

FROM THE HOPPER
By HOP JR.

We had the dubious distinction of being on a Methodist men's cooking team for an early morning breakfast this week. John Getz, one of the few "card carrying" Republicans in the county, and Wilfred Quickel, an "I like Ike" man, were also members. The word got around that the breakfast they were to serve would consist of that delectable innovation dating back to the 30's, and allegedly reminiscent of the Hoover administration, jackrabbit stew.

The whole plan fell through, though. A survey of the area jackrabbit population indicated there wasn't enough meat on all the jackrabbits in West Texas this year for a good "stewin'."

The only thing that was really out of the ordinary about the pseudo chefs let a fork and spoon drop into a big batch of eggs that were being scrambled.

The spoon was recovered, but nobody ever found the fork. Some churl said it probably was dissolved.

We're mighty proud of our high school football conference this year. For a change it is not dominated by one or two teams that bully around the opposition.

Bovina, Whitharral, Petersburg all have what might be regarded as strong teams. Friona, Farwell, and Anton are all capable of upsetting any of the big three if they are of a mind to—as witnessed last weekend at Friona.

This is schoolboy football at its best, and probably no team in conference will go either undefeated or winless this season. Such a situation is certain to make the gate receipts more rewarding, too, and there isn't a school in the conference that can't use a few shekles in its athletic fund.

We didn't realize until too late what we must have done to Mrs. E. R. Day up at Friona last week. Our mother, "Grandma" to all the grandkids, of course, asked us to stop by the Day home and leave a sack of hickory nuts she brought back from Wisconsin for the enjoyment of the younger set.

We rapped on the door, were hospitably ushered in, and introduced to daughter Tila Rue and her fiancé who were making last-minute plans for their marriage.

"Look what we have for you," we said, offering the paper sack to Mrs. Day. She opened it and peered in. "Why, uh, how nice," she stammered.

We told her the nuts were for the kids and left. It wasn't until we were outside in the car that we realized the poor woman thought we were bringing a gift for the bride-to-be. We'll never be able to look her in the eye again.

If there's one thing in the world we thought would be easy to do, it would be getting into the U. S. walking army. Not so, perhaps. Warwick Thomas has been trying it for a month.

Preferring a stretch of his own volition to a 24-month decree from his draft board, Thomas made application to the regular army four weeks ago. He wanted to get in quickly and get it over with as soon as possible.

At the present writing, he is still waiting for his "c" number to be assigned, after receipt of which he will begin the usual process of examination, indoctrination, and so forth and be admitted to the army.

He's in Baytown now, shadowing the city post office, no doubt. Baytown is where his wife is from. It's the damndest excuse for boarding with the in-laws we've ever heard of.

Moore, Lofflin, Knox, Contest Champs

Contestants in the third "pick the winners" football quiz weren't as sharp this week as last, but they were all pretty evenly matched.

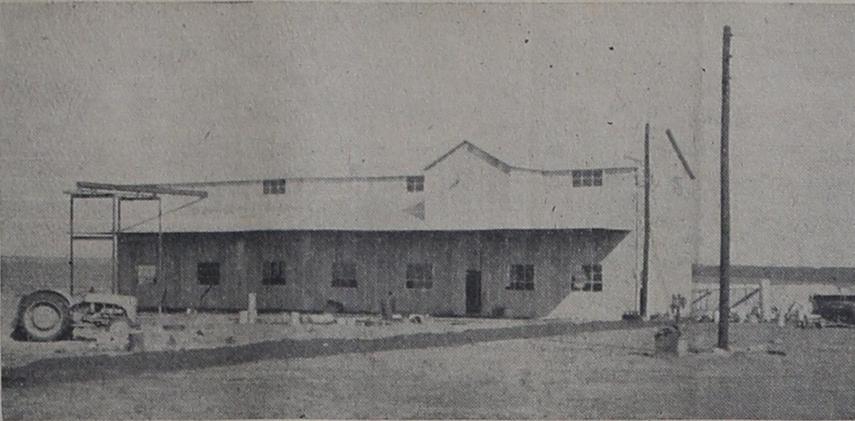

No one had a perfect card, and no one managed to get by with just one miss, but the top four all missed two each. They are Joe Moore, Pat Lofflin, Jack Knox, and John C. Weeks, who placed first through fourth in that order.

All four struck out on the Bovina-Friona outcome. Moore also said Houston would beat Oklahoma A&M, Miss Lofflin picked Rice over South. Meth., as did Jack Knox, and Weeks thought TCU would beat Texas A&M.

As was the case last week, the times the entries were turned in decided the winners.

Here are the prizes: 1st—$4 in trade at Wilson Grocery; 2nd—$4 in trade at Helton Oil Co.; 3rd—$2 in trade at O. W. Rhinehart Ins. Agency; $2 in Trade at The Tribune.

Of more than fifty entries, only one brave individual picked Friona to beat Bovina. He was Donell G. Furman, Clovis, who probably didn't know the principals involved anyway.

This is the all-new Parmer County Gin which began operation this week. The new gin will bring to a total of seven the number of such establishments in the county.

Parmer's Newest Gin Starts Work This Week

The Parmer County Gin, newest in the county, turned on the power this week and readied itself for a busy season. The owners, Charles W. and H. C. Barton, a son-and-father team, come to this area from Lamesa.

In addition to the new gin in Parmer County, which is located at "Crossroads" or the old "twin houses" corner west of Lazbuddie, the two men are owners of the Tam-Ann gin on Highway 86 just inside Castro County.

The Parmer County Gin is an all-new outfit, featuring Murray equipment—four stands, 80-saw.

The cotton business has been a lifetime job for the two ginners, who come here with experience behind them. They will make their home here on the High Plains, and Charles W. will be active in managing the business.

Supt. Outlines Work On Bovina School

Bovina Schools, deprived of their main building because of a fire a month ago, are making rapid strides in the necessary plans for replacement.

The following article is written by Supt. W. H. Willoughby, who requested that it be printed "as is" in order that the matter be thoroughly explained.

The Bovina School has used three different methods to approach the problem of a new school building. From these three different plans, one plan has been selected and acted upon.

The first plan under consideration was to double the floor space, classrooms, and complete area of the capital outlay. The second plan was to build back with little additional space and improvement over the old building with the exception of having one story, and everything in the building process of fireproof materials.

The first plan was rejected because of the large cost of approximately $840,000 and the second plan was rejected because the board felt that more room would be needed every year.

