would be allowed to increase only on a controlled and predictable basis."

Half of its financing would come from general Treasury revenues and the other half from employer-employee payroll taxes and taxes on unearned income.

• S.703, introduced by Sen. Claiborne Pell (D-R.I.), which, like the measure (S.4594) that he introduced in December to the 91st Congress, would establish for-profit, investor-owned corporations to provide comprehensive health services to persons within a service area. Employers would be required to buy their employees a basic package of health benefits, including catastrophic illness insurance, while the federal government would purchase this package for unemployed persons who could not afford to pay for their own benefits package.

• H.R.178, introduced by Rep. Durward G. Hall (R-Mo.), which would replace Medicaid with a system in which federal and state governments would purchase commercial health insurance for present Medicaid beneficiaries. It also would provide, primarily through the Social Security mechanism, catastrophic health insurance for other Americans. The plan is labeled "Extra Care Health Plan."

• H.R.48, introduced by Rep. John D. Dingell (D-Mich.), which would provide a broad range of health services to the general population, financed by general Treasury funds and administered through bodies organized at the local, state, and federal levels.

LABOR & INFLATION

Chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, Arthur F. Burns, reported to senators recently that it may be necessary to tighten some of the nation's labor laws to reduce the power of unions to force wages up. Burns said the action might be essential "to protect the workers themselves."

ON PRICE CURB

The Senate Banking Committee has voted to extend to June 1, 1971, authority for President Nixon to impose wage, price and rent controls. This will give Congress more time to look into the question of a longer continuance of the authority.

MUSKIE GETS POST

Senator Edmund S. Muskie has been elevated to the chairmanship of the Senate disarmament subcommittee. Senator Muskie thus far has been identified principally with domestic issues.

ON FOREIGN AID

Sens. William Proxmire and Clifford P. Case have recommended legislation to require the president to inform Congress each year how much is spent on all its foreign-aid programs. Their proposal is a result of recent testimony that actual U.S. aid spending is two to three times the $2.4 billion included in the economic and military parts of the Foreign Assistance Act.

NEWS NOTES

ESKIMOS GROW TALLER

Edmonton, Alta.—Dr. Otto Schaeffer, government medical researcher, says Eskimo children are growing two to five inches taller than 30 years ago because they are consuming more sugar. His studies also indicate that the increased sugar intake by Eskimos has boosted the birth rate.

WASHINGTON'S CHAIR SOLD

Philadelphia—A Chippendale chair, made in Philadelphia and believed to be one of six owned by George Washington, was sold recently for $1,200 at public auction. An antique dealer, Lester Berry, bought the chair.

CREDIT CARDS & RUSSIA

New York—The credit card, developed in the United States 20 years ago and now familiar in most of the globe, made its first appearance in Russia about a year ago. Robert H. Pitt, president of Diners Club's international division, said the first credit card accepted in the Soviet Union was honored in the summer of 1969 after an agreement was signed by representatives of Diners Club and Intourist, the Soviet government's official travel bureau.

MRS. GANDHI WINS

New Delhi, India—Prime Minister Indira Gandhi was assured of an absolute majority in the new Parliament. Recent election returns gave Mrs. Gandhi's Congress party a landslide victory.

OIL & RITES

Rome—The Roman Catholic Church has broken a 2,000-year tradition by authorizing the use of vegetable oils in the sacraments of baptism, confirmation and anointing of the sick. Olive oil, which had been used, proved too expensive in many Asian and African countries.

SAFER CARS?

Washington—A Senate committee was told that tests of 1971 automobiles show they sustain greater damage in low-speed crashes than did 1970 models. This testimony may promote legislation authorizing the Transportation secretary to set property-loss reduction standards for cars.

Dear Editor:

I read with some interest your news article listing the hospitals that have received Hill-Burton grants since 1960. I don't see how it is relevant since no one that I know of is in opposition of the use of Hill-Burton funds. The Bailey County Taxpayer's Association is opposed only to building a tax supported hospital.

