

FARWELL'S RESIDENTIAL BUILDING BOOM continues unabated. Here are two nice homes now under construction. Local residents have used both the "ready-built" type house that is moved in and custom construction. This is the Raymond Jesko home on First Street.

ANOTHER FINE HOME is being built by the Ernest Kubes on Avenue G. It is the only new home in town that incorporates a second story. Actually, the "top deck" of the Kube home is just over the garage and in general the lines are the "rambling" type that are so popular here in the Southwest.

Top Yields of Cash and Silage Crops, Using Ammonia

Art Hegi, successful Hale County farmer, says: "I use Phillips 66 Ammonia pre-plant on all my crops. My yields per acre since starting to use ammonia are: cotton, 2 bales; grain sorghum, 4500 pounds; castor beans, 1900 pounds; Sargo silage, 20 tons.

"My practice has been to apply Phillips 66 Ammonia in the following amounts: cotton, 45 pounds per acre; sorghum, castor beans and sorghum silage, 100 pounds. My yield increases have given me considerably higher profits per acre."

Other successful Southwestern farmers have discovered that they make more profit per acre, using Phillips 66 Ammonia. They get more cotton that classes higher at the gin . . . yields of sorghum grain and ensilage are increased . . . profits on wheat and small grains are increased through higher grain yields and improved forage . . . more marketable vegetables are harvested.

America's Dental Delinquents

Did you think that in a country like ours, with the finest show in the world, dental health wouldn't be much of a fortunate, the opposite is all too true.

Statistics released in February by the American Association in connection with Children's Dental Health Survey show that almost 22,000,000 persons have lost all of their teeth to count many millions more with only a few teeth left their own.

Scientists point out that has designed man's teeth for a lifetime. Except for unusual cause, there is no why our teeth shouldn't last long. The answer may be found among some startling facts uncovered by the recent National Health Survey. Although most Americans agree they should visit a dentist regularly, two out of three persons actually have not been down in a dentist's chair for three years. Regular brushing is recommended as the best safeguard against decay, but only one out of four brush their teeth regularly and 65% not at all!

No wonder dental authorities have long wished for a dentifrice that, in addition to doing a thorough cleaning job, would induce people to brush their teeth more often. Just such a toothpaste recently appeared on the scene. This novel product sports bright peppermint stripes that make daily tooth care out of the 'chore' into the 'fun' category. It's also the first dentifrice to contain germ-killing hexachlorophene which its makers say combines the benefits of mouth-wash with toothpaste.

The three cornerstones for maintaining good dental health, as recommended by the Dental Association, are (1) Thorough use of the toothbrush, still the most important weapon against decay, immediately after eating either a meal or a snack, (2) Emphasis on proper diet, especially in avoiding sweets between meals, (3) Periodic dental examinations to detect and prevent early dental disease.

Two drunks got a room in a hotel. After much trouble they succeeded in getting into bed. The first drunk said: "There's someone in my bed." The second said: "There's someone in my bed too." "Let's kick them out," suggested the first. "No, K," said the second. Both drunks began to kick and scuffle, and the first drunk kicked the second one out. "Hooray!" said the first. "I kicked him out." The second replied in a mournful tone: "I wasn't so lucky? The guy in my bed kicked me out."

"That's all right," said the first drunk, "you can come sleep with me." Wife (whispering) -- Wake up, John. There's a burglar going through your pockets. Husband (uttering sleepily) -- Leave me out of it. You two fight it out yourselves. Sunday school teacher: "Butch, who defeated the Philistines?" Butch: "I dunno. If they don't play Notre Dame I don't keep track of them."

Cotton Quiz

HOW MUCH COTTON CAN BE GROWN ON ONE ACRE OF LAND?
A TEXAS FARMER HAS GROWN SIX BALES OF COTTON ON ONE ACRE.

When you're buying cotton sheets, it's a good idea to know the correct size so they will fit properly. Sheets should be as long as the mattress plus two thicknesses of it. Allow ten inches for a turn-under.