The plan agreed upon was to build with the idea of expansion in mind. Two thirds more space than previously set up with additional space for expansion when or if necessary was decided upon.

This plan would include a cafeteria to seat approximately 300 people, an auditorium to seat 800 or 900 people, rooms for band, chorus, piano, chemistry, biology, mathematics, social science, journalism, English, shop, agriculture department, two book rooms, a library, one laboratory, nurses room, two principals' offices, and an administrative office.

An area in the elementary school is designed to allow for future expansion with very little cost. A similar area is to be designed for the high school division.

After careful estimates the school board feels that it will take a bond issue of $750,000.00 to handle the building, furnishings, and architects fee for the job. All construction is to be completely fireproof, and fire doors that close automatically when heat strikes them are to be used as an extra safety precaution.

The date for issuance of the bonds is now in the hands of Texas bonding attorneys for their approval and rating. If everything works according to plan, the bond election will be held in the next few weeks.

VISITOR'S DAY

November 1 is Visitor's Day at the Bovina Methodist Church, says Rev. Walter G. White, pastor. Every member is requested to bring a visitor to church on that day.

Mrs. Earl Richards is chairman of the commission projecting the Visitor's Day emphasis. "We sincerely hope every member will bring a visitor," she says.

LABOR SITUATION DESPERATE AS COTTON CROP ROLLS IN

(Yes, we wrote this before it rained.)

Extended warm weather and a severe shortage of hand pullers has postponed the cotton harvesting season in Parmer County to a surprising date.

Right now only about 2,000 of the county's estimated 60,000 bales have made their way through the gin, although the crop has been mature for two weeks in many cases.

Typical of the sentiments of Parmer County ginners are the remarks of G. W. Fleming of Mills & Fleming Gin near the Hub community. "The thing we're hollerin' about out here is how badly we need hand labor. We have housing available, and the price for pulling is up to $2.25 a hundred, delivered. That's an increase of twenty-five cents since last Monday."

The Mills & Fleming gin was one of the leaders in bales turned out, however. They had 516 by Tuesday afternoon, and were estimating the daily production at around 50 at that time. Because of early morning dampness, it has not been possible to start ginning operations until late each day.

Leading the gins in the number of bales is North Plains at Friona. Wright Williams reported 836 Tuesday. The labor situation there is even worse than previously, he said, some of the migrant pickers having left town recently.

At the time Williams was contacted, rain was falling in Friona. Asked if the moisture would damage the cotton crop, the ginner said it was doubtful. "Rain would slow up harvest temporarily," he said, but indicated that so many factions of the economy were desperate for moisture he doubted if anyone would object to a rain.

The report from county gins: FARWELL Watkins, Farwell This gin has just opened after extensive improvements for both the machinery and office building.

Antis Lose First Round in Court In Paving Fight

Opposition to the proposed paving in the City of Texico lost its first round in a battle with the city administration this week, as Judge E. T. Hensley Jr. refused in district court to grant an injunction restraining the city council.

Suit had been filed several weeks ago by several Texico individuals against members of the council following a protest against the intended creation of a paving district by the city. Originally, a petition had been circulated, and in excess of the called-for two thirds of the property holders in the area affected affixed their signatures to the instrument.

Later, a group of citizens brought suit against the council to stop the paving movement. Otto Smith, attorney for the plaintiffs, introduced evidence designed to show that the cost of the paving would result in confiscation of some of the citizens' property.

Hensley, however, refused to grant the injunction. No testimony was heard from the defendants. The judge granted the plaintiffs a 20-day period of appeal.

If the opposition persists, the case may be appealed to the state supreme court. If no appeal is had, the city will proceed with plans for paving, says M. C. Roberts, mayor.

BUYS ABERDEEN-ANGUS

W. L. Edelman, Friona, bought sixteen head of prize Aberdeen-Angus stock for $3970 Monday at the Association sale in Clovis. Included was the grand champion bull, 13 cows, and two heifer calves. Price for the bull was $500.

Wayne Burford, Texico, who is president of the New Mexico Aberdeen Angus Association, said Edelman's purchase represented over one-half of the entire Angus stock in the sale.

Arnold Reed, manager for the gin, was busy helping get the new office in shape for occupancy Tuesday but he pointed out that the scales are clear and the machinery ready to go now.

Five bales had been turned out at that date, all from the field of Mitz Walling east of town.

BOVINA

Lawlis & Ely Ovid Lawlis reports 345 bales, Tuesday afternoon. "We're sure ready for frost," he says. As elsewhere, hand labor has been short. (Continued On Last Page)

★ JUST KEEP ON TRYING, BOB

The weekly football contest carried in The Tribune has provoked a lot of chuckles for the staff. One of the best laughs, however, arrived in the mail this week.

Bob Sudderth, Bovina, who apparently didn't know the contest was supposed to be restricted to one entry per person, filled out four blanks. It looked as though he couldn't miss the way he had them marked up.

However, his best entry had four miscues, and one of them six. It just wasn't his week, apparently.

City Abolishes Fee For Trash Pickup; Has New Plan

Residents of the City of Farwell, who like millions of other American taxpayers are not looking forward to the prospect of steeper tax bites next year, will be pleased to learn that the city has launched what is hoped to be a "free" trash and garbage collection service for its residents.

Effective immediately, says Mayor Johnnie Williams, collection fees will no longer be levied. The new program will be tried on a one-year basis in order to determine whether it will be possible to make the dump ground east of the city self-supporting.

How will this service be provided at no cost to the public? An agreement has been reached between the city and Ray Mears, who operates a garbage collection service, to permit him to salvage the wet garbage from the common trash and junk.

Mears will make use of this garbage to feed hogs. In return for the wet garbage, he will pick up trash and junk twice monthly.

The plan will be satisfactory to both parties, says Williams, only if city residents cooperate. They are being asked to have two types of containers behind their businesses or residences—one for trash and one for wet garbage.

Castoff barrels already in use for trash will be acceptable in the new program, but the city is asking each resident to buy a standard closed-type garbage container. This is necessary both for convenience and as a matter of public health.

Then, it will be possible for the garbage to be picked up twice weekly, and the trash twice monthly—for free—if citizens will just cooperate to that extent.

The garbage container will be purchased at wholesale prices by the city, and citizens will be billed for the wholesale amount, expected to be slightly over $1. The containers will be individual property—not city.

Mears will make use of the garbage and dump trash, rubbish and junk according to a schedule designed to make the most efficient use of the newly cleaned-up junk yard.