This article states that there are 516 hospitals that have received grants from Hill-Burton since 1960 yet there has been only 99 enabling acts permitting the formation of hospital districts passed in the Texas legislature since the inception of the program in 1959.

Of these proposed districts, some were turned down at the polls, some are involved in law suits and some were never acted upon in a local election. Therefore at least six or seven non-district hospitals received Hill-Burton funds for each district hospital that received Hill-Burton grants.

It is my understanding that the construction cost is increased by 10 to 25% when building to Hill-Burton standards. Even though the government is paying only a portion of the cost everything will be done by their rules. Remember a remark by Mr. A. F. Robertson, "If the government does it for you, they can also do it to you".

When I was in Austin recently I was told by a gentleman who should know that the Hill-Burton grants had been made for the current year and that Muleshoe is not on the list. He also said that since there are more applications than there are funds there is little chance that Muleshoe will receive a grant as long as there is dissention within the hospital district.

Since the election concerning the directors of Bailey County Hospital District will probably be the most important election held in Bailey County, I urge each of your readers to vote. Lets have the largest turn out in the history of the county. The Bailey County Tax-

Nixon health plan arrives along with criticism

PRESIDENT NIXON'S HEALTH MESSAGE to Congress hadn't even arrived on Capitol Hill for the traditional little ceremony that greets a presidential communication to Congress when the first of many partisan political salvos exploded nearby. Sen. Edward M. Kennedy (D., Mass.), who is bidding for leadership of attempts by Democrats to claim the health issue as their property, issued a statement denouncing the president's broad proposals as a potential billion-dollar windfall for the insurance industry.

Sen. Kennedy's highly critical statement was no surprise. He and Rep. Martha Griffiths (D., Mich.) are chief sponsors of a national health insurance bill drafted by the organized-labor-backed Committee for National Health Insurance (C.N.H.I.). The bill—which would replace the existing health insurance industry with a national plan administered by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare—has bothered the Nixon administration so much that the president's health message at times appeared to be as much an anti-Kennedy as a pro-health plan.

With health an issue of growing importance, the Nixon administration could not, very well ignore the C.N.H.I. proposal, and ignore it they didn't. Nixon pointedly said in the message he considered his proposal to be one for "a comprehensive national health insurance program." He wound up the 17 page message with a fervent defense of his plan against those who would bring about "nationalization of our health insurance industry."

In an obvious reference to the Kennedy-Griffiths bill, Nixon said elimination of the health insurance industry "would deny people the right to choose how they will pay for their health care." Further evidence that the coming battle over national health insurance is seen as a partisan political issue came at the several briefings held by top H.E.W. officials in order to explain details of the health message to reporters. Constant references were made both by administration spokesmen and by reporters to the "Kennedy Bill." Comparisons were sought by newsmen and offered voluntarily by the officials.

Sen. Kennedy's rejoinder to the health message said private insurance carriers have been part of the problem of the nation's health care crisis, but "now the administration looks to them for the solution." Anticipating criticism of reliance on the insurance industry for his health plan, Nixon said he would propose to Congress later this year a plan for federal regulation of the health insurance industry.

payer's Association has prepared a statement and there will be several copies in Muleshoe. I hope that each of your readers can find a copy and study it. See you at the polls.

Yours truly,

FARMERS FACE RIGID REGULATIONS ON FARM TRUCKS & PICKUPS

BAILEY COUNTY FARM BUREAU URGES YOU TO WRITE YOUR CONGRESSMEN

Proposed U. S. Department of Transportation regulations, relating to farm truck driver qualifications will become effective on July 1, 1971 -- unless you can convince the Department of Transportation that its proposed regulations are totally illogical as they would apply to agriculture. Proposed regulations would include the following requirements for drivers of farm trucks (includes pickups):

1. Be at least 21 years of age.
2. Carry a certificate, executed by a physician during the preceding 24 months, evidencing fitness to drive a truck.
3. Pass a road test in truck operation.
4. Take and pass an examination on the federal Motor Vehicle Safety Regulations.
5. If the driver is an employee of a farmer, he must supply the farmer with evidence of compliance with the four preceding requirements, plus an application for employment which shall disclose traffic violations and disposition thereof, plus an annual supplementary statement relating to traffic violations.
6. A farmer who employs a driver would be required to "verify" the driver's driving record -- and to maintain for each driver a file containing times 1-5 above plus a record of the employer's verification of the employee's driving record.