Light fluffy fillings for cushions can be made by cutting a roll of cotton in small squares. Heat the squares in the oven for half an hour, but don't let them scorch. Each square will swell to twice its original size. A new bias tape, available in 26 colors, is made of fine pima cotton. The tape has a smooth, rich appearance and is easy to apply as a binding, facing, or piping.

One day the wife of a professor of English, entering his study unexpectedly, found his pretty secretary sitting on his knee. "Throckmorton," she said, "I'm surprised." The professor turned around. "How often have I asked you to be more careful of your English, dear?" he said. "You mean you're astonished; wear the ones who are surprised."  Northernner (to Kentuckian): "Is it true that Kentuckians are very bibulous?" Kentuckian: "No suh. Ah don't reckon they're mo' than a dozen Bibles in the whole state."

This paving will go down 9th Street and then cut across the south side of the city to hook on to the farm road. It is a project that has been in the mill for a long time but is very near to becoming reality.

Right-of-way easements are almost complete and the few agreements yet to be obtained in this respect are believed to be the last delay in the way of construction.

Haseloff, Curtis Elected Trustees

Adolph Haseloff and J. H. Curtis were elected trustees in the Farwell School District balloting Saturday. Haseloff, who was up for re-election, polled 37 votes and Curtis, a new member of the board, received 20.

John Armstrong and Joe Magness were close behind with 19 each and James Ussery got 14 votes. Otis Huggins and Lee Meeks both drew one vote each as write-ins.

Blackie Smith, election judge, commented "It's the lightest school board election I can ever recall." Only 56 votes were tallied during the day.

Clyde Magness, the only nominee, drew 54 votes for county trustee. Henry Haseloff and Everett Christian drew one each by the write-in method.

Write-In Flurry Re-Elects Mayor

Farwell's quietest city election in a long time was pepped up in the last half of Tuesday's voting when a write-in campaign was launched that returned Mayor Sam Aldridge to office.

Only 47 votes were cast in the election, and most of those were obviously a result of the efforts of the write-in backers.

At noontime, nine ballots had been stuffed into the boxes and election clerks were idly drumming their fingers at the City Hall. That afternoon, however, things were different. The vote wasn't a large one but the day would have been drab indeed without write-ins.

Aldridge polled 32 votes to lead Smokey Gast, the only man whose name appeared on the ballot in the mayor's contest.

Gast had 14 and Otis Huggins drew one write-in vote.

Everybody got into the act in the voting for city commissioners.

C. C. Christian led the field with 26, and his "running mate"

Junior High Band To Go To Lovington

Members of Texico junior high band will be in Lovington this weekend to participate in the Southeastern Music Festival there, says Fred Danforth, band director.

About 15 concert bands are to attend the festival, with 43 young people planning to make the trip from Texico. The junior high band includes participants from the fifth through the ninth grades.

Several parents plan to accompany the group says Danforth.

Cars Increased About 130 In Year

An increase of about 130 passenger cars has been noted in the county in the past year, according to the number of license plates sold this year, say employees in the offices of the county tax assessor-collector.

Deadline for sales was Wednesday of last week and employees report that the first of last week was a rush time for the office. Some plates were still being sold this week.

One Case Heard In County Court

One case was heard in County Judge Loyde Brewer's court this week. Charles Boston, 33, Darrouzett, was charged with writing a hot check. He pled guilty and was fined $1 and costs.

Boston wrote the check on himself. It was for $32, and was made payable to Bovina Implement Company. The check was returned because of insufficient funds.

Lazbuddie voters returned the two incumbents, Robert L. Jones and Harold Wilson, to places on the school board, when voters went to the polls Saturday.

Hospital Patients Improve

Area hospital patients have shown improvement this week, with Johnny Boling, 4, returning home Tuesday after two days in the hospital.

Willis Magness is not yet home but is improved. He has been ill about 10 days.

Jack Williams, superintendent of Farwell Schools, is also improved but is not receiving visitors other than family members, his physician says.

R. E. Crooks, who has been ill for several weeks, is still hospitalized and is some improved.

Three Men Back Board On County

The three incumbents on the county board of school trustees were returned to office by voters Saturday, in Precincts 1, 2, and 3, says Loyde Brewer, county judge.