Heavy Rains Pelt Parmer County

Some Farmers Say Crops Damaged

For a while, many citizens of Parmer County thought they were face-to-face with a late season tornado Tuesday evening, when the wind whipped in from the south bringing with it sheets of rain and stinging hail.

Reports of from 2½ to 3½ inches rainfall were general all over Parmer County. East and southeast of Farwell, farmers busy trying to harvest grain and cotton reported losses up to 50 percent from the storm.

It was the first general moisture for Parmer County since mid-August, and pasture and winter wheat were in dire straits for rain. It could have come a lot more conveniently, though, say farmers with fall crops who are either interrupted or actually damaged by the storm.

Two inches fell Tuesday night in Farwell. Bovina reported three. At noon Thursday, the rain was still falling intermittently, and it appeared that the entire area was in for a "spell" of it.

Some Farmers Hurt The Tribune made several telephone calls into the area that seemed to be hardest hit—around Oklahoma Lane, south through Lariat and on to West Camp—and came up with the report that most farmers judge they have had "slight to moderate" damage to cotton and feed.

Notable is the case of Vernon Symcox, two miles north of Lariat, who got four inches of rain and a lot of hail. His irrigated feed was hard hit, and forty acres of sudan in the shock was standing under water.

"I had a one-way in the lower edge of the field. When I looked out after the rain, only the handles were sticking up out of the water," he said.

Walter Kaltwasser, near Symcox, reported 50 percent damage to his cotton from the hail. Other farmers say their fields were "defoliated" in a hurry. Kaltwasser

Steers Give Fans A Show, Overrun Anton, 25-12

Farwell Steers gave fans a show for their money Thursday night when they played host to the Anton team, and doubled the count on the visitors for a final tally of 25-12, in a conference game. It was a morale building victory for the Steers, who had been low on the list in conference tilts thus far.

The Bulldogs made the first count of the evening when Stephenson took a pass from Burdette and made a 19-yard gain for a score. Point was no good. To even the game, Gene Hardage smashed through for a yard and paydirt for a touchdown for the locals. Gerles then kicked the point, putting Farwell in the lead 7-6 at the end of the first quarter.

In the second period, Don Pool was the point man, going off-tackle for 11 yards and 6 points. Not to be outdone, Hardage again took the ball, and going around right end, scored again. Neither of the extras were good, leaving the score at halftime, 19-6.

Going into the second half, Stephenson was again in the lime-light when he galloped around right end for eight yards and a score. Point was no good. Then Farwell's Don Gerles took the punt and returned from the 42-yard line, going on into the end zone, leaving the score 25-12.

The last quarter was scoreless for both teams.

Auxiliary chili supper, held before the Anton-Farwell football game Thursday night, netted about $10 for the organization, reporter says.

Mrs. L. A. Cantrell, who received a broken leg when she fell on a polished floor, was returned to her home last Saturday.

reported 4½ inches rain. County Agent Joe Jones says, "The rain has been both beneficial and harmful. It will allow some to plant late winter wheat, and will certainly help wheat already up."

"On the other hand, several farmers have been pretty badly hurt, especially the ones not having stormproof cotton."

"Do It Over" Vote For Lazbuddie Schools Oct. 31

Because of a technicality arising from the revision of the district boundaries in 1949, the Lazbuddie School District patrons will go to the polls to vote in an election October 31.

Two propositions are involved in the election: a maintenance tax, and assumption of bonds. As a matter of fact, these matters have already come up for consideration in past elections.

Attorneys for the school explain "This does not change the present tax or old bonds. After the election, the district will be paying the same tax and owe the same bonds that they now owe. The election is a technicality we are going through in order to get a present bond issue approved."

The attorney general regards a change in boundary as creating a new district. Because of a minor change in 1949, he is asking that the "new" district again vote its maintenance tax and assume bonds owed by the old district.

FARM BUREAU CONCLAVE RAINED OUT; WILL BE MONDAY NIGHT

After it had failed to even sprinkle in Parmer County for 60 days straight, the Parmer County Farm Bureau picked Tuesday night to try to have their convention. They got washed out.

Consequently, the convention has been postponed until Monday night. It will begin at 7:30 and is to be held in the Farwell school auditorium.

Preliminary activities include a concert by Farwell High School band, an annual Farm Bureau report from President Bruce Parr, a recapitulation of last year's meeting by Ralph Smith, and a financial report, also by Smith.

Carl Schlenker will give a progress report and Aubrey Ellison will tell of work by the legislative committee. Raymond Euler, service representative for the Bureau, will have a report and Parr will award leadership pins to outstanding county 4-H and FFA youths.

The convention will "get down to business" when the resolutions committee makes its report (headed by Roy Euler), and resolutions will be introduced, considered and adopted by the convention.

The convention will conclude with the election of officers and directors for the Bureau, and of delegates who will attend the state convention.

About 40 persons showed up Tuesday night.

SCSD Gives Nod To Five Applicants

The board of supervisors of the Parmer County Soil Conservation District, in session Monday at the courthouse, approved five plans.

New cooperators include Nelson Foster, Oklahoma Lane, who is planning 20 acres of rotation hay and pasture; W. H. Aken, northwest of Friona, improved water application;

Christina Smith, Black, improved water application; Forrest Motley, east of Black, terracing; and W. J. Stanford, Black, improved water application.

Supervisors present included Clyde Sherrick, A. L. Black, Henry Reynolds, and Joe Blair.

Mrs. J. O. Ford is reported to be doing well in Amarillo, where she underwent an eye operation.

Still Coming Down—

As The Tribune went to press, it had rained .75 in Farwell Thursday.

One Sentence In District Court

Judge E. A. Bills, presiding over the first October session of district court, Friday revoked the probation of Marion C. Roland and rendered suspended sentences in two other cases.

Roland, who pled guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated, faces two years in the state penitentiary. Howard Brewer, indicted by the grand jury last week on a charge of burglary, pled guilty and received a four-year suspended sentence.

He and John Holloway, a partner now serving time, were charged with entering a Bovina residence last March.

Arlie R. Robertson, Earth, also received a suspended sentence for forgery. He pled guilty to a charge of getting $70 from Wilson Grocery in Bovina through use of a forged check.

The judge entered a judgment for Defendant F. W. Cogdill in the civil suit Fleet vs. Cogdill. The case involved a dispute on financial settlement of a real estate transaction.