These new regulations would be applicable to interstate commerce. However, recent court decisions indicate that the interstate commerce clause applies to anything and everything which might at some time enter interstate commerce. All agricultural products could, of course, be included in this category. Also, if the federal government adopts such regulations, it is just a matter of time until we have similar state regulations -- this seems to be the pattern.

The Bailey County Farm Bureau urges you to help stop this regulation. To successfully stop adoption of the proposed regulations, we need many good letters from farmers to John A. Volpe, Secretary, U. S. Department of Transportation, Washington D. C. 20515; letters to your Congressman, and letters to both Texas Senators. These letters should include your personal appraisal of how your farm or ranch operation would be affected if the regulations are adopted. Each letter should request that present exemptions for farm truck drivers should be retained. Request that your Congressman and Senators intervene in your behalf with the Secretary of Transportation to retain present exemptions, or at least modify proposed regulations so that they will not be so damaging to agriculture. Add in your letters that, if it seems impossible to retain current exemptions for farm truck drivers, the following recommendations should be included in any regulations which are issued:

1. An exemption for small farm trucks under 10,000 pounds gross weight.
2. An exemption for local farm hauling.
3. Postponement of the effective date for six months to give farmers and ranchers an opportunity to read and understand the regulations.
4. A comprehensive news media information program to let farmers and ranchers know what is about to happen to them.
5. General distribution of a summary of the regulations applicable to farmers. Otherwise, a lot of good people are going to be caught in violation of regulations they never heard of.
6. A procedure for the development of permanent regulations based on common sense, actual need and good judgment.

Your letters should also call attention to the fact that farm truck drivers have an excellent safety record. In Texas, for example, the amount of bodily injury claims paid per farm truck policy is only one-tenth of the amount of bodily injury claims paid per policy for all non-fleet commercial trucks. The number of accidents is also only about one-tenth that of non-fleet commercial trucks.

The Secretary and officials of the Department of Transportation are now making their determinations about the proposed regulations. Your letters should be mailed as quickly as possible -- at least before April 10.

Failure To Sign Tax Return Delays Refunds

So far this year 2,075 North Texas taxpayers have not received their expected tax refunds simply because they failed to sign their federal income tax returns before filing them. Since an income tax return is a legal document, it must be signed before the Internal Revenue Service can process it and issue a refund, Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue for North Texas, said today. Signatures of both husband and wife are required on joint returns, he added.

To help reduce the number of missing signatures, Form 1040 shows the signature line-- and other error-prone information areas -- highlighted in red ink.

Other causes of delayed refunds are missing Social Security numbers, arithmetic mistakes, and failure to follow instructions accompanying the tax forms.

Mr. Campbell asked taxpayers to use the blue pre-addressed name label that came on the cover of the package containing their blank Forms 1040. The top part of the label should be removed from the package and placed on the tax return. If the return is prepared by someone other than the taxpayer, we urge the taxpayer to give the label to the preparer and ask him to use it on the return to be filed with IRS. Use of the label allows the IRS to process the return faster without verifying the taxpayer's identification.

So far this year, the IRS Service Center in Austin has processed 149,075 refunds worth $32,786,915.08, Mr. Campbell reports.

NIXON ON CRIME
President Nixon reported recently the Administration's anticrime program is showing results. Serious crimes committed last year declined in 23 cities of more than 100,000 population. Other cities also show a downward trend.