J. L. Shaffer received 156 votes in the Friona precinct, to put him back on the board. At Bovina, Joe Wilson tallied 141 votes, with one write-in tally for Earl Ware. Clyde Magness got 54 at Farwell, with two ballots showing write-ins, one for Everette Christian and the other for Henry Haseloff.

Outlook Prints Local Story In May

A story on Farwell's pre-school clinic which is conducted for youngsters before they enter the first grade will be carried in the May issue of "Texas Outlook," a publication of Texas State Teacher's Association, according to word received here.

The article for the publication was prepared by Mrs. R. B. Tucker, school counselor and Mrs. Katherine Lockhart, school nurse.

PLAN TWO SALES

Members of Farwell Future Homemakers of America are planning bake sales for the next two Saturdays to raise money to send delegates to the state FHA convention. The money-making projects will be in the Piggly Wiggly store.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Graham Jr., Ronny and Hal, were in Lubbock Friday, where the boys and Mrs. Graham were fitted for corrective shoes.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Norton and family went to Conchas Lake over the weekend for a fishing trip. They left Saturday and returned Sunday and caught 13 bass during the short weekend, according to their daughter.

Talking about the growing power of American women in business and politics, here's a new twist:

A woman went into the office of a cemetery manager and complained, "I can't find my husband's grave. I know he's buried here."

"What is the name?" the manager asked. "Thomas Jackson," she replied.

Referring to his card index, the manager said, "Madam, we have no Thomas Jackson. We just have an Elizabeth Jackson."

"That's him," she said. "Everything's in my name."

Strawberry shortcakes are a favorite dessert this time of year. They can be made with old-fashioned biscuit shortcake, sponge or angel food cake from the grocery, or made from a mix. They're all wonderful especially when served with a dessert topping that adds creamy-rich flavor and very few calories. The topping mix is stored on the pantry shelf until prepared . . . and any unused topping can be stored in the refrigerator for three or four days.

Strawberries Dream Angel Loaf

1 10 or 12-inch angel food loaf cake	1/2 cup cold milk
1 quart fresh strawberries	2 teaspoon vanilla
Sugar	1 package dessert topping mix

Cut cake to make 2 loaves. From top of each cut a wedge the length of the cake, about 3 inches wide and 1 1/2 inches deep. Cut wedge in half lengthwise. Reserve a few whole strawberries for a garnish. Crush the remaining berries and add sugar to taste. Prepare dessert topping as directed on the package. Fold in 1 cup of the crushed strawberries. Divide equally between the 2 cakes, carefully spooning mixture into center of each. Insert wedge slices into filling. Chill about 1 hour. Garnish with whole strawberries. Serve cake slices, using the remaining crushed strawberries as a sauce. Serves 10 or 12.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH
The quail, pheasants, doves, rabbits and other wildlife grown on the farms and ranches provide most of our hunting. Even much of the big game such as deer, antelope, and wild turkey comes from privately owned lands.

Most of our wildlife crop is grown and harvested on land used mainly for cultivated crops and livestock. This means that farmers and ranchers are the key to abundant wildlife. Much of our fishing is also affected by the way farmers and ranchers manage their land.

Farms and ranches make up 60 per cent of the land in the United States. Most of this land is in soil conservation districts. Altogether, more than 85 per cent of our hunting land is privately owned or controlled. Therefore, the land use decisions of farmers and ranchers can cause an abundance or a scarcity of wildlife.

Windbreaks of trees and shrubs are planted on farms and ranches for the protection of farmsteads and livestock against damaging winds. These windbreaks provide food and cover for many kinds of wildlife. They are the favorite nesting places for many of the game birds.

The Soil Conservation Service, as part of its assistance to soil conservation districts, helps individual land operators apply many soil and water conservation practices that increase wildlife.

The soil Conservation District is making several species of trees and shrubs available this year for the establishing of windbreaks. They are Arizona cypress, red cedar, poplars, honeylocust, desert willow, Russian olive, vitex, multiflora rose, and pyracantha. The Arizona cypress will be ready for delivery on or about May first. The bare rooted stock may be received when desired.