New Manager at Watkins Gin, Farwell

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Reed, Sudan are making plans to move to this community in the near future. He will be manager of Watkins' Gin, Farwell, and she will be bookkeeper for the firm.

Mrs. Reed held that position last year. The two are busy hurrying through work to finish the new gin office before the rush season arrives.

THE TRIBUNE'S EDITORIAL COMMENT

Water Will Come High For Most Texas Points

Texans have never been short on big ideas. For years the talk has been of dredging the Trinity River which flows between Dallas and Fort Worth, to make it possible for navigation from north-central Texas clear to the Gulf. That sounded like a pretty big order.

But last week W. A. Dexheimer, U. S. Reclamation Commissioner, stood up and laid out a plan that beat anything Texans ever heard of. His idea: Since there is an overabundance of surface water in East Texas and a deficiency in Central and West Texas, why not construct a huge canal to transport water across state?

The cost of such a gigantic project? A modest (estimated) $1½ billion. "Texas needs bold, new concepts," this fellow told his stunned audience. Well, his idea is certainly bold enough.

We profess to be no authority on this matter, but we venture to suggest that if $10 million were invested in the development of an economical means for converting ocean water to a solution fit for domestic supply, it could be done.

Any way you look at it, though, it is becoming increasingly evident that water is a mighty precious resource, and those who do not have it are going to have to pay mightily to get it.

What Will Littlefield Strike Mean for Parmer County?

Lamb County, already liberally endowed with a supply of shallow irrigation water, has received another economic shot in the arm following the recent development of a producing wildcat within the city limits of Littlefield.

What this will mean to Parmer County is entirely speculative. The wildcat is in the geologic boundary defined as the "Palo Duro Basin." Parmer County is not.

To the southeast, this is the nearest indication of oil in paying amounts. To the southwest, we have the discovery last year in southern Roosevelt County on the New Mexico side of the line. Year after year, wildcatting increases in this part of the Plains.

Parmer County has one test now, in the northeast tip of the county, where drilling is below 6000 feet. We are awaiting further developments, but not overanxiously so.

Agriculture Plan Shift Leaves Us a Bit Dizzy

Seely, of Agriculture Ezra Benson has finally shown some life. Since he has been in office, he has scarcely altered the course laid down by former Seely, Brannon.

When he finally opened up, however, he really set everyone back on their heels. Read this: "Both the PMA and the Bureau of Agricultural Economics will be abolished as their functions are transferred in the reorganization." That is a straight quote from an AP story. What a shakeup that would be!

As usual, the first thing a person wonders about when he hears of a government reorganization is that just REORGANIZATION alone does not eliminate any of the complications of government. Combining the services of several government agencies into one multi-purpose unit and creating a new body for every agency discontinued are two quite different things.

Anyhow, Mr. Benson says he isn't going to do anything before the first of next month, so we're sure to have a lot of developments between now and that time which could change the picture entirely.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

By RAYMOND EULER

What about the proposed Reorganization Plan for the U. S. Department of Agriculture? We have read a lot about it in the newspapers and almost became confused. In looking at the actual text and outline, as submitted by the USDA, however, it looks like a step toward economy and efficiency with a net benefit to the nation, greater than has been realized before. It is our hope that many people will study this subject with a view to the welfare of our nation as a whole. It seems apparent that everyone who has studied the cattle, situation wisely and comprehensively agrees that there is no satisfactory method for providing constant support prices for cattle either as a floor or on the 90 per cent parity basis. In either case, the complication of compulsory grading, the vast army of government employees, and other expensive administering items would dwarf any possible benefits reaped. Direct price supports would foreclose any opportunity for cattlemen to recover losses of 1953 by bringing supplies in line with demand; and we're sure this is one of the main hopes that keeps the cattleman in business now.

Would you fit in a group of which this could be said? "They want the free law of supply and demand to operate on a free basis. They want to take chances; they want to work and win, and they're not afraid to lose, and they have faith and confidence in themselves, God and their country." This is a quote from columnist Benn Lee, of the Tri-City Herald, in the state of Washington, as he reported on a County Farm Bureau Policy Development Meeting here. We believe that when enough people reach this degree of determination, independence and willingness to work with opportunity, instead of a guaranteed reward their goal, then the economic inroads of socialism and communism will have been destroyed.

Since this is American Legion Week, we would like to express our admiration for the Legion's constant vigil against subversive elements, especially Communism, expressed and published in its National Magazine and in the newspapers in an effort to retain Democracy and freedom in our nation.

CONSIDER THIS: He that is void of wisdom despiseth his neighbor; but a man of understanding holdeth his peace. Proverbs 11-12

Men Appointed For Special Committee

A. L. Hartzog, A. F. Phillips, and T. L. Kent have been notified by the Texas Employment Commission at Austin of their appointment as members of the consultant committee for Parmer County to assist the Commission in its efforts to secure a prevailing wage survey for this crop wage area, J. D. Jordan, Local Office Manager of the TEC has announced.

As the returns from the survey come into the local TEC office, Jordan said tabulations would be made and reviewed each two weeks by this Committee in order that completeness, impartiality and accuracy will be assured. Farmers who contract Mexican Nationals have agreed to pay a wage which will not be disruptive of local wage rates and must not be lower than those paid for similar work in similar crop conditions with a wage crop area.

"If wages paid to domestic workers fluctuate in this area," Jordan said, "wages paid to Mexican Nationals under contract may also be expected to fluctuate. Therefore, the wage survey must be completely understood by all farmers in this area."

The appointed Committee will undertake to assist the Commission in keeping farmers who contract or expect to contract Mexican National appraised of the conditions. The Committee will have access to the wage survey cards returned by area farmers to the TEC at all times, and will assist in settling differences if, and when they occur. Wage information received from individual farmers is strictly confidential, but if results of survey indicate error, Committee members will review all information obtained.

Brewers Return from Dallas Polio Meeting

The American people will be asked to contribute $75,000,000 to the 1954 March of Dimes in January, Loyde Brewer, chairman of Parmer Co. chapter says. "We will try to participate in the Mother's March also," he adds, "which is to be nationwide at 7 p. m. January 29". Brewer returned the early part of the week from Dallas where he attended a March of Dimes meeting.

While there, attendants heard a television talk by Basil O'Conner, national chairman, made especially for the meeting, and Dallas reporters interviewed O'Conner by television.

The above mentioned sum for March of Dimes will be needed in shifting from "defense to attack" in the polio fight. Before money has been used for patient care, research and professional education, and the fourth program is polio prevention.