ON IMMUNITY
Washington -- The Supreme Court has guaranteed all criminal defendants the right to seek a trial in a community that is not prejudiced against them. The guarantee came in an 8-1 decision that upset the conviction of the Rev. James E. Groppi for resisting arrest during a civil rights march in Milwaukee in 1967.

Happy Home Environment
WHAT'S THE IDEAL?

- Most people would agree that the ideal happy home environment must take into consideration the environmental aspects as well as the spiritual and human relationships.
- In the present state of technology, electricity does its job well when it comes to environmental aspects of conditioning the air in your home.
- The ideal system, now available, not only does its job of comfort heating in winter and comfort cooling in summer but also refines the air itself. Electric humidifiers control the amount of moisture in the air and electrostatic air cleaners remove undesirable dust particles.
- So then, 4 things to give you a happier home environment... electric heating, electric cooling, electric humidification and electric air cleaning... and all of it automatically. Ask your Public Service manager for complete information.

ELECTRICITY — IT DOES SO MUCH GOOD FOR SO MANY PEOPLE!

DO YOU KNOW THESE HOSPITAL FACTS?

Some rooms, doorways and corridors too small. No recovery rooms. Inadequate emergency facilities. Inadequate heating and air conditioning. Poor drainage on present site and site too small. Outdated operating room

Deficiencies listed by the State Department of Health: Items are contrary to the codes of the Health, Education and Welfare Department and Fire Prevention Code of the State of Texas and medicare requirements.

- Roof framing is wood joist and roof deck is wood (East-West portion of building)
- Windows are of wood (East-West Portion of Building)
- Interior corridor doors are 1 1/2" hollow core.
- Corridor view panels in wood frames. Corridor door frames are of wood in Unit No. 1.
- Open exhaust vents in corridor.
- Inadequate bath facilities.
- No sprinkler system in storage area.

Original Part of Hospital was built in 1941. All plumbing and wiring should be replaced with materials that meet with current standards.

If you want to know the financial facts about the present West Plains Memorial Hospital check with the non-profit board of directors, who are doing their best to keep the Hospital open until a new Hospital can be built.

- Directors are:
- Alex Williams
 - Don Harmon
 - Bill Loyd
 - Harvey Bass
 - Olan Burrows
 - Jack Young

Because of the decline in the number of doctors in Muleshoe, hospital occupancy has been reduced below the required occupancy to break-even money wise West Plains Memorial Hospital has been forced to borrow money for continued operations for the last three years.

A Surgeon will join the Hospital Staff July 1, 1971 which will be a great step towards keeping present facilities open.

How many emergencies occurred the past two years that people would probably have died before they could have made the trip to Lubbock or Clovis? Could they have gotten in after they arrived?

The present facility will have more of a chance to remain open, just as long as the District Hospital Board keeps working toward a new facility.

How long will the Medi-Care Officials and State Health Department Officials, By-pass the sub-standard conditions of the present hospital, if we stop working towards a new facility?

Temik Best Soil-Applied Systemic For Insect Control

COLLEGE STATION-Temik, a new insecticide that came into commercial use last year, has been described as the best soil-applied systemic chemical available for cotton.

Dr. R. L. Ridgway, leader of the USDA's cotton insect research at Texas A&M University, said Temik (the registered trademark for aldicarb pesticide) is particularly effective against such pests as the cotton fleahopper, lygus bug, leaf perforator and bollweevils.

He said Temik can be applied in the furrow at planting time for control of early season pests, or as a side-dress application for mid-season insects.

For side-dress applications to be most effective, Ridgway recommended placing Temik granules in moist soil. If moisture is lacking, the cotton should be irrigated after treatment.

"When moisture is limited, application of Temik in two bands per row is best. But with ample moisture, one band per row is adequate," he pointed out.

Ridgway also reported results with new experimental, slow-release Temik formulations which further improve effectiveness by extending control and providing more plant safety.