Applications for the trees may be obtained at the SCS office in Friona, Steve Messenger's in Friona and the County Agent's Office in Farwell. Orders must be received before April 20.

H. D. AGENT'S CORNER

Jimmie Lou Waincott

The "Refinishing Furniture Workshop" last Wednesday had 34 in attendance. I gave a demonstration on removing the finish. Each of these persons will go home and remove the finish from their piece of furniture. The next session will be attended by one or two leaders from each club. These leaders will then teach the others in their clubs. It's lots of work, but you really have a sense of accomplishment when you are through.

Just as cooking temperatures need to suit different foods, so temperatures must meet the needs of various fabrics.

Today's fabrics include so many different fibers, blends of fibers and finishes that homemakers are often puzzled about temperatures suitable for the different fabrics.

The best general rule when pressing blends of fabrics is to set the iron so that it is suited to the fiber requiring the lowest temperature, according to extension clothing specialists. However, when using a damp pressing cloth and a dry iron, the moisture in the cloth reduces the temperature.

Because the synthetics call for lower temperatures, blended fabrics of synthetic and natural fibers complicate the pressing problem. In the case of wool blends, they may be pressed successfully with a steam iron or with a dry iron and a damp pressing cloth.

Cotton blends are a different story. Combinations of cotton with synthetics can be a difficult problem because cotton will not always press smooth at a low temperature, yet many synthetics are damaged at high temperatures. One answer to this problem is to check each garment individually by ironing on a sample of the fabric or on an inconspicuous place like the edge of a wide seam.

Do you bruise easily? . . . A vitamin C deficiency might be responsible . . . Oranges, grapefruits and other citrus fruits are rich in vitamin C important to good health of the blood vessels. Eat some vitamin C rich foods every day.

Don't waste outside lettuce leaves. These can be cut coarsely and used to make a delicious wilted lettuce salad.

Shred 1 head lettuce into strips 1-inch wide. Put in a hot serving dish. Sprinkle with 1/2 teaspoon onion salt and let stand

Corn Acreage Rise Expected

(Editor's note: This is the third in a series of articles on new crops. Next week's will be about vegetables.)

Some people may feel that corn doesn't deserve the description "new crop." However, from the standpoint of its planting since the revolution wrought by irrigation on the High Plains, it must be considered in a different light, and hence the adjective "new" is perhaps appropriate.

Substantial acreages of corn gave way to combine-type milos long before the advent of the irrigation well, and the semi-arid Plains were found much 10 minutes. Heat 3 tablespoons bacon, sausage or ham drippings very hot; pour over lettuce. Add 1 tablespoon lemon juice, Toss and garnish with hard-cooked egg put through a sieve. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

Here's a pleasant dessert surprise for that packed lunch . . . Steam prunes over hot water until soft, then cool. Remove pits and stuff with nuts and dip in melted milk chocolate. The prunes will furnish some of the iron needed for rich red blood.

Use milk every day in a variety of ways. Statistics show that many people do not get enough milk or milk products in their diets to insure them of enough calcium for proper growth and maintenance. Vanilla ice cream topped with hot mincemeat makes a delicious sundae. Golden custard is a family favorite that provides both egg and milk. Top with whipped cream or dried milk and a dash of nutmeg.

In the meat department, you'll find ham or a turkey featured in most stores. Other selections include fresh picnics, loin roast and shoulder chops. Beef values are round and sirloin roast, arm and blade pot roasts and ground beef. Frying chickens are still economy buys.

Fresh fruit items at pleasing prices are oranges, grapefruit, apples, bananas and lemons. Strawberries are available in many markets at early season prices.

Bargains at the fresh vegetable counters include white and sweet potatoes, celery, lettuce, carrots, cabbage, tomatoes, radishes and scallions.

less than ideal for producing a tall, thirsty plant that was subject to the hazards of insects, hot weather, and dry winds--of which this part of the world has a plenty.

Interest in reviving corn as a major cash crop has waxed and waned several times in recent years. The biggest pressure to increase corn acreage has been lower prices for grain sorghums and a relatively good demand for corn grown in this area.