"After years of exhaustive research", Brewer said, "we now have gamma globulin, a temporary deterrent to paralytic polio. But GG is only a holding action." Greatest need is money to continue this advance in polio prevention, as well as provide medical care for those who have polio.

The March of Dimes is held in January.

Most-liked low-priced car

... among people who want more for their money when they buy ... and more money when they sell!

There's a big reason why more folks are buying more Fords than ever before. No other low-priced car offers so many of the things people want and need for today's driving. In fact, to get such "Worth More" Ford features as a V-8 engine, completely automatic transmission and fine-car power steering in any other car, you'd have to step well up from the low-price field.

Of course, Ford owners will discover that Ford's worth more when they sell it, too. Surveys of used car prices show year-old Fords returning a higher proportion of their original cost than any other car.

because it's most like high-priced cars

... more and more people are considering Ford as the one fine car in the low-price field!

It's hard to believe that a car which is built like the finest still sells in the low-price field. Yet a Ford with its haultight Crestmark body, its Full-Circle Visibility (most in its field), its new fine car ride and roomy luggage locker (roomiest in its field) delivers at a figure that keeps it right down in its price class.

Ford's the only low-priced car which offers you a choice of a completely automatic transmission (Fordomatic), Over-drive or Conventional Drive. And Ford Master-Guide, available on all V-8 models, is the last word in power steering... makes turning up to 75% easier.

"Bigger pies, not smaller slices"

We ran across a new word the other day... "demographer." That's a research man who studies statistics on births, deaths, populations.

Well, it seems the United States will have 20 million more people aboard by 1960, or thereabouts. Logical enough. We gained 20 million people in the forties.

Bigger pies are the order of the day. In the electrical industry, for instance, men with sharp pencils have figured that demand for electric power will have doubled during the decade ending in 1960. More power equipment is therefore needed. More electrical machinery for industry.

And better pies. Americans insist on better products, year by year. Somebody has to pioneer things. Looking ahead for five, ten, fifteen years—creating new and better products and improving old ones—that is the business of General Electric. For seventy-five years progress has been our most important product.

The babies who come into the world today won't want smaller slices of the world's goods and opportunities. Or even the same slice. They'll want more. Wait and see. Nothing less is worth planning for by the people who must organize for the future. It's no job for pessimists.

You can put your confidence in—

Senior Play Coming Soon

Make way for the Kelton family! You will see them in the senior play "Goodbye, HOLLYWOOD," by Ruth and Nathan Hale. They've joined in the big rush, and here they are located in sunny California, very much intent upon crashing the movies. And do they crash them? The crash they make is the next thing to the one heard round the world. It may not get them right into the pictures, but it gets the audience into a laughing mood right away.

This Kelton family is one family bent on succeeding. There's Papa Kelton, Marvin Walton, employed as a milkman while awaiting his big break but so far, its only been milk bottles.

Mamma Kelton, Phyllis Tucker, an aspiring playwright with ideas, ambition, and three effervescent daughters.

Daughters are Beatrice, Madge Richardson, who was cut out for the movies, but apparently cut out wrong—she can't even get in a mob scene for a Bugs Bunny picture; Lindy, another daughter, Aloma Palmateer, the little one of the family—who finally succeeds in getting the whole family practically booted out of their tired apartment (the last in town) and into a tent; the eldest daughter, Julie, Roxie Henson, the only really sensible one of the whole crop.

Other characters are: Eloise, Catherine Bell; Mr. Peekin, J. B. Taylor; Mr. Beammer, Kenneth Allred; Mr. Mac Doughee, Wayne Hagler; Mrs. Mac Doughee, Jimmy Moss; Miss Mennen, Ruby Hopkins; Gertie, Bobby Richardson; Kenny Leroy, Darral Harris; Emil, Carlton Kyle; Bill, Paul Crooks; Pollykoff, Mel Bakkerud; Mr. Bounce, Walter Curd;

Good Sportsmanship Is Essential

Be a sport! You don't have to participate actively in sports to be one. Anyone can be a good winner, but it takes true sportsmanship to be a good loser.

Not only must the participants be good sports, but this is essential for the spectators also. So many times one sees bad sportsmanship among spectators, which casts a poor reflection on the players. It is a sign of very poor taste for those who are watching the game to "boo" the opposing team.

Let us now consider the aspects of good or bad sportsmanship on the part of the athlete. No matter how good a player is, if he isn't a good sport, he's not liked by either his teammates or competitors. No one likes to be on the side of one who is a bad sport. Good sportsmanship makes a person likable to all.

The main purpose in having a school athletic program is to develop in the students clean mind and a strong clean body. This aim cannot be accomplished if bad sportsmanship is shown through such things as uncalled for roughness, razzing players, umpires, and referees, or unsportsmanship conduct in any way.

All of the great athletes have had and do possess this one essential factor, good sportsmanship. Without this quality, they could not have attained their high positions in the world of sports.

We can readily see that good sportsmanship is very essential in our school sports, so let's all be a sport!

HAVE PICTURES MADE

"I LIKE Everything ABOUT MY ELECTRIC RANGE"

says MRS. C. A. GORDON OF 1923 HARRISON, AMARILLO, TEXAS

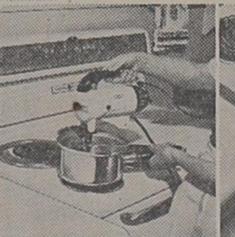

"It's so nice to be able to put a meal in the oven, go out and then return to find it all cooked and ready to eat," Mrs. Gordon says. "Another thing that always amuses my guests—I use the warmer drawer of my electric range to hold the plates and the home freezer top to hold the food. This gives me a regular serving center for buffet meals. At first some of my friends just couldn't believe that a kitchen could be clean enough to serve buffet luncheons. But when I explained about my clean-cooking electric range, they saw the point."

For roasting or broiling or cake baking, you can't beat an electric range. Like Mrs. Gordon says, "Everything I bake, roast or broil always turns out so good." Your roasts, cakes or broiled steaks would turn out the same way if you were cooking electrically.

Mrs. Gordon uses her well cooker often. One thing she emphasizes, "My vegetables never have that wilted look when I cook them in the well cooker." Because so little water (just half a cup) is needed when cooking vegetables the electric way, you're sure of holding vitamins, too.