He added that the chemical, like most other insecticides, will reduce certain beneficial insects. Consequently, the farmer should try to balance maximum pest control with minimum effect on beneficial insects.

Ridgway emphasized that Temik is highly toxic to mammals and other warm blooded animals. "Although the granular formulation containing 10 percent Temik is safer to use than many liquid preparations of highly toxic insecticides, special care should be taken to assure that granules are not left exposed on top of the soil, since birds and other wildlife may be killed if allowed to feed on the granules," he explained.

The entomologist urged farmers to follow label instructions carefully to get safe and effective use of Temik.

SURE HANDS OF THE SURGEON

A child walks... an arm is straightened... a growth is removed... these and many other things are the result of the fine work of the surgeon. This is an occupation and a labor worthy of appreciation.

A star... a new born baby... the world itself... these and many other things reveal God to us. "The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament showeth his handywork."

Psalm 19, 1

God has wrought a great work. Let us show our love and appreciation by worshipping him in Church

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Consider Farm Resources In Selecting Sorghum Hybrids

What grain sorghum hybrid will yield the best or be the most profitable on my farm? That's a question many producers ask each year as they prepare for the coming crop season. And they are fortunate to have a large selection of superior hybrids from which to choose.

"In selecting a hybrid, the key item to consider is the yield potential of the particular farm," points out Dr. Bob Metzger of Lubbock, area agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "By yield potential we mean all the available resources -- irrigation water, soil fertility, soil type and depth."

Where adequate water and fertility are available, Metzger recommends that the producer select a late-maturing or full-season hybrid. In turn, under limited irrigation or dryland production, a medium or medium-late maturing hybrid will probably be the best choice since it requires less water. If circumstances necessitate late planting, then an early maturing hybrid should be selected, especially in areas where the sorghum midge is a problem.

In addition to selecting a hybrid on its maturity characteristic, other traits need to be considered. Such factors as standability, head exertion, and disease tolerance are highly important in profitable grain sorghum production.

"On farms where producers grow cotton and grain sorghum, the competition for irrigation water becomes keen as the crops develop," explains the agronomist. "Many producers reduce this competition for water by planting a medium or medium-late maturing hybrid early in the season (late April). They then apply one or two summer irrigations to the grain before the cotton enters its high water use period."

"Of course, the competition for irrigation water varies from year to year depending on available soil moisture and planting dates of the two crops. Quite often lower grain yields must be accepted since producers are unable to water the crop adequately once irrigation has started on cotton."

Bloom date of a sorghum hybrid, or the number of days from planting to bloom, is influenced by the planting date, maturity of the hybrid and temperature, adds the agronomist.

Generally, yields increase as the time interval from planting to bloom is increased, provided adequate water and fertility are available. The bloom date is delayed by early planting of full-season hybrids. On the other hand, late planting of early maturing hybrids will result in the least number of days from planting to bloom.