Corn acreage took a big jump in the Parmer County area in 1957 when about 20,000 acres were produced. The resultant poor returns from very adverse weather conditions did much to discourage growing corn on the High Plains, and the acreage dwindled to about half that amount last year.

The opinion of farmers on the advantages and disadvantages of corn vary greatly, but in general, the problems break down into these categories:

1. Corn has great susceptibility to attack by stalk borers and ear worms, the former which is uncontrollable and the latter which is very difficult to control except by expensive hand spraying methods.

2. High winds nearly always result in heavy lodging of corn as harvest time approaches. This is often because of stalk damage by the borer.

3. Corn is a heavy user of water and the leafy, tender plant has little drought resistance. As a result, when the corn crop needs watering, the need is immediate and unless the farmer can oblige, deterioration sets in rapidly.

Even with these worries, corn can be produced by area farmers, there's not much disputing that. A good yield is considered one that falls somewhere in the 70 to 100 bushel range, which isn't bad even by Cornbelt standards.

Government support prices, which have been pegged at $1.12 per bushel this year, are up from $1.02 which was offered for non-commercial corn in 1958. This will doubtless have a noticeable effect on farmers' plans.

Any grain crop which has the potential of grossing $100 per acre draws more than one glance from Parmer County farmers.

To judge from past experiences (some of them sad ones) the formula for the corn producer of this area is: Plant early--harvest early. The idea is to mature a crop as quickly as possible and get it off the land before the corn bore cuts it first.

For a time it was thought that the normally dry harvest seasons of the High Plains were especially well adapted to use of the combination picker-sheller harvester. However, this idea is giving way to the two-unit harvest plan of picking the corn, letting it dry, and then shelling it in a separate operation. If combining is done at an early stage artificial drying is usually necessary.

County Agent Joe Jones says these hybrids seem to be well suited to this area under irrigation: Texas 30, 28, and 36, and Agrrow 101W and Texas 17W.

"Generally, corn will require the same fertilizer program as grain sorghum," he says. "In the sandy areas both nitrogen and phosphate are required, while in the tighter soils nitrogen alone is getting the job done in most instances."

"A good sound fertilizer program to follow on corn is apply about two thirds of the nitrogen and all phosphate before planting, and sidedress with additional nitrogen about 35 to 40 days after planting." Jones says the sidedress-ing should be put on before the plant has passed the 10-leaf stage.

Tests run at the High Plains Station at Halfway averaged yields of 93.2 bushels last year. Varieties tested were TRF 3, 9, 13, Texas 17W and Funk 779W.

Researchers at Halfway also agree that early planting and early harvest before lodging takes place seem necessary for successful corn production in this area.

Committee Maps Plans For 1959 Weed Fight

Members of the Parmer County Farm Bureau weed committee are renewing their efforts to control bindweed and Johnson grass infestation in Parmer County. They met last week and blueprinted a program for the coming year. Raymond Schueler of Rhea was again re-elected chairman of the group, and Vernon Symcox of Oklahoma Lane was re-elected secretary. Sitting in on the meeting were County Agent Joe Jones and Prentice Mills, ASC office manager. The program of past years was reviewed and needs for coming months discussed. The weed committee will continue its work with the Santa Fe Railroad in controlling infestations along the RR right-of-way in the county. The Santa Fe sprayed its property in 1958 and this was effective, but the committee is striving for an every-year program.

In 1957 a thorough control program was followed on state highway rights-of-way, and new outbreaks will be under scrutiny this year. What committee members call "a disappointing feature" of the weed control program is the lack of cooperation from landowners themselves. The commissioners court will provide sterilant to kill bindweed on county rights-of-way if farmers will apply it on land adjoining county property. The ASC again offers a co-operative program. Sterilants and amounts required for good control are available, and the cost-share basis is 50 per cent with a limit of $65 per acre. Although bindweed is the most feared farm weed, members of the committee were unanimous that Johnson grass is becoming a great danger to county farms. Some farms in the area are almost completely taken over by