Cake baking is one of Mrs. Gordon's pastimes. She likes to bake cakes. Since cakes should have long, Mrs. Gordon particularly likes the fact that her electric range requires no double boiler for 7-minute icing. The constant, controlled even heat makes the difference.

There's no question about an electric range being modern. It has everything a Mrs. Gordon suggests. Plenty of storage space, too. Notice the large pans which Mrs. Gordon stores in the top drawer. And, there's more storage in the bottom drawers, as well.

"There's just nothing to it, it's so easy, this modern electric cooking. And it's easy because it's so clean. Just look at this pan, there's no blackening of the bottom." Mrs. Gordon loves to tell folks about the cleanliness of electric cooking.

In six and one-half months time we have become an authority on the sleeping habits of our young son—and how they change from day to day.

First, we have the Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday bedtime sequence. Those are the days we practically live at the shop and are so exhausted in the evening we can hardly walk from one easy chair to the next.

And one thing we have always done since Ronny's arrival—is to give him as much time as possible in the evenings since both of us are gone most of the day.

Finally, after he has goosed, laughed and given a command performance, he decides he is sleepy, so we get his nighty, warm his bottle and tuck him away for the night.

We then have a moment or two with the daily newspaper, before turning in. Before going to bed we go in to check our offspring—to be sure he is covered up, and nine times out of ten we just stand and look for a few seconds.

Our wee one prefers to sleep with his posterior skyward, and his feet tucked up under him; he always sleeps on his tummy. He turns his head to one side, and one arm is slung over his eyes as if he is playing hide and seek and he's "it". His other arm is straight out from his body; and he is completely oblivious of his dotting parents, smiling down on him.

His nighty has crept up over his diaper and his back is exposed.

With all that, he makes a neat little package. Even on those nights, when two or three hours later, he decides he wants to wake up and "yell a little", we become provoked until we go to his room and see him peering up over his bed, expecting to see us loom over the top just any minute.

We won't admit defeat, but he has certain attributes that help him enormously when he tries to outsmart us.

JUST A THOUGHT: Are you a "things" person or a "people" person. There is quite a lot of difference. For instance, when you enter a room, do you notice first the physical appearance of the room, or do you notice "who" is there first?

And do you measure a person's attributes by things, what he owns or the type clothes he wears; or do you decide his merits by the person he is?

Even those people who haven't much of a "green thumb" can appreciate the beauty of the homes in Texico-Farwell which are made more outstanding by the flowers, gardens, and well-kept lawns and shrubs.

It's nice to have the people who take the time and the trouble, and the expense to help beautify, not only their homes, but their cities—because it is an attribute to any town to have neat well-kept yards. It is expensive to seed a good lawn in a dry area such as ours, and the upkeep is terrific, with water bills and other necessities. Then it takes constant care, which means someone's time—and flowers are the same way.

Therefore, we feel that those people who have helped to make our towns more attractive in this way, should be given a vote of thanks, they deserve it.

Now is the hour—* motor vehicle inspection is upon us. Inspections of vehicles coming under the Texas Motor Vehicle Inspection act, are conducted in approved privately owned garages and repair shops. Inspection is designed primarily to promote safety.

And speaking of safety—two women drivers in Manhattan are armed with statistics which they claim conclusive proof that Americas No. 1 road hazard is: MEN.

The women, according to the director of public relations department of a leading automobile company, made a transcontinental safety check of the highways, taking notes on safety violations, using a "safe driving check list", drawn up by traffic experts.

The women, Dorothy Mignault, of Maine and Claire Emory of Connecticut, claim that their check fully vindicates the much maligned woman behind the wheel.

Figures on most frequent offenses were:

Speeding: 865 men and 84 women.

Passing on hills or curves: 26 men and 1 woman. Following too closely: 30 men, 1 woman.

Not signaling properly, 404 men, 105 women.

Of 2,061 violations observed, 1,821 were by men drivers and only 240 by women.

The two women observed all legal speed limits; "in other words, every car that passed us was over the speed limit," Miss Emory says. Ninety per cent of the motorists broke speed laws.

To guard against possible accusations of prejudice in favor of women, because of the sex of the drivers, the team was accompanied on various stretches by safety commission officials, who checked them. The cross-country covered 3,374 miles.

Well, there it is girls, in black and white—what we have been trying to tell complaining men drivers for years: It is about time they do a double-take and submit proof on any "uncomplimentary" statements they make about the fair sex behind the wheel. "We've heard so much about the old worn-out subject of "women drivers" that the above statistics did our heart good.

Methodist Revival To Conclude Tonight

Henry L. Graves spoke last evening at Hamlin Memorial Methodist church on the subject "Victorious Living." He presented in a forceful way the need of each individual doing something about helping Christ change the world for righteousness.

While the Reverend Graves spoke and the congregation was worshipping and praying at the church, visitors were out in the field making personal contacts.

The special services will close tonight (Thursday) with the 7:30 service. Everyone is invited to hear Rev. Graves speak on the subject, "One of the Two Best."

Home Ec Cottage Added at Texico

New home economics cottage for Texico has been moved to the school campus, and will be remodeled and ready for classes next year, says Supt. Agrie Jones. The cottage now has 3 bedrooms, living room, hall, bath and kitchen.

One bedroom, the living room and bath will be used as a home keeping department and be available for small socials. A petition will be removed from two of the bedrooms and make the room into a study hall and sewing room. Another room is to be added for a kitchen and cooking class.

The school now has enough attendance to merit another teacher, but a new faculty member probably won't be added until next year.

Brotherhood of Farwell Baptist Church is postponed from last Monday to next Monday night, October 26.

Austin Bell of Agana, Guam is spending a few days in the D. J. Brown home.

FRIONA

North Plains

Concerning yields, Wright Williams cites the case of Billy Baxter, six miles south of Friona, who harvested one acre even and got a 624-pound bale for his efforts.

HUB COMMUNITY

Also regarding yields, G. W. Fleming refers to the J. W. Wright farm, three miles west of the Hub store, where four bales were pulled off of five acres. "He may get five more bales, too, the next time he goes over it," says Fleming.

L. D. Cannon, one mile south of the gin, reported a like situation. He got seven bales from eight acres the first time over. He will possibly get that much the next time, also.

LAZBUDDIE

The Watkins' Gin at Lazbuddie could not be reached for a report. As a conservative guess, they might be expected to have 350 bales.

LARIAT

Nickles' Gin Guy Nickles, who usually gets a long jump on everybody else in the county because of his southern location, has hardly a showing this year—and all because of inadequate help.