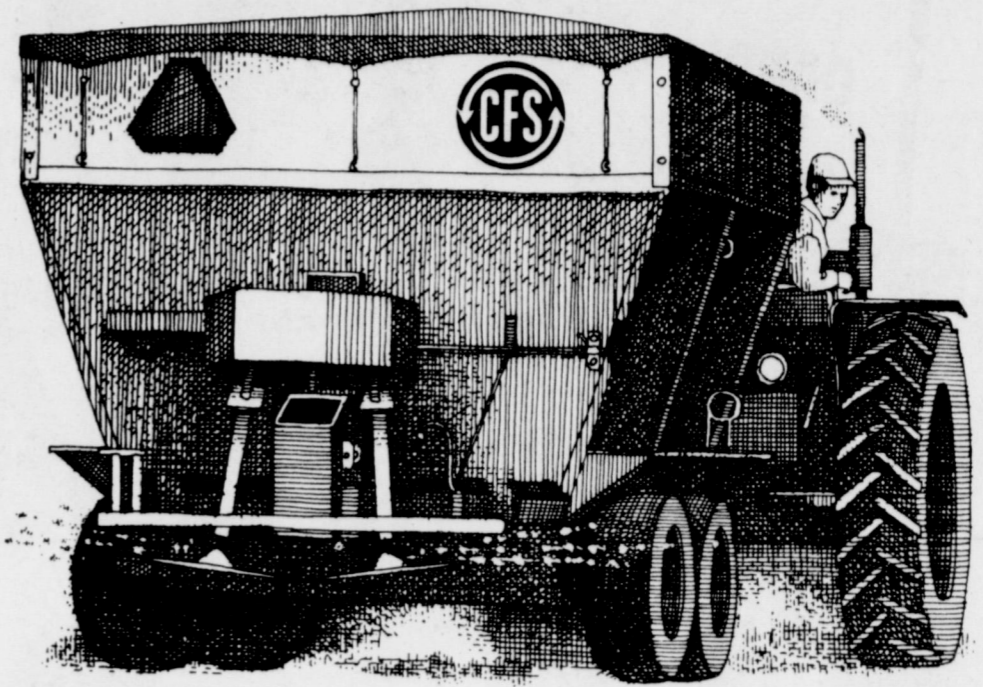

"In addition to adequate water and fertility, other production practices must be properly managed for adapted hybrids to attain their inherent yield potentials," emphasizes Metzger. "Of special importance are proper seedbed preparation and weed control." "Seed companies on the Texas High Plains are blessed with good climatic conditions so that they can produce exceptionally high quality seed," he adds. "Seed companies have high yielding, adapted hybrids available within each maturity group. Producers need to select one that will perform best with the resources available on their farms."

Prepared "Do you suppose he's in a position to ask me to marry him?" "I should say so. Haven't I just returned him his ring?"

ONCE IS ENOUGH.

When you plant cotton with Terraclor Super-X Fungicide.

It costs so much to plant a cotton crop these days that no grower can afford to replant.

Well, once is enough... when you plant with Terraclor Super-X Fungicide. It controls the fungi in the soil that cause most of the problems... seed and seedling rot and pre- and post-emergence damping off.

So plant once with Terraclor Super-X. Forget fungi.

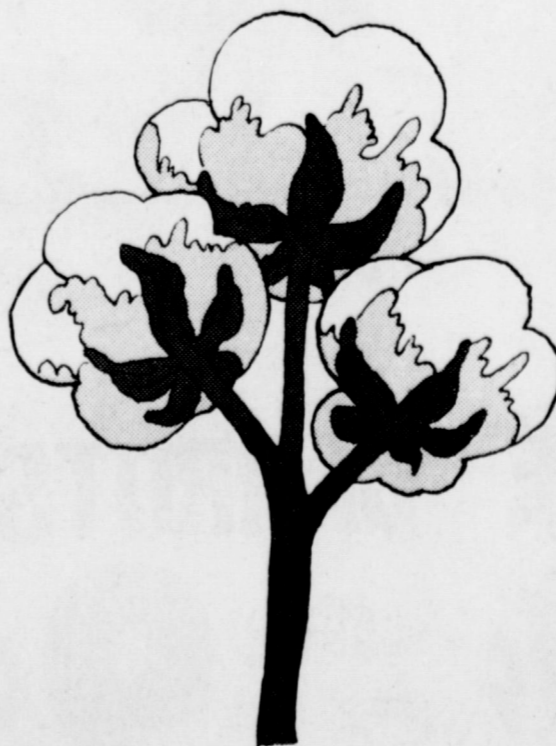

You save replanting costs: seed, fertilizer, chemicals, equipment. Not to mention time and labor.

There's another advantage: you choose how you want Terraclor Super-X to control fungi.

The most popular is Terraclor Super-X with DiSystem Systemic Insecticide impregnated in the granules.

Or you can protect against fungi with a liquid or dust form. Whichever...

So ask your Olin dealer or distributor today for all the details. He has all the information you should need to decide that once is enough. Which is another good reason we say...