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

BY RAYMOND EULER

You will be happy to know that Mary Ann Stacy, Parmer County Farm Bureau Queen for this year, is entering the REA Queen Contest under your sponsorship. We appreciate her telling us that Farm Bureau stands a chance of getting $25 if she wins, which we, of course, hope she does. We are glad to note that local and area newspapers are beginning to include the farm and retail store labor problem that is fast developing, in their more prominent items, including editorials. Farm Bureau, and other farm leaders, have been meeting almost all over the nation with groups proposing minimum wage-maximum hour expansion of the law to cover this type of employee, in an effort to prevent it if possible. If prevention is not possible, then they would take next best and postpone and soften the harsh proposals being made. In the Deaf Smith County Farm Bureau membership meeting Thursday night in Hereford, where more than four hundred people met, we heard the latest report on this subject from Hub King, TFB director from Brownfield. He had just returned from a meeting in Austin regarding agricultural labor problems looming too near farmers' heads. The closest thing we know of was reported by King, as he told of the entry into the office of the Lubbock Cotton Oil Mill of a labor organizer with papers demanding organization of the employees there. American Farm Bureau's Wheat Marketing proposals were presented in the Texas Farm Bureau meeting in Amarillo's Herring Hotel two weeks ago. Point one reads like this: Shift the price supports of wheat to a percentage of the average market price, with an orderly transition. It was pointed out here that the AFBB did not make a statement as to what percent of the previous three-year market price should be used in setting the support price, but that this figure would be worked out by the Congress of the United States and that Farm Bureau would cooperate with the Congress in determining at what level to set support prices. It was pointed out also that Farm Bureau was opposed to giving the Secretary of Agriculture authority to set the support price for wheat from 75 to 90% of the average market price.

the grass. The combination of irrigation water and cultivation spreads Johnson grass rapidly. Some farmers are successfully in controlling Johnson grass by crop rotation. Barley or wheat on heavily infested land for three years with intensive cultivation during the summer will do a good job.

Rice is one of the most economical foods on the market . . . about one and one-half cents per serving. It's delicious. Served as a breakfast cereal, as a side dish at luncheon or dinner and it combines well with most all foods. You'll find several different types of rice on the market. Pre-cooked (quick type) rice, converted rice and the regular white milled rice are the ones found most often on store shelves. You can be kind to your pocket book and to your family by serving rice often.

Many questions about soybean production are answered in a leaflet published by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service entitled "Soybeans." It is available from local county agents or the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

Powers Model Accepts Invitation To Address Women At Hub

Plans have been completed by members of the Hub Home Demonstration Club for the appearance of Mickey McDonald, director of the John Robert Powers School at 1305 Polk Street in Amarillo, Thursday afternoon of next week at 1:30 p.m. at the Hub Community Center.

Mrs. McDonald, who is one of three directors in the entire state of Texas, is also a professional model and has been a weekly guest of Ruth Brent's New Ideas television program, KGNC-TV, channel 4, for the past three years. She is a national director of the American Beauty Charm School and fills speaking engagements all over the Golden Spread. "Every Woman A Model Of Charm" will be the title of Mrs. McDonald's one hour lecture. This will be in keeping with the club goal of self improvement. This program will be the highlight of the National Home Demonstration Club Week.

Mrs. John Renner, president, invites all members of home demonstration clubs, study clubs or anyone else who is interested in self improvement to attend the lecture. At the Thursday afternoon meeting of the club, Alma Lou Cannon presented a program on "Business Procedures For The Homemaker." Two new members were voted into the club. They were Mitzi Wenner and Peggy Monroe.

Women Attending District Meeting

Several women from Parmer County are planning to be in Wellington today (Thursday) for the district meeting of Home Demonstration clubs. Among those planning to attend are Mrs. Ralph Price, county THDA chairman; Mrs. Windbourn Hardage, new THDA chairman; Mrs. John Renner, Hub club; Mrs. Lee Renner, Hi-Point club; and Miss Jimmie Lou Wainscott, Home Demonstration agent. The meeting convenes at 9 a.m. Mrs. Price is to give county reports for each county in the district, which includes the Panhandle area.

Fertilizer use the last half of 1958 increased slightly more than 4 percent over the same period of 1957, reports J. F. Fudge, state chemist. This increase represents almost a 9,000 ton increase over the 213,800 tons during the last half of 1957.