They had ginned 225 bales by Tuesday afternoon, but reported "We just don't have any hands." By this time last year, Nickles had turned out 1500 bales.

TRASH—

Two other sources of revenue for the city dump will make the free collection service possible. One of these is a one-year contract between the city and a Clovis trucker who will haul three or four loads of car sweepings from the Santa Fe yards daily.

Virtually all of the sweepings will be dirt. Dumping of this material will be regulated in order to make use of the dirt as a fill-in for the yard.

Some money will come to the city through the regular Saturday dumping schedule in which individuals are permitted to enter the yard with their own trash, provided they follow the yard plan and pay a fee ranging from 50 cents to $1 per load.

This has proved a satisfactory way to handle dumping on an individual basis, city officials declare.

Texico has agreed to help out on the upkeep of the yard for the privilege of using it. Mears also acts as collector there.

That's Right Ma'am . . .

In 1953 alone, Texico-Farwell folks will make just about that many telephone calls.

Hard to believe? Maybe. But stop to consider how many times YOU used the telephone today. A call to the market. One about the party this weekend. And maybe (but for your sake we hope not) still another to the doctor or the fire department.

652,900 calls in a year in the Twin Cities! Yes, that's a lot of talking—a lot more than just a few years ago. But we at the telephone company like it that way. Mustangs Fall To Friona Chiefs

The Bovina Mustangs had their winning streak snapped at five games, Friday night, when the Friona Chiefs tripped them, 6-0. Although the locals were favored to win, they never made a really serious threat and failed to make any penetrations. Friona went inside the 20 three times, and led in first downs, 21 to 5.

Bovina kicked to the Chiefs to get play started, booting into a stiff south wind. Friona took over on their own 34. On the first play they fumbled and recovered for a yard loss. Two line bucks netted them a first on Bovina's 45.

The Chiefs fumbled; Bovina recovered, and on the next three plays the ball changed hands each time on fumbles. Friona finally took over on the Bovina 31 and pushed to a first down on line drives right through the center. Most of their yardage came via the hard-charging backfield, who just bowed their necks and charged.

With a first on the Bovina 20 the Chiefs tried a pass, intercepted by Read near the goal. He returned the ball back upfield, almost getting loose but was pulled down on the 40. Bovina failed to get their offensive going and kicked on fourth down.

Friona took over on their own 30 and by the end of the first quarter had pushed to the Mustang 19. Bovina tightened up and the ball went over on downs on the 20.

Bovina could get but two yards on three tries and had to kick out. Friona took over on their 19; they picked up one first down, then got 5 and a nice run went to the Bovina 38. The play was called back on an offside penalty. The Chiefs finally had to kick. Ware took the pigskin for Bovina near the center stripe, but fumbled and Friona recovered on the Bovina 45. They gained only one first down and had to kick. Read took the ball, returning to the Friona 35. But the attack bogged down and the Chiefs gained possession on their 40. On the first play they got a first on Bovina's 38 and had picked up 7 more yards as the half ended.

Friona kicked to open the second half, a short kick which went only four yards and Bovina had the ball on the Friona 49. A first-play fumble gave the ball to Friona on the 48.

The Chiefs moved downfield to inside the 10, only to be thwarted and Bovina took over on their own 2. As Read carried to the 39, Bovina got its first first down. Read went another 2, then passed to Owens for a first on the Friona 30. They picked up one more yard, lost ground, and after two incomplete passes Friona took over on their own 30.

Determinedly, Friona started a drive that ended in a touchdown. The score came soon after the last quarter opened as Virgil Phipps pushed over from the one. On the try for extra point the ball was carried over but called back on an offside penalty. The second try failed and the score stood 6-0.

When Friona kicked off, the ball went inside the 10 in Bovina territory. Several local players huddled over the ball, looking as if they were going to kill it without trying to run. Suddenly they broke out of the huddle with Ezell carrying the ball and he was up to the 38 before Friona figured it out and pulled him down.

Read passed to Ware for a first on the Friona 43. They picked up one more first on a run by Read to the Chief 22. Friona intercepted a pass on their own 10. The ball changed hands a couple more times before the final whistle.

The Mustangs have an open date this week. The next game will be Oct. 30 when they meet Petersburg on the home field.

Three of the buildings from White Rock, N. M., have been moved onto the school ground, the others arriving on Wednesday. The buildings are expected to be ready for grade school students about the middle of next week.

Weather Holds Good For Harvest

Although there was a threat of rain in the air on Tuesday morning, good fall weather continues to hold over the area as harvesting of both grain sorghums and cotton gets into high gear. Some cloudiness was also prevalent during the weekend, but other than a few "spits" of rain, no appreciable moisture was listed in the area.

And so the harvest goes on. Wright Williams, at the North Plains Gin, reported Monday morning that a total of 760 bales had been handled out of the current crop, and elevator operators said that the grain was continuing to move in, the trickle increasing to a fairly steady run.

In both instances, yields are proving good this year, producers reveal. Cotton has been exceptionally good thus far, Williams said, adding that around "98 percent of the cotton we have received has been white", with little brown spotting in the receipts.

Pickers are still badly needed to assist in getting the cotton out of the fields, with very little increase in help noted from last week. On the other hand, there seems to be a sufficiency of combines and crews in the area to handle the grain cuttings at present.

Frost continues to hold off, but dry weather has pushed crops into rapid maturity and within the next several weeks it is quite probable that most grain fields will have been harvested.

Brother Of Roy Slagle Passes

Roy Slagle received word Saturday night of the death of his brother, Dillard Slagle, of Panhandle. Funeral services were held Sunday at 2:30 in the First Methodist Church there.

Slagle was born Oct. 5, 1887, in Nodaway County, Missouri. He and Lura Shor were married at Worth, Mo., on Oct. 8, 1911. Survivors are the wife; one daughter, Mrs. T. J. Thomas; two sons, Belmont and Francis Slagle; his father, H. B. Slagle of Hereford; three brothers, Roy of Friona, Benton of Amarillo, and Sylvester of Hereford; four sisters and four grandchildren.

The local people returned home Monday.

SPEAKS AT CHURCH

J. P. Ready was guest speaker, Sunday morning, at the Friona Methodist Church. This was layman's day in the church.

ATTENDANCE GIVEN

There were 384 present at the Baptist Sunday School, Oct. 18. Training Union had 181 Sunday night, Rev. C. M. Fields is pastor.

Church Conference Is Held In Okla. City

The Central Oklahoma Association of Congregational Churches held a regular meeting the latter part of last week in Pilgrim Fellowship Church in Oklahoma City, with Rev. Lewis Knight, pastor, and Mrs. O. F. Lange as delegates representing the Friona church.

Mrs. Lange reported that one of the highlights of the meeting was a very illuminating talk by Rev. Phillip Frazier, himself an Indian and a missionary, who spoke on the plight of Indians in this country. Rev. Frazier pointed out that in many cases, Indians "are not sure of their standing with the white race . . . they never know what attitude they will find", and went on to urge his hearers to take cognizance of the situation in the United States.

Another speaker who captured the attention of the crowd was Miss Lyda Houston, who is serving as a missionary to Japan. Miss Houston remarked that "Japan can lead Asia away from war" if properly considered and treated by the West.

Shortly after his return here, Rev. Knight departed for Wichita, Kansas, where a Congregational conference convened on Monday. He was accompanied by Carl Maurer. The two will return to their homes today (Thursday).

Shultz Trio Appears Here On Thursday

The Robert Schultz Trio, consisting of baritone, a soprano and a harpist, appeared in concert in the auditorium of the Friona High School the past Thursday evening.

The program, all musical, was an interesting and entertaining variety of songs both old and new, classical and semi-classical, and was well received by the audience of around 300.

This is the first of three concerts which will be presented in the local auditorium during the 1953-54 season. Information regarding forthcoming performances will be announced later, sponsors said today.

Permanent Pastures Started Recently

Two fields of permanent pasture have been started in the county recently, it was announced Monday through the office of the SCS, by Steve Bavousett, supervisor.

Archie McCutcheon, who farms near Bovina, has put 10 acres of newly bench-leveled ground into permanent pastures, and 20 acres has been seeded by Kenneth Neal, near Black. The Neal land was also bench-leveled, Bavousett says.

Both plantings are of mixed pasture grasses, and will be under irrigation.

Friona Upsets Bovina In Thrilling Game

The upset of the year, so far as football in this area is concerned, came about on Chieftain Field last Friday night when a capacity crowd was on hand to see the underdog Chiefs take the highly-touted Bovina Mustangs, 6-0.

And it wasn't a fluke. As one of the spectators put it, "We were ready, they were cocky . . . and never got going when they were held for no yardage when they got the ball."

The thriller was the first win of the season for the Chiefs. Virgil Phipps pushed across the winning tally early in the fourth quarter from the one-yard line. Friona had its extra point run-off called back on an offside, and the second try failed to work. The Chiefs threatened on several occasions, while Bovina never got inside the Friona 20-yard marker.

At the half the Chieftain queen, Carol Blackburn, was crowned by Captain Teddy Fongman. Attendees were Gay Ann McFarland, Denise Magness, Carmel Fields and Phyllis Treider. Chiefs participating in the ceremony were Jimmy Robason, Jim Dixon, Virgil Phipps and Wayne Houlette. A heart formation was made by the band as it played, "I'll See You In My Dreams".

The affair was sponsored by the Methodist Youth Fellowship, and a large crowd was on hand to hear the visitor speak on his trip to the Holy Land, illustrating the lecture with slides and recorded music.

On Sunday morning preceding his formal appearance, Haboush was guest speaker in the local pulpit, presenting his own interpretation of the 23rd Psalm.

Concrete Pipe Will Be Laid In Fields

Concrete irrigation pipe, becoming increasingly more popular as a means of irrigating fields, is slated to be laid on the N. L. Tharp and John Agee farms in the near future.

The Tharp farm, highly irrigated, is located near Farwell. Agee, who runs two wells on his property, farms on the far southern edge of the county, near Muleshoe.

Tila Rue Day Bride Of Dave Hester, 16th

Friona Baptist Church was the scene of the marriage of Miss Tila Rue Day, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Day Sr. of Friona, and David C. Hester of Sherman, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hester Sr., of Lawton, Okla., Friday evening at 7 o'clock. Rev. Russell Pogue, pastor of the Mission Baptist Church, Hereford, officiated at the beautiful double-ring service.

Background for the vows featured baskets of white mums and an ivy-entwined arch accented by candelabra banked with fern and palms. Mrs. Roy Miller, pianist, offered pre-nuptial selections "Always" and "Claire de Lune" and Beverly Sue Jones sang "Oh, Promise Me", "I Take Thee, Dear" and the "Wedding Prayer", accompanied by Mrs. Miller. Traditional wedding music was used for the professional and recessional.

Candlelighters and ushers were David Smith, Friona, and Sanford Boardman, Amarillo. Also assisting as an usher was Hugh Moseley, of Friona. The singer, Miss Jones, wore a floor-length gown of pale lavender taffeta and net, with a waist corsage of yellow chrysanthemums. Serving as the bride's attendant was Miss Virginia Whitaker, who was attired in a ballerina ensemble of yellow taffeta and a halo of yellow tulle. Her shower bouquet was of orchid chrysanthemums emphasized by tulle ribbon. Miss Whitaker was a former roommate of the bride at the Northwest Texas School of Nursing in Amarillo.

Bridesmaids were Miss Wedia Nell Day, Friona, cousin of the bride, and Gwendal Roberts, Amarillo, who wore identical ballerina dresses of orchid taffeta and orchid head-dresses of tulle, bordered in with minute self-covered buttons extending down the back of the dress. The fingertip veil of tulle was attached to a Juliet cap studded with seed pearls. Her pearl necklace and earrings were a gift from her mother, and she wore a dainty wrist-watch, a gift from the groom.

Her white Bible was topped with a white orchid and stephanotis, from which showered white satin ribbon knotted with stephanotis. The Bible was earned by Miss Day in School of Nursing.

Mrs. Day was attired in a bronze lace dress with brown accessories and had a shoulder corsage of yellow rosebuds. The groom's mother wore beige taffeta with brown accessories and yellow rosebuds.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Woman's Club House. The lace-covered serving table was centered with orchid and yellow cut flowers. The three-tiered cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom and was traditionally cut by the newlyweds.

Miss Elda Hart presided at the guest register. Miss Tommie Martin served punch and Letha Faye Day served the cake.

The couple left for a honeymoon in New Mexico and Colorado Springs. For traveling, the bride chose an aqua jersey two-piece suit, complimented with brown accessories and the orchid from her bouquet. They will be at home in Denison, Texas, after October 24.
